HERALD'S ALL-AMERICAN

- | | |

| Left End | Hugh "Tiny" Wheelchel |
| Left Tackle | William "Dinmont" Jim Kader |
| Left Guard | H. H. "Powerful" Coleman |
| Center | E. V. "Long Distance" Turner |
| Right Guard | M. J. "Meatless" Lodge |
| Right Tackle | A. B. "Tireless" Peterson |
| Right End | Frank "All-Star" Shames |
| Quarterback | J. L. "Brains" Ingly |
| Left Halfback | Joel "Mailman" Field |
| Right Halfback | T. W. "Touchdown" Lawton |
| Fullback | Edward "Plunger" Higgins |

The first annual Herald all-American eleven is announced today.

Like the Army eleven which placed two backs on the Associated Press all-American eleven for two consecutive years, only one organization the U. S. Government, was able to place more than one representative on the Herald's all-star aggregation.

At the end positions, the State Market is represented by "Tiny" Wheelchel. He is particularly able to snatch that cabbage. The Hollywood Stars' right end, "All-Star" Shames was selected because he's always up with something new.

The two tackles were "Diamond Jim" Kader of Kader's Jewelry Store and the Ration Board's "Tireless" Peterson. "Diamond Jim" can outshine any of his opponents while "Tireless" was selected because he can go a long way on one set.

At the guard spots, The Florida Power and Light Company was represented by "Powerful" Coleman since he has lots of power. "Meatless" Lodge of Lodge and Sons Grocery was named to the other guard position because he is fast, even though he doesn't have much meat.

Because he can go a long way, Southern Bell's "Long Distance" Turner was chosen for the center position. He never proceeds with a play until he asks for the number and other men on the squad can get the play number when coming out of the huddle from Turner's information center, if they miss the quarterback's signal.

The Sanford Atlantic National Bank's "Brains" Ingly was elected to fill the quarterback position. He is especially good with figures, and can count those yards like dollar bills.

The U. S. Government's other representative is "Mailman" Field. Joel can carry that mail in that department.

Since he's been able to score a touchdown every time he runs,

Seminole County's "Touchdown" Lawton was selected as the right halfback.

The Chamber of Commerce was represented by their able field general, "Plunger" Higgins. Higgins was named the all-American fullback because he's steady and can get fighting mad on a wet field.

Phillies Tired Of Being Doormat In National League

(By Associated Press)

The Philadelphia Phillies apparently are tired of being the doormat of the National League.

The Phillies started their rebuilding program by drafting Lou Novickoff from the Pacific Coast League. And in the past two weeks, they have laid out some $5000 for pitcher Johnny Humphries of the Chicago White Sox, first baseman Frank McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds and shortstop Skeeter Newsome of the Boston Red Sox.

Two more players have accepted invitations to play for the west in the San Francisco Shrine game. They are Red Giske, Washington State College guard, and Dick Lorenz, Oregon State College end.

The name of Chick Meehan has been added to the growing list of candidates for the job of Syracuse University football coach. Meehan coached Syracuse from 1920 through 1924. Later, he was grid mentor at New York University and Manhattan College.

Others being mentioned prominently for the post include Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern and Clarence Munn, assistant to head coach Fritz Crisler at Michigan. Munn, however says that he has not received a proposal from the upstate New York school.

Another football coaching job is open, following the resignation of Ben Wolfson of Lafayette. Coach at Lafayette for three years, Wolfson's teams won 11, lost nine and tied one. However, six of the

Keefe Asks If Group Is Investigating Pearl Harbor Or New York Governor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17, AP.—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee heard the details today of how a death trap was set for Japanese Admiral Yamamoto.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17, AP.—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee learned today that as early as Nov. 15, 1941, the Navy was speaking of relations between the United States and Japan in terms of a crisis.

In an earlier issue of the review, a Navy Department spokesman wrote that the Japanese Navy appeared to be ready for any eventuality, with crews at full wartime strength.

Other documents placed before the investigating committee today disclosed that six days before Pearl Harbor, the Navy's intelligence service was predicting an early Japanese advance against Thailand.

Naval reports telling of Japanese spying activities by submarines near Pearl Harbor also were read into the records of the investigating committee today.

General Marshall, according to his own testimony, asked Governor Dewey not to reveal the fact that this country had cracked the Japanese code.

Prosecutors Start New Phase By Asking Conviction Of 600,000 Leaders

NUERNBERG, Dec. 17, (AP)—American prosecutors at the Nuremberg war crimes trial produced evidence today showing the Germans planned a "Hitler's mass starvation" in Russia which would have wiped out Moscow and Stalingrad had those two cities been captured.

Today marks the start of the fifth week of the historic trial. Virtually all the 24 Hitler leaders are losing their air of nonchalance in the courtroom. All apparently are becoming resigned to death as punishment for Nazi crimes.

Flint Police Use Football Tactics At G.M.

Fact-Finding Group Off To Slow Start; Navy To Release 11 Sinclair Plants

A squad of police used flying wedge tactics to break through a union picket line at the AC Spark Division plant in Flint, Michigan, to permit General Motors employees to enter main building. No violence ensued when the officers, led by Capt. Gus Hawkins, pushed through the picket line.

The police were on hand because of an earlier threat by the strikers to bar entry to the office employees. After an estimated 30 officers broke the line and enabled 30 office workers to enter the plant, the strikers made an attempt to reform their picket line. As a result, other office workers filtered through the main gate and into the administration building without hindrance.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: CHRIST'S LAMINATION DOES NOT REST ON LIMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE ON PHYSICAL FORCE AND CONQUEST. IF WE REFUSE HIS RULE WE MAY HAVE TO ACCEPT ONE WE GREATLY DISLIKE: Be bold thy king cometh, unto thee, Meek and ruling upon an ass. Matthew 21:5.

A WEEK OF VERSE: For The Royal Air Force. (From The London Daily Telegraph)

You were an England when the Unweaned, helpless; but the Hope was yours. That the inhuman cannot beat the man, That the evil is tidal, right endures.

Thou confident, you fought, and fought alone. Often, at night, we heard you going by. And longed that you, bound outward, might come home Safe, from the fatal halls of foreign sky.

The Hells are quiet now; a peace is ours. Whatever threatens us as peace begins, We know that Brotherhood and Hope are shown. And you have shown that he who has them wins.

JOHN MASEFIELD: Now that, sometimes are over, the Army seems to be about to go to war with the Navy.

If the government bill to construct housing goes through, the next question is where are the building materials coming from? Wonder if there was anything symbolic in Secretary Byrnes' landing in Moscow in a snowstorm. He certainly received a cold reception.

According to the Associated Press, the world's most reliable news-gathering organization, the Army is releasing some $400,000,000 worth of surplus supplies for civilian consumption. Wonder why the army brass has not burned these commodities up, too, as Washington Merry-Go-Round says they do.

There was a time when a man's word was as good as his bond, but the steel workers union signed a contract not to strike for any cause whatever and have now voted to strike in violation of their contract. Where contractual obligations become a mere scrap of paper, there can't be much progress.

The war is over. A buck private has testified at a Congressional hearing that the "Pentagon Boy Scouts," the "bemedaled four-flushers" and "the aristocratic phobers of the Pentagon castle" want a large standing army in order to support the officers because they don't want to work. This is what you call freedom of speech with a vengeance.

There is an epidemic of influenza spreading throughout the United States, the U. S. Public Health Service advises, somewhat too late to do us any good personally. For the week ending Dec. 8, there were 48,904 cases. However, influenza is not as serious as it used to be before folks learned to go to bed as soon as they developed a fever, and before the sulfa drugs and penicillin were discovered as a cure for pneumonia.

Joseph Kramer, Irma Grese and two other women, notorious characters around the Belsen concentration camp, were put to death by hanging yesterday in connection with unspendable atrocities. Irma Grese was only 22 years old, had spent four years of her life as the head woman guard at the camp, where she carried a riding whip and beat the helpless inmates with it at her pleasure. Hanging was too good for her.

President Truman is worried about inflation, believes price controls should be reimposed on some new dwellings, citrus, and possibly everything else in order to keep down prices. A splendid suggestion. A simpler way, however, to avoid inflation is to cut down spending, balance the federal budget, and lending money to foreign countries. He is smart to keep down inflation, people bidding each other for scarce commodities, foodstuffs, and necessities of colleges.

Blessed America

How many of us Americans really appreciate the blessings we habitually enjoy, in comparison with the rest of the world? A Cleveland newspaper man, Lieut. Col. Philip W. Porter, returned from three years aboard as a staff officer, writes heartfelt appreciation of his country and its manifold blessings.

He finds himself viewing familiar home scenes with "the wide-eyed wonder and delight of a newly arrived immigrant." He cannot get used to "this fortunate country, teeming with comforts, conveniences and what seem down-years in Europe and Africa." He has often been aboard, but right luxuries to anyone who has survived three war-time never felt before "the impact of a totally different and advanced standard of living" that he finds now in his own favored country.

Europe is, he reports, a world totally unlike the one in which we Americans are living. "It is a world in which blasted buildings are normal, where no people who get enough to eat are the occupying American and British soldiers." Nobody there has an automobile, or could buy gasoline for it if he had one.

Leather shoes are so scarce that many children have never seen any, and adults have had to make one pair last six years. Food, clothing and housing are all on a scale that would be shocking and incomprehensible to an ordinary American. These reports are of such things as a visitor may see without seeking. The inner life of millions upon millions of people like ourselves is difficult to imagine and likely to cause shudder.

The World As It Is

A sentence or two buried in news dispatches from Washington may well set the nation and the world to pondering. Dr. J.R. Oppenheimer who headed the Los Alamos laboratory where the atomic bomb was produced, was speaking before the special senate committee on atomic energy and insisting, as he has so often recently, that control of the bomb must be set up "for a world as it is, not as it ought to be."

Here is realistic thinking—"the world as it is." There isn't time to make the world as it ought to be. But there is time to make controls of atomic energy to fit the world as it is. If it makes the problem harder—this realization that nations, like people, are less than ideal—it does not say the solution is impossible. Mankind, clever enough to uncover the secrets of atomic energy, has the ability to hit upon good measures for its control.

Realty Troubles

Business is business in the real estate games as elsewhere. And it is natural for realty men to push their business more energetically than usual just now, when so many thousands rent-paying people are seeking homes of their own. But a wall is arising in New York and various other places that many agents are over-doing it, and "high-pressuring people into buying houses they cannot pay for."

This is something that an ethical and conscientious realty man doesn't do. Such an agent is as much concerned about doing an honest and conscientious job as he is about making a sale.

Gen. Omar Bradley, a director of the Veterans Administration, has been telling a conference of mayors that there should be laws against coaxing veterans into buying houses they cannot afford. It might be difficult to frame and operate such a law, but the principle is sound. A first-class realty man is as conscientious about satisfying his client permanently as he would be if the deal were for himself.

Holland Talks To Rotary Club On Florida's Future

(Continued On Page Two) things which have long needed to be done, he declared, adding that all 67 counties are in excellent condition largely as a result of the war prosperity, resulting from the construction of more bases in proportion to size than in any other state in the union, and from the many war contracts which were given Florida industries.

However, the former Governor pointed out that the people of Florida have purchased 1 1/2 billion dollars worth of War Bonds, more than all the money spent in Florida by the federal government on military installations and war contracts.

Speaking of Florida industries, Governor Holland revealed that Florida produced more citrus last year than all the apples produced by all 37 apple-producing states in the union. And the canning industry shipped 38 million boxes of citrus concentrates.

Being out of the Florida produced 80 percent of all the phosphates used by the Allies during the war. Governor Holland mentioned the cattle business, naval stores, vegetable industry, transportation as other major Florida industries with a great future. Air transportation, particularly, he said, is coming into its own.

John Ratigan announced the reorganization of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce and called upon the Rotarians to give it their undivided support. President Les Leshar announced that there will be no meeting of the Rotary Club next Monday.

Group Enlarged Desk To Save Dictionary

LUNENBURG, Mass.—(AP)—Miss Putnam, who taught school in Lunenburg in 1877, didn't get rich on the job, for she was paid only $10.50 for 10 weeks—and even as late as 1885, a dictionary annually was a rare and valuable item, according to old records recovered here.

The secretary's record of a meeting of the committee of School District No. 7 in 1881 shows that the thrifty town fathers were taking no chances. They tried to have a drawer in the teacher's desk enlarged and made a valuable repository for the dictionary.

The union maintains that the oil industry can give its employees a 90 per cent raise without increasing prices. Management takes the opposite view. The government board went into a recess without deciding the issue. The conference will be resumed later this afternoon.

Wounded Deer Turns And Charges Hunters

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Dec. 17, (AP)—A nugget in the news concerns a deer that played a trick on a hunter. Two Fairmont, W. Va. sportsmen, A. B. Knight and Wade Satterfield, along with a guide, took up a deer trail just across the Maryland line. A 200-pound buck came across their path and Knight said that he and Satterfield, fixed at him. The animal fell, but managed to rise and run away with the men in hot pursuit. Slowed down by its wounds, the deer turned around when the hunters got too close and charged. Satterfield was pinned to the ground by the buck's antlers. But the deer still full of fight made another attempt to escape. As he raised his head, the antlers caught in the gun strap and the buck ran off, taking the hunter's gun with him. But Satterfield got his gun back later when the hunters found the deer dead.

She — as seems to be the custom — attached a slip of paper bearing her name and address to the sweater, but she left off the "Mrs." In due time, the soldier received the sweater and wrote her a nice note of appreciation. Mrs. Edward Kircher will deliver the principal address during the 35th annual Memorial Service of the Sanford Lodge No. 1241 of the BPO of Elks, which was held Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church.

A mixed ensemble of the Seminole High School Glee Club under the direction of Miss Ollie Reese Whittle sang: Gettachol's "Holy Ghost, With Light Devine" and Makers "Beneath the Cross of Jesus."

Rituals were read by Joel S. Field, Exalted Ruler, and the invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr. Mrs. Frank Vernay will be at the organ.

Departed brothers since the last memorial service were Sidney R. Rive, Phil A. Leonard and W. J. Thigpen.

Legion Auxiliary Assists Charities

The Campbell-Lossing Unit No. 53 of the American Legion Auxiliary met Friday at 7:30 P. M. in the Legion Hut and it was decided that donations would be given to several worthy projects. To the Legion Crippled Children's Home in St. Petersburg and in Pensacola to the Tuberculosis Association and the Salvation Army a contribution of $10 each was made.

Mrs. E. J. Routh presided at the meeting and Mrs. A. L. Barreanu led the prayer. It was reported that approximately $150 was cleared on the Armistice Dance. Mrs. Joel Field who gave a report on the national legion convention held in Chicago in November said that Edward Higgins Hurt of Sanford was the only Floridian initiated during the mass initiation.

Approximately 14 members were present at the meeting.

Candlelight Service For Xmas Planned By Presbyterians

The Christmas Candlelight service which is the annual presentation of the church school of the First Presbyterian Church will be given next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church building at Third Street and Oak Avenue.

Last year, according to J. A. Bistline, Sunday School superintendent, this service was one of the highlights of the holiday season and the church was filled to overflowing by those who wished to worship by participating in this colorful ceremony. The program was under the supervision of Mrs. George Touhy, director of the senior young people's choir, and she has been appointed to head the committee again this year.

The program is a balanced combination of music and pageant, telling the story of the Nativity, and because of the impressiveness of last year's ceremony according to those who saw it, it is being repeated in substance next Sunday. However, the script has been supplemented in view of the peace throughout the world that did not exist last year, to include Yuletide hymns of nations around the globe. The title of the presentation is "Christmas Throughout the World."

Since the program is given by the children of the church, the offering of this annual service will be given to the Thornwell Orphanage at Clinton, S. C., to help other youngsters in less fortunate circumstances.

The Rev. E. D. Brownlee, pastor, said that from the schedule of rehearsals for the week as well as from the work already done on the program, he is confident that the worshipful attitude not only of the participants but also of the congregation would be deepened considerably by the atmosphere of adoration.

He said that last year many Friends of the church joined with members of the congregation in the worship at this special service and he hoped that they would do so again this year. He extended an invitation to all.

JULIAN STENSTROM

A few days ago we were informed through the "grape vine" that several Seminole High School students objected to our column the other day in which we remarked that the locker rooms beneath the high school auditorium actually smelled.

For the life of us, we cannot understand why anyone would object to such a statement. It is a fact and cannot be overlooked. The statement was the truth. We walked in there one morning and as an auxiliary fireman during the war.

It was the worst thing we've ever seen in the way of dressing rooms. What is wrong with making a true statement such as that? The condition existed and we merely used the situation to further Principal Kerman's plans for the construction of a field house for the use of students at Seminole High.

This column doesn't intend to criticize anything or anyone unless it is strictly on a constructive basis. The condition of the dressing rooms at Seminole was in a deplorable condition and that situation needs to be eliminated. We fully realize that officials at Seminole knew this and they want to correct it, so, as soon as possible. So what's wrong with the public knowing that there was a rotten place in the column in worth printing. Send your letter to us, stating your complaints.

There's lots of criticism in and around Sanford about lots and lots of things, but people who criticize and then don't vote are nothing but spongers. Yes, they use their constitutional right of free speech but fail to perform their duty to their government by voting.

We reprinted that one of our columns was read recently in one of the Social Science classes at the high school. If you take Social Science, thumb a row in that text book and see what it says about our Constitution and the rights and privileges we receive from it. Also look up the paragraphs or chapters that outline our duty to our government.

There are too many people in the United States who take this

Florida State League Admits Sanford To Loop

 in Orlando. To keep Sanford from laying off, Schaal would have Leesburg play Orlando the first game and then have Sanford play Orlando the second game of a double-header. The loop officials directed Schaal to draw up a tentative schedule under each plan and present them at the next meeting.

Schaal stated during the meeting that as far as he knew this was the only nine club league that has ever attempted to operate in professional baseball. It was announced that opening dates would find Deland at Daytona Beach, St. Augustine at Palatka, Gainesville at Ocala and Orlando at Leesburg. Since Sanford is the newest member of the league, it will, in all probability, lay off the opening day.

Mr. Schaal was also directed to schedule league opening dates on a weekday night and permit the visiting clubs to have their first Sunday game at home.

The unpropitious situation was discussed at length and directors voted to set a maximum salary of $200 per month. President Combs said that he planned to pay $200 per month to the experienced umpire while the rookie official will draw $175. The league adopted the Goldsmith "97" baseball as the official ball and voted to enter into a three year contract with the Goldsmith people for procurement of baseballs at $11.70 net per dozen.

Others present at the meeting were: A. E. Folds, A. L. Combs, Gainesville; Peter Schaal, Silver Springs; Earl Bussey, Bill Steinecke, Harold Ryman, St. Augustine; Harold Roetger, Daytona Beach; Bill Page, Doyle Woodruss, Jim Connerly, Deland; Jeff Emerson, Palatka; John Gansel, Orlando; A. S. Herlong, Jr., A. W. Newett, Bill Prazier, Leesburg.

We would like to commend Mr. Morris for already having taken action in getting a field house constructed at Seminole High School. The plan is certainly worthwhile. If we don't like what you're doing, we'll tell you about it in print. If you don't like what we're doing, tell us about it. A question is never settled by gossip but once it is publicly discussed and settled, it is usually settled, and good!

Nellie The Mare Dies Of Homesickness

NEW YORK, Dec. 17, (AP)—Nellie the mare didn't want to go to Europe, Nellie was one of more than 700 horses scheduled to be shipped from New York to Poland. But the horse jumped from the gangplank of the ship Tuesday night and swam in the icy waters of the harbor for two hours before being rescued. That was enough to give anybody pneumonia, and it did Nellie. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals assigned two veterinarians to Nellie. They gave the mare penicillin and sulfa drugs and rye whiskey. But it was no use—the society announced today that Nellie the Mare is dead. The cause is officially listed as pneumonia but it was agreed that homesickness was a contributing cause.

They receive only 1,000 slots monthly pay in government jobs and have little with which to work.

The Warsaw-Bialystok medical council requested the government to urgently send a supply of anti-septics, disinfectants and dressings.

The ministry of supply answered by sending each doctor one bottle of vinegar, one-half package of corn-coffee and a small packet of washing powder. SOX

Florida Looks For New Grid Coach To Succeed Tom Lieb

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 17, (AP)—The University of Florida is in the market for a new football coach for the eighth time since 1922.

Meeting in Jacksonville yesterday — the State Board of Control refused to renew the contract of head coach Tom Lieb.

When he was notified at his home in Gainesville of the board's decision Lieb said he had no immediate comment to make.

Florida's mentor told the Associated Press he had not been officially notified of the board's action. The board also authorized University President Dr. John J. Tigert to begin at once to canvass the field for Lieb's successor.

10% more than wartime take-home pay refused by UAW-CIO

Before GM workers were called out on strike, the UAW-CIO refused an offer aimed to increase wartime take-home pay by at least 10%.

Read the background and ask yourself, does this make sense?

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE FACTS:

1. During the last year of the war, the average General Motors hourly-rate worker earned $56.93 per week.

This is based on actual records of the money paid and the number of people working. To earn this money they worked an average of 45.6 hours per week.

2. The public demand for GM products and services is enough to keep our plants working at the wartime level of 45 to 48 hours weekly.

During the period of shortages, we plan to operate at this rate, barring work stoppages due to causes beyond our control. In fact, some of our plants were working 48 hours a week when the strike was called. The number of people employed when reconversion is completed and our new plants and facilities are in production, will be larger than before the war.

3. General Motors offered to adjust wage rates in line with the cost of living.

Since January 1941, General Motors' wage rates have increased substantially. Before the strike was called, the union was offered a cost-of-living wage adjustment in line with the Government's recommendation. The union rejected this offer and called the strike. This offer has finally been determined to amount to an average of 13 1/2 cents per hour.

4. The UAW-CIO turned down a proposal which would have given the average GM worker $63.44 a week.

Under this offer, the average General Motors hourly-rate worker would have received $63.44 for the same number of hours for which he was paid $56.93 during the war. This is at least 33% more than he would have received in January 1941 if he had worked the same number of hours then. The union rejected the offer. The strike continues. The workers are getting nothing.

5. What does the UAW-CIO want?

Government figures say that the cost of living has gone up 33% since January 1, 1941. As already pointed out, General Motors has offered this much to its workers. But the union insists it wants 30% more than present rates, which are already substantially higher than 1941 rates. Its battle cry is "52 for 40 or fight"—52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work.

It refuses to budge from that demand.

You should know about the 80% collision or upset automobile insurance offered by the State Farm Mutual Insurance Co. If you carry $50 deductible collision or upset insurance on your car or truck, $50 is deducted from each collision and upset claim. If it costs you $50 to repair a damaged fender, you pay all. If another fender is damaged and it costs you $50 to repair, you again pay ALL.

If you had 80% coverage you could get both fenders repaired by paying only $20.

The premium after the 1st year is no more than you would pay for the $50 deductible kind and $10 to $25 less than you would pay for the 80% coverage in most companies.

MRS. SANTA
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., (AP)—Mrs. Wilhelmina Miller has 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren on her Christmas gift list, but you won't find her in the shoving, swirling swarm of shoppers. She has an ample assortment of dolls and stuffed animals. She's 81 now, and she's been making Yuletide presents of that sort for 50 years.

PAID IN FULL
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 15, (AP)—Food and clothing which the Salvation Army provided back in 1907 were worth $1000 to "Old Bill, the trader." That's the sum the late intendant Pittsburgh scissor grinder left the organization in his will. The bequest was revealed when his safety deposit box was opened. In addition "Old Bill" left $1000 each to the Jewish Home for babies, the Home for Crippled Children, and the In-sane Asylum of Newburg, Cleveland. In reality, the 77-year-old man was Fred Goldsmith. He had always been looked on as penniless, but bank books and other statements showed he left $33,000.

The miniature Chapel illustrated above was constructed by the boys of the Florida Industrial School in the woodwork and paint shops.

It is erected on a conspicuous spot on the school campus amid one of the picturesque young pine groves, and for several days during the Christmas season it will be the center of interest. It is equipped with a loud speaker from which emanates each night the organ notes and choir voices of our favorite Christmas Carols.

The imitation stained glass windows are lighted from the inside, and it is not only of interest to the staff and students at the school, but has been viewed by hundreds of citizens of the community.

The Christmas Service, conducted by the Reverend V.G. Lowery of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Marianna, will be held at the Little Chapel, with the 400 boys grouped around it on Christmas afternoon.

The novel little edifice is about 11 feet high, from the cross to the ground, and other dimensions in proportion. Evergreens have been planted around it and it has the appearance of a miniature "Chapel In The Pines."
