Toro named Counselor of the Year

The Florida School Counseling Association has awarded Joan Toro, guidance counselor at Lake Mary Elementary, the title of "Florida Elementary School Counselor of the Year."

Toro is responsible for many programs at her school. The SSAK (Students Spreading Acts of Kindness) class focuses on kindness not violence. Some of the class activities include collecting teddy bears for hospital-bound children, raising $3,000 in pennies for the Make-A-Wish Foundation, and hosting the ROCK-a-thon (Reaching Out for Cancer Kids), a relay race that raised more than $10,000 in two years and sending 10 children with cancer to camp with their families.

The SSAK program earned Toro and her class the Disney Community Service award and Disney Teacherific award in 2001.

Aside from the many community-building projects Toro is involved in, she provides monthly character/career education lessons to all the classes at Lake Mary's 750 elementary student population. She also finds time to have small counseling groups each 12 weeks and offer daily individual counseling.

Toro is an integral part of the Student Study Team, responsible for all ability and achievement screenings, and oversees the entire exceptional education referral process.

School Board hints at taking city to court

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

Lake Mary City Commission decided last week an industrial park wasn't an appropriate location for an alternative school and voted to deny a motion to rezone property proposed for the facility.

On Monday, the Seminole County School Board decided to purchase the property anyway, and hinted of possible litigation against the city regarding its decision.

School Board members unanimously voted on a motion to approve the purchase contract and authorize its staff to close the transaction for the 22,000 square foot building located at 450 Technology Park off Lake

Emma Road. One stipulation of the decision is that the seller of the property, BCK Ventures, sets aside an escrow account of $50,000 to cover the litigation costs of appealing Commission's decision.

"We don't want to get into a lawsuit with anybody," Board Chairman Sandra Robinson said Monday. "It should be an action of last resort."

It may be an action, however, the Board is willing to take. School Board members and its staff believe last Thursday's decision made by Lake Mary commissioners goes against Florida statute and may set a bad precedent for other cities to follow.

"During my four years as a county commissioner, I have never seen a more capricious and arbitrary decision," Board member Larry Furlong said. "If they get away with this, there is no standard to rely on, and school boards will be completely at the whim of cities and municipalities."

The disagreement between the School Board and City Commission is over the relocation of Excel Alternatives Inc., a learning facility for expelled students. The school is currently located in Sanford's Reflections shopping plaza on Lake Mary Boulevard.

School officials believe it will be better to purchase a building rather than leasing the current building for $350,000 per year. Staff has been looking for a new site for the past two years.

Numerous buildings have been considered for the program's relocation, Seminole Deputy Superintendent Dianne Kramer said, and but most were in need of extensive renovation or didn't meet size require-

Agreement reached in conference center plan

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — City and county officials reached a compromise and approved an interlocal agreement for a conference center in downtown Sanford.

County staff will now begin finalizing contracts for an architecture firm and an owner's representative to oversee construction of the project. An earlier evaluation process already identified qualified firms and contracts are expected to be executed in January.

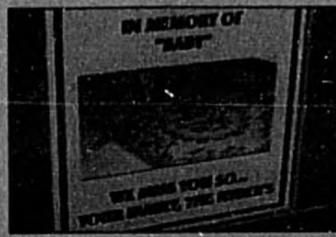

The interlocal agreement was scheduled for ratification in October, but concerns over parking delayed consideration of the contract until this week. Under the terms of the original agreement, Seminole County would fund the all capital expenses in building the facility, except for a multilevel parking garage. The city of Sanford would fund the garage within a year of completion of the conference center, as well as all costs associated with operating the facility.

Sanford City Manager Tony VanDerworp estimated that a parking garage would cost $6.5 million. That expense stretches an already tight budget projection from VanDerworp, and city commissioners sought "wiggle room" to have additional time to identify funding, including federal grants, for building a parking structure.

City Commissioners unanimously approved the agreement Monday night with modified language on the parking responsibilities.

County Commissioners considered Sanford's modified agreement Tuesday and it failed 3-2 during the morning session. Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide, an ardent supporter of the project, voted against the agreement saying the garage should be built at the same time the conference center is constructed and the county should Tiles and bricks help animals at local shelter

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

Just in time for the holiday shopping season, the SPCA of Central Florida is offering a gift idea that benefits Seminole's four-legged friends.

The shelters in Seminole and Orange counties are selling bricks for walkways and tiles for memory walls to raise funds for the homeless pets housed at the two facilities, said Sheryl Mays, assistant development director for the SPCA of Central Florida. The programs, which started last year, allow community members to leave a lasting impression at the two shelters of their pets or loved ones.

The memory wall at the SPCA of Central Florida's Orlando shelter is similar to what is planned for the Seminole County facility.

"The bricks and tiles make a great tribute for animals that may have passed away or for someone who likes animals," Mays said. "It's a gift a person can enjoy through-

Discussion continues on strong mayor government

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — If Sanford residents want to improve their government, real change lies in selecting good people, not a form of government, said an expert from the University of Central Florida.

Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard has asked commissioners to schedule a referendum in March to change the city's government structure from the current council-manager format to a strong mayor-commissioner framework.

Lessard says the change is needed to bring more accountability to local government.

Marilyn Crotty, director of the Florida Institute of Government at the University of Florida, agrees that a strong mayor-commissioner form of government provides better accountability.

"With a strong mayor there is one person you can point the finger at," Crotty said. Under the council-manager form of government, Crotty said, accountability issues ultimately come down to "we're not sure who's at fault, but they're always messing things up."

That's not to say there can't be accountability with a council-manager structure. Crotty, who was asked by Lessard to speak on the commission about the pros and cons of each form of government, said both frameworks can be effective.

"The bottom line is that it doesn't have to do with the form of government. It has to do with the people involved," Crotty said.

Crotty opened her comments by stressing she is not advocating either form of government.

"Either form can and does work," Crotty said. "You have to determine which form is best for your community."

Working off a list developed by Howard Tipton, who served as a city manager in Daytona and as a chief administrative officer in Orlando's strong mayor form of government, Crotty outlined several positives to a city having a strong mayor. Leadership and a vision for the city are usually better defined.

County Commission chooses design team for proposed SR-434 walking trail overpass

By Nick Pfaff
Staff Writer

What promises to be an extremely attractive Cross Seminole Trail overpass at SR-434 is moving ahead. The Seminole County Commission has approved Jones Bros./Harding ESE for the Design/Build Team.

In the mission statement presented to the commission, Jones Bros./Harding ESE wrote, "We will design and build a structure that is well suited to the community and adheres to the vision of its leaders. This bridge will be sensibly designed, economically feasible in its construction and long-term maintenance, functional for its users and able aesthetically to stand the test of time."

The structure is to be an overpass, crossing SR-434, approximately one quarter mile east of Tuskawilla Road, within the Cross Seminole Trail Corridor.

One of the questions presented to the commission was whether or not to include an equestrian facility. With the equestrian crossing area, the cost of the overpass is expected to amount to $2,672,500. With the facility for horse riders, the cost would be $3,039,000. While it is a Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) funded project administered by the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) through their Local Agency Program (LAP), the FHWA will not fund the additional cost for the equestrian facilities, which is $366,500.

The City of Winter Springs, a partner in the project, has approved supplemental funding in the amount of $241,687.

During discussion, Commissioner Randy Morris questioned if equestrians would actually use the bridge. While the county staff responded that the number would be relatively

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Man explores military service as a way to get education

DEAR ABBY: I am a 25-year-old single man with a good career, even though I never finished college. I have no children and own my own home.

From time to time I have considered joining the military, and I am close to making a decision.

The service could provide me with technical skills, plus I could finish my education without having to take out a hefty loan. Overall, the experience sounds appealing. However, the truth is, I'm scared about what's going on in the world. Even so, I'd still be willing to serve.

My family and friends hate the idea. They think I've lost my mind, and say it's the worst thing I could do with my life right now. I am really stuck. The recruiter is pressuring me to decide "now or never," and my family and friends say I'll be making a mistake that could kill me or make me miserable for the next four years.

Please help me to decide, Abby. My mother always said you spoke the truth and gave good advice.

NOT IN BOOT CAMP YET

DEAR NOT IN BOOT CAMP YET: There are no easy answers to your question. This isn't something anyone else can answer for you. Yes, there ARE risks. There are also rewards. I urge you to investigate thoroughly before you sign anything and do not allow yourself to be pressured.

DEAR ABBY: I think I am being discriminated against at my school because I'm 16, a sophomore, unmarried and pregnant.

Because of my pregnancy, I'm getting into trouble because I'm missing school days to go to my doctor's appointments. The teachers think I won't be able to participate in school once my baby is born. I've already told them I'm not dropping out, nor am I marrying the father yet. But they can't seem to get it through their heads.

The teachers are sending letters to my mother telling her how many days I've missed. I've only been absent five this semester. I'm tired of it. My mom is tired of it. And so is my boyfriend. I'm scared to go to school because I'm afraid they are going to say something negative to me and I'm going to get angry and say something I'll regret — and they'll kick me out. Please help. D.B. IN OHIO

DEAR D.B.: It's going to take a joint effort on the part of you and your mother. Demonstrate that you CAN keep up with your schoolwork and maintain an acceptable grade point average during your pregnancy. Schedule doctor's appointments after school hours whenever possible.

Your mother must make clear to the faculty and administration that she expects them to give you the education to which you are entitled. She might also investigate the possibility of special programs for pregnant students, which are available in many school districts.

DEAR ABBY: Last summer, my boyfriend and I attended the out-of-town wedding of a good friend. When I danced with the groom, he began running his hands all over me. I was shocked and tried to pull away. My boyfriend saw everything.

Since my return home, the groom has been sending me inappropriate e-mails. I keep e-mailing him back telling him to stop or I will tell his bride. I do not want to lose her friendship, but she should know what he is doing. What would you do?

FELT UP IN PHILLY

DEAR FELT: Since he has not heeded your warning, forward the e-mails — all of them — to his wife.

Missing Lingerie

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is investigating a complaint that more than 12-thousand dollars worth of lingerie was stolen from a vendor at a local flea market. The crime allegedly occurred sometime between Nov. 10 and Nov. 22 at a vendor's booth at Flea World, located at 4311 Orlando Drive in Sanford. The report was made on Saturday, November 23rd.

The business name is Sweet Undies. It appears the thief entered the merchant's booth by crawling beneath a tarp that was securing the items inside. The missing items include various women's tops, women's custom/costume undergarments, dancewear that lights up, some handcuffs, some whips, etc.

The business operator, identified as 55-year old Marie Abscol of Orlando, estimates the total loss at $12,733. She says the merchandise was not insured.

The report has been forward to a General Assignment Investigator in the Sanford District Office.

The report will be faxed along with the hard copy version of this release.

Law Enforcement Memorial Park Golf Tourney planned for Dec. 9

On Monday, Dec. 9, beginning at 8:30 a.m., golfers will tee off at the Sabal Point Country Club in Longwood for the second Law Enforcement Memorial Park Golf Tourney.

The proceeds from this tournament will go toward the construction of the Eugene Gregory Law Enforcement Memorial Park, which will be located on 20 acres on the western shore of Lake Harney, near Geneva. It is being named in memory of Seminole County Deputy Eugene Gregory, who was killed July 8, 1998, while on duty in the Geneva area. The park is intended to honor all Seminole County Law Enforcement Officers and to give the youth of Geneva much-needed recreational space.

In August, the park project took a major step forward when the Seminole County Board of Commissioners voted to support, and assist with some funding. Most of project is being funded by donations of cash, supplies and labor by the public. Construction could begin within a year. Donations to the project are still welcome.

The registration deadline for the golf tourney is Dec. 4. An individual sponsorship costs $65. A team of four costs $260.

For more information about the park, and the golf tourney, contact Deputy Todd Moderson at 407-328-3761, or Sharon Bryan, donations coordinator, at 407-328-3955.

Locals honored with Prudential 'Community Champions' award

The 11th Annual Prudential Community Champions Awards Program, administered by the Company's Local Initiatives Division, recognized 853 Prudential employees and retirees, including three Seminole County residents, who excel in volunteer commitment, leadership and service in their communities. The Prudential Foundation provided $613,000 in grants to the organizations in which these associates volunteer.

"At Prudential, we remain steadfast supporters of our employees' and retirees' desire to play an active role in their communities," said Gabriella Morris, president of The Prudential Foundation and vice president of Community Resources for Prudential. "We applaud the accomplishments of all of this year's Community Champion award winners as they embody the spirit of volunteerism and a heartfelt commitment to helping others."

William Gaydos of Lake Mary, a property and casualty claims manager for Prudential Financial, Inc. in the U.S. Consumer Group business unit in Maitland, Fla., received a Prudential Community Champions Rising Star Award of $250 for Seminole County Public Schools in support of Rainbow Elementary School.

Gaydos, a volunteer at Rainbow Elementary School, devoted an average of four hours per month in services during 2001. As a participant in the "Dividends Program" he helped a class of first- and second-grade students sharpen their mathematics skills. Gaydos used interactive games and awarded prizes to help the students enhance their ability to add, subtract, tell time and create graphs. The "Dividends Program" at Rainbow Elementary School allows volunteers to work with students to augment their daily studies.

Janet B. Lucas of Altamonte Springs, a senior property and claims adjuster for Prudential Financial, Inc. in the U.S. Consumer Group business unit in Maitland, Fla., received a Prudential Community Champions Rising Star Award of $250 for Seminole County Public Schools in support of Lake Oriens Elementary School.

Lucas volunteered an average of eight hours per month with Lake Oriens Elementary School in 2001. As a member of the School Advisory Council, she helped research ways to improve the school, raise standards in academics and improve the quality of education for children. Lucas was also a "room mom" and assisted teachers with special holiday events. She was an active member of the Parent and Teachers Association and volunteered to share information about her career with students as part of "Teach In Day." The mission of Lake Oriens Elementary School is to provide a safe and courteous environment for the children and staff.

Max Fridman of Fern Park, a Prudential Financial, Inc. retiree, received a Prudential Community Champions Rising Star Award of $250 for the Holocaust Resource and Education Center of Central Florida, Inc.

As a volunteer with the Holocaust Resource and Education Center of Central Florida, Fridman devoted an average of six hours per month in services during 2001. He served on a committee responsible for planning the organization's major fund-raising event, the annual "Dinner of Tribute." Fridman was also a member of the "Interfaith Commemorative Program" committee. He lent a hand soliciting new members and volunteers for the center as well. The Holocaust Resource and Education Center of Central Florida aims to combat racism and prejudice through education. Prudential Community Champions grants include 35 Golden Star Awards of $5,000 each, seven All-Star Team Awards of $5,000 each, 275 Shining Star Awards of $1,000 each, 12 Rising Star Team Awards of $500 or $250 each, 493 Rising Star Awards of $250 each and 31 awards to employees in Argentina, Canada, England, Italy and Japan totaling $14,000.

"Prudential Financial's Community Champions is a prime example of solid business practice and commitment to the community," said Charles H. Moore, executive director of the Committee to Encourage Corporate Philanthropy (CECP), the only national forum of business CEOs with an agenda exclusively focused on corporate giving. "This long-standing campaign provides an excellent model of good citizenship to other major corporations around the globe and emphasizes employee volunteerism as an ongoing responsibility and successful program way of life."

"The Community Champions Program offers us a terrific opportunity to recognize our employees while providing much-needed funding for the good causes they support," said Mary O'Malley, vice president of Prudential's Local Initiatives Division. "Not only is the relationship between the volunteer and the non-profit organization strengthened, but also the local community as a whole benefits from the combination of volunteer hours and monetary award."

Founded in 1977, The Prudential Foundation is the non-profit grant making organization of The Prudential Insurance Company of America. It is part of Prudential's Community Resources Division, a strategic combination of three units: The Foundation, which strives to build children and families' self-sufficiency; Local Initiatives, which coordinates employee volunteerism and fosters community partnerships; and the Social Investment Program, which originates and manages socially beneficial investments.

Prudential Financial companies, with approximately $557 billion in total assets under management and administration as of June 30, 2002, serve individual and institutional customers worldwide and include The Prudential Insurance Company of America, one of the largest life insurance companies in the U.S.

Seminole resident plays key role in sale of produce wholesaler

Business brokerage giant Corporate Investment International (CII) completed its second major business transaction in Volusia County this year with the recent sale of one of the state's oldest wholesale produce companies — Watson's Produce.

Watson's Produce, a major Central Florida distributor of fruits and vegetables for better than three-quarters of a century, was sold for an undisclosed price to PNL Produce, LLC, a local company headed by principal and former Sanford resident Paul Lazecki, now residing in Ormond Beach.

The company, located at 520 Beach Street in Daytona Beach, posted approximately $9 million in revenues last year, according to seller Eddie Pollack of Watson's Produce, Inc.

Although specific financial terms of the sale were not disclosed, CII Chairman Richard E. Read, MMAL, FCBI, CBC, CBB, said it represented one of the larger single transactions in the company's 16-year history and follows the multi-million dollar sale earlier this year of Volusia Construction Company.

CII, the state's largest business brokerage with five Florida locations, posted a record $60.5 million in business sales last year and better than a quarter-billion dollars in sales volume over the past five years.

The Watson's Produce transaction will add to those figures. The asset purchase included the company's 13,000 square-foot distribution/operations facility and more than a half-million dollars in equipment and inventory. The company, which has become the largest wholesale distributor of fruits and vegetables throughout Volusia and Seminole counties since its inception in 1927, employs more than 50 people.

Several CII intermediaries from the company's Main Street Division in downtown Orlando brokered the transaction. They included listing brokers Richard Nodelman and Longwood resident Frank Frisaura, while Cress V. Diglio represented the buyer, PNL Produce, LLC.

The sale represents the second significant transaction this year in the Daytona Beach market for both Frisaura and Nodelman, who collaborated earlier on the sale of a Daytona Beach employment agency with annual revenues of around $2.5 million.

The transaction also is another feather in the cap of Diglio, who last year became the first agent in company history to register a "grand slam" in a single month by earning top sales honors in four major sales categories: Listings, Listings Volume, Sales and Sales Volume.

According to Read, Diglio was instrumental in the Watson's Produce sale by introducing the buyer to "an established Central Florida company with a sterling history and outstanding track record of performance." The $9 million in revenues last year was a record.

New owner Lazecki, who is relocating from Sanford to Ormond Beach, doesn't foresee any significant changes to company operations.

The complex sale, which took about eight months to complete, will help CII continue its run at surpassing last year's record numbers. In 2001 the company brokered 54 sales for $60.5 million, the most of the any business brokerage in Florida. CII specializes in businesses ranging from small retail stores and service boutiques to multi-million dollar manufacturing and distribution companies.

CII has offices in Orlando, Jacksonville, Clearwater, Cocoa Beach and Boca Raton.

Keene Construction completes Publix facility in Sweetwater

Maitland-based general contractor Keene Construction Company has completed the new 28,000-square-foot Publix at The Shoppes of Sweetwater at Wekiva Springs Road and Hunt Club Boulevard in Longwood.

Developed by Korshak & Beaulieu, the new Publix store replaces a former Winn-Dixie that was demolished in April. Keene has constructed over 120 Publix-anchored shopping centers across the Southeast since 1986. Co-founder and president David A. Whitehill added that Keene is now building 17 grocery-anchored shopping centers in Florida totaling more than $100 million and 1.2 million-square-feet. Prominently ranked as one of the nation's largest retail contractors, Keene also recently completed Orlando's new Neiman Marcus at The Mall at Millenia and the new Lord & Taylor at Florida Mall.

Led by founders David A. Whitehill, President, and Gary L. Keene, CEO, Keene Construction is celebrating its 20th year in business. Founded in 1982, the company specializes in grocery-anchored retail, power centers, lifestyle centers, department stores and big box retailers, as well as office and warehouse projects.

The company has also been ranked among Engineering News-Record's Top 400 U.S. Contractors, Orlando Business Journal's Golden 100 Top Privately-held Companies in Central Florida. Florida Power named Outstanding Sponsor by Florida Main Street

Florida Power has been named the Outstanding Corporate Sponsor of the Year by Florida Main Street. The recognition, awarded by Florida Secretary of State Jim Smith, acknowledges Florida Power for its long-term and continuing support of Florida's Main Street Program.

Florida Main Street is a technical assistance program of the Bureau of Historic Preservation, Division of Historical Resources, Florida Department of State, which provides support to local organizations engaged in historic preservation-based revitalization of traditional commercial centers.

Florida Power was nominated for the award by the Greater New Port Richey Main Street organization in response to the company's support of the city's annual "Light Up Downtown" program, a marketing brochure for historic New Port Richey, and the soon-to-open Progress

Gallery in downtown New Port Richey.

"Partnering with the communities we serve is a vital role Florida Power plays in our service territory," said Bill Habermeyer, president & CEO of Florida Power. "By supporting local economic development efforts, we're able to help create more vibrant and productive communities."

The Bureau of Historic Preservation conducts statewide programs aimed at identifying, evaluating, and preserving Florida's historic resources.

Main Street, with its emphasis on preservation, is an effective strategy in achieving these goals in Florida's historic retail districts. Since 1985, the Bureau has offered manager training, consultant team visits, design and other technical assistance, as well as the benefit of experience gained by other Florida Main Street programs. Main Street cities receive up to three years of technical assistance from the Bureau.

"I am proud to recognize the diverse activities, contributions and accomplishments of this year's honorees," said Secretary of State Jim Smith. "Their efforts have played a significant role in the dramatic change that is occurring in downtown areas across the state due to Main Street programs."

Florida Power, a subsidiary of Progress Energy (NYSE: PGN), provides electricity and related services to more than 1.4 million customers in Florida. The company is headquartered in St. Petersburg, Fla., and serves a territory encompassing over 20,000 square miles including the cities of St. Petersburg, Clearwater, as well as the Central Florida area surrounding Orlando. Five Simple Tips For Stress-Free Holiday Entertaining Decorations? Check. Holiday music? Check. Gift list? Checked ... twice. What's left to make your celebration complete? The perfect meal can add the finishing touch to a party. However, for many, holiday menu planning seems like a daunting task, especially among all of the other last-minute details of the season.

Entertaining during this time of year should be fun, and it can be easier than you'd ever imagined when you're armed with the right holiday know-how. Following are some tips to get you started, courtesy of the experts at Birds Eye®.

- Keep it simple. One of the easiest ways to get overwhelmed during holiday entertaining is to try to do too much. If an elaborate five-course meal seems like too much, it probably is. Instead, focus all of your energy on a few main dishes.
- Take advantage of shortcuts. Today's supermarket is full of conveniences that can help your holiday dinner go on without a hitch. Stock up on prepared gravies and stocks and frozen vegetables, like those from Birds Eye. Perfect for a main course or a side dish, these items can be purchased in advance when you have more time and stored until needed. And don't think you'll be compromising taste or nutrition value. Contrary to popular belief, frozen vegetables contain just as many nutrients as produce in the grocery store. In fact, once picked, fresh vegetables may be shipped from place to place or stored for long periods of time before purchase. Because of this extended time, fresh produce can lose valuable nutrients. Frozen vegetables from Birds Eye are frozen within hours of harvest to guarantee the freshest taste possible.

- Don't be afraid to experiment. Most people look forward all year to some tried-and-true holiday favorites, but don't hesitate to try your hand at a new dish. And don't overlook the convenience of frozen veggies stocked in the freezer for whipping up fast and tasty appetizers!
- Share the joy. Enlist the help of family members to make your holidays even more special. Ask a relative to bring their favorite dish to the festivities. This way you'll have a combination of festive foods and guests who are proud of their accomplishments.
- Take advantage of others' wisdom. There are plenty of ideas out there primed and ready for holiday cooking. Web sites like www.birdseye.com can be a great resource. There you'll find tasty ways to add some joy to holiday cooking, like this light and fresh-tasting recipe for "Pea Salad with Pasta and Cheese."

PEA SALAD WITH PASTA AND CHEESE
Makes 4 servings
Prep time: 5 minutes
Cooking time: 15 minutes
2 cups uncooked macaroni
1 16-ounce package Birds Eye® Baby Sweet Peas
1/4 cup chopped scallions or green onions
1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) fancy shredded sharp cheddar cheese
1/2 cup light mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon celery salt (optional)
1/2 pound cubed, cooked ham (optional)

In a large saucepan, cook macaroni according to package directions. Add peas during the last seven minutes and drain. Add scallions, cheese, mayonnaise and, if desired, celery salt and/or ham. Toss gently, then chill for two to three hours before serving.

 The Technology Park location was the best deal among the more than half-dozen that made the final list.
 According to Steve Triece of The Triece Co., the real estate broker working with the School Board, Lake Mary staff initially believed the school in Technology Park was allowed under the city's comprehensive plan.
 Two or three weeks later, we got our first indicator staff flip-flopped on its earlier decision," Triece said.
 Last month the city's Local Planning Agency voted 2-1 to deny the School Board's request to rezone the property for Excel Alternatives. City staff contends it originally was not given the number of students attending the program and was not aware of the possible traffic and safety problems it could create if it relocates to the Technology Park location.
 Residents in the area have also voiced their concerns about lower property values if the school relocates to the area.

Commission's denial of a land use amendment for the property was based on city staff's recommendation that the change is inconsistent with the surrounding industrial environment. Lake Mary Police Chief said the increase in traffic, especially bus activity, could create problems.
 The School Board and its staff, however, believe the city's comprehensive plan allows for the school to be located in Technology Park and that it is conducive to the alternative school's business-like atmosphere.
 School Board staff said if it is eventually decided that the Excel program cannot be relocated to the Lake Mary location, the building could be used for office or storage space. A portion of the property could also be used as a satellite bus barn. If the School Board appeals the city's decision and wins, the facility can be renovated and ready for the Excel program by the 2005 school year.
 A decision on the purchase contract was needed on Monday, since it expires on Nov. 30.

 participate in its funding.
 "I only want to do this if we do it right," Van Der Weide said. "I can't imagine building a conference center without a garage. We need to determine what it's going to take to help the city."
 Commissioner Daryl McLain, whose district includes Sanford, agreed noting that building structured parking was a capital expense.
 "We agreed to assume responsibility for the capital costs of this project and somewhere along the way we pushed part of that to Sanford," McLain said.
 Commissioner Randy Morris dissented saying Sanford currently has parking needs without a conference center.
 "The city of Sanford, whether it has a conference center or not needs a parking garage to develop its downtown area," Morris said. "I believe the city has a reasonable opportunity to identify funding sources."
 Van Der Weide asked commissioners to reconsider the agreement during the afternoon session with update projections from the tourist tax which would fund the conference center construction. Projections provided by county staff in October were "short-sighted," Van Der Weide said.

 "I think this is a pessimistic position based on a single year," Van Der Weide said. "We don't need to be short-sighted on this."
 Van Der Weide proposed adding language that the county would work closely with Sanford to identify funding sources and build the garage at the same time as the conference center is built. He also suggested the agreement include language that the facility would be 63,000 square feet, not the 45,000 square feet size county staff recommended.
 "We don't need to build this thing in such a way that we doom it to failure," Van Der Weide said.
 The motion passed 3-2, with commissioner Grant Maloy and Carlton Henley voting against it.
 "This isn't the project that was first envisioned," said Henley, who with Maloy has been consistently outspoken against the Sanford proposal.
 "We can dream all we want. This is not a good business decision."

 small, Chairman Daryl McLain observed that it would be the only way to cross the overpass as there are no stoplights to help them in the area.
 When the vote to add the equestrian area to the overpass was taken, it passed by a four to one vote, with Commissioner Grant Malloy voting against the measure.

 The agreement with Jones Brothers passed unanimously. The commissioners were told however that construction could not begin for possibly six months, as eagles have been nesting and breeding in the area. Construction can only begin after the eagles have left the area. The start of the project was expected in about a year.

Mayor

 "A strong mayor comes into office with a vision he or she wants to implement and they work toward that vision," Crotty said. "Naturally, that person takes the lead in shaping policy to achieve those goals."
 The flip side is that strong mayor have a concentration of power, making them vulnerable to special interest groups. In addition, city jobs have the potential to become patronage positions handed out to key supporters or campaign workers.
 City managers are appointed by commissions, not elected, Crotty noted, and therefore special interests groups have little sway over them. In addition, three-fourths of city manager's have master's degrees in management and at least five years experience in local government.
 "Sometimes you may have a situation where a strong mayor comes into office with no experience in local government and they have to learn on the job," Crotty said.

 Sanford officials, Crotty said, should consider carefully what flaws the current form of government has and analyze whether the problems could be fixed with without a complete overhaul.
 "A lot of times I find that if people are unhappy with the way the government is functioning, they think if they change it will improve," Crotty said. "That doesn't always happen."
 She also told commissioners to consider "What responsibilities do you have to educate the citizens?"
 Most citizens are not aware of how a council-city manager form of government works, Crotty said, and many believe that the mayor is responsible for most functions of government.
 To that extent, Sanford's debate on forms of government will produce a key benefit.
 "Regardless of the end result," Crotty said, "more people will know how your government functions."

Despite name, Christmas Cactus not native to colder climates

The Christmas Cactus, contrary to what you may expect, is native to the rain forests, where it can be found hanging on trees. Its pendulous growth makes it ideal for hanging baskets. The plant does not have leaves but flattened, jointed, green stems that look like leaves with pointed lobes, claw-like in appearance.

Al Ferrer

Because the stem segments resemble crab's legs, the Christmas Cactus is sometimes called Crab Cactus. The flowers are very striking and borne at the tip of the stems, their color varies from white through orange to lilac. The fruit is rare but when present it is a red berry.

Culture

Even though this plant is an epiphyte, like many orchids and bromeliads, in Florida it is grown in media containing organic matter. A mixture of perlite and peat moss is often used to grow this plant.

The plants should be watered regularly, but avoid excessive watering. Plants grown in pots need good drainage.

Watering is very important during bud and flower formation, too little or too much water will cause the plants to drop their flowers. Plants are usually fertilized every month with a diluted water-soluble fertilizer. Keep the plants quite dry, unfertilized and at a temperature about 55 degrees during the months of November and December to promote flowering.

Plants can be grown outdoors during the summer but need some shade to protect them from sunburn. They are not cold tolerant and must remain indoors during the winter. Filtered light is best for growth.

Flowering

To induce flowering of these plants, both temperature and length of darkness must be carefully controlled. If the night temperature is maintained between 50 and 55 degrees, flower buds will form regardless of day-length. If the night temperature is kept between 55 and 70 degrees F, buds will form if the plants remain for at least 13 continuous hours in complete darkness.

If the night temperature is maintained above 70 degrees F, buds will form if the plants remain for at least 15 continuous hours in complete darkness.

Maintain these conditions until flower buds are fully developed, which may take about 6 to 9 weeks.

If the plants are not exposed to the above temperature and light requirements, flower buds will not form. Any exposure to light, during the dark period, will interrupt the formation of the flower buds. After the flower buds are formed, plants will flower regardless of any change in light or temperature conditions. Temperatures above 90 degrees may cause buds to drop.

Propagation

In spring take cuttings from last year's growth which has not yet become woody, leave them to dry for a few days and later place them on a rooting media.

Too much water will cause the stem sections to rot.

Holiday Cacti

Two genera of closely related plants, Zygocactus and Schlumbergera and their hybrids are called Christmas Cactus, Thanksgiving Cactus or Easter Cactus. They are known collectively as the Holiday Cacti. The Christmas Cactus has red, pink, or white flowers or combinations of these colors. The Thanksgiving Cactus has bright orange-red flowers and the Easter Cactus has white flowers.

The Easter Cactus has wider and rounder stem segments and the buds take longer to develop, consequently, they will bloom later than the Christmas Cactus.

Pests and Diseases

Mealy-bugs can cause some damage to these plants. They can be controlled with a local application of a soap insecticide or they can be removed with a cotton swab dipped in alcohol.

Slugs may also feed on this plant. They can be easily picked by hand and destroyed.

"Come Celebrate 125 Years of History"

Mad Dog to take on Outlaw next Friday

By Nick Pfeiffert
Staff Writer

It's not unusual, in pursuit of a bad guy, that a law enforcement officer subdues him by pinning him to the ground. Of course, officers are still human, and even though they have been trained in combat, there are times when it's the officer who gets pinned down.

The public will have the opportunity to see which way this goes on Friday, Dec. 6, at the Sanford Civic Center. Sanford Police Dept. Sgt. Mike Taylor will be in the opening bout of the Mid Florida Wrestling Anniversary Show at the Civic Center. Wrestling under the name "Mad Dog," he will face Tom Bass, who wrestles under the name "Outlaw." It promises to be an interesting match to say the least.

When asked his win/loss record, Taylor responded, "I really don't keep track for my own curiosity," he said, "but I believe I just may win this one."

It's all part of a fund raising event on behalf of Toys for Tots. With admission $8 for adults, and $4 for children age 6-12, (under age 6 are free), spectators are asked to bring an unwrapped toy.

It will provide $1 off each admission, and give raffle tickets.

In addition to the "Mad Dog" versus "Outlaw" opening match, others will include a singles match with "Flagrant Freddie" taking on a mystery opponent; a Tag Match with Mace and TC Lighting going against Jumpin' Jack Flash and Deathrow Jethrow.

Then there is a six man tag team of Sapphire, Lonewolf and Wikid against CB Kool, El Diablo and Baddboy.

The semi main bout, listed as First Blood Hardcore Title Match will have Nightstalker against Bobby York, and the main event, a World Title Match will feature Rocker Levi Mullins versus Bill Crude.

In addition to helping support the Toys for Tots drive, Radio Station 102 Jamz will be providing concessions to sponsor The Place of Comfort, which takes care of children with different illnesses and fulfills their dreams.

Doors at the civic center will open at 7 p.m., with the first event scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

For advance tickets or additional information, call 407-328-9035, or go to www.midfloridawrestling.com

Military Notes

Navy Airman Kelan McKinney, son of Janice McKinney and Prince McKinney, III, Frog Alley Street, Sanford, recently visited the port of Naples, Italy while assigned to Strike Fighter Squadron 81, embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS George Washington, home ported in Norfolk, Va.

McKinney is one of more than 10,000 Atlantic Fleet Sailors and Marines aboard the ships of the USS George Washington Carrier Battle Group and USS Nassau Amphibious Ready Group. Volunteers from McKinney's ship spent time helping the Sisters of Charity clean a soup kitchen before helping to prepare and serve meals.

McKinney's squadron, home based at Naval Station, Oceana, Virginia Beach, Va., flies the F/A-18C Hornet, a twin-engine supersonic strike fighter.

McKinney is a 2001 graduate of Seminole High School in Sanford and joined the Navy in July of 2001.

the year, and it really helps out the animals." The 8-inch by 8-inch bricks for the walkway project may be purchased in memory of a loved one — recognition of a pet lover who did something special — a sign of appreciation to employees of a company from either management or customer, and numerous other reasons, Mays said. Any individual or group can commemorate a special pet, friend or family member through a personal inscription. The bricks will be placed in a walkway approaching the shelter, she said. The cost of a brick is $300.

The memory wall is a more colorful way of remembering a pet or loved one. A graphic representation of a full-color image can be imprinted on each ceramic tile. An inscription that includes the pet's name and wording such as "in memory of" is also included on the square.

The cost of the six-inch by six-inch tile is $100, Mays said. The tiles will be placed on a wall near the entrance of the Seminole facility. "The tiles really look great on the building," Mays said.

Money raised in Seminole will stay in Seminole to help the animals at the local shelter, Mays said. Both projects are ongoing, and the shelter hopes to sell at least 300 tiles and bricks.

"Since it is the holidays, we thought it was a great time to really start promoting the programs in Seminole County," Mays said. "We want people to know we are trying to branch out, and we are a different facility than what was offered in the past."

Money raised through the brick and tile programs help various programs offered by the SPCA of Central Florida, including the low-cost spay/neuter/medical clinic, adoption outreach and Chow on Wheels — a program that provides food for the pets of seniors on limited fixed incomes.

For more information about the tile and brick programs or the SPCA of Central Florida, call 407-351-7722, ext. 233.

Barringer is the best

Oviedo sophomore cruises to 4A Cross Country victory

TAMPA — Jenny Barringer proved that the regular season was no fluke as she coasted to a 12-second victory in the Class 4A Girls race at the FHSAA Florida Cross Country Championships at the Ed Radice Sports Complex in Tampa Saturday.

The Oviedo sophomore ran a girls' meet best time of 18:26 to outdistance Devin Gaptisur of Martin County, who came home in 18:38.

It was the first time in a long time, maybe this season, that it wasn't Lake Mary's Jessica Zabel that was on Barringer's heels.

The Ram senior finished seventh in a time of 19:14.

Despite Barringer's domination, however, the Lions were only able to finish eighth as a team, scoring 266 points to trail champion Spanish River.

Also running for Oviedo were seniors Lindsey Garven and Rachel Christner, juniors Lauren Austin, Melissa Brown and Jayme Kuniak, and sophomore Baily Jones.

Lake Brantley, led by freshman sensation Amanda Hintze, who finished just outside the top 10 with a time of 19:32, came home 16th. Also running for the very young Patriots were senior Lucinda Bargmann, sophomores Kathryn Prouse and Jennifer Guilliams, and freshmen Tiffany Jones, Kendra McCan and Kathryn Odowd.

In the boys' 4A race, Lake Mary came home a respectable 15th led by senior William Barnett. Other Ram runners were senior Thomas Adriaansen, juniors Stephen Little, Daniel Selsky and Jonathan Halsey, and sophomores Joris

Wrong Rams win

Lake Mary can't deny Rutherford

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

PANAMA CITY — When Reggie Campbell bolted for a 56-yard game-tying touchdown on the second play of the third period, Lake Mary faithful had high hopes that the visiting Rams were ready to take control of the Class 5A-Region 1 semifinal.

But the quarterback for the home-standing Rams of Rutherford High School, Matt Handin, threw the second of his three touchdowns moments later as the hosts dominated the final half to eliminate Lake Mary, 26-14, at Tommy Oliver Stadium in Panama City.

Trickery on the opening kickoff gave Lake Mary control early. Junior linebacker Matt Pirkowski recovered an onside kick to open the game, and the visiting Rams recovered a fumble at Rutherford's eight-yard line on its first possession to set up a one-yard touchdown run by Derrick Grayson to put Lake Mary ahead.

Ryan Pasconi added the extra point and the Rams led 7-0 midway through the first period.

But the second quarter belonged to the Springfield 11

Derrick Grayson (No. 4, above) scored the game's first touchdown and Reggie Campbell (No. 1, right) tied the game with a 56-yard scamper in the third quarter, but that was the limit of Lake Mary's offense as the Rams were eliminated from the playoffs by home-standing Springfield-Rutherford, 26-14, in the Class 5A-Region 1 Semifinals at Tommy Oliver Stadium Friday night. The game also marked the final appearance in Lake Mary uniforms for Grayson and Campbell, who finished the game with 177 of the Rams' 241 rushing yards, and went over 1,000 yards for the fourth time in his career despite missing almost three games with an ankle injury this season.

SCC men hit road with loss

By Dean Smith

SANFORD — The Seminole Community College men's basketball team found out what happens when you don't come ready to play. Especially against a good team.

Playing their final game of a nine-game homestand to open the season, the Raiders came out flat and by the time they had recovered it was too late as unbeaten Tallahassee Community College cruised to an 86-72 victory Friday night at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

The game was almost a replay of last Wednesday night's contest when the Raiders took a huge early lead against Polk and held on for the win. The only problem was, the shoe was on the other foot this time.

Led by Lionel Turner (13 first half points), the Eagles opened the game with a 21-3 run and took a lead of as many as 26 points before SCC finally found itself, cutting the lead to 19 at halftime, 51-32, behind Kitus Witherspoon (15 first half points), J.D. Bracy and D.J. Wesley.

TCC maintained its lead and looked to be in for a comfortable win, holding a 15-point bulge with 10 minutes to play.

But Daniel Jackson and Jamaal George suddenly turned up the defensive pressure and the Raiders quickly ate into the lead, going on a 6-0 run over the next minute-and-a-half to cut the lead to nine points with 8:28 left.

SCC was looking to cut into the lead further when George came up with a steal and led a break on which a Wesley layup seemed to cut the lead to seven.

But the basket was disallowed on an offensive

What homecourt advantage?

By Craig Johnson
Herald correspondent

SANFORD — After a seven game road trip top open the season, the Seminole Community College women's basketball team was more than glad to finally be at home Saturday afternoon.

Unfortunately for the Raiders the home court didn't play much of an advantage as they fell victim to Tallahassee Community College, 56-35, at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

It was the second time this season that the Eagles had eased past the Raiders, and both games kind of followed the same script, SCC playing well in the first half, but getting wore down by TCC's depth in the second half.

SCC opened the scoring when 6-foot-3 sophomore center Danielle Richardson was fouled down low and hit one-of-two

Patriots swim to second

By Dean Smith

FORT LAUDERDALE — The Lake Brantley girls did not get their much hoped for repeat as Class 3A State Swimming Champions, but they gave it a good run as the Patriots finished second to champion Gainesville Buchholz, 254.5 points to 204.

The Lake Brantley boys also had a big day, claiming second place behind champion Sarasota.

The Lyman boys made a good showing, also, finishing third behind the Patriots.

Overall, it was a good day for Seminole County teams as Lake Mary was fifth in the girls and 12th in the boys, Oviedo was 13th in the girls and 16th in the boys, Winter Springs was 14th in the girls and 15th in the boys, Seminole was tied for 48th in the girls and tied for 42nd in the boys, and Lyman's girls were 50th.

Individually, Lyman freshman Alex Forbes stood head-and-shoulders above the rest, capturing the state title in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 50.26 and also swimming the lead legs on the 200 freestyle winning relay team and the 400-yard relay team that finished second by less than a second to the Patriots.

Other members of the Gryhounds' winning 200 relay team were senior Johnny Geary, junior Robert Hess and freshman Cesar Marquez.

As Jean Bradshaw scored on a 10-yard run and Hardin passed seven yards to Zach Lyons to put Rutherford ahead 14-7 at halftime.

Lake Mary may have gotten an idea of how the night was going to go late in the second quarter when Genrud Riggins blocked a punt but the ball bounced down the field and hit a Lake Mary and Rutherford recovered to maintain possession.

Campbell, who finished with 177 yards rushing, answered quickly for Lake Mary in the third quarter to tie the game, but the Rams (10-2) would get little more offense, ending the night with 241 rushing yards and only completing three of 12 passes, with two being intercepted.

Zed Williams returned a punt 54-yards to set up a 10-yard touchdown pass from Hardin to Jamie Jordan that put Rutherford ahead for good 20-14 with 5:34 left in the third quarter.

Hardin added the insurance score with 10 minutes left in the game when he hit Williams with a 29-yard scoring strike.

Rutherford (11-1) will get to play its third straight home game of the playoffs, hosting Mainland (11-1) at Tommy Oliver Stadium in the Regional Finals this Friday.

The Eagles started the second half on fire as freshman guard Angel Liddell hit a long three-pointer and on the next possession Baldrey hit nothing but the net on a "three" of her own, as the run eventually reached 15-2 to give TCC a 34-21 lead.
The run completely rattled the Raiders as two straight shot clock violations by SCC led to two easy lay-ups and on the next two possessions Emmanuelli had her pocket stripped which led to two more easy Eagles baskets.
After a two minute scoring drought, sophomore Lauren Boyd hit one out of two free throws to stop the bleeding, but the rout was on.
TCC then went on another run that helped it double the score the Raiders, 32-16, in the final 20 minutes.

Women

Coach Lisa Nuxoll's squad fought hard and never gave up but just could not get the ball to fall for them in the final half.
The Raiders were led by good play from Emmanuelli with 12 points on 5 of 7 shooting, including two three-pointers.
The Lake Highland graduate is hitting 65-percent from behind the stripe this season.
The Eagles were led by a game high 14 points from Baldrey.
SCC will remain home for the next three games, beginning with Friday evening matchup with Skagit Valley College from Washington beginning at 6 p.m. Admission is free.
