Navy Department officials say they have not yet evolved the "invisible merchant ship." In fact, the United States has not been any more successful in this respect than has Germany in her efforts to make U-boats invisthe. It is true Thomas A. Edison and other members of the navy advisory board, together with naval experts, have been working for some time on the reduction of visibility of merchant ships.

Results, to, date are said to be importunt. By utilizing neutral colors and reducing the horizon line of freighters a-substantial contribution has been made to the campaign against German submarines. The "decorators," as this country calls its camouflage men, have made it harder for U-boat commanders to locate American merchant ships, but that is all'so far.

Meat Served Twice Daily With Good . Supply of Other Substantial Food-Crave Dainties.

The old idea that army diet should consist largely of beans, hardtack and coffee, is no longer approved. In the present training camps meat, preferably beef, is served twice a day, with white bread baked in the general camp bakery and kept 24 hours before serving. Where green vegetables can be obtained they are used, otherwise canned goods are substituted. Coffee Is served at breakfast and buttermilk, lemonade, tes, cocos or water at other meals. Meals, which in the vernacular are "mess" or "chow," are served cafeteria style. Every soldier is furnished with an outfit which consists of a meat pan, knife, fork and spoon, and a lobg handled cup. The cover of the meat pan serves as a plate, and the outfit is so arranged that each man may do his own cooking in case of an emergency.

Each man takes his meat pan and passes before a table where he is served with the various dishes prepared. He then goes to a table, or if there is none, drops down on the ground, and

The very fact that man is at all times ablo to care for his sartorial self alone was cited as an example of the varying independence of the two. Meaning of "Purim." The word "purim," the name of the great annual festival of the Jews. means "lots." This feast commemorates the preservation of the Jews in Persia from the massacre with which they were threatened by Haman (Esther D). They gave the name purim or "lots" to commemorate the festival because he had thrown lots to ascertain what day would be auspicious for the massacre.
