Strong mayor? Former leaders disagree

By Dan Ping Editor

Sanford's ex-mayors discuss Lessard's proposed form of government

SANFORD — City Commissioners will discuss Monday night whether to change Sanford's form of government, but three of the city's former mayors have already staked out their views.

Current Mayor Brady Lessard wants to put a referendum on the March ballot asking citizens to change from a city manager form of government to a strong-mayor government.

"I think it's a step backwards," said Lee P. Moore.

Moore was Sanford's first elected mayor. Prior to 1966, city commissioners chose among themselves who would represent Sanford as mayor.

"If you've got a strong mayor government, you've got him for four years whether he's good or bad," Moore said. "With a city manager, you can fire him after six months if he's no good."

Moore's successor, Bettye Smith also believes the city should keep a city manager form of government.

"I remember when it was the progressive cities that had city managers," Smith said. "I still think that's the case."

Smith noted that the Riverwalk project, which broke ground Thursday, began as an idea in 1993. It took years to secure funding for the Riverwalk. Any change in the city's top leadership — like could occur every four years with a strong-mayor government — might lead to changing priorities, Smith said, and not allow ample time to develop long-range goals.

"A city of our size needs a continuity of management," Smith said. "The issues are too important."

Former mayor Larry Dale agrees the issues are important, and argues that is the compelling reason to switch to a strong-mayor form of government.

"I've never liked the idea of having layers of bureaucracy like you do with a city manager," said Dale, who succeeded Smith as mayor. "The mayor and the commissioners are elected by the people. The city manager isn't, yet he or she runs the show. That leads to a clash of priorities that further complicates the issues."

Moore said if city managers are setting the agenda, it's because commissioners fail

Locals applaud work in sniper case

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — With the arrest of two men in the Beltway sniper case, local law enforcement officials are praising the work of their fellow officers in the Washington D.C. area.

Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger, Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley and Lake Mary Police Chief Richard Beary applauded the work investigators did to catch the stealth killers who terrorized the region for three weeks.

The administrators were quick to point out the key factor in solving the case, and all three offered the same explanation: cooperation.

"There were numerous jurisdictions involved in this case, and they all did an excellent job of cooperating and collaborating," Eslinger said.

"I think the case in Washington is a prime example of the way law enforcement agencies have to work together," Berry added.

Law enforcement agencies in Central Florida have a good working relationship, Tooley said, but that's not the case in all areas.

"If we need something from Altamonte Springs or Daytona, they are quick to provide it, and we do the same with them," Tooley said. "Sometimes you have departments, however, that just don't get along and refuse to cooperate."

Eslinger said the importance of multi-agency cooperation was evident in the Cory Erving investigation, a case that drew national attention to Seminole County.

"You have to have the mechanics in place to receive the thousands of tips that come in," Eslinger said. "We received software from the FBI (Federal Bureau of Investigation) to help us track and meaningfully organize the information we received."

Every case brings pressure to solve it, Beary said, but high-profile investigations amplify the

Passionate about the pumpkins

Pumpkin patches becoming popular fund-raisers

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

It's that time of year again, when people start seeing patches of orange.

Throughout Seminole County, temporary pumpkin patches are sprouting up in what were once vacant fields and yards. The big orange fruit is also finding its way to many local churches, which use the traditional holiday decoration as a way to raise money.

Longwood's Sanlando United Methodist Church hosts a pumpkin patch each year to raise money for its youth group. This year, the church hopes to raise more

Seminole strengthens its shelters

From Staff Reports

For years, a number of Seminole County schools have been used as shelters during major storms. However, these facilities were not much stronger than the average home.

Now, because of a grant-funded program by the state of Florida, Seminole County has been able to significantly increase the protection of its shelters.

Unprotected windows are one example of such vulnerable spots. Once breached, the damaged window will allow access by hurricane force winds and rains, into the building interior, resulting in interior damage and subsequent roof system failures.

Currently, Seminole County Emergency Management, along with the School Board has been retrofitting seven shelters with wind protection devices. This will

City's airport: achieves 'none in a million'

From Staff Reports

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) recently honored the Air Traffic Control tower at Orlando Sanford International Airport for safely handling 1 million operations without error. An operation is considered to be one takeoff or landing.

"The sustained efforts and diligence of Sanford air traffic controllers are greatly appreciated by the FAA, the aviation community and our customers, the flying public," said Rick Day, FAA Southern Regional Air Traffic Manager. "Air traffic brings a number of complex challenges. To perform consistently without error is a real testament to the professionals of Sanford tower."

Interstate 4 traffic lanes closed beginning Sunday for bridge replacement project

From Staff Reports

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 27, a number of traffic lanes will be closed and/or shifted as part of the Interstate 4 St. Johns River Bridge Replacement Project and the I-4 six-laning projects.

Most of the closures will occur between 10 p.m. and 5:30 a.m.

While no lane closures are expected at U.S. Highway 17-92 under the I-4 St. Johns River Bridge, marine traffic is being cautioned to travel only within the navigable channel under the bridge. New bridge column footers may be below the water line due to the rise in the river water level, and therefore may not be visible.

North of the bridge, there could be some daytime lane closures from 6:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. for the inside, northbound lane of 17-92, about one mile north of the interchange with I-4. The inside, southbound lane may also be closed after the morning rush hour has subsided.

Both lanes will be reopened by 5:30 p.m. from I-4 Orange Blvd. in Sanford to Lake Mary Blvd.

Regarding the lane closures/shifting, these are expected during the night time hours, for most of this coming week, in such areas as Enterprise Road from Deltona Blvd. to Highbanks Rd.

In the area of Dirksen Road/DelBary Avenue, the inside westbound lane and eastbound lane will be continuously closed.

There may also be periodic double lane closures between 10 p.m. and 5:30 a.m.

Motorists are advised to drive with extreme caution in all of these I-4 and 17-92 construction areas, and obey all speed limits and lane change markers.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Flashback: Sanford city commissioners will discuss Monday night whether to change the form of government.

They're to late. According to a letter included in the city's 13,000 water bills, city government has already changed. Larry Dale is now mayor, Brady Lessard is the

by Dan Ping

..... District 1 commissioner and Art Woodruff is AWOL. (that's absent without leave, see Nick Pfeiffauf's column on Page 4A). Lessard, who is the mayor, sent the letter to advise Sanford residents that the city is working to resolve stormwater issues. Problem was Lessard's sentiments were placed on old stationery from Dale's administration. Why city staff still has Dale's stationery 18 months after he left office is still a mystery. Maybe they miss his diplomatic touch.

The letter was resent on proper stationery after several complaints to City Hall. Given all the hubbub with downtown organizations, Woodruff, who represents Lessard's old district, may have wished his name remained off the letter.

All Tricks, no treats: Speaking of downtown organizations, the "new and improved" Sanford Main Street seems to have tripped coming out of the starting gate.

The new board voted not to sponsor the annual trick-or-treat. Evidently the powers that be at Main Street don't think kids dressed in costumes is the right image for downtown. That's the last thing downtown needs — young people.

Actually, that wasn't Main Street's excuse, just my cynical rantings. The official party line is that there wasn't enough time to pull the event together. For an organization in need of some positive publicity, canceling trick-or-treat was a bone-headed move. Last year's event drew more than 1,000 kids, who collectively took home about $1,000 worth of goodies.

When Main Street withdrew its event permit, the city stepped in. Local businesses, including The Herald, did the same and ponied up the dough to cover the candy costs. Main Street did finally agree to participate in the event. Commissioner Woodruff had to shame the board into it, so now Main Street is providing volunteers.

I hope Woodruff has better luck getting volunteers for Halloween than he did for hanging autumn-themed banners downtown. One of the duties the MS gang is suppose to perform is to change the decorative banners. In fact, the city provided $10,000 in taxpayer money to Main Street to perform the public service. I guess the only one doing public service at Main Street is the public servant, Woodruff.

Shooting off at the mouth: No one asked me, but:

- During the week-long "Customer Service" orgy at City Hall, why were most of the events promoting ways to deliver good customer service — plays, parties, etc. — schedule during the day when actual customers might need service?
- Why does the city's arborist have a city-owned, take-home vehicle? Are there after-hour tree emergencies that we don't know about?
- The election is a week and a half away but I'm already done with it. The ads have become ridiculous.

The next time I hear that Wayne Hogan ad about how much "courage" it took to sue the Big Tobacco I'm going to buy a pack of Winston's and blow my second-hand smoke in Hogan's face. Courage comes in many forms, but suing an industry and pocketing $200 million is not one of them.

Perhaps if Wayne gave a large portion of his attorney's fee to smokers who suffer from the ill he cries crocodile tears about, I might call that courage. Otherwise, I call it greed.

- Speaking of tobacco settlements, anyone see where North Carolina gave $50 million of their settlement money to farmers so they can — I swear to it — grow more tobacco? That beats my home state of Tennessee. The Volunteer State's hillbilly tax code falls seriously short in raising enough revenue. When the $400 million in tobacco money showed up, it was put into a rain-day fund.

It must of rained a lot in 2001 because the state legislature blew the whole wad in a day. State expenditures were $400 million over revenues, so they raided the rainy-day fund. By the way, Wayne, the people of Tennessee thank you for your "courage." They want to know if you'll go after Big Liquor next so they can revive the state's declining moonshine industry.

Burglaries

David Allen Lackey, 19 of E. SR-46, Geneva, was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies Wednesday. Local investigators interviewed Lackey at the Volusia County Jail in Daytona Beach on Oct. 16, where he was being held on other charges. They said during the interview, Lackey confessed to having been involved in the burglary at the VFW building on Lake Mills Avenue in Chuluota, along with two other men including Bryan Ralston. The arrest report said the men took $170 from the safe of the building, in addition to alcoholic beverages.

One of the other persons said to have been involved, Bryan John Ralston, 18, also living on E. SR-46 in Geneva, was also arrested in connection with a residential burglary in which an electronic keyboard was taken, in addition to approximately $15,000 in tools removed from a shed. A stereo system, also taken, was located in a nearby wooded area.

Lackey was officially charged this Wednesday, with two counts of burglary to a structure and one each of petty larceny and property damage/criminal mischief.

Attempted Entry

A man arrested as John Doe, approximately 23 years of age, was taken into custody by Sheriff's deputies Wednesday at an apartment at Little Grove Cove in Oviedo. The arrest report said a deputy was summoned when the man reportedly attempted to enter an apartment, which wasn't his. The residents called the deputies who were told the man believed it was his apartment. He subsequently left on his bicycle. Approximately 45 minutes later, deputies were called to the same location where the man was found sleeping next to his bike, on the doorstep of the same apartment. Officers said they were unable to learn his identity and he was difficult to understand with a dialect and slurred speech. He was arrested under the name of John Doe, on charges of disorderly intoxication, giving a false identification to a law enforcement officer, and displaying another person's (his brother's) driver's license.

Traffic Stops

- Thomas Edward McCue, Jr., 24, of West Airport Blvd. was stopped by deputies Thursday on Americana Blvd. near Orlando Drive in Sanford. he was charged with possession of under 20 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.
- Nancy Ann Williams, 48, Cardinal Cove Circle, Sanford, was stopped by Sanford police Thursday on Upsala Road. She was charged with driving under the influence (DUI) of alcohol/drugs.

Disputes

- Lois Cecilia Crawford, 52, Torrington Circle, Longwood, was arrested by Longwood police Wednesday at her residence. Officers said she had thrown a beer bottle at a man sleeping on her sofa, hitting him in the face. She was arrested on charges of domestic violence/aggravated battery.

- Jennifer Lee Held, 21, of Casselberry, was arrested by Longwood police Wednesday following an altercation with a female on East Jessup Avenue in Longwood. She was charged with battery.

- Patrick Avon Mitchell, 23, of Cardinal Cove Circle, was arrested by deputies Wednesday in the 2300 block of Falling Acorn Circle in Lake Mary. He reportedly entered a residence by force, struck a female, and scratched a slur in the paint on her door. He was arrested on charges of burglary to an occupied dwelling with battery, and criminal mischief.

Attempted Murder

Porfirio Aruizu, 31, and Arturo Jose Aruizu Sanchez, 17, brothers, both of Lake Pickett Road, Oviedo, were arrested by Oviedo Police Wednesday. According to police, on Sunday, Oct. 20, the two went to a residence in the 900 block of Sharon Court in Oviedo, and one reportedly started beating the resident in the head with a baseball bat. Police said the force of the beating broke the bat. The other person indicated he had a firearm. A witness called 9-1-1, but before police could arrive, both men left in a pickup truck.

At Florida Hospital, officials said the victim sustained fractures to both his left and right arms as well as multiple fractures to facial bones and areas around his eyes.

Wednesday, probable cause was established and the brothers were arrested on charges of attempted murder/aggravated assault.

Fatal Shooting

Early Thursday morning, Altamonte Springs police were called to Douglaston Apartments on Douglas Avenue in reference to a fatal shooting.

According to the initial investigation, a subject approached the apartment and asked for one of the residents. The two persons at the home at the time told the man their roommate was not home. While the three were speaking at the front door, a fourth person arrived and all four went into the residence.

While inside, a verbal confrontation reportedly broke out between the four and one produced a handgun. A physical struggle then ensued over the handgun. While struggling, the gun discharged and the man who first came to the apartment was struck and fatally wounded. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

The motive for the confrontation or shooting is yet to be determined. The three roommates have been questioned by Altamonte Springs Police Detectives, who are working with the State Attorney's Office. Thus far, no charges have been filed and the investigation is continuing.

Old friend is good company, but bad addition to marriage

DEAR ABBY: My husband, "George," and I have been married 36 years. During that time I have disagreed with some of the choices he's made, but his latest escapade tops them all.

A year ago, George expressed a desire to rekindle a friendship with a woman he'd had a crush on in high school. (I'll call her Kate.) Kate said she wondered what had happened to some of their old classmates, so George suggested they attend their 40th class reunion together. I didn't care to go, so I agreed it might be fun for them to see the old gang.

Since then, the three of us have enjoyed dinners and movies. They're now planning a seven-day Caribbean cruise together and say they want to share a room to save money. I was invited, but I don't plan to go.

George insists there is no sexual attraction — but I'm becoming uncomfortable and annoyed with the situation. The chosen few to whom he's confided his vacation plans say I'm crazy for allowing things to escalate this far. I'm beginning to agree.

My husband recently had a heart attack and takes numerous medications. I have stuck by his side all these years while he was in and out of the hospital with various ailments. I don't understand why he now wants to spend so much time with a friend, while neglecting a faithful wife.

As I sit typing this letter, George has gone for yet another one of their "friendship visits."

Abby, what's wrong with this picture? We're the talk of the neighborhood. Any suggestions?

DESERTED WIFE IN MISSOURI

DEAR DESERTEED: Yes! Spouses should be playmates as well as helpmates. If you haven't already realized it, you're playing with dynamite. Reorganize your priorities immediately, and stop enabling your husband to spend so much time alone with his old high school crush.

Kate reminds your husband of the time when he was young and healthy. After his heart attack, he is living life to the fullest — however, he should be living it with you. Since your husband has told you you are welcome to be with them, make it your business to go on the cruise. You, not Kate, should be the one sharing his statement.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old girl. Lately I've been thinking about famous people and the impact they have on the lives of children and teenagers. If some rock star gets caught smoking marijuana or an athlete takes steroids, I know kids my age who would go straight out and try it.

These singers, athletes, actors and musicians don't realize how powerful their influence is. You can't rationalize behavior by saying, "Oh, they should have known better."

Hello! I don't think so. To all of the famous people out here, whether you realize it or not, you are role models for us kids and young adults all across the nation. So PLEASE, before you do something dangerous, stupid or illegal — think about the impact it will have on your fans.

A MINOR WHO KNOWS, HAWTHORNE, N.J.

DEAR MINOR: For one so young, you have a good head on your shoulders. I agree that when someone enters public life, setting a good example is a small price to pay for fame and fortune.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MY READERS: An important reminder: Have you remembered to change the batteries on your smoke alarms and that daylight-saving time is over, so clocks should be set back one hour? I hope so!

Citizens must become involved in City Manager vs. Strong-Mayor debate

City commissioners have an interesting task before them Monday night. They'll discuss whether Sanford should change its style of government from a city manager to a strong-mayor. Monday's discussion will not be the last one commissioners have. The issue is complex and there are advantages and disadvantages to each. Ultimately it will be up to the citizens of Sanford to decide. That is why it's imperative that residents become involved in the process.

In some respects, Sanford's discussions of proposed charter changes mirror the efforts of our Founding Fathers in the creation of the U.S. Constitution. The city's endeavor does not rank historically with those of James Madison and his colleagues; but in terms of day-to-day government, a charter change could have significant effects for the citizens of Sanford. This isn't simply electing someone to represent us. A charter change will be the blueprint those representatives use to govern we the people.

Residents should study the issues and prepare to provide input. Citizens don't often have the chance to decide their form of government. Sanford may have that opportunity in March, and it's important that we all participate.

Read this ASAP and PDQ

In a written background statement to the Seminole County Commission at Tuesday morning's meeting, one item stood out to me. "The Board of County Commissioners approved the purchase of the Selection IVR system on August 13, 2002. Based on the requirements of GASB-34 and GAAP, the amount of the purchase needs to be capitalized."

Nick Pfeifauf

"Before we go any further," said Commissioner Grant Malloy, "I hate acronyms. What is an IVR?" No one at the meeting could explain what the initials stood for but someone suggested it might be a business name. I agree with Malloy. I hate acronyms. In the newspaper business, they are always (or should be) explained. I.e.; East Central Florida Regional Planning Council (ECFRPC), or Driving under the influence of alcohol (DUI). This is the way it should be.

The problem with acronyms is especially strong in government written papers. When a commission or board — city or county — reviews a document, they may know what certain initials mean, but not the general public, who will be affected by a commission decision.

Most folks probably don't know the difference between a DRI, PCD or a PUD. (Development of Regional Impact, Planned Commercial Development and Planned Urban Development). In the most recent County Commission Agenda front page section, we find the acronyms, NATOA, HOME, SHIP, ROW, HIBC, and the three previously mentioned, IVR, GASB-34 and GAAP. Only some of these were explained in the text of the attached documents. I hope Commissioner Malloy and the others know what most of them mean because they voted on them.

Naturally, some acronyms are so commonly used, we don't have to explain; such as DAV (Disabled American Veterans), BSCC (Board of Seminole County Commission), and a few others. Some however, had better be explained. What does BCC in a news story mean? Board of County Commission, Brevard County Commission, Broward County Commission, Brevard Community College, Bethune-Cookman College, or possibly even British Commonwealth of Canada? It could be any of these. Same with SCC (Seminole County Commission or Seminole Community College) or 9-11 (could be Sept. 11 or the phone number for emergencies).

A previous city official I knew used to be an expert at acronyms. He would report to the commissioners in wording that appeared to be, "I believe we should ABC this item to DEF for a GHI approval for the JFK airport, and the LMN will OPQ it unless we vote to RST the matter." With that, the commission would vote to approve. What the heck did they approve? I certainly don't know, nor did the public who would attend a meeting in which such gibberish was spoken.

I urge every government official to instruct staff to spell out every acronym at least once, preferably near the beginning of each document they produce for commission or public information.

FYI, I think these officials should not delay until TUE to solve these acronym FAQs ASAP WWJD?

Marcel questions why third year of project not started

To the editor: Commissioner Woodruff, I would like to bring to your attention that some misrepresentations have occurred with the five year sidewalk project that the city agreed to two years ago. The citizens of Sanford were told that the city of Sanford had committed funds to a five-year plan to replace defective sidewalks.

At the last Commission meeting that I attended, I asked the mayor, commissioner and city manager if the third year of the five year plan had in fact been included in the city budget. I was told point blank by Mr. Vandervorp, "Yes." I obtained the tape of the meeting where he can be heard saying yes.

This week I have learned that the city has not started the third year of the five year project because paperwork must be submitted (by the public works department) to the county to ask for funds. The mayor said that he was unaware the project was not funded. It was not revealed to me how long the process will take to obtain the money from the county, but the process itself is causing a delay. The contract cannot be awarded and work cannot begin.

Commissioner Woodruff, the citizens of Sanford have not been dealt with fairly or honestly in this matter. On another note, I do not agree with a "strong-mayor" form of government that is being discussed for the city of Sanford. I would suggest the commission take a look at employee evaluations at a lower level than the city manager if changes need to be made.

From personal observations while living in Sanford for almost three years, it is my belief that measures definitely need to be taken to improve productivity in the city, and I think the public works department is one of the first areas that should be evaluated. There are individuals still working in that department that have been neglecting the needs of the city infrastructure for more than 30 years.

The second department I would assess is the code enforcement department. I respectfully ask that before the city commissioners consider changing its entire governing format that it consider hiring an outside professional company to evaluate city employee productivity. Perhaps with city employees that are capable and conscientious, the citizens would then say they are "Sanford Proud."

McBride isn't giving particulars of education plan

To the editor: Democratic Candidate for governor, Bill McBride tells Florida voters that his priority as Governor will be the education of Florida's children. He also states that Bush has done a poor job for education and that Florida's student SAT scores have gone down over the three years of the Bush Administration. Unfortunately, McBride doesn't tell you the whole truth. This is a downward trend that has going on for more than thirty (30) years under numerous Democratic Gubernatorial Administrations. The truth is that right now many of our children can't read properly. Many of our high school students graduate but can't write an intelligible paragraph that would be acceptable to a potential employer. Many of our children have to be given remedial courses in English, Spelling, Reading and Math before they can begin college courses. This is a ludicrous state of affairs! But, Jeb Bush can't wave a magic wand and all of the failings of previous Governmental Administrations and Education Administrations will just go away. It may take years to undo the harm that has been done to our educational system (Seminole County's School System, one of the best in the State, as expected. I remind you, the students with the declining SAT's of which McBride speaks, were educated under the leadership and guidance of several previous Democratic Administrations. The year or two under Bush's Administration can't hope to undo ten or eleven years of educational neglect, especially since the same curriculum used then is still being used now.

As a native Floridian of many years, I have heard numerous Gubernatorial campaign speeches and promises to make education a priority but they have never really come to pass. In interviews, McBride doesn't seem to be able to give any particulars of his plan for education except to say he supports the smaller classroom and more teachers amendment on the November ballot. Typically however, I'm sure his approach will be to throw more money at education and let the State Board of Education and the teacher's union run the show as always, unaccountable to the parents and taxpayers of Florida. McBride states that he would put a 50 cent per pack tax on cigarettes to pay for the huge construction and staffing budget that would be required to build, furnish and staff all of the new classrooms that would be necessary to meet the demands of the proposed amendment. Unfortunately, such a tax wouldn't pay a tenth of the estimated $25 to $30 Billion dollar cost of the changes the proposed amendment would bring over the next eight years. Therefore, the Florida State Legislature would have no choice but to propose a State Income Tax to meet the requirements of the revised State Constitution. Also, there is now a severe nationwide teacher shortage and Florida is already having a tough time getting qualified teachers. How is Florida going to obtain the estimated 30,000 new, qualified teachers required to meet the mandate of a revised State Constitution?

There are many knowledgeable education experts out there who disagree with the "smaller classroom amendment" as a way to solve Florida's educational dilemma. They contend that with this approach we would have fewer students in class, at great cost, but we would still be producing low performing, mediocre graduates.

They contend that we will have to "raise the bar" for students and teachers alike, and demand compliance to same. We need to raise salaries for teachers who perform well, and weed out teachers who don't. We need to educate and show parents how to help their children through school. We need to get parents more involved, with a voice, in the actual day to day policy decisions made by local school administrations. After all, we pay the bills. Part of Seminole County's success with its students is attributed by its Administrator to the involvement of the parents in their children's education. We need to identify those children who need special help and get them so as not to let them "fall through the cracks". This is when a portion of any extra money can come up and should go

The only hope for these children is to help them get the best education they can. There are already thousands of highly educated retirees out there that would be able to help our children with their education. Unfortunately, the teachers union doesn't want that to happen and therein lies one of the problems, they are part of the problem rather than the solution.

Personally, I believe that Jeb Bush has made a good start in turning Florida's failing educational system around. He has introduced testing and accountability into the system, dragged nay sayers with him kicking and screaming all the way. Some nay sayers complain that standardized testing forces them to teach to the tests. However, have you ever asked yourself why they would have to "teach the tests" if our children were getting a good, rounded education? I don't think so. I will be voting for Jeb Bush because I believe he has done a good job and has a positive path for the future of our children. I will not be voting for the Small Classroom Amendment (#9) on the ballot because I don't believe it will help our educational situation. It will put Florida into the proverbial poor house and will have huge feeding trough for the special interest groups in Tallahassee.

The Herald asks people what they think ...

In just a few days, kids of all ages and those young at heart will be dressing up for All Hallows Eve. We asked a few people what Halloween costume was their favorite from the past.

My favorite was Casper the Ghost. I was about 4 or 5, and I remember that it was hot and stuffy. My mom made me wear it for several Halloweens.

Linda Esposito
DeFuria

My favorite was when I dressed up like a television. It was made from a box and Saran Wrap, and I wore a hat with antennas. My mom and I made it.

Flu vaccinations available at county health department for $15

The Seminole County Health Department has the influenza (flu) vaccine available for residents of Seminole County. The cost for a flu shot is $15. Flu season runs from now through the end of March. Vaccines are available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Health Department sites located at 400 W. Airport Boulevard in Sanford, and 132 Sausalito Boulevard in Casselberry. Flu vaccines are also available at two community sites: The Memorial Building, 38 S. Central Boulevard in Oviedo on Tuesdays only, from 9 to 11 a.m.; and the Geneva Elementary School, 275 First Street in Geneva on Fridays only from 9 to 11 a.m. Pneumonia shots are also available for $28 to seniors 65

Change your clock, change your battery

Local fire departments are urging all citizens to adopt a simple, potentially life saving habit. Change the batteries in smoke detectors when changing clocks back on October 27. The "Change your Clock, Change Your Battery" campaign encourages citizens to arm themselves against home fires by taking some basic home fire safety precautions, including installing fresh batteries in smoke alarms. Firefighters will give the smoke detectors and batteries to the elderly, disabled, or those who can not afford one of their own. Citizens can simply phone their local fire department to set up an appointment.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS DISTRICT 3 (Vote for One) <input type="radio"/> Jennifer CARROLL (REP) <input type="radio"/> Corinne BROWN (DEM) <input type="radio"/> Write-in		STATE REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT 33 (Vote for One) <input type="radio"/> Sandra Sandy ADAMS (REP) <input type="radio"/> James T. COAKLEY (LIB) PLEASE NOTE: State Representative, District 33, will appear ONLY in Precincts 3, 5, 6, 7, 18, 21, 22, 29, 42, 105, 106, 108, 123, 124 and 125		NO. 1 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE I, SECTION 17 BALLOT TITLE: Amending Article I, Section 17 of the State Constitution BALLOT SUMMARY: Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution identical to a proposed amendment to Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution which was approved by a statewide vote in 1998. The Supreme Court of Florida struck the 1998 amendment in a ruling in which four of the seven justices found that the ballot summary was inaccurate. The proposed amendment expressly authorizes the death penalty for capital crimes and expressly authorizes retroactive changes in the method of execution. The amendment changes the prohibition against "cruel or unusual punishment," currently provided in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to a prohibition against "cruel and unusual punishment" to conform with the wording of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment prohibits reduction of a death sentence based on invalidity of an execution method and provides for continued force of the sentence. The amendment permits any execution method unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. The amendment requires construction of the prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment and the proposed prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment to conform to United States Supreme Court interpretation of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment would prevent state courts, including the Florida Supreme Court, from treating the state constitutional prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment as being more expansive than the federal constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment or United States Supreme Court interpretations thereof. The amendment effectively nullifies rights currently allowed under the state prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment which may afford greater protections for those subject to punishment for crimes than will be provided by the amendment. Under the amendment, the protections afforded those subject to punishment for crimes under the "cruel or unusual punishment" clause, as that clause currently appears in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, will be the same as the minimum protections provided under the "cruel and unusual" punishments clause of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment provides for retroactive applicability. Specifically, the proposal amends Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to read as set forth below. The word stricken is a deletion; words underlined are additions. SECTION 17. Excessive punishments. —Excessive fines, cruel and/or unusual punishment, attainder, forfeiture of estate, indefinite imprisonment, and unreasonable detention of witnesses are forbidden. The death penalty is an authorized punishment for capital crimes designated by the legislature. The prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment, and the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment, shall be construed in conformity with decisions of the United States Supreme Court which interpret the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment provided in the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Any method of execution shall be allowed, unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. Methods of execution may be designated by the legislature, and a change in any method of execution may be applied retroactively. A sentence of death shall not be reduced on the basis that a method of execution is invalid. In any case in which an execution method is declared invalid, the death sentence shall remain in force until the sentence can be lawfully executed by any valid method. This section shall apply retroactively. <input type="radio"/> YES <input type="radio"/> NO

SCC District Board of Trustees opposes two constitutional amendments on Nov. 5 ballot

On Oct. 15, Seminole Community College's District Board of Trustees formally opposed proposed Florida Constitutional Amendments 9 and 11.

Amendment 9 calls for a reduction in class size for all public school classrooms in Florida. Amendment 11 aims to dissolve the K-20 governance structure currently in place and restore a separate governing board for the state's 11 universities.

Although the Board supports measures that promote student learning, they believed a Constitutional amendment was an inappropriate vehicle for addressing smaller class size. The Board's statement on Amendment 9 recommends the Governor, the Legislature and the Florida Board of Education provide a broader discussion of initiatives and resources that lead to higher student achievement in the state's K-20 system.

"We support quality education and appreciate the concern of those who have brought forward Amendment 9," explained Dr. Charles English, Board chairman. "However, we believe a Constitutional amendment is not the forum to find appropriate solutions to reducing class size and improving education in Florida." In opposing Amendment 11, the Board voiced its support of the K-20 governance structure, which is student-centered and gives greater authority to local governing boards. The Board believes the new governance structure proposed by Amendment 11 ignores the state's community college system, which serves four times as many students as the state university system.

"We believe that the K-20 governance structure promotes greater cooperation between the state's educational systems and allows us to better serve students across Florida," English said.

NO. 0001 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE X, SECTION 20

Health Hazards of Second-Hand Tobacco Smoke by Prohibiting Workplace Smoking
From the health hazards of second-hand tobacco smoke, this amendment prohibits tobacco smoking in enclosed private residences except when they are being used to provide commercial child care, adult care or health care, except in designated smoking guest rooms at hotels and other public lodging establishments, and stand-alone bars. The Legislature is prompted to promptly implement this amendment.

NO. 0002 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE VII, SECTION 4

Location of Living Quarters for Parents or Grandparents
This amendment to the State Constitution to allow counties to exempt from taxation an increase in the assessed value of existing living quarters for a parent or grandparent of the property owner or the property owner's spouse who is 62 years of age or older, such exemption to the increase in assessed value resulting from such construction or 20 percent of the total assessed value, whichever is less.

NO. 0003 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE IX, SECTION 1

Pre-Kindergarten Education
Every child in Florida shall be offered a high quality pre-kindergarten learning opportunity by the state no later than the child's third birthday. A school development and education program shall be established according to high quality standards and shall be funded by the state. Funds used for existing education, health and development programs shall not be used for this purpose.

NO. 0004 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE IX, SECTION 1

Reduced Class Size
This amendment to the State Constitution to require that the Legislature provide funding for sufficient classrooms so that there are no more than 25 students in public school classes for various grade levels; requires compliance by the beginning of the 2010 school year; requires school districts, to pay for the costs associated with reduced class size; prescribes a schedule for phased-in funding for this purpose.

NO. 0005 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE X, SECTION 10

Limiting Cruel and Inhumane Confinement of Pigs During Pregnancy
This amendment to the State Constitution to prevent cruelty to animals and as recommended by The Humane Society of the United States shall define a pig during pregnancy in a cage, crate or other enclosure, or tether a pregnant pig, on a farm so that the pig is not able to turn around, except for veterinary purposes and during the prebirthing period; provides definitions, penalties, and an enforcement mechanism.

NO. 0006 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE IX, SECTION 7

Statewide Governing Board to Manage Florida's University System
The Board of Trustees shall administer each state university. Each board shall have thirteen members dedicated to excellence in higher education. A statewide governing board of seventeen members shall be responsible for the coordinated and accountable management of the state university system. Wasteful duplication of facilities or programs is to be avoided. Provides procedures for selection and confirmation of members and one faculty representative per board.

The Way We Were: Marching bands a tradition in Seminole

When I saw the ad in the Herald about the 27th Annual Seminole County High School Band Festival to be held this weekend, I recalled that several months ago someone had left two older programs of this event on my porch. I dug them out and found they were for the Nov. 4, 1978 and Nov. 3, 1979 events.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

These were the fourth and fifth festivals and were sponsored by the Optimist Club and the Evening Herald (now Seminole Herald) as they continue to be today. These programs give a synopsis of each band and its activities with some band directors giving more information than others. I'll edit what was said about each band in 1978 and 1979.

Seminole High Marching Seminoles
The Seminole High Band was under the direction of Dwane Earnhart both years, with Judy Bales as SunMaiden sponsor and Kim McGill as Flag Corps Assistant. The 1978 drum major was Renie Melton; Donna Pfeifauf held that position in 1979.

Officers in 1978 were Steve Weldon, Nadine Yetzer, Linda Crumpton, Cindy Cager, John Youngblood, Karen Morgan, Helen Lewis, Mike Thrift and Robert Triplett.

The 1979 officers were Alan Shelton, Mike Thrift, Tracy Krossl, Charlene Stallworth, Ray Wolfe and Lawrence Cooper.

The band had increased from 74 instrumentalists in 1978 to 86 in 1979 and from 20 to 24 dancers called SunMaidens. There was also a flag corps and majorettes.

The band actively participated in Florida Bandmaster Association activities and represented SHS in numerous performances in the community and throughout the state.

Lyman High School
John B. Blair was director of the Lyman Band both years and drum major Scott Kirkpatrick also served both years.

Head majorette in 1978 was Liz Kuml and in 1979, Debbie Kent. Cindy Belliveau served as drill captain in 1978 and Laurie Dempsey in 1979.

During the previous four years, the band had participated in the Apple Blossom Festival, New Orleans Spring Jazz Festival, and had been the honor band in the St. Augustine Easter Festival Parade. Each year the band had played at the opening of Speed Weeks in Daytona Beach.

Oviedo High School
The director of the Oviedo band for both years was Richard Feinberg. His assistant in 1978 was C.W. Buck, and in 1979 Airy Gonzalez.

Each year there were 74 instrumentalists and 32 dancers with three drum majors.

The band had been organized in 1965 and in its short time had marched in the 1971 inaugural parade, participated in the 1972 Cherry Blossom Festival and toured Europe in 1974 for the Anglo-American Music Festival. They had recently performed at the University Band Day at the Orange Bowl.

This group participated in the Florida Bandmasters Association activities and performed and represented their school in their community and throughout the state. In 1979 they received a superior rating in the Six Flags over Georgia Band Festival.

Lake Brantley High School
The Lake Brantley Patriot Marching Band had only been in existence since 1971 but had already received many honors and was widely recognized throughout the area.

Jack Herron was its new director in 1978 and he continued in 1979. In 1978 he was president of the Florida Bandmasters Association.

Drum majors in 1978 were Ron Campbell and John Chamberlain. Scott Knapp held that position in 1979.

In 1977, they had participated in the Largo Golden Invitational and the Southeast Tournament of Bands in South Carolina. The highlight of that year was participation in the annual Festival of Bands in Mexico City.

In 1979 they had spent the week before school attending band camp in Leesburg. They planned to attend the Southern Regional Marching Contest in Pensacola later that month.

This "Red, White and Blue Marching Machine" had received superior ratings in marching for seven consecutive years in the Florida District Band Masters Association contest.

Lake Howell High School
Lake Howell came into existence in 1974 with only freshmen and sophomores. Ronald Castro formed the band that year with 55 members and continued to serve as band director. There were 188 members by 1979 and Lake Howell had achieved full high school status.

By 1979 the band had earned superior ratings in the previous three Florida Bandmaster Association marching contests. Members had also earned many superior and excellent ratings in solos and ensembles.

During the summer of 1977, the band made a whirlwind tour of Europe performing and sight-seeing in several countries. While in Germany, their performance was sponsored by the USO and received nationwide TV coverage. In Paris, they were honored by being the first band in history allowed to march down the Champs Elysees to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier where they placed a wreath in honor of Americans who died in World Wars I and II.

While in Belgium, they performed at the Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers of Europe and were presented a certificate of appreciation by General Alexander Haig.

In 1978 the band made history by becoming the first band ever to participate as a concert choir in the Florida Association District Choral Contest. This band choir received a superior rating and went on to win one superior and two excellent at the state contest.

The band was known for its unusual effects, showmanship and creative ideas. The students were active in writing the music, drills and sound effects for each show.

The 1978 drum majors were Jeff Morris and George Glasgow. The drum major in 1979 was Todd Sheeringer. Field commander was Frank Reindl. Majorette captains were Julie Brophy and Doreen Embree in 1978.

An additional note
I am sure that Seminole High School has the oldest band in the county since Lyman housed grades 1 - 12 until probably the early 1960's. Such was also the case with Oviedo.

The new Sanford High School located at Palmetto Avenue and 9th Street housed grades 8 through 12 in 1911 and a football team was organized in 1912. There was no band however until the late 1930's and it wasn't until the early 1940's that it began to have more of a presence.

Bernard Black, who came in as band director in 1947 organized a full scale band that participated in Florida Bandmaster Association contests and events. He also organized a small junior high band and taught lessons at Sanford Grammar School.

Ernie Cowley came as bandmaster in 1951 and much progress was made under his leadership. Included were several trips such as to the Mardi Gras in New Orleans in 1954. Take a look sometime at the band scrapbook (1951-68) which is in the student museum. (I was a member of the SHS band 1950-54).

Roland Castro was band director at Seminole High 1971-74, then went to Lake Howell as its first band director in 1974. SHS's assistant principal Richard Evans became Lake Howell's first principal and several other SHS faculty members also went to Lake Howell that year.

I believe that Richard Feinberg, Oviedo High's long-time band director was a graduate of SHS. And Lake Brantley also raided SHS when it was opened in 1971, taking its principal, Richard Barnett, as Lake Brantley's first principal.

provide those who use these shelters with a safer environment, and lessen potential damage to the facilities.

It is through grant funded programs such as this that Seminole County Emergency Management is able to continue cost effective protective measures for area citizens. To date, these grants have provided over $500,000 to the Seminole County shelter program.

Just this past week, the Florida Division of Emergency Management gave an additional $174,000 in assistance to improve Lawton Chiles Middle School in Oviedo. This money will reinforce shelter operations.

"With money like this, citizens will have a safer place to seek refuge," said Joseph McClain, the county's emergency manager.

port surface. "Receiving a 'None in a Million' award is a special recognition of the outstanding service we provide every day," said Steve Bouchard, Sanford Air Traffic Manager. "We strive to continue providing this excellent service day after day, year after year."

Air traffic controllers at Sanford Tower have not made an operational error in more than two and a half years, according to Bouchard.

In addition to Sanford Tower, ten other FAA towers throughout the Southeast were presented "None in a Million" awards. In Florida, they include the St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport, the Tallahassee Regional Airport, and Kendall-Tamiami Executive Airport.

Pumpkins

Sanlando United Methodist Youth Director Sarah Fuller said. "We've been doing it for several years, and it's been very good for us."

The first shipment of more than 2,000 pumpkins from New Mexico arrived at the church earlier this month, Fuller said. A couple of weeks later, the next shipment of 2,000 arrived. Most of the pumpkins will be gone by Halloween.

"We sell a tremendous amount of pumpkins," Fuller said. "Hopefully, we won't have very many left by the time Halloween is over."

Leftover pumpkins, however, won't be thrown away or discarded. The fruit will become a delectable treat for a parishioner's cows.

Sponsoring a pumpkin patch doesn't come without a few problems. There's always one or two pumpkins that arrive a little rotten and a few squirrels that can't get enough of the holiday fruit.

"During the evening, the squirrels will eat some of our pumpkins," Fuller said. "They seem to have a passion for pumpkins."

On Friday, Lynn Gillespie of Lake Mary took her two children, Gavin and Lauren, to the church to choose the perfect pumpkin for a Jack O'lantern. The trip has become an annual sojourn for the group.

"We come here each year to choose a couple of pumpkins," Gillespie said. "The children each get a pumpkin, and they design on paper how they want them carved. It's something I did as a child, and I want to pass it on to my kids."

The Story of Jack

Although generations of American have carved pumpkins for Halloween, the tradition of the Jack O'lantern was started by an old Irish legend. As the story goes, a man called Stingy Jack was known throughout his village for being mean and miserable and who liked to play tricks on people.

One day, Stingy Jack tricked the devil into climbing up an apple tree. Once the devil was high up in the tree, Jack placed crosses around the trunk. The devil was unable to get down, and Jack made him promise not to take his soul when he died. Once the promise was made, Jack removed the crosses and the devil was able to climb down the tree.

When Jack died many years later, St. Peter told him he was too mean and cruel to enter heaven. However, since the devil promised not to take his soul, he couldn't enter hell. So, Jack was left to wander forever in the darkness between heaven and hell.

Before leaving hell, Jack asked the devil how he was supposed to see in the dark. The devil tossed Jack an ember, which Jack placed in a hollowed out turnip. From the day forward, Stingy Jack roamed the earth without a resting place, lighting his way with his "Jack O'lantern."

Originally the Irish hollowed out turnips, rutabagas, gourds and potatoes for their traditional Jack O'lanterns. In the 1800s, Irish immigrants to America discovered pumpkins were bigger and easier to carve, so the round, orange fruit became the Jack O'lantern.

Not all pumpkins, however, make the perfect Jack O'lantern. At Sanlando United Methodist Church, Fuller said the most popular pumpkins are the tall and skinny ones.

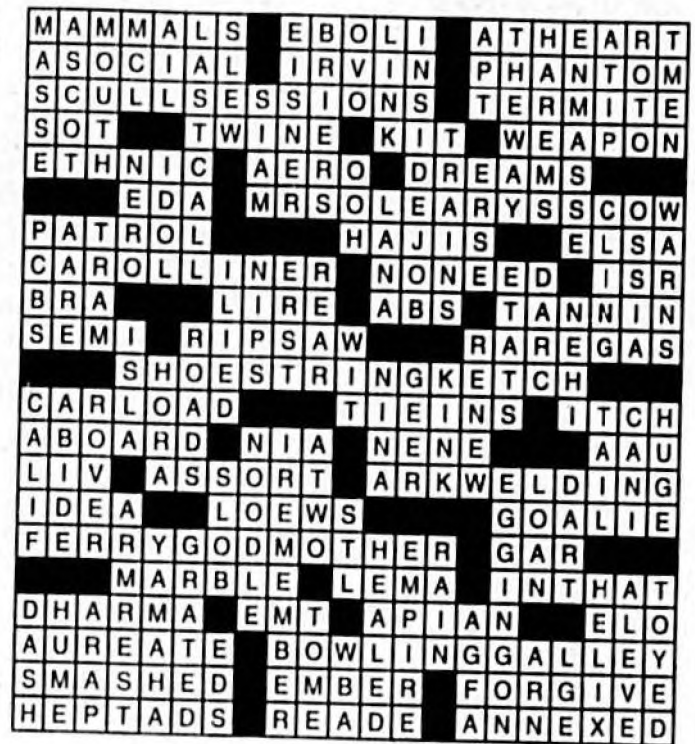

"The ones that are more flat faced are chosen first," Fuller said. "They are the best ones to carve."

The Longwood pumpkin patch is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday until Oct. 31. The church is located at 1939 Boothe Circle. For more information, call 407-571-2100.

Along with pumpkins, the church is selling a variety of harvest items, including small gourds and hay.

to perform their duties.

"The city commission is supposed to tell the manager what to do," Moore said. "If he's not doing it, fire him. If he's not being told what to do, the commission is not doing their job."

Dale, who on more than one occasion had run-ins with city staff, said it's a complicated issue.

"When you try to provide direction, the first thing people complain about is that you're overstepping your bounds," Dale said. "Staff may agree that the commission provides direction, but try to do it sometime. If they disagree with the direction, they accuse you of micromanaging."

Both Smith and Moore agree that a city manager form of government provides more professional leadership.

"It's important that business be conducted professionally," Smith said. "A city manager provides that."

Dale, of course, disagrees.

"Just because you have a strong mayor doesn't mean you can't hire good people," Dale said. "You would have a chief of staff and your department heads who would provide technical support."

"Besides," Dale added, "this idea of professional management, what does that mean? Does it mean they're professional in representing the will of the people, or does it mean they went to school and got a degree? You have to have qualified, educated people, no doubt, but it doesn't take a Ph.D. to represent the will of the people."

All three do agree on one thing: the issue should be decided by the citizens.

"I don't know that there is a hue and cry out there to change it," Smith said. "I don't even know that the citizens even know the difference. But they should be the ones to decide if it's an issue."

$10.5 million project officially begins

After years of planning, city officials and local dignitaries broke ground on the Riverwalk. The ceremony was held Thursday at Fort Mellon Park. The primary purpose of the $10.5 million project is to replace the aging seawall along Lake Monroe from Mallorville to French avenues.

ABOVE — Neil Snow was one of about 175 people who attended the ground-breaking ceremony for the Sanford Riverwalk. Snow is leading an effort to place some type of veterans' memorial at Memorial Park. The park site of the giant American flag on the waterfront, will receive a face-lift as part of the Riverwalk work.

urgency to find resolutions.

"The thing you have to do is stay focused on the case and keep the investigators motivated," Beary said. "That's why the police chief usually gives the press briefings. The spokesman is usually the hero or the goat depending on how the case is going at the time, but there is no one person that makes or breaks a case. It's a team effort. You let the investigators focus on their job, and the chief takes the hits for how the public perceives the case is going."

Berry, Eslinger and Tooley agreed that Montgomery County Police Chief Charles Moose performed well under intense pressure.

"We as chiefs were watching how he performed under the media spotlight and kind of grading his performance," Tooley said. "It's a tough situation because you want to inform the public as much as possible, but you don't want to jeopardize the case."

Eslinger wouldn't rate the media's performance. Generally, he said beat reporters — those gathering the facts and information — did well, but he was less complimentary of the "experts" who provided day-to-day analysis.

"The disconcerting thing was the leaks that came out early on," Eslinger said. "Since I wasn't involved in the case, it's hard to know whether the leaks stopped or the reporters withheld some information for fear of damaging the investigation. That does happen."

"The talking heads are another story. There was too much speculation without any facts, and most of their assumptions were wrong."

Big cats come to Orlando

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Their faces look hairy and a little bit scary and they're arriving in Orlando just in time for Halloween. We're talking about cats of course, but not the furry kind that hiss and spit. No indeed, we're talking about the slippery kind that grunt and squeak - catfish!

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) has begun stocking 1,500 pounds of channel catfish into the 7-acre Lupine Pond at Orange County's Shadow Bay Park. Biologists will periodically stock fish in the pond until they reach the desired amount.

"These fish will average more than three pounds each - many even larger," said Marcos De Jesus, fisheries biologist for the FWC's Fish Orlando! project. "We'll collect them from other water bodies and transfer them to Lupine Pond to join fish we have previously stocked there from our state hatchery."

The reason for the stocking is to create a unique channel catfish fishery in urban Orlando as part of the Fish Orlando! program - an FWC project that promotes quality fishing for the whole family.

"We want people to be able to fish in Lupine Pond and have a good chance of catching a nice big fish," said De Jesus. "Therefore, no channel catfish under 30 inches in total length may be kept - they must be released immediately. And, only one channel cat that measures 30 inches or longer may be kept per day."

It's important for people to comply with these regulations so that there will be good fishing for everyone, said De Jesus. Remember, this resource is managed for recreational purposes, so catch and release according to regulations.

"Unfortunately, poachers who violated the regulations in the past caused the previous stock of catfish to dwindle to the current numbers," De Jesus said. "This current stocking will replenish the existing population to desired numbers and FWC law enforcement will enforce the rules."

He added that anglers searching for a tasty channel catfish meal may do so at any of the FWC's Orlando Urban Ponds, which are annually stocked at a rate of 500 to 1000 fish per acre. For information on the other urban ponds in Orlando, please contact the FWC Orlando fisheries office at (407) 317-7329.

Please help conserve our resources. Report those who violate fish and wildlife laws to the 24-hour Wildlife Alert Hotline at 1-888-404-FWCC. You may remain anonymous and you may be eligible for a reward if your information leads to an arrest.

Angels need a weekend sweep

By Dean Smith

SAN FRANCISCO — Sometimes your best just isn't good enough. Sanford's David Eckstein did about all he could, but for the first time in the World Series Jeff Kent came to play as the San Francisco Giants took a 3-2 lead with a 16-4 thrashing of the Anaheim Angels at Pacific Bell Park Thursday night.

Eckstein went 2-for-4, including a walk, scored a run and drove in one as the Angels rallied from a 6-0 deficit to within 6-4 in the fifth inning.

But Anaheim failed to get Eckstein in Eckstein's outstanding play not enough as Giants take 3-2 lead from third with only one out in the third inning and then failed to get home another run with less than two outs in the fifth after Eckstein's grounder got one run in and advanced another runner to third.

Then Kent, who had done virtually nothing in the first four games, blasted the first of his two home runs on the night, a two-run shot, to give the Giants an 8-4 advantage in the bottom of the fifth inning and the rout was on as Anaheim's bullpen fell apart for the first time in the playoffs.

The Best-of-Seven Series now goes back to Anaheim's Edison International Field for Game 6 on Saturday. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. and can be seen locally on FOX-35. Ryan Ortiz will start for the Giants and Kevin Appier for the Angels. Both started Game 2 of the series and neither one got out of the second inning.

If the Angels win, the winner-take-all seventh game would be Sunday night, also at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 35.

The Angels won the first game in San Francisco on Tuesday, 10-4, batting around in the third and fourth innings.

Trailing 1-0, Eckstein got things started in the third inning with a six-pitch walk and later scored the tying run as the Angels took a 4-1 lead. The Seminole High grad later singled in both the sixth and eighth innings to finish the game 2-for-5, with a walk, a run scored and an RBI.

Prior to Wednesday's game Major League Baseball announced its Top 10 Moments in history as voted on by the fans. One of the honorees was Pele Rose breaking the all-time hit record. See Series, Page 3B

Lake Mary beats Pine Ridge, gets bid to state

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

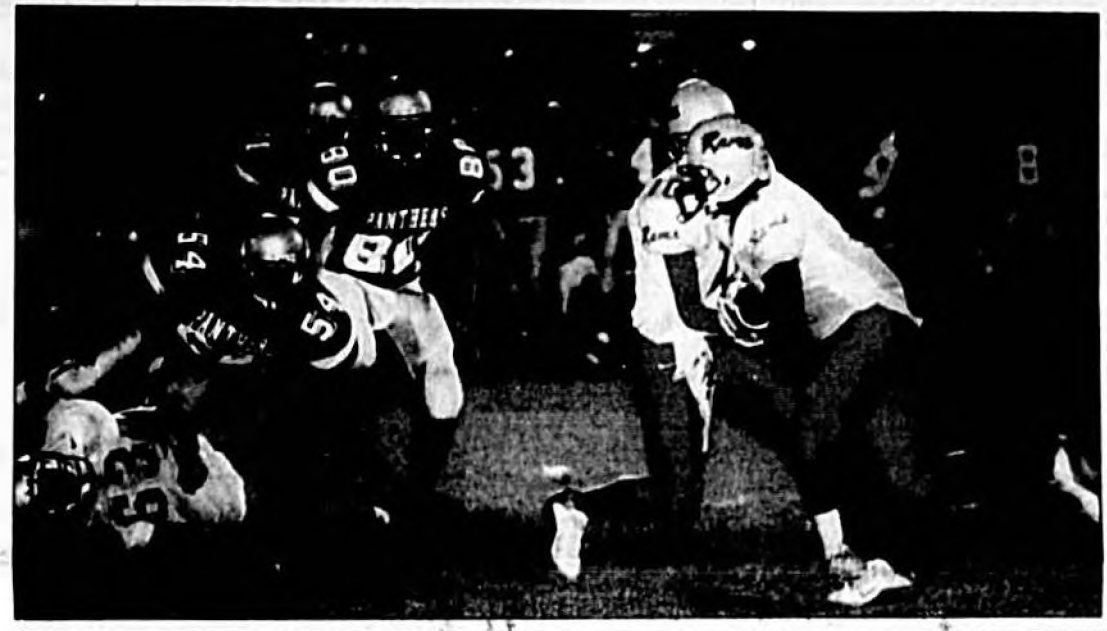

DELTONA — Lake Mary used a diverse running game and the old bend, but don't break, defense to earn a return trip to the State Playoffs Friday night. Not that the Rams wanted to employ that defense, but it worked out just fine as the 'D' did not allow a touchdown in a 21-9 defeat of Pine Ridge in a Class 5A-District 3 game in Deltona.

Lake Mary's win, coupled with Mainland's surprisingly tough 14-0 victory over Lyman Friday, wrapped up second place in the district and an automatic bid to the playoffs for the Rams no matter what happens in their final 5A-3 game against Lyman next Friday.

Lake Mary is now 7-1 overall and 5-1 in district, but wants to win both of its remaining games, at home with the Greyhounds and Lake Brantley, to try to secure a home game in the first round of the playoffs.

Friday's game started like the Rams moving down the field an seemingly destined to take a quick lead despite run-

See Rams, Page 2B

The Lake Mary running attack, led by Derrick Grayson (taking handoff, top), rushed for 332 yards on 44 carries and three touchdowns, while the Rams defense used a goal-line stand (above) in the second quarter to turn the game around and the visitors went on to clinch second in the district with a 21-9 victory over Pine Ridge Friday.

Winter Springs to play Monday

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

TITUSVILLE — The Winter Springs football team is in for a tough week.

A lightning storm and heavy rainstorm moved through the Titusville area about an hour before game time on Thursday, forcing a postponement of the Class 5A-District 3 football game.

The Bears and Terriers decided on Friday to make up the game on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Draa Field in Titusville. The delay will force a quick turnaround for Winter Springs, which will host Mandarin at the A.W. Epps Sports Complex next Friday at 7:30 p.m.

In other football news from Friday things went pretty much as expected as except for the Lyman-Mainland contest, blowouts abounded.

The Greyhounds put up probably the toughest fight the undefeated Buccaneers have faced all season, as Lyman fell just 14-0 at the Carlton D. Henley Sports Complex.

In the other games, Oviedo crushed University, 49-14; Palm Bay ran over Lake Howell, 46-3; and Lake Brantley roughed up Seminole, 57-7.

A full recap of these games will appear in Wednesday's Herald.

Next Friday, Oviedo will be at Seminole; Lake Brantley will be at Jacksonville-Sandalwood; Lake Howell will be at Merritt Island and Lyman will be at Lake Mary.

District volleyball, golf set

LAKE MARY — The state-ranked girls volleyball teams from Winter Springs and Oviedo will be the top seeds when the District Tournaments are contested this week.

The Bears (23-4), ranked No. 2 in Class 5A, will host the four-team Class 5A-District 6 Tournament beginning on Tuesday.

At 5 p.m., No. 3 seeded Lake Howell battles No. 2 Titusville and at 7 p.m., No. 4 Lyman challenges Winter Springs.

The tournament will wrap up on Thursday with the Junior Varsity Championship Match at 5 p.m. and the Varsity Championship Game at 7 p.m.

Oviedo (26-2), ranked No. 4 in the Class 6A State Poll, will be the top seed for the five-team Class 6A-District 2 Tournament that will be hosted by Lake Mary.

The tournament begins with the Quarterfinals on Tuesday with No. 4 Lake Brantley squaring off with No. 5 Seminole at 7 p.m.

The Semifinals will be contested on Wednesday with Oviedo facing the Lake Brantley/Seminole winner at 6 p.m. and the No. 2 Rams (22-6) hosting #3 DeLand at 7:30 p.m.

The winners will meet for the Championship on Thursday at 7 p.m.

Trinity Prep will also be a host site, holding the six-school Class 2A-District 9 tourney. In addition to the Saints, also in the event will be Crescent City, Daytona Beach-Father Lopez, Forest Lake Academy, Pierson-Taylor and Wildwood.

Several Seminole County private schools will be headed across Lake Monroe to compete in the nine-team Class 1A-District 6 Tournament at Trinity Christian in Deltona.

Also in the field will be Altamonte Christian, Ormond Beach-Calvary Christian, Crooms Academy, Fern Park-Geneva, Lake Mary Preparatory, Oviedo-The Master's Academy, Orangewood Christian, and South Daytona-Warner Christian.

The Bears tuned up for the districts with three straight walkovers this week.

Ally Hock had 16 kills, Lorin Lucas 11 and Allie Probst eight in a, 15-9, 15-7, thumping of Lake Highland Prep on Monday.

Winter Springs then had its with Seminole, topping the Tribe 15-4 and 15-6 at home on Tuesday, and then claiming a big win on Wednesday, rolling over Lake Mary, 15-8 and 15-7.

Hock and Lucas again led the way with 10 and nine kills, respectively.

Oviedo also had a good week, romping past University, 15-5 and 15-6, on Tuesday with Julie Darty serving three aces and coming up with nine digs, and Nellie Liljenquist pounding down nine kills. Things were a little tougher on Wednesday as Gateway took the Lions to three games, 15-2, 8-15 and 15-5. Emily Erickson led the way with six kills and five service aces, while Darty had seven See Preps, Page 2B

SAC sets schedule for Slowpitch tournament

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

OVIEDO — Kristen Scheuring came through with three hits and two RBI and Nori Torres had two hits and an RBI as Seminole shutout Lake Howell, 4-0, to secure the top seed for this week's Seminole Athletic Conference Slowpitch Softball Tournament.

Host Oviedo had knocked off the Fighting Seminoles, 4-3, in the first game of the evening on Wednesday, but the Tribe bounced back to earn a first round bye in the tournament by finishing with a 12-4 record.

The Lions also defeated the Silver Hawks in the late game to finish with a 10-6 record and leapfrog Lyman (8-4) for the No. 3 seed.

Lake Brantley (11-4) finished just behind Seminole, while Lake Howell (6-8) was fifth, Winter Springs (3-13), which did not have a win for much of the season, rallied to finish sixth and Lake Mary (2-13) has struggled all season.

The tournament begins Monday (October 28) at the Seminole High School Softball Complex with #4 Lyman taking on #5 Lake Howell at 5 p.m., #3 Oviedo facing #6 Winter Springs at 6 p.m., and #2 Lake Brantley squaring off with #7 Lake Mary at 7 p.m.

The winners will move over to Lake Brantley on Tuesday for the semifinals and Championship Game.

At 5 p.m., #1 Seminole will make its first appearance against the Lyman/Lake Howell winner, and at 6 p.m. the Oviedo/Winter Springs winner battles the winner between Lake Brantley and Lake Mary.

The final two undefeated teams will then square off in the Championship Game at 7 p.m.

UCF looks to get back on track with Homecoming victory

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Homecoming has arrived on the UCF campus and the Golden Knights are seeking to give alumni and fans a big victory this (Saturday) afternoon against conference foe Akron.

Kickoff at the Florida Citrus Bowl is slated for 4 p.m.

UCF (2-4) is still seeking its first-ever Mid-American Conference home victory after falling to Toledo, 27-24 last week. The Zips (1-6), fresh off a bye week, picked-up their only win of the year on October 12, beating Liberty 49-21.

Akron, who has faced tough opponents in Iowa, Maryland, and Virginia, has played better than their record shows. Offensively, coach Lee Owens' squad racks up yardage, averaging 449.3 on the year. Their problems have come on the other side of the ball, as the defense allows over 40 points per game.

Last season, the Golden Knights crushed the Zips, 57-17, in an emotional game in Orlando. Head coach Mike Kruczek admits that Akron is a much better and different team than the one UCF put 50 first half points on last year and plans to make sure his team does not take their opponent lightly.

"They have played some great teams," Kruczek said. "They are much better than their record indicates. It's going to be an interesting game; they are a lot better than they were last year."

Tickets for the game can be purchased at the Citrus Bowl. For more information, contact the ticket office at (407) UCF-GOLD.

If you can't make it to the Citrus Bowl, the game can be heard on 740-The Team, with Marc Daniels and Gary Parris calling the action and Jerry O'Neill reporting from the sidelines. Pregame coverage begins at 2 p.m.

Here is what can be expected:

When Akron has the ball:

The Zips feature a wide-open offense that averages 27.86 points a game.

Mobile quarterback Charlie Frye has been steady all year long. The sophomore is fourth in the conference in passing yards a game (272.3). He has thrown for 1906 yards and 11 scores. Equally as dangerous on the ground, Frye has four rushing touchdowns.

Wideout Miquel Irvin is Frye's favorite passing target. The transfer from Toledo has caught 30 passes for 307 yards on the year. Tight ends Mike Brake and Nick Fortener have three touchdowns each. Running back Brandon Payne (26 receptions) gets ample passing looks from Frye.

The running game got rolling against Liberty, as Junior tailback Bob Hendry rushed for a career-high 240 yards versus the Flames leading the Zips 440 yard ground attack. If the Golden Knights run defense struggles, as it did last week against Toledo (allowed 300 yards), expect Hendry to carry the ball over 20 times.

UCF's run defense must step-up. Against Toledo, the unit fell apart in the second half, letting the Rockets gain 228 yards on the ground. Defensive ends Elton Patterson and Rashad Jeanty, who had two sacks against Toledo, must help contain Hendry. If the running back gets past the Golden Knights defensive line, the secondary must make tackles. In the Toledo game, UCF's corners and safeties routinely missed tackles, often leading to scores. Linebacker Stanford Rhule, coming off a 20-tackle performance against the Rockets, will have to make sure Akron's quarterback does not scramble.

If Frye is forced to pass, he will have to contend with the Golden Knights tough passing defense. Senior cornerback Asante Samuel has been impressive in his last two games, intercepting three passes. Safeties Atari Bigby and Peter Sands are hard-hitters who look to make big plays. Redshirt freshman Frisner Nelson will make his first career start at tackle in place of DeMarcus Johnson.

When UCF has the ball:

Look for the Golden Knights to take advantage of Akron's faltering unit.

Kruczek will allow quarterback Ryan Schneider to air-it-out against a defense that gives up 236.6 passing yards an outing. The junior has thrown for 1715 yards and 13 scores in six games this season.

Receivers Doug Gabriel and Jimmy Fryzel get the bulk of the Golden Knights catches. Big-play threat Gabriel averages over 100 yards receiving per game, while the dependable Fryzel has made a catch in 27 consecutive games. Michael Gaines, who had a receiving touchdown last week, will get his first start of the season at tight end.

Tailback Alex Haynes showed no ill effects from an ankle injury against Toledo, rushing for 73 yards on 13 carries. Fullback Dee Brown also saw action at tailback, rushing for 63 yards and catching three passes for 67 more. Both backs should get plenty of carries as the Zips allow opponents over 205 yards rushing per game.

renewed, commercial clambers must have proof that they have attended one of these required educational seminars. A second round of seminars will be held in the spring of 2003.

The Brevard County hard clam license is a three year license and holders must attend one of these educational seminars per license year. There is no test at the seminar, but clambers must get a certificate of completion of the seminar before they can apply for a renewal license.

Seminars for the 2002-2003 license year are being offered during the following dates and times at the locations indicated:

Nov. 1 from 9 a.m., until noon at the Brevard Agricultural Center, 3695 Lake Drive in Cocoa; Nov. 1 from 6-9 p.m., at Brevard Community College Titusville campus, 1311 North US 1; and Nov. 2 from 9 a.m., until noon at Brevard Community College Palm Bay campus, 250 Community College Parkway. These seminars will provide information that license holders will need to know for the 2002-2003 license year.

There is no charge for the seminars, but seating is limited and will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. The fees for a new Brevard County Clamming License have not changed. They are $300 for Brevard County residents, and $1,200 for non-residents.

Participants should arrive at the seminar one-half hour early for check in. No one will be admitted after the seminar begins. Please bring your Brevard County hard clam license, saltwater products license, and a photo identification card, such as a driver's license.

Anyone lawfully harvesting from shellfish or aquaculture leases are not required to have the Brevard County hard clam license while harvesting from such leases.

For questions or additional information about the required educational seminars, please contact David Heil at the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services at (850) 488-5471. For questions regarding licensing, call the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, Commercial Saltwater Licensing Office at (850) 487-3122.

The Big Fish Open continues through November 3rd and the Kissimmee-St. Cloud Convention and Visitors Bureau is paying local and visiting anglers cash rewards for the biggest fish.

Part of Kissimmee-St. Cloud's Anglers Challenge, the Big Fish Open features a largemouth bass and black crappie division for both adult and junior anglers. Each week a $1,000 reward is paid to adult anglers reeling in the largest fish in each division! Junior anglers age 17 and under win $100 savings bonds each.

A $10,000 bounty has also been placed on the single largest bass and crappie recorded during the eight-week competition! The grand prize for junior anglers is a $1,000 savings bond. Keep in mind, we did not say "dead or alive"; all fish must be brought to the scales alive and then released back to the lakes.

There are no designated fishing times, anglers can fish anywhere on the Kissimmee Chain of Lakes from sun up to sun down and anywhere in between.

down and anywhere in between.

To collect the reward, anglers must first register for the Big Fish Open at participating area fish camps and bait shops through out Kissimmee-St. Cloud. Big Fish Open adult passes are only $15 for a 7-day pass. Junior angler passes are $5 for a 7-day pass.

Other Anglers Challenge events include the Lake Toho Pro-Am November 7-9, AquaMania November 9-10 and the Angling Against Cancer benefit dinner and tournament November 9-10. For more information contact the Kissimmee-St. Cloud Convention and Visitors Bureau at 407-847-5000.

Following his presentation, Rose made a bee-line to the Angels dugout to meet Eckstein, the modern-day "Charlie Hustle" for which the former Cincinnati Reds star was known.

Eckstein appeared like he might be the star of the game as he turned a nice inning-ending double play with the bases loaded in the first inning and then drove in the game's first run with a sacrifice fly in the top of the second inning.

Later he turned another bases loaded double play as the Angels built a 3-0 lead. But the Giants chipped away and eventually won the game, 4-3, with a run in the bottom of the eighth inning.

Eckstein finished the game 0-for-3 with the RBI, seeing his nine-game hitting streak end. Eckstein is now hitting .364 in the series, 8-for-22, with five runs scored, three RBI and two walks.

In 14 playoff games, the shortstop is hitting .311 (19-for-61) with eight runs scored and six RBI.
