MONA GRINSTEAD
North Orlando's Council, meeting Tuesday, heard complaints on the Village Water Dept. when a resident reported that he did not have sufficient pressure at his home during the afternoon hours to take a shower.

Mayor Frank Fasula said that maintenance crew, answering a 3:20 a.m. call a short time ago, found that a valve had been turned off. This, he said, was a deliberate act and could not have been the work of a child.

The resident was advised that an investigation would be made. In other business, W. W. Anderson, president of the North Orlando Civic Assn., told the council that a neighboring nursery has offered to return, in plants and shrubs, to the North Orlando account, five per cent of all purchase made by local residents. Civic Assn. members will take care of planting the donations and the Garden Club will handle details of selections, records and other items.

Anderson also reported that The First Baptist Church of Orlando, sponsors of the local Chapel, wishes to buy or rent a home in the community to hold services. He made reports on all ball teams sponsored by the association and Bob Stephenson, chief of the Fire Dept. which also serves as a recreation department, reported on Little League activities. The age limit has been lowered to include all boys who are seven years old, he said noting that 68 youngsters reported for play during the first meeting.

SIGNING PROCLAMATION declaring National Home Demonstration Week, April 30 through May 6, is Sanford Mayor Joe Baker while Mrs. H. L. Johnson, County Council president and Miss Myrtle Wilson, county agent, look on approvingly.

The P-T-O also will sponsor a dental clinic at the school next Tuesday.

The annual financial report of the organization and one of the P-T-O sponsored "Geneva News" will be distributed at the May 15 Spring Program to be held at the school.

Lormann Plans Request On Rail Ordinance In Town

Longwood Mayor A. R. Lormann said this morning that he will request the council at its 8 p. m. meeting in Town Hall today, to pass an ordinance which would regulate railroad traffic through the town.

A number of accidents have occurred at the crossings within the last few years, Lormann said, and he feels that some control of the speeding trains is necessary since the crossings are in such poor condition.

Longwood Sets Pre-School Event

Longwood Elementary's pre-school orientation and registration will be held at the school next Thursday.

All children who will be six years of age before January and who now reside or will reside in the attendance area of the school are asked to report with their parents at 9:30 a. m.

No child will be registered without a birth certificate or other legal proof of his birthdate.

The briefing of parents and a simple program for the children will be concluded at 11 a. m.

The county school nurse will meet with mothers who are interested in serving as clinic workers from 1 p. m. until 3 p. m. All mothers who are interested in the clinic program are urged to attend the meeting when the nurse will brief them on duties and explain the purpose of the clinic.

Son Of Sanford Family Back From SS Hope Duty

Dr. Walter Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Haynes of Sanford, is back at his Columbus, Ohio office after his tour aboard the American hospital ship, SS Hope, and in the jungles of Indonesia.

Dr. Haynes tour took him to some of the most primitive countries in the world, inhabited with headhunters and other wild native people. He left the U. S. in January and went to Makassar, in Southern Celebes, Ambon and Kupang on Timor.

Dr. Haynes is convinced that the ship and its mission are an aid to American diplomacy.

"This shows to people on the personal level that we are human beings . . . that capitalism and the American people who are capitalists have a humanitarian side," Dr. Haynes is quoted as saying.

Doctors who serve aboard the ship go as unpaid volunteers, and the ship and supplies are supported by voluntary contributions.

In referring to the Indonesian people, Dr. Haynes said, "It is hard for them to realize that it is not the government but the American people who are doing this directly."

Primary mission of the Hope ship is as a teaching center, to help the local medical practitioners to observe new methods

First U.S. Astronaut Space Flight A 'Success'

'A Beautiful View'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. flew jauntily into space aboard a Mercury capsule at 9:34 a. m. today and reported "everything okay" after a smooth landing at sea a few minutes later.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration jubilantly pronounced the flight "a success."

It was the first time an American had gone into space and it was the first time in history that anybody of any nationality had had brief control over the motions of a spacecraft.

A helicopter plucked the capsule from the Atlantic waters and placed it on the deck of the carrier USS Lake Champlain.

Shepard climbed from the capsule as soon as it was opened—then went back inside to get his helmet. Shepard was plucked out of the water by helicopter at 9:55 a. m. and a few minutes later was put down on the deck of the Lake Champlain, main ship of the down-range recovery fleet.

Shepard was in constant radio communication with the Mercury control center here or with the recovery forces throughout his historic flight.

Alan Shepard

Hundreds lined First St. in downtown Sanford this morning watching to see Astronaut Alan Shepard's space rocket blasted from the pad at Cape Canaveral at 9:34 a.m.

Watchers could see the vapor trail passing in and out of the banks of clouds as the first American pioneered his way into outer space and back, safely, in full control of the capsule all the time.

Up and down the street, cries of "God Bless him!" and "There he goes!" could be heard, as every eye was glued to the sky and ears to portable radios.

His first reported words 200 seconds after liftoff, were "what a beautiful view." He could see the curving earth north to Cape Hatteras, N. C., he reported. As he climbed out of the helicopter aboard the carrier, 30 minutes after he left the launching pad, the word from the recovery ship was that "he is under his own power and doing very well."

The space agency announced at 10:10 a. m.:
"A Project Mercury spacecraft carrying astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., on the nation's first manned space flight landed in the Atlantic Ocean about 302 statute miles from here at 9:49 a. m. The craft reached an altitude of about 115 statute miles and a speed of approximately 5,100 miles an hour. The suborbital flight of the Mercury-Redstone 3 required 15 minutes. Preliminary data indicates the pilot performed satisfactorily during the flight."

Shepard had sweated out a wait of three hours and 27 minutes on his back in the capsule atop the Redstone before the launching. Shot time had been planned for about 7 a. m. and the final countdown had started at midnight. But seven "holds" in a little more than 9½ hours delayed the launch. The 37-year-old Navy commander had been sealed in the capsule since 6:07 a. m.

At the zero second, smoke belched from the rocket's big nose, and the space vehicle rose slowly, majestically into a bright blue sky. Even in the intense sunshine, the flame from the rocket's tail shone a bright orange. Gradually the rocket gained speed, its engines still flaming. Then, as it hit the stratosphere a snow-white condensation trail streamed off behind. It passed quickly through the condensation zone, and high winds aloft spun the vapor trail into a cork-screw shape.

Seconds later the vehicle faded to a dot in the sky, then disappeared. People on the beach cheered. Many remained, talking, long after the rocket had gone out of view.

The tough, 160-pound astronaut leaped the space trail for America on a shock-absorbing contour couch in a cramped cabin smaller than a telephone booth. He had been training for this day for more than two years. He had risen shortly after 2 a. m. after a 2½-hour nap.

About 200 persons were at the pad, looking at the white rocket, gleaming in the beams of four banks of searchlights.

Zoners Ask Joint City Meet To Avoid 'Break'

In an effort to avoid an open break with the City Commission, the Zoning and Planning Board Thursday authorized Chairman Clifford McKibbin to set up a joint meeting with both boards to discuss the concepts of zoning.

Two weeks ago, the City Commission agreed to hold a public hearing May 8 on changing property at Elm Ave. at 25th St. from residential to commercial.

Although the zoning board had opposed the move, the city group said they saw no objections to the zoning change and called for the public hearing.

Zoning board member Robert Karna called for the joint meeting to discuss zoning and "see that we are agreed on the same thoughts about zoning or, if the city commission might as well get a new zoning board."

In other business, the board set May 18 to meet with Police Chief Roy Williams to discuss one way streets in the downtown area for cross traffic flow.

Approved subdivision regulations as recommended by City Planner George Simons and gave its "unofficial" approval to Simons' supplementary plan for the city.

Car Meet
The Seminole Sports Car Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p. m. today at the First Federal Bank Building.

Project Engineer Named For SR 427

The Altamonte Springs Town Council has appointed Maitland Engineer Henry Hammond Duval to work with County Engineer Carlton Bliss on proposed road changes on SR 427 (Maitland Ave.) through the town limits.

Estimated cost on the project which would mean reclassifying the road is expected to be about $100,000.

At a joint meeting of the county commission and town council two weeks ago, a decision was reached to have two engineers come up with recommendations on road changes and present them to the State Road Department.

The commission has gone on record favoring the changes—only if the cost can be held to a minimum.

Council, after considerable discussion, voted to refer to an ordinance drawn, but never passed, several years ago before turning the matter over to the attorney for further action.

Kennedy Prepared To Send U.S. Troops To Viet Nam If Necessary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today was believed prepared to send U. S. troops to South Viet Nam if necessary to save that country from Communist conquest.

Chairman William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Thursday night, after conferring with the President, that he thought Kennedy would be willing to commit American forces to prevent the fall of the pro-Western government.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Thursday the President was increasing military aid to South Viet Nam. His statement came as American officials sought by diplomatic means to salvage something from the disaster to neighboring Laos.

Fulbright said he would approve sending U. S. troops to South Viet Nam on a temporary basis provided the free Vietnamese favored such action and were willing to fight.

The Senate leader's support was seen as significant since he had opposed sending U. S. troops into neighboring Laos when hopes for a cease-fire there seemed dim.

Fulbright stopped short of endorsing any long-term commitment of U. S. forces to South Viet Nam or Thailand. He said he would want assurance first that India and Japan would take a more active military role in the situation.

The senator said he and Kennedy did not discuss the Laotian crisis. Asked whether he was writing off Laos, Fulbright said he would not like to "say that so bluntly."

"They're still negotiating for a cease-fire, and they may be able to get a government that is neutral," he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today signed into law a bill to increase the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour and extend its coverage of 3.6 million additional workers.

The signing climaxed a major legislative victory for Kennedy who almost suffered defeat on the proposal in the House.

The law will mean pay increases for an estimated 2.5 million employes on Sept. 8—the day after Labor Day. The minimum will go up to $1.15 at that time for workers already covered by the wage-hour law.

Congressional leaders and a large delegation of union officials, led by AFL-CIO President George Meany, witnessed the ceremony in the President's office.

"This doesn't finish the job, but it's a most important step forward," Kennedy said. "We can move from this improvement into greater gains in the months and years ahead."

The President used 20 pens to sign the bill and passed them around to the union and congressional leaders.

The law will mean pay increases for an estimated 2.5 million employes on Sept. 8—the day after Labor Day. The minimum will go up to $1.15 at that time for workers already covered by the wage-hour law.

Congressional leaders and a large delegation of union officials, led by AFL-CIO President George Meany, witnessed the ceremony in the President's office.

"This doesn't finish the job, but it's a most important step forward," Kennedy said. "We can move from this improvement into greater gains in the months and years ahead."

The President used 20 pens to sign the bill and passed them around to the union and congressional leaders.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today signed into law a bill to increase the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour and extend its coverage of 3.6 million additional workers.

The signing climaxed a major legislative victory for Kennedy who almost suffered defeat on the proposal in the House.

Weekend Truce Called In Redistricting Fight

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A voters elect the four new congressmen in 1963 from the state at large.

The fight will be renewed Monday when the Senate committee is scheduled to come forth with a decision, if it can reach one.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida's lawmakers rapidly approached today the hour of decision on whether to vote new taxes.

The Legislature was confronted on one hand by school teachers demanding more pay, and on the other by Gov. Farris Bryant sternly sticking to his campaign pledge that no new taxes are necessary.

Further complicating the Legislature's money problems was the plight of many counties which have failed to carry out their part in the state-ordered reassessment of property at near real cash value. These counties were asking emergency financial relief from the state to meet their money commitments under the minimum foundation program to decide whether the state should come to the rescue of the delinquent counties.

The teacher pay raise question will headline the legislative proceedings early next week. Rep. William O'Neill of Marion County said Thursday night he would have his Public Schools Subcommittee open a public hearing on the question sometime between Monday and Wednesday.

The 4-H Club District 7 event today will be held in Sanford Saturday starting at 8:30 a. m. on the Home Demonstration grounds on 25th St.

Counties taking part will be Seminole, Orange, Brevard, Volusia and Lake.

Music Week
All DAR Chapters throughout the state have been observing American Music week, during the first week of May according to Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, state chairman of American Music for the Florida Society of DAR.

Jaycees Finishing Up Park Project

The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees are putting the finishing touches to their Crystal Lake Park project in preparation for Monday's grand opening.

City, County and Chamber of Commerce officials have been invited to meet with the Jaycees at the new recreation area for dedication ceremonies at 11 a. m. Monday.

During the past four months, groups of from five to fifteen Jaycees have put in six or seven hours each Saturday on the park building complete rest room, facilities for men and women and several convenient picnic tables, completely sheltered from the weather.

A well has been dug to provide fresh water for drinking and for the restrooms and the entire area has been fenced and grass seed has been sown. To enhance the pleasant aspect of the picnic area.

Lake Crystal is a sand-bottom, spring fed lake, with a gently sloping beach, located in the Lake Mary community.

"This project is a first rate addition to the county's recreation facilities, and has been one of the main work projects of the Jaycees this year," said Glenn McCall, who is chairman of the project. He has had the assistance of about 25 young men, who together have contributed over 1,000 man hours of work, to build the project valued at $4,000 in improvement to the beach area.

Witness's-Conclave Set For Sanford May 19

The Florida Circuit Five Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses will be held in Sanford, May 19, through May 21 at the Civic Center, with more than 1000 ministers expected to attend.
Sanford ministers have been assigned organizational duties and various parts on the program with R.C. Brantley and Rush Stafford in charge of management for two of the 23 departments of the Watchtower Convention. Brantley will assist in arranging and performing baptism of new ministers which will be performed at the Mayfair Hotel Inn on Saturday afternoon.

Stafford will introduce the principal lecturer, J. A. Hinderer who will speak on "The Twentieth Century in Bible Prophecy," Sunday at 3 p. m.
Commenting on the lecture, Stafford said, "Witnesses believe that the 20th Century is marked in Bible prophecy and that divine intervention will prevent the destruction of the human race and bring perfect, righteous conditions to the entire earth."

Church Nearing End Of Drive

Members of the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church are nearing completion of a drive on behalf of the Florida Presbyterian College to be built in St. Petersburg.

Chuluota Church Sets Bible School

Rev. Charles G. Swaggerty of the Chuluota First Baptist Church has announced that the Vacation Bible School will open for two weeks beginning June 12.
Daily sessions will be held from 8:30 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. for all children from four years of age to 14 years of age.
Don Laws, principal of the school, advises that many more workers are needed in all departments and that transportation will be provided where needed.
In other news of the church, Rev. Swaggerty reported that the building of the new addition is well underway. Footings have been poured and steel girders put in place. Rough plumbing work was expected to be completed this week.
Swaggerty says that the builders have set a goal to complete at least one portion of the building in order that it may be used during the Bible School.

When the last EXAM OVER

Nothing quite compares with the exhilaration of that final day at high school.

The drudgery of note-taking, the monotony of assignments and recreation, the tedium of term papers, the nights of cramming, the tolling tension of exam week... it's all behind them.

And ahead... graduation... the press... college... a job.

But as an earnest parent, pause to take stock of your son's spiritual maturity. Has the soul's growth kept pace with the mind's?

The firmness of the bond between the Home and the Church holds the answer. Strengthen that bond every Sunday. In a world that constantly tests the faith of men... the last exam is not over.

Lake Mary Teacher Leaves To Join Husband In Germany

Mrs. Robert E. Beckwith left this week to join her husband, First Lt. Robert E. Beckwith in Furth, Germany.

She traveled by car to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey to catch a plane for the overseas station. Lt. Beckwith left in January and they plan to be in Germany for about three years.

While awaiting her travel visas and permits, Mrs. Beckwith has been engaged in teaching the second grade at Lake Mary Elementary School.

The faculty of the school feted her with a coke party before she left the school and presented her with a charm bracelet for a remembrance.

Hospital Week

Of all the community's interests and goals, perhaps none ranks higher than the health of its citizens. Most of us take our "heritage of health" too much for granted. We assume, for example, that the hospital will be there whenever we need it.

But it won't be unless we as citizens of the community make some effort, take some interest, and offer our support to this institution which stands guard over our health.

We are reminded of this today, the opening of National Hospital Week, which has this year as its theme "Your Hospital — a Community Partnership."

The hospital's part in this very important relationship has been well identified. The hospital provides care to those who need it; helps educate those who give the care; provides the setting for research which improves the care; serves as a watchdog against disease in the community, and, finally, helps educate the community in better health practices.

The hospital can do all of these only so long as it has the support of the people it serves. Thus the major responsibility of the community toward its hospital is interest in and support of the hospital's current programs and future goals.

Specifically the community's citizens can help the hospital through personal service as a volunteer; through participation in a prepayment program which assures payment for hospital care of its members; through support of full reimbursement to hospitals for care of welfare patients, and through encouragement of young people to enter health careers.

Our hospitals do a fine, all too often unsung, job of providing the best possible care at the lowest possible cost. We hope you will join us in saluting the hospital this week and in giving it your unbounded support all the year.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE H-477: Donna D., aged 34, says she is a nervous wreck. "Dr. Crane," she began, "my husband criticizes everything I do. "And he flares up on the slightest excuse. Then he even curses me right in front of our 7-year-old boy.

"He even calls me vile names and says he never did love me, even on our wedding day. "Although I try my best to be a good wife and mother, where have I failed?

"I am a pretty good cook, and keep the house fairly neat and clean. "And I teach a Sunday School class and belong to the P.T.A., so I try to be a good influence on my son. What's wrong?"

It takes 2 good women to make a good husband, and the first is his mother.

If she spoils her son and permits him to grow up as a temper tantrum brat, even an angel from heaven may not be able to live with him.

So you girls should shop around wisely BEFORE you say "Yes" to a proposal.

Visit the man's home before you marry. Talk to his friends and even his former school teachers.

"Case" the man as thoroughly as a modern bank robber "cases" his next victim. For you invest your entire life when you marry, so use some American gumption (horse sense).

When people flare up in temper, it usually means they are unduly fatigued, hungry or overly irritated.

Donna's husband was in a partnership with a brother whose wife was bookkeeper of the firm. The letter was "milking" the partnership of money for her personal shopping spree.

Donna knew that and so did her husband. But he hesitated to make a fuss, out of loyalty to his brother.

Yet it rankled and he often came home full of ire, which erupted on his wife and child, though it should have been vented on his brother and the latter's wife.

This is a common form of "transference," where a business or professional man projects anger on his family that was generated at his place of work.

It is simply displaced anger, transferred to the safety of his home where he figures he can get it off his chest without losing customers or his job.

But many men also grow angry at the unwitting sexual indifference of their wives. Donna was guilty on this score.

She deflated her husband's erotic ego by lack of enthusiasm when he grew romantic. So, in his bitterness, he tried to whittle her down to an even lower ego level than his own.

You wives can generally change a snarling "bearcat" mate into a purring "housecat" by joining the "Compliment Club" and paying him verbal praise.

But one of the most effective forms of compliment to a husband is visible evidence of your enthusiasm when he grows ardent.

Quit planning tomorrow's menus when your husband is making love to you!

Send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 30 cents.

It can change your attitude "chore" into a restful thrill that will transform irritable husbands.

From Rome

Henry McLemore

ROME—For the sake of our gold reserves I hope millions of Europeans respond to President Kennedy's invitation to make the Atlantic a two-way ocean.

For the sake of the Europeans, especially the Italians, I hope they take a course in Pedestrianism before they land in the United States.

If they don't, they all stand a good chance of coming back on crutches, in wheel chairs or, at best, heavily bandaged and reeking of medication.

By Pedestrianism I mean how to walk in America. It's an entirely different business from walking in Europe, especially in the cities. Let a man from Rome, or Naples, or Milan, walk in our cities as he does in his own, and he'll be in an ambulance long before he sees the Empire State Building, Niagara Falls, or Wall Street.

I don't believe there is any such word in Italian as "jaywalking." And if there is it means "the standard method of crossing a street used by Italians of all ages, and which is approved by the police."

Oh, there are a few traffic lights in Italy, and in Rome one runs across black-and-white pedestrian crossing lanes now and then, but they are chiefly ornamental, and serve to show the visitor that Rome knows what is going on in the rest of the world.

No one ever uses them unless he happens to be handy. No Roman would walk half a block to reach one. He would much rather stroll across in the middle of the block, defying the motorists to hit him, or matching his speed of foot with the alacrity of the cars.

To do this in New York would be fatal. Also in Buffalo, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, and New Orleans. In Italy the motorist is conditioned to a pedestrian's stepping directly in his path. In the United States the motorist is taught that the road, for the most part, belongs to him. He isn't accustomed to making his way along a street choked with people.

Streets in Italian cities, especially the narrow, crooked ones, are used as promenades by men and women. They stroll along, three or four abreast, almost blocking the passageway. Honking does not move them over, until they feel like moving aside. Neither does a roaring of the motor or (at night) the blinking of lights.

The danger of walking in the middle of the road, just around a curve, never enters the Italian's mind. He never thinks a motorist will come swooping around a curve and nail him in his tracks. And few motorists do. They know from long experience that it is a good bet that just around every curve there is either a pedestrian, a woman with a baby carriage, two boys playing soccer, a pair of bicyclists, or a man prodding a cow along.

If the Italian goes to the United States without a stiff briefing on how to walk, and proceeds to walk as he does at home, he won't make anybody any richer save hospitals, doctors and manufacturers of splints and tractions.

Your Pocketbook

Are you a young lady with college or high school sheepskin in hand, ready to challenge the big town?

How can you live within your $3,000 gross pay? How can you save? What pitfalls should you guard against?

"An awful lot of young people are unrealistic in terms of money," says Elizabeth Oliver, director of the personal service department of New York City's YWCA.

Miss Oliver had just finished trying to outline a budget for a girl who had run up $900 worth of department store bills in three months. Her weekly salary is $350.

Easy credit is the big temptation, the wrecker of many a well-intentioned budget.

Experts such as Miss Oliver have worked out figures that can guide the newcomer as to what she might expect to pay for rent, food, transportation. Inquire about these costs before you go to your "big town."

Roughly, this is how the single girl should figure: One week's take-home pay should cover shelter, that is rent and utilities, including the telephone. That does not include upkeep on furnishings and cleaning. In high rent areas you might have to exceed this figure.

In most metropolitan centers you can expect to spend a minimum of $12.00 weekly for food. This breaks down into breakfast and dinner prepared at home, costing $4.35, and $4.25 for restaurant lunches on working days.

According to the U. S. Department of Labor, the average working girl spends 14 per cent of her annual pay on her wardrobe.

One of a girl's most important assets, in the event of emergency, is her credit rating. Department store charges, especially those unpaid for months, will never satisfy a banker should she want a loan.

A savings account, no matter how small, would count. Only after a girl is well established in her job should she think of borrowing—unless perhaps to finance education.

Don't let monthly repayments on loans exceed 18 per cent of your weekly take-home pay.

Since fooling the clothes bill seems a major problem, I asked one of New York's leading fashion authorities for her advice on how to look smart and still spend modestly. Here is her advice:

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The ugly subject of cold war peace-time censorship has been raised here. It came up at a two-day State Department background briefing conference for several hundred newspaper editors, editorial writers and foreign affairs columnists from all over the United States.

It was an indoctrination program, designed to let the news analysts know how things were going on the New Frontier. The answer seemed to be that things aren't going too well.

The news was so bad that at the end of the conference one editor asked for an opinion on the Kentucky Derby. The answer was, "It will be sad for everyone who loses."

The rule of the conference was that none of the government officials who spoke to the writers can be quoted. The information they revealed, however, can be reported.

And it is not out of order to report that the dozen officials on the program ranged from President Kennedy, who answered questions off the record for half an hour, down to a deputy second assistant secretary for public information.

The subject of censorship came up in several discussions of the Cuban situation which, it was admitted, hadn't turned out too well. It was pointed out first that the United States didn't have an "Official Secrets Act," like the British. This makes it a crime for British newspapers to print information damaging to the national interest.

It was further pointed out that some lawyers believed such a law would be unconstitutional in the United States, where freedom of speech is guaranteed and where the press is absolutely free.

It was made clear, too, there is no desire to set up the Soviet system under which the newspapers can print only what the government tells them to print. This gives the Russians their biggest advantage in covering up Communist dirty work. Such behavior is not for the United States.

Without anyone making any direct or nasty charges about it, the inference was that the failure of the Cuban revolution was partly the fault of the American press because it printed too much about the affair that wasn't true.

It was charged that too many reporters went around interviewing any Cuban refugees they could find, quoting them as authorities on the revolutionary movement, often on false rumors.

This was immediately challenged. One writer pointed out that if the Cuban invasion plan was ill-conceived, printing more about it at the start might have prevented the fiasco.

Washington reporters, of course, beat their brains out at the Pentagon trying to find out what was going on. They learned nothing. And at Central Intelligence Agency they learned even less.

A Florida editor revealed that representatives of the papers who knew what was going on in the refugee camps met in Fort Lauderdale and agreed they would publish nothing of the invasion plan. Much to their chagrin, they woke up one day to find the whole story exposed in a metropolitan paper identified only as "in the north-eastern United States."

This led to a suggestion that the newspapers ought to work out some voluntary censorship plan of their own. The idea was not received with any applause.

It was made clear, however, that the United States might find itself in many other situations like the Cuban affair during the next 10 years. The newspapers would have to decide for themselves what to print and what not to print.

It was recalled that in wartime, many correspondents had signs over their typewriters, "Will It Help the Enemy?" This was to remind them constantly to file nothing that would hurt American interests or endanger the lives of Americans and their allies.

Letters

Dear Editor: The spring vacation exodus of college students to Florida is over. The last of the sun-burned, sweat-soaked, "casual" students have returned to their northern haunts of higher learning. But, back on campus, a new movement is in the spring air, the summer trip to Europe. The bulletin boards in the administration building and outside many classrooms are covered with various pamphlets, folders, posters, and letters telling of the wonderful experiences to be encountered this coming summer in Europe.

Courses in history, literature, and foreign languages, taught in English, are offered at universities throughout the Continent. These courses usually include three periods of travel of about a week's duration each; before the summer sessions open, at the middle of the term, and the final excursion after the term closes. Credit is given for work completed abroad and often is acceptable toward a degree at American colleges and universities. These study-travel experiences in foreign lands are a good attempt to balance a summer of study and recreation in Europe.

For those who shy away from studying, there are guided tours to many of the well known recreation centers. What is seen and experienced is of educational nature, though some students place its social value above its educational possibilities. Depending upon your time, resources, and desires, such trips range from the seventeen day jet excursion to the full three month tour of Europe. Though the jet age is here, passage on a first-class steamer is still the preferred way to travel if time permits. The ocean voyage remains a part of the "trip to Europe."

And, for those who like to go their own way, there are free travel services available, free suggested tours, free guides and information to all of western Europe, and many small come-on free offers by various transportation and accommodation corporations. Regardless of the way you choose to see Europe, it is all very exciting and socially stimulating to read and discuss the ways and means to spend the coming summer abroad.

I am still a college student. I have experienced the enthusiasm and the enjoyment of planning a trip to Europe. I have worked and saved and in time, I have had my trip to Europe. My motivation was to seek the European experience; to see some of the cities, countries, and peoples that I, as a history student, had often studied.

I went to Europe alone and traveled through much of western Europe. Like most Americans, I did take some pictures as I traveled, but more important, I kept a journal of the people and experiences I encountered. For three months I filled my notebook and head with new sights, sounds, and ideas. It was a great experience, a part of a liberal arts education.

At last, when I did return home, I found I had learned not so much about Europe as I had about the United States. From Europe I attained a point of observation, a place from which I could look to the country from which I had come. The Europeans I met opened my eyes to the United States and for the first time, I became aware of its size, character, and resources we all too often take for granted. For those who now prepare for a trip abroad, I would say, like Thoreau, you go to the woods not so much to learn of the woods, but of yourself. Go to Europe and learn of our United States.

Sincerely yours,
Byron H. Dudley

Mrs. Swofford Installed As P-TA President

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS
Mrs. C. S. Swofford, first president of the Altamonte Springs Parent-Teacher Assn., installed new officers at a final meeting of the group Tuesday.

Taking over next year will be Mrs. Martin Dunn, president; Mrs. Lawrence Swofford, first vice president; School Principal George Dabba, second vice president; Mrs. George E. Macneil, secretary and Don Hasley, treasurer.

Following installation, a regular business session was conducted with members planning a turkey dinner to be held May 18 in the school cafeteria. Serving will be from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m. Adult, children and family plan tickets will be available.

Mrs. Lawrence Swofford is chairman of the supper and is to be assisted by Mrs. Trudy Bryant and Mrs. Claude Winningham.

After a classroom visitation period, a program directed by School Music Instructor Mrs. Holton featured fifth and sixth grade students who sang a variety of Civil War songs.

Mrs. Howard Falcarelli gave a resume of the projects undertaken and accomplished during the year. Since she is going out of Orange County, members presented her with a gift in appreciation of time and work spent with the P-TA.

The remainder of the program was under direction of Mrs. E. T. Gaines and school students who presented "The Star Playhouse."

Raymond Gaines served as an announcer for four skits entitled "The Princess Who Couldn't Dance," "The Little Witch Who Tried," "A Gift of the Fairies" and "Jimmy Cinders."

Israel Bars Way For Four Eichmann Witnesses

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel barred the way today to four more possible witnesses for Adolf Eichmann by branding them as war criminals and announcing they would be arrested if they set foot in this country.

The action brought to a total of eight the number of West Germans who have been denied safe conduct to Israel for the purpose of testifying for the defense. The court of three Israeli judges had ruled it has no authority to grant or deny safe conduct because that is a function of the executive branch of the government.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner, speaking for the executive branch said: "I hereby declare that if these persons set foot on the soil of Israel they will be arrested under the 1960 laws for the punishment of Nazis and their collaborators."

Hausner's announcement followed the introduction of documents which the prosecution contends prove conclusively Eichmann had personal charge of the extermination of Jews in Eastern Europe.

They showed that Nazi secret police headquarters in Berlin early in 1942 had taken over responsibility for all Jewish affairs in the occupied territory as well as in Germany itself.

"If we bear in mind," said Hausner, "that Eichmann was the person designed to deal with this in the RSNA, then the whole circle is closed."

Another document stated that 135,000 Jews and Communists were killed by the Nazis in Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia in the first three months of the German occupation.

Eichmann is being tried by Israeli court on charges he was responsible for the murder of six million Jews by the Nazis.

CIA Inquiry Set By Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Paul J. Kilday, (D-Tex.), has decided that his armed services subcommittee will launch an exhaustive review of the activities of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Kilday, whose House group is charged with supervising the CIA, said the closed-door inquiry would look for "answers to a number of questions posed by the agency's operations during the last 14 years."

He told United Press International he did not intend to conduct a "witch hunt," but would search for ways to improve the organization and procedures of the agency. The CIA has been under congressional fire since the abortive Cuban invasion.

Through the Senate Foreign Relations Committee quizzed CIA chief Allen W. Dulles about last year's U2 flight over Russia and the Cuban fiasco, Kilday's inquiry will be the first full-scale congressional review of U. S. intelligence activities in more than 10 years.

The congressman said it would start after retired Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy make their recommendations about the agency to President Kennedy.

Kilday said that ending the agency's responsibility for carrying out secret operations against other governments "might be one area Congress should explore."

Busy Bees Patrol Girls Work On Rank Advances

Mrs. Nance Russell, leader of Girl Scout Troop 338 of Longwood, met with members of North Orlando's Busy Bees Patrol Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mona Grinstead to conduct the girls through the impressive flag ceremony.

As an achievement step to earn their second class rank, Debbie Davis, Patty Harville, Barbara Derum, Cathy Dean and Gayle Atchison presented a skit which they also wrote and directed. Next week will see the five girls complete the rank.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served to the girls and their invited guests. Adults attending the meeting were Mrs. Malvin Campbell, Mrs. Frank Bailey and Mrs. Russell.

Mrs. Grinstead says that the patrol is planning regular weekly summer workshop sessions in which arts and crafts works will be predominant. The summer program also will include a number of recreational activities such as swimming, skating and picnicking.

A car wash to be held in the community is planned for the near future to raise funds for materials needed to conduct the workshop, the leader reported.

She also advised that after next week's meeting, girls will begin work on sewing kits made from cigar boxes and wall paper. They also will be working towards getting plastic covered cushions to be used at outdoor sessions.

Mrs. Maude Worth will assist with the summer program, Mrs. Grinstead said.

Space Budget Gets Big Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Space Committee has added $126.8 million to President Kennedy's space budget and nearly tripled funds for America's attempt to beat Russian cosmonauts to the moon.

The committee Thursday formally increased by $17.9 million the $88.7 million increase in the space budget that it had tentatively approved Wednesday.

The largest boost—$50.2 million—was for the Apollo spacecraft. Apollo is designed to carry three U. S. astronauts around the moon. The trip, now scheduled for 1967, would have to precede an actual landing of the moon's surface.

The committee also granted $38.5 million more for research on two space boosters powered by nuclear fuel and solid propellants. Kennedy indicated at a recent news conference that those boosters might offer America's best chance to surpass Russia in the space race.

Hospital Expansion Bid Opening Set

Seminole Memorial Hospital officials will open bids on its new 60 bed hospital addition May 31, Hospital Administrator Harry Weir said today.

The bids will be opened in the office of Architect John Burton at 8:15 p. m. on that day.

The new 60 bed expansion, plus enlargement and expansion of other facilities will increase the hospital financial worth to the county as well as its facilities.

The present payroll now runs about $400,000 a year and employs 135 people. With the new addition, the gross expenditures of the institution will reach nearly a million dollars a year, 60 percent of which goes out in salaries.

Kennedy's College Bill To Be Trimmed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republicans today were planning an attempt to trim $800,000 from President Kennedy's college aid bill by limiting the measure to construction.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, (R-Minn.) ranking GOP member of an education subcommittee that cleared the bill several weeks ago, conceded the move probably would be rebuffed by the Democratic majority on the full Education and Labor Committee.

It was possible GOP members would make the effort to cut the proposed $2.4 billion college aid bill today. If not, the attempt to eliminate scholarship provisions will be made next week.

A few pieces of scrap...wet sand...a toy automobile...and our ingenious youngster builds his own waterfront estate.

But what will happen when he turns from playing in the sand to planning and building tomorrow's homes or factories or industrial projects?

Will he be permitted to work in a stimulating climate of free enterprise...to plan and build and sell according to the American way of open competition? Or, will the strangling controls of socialism and bureaucracy choke off his initiative and ingenuity?

The kind of world he faces will depend largely on how effectively we oppose all threats to our personal and economic freedoms. Constant vigilance and ceaseless resistance are, as they always have been, this nation's bulwarks against the powerful influences that would destroy our way of life.

Big Story

The Altamonte Adventurer, the Altamonte Springs school newspaper, held a Spring Literature Contest. The following are the winners. Primary Division—Story Contest: The Turtle Egg and The Chicken, by Virginia Carlisle, third grade.

One day a rooster walked out of a barn. All of a sudden he saw an egg. His wife always wanted an egg to hatch but she never hatched one. So he picked it up and ran to give it to his wife. When she saw the egg she was very startled and happy. She was so happy she sat on it that very minute, but to her surprise the minute she sat on it, it hatched. It was a turtle but she didn't care because it was a baby to care for. Years and years passed and the turtle was twelve years old. She didn't like him so much now because every time he called for something she had to get it or he would snap off her tail. So from that time on he got his way.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married less than a year to a man who, I think, is a mental case. I never loved him, but he wouldn't leave me alone. He threatened to take his life if I didn't marry him. Besides, I was a divorcee with 3 teenaged children, and this man could give us a home and security. (He has a lot of money.) He is 58 and I am 33.

Well, he couldn't get along with my children and he got very tight with his money. We fought all the time, and he would yell and storm and break up the furniture. He took rat poison last week—but not enough. The doctor tells me he needs mental treatment. Can I put him away in an institution? If I can prove he wasn't all there when he married me, can I get an annulment? Where will this leave me financially? NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: His doctor can tell you whether your husband should be institutionalized. And a lawyer can tell you if you are entitled to an annulment, and also where "this leaves you, financially."

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that mothers are stricter with daughters, but will let their sons do anything they want? That is the situation in our family and I have talked to my friends and they say the same thing. VIRGINIA

DEAR VIRGINIA: Don't complain,

dear. It all averages out. The fathers are stricter with the boys.

DEAR ABBY: I have a buddy who is running around on his wife. They have seven kids and she is just about the sweetest girl I know. I can't bear to see her treated like this. She is only 25, and as pretty as a picture.

She's been giving him a family at the rate of one a year, so she isn't able to go dancing every night. But he does.

I would give my right arm for a girl like her, but she wouldn't look at another man. I am sure she knows he chases because sometimes he comes home with lipstick all over him. And sometimes he doesn't come home at all. How can I help her? A BUDDY'S BUDDY

DEAR BUDDY: You can help her by helping your buddy to straighten up.

CLARK GABLE and Vivien Leigh in a scene from "Gone With The Wind" coming Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

'Gone With The Wind' At Ritz

'Gone With The Wind' one of the greatest screen epics of all time will be at the Ritz Theater Sunday.

When students measure milestones in movie magic, they usually put the "burning of Atlanta" sequence in "Gone With The Wind" at the top of the list. That thrilling scene, which made movie history, will be seen again in David O. Selznick's memorable production of "Gone With The Wind," presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in tribute to the year of the Civil War Centennial. The fore-runner of today's big-scale, the screen version of Margaret Mitchell's enduring novel stars Clark Gable in his never-to-be-forgotten role of Rhett Butler, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland in a giant cast including 59 principal players and thousands of extras.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR and Laurence Harvey in a scene from "Butterfield 8" coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

'Butterfield 8' Coming To Drive-In

Elizabeth Taylor plays the most daring, down-to-earth and dramatically powerful role of her career in "Butterfield 8," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film version of the widely-read novel by John O'Hara coming to the Movieland Sunday.

Also starred in the spotlight cast are Laurence Harvey, who won an Academy Award nomination for his brilliant work in "Room at the Top," and Eddie Fisher, with Dina Merrill co-starred. Miss Taylor won an academy award for her part in this film. The other feature on the program is "Where The Boys Are." Both films will play through Tuesday.

On Wednesday and Thursday, "The Cavalry" and "Operation Madball" will play and "Rio Bravo" and "Female On the Beach" will play Friday and Saturday.

Twain Classic Set For TV

"The Adventures of Mark Twain," starring Fredric March as Samuel Clemens, the great American Story Teller, will be featured Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p. m. on WLOF-TV, Channel 9.

This warm, family type comedy-drama has won 4 Academy Award nominations. The special program Saturday will include a salute to area schools.

Kiss Costs Sailor $9,800 Damages

MIAMI (UPI)—A kiss cost a Miami sailor $9,800 Tuesday in Dade County Circuit Court.

A jury awarded the damages to pretty 20-year-old Loretta Ann Potts of Miami Beach. Sanford Richard Wagner, 19, a Miami sailor, was kissing her Easter Eve when the car he was driving at the same time crashed into a light pole.

Wagner's attorneys admitted the kiss, but contended Miss Potts "did then and there kiss the defendant in full and complete cooperation."

No matter, the jury decided. They found Wagner negligent and awarded Miss Potts the money to pay for cuts and bruises she received in the accident.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Every year at this time "Help, Help" letters start coming in from women who want me, to please, write something about relatives and friends who make a habit of envying themselves for a two-week vacation.

The letters used to come mainly from women on farms whose city cousins had fallen into the habit of using Cousin Sue or Uncle Ed's farm as a free vacation spot.

Now the letters are also from suburban and small town housewives who are having their homes or vacation cabins turned into summer hotels by families and friends who want an inexpensive vacation.

One wife writes that each summer she has one family that chooses to make her home headquarters for sleeping and eating while they pay calls on other relatives. "It wouldn't be so bad," she says, "except that their children have such peculiar eating habits that I have to plan the meals around the few foods their children will eat. And, also, it is a little less than flattering to have our home used as a hotel year after year because, as these relatives point out, "we aren't as cramped in your house as we would be somewhere else."

About the only thing I can suggest to these women who start in the spring dreading summer because of all the self-invited guests who turn their houses into hotels is to beat their guests at their own game by sending out the following letter:

"Jim and I received your letter saying that you would like to spend two weeks in July with us. We're dying to see you. "But instead of your having to make the trip this year, we have decided that we will come to visit you. After all, you shouldn't have to do all the traveling.

"So you can count on our being with you. The children are excited about the trip. Don't worry about our being cramped. We won't mind at all. If you will just rent a baby bed and a high chair for little Jimmy, we'll be able to manage just fine. We can hardly wait to see you."

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Here is another hand where the bidding was the same at both

IT'S TIME!

Yes, it's time that the science of air conditioning is explained to the public in clear, concise language so that the average mature person understands exactly what he is buying. In order to do this, Southern Air of Sanford will publish a series of articles dealing with the various phases of air conditioning. This article and those to follow, will be based on facts from three sources, technological, medical and over twenty years of practical experience.

Your Dealer

Your equipment, regardless of type or brand, is no better than the people who install it. Recently we have had calls from folks in the Sanford area who had their equipment installed by companies 30 to 60 miles away. Now is it reasonable to believe that a company would send a service man and truck on a call requiring a 100-mile round trip, particularly if the call has to be made at night? From a pure dollar and cents point of business you must realize that such a call is highly impractical.

Let us consider a unit still in warranty. Your warranty calls for free replacement of parts and you pay the labor. The only way a business which has a 60 to 100-mile round trip can possibly break even, is to run up the labor charge. This charge has to be far in excess of what your local dealer would charge. If the unit is out of warranty, then the practice is to keep labor charges down and up the price on parts.

Now consider the local dealer. He buys or leases in the Sanford area; employs local help, pays taxes, buys vehicles, groceries, clothing and the normal purchases in the Sanford area. He lives here, raises his children here and is part of the community. His success depends on his service, his technical know-how and his business ethics. We feel that in this area we can do a real fine job of installation and service. Therefore, it is not our practice to go cruising around in distant areas, doing spot jobs and neglecting the principles of good sound business.

and opened his singleton diamond. After a low card from dummy East played the ten and South won with the jack.

A low heart was won by West's ace and West led a trump. South won in his hand; ruffed a heart; came back to his hand with a club; ruffed his last heart with dummy's last trump; ruffed a club to get back to his own hand; drew trumps and conceded a diamond for five odd and plus 650.

At the other table West opened a trump. South won in his own hand and led a heart. West took his ace and led a second trump. South won that trick; ruffed one heart in dummy; led a diamond and finessed the jack; drew trumps and eventually lost two diamond tricks to wind up down one and minus 100 for a net loss of 13 IMPs.

The man who led the trump is certainly to be congratulated on his lead. Of course, South could have still made the hand by finessing the nine of diamonds, but South was not looking at all the cards.

Big Field Seen For River Marathon; Debbie Scott To Be Queen For A Day

DEBBIE SCOTT

The city finished widening the Lake Monroe boat launching ramp Thursday in preparation for the St. Johns River Outboard Marathon Sunday.

The ramp was widened to accommodate an expected large field of entrants in the six classes of outboards which will make the long grid to Jacksonville and return.

The race will begin at 8 a.m. Sunday in front of the bandshell and the winner is expected to fly by the finish marker sometime after noon.

Members of the Sanford Boat and Ski Club will be host club along with DeLand, Orlando, Winter Park, Palatka and Jacksonville clubs in the marathon association.

The block of Hood Ave. along the city public parking lot and the two blocks of Seminole Blvd. from Park Ave. to Palmetto Ave. will be closed to traffic starting Saturday afternoon to allow gassing up and launching of boats and parking of trailers. The ramp will be open to entrants only.

Gassing up and registration will begin Saturday afternoon and the public city officials have asked that the public keep well clear of the big gas truck while the operation is underway.

The Coast Guard Auxiliary will patrol the race course along the St. Johns to keep pleasure craft and spectators out of the path of the speedy outboards. Boaters were cautioned by supervisors of the race to exercise caution during the hours of the event.

There will be a gas stop at Shell Harbor at Welaka and position reports will be made to the bandshell area by radio through cooperation of the Coast Guard.

Hebert Brothers Pace Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—This is a show business town and the brother act of Jay and Lionel Hebert is making a big hit.

Jay, the 38-year-old drawing Cajun from Lafayette, La., is the No. 1 man in the brother act and he's also the leader today going into the second round of the $52,000 78-hole Tournament of Champions golf classic.

Jay shot a first-round six-under-par 66 on the par 36-56-72 Desert Inn course to grab a one-stroke edge over the veteran trio of Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros and Doug Ford who came in at 67.

Carry Back Favored In Derby Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The field for the 87th Kentucky Derby was set at 15 and the starting alignment fixed by post, but owners, trainers and jockeys still huddled today over strategy for Saturday's running of the $163,000 turf classic.

There was no secret session between Jack Price, who conditions Carry Back, the 5-2 favorite, and young Johnny Sellers, the tall jockey who will ride him over the mile and one-quarter distance.

"I never give Johnny any instructions," Price said.

"Do you want me to get blamed if the horse gets beat?" he quipped. "No, all I do is tell him to get a hold of a racing form, go over the horses he is up against and plan his own race. He knows what he is doing and he has been doing fine so far."

Price was referring to Carry Back's victories this year in the Everglades, the Flamingo and the Florida Derby.

Nor was Tom Kelly, trainer of the $90,000 Globemaster, any longer concerned with battle plans.

Ever since he arrived here from New York with Globemaster a few days after the colt won the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct, beating Carry Back, Kelly has been studying charts.

He poured over the fractional times in which previous Kentucky Derbys were run to determine how fast the early stages had been timed and the results produced.

Kelly has decided to "send him" and predicts that "any horse that tries to go with Globemaster will be wiped off the board."

This is a risky plan in a mile and one-quarter race but it has worked many times in the past.

"That is the way Globemaster won the Wood," Kelly points out.

Anonymous Note Swings Race Bill OK

A grinning Mack Cleveland Jr. Saturday told how an anonymous note and teamwork in the Senate and House gave Seminole County its harness racing bill.

The Senate enacted the veto bill by a 25-11 vote and the House by a 69-18 vote.

It took only a single hour—just before both bodies were set to recess for lunch Friday. Gov. Farris Bryant had vetoed the bill earlier in the week declaring he was obligated not to extend any legalized gambling in the state.

The key role in the governor's defeat was played by Sen. C. W. Young of Pinellas Park, the Senate's lone Republican who was outside the chamber when the roll was called on the measure. The other opponent of the bill, Sen. Cliff Herrell of Miami Springs, had been excused from attendance because of a death in his wife's family.

Why was Young out of the Chamber? Cleveland tells it this way: "Young was called out by an anonymous note asking a conference with him on congressional redistricting when he got outside the chamber no one was waiting for him and by the time he got back to the Senate Chamber the votes had been recorded. Cleveland as well as Gordon Frederick and Sen. Bernard Parrish, worked around the clock from Tuesday "jockeying for the proper position to get the bill okayed by a two-thirds majority," Cleveland said.

The local delegation also was helped by the small county block who fought for the bill.

However, the big boost was the note.

When questioned on who sent it—Cleveland just grinned and grinned.

TWO SANFORD Naval Air Station men were hurt in this car after a two-car collision at Oak Ave. and 25th St. late Saturday night.

Two NAS Men Hurt In Two Car Smash-Up

Two Sanford Naval Air Station men were injured in a two-car smash-up late Saturday on Oak and 25th St., police reported.

The men were identified as Michael Rickert and George McCarter. Both suffered cuts on the head and back injuries.

Police said that a car driven by Rickert collided with a vehicle operated by Paul Vincent Chauncey of Lake Mary.

Rickert was charged with failure to yield the right of way. Damage to his car was set at $700 with $800 to the Chauncey vehicle.

The Sheriff's office reported two accidents over the past weekend.

Early Saturday morning a car operated by Charles Edward Reese of Sanford Naval Air Station, traveling west on SR 415 about three miles east of Sanford going "at a high rate of speed" came off the roadway from the Duten Bridge and hit a concrete wall, according to Deputy S. J. Krix.

The car was declared a total loss and Reese was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control.

That same morning, Krix said that a car traveling on Highway Ave., five miles west of Altamonte Springs and operated by John Francis McDowell of Orlando, went off the road and hit a power pole. McDowell was charged with reckless driving and damage to his car was set at $700, Krix said.

Negro Faces Assault Charge

A Sanford Negro was charged with aggravated assault Saturday night after he shot Vivian Jamison in the left chest with a .32 caliber gun, the Sheriff's Office reported.

The assailant was identified as Charles Harris, 707 Bay Ave. A preliminary hearing was scheduled today before County Judge Vernon Mize.

The Negro woman was listed in fair condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital this morning.

Shepard Gets Hero's Welcome

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's first astronaut, Cdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., flew here today to receive a kiss from his wife and a medal from President Kennedy.

He collected the kiss from Louise Shepard at Andrews Air Force Base, after a flight from Grand Bahama Island where he rested from last Friday's 302-mile trip in space.

Twenty-three minutes later, he was on the south lawn of the White House shaking hands with President and Mrs. Kennedy, with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, and other dignitaries gathered to do him honor.

High overhead, peering through the railing of the White House's south balcony, 3-year-old Caroline Kennedy kibitzed on the activities on the lawn below.

Kennedy, bareheaded under a hazy sun and perspiring in the heat of a May day, presented Shepard with the Distinguished Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the highest award in the nation.

Shepard, grinning broadly a moment earlier, stood ramrod stiff as Kennedy read the citation, and accompanied it with his warm personal congratulations.

In his welcoming remarks Kennedy said, "I think they know how proud we are of him and what great satisfaction his accomplishment has given us."

He said of the other astronauts: "Our pride in them is equal." The President said Shepard's flight was "a common effort" and all of the astronauts deserved credit for the feat.

Kennedy noted that the flight was made with full public disclosure and that it was all the more successful because of the risk of disclosing failure.

In presenting the award, he noted that "this is an accomplishment that started from the ground up."

The citation read by Kennedy said: "His flight as the first United States astronaut was an outstanding contribution to the advancement of human knowledge of space technology and a demonstration of man's capabilities in suborbital space flight."

Raceway Renovation To Start

Work will start immediately in renovating and improving the Seminole County Harness Racing facilities east of Hwy. 17-92 at Casselberry in preparation for the season opener in January of 1962, Karl Higginbotham, president of Seminole Park and Fairground Inc. said today.

Higginbotham made the statement 72 hours after the Senate and House overrode Governor Farris Bryant's veto authorizing a racing permit for the county.

Higginbotham said that plans will get underway "immediately" for building a new clubhouse adjacent to the present clubhouse and for renovation of all the facilities on the site at an estimated cost of $600,000.

A special added attraction will be construction of a five-eighths mile track inside the present track. Recently six new all metal barns were added to the facility.

Higginbotham in a jovial mood today, said that "we certainly would like to thank the public for its patience with us until this legislative action was accomplished."

Jaycees Dedicate Crystal Lake Park

The new Crystal Lake Park, on Crystal Lake in the community of Lake Mary was dedicated this morning by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, and designated as a recreation area to be utilized by the public.

Ceremonies were held at the new park, under the sheltered palmetto-thatched roof of the covered picnic area, with county and city dignitaries attending and speaking words of thanks to the Jaycees for the outstanding project, to add to the recreation and fun parks of the county.

James Avery, representing the county commission commended the young men's group for their hard work and civic enterprises.

All Cases, acting president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce thanked the Jaycees in behalf of the community for their fine contribution to the area's facilities.

Representing the Navy and the Navy Wives Clubs, Chief Durham Cornea, ATC, spoke in behalf of the Navy people who live in Lake Mary, and the other Navy people who will use the new facility.

Killer Winds Hit Central States

New tornado alerts were posted today in seven states hardest hit by weekend weather violence. The U. S. Weather Bureau warned of added flood misery in a wide thunderstorm area of the central and lower Mississippi Valley.

Communities buried their dead and wind and flood damage estimates soared into the uncounted millions along "tornado alley" in the nation's midsection.

The weather was blamed in at least 29 deaths and scores of injuries since Saturday, when a twister killed 14 persons and injured 56 at Howe, Okla. Elsewhere tornadoes and floods took 10 lives in Arkansas, four in Missouri and one in Illinois.

More tornadoes, accompanied by severe thunderstorms and damaging hail, were forecast at week's beginning in Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, stretching generally along a line from southwest of Enid, Okla., to Evansville, Ind.

The second wave of tornadoes began late Sunday 10 miles west of Pawhuska, Okla., destroying a home, a barn and a car, and later skipping to Timber Hill, where a twister smashed a trailer home and hospitalized a 67-year-old man.

Flood misery matched the tornado threat in Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Missouri.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus ordered National Guard troops into Harrison and observers reported 80 percent of the northern Arkansas town's business district destroyed by a 15-foot high wall of water Sunday.

"This is the worst disaster in the town's history," Harrison Mayor Dene Hester said. Five persons were killed and 150 were homeless.

Kansas and Missouri suffered heaviest storm damage along the Missouri River. A twister Sunday destroyed 30 buildings at Wolcott, Kan., threatened Kansas City, Mo. rivers and churned creeks and briers to flood stage south along the border. Widespread evacuations followed flooding of the Marais Des Cygnes, Marmiton and Neosho Rivers in east central Kansas.

The Wolcott tornado picked up a car carrying three girls, smashed it against a tree and laid it down a quarter mile away from the highway.

"It was awful dark and windy, and then the next thing I remember someone was pulling us from the car," said the driver, Daniell Gilstead, 17, of Leavenworth, Kan. She and her two companions were reported in satisfactory condition at a Leavenworth hospital.

In Illinois, tornadoes Sunday night skittered across three counties near Springfield, the state's centrally located capital and sent winds howling east to Fort Wayne, Ind.

Authorities evacuated 80 families from their homes at Marion, Ill., ahead of the rising Crab Orchard Creek and residents in Illinois and neighboring Indiana were alerted for flood threats along the Wabash River.

Private School Bill Meet Set By Cleveland, Milwee

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said today he will meet with State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. this weekend on legislation which would help finance private schools set up for pupils who don't want to go to integrated schools.

The measure was introduced by Cleveland Friday and would allow credits on county-leveled property taxes for schools to persons contributing or paying tuition to a private school. Maximum tax credit would be $250 per child.

According to Cleveland, who spent the weekend in Sanford, the bill would not weaken the public school system as had been hinted by opponents of the bill.

Cleveland said it would affect only county property taxes for schools and not the property taxes levied for other county purposes.

He said that as children dropped out of public schools and entered private ones, the costs of the public schools should drop.

Milwee today declined comment on the merits of the bill until he could discuss it in detail with Cleveland.

According to Cleveland this is the first type of legislation this session dealing with the integration problem.

A similar bill was introduced during the last session but opponents fought the bill on the grounds that it was unconstitutional.

Sanford Girl Hit By Car At Beach

Vida Sue Smith, 17 year old Seminole High School junior, received injuries Saturday when a car ran over her leg while she was sun-bathing at New Smyrna Beach.

Driver of the car, 18-year old Jimmy Sweeney, of New Smyrna, told police that he did not see the girl lying on the beach, close by another car, and was not aware that he had run over her until he heard her scream.

Miss Smith's leg from the ankle to the knee was badly bruised and the muscles pulled in the calf of her leg, but due to the fact that it was crushed into the soft beach sand, no bones were broken.

Lifeguards and beach patrol police rushed Miss Smith to the Fish Memorial Hospital in New Smyrna, and she was later released to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith, of Sanford, where she will be confined indefinitely.

Sweeney, driver of the car, was charged with reckless driving by New Smyrna Beach police.
