

RESIDENT'S PEN READY TO VETO THE BONUS BILL TUESDAY IS THE DAY

DATE MAY BE UNABLE TO PASS IT OVER HIS HEAD

ALL ABSENT ONES

May Settle Fate of the Bill That Means Much to the Administration

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Information that President Harding had up his mind definitely to veto the bonus bill reached senators Saturday from some of his advisers. They said his message of disapproval would be sent to the house Tuesday.

After receiving this word, the majority leaders made an informal preliminary canvass of the senate, which is said to have shown 34 voted against over-riding a veto, or two more than the number necessary to prevent final enactment of the bonus legislation.

This margin was understood, however, to be regarded by some friends of the president as too narrow and they expected Mr. Harding to call several senators to the white house before Tuesday for a discussion of the situation. With many senators absent from Washington, it was asserted by some that it was difficult to ascertain sentiment at this time.

Many of the absentees it was said, would not possibly get back to Washington in time to vote. Five senators in Europe, while four others are in the west. Several others would be detained by their own illness or that of their families. Every effort will be made to pair absentees, but it was expected that it might not be possible to pair all of them and it was concluded that the absence of pairs in even few cases might have a material effect on the outcome.

Mr. Harding's advisers expect him to set forth in vigorous manner his reasons for a veto. From the first he has insisted that bonus legislation should carry a method of financing it and also his serious disapproval of the piecemeal payment to the world war veterans, believing that it would make it impossible to raise the money.

Though the bonus has returned to the house, managers of it there planned to move promptly to pass it over the veto. The general belief at the capital was a far more than two-thirds majority would be obtained there to override the veto.

The bill, bearing the signatures of Speaker Clegg and president pro tempore, of the senate, was taken to the white house late yesterday by Chairman Ricketts, of the house committee on enrollment bills, and Representative Thompson, another Republican member from Ohio. Generally bills are transmitted to the executive offices by house managers.

As the treasury had closed for the day at that time, the bill remained at the white house. It is expected, however, that it will be sent Monday to Secretary Mellon for his examination and an opinion. This is the usual course of procedure. From the treasury it would be returned to the president for his action.

ALL SEABOARD MEN GO BACK TO OLD JOBS

WHEN WHISTLE BLEW THIS MORNING, WERE ON THE JOB

(By The Associated Press) RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 18.—All the Seaboard Air Line shopmen who went on a strike July first went back to work at their old jobs when the whistle blew at 7:00 this morning in accordance with an agreement reached between the railroad and the strikers.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 18.—Eight hundred men, approximately half of Jacksonville's striking shop craftsmen reported for duty, at the Seaboard Air Line shops this morning under the Chicago agreement. The strikers on other roads here, including the Atlantic Coast Line, and Florida East Coast remained out. Reorganization of plans for remainder of the striking forces were being laid today and it was announced would be perfected at a mass meeting to be held tonight.

FARMERS WILL SHIP PRODUCE BY WATER

B. A. Yeargin returned yesterday from Sanford, where he addressed a large gathering of striking shopmen, merchants and farmers upon the situation of the nation-wide strike. He said 82 per cent of the farmers of Seminole county, and 85 per cent of the merchants of Sanford are registered in approval of the strike, and there is no break in the ranks of the strikers in that section.

Many of the farmers of that section are contemplating the shipping of all products from that county by boat to Jacksonville, and on by rail via union roads. It is estimated that 82 per cent of the crops and shipping of that county will be shipped in this manner.

All of the strikers of that city are from the A. C. L. shops, and although the agreement just made between Jewell and Warfield practically ends the strike in the Seaboard shops, these men reaffirm their determination to continue the strike in the A. C. L. yards until a satisfactory agreement has been effected with that road.

Mr. Yeargin also made a speech at Lakeland Friday night while a guest of the shopmen at a fish fry in the Lakeland ball park. The weather was had but about 500 people were present. Conditions were described as very satisfactory among these men.

Mr. Yeargin speaks at Port Tampa City tonight.—Tampa Citizen.

LACKAWANNA SECTION BUBY AS SHOPMEN GET READY TO START WORK

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 18.—Lackawanna, a residential section here tenanted largely by shop workers of the Seaboard Air Line railroad was astir today preparatory to the resumption of its chief industry tomorrow.

Approximately 800 men who have been on strike since June 30, will again take up their tools at the sound of tomorrow's whistle, according to Superintendent Hurley. One shift of men have already gone to work.

The Lackawanna section is the largest railway shop center in this state.

According to officials of the road it was planned to get all of the strikers back to work here at once and that there would also be room for the men who worked during the strike.

MINERS TO BE RESCUED FROM THE ARGONAUT MINE WHERE THEY ARE ENTOMBED

Superintendent Says Air Began Passing Between Mines Early Today

(By The Associated Press) JACKSON, Calif., Sept. 18.—Connection between the Argonaut mine, where forty-seven men have been entombed more than three weeks and the adjoining Kennedy mine, was established at 4:50 this morning, according to the superintendent of the Argonaut Mine Company. The superintendent said the air began passing between the mines at that hour. Several hours are expected to elapse before the workings could be penetrated.

JACKSON, Calif., Sept. 18.—The drill hole connecting the Kennedy and Argonaut mines was enlarged to sixteen inches in diameter within an hour after it had been opened. The draft from the Kennedy into the Argonaut Mine was so strong that two men were required to keep each door closed on the thirty-six hundred foot level. The tense watchers stood in the chill morning twilight, fearing and hoping for first word from the rescue squad. These were not relatives of the men but mine officials, red Cross workers and newspaper men. So many times had the wives and children of the imprisoned miners heard that the cut through was expected and failed that those of them were home in bed when it actually was achieved.

JACKSON, Calif., Sept. 18.—Engineers at the mouth of the mine said at least twenty-four hours would be required before the first body of a rescued miner could be brought to the surface.

Minister's Death Matter of Conjecture Who Killed Him

Minister and Choir Leader Found Killed in Orchard

(By The Associated Press) NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 18.—The question of where Rev. Edward H. Hill, pastor of the fashionable Church, St. John Evangelist, and his choir leader, Mrs. James Mills, were slain, is shared almost equally in interest with that of by whom they were slain, as authorities of two counties began the third day's inquiry into the mysterious double murder. Although they displayed unusual reticence, apparent detectives are working on the case and are not convinced that the rector and Mrs. Mills met death beneath an apple tree where the bodies were found.

FIVE BLOCKS ALONG NEW ORLEANS RIVER FRONT SWEEP BY FIRE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—Five blocks of commodity wharves along the river front from Kentucky avenue to Bartholme street were destroyed by fire last night which broke out in a car load of bagging alongside the docks.

Twenty-one box cars of burlaps, five carloads of cotton bagging and 4,000 rolls of press paper consigned to the New Orleans Item and States, together with a quantity of cotton, oil and other merchandise were consumed. The burned wharves were under the control of the state dock board.

Every available fire engine in the city assisted by several river tugs were fighting the blaze which at 11 o'clock was not under control.

No accurate estimate of the loss could be learned at this hour, but it was believed that it would be several million dollars.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR BOMB ARTIST

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 18.—The hunt for "Pete" Williams, fifth man sought in connection with the attempted bombing of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad bridge at Six Mile Creek Wednesday night is continued and in the meantime two men were jailed on charges of having assisted him to escape.

They were C. C. Harrington, 25, striker, and M. M. Jordan, proprietor of a grocery store near the Seaboard Air Line shops.

The men were arrested on information filed by Deputy Sheriff R. L. Shackelford in charge of the bombing investigations. His work disclosed, the deputy said, that Harrington and Jordan spirited Williams away from Jacksonville Wednesday night and later moved him from Lawry, Bradford county, when the trail of pursuing officers got warm. The Bradford county sheriff told him Shackelford said that two men appeared in Lawry Thursday morning and made known their purpose of thwarting Williams' capture. He could not arrest them; he said for he had no warrant.

It is expected that the four men held in connection with Wednesday night's alleged wrecking plot will be given a preliminary hearing today.

Dean Treadwell and R. K. Gore spent Sunday with Mr. Gore's father at Ruskin, Florida. Mrs. Gore who has been spending the past week at Ruskin, returned home with them.

AND THE STRAITS OF THE DARDENELLES AGAINST THE TURKS GREATEST FLEET

Ever Assembled in Such an Area and Embraces Most Modern Dreadnaughts

(By The Associated Press) CONSTANTINOPE, Sept. 18.—The entire British Atlantic fleet is being sent to reinforce the Mediterranean squadron for the protection of Constantinople and the Straits of Dardanelles. This undoubtedly will create the most formidable force of warships ever assembled in an area of like size, embracing the most modern dreadnaught, battle cruisers, destroyers, submarines and aircraft carriers. British officials here believe if the allied forces are not sufficient to check an attack on the Dardanelles by the Turkish nationalists the combined fleet together with the French and Italian war vessels will be more than adequate.

SMYRNA, Sept. 18.—Smyrna no longer exists. The fire, which has been raging for three days with unabated fury, has swept the city and is extending to the suburbs. Only blackened masonry and a small vestige of the Turkish quarter remain.

All the patients crowded in hospitals number not less than a thousand, have been burned to death.

All relief supplies sent from Constantinople by the American relief organizations were destroyed by the fire. Major Claffin Davis, of the American Red Cross and H. C. Jackson, of the Near East Relief, are bending all their efforts to evacuate the Christians as the only means of saving them, but are handicapped by lack of vessels.

Bands of Turks are heartlessly killing the helpless Christians and the whole city is in the throes of terror. Because work among the ruins is proceeding slowly, the Kemalists leaving the fire victims to their fate.

The catastrophe is so vast that only the collective efforts of the allied nations can cope with it. When the fire was at its worst, the American destroyers Lawrence and Litchfield were almost swamped by thousands of maddened survivors who plunged into the water in the darkness of night and swam out to the vessels, imploring piteously to be saved. The American blue jackets rescued hundreds from drowning.

The American sailors ashore were obliged to hold off great crowds at the point of the bayonets in order to keep them from the frail destroyers. The flag was hoisted on the quay and the blue jackets went among the panic stricken people, picking out those with American citizenship papers.

The American flag was like a beacon of hope; hundreds that could speak only a few words of English claimed to have been in the United States, but could show no satisfactory proof. Others said they had relatives in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and other American cities. The Americans, however, were forced to turn a deaf ear to these appeals. The big hearted blue jackets were overcome with emotion at the distressing scenes and did their best to comfort the terrorized women and children, even giving up their own bed rolls, clothing and rations.

Commander Merrill, of New York, aid to Rear Admiral Bristol, is hailed as a hero, men, women and children falling on their knees and kissing his garments as he passes through the refugee concentration areas.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The British government ordered all small arms, ammunition factories of the United Kingdom to work 20 hours at full capacity in preparation of any Turkish eventualities, according to news of a private source here.

Significance attached to the presence of the Earl of Cavan, chief of staff of the army; Air Marshal Hugh Montague Trenchard and prominent representative of admiralty, all of whom carried dispatches, maps, etc.

120,000 MISSING IN SMYRNA TRAGEDIES

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 16.

Only 5,000 women and children of the 60,000 who were there three days ago remain in Mudania, according to advices received from Captain Adams, commanding an American submarine chaser which is in Mudania harbor. It is assumed here that the male portion of the refugees fled or were taken by the Kemalists to the hills. Their fate is not known.

The departure of British craft from Smyrna today as thought to have removed the last vestige of hope for ten Americans and three Britishers still on the missing list.

Bids Were Opened On High School Addition This Morning

Frank Lossing of This City the Lowest Bidder

The bids on the new addition to the High School were opened at the office of Supt. T. W. Lawton at the court house this morning and there were many bids in for this work but Frank Lossing, of this city, was the lucky contractor to get the contract and will start work as soon as possible on the addition. This will comprise six new rooms for the splendid High School building. Three rooms will be used for class rooms and the basement part will be used for manual training. The class rooms and the manual training rooms are badly needed and will prove to be not only a valuable addition to the high school but will be something that will tend to make our already fine high school much better in many ways. There will be a large attendance at the high school this year and the extra rooms will be filled as soon as they are completed.

Publicity Fund Is Requested For Jacksonville

People Demand That City Council Spend $50,000

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 16.—Civic organizations have lent representatives before the city council to request that $50,000 be made available next year for advertising and publicity purposes. The fund will be incorporated in the city's budget for next year. Half of this amount was appropriated to advertise the city this year. According to spokesmen for the civic bodies the advertising campaign has proved efficacious but twice the amount should be expended next year. The city council hesitated at its first meeting with the representatives and tentatively suggested an appropriation of $15,000, the remainder of the $50,000 to be raised by the civic bodies.

THERE WILL BE NO MORE STRIKES

The general public is not worrying about Gompers and his talk of a general strike. The public is not worrying about the present strike or any strike of the future. This strike has demonstrated that the newspapers of the country were right when they called upon the railroad men to consider well their step before taking it and they were right when they said there would be no more strikes and if there were any more the men would lose by it and they have and they will. The day of strikes is over. The public will not stand for any more of it. The public sympathized with the men in the present strike because the public had been gouged by the railroads in their raise of freight rates. They were in no mood to listen to any part of the railroads story from any point of view. The farmer and the merchants have stood enough from the railroads and they want results now and results mean better transportation at less cost. We hope that the men and the railroads will get this idea firmly fixed in their heads. The public is slow to act but once aroused it will never go back to the days of strikes when the transportation of this country can be tied up at the will and be held by a few leaders who care nothing for the public or the men. The thing now for the railroads and the men to do is to get together and start the roads running full blast and haul the freight cheaper than it has been hauled. We are all tired of the whole affair and no not care to discuss it much less to hear of "more strikes" and "general strikes." The St. Augustine Record sums it up as follows:

"A General Strike." Do you remember, grown-up-man-who reads this, when you climbed up the long, long stairs to the dark and mysterious attic. And the other older children, told you to watch out for the "bogey man." And you jumped and shivered and shook with terrified delight?

There wasn't any "bogey man" really. It was just a dear fragment of childish imagination.

Nor is there any real grown-up "bogey man," not even when he masquerades by the name of "General Strike." There are those hot-headed and under-educated members of society who would like to frighten the rest of us with his name. But they forget, these agitators, that this is America, where all have some, and many have much, opportunity to learn; where standards of living are high; where men are safe and secure in their homes; where each man's house is his castle, and each man's wife and children his to protect and love and keep, and never a man or a Government to say him nay.

The American—the true, red-blooded, patriotic, flag-loving, land-loving, home-loving American—can no more be led into making himself a part of a Bolshevik bogey man than he can be led into mass murder for the establishment of a soviet, a la Russia.

The indignation, the revolve, the emphatic negatives to talk of a general strike, came first of all from American workmen, who are Americans first, and members of a union, sect, order, or organization only after they have expressed their Americanism and their belief in and adherence to, American principles and the American Government.

Our childish tormentors could never produce their "bogey man." As long as Americans are Americans first, no agitator can, produce the General Strike bogey man.

ENFORCING THE HEALTH LAWS.

There is never any need of an epidemic in Florida if the common laws of health will be rigidly enforced. It seems strange that the physicians of every city would not see that these laws are enforced and they are not attending to their duty toward the public unless they do look after our health. They know what to do and when to do it and if the health officers are not attending to their duties the physicians should see that they get busy. There should be no epidemic of dengue fever or any other kind of disease that spreads from the mosquito bite. There is enough oil going to waste in the various garages of Sanford to put on all the streams in and near the city and kill off all the mosquitoes in this vicinity. We wonder if the health authorities ever thought of that? There are enough people working for the city to take care of all the weeds and tin cans and rubbish and see that the city is kept free from the mosquitoes that might breed in these places. It is high time that the health authorities of Sanford and the city officials took cognizance of these important facts. The Times-Union has the following about the health of the city:

"In view of the fact that mosquitoes are supposed to spread fevers and to be the only agency through which fevers are spread it seems strange that Jacksonville should have something approaching the proportions of an epidemic of dengue fever at a time when mosquitoes are as rare in Jacksonville as they have been for many years. This city had an epidemic of dengue fever that was an epidemic 30 years ago. By comparison the few cases that have been reported this summer look pikerish. Not one per cent of the people have had the fever this summer while thirty years ago fully seventy-five per cent of them had it.

"During the thirty years that the city has been free have been times when there were ten times as many mosquitoes here as now and rarely if ever have there been fewer. Under the circumstances the prevalence of the disease at this time, even to the limited extent to which it prevails seems strange.

"The health department of the city has kept down the mosquitoes here for a number of years. The people of Jacksonville have been little troubled with the pest. The health officials have done so well that we feel a hesitancy in saying that in the present emergency they ought to see if they can't do a little better.

"We are told that dengue will disappear at the end of the mosquito season. There is very little encouragement in this statement for the mosquito season will probably last two months yet. Cool weather does not kill mosquitoes. It takes cold weather such as we rarely have here before the middle or latter part of November to do the work. As the weather gets cool more mosquitoes force their way into the houses and they are hungrier. September and October are as bad mosquito months as any in the calendar.

"It is probable that in a few days a storm will blow away most of the mosquitoes that are now in Jacksonville but it may blow in others that are just as hungry.

"The city health officer has been doing as well as any man could do with the force at his disposal but why not employ 100,000 inspectors? He could do it without costing the city a cent and he has power to do it. If every man were required to keep his premises free of mosquito breeding places, as he is required by unenforced law, we would have no mosquitoes in Jacksonville, but the only way to accomplish this would be to punish everyone who fails to obey the law. Laws are enforced by punishment for their infraction and in no other way."

FAITH WITHOUT WORK IS DEAD

Several announcements have been made by the weekly paper of Bradenton relative to the coming publication which is to be issued six afternoons each week by the same publishers. One of these reads like this:

The Evening Herald is going to be just as "big" a newspaper as the support given it will allow. That is a pledge and a promise. Just as water can rise no higher than its source, so it is with a newspaper—it can measure up only to the support that is accorded it by the public.

In those few lines much has been said—and more is to be read. The publication of any paper depends entirely upon the support given it; the quality will remain the same, it is true, under any conditions—but its maintenance, as to its size is wholly up to the various business lines upon which its payroll hangs. That is why the Saturday Evening Post varies in size from week to week—running from eighty pages as high as two hundred, and twenty pages—in proportion to the quantity of advertising tendered it.

To illustrate this point it is related that a merchant who had just taken from the postoffice a huge edition of a metropolitan paper held out the issue to an editor he met, with the question: "Why don't you get out a paper like that?" The country newspaperman quickly slid through the pages showing the questioner the great advertising carried and replied: "Because you don't carry publicists like that. If you and others would do as those folks do it run the same sort of a paper—and daily, too!" The merchant saw the point and passed on.

The new paper at Bradenton "is to be as big a paper as the support given it will allow." To "keep up expenses" any paper must carry at least six-tenths of the space in the paper must be advertising. All above that amount goes down as partial profit. When the amount of advertising goes below that percentage there is a loss entered. To make it more easily comprehended should one issue of the paper carry but fifty percent advertising and the next issue shows seventy percent the two issues would barely show an even break.

Faith in Kissimmee and Osceola county is being felt more and more by the business men, the institutions, the general citizen. The "faith" should be reinforced by "works"—that is, the merchants should make efforts to retain in Kissimmee and to draw to Kissimmee the trade which will help build up the city. Through proper newspaper publicity every merchant in Kissimmee can do his share toward this end. Much business now going to other points can be retained in Kissimmee by proper means—and by the same means more can be brought here. It is merely a point of advertising—and carrying out the terms of the announcements to the full extent, without cavil or quibble.

Five hundred dollars each week is a low estimate of the sum spent by the people of Kissimmee with mail order houses and out-of-town advertisers. A former local assistant postmaster made the statement that the sums sent away by postal orders during the last two months preceding Christmas was so large that he dared not tell it because it would be unbelievable. Doubtless three-fourths of this could be retained in Kissimmee by proper publicity.

Every large mercantile institution, grown big by its own endeavors, is a great asset to the city.

THERE IS AN EASY METHOD OF BUILDING UP PRECISELY THOSE KINDS OF INSTITUTIONS IN KISSIMMEE.—Kissimmee Gazette.

REPUBLICAN PAPER SAYS NO LEADER IN WHITE HOUSE

The Boston Transcript, Republican to the core, bitterly complains that there is no leadership in the white house. No, and furthermore, that is what the people voted for in 1920, and emphatically it is exactly what they got. One of the serious complaints against Woodrow Wilson was that he was too much of a leader, the criticism even went so far as to denounce him as a tyrant, who had usurped the functions of congress, which was, of course, untrue. The fact is that the constitution has in it something of the spirit of the Roman law which in time of great national crisis provided for the choosing of a dictator; it places in the president's hands powers more abundant than those given to any monarch in the world, powers so great that they have never been defined. In the world war both parties united in giving him special powers such as they deemed wise or expedient, which President Wilson used with courage, force and quick decision. Like Aulus of the seventy Fields, he was made a dictator for a great emergency. But the people viewed this great power with doubt and apprehension, and the partisan Republicans who had joined in voting it into his hands went out into the country and cried: "We are losing our liberties—Wilson is a czar!" The people did not stop to ask if the new powers were necessary to save the nation, engaged in a great war, or if the president was using these powers wisely, but, jealous of our freedom, they listened to the partisans, who, for party advantage, declared him to be an autocrat. But when he came before the Republican congress elected in 1918 and asked legislative reconstruction—a returning to pre-war powers—that congress refused to comply, followed Penrose's advice to "let the people sweat," and thus create still greater dissatisfaction. They are still sweating.

So Harding was selected because he was "a good scout." The absence of a backbone and an undershot jaw were unimportant, for under the new scheme of the Republicans the white house was to be governed and controlled by a sort of group of elder statesmen, including such as Lodge, to furnish the dignity, the Morgan group to dig up the dough, and Geo. Sutherland to write the president's speeches. And, by the way, Sutherland did this so well that on one oc-

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

After a Week's Silence Bursts Forth

Just Lookin' Em Over If I don't get busy they will say: "The man about town."

Well, I gave them all the O. O. Saturday night. Sanford, on Saturday night, looks like Circus Day in any old town.

Latest market quotations: Shins, $1.00 half pint f. o. b. ("Fo" bits or better). Embalming Fluid, prices on request. Carbolic Acid, prices unchanged. Home Brew, fluctuating.

Some folks think that Roy Bower is some part of a card game. While waiting on the arrival of another customer Gene Omelette spilled this one: "Thirsty days has September, April, June and November, All the others are thirsty, too, Unless you make your own home-brew."

Art. Yowell is always on the market. Last week some one tried to convince him that Victor Check was a new weave of dress goods. Frank Akers is an automobile salesman, not a portion of a farm tract. (He's more'n Hell's half acre).

Regardless of the closing down of the Ford Plant, Ed. Higgins is still handing out Lizetas and Henrys.

Damyou fever couldn't keep our friend, Deen, the druggist, down. He's back on the job after a struggle with that awful microbe the doctors call "Stegomia Faciatiana" or something that sounds as bad.

Ben Leigh has an educated parrot. This bird speaks two languages: English and profane.

The Electro-Welding Company, of Tampa, are re-inforcing the 10,000 gallon gasoline tank for the San Juan Garage. They have a sign "DON'T LOOK" which is mighty good, owing to the ill-effects of blinding rays of the welding but such a sign, just naturally people look. These rays are more powerful than Orlando's "DON'T LOOK," you might say.

Sanford has the same crossings signals as Longwood, land, Winter Park, Altamonte and other small towns. Why don't CITY demand that the A.C.L. warning gate placed on West Street?

Most everybody will agree that first impressions are the most important. Why leave a lasting impression with the many visitors who arrive in Sanford, The City Submerged, on the Clyde River Line that our streets are full of holes. Let's get the streets the Clyde dock repaired and get away our shock absorbers.

Hupmobile reliability, dashing performance, long life, low costs, these are all important reasons for the unprecedented sales records which the Hupmobile is making.

There is another reason, even more important. Owners of cars whose first cost is less, are finding that they can obtain much more motor car economy and enjoyment in the Hupmobile for a slightly higher original price.

Owners of higher priced cars are discovering that the Hupmobile gives them all the practical advantages that costlier cars can give.

BRITISH FLEET TO KEEP TURKS OUT OF EUROPE

LONDON, Sept. 16.—If Mustapha Kemal Pasha should attempt to move his victorious forces against Constantinople he will be opposed by the British fleet.

The British cabinet, after a meeting today, announced that instructions had been issued to the British Armada to allow no Turkish troops to make the crossing from Asia Minor to the European shore.

Complete agreement was reached at the cabinet meeting with the French for the protection of the neutral zones on both sides of the straits of the Dardanelles and also of Constantinople.

Jugo-Slavs and Rumania both are reported to be viewing with the greatest concern the possibility of the Turks returning to Thrace.

SAY SHOPMEN OF FLORIDA WILL RETURN

About 1,500 Men Affected by Settlement in State

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 16.—It was considered certain in local railroad circles last night that the striking shopmen would begin returning to work by Monday on two of the trunk lines entering this state.

The Southern and Seaboard Air Line railways are parties to the so-called "Warfield-Jewell" plan of settlement and steps toward putting the agreements into effect have already been taken.

The Southern and Seaboard Air Line railways are parties to the so-called "Warfield-Jewell" plan of settlement and steps toward putting the agreements into effect have already been taken.

It is generally believed here that the Atlantic Coast Line and Florida East Coast managements will be offered a settlement on the plan ratified by the unions at Chicago Wednesday, but in the case of the Atlantic Coast Line a definite statement issued from headquarters at Wilmington, N. C., said it would not be considered.

Nothing could be learned as to the attitude towards the proposed settlement of the Florida East Coast. Approximately 1,500 men in this state will be affected by the Seaboard settlement while the Southern employs only a small force here.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tested pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in prices quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 84,885 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in Every-Day Driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.
