

PROMISE OF ALLEGIANCE TO EMPIRE BY SINN FEIN AGREEMENT ACCEPTABLE

To King as it Involves Ireland's Association With Empire

IRISH FREE STATE

WITHDRAWAL OF ALL MILITARY FORCES AND INSURES PEACEFUL CONDITIONS

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 6.—England and Ireland awoke today from their troubled sleep of despondency over the Irish situation to learn joyous news of sensational and wholly unexpected agreement reached between English and Irish conferees in today's small hours.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—A definite promise of allegiance to the empire by Sinn Fein provided in the Irish peace terms, the Central news states. The agreement, it says, is satisfactory to King George in that it involves Ireland's association with the empire.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Evening Standard says the government's proposals for the Irish settlement, upon which an agreement was reached this morning, provides for Irish free state, withdrawal of all military forces from Ireland and safeguards which will insure peaceful conditions there.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—It is officially announced that the government officials and the representatives of the Dail Eireann have reached an agreement, the terms of which will be submitted for the acceptance of parliament and of the Dail Eireann.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The conference between the government ministers and Sinn Fein delegates reached an agreement at an early hour yesterday morning on the new proposals, which it is understood underwent certain modifications for an Irish settlement.

After a session which lasted more than three hours, the meeting of the government ministers and Irish representatives in the Downing Street residence of the Prime Minister separated and a member of the cabinet, replying to a question as to how things stood, said:

"The news isn't bad; an agreement, in fact, has been reached, the terms of which will be communicated to the press in time for Wednesday morning papers."

BISCUITS FROM HOME OF ILL-FATED LEE FAMILY AFFECT NINE

(By The Associated Press) AUGUSTA, Dec. 5.—A sequel to the Beldoe mystery in which the wife and three children of J. W. Lee, a prominent planter, died suddenly a few weeks ago, of a strange malady believed at the time, to have been caused by poison, has taken place at Martin, S. C., about fifteen miles from Allendale, according to information received in Augusta today stating that nine persons are desperately ill at a boarding house there after eating biscuits made from flour taken from the lee home at Beldoe.

The peculiarity of the situation is that the affair occurred at the boarding house of Mrs. R. F. Creech, who is a sister-in-law of J. W. Lee, who is now lies ill at the University hospital here.

STATE AQUATIC MEET FOR 1922 AT ROLLINS

OPEN TO ALL HIGH SCHOOLS AND PROMISES GREAT SPORT

The governing committee of the Florida State Aquatic meet together with C. W. Street, Jr., president of the Southeastern Association A. A. U. have just completed plans for the next meet to be held April 29, 1922. Particulars of the meet will be mailed to Florida High schools in a few days giving order of events, rules of the course, eligibility requirements and state records.

As in the past, the meet is open to all high schools in Florida. A school is permitted to enter a team of not more than six or less than five boys or girls and may send a team of each. Only one contestant for each school will be allowed to enter an event with the exception of the relay races, when four girls or four boys will compose a team. Each school must enter a contestant in each event. Two alternates will be allowed on each boys' team and three alternates on each girls' team, to substitute in case of sickness or accident. The eligibility rules of the Florida State High School Athletic Association and the A. A. U. will govern.

Twenty-four sterling silver cups are to be offered this year beside gold, silver and bronze medals. Two large perpetual cups will be offered, one to the boys' team and one to the girls' team winning the highest number of points in the meet. After a team has won a perpetual cup three times it shall become their permanent property upon winning same. A cup will be awarded to the winner of the first place in each event, said cup to become the permanent property of the High School which the contestant represents, after a High School has won first place in that particular event two years. A gold, silver, and bronze medal will be awarded to contestants winning first, second and third places, with the exception of the relay. A gold medal will be awarded to each member of the team winning the relay.

C. W. Street said, "This is the most beautiful set of cups I have ever seen, no meet that I know of has ever offered such a set."

Daytona, Lakeland, Orlando, St. Petersburg, Georgia, Washington, Woodrow Wilson, Kissimmee, New Smyrna, Sanford, Hillsborough, Winter Garden, West Palm Beach and Winter Park entered contestants last year. Duval intended coming in but was unable to enter for good reasons. Duval and other schools have already signified their intention of entering the meet next spring and Florida will have the largest high school swimming meet of any state in the union. There were 160 entries, in the 1921 meet and two thousand spectators witnessed one of the most interesting Aquatic events ever held.

WHY THE SANFORD HERALD COVERS THIS FIELD THOROLY

To make his newspaper fit, the editor must have a clear and thorough knowledge of his field, of its people. He must know what the people of the community want, what will be of benefit to them, what will interest them, what they will best understand and appreciate. He must know what one kind of material will appeal to the largest possible percentage of the people of the community, and make that one kind of material the basis of which to build for support, says the Publishers Auxiliary.

The editor who through a thorough knowledge of his field produces a newspaper that fits the needs and wishes of the people of the community will secure and hold the subscribers that are essential to newspaper success, and when he gets and holds the readers he is in a position to serve the community. When he has given the people that which best fits their needs and their wishes he has secured the confidence of the people, and he can then advocate through his columns those things which will be of advantage to the community as a whole, with the assurance of carrying the people with him because of the confidence they have in his paper.

HARDING DELIVERS MESSAGE, SAYS WORLD ACCOMPLISHMENT IS PRESENT ARMS CONFERENCE

Delivered in Person and in the Presence of Delegates to Conference

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Harding informed congress today in his first annual message that "Most gratifying world accomplishment" by arms conference is not improbable. The message was delivered by the president in person and in the presence of delegates to the conference and most of the diplomats regularly stationed in Washington. He recommended the early enactment of a permanent tariff and foreign debt re-founding bills. Suggested consideration of amendment to the constitution to end the issue of non-taxable bonds. He said it was the purpose to present a plan for the merchant marine which contemplates no greater draft on the public treasury. He suggested encouragement for co-operative marketing programs as means of assisting in relief of present agricultural conditions. He told congress it should give earnest attention to the general policy of transportation, of distributed industry and highway construction, encourage the spread of population and restore proper balance between the city and country. Also recommended plans of conference, common counsel, mediation, arbitration and judicial determination in controversies between capital and labor.

GERMANY MAY BE GRANTED 3-YEAR DELAY

IN PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY. PRESS IS INFORMED BY RELIABLE SOURCES

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 6.—Germany will probably be granted a three years' delay in her cash indemnity payments, the Associated Press is informed from the most reliable source. Negotiations are now going on between the reparations officials of France and Great Britain, and the responsible officials of both countries virtually agree that Germany must be given a breathing spell. All that remains to be done is to work out a scheme acceptable to both countries.

The suggestion of a three year moratorium has been abandoned at the earnest solicitation of France. The French representatives explain that the word moratorium was especially offensive to the French people in connection with the indemnity inasmuch as it was understood as meaning complete suspension of payments of all kinds.

The reparations holiday cannot be used by Germany as a means of evading all future payments of indemnity, French officials explained, but it is being considered so that Germany will better be able at the end of two or three years to fulfill her reparation obligations, and she then must be prepared to pay full a "reasonable indemnity."

ARGUMENT IN MANDAMUS SUIT BROUGHT BY CITIZENS OF PENSACOLA

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 6.—Argument in suit for mandamus brought by certain citizens of Pensacola to force City Commissioners to call an election to determine whether Pensacola should continue to be governed by Commission, is on today's calendar of the State Supreme Court. Petition asking commissioners to call such election was filed two years ago and failure of commission to act resulted in mandamus suit which has been in courts since that time.

TWENTY-THREE WRECK VICTIMS ON TRAIN

HEAD-ON COLLISION PASSENGER TRAIN; BIG CASUALTY LIST

(By The Associated Press) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—Twenty-three victims of the head-on collision yesterday between the Philadelphia and Reading passenger trains near Bryn Athyn, Pa., are accounted for early today. With one or two exceptions, however, definite identification is impossible because of charred condition of bodies. Nearly all were taken from the wreckage of two wooden coaches, which caught fire almost immediately after the accident and were destroyed. Canvas of residents of Newton and Southampton, two little towns where most of the victims lived, showed several persons known to have been passengers still missing, and it is feared other bodies are buried in the wreckage or burned up.

IRELAND FREE STATE HEREAFTER

UNDER AGREEMENT REACHED LAST NIGHT AT CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press) BIRMINGHAM, England, Dec. 6. Ireland hereafter will be known officially as Irish free state under an agreement reached at last night's London conference it was announced by Lord Chancellor Birkenhead in an address here today. Outlining the general terms of the agreement Lord Chancellor said "We proposed in the first place that within the area of Southern Ireland we shall make those who beyond all question within that area at this moment are entitled to speak for overwhelming majority of population, masters in their own homes."

BIG 4 POWERS ENTENTE MAY ENTER INTO TREATY TO REPLACE OLD ALLIANCE

KU KLUX KLAN PARADED STREETS 100 STRONG

NO ONE KNEW FROM WHENCE THEY CAME OR WHERE THEY WENT

The Ku Klux Klan over 100 strong paraded the streets here last night. No one knew from whence they came or where they went but promptly at 8:30 as scheduled they appeared at the head of First street and paraded the full length of the street going up Oak avenue and then vanishing into thin air. Bills had been distributed in the afternoon announcing the fact that a parade would occur at 8:30 and every one was out to see it as no one knew just what kind of a parade it would be and many had their own ideas. Curiosity brought out the most of them and they were not disappointed for as the white robed and white cowled figures swung into First street marching slowly and two by two with the flaming cross at the head there was a hush fell over the crowds and not a word was spoken as the white figures marched along saying nothing—all was silent as the tomb and one of the most impressive parades that has ever been staged in Sanford. The marchers carried signs bearing the legends: "Lifers, Go to Work"; "White Supremacy"; "Judges and Jurors, Do Your Duty"; "Sheriff and Officers, Do Your Duty"; "We will be Here Today and Tomorrow" and at the last of the parade a sign "Warning, Don't Follow Us," the last, of course, being unnecessary as no one had any idea of following them. They were a bunch of big men most of them being in the six foot class and they made a most imposing array. No one knows why they marched last night but some have a good idea and as usual they will have the right effect.

And then it demonstrated that the Ku Klux Klan really exists in this county.

TWO COURTS WORK ON ARBUCKLE CASE

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—Two courts were concerned today with the aftermath of the manslaughter trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle which ended in a disagreement yesterday.

In the Commissioner's division of the United States District Court an appearance was made for Arbuckle in answer to a prohibition violation charge and simultaneously in the police court Mrs. Minnie Neighbors, witness for the defense in the manslaughter trial, appeared on a perjury charge in connection with her testimony.

A preliminary hearing was waived by the defense on the prohibition charge and the Neighbors case was continued until Wednesday.

Previous to the calling of these cases District Attorney Brady announced that he was investigating information that an attempt was made to intimidate Mrs. Helen M. Hubbard, one of the jurors in the manslaughter trial. She voted for conviction consistently. The prohibition violation charge arose out of the serving and consumption of liquor at the party in Arbuckle's rooms in the Hotel St. Francis on September 5, during which he is alleged to have injured Miss Rappe, motion picture actress. The manslaughter trial resulted from Miss Rappe's death.

THIEVES TAKE FOOD AND LOT OF JEWELRY

(By The Associated Press) WINSTON-SALEEM, N. C. Dec. 5.—While Thomas E. Shore was absent from home last night, thieves ransacked his house and got away with silverware, jewelry and other articles valued at $1,500. After finishing their task the thieves, apparently suffering from hunger, went to the ice box and helped themselves to milk. No arrest has been made.

America, England, Japan and France May Have New Deal

AWAITING REPLY FROM TOKIO TODAY ON THE PROPOSITION WITH AMERICA HOLDING ALOOF

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The question of a three or four power agreement to replace the Anglo-Japanese alliance is demanding increased attention among the arms delegates while they wait for Japan to define her position on the naval ratio.

The latest suggestion, contemplating an entente to include the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, has developed to the point where a tentative treaty draft is under consideration in some quarters, although it has not been formally presented to the conference.

There are indications that the Japanese delegates and perhaps the British as well, are consulting their home governments on such a proposition at the same time that they are asking for further instructions in regard to the naval ratio.

On the part of the American government there apparently is no disposition to entertain an entente proposal, at least at the present stage of the negotiations. Later such a suggestion may receive consideration provided it includes no requirement counter to American public opinion.

Upon high authority it was said today that the naval problem as it was referred to Tokio after the last meeting of the "big three" involves no proposal for a political agreement of any character, but is concerned solely with the naval and military aspects of the situation. The American delegation adheres to its expectation that the naval issue will be settled without conditioning the decision on any sort of a political rearrangement.

Admiral Baron Kato, of the Japanese delegation, said last night, however that the naval question involved issues which are of far reaching effect upon the national and international life of Japan and on the policies of great powers for decades to come and perhaps permanently. These issues, he said, should be brought to the full knowledge and consideration of his government before definite action is taken.

The delay in presenting Japan's definite position on ratio, declared the Japanese statesman, is due wholly to the difficulties of cable communication and the desire of the Japanese government to act circumspectly in so important a decision. It has been indicated that it may be late in the week before the Japanese are ready to return a reply to the latest naval proposition.

UNDERWOOD OBLIGED TO LEAVE CONFERENCE ACCOUNT MOTHER'S DEATH

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Senator Underwood left for Birmingham today on account of his Mother's death. His absence is expected to effect the work of the Armament Conference, as he is a member of American Delegation and also chairman of sub-committee dealing with Chinese Tariff matters.

DIVERSIFICATION THE KEYNOTE TO SUCCESS

Diversity, including the raising of livestock, is without doubt the keynote to successful farming. Any one crop, choose what you may, is sure to fail in the long run.

The man with a variety of crops is almost certain of a substantial income, says Professor J. M. Scott, of the Florida Experiment Station. With the one-crop man the same thing is not true. If the one crop fails or if the market for it is poor, much is lost. A farmer of the one-crop type must depend on the bank or fertilizer company to carry him thru another year when he strikes a bad year. If he had diversified, his chances would have been more numerous. He would have had hogs and cattle, eggs and poultry to sell. He would have had corn, potatoes, etc. All of these things would help to tide over the bad year.

The farmer who grows a variety of crops and has livestock on his farm will be able to convert much of his crops into meat and milk and eggs and at the same time turn back to the soil valuable plant food for future crops. This is a general practice farmers must follow, if they want to live at home and board at the same place. The farm that gets a large portion of its food, food for man and beast and soil, from elsewhere, can hardly be called a real farm.

In order to carry stock thru periods when pastures are scant, ample provision must be made for storing feed. Corn cribs, potato houses, hay mows or sheds, and silos are necessary. The silo is possibly the most economical saver of feed for cattle. In it the entire nutritive value of feed can be saved. Silage is succulent, furnishing green feed thru the winter months. It might take the place of the pasture in summer during droughts.

Ladies and Gentlemen, use the phone tomorrow if you wish to ride to your voting precinct. Call 1000, and politely you will be carried to the booth and home again. 218-1tc

LEESBURG TO VOTE ON COMMISSION FORM

LEESBURG, Dec 2.—January 25, 1922, has been set by the city council as the date for a charter board election in Leesburg. This is the first step in a well-defined movement here to put this city under a commission form of government. The charter board is to go thoroughly into the advisability of such a form of government for Leesburg and in the event that its findings favor such a form, to draw up what it considers the most practical form of charter and to present same to the voters for ratification or rejection. The commission advocates here have been at work for some time, and the present development is a result of a chamber of commerce committee appointed by G. C. Ware, president of the chamber, to look into the matter and report its findings back to the chamber. At a mass meeting called for the purpose of hearing the committee's report, more or less opposition to the report which enthusiastically endorsed the commission plan for Leesburg, caused the committee chairman, A. H. Bourlay, to withdraw the report and to commence the circulation of a petition asking the city council to call a charter board election. The required number of electors was found in a very short time and their signatures affixed to the petition, which resulted in the council calling and setting the date for the election.

Hip Trimming

Hip trimming seems to be the challenge the creator of suits is flinging at the woman who would be a svelte. While some designers "have a heart" in creating suits that stout women can wear, many of the best models show the short coat with fantasies of fur and ripped fur bands over the hips.

PLEA FOR THE SMALL BIRDS

Writer Calls Attention to Their Vast Services in Staying the Ravages of Insects.

He is no sportsman, and a veridical sort of hunter, who shoots the small birds, which no stretch of ingenuity can bring within the definition of game.

In some European countries such shooting is termed sport, and some immigrants have brought the habit with them. All hunters and sportsmen should discourage, or when possible, without resorting to too severe measures, put a stop to such hunting. And that not simply because we ought to, and sensible folk do like to hear and see the little things about, but also because of the actual benefits they confer upon mankind.

Michelet, the French naturalist and historian, says in his "Insect Life" that if all the birds were destroyed that could not live on earth more than nine years. He believed that without birds to check the ravages of insects, the insects would first destroy the growing crops of grain, next the grass and the foliage, which would leave nothing on which to feed cattle, hogs, sheep or poultry. The crops having been destroyed, all domestic animals would perish for want of food, and man in his extremity, in a barren and desolate world, would be driven to the necessity of living entirely on fish. When the supply of fish was exhausted he would starve. Montreal Family Herald.

PROVIDED HER WITH FORTUNE

Effective Answer of Irish Judge to Defendant's Plea in Breach of Promise Suit.

Irish local celebrity, Judge Murphy, mentioned by Judge Bond in a "Herald" column of an Irish Judge, delivered a very effective charge to a jury in an action for breach of promise. The defendant was not examined and the judge commented strongly on this fact. He was interrupted by the protest of the defendant.

"You have no right to say that, my lord; sure I wanted to be examined and my counsel wouldn't let me."

"All right, my man," said the judge; "come up on the table and be sworn. Why didn't you marry the girl?"

"Because she hadn't the fortune I wanted, my lord."

"How much was that?"

"Five hundred pounds, no less."

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the judge concluding his charge, "you will find for the plaintiff five hundred pounds damages. Now sir (to the defendant), she has the fortune you want."

Give a Real Gift This Christmas

The Seminole County Bank Sanford, Florida

Sanford, Fla., Dec. 5, 1921.

Santa Claus,
Care of Seminole County Bank,
Sanford, Florida.

Dear Santa Claus:—

I should like Johnny to have a Christmas present this year that he will thank me for every day of his life.

Kindly start a Savings Account in his name with the enclosed dollar and put the pass book in his stocking on Christmas eve.

I think he'll have fun watching his account grow when I explain how his savings will be increased by the interest added by your bank.

Hold me responsible for seeing to it that Johnny has something to add to his account every week. When he is older he will take over that responsibility himself. I think he'll have the saving instinct by that time. That will be a REAL gift.

Your old pal,
DAD.

LEGION POST TO GIVE A BIG BENEFIT RECITAL

LAWRENCE HAYNES, AMERICAN TENOR, TO APPEAR IN SAN-FORD DECEMBER 9TH

The local post of the American Legion intends to offer Sanford an attraction that is of the very highest class and the present indications point toward Friday evening, December 9th as the date of the social and musical event of Sanford, this year at least.

Lawrence Haynes has made a reputation abroad, he has been so very successful that he has not attempted an American tour until this year when he will fill a limited engagement in ten cities, Sanford, by reason of the of Mayor John W. Martin, of Jacksonville, will be given a place in the itinerary. The program for the entertainment at the High School Auditorium is carefully selected and will include several compositions of the most noted composers. Mr. Haynes is of course, the star, but he will be surrounded by the necessary talent to round out one of the finest recitals ever presented in Florida. Haynes is a Floridian and though his triumphs have all been abroad, he is anxious to greet a Florida audience, he is also deeply interested in the success of every undertaking of the American Legion and when informed of the purpose of the Sanford engagement—willingly reduced the terms to a point where they simply cover expense of the engagement.

Lawrence Haynes is perhaps the world's highest paid tenor—he has made his reputation, he is a man of great personal wealth and is endowed with a voice that is most wonderful. He is unassuming and radiates happiness, he has charming personality, and the knack of winning his audience the very moment he appears before them. Sixteen years spent under the most exacting masters in France and Italy have brought Haynes to the place in life where he can judge the level of his audience and sing to and lift from that level. There is nothing of the stiff-necked soloist about Mr. Haynes singing—he does not sing numbers people cannot understand—he sings the kind of songs people want sung to them—and he sings them better than they have ever been sung before.

M. Gabriel Pierre, Director of the world's greatest musical organization, The Colonne Grand Orchestra, said: "Haynes sings the music of your heart strings" while the Great Mary Garden unstintedly praised Lawrence Haynes and came to Paris to hear him interpret the grand role of "Parsifal" which role was created by Mr. Haynes in the Paris production, an honor never before given any American artist—that of creating a role in a French grand production. Mr. Haynes is hailed as the greatest American tenor and his appearance in Sanford in the interest of the Campbell-Lossing Post of the American Legion is certainly an event that will warrant the support of all music lovers as well as the friends of the Legion.

occurred. It was only a friendly rivalry for the possession of an office that means nothing but hard work and no compensation and now that it is over there should be no hard feelings. Elections are in order and they come round every year and it is a small man indeed who will hold a grudge against another about an election after the election is over. We spend too much time in Sanford over trifles. We spend too much time knocking and not enough boosting. We put in too much time taking up the smaller things in life and not enough investigating the larger ones. Elections are necessary evils but they are bound to come and we are bound to exercise our franchise and vote for the men we want in office. That is the right of every man and should not cause any hard feelings with any one. Forget it. Election is over.

TOO MUCH EMPHASIS CANNOT BE PLACED UPON EDUCATION.

Education is a broad experience. The opportunity to learn is extended as long as there is life. There is no end to the possibilities of knowledge. But the ability to learn is something that is developed earlier in youth than in the other seasons of our years; therefore greater stress is properly placed upon the education of boys and girls.

Details are important in the earlier stages. Nothing can be accomplished unless the student is familiar with these. After these are mastered education is an unending process. An individual can have passed through a thousand experiences and been made wiser by contact with them, but if he cannot read or write it cannot be possibly said he is educated. He lacks the fundamentals—and these are all-important.

No person was ever educated by mere school attendance, nor can a college make a genius out of a numskull. Much depends upon the individual. But schools and colleges are the centers of technical education, an essential factor in the reckoning; and the greater educational movements spring from the schools and colleges, the importance of which cannot possibly be over-rated, for in them the seeds of knowledge are planted.

The home is the greatest university ever established. It is, or should be intimate and sincere in its relations, thereby being more direct and more understanding in its influence. The church is also an educational institution, its appeal being to the nobler impulses in the human breast.

The schoolhouse, however, is recognized more generally as the symbol of education, and indeed the results of its works are to be seen on every hand. The American Legion Weekly in its current issue offers a significant definition in these words:

I am of many-storied stone, soaring above busy city thoroughfares, or I am a mere cluster of weather-beaten boards in a wilderness that is trackless save for the path leading to my door.

I am the guardian of the hopes of every generation, and I am true to my trust.

In me all things are equal; in me are no distinctions among those who come to me except the paramount distinction between those who are proud to serve and those who seek only to be served.

It is my duty not to teach, but equally to learn; to keep perpetually a light upon my altars, kindling them forever afresh from the inextinguishable flame that burns in every young heart, the sacred fires of love of knowledge and love of freedom and love of country, for as I succeed, America succeeds. I am the true democracy.

I am the schoolhouse.

This is education week in the United States. We have so many special days and weeks that one is liable to pass over the significance of them, but some deserve the careful consideration of the public, and certainly education, or anything seeking to stress the value of education, should receive whole-hearted encouragement.

We need more education in Americanism, in the principals of citizenship, in the really worth while things—and anything directed at this form of education is bound to reflect itself in the other forms of education. The people must be taught to appreciate their own greatness, the high purpose for which they were created; and realization of this greatness and this purpose must necessarily be followed by the primary essentials—that is schools and colleges.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

PATRONIZE THE HOME DEALER.

Do your Christmas shopping early and do it with the home merchants. Talk with them, giving them a chance to see in what directions your tastes lie. Talk with them early, so that they can lay in stocks of the things you want, if they haven't done so already.

They have not built up their business by cheating or profiteering. They have done it by honesty and fair dealing with their fellow-townsmen through eleven months of the year. Fair dealing in turn would give them the benefit of the big month's shopping.

In the matter of prices they will be able to do as well or better than dealers who are further away. If any thing goes wrong, they are at hand to remedy matters.

As the local merchant prospers, the community prospers. Patronize the home dealer!—Gainesville Sun.

By a Sanford Celery-Fed Man

What a wonderful difference the cooler weather makes. We often notice that about "coolers." We could write a story about "coolers" we have met.

President Harding will tell Congress where they can get off at today and they in turn will see that he does.

Fatty Arbuckle had a mistrial while others had a miscarriage of justice. In any event Fatty is out of the picture game and the world in general has "Rapped" on him.

Election today need not stop the wheels of progress in Sanford. All those who have been busy with election can now retire on their laurels and wait for another election to blossom out again.

A physician says that fresh air is the best food which probably accounts for the bubbles in bread and the holes in doughnuts.

Having noted the "Ask Mr. Foster" signs over Florida we now know that it means ask our Mr. Foster if he intends to run for the legislature again.

It is now up to States Attorney DeCottes to strike a spark from Sparkman since Hugh has thrown down the gauntlet to officials and grand jury.

This column of fun and nonsense is open to the public and if you have anything to contribute to the humorous side of life in Sanford send it along. Our readers want to laugh and grow fat.

With Apologies to Lena

Oh, Lena, in our hours of toil, how come you tread on common soil? Since Adam first with Eve would mess about her simple style of dress, you've worn that noted gingham plaid; some have affirmed 'twas all you had; but that was merely venting spite—you are no gingham kid—that's right. The you may say you were a goat to wear old Enau's hairy coat; I best remember you, farsooth, when, clad in garb of lusty youth, you helped Horatius hew 'em down upon the bridge that led to town. When Dun went in the lion's den—where, Lena, where, where were you then? From out the Ark when first it sat in affing on Mount Ararat, did you come forth with Ham and Shem and lend yourself to aiding them in seeing that the stock checked true —the cat, the hawk, the kangaroo? When Cleopatra sailed away to meet Marc on a summer day, were you there, garbed as were her girls—in affect, a smile, a string of pearls? When Pharoah saw the open sea which seemed to lead to victory, were you the only one with him that had sufficient sense to swim? When Nero, figuring on his show, commenced to rosin up his bow, can you recall the tune a-right? Was it "Hot time in the town tonight?" When Bacon wrote his Shakespeare lore did you sell tickets at the door? And help him sharpen up his quills to tell the world of countless ills? I really cannot understand how you put "Zu" in Zululand; but if you say you are the crank who broke the Monte Carlo bank—or played the role of Juliet with Romeo your one best bet—or crossed the plains with Brigham Young—or saw the rock that David flung when he laid old Goliath low—or advertised Napoleon's show—or told friend Jonah he would fall to rent apartments in the whale; no matter what you may declare, it's true! So help me! I was there!—Thorin in Kissimmee Gazette.

DEATH MRS. RALPH CHAPMAN

The entire city was shocked this morning at the news that Mrs. Ralph Chapman had died suddenly at her home on Tenth street. The death occurred about seven o'clock this morning and as the Herald goes to press no arrangements have been made for the funeral pending the arrival of relatives. Mrs. Chapman leaves a little daughter and a husband to mourn the loss of mother and wife and the sympathy of the many friends is extended to the bereaved ones.

It would be much easier to purchase Christmas presents if we only knew what our friends are planning to give us.

LENA IS FIRST PERSON TO GO TO CHATTAHOOCHEE FROM ORANGE COUNTY COURT

Captain B. M. Robinson, clerk of the circuit court, told a representative of the Reporter-Star this morning that Lena Clarke commitment to Chhattahoochee is the first from his court that has been made since he has been clerk, or has had any connection with the office, and his incumbency dates back to 1891, thirty good long years.

The disposition of the defendant was so rare that actually Mr. Robinson was at a loss to know how to handle it, and he was waiting this morning for word from Judge Andrews, to determine how to proceed.

Commenting upon the disposition of the case, Captain Robinson said, "And in my judgement this commitment never should have been."

"Do you mean to say," he was asked, "that you consider the woman to be sane?"

"I certainly do," Captain Robinson replied, vigorously. "I consider her to be sane, and to know perfectly well the difference between right and wrong."

Captain Robinson, as clerk of the circuit court, was present practically every minute of the trial, and had an excellent opportunity to observe Miss Clarke during the long ordeal. The result of that observation is, he concurs in the opinion of the trial Judge, C. O. Andrews, who declared in the commitment issued Saturday that Miss Clarke was sane at the time of the commission of the crime.

The sheriff's office was awaiting word from Captain Robinson this morning before wiring to Chhattahoochee for an attendant to come and escort Miss Clarke to the asylum.—Reporter Star.

Christmas Message from Uncle Sam Office of Postmaster General,

Washington, Nov. 22, 1921.

To the Boys and Girls of the United States:

Christmas is almost here. Your great post office department has a big job ahead and needs your help.

Think what it means to be Santa Clause to our 100,000,000 people and to deliver Christmas parcels to every family in this great country within the short space of a few days and without disappointment.

It can be done, and we are going to do it if we may have your help. I want to enlist the active assistance of every boy and girl in the schools of our country in getting parcels mailed this week to relieve the rush that comes directly before Christmas.

"Our postmaster has asked us to mail our Christmas parcels this week, for, unless we do Uncle Sam's load may be so heavy the last few days before Christmas that he won't be able to deliver all the presents by Christmas Eve."

The parcels must be well wrapped and tied and addressed plainly in order that they may arrive in good condition with their Christmas appearance unspoiled. You can put on your package. "Do not open until Christmas."

Better a week early than a day late.

If you care a rap, wrap with care. Help to make Christmas happy.

Mail 'em early! make it snappy. Early to buy—early to mail.

Early to reach the end of the trail. If you haven't been treated courteously turn right around and see the postmaster about it.

We desire to serve the public courteously and well.

Do these things and you will win the grateful appreciation of the people in your post office and especially your postmaster general.

WILL H. HAYSE.
P. S.—Don't forget to mail Christmas packages this week.
