Well, how is the brand New Year treating you? One nice thing about it has been the wonderful weather. We certainly can't kick about it can we? Happy birthday to the Baker family. First Betty celebrated her birthday on Monday. Then on Wednesday Daddy Baker became a year older and Thursday Charlene added a year to her age. Hear that Lloyd Freeman got a 20 point buck the other day. Don't you know that was a proud boy? Mrs. J. C. Sapp motored to Tampa recently to see her parents, the A. V. Knight. Corine and Aaron Wetherington of Tampa spent some time here with her mother, Mrs. G. B. Sapp. Mary and Claude Hittell had son Claude Jr. and Johanna and children here for the Christmas holidays from Columbus, Ga. Mary and Claude drove them home. Talking of Claude and Mary, they are going to Tallahassee for the inauguration of the new governor, Haydon-Burns. Bet they will have a wonderful time. Was very glad to have seen Raymond King while he was home from National Guard training. And very proud of his heroic deed in saving the life of a small boy in Orange City. He deserves a medal. Mrs. S. A. Chambliss and son and daughter are visiting in Ft. Walton Beach during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Modig of Destin spent a week here with Claude and Rena Hawkins. They are taking a tour down the west coast. Mrs. Myrtle Pickett of Jacksonville also came by on New Year's Day to see Claude and Rena. How Traffic Cops Of The Sky Are Halting Deaths

By Tom Nolan
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The chances of the plane in which you are flying actually hitting another in mid-air have been cut drastically in recent years. Still, however, there will be about 15 collisions in the skies this year—mostly involving private planes not protected by new traffic control systems. Public attention was focused on the potentially deadly nature of air traffic by the collision four years ago of two airliners over Brooklyn, N. Y. It remains the world's worst plane disaster, with 134 deaths, including six persons killed on the ground. Since the Brooklyn crash, the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has made more than a dozen changes in its Air Traffic Control (ATC) regulations designed to reduce the danger of overcrowded air lanes. The latest change, completion of the Area Positive Control (APC) separation center network, is the most spectacular and far-reaching of these. With the addition of the Boston and Great Falls, Mont., ATC centers late in 1964, virtually all airspace in the continental United States between 24,000 (minimum jet cruising altitude) and 60,000 feet is now controlled by APC. Only properly equipped aircraft operating in accordance with an approved instrument flight procedure (IFR) are permitted in APC airspace. These planes are under constant radar surveillance. Most other commercial flight at lesser altitude is governed by IFR, but is not under constant radar surveillance except in the heavily traveled air routes. In good weather, collision avoidance is on a "see and be seen" basis. In bad weather, planes not on IFR are grounded. More than 95 per cent of the small private planes in this category fly under 15,000 feet and 90 per cent of them fly under 10,000 feet. The 22 APC centers use a total of 76 long range radar sets. This near-solid coverage permits two aircraft to be safely separated by as little as three miles, thus speeding up traffic. Yet, despite precautions, officials still expect that mid-air collisions will continue to average about 15 a year in the near future. In 1964, there were 17 mid-air collisions resulting in seven fatalities. In 15 of these both planes were private craft. Each of the remaining two involved a military plane and a private plane. There has been no mid-air collision involving airline traffic since the Brooklyn crash. Main reason for the belief that these accidents will continue to average roughly 15 a year is that the number of "near misses"—those mid-air collisions avoided only by pure chance or evasive action by a pilot—reported to FAA has remained constant over the last four years. They average between 50 and 60 a month, roughly two a day. Their actual number could be considerably higher. FAA officials note that many pilots, fearing punishment which could ground them permanently, will not file a near-miss report under any circumstances. How many of these potential collisions go unreported in a year is anybody's guess. In a 1956 study conducted anonymously among its own members, the Air Transport Association reported an average of over four per day in the United States. In another anonymous study, the Flight Safety Foundation reported that over 2,500 near misses occurred between July 1961, and June 1962. This averages out to seven per day. In both cases, these statistics were gleaned from confidential pilots' reports which were not submitted to FAA for evaluation and corrective action. Of the 2,500 or so near misses reported to FAA in the last four years about 12 per cent have been classified as "Critical, avoided by chance only." Another 40 per cent are classed as "Potential, averted by prompt evasive action." The remainder are judged "No collision hazard." The best means of averting near misses under normal conditions are a pilot's eyes, says one FAA official. "But at sonic and supersonic speeds," he adds grimly, "you run out of eyeball." Only 10 per cent of the collisions at these high speeds are due to pilot errors. The rest are caused by controller and altitude errors, mainly the latter. Present radar scopes have no way of estimating a plane's altitude. But a new system, called radar beacon, now being installed in an advanced test facility at Atlanta, may be able to. The radar beacon screen, a simple instrument which looks like a horizontal bar, sends beams from the ground to the aircraft. Instead of bouncing off the plane as normal radar beams, they are received by a device called a transponder which turns them into coded symbols, passes them through the plane's altimeter, and returns them to the ground with height information.

Employment Boon Pictured For Sanford Area

Community Action Eyed

By Harry I. Johnson

Sanford commissioners may set up machinery at next week's meeting with which it can assist in curtailing unemployment in the area through a Community Action Program.

The program is tied in with the Federal Poverty Act and the community could be reimbursed for most, if not all, of funds expended for it.

Marvin Meltzer of Sanford Manufacturers, Inc., and Joe Foy, manager of the local state employment office, outlined the plan to commissioners at last night's meeting. A committee of five to seven members would be formed to study and undertake the organization of such a program, Meltzer said.

A fund of up to $5,000 may be necessary but, Meltzer said, this could be returned from federal monies as the program developed and progressed. Briefly, it would provide training for a variety of jobs in the area and the trainees would be paid $1.00 while in the school and thus be removed from the unemployment rolls.

Meltzer said the program can provide employes for industry such as sewing machine operators, plant checkers, packers or any function having a need for employes covering a wide range of jobs.

He noted there are three needle work plants in the area and "a shortage of 200 operators now exists for present turnover and plant expansion for the calendar year."

A problem to confront the committee, according to Meltzer, is a site or building to house the school.

The Community Action Program would utilize talents of school officials, employment office personnel, city and county leaders and heads of local industries.

"A program such as this can be a boon to the economy of our city while providing jobs for our people," Meltzer said.

MIAMI (UPI) — Mayor Robert King High, who speaks fluent Spanish, announced he will head a group of 100 Florida business and civic leaders on an "Operation Friendship" tour of five South American nations next month.

The group will spend two weeks visiting Lima, Peru; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Santiago, Chile, and Bogota, Colombia, beginning Feb. 4.

"We're making the trip because these and the other Latin American countries have so much to offer in markets and opportunities for exchange which should be developed," High explained.

Florida's geographic proximity to Latin America gives the state a "unique opportunity" to improve relations, he added.

"Alert businessmen will capitalize on the administration's effort to sustain buoyant business outlook, and we feel that our local leaders are the type that will see to it that Seminole county will get its share of this year's boost of business," Harper added.

Directors of the association are Harper, George Touhy, A. Edwin Shinholser, Jack I. Greene, Robert E. Karns, J. H. Van Hoy and S. F. Doudney.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Community Facilities Administration said it has approved a $2.9 million loan to help finance a complex of seven new residence halls to house 786 students at the University of South Florida in Tampa.

The university will add $213,400 of its own money to the total.

Vigilante Wrecked In Take-Off At Base

Pilot Hurt As Plane Explodes

Another Vigilante wrecked this morning at the Sanford Naval Air Station in what was described by Navy officials as an aborted takeoff.

Only the pilot was aboard, officials said.

The pilot, identified as Lt. Michael Daniel Hornsby, is in Seminoles Memorial Hospital with severe injuries. At an early hour this afternoon his condition was listed as "serious" by base officials.

Witnesses said the crash occurred about a mile west of Mellenville Avenue and near the fence enclosure. They added it appeared that a tire had blown out and the plane then flipped over and burst into flames shortly after noon today.

The Navy described the plane as a twin-jet fighter, an ASA and one of the original models of the Vigilante.

Another modified version, the RASC Vigilante, has been grounded by the Navy pending a thorough study of the aircraft.

It has been in a series of crashes in recent months and a full-blown inquiry into these is being made at this time.

Only routine runs are being allowed by the RASC pending results of the investigation. Training missions are banned.

It was only two weeks ago today—and at about the same hour—that an RASC jet reconnaissance bomber crashed in Delary, killing the pilot and injuring one crew member.

A huge crowd gathered at the sides of the Navy station this morning shortly after the mishap and they continued to remain there till late this afternoon.

Marine guards were posted around the shattered jet but the Navy and Marines were quick to let the press on the station to personally view the scene.

When mishaps occur aboard a military reservation, it is at the discretion of base officials as to whether civilians will be allowed at the scene.

Commission Chooses Crapps City Mayor

James H. Crapps was the unanimous choice of the Sanford City Commission last night to serve as mayor for 1965. He succeeds A. L. Wilson.

Wilson made the surprise nomination after asking that he be relieved as chairman for the election. He and Crapps swapped seats and seconds the election was over.

Crapps is a businessman and civic leader in the city and has played a prominent role in city activities during the past year. He previously served as mayor two terms ago.

Prior to the election, Howard Wheelchick, city clerk, issued the oath of office to Joe Baker, incumbent commissioner re-elected last November.

Commissioners were all business as they sped through an agenda—which normally takes hours—in less than an hour.

In other action, the Commission:

—Appointed C. Vernon Mize, retired county judge, as municipal judge to succeed Kenneth McIntosh. The latter has assumed the post of county prosecutor.

—Delayed the first reading of an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of junk cars, parts and debris in residential areas after City Atty. William C. Hutchison said such reading must be made at a formal meeting. Last night's session was a special, re-organizational one.

—Approved a continuation for one month of the school

Social Security Checks On Way; Thought 'Lost'

Many social security beneficiaries throughout Seminole County are still without their monthly checks today, according to Miss Cecile Heard, Sanford postmaster, and social security officials in Orlando.

Checks are usually distributed on the third day of each month. A few checks, according to Miss Heard, were received in the Sanford post office Monday and distributed.

"Some more came in yesterday," said Miss Heard "but I'm positive they're not all here yet."

The local post office was deluged with telephone calls Tuesday. Many social security recipients also telephoned The Herald. Social security officials in Orlando told The Herald that the situation was widespread according to reports they had obtained from offices in Lakeland, Jacksonville and Atlanta.

"Normally," said one spokesman of the Orlando office, "the checks are sent from Atlanta to Jacksonville where they are re-sorted and sent to local post offices between the 28th and 30th of each month."

Miss Heard said, "When we receive them the bundles are marked with instructions for as not to distribute them before a certain date. Usually it is the third of each month."

"We don't know exactly what's happened," said the social security office spokesman in Orlando. "Neither do we," said Miss Heard. "But it's the first time it's ever happened to my knowledge."

ANOTHER VIGILANTE crashed, exploded and burned this morning on an aborted takeoff at Sanford Naval Air Station. The twin-jet, an ASA, shown in the top picture as it burned brightly and base crowds sought to extinguish it. The bottom picture shows the throngs of curious who lined the fence off Highway 46 to see what was going on. (Herald Photos)

Robert John Collins Judged New Year's Baby Of 1965

By Dottie Austin

Robert John Collins was named New Year's Baby of 1965 today in a ceremony with prizes and occupations governing the "Last Baby" contest.

The little winner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Collins, of 2422 Princeton Avenue. Rules state that the exact hour and minute of delivery must be verified by a doctor or hospital statement and submitted by the legal parents of the child.

The naming of the Collins infant as the winner makes him and his parents recipients of a long list of accompanying prizes from Sanford and Seminole county merchants.

Included are the following: dry-cleaning, plus five shirts, gifts or services. A $10 saw, hand-saw, fire by Phillips Electric National Bank, a case Touchton's will give Plafex of Gerber's baby food, from party pants and coveralls bib set, the Remnant Shop will give $250 worth of merchandise from regular stock and Corrine's Beauty Salon has a "surprise gift" for the mother.

Senkarik Paint and Glass will give an expert framing job on baby's first portrait and the Toy Corral will present to Mr. and Mrs. Collins a $5 gift certificate for toys for the new baby.

An Events formula feeding kit from Kellie's Pincrest Lizzett, Druggists; an 18 1/2 Rogers Brothers feeding spoon from Wert Jewelry, a photograph album from Fleming's Gift Shop; a stuffed lion from Duck's Appliances; 20 pounds of finished laundry from Sanford Dry Cleaners; $5 worth of

First Federal Reveals 10% Growth In '64

The year-end statement for 1964 of First Federal Savings and Loan Association shows assets of $19,123,593.24, of which $16,563,290.67 is in first mortgage loans. These figures according to E. C. Harper Sr., president, represent a growth of over 10 per cent from the comparable figures for 1963.

The 30-year-old financial firm on Dec. 31 had savings amounting to $16,851,344.44 on its books, representing balances in over 6,200 accounts. The savers were paid dividends at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent a year and the earnings totaled over $657,000, Harper said.

The closing statement for the 1964 operation of First Federal reflected reserves in excess of $2 million which the S&L official said was up over $90,000 from the 1963 figure.

Single dwelling construction throughout the nation ebbed during 1964, it was said, and while this trend was apparent in Central Florida, it was not so severe as in other areas in the country. The local S&L however, showed an increase in the number of loans, and during 1964 invested $8,750,000 "in round figures" in real estate mortgages.

In a year in which Washington has used a number of devices to spur spending and stimulate the economy the effect on savings has been to give them more than usual activity, Harper said. While as much money was received in 1964 as was credited in the preceding 12 months, the turnover was much more rapid and the net was lower than could justifiably be anticipated.

In a spirited nationwide contest for the "disposable dollar" waged by the "reservoirs of savings," the performance of the savings side of the business here has been most gratifying, the thrift association leader said.

The year ahead looks good, not only for the area's economy, but for First Federal, Harper indicated. The local conditions by themselves in the face of increasing population and greater industrial activity justify this opinion, but "we may be sure that the federal government will be exerting its full weight to see that the country's business outlook maintains a rosy hue. This should help our community just as much as it does any others in the U. S."

"Alert businessmen will capitalize on the administration's effort to sustain buoyant business outlook, and we feel that our local leaders are the type that will see to it that Seminole county will get its share of this year's boost of business," Harper added.

Directors of the association are Harper, George Touhy, A. Edwin Shinholser, Jack I. Greene, Robert E. Karns, J. H. Van Hoy and S. F. Doudney.

Good Year Pictured For Common Mart

By William Anderson
 BRUSSELS (UPI)—The need for a tight monetary policy to fight inflationary tendencies is expected to cut back the gross national product of the six member nations of the Common Market in 1965 but it should be a good year for business.

The G.N.P. for 1964 will be about five per cent up on 1963, but the expansion will not exceed four per cent in 1965, according to predictions.

This has been the Community's best ever business despite a running fight with inflation. Trade among the six—France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—is up 7 per cent over last year. This puts the intra-community trade increase since the common market began in 1958 up by 180 per cent.

per cent. This was reflected in the Community's trade balance with non-member countries which is less deficit than last year.

Gold and currency reserves held by the six increased by $320 million, according to latest figures. France's holding topped $5 billion for the first time.

Farmers harvested a record grain due to fine spring and summer weather, bringing in 68,000,000 (m) tons—400,000 tons more than the previous best year of 1962.

1965 will again be dominated by the need to hold inflation.

Hardest hit will be the building industry. Community governments are cutting down on building permits except for vital construction such as hospitals and low cost housing.

Interest on private loans for building will rise and help bring on the desired cutback. The rush to build was putting up cost of living prices generally and increasing the inflation spiral.

The global production is that economic activity will continue to expand but at a slightly lower rate than in 1964. The world business cycle which this year helped European economies is expected to be less lively.

Germany's interior demand will continue but there will be pressure on prices. France and Holland's interior demand will be moderate.

Tension over prices will continue in the Belgium and Italian economies.

Both France and Italy had to introduce strong price controls to hold down inflation. This slowed economic growth slightly but the dangerous upswing of prices was definitely slowed down. France's G.N.P. growth will be around three per cent.

Belgium was in the most dangerous inflationary situation in the Community.

The French auto industry was hit by the credit squeeze and was unable to borrow sufficiently for development. All large French auto manufacturers were forced to cut back production and giant Renault reduced the working week to 40 hours. In late November, however, Renault announced it was returning to the normal working week.

West Germany continued its rapid growth in 1964 and all indications are that the steep upswing will continue well into 1965.

The star performer was the German auto industry which, unlike the French, was unhampered by limited credit. Its output was estimated at 2.3 million, against 2.6 million in 1963.

Exports of German autos will hit 1,480,000 (m) units, compared to 1,330,000 (m) in 1963 and expectations are similar for 1965.

The coal industry is suffering badly from competition with oil. Some 25 German pits are scheduled for closing in 1965—reflecting the dilemma of the industry's 4 million tons pithead reserves.

Community imports were running nine per cent over 1963 and exports at about 10

Tall-To-Short Gets Proposals

OSWESTRY, England (UPI)—A 19-year-old girl whose height is being reduced surgically from 6 feet 7 1/2 inches to 5 feet 1 inch has had four marriage proposals from tall young men, it was reported.

Anne Rowston has spent months in the Orthopedic Hospital here while doctors removed sections of bone from her legs to reduce her height. They plan similar operations to shorten her arms.

Miss Rowston has received more than 200 letters from well-wishers, including the four marriage proposals, since newspapers began following her case.

Sanford Doctor Wins Mention In Magazine

By Dottie Austin
One of Sanford's well known young doctors has received an important mention in the story of "A Ship Called Hope" written by Dr. William Walsh, which appears in the winter 1965 Reader's Digest Condensed Books.

Dr. Walter Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Haynes, of 314 Magnolia, is described in one paragraph of the story (p. 319) as "performing the first open-chest surgery ever seen in the Celebes" during his tour of duty aboard the hospital ship "Hope." The ship, its crew and personnel have gained international fame during their many voyages to bring better health to underprivileged people in the far corners of the globe.

The preface of the book reads, "When a white ship with the name 'Hope' in large block letters on her side sailed from San Francisco for the Orient in September, 1950, not only had an historic maiden voyage begun, but a new concept of health assistance to underprivileged people."

The letters HOPE stand for Health Opportunity for People Everywhere and it is the childhood of a dedicated young doctor, William B. Walsh. The story which appears in the Reader's Digest was written by Dr. Walsh.

Sanford's Dr. Haynes served on the ship for three months during her tour in the South China Seas, along with other volunteer physicians and nurses in all fields of medicine.

Dr. Haynes was graduated from Seminole High School in 1939, worked at the Florida State Bank for a while and then joined the Air Force when World War II began. After the war he attended pre-med studies at the University of Florida and then went on to Harvard Medical School. It was there that he met his wife Ruth, who also is a doctor.

The announcement was made by Hometown president Robert Maerz and chairman Wellington Paul.

Annual Epiphany Celebration On

TARPON SPRINGS (UPI) — Thousands were expected today as the Greek Orthodox community here celebrates Epiphany, the annual commemoration of the baptism of Christ.

The celebration is highlighted when Archbishop Iakovos, Greek orthodox primate of North and South America, throws a gold cross into a spring.

It will be retrieved by the town's young men. It is considered good luck for the finder, who is blessed by the archbishop.

Special Meeting

A special meeting of the West Lake Brantley Civic Association will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday on the lakefront property site on Lake Brantley. Mrs. Jeri Rigby, association president, urges that all members attend.

How To Cut Your Own Taxes 3

By Ray De Crane

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"Just what income do I report on my income tax return?"

The answer is far more complicated than appears on the surface and whole books have been written on the subject.

In a broad sense every dollar of income you receive is taxable unless it is expressly exempt by law.

Your salary or wages is naturally the starting point in determining your income for the year. But how about life insurance dividends, stock dividends, savings account interest, jury duty fees, gains realized on the sale of stock or any of your property, tips, gifts, pensions, prizes, awards, bonuses?

Some items of income are specifically exempt from tax either wholly or in part. Fully tax exempt are such things as Social Security payments, unemployment benefits paid to you by a state (but supplemental unemployment benefits paid from a company-financed fund and strike benefits paid by a union are taxable), gifts, bequests and inheritances, life insurance paid upon the death of the insured, accident and health insurance proceeds, casualty insurance proceeds, interest on tax-free securities (such as municipal bonds).

None of the foregoing need be reported on your income tax return.

But here are some items which must be reported: tips received by waiters, waitresses, cab drivers and other service employees; commissions for steering business to a company or to a salesman, jury duty fees, gambling winnings, hobby income.

Interest received from banks, savings and loan and life insurance companies have been a big source of non-reported income for many years. Internal Revenue Service officials have taken steps in recent years to plug this hole in the dike.

That is the reason your banks and insurance companies have requested your Social Security number. They are now required by law to inform Internal Revenue of all interest payments or credits of $10 or more.

Disregard the advice of well-meaning but misinformed friends that interest must be more than a certain figure before it need be reported. All savings account and life insurance interest is taxable.

If your minor children have savings and you have the right to make deposits and withdrawals, the interest earned on those deposits should appear on your tax return.

In certain carefully established accounts where the minor child is the sole custodian of the funds and the parent may not make withdrawals, the interest is taxable only to the minor. Of course, he has to have at least $100 in total income (including the interest) before he is required to pay a tax.

Dividends receive special treatment. Dividends on life insurance policies are not taxable. They are considered to be a return of a portion of your own payment. However, if the dividends are permitted to accrue with your insurance companies the interest earned on them is taxable.

Speaking of dividends, the so-called dividends credited to your account by a savings and loan or a credit union are treated as ordinary interest on your tax form.

Interest earned on your "E" bonds is also reportable. You may elect to report the interest annually or to wait until the bonds are redeemed and then treat as interest the increase over the purchase price.

Dividends received from fully taxable domestic corporations (this includes most dividends received from U. S. companies) are only partially taxable. Beginning in 1964 a husband and wife are each entitled to exclude the first $100 in dividends received. The full amount of the dividends must be reported but $100 per person is then deducted and only the remainder is subject to tax.

If the stock is jointly-owned, the exclusion on a joint return is $200. Where stock is held separately only the first $100 received by each is excluded. For instance, if the husband received $250 in dividends on his stock and the wife $35 on stock held in her name, their total exclusion is $135. One partner's unused exclusion may not be used by the other.

There is still a second break in the accounting of dividends. After the exclusion has been taken, a dividend credit may be applied. This credit for 1964 returns is 2 per cent. This had been 4 per cent in former years. In 1965 the credit is eliminated entirely.

Here, then, is a summary on handling dividends: Dividends received by husband	$250	Dividends credit (2 per cent)	$ 3

Dividends received by wife	35
Total dividends	$285
Exclusion (41, $100; W, $35)	135
Taxable	$150

Miss Whirl Out For Second Win At SOKC Tonight

Inaugural handicap winner Miss Whirl goes for her second straight feature race win tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club in the 10th event of an 11-race program which begins at 8:10.

It'll be almost like a re-running of the inaugural as second place finisher Ebony Rock and Orbital—who ran third—are also in the field. Strong competition is also expected from a pair of Oswald Brothers sprinters, O. B.'s Walls and U. B.'s Adjusted. Walls was shut off early in her attempt to repeat as Inaugural Handicap winner last Saturday night and will be attempting to get back on the winning track.

O. B.'s Adjusted won his first official start, noosing out Dave Hall at the wire.

Stetson 5 Resumes FIC Play vs Tampa

DeLAND (Sp.) — Stetson University's basketball squad will seek its sixth straight victory tonight when it is the guest of the University of Tampa.

This will be an important match for the latter five, as they resume Florida Intercollegiate Conference play against a much improved Tampa squad.

Tampa has new strength this year even though they sport only one senior on their roster. Junior College transfer student Dick Pusins from Hollis Long Island, N. Y., has been a great asset to the Spartans this season and shows promise of setting a few records for Tampa.

A recurring problem for the Stetson quintet will be the lack of height against several tall men on the Tampa five. Wayne Harden, a 6'8" center returns for Tampa against probable

Women's Golf At Sebring

SEBRING (UPI) — The annual Harder Hall women's invitational golf tournament for amateurs began today without a defending champion.

Barbara Faye White, of Shreveport, La., last year's winner, failed to enter the 54-hole competition.

Some of the leading contenders included Phyllis Temple, Newickley, Pa.; Ginny Dyson, Sugarloaf, Pa.; Linda Mathews, Portsmouth, Ohio; Phyllis Preece, Pompano, and Paulette Leo, Coral Gables.

Greyhounds Top Darters By Two Points

By Jim Baechus Herald Sports Writer
It looks as if the Lyman High Greyhounds had better forget non-conference competition and stay within the Orange Belt circuit as far as basketball is concerned.

Head Coach Dick Copeland's quintet played three non-conference games and lost them all before they ran into a pair of OBC opponents. In the two conference games the 'Hounds came out on top.

Last night it was Lyman in a nip-and-tuck 59 to 57 double overtime thriller over the Blue Darters of Apopka at the Lyman gym.

The Greyhounds broke into the clear last night with Joe Asher and Eddie Long each sinking 20 points.

At the end of the regulation four periods the Darters and the 'Hounds were knotted at 11-11. At the conclusion of the first overtime stanza each club had netted four points and the count was 15-15.

Only seconds were remaining on the time clock when Long basketed the winning two-pointer to give Lyman the winning edge.

The 'Hounds took a 10 to 8 lead going into the second period but Apopka's youngsters took dead aim at the net in the frame and registered 19 lead at intermission. Both clubs tallied 15 points in the third stanza and the 'Hounds came back in the final period with 17 points while holding the Blue Darters to 11.

But in that last period, Lyman had to bucket seven points with less than two minutes remaining to climb even with the Darters. Long and Asher led the frantic two-minute play.

In a preliminary affair, Apopka's junior varsity dumped the Baby Greyhounds 69 to 38.

FSU Tackles Georgia At Athens Thursday

ATHENS, Ga. — (Sp.) — Florida State, now 6-6, meets Georgia here Thursday in a basketball game in the 12,000-seat Georgia Coliseum.

Both teams have done plenty of traveling recently — Florida State returned New Year's Eve from a 14-day holiday trip that included seven games. The Seminoles won three of them, placing third in the Vanderbilt Invitational at Nashville and seventh in the All-College at Oklahoma City. In between, they lost to Tennessee and defeated Tulsa.

Georgia dropped two games in the Gator Bowl tournament, then lost to LSU in Baton Rouge before their Monday night meeting with Tulane in New Orleans.

Cards Ink Mathis

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Joe Mathis, scout for the San Francisco Giants, New York Mets and Detroit Tigers, has been rehired by the St. Louis Cardinals to scout free agents in areas of Missouri and Illinois.

Pro Teams Hurting Colleges

ATLANTA (UPI) — College resentment of the pros is a matter of long standing, but never has it been more intense than at present.

The schools are getting caught in the middle of the bidding war between the National and American football leagues — and some are getting hurt in the cross-fire.

The pros may have gone over the brink in the case of Oklahoma.

One Oklahoma official, who shall not be named, stood in the press box at the Gator Bowl game last Saturday and said tearfully:

"They cheated every one of the 60,000 people who paid $6 to see our team play Florida State."

The reaction throughout the college ranks is almost unanimous condemnation of the pros for signing rookies before they have completed their college eligibility.

The case of Georgia tackle Jim Wilson was bad enough. But for the Oklahoma Sooners, it was an athletic disaster.

Gomer Jones, the Oklahoma coach, is a quiet, easy-going man who seldom has a harsh word for anyone. But his bitterness was plainly visible when he had to dismiss four key players from his squad barely 24 hours before game time and the team lost.

The Oklahoma four never played after signing so the Sooners have no further problem on that point. But the University of Georgia is faced with possible repercussions for an act of which the school apparently was unaware.

Athletic director Joel Eaves feels the two incidents may have lit the fuse leading to an explosion between the colleges and the pros.

"We won't need to bring the matter up either at the NCAA meeting next week or the Southeastern Conference meeting later this month," Eaves said. "The subject is foremost in everyone's mind and, mark my word, there's going to be some fireworks."

Tribe Drops Heartbreaker By One Point

By David Higginbotham Herald Sports Writer
The overtime period proved fatal again at Seminole High last night when the Tribe lost the season's worst heart breaker, 39 to 40 in a triple overtime period, to the Bishop Moore Hornets.

The Seminoles led all the way to the fourth period, but they never got more than a six-point margin over the Hornets.

The point that gave Bishop Moore the victory came when the Tribe had a foul called against them just as the clock sounded in the final play-off time. The Hornets were given two free throws and made one, but that was enough to win the game.

In the first period Tom Hinson paced the Tribe with three baskets for six points and Gary Lloyd dumped in three foul shots and hooked one for five points. Steve Groover bounced in a basket for two points and Frank Murray added one on a free throw to give the Tribe a 14 to 12 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

Hinson again led the Seminoles in the second period with three points and Murray got two. Mike Gray, Lloyd and Groover added a point each, but the Hornets netted six.

The Tribe retired to the dressing room with a 22 to 18 margin at the half.

Groover led the way in the third stanza with five points with Murray adding a basket for two. Hinson made the last shot of the period to give Sanford the lead of 30 to 27 going into the final frame.

The fourth was a slow and carefully played period with Lloyd and Groover making a basket each and Jeff Williams adding a point on a free throw to raise the score to 33. The Hornets racked up 10 points to tie the game at 33 all at the end of the quarter.

The game went into a three-minute overtime period and each team made a basket to tie the score, 35 to 35. Then the Tribe went into the second added period, but neither team could muster more than two points.

The third overtime period came and each team made a basket to tie the score 39 to 39, but as the final seconds of the game ticked away Bishop Moore made a free throw with no time left on the clock to win the game 40 to 39.

In a preliminary, the SHS Jayvees were knocked out by the count of five points in an overtime period to settle a 38 to 38 tie which resulted in the fourth quarter.

In the first period Larry Hodges led the way for the Baby Tribe with four points with Wally Jernigan and Greg Ganas adding a hoop each to give Sanford an 8 to 7 margin after the first quarter.

Mark Raborn set the pace in the second quarter with four points and Terry Echols and Jernigan made a basket each to hold the Sanford margin to 15 to 13 at the end of the first half.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski
There were quite a few excellent bowling scores during last week's league play. One of the most consistent was that belonging to a member of the Saturday A.M. Junior Bowling League. (Don't feel too badly, men. After all, my 11-year-old has been clobbering me for some time now. Welcome to the club!)

Jim Woods had himself a practice game prior to the start of league play on Saturday and it was well over the 200 mark. Then in league competition, Jim started with a resounding 223, followed it with a 210 and then completed the bombing with an even 200 to finish with a 633 scratch series.

Other juniors who bowled well were Rob Jones 205/520, John Boggs 183/503, Frank Patterson 177/503 and Ronnie Frederick 180/503.

Remember, these 'juniors' are from 12 through 18. Now, let's take a quick look-see at the Bantams—ages seven to 12.

Leading the gals was Penny Bernal's 164, 165/441; Bonnie Unger 153; Patsy Terry 155, and for the 'gentles,' Harold Herlihy shot a 134 and some kid by the name of Kevin Spolski (see what I mean, fellows?) rolled a 108/524. I know lots of adults who'd like to have those scores — yours truly included.

Saturday night Moonlight Bowling winners were Ray Lusk for the men and Elaine Kostival for the ladies.

And since we're acknowledging the champs, let's pass on the names of the Scotch doubles winners, too.

First place fell to the Anderson's—Eleanor and Vergil—with the second place prize going to Doug and Darkis Owens.

Must have been the fact that we mentioned his name for

Boxing Crown Still In Doubt

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York State Athletic Commission has exercised its right as a non-member of the World Boxing Association in refusing to recognize the winner of the March 5 Ernie Terrell-Kidie Machen fight as the heavy-weight champion.

The fight in Chicago is billed as a title match by the World Boxing Association; to fill the vacancy created when it stripped Cassius Clay of his crown.

New York, instead, still deems Clay the world champion and has its own elimination tournament to provide a challenger for the heavyweight king.

Sir Walter Raleigh was executed for shedding Spanish blood and encroaching upon Spanish territory after agreeing not to do so.

The Navy Intramural Bowling League will hold try-outs the beginning of February to see who will represent Sanford NAS in a regional bowling tournament. More on this later on.

Still looking for five men who'll represent Jet Lanes as our Senior Citizens Traveling League. You must be 60 years of age or older and you'll bowl on the first Sunday of each month within the Central Florida area. So far, only Marshall Wilshire has shown a desire to be one of the five.

Rote Would Go Back To Football -- On Other Team's 5-Yard Line

By Bill McCormick NEW YORK — (NEA) — The full-maned young executive, with the face of a Mickey Walker who never collided with a boxing glove, deliberated before answering the question.

"No," Kyle Rote finally said. "I don't miss the actual playing part of football. I guess I would be happy to be back in action if somebody handed me the ball on the other team's five-yard line, but I'd hate to have to carry it from my own five or 10."

Rote admitted himself in 1964 to devote full time to his job as sports director of a New York radio station after 24 years in organized football (19 with the New York Giants as a player and coach).

"Of course, I'm lucky because I'm still in close contact with the sport," he said, "so I didn't have to make a complete transition, which could be a little painful."

Over the years, since he was the bonus choice of the Giants from Southern Methodist in the 1951 draft, Kyle has seen one big change in the professional players.

"Today they prepare themselves for the inevitable time when they must retire from the game," he said. "When I started out with the Giants only two players even lived in this area—and they were in New Jersey. The players didn't build up contacts or work at jobs that could be useful to them after they quit playing."

"Today you have men like Tom Scott, who devotes all his spare time to mutual funds; Joe Walton, who works in the transfer business; Andy Robustelli, who is in just about everything; Rossy Brown, working for a brewery, and practically every player doing something that will give him a living after he quits playing ball."

Rote has seen one other thing change in players. "Even at the so-called 'Football Factory' colleges the standards are higher now than they were," he said. "That means that the caliber of professional players is higher, too."

Mayor Wentworth's Family Holds Enviably War Record

By Donna Estes
David Raymond Wentworth, voted mayor of Longwood in December municipal elections by a 3-2 plurality, is justly proud of his family's and forebears' military service in having fought in all of the nation's wars with the only exception that of the Spanish-American War.

In recent history, Wentworth's grandfather, also "David," and father, another "David," both served with the Grand Army of the Republic during the Civil War. The grandfather was with the Third Massachusetts Cavalry and the father, only 14 at the time of his enlistment, was with the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment.

Wentworth's father also fought in the Indian Wars following the Civil War and left to the mayor two of his most prized possessions, a buckskin shirt and a set of Civil War medals.

The 98-year-old shirt, in good condition today, was made from the skin of a blacktail buck deer by a Sioux squaw known to the Army companions of Wyoming as "White Tail." The deer was shot by Wentworth's father while with the Army on the western plains in 1867. He had the skin smoked and tanned and made into a hunting shirt by White Tail and after wearing the shirt for three years, loaned it to a comrade who finally returned the treasure in 1905.

Perhaps the most interesting of the medals, in excellent condition although a little tarnished, is one bearing the image of Abraham Lincoln.

Wentworth's father retired in 1922 to Longwood where he made his home until his death in 1931.

The mayor's own military career began in 1916 when he joined the cavalry and served with the border patrol on the Mexican border until the declaration of World War I. During that war he served with the American Expeditionary Forces in the Red Diamond Fifth Division and then in the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Only three months after his discharge in 1919, he re-enlisted in the Seventh Cavalry, Custer's old outfit, and was stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex. Following his second discharge, he lived in Longwood from 1924 until 1927 and then returned to New England, where he operated his own radio sales and service business.

In January, 1943, he enlisted in the Army Air Corps and served tours of duty in the Philippines, Guam and the Aleutian chain as well as many other locations. In January, 1937, he retired with the rank of master sergeant, the holder of many ribbons, including the World War II and Korean Conflict ribbons and the Good Conduct Medal with four oak leaves.

During World War II, his son, David Jr., served with the U. S. Marine Corps in the Pacific Theater; son, Dale, with the U. S. Army Air Corps in the European Theater and son, Leslie, in the U. S. Navy.

Oviedo Approves Ordinance Setting City-Wide Zoning

By Evelyn Lundy
Oviedo City Council Monday night unanimously adopted ordinance setting city-wide zoning regulations following a 7:30 p. m. public hearing preceding the regular monthly council session.

Income council members, W. H. Martin, Rex Clontz and Kirby Bucklew, were sworn into office by City Clerk Dot Courier and council officers and committees were named.

Martin was re-elected council chairman with Clontz to serve as vice chairman. Committee appointments went to T. L. Lingo Jr., Bob Ward and Martin, building; Clontz, Martin and Bucklew, parks and pool; Ward, Clontz and Bucklew, streets and lights and Bucklew and Ward, sanitation.

In other business it was voted to raise the salary of the city attorney, Geo. H. Speer Jr., to $800 annually, retroactive to last July 1; To amend minutes of the December meeting to cover entire costs of a dinner entertaining the Ellsworth, Me., basketball team which totaled $83.59 and was attended by 43 people;

To send letter of commendation to Ben Jones, outgoing councilman who did not seek re-election, for his years of service on behalf of the city and letters of appreciation to the Citizens Bank for services of Mrs. Helen Slavik, who served as acting clerk during the recent absence of Mrs. Courier, and to members of the zoning board for their work in preparing the zoning ordinance, and, To install four new street lights on Academy Street.

Reports issued by Mayor Lee Gary advised that electrical work has been completed on city hall and that cost of paving Magnolia and parts of the alley back of the Baptist Church totaled $4,542. Following the meeting a birthday cake, served with coffee, honored the mayor, Mrs. Courier and Mrs. Slavik.

'Design Patent' No. 200,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U. S. Patent Office today issued the 200,000th "design patent."

A "dispensing container for tablets" became No. 200,000 in a 125-year-old line which includes — among other things — the Statue of Liberty, the Tylon and Periphera from the 1939 New York World's Fair, the Blue Eagle of New Deal days, and the zip-top beer can.

Jack Williams and Howard Richards, of Waukegan, Ill., designed the tablet dispenser. They received the patent in a brief ceremony at Patent Commissioner Edward J. Bremer's office.

Design patents protect products that are unique in shape or decoration but not in function.

Man Plucked From Atlantic

MIAMI (UPI)—A 28-year-old man swept overboard from a 21-foot sloop by a large wave was found yesterday swimming in the ocean about 10 miles off Miami Beach.

The charter boat Prowler picked up Donald McNeal, an ex-panhandler, described as an "expert swimmer" and brought him to Miami. He was taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital and reported in good condition.

Dr. Charles T. Spender, of Miami, who was aboard the sloop Senelec with McNeal on route from Miami to Nassau, told the Coast Guard a big wave had momentarily capsized the sloop, washing McNeal overboard. The sloop righted itself but Spender said he was unable to find McNeal.

Spencer, without a radio, dropped a wooden raft overboard at the spot and returned to Miami for help.

The scene was about 20 miles east of Key Largo, according to Spencer. McNeal was spotted off Miami Beach. A Coast Guard cutter reported hearing what could have been a cry for help last night in the vicinity of Fowey Rock, between Miami Beach and Key Largo.

McNeal evidently was carried north by the gulfstream and managed to stay afloat more than 12 hours.

Funeral Notice

Funeral services for Alburn C. Rector, 67, who died last Thursday at Seminole Memorial Hospital, will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Robert Johnson of First Methodist Church officiating. Contributions to the United Methodist Children's Home are requested in lieu of flowers. Burial will be at a later date. Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce has received a gold plaque from former Gov. Farris Bryant commending it for its work in helping advertise the state of Florida. Jim Daughtrey has announced.

The most recent activity of the group, which caught the attention of the former Governor, involved the 1,000 maps of Lake Mary, which were sent to New York last year for distribution at the World's Fair.

The commendation of the plaque covered the years from 1961 to 1964, during which time the leadership of the chamber has been under the direction of Richard Keogh (1963), Cdr. Cliff Nelson (1962) and Al Case (1961).

President Daughtrey told The Herald that plans for this year include numbering of houses, working toward a community building and the erection of new signs that bid visitors, "Welcome to Lake Mary."

"We deeply appreciate this recognition of our work by Governor Bryant, though it was unexpected. The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce is the oldest in the state," commented Daughtrey.

At their regular meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at the firehouse, Chamber members will hear a talk by Ed White, of the Internal Revenue Service.

Patronage Feud Buried At Rites

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—There was no sign of the patronage feud that flared between them when the outgoing and incoming governors of Florida met at the mansion Tuesday for the ride to the inaugural ceremony.

Gov. and Mrs. Farris Bryant and their daughters drove over to the mansion early from their hotel and were joined a few minutes later by Governor-elect and Mrs. Haydon Burns, their son and daughter and grandson and son-in-law and Burns' mother, Mrs. Ethel Burns.

Bryant strode out and shook hands with Burns and the two men helped their suit - garbed wives into the second car and then got into the lead car together for the four-block ride to the inaugural platform. Both couples wore big smiles but said nothing audible to each other.

England, France, Holland, Russia and Spain had colonies in North America in the 17th and 18th centuries.

SEMINOLE COUNTY RESIDENTS did not waste time in beginning to file for homestead exemption Monday. When Tax Assessor Mary Earl Walker opened her office a host of home owners were lined up to file for the $6,000 exemption. (Herald Photo)

Mayor Wentworth's Family Holds Enviably War Record

By Donna Estes
David Raymond Wentworth, voted mayor of Longwood in December municipal elections by a 3-2 plurality, is justly proud of his family's and forebears' military service in having fought in all of the nation's wars with the only exception that of the Spanish-American War.

In recent history, Wentworth's grandfather, also "David," and father, another "David," both served with the Grand Army of the Republic during the Civil War. The grandfather was with the Third Massachusetts Cavalry and the father, only 14 at the time of his enlistment, was with the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment.

Wentworth's father also fought in the Indian Wars following the Civil War and left to the mayor two of his most prized possessions, a buckskin shirt and a set of Civil War medals.

The 98-year-old shirt, in good condition today, was made from the skin of a blacktail buck deer by a Sioux squaw known to the Army companions on the Laramie Plains of Wyoming as "White Tail." The deer was shot by Wentworth's father while with the Army on the western plains in 1867. He had the skin smoked and tanned and made into a hunting shirt by White Tail and after wearing the shirt for three years, loaned it to a comrade who finally returned the treasure in 1905.

Perhaps the most interesting of the medals, in excellent condition although a little tarnished, is one bearing the image of Abraham Lincoln.

Wentworth's father retired in 1922 to Longwood where he made his home until his death in 1931.

The mayor's own military career began in 1916 when he joined the cavalry and served with the border patrol on the Mexican Border until the declaration of World War I. During that war he served with the American Expeditionary Forces in the Red Diamond Fifth Division and then in the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Only three months after his discharge in 1919, he re-enlisted in the Seventh Cavalry, Custer's old outfit, and was stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex. Following his second discharge, he lived in Longwood from 1924 until 1927 and then returned to New England, where he operated his own radio sales and service business.

In January, 1943, he enlisted in the Army Air Corps and served tours of duty in the Philippines, Guam and the Aleutian chain as well as many other locations. In January, 1957, he retired with the rank of master sergeant, the holder of many ribbons, including the World War II and Korean Conflict ribbons and the Good Conduct Medal with four oak leaves.

During World War II, his son, David Jr., served with the U. S. Marine Corps in the Pacific Theater; son, Dale, with the U. S. Army Air Corps in the European Theater and son, Leslie, in the U. S. Navy.

work in preparing the zoning ordinance, and, To install four new street lights on Academy Street. Reports issued by Mayor Lee Gary advised that electrical work has been completed on city hall and that costs of paving Magnolia and part of the alley back of the Baptist Church totaled $4,542. Following the meeting a birthday cake, served with coffee, honored the mayor, Mrs. Courier and Mrs. Slavik.

'Design Patent' No. 200,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Patent Office today issued the 200,000th "design patent."

A "dispensing container for tablets" became No. 200,000 in a 125-year-old line which includes — among other things — the Statue of Liberty, the Trolley and Periscope from the 1939 New York World's Fair, the Blue Eagle of New Deal days, and the zip-top beer can.

Jack Williams and Howard Richards, of Waukegan, Ill., designed the tablet dispenser. They received the patent in a brief ceremony at Patent Commissioner Edward J. Brenner's office.

Design patents protect products that are unique in shape or decoration but not in function.

Gay Throng Attends DeLuxe New Year's Eve Dance Here

By Robert B. Thomas Jr. 323-2154

Some persons attend church to worship as the New Year approaches, others assert themselves by attending a dance or party; still others remain at home.

The DeLuxe Club was the scene of a gay throng which attended the New Year's Eve Subscription Ball given by the Quarterback Club.

The immaculately dressed gathering matched the tempo of the musical group beat for beat as the final minutes of the year 1964 slowly ticked away.

The New Year found the crowd enjoying rounds of pleasures with its happy feet moving with rhythm and efficiency.

The writer hopes that everybody everywhere paused and gave thanks to our Heavenly Father for His wonderful blessings.

Betty Renfro, of Orange, Tex., visited her mother, Mrs. Francis Williams, of the city. She is a 1937 graduate of Crooms High.

Mr. and Mrs. Coley Brown Jr. and children of Rochester, N. Y., are visiting relatives. Mrs. Brown is the former Beatrice Horne.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Saunders of Rochester, N. Y., are here. They attended the funeral of Albert's father.

Mrs. Thelma R. Sheppard and Mrs. C. B. Pringle announce the annual March of Dimes Ball Friday night, Jan. 23. They are asking everyone to please attend. This is for a very worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willis and daughter, of St. Petersburg, and Mrs. Thelma Knight Evans and children, of East Lansing, Mich., paid a surprise visit to Mrs. D. A. Thomas and family.

Other College students visiting for the holidays were: Ramona Bowden, Tenn. State; Israel Black, Paine College; Brenda Hatch, Tenn. State; Betty Jean Black, Michigan.

Principal H. L. Douglas, of Crooms High School, announces the addition of two new teachers to his faculty. Krma Jean Fuller, a native of DeLand and a recent graduate of Florida A and M University, is replacing Mrs. Joella Singleton, in vocational home economics, who is out on leave. David Green Jr., of Monticello and also a recent graduate of Florida A and M, will teach junior and senior high mathematics.

We should make a concerted effort to instill within our children the importance of promptness.

Each day many students are late setting to school and to their classes. If these persons continue to display this type of behavior it will become a part of them. This will carry over their adult lives. They will never be able to hold a job because employers are not going to have their kind in their midst. Of course the most important thing for us to do is exemplify same.

Speaking of thankfulness - We will quote Jeremy Taylor: The private and personal blessings we enjoy, the blessings of immunity, safeguard, liberty, and integrity, deserve the thanksgiving of a whole life.

Solons Will Probe Grading Of Lumber

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee called today for a congressional investigation of the fraudulent upgrading of lumber in a move to protect home builders and other lumber users.

The recommendation was made by a small business subcommittee headed by Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), which also called for a shake-up of the American lumber standards committee.

A report issued by the five-man House subcommittee flatly rejected proposals for the setting of lumber standards by private industry alone rather than under government supervision.

It called for additional policing of lumber grading practices by the lumber industry itself.

But it also demanded more protection of the public by the Department of Commerce, the Federal Trade Commission and the Federal Housing Administration.

"If state and federal laws are found to be insufficient,"

Swofford, Yarborough Take Seats

John Alexander was named chairman of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners in a record-breaking 20-minute session yesterday.

Alexander succeeded James P. Avery Jr., who retired from commission along with Gen. J. C. Hutchison.

Seated at the abbreviated meeting were Commissioners Lawrence Swofford of Altamonte Springs and Ed Yarborough of Geneva. Swofford replaced Avery and Hutchison's seat was filled by Yarborough.

Following the invocation by General Hutchison and the approval of minutes, former Commissioner Vernon Dunn called attention to the recent report on the county engineer's office and road department and complimented the commission on the progress made in these and other departments during the past four years without a millage increase in property taxes.

After County Clerk Arthur Beckwith certified that the election of Yarborough and Swofford had been approved by the Secretary of State, Avery turned the chair over to County Attorney Harold Johnson who asked for nominations for chairman. Swofford nominated Alexander who was unanimously elected. Commissioner Lee Gary of Oviedo was named vice chairman.

"My four years on this board has been an education," said Avery, "and I've enjoyed every minute of it, even when I didn't agree with the majority. These next few years," Avery added, "will be the most important in the history of this county and I pray you gentlemen will have the strength and determination to continue to go forward." Avery said his services would be available whenever needed.

General Hutchison expressed identical sentiments and opinions and also pledged his co-operation and service.

The two retiring commissioners were thanked for their efforts by the new chairman, Alexander. "I realize this board will face many new challenges in the months and years ahead," said Alexander, "and I promise to devote whatever time and energy is necessary to cope with them."

Good News

Debt is a "four-letter" word in the American vocabulary. This is especially so in regard to the national debt, that little-understood but much invoked symbol of government extravagance, waste, mismanagement and even downright immorality.

Thus it may shock many to hear a respected banker extol the positive benefits of deficit financing, both public and private. It is almost as if the preacher were to condone gambling.

Contending that "debt extension is needed for the health of the economy," Rudolph A. Peterson, president of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, recently attacked what he labeled four myths regarding debt.

The first myth: "Debt in the United States is too high."

One cannot say this, says Peterson, except when the negative effects of debt become unbearable and new debt can't be floated.

Although total debt (federal, state and local government and corporate and private) in this country passed the trillion-dollar mark in 1962, there is no dearth of credit, no signs of a credit breakdown.

"Debt has grown much more than our ability to pay it off."

This implies that the total debt could suddenly be called by the creditors, which is "extremely unlikely."

Even though the debt today is six times what it was in 1929, it costs roughly half as much today in terms of the "paying power" of goods and services to repay a dollar of debt than it did in 1929. It costs one-fourth as much in terms of worker productivity.

The recent high growth of the federal debt is a major problem.

Actually, net federal debt at the end of fiscal 1963—$307 billion—was not much higher than at the end of 1945. The government owns more in real and personal property assets than the debt—$315 billion.

While the federal debt rose 13 per cent between 1946 and 1963, or $9 billion, the state and local government rise was a little publicized 448 per cent, or $65 billion. This is reflected in a 326 per cent increase in state-local taxes in that period reported by the Tax Foundation.

One must turn to the business world to enter the realm of astronomical accounting: Private debt has grown by $613 billion since World War II. Here it is not called debt but "investment," and without it the economy would stagnate.

"Federal debt must be reduced or at least contained."

On the contrary, says Peterson, government obligations are an asset to their holders and in many cases facilitate private business transactions. There is no more reason for extinguishing federal debt than for prohibiting corporate debt.

"A gross federal debt of well over 300 billion dollars is awesome to contemplate," says Peterson. "Yet we must come to grips with the fact that a billion dollars or 300 billion dollars are units of counting with which we measure our economic universe in much the same way we use light years to measure the physical universe."

"Our economic universe is already immense and is growing with each passing day."

The Lighter Side

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cinderella stories used to be a dime a dozen in show business. Now they are about $1.19 a dozen.

I think the reason for this is not so much inflation as it is a shortage of potential Cinderellas. Due to our affluent society, young ladies who classify as "undiscovered talent" rarely wear rags any more.

A case in point is the forthcoming presentation of a new television production of "Cinderella," the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical originally presented in 1957. The title role will be played by an 18-year-old girl, Lesley Ann Warren. Since I like to write about new things during the Christmas season, I arranged to interview Miss Warren, thinking she would give me a story with a Cinderella twist.

Some Cinderella? Did the Columbia Broadcasting System cast the part by sending forth a network vice president to find a young actress whose foot would fit the glass slipper?

Did a big producer happen to look into the window of a drug store and see Miss Warren sitting at the soda fountain, and offer her a contract on the spot?

Did Miss Warren faint from hunger in the outer foyer of a producer's office, only to be revived by the producer himself, who saw in her just the quality he was looking for?

Had the plan on Cinderella fact is that Miss Warren was already established in show business when she was tapped for "Cinderella." She was playing the lead singer in the Broadway musical "110 in the Shade."

Charles Dulon, producer-director of "Cinderella," saw her in that show and thought she would be good in his show. And that was that.

Miss Warren did not even have the forethought to run away from home and arrive in New York, friendless and penniless, to seek her fortune on the stage.

She already lived in Manhattan and her parents were fairly well fixed financially.

Miss Warren, who is currently appearing here in the local company production of "110 in the Shade," must have sensed that I was disappointed by all of this. To help make amends, she gave me a pumpkin pie.

"Did you bake this yourself?" I asked.

"No," she said, "my fairy godmother made it out of a couple of white mice."

I didn't tell this to Miss Warren, but I don't care much for pumpkin pie. So I took it home and had my fairy godmother change it into an apple tart.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It's a paradox. But the Red China-Soviet split, the restlessness of the East European satellites, the weakening of NATO and the rapid growth of U. S. and Russian nuclear power may result in a rush of wildcat brush-fire revolutions, guerrilla wars and riots around the world in the years ahead.

With Russia, Red China and the United States mutually coming in with military help on opposing sides, there will be more points at which the United States will be "fighting" Moscow or Peking. The chances for larger wars will therefore escalate.

These are the conclusions of an analysis on trends in the world situation circulated among policy makers on the staff of Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice President, the State, Defense, and other national security agencies.

In the paper's words: "The structure of world power is undergoing major modifications. The fact that the two great powers have found it difficult to bring their very substantial military power to bear in order to achieve their objectives, or to prevent this power from being used by others where they have an interest, has had important consequences."

"It has deterred the major powers from undertakings which might call their military capabilities into action. In part, this deterrence has been from fear that the use of nuclear weapons might escalate into an all-out nuclear war. In part, it has been because of the military guerrilla movements, not on the orders of Moscow, Peking or Havana, but in the hope of gaining their support. Similarly, individuals and groups may organize or execute plots simply to gain U. S. support."

The reader should bear in mind that the foregoing represents only an analysis prepared for the private reading of policy makers. However, it should also be realized that it is against the background of position papers such as this that policy is made.

cause the United States does not have the proper weapons or the necessary forces trained in modern guerrilla warfare."

"As a consequence of . . . the progressive disintegration of the two U. S. and Soviet power blocs, a pluralistic world order is rapidly coming into being. World power is proliferating."

"The resulting situation in most of the underdeveloped areas is such that many situations are likely to develop in which the great powers will have difficulty recognizing what, if any, they will have difficulty controlling if they do get involved."

These outside powers, he says, must decide whether they will develop which will engage their prestige to a degree in some way with the internal or external value of the situation.

Under the conditions of the world situation, he says, the two great powers will find it difficult to bring their very substantial military power to bear in order to achieve their objectives, or to prevent this power from being used by others where they have an interest, has had important consequences.

Some of these adventures will be owned by Peking or Moscow. In addition, this study by a man high in the government says: "Individuals and groups calling themselves Communists or Communist might stage revolutionary attempts or initiate guerrilla movements, not on the orders of Moscow, Peking or Havana, but in the hope of gaining their support. Similarly, individuals and groups may organize or execute plots simply to gain U. S. support."

The reader should bear in mind that the foregoing represents only an analysis prepared for the private reading of policy makers. However, it should also be realized that it is against the background of position papers such as this that policy is made.

Worry Clinic

Clara agreed to top off the ugly blubber that was making her look like a good old motherly soul but not like a seductive siren. Read about her program and then send for the Diet Booklet below. And be sure to see the follow-up tomorrow!

George W. Craff, Ph. D., M.D. CASE U-475; Clara G., aged 39, in the despondent wife mentioned yesterday who was 50 pounds too heavy and afflicted with a severe dread of the menopause.

That menopausal worry of women is due to a false notion. So I was able to destroy it during a single interview.

But obesity requires more time, so I persuaded Clara to get some of the other "fatties" in her church Women's Society to go on my dehydration diet.

Last spring over 2,000 readers of the Denver Post deluged me with requests for this same dieting plan.

For you church folks can kill two birds with one stone.

First, you can earn extra money for your Women's Society without taxing your budget an extra penny.

Meanwhile, you grow slender, kittenish and more seductive to your husbands.

All you need to do is limit your total liquid to one glass (eight-ounce) the first day; two on the second, and three from then through the 10th day.

Meanwhile, stay on 800 calories of food per day, with about 100 calories of protein, such as lean meat, cottage cheese, etc.

"But, Dr. Crane," Clara asked, "why the low liquid intake?"

Well, that helps dry up your gastric juice much as it also dries up saliva.

And gastric juice is a major goal for hunger!

On this low-liquid intake, you will feel thirsty but not very hungry.

Thus, your attention shifts from your stomach to your mouth. You want water or thin ice waters instead of fat foods.

In that connection, if you will pour your glass of water into an ice cube tray, with the sections left therein, you can then place a thin ice wafer on your tongue from time to time and kill your thirst better than with a much quantity of liquid.

Men can use this same dehydration plan but they may take 1,200 calories of food daily.

The first day you may get a dull headache, especially if you have been on a heavy intake of coffee, tea or the cola (caffeine) beverages, so an aspirin tablet may be needed. But by the third day, you will be sailing along quite well. Besides, by that time, your total fluid intake has moved up to three full glasses.

Remember, too, that total fluids include soups, milk, water, coffee and any other liquids.

If you get a group to join you, such as your church Women's Society, then weigh in and agree to donate $2.50 per pound to your church budget.

For that's what you save in groceries for every pound of blubber that you melt away from your waistline (and elsewhere!)

At the end of the 10-day period, you should be down an average of 10 pounds.

Then you can shift to Diet No. 2, which permits unlimited fluids and raises your calorie quota to 1,200 for women and 1,600 for men.

So send for the booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It has a calorie chart, too.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Sanford Herald, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: My husband (whom I'll call Paul) was formerly married to a shrew who bore him a handsome son. She wanted the divorce (another man) so, rather than create a scandal, Paul let HER divorce HIM on phony grounds (mental cruelty). She was given custody of the boy and moved to another state where Paul supports him in grand style. (I heard that the "other man" changed his mind and left her waiting at the church.) I also heard that she is still kicking herself for divorcing Paul. Paul and I have been married for six years. No children yet, but we desperately want one. My problem: Every Christmas Paul's "ex" brings her son here to spend the holidays with my mother-in-law. Paul's family wines and dines her and the boy, and I must witness it all because my husband insists that I be with him whenever he sees her. I can't stand the sight of her. Would it be better if I sent Paul to these family get-togethers alone? STICKY SITUATION

DEAR STICKY: Yours is the penalty most "subsequent" wives must pay when their husbands have a family by a previous marriage. Don't send him alone. Go with him and try to be compassionate. If Paul's

"ex" can stand the sight of you (whom she probably envies), you should be able to stand the sight of her, who deserves to be pitied. P.S. Have you ever considered adoption?

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor across the way hangs a lot of towels out on her line, and I must have counted 50 different towels represented already. Her husband travels. With a thief like this loose in the neighborhood, do you think it is safe for me to leave my laundry out overnight? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Your laundry is probably safe. People who carry off hotel towels rationalize their stealing (and it IS stealing) with the mistaken assumption that the price of the room covers some anticipated thievery.

DEAR ABBY: How can a person choose a reliable doctor when he moves from town to town? Looking in the yellow pages for a doctor when you need one in an emergency scares me half to death.

ON THE GO

DEAR ON: Before you leave your home community, ask your physician (and dentist, too!) to recommend a good person in his field in the community where you're headed. And before you leave that city, ask again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LITTLE GIRL BLUE" IN SHREVEPORT: Don't leave your husband to "teach him a lesson." YOU might learn the lesson — that he can live without you.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The scoring system in the World Bridge Olympiad as in most other team competition is based on International Match Points and does not give credit for honors. Thus when The Netherlands played Switzerland the Dutch player in the North seat decided to bid seven spades rather than seven diamonds because spades count 10 points more per trick and his side would gain two IMPs if they bid and made seven spades while the Swiss North-South pair bid and made seven diamonds.

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST (D), EAST, SOUTH and various card symbols like AQJ, AKQJ10, etc.

five club call was a European asking bid and South's six club response showed the ace and king of that suit so it was not hard for North to count 13 tricks. It also was too bad that he went out for maximum. If he had just bid seven diamonds that contract would have wrapped up and he would have been plus 1,410 instead of minus 150. Then, it just happened that the Swiss North-South pair did not get to seven. Instead, they settled for six diamonds so that the Holland pair net been quite so eager, its team would have gained 300 points or 11 IMPs instead of losing 1,000 points and 15 IMPs on this hand.

Seven spades was a reasonable contract and would have made easily if the trumps had broken 8-2, but when they broke 4-1 the unfortunate bidding-it seems that North's

Dutchman found himself really in Dutch. If you don't understand the bidding, it seems that North's

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Unmarried high school students are not adversely affected by the presence of married students in their classes, according to a report in the Journal, "Marriage and Family."

Come to think of it, a few married students in a high school might very well serve other students as examples not to be copied.

That wedding band on the teenage bride's finger might look romantic for a few days. Its romantic appeal is sure to fade as the other teen-age girls notice marriage brings an end to all sorts of things, ordinarily a part of a high school girl's life.

Things such as: Being a part of a small, intimate group of girls (for the married student is set apart and soon becomes a loner). The excitement a girl feels while wondering who is going to ask her to the senior party. The security provided by loving parents. The fun of being a girl. The boys will notice, too, that Jim is no longer one of the crowd. He no longer has a right to go where he pleases when he pleases. He no longer has all the time he needs to prepare himself for his life's work. He has a wife to support. Other boys won't envy Jim for long, but will soon feel sorry for "the poor guy." Since most married teenagers in high school have to live with parents, there will be some friction. The word will spread that early marriage isn't so soft after all. I well remember that there was one married student in my own high school class. Though she was a smart, pretty girl and well liked by other students, she wasn't envied by any other girl in school. When you're 16 or 17 and everybody is crowding into cars to go to an out-of-town football game, who is going to envy the girl who is heading home to cook supper for her husband?

Highlights TV Time Previews

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 6, 1965 TV Time Show of the Night: 9:30 p.m. CBS. Dick Van Dyke Show "Brother Can You Spare $2,500?" A wild one all the way. Rob, Buddy and Sally work on a script all night only to have Rob lose it at Grand Central Station. A bum finds it but when he calls and learns how much it means to them, he holds it for $2,500 ransom. The clock-and-dagger scene in which Rob is supposed to exchange the $100

they agree on for the script is a howl. Herbie Faye has a good scene as the man in charge of the railroad lost-and-found office and Nitely Comic Gene Baylos plays the bum. 7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "Two Men Named Laredo." (Color) With Frankie Avalon turning up as an actor on "Burke's Law" later this evening, it seems only fair for his onetime running mate, Fabian, to take another crack at Thesping. And that's what he does here. He plays his stock TV character, the troubled young man, in his customary fashion. The question here is can the seeming mild-mannered bookish young cowboy (no, he isn't really Superman!) turn into a savage, brutal killer in his spare time? The judge would like to think not. 8:30 p.m. ABC. Patty Duke Show. "Every Girl Should Be Married." A flimsy premise, with Patty overhearing parts of a conversation between her parents and believing they're trying to get rid of her by marrying her off. She doesn't want to believe it—she got a C minus in home economics—but when she's asked to meet a charming young graduate music student, well! It's amazing, but the show manages to stretch this confusion out to the full half hour. Frank Sinatra Jr. plays the young student. Good! Move over, Daddy! 8:30-9 p.m. ABC. Shindig. Still only a half hour, no matter how interminable it seems. The big news is that this show gets the jump on next week's "Hullabaloo" by presenting the Zombies first. What a coup!

Yanks Abroad Find Customs Far Different

By Murray J. Brown
UPI Travel Editor

Americans traveling abroad often find customs and traditions far different from those at home. But observing how the other half lives, works and plays is part of the fun of visiting foreign lands.

In Spain, for instance, Americans discover that everything happens later than at home. Americans geared to a 9-to-5 business day have to adjust to an entirely different time table. Spanish working hours are from 10-to-2 and 4 or 5-to-8.

Lunchtime isn't noon—it is between 2 and 4 or 5. And lunch is customarily the biggest meal of the day—usually a sherry or two, expensive several-course meal, followed by coffee and a cognac.

After a repast like that, it's no wonder that time has to be taken out for a mid-day siesta. In some of the bigger and busier cities like Madrid and Barcelona, the custom of the siesta is no longer as universal as it once was. But it still is widely observed, particularly in the south of Spain where life appears to come to a complete halt between 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. during the summer months.

Dinner usually is a light meal around 10 o'clock at night. The theater often begins at 11 p. m. and the night clubs and streets are crowded as late as 4 a. m.

In fact, the streets in Spain always seem to be crowded, except during the siesta hours. But very few people appear to be in much of a hurry and there is little of the hustle-and-bustle Americans accept as part of their way of life.

Everybody apparently comes out on Sundays—it is like an Easter parade on the main street in the big city and the little pueblo.

Incidentally, American visitors—particularly women—should observe local custom in the matter of dress. Only in the newly-developed resort areas does one see women on the streets wearing slacks and shorts. And they never would appear anywhere with their hair done up in curlers—a not unusual practice in the States.

Many Holidays

Then there are the holidays. Americans would be well advised to check before starting out for shopping or business ventures. There are 16 public holidays when stores and offices are closed throughout Spain. In addition, each town may fix three other days to celebrate local observances. Also, virtually every firm has its own patron saint and will close down on the feast day.

Americans will find greetings in Spain are a bit more affectionate than they are used to. Close friends—men as well as women—embrace and kiss both cheeks when they meet even if they have seen each other the day before.

A Spanish gentleman when introduced to a lady will take her hand, bend from the waist and bring her hand up to about an inch from his lips and make a gesture of a kiss. It is not considered proper for the lips to touch the hand.

The American woman tourist may run into another old Spanish custom known as the "pipero"—verbal homage to beauty. She should not be offended if she passes a group of Spanish men who make remarks that appear to be directed at her. A truly fine pipero is considered a work of art and the men vie with one another to produce the cleverest.

"You move more gracefully than Manolete fighting bulls" would be considered a high tribute.

Even if she understands the language, the lady should continue on her way as though totally unaware of the eloquence she has inspired.

Real Gun

TAMPERE, Finland (UPI)—Mauri Louhi, 17, was accused of killing one youth and wounding another when they asked whether the pistol he had was real or just a starter's gun.

Town Bitter Over Boys' Deaths

PAYSON, Ariz. (UPI)—This colorful Arizona town portrayed in the novels of Zane Grey was saddened and embittered today because four teen-aged boys died in a jailhouse tragedy more shockingly personal than any of the blood and thunder of Grey's tales of the Old West.

The youths all lived in this Pine Valley town and were known to most of its 800 residents.

They suffocated in jail where they had been left alone for 11 hours after their arrest on suspicion of stealing beer for a New Year's Eve party. The town wanted to know why.

Why were they left alone? Why were they jailed at all on the petty theft charge? Who was to blame for the seemingly senseless deaths of Clifford Greenland, 18; Blaine Schroeder, 16; Kenneth Haight, 15, and John Watkins, 16?

At a meeting in the county administration building last night, the aroused populace and newsmen were told that an autopsy showed the boys died of asphyxiation from carbon monoxide, probably sometime early Tuesday morning. A defective heater was blamed for causing the fatal fumes.

"It's a terrible thing, but you can't really blame any one person for what happened," a longtime resident concluded after the briefing which in some measure served to calm the community.

Most of the anger and suspicion apparently had grown from what had seemed like a cloud of secrecy which fell after the tragedy. The father of one of the victims was not told of his son's death for four hours.

It all began with the theft of four or five cases of beer from a resort lodge 20 miles from this town which lies in the shadow of Mogollon Rim, a landmark well-known to the readers of Grey.

Seven youths apparently were involved. One was arrested for drunken driving and another for disturbing the peace on New Year's Day. Both were released.

Five were arrested Monday—the four victims and another boy who was released to his mother's custody because he was only 14.

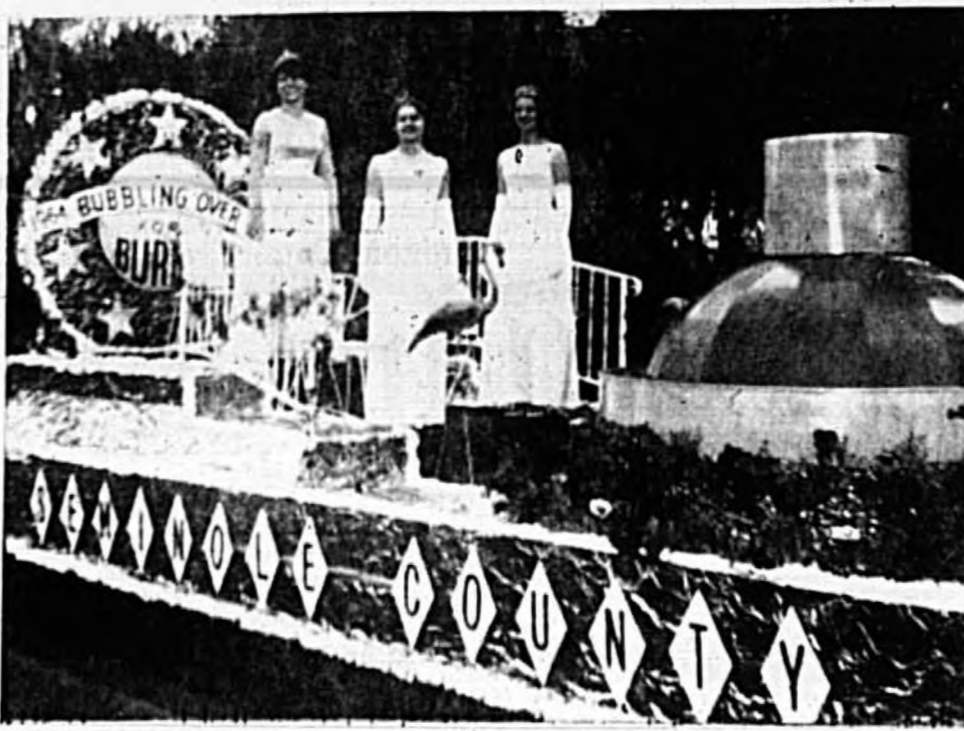

The other four were booked for suspicion of burglary and jailed. No law officer was present in the jail until the next morning.

At 10:30 a.m., Deputy T. L. Meredith brought their breakfast to their cell. He was stunned at what he saw.

"I was never so shocked in all my life," he said.

Three of the boys were lying dead on their cots. The fourth victim was lying off the bed, indicating he had started to get up before he collapsed and died, Meredith said.

Gila County Sheriff Elton Jones, in office only five days when the deaths were discovered, ordered the jail closed until the apparently defective heater is repaired. Jones said a number of other prisoners were housed in the jail in recent weeks with no apparent ill-effects.

SEMINOLE COUNTY'S FLOAT in the Tallahassee inaugural parade honoring Florida's Gov. Haydon Burns featured the homecoming queens of the county's three high schools. Aboard the float are Miss Sandy Tennant of Lyman High, Miss Barbara Cox of Seminole High and Miss Nancy Ann Swenson of Oviedo High. Also representing Seminole County in the inaugural parade was the Lyman High School Band.

Residents' Kin Dies Wednesday

Mrs. and Mrs. M. E. Baker have received word of the death of their brother-in-law, Maj. R. C. deArmond, who died Wednesday after heart surgery performed Nov. 18 at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C. He will be buried with full military honors Friday in Arlington National Cemetery with services scheduled for 1 p. m.

Mrs. deArmond, Mrs. Baker's sister, will be remembered here from her stay of several months with sons, Robin, Mike and David while awaiting orders to join her husband then stationed in Africa.

Columbus gave the country of Honduras its name.

Shuffleboarders Set Celery City Tourney

With the return of northern "snowbirds" to the Sanford Tour and Shuffleboard club, activities have started the New Year off with 91 members to date. Many more are expected during the next two weeks.

A match was held with Lake Helen, and Sanford was the winner. In the 100-point playoff, Lake Helen took revenge with Irwin and Hubbard beating Schenck and Schenck.

The annual dinner business meeting was held that night and the club president, Aloph Goetz, announced the yearly Celery City tournament would be next Wednesday and Thursday.

Edgewater was here to play Wednesday for a match with Sanford. The host club won both the total games and play-off game. M. Wise and H. Major played for Sanford and Mrs. Brooks and Arnold for Edgewater.

Dues are now being collected by the secretary.

Continental Set Feb. 28 At Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH (Sp) — A new and faster version of the Chaparral which swept the boards against the world's best at Nassau last month has been entered in the fourth annual running of the 2000 kilometer Daytona Continental at Daytona International Speedway Feb. 28.

Entered by Jim Hall of Midland, Texas, it will be co-driven in the 1,245-mile test of speed and endurance by Hall and Roger Penske. It was Penske who drove a Chaparral to wins in both the Governor's Trophy and the Nassau Tourist Trophy races.

Hall and Penske form a formidable driving combination. Hall is the '64 SCCA national road racing champion, and Penske is a driver of Grand Prix stature.

The Continental, which is run over the Speedway's demanding 3.81-mile track and road course, is open this year to sports and prototype cars, as well as GTs, and the starting field is expected to be the fastest ever assembled in the U.S.

Ferraris and Porsches from Italy and Germany already are entered, as well as a six-car team of Shelby American Cobras. Phil Hill, former world champion, Ken Miles, and Bob Hummer have been listed as three of the Cobra drivers.

The '64 Continental was won by a Ferrari co-driven by Phil Hill and Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico at an average speed of 98.230 mph.

The course combines the high banks and long straights of the Speedway proper with the winding infield road. The Continental starts at 10 a.m.

It is a full international, sanctioned by FIA-ACCUS, and is one of the few races in the world which carries 100 points toward the manufacturers' world championship.

The Continental is the closing event of the annual Daytona "Speed Weeks," which is highlighted by the running of the Daytona 500 Feb. 14.

Brodie Captures Football Golf

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — San Francisco quarterback John Brodie, a one-time golf pro, won the National Football League golf tournament by one stroke over Jessie Whitenton, defensive halfback for the Green Bay Packers.

Brodie, who played the pro circuit in 1959 and 1960, fired an even par on the back nine of the Hollywood Beach Hotel golf course.

Eddie Long Joins Five

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

Tuesday night's victory over Apopka marked the first time in 15 years that a Lyman High basketball team had racked up a cage win over the Blue Darters.

Therefore, in the opinion of Lyman fans, the one-point, double overtime victory was nothing less than a "conquest" for the Greyhounds who now have an overall record of two wins and three losses.

The important bit, however, is the fact that the 'Hounds' two victories have been in Orange Belt Conference play and that's where it counts, according to head coach Dick Copeland.

Another major factor about "Long has given us a more balanced attack," said Copeland, "and this has increased our scoring threat."

Copeland handed him a starting assignment against Apopka and Long immediately made a name for himself in Lyman cage circles by netting 20 points.

"Long has given us a more balanced attack," said Copeland, "and this has increased our scoring threat."

Copeland said he was well pleased with the improvement the 'Hounds have made since the opening game. Including the curtain raiser, the Greyhounds have played five games and they've increased their scoring output in each, reaching the 50-point mark Tuesday against Apopka.

"We should have," said Dick, "a fair five by the end of the season."

Joe Asher is leading the Greyhound scoring attack. So far this season he has racked up 79 points in five games for an average of 15.8 points per tilt. Mike Sterling has a total of 69 for an 11.8 average in five contests.

Lyman goes back into OBO circles Friday night when they travel to Wildwood for a conference game with the Wildcats.

Razorbacks Win Grantland Rice Football Trophy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Persistence and an unblemished gridiron record have paid off for Arkansas.

The Razorbacks, who sported an 11-0 mark this season including a 10-7 Cotton Bowl victory over Nebraska, were named winners of the Grantland Rice Trophy, awarded annually by the Football Writers Association to the team it considers No. 1 in the country.

"This is the greatest thing that has happened to me," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, who is in Hawaii to attend the Hula Bowl, "and I am overwhelmed to say the least. I'm just thrilled for the squad who made up their minds to be a great team and worked hard at it."

The Razorbacks polled four first-place votes and one third-place ballot from the five-member committee appointed by the association.

Notre Dame, the nation's No. 1 ranked team until upset in its finale by Southern California, finished second in the association voting with all five second place votes.

Texas, last season's national champion, was third on the strength of the Longhorns' 21-17 upset of Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

Michigan, Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl winner over Oregon State, 24-7, finished fourth in the balloting.

Lions' Owner Is Undecided

DETROIT (UPI) — William Clay Ford, millionaire owner of the Detroit Lions, said today he had not reached a decision on who to hire as the Lions' new head coach, despite a report he already tapped fired assistant Sonny Grandelius for the job.

Two Upsets Highlight Junior Play

Two upsets, a near upset, lined play in the Florida Junior Boys Basketball League, sponsored by the Sanford Recreation Department.

Pinecrest Rexall upset First Federal by a 34 to 26 score and Standard Oil shocked Strickland-Morrison 35 to 31, Sanford Atlantic National Bank frightened Sanford Electric before the Electricians' two watchman guards took over. Al Grooms and Ricky Smith led the winners with 26 and 14 points, respectively. Harley Sykes' 17 was tops for the Bankers.

Doug Malicowski with 20 points and Tommy Gracey with 23 hooked up in a scoring duel. Gracey came out on top of the personal battle with Malicowski but Doug's Broadcasters grabbed the tilt, 40 to 34 over the Grillers. Malicowski received plenty of scoring help from his entire squad while Tommy Whigham with 11 points was the only other scorer for the losers in double figures.

Bob Veale Inks With Pirates

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Left-hander Bob Veale of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the major league's strikeout king of 1964, has signed his 1965 contract, the club announced today.

Veale, 29, was reported to have received a substantial pay raise. The Pirates declined to disclose the terms of his contract.

'Lady Godiva' Contest Will Feature Nudes

DELRAY BEACH (UPI) — Formal plans for a March 7 "Miss Lady Godiva" beauty contest "to dramatically demonstrate nudity is nice" were announced today by entrepreneur John Dawson.

Dawson is the father of a 28-year-old bride in a nude wedding last spring under the palm trees here.

Dawson said today that Sissy Dawson and her Coast Guardsman husband, Charles D. Narrow, were divorced in Miami early in December.

The 18-year-old girl was remarried shortly after in the vicinity of Chicago.

Narrow, who was married to Sissy under the name "Morrow," charged extreme cruelty. He complained Sissy acted "cold and indifferent" after the first weeks of the marriage. Miss Dawson was divorced under her legal name Hilma Marie.

Dawson, refusing to comment further on the divorce, spoke at some length about the first annual Miss Godiva contest.

The winner is to get a trip to Conventry, England, where the original Lady Godiva, dressed only in her long hair, rode a horse through the streets to protest taxes.

The winner also will get the starring role in a movie titled "Miss Godiva." Dawson said he already has "two dozen" applicants, including an Atlanta (Ga.) blonde.

"She told me she was everything but the horse," Dawson said.

The judges panel will include Bunny Yeager, a Miami Beach figure photographer, and Sepi Dubrony, a sculptor who gained notoriety for a golden statue of actress Anita Ekberg.

The contest will start March 6 at a nudist camp here run by Dawson. It is sponsored by the American Nudist Association, he said. Dawson is secretary-treasurer of the association.

On March 6 the program says the judges will see the girls demonstrate "poise and talent." That night the press, judges, "special guests" and girls will attend a banquet. Clothes will be worn to dinner. "Informal clothes. We would not have anything formal in a nudist camp. That would be unthinkable," he said.

March 7 will be devoted to the beauty contest. Spectators and press will be limited to 2,000, Dawson said. "That's all we can hold."

"Actually Miss Godiva was planned for 1966," he said. "But premature introduction and an amazing level of public acceptance to the topless bathing suit caused our board of directors to reconsider and advance it to its present date."

"Next year it will be a summer event with local contests throughout the country for eliminations."

Dawson said each entry received is checked to determine how serious the girl is in seeking to enter the contest.

"We have found two of the entry requests were made by men and one was a practical joke on a woman who said she was 'fat and forty.'"

Investors Told To Avoid Some New Purchases

Wall Street Chatter
NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomson & McKinnon suggests investors avoid new purchases of stocks whose prices are high in relation to earnings and especially those which in 1964 seemed to be over-estimating their "visible growth potentials."

The advisory letter adds "strong cyclical groups and issues presumably also will involve greater risks in the new year."

Tessell, Patric, Inc., comments that right now it is "bullish and we expect at least four to six more weeks of generally advancing stock prices." The brokerage firm adds that both technical and psychological indicators "should give us due warning in time to take profits."

Bache & Co. comments that the numerous uncertainties overhanging the stock market likely will produce a seesaw pattern over the months ahead. Bache said it anticipates a market of individual stock performances rather than any definite trend in the overall list.

Stetson University concert choir, under the direction of Harold M. Giffin, professor of voice, will appear Saturday evening at 8 p. m. in Seminole High School auditorium. This is the second presentation of the Mutual Concert Association.

Widely known, the choir was heard coast-to-coast in a 55-minute broadcast of Handel's "Messiah" during Christmas week.

The choral group also made an appearance at the Florida Baptist state convention in Tampa in November, before more than 1,500 pastors and laymen.

The Sanford program Saturday will be varied, including such numbers as "Christ, Be Thine the Glory" by Schutz-Shaw; "The Omnipotence" by Schubert and "When Thou Comest" from Rossini's Stabat Mater with Monica Heister, senior of Jacksonville, as soloist; the opera aria "Mon Coeur S'Ouvre a Ta Voix" from Samson and Delilah by Saint-Saens with Elizabeth Bedole, senior of Jacksonville, as soloist; "O, Clap Your Hands" by R. Vaughan Williams; "Rise and Shine" by Dett; and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from The Messiah by Handel.

This program was originally scheduled for today but due to the Governor's inaugural balls, and other conflicting events has been rescheduled for Saturday.

C. Vernon Nize, president of the association, said that tickets of membership are still available for the next three concerts, which include the Florida Symphony and the Burke Family Singers.

Penalties Urged For Wife Beaters

CARDIFF, Wales (UPI) — Judge Owen T. Temple-Morris, in granting a divorce to Mrs. Leonardi Andrews on the ground of cruelty, said there ought to be a law to prevent husbands who mistreat their wives from remarrying.

The judge said Andrews' behavior was "dreadful." "Every other day his wife had a hiding" (beating), Temple-Morris said. "He hit her when she was pregnant. There were marks all over her, including cigarette burns. This went on all the time."

"People who disobey motor laws are disqualified from driving. People who commit misconduct are dealt with and disciplined. A man like this should be disqualified from ever marrying again."

Def. 8 Lauded On Merger With Parent Squadron

Heavy Attack Squadron 11 Detachment 8, "hailed down" its ensign for the last time when the unit merged with its parent squadron, VAH-11, during ceremonies at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Both units recently returned from deployments in the Mediterranean. VAH-11, commanded by Cdr. R. W. Kennedy, arrived in Sanford Dec. 22 after being deployed for eight months.

After the return of VAH-11 there were several special events of this last cruise to talk about: Cyprus situation Aug. 6-28; 17 pilots, bombardier-navigators, and third crew members marked their 100th carrier landing; visits to Italy, Greece and Turkey; major participation in Sixth Fleet and NATO exercises; ports of call in France and Spain; 2,000 flight hours. Many experiences to be remembered by VAH-11's complement of 185 officers and men.

Heavy Attack Squadron 11, Detachment 8 completed its deployment in early November and returned to Sanford. At this time the Detachment began preparations for dissolution and merger with its parent squadron, VAH-11.

Although Detachment 8's logs are closed, its records remain a reminder of devoted officers and men carrying out a vital mission.

Let Detachment 8's records speak: Less than five months after activation in 1962 the Detachment was aboard the USS for 42 days in the Caribbean fulfilling President Kennedy's Cuban quarantine. Upon return to Sanford in December the Detachment won all competition for the Top Bombing Squadron and also won the Top Pilot and Bombardier-navigator awards.

Continuing on its winning ways in 1963, Detachment 8 was the Top Bombing Squadron for three consecutive months. The Top Pilot awards were captured in four successive months while the Bombardier-navigator won the competition during January, March, April and June.

Detachment 8 at the end of the year joined VAH-11 in receiving the coveted Atlantic Fleet "E" for battle readiness among heavy attack units. During the final months of 1963, Detachment 8 made numerous short shipboard cruises while fulfilling operational commitments.

Detachment 8 swept the top awards for pilot, bombardier-navigator, and squadron for January. They were the overall winner of the Bombing Derby in March. The Detachment continued taking the much sought after "bombing awards" by winning the pilot and squadron competition during the first three months of 1964, while the bombardier navigators remained tops for March, April, May and June.

The Detachment dominated the Wing bombing competition by winning all awards in August, and again, even while deployed, in September and October.

So, having served its purpose and having fulfilled its mission in an outstanding manner, Detachment 8 will long be remembered for its can-do attitude and its spirit which more often than not had the Detachment's emblematic "Eight Ball" riding on top of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One's totem pole.

In the commendatory words of Capt. J. O. Mayo, commander of Wing One to VAH-11 Detachment 8's officer-in-charge, Cdr. D. F. Munday, "on this day of dissolution of VAH-11 Detachment 8, I take great pride in commending you for outstanding performance of duty, performance which, for the past 12 months, has led your unit to a level of excellence never before attained in the history of heavy attack aviation."

$341,000 Grants Given Florida

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Public Health Service has awarded general research grants totalling more than $341,000 to two Florida universities and the state Board of Health.

The University of Miami got $167,363, the University of Florida got $107,837, and $65,838 was awarded to the state agency.

Police Break Up Bloody Clash Of Silver Hunters

NASSAU, Bahamas Island—(UPI)—Police broke up a potentially bloody clash between two groups of harpoon-bearing treasure hunters over the reputed location of a sunken Spanish galleon.

Silver coins worth between $9 million and $20 million were reported in the vessel. The ship is said to be about a mile off shore from Freeport, Grand Bahama, about 50 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

"Anything could have happened," said Freeport Police Chief Leslie Call.

A group of four men who reportedly found the treasure were arrested in the water by six police boats on receiving some of it for themselves.

Both groups were armed with harpoon guns, knives and knives. Police hurriedly commandeered a patrol boat and rushed to the scene and dispersed the skirmishing men.

"When the boat arrived the two groups already were in the water," a passenger on the police launch said. "One man claimed he had been attacked underwater. He said the mask had been ripped from his face."

Police ordered all the men out of the water, the passenger said.

Hundreds of persons watched the drama from the Larayan Beach Hotel. One of them said, "Somebody would have been hurt if the police had not stepped in."

Next-In-Line Move Studied By Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress is moving quickly to do something about three possible crises of the presidency—disability, succession and assassination.

There was no assurance that the answer to these problems will be found in the 80th Congress. In the past lawmakers have talked much but done little about them.

But there were those signs that action might be taken.

Bills dealing with presidential succession and disability have been introduced in the Senate and House and are expected to receive administration endorsement.

Several bills have been introduced that would make the assassination of a president a federal crime. One sponsor is House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford (Mich.), a member of the Warren Commission, which investigated John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Legislation in both areas apparently will have bipartisan backing.

Disability and succession are covered in constitutional amendments proposed by Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) of the House Judiciary committee and Sen. Birch Bayh (D-Ind.), Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio), rank-

Fasching Season On In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany—(UPI)—Germans today began a 38-day carnival season of drinking, kissing and poking fun at the government.

The "fasching" season ends March 3, Ash Wednesday. German revelers are joyful this year, because the carnival season will last much longer than 1961's 36-day fasching.

One of the longest faschings of all time was the 66-day celebration two years ago, one of the most extended movable feasts in memory.

Germans inherited the carnival tradition from the Romans. Nowadays revelers dress as clowns or idiots, build floats and give parades designed to poke fun at governments and men of power.

They will lampoon such government actions as the abortive attempts to increase telephone rates and West Germany's reluctant acceptance of common market demands for lower grain prices.

Florida Escapee Listed On FBI 10 Most Wanted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John William Clouser, an insane fugitive who is an expert in karate, was listed today as one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals.

Clouser, a one-time police officer, has been sought since last April 2 when he escaped from Florida State Hospital, Chattahoochee. The FBI warned that he is "armed and extremely dangerous."

Acquaintances have told police that the wanted man is a sadist who likes to start fights and "would not hesitate to beat a victim to death." He is said to have sent letters to various police and law officials boasting he would never be captured alive.

Clouser served as a police officer in Florida from 1956 until August, 1961, when he was dismissed with prejudice after being questioned about participation in criminal activities. A month later, he was charged with the robbery, kidnapping and beating of two Orlando theater managers. He was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

Legally judged insane, he was hospitalized from where he made his escape.

Clouser, 32, is a native of Chicago. Significant identification marks are tattoos of a panther on his right shoulder and a heart pierced with an arrow on the left. He likes to deck himself in jewelry, including a brown wood "tik" charm doll worn on a chain around his neck.

He is known as a "mama's boy" type who has associated with homosexuals. Clouser has been married three times. He considers himself a "ladie man."

Clouser is a neat dresser with a preference for sports clothes. He likes his big, late-model autos. His reading interests range from books on politics to pornography. He enjoys western music and plays the guitar. He speaks and reads Spanish.

Clouser is said to be an expert pistol shot, a weight lifter and a practitioner of both karate and judo.

He is stockily built, standing 5-foot-9 and weighing from 175 to 200 pounds. He has ruddy complexion, blond hair and blue eyes. He has been known to disguise himself with a beard, wig or mustache.

In addition to his police experience, Clouser has worked as a clerk, shoe salesman and iron worker.

Explosion Fatal To Lawton Man

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Burrell Sauls, a resident of Lawton, died of burns he received in an explosion at a bottled gas plant.

He was injured after a safety valve popped from a cylinder and gas was ignited by a pilot light.

Ray Owen, a Gainesville man, remained in critical condition at a local hospital as a result of the blast.

Forest City Pushes For Traffic Signal

Forest City Community Association voted changes in by-laws and announced newly reorganized committees at the first business session of the new year at Bear Lake Elementary School, President Allen Forward was in charge.

Rewording of by-laws, pertaining to membership, defines regular members as those who are residents or property owners in voting precinct 12 and associate members as those joining to assist in association activities. They cannot vote on business matters or hold of-ice but may serve as chairmen or members of various committees.

Committees, as approved at a Dec. 30 meeting of the executive board, are membership with Vice President Murray Long as chairman assisted by Directors Al Krenzer and Leland Jacobs and program and activities with Second Vice President Marlon Bozeman as chairman assisted by Directors Bryan Rucker and Forrest Anderson.

Long suggested that a membership drive be started after the March meeting with current members divided into two teams. After three months losing team will treat winners to a dinner.

Decision was approved to contact the State Road Department again requesting that a traffic signal be installed in Forest City at the SR 431-436 crossing. In 1960 petition was presented on this matter but at the time SRD officials in the DeLand offices advised that nothing could be done until completion of Interstate 4. Date of regular meetings

New Military Budget To Meet LBJ Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department is reported to be planning manpower cuts and a reduction in the country's manned bomber force in a move to keep President Johnson's new military budget below estimated defense spending for the current year.

It was reported that the new military budget would total $19.1 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The military budget for the current year had originally been expected to reach $19.2 billion. Various sources reported that the latest reported estimate in recent weeks to $19.3 billion.

Among changes in the new budget, some of which are likely to be controversial, are reductions in both the Army and Air Force, the trimming of 45 planes from the nation's 630 plane B52 strategic bomber force and the scrapping of the Air Force's last 225 over-age B47 bombers.

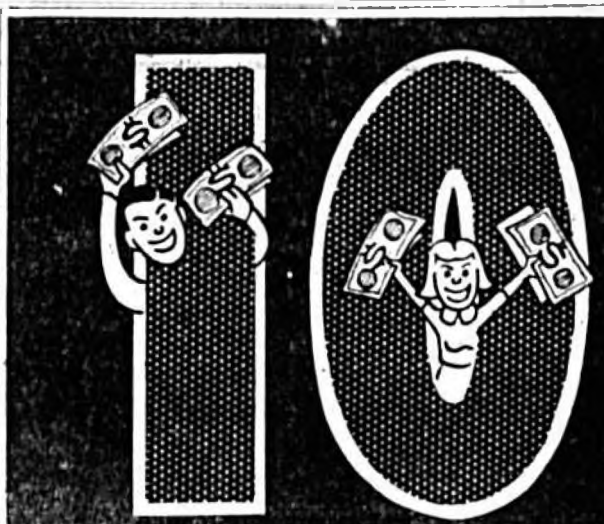

By mid 1966, according to the reports, 665 bombers will

WHAT WERE THE ICE CUBES FOR, MASOR?

By Galbraith

"Certainly I'm going out! I haven't bought a thing all day!"

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a man for two years. We love each other very much. I am a widow with two small children and he is divorced with three small children. He doesn't want to get married again because of the way his wife treated him. (She was really rotten.) He needs someone in his home 24 hours a day. He has tried older women, but they are not good with his children. He wants to hire me as his housekeeper. My father says if I take the job it will ruin my reputation as everyone in town knows we go together. Please help me make the right decision as so many people could get hurt if I make the wrong one. TO BE OR NOT TO BE DEAR TO BE: You may love him, but if he really loved her he would not punish you for his wife's "rotteness." I am afraid that his "reason" for not marrying you is only an excuse. And a poor one at that. Let him hire a housekeeper and tell him when he makes you his Missus, you'll share his home. DEAR ABBY: My husband's father lives with us and he has a habit that is causing my nerves to fray. The old man drinks right from the refrigerator jug. I've caught him doing this time and again and I have told him it was very unsanitary. I didn't like it, and I wish he'd quit it! It's like talking to the wall. I've asked my husband please to tell Grampa to cut it out, but he says he doesn't want to hurt the old man's feelings and I should skip it. Grampa is 78 and ought to know better. Is there a solution? FRAYED NERVES DEAR ABBY: Get the old man his own personal refrigerator jug and label it "GRAND DAD." And let him drink right from the jug to his heart's content. Stash the "family" jug in the rear of the refrigerator and alert all members. DEAR ABBY: My mother is my problem. She is always picking on me. She doesn't like the way I wear my hair or any of my clothes. She is always hollering about my posture and telling me to go wash my face or it will break out. Every time I eat something fattening she yells, "You don't NEED THAT!" She is forever griping that my room is a mess. (Sometimes it is, but I always get around to cleaning it up.) I just can't seem to please her. Please help me. FIFTEEN AND PICKED ON DEAR FIFTEEN: Yours sounds like the typical wail of the teenager, and your mother's reaction is also typical. Just refrain from doing the things you know will irritate your mother, keep your room tidy, and stay out of her sight. DEAR ABBY: I am writing this to try to keep some other girls from making the same mistake I made. I started going with a boy in high school. We were very much in love and had such wonderful plans. We were going to get married when we were through college. We even decided how many children we wanted and what kind of furniture we were going to have. Eventually he persuaded me to forget my moral standards because we were going to get married anyway and it would make the waiting easier. He went away to college and I got a job when we graduated. It has been three years now and when he came home for Christmas vacation he told me he wanted a girl with stronger "moral convictions." I don't think I have to say any more. Thank you. "TWENTY-ONE AND FOOLISH"

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

CARNIVAL

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

There is a certain type bridge player who likes to wait until he thinks his opponents have shown weakness and then back into the action. Such tactics are all right on occasion, but in general they lead to disaster. With five high-card points and no singleton, North did not have quite enough to bid directly over West's heart overall. Then after East had bid two clubs and South and West had passed, North felt that it was up to him to re-open and he bid two diamonds. He was right in noting that East and West had shown weakness, but he overlooked the fact that South had also shown weakness and that, while nothing had could happen to him if he passed, a two diamond bid might lead him into real trouble. West had considered going to two no-trump over his partner's two clubs. Had he done so, East might have raised him to game. If he had played the hand for everything available, he would have actually made three no-trump. Now the two diamond call was a real gift. He doubled and led the nine of clubs. East won with the queen and returned a heart. South played the ten and led a second club to his partner's king. East played a second heart and eventually the defense collected two clubs, two hearts, two diamonds, a spade and 500 points which was a terrific better than the normal probable game they might have made and a lot better than the two or three clubs they would have made had North remained silent.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. When a woman spends a good part of each day chatting over the phone with friends, chances are her own life is dull. These calls let in a little sunshine. The husband who complains about the time and money his spouse spends on the phone might cure her habit by putting a monetary cap on her phone bills. If monotony causes a woman to live vicariously through her friends, her husband should accept some of the blame and do his bit to change the picture. Maybe she is sick to death of four walls and would like to go out in the evening occasionally. Maybe she needs a little spending money of her own, to do with as she likes. Maybe she ought to have a day off occasionally, with dad taking care of the kids and feeding out the staying-at-home cat. Maybe she needs some kind of transportation, so that she can get out once in a while when the walls begin to close in on her. Or maybe she simply needs someone to talk to, because her husband gives her that silent treatment night after night as he sits behind the newspaper. Any woman whose life is dull, interesting and happy won't want to spend her day idling in a small room and a yellow satin slip to wear under it when you wish. Do not have yellow accessories. "My son gave me money at Christmas to buy some nice costume pearls or crystals. I am sixty, have gray hair, and wear black at all times. Which would be best, pearls or crystals?" Mom. "I think you will like the soft beauty of pearls best. What a nice son!" "My daughter is going to be married in February at a small church at noon. Could I properly wear a pale blue wool jacket suit with a matching chiffon blouse. Should I wear a hat? I am fifty-one, of medium height and NOT fat—S. W. Since you live in Florida the pale blue suit will look lovely. Do have a small hat, black velvet if it's a pillbox, pale blue matching gloves and black pumps. Are these fabrics smart and suitable? I have a good dress-plate but nothing special. Yellow is not on a scale, flattering to the mature woman and with gray hair it isn't, to me, the most attractive color for you. But there's a solution. Have a black lace

Boring Future

There are about a billion holes that need filling in this country. This is not, however, a problem for the local department of highways. It concerns parents, schools, people in the public health field and—dentists.

The billion holes are the untreated cavities in the teeth of adults and children in the United States. The figure is the estimate of the National Institute of Dental Research in Bethesda, Md.

The institute's statistics also reveal the startling fact that half the children under 16 have never been to a dentist.

Many of these kids will undoubtedly later participate in the 20th-century version of the Great Gold Rush. But by then it may be too late for many of them.

Joy Of Wealth

Do you ever yearn for extra money? Dream of what you could do with sudden wealth?

Then consider the Case of the Lucky Winner in Cleveland, Ohio.

This man sank $3 into an Irish Sweepstakes ticket. Imagine his ecstasy when he got the word that he had won $55,730.

And his luck didn't stop there. For he was so fortunate as to have a successful real estate man as a friend. This gentleman offered to take over the job of claiming and delivering the prize money, since the winner was unaccustomed to such things.

The offer was gratefully accepted and the happy winner settled back to contemplate a life of ease and luxury.

The businessman decided he needed a private detective to help him get the money. So the two of them went to Ireland and got the loot for the winner. Since friendship was involved, all they charged him was a $10,000 fee for the businessman, a $5,000 fee for the private detective, and expenses of $2,500.

The Internal Revenue boys were on the job, too, you bet, and they slapped a $26,375 tax lien on the winner's nice new bank account, which by now was going down faster than a faulty space rocket.

The Cleveland police department then recalled that our man had failed to take care of four traffic charges dating back to last year. He was hailed into court for that.

His estranged wife now got into the act and pointed out that the lucky winner was four years—or $7,420—behind in his monthly payments for support of her and their four children. He surely was now able to pay, she reasoned. So she brought charges of nonsupport. He paid up in court—plus $1,000 bond to insure future payments.

But now a gleam of light broke through the clouds. The businessman decided he would like to kick back the $10,000 fee and the expenses he had charged his old buddy for the business trip to Ireland to get the prize money.

This break reduced the winner's losses to a mere $39,795—not counting lawyer's fees and future payments to his wife.

A man naturally develops a philosophy in a situation like this, especially when he hasn't been working steadily and has time to think. This lucky winner sums it up this way:

"I never dreamed a $3 ticket could bring so much aggravation."

Please write your own moral.

Thought For Today

Why do you see the speck that is in your brother's eye, but do not notice the log that is in your own eye? —Matthew 7:3.

The safest principle in life, instead of reforming others, is to set about perfecting yourself.—R. R. Haydon, 19th century English historical painter.

Phil Newsom Says

Serious Overhaul

A basic tenet of the Marxist-Leninist philosophy is that each member of a Communist state shall produce according to his ability and receive according to his need.

And while no Soviet leader would dare admit it, it is this theory basic to Communism that now is undergoing a serious overhaul by Communist leaders who see their own national growth rates declining as the United States economy, already the world's largest, becomes one of the world's fastest growing.

The Soviets' forced departure from accepted theory is one of the reasons for Red Chinese charges that the Russians are betraying Communism.

It is interesting that many students of the Royal Institute of International Affairs in London agree with the Red Chinese and see European Communism inevitably moving toward capitalism.

It currently is estimated that U. S. production of goods and services jumped $40 billion in the last year, bringing the total for the year to about $624 billion. The total is more than twice the comparative figure for the Soviet Union, and the one-year U. S. growth rate is believed to be more than that achieved by the Soviet Union in the last two years combined, and possibly in the last three years.

As they see the United States economy increase its lead, Soviet leaders are striving desperately to pinpoint their failings.

The more glaring ones have not been hard to find.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda, for example, recently reported 10,000 complaints in a single year against poor workmanship in Leningrad industrial plants. Specifically, it cited the fact that 28 large generators manufactured by one of the Soviet Union's largest plants "had gone out of commission."

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in the closing months before his ouster, disclosed that inferior consumer goods had accumulated on warehouse shelves to the tune of $2.75 billion.

Loose flooring in the railroad cars of the creaky Soviet transportation system left a golden trail behind them as they moved from the collectives to the processing centers.

And on the collectives, too often the man who plowed saw no connection between himself and the man who planted and the man who later harvested.

Private plots granted to the peasants for their own use already have been increased in size and there is the further likelihood that unprofitable collectives also will be broken up.

These would be reduced to acreages about the size of an Iowa farm and, hopefully, be worked in the same manner, by individuals following through on each phase—a further affront to the Red Chinese Marxist-Leninist purists.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Around the turn of the year, in a quiet sidetrack here, the embattled teachers of American history and social studies will be making a determined effort to counterattack against the unrelenting assaults on their work by militant right-wing organizations.

The annual convention of the American Historical Association will then consider a resolution on academic freedom which won prior endorsement by a constituent group of the National Council for the Social Studies over the Thanksgiving holidays.

The resolution, which obviously has a strong chance of approval, includes these statements:

"That intelligent and reasonable loyalty to the nation is less than the requirements of honesty and sound scholarship, demand that teachers and authors of textbooks and other teaching materials should strive to present a truthful picture of the past and the present."

"That criticism of teachers, textbooks, and teaching materials should be based not upon grounds that reflect the point of view of any particular interest group, but only on the grounds of accuracy and scholarship, as tested by consideration of the evidence."

"That attempts by any individual or groups to impose their views on teachers and students as the only road to the truth and the only measure of loyalty are hostile to that great goal of American education which aims to produce independent and thoughtful men and women who are responsible and informed citizens."

What the sponsors of this resolution would like to see flow from it is the formation all over the country of academic freedom committees equipped to defend both teachers and students against "capricious, arbitrary and unreasonable attacks."

That such a proposition is considered necessary at all is a measure of the severity of the right-wing bombardment against the schools. Though the assaults are sweeping the content of public school history books is an especially inviting target.

The right-wing militants do not conceal their purpose. The history of which they disapprove, they want either deleted altogether from textbooks or portrayed as the blindest evil. They are outraged when the textbooks do not do as is mentioned, and usually they want Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal depicted as the quintessence of sin.

The pressures exerted on students, teachers, superintendents, boards of education and various other local and state authorities are now a well-told tale. It is not generally realized how fully some of the attacks are organized.

For instance, a right-wing oufit called America's Future has for years sponsored an effort called Operation Textbook, whose stated aim is to "evaluate" textbooks for high school use. Persons with academic credentials comprise the evaluation committee.

The critics say they are governed by the notion that schools too frequently put insufficient stress on patriotism and are guilty of advancing the causes of communism and godlessness. School defenders argue that many times these themes are just a thin cloak for the critics' insinuation that their own special outlook into the school curriculum.

Now does the history text book problem end with the right-wingers' complaints. This is the era of the highly vocal special interest—management, labor, racial and religious minorities, nationalistic groups, and so on.

Nearly all of these about "freedom" they get from particular history texts. Understandably, the formulators of these works, including the many publishers, are gun-shy.

Consequently many history texts today are bland and non-controversial. But history, as its teachers will be arguing here soon, is by definition a thing of human conflict and rivalry, in which pleasant facts mingle inescapably with unpleasant ones.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Instead of looking like a fat waddling walrus, Clara is now a streamlined vivacious wife who excites wolf whistles. Her husband has perked up and her church has gained $550 in extra funds, so pass this case to the Women's Society of your church. Smart wives, nip divorce in the bud, as Clara has done!

George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D. CASE U-478: Clara G., aged 39, is the obese wife who was moody as she faced her 40th birthday.

After banishing her false notion about the menopause, I then coaxed her into starting on my dehydration diet.

Meanwhile, she had enlisted nine other wives in her church Women's Society.

They had agreed to donate $2.50 per day for each pound they shed, for that's what they would save in grocery bills.

"Dr. Crane," Clara exulted at the end of the first 10 days, "I have done it!"

"My weight has dropped from 168 to 158. Already I begin to feel more youthful and energetic."

"My husband hasn't made any special comment as yet but I have noticed that he has given me a few more interested glances than before."

Clara's another group shifted to Diet No. 2 at the end of that first 10 days.

Diet No. 2 lets them drink freely and eat 1,200 calories worth of food daily, instead of the 800 limit for the first 10-day project.

After three months, Clara breezed into my office looking more like an excited coed than her former fat, waddling self.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she greeted me, "I am now down to 140 pounds! Isn't that marvelous?"

"And my husband has begun to take notice, too!"

"Formerly, he'd drop down into an easy chair to read the paper as soon as he arrived at home."

"Oh, he'd call out to me in the kitchen, 'Hello, Honey,' but he'd not come on out till I called him to dinner."

"But now all that has changed. He rushes right out to the kitchen the moment he arrives."

"And he kisses me like he meant it! He acts 20 years younger and I feel that way, myself!"

"Formerly, even when he'd kiss me, it was sort of a fatherly peck on the cheek."

"Now he actually has invited me to go out on a date a few times, though it was almost impossible to dislodge him from the TV up to the past couple of months."

"And our Women's Society has already made an extra $550 for our church, for we 10 girls have averaged 22 pounds weight loss apiece."

"At $2.50 per pound that has netted the church $550 and our clergyman is startled by this new hoist in church funds."

"But we haven't stopped yet! Most of us plan to continue for a couple of months more."

And they did, for Clara levelled off at 128 pounds.

saying her husband didn't want her any thinner than that.

Gone was her "lubby" appearance. Her waistline now was much less than her bust line, so she had regained the curvaceous figure of a coed.

Meanwhile, she had also insured herself against not losing her husband to some slender alien!

So send for that booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Use it as a dandy money-raising project for your church, too!

Cut Own Taxes - 4

By Ray de Crane
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
It's still possible to say that you can make (and keep) more money while being home sick and drawing your pay than it is by going to work every day.

But possibly because of abuses of the sick pay credit in former years, this is one area where Congress made drastic changes in 1964.

Before sick pay becomes a factor in your tax return there must be present these elements: You were absent from work because of sickness or injury in 1964 and during this period of enforced absence from work you received compensation from your employer. (If you received payments under an insurance contract, the amounts so received are not reportable on your return.)

If you were off the payroll while you were absent from work, you have no sick pay credit and none of the following applies in your case.

The new sick pay rules will probably become known as the 75 per cent-$75-$100 formula. Here's how it works:

You were absent from work because of sickness or injury and your employer paid you your full rate or more than 75 per cent of your full rate while you were away. After you were away 30 days you would take a sick pay credit of the actual amount received weekly up to a maximum of $100 a week for the balance of the time you were away.

Contrary to the old rules in this situation, it makes no difference whether you were hospitalized or not. If you received more than 75 per cent of your normal salary while you were absent, you get no credit until you have been away more than 30 days.

For example, an employe was absent because of illness for 60 days in 1964. His employer continued to pay him during this time his full salary of $600 a month. Since his payment was greater than 75 per cent of his pay he would receive no credit for the first 30 days. For the remaining 30 days he would take a credit of the $100 weekly maximum.

Now take the case of a worker whose employer paid him 75 per cent or less of his normal pay while he was absent because of sickness. Unless he was hospitalized at least one day during the period of absence there is no credit for the first seven consecutive days.

Thereafter, for the remainder of the 30 days, he would deduct his full pay up to a maximum of $75 a week. After the 30th day the maximum deduction would be $100 a week, assuming the employe received that much or more.

Assume the same facts but the employe was hospitalized at least one day. He received a sick pay credit for the full period of absence. His maximum credit was $75 a week for the first 30 days. At the end of the 30-day period the maximum credit advances to the actual pay or $100 a week, whichever is lesser.

Notice the attempt to equalize the tax break between the employe who receives full pay while he is sick and the one who receives a reduced rate during such time. The former must wait 30 days before the credit begins; the latter waits only seven days. And if he is hospitalized any time during this period of absence he starts to get instant credit.

Wherever sick pay credit applies it presents an opportunity to make a substantial tax savings.

Take the time to give a full explanation of the circumstances and attach this statement to your return. Your statement should recite the date you first missed work, the date you returned, the amount of pay received as contrasted to your normal wages, nature of the illness, the name of the hospital and the date you were hospitalized.

(NEXT: New Tax Breaks for Older Citizens.)

Food-To-Cuba Plan In Doubt

MIAMI (UPI) — A group hoping to distribute free food and medicine to 50,000 political prisoners in Cuba has not yet approached the State Department for permission to travel to the Caribbean island, the department's Cuban Affairs Office reports.

The office said that details of the proposed mission by the "Committee on Human Rights" were vague.

Mrs. Ermina Rivero, chairman of the New York-based group, said no word has been received from Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, who also would have to approve the idea.

Solid Support Urged For Sanford Lakefront Marina

Four prominent Sanford men have repeated their solid support of the proposed lakefront marina and are urging all interested persons to be at City Hall Monday night for a thorough briefing.

City commissioners have asked Maurice H. Connell & Associates, Inc. of Miami to have engineers present to give the official version of the marina. The session is slated for 8 p.m.

Contacted by The Herald today for their comments were John A. Burton, local architect who submitted an ideological drawing of a marina complex and the man credited with sparking the imagination of all interests in the project; Loring Burgess, executive vice president of the Florida State Bank; Howard Hodges, president of Sanford Atlantic National Bank; and George Touhy, executive vice president of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Loring Burgess — Americans now have more leisure time than they have ever had. In an effort to fill this new free time, they have turned to boating and have boomed it into one of our major industries.

This new leisure has also created some new problems for the industrialist. Now, when he searches for a new plant location, recreational facilities for employees are a prime consideration.

With the proposed marina, Sanford has a dual opportunity; first, we can develop a very profitable industry; second, we can improve our industrial "climate" by providing outstanding recreational outlets so essential to industry.

Another aspect of this project is the effect which it will have on Sanford's image. We need some outstanding attraction which will distinguish Sanford from every other city in Central Florida. This new Marina would be the attraction we need and might well provide the stimulus for the industrial expansion of Seminole County.

Howard Hodges — "I have studied the comprehensive report made by Maurice H. Connell & Associates, Inc. on the proposed Sanford Riverport Marina. I only wish everyone in the community could read this interesting study and receive for themselves the impact of expert opinions on the project.

"We businessmen have for a long time been cognizant of the fact that a good part of the (Continued On Page 12)

Burns Sees Revamped Tax System

ORLANDO (UPI) — Gov. Haydon Burns predicted "striking" and "startling" changes in the state tax structure today and indicated they would consist of a revamping of the present structure rather than new taxes.

Burns told a news conference this morning that he will appoint a study committee to look into the methods of handling the tax problems of the state.

The news conference was held prior to the departure of Burns and his traveling Inaugural Ball entourage for Jacksonville and the fourth of six balls being held in the state.

Burns said 58 percent of the revenue taken in by the state now bypasses the hands of the State Cabinet. He said these funds are "diverted funds" and said this situation needs to be revamped.

Burns said he hopes to come up with a long-range, revolutionary change in the tax structure, but did not elaborate further.

Burns also said plans on under way for the greatest promotion in the history of the state in an effort to pull tourists into Florida.

He said he was not at liberty at the present time to reveal details but said the plans probably will be revealed within the next three weeks. But he said the promotion will be a giant effort in international scope.

Wright To Quit School Position

A meeting of the Seminole County School Board has been set for 8 a.m. Wednesday, according to Chairman J. D. Wright Jr., new State Industrial Commission chairman.

Wright announced he had set the meeting for Wednesday and at that time will tender his resignation as chairman of the county school board.

A successor to Wright's seat will be named by Gov. Haydon Burns.

The new Industrial Commission chairman was sworn in at ceremonies in Tallahassee Tuesday.

Wright is vice president of the Patrick Fruit Company here and has made Sanford his home for the past 22 years.

Phew! Phrom Phidel

MIAMI (UPI)—The Castro regime urged Cuban housewives to buy a shipment of imported garlic on sale even though it looks bad.

A special notice broadcast by Havana Radio said the garlic's "deficient appearance" stemmed from "shipping and atmospheric conditions."

The unusual advisory was issued jointly by the internal and foreign commerce ministries, apparently to allay expected consumer opposition even though garlic is a staple in Cuban cooking.

Base Mishap Proves Fatal To Jet Pilot

MIAMI (UPI) — Michael Daniel Hornsby died today of injuries received Wednesday morning in an abortive takeoff of his Aviatane from Sanford Naval Air Station. He was 26 and is survived by his wife and two small boys.

Hornsby suffered head injuries and smoke inhalation when he was pinned in the cockpit of his jet bomber as a wing collapsed and tumbled atop the canopy. The aircraft caught fire but officials said there was no explosion.

He was taken to Sevinde Memorial Hospital and kept under intensive care until death came at about 9 a. m.

The lieutenant and his family lived at 112 Lake Minnie Drive. He was attached to Squadron Seven at the base and had just recently completed a world tour with the squadron.

At Hornsby had started his takeoff in the AVA Vigilante one of the original aircraft of that design, when the plane was seen wobbling. It raced off the end of the north-south runway to another runway and then burst into flames.

Rescuers had to chop a hole in the canopy to reach the pilot.

Immediate survivors of the 1960 Naval Academy graduates include his widow, Mary, two sons, Michael D. 2, and Truman E. 1, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie E. Hornsby of Austin, Texas.

Hornsby was captain of the Navy Academy's varsity golf team in 1959-60 and Texas junior golf champion in 1958. He was also a third degree Mason.

He came to Sanford in July, 1963, where he served with Reconnaissance Attack Squadron Three and Heavy Attack Squadron Seven.

Memorial services will be announced at a later date.

School Rolls Hit All-Time Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Office of Education said that the number of children in public grade and high schools reached a record 41.4 million last fall.

The record enrollment is an increase of 1.2 million, or 3.1 per cent over the 1963 total, the office said.

It said an estimated 69 million other students were enrolled in non-public schools.

PAUSING FOR A CHAT during last night's Governor's Inaugural Ball were Sanford Herald Publisher and Mrs. Walter A. Gidlow and Gov. and Mrs. Haydon Burns. The glittering affair attracted thousands to the Jai Alai Fronton in Fern Park as state dignitaries paid an official visit to Seminole County. The event is one of several being held throughout the state as the former Jacksonville mayor begins his two-year term in Tallahassee. (See other pictures on Pages 4 and 5.) (Herald Photo)

'Oranges In Orbit' Theme Of Fete

By Doris Williams
"Oranges In Orbit" created an "out of this world" atmosphere last night at the Jai-Alai Fronton with the pomp and pageantry of a royal investiture as Governor Haydon Burns and the First Lady of the State of Florida, Mildred Burns, led the grand march at the Governor's Inaugural Ball for the Central Florida area.

The gracious First Lady was powered in a dramatic original creation by Harvey Beem of ivory satin featuring a stopless top with a sheer over bodice of Victorian brown tulle and lace, a high satina neckline and short tulle sleeves. A brown velvet band is at her waistline cascading the full length of her shimmering full skirt. Her brown silk shoes were accented with sparkling bronze heels.

Members of the governor's official party followed in a grandiose manner with all the ladies reflecting splendor and elegance in their fashionable gowns.

Potted orange trees outlined the ballroom area with orange balloons and streamers suspended from the lofty ceilings. The box seats were marked with palm fronds, each centered with an orange diploma tied with brilliant orange ribbon, in replica of the Scholarship Foundation.

Each of the upstairs tables featured a miniature rocket created from oranges, which was a time consuming detail according to member of the Citrus Commission.

The Fronton floating hostesses were attired in brilliant red and yellow satin fiesta jackets, lavishly adorned with garlands of beads, head and earrings. The coats and petticoats applied on the back with a wide tan sash, forming the dash over the black skirts.

The ball gowns were magnificent with the long gown stealing the formal scene for many. Colors ranged from luminous white to lustrous black with pastel and radiant reds providing depth to the picturesque scene. The subtle sparkle of bead clusters and ornaments embellished with fringe, feathers and fur trimmed the elaborate gowns created of fabrics ranging from sheer tulle chiffons to rich brocade sparkling with metallic yarns.

Guy Lombardo and his band, the "sweetest music this side of heaven," furnished the entertainment and dance music with the vivacious Johnny Desmond and beautiful curvaceous Anita Bryant presenting spectacular productions.

Smut Artist

Another display of obscene material was reported to police by the parents of a seven-year-old girl.

They said the child was shown pictures by a man about 30 years of age and who was driving a white car. The incident occurred in the southwestern part of the city, police said.

Committed, Says Burns

By Dottie Austin
Four-laning of State Road 46 (West First Street) from Sanford to U. S. 441, one mile short of Mt. Dora, is assured, according to J. D. Wright Jr., of Sanford, new chairman of the State Industrial Commission.

Wright told this Herald reporter at the Governor's Inaugural Ball that Gov. Haydon Burns has assured him that he (Burns) is committed to the four-laning of the narrow, winding state road.

At the Inaugural Ball held at the Jai Alai Fronton in Fern Park, Thursday night, Burns promised the crowd of over 3,000 "the greatest era of all times."

"Florida, on the threshold of space, is now entering the greatest era in its history and with our slogan of 'Florida Forward' the tremendous potentials of this great state shall become realities," said the new governor.

The problems of labor procurement and recruitment as it pertains to the harvesting of Florida citrus and vegetable crops will be the first matter to receive Wright's attention as the new chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission.

Wright, who flew in to Orlando Thursday with Governor Burns and his Inaugural Ball party, said "this problem is one of the most serious facing Florida agriculturists and demands immediate attention."

The new commission chairman revealed that he held a brief conference with his deputies and aides in Tallahassee before leaving on the swing around the state en route to the six balls.

The problem of securing sufficient off-shore labor to harvest citrus and vegetable crops when they need to be harvested and get them to market when they will give the highest return to the grower is of vital importance to the state's growers," said Wright.

The new federal regulations which have currently been invoked have compounded this problem and my first official action will be to take steps to remedy this situation," said the new commission chairman.

Concerning his appointment to the chairmanship of the powerful Industrial Commission, Wright said:

"I am convinced that we are going to see great leadership and great progress for all Florida and all Floridians under the leadership of Haydon Burns."

Wright became the only Seminole County man in recent history to hold a statewide appointment. Commenting on this, Wright said:

"Seminole County has many problems and I will see that Seminole County gets its fair share of attention."

Storms Leave West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The last of a seemingly endless series of devastating storms moved eastward from the North Pacific coast today, pausing only for one final blustery swipe at the High Sierra.

The weather bureau predicted a few showers today and fair skies Friday for the Pacific Northwest, where 20 consecutive days of rain, floods, snow and high winds left 41 persons dead and damage estimated at $70 million.

Parson Signs

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — George Garrett, Seminole High School quarterback here, signed a grant-in-aid to attend Parson College at Fairfield, Iowa.

Garrett is the third Tampa Bay area prep star to sign with the Iowa school, which is undergoing a build-up under former Tampa University and Wichita State coach Marcelino Huerta.
