

Alabama Rests For Week Before Practice For Orange Bowl Clash

DECATUR, Ala., Dec. 3.—Alabama's Crimson Tide football team, bowl bound for the second straight year, is taking a well earned rest this week before getting down to serious preparations for the coming New Year's Day game with Boston College in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Coach Frank Thomas said Monday, after accepting the Jan. 1 invitation, that it would be at least a week or 10 days before the Crimson Tide squad would resume practice.

Although beaten three times during the past season, Alabama

Dogs' Diets Must Also Be Changed During Wartime

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (Special)—A source of worry to many a dog owner has been the problem of changing his dog's diet. With canned food practically nonexistent, many of these owners, from both Georgia and such other states as California, are feeding their pets meat from the butcher shop and table scraps. All this is not only expensive, but it makes no provision for deficiencies in the dog's diet.

Severely hampered by injuries to key performers throughout the season, Alabama was never able to field its strongest eleven for any of the tough games. In spite of the injury jinx, the Crimson of age will eat practically anything that is put in front of them, and like it. It is the older dog which may be more apt to display signs of stubbornness to new food if placed before him.

Tide marked an impressive victory over seven opponents, including such strong teams as Tennessee (Sugar Bowl), for the title, Mississippi, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Boasting a great line, which includes two all-Americans and an all-Eastern performer, Alabama played the toughest schedule in its history this year. Georgia, Tech and Tennessee are listed among the nation's top 10 teams, and Mississippi State is not far behind.

Capt. Joe Donnanovich, 190 pound center, has been named on a majority of all-American teams released so far, and Don Whitman, 220 pound tackle, has also gained all-American recognition on early selections. George Hecht, 218 pound guard, has been listed on all of the all-Southern Conference teams released to date and Russ Craft, 170 pound right halfback, another all-conference choice.

Winners over Texas A. & M., 29-21, in the Cotton Bowl game last Jan. 1, Alabama had previously made five trips to the Rose Bowl, winning three games and tying one before losing to California in 1937.

American Warships Score Big Victory In Solomon Islands

Destroy Nine Vessels In Night Battle; Over 8,000 Enemy Troops Lose Lives

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Navy announced today that 14 Japanese were killed in routing patrol operations off Guadalcanal in the Solomon Islands Tuesday. This is the first action announced since the Navy smashed another major Japanese effort to bolster their tired and dwindling ranks on the island.

In the Solomon Islands, American warships scored a big new victory over the Japanese off Guadalcanal, destroying nine more vessels in a night battle in which upwards of 8,000 to 10,000 Jap troops lost their lives.

The New Guinea, Allied troops killed 450 Japanese in the Gona sector as they closed in on enemy forces trapped on that coastal stronghold and in nearby Buna, where the Japanese are still firmly resting.

A surprise Jap attempt to reinforce beleaguered Nipponese troops on Guadalcanal was smashed Monday night by American naval forces which intercepted and sank nine enemy ships and destroyed one transport and a cargo vessel—the navy disclosed yesterday.

Jap personnel losses were estimated officially at 7,000 killed by gunfire or drowning.

The landing attempt—the second since last month—was the costliest Japanese venture at the cost of 100 ships, 100 aircraft, American cruisers, and "other" vessels damaged.

American casualties were not given.

The navy communiqué indicated two of the destroyers might have been Jap cruisers.

It was the first major sea action in the Guadalcanal area since the great Nov. 8-10 battle in which American forces sank 20 Jap ships, 11 auxiliaries, damaged 10 others and cost the enemy an estimated 30,000 to 40,000 dead.

The latest landing attempt appeared in the nature of a diversion move to reinforce and supply troops which have been left off Guadalcanal since prior to the big sea battle of three weeks ago.

In contrast to the previous battles, in which the Japs used battleships, the enemy this time apparently did not risk capital vessels, they evidently sought to capitalize on their element of surprise by landing on Guadalcanal under cover of darkness.

But an American tank force was waiting.

No landing was effected, the communiqué said tersely.

The total tally by the Americans reads as follows: the number of Jap ships definitely sunk in the Solomons campaign since Aug. 7. They include four battleships (one possibly a heavy cruiser); 10 cruisers, 21 destroyers (two of them being cruisers), 17 transports and one auxiliary.

Announced American losses to date are 20 ships—two aircraft carriers, six cruisers, 18 destroyers, four transports and a fleet tug.

In an early communiqué Thursday the navy had reported American land and air forces pressing a relentless mopping-up drive against the enemy on Guadalcanal itself. It listed 16 more Jap soldiers captured and 100 wounded during recent patrols extending west of Henderson airfield Wednesday.

Registration For 18 Year Olds To Begin December 8

Young Men Asked To Report To High Schools In Area

Registration of 18 year old men in Seminole County will be conducted through the high schools. L. B. Chapman, chairman of the Selective Service Board, announced this morning, adding that the registration will begin Friday, Dec. 11.

Boys who became 18 since June 30 and will be 18 before Dec. 31, will be asked to report to the high school in their vicinity. White students in Sanford will go to Seminole High School, while colored men will go to the Midway school or Crooks Academy. Both colored and white youths in the Longwood district will register at Lyman School and be interviewed and registered at the Orlando office.

Rose Tread, 20, is proud of the fact that a lake is going to be named after her in Kodiak Island, Alaska. She attributes the name to a wife and growing correspondence with men stationed on the Alaskan island, none of whom she has met.

Sanford - Orlando Kennel Club Will Start Season Soon

The Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club at Lenwood Park open for members of the Central Florida Kennel Club on Dec. 28 for a 90 day season terminating on April 10, 1943; president and general manager, and P. L. Phillips, secretary and treasurer, announced today.

Walter Connell, president and general manager, and P. L. Phillips, secretary and treasurer, announced today that 250 of the "first dogs we ever had" are now here, and a total of 400 dogs will be on hand later.

E. M. Meets will be held at the school of the dogs which starts on Dec. 14, and it is possible, the draft board will allow senior boys to finish high school. Mr. Chapman disclosed and told youth not to quit school as soon as they have registered.

Following the National Selective Service office registration questions will be held and mailed to the registrants. The man will fill out his questionnaire at same time he registers, to avoid congestion and delay, Mr. Chapman revealed, and his order number is determined by his date of birth.

Rotary Club Will Meet At Theater For Next Meeting

The Rotary Club will hold its regular meeting at the Ritz theater beginning at 12:00 o'clock on Monday, President Rolland Dean announced today as he reviewed that Charles Morrison, manager of the Ritz, has arranged a special program recalling the attack on Pearl Harbor one year ago.

The luncheon will be served on the stage of the Ritz theater and the high light of the program will be an informal talk by Commander F. Massee Hughes, commander of the 10th Air Force, which participated in the Pearl Harbor attack.

A special motion picture of the battle of Midway, in which Army and Navy fliers turned back a huge Japanese armada, will also be shown.

Commander Hughes was commanding officer for his part in the defense of Pearl Harbor, the hired help for Paul Eddy of Tallahassee, director of the High School Victory Corps, and discussion will center on the organization of a similar corps for the elementary school.

McNutt Probably Will Remain Head of WMC

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Edwin W. Pankey, secretary-treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, said after a conference with President Roosevelt today that he would not be surprised if Paul McNutt remained as war manpower chief.

Parsnip Poetry

A newspaper man made some experiments with coffee made of roasted parsnips and was not really happy over the result—but he did not like parsnips to start with. A reader writes to tell him his "article on parsnip coffee an insult against that king of vegetables are, to say the least, tasteless."

Parsnips are a boon to victory gardens, she says, needing only to be planted and watered occasionally, left in the ground to be dug as needed, for freezing only improves an already delicious flavor. She then waxes lyrical: "Were I describing parsnips I would compare their color to mellow old ivory, call their flavor sweet as honey, their taste divine. I would never mess around trying to make coffee out of something someone very much wiser than you intended to grow, be eaten and taste as parsnips drink water if necessary instead of coffee, but please let parsnips be parsnips."

It is wonderful to find the often despised parsnip requiring so stout a defender. And, indeed, have the parsnip-disparers ever tried them properly cooked? Take a cold night, with pork chops. Parboil the parsnips, then try in butter or with the chops to a beautiful brown and ivory gift of the gods!

Let those carp who will. Some folks can be poetic about parsnips.

Tall Tales

Someone should have stopped him when the bartender asked this sailor what the navy was doing. But we all listened shamelessly.

"I don't know what the battlewagons are doing," he said, "but if the Helms don't get wise, there won't be any side left to worry 'em. This destroyer I'm on is in the Green Paint Division. We carry a deck load of green paint and whenever we detect the presence of a sub we immediately circle the suspected zone, pouring the paint all over the surface. The Nazi, hearing our motors, comes up for a look. When his periscope comes out of the water it gets a film of green paint on it; they don't know they are breaking the surface so the sub keeps right on rising. We just wait until it is about 400 feet in the air and knock it down with our aircraft guns." — R. D. Colburn

The boys at Camp Livingston have profited by the skill of an old sergeant who learned a neat trick of trapping the mosquitoes. One night the sergeant called out to the men who would precede the mosquitoes in flight, identification tag while the mosquitoes paraded the identification tag. By experimenting he found that they preferred his type (A) above the rest and immediately he had a reserve pair of tags made with type Z, key-existent, stamped on them. He hasn't been bothered since. — Pvt. Earl Lehane, Headquarters Co., 280th Div., Camp Livingston, La.

A bunch of the boys in the 37th Fighter Squadron, waiting for a low ceiling to lift, were killing time by discussing parachute jumping. Lt. John Kay propped his feet on a desk and told about the oddest parachute jump he ever saw.

Up, a young fellow dropped out of the sky on our team," he said. "All he had for a parachute was a napkin cloth with the corners tied together, but he wasn't hurt a bit. Naturally we were curious and here's what he told us:

"My Pappy, who helped the Wright brothers build airplane engines, set out today to prove the well-known statement that even the kitchen table will fly if you put enough power in it."

"We took our table out to the air port, fastened an engine onto it, twisted the prop, and climbed on. The table rolled along on the casters but wouldn't take off." — Reader Digest

Sob Story

"When I was a little child," the sergeant wistfully addressed his men at the end of an exhaustive hour of drill. "I had a set of wooden soldiers. There was a poor boy in the neighborhood, and after I had been to Sunday school one day listening to a stirring talk on the duties of charity, I was soft enough to give them to him. Then I wanted them back and cried, but my mother said:

"Don't cry, Bertie, some day you will get your wooden soldiers back."

"And believe me, you lop-sided, mutton-headed, goofus-brained set of certified rolling pins that day has come!" — Winter Haven Herald.

WHAT ABOUT YOUR SOLDIER?

By MRS. ERNEST HOUSHOLDER

Dear Soldier: It's night again last Sunday's edition telling us we write. We don't know why, but Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of the Air Operational Training Command, had presented our "Skipper" with a commendation for his distinguished service during the Battle of Midway.

Captain Hughes' permanent citation was signed by Admiral C. W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet.

We think we'll sign it, too, although as yet they haven't asked us to. Nevertheless, they might. You never can tell!

Anyway, Commander Hughes has been here since the San Francisco Air Station was completed November 3. He has been recently transferred from the Southern Pacific Fighting Areas and he had participated in the Marshall-Gilbert Island raids and other combat actions, previous to his exploits at Midway.

Captain Hughes has been outstanding in his service to the Navy. He is a graduate of the Naval Academy, he has seen service on cruisers, destroyers, battleships; he won his wins at Pensacola in 1930, he has been awarded the American Defense Service Medal, Fleet Clasp—and, Commander Hughes is just "all out" Navy.

We congratulate the boys who have the privilege of serving under him, and we congratulate Commander Hughes upon his nice recognition.

But even I wryly thought that Captain Hughes has a great love for his job, a great fondness for our country, a great desire to go and a kindly warm understanding of people. And you know, you young soldiers and officers that if you like people they're bound to "goose" like you. Come on, boys, let's do our best.

Major In World War 1 Writes About Flying

(Editor's note: A flying officer in World War I, Major David Barkus is an intelligence officer in Hollywood twenty years—now real estate. In this article he contrasts the flying methods of the war and the flying of the present day, and the lessons learned over the week.

While it is not being considered seriously at this time, the meat shortage grows worse as the December 1st deadline approaches, then the 1st of January. Accordingly, we are asked to consider what can be done to meet the emergency.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(UPI)—In the course of my work as a flying officer, like all others, I have written about flying in the First World War and in the Second. I write about flying in the First World War and in the Second. From what British, French and American fighter pilots tell me, the principles are the same, the differences are slight.

First, the most important thing in your flying is recognition—the ability to recognize your friend and your enemy, quickly and accurately.

Second, the difference between being a good pilot and a bad one is the amount of time you spend in the air. You have to learn to shoot, not always where the enemy first can get into position. You have to learn to fly.

Second in importance, you fight or pilot is expert marksmanship. And the more you practice, the more you improve. Practice makes perfect. You have to practice for hours and hours to become a good pilot. You have to practice to shoot, not always where the enemy first can get into position. You have to learn to fly.

In this case, the more you practice, the more you improve. Practice makes perfect. You have to practice for hours and hours to become a good pilot. You have to practice to shoot, not always where the enemy first can get into position. You have to learn to fly.

Quartermasters Discuss Use Of Horses For Meat

WAINGTON, Dec. 4.—(UPI)—Horse meat has been discussed by the Army Quartermasters Corps and an official has been sent as a possible substitute for beef, mutton or mutton in the current meat shortage if it was learned last week.

While it is not being considered seriously at this time, the meat shortage grows worse as the December 1st deadline approaches, then the 1st of January. Accordingly, we are asked to consider what can be done to meet the emergency.

Writers Choose 3 Top Football Conference Men

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 4.—(UPI)—Three Southern football players—Frank Sinkwich of Georgia, Harvey Boddy of Georgia Tech and Paul White of Alabama—have been chosen as the three all-conference backs of the year in the southern spots.

The selection of Andrew Jackson of Tennessee as the best defensive back and of Eddie Anderson of Georgia Tech as the best defensive end were also announced yesterday.

Each player selected was chosen by a panel of 12 writers from the 12 schools in the Southeastern Conference. The panel consists of Andrew Jackson of Tennessee, Eddie Anderson of Georgia Tech, Frank Sinkwich of Georgia, Paul White of Alabama, Harry D. Edwards of Georgia Tech, George T. Smith of Georgia, John C. Williams of Auburn, W. E. Johnson of Mississippi State, John L. Williams of LSU, John M. Williams of Tulane, Eddie Dowdy of South Carolina and W. E. McRae of the University of Florida.

Most important for the season was the record of the schools which had the best records in last year's conference. The schools which won the most games are the only possibilities for play-off games. The other nine schools are the ones which did not win the most games.

Georgia Tech, emotional freshman, and sophomore junior Frank Sinkwich, and sophomore junior Paul White are the only possibilities for play-off games. The other nine schools

Titusville Editor Is Press Group President

Editor of the Titusville Daily News, H. O. Tamm, has been elected president of the Florida Press Association.

He succeeded George W. Edwards, president of the Tampa City Press, other officers elected were Eugene J. Maguire, St. Petersburg Telegraph, first vice-president; W. H. Bryan, of the Lakeland Ledger, second vice-president; and Russell Kay, of the Tampa Sun Service, fourth vice-president.

The family had an military tradition. His father was a couple generations ago from Pennsylvania to Kanawha pioneer. If their father had not been born of money with which to educate his four sons, John, Dwight Eisenhower, and two others, the American family tradition would have been different.

"It was simply that Dad didn't have the money to send us all to college," Attorney Eisenhower said. "Dwight wanted an education and he found he could get it at West Point so there he went."

There is only one real difference between the two brothers. Friends here who know the general when he was stationed at nearby Fort Lewis say they are like oil and water.

Both are healthy, good-looking and athletic and show any evidence of snobbishness.

Grantland Rice Makes Forecast 1943 College Football Season

COLLEGE FOOTBALL — AND

By GRANTLAND RICE

What will happen to the colleges—and college football in 1943?

In the first place, this is a matter entirely up to the War Department. In the second place, it is also a matter that interests millions.

Here is the latest tip from inside sources in the War Department—

"In 1943 we will take over 200 or maybe 300 colleges and universities. At least 35,000 of the 18 and 19-year-old boys will be assigned to this class. They will be drafted but not pinned down.

The draft will be given over to R. O.

T. C. training. These men will be trained for officers, especially in the flying corps, where we are looking for at least 70,000 additional flyers.

This is a different sort of war.

The big colleges and universities that can get by are those picked for war training after 1942. The War Department will have full charge, not college presidents, who are in complete accord with the War Department plan.

It is my belief that so far as 1943 is concerned, football should be given first place in an physical training.

Football isn't war—but it is the closest thing we have to war.

Football is the best training for war. As differences I'll give you General Douglas MacArthur and Captain Mike Moran, of the good ship Boise, who sank six Jap warships in 27 minutes.

Both are staunch believers in football values for war.

But what sort of college football program will we have for 1943?

Many in the War Department want only an intramural program.

In this respect they are 100 per cent wrong.

On both the physical training and the morale sides—or any other sport—needs outside competition.

Men in the service know this much better than head men in Washington.

These service men want to beat somebody else—not themselves.

There are too many in Washington who don't happen to understand this psychological angle which is an important one.

There is no way they can get close enough to millions of service-men, who know what they want.

City Judge Tries Several Negroes For Drunkenness

Drunkenness of negroes formed most of the charges in City Court Monday evening including the following cases: Ira Anderson, $1 bond estreated; Nelson Moore, $1 bond estreated, transferred to selective service board; Buster Wood, $10 and costs or 30 days; John Thompson, $10 and costs or 30 days; Richard Jackson, $1 bond estreated; John Strong $10 and costs or 30 days; Jim Beardall, $10 and costs or 30 days; Randall Richardson, $1 bond estreated; Henrie McDonald, $1 bond estreated; Willie McNeal, $50 and costs or 90 days; Eddie Lee Warner, $10 bond estreated; Freddie Stokes, $10 and costs or 30 days; William H. Galmer, $10 and costs or 30 days; Fred Lamb, $10 and costs or 30 days; and Frank Jones, $10 and costs or 30 days.

Disorderly conduct of negroes also resulted in a number of sentences: Willie Jackson, $1 bond estreated; Gene Lomax, $4 bond estreated; Willie Williams, $1 bond estreated; Lester Bell, $1 bond estreated; Willie McNeal, $50 and costs or 90 days; Eddie Lee Warner, $10 bond estreated; Freddie Stokes, $10 and costs or 30 days; William H. Galmer, $10 and costs or 30 days; and Frank Jones, $10 and costs or 30 days.

Other cases were: R. C. Bradberry, $10 and costs or 90 days; W. L. Sherwood, drunk and disorderly, transferred to Orlando Air Base; Herbert Allen, drunkenness, $10 bond estreated.

A new instruction course designed to make troops self-sufficient if they are cut off from supplies, was announced today.

The troops will learn that:

Roots of certain trees contain water.

Four teaspoonsful of water are obtainable from a frog dug out of a dry muck.

Cattail sprouts, salsify, lucerne nettles, and salalus, are useable substitutes to spinach.

Bird-worm and pink wattle grub or nectarine grubs are a native delicacy.

Ant eggs toasted on a hot stone taste like bread.

To burn certain trees, when crushed and thrown into a creek will drive the fish and cause them to come to the surface within an hour.

It is not claimed that this sort of diet is satisfying, but it will keep a man alive for weeks.

The tea drinking habit was largely responsible for the development of fine English porcelain.
