Petition Drive Starts In Sanford

By BILL SCOTT

Rev. J. E. Connelly, Sanford black leader and a losing candidate in the 1971 city commission race to newcomer John Morris, said today petitions calling for the right of the voters to choose whether they wanted to require city commission candidates to live in designated city districts would be ready for presentation at the June 12 city commission meeting.

The minister stated he had been overwhelmed by the support the issue had brought forth from the white citizens as well as blacks in getting the matter brought back before the city commission.

"Petitions are now being circulated to the white areas as well as to blacks and we hope to have 2,500 voter signatures by June 12," Rev. Connelly said.

He said on the night of the June 12 city commission session, the citizens will be called on to pack the city hall in a show of support.

"If the city commission refuses then to listen to the will of the people, then we have no alternative but to file court action, since we will have demonstrated we have exhausted every other means," he added.

City Commission at its May 22 meeting voted three to two against allowing the people to say whether they wanted districting of the city placed in the new city charter.

Commissioners Gordon Meyer, Julian Stenstrom and A. A. McClanahan combined their votes in an effort to keep the issue from ever reaching the voters.

Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner John Morris voted to allow the districting question to be placed on the December election ballot.

Those who expressed themselves as being opposed to the 45-15 plan, I really wonder if they'd have voted that way "if the school board" had been able to properly prepare a series of news releases on the subject?

We here at The Herald are trying in earnest to answer the many questions on this subject. . . from the present series written by our own Bill Scott, to another extraordinary story (coming in Thursday's edition), by our exclusive Copley News Service.

We also believe that you should have the right to be heard. Now, even though the odds are 86 opposed to nine in favor of 45-15 (via our own poll), I believe that 45-15 should be given a chance.

The only reservations I have on the matter include putting senior high school students into the plan, too.

If our dilemma centers around the elementary grades, why not try it first with them. . . and then if it meets with overall approval, include all grades the following year.

Some of the highlights from Thursday's article. . . "The year-round plan is by no means new. It was tried in Omaha, Nebraska from 1918 to 1940 and in the Allegheny, Pa., public schools from 1929 to 1938. The reasons for the failure of such then progressive programs was financial: as funds became available to build new facilities, the year-round plans were dropped.

"Today it is just the other way around. . . To date, there are more than 100 school districts around the United States that are experimenting with the concept. . . and another 1,000 additional districts are studying the feasibility of the plan."

San Diego has adopted this plan. . . based on the fact that there were no funds to replace school buildings damaged during their recent earthquake. However, only six elementary schools are involved in the pilot experiment.

Surveys taken in those areas where this program has been in operation show that both students and parents prefer the new approach.

WEATHER
Yesterday's high 86 low 64 with 1.9 of an inch of rain. Partly cloudy today. Highs in the mid and upper 80s. Low tonight mid and upper 60s. A storm system edging across the Midwest today ended nearly two weeks of summer-like heat in the mid continent.

A wave of cooler air rolling eastward triggered showers and thunderstorms from Minnesota and Ohio to Louisiana and parts of Texas.

President Nixon Arrives In Iran; Security Precautions Are Taken

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN (AP) — President Nixon arrived in Iran's capital today for an overnight visit and talks with the Shah on regional and world matters. The President and Mrs. Nixon were greeted at Tehran's Mehrabad Airport by the 52-year-old monarch and Empress Farah after a flight from Kiev, the Niksons' last stop in the Soviet Union following a week of summit talks between the President and Kremlin leaders. Massive security precautions were taken against attacks by urban guerrillas and other dissident Iranians who were told by Baghdad broadcasts to disrupt the visit.

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

Among the topics expected to be discussed during the five hours of talks between the two leaders were the future of the Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf area, which holds 60 per cent of the world's known oil reserves. The Shah would like to see the United States and Soviet Union agree to let Iran act as the policeman of the area without big power interference. Failing that, the Shah was expected to seek assurance of undiminished U.S. support. The Soviet government's recent friendship treaty with India and the hostile regime in neighboring Iraq have increased Iran's sense of isolation, and it is suspicious of Moscow's intentions in the Gulf. Wearing a gray suit, white shirt and blue and gray tie, the President looked tired but smiled as he said goodbye at the Kiev airport to President Alexander Lyashko of the Ukraine and other officials. The weather was clear and balmy as the President and Mrs. Nixon boarded Air Force One after an overnight stop in Kiev, the capital of the Soviet Ukraine. "It's such a lovely day, I'd like to stay another week," Nixon told Lyashko's wife and Mrs. Vladimir Scherbiatsky, wife of the Ukrainian Communist party chief, as they prepared to leave for the airport. "Why not?" Mrs. Lyashko replied. "We'll get tired," said Mrs. Nixon with a smile. The President commented: "I think I'd get in a little trouble at home if I didn't go." A few hours after the arrival in Kiev, presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger told newsmen that Nixon and the Soviet leaders reached no secret agreements on Vietnam or any other controversial questions.

Convicted In Drug Bust

By MARION BETHA

A purple heart recipient, veteran of the Vietnam war, who was one of those convicted in the December drug bust shoot-out at K-Mart shopping center, gave an impassioned plea for probation before Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi this morning.

Eddie Sanders, 31, 660 Jasmine Drive, Casselberry, was scheduled to be sentenced after conviction on April 21 by a Circuit Court jury of the crimes of a criminal offender having a firearm and aggravated assault. He was exonerated of the crime of attempted robbery.

Assistant Public Defender Gerald Rutberg told the court that Sanders involvement in the crime was minimal. Rutberg went on to cite the non-criminal background of the defendant, stating he was outside the confines of the law on only one occasion, but for the better part of his life exemplified a good American citizen.

Continuing, Rutberg said that of the 200 plus defendants which he has represented, the success factor of probation was greatest in Sanders, even should he be placed in jail. "This man's good factors far outweigh the bad factors," Rutberg exclaimed. The court requested Sanders review his participation in the crime, and Sanders elucidated he was supposed to drive the truck; that he was told he would make a great deal of money, and that all he was to do was deliver the truck to another man.

Sanders told the court he was willing to spend the rest of his life on probation to prove his fitness in society. "A criminal doesn't want probation," Sanders maintained. Continuing his recap of the crime, Sanders said that another defendant, Steve Cooper, told him there was no "dope" and the men were "scared."

Sanders said he drove to the K-mart parking lot and was told to wear gloves to obviate prints. He was given a rifle, he said, and told he might have to use it. However, Sanders emphasized he never shot the rifle, and was unaware there was "dope" in the cab of the truck. The rifle, he said, was under the seat.

Sanders said when narcotics agents commenced shooting he was scared since he was unaware they were police officers.

Families Will Go At The Same Time

By BILL SCOTT (PART 2 of 5)

The question of housing facilities in a school system, which is to operate on a year-round basis involves more than just providing floor space. There are seven major areas of inquiry where strategies must be devised.

These include: pupil related concerns; personnel related concerns; instructional related concerns; facilities related concerns; auxiliary services related concerns; and cost related concerns.

With each of these concerns, there are sub-areas for detailed investigation. These will be identified in their appropriate major areas in the course of this series.

In the field of pupil related findings, the first concern, the school system will utilize census cards to obtain student information. All students presently enrolled will fill out the same type form before attending classes in any school. It is necessary that students in the same family, living at the same address regardless of the school they are attending, will be scheduled for the same session (A,B,C, or D).

When correctly filled out, the family section on the census card will assure proper family grouping. Students will then be assigned to schools based on the attendance zone in which they live and on the enrollment capacities of the schools.

Each high school will serve as the control center (enrollment office) for schools in its particular feeder system. Where there are children in the same family who will be attending schools of different grade levels; such as elementary, middle or senior high schools, the eldest child's schedule will determine the session for the younger children.

The procedure will insure proper family grouping. The census cards will also designate transported and non-transported students and the cards will be so marked by the enrollment officer.

Utilizing data processing, a report in the form of a print-out will provide the transportation

In North Vietnam Bombers Raid Railroads

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers raided one of North Vietnam's biggest railroad yards Monday, leaving the yards on the outskirts of Haiphong engulfed in explosions and flames, and wrecked 16 bridges across the country, the U.S. Command announced today. One Marine A6 jet from the carrier Coral Sea was shot down, but the two fliers nursed it out to sea, and a helicopter pulled them out of the water.

The strikes against the Uong Bi railroad yard 10 miles northeast of the port city were the first there in the stepped up bombing of North Vietnam which began April 6.

The yard reportedly serviced North Vietnam's entire railroad system, including the northwest and northeast lines to China.

Meanwhile, a task force of three cruisers and two destroyers ranged up and down the coast, shelling targets from 10 miles north of the demilitarized zone to within 29 miles of Haiphong.

The U.S. Command reported that American pilots flew more than 250 strikes across North Vietnam during the 24-hour period ending at 5 P.M. Monday.

In the ground war, there were reports of the first withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam since they started their big offensive two months ago.

U.S. military sources said elements of two North Vietnamese divisions had pulled back into Cambodia from An Loc, the besieged provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon. Both were reported badly battered by B52 bomb strikes.

The enemy pressure on An Loc itself has eased, but North Vietnamese forces have intensified shelling along Highway 13 south of the devastated town and are keeping a relief column from getting through.

Field reports said the enemy gunners on Monday slammed 2,400 rocket and mortar shells into three South Vietnamese positions along the highway two to 10 miles south of An Loc. Twenty South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and 109 wounded.

Elsewhere, fighting broke out for the first time in several weeks in southernmost Cambodia, just across the border from the western Mekong Delta in South Vietnam. South Vietnamese rangers spearheaded by an armored column clashed with North Vietnamese forces while on a drive to block infiltration into the delta.

Defendants Charged In Circuit Court

By MARION BETHA
Edith Ann Conley, 26, who was bound over to Circuit Court last week for probable cause following a preliminary hearing before Peace Justice Robert Carroll in which she is charged with first degree murder, appeared this morning at arraignment before Circuit Judge Dominick Salvi.

Mrs. Conley is charged in the May 22 death of a 47-year-old Longwood woman.

Judge Salvi told the diminutive defendant who appears considerably younger than her years, that formal appointment of a special public defender will be held next week. The court indicated that Jack Baldwin, who represents her in the lower court will be appointed.

In other arraignments, Willie Frank Mason plead not guilty to a two count charge of a criminal offense having a firearm and aggravated assault. Trial is set for the week of July 10. Mason, 29, Orlando, is charged in the March 5 assault upon Joyce Evans in which he is alleged to have fired six shots in her direction at a home at Little Wekiva Drive near Longwood.

Also set for the week of July 10 is the trial of William Rye, charged with possession of a central nervous stimulant, debarbamine. Rye pleaded not guilty to the charge. Rye was apprehended on March 16 while a passenger in a van in which the driver made an improper U-turn, and was stopped by a police officer upon that charge.

Jack Yandie is docketed for trial the week of July 10, after entering a not guilty plea to charges of a two count information of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny.

Steve McCombes, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny, is set for trial the week of July 10.

Duchess Won't Go To England

By ROONEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace announced today that because of strain caused by the death of the Duke of Windsor, the duchess will not travel to England with her husband's body Wednesday.

The palace said "she has been advised by her doctor not to travel at the present time."

But the widow is expected to fly to London Friday, the announcement added. Meantime, she remains in seclusion in her Paris mansion, refusing to receive any of hundreds of callers.

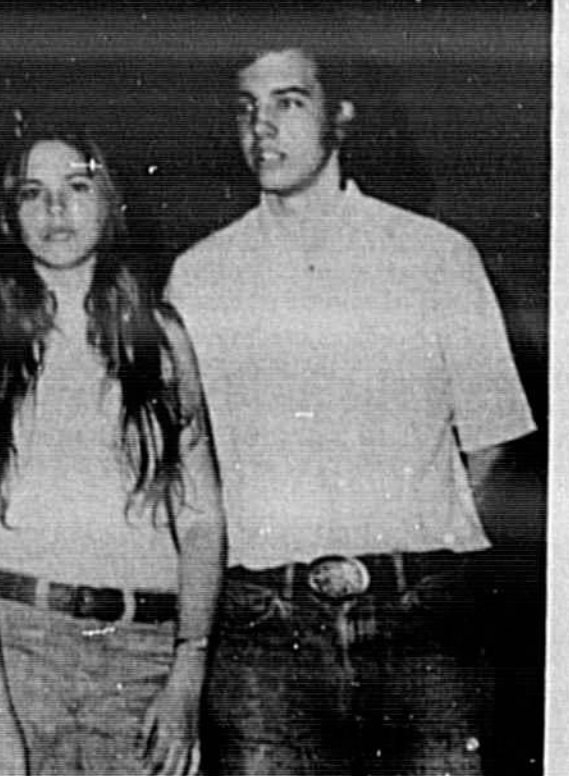

The duchess, 75, is the former American divorcee, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson. The duke gave up the throne in 1936 to marry her.

Saturday's Trooping the Color in honor of Queen Elizabeth's official birthday will go on as usual. But the monarch has ordered a special tribute by the Household Troops in which the duke served.

Before the queen rides out on the parade ground here, there will be a roll of drums and a minute's silence. Pipers will play a lament.

The Duchess of Windsor has expressed pleasure over the ceremony, but is unlikely to attend it, the palace said. She may watch it on television.

Although the queen was born on April 21—she was 46 this year—her birthday is always celebrated officially in June, when there is a better chance for good weather for the Trooping of the Color.

CONTINUING his program of informing students on the judicial system, Circuit Judge Dominick Salvi spoke to the student body of Lyman South. Posing questions to the judge are Judi Lindsey and David Clark. (Ann Riley Photo)

Nixon Concludes Trip
KIEV U.S.S.R. (AP) — President Nixon concluded his eight-day visit to the Soviet Union today and flew to Tehran for an overnight visit with the Shah of Iran. The presidential party had made an overnight stop in Kiev, the capital of the Soviet Ukraine.

A few hours after the arrival in Kiev, presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger told newsmen that Nixon and the Soviet leaders reached no secret agreement on Vietnam or any other controversial questions.

Senator Not Target

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Police say Sen. B. Everett Jordan apparently was not the target of a young gunman who killed three persons and wounded eight others before taking his own life at a shopping center where the senator was campaigning.

Police said the gunman, Harvey McLeod, 22, a school janitor, used a rifle he had purchased two hours earlier. McLeod had a police record which included two assaults with a deadly weapon.

Series Of Gun Battles

BELFAST (AP) — Guerrillas fought a series of gun battles with British troops in West Belfast and bombed a factory today a few hours after the Official wing of the Irish Republican Army announced it was suspending its attacks indefinitely.

Soldiers claimed they hit four gunmen in 13 firefights in the Ardoyne district, a Roman Catholic stronghold of the IRA's Provisional wing. The Provisionals accused the Officials of surrender and vowed to fight on.

Dam Doomed From Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers says the West Virginia dam that collapsed last February, killing at least 118 persons, was doomed from the start. A Senate subcommittee opens hearings today on the disaster.

Salfi said, "If it really were the mafia, you would have used that gun to help your buddies."

Sanders, arguing again with the court said, "I would have used it for my own protection."

The court, noting the gravity of the situation questioned as to why Sanders had no reservations concerning the gun and outlined the situation facing the country today in which "you see the country's violence simply because people have a gun."

Judge Salvi admonished, "Do you realize you might easily be before me on first degree murder charges?"

Sanders countered, "and do you realize I might have been killed?" Judge Salvi then asked, "why didn't you throw the gun out of the cab?" to which Sanders replied, "I did a foolish thing."

In stern reprimand, Judge Salvi said, "I am a hard man."

Sanders, in turn, commented, "If you think I deserve 20 years, give it to me; I believe you're an honorable man; I'm only asking you to judge my past."

Judge Salvi, in probably one of the strongest castigations of a defendant witnessed in court, stressed that the defendant was correct in his assumption that a violation of probation would result in incarceration. But the court said, should he again procure a gun and use it, "What about the victim, they have no other chance."

Jail Is Seized By Prisoners

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Prisoners seized control of a second-floor cell block today at Passaic County Jail and took four hostages, among them the warden, prison officials reported.

Officials said the inmates took over the 110-man wing following a melee in which guard Joseph Bozzoli was stabbed in the stomach. He was listed in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

A jail spokesman said Warden Jack DeYoung, an unidentified nurse and two guards who were involved in the scuffle in which Bozzoli was stabbed were being held as hostages.

The trouble erupted, the spokesman said, when Bozzoli and the two guards were escorting three prisoners to an elevator to take them to another section of the three-story jail. As the group was entering an elevator, Bozzoli was stabbed. The prisoners then fled back to the cell block, forcing the two other guards to accompany them. Bozzoli escaped by managing to get into the elevator.

Councilman Complains 'Sprung On By Surprise'

By DONNA ESTES
LONGWOOD — New policy governing agenda items has been approved by the City Council on the instigation of senior member of the board, E. E. Williamson, because he does not like to have things "sprung on him by surprise."

In urging that the Council only consider matters which have been placed on the agenda Monday night on Thursday night, Williamson declared that he needs the advance time to personally look into questions to be considered.

"I reckon I am a peculiar type fellow," the councilman said. "I am a member of Council, but here by the people to do a job and I don't like to have something sprung on me."

In other business, Council adopted unanimously on two consecutive readings an annexation of a tract owned by Donald McDonald on Seminole Blvd. The week previously, Mayor Kenneth Brown had urged McDonald to annex to the city. Nothing further was mentioned until the ordinance of annexation was presented without prior authorization. This brought the remarks from Williamson concerning being surprised with business.

Called for bids to be in city hall by June 15 at 4:30 p.m. for opening at the west side of city hall to provide office space for the building inspector, utility department clerk and the mayor. Plans and specifications for the addition are available at city hall and bids will be received until 4:30 p.m., June 8.

Approved the placing of a mobile home at the Longwood Elementary School. The mobile home, to be used for one year as a classroom for learning homemaking arts by retarded students, will provide a home-like environment, school principal Arlette Cobery explained to Council.

Passed on first reading an ordinance annexing the Green property located between the planned Skylark Subdivision and the city's sewer treatment property. Voting against the annexation was Williamson, who stated his fears that the tract will be the site of a federally-subsidized home, "We have enough 235's," Williamson said.

Called for bids on the expansion of the west side of city hall to provide office space for the building inspector, utility department clerk and the mayor. Plans and specifications for the addition are available at city hall and bids will be received until 4:30 p.m., June 8.

'League' Plans To Put It All Together

League of Women Voters, Seminole County, plans to "put it all together" on June 3, regarding environmental quality and planning and zoning as regards this county. Topic following the noon luncheon, to be held at Mr. Steak, SR 436, will be "What Is Our Future?"

Anyone desiring to attend the luncheon is requested to make reservations with Clara Calpepper (838-902) by June 1.

A distinguished panel of local experts will help answer the following queries regarding the county: What effects will be felt from the new land use plan and zoning ordinance?

Senator Was Not Target

By REESE HART
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Police say Sen. B. Everett Jordan apparently was not the target of a young gunman who killed three persons and wounded eight others before taking his own life at a shopping center where the senator was campaigning.

The gunman "just broke out his gun and started shooting, first one way and then another," Police Chief Robert Goodwin said. "We don't know why he was there."

A witness, Bruce Bland of Raleigh, said the gunman was "aiming at anything that moved."

Police Capt. C.H. Haswell said he doubted Jordan was the target because so many people were shot.

Jordan, a Democrat on an unannounced handshaking tour, was rushed into an optometrist's office when the rifle shots rang out Monday among hundreds of holiday shoppers at North Hills Shopping Center.

Jordan was not hurt, but his news secretary, Wes Hayden, was shot in the back. Hayden was reported in serious condition at a hospital.

Jordan, 75, said, "I have no reason to believe anyone would try to kill me."

elementary and secondary levels mentioned above, the following steps must be accomplished at the local school center. Course selection by secondary students and determination of grade group at the elementary level will be accomplished in January and February, 1973.

Also to be completed in February, 1973, is the determination of the number of sections by subjects, but this is applicable to secondary schools only.

By March of 1973, a preliminary estimate of the number of needed teachers will be accomplished.

A preliminary yearly schedule for secondary schools will determine the subjects to be offered in each session and elementary schools will determine the grade group structure for each session. The purpose of this step is a first attempt to balance the student and teacher assignments and it will be undertaken in March, 1973.

Since the School Board has voted to implement 45-15 in July, 1973, the steps mentioned above must be completed by Jan. 1, 1973 and apply to both elementary and secondary levels.

Television Debate Continues Tonight

By WALTER R. MEARS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George McGovern are heading into their second campaign confrontation in pivotal California tonight debating the issues of the first-welfare and the war.

Humphrey slapped at McGovern's welfare proposals, McGovern at Humphrey's record on Vietnam policy as the two Democratic senators prepared to face each other in a nationally televised appearance tonight.

And Minnesota's Humphrey sought to revive and take over a familiar issue by challenging McGovern to disclose how much money he is spending on the California presidential primary campaign.

There was irony in that, since it was McGovern who first made public his over-all campaign finances, and turned the topic into a major issue at the start of the primary season. That was in New Hampshire, when he was rated as best a long shot in the race.

Now it is McGovern versus Humphrey, head to head, for 271 Democratic presidential nominating votes in the California primary a week away.

Their campaign tone since Sunday night, when they appeared together in a national television interview, indicated the dispute might become even more heated as they met again.

The television appearances, billed as debates, but actually joint interviews broadcast by the national television networks, have become centerpieces in the California campaign.

Humphrey planned two campaign appearances in Los Angeles today, then set aside time to prepare for the television appearance. McGovern scheduled a news conference on Monday.

Wallace Picks Food From Hospital Menu

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace is improving slowly, his doctors say, and has his choice of the hospital menu.

The Alabama chief executive's abdominal wound, doctors attending Wallace said in a daily medical briefing Monday, shows less drainage of abscess daily.

They said the governor's condition continued to improve slowly and gradually.

Charles Snider, Wallace's national campaign officer, said he and the governor's son, George Jr., 20, would go to appeal for votes in the California and New Mexico primaries.

Snider quoted Wallace as saying the governor wishes that Americans will quickly forget that he has been shot.

Following a 45-minute meeting with the governor, Snider said Wallace reiterated his intention to be at the Democratic National Convention in Miami in July. He said doctors assured him that the Alabama chief executive would be able to attend the convention in five weeks.

Although Wallace has indicated he is totally committed to securing the Democratic presidential nomination, Snider said, he did not flatly rule out a third-party candidacy if Wallace is not the Democrats' choice in Miami. Snider said the third-party decision would be left up to Wallace completely.

Besides Snider, the governor also was visited by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of two assassinated politicians.

Kennedy, who recalled that after a 1964 airplane crash doctors told him he probably would be permanently paralyzed, encouraged Wallace never to give up the hope of walking again.

Those who oppose do so because of their concern for "summer maintenance" programs which would be altered, and that the city recreation programs don't correspond with vacations.

But, in the final reality... are we trying to better educate the students, or are we concerned about their "vacation time"?

Are we going to continue to permit school administrators to operate in the "dark ages" and progressively increase taxes on the constituents, or are we going to make an attempt at running this like it really is... a gigantic business?

The weakest argument of all, "it'll cut short their vacation time!"

The kids don't go to school during the Easter or Christmas seasons; and, how many families do you know that take vacations longer than three weeks?

I've NEVER had a three week vacation.

McClanahan, who voted to keep the issue off the agenda, Morris said if the commission agrees to reconsider its decision of a week ago, he will present his own maps of the city, which will be drawn to top districts.

Also scheduled for discussion at today's commission session will be a presentation from architects of the new Sanford security complex of a proposal for the use of an interior design consultant.

Commissioners are scheduled to meet at 4:30 p.m. with the city zoning and planning board to discuss that board's recommendations that every structure pay its proportionate share of the costs for paving streets.

City planner Gerald Duke will be on hand to seek approval of the commission of a Neighborhood Development Program, a federally-funded urban renewal type, blight removal function. City, in order to receive federal grants would have to fund $160,000 as its share.

Commission will also take up a request by Bram Towers, senior citizens housing project, to claim real estate property taxation exemption.

Nixon's Summitry Raises High Hope

Imaginative summitry, planned with scientific political skill and accuracy, has earned President Richard M. Nixon a very high rating when the history of these times is written.

For the trip to China and the breaking down of the "bamboo curtain" has now been followed by the journey to Moscow and residence in the Kremlin, with the "iron curtain" now an outdated term.

President Nixon achieved these results in a manner which has not been given the credit due for the preliminary work, both through the proper channels of the State Department and the mysterious comings and goings of Dr. Henry Kissinger (chief security affairs advisor).

Seizing on the beguiling goal of "a generation of peace" this had been adhered to despite Nixon's broadening and deepening of the Indochina war.

In taking office, the grave issues confronting the new Republican president were those which had confounded former chief executives and had driven one from the White House.

There were also the upheavals which the change of command meant in pure politics with Republicans moving into the key executive posts and the Democrats moving out.

A longtime student of foreign affairs, it is now perfectly clear (with hindsight lenses), to recognize that the great danger of these years were spotted by Nixon as the mistrust and lack of understanding which prevailed between and among the three great powers—American, Russian and Chinese.

Turning his back on the traditional American China policy which recognized Chiang Kai-shek's government and ignored the mainland millions of the Communist government in Peking—it was Nixon who went to Peking and produced the talks and the tours which started the "long march" to bridge the years' old gap.

The ideological split between the two Communist powers—China and Russia—offered a situation which could have invited American exploitation.

Yet the Nixon policy was not designed for such purposes. Again his goal was peace. Thus there were the series of little summit meetings which followed the China adventure and let the leaders of many nations talk with and get to understand President Nixon as a man and a leader.

Came the big summit, the Moscow visit which has just been concluded. That it produced much more than the one in Peking is no surprise. In China there was a gap of years when no contact was sought.

Russia, however, was and is another thing. American presidents have recognized the need for greater understanding and have attempted to create it by personal talks and even planned trips to the U.S.S.R.

President Nixon, however, achieved this, and, in doing so, has produced agreements which can do much to relieve the arms burden and put the two great nuclear powers on the road to better times for the peoples of both nations.

There are, of course, hurdles for both to take. In the United States, Congress has yet to exert its constitutional powers. It can be expected, that it will.

The ability of the communist powers to make agreements and then sort of forget them when the chips are down is a hazard which history reveals.

But for Richard M. Nixon, these gambles in personal, international, presidential summitry have paid off and paid well. For the peoples of the world, they can be—and we hope they will be—a start towards the goal of peace which all seek.

Study Shows Tax 'Reform' a Myth

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

LOS ANGELES (NEA)—A study of the tax situation of Americans in 1972 are said to be "distrust of government" and taxes. The surprising primary winners among Democratic presidential contenders are those men most closely identified with the cries—Sen. George McGovern and Gov. George Wallace.

In the tax field, their call is "reform," but what they are trying to convey is a curbing of harassed taxpayers a hope of tax relief—especially from burdensome local property taxes.

That McGovern and Wallace are being believed in their assurances is obvious from the 1972 voting results. To the extent that McGovern is perceived in California as elsewhere as "anti-politics" and "anti-government," that may give him advantage in this state's primary over chief rival Hubert Humphrey on the tax issue. (Wallace is only a write-in prospect in the June 6 voting.)

Yet, as so often with campaign issues, the tax question is being dealt with through the misleading shorthand of shouted slogans and slickly over-simplified brochures.

The Brookings Institution's full-scale study of President Nixon's proposed fiscal 1973 budget ought to make life a good deal harder for any candidate who is leading voters to believe he is going to ease their tax burdens substantially if elected president in November.

Brookings' responsible, exhaustive analysis, just released, has one overriding message in this field: The outlook is that millions of Americans will be paying more taxes—not less—in the years ahead. The arguments advanced in the study are compelling.

Tax reform, widely accepted in this country as necessary, may come, but only after the tax question is dealt with on a different income groups. Reform as such is a complex matter warranting a further report later on. But there seems no escape from overall tax increases.

Brookings notes a curious circumstance: while we have been fighting the Vietnam war, introducing vast new social programs, warring Social Security, and attempting to ever-increasingly increase our federal-financed services, several major tax cuts have been voted into law.

In the past decade, various kinds of reductions in federal income tax rates have been instituted—1964, 1969 and 1972. In addition, excise taxes on numerous commodities and services have been slashed $10 billion.

If the government were still taxing at 1963 income and excise tax rates, the Treasury would be pulling in some $45 billion a year more than is in prospect for fiscal 1973.

There is, of course, one big offset. Payroll taxes to pay for newly instituted Medicare and for rising Social Security contributions have upped the total to $18 billion in 1972. Still, the idea some politicians are advancing that real tax relief is in sight seems patently absurd, if not downright misleading.

Brookings estimates the federal budget will hit $300 billion in fiscal 1975 and $335 billion in fiscal 1977. Inflation will cost $9 billion a year to cover higher federal employee wages and other price increases. The government buys. Built-in escalators—more and more beneficiaries for education, welfare, etc.—should help offset $5 billion to $6 billion yearly. Defense costs may go up. Pollution fighting outlays may take $4 billion a year.

New programs? Property tax relief? Just try to find the money without imposing sizable new U.S. levies as a heavy offset.

One Man's Opinion

Bury My Heart At Diamond Head?

By DON OAKLEY

The famed racial equality of the nation's 50th state is vastly overstated.

Or so claims journalist Francine du Plessix Gray in a new book, "Hawaii: The Sugar-Coated Fortress," a comprehensive and critical look at the island-chain state.

Not only does she contend that Hawaii is a sugar-coated fortress, dominated by the pineapple trust, but the crass commercialism of developers is transmogrifying its natural beauty into a plastic paradise, at least on the island of Oahu, the only part of Hawaii that most tourists see.

About the harmony bit, "Hawaii," says Mrs. Gray, "is a society whose racism tends to be obscured by the superficial racial equality and the relative power of some non-white groups—the wealthy Chinese, the politically dominant Japanese."

As for the native Polynesians, because of their uncompetitive nature, they are kept at the bottom of the social heap.

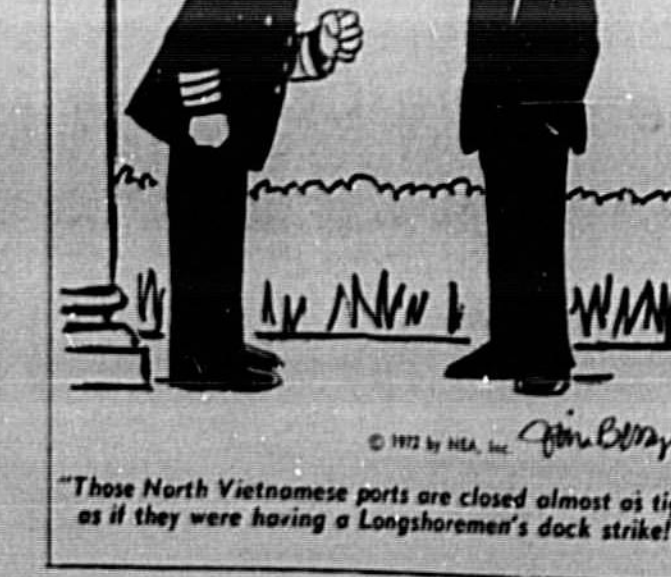

This is unfortunate, and perhaps even a tragedy for the Polynesians, whose disease- and alcohol-devastated history after contact with the white man is sadly comparable to that of the American Indian. But what to do about it?

Since all missionary efforts to inculcate the easy-going Polynesians with the Protestant work ethic failed, perhaps some tranquil havens on the unspoiled islands can be spared from energetic Anglo-Saxons, Chinese, Japanese, Koreans, Filipinos, Portuguese and others.

In any case, there is one ray of hope for Hawaii. If Hawaiians practice racial equality long enough, no matter how superficial, it could eventually seep down to their subconscience and become second nature.

A lot of Americans on the mainland would settle for some of that "superficial equality" and some of that "relative power." Even some of the plastic paradise.

On 45-15 Schools People Have Right to Vote

Editor, Herald: It is a tragic commentary on our community when our school board, ostensibly the great bulwark of local democracy in action, refuses to allow the greatest and most time honored manifestation of democratic pluralism, the referendum.

That a school board that is already not infrequently labeled incompetent would refuse to allow the public a voice in the implementation of a 45-15 plan is unquestionably without parallel in the history of our school system.

Whether or not the 45-15 plan is a necessity, the people should be allowed the democratic right to decide the issue publicly. If the public is prohibited from registering its opinion in a referendum, can anyone guarantee it will not seek alternative, if not extralegal avenues? And what price will our children pay?

Sincerely yours, Stephen D. Millbrath

We Wonder

Editor, Herald: Casseberry, has handed in his resignation after three terms as the choice of the majority of voters.

According to my information, his current salary is $150 per month. Now, some members of the Council, have decided we need a city manager at $15,000 per year. Mr. Blow was mayor for several years at $100 per month.

We wonder if Mayor Blow ever offered the city management position at $15,000 per year. He has steered the town through some turbulent periods and the city was known far and wide as the Taxfree Town, with all city costs borne by the voters.

Presently, we have only one city manager, Mr. Blow was mayor for two years during the last year of two they are so short of water?

Many customers complain that they don't have enough water to take a bath at times. Eating places have complained they do not have enough water to make a cup of coffee. Now there is talk of curtailing lawn watering and car washing. Quite sometime back an engineering company gave it an adverse report outside, cut-modern and the situation lacked the qualities to be desired. Even the Florida State Health Dept., Jacksonville, stepped in and made a survey of it.

There is pressure from city hall for the town to buy the water company at what many consider a very inflated price—various figures up to approximately $2 million and then spend other large sums to try to make it work satisfactory.

The developer of Azalea Park attempted to run their own water system. They found plenty of headaches and later disposed of it; also found it hard to make a profit.

Some successful experienced outfits will lease existing water companies. They have the knowledge, know-how, and experience to operate them successfully. Also they have the money and finances to make them a success.

His said that if the city takes over the water department, users can expect a very substantial increase in their water rates.

Our Heritage

Editor, Herald: Our American heritage includes some splendid traditions. One of these is Memorial Day, devoted to honoring those who have died in military efforts to preserve the ideals of our American way of life. May we never lose a true appreciation for those who have given their lives for the cause of freedom, justice, and peace.

But even good traditions tend to become routine and common, leading us to disregard their real meaning. What do we do to really honor the dead? We like flowers to the cemetery, and if we give serious thought to meaning, we pray and hope for a better world for the living.

The cemetery occupants who are longest remembered are those who lived in such a way that the world, their home, and their neighborhood were better because they lived. How could we give serious thought to meaning, we pray and hope for a better world for the living.

Soil Scientist Tries To Save Nation's Land

BELLE GLADE, Fla. (AP)—A soil scientist is trying to find ways of slowing down a process that literally is evaporating the rich soil of the nation's winter wheat bowl at the rate of a foot every 10 years.

Vol Volk, a University of Florida soil scientist, says the activity of micro-organisms in the soil threatens to end vegetable farming in much of the Rhodie Island-sized area at the southern tip of Florida's Lake Okeechobee within 40 years.

Over a period of 5,000 years, Volk says, the Everglades marshes formed and decaying sawgrass laid down a blanket of black muck that averages 12 to 15 feet thick over a limestone base.

But about 1900, man began to drain the northern part of the Everglades to put the soil to use.

"When you add the needed phosphate and nitrate through fertilizers, it's probably the richest soil in the world," Volk says. "This region is the nation's major vegetable producer in the winter, and I think you could grow any plant here that would accept the climate."

But the men who drained the Glades soon found that the soil was disappearing at an alarming rate. Eventually, they discovered micro-organisms were able to attack the soil once the water was removed. These micro-organisms use the soil as food, break it down to its component elements and then breathe off those elements they can't use as wastes.

"The soil has been subsiding at a rate of about 1.2 inches a year for more than 50 years," Volk says. "Areas that once had 12 feet of muck on them are now down to four or five feet.

"At this rate, much of the area will be only a foot or so of soil left by the year 2000, and that isn't enough for crops that need to spread a decimated blanket of soil."

Volk is testing ways to slow the evaporation rate "so that instead of 30 or 40 years, the area will have 50 or 60 years left."

Askew: We Need Vocational Jobs

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—America's education system is pumping out a surplus of would-be executives or engineers — who can't find jobs — and a deficit of should-be mechanics, plumbers or health technicians, says Gov. Reubin Askew.

"We have been guilty of glorifying the white collar job of the traditional college graduate at the expense of the vocational worker," Askew said Monday in a speech prepared for delivery before the Southern Regional Education Board at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

"And we have been guilty of elevating the status of the traditionally educated college graduate at the expense of the 'career oriented specialist,'" he added.

Askew was scheduled to travel to Silver Springs, Md., today to accept the annual "Profiles in Courage" award from the John F. Kennedy chapter of the B'nai B'rith Lodge.

Seminole Answering Service Solution To Your Problems

By ANN SIECKOWSKI
Have you ever felt tied down to your home, business or office because somebody has to be around to answer the telephone?
Are you one of those individuals who has difficulty getting up in the morning? You set your alarm, then reach up and turn it off - and darn it all, you are late again.
Well, who don't you get wise, friends! There is a solution to that problem. You don't have to be stuck anywhere because there is help available and right here in Sanford.
Seminole Answering Service with Mrs. June Remusat, manager, is the name of your relief from worry about telephones - for short periods, vacations, wake up service, paging service, you name it, that gal can help you with her answering service operation.
More than that, she has desk space available with a telephone if you require it. Her service is available 24 hours every day - she never closes her switchboard.
And you know what is a most valuable asset in this business which she has operated for 16 years in Sanford? She has a staff of four women who are the epitome of discretion. You never have to worry that your business will be discussed outside that office - this is so important and these women are the soul of integrity.
They also are well informed about this area and are able to answer questions about a variety of situations and locations.

JUNE REMUSAT, owner and manager of Seminole Answering Service, is shown busy at her switchboard taking a message for one of her many subscribers. Contact Seminole Answering Service at 323-2770 and let them help you.

Seminole Hardware Can Fill Your Needs

By Ann Sieckowski
For you folks with farms and ranches with animals roaming around hungry - get into Seminole Hardware and Western Supplies and buy some of that Red Rose feed for your animals. Charlie has feed to make 'em grow, make 'em look good and to make 'em feel good, and he has feed for all kinds of animals from rabbits to horses.
For folks who need or just plain prefer western attire, Charlie has in his Western department, a complete and varied selection of western wear. His is the oldest business of its kind in the Longwood area - strictly western, arid, but quality merchandise, with the best prices in YOUR budget range.
You will find Maverick jeans made to be worn from dawn to dusk - in straight or flare legs, from size one for infants to size 42 for men. And he did not forget women's flare jeans in white, blue and green.
You will also find Turtle Bar jeans. The label says you are young and cuddly - fun loving and groovy, when it comes to taste in high fashion casuals. Wearing Turtle Bar westerns, says you look your best from every angle - coming or going.
Charlie reminds everyone that the rodeo season is just around the corner and of course, you want to look your very best. You will find boots of every style and size from infants up and naturally, all are the highest quality leather.
Also, Seminole Hardware is having a closetout on heavy winter jackets. Last winter just wasn't cold, but who knows about next winter. So go in and prepare for tomorrow - check the winter jackets and buy one.
While you are there, pick out a set of Justin and Chambers belts. They are really smart looking.
Like we said, partner, if you want it, and it is in the hardware, western wear or feed line, go to Seminole Hardware and Western Supplies in Longwood Plaza on 17-92 and let Charlie Glasscock wrap it up for you.

Couple Weds In Double Ring Rites Miss Harville Bride Of G. L. Vonckx

Miss Patricia Diane Harville and Gary Lloyd Vonckx were united in Holy Matrimony May 12, 1972, at 8 p.m. in the Wedding Chapel of Orlando. Officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony was Rev. W.B. McKay. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewingston Harville, 81 North Third St., North Orlando, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lloyd Vonckx, 2210 Old Dixie Hwy., Ft. Pierce.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Cocoa Beach and their new residence will be in San Francisco, Calif., where the groom is serving in the U.S. Navy. The bride will graduate from Florida Technological University, June 9. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. Lloyd Vonckx, Mrs. Marie Vonckx, and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Duval all of Ft. Pierce; Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Finicum, Miami Springs; the Misses Raynell and Cherry Russell, Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. B.L. O'Neal, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Scroggins, Macon, Ga.; Mrs. Hadley Welborn, Atlanta, Ga.; and Jim Scott, Merritt, Fla.

Chapel decorations included two rows of burning tapers with the Altar with a background of fern and greenery. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length-gown of organza, empire style with short puff sleeves and Venice lace trim at the neck and sleeves. The A-line skirt was accented by several bands of Venice lace at the hemline and detachable tubular train. Her three tiered elbow length veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of organza, lace bands and yellow foam poms with white ribbon streamers. The bride's mother chose a navy blue and white dress and jacket ensemble with standing collar, navy and white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a lavender A-line dress with Elizabethan collar, white accessories and a lavender carnation corsage. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Reception Hall of the chapel. The tiered wedding cake was iced in white, trimmed with yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom under a lace tower arched orange blossoms. Miss Donna King cut and served the cake and pouring wine. Mrs. Dale Phillips, for her going-away outfit, the bride chose a two piece blue, ivory and tan knit suit with tan accessories and the yellow rose corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple presented are from left, Stephanie Cornett, Mrs. Boyd Coleman, Latin teacher who is retiring this year, and Miss Ayker. (Staff Photo)

GREETING THE RECENTLY elected District 7 Director of FFWC upon her arrival at the Sanford Garden Club where she was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs are Mrs. Jake Lassiter, program chairman, Mrs. Thomas Freeman, acting president, and Mrs. George Lewis, guest speaker.

Vickie Bauer Feted

By MARILYN GORDON
Miss Vickie Bauer of Mt. Plymouth, was honored at a surprise bridal shower given by her cousin, Mrs. Kempton Keegan of Casselberry. The beautiful and festive table was decorated with green and yellow streamers with yellow umbrellas. The cake was decorated with wedding bells and doves with wedding rings. Along with the cake, the guests enjoyed punch, nuts and mints. Miss Bauer looked charming in a black velvet hot pants suit with a white blouse and white accessories. She wore a white carnation corsage, a gift from the hostess. Mrs. Keegan wore red, white and blue stripes. Both looked very fashionable. The guest list included Mrs. Victor Bauer, (bride's mother), Mrs. Paul Kerr, Mrs. Carl Atkins Sr., Mrs. Carl Atkins Jr., Mrs. Robert Atkins and Mrs. Randy Kough. Miss Bauer will marry Mr. Larry Childress of Orlando.

Dear Abby

Husbands can forgive and forget, too

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: An unfaithful wife who had been caught in the act, wrote in part: "What's with men anyway? Are understanding, compassion and forgiveness qualities that only women possess? If you know of one man who'd be willing to sit down with an erring wife, discuss the problem, forgive her and suggest they start over, please nominate him for sainthood."
Well, my husband qualifies. He caught me in the act, not once, but three times (with the same man) and each time he forgave me, and now we've a stronger marriage than ever.
MARRIED TO A SAINT

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether this qualifies me for sainthood or not, but I did catch my wife with another man, and I forgave her. All she said in her defense was, "Well, now we're even."
SHE WAS RIGHT. NOMINEE IN TAMPA

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to nominate my husband for sainthood. After nearly 20 years of marriage I fell in love with another man (I'm married). The other man's wife found out about it and raised such a stink that my husband gave up a thriving professional practice to move as far away as possible from that little community. The other woman divorced her husband, but my husband stood by me. I am trying to make it up to him by being the best possible wife in every way. My man is one in a million.
FORGIVEN IN WINONA

DEAR ABBY: So, women want men who are "understanding, compassionate and forgiving"? Well, I was married for 26 years. Then my wife left me saying, "I simply can't stand a man who is so understanding, compassionate and forgiving."
We've been divorced for five years, and since then I have treated women like dirt and they love it!
SEX-SAINT

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a saint with a triple halo. He's secured psychological counseling for me. Even as I write this I am struggling to keep from making a phone call to let "the other man" know that my husband will be out of town and I'll be available. Counseling is expensive, but when I look at my beautiful family I realize it's worth holding my marriage together. Besides, believe it or not, no woman ever had a better husband.
STILL FIGHTING IN SEATTLE

DEAR ABBY: The saint you are searching for is living in Houston. I was the unfaithful wife. He caught me with his best friend but he didn't get mad and try to kill anybody. He calmly walked away and came back the next day to talk things out. This wonderful man was big enough to say, "Maybe it's partly my fault. If I had paid you more attention you wouldn't need anybody else."
We both decided that we'd try to make a go of our marriage. This happened 21 years ago, and God willing, we will celebrate our 40th this June.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Richter Institute
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to take care of any vocational activity that is yours and do so in a most efficient manner. Forget fun and frivolity for now. Keep promises and agreements you have made and handle them conscientiously. Don't disappoint higher-ups.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handling credit affairs conscientiously is wise now. Don't jeopardize your good reputation. Advice from experts in career work puts you ahead of others. Show that you are efficient.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have fine ideas but you need the right facts and figures in order to put them across well. Take care of important correspondence. Put your life on a more ideal basis.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study how much you owe others and keep your good credit intact by paying bills promptly. Try to meet expectations of mate and you have more harmony in the future. Relax tonight.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Cooperating with an associate brings increased mutual benefits. Take care of an outside affair carefully and gain good results. Try to please others more and all is fine.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) You have to handle every item of an important work plan carefully if you are to have success with it. Get the okay of bigwigs before putting it in operation. Take health treatments.
VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 22) Plan social entertaining carefully in the morning and all goes well later. Words alone are not enough to please mate. Your actions will speak louder. Show that you have wisdom.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Go through with the ideas you have that are for the betterment of home and family. Not a good evening for entertaining at home since it requires too big a slice out of your budget.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be very vigilant in all business affairs so that you don't have any losses. Enjoy a hobby with a good pal in the evening. Show that you have a good sense of humor.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handle monetary affairs intelligently. Make repairs to property that will improve its value. Be sure to pay your bills. If you don't get a budget, get one started now.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you handle personal affairs intelligently you can do anything and complete all. Accept an invitation to a social affair in the evening. Show that you appreciate good friends.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Engage in business matters now so that you can enjoy the romantic and pleasurable side of life later. Handle those daily tasks with enthusiasm. A friend needs your assistance.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have an opportunity to be with older and wiser person and gain many benefits. Be sure not to force anything. Attend a group affair tonight. Show that you have poise.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those individuals who like to put everything on a higher level. Don't expect your progeny to go in for anything of a highly artistic or psychological nature, but direct education along such lines as banking, real estate and property management. An independent nature in his chart which could prove most beneficial.
"The Stars impel, they do not compel!" What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

POLLY'S POINTERS

Dampened Cotton in Jar Keeps Paste Moistened
By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—I used to get infuriated with library paste that dried in jars, until a retired schoolteacher told me I should dampen a bit of cotton cloth, keep it inside the paste jar and it would stay moist for weeks. The rag should be rinsed out occasionally so the paste will not develop a sour smell.—MRS. L. N.
DEAR GIBBS—This Pointer brought to mind a somewhat similar one published years ago and which I have used constantly. Perhaps one of you remember the suggestion for keeping an aluminum tea ball filled with damp cotton in the cookie jar so cookies do not get hard. This is one of my personal favorites.—POLLY
DEAR POLLY—I would like to make my own window shades out of burlap or similar yard goods and wonder if the readers could give me some ideas on how this is done.—KAREN
DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those people who run over dogs and cats and then just drive off leaving the animal in the road. The least they could do would be to stop and move the animal off the road so it would not be struck again.
Another peeve is with those people who let their cats run loose all the time. There is one in our neighborhood that hunts mice and, after killing them, brings them into our yard. He also walks all over our car at night, leaving his paw prints on the hood. If cat owners do not want to take care of their pets they should find another home for them.—BARBARA
DEAR POLLY—I have good news for Norma who has trouble with the feet in her children's sleepers. If they do not have elastic at the ankles, she can sew a strip of tape around each ankle and then run elastic through it. Also the foot portion can be shortened by making a new seam as large as needed inside the old one.—MARJ
DEAR POLLY—I seldom use my old clothes dryer rack so decided to make some use of it. I needed freestyles for my climbing ropes, so I made up the spokes out of the rack, painted the sides and set it up. The holes where the spokes went now hold strings of TAYLUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have fine ideas but you need the right facts and figures in order to put them across well. WIN AT BRIDGE entry, South decides to let it wait for a while and at attacks clubs. This time he should lead the seven spot, not the four. It doesn't really matter at this point but it is good to keep in practice with correct spot card play. Just remember, that a really good player makes this type of play automatically. Clubs behave just as nicely as the spades did and South finds that he has 12 sure tricks. Even though he tries the heart finesse. That works also and South makes seven.
Take Care to Keep Entries
Did he belong in a slam? Not quite. He won't have a fine lead for the ace and four suits broke well in three.
(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)
By Oswald & James Jacoby
South has only four low cards in his hand, but they are far more important than the play than in his ace, kings, queens and jacks. It doesn't matter that South is in a three-trump contract that can probably only be defeated by an Act of Congress. South still wants to make as many extras as possible.
He wins the diamond lead and decides to attack spades because his spade spots are better than his clubs. He leads a low spade toward dummy but should be careful to lead the eight, not the six. He wants to hold that six in reserve so that if spades break 3-2 he will have an extra entry to dummy. Sure enough, spades break 3-2 and the seven spot is an

Highlights

7:30-8:30 NBC, Ponderosa (Huron), "To Die in Darkness" James Whitmore is guest star in this 1968 repeat, which also brings David Canary back on these Bonara repeats. Whitmore was convicted of bank robbery on the strength of testimony given by Ben Cartwright and Candy (Canary). When he's pardoned, he goes after revenge, imprisoned Ben and Candy in a mine pit to give them a taste of what he went through. Michael Landon directed this episode.
8:30-9:30 CBS, Hawaii Five-O (Huron), "Highest Castle, Deepest Grave." France Young and Herbert Ross costar. An archeologist discovers an ancient grave site with 10 skeletons. Laboratory tests reveal it contains eight skeletons at least 400 years old each, and two just 10 years old. McCarrett discovers that one of the skeletons is that of a missing business associate of an Island industrialist (Lynn). His wife disappeared at the same time. It is learned, as the episode moves to a surprise ending.
9:30-10:30 NBC, Meet The Press. In a special pre-graduation primary program, the Democratic nomination for president, Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Sen. George McGovern, will be interviewed by Lawrence Spivak, moderator, and a panel of newsmen.
10:11 ABC, Marcus Welby, M.D. (Huron), "The Best Is Yet To Be." The setting is a luxurious retirement home. Some veteran actors, including the late Betty Bronson in one of her last roles, are featured in a tender love story in an aged couple. Ruth Hussey plays a wealthy widow who becomes a resident of the retirement home and becomes involved in a romance with an elderly resident (Patric Knowles). Her daughter objects, and is embarrassed by the romance. Dr. Welby finds himself serving more as a family counselor than a doctor.
8:30-10 ABC, Movie of the week (Huron), "A Little Game." A tense drama with the frightening prospect of a teenager turning murderer. Ed Nelson and Diane Baker portray a married couple faced with the hostility her son is showing to his stepfather. The stepfather overhears the boy tell a friend he brought home a Christmas from prep school a prank he played may have caused another classmate's death. The boarder discovery leads Nelson to hire a private detective (Howard Duff) to investigate.
9:30-10:30 CBS, Cannon (Huron). A bank executive's mistress dies, setting off a chain of deaths and intrigue that brings Cannon into the case. William Windom goes stars as the banker who watches helplessly from another room.

Pollution Problem Is Aired

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It was ABC's turn to tackle the pollution problem with a special Monday night called "Oceans: The Silent Crisis." It concentrated not on oceans so much as on the threatened deaths of the Mississippi River and Galveston Bay from chemical pollutants.
Certainly most Americans are by now familiar with pictures of tumbling industrial wastes pouring into streams and rivers, and with statements of officials that "human health is endangered." But the report that "the fifth of half the nation" pours into the Mississippi is alarming and dismaying.
The hour program showed company executives, pollution control experts of large corporations and public officials trying to explain, somewhat nervously, how the problem is being solved. One used such earthy language that part of his response had to be erased from the sound track.
A physician told of a newly reported pollution-caused disease which is killing bathers in the United States, Australia, Belgium, England and Ireland. It was followed by an interview with the fearful widow of a man who had died of it.
Frank Reynolds came on camera at the end of the hour to say the solution to industrial and sewage pollution was "simple and expensive" but that they public and industry must be ready to assume the cost of cleaning things up—or else.
The ABC hour was basically a repetition of much that has been written and filmed before. While it made no suggestions about what one citizen could do, it may have been part of a larger effort to stimulate rescue efforts in legislative halls and directors' rooms.

LET'S GO FISHING

Tackle-busting size catfish moved into the St. Johns River around Marina Isle Fish Camp this week and several more anglers had 20 pound test fish broken while fishing from the bank in that area.

Another likely encounter one of the big ones and came out early last in the ensuing tug-of-war, losing hook, line and pole to the fish. Fortunately, Bob King, who runs the camp, heard her yells for help and jumped into his boat, pursued the pole across the river. Retrieving the pole, King played the fish to a standstill, but as he started to land him, the bent hook pulled out. A fast grab at the departing fish connected and King threw the big cat upon the bank, then returned the pole and fish to the lady angler. Incidentally, the fish weighed 12 pounds!

Bob fishing in this section has been excellent all week. Don Bangs landed strings of seven and nine on two consecutive trips. Little strings (10) fell to C. O. Penny two days in a row while Fred Fryer, Lynchburg, Virginia, fishing with Bob King guiding, used plastic worms to take his limit Thursday. Dick Mower got a limit catch Wednesday plus casting and Mike Maples used his fly rod to land nine more just a few yards from the camp.

Jerry Higgins of Bull's Bait and Tackle Shop in Longwood, reported blue gills and sheepshead plentiful around the Air Base Canal in Lake Jessup. Higgins also had word of three beautiful bass caught by Jack Grams of Lake Mary. The fish tipped the scales at 5 1/2, eight and 19 1/2 pounds and were caught on shiners in the Lake Mary area.

Other reports of fabulous bream fishing came from Hiley's Fish Camp on the south side of Lake Jessup. Strings of 20 to 40 were commonplace according to Lowell Hiley, camp owner, with a few catches up to 50. Bob Fogle and family took 22 in two days, some up to a pound and a quarter. Tom Van Heuson and wife had 65 in two days of fishing and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton McGregor had a one day catch of 50 sheepsheads and bluegills on a Sunday outing. Bob Sawyer and Barry Brunelle teamed up to land a mixed string of 15 bluegills, 15 shiners, 15 crappie, 15 bass and Mr. Meeks of Apopka had about the same number.

Don Smith, Seminole Sporting Goods Store, listed a nice string of 17 bass for Larry Smith and friend caught at purple worms. They waded the flats near the Osteen Bridge.

Osteen Bridge Fish Camp reports that spotted perch are still biting real well on live Missouri minnows and tend to one limit catch of big bass, all in the six to seven pound class, made by Tom Gorsie. Walt Elia came in with three of about 2 1/2 pounds each in spite of the rain Sunday.

School bass are striking early mornings and evenings around Lemon Bluff Fish Camp.

Buddy Cheatham and Chuck Hill used popping bugs to land 20 bream Sunday at Camp Seminole on the Wekiva River. "Bass fishing a real slow day to the weather" was the word from Otis Faulk. Even so, most of the bass fishermen were finding a few two to four per boat, and many good catches of panfish and catfish came in during the week.

Row and arrow fishermen went out after garfish at Wekiva River after a scamping of bass but bream and catfish plentiful.

Soft Water Fishing

Rudy Crews and wife, Linda, fished with Captain Frank Timmons aboard the "Marianne" Monday and returned with the best catch of tied snapper seen in a long time. Nine snapper, total weight 200 pounds (some like old times) and that was only Rudy and Linda's share of the 80 big ones landed by Captain Timmons's party fishing an unmarked wreck about 30 miles off shore.

Word of Captain Timmons' find apparently leaked out as an unconfirmed report of a 5,000 pound haul by one of the commercial fishing boats, fishing the same area, came in. The Inlet Harbor charter boat fleet failed to get outside very often because of the early season tropical storm. The bottom fishing boats that did go out reported pretty fair catches. Trolling boats were limited to a few half-day trips, fishing mostly for sharks. Seven black tips were landed aboard the "Miss Behavin'" on a Tuesday trip and six more up to 85 pounds plus a pair of bonita on a Wednesday trip.

The "Laura K." Captain Herb Fitzwater, landed a five foot, seven inch sailfin Thursday along with nine bonita and a tub full of black sea bass.

Stripping under the lanterns at night continues to be good in the Intra-coastal Waterway near Oakhill with many catches of five gallons or more being reported. Harry Tishaw of Lake Mary and this writer tried floundering near Ponce Inlet Monday night.

After spearing four founder, the scene of operations was changed to Indian Mound Camp near Oakhill for the late outgoing tide and stripping. Luck was good and three hours of dipping resulted in an ice chest of delicious Oak Hill shrimp to go with the founder.

Tales of blue fish in the surf caused Roy Dunsmore, C. G. Caudell and Carl McAllister, all of the Sanford area, to hit the beach south of Turtle Mound on a weekend trip. The North-east wind brought the blues close in to shore and 22 of them, plus six whitings, made up the catch for the day—LET'S GO FISHING!

HURLEY TERRELL of Titusville shows off a fine catch of catfish and bream he caught recently out of Camp Seminole on the Wekiva River.

Vesco Bradley Voted MVP Of Meet

Raider Thinclads Second In Nation

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Editor

MESA, Arizona—Vesco Bradley, Seminole Junior College's All-American track and field standout, was named the most valuable player in the national junior college track and field meet over the weekend as he paced the Seminole Junior College Raiders to a second place finish.

Essex (New Jersey) Community College won the meet with 42 points while the Raiders, under coach Terry Long, scored 36 points. Three other Florida teams were in the top 10 as Miami-Dade North, Florida Junior College and Miami-Dade South finished sixth, seventh and eighth, respectively.

The Raiders had only four contestants in the meet and Essex had only six. Dale South, on the other hand, had 17 men that qualified to compete. The Miami school defeated the Sanford squad several times during the season, but they won those meets on quantity, not quality. The Kingston, Connecticut, team was the only contestant in the meet to be named All-American first team in three events. He gained the honors in the long jump, 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash. Jerry Hock also received first team All-American honors, gaining his in the pole vault. After the opening day of the meet, the Raiders were in second place. But they pulled in front and they were the meet leaders until the final event, the mile relay. The Raiders had no entry in the mile relay and Essex sewed up the win with a first place finish.

Bradley was the winner in the long jump, leaping 24 feet, five inches. This was 1 1/4 inches short of his best jump recorded during the season. The real heart-breaker for Bradley came in the 100 and 220 yard dashes where he had to settle for second place both times. And the loss both times was by less than half a second but he was also working into a strong wind. Terry Porter of Ranger (Texas) Junior College was the winner. He is the national record holder with a 17-foot vault to his record, but he achieved only 15 feet, seven inches in the national meet. Brad Winter of New Mexico Junior College, who held the national mark at 16 feet, nine inches before it was broken by Porter, did not place in the competition.

Charles Harris, the only other Raider that qualified to compete in the state meet, recorded a fifth place finish in the triple jump. He leaped 48 feet, 10 inches. This was his best jump of the year. On one of his jumps, Harris leaped 51 feet, six inches, but was called for a half-inch foul and the jump was scratched.

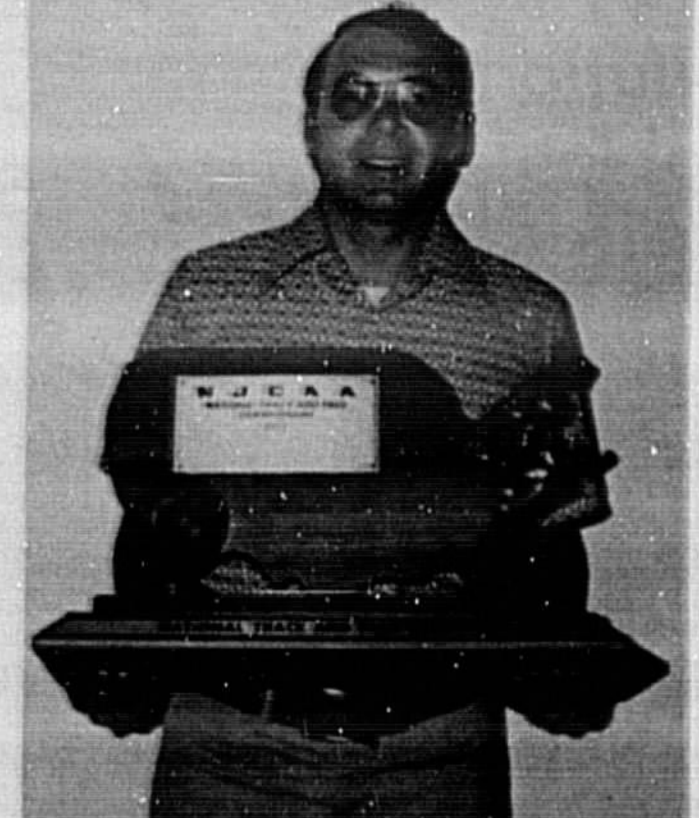

SJC Track Coach Terry Long May Take Vault Pole Himself

MESA, Arizona—Don't be surprised if Seminole Junior College track coach Terry Long starts early and walks to the national junior college track meet next year so he can personally deliver the pole vault poles.

Two years ago Allen McMillen, who is now vaulting for the Florida State University Seminoles, was unable to compete in the national meet after he arrived in Mesa and his pole didn't make it to the meet.

But that wasn't the end of the problems for Long's crew. When they arrived at the motel in Mesa, the facility had taken too many reservations and the local boys didn't have a place to stay. That problem was also solved after much running around.

With all this, the Raiders finished second in the nation (see related story). Just think how well they might have done if all had gone smoothly.

TERRY LONG, track coach at Seminole Junior College, displays the trophy his team received after they finished second in the nation in the nation meet at Mesa, Arizona. Vesco Bradley led the team with one first and two seconds and was named the most valuable player of the meet.

AWFUL members of the college set took a crack at deep sea fishing aboard Capt. Bob Orrell's "Miss Behavin'" and the results of that excursion are plain to see. The crew had a tremendous time bringing in this large catch of king mackerel.

Casselberry Legion Wins Opener, 11-1

Casselberry Post 256 captured its Legion opener last night in grand style, rolling over Bishop Moore, Post 243-11-1 at Lyman High School Field.

Larry Chumet, the Lyman High pitching ace of the past season, turned in a sparkling mound effort and only lost his shutout in the final frame when the losers managed an unearned rally.

Chumet struck out ten batters while displaying perfect control and not walking a batter. He was touched up for four hits and the one unearned run.

Hitting a key role in the victory as he was one of three Casselberry players who slammed out a trio of base hits. Chumet had three hits in four trips.

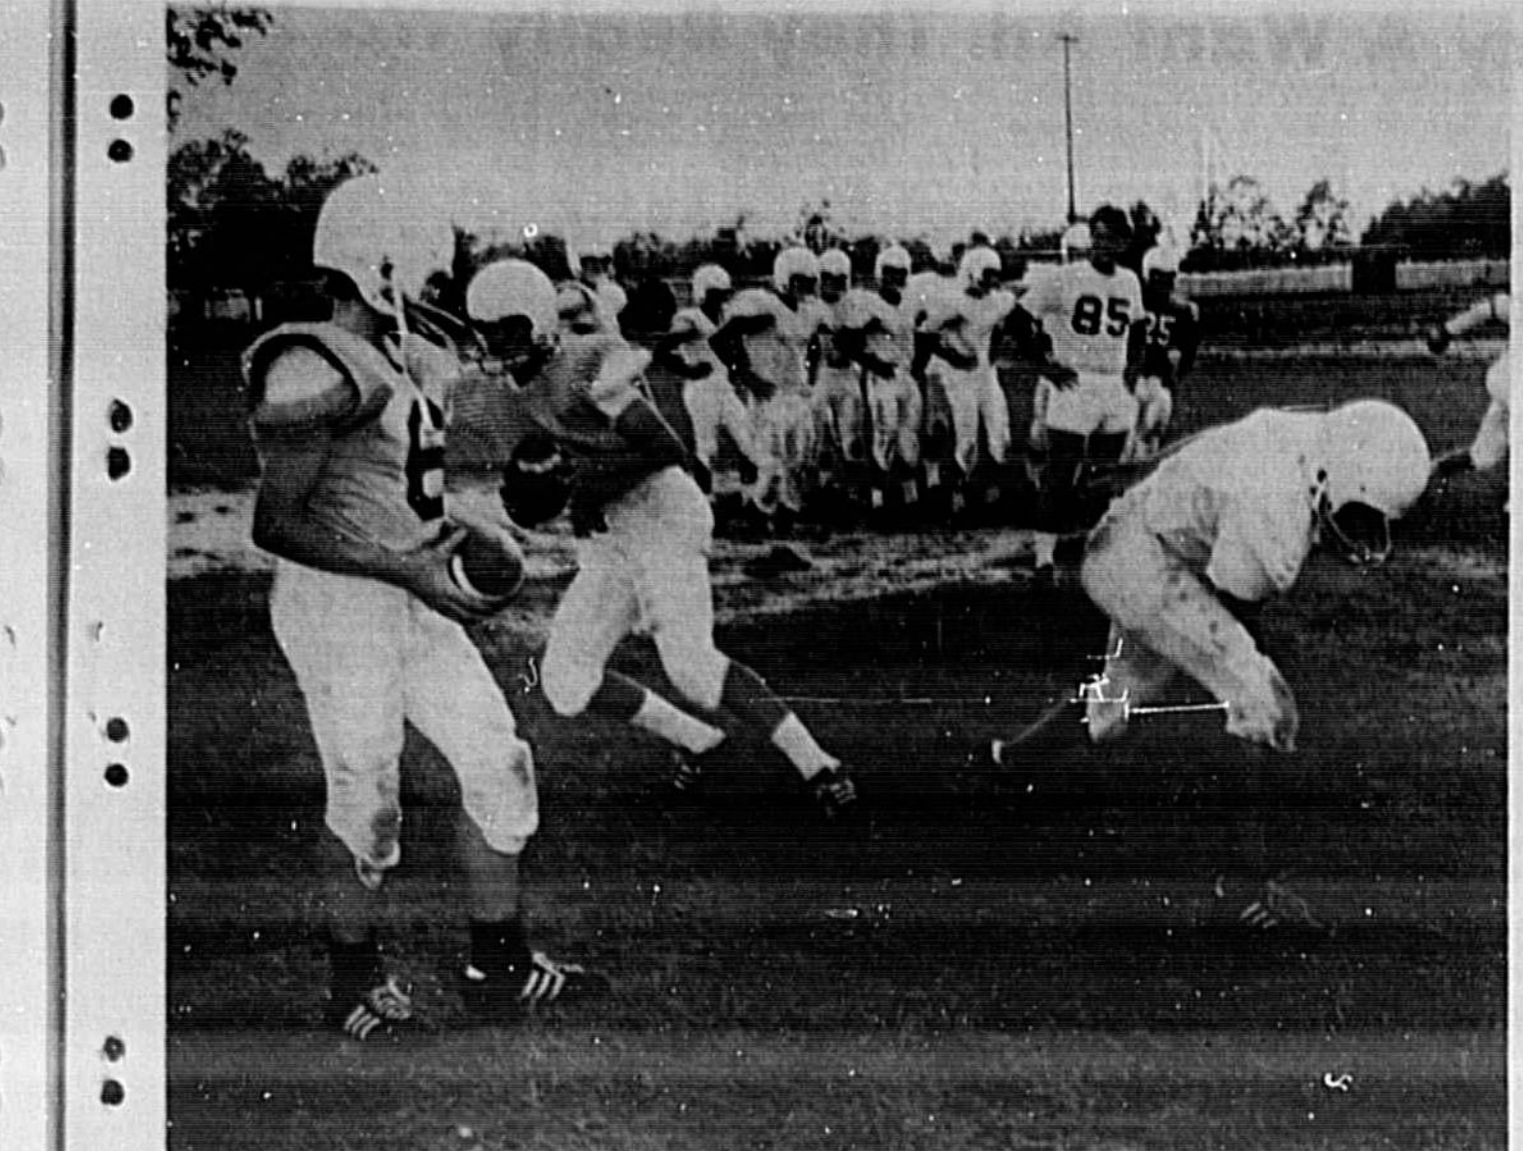

Next action for the Casselberry Post will be Friday night when they will again play all the remaining 12 leagues—30 miles—to win with a record average speed of 102.962 miles an hour. He also turned the fastest single lap at 157.533.

Al Unser, who failed in his bid to win his third straight Indy, was third when the cars crossed the finish line and Joe Leonard was fourth.

But after speedway officials upheld a protest by Unser's chief mechanic, George Bignotti, Grant was bounced out of the top 10, leaving the other finishers up a notch. The officials said Grant improperly took fuel from teammate Bobby Unser's tank during that final pit stop.

The infraction cost Grant more than just the No. 2 spot. While Al Unser took home $95,257.89 for second place and Leonard received $46,771.89, Grant wound up with $23,652.85—a loss of some $72,600 for the penalty.

Lovonzo Vinson Keys Oriole 8-3 Victory

Lovonzo Vinson was in his usual tough form yesterday as he sparked the Orioles to a 8-3 victory over the Cardinals in an Ovidio Major League battle.

Vinson started out pitching, but after four innings he gave up because of a sore arm. During that time he gave up four hits and only one run.

But it was the job with his bat that really made Lovonzo a real standout. In three official trips he had a pair of ringing triples and a single. And he scored three times.

Calvin Ward worked the final two innings for the Orioles and saved the decision for Vinson. Also helping the Oriole attack was Victor Blair with two hits in four trips.

Greg Thompson was another standout with the bat for the Indians as he slapped two hits in four trips.

Three Indian pitchers combined to pitch one hour and 15 minutes for the Braves. But errors and wildness helped keep the Braves in the game for a while. Sharing the mound duties were Willis, Jim Browdy and Ted Honer.

The Indians were behind only once when the Braves scored three in the top of the first. Six runs in the bottom of the first put the Indians ahead to stay. They added three runs in the second and third innings and then ripped for seven more in the fifth frame.

'Wrong Gas' Cost Grant

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "It's kind of hard to take someone else's place," Al Unser said. "I don't feel like we belong up here in second place."

Nobel look Mark Donohue's place. He won the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race. But Unser, who finished third in the running, wound up second after Donohue's engine failed.

Bobby Allison gunning for his third consecutive victory in the race, had his Chevrolet 100 yards in front of Baker with just 30 miles to go when his right rear tire flattened.

Charlie Glotzbach finished third in a Dodge, more than 12 miles back. Benny Parsons was fourth and LeRoy Yarborough fifth, both in Mercury.

Also Sunday, three-times Indianapolis 500 winner A.J. Foyt was hospitalized with first and second degree burns suffered during a pit stop in a 100-lap United States Auto Club dirt-track event at Du Quoin, Ill.

The mishap occurred when Foyt jerked a gas hose loose, spilling his gas and over the cockpit of his car. Foyt jumped from the car, his clothing ablaze. He was hospitalized and listed in "good" condition Monday night, but will have to undergo ankle surgery.

Denis Hulme of New Zealand outsold Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil to win Monday's Formula 1 Gold Cup race at Oulton Park, England, averaging 115.37 miles per hour. Hulme was driving a McLaren, Fittipaldi a John Player Special (Lotus).

George Follmer, who lost his pole starting position at the Bryar 200 Trans-Am road race at Loudon, N.H. Monday because his car wouldn't start, took over his teammate's Javelin and drove it to victory, averaging 153.31 miles per hour. Miller, driving a Pontiac Firebird, finished second, two laps back.

Lusty Hitting Is Making Pittsburgh Express Move

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer The Pittsburgh Express is picking up steam over moving through Philadelphia. Express manager Bill Virdon now has his crew making tracks for New York.

"I've never seen a ballclub swing the bats like they do," Manager Frank Lucchesi said after Virdon's locomotive Pirates whittled by the Phillies 7-3 and 4-2 Monday.

The sweep gave Pittsburgh 13 victories in the last 15 games and cut into the lead of the front-running New York Mets in the National League East. Despite beating St. Louis 7-4, the Mets margin dropped to 3 1/2 games. Pittsburgh's latest victories were fashioned typically—by a one-out hitting attack.

Pittsburgh's part-timers are just as hard on the opposition as the regulars. Rennie Stennett and Jose Pagan, a pair of utilitymen, played major roles Monday.

In the other National League games Monday, the Houston Astros lost to the Cincinnati Reds 8-3 and had their West lead trimmed to a mere half game over Los Angeles while the Dodgers beat the San Francisco Giants 5-2.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the Montreal Expos 5-2 and the Atlanta Braves nipped the San Diego Padres 2-1 in their action. In the American League, the Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Boston Red Sox 11-3; the New York Yankees took a pair from the Detroit Tigers 5-1 and 4-2; the Oakland A's beat the Texas Rangers twice 4-1 and 7-1; the Baltimore Orioles topped the Cleveland Indians 6-1 and the Chicago White Sox defeated California 5-4 in the first game of a tie-in bill and the Angels won the second game 3-2 in 10 innings. Rain washed out Kansas City at Minnesota.

Pittsburgh's first-game attack was led by Pagan, a 36-year-old third baseman who is usually used against left-handed pitchers. He had a home run, two doubles and a single in four at-bats, knocked in two runs and scored twice. Then Stennett, substiting for Dave Cash at second base, was the second-game hero with three hits, an RBI and a run scored.

Kiddie Corps Keep Orioles In First Place. By BRUCE LOWITT Associated Press Sports Writer "I'd hate to think where we'd be without Don Baylor, Terry Crowley and Bobby Grich," Cleveland ambled into Baltimore four games ago, leading the division. But after running headlong into the Orioles' kiddie corps and their quartet of 20-game winners, the Indians crawled out of town in third, 1 1/2 games off the pace. Baylor, Grich and right-hander Pat Dobson did the damage Monday night in leading the Orioles to a 6-1 triumph for a series sweep. In other American League games, the New York Yankees took a pair from Detroit 5-1 and 4-2, Oakland whipped Texas twice 4-1 and 7-1, the Chicago White Sox beat California 4-0 while the Angels won the 10-game series game 3-2. Milwaukee shelled Boston 11-3 and Kansas City's game at Minnesota was rained out. In the National League, the New York Mets defeated St. Louis 7-4, the Chicago Cubs beat Montreal 5-2, Atlanta topped San Diego 2-1, Cincinnati punned Houston 8-3, Los Angeles downed San Francisco 5-2 and Pittsburgh took two from Philadelphia 7-3 and 4-2. Dobson tossed a five-hitter as the Indians managed just 19 hits and four runs in the four games. Crowley had an off night at the plate but Baylor and Grich continued their hot performances with a run-batted-in apiece while Merv Rettenmund singled, doubled and tripled and scored twice. The Orioles got all the runs

Appeal Is Denied On Investigation

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Claiming he had no jurisdiction, a judge has denied an appeal by Lake County Sheriff Willis McCall after being taken from McCall's jail. McCall's petition was denied on grounds that Orange County Circuit Judge Parker Lee McDonald did not have the power to overrule Circuit Judge W. Troy Hall Jr.'s order impeding an Orange County grand jury to examine the death of Tommy J. Vickers, 34.

McDonald said only a higher court would have the authority to intervene in the case. Earlier this month Gov. Reubin Askew named Orange County State Atty. Robert Egan to head the investigation into circumstances surrounding Vickers' death.

Vickers was transferred April 20 from the Lake County Jail to Waterman Memorial Hospital in Eustis, where he died three days later of a stomach infection brought on from an apparent beating, a coroner's inquest revealed.

He had a history of mental illness. A Florida Highway Patrol trooper arrested Vickers Sept. 5 on the Florida Turnpike and charged him with having an outdated inspection sticker. After failing to appear in court, Vickers was arrested on a bench warrant April 12 in Dade County and returned to Lake County.

Prior to Egan's appointment by Askew, State Atty. Gordon Oldham of Leesburg had been conducting an independent inquiry into the inmate's death.

A chance to help... may cost you a couple of bucks, but it's the kind of therapy "money can't buy". The special educational children of Seminole County have the opportunity of competing in their own "olympics" in Tampa this weekend, but are in need of financial assistance. It would cost $10 per child and there are nine (out of 20 going) who still need our help.

Out of the hundreds who have responded to our current series of questionnaires, and especially the preponderance of those opposed to the 45-15 Plan, only Mrs. Trulock in her conversation with me this morning gave a valid reason for her strong stand against the plan. "I feel I don't want to lose my children. During the three-month summer vacations, I have a chance of getting close and sharing their company. I don't think that would be possible with the abbreviated three weeks under the 45-15 plan," said Mrs. Trulock.

If there's anything I can do to return this country to "family living" as I know it as a kid, I'm in favor of offering an assist.

Question... "if they try to enact still another law on policing the speed of boats, will there actually be any way of accurately clocking the speed?"

And along this same line, "why not a law covering the noise polluters on those air boats? How 'cum' they don't enforce the law which requires the owners to have a muffler on same?"

Was interesting while listening to TV newscaster Paul Harvey the other night while he expounded on legalized betting, etc. While everyone else encouraged that as a means of supplementing the state's depleted coffers, it was a former cop and now Mayor of Philadelphia Phil Rizzo who explained why he falling into the underworld's continued to flourish. "Because the better is always hoping to make a big kill which will bail him out of his financial troubles without having to pay any tax on his winnings. Not so with the state's collection. Not so with the state's operation. Not so with the state's with his hand cut for the government's share."

By the way, there are only five states which have these lotteries — Connecticut, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. But then, please don't forget about the gold mine — paradise Nevada.

WEATHER

Yesterday's high 89 low 68. Partly cloudy with afternoon and evening thundershowers likely. Highs 85 to 90. Low tonight near 70.

A mass of arctic air settled over the central portion of the nation today, chilling large areas from the Great Lakes to the Ozarks.

Temperatures in parts of the Midwest held in the mid-40s Tuesday, after almost two weeks of unseasonably warm weather.

Welfare Recipients Disappearing

"Work or Else" program encourages people to look for employment.

By ROBERT M. SHAW
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Due to a fledgling "work or else" program, the state's Department of Social Services reports that thousands of welfare recipients are disappearing into the job market.

Under the program, enacted by the 1971 Legislature and put into effect last July 1, welfare recipients are sorted into two basic groups—those who can hold jobs and those who cannot.

If the recipient were classified as employable, his check would be sent to the local state employment service office where he must pick it up in person.

Media Blasted At Meet

By MARION BETHA
ALAMONTE SPRINGS — City Council, Mayor Lawrence Swofford and City Attorney S. J. Davis all took a vehement verbal poke at "irresponsible journalism" in area radio and press reporting of the recent conflagration at the Seminole Jai Alai Fronton. (The Sanford Herald was not mentioned.)

Mayor Swofford said he felt the cry of the city to be unfair in that the fireman, later suspended, who dispatched the city's equipment to the fire scene was the guilty, of four violations. Further, Mayor Swofford said, the fronton was not paying the city for protection, as was Zayre's Department Store and K-Mart Shopping Center.

Thus, he said, the two latter stores were jeopardized by the irresponsible action.

The fireman, Mayor Swofford contended, had been approached by the city to afford protection, but declined the offer. Mayor Swofford explained the violations in that the fireman was guilty as being the fact of leaving the station to go to an unauthorized area; leaving the station unattended; taking loads of the city's pumps; and leaving no one to intercept calls to the Fire Department. Mayor Swofford stressed emphatically, "If he ever does it again, I will fire him."

Another misconception, Mayor Swofford said, was in the contention of the fronton that they had made a donation to the city, and therefore apparently were of the opinion that this entitled them to protection.

Mayor Swofford said there was no record in the city of any donation, but even if this were the case, $100 doesn't entitle them to fire protection for several hours. He went on to note that there are 25,000 people in the district and over a million in property and "I don't intend to give free fire protection to anyone."

Further explaining his position in the matter, Mayor Swofford said the fireman was suspended for leaving "28,000 people without fire protection for four hours."

Under commission rules, all five commissioners would have had to vote in favor of the special session.

Mayor Moore apologized to Morris for his "may" vote and explained he felt the reconsideration ought to be brought up at regularly scheduled commission session in order that all individuals and groups would have the opportunity to know of the intention and could arrange to be present when the matter was again discussed.

Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, who had joined with Meyer and McClanahan in dooming districting, previously Tuesday seconded Morris' motion for the purpose of discussion. Morris stated he had his own districting plan he wanted to discuss with other commissioners. According to the commissioner, his plan for districting the city would add two more commissioners to the board, since it is composed of six districts with the mayor running at large making a seven-man commission.

Commissioner McClanahan said he would be willing to reconsider his previous stand when the petition bearing voters signatures are presented at the June 12 regular commission meeting.

City Attorney W. C. Hutchison advised the panel that legal petitions must be certified and he expected the supervisor of elections to charge the city for having to validate the petition signatures with the voting rolls.

Mayor Moore instructed W. E. Knowles, city manager, to place the districting question on the agenda and indicated the press would advise all those persons wanting to be heard on the matter to attend the session.

SWOFFORD FIGHTS INCREASE

Opposition to the proposed doubling of the Seminole County Industrial Development Authority's 1972-73 budget was sounded today by Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swofford.

Swofford said the projected increase of the present SCIDA operating budget of $43,000 to $73,000 for the purpose of seeking industry was a waste of the taxpayer's money.

"It is a waste of money and time until the county establishes industrial parks and gets utilities in there," the mayor added. "When this is done, we can say to prospective industries, we have a place for you and they will come to us."

Swofford added, "The industrial board can advertise and pay high salaries if they want to, but until the county commission stops spending time in trying to do us any good, as long as there is a lack of cooperation from the county," Swofford added.

He noted the problems faced by Dr. J. W. Whitman, Orlando dentist, in trying to develop his industrial park near Sanford, which took an unreasonable length of time to overcome.

SCIDA Director David Kelley has proposed increasing the industrial board's budget for promotional materials advertising in periodicals and brochures.

Kelley also proposed an increase in his salary from $12,000 to $18,500 a year.

SCIDA has scheduled a 3 p.m. Friday board session to discuss the preliminary budget submitted by Kelley last Thursday at the industrial board's meeting at Seminole Junior College.

After Swofford's approval, the budget will be submitted to the county commission for approval and final approval.

Food Stamps Increase

ATLANTA, Ga.—There were 5,901 low-income Seminole County people on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamps program in March as compared to 5,614 the previous month, Russell H. James, Southeast regional administrator of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service reports.

Taking Florida as a whole, James noted, there was an increase of $227 in the food programs during the month. With 15 Florida counties changing from food distribution to food stamps, there was an increase of $1,141 on the food stamp program with a loss of $5,514 in the food distribution program.

In March 213,500 people on the food stamps program were issued $5.2 million in food stamps. This was an average of $17.44 in free stamps for each person on the program.

In the food distribution program, 194,620 people were given 3.6 million pounds of USDA-donated food.

Federal Charges Denied

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — General Dynamics Corp. has denied federal charges that the firm and four present and former officials conspired to defraud the government.

A federal indictment returned Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Dallas accused General Dynamics of charging the Air Force for defective parts for F111 fighter-bombers.

A spokesman for General Dynamics here said the charges were without merit. "When the case goes to trial and the complete facts are brought out, the charges will be shown to be groundless," the spokesman said.

The indictment charged that the Selb Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge, Ark., a subcontractor for General Dynamics on the F111, welded a number of parts in violation of contract specifications.

According to the indictment, General Dynamics scrapped the parts.
