

Blocking, Tackling Still Stressed By Local Mentors

McLucas Apparently Satisfied With Backfield Work; Line Works Hard

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

Head Coach Leonard McLucas and his two assistants, Coaches Woody Rose and Russ McCracken, yesterday afternoon opened the third week of practice sessions for the Seminole High School Gridiron Ends who open the season here on the evening of Sept. 30 at the high school stadium.

Again, as it was all last week blocking and tackling was stressed by the line mentors who are making an effort to improve the boys before the opener with the Eustis Panthers. The line also worked on the art of receiving fumbles, pulling out of a line and other fundamentals of the forward wall.

Coach McLucas was apparently pleased with the backfield as he put them through a rough session featuring kicking, passing, play running, blocking, tackling and other fundamental backfield necessities. McLucas still has his four backs and to date no players have been put on the injured list.

Following the main portion of the session, head mentor McLucas lined up two teams for dummy scrummaging and he sent the two elevens through all of the squads' plays to date. Plays from the double wingback formation were more or less outstanding.

On the line for the first string was Charlie Louisit at left end, Tiger Howell at left tackle, Sonny Powell at left guard, Jim Reiter at center, Robert Standard at right guard, Warren O'Brien and Eddie Jones at right tackle and Tom M. Clifford at right end. In the backfield, Buck Ferguson held down the quarterback position. Russell Ferguson was at left half, Bill Williams at right half and Fred Gandy held down the fullback post.

Yesterday afternoon, it was understood that Coach McLucas will not hold the first scrimmage until Wednesday or Thursday.

To The People Who Are Interested In Seeing Sanford Grow

We can have our own Power Plant in Sanford—but only if you are willing to co-operate with us.

There are three good reasons why you should want to co-operate:

- (1) To save you, as an individual, dollars on your light bill.
- (2) By helping Sanford pay the debt she now owes.
- (3) Last, but by no means least, to cut your taxes by increased revenue to the City.

Do not sign any contract for power or lights at this time.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Stranger things have happened but the New York Yankees clinched their third straight American League pennant yesterday afternoon by losing a double header. We still believe that the only club in the National League that may stop the Yanks is the Reds with their hurling department. Two members of the Bronx cup team will end their long Thursday as they have been called by the French government for war duty.

Cold weather has finally made its appearance in the northern portion of good ole U.S.A. As a pair of ball games were called yesterday in Boston due to cold weather, the game still being with the 19th of this month, being march 1st, night when Steve Dohle and Al Melvin will fight for 20 points. That is of course the boys on the Fed. but did not like the way we added the last 1/2 week about their blocking and tackling. It would be great idea to try to construct some formality on the like front park equipped with electrical arrangements for after dark play.

Herbert Moore still seems that those darry Dodgers of Brooklyn will some day claim the National Cup championship. This Spring training is in mess already. First, that was announced last Spring that Chattanooga would hold Spring training activities here. Then from Baltimore, we get a dispatch that Baltimore is moving to Daytona Beach and that Chattanooga will come here. Joe Engel says he knows nothing of announcing that Chattanooga will come here and neither does Charlie Bradshaw who hints that Atlanta will come here.

Still it's the fact that we coldly has worked out a plan with the Cleveland Indians to come here next season. You can bet your last good pair of shoes that Coach McLucas is working himself to death this season. He hasn't got the material he had last year but the way he's going about it, we feel him for it. We still believe that the team this year will win more than four titles compared to last season.

consisting of five members, to be appointed yearly one from each of the commissioners districts, thus giving every section of the county representation. All rules and regulations as to operation and use of the hospital are to be provided and adopted by the Board of County Commissioners. The property will belong to the people of Seminole County and under their control through their duly elected officers.

This election is limited to registered qualified voters, who are freeholders. This includes all persons who are owners of real estate in Seminole County. All persons who own their home, and who have been allowed homestead exemption, are freeholders and entitled to vote in this election. However, the two mill tax levy will not be assessable or chargeable against your homestead unless the assessed value of your home is more than $5,000 and then only for the amount of the assessment above $5,000.

Got Lead Poisoning, Not From Being Shot

XCHICAGO, Sept. 20.—(UPI)—When the city council received a $1.13 claim from policeman William O'Brien, covering hospital treatments for lead poisoning the aldermen wanted to know who shot him.

"He didn't get shot," said the finance chairman. "He was posing handling cartridges on the police pistol range." The claim was allowed.

Well kids and kiddles, by this time you have probably sorted yourselves out from the mad scramble of getting books, changing schedules, stopped running around like a person bent on an errand of mercy and have settled down to the daily grind.

A short while ago a local "Youghiogheny" in the person of WILMA LEINHART accompanied by BILLY BROWNLEE, the boy with the "Sixteen Cylinder Van calendar" is said to be learning new words at the rate of two daily what a man!

I hesitate to make such a gross understatement as to say HARRY BROWNLEE's multi-colored garments are outstanding. Late as he appeared in a thunder shower he was a picture.

BENES AGREES TO SURRENDER

Senate Would Not Fay Nominated Send Army Abroad, Andrews Declares

Senator Pledges Support Of East Coast Canal And Urges Residents To Push It

Says U.S. Spending Can Not Continue

Advocates Caring For Aged As Means Of Reducing Crimes

Declaring that the Senate would never vote to send American troops into Europe in the event of another conflict, Senator Charles O. Andrews, in an address at the luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Mayfair Hotel last night stated that the United States was well prepared to defend its borders from attack. He added that he hoped England and France had found a solution to the crisis in Czechoslovakia and that the curtain had rung down on the threat of war in Europe.

Pledging any assistance that he might be able to render, Senator Andrews urged the people of Sanford to continue to push the project for construction of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal.

Introduced by James G. Sharpen, Senator Andrews in the early part of his address defended the President's spending policy, although declaring that this program could not be continued long.

Florida's senior senator stated that the WPA was his greatest grief and declared that he had been sworn into office as a legislator and not a job vendor. He said, however, that people were starving in a land of plenty and that this course was mandatory.

The Senator asserted that he had the cold sweat while voting for the huge $1,800,000,000 appropriation for relief through the WPA but he declared that he had no alternative. This was necessary to assist business in regaining normalcy, he said, and pointed out that the value of stocks rose to increase by six billions of dollars shortly after the measure was approved. It is good business, he said, to invest a quarter and a dollar.

Pointing to the acuteness of the European crisis last week, Senator Andrews commended the efforts of France and Britain to preserve peace in Europe. Advertising a plumbette for the minister, Senator Andrews pointed to the statement of Woodrow Wilson that the self-determination of a people is the essence of good government. He declared that even though the Czechs were successful in keeping Hitler's forces from crossing her borders that there would be no chance for peace for a number of years. He also stated that he "rather suspected this to be the last time Germany would have a chance to demand annexation of a country." He gave no explanation of the statement.

He declared that he had not found a man in the Senate who was willing to send American troops into a European war — but stated that the United States was well prepared to defend its borders. Telling the motley Navy Aircraft as the first line of defense for the nation, and the Navy as the second line, he said that a huge appropriation for making them invincible had been approved by Congress.

Regarding the proposed canal route to the east coast, Senator Andrews declared that the People of Seminole County should keep behind the proponents of a canal. "There is no other river like the St. Johns with its natural waterfalls on page four."

New England Hardest Hit As Plants Are Stopped By Water

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Drenching rains which have fallen with more or less regularity for a week lashed the Atlantic seaboard again today, entering their most destructive force in the New England states where damage already runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Providence, Rhode Island, reached 1936 flood levels. Half a dozen bridges had been carried away and industrial plants in Gardner, Athol and Southbridge flooded by rising waters, were shut down.

Eleven persons were listed as dead, the latest victim being Mrs. Linda Woods, 11, of North Brookfield, who was drowned when a dam burst at Boane's Pond.

Walknow struggled to bolster the 50 foot dam of a man-made reservoir, dammed up by the Weather Bureau at 10:00 A.M. about 100 miles east of the Virginia Capes and rule warnings were posted from the Virginia Capes to Sandy Hook, N.J.

The disturbance was reported moving rapidly northward and while not expected to touch the coast it was feared dangerous gales and high tides would result.

Townsendites Will Meet On Thursday

Meeting for the first time under the presidency of W. L. Hughey, newly elected head of the local Townsend Club, members of that organization will gather tomorrow night at the Welaka Building at 7:30 o'clock for their weekly session.

Although the meeting will be of routine nature, it was reported that Arthur A. Kirkhoff, secretary of the club, will express some sentiments regarding the future of Sanford. Mr. Kirkhoff said today that the recent Carter address had created "considerable interest in the Townsend movement," and he expects new members to join the local club "as though a special drive were on." The "Townsend Twins" will furnish music for the meeting.

Eyston To Make No Further Speed Trys

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Cpl. George E. I. Eyston abandoned further attempts this year to raise his own land speed record of 357 miles per hour after his giant racer "Thunderbird" was damaged in a crashing five-mile race.

The covering over the two right rear wheels of the car fouled and the machine burned through the measured mile at 349.85 MPH, sliding on the back corner of its metal shell like a boulder. Eyston said he would return to England Oct. 3.

Over The Atlantic Monthly
OH STORMY, stormy world,
These days you were not swirled
Around with mist and cloud,
Or wrapped as in a shroud,
And the sun's brilliant ball
Was not in part or all
Obscured from mortal view.
Were days so very few
I can but wonder whence
I get the lasting sense
Of so much warmth and light
If my mistrust is right
It may be altogether
From one day's perfect weather
When starting clear at dawn
The day went clearly on
To finish clear at eve.
I really believe,
My fair impression may
Be all "from" that one day
No shadow brooded but ours
As through the blushing flowers
We went from house to wood
For change of solitude.

As long as you can catch black bass in an afternoon's fishing, we don't see why anyone would want to go to war.

Prime Minister Chamberlain recently issued what by postponement the war in Europe he is leaving England more time to plan. Perhaps he is, but he is giving Germany and Italy more time to arm, and from all the evidence the dictators are not likely to be satisfied with any peace agreement.

Czech History

The controversy which has been raging in Czechoslovakia during the past few weeks between the Czechs and the Germans arises from inherent differences almost as old as the Sudeten mountains in which they live. Ever since the sixth century when the ancient Tartars chased the Slavic tribes out of Russia and they settled in Bohemia bordering on Bavaria where the early Germans, or Teutons lived, there has been trouble.

Strife between the two groups was continuous for more than six hundred years, but it was not until the 12th century that the Germans actually crossed the border and began to settle in that part of Bohemia which is now known as Sudeteland. Even then the Czechs continued as the masters of their country and though there were frequent clashes with the Germans Bohemia remained independent and under Czech control until the 16th century.

It was not until 1526 that the Austrian Ferdinand of Hapsburg became king of Bohemia and the happy millennium of freedom and prosperity for the Czechs came to an abrupt end. More Germans moved in. They were given all important government posts while their language became the predominating language of the country though the Czechs themselves persisted in their national and racial characteristics.

Conditions became so bad for them that they ultimately rebelled against the powerful Austro-Hungarian Empire which consistently favored the German population. The rebellion, however, was futile, and was put down with crushing brutality. The Czechs remained subdued and almost in a state of bondage for over two hundred years. But as late as 1866 another rebellion broke out between the Czechs and Germans living in the Sudetenland.

At the beginning of the World War Bohemia, and for that matter all of Czechoslovakia, was a part of the great Austro-Hungarian Empire ruled over by the Hapsburg Franz Joseph who was closely allied with the German Kaiser. Austria-Hungary at that time included all of Austria, and all of Hungary, parts of Poland, Rumania, and Yugoslavia, and all of Czechoslovakia.

The Czechs were drafted into the Austro-Hungarian army and forced to fight against their Slavic cousins from Russia, Rumania, and Serbia. Hating the Austrians and Germans as they did, believing more in the principles of democracy than autocracy, longing for their freedom and nationalism of old, the Czechs went over in whole regiments from the German lines to the Allies and fought throughout the rest of the war against their former masters.

Meanwhile Eduard Benes, now president of Czechoslovakia, then a young college professor, escaped from Austria and went to Paris where he found another Czech patriot, Thomas Masaryk. The two of them worked together for the Allied cause and for the creation of the post-war state of Czechoslovakia. Masaryk became the first president of Czechoslovakia and died only a year or two ago.

At first the Czechs opposed the inclusion of the Sudeten Germans within their new country because of the ancient grievances which existed between the two races and because the need for natural frontiers against the then thoroughly whipped German nation was not at first fully apparent to them. They were finally convinced, however, by the French General Staff that mountains as well as fortifications might some day be needed for their protection.

The view of the French General Staff has been thoroughly demonstrated during the past few weeks. The fortifications on the Czech-German border were built under French supervision at a cost to Czech taxpayers of nearly one billion dollars, a splendid well trained and well equipped army has been built up and maintained throughout these twenty years, and the most elaborate system of alliances in Europe, with Yugoslavia and Rumania, with Russia and France, and through France with England, has been made by President Benes.

Though the Czechs had undoubtedly hoped that their early history of one thousand years of freedom and glory might repeat itself, they seem destined now, only twenty years after the proclamation which created them, to another long period of complete servitude.

G-Men Investigate Gambling In Tampa

TAMPA, Sept. 21.—Chairman W. B. Haggerty of the citizens' anti-gambling committee, stated that federal investigators were checking a phase of the Tampa gambling racket and that while he could not at this time make known the nature of the investigation, it was one of importance that might have a far-flung consequence.

Questioned as to how the drive against gambling in Tampa was progressing, Haggerty said that the sale of Cuban and Cuban cigars had been materially reduced, particularly in the downtown section, and that several gamblers had closed their places of business and left for greater fields.

He stated that nearly 500 new lawsuits had been filed since the beginning of the year, and that one of the cases had been received

Benes Agrees To Demands Made By German Dictator

vision of Benes and Von Karsa, though close Hungarian-German relations already had been evidenced by Regent Horthy's State visit to Hitler, Aug. 21-22.

At that time the Hungarians seemed too astute to submit themselves fully to being Germany's "little brother." This belief was born out when Hitler at Nuremberg gave audience to both Italy and Japan, his allies in an anti-communist pact but hardly mentioned Hungary or Horthy's visit.

But now that Prime Minister Keville Chamberlain of Britain has flown to Berchtesgaden and has urged Czechoslovakia to give up her Germanic people to Hitler, the Hungarians seemed to think of the time to cast their lot more definitely with Nazi Germany.

Events in Poland now seemed to strengthen his hand.

Violent anti-Nazi demonstrations occurred last night at Katowice, and the Polish press constantly demands the cession of that corner of Silesia where Poles in Czechoslovakia still speak the mother tongue.

Polish press comments to that effect is widely reprinted in German newspapers.

Both Poland and Hungary only a day or two ago seemed to be on the fence about linking their causes too closely with Nazi Germany in pressing for control of their kinsmen in Czechoslovakia.

But Hitler seemed in a position to arbitrate the small republic's fate, and military encirclement of Czechoslovakia seemed imminent if Hungary and Poland agree to cooperate.

When Hitler and Chamberlain meet again, this time at Godesberg, the Reichsführer is considered by observers to be in possession of most of the trump cards.

The German government announced its minister in Prague had been instructed to lodge the sharper protest against alleged border violations reported by DNB at Seidenberg.

In addition to the Seidenberg incident the official news agency reported 14 Sudeten Germans men, 10 women and four child ren tried to cross into Germany near Waldenberg. Czechoslovak frontier guards were said to have fired on them from Neuzeug without warning. The Sudeten returned the fire and reached German soil safely.

German strategy in such border outbreaks apparently was to let Konrad Henlein's free corps and Sudeten deserters fight without involving the regular German army officially.

This correspondent learned from reliable sources, however, that infantrymen had been asked to "volunteer" for free corps duty.

Members of the Fifty-Seventh Infantry Regiment, stationed at Spandau, near Berlin, got such a request.

Detachments of the Berlin 8. B. black-uniformed Nazi elite guards, have been shipped south for similar duty.

Thus Hitler refrains from official army clashes, at least until his second meeting with Chamberlain, and still stands by the Sudeten by strengthening their ranks with seasoned military men.

In German press demands for partition of Czechoslovakia there has been no reference to the Slovaks, though in the earlier stages of the crisis the Slovaks were considered friends of the Nazi-supported Sudeten.

Since their leader, Father Andrew Hajsky's death, however, they have been linked informally with the Czech majority.

Informal quarters disregarded reports Hitler had set any deadline for acceptance of his demands when he talked with Chamberlain last Thursday.

"Why should Hitler not any day when things are going his way?" said one Nazi editor.

"Every day increases the

New York, N. Y.—"IT'S TRUE! that Mickey Rooney's latest interest is a racing car he expects to do better than 100 miles an hour," says Wiley Paden.

"Mickey recently purchased an old flivver. With the help of fellow-actor Douglas McPhail, he hopped up the motor and streamlined the body so that the car did 97 miles per hour on its first test at Muroc Dry Lake last week. They are now working on the car for the second run, in which they feel sure they'll do more than 100 miles per hour."

"The youthful Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer players take turns driving the car, with Mickey slated to drive in the coming test."

Czech leaders' debit account Hitler has learned to wait.

Just as he had, the whole Reich served to him on a platter by (President Paul) von Hindenburg by waiting instead of accepting the vice chancellorship in a coalition cabinet, so by waiting he may well have the fate of Czechoslovakia thrust into his lap.

Thus far Hitler has not demanded the resignation of President Edward Benes of Czechoslovakia, but he has called him such harsh names there can be no doubt of his intention to bring about Benes' downfall.

Those familiar with Hitler's tactics, such as in regard to Ex-Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria, see the same technique at work now.

The German press has had limitless latitude to attack and besmirch Benes, though his premier, Milan Hodza, has been left more alone. The Sudeten Germans, however, have attacked him in their speeches and other utterances.

BERLIN, Sept. 21 (UPI)—Every day of delay in solving the Sudeten-German-Czechoslovak crisis raises Adolf Hitler's price of settlement, a foreign office spokesman declares.

"Our Fuehrer is constantly raising the ante," he said as the controlled German press raised a new clamor for the outright partition of Czechoslovakia rather than mere annexation of the Sudeten region bordering Germany.

It was announced officially last night that Hitler and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain would meet at Godesburg at 3 P. M. (9 A. M., E.S.T.) Thursday to continue the conversation started last Thursday at Berchtesgaden.

Hitler and his suite arrived in Munich in an automobile caravan late in the afternoon from Berchtesgaden and boarded a special train which left for Godesburg at 11:10 P. M.

Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Undersecretary of State Weizsaecker and Interpreter Paul Schmidt were among those accompanying Hitler.

More fuel to the Central European fires was added by official German news agency reports Hitler had set any deadline for acceptance of his demands when he talked with Chamberlain last Thursday.

"Why should Hitler not any day when things are going his way?" said one Nazi editor.

LAKELAND, Sept. 21—(AP)—Advertising of canned grapefruit juice will be started Jan. 16, the Florida citrus commission decided yesterday on recommendation of the canners' advisory board. For two years canned fruit advertising was held back until April to follow the fresh fruit program.

Experts agreed, however, that the purpose of advertising was to sell the growers' fruit, whether fresh or canned, and the commission's action was unanimous.

Intimating that one cause of the depression in the United States was due to the enormous amount spent for luxuries, Senator Andrews pointed to the huge sum spent annually for automobiles and declared that each unit represented a sum of money large enough to purchase a farm and fully equip it. He also pointed to the tremendous amounts spent for tobacco and liquors for which no physical good is derived.

As another reason for the depression, he declared, that since the World War an increasing number of positions were held by women. If the breadwinners of the families held these jobs, the huge expenditures for luxuries would be unnecessary, he said.

Advocating assistance for all who reach the age of 60 years, Senator Andrews declared that this would assist in reducing the amount of crime among minors. Every person on reaching the age of 21 buy stock in the government through payment of taxes, he said, and asked if it were not more than right that these persons who for 40 years had purchased this stock should receive some dividends.

He credited poverty as the chief reason for the large amount of crime among minors and stated that proper care for the aged would alleviate this situation as well as save the billions spent annually to run down and convict criminals.

J. E. Rowland, Jr. Junior Chamber of Commerce president, presided over the meeting which was well attended.

$260,000 For Daytona School Project Ok'd

DELAND—The Daytona Beach peninsula school district's $200,000 school building expansion project has received preliminary approval from PWA regional office in Atlanta, and has been forwarded to Washington for final okay. It was learned here yesterday.

PWA Traveling Inspector Buck of the Atlanta office told the county school administration office yesterday about the approval while he was here on a routine visit.

Daytona Beach peninsula freeholders go to the polls next Tuesday to decide on a $150,000 proposed bond issue which would finance the peninsula district's share of the school building project costs.

Celery Feds Hold Rather Rough Session Yesterday

First Scrimmage For Team Expected Today

Blocking And Tackling Show Improvement As Coaches Continue Drills In These Grid Fundamentals

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

Coach Leonard L. Melucas and the 1938 edition of the Seminole High School Celery Feds underwent a rather rough session yesterday afternoon in the rear of the high school where they are preparing for the opening game against the Eustis Panthers here on the 26th.

The entire squad is in good physical condition and it is expected that the first scrimmage session of the season will be held this afternoon.

Those who will take over first string position for the first rough work will be Charlie Leavitt at right end, Azby Jones or Warren Odom at right tackle, Robert Stanaland at right guard, Jim Rivers at center, Samson Powell at left guard, Tiger Howell at left tackle and Killee Wadsworth at left end.

Buck Ferguson will be at

Yesterday afternoon the squad drilled on their blocking and tackling which is improving rapidly and also held a dummy scrimmage the place where the mud will use this season.

Coach Wm. R. Risner, in charge of the dummy scrummaging, was in charge of the six cuts and he drilled them on snatching passes, blocking, tackling and also passing out and blocking.

Coach Russ McRaekeen, in charge of the same in the mud, also taught the linemen the art of recovering a fumble or a free ball. The line is stacking up well and the backfield should have a very good forward wall to work behind this season. The line will have a few reserve players such as Raymond Hasty, Harold Madson and others.

BRADY COVELL'S STETSON HATTERS are shown here preparing for their opening game Saturday night when they travel to Gainesville to tackle the University of Florida Gators. Cowell has the best Stetson team on in several seasons and they will be fighting their hearts out for the first win over the Gators since 1939.

THE STETSON HATTERS, who meet the Gators Saturday night, have been well drilled in blocking. In the picture above, Tackle Harold Vane is being assailed by two determined blockers, under the critical eyes of Coach Brady Cowell.
