Toll Looms For Seminole Expressway Link

By Kathy Tyrty
Herald Staff Writer

Part of a grand expressway plan planned to go through Seminole County may be under construction late next year, according to Stephan Fregger, district director of planning and programs for the Florida Department of Transportation.

This would likely be a limited access toll road, and Fregger said funds may be available to provide parking lots where people can leave their cars and board public transportation to points on the expressway.

Fregger was present at a meeting Wednesday of the Seminole County Expressway Authority at which plans were unveiled for the 16-mile Seminole County stretch that will start in the north county at Interstate-4, either near State Road 46 or Lake Mary Boulevard. It will swing southeasterly through the county, either crossing Lake Jessup or going around it, and then tying into Orange County expressways near the southerly end of Tusawilla Road.

The Orange County segments will take motorists down to Orlando and connect to the east-west expressway and eventually a loop of the same expressway through Walt Disney World, Ocoee and parts west, back up to the starting point at I-4.

Fregger said the southerly portion of the Seminole expressway, from the Orange County line to State Road 426, will proceed with construction plans hopefully in July, along with plans for Orange County's connections.

Continuing northward, the portion up to Lake Jessup and S.R. 434 will proceed with construction by late 1989, he said, perhaps on up to S.R. 427.

"The rest depends on money," Fregger said. He added that construction on the final stretch may begin within another three years but possibly as late as 1992.

Before any of that happens, and before the final route is laid out, a lot of planning with public input has to be done, according to Fred Streetman, chairman of the Seminole County

Expressway Authority.

To begin with, anyone with comments can call members of the authority, some of whom were present at the meeting — Bob Sturm, Mayor Bettye Smith of Sanford, and Paul Tremel, commissioner from Lake Mary.

Gerald Brinton, executive director of the expressway authority, gave an overview of how plans would proceed. A Technical Advisory Committee, with representatives from environmentalists and the citizens advisory group, will be the closest link the public has to the authority.

County OKs Sewer Pact

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Both the Seminole County and Longwood commissions have approved an agreement under which the city will provide the city with wholesale sewage treatment and disposal, but it is dependent upon the city getting bank approval for the financing.

Longwood Finance Director Barry Weeks told The Herald Wednesday that Sun Bank has been asked to review the contract to make sure there are no provisions in conflict with the bond agreement and make comments. He said this will take a week to 10 days. The city staff is also reviewing the contract and making calculations.

He said the bank is concerned about the city's ability to pay back the $2.5 million it borrowed to build a new sewer plant and now wants to use to hook up with the county sewer system. This is because the going with the county will cost more than was borrowed for the proposed Grant Street treatment plant.

The bank doesn't like the figures and has asked for an engineer's 10-year plan predicting revenues, Weeks said, and it will be into January before Dyer Riddle Mills and Precourt, the city's consulting engineering firm, can prepare one.

Weeks said the city has not asked the bank for more money at this point. The commission has already increased fees for new sewer hookups to help make up the difference.

Another unknown quantity, he pointed out, is what the two newly elected city commissioners — Lynette Dennis and David — may want to do.

The County Commission voted unanimously Tuesday night to approve the pact. The city commission voted for 4-1 for the agreement Monday night subject to approval of financing by Sun Bank.

City Commissioner Perry Faulkner, who voted against the agreement, said he did so because the financing was not in place and some of the facts were wrong.

The city has borrowed $2.5 million from Sun Bank to build a new 600,000 gallons per day sewer plant on Grant Street designed to replace the Skylark and Columbus Harbour package treatment plants. The engineers had prepared plans for the treatment facility and bids from contractors had been received when negotiations with the county resulted in an agreement being drawn up.

The sewer agreement with the county will eliminate the need for the Grant Street plant.

Under the contract drawn up by City Attorney Ann Colby and County Attorney Nikki Clayton, with input by officials and staff members, the county will reserve 600,000 GPD capacity at its Greenwood-Lakes treatment plant for Longwood's use for a period of 10 years. Initially the city will be required to pay connection fees for 325,000 GPD at the rate of $5.75 per gallon upon signing of the Florida Department of Environmental Regulations permit application by the county or within six months of the signing of the

Sanford Election Results Confirmed

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's 1986 elections were wrapped up Wednesday with an absentee ballot count that bolstered the winning run-off districts collected by A.A. McClanahan and Whitey Eckstein during regular polling the day before. Both will take office Jan. 6.

McClanahan, a former city commissioner, unseated incumbent Milton Smith by 215 votes to secure the District 3 seat and Eckstein, a Seminole County High School teacher, defeated Sanford businesswoman Dot Meadors by 50 ballots to become District 4's commission representative.

The 26 absentee ballots that produced these results were counted at a special city commission meeting Wednesday. Added to Tuesday's regular ballot totals were 19 absentee ballots in District 3 and seven in District 4. Disallowed during the session were seven District 3 absentee ballots that had been improperly filled out.

Final results, with regular and absentee ballots, are McClanahan, 478 votes; Smith, 263; Eckstein, 302; and Mrs. Meadors, 252.

McClanahan pulled in 64.5 percent of District 3's ballots to Smith's 35.5 percent. Eckstein had 54.5 percent of District 3's support to Mrs. Meadors' 45.5.

After regular polling Tuesday, McClanahan had a 206 vote edge over Smith and Eckstein, a 49 vote margin over Mrs. Meadors.

The absentee ballots added 14 votes to McClanahan's total, five to Smith's, four to Eckstein's and three to Mrs. Meadors'. The four candidates earned run-off spots in the top vote getters when first round polling was held Dec. 2. McClanahan and Smith secured run-off spots from a field of five contenders in District 3. Eckstein and Mrs. Meadors emerged from an eight-way race in District 4.

Incumbent District 4 Commissioner Dave Farr did not seek reelection this year and said he's confident his successor "will do a fine job." Farr added, "District 4 voters had an excellent choice between two well qualified candidates."

Mayor Bettye Smith said she's "looking forward to working with the new commissioners" and commended the efforts of Mrs. Meadors and Smith.

"I'm eternally optimistic," Mayor Smith said. "I'm sure the two new representatives will join the rest of the commission in concentrating on doing what's best for Sanford."

Commissioner Smith said he was "certainly disappointed" with the election's outcome, but that he was "grateful to have been able to serve the people for six years." Smith, 67, said he and his wife plan to take a vacation and "relax a bit" after he leaves office Jan. 6.

Voter turnout Tuesday was on a par with ballots cast for the Dec. 2 first round election. Of District 3's 2,414 registered voters, 741 of them, or 31 percent had their ballots counted Tuesday, while the Dec. 2 first round vote brought out 814 or 34 percent of the district's voters.

In District 4, of 4,154 registered voters, 554 or 13.5 percent of them had run-off ballots

Longwood Approves Annexation Pleas

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood City Commission has annexed two parcels of land into the city and tabled another annexation request. A fourth request was withdrawn by the property owner.

The commission voted unanimously Monday night to annex 1.8 acres (Lot 14 and west 100 feet of Lot 13), Longwood Hills, on the request of Richard Robison, trustee, but tabled an amendment to the Future Land Use Plan to assign the designation of multi-density residential to the property and an ordinance to rezone the property from County Agricultural (A-1) to City Residential, multi-family (R-3).

Residents of the adjacent development, Longwood Green, expressed concern about the multi-family zoning because of the traffic problems in the area.

City Planner Chris Nagle told them that the developer has agreed to single family houses and because of the size of the property and location of Citrus Lane which crosses it, there would not be room for more than two houses on one lot and one on the other. He said under the present Land Use designation the owner could build anything from single family to duplex.

Nagle stated the applicant originally requested Low Density Residential and R-1 Residential zoning, but Nagle suggested that Medium Density Residential land use be assigned and R-3 zoning as this land would become part of an existing Longwood Green PUD (Planned Unit Development) with land use designation of MDR and R-3 zoning.

Longwood Green developer Brian Pinkney, who was representative for the request, said he was in agreement with Nagle and had never asked any zoning other than that which is comparable with Longwood Green. He said that entrances to the lots would not be directly on Longwood Hills Road.

Commissioner Harvey Smerilson made the motion to table Future Land Use amendment until the developer brings in a written agreement that he would only build single family homes on the property.

The commission also tabled the zoning change until City Administrator Ron Waller and Police Chief Greg Manning get together and come up with a traffic survey and plan for patrolling Longwood Hills Road where residents say there are many accidents and near accidents caused by a blind curve.

Police Lt. Jack Bisland said he will order a traffic survey be made.

Also annexed were 1.69 acres on the east side of U.S. Highway 17-92, 1,000 feet south of State Road 434, owned by Longwood Promenade Associates (J. Wayne Miller and Kendall W. Allen, general partners). The commission amended the Future Land Use designation to General Commercial and rezoned the property from County C-2 Commercial to City C-3 General Commercial. Later in the meeting the commissioners unanimously approved the site plan for Longwood Promenade, a retail center.

McCollum Named To House Probe Panel

From Staff And Wire Reports

WASHINGTON — House leaders Wednesday named Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs, to a 15-member special committee to investigate the Iran arms affair next year while a similar probe is conducted in the Senate.

"I am very pleased and honored to have been chosen by the leadership to be part of the joint committee. My personal goal is to find out the facts, to see if any laws have been broken and if so, by whom. I also want to examine the relationship between the office of the executive branch," McCollum said.

McCollum, in his fourth term, was in Jacksonville today completing Naval reserve duty.

Immediately after being selected, the Democratic and Republican leaders of the new panel — Reps. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., and Dick Cheney, R-Wyo. — agreed it would be premature

POLICE

Man Arrested For Burglary Also Charged In Wife Beating

Barry Raynard Wamley, 25, of 1111 S. Sanford Ave., Sanford, was charged with burglary in connection with a December hit on a body shop. He was also charged with aggravated assault and battery in connection with a Dec. 9 alleged beating of and threats to kill his wife.

Wamley, who was arrested at the Seminole County Courthouse in Sanford at 11:48 a.m. Tuesday, was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

He is accused of burglarizing Quality Paint and Body Shop, 1109 S. Sanford Ave., on Dec. 7 or 8.

He is also accused of beating his wife Phyllis and holding a knife to her throat, while threatening to kill her at their home.

Battery, Robbery Charged

Sanford police reported charging Leonard Thomas Sutton, 39, of 1516 S. Mangouline Ave., Sanford, with robbery and battery.

He was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond and is accused of throwing Darlene Stevens to the floor of her home at 29 Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford. He allegedly took $15 from Ms. Stevens before leaving her home.

Sutton was arrested after questioning at the Sanford police station at 12:06 p.m. Tuesday.

Wife-Beating At Rest Stop

A Fort Lauderdale man who was charged with battery-spouse abuse after a Seminole County sheriff's deputy heard the man's wife yelling for help at the eastbound rest area of Interstate 4, near Longwood, at about 1 a.m. Wednesday, was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

The deputy was talking to people at the rest area when he heard the calls for help and approached a car where he saw a woman being beaten by a man. The man was ordered out and the woman accused him of having hit her several times in the face and on the body.

William H. Roberts, 38, has been charged in the case.

Molestation Investigated

Seminole County sheriff's deputies are investigating allegations by a Winter Park woman that a man has on several occasions since Aug. 7 sexually assaulted her 14-year-old daughter.

The girl told her mother of the alleged assaults Monday and the mother reported the allegations to sheriff's deputies. A suspect has been named.

Shots Fired At Truck

Sheriff's deputies reported finding three bullet holes in the truck of Stephen B. Wright, 24, of Deltona.

Wright reported to sheriff's deputies that the bullets were fired at his truck at about 9:45 p.m. Tuesday, from inside a red Grand-Am Pontiac, which tailed and then passed his vehicle in a road construction area on Interstate 4 near State Road 434.

Wright told deputies he changed lanes twice to let the car with highbeam headlights pass him. As the vehicle passed his truck the shots were fired. The bullets hit the passenger side door and windshield of the truck. There were no injuries reported.

Lawyer Found In Contempt

A visiting judge found a former Sanford lawyer in contempt of court Wednesday and ordered his arrest in connection with getting, without a judge's permission, a juvenile's court record while preparing a civil case.

Dade Circuit Judge Harold Vann ordered the arrest of William Leffler III, now of Tallahassee. Vann is in Sanford helping Seminole circuit judges clear their year-end dockets. Leffler, contacted in Tallahassee, said he had not received notice to appear in court in Sanford.

At issue is how Leffler obtained the juvenile court record of George Brana, 16, of west Seminole County. Leffler was working on a case for John Daniels, 44, of 2831 Bermuda Ave., west Seminole County, who was being sued by Brana's parents over a shooting incident April 9, 1985. In that incident, Brana was shot in the right eye and subsequently lost it. Criminal charges were not filed in the case.

Leffler, no longer on the civil suit, told Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis in September he couldn't remember where he got the 16-year-old's juvenile court record. Davis ordered Leffler in November to show up in court and explain where the records, usually confidential, came from. The records can be obtained with a court order but no order was issued in this case, according to the records.

Brana was shot after he attempted a late-night tryst with a girl living in the same home as Daniels. Daniels, however, thought he was confronting a burglar and scared the boy off. Brana returned to the scene, however, and the two struggled. Brana was shot as he and a friend tried to drive away, records show.

Leffler is the nephew of Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler.

Bonds, Hearing Set For Pair Charged In Theft From Mom

A husband and wife arrested in connection with the theft of money from the wife's mother are scheduled to appear in court Jan. 5 to have a tentative trial date set.

Bond was set Wednesday by County Judge Wallace Hall at $2,000 for Jodi Getman Johnson, 20, of 900 Santa Barbara Drive, Sanford. Bond was set at $1,000 for her husband, James Robert Johnson, 20, of 822 Santa St., Sanford, according to sheriff's records. Mrs. Johnson posted bail, Johnson did not and is being held, records show.

She is charged with two counts of burglary, two counts of theft, five counts of forgery, five counts of petty theft, and five counts of uttering the forgeries, those records show. He is charged with one count of grand theft, according to sheriff's records. At the time of the arrest, Johnson was out of jail on two bonds, $1,000 and $2,000, in connection with an Oct. 17 burglary of a Sanford business and attempted burglary of a nearby business. In that incident Johnson was charged with attempted burglary, and burglary and possession of burglary tools, sheriff's records show.

The couple's arrest stems from two thefts, one Dec. 13 and a second Dec. 14, according to Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett.

Harriett said Sanford Police records show the woman's mother called police and said $967 was taken from a purse in her home around Dec. 13. The same woman reported on Dec. 15 that $300 was taken from a second purse on Dec. 14, according to Harriett.

The late Tuesday arrests were made after the woman's mother reportedly went to the daughter's home and found one of the stolen purses. —Deane Jordan

One Dead, In Chuluota Accident

A 16-year-old Chuluota boy who was killed in an auto accident Wednesday had just finished repairing the car and was taking it for a test run, the boy's father said today. Two 15-year-old passengers were injured in the 6:30 p.m. accident.

Dead is Gary Allen Edwards, of 361 Fourth St. He died when the 1970 Chevy two-door he was driving ran into a palm tree one-tenth of a mile east of 8th Street on Lake Drive in Chuluota.

In guarded, fair condition today at Winter Park Memorial Hospital was Steven W. Brown, 444 Third St., Chuluota. Treated and released was Tessa Cabana, of 441 E. Fifth St., Chuluota. Brown and Miss Cabana attend Oviedo High School.

Edwards, a sophomore at Oviedo High School, liked cars and motorcycles and was exceptionally handy at repairing them.

"He just got it fixed. He was taking it for a trial run," his father, Gerald Edwards, said today. The car belonged to the boy's mother, Edwards said.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, the car accelerated on Lake Drive, went out of control and left the road, ramming its left side into a palm tree. According to the FHP report, the incident may be alcohol related.

Edwards is the 34th traffic fatality of the year in Seminole County, according to FHP.

Over And Out

Doug Braswell, Seminole County fireman, observes with a passerby the wrecked car that turned over in a ditch off S.R. 46. The accident happened about 2:15 p.m. Tuesday when the driver of the car, Terry Ellen Bowlin, of 2515 S. Elm Ave. in Sanford, traveling eastbound, was following another car that slowed to turn left. Ms. Bowlin tried to avoid hitting the car, lost control, and ran off the road, turning her car upside down, according to FHP Trooper Bob Lovering. Ms. Bowlin and her 2-year-old daughter Branden were checked at Central Florida Regional Hospital for minor injuries.

Bright Planets To Appear In Sky Tonight

Sky observers will be treated to a special sight tonight and in the morning. The two bright planets, Mars and Jupiter, will appear very close to each other in the southern sky.

Planets look just like stars to the naked eye, although they are usually brighter. They also move slowly among the stars, traveling from constellation to constellation over a period of months or even years. Because Mars moves faster than Jupiter, it will overtake and pass it in our sky at about 2 a.m. on the morning of the 19th.

Mars will be about one-half of a degree above Jupiter (one-half degree is the apparent size of the moon). Observers with binoculars will easily see both planets, and those with telescopes will be treated to a rare and beautiful sight: two planets in the same telescope view.

Storm Dumps On Southwest

By United Press International

A wintry storm dumped more snow in the Southwest today, and another storm threatened up to 6 inches of snow in the Northeast, as thick fog that snarled air traffic lingered in Utah, along the Gulf Coast and around the Great Lakes.

Snow fell early today from the southern Rockies into northwest Texas, with up to 4 inches expected today, and rain doused the rest of Texas and parts of southern New Mexico.

The heaviest snow early today fell in the mountains of New Mexico, "but conditions will deteriorate as the day progresses, (with snow moving) into northwest Texas and the Northeast," National Weather Service forecaster Pete Reynolds said.

A winter storm warning was issued for the northern Trans Pecos Mountains in west Texas, in New Mexico, Ski Apache, near Ruidoso, was hit with 8 inches of snow Wednesday, and up to 3 more inches was expected.

A separate storm brewing in the Northeast threatened up to 6 inches of snow in parts of Pennsylvania, New York, Vermont, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

Elsewhere, rain fell in the upper Ohio Valley, the mid-Atlantic states and the southern Appalachians, and rain and snow fell in the upper Great Lakes and the central Appalachians.

Heavy fog that blanketed Salt Lake City, Utah, for the third day Wednesday reduced visibility to one sixteenth of a mile at Salt Lake City International Airport, forcing cancellations or delays of flights.

"It's the worst I've seen in the last four or five years, easily," said airport director Louis Miller.

But he said Wednesday wasn't as bad as Tuesday, when half the airport's 185 scheduled departures were canceled.

The heavy fog that stretched Wednesday from the Great Lakes across the Mississippi Valley to the central Gulf Coast and across much of the Plains also hampered traffic at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport.

The fog was expected to linger in Salt Lake City for today at least, and fog also remained in the central Gulf coast states and the Great Lakes, Reynolds said.

Early morning temperatures today were in the single digits and teens in the northern Rockies and the northern Great Basin. The temperature Wednesday rose to a record 67 degrees at Moffett Field near Mountain View, Calif.

Sky observers will be treated to a special sight tonight and in the morning. The two bright planets, Mars and Jupiter, will appear very close to each other in the southern sky.

IN BRIEF

Air Force Developing Super Unmanned 'Star Wars' Rocket

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — The Air Force is working to develop technology for a huge new unmanned super rocket with "Star Wars" applications that could be ready for blastoff in the mid 1990s, a top official says.

Air Force Secretary Edward "Pete" Aldridge also said Wednesday the conservative post-Challenger environment may rule out a shuttle launch for several key military satellites that were built with the shuttle in mind.

"Some DOD satellites were built in anticipation of higher shuttle performance than now appears will be available," Aldridge said at a conference on the commercialization of new unmanned rockets.

At issue is the shuttle's ability to fly at full power with its liquid-fueled main engines. Because of safety and durability considerations, the engines probably will not be allowed to operate at maximum power for several years after flights resume in February 1988.

NAPLES (UPI) — Steven Carr, who died in California after telling Senate investigators about arms shipments to Nicaraguan rebels, wrote a series of letters in 1985 detailing "aid to the Contras," his lawyer said.

Attorney Jerry Berry said Wednesday that Carr, who has admitted escorting an arms shipment for Contra rebels from Florida to El Salvador in March 1985, left instructions to release the letters if he came to "an untimely end."

Carr, 27, died of a "possible drug overdose" in Los Angeles early Saturday. The coroner said toxicology tests expected to be available Friday would determine the exact cause of death.

Berry said Carr left nine letters detailing "his involvement with the Contras and aid to the Contras and so forth."

Vogt Appoints Lottery Panel

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Senate President John Vogt has appointed Sen. Ander Crenshaw, R-Jacksonville, to lead a select committee that will study ways to implement the new state lottery and spend the proceeds.

Vogt and Crenshaw opposed the citizen's initiative to create a state lottery. The voters gave the measure their overwhelming approval Nov. 4, and both lawmakers pledged Wednesday to bow to the will of the people.

"I am concerned about who regulates the lottery, who gets to sell the lottery, how they get that right, how much money the state can make from the lottery and how the state spends that money," Vogt said.

Joining Crenshaw on the panel will be Sen. Gwen Margolis, D-North Miami; Sen. Don Childers, D-West Palm Beach; Sen. Curtis Peterson, D-Lakeland; Sen. Karen Thurman, D-Dunnellon; Sen. Tim Deratany, R-Indianapolis; Sen. John Grant, R-Tampa.

THE COST OF BETTER CATARACT CARE DOESN'T HAVE TO BE OUT OF SIGHT.

In the past, cataract surgery was often put off as long as possible. Patients became "nearly blind" before cataracts were treated and sight restored.

Same Day Surgery
 Today, cataract removal is comfortable, safe and convenient. In hours, you are on your way home and on your way to clearer vision.

Highest Quality Care
 Board certified Ophthalmologists provide total care for your eyes. Cataract surgery is performed using the advanced medical facilities of Central Florida Regional Hospital, backed with the security of a full operating room staff.

No Cost Cataract Care
 Cataract surgery will cost you absolutely nothing. Medicare and supplementary insurance is accepted as payment in full.

Scandal Hinders War On Terror

One of the most pernicious consequences of the Iranian arms scandal is the blow it has dealt to the civilized world's struggle to contain state-sponsored terror. International cooperation against terrorism has never been anything to boast about, but the campaign will grow even more feeble now that American leadership has been discredited by the bartering of weapons and cash for hostages.

Nonetheless, the demand for a strong policy to combat terrorism has not diminished, as illustrated by fresh revelations of participation by Iran and Syria in attacks against Americans in Lebanon. Explicit evidence of the Iran-Syria terror link has been pieced together by the CIA and the super-secret National Security Agency, which uses satellites and other means of high-tech eavesdropping to track terrorist activities. What the intelligence discloses is that Iran supplied more than $1 million for the explosives used in the bloody bombings of the U.S. embassy and the Marine barracks in Beirut. Syrian military experts then coordinated the assembly and delivery of the bombs. The two attacks claimed 258 diplomats and soldiers.

White House overtures to elements within the regime of the Ayatollah Khomeini were begun after the administration had learned of Iran's complicity in the Beirut attacks. Although no one can dispute the merit in trying to improve American contacts with whatever responsible authorities might exist in Tehran, President Reagan's secret policy unwisely sacrificed the more compelling objective of countering terrorism. Indeed, most of the National Security Council staff's dealings with Iran could not have done more to reward state-sponsored terror.

For example, Lt. Col. Oliver North, the former NSC aide who ran a clandestine operation to gain release of hostages in Lebanon, persuaded Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot to put up as much as $2 million in ransom money. The cash failed to buy anyone's freedom, but it no doubt encouraged the seizing of more innocent victims. Can offering American ransom have any consequence other than to spur more hostage-taking? Reagan insists he did not intend to trade arms to Iranian terrorists, but that is precisely the outcome of his actions, thereby providing additional incentives for Tehran to pursue its terror policy.

To the civilized mind that has trouble comprehending why governments sponsor terrorism, the U.S.-Iranian transactions provide the answer: It is very profitable. For government policy-makers seeking to stem the terrorist menace, the Reagan administration's ill-considered escapades demonstrate that appeasement is the worst possible strategy. Nor does seeking better ties with groups or nations that foment terror necessarily deter attacks, as Tehran's new defiance toward Washington shows. (France's flirtations with Palestinian extremists are further evidence of this mistaken notion.)

The most effective response to the Iran-Syria terror network is international cooperation to isolate Tehran and Damascus diplomatically, economically and militarily. Weapons embargoes, economic sanctions and diplomatic protests should be buttressed by the undoubted risk of military retaliation of the sort tasted by Libya's Moammar Gadhafi last April. Sadly, in the wake of Mr. Reagan's Iran crisis, such international cooperation is a more remote possibility than ever before.

Bishops Ignore Top Economic Scholars

Galileo would understand, I suppose, as would the early bankers of the Italian states. The American Catholic bishops have approved overwhelmingly a report on capitalism and poverty that completely ignores the most important and creative analyses of the past 25 years.

Over the centuries, to be sure, economics has not been an intellectual strength of the Catholic church. When early capitalism was beginning to stir in the city-states of the Italian peninsula, the church and its moral theologians treated it as the work of the devil. They pronounced one anathema after another on the taking of interest, the thought being that since money was an inorganic substance it constituted a violation of nature for it to reproduce itself.

Well, capitalism went its prosperous way and brought into existence the most prosperous civilization the world has ever seen, with the prosperity much more evenly distributed than in the feudal society the medieval church was implicitly defending.

But the news travels pretty slowly. And now we get more guff from the bishops. It just happens that the most persuasive works of economic and social analysis of the recent and semi-distant past stand athwart virtually all of the assumptions that inform the bishops' pastoral.

In the face of the intellectual death of socialism, which is one of the striking occurrences of the post World War II era, the bishops recommend to us more statism, and great redistribution of wealth by the federal government. And, beyond that, they recommend that we pour our wealth into the backward countries of the Third World.

Those Third World societies could not make good use of it even if we did so. Peter Bauer and others have shown that the troubles of the Third World are not economic but political, and that economic progress requires the breakdown of corrupt oligarchies and the spread of economic freedom and security for private property.

Now where further welfare statism at home is concerned, virtually all recent scholarship is set dead against it. Charles Murray has shown that our present system of welfare corrupts its recipients, and has in fact led to the social pathology of the ghetto: broken families and illegitimate children. The bishops appear to be telling us that we should actually increase these social traumas.

George Gilder, Michael Novak, William Simon and many, many others have recently made the connection between economic success and the cultivation of such personal virtues as self-discipline, integrity, inventiveness, and even the charity that enters into a concern for another person's needs in goods and services.

And this recent analysis has its roots further back, in the seminal work of the Austrian economists Von Hayek and Von Mises. Indeed, Von Hayek's "Road to Serfdom" published in 1944 demonstrated the intellectual nakedness of socialism, even as the British were instituting it, to their own virtual ruin.

So the bishops come before us like warmed over Lyndon Johnson, or even worse.

Sell More U.S. Items Overseas

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (NEA) — "Our country is in the economic fight of its life," warns Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont. "Thirty years ago, Americans produced 60 percent of the world's gross national product. Today, we produce 30 percent."

That's only one indicator of the nation's inability to compete in the global marketplace.

In 1981, this country registered a positive balance of $26 billion in the crucial field of high-technology trade, analyst Pat Choate noted. This year, there will be a negative balance of $2 billion in that account.

"Today, 70 percent of our industries face brutal, competent international competition," added Choate, a highly regarded futurist and economist employed by TRW, Inc. "We must make some fundamental shifts in our trade policy."

Indeed, the current trade policy produced a situation in which the United States last year had a $148.5 billion trade deficit that is expected to grow to $170 billion this year.

In contrast, Japan this year is expected to enjoy an $87 billion trade surplus while West Germany probably will have a $45 billion trade surplus.

Those nations and others not only have a healthier financial relationship with their trading partners but also, as Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt notes, they wield growing influence over the direction of this country's economy.

Although President Reagan has embraced a laissez faire approach to the issue, there is a growing belief among Democrats that remedial action must be taken soon.

But exactly what should be done? Wright, who will be elevated to Speaker of the House next month, suggests the outlines of a likely legislative remedy.

"The main part of the solution lies in selling American goods at home and abroad — American products that can compete in price and quality. The solution lies in opening markets for American goods — not closing markets to foreign goods."

Indeed, most politicians have become sensitized to the dangers of protectionist legislation, even when it might provide a popular "quick fix" to problems faced by constituents clamoring for action from their elected officials.

But the long-term solutions will be neither cheap nor painless. They include enhanced worker training and retraining programs, drastic restructuring to make workplaces more efficient and productive and an overhaul of the nation's educational system that places new emphasis upon mathematics, science and foreign language instruction.

Visits End Early When Inmate Complains

 WASHINGTON (Va.) — Officials at the Petersburg (Va.) Federal Prison Camp have not taken kindly to criticism of their institution by inmate George Hansen, a former Republican congressman from Idaho.

Unfortunately, the bureaucrats have apparently wreaked their petty revenge not only on Hansen, but on innocent bystanders: his fellow prisoners and their wives.

Hansen, an arch-conservative convicted of failing to report certain transactions on his required financial disclosure form, began serving a sentence of five to 15 months last June at the prison camp near Richmond. An unregenerate maverick, Hansen declined to curry favor with prison authorities by remaining silent about the prison conditions he considered disgraceful. He wrote letters and memos, called us

Season's Meanings

Those of different faiths and backgrounds eagerly anticipate the coming religious holidays. For many there will be family gatherings, exchanging of gifts, sharing festive occasions — times of good will and joy, of dedication and religious celebration.

Some will think mostly of the tinsel and glitter, of crowded shopping malls and tracking down gift list items. Others will find pleasure and encouragement in the unique music of the season — carols and cantatas, church choirs and street carolers, jingling bells and angelic harps — of the lighting of candles and the twinkling myriads of electric lights.

Perhaps more significant than all the holiday trappings, more pertinent than all the clamor and bustle of the season, are the deeper meanings implied by religious faith.

For 'tis a season for sharing, for making merry, a time for dispelling the drabness and harshness from our daily lives. Christmas — and Hanukkah — remind us it's time to erase the hatreds and sourdness which cloud much of our daily lives, and aspire to replace them with love and brotherhood, peace and good will.

Curtail Citizenship-By-Bus-Ride

Recently I was attempting to fly to Texas from Mexico. Unfortunately it was "breaktime" for U.S. colleges and all flights were booked. In desperation I resorted to the Mexican bus system, paying $3 instead of $103 for a several-hundred-mile journey. When boarding the "autobus" I noticed all passengers were young to middle aged females and from their profiles seemed to have been "blessed with the holy water" ... all were pregnant.

During many tiring hours I listened intently to various conversations. The pregnant damsels knew more about U.S. welfare benefits than employees of Health

If only we had vision enough to rise above the material and external aspects of the season and capture the deeper inner spirit of religious faith, maybe we could bring to fulfillment in the world about us the promise of the Angelic choir of 19 centuries ago, "Peace on earth, good will between all peoples." Our sincerest prayer, this Christmas season, is that all of us may become "Peacemakers" in extending the spirit of brotherhood and understanding, of compassion and peace.

As a stone tossed into the water creates ever-widening circles, so may our prayers and actions tossed into the mainstream of world activity create ever-widening influence in the lives of those in far-off places.

Maybe, then, we can finally learn to live together on planet earth — Russian and American, Arab and Jew, African and European, Oriental and Occidental — as we discover the greatest secret of all, "Peace and Good Will" comes from the hearts of those who care.

Bush: Questions Linger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In his stated effort to tell all he knows about the Iran arms-Contra aid affair, Vice President George Bush has left some questions unanswered and failed to dispel a cloud of doubt hanging over his political ambitions for 1988.

Even before disclosure of secret arms sales to Iran or diverted funds to Nicaraguan rebels, Bush was dogged by allegations that his office was involved in behind-the-scenes efforts to aid the Contras.

It started with the capture of Eugene Hasenfus, the survivor of a Contra supply flight shot down over Nicaragua in October. Hasenfus said the flights were coordinated by a Felix Rodriguez, also known as Max Gomez, who had connections to Bush.

After days of silence, Bush acknowledged that he had met Rodriguez three times and considered him "a patriot" for helping fight leftist guerrillas in El Salvador.

Bush said his discussions with Rodriguez never touched on Nicaragua. And he said any suggestion that the Contra aid network was being run from his office was "absolutely, totally untrue."

What Bush did not know or mention at the time was that his national security adviser, Donald Gregg, had met with Rodriguez earlier to discuss how the Contras would survive during the period when U.S. assistance to the rebels was prohibited by law.

The August meeting, in which Rodriguez expressed concern about the Contras, and a subsequent meeting at which Gregg and his deputy, Col. Samuel Watson, relayed those worries to CIA and other officials, was disclosed only after senior aides to Bush concluded the rumors about the vice president's links to the Contras — and the potential political damage — would not go away.

But the accounting offered by Bush's office Dec. 15 gave only sketchy details. The report did firmly deny any operational connection to the private Contra aid effort or any prior knowledge that Iran arms profits had gone to the rebels.

However, Bush's name continues to come up as the web of the Iran operation and the parallel Contra aid network are sorted out.

The name and telephone number of his military aide, Lt. Col. Douglas Menarchik, was found among the belongings of an American who surfaced as part of an FBI investigation of gun-running to the Contras.

Bush and Menarchik also were mentioned in New York court records in the case of several people charged with illegally selling arms to Iran.

Hansen told us. "Another mother, from Washington, D.C., ... was sent away after only 1½ hours."

"This young black woman, who supports herself and her family by working in a hi restaurant, had adjusted her schedule, hired a sitter for her three children, bought a ticket and ridden a bus for three hours to visit her husband for his birthday — their first visit in six months," Hansen told us.

"The expense didn't matter," Hansen said. "The distance didn't matter. The six months' time since the last visit didn't matter to the captain. He said the woman could sit it out in the administration building until her bus left for Washington four hours later."

Footnote: A prison spokesman said, "There have been no acts of retaliation directed against Mr. Hansen or any others as a result of his contacting the news media."

Top Viet Leaders Resign

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Vietnam's top three leaders, who led the communists to victory in war but economic failure in peace, stepped down Wednesday because of advanced age and falling health.

The resignations of party leader and President Truong Chinh, 79, Prime Minister Pham Van Dong, 80, and Politburo member Le Duc Tho, 78, who won the Nobel Peace Prize for negotiating the Paris peace agreement with the United States, were announced at the party's Sixth Congress in Hanoi.

They received a standing ovation, standing before a giant white bust of party founder Ho Chi Minh to wave farewell to more than 1,000 representatives at the congress, Radio Hanoi reported.

Radio Hanoi said Chinh, Dong and Tho were commended for "great contributions rendered to the revolutionary cause of our party and people."

Pham Hung, 74, now believed to be the top-ranking party member, said Chinh, Dong and Tho were retiring due to "advanced age and falling health," but would remain as advisers to a new leadership.

"This noble gesture by the three comrades highlights the valuable tradition of our nation and our party that the previous generation solicitously guides the next generation and that the next generation faithfully carries on the work of the previous generation," Hung said.

The congress later went into closed session to elect new leaders to be announced Thursday. The first task of the new officials will be to get the economy moving.

Analysts said Chinh, Dong and Tho are likely to be succeeded by veteran communists who will press economic reform while retaining a communist system and a close alliance with the Soviet Union.

Diplomats and scholars said Politburo member Nguyen Van Linh, 73, who delivered the opening speech at the congress, is likely to take over the party leadership. Vo Chi Cong, also 73, was expected to become prime minister.

Analysts described the two as cautious leaders and early advocates of change in the economic system.

Three other members of the Politburo, including Defense Minister Van Tien Dung, mastermind of the offensive that conquered South Vietnam, have not appeared at the congress and are believed to have been dropped from the leadership. Reports from Hanoi said at least 50 of the 143-member party central committee will be replaced.

Chinh, Dong and Tho joined Ho Chi Minh in the successful struggle against colonial France, outlasted U.S. forces sent to bolster the government of South Vietnam and directed the final offensive that overran Saigon in 1975.

But the tenacious Vietnamese ideologues failed to bring promised prosperity to their long-suffering people. More than 13 years after defeating the South, Vietnam remains one of the world's poorest nations with a per capita income of about $100.

Efforts at Soviet-style economic reforms backfired, touching off triple-digit inflation and widespread shortages.

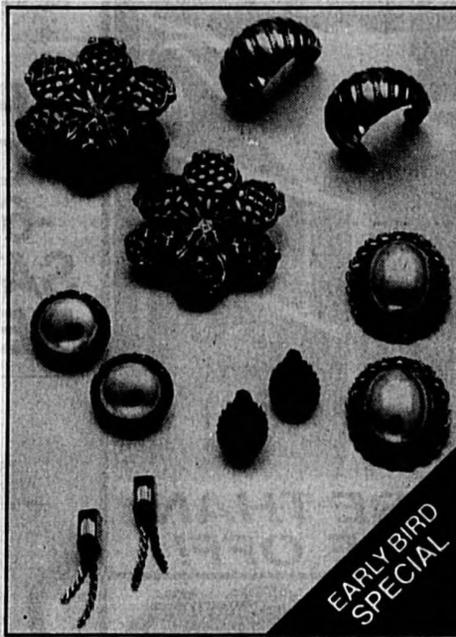

In his speech at the party congress, Chinh admitted "prolonged and serious mistakes and errors in the making of major decisions and policies and in the strategic guidance and execution of those decisions and policies."

His unanimous election in July as Communist Party chief, an office he once left in disgrace, climaxed the rehabilitation of one of the country's most enigmatic figures. He was the first Vietnamese leader since the death of Ho Chi Minh in 1969 to simultaneously head both the party and state.

Tho, the silver-haired Vietnamese poet-revolutionary who outwitted Henry Kissinger at the Paris peace talks, rejected the Nobel Peace Prize because he was asked to share it with Kissinger, whom he called "a liar, a horse-trader."

Tho was the feared strategist behind both the bloody 1968 Tet Offensive in South Vietnam and the Ho Chi Minh Campaign that led to the capture of Saigon by communist forces April 30, 1975. His recent responsibilities included overseeing Vietnam's military occupation of Cambodia and trying to pull his country's devastated economy onto its feet.

Abortion Pill Holds Promise

BOSTON (UPI) — An experimental drug women could take as a pill appears highly effective and safe for aborting early unwanted pregnancies, possibly offering the first alternative to surgical abortions, French scientists said Wednesday.

The drug — known as RU 486 — was 85 percent effective without any dangerous side effects in a new study involving 100 women who were up to 10 days pregnant, the researchers said.

"I think this really establishes for the first time that there is a safe alternative to a surgical abortion," said Dr. William Crowley Jr. of Massachusetts General Hospital. "In that sense, it could be a new chapter in women's health care."

The study was conducted by researchers at the Hospital de Bicetre in Paris and reported in The New England Journal of Medicine. Crowley, a reproductive endocrinologist, wrote an accompanying editorial in which he called the report a "major advance."

But Dr. Louise Tyrer of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America said she doubted the drug ever would become available legally in the United States because of regulatory obstacles, opposition from anti-abortionists and problems facing drug companies trying to get insurance for such products.

"I think that it should be approved in this country because it would have a very useful place," she said. "A lot of women don't like to go through the pain and suffering of a surgical procedure."

If it were approved for widespread use, the drug — which Tyrer said seems to maintain its level of effectiveness up to five weeks into a pregnancy — could replace the need for up to half of the 1.6 million surgical abortions performed in the United States each year, she said.

The findings suggest the drug could enable most women to take a single pill that would expel the newly fertilized embryo from the womb within two weeks with no more cramps, bleeding or nausea than usually accompanies their periods, the research up to 50 million abortions worldwide, the French researchers, headed by Dr. Gilbert Schaison, said a safer method than the surgical procedure is needed.

"RU 486 offers a reasonable alternative to surgical abortion, which carries the risks of anesthesia, surgical complications, infertility and psychological problems," they said.

The drug differs from so-called "morning-after pills" that contain high amounts of estrogen to terminate the menstrual cycle. Those drugs can cause a variety of side effects, including severe vomiting.

RU 486 is a synthetic steroid that interferes with the hormone progesterone, which is needed to maintain a pregnancy. Although the exact mechanism is unclear, the drug apparently prevents the embryo from being maintained in the womb.

For the study, the pregnant women were given varying doses of the drug for between two and four days. All the patients began bleeding from the uterus within four days and continued for up to 17 days. In 85 of the women, an empty uterus was confirmed on the 13th day.

Somewhat prolonged bleeding occurred in 18 of the women, 26 experienced unusually painful cramps, 24 had slight nausea and 22 had fatigue. But none of the side effects was considered dangerous.

The researchers were uncertain why the drug failed for 15 women, but they all were able to obtain surgical abortions.

Because the success rate was virtually identical regardless of the dose, the researchers said a single dose could probably be found that would be sufficient.

Raines Return? 50-50 But Time Running Out For Expos

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

The Montreal Expos lost their soul last Wednesday. Can their heart be too far behind?

When Andre Dawson, already a free agent, declared through agent Dick Moss that he has ceased negotiations with the Expos, he apparently ended a splendid 10-year career north of the border.

Always a 100-percent, Dawson was respected and admired in Montreal by teammates and fans alike. He was the soul of the Expos. Dawson batted .284 last year with 20 homers and 78 runs batted in. Career-wise, the 32-year-old outfielder has 225 homers and 838 RBI to go with a .280 average.

And if Dawson is the soul, ex-Seminole High swifty Tim Raines has to be the heart. Raines, who has played six seasons with Montreal, enjoys the same popularity as Dawson. And in recent years, due to his better production and community acts, is even more admired.

The Expos, however, don't feel they need to pay Dawson more than $2 million over the next two years and Raines more than $4.8 over the next three years.

Dawson, the soul, said he is no longer an Expo. He is dickering with the Chicago Cubs and the Atlanta Braves. Will Raines, the heart, also yearn for greener (literally) pastures? Raines has voiced a preference for Atlanta, the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Diego Padres.

"It's still 50-50 whether I stay with the Expos or go elsewhere," Raines said recently. "But the longer it goes, the more it hurts the Expos. After Jan. 8 they can't sign me."

The Jan. 8 deadline means: If Montreal does not sign Raines before that date, it can not sign him again

Baseball

'If the Expos don't sign me by Jan. 8, they won't sign me.'

— Tim Raines

until May 1.

"If the Expos don't sign me by Jan. 8, they won't sign me," Raines said. "I expect to be playing for someone else by then."

Raines said he, like everyone else, is awaiting the verdict on alleged collusion by the owners. Raines said he has a very simple solution to the decision.

"I don't think I will have to sit out the season," Raines said. "You're talking about one of the best players in the National League not being offered a contract.

"That's proof enough right there for collusion."

Raines said the owners would like to create an NFL situation in baseball. "They want it like football," he said. "In football, they say you're a free agent but you're not. The owners stick together."

Raines makes several good points. And the recent negotiating between Detroit ace Jack Morris and the Minnesota Twins further reinforces the theory that some teams are ready to revolt and discard the tight-fistedness which existed last year.

"There are teams like the Dodgers and the Braves who are used to winning," Raines said. "They didn't win last year and didn't like it. Both of them are only a couple players away from contending again."

"Are you going to tell me they aren't going to go out and spend the money to become winners again? Sure they are. They don't like in the second division and neither do their fans."

Raines said fan and media pressure may force the Expos' hand. He feels the raise of only $100,000 for the year he had (.334 average and N.L. batting champion along with 70 steals and an All-Star Game appearance again) is ridiculous.

"I don't know what the Expos are thinking," he said.

Raines originally said he wanted $7.5 million over three years. Now, he said he will take $6 million over three years if the Expos pay the taxes. He said the taxes are a big part of it because the government and state take quite a chunk.

"I feel that nothing will happen until Jan. 8," Raines said. "But we'll have to wait and see. A lot of people think I'm worried, but I'm not. I'm not afraid of the deadline."

Burger King Girls? Best Group Ever

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

With three teams that made it to last year's state semifinals on hand, along with a few programs looking to rise to state prominence, the Burger King Girls Soccer Tournament will have its strongest field ever.

The 16-team tournament gets underway Friday at three different locations. Lake Mary High is the host school. The tournament, which includes 27 games, will conclude with the finals Tuesday night at 8.

● Lake Mary's Lady Rams, the host team, open play Friday at 4:30 against DeLand's Lady Bulldogs. Also playing at Lake Mary on Friday are Gainesville Buchholz against Winter Park at 6:30 and Orlando Bishop Moore versus Tarpon Springs at 8:30.

Lake Mary takes a 5-1-1 record into the tourney and coach Bill Elsiele said the goal of his team is to make the finals.

"The girls know it's a strong field but they have more confidence now than in past years," Elsiele said. "We've already played Lyman and Lake Brantley tough so we know what we're capable of. We're going in this year with the attitude that we can make the finals."

● Lake Mary is led by high-scoring senior Kelley Broen who has seven goals and 11 assists in seven games. Broen had 26 goals and 22 assists last season and has been an all-state player two of the last three years.

Other scoring threats for Lake Mary include sophomores Donna Rohr and Michelle Mattingly and freshman Crisnie Snow. Goalkeeper Tammy Scott, also a freshman, has four shutouts thus far while senior sweeperback Vicky Warner leads the defense.

Lake Mary shouldn't have any trouble getting by its first round opponent as DeLand is in its first year of girls soccer.

● In Friday's action at Lyman High, Trinity Prep takes on Lake Howell at 4:30, Lake Brantley faces Largo at 6:30 and Lyman battles South Plantation at 8:30.

Lyman, the three-time defending tournament champion, drew a tough first-round opponent in state-semifinalist South Plantation, but coach Laura Dryden welcomes the competition.

"We're playing real well going into the tournament," Dryden said. "We've got a tough first-round game but that's good, it will get us ready. We'll take the competition because it helps us get better."

Lyman is led by senior midfielder Karen Abernethy who would like nothing better than a fourth-consecutive tournament title.

"We know we have a tough team the first night, but we're looking forward to it," Abernethy said. "We're working better as a team now. We feel we have a shot at winning it if we continue to play team ball and keep up our passing game."

Although it lost three players who combined for 80 goals last season, the Lyman still has talent throughout its lineup. Bonni Steeves, Diana Boyesen, Maye Belle Bryant, Kim Mitchell and Randi Huddleston are all veteran players while Sarah Cobb is playing well at goalkeeper and Dana Boyesen and Kerry Mueante are talented young players.

"We know everyone's shooting for us and sometimes there's pressure," Abernethy said. "But we just try to play it game by game and not look ahead."

Another team that drew a tough first-round opponent is Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots. Brantley takes a 6-0-1 record into the game against state-semifinalist Largo.

"I feel comfortable now because I've found 11 players that I want to start who play well together," Lake Brantley coach Wolfgang Halbig said. "This is a talented team and they want to win it."

Charles Merritt hooks a bass on his first cast in Lake Monroe. Merritt is king of the fly rod.

Charles Merritt: Gentleman Angler With Fly Rod Flicker

Sanford's Charles Merritt is not a typical bass fisherman. He doesn't own a high-powered metal-flake bass boat. Nor does he use all the electronic gadgetry that is associated with the high technology bass fishing of today.

Merritt fishes out of a 14-foot aluminum boat and uses his 51 years of experience on the St. Johns River to guide him to his favorite quarry — the largemouth bass.

Charles used to fish every weekday, but now he averaged about two days a week on the river. He prefers to fish during the week in order to avoid the heavy weekend boat traffic.

He fished the river from Osteen Bridge to Puzzle Lake, and over the years fishing experiences have been etched in his mind like the memory bank of a computer. Merritt knows all of the good fishing spots and the best times to fish each area.

Not only does Charles Merritt catch plenty of bass, but he does it the hard way — with a fly rod! He makes his own fly called the Merritt Flicker. This lure closely resembles a small minnow that bass frequently feed upon when they are schooling. There are many days when school bass ignore all offerings except for this hand-made minnow replica.

Merritt's favorite type of fishing is for school bass. Fishermen never cease to marvel at his accuracy with the fly or his ability to catch bass when anglers around him are pulling out their hair in frustration. He consistently catches limits of bass when other anglers are glad to catch a few.

SANFORD
HERALD
FISHING
WRITER

Although Charles is well-known for his ability to catch school bass, he has caught numerous bass over 8 pounds. His largest fly rod bass is an 11 1/4 pound monster. There are few fishermen who have equalled this feat on a fly rod.

Yes, Charles Merritt is a gentleman's angler. He catches bass the old-fashioned way, and he does it with a great deal of skill and expertise. If you are ever lucky enough to spot him on the river, you owe it to yourself to slow down and watch this master in action.

His touch with the fly rod and his basic approach to fishing should teach us all a lesson. Why be in such a big hurry to rush to far away spots at blistering speeds? Take time and smell the roses like Charles Merritt. You may be rewarded with catches beyond your wildest expectations.

SHUPE'S SCOOP — Bass fishermen would be wise to add an ultra-light spinning outfit rigged with 6 pound test to their arsenal. It is common to find bass schooling this time of year on tiny ditch minnows. They will not respond to the average sized bass lure, but will readily jump on a 2-inch Rapala. An ultra-light spinning outfit is perfectly suited for presenting these tiny lures, and you will have a ball catching school bass on this light rig.

WEEKEND FORECAST — Rick Rawlins reports that high winds have hampered speck fishing in Lake Woodruff. Catches of up to 40 a boat have been made by trolling Mal Files when boats can get out. A few larger bass are finally starting to show up on stringers. Bass to 7-9 pounds are being caught on wild shiners fished near heavy floating cover.

Don Abernethy at Colson Bridge said that speck fishing is good in Lake Monroe when the wind is not blowing too hard. Either drift with Missouri minnows or troll Beetle Spins for sure action. Large concentrations of boats will indicate where the specks are at. Bass fishing has improved a great deal. Fish areas of moving water and keep a small outfit rigged with a small plug for schooling bass. Shiners are starting to produce some larger fish with the cooling water temperatures.

Speck fishing is slow at Sebastian inlet due to lower water temperatures. Large seatrout and doormat flounder are filling the void, however. Use Mirrorglows for the seatrout and fish finger mullet slowly across the bottom for huge flounder. Seatrout have been caught to 7 pounds, and every year giant flounder are caught in excess of 14 pounds.

Captain Jack of Port Canaveral reports that offshore fishing is at a standstill due to small craft warnings. Seatrout have been had in 120-140 feet of water when boats have been able to get out. Bottom fish such as grouper and snapper move in to shallower water during the winter months, and some big catches will be made when anglers find suitable weather. The water is dirty in the bay line, but bluefish and flounder have been keeping fishermen happy in the Port. Sheepshead are also very active and will respond well to fiddler crabs or live shrimp. Trout and rattfish are slow in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Heavy seas have made fishing difficult at the New Smyrna Jetty. Anglers would be wise to stay inside the river when the inlet is rough. One boat breached and capsized last weekend due to poor judgment on the boat's part. Luckily no one was injured in the mishap. Sheepshead, sheepshead, flounder and drum are rated as good at the Jetty when the weather is calm enough to fish safely.

USFL Fails To Appeal

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Football League's remaining hope of resurrecting its inactive football teams lies in appealing to a higher court.

U.S. District Judge Peter Leisure Wednesday denied the USFL's requests that the NFL be divided, limited to two network television contracts or forced to expand to USFL cities.

In the second phase of an antitrust trial that brought the USFL only $1 in damages and resulted in the 4-year-old league's suspension of its 1986 season, Leisure ruled from the bench after lawyers for the two leagues presented oral arguments on the USFL's proposed requests for non-monetary relief.

USFL Commissioner Harry Usher, who attended the hearing along with many of the owners of the 10 USFL teams, said the league would appeal Leisure's ruling and the jury's earlier damage award.

"I think the confusion in the instructions to the jury carried over into the opinion from the judge I heard this afternoon," he said, referring to earlier disputes from the trial stage.

The judge refused to grant any of the USFL's requests, citing the jury's findings July 29 when it decided the NFL had monopolized pro football but awarded the USFL only $1 in damages. The league had sought more than $1.5 billion.

"We are obviously pleased," NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said.

In this non-jury phase of the trial, the USFL had presented three alternatives which it argued were necessary to give the junior league "a little crack of daylight to compete" against the established and larger NFL.

It had proposed the NFL's two 14-team conferences be required to compete against each other for network television contracts and players (giving the USFL an opportunity to contract with the third network), or the NFL be limited to two network contracts, or "as a last resort," the NFL be forced to expand and USFL owners be given the first opportunity to join.

Leisure said he refused to restructure the NFL's television relationships because the jury specifically declined to find that the league had monopolized broadcast aspects of pro football or that it had interfered with the USFL's attempts to get a network contract.

"The Court also declines plaintiffs' invitation to undo the congressionally authorized merger of the NFL and the AFL," the judge said in his 21-page opinion.

Tribe Returns To Hardcourt Vs. Oak Ridge

Seminole High, reeling from a last-second setback to Port Spruce Creek Spruce Creek Tuesday, returns to the basketball court tonight at 8 against Oak Ridge in Orlando.

The Seminoles, 4-3, hope to secure victories over the Pioneers tonight and DeLand Friday at home to build some momentum toward an opening-round showdown against No. 1-ranked Miami High in next Friday's Kingdom of the Sun Holiday Classic at Ocala Vanguard High School.

Miami upset previous unbeaten and top-ranked Hialeah Miami Lakes, 66-55, last week.

"We did some good things Tuesday," Seminole coach Bill Klein said. "We showed patience on offense and defense which something we didn't do last year."

Seminole will probably go with the starting five of Roderick Henderson, Craig Walker, Walter "Dunkman" Hopson, Michael "Spud" Edwards and Jerry "Stick" Parker. Andre Whitney and Steve Hathaway and Brad Baird are the top reserves.

Buchholz Rips Lyman; Countryside Tips Rams

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer
CASSELBERRY — Gainesville Buchholz and Clearwater Countryside used third-quarter surges and Winter Garden West Orange staged a comeback to post first-round wins in the Oviedo Classic Tournament in front of 101 fans at Lake Howell High School Wednesday night.

Basketball

Boston added 11 to pace the Bloodhounds. Gainesville Buchholz took advantage in the third quarter when the Greyhounds were not able to hit a field goal. Lyman's only scoring came of its four free throws.

West Orange upended Auburndale, 43-42. In the opening game, Buchholz crushed Lyman 74-50, and ninth-ranked (4A) Clearwater Countryside escaped with a 74-61 win over Lake Mary.

While Lyman came out cold, the Bobcats picked up where they had left off, leading, 33-24, in the first half. Gainesville outscored the 'Hounds, 16-4, in the third quarter to take a comfortable 49-28 lead into the final quarter.

In two semifinals games tonight at Lake Howell, the host Silver Hawks take on West Orange at 7 before Countryside and Buchholz hook up at 8:30. Lyman (4-2) plays Lake Mary (1-4) in a consolation game today at 5:30.

"We didn't shoot well," Lyman coach Tom Lawrence said. "They (Gainesville) hurt us inside and when (Shawn) Hester fouled out it really hurt us."

No. 5 Raines Surges Late, Subdues Pats

By Benton Wood
Special to the Herald
OVIEDO — For three quarters Wednesday night it was difficult to tell whether Jacksonville Raines or Lake Brantley was the fifth-ranked team in Class 4A.

But Raines went on a 13-2 run early in the fourth quarter to put away the pesky Patriots, 61-48, and join Daytona Beach Father Lopez, Martin County South Fork and Oviedo in the quarterfinals of the Central Florida Classic Basketball Tournament.

Father Lopez embarrassed Kissimmee Gateway, 66-43, and South Fork downed Dunedin, 79-57 earlier in the evening in first-round action in front of 105 fans at Oviedo High School.

Lake Brantley waited on deck to be the third blowout victim of the night, but Patriots head coach Steve Jucker had other ideas.

"My goal was to just stay close, but you can't tell the kids that," Jucker said. "I can't tell you how happy I was when I saw them come out in a zone."

Raines' 1-3-1 zone enabled Lake Brantley to make it a half-court game, and the Patriots were within, 42-39, early in the fourth quarter.

The tide turned on Lake Brantley, though, after Brent Bell missed a layup with 6:37 left in the game. Louis Dorsey grabbed the rebound and found Dow Thomas at the other end for a layup, and Raines' had a five-point lead.

The next time down the floor, Dorsey blocked a Bell shot and hooked up with Thomas again for a layup for a 46-39 advantage. Jucker tried to stop Raines' momentum with a time out, but the Patriots' magic had run out.

"We had the same old problem of not having anyone to substitute for Brent," Jucker said. "We had to play five on 11, and it caught up with us in the end."

But for three quarters Lake Brantley's first five were enough to play Raines to a standstill. First, the Patriots dissected Raines' half-court trap to find Bell inside for short jump shots, and then they chiselled away at the full-court zone press only to back Raines into their zone defense.

As a result, Lake Brantley led most of the first quarter and was as close as 38-36 with :38 left in the third period.

"They controlled the game for the first three quarters," Raines coach Willie Dorsey admitted after his team improved to 5-0. "They wouldn't let us run the ball, but we were able to wear them down and finally showed what type of team we are."

Dorsey said he thinks his team will match up better against South Fork because "they like to run up and down the floor, too. If they try to run with us, I think you'll see why we are ranked fifth in the state."

South Fork, however, was able to use its full court press to run over Dunedin. The press created two quick turnovers and gave South Fork a 6-0 lead less than a minute into the game.

South Fork (3-1) increased its lead to 20-6 at the end of the first quarter, and was able to use the final three quarters to get everyone into the game and tune up for the rest of the tournament.

"We need to get everyone involved because we like to press a lot, and once again the bench was able to play as well as the starters," South Fork coach Derek Thomas said. "We knew coming in that they (Dunedin) have problems with the press, but we will probably stay up until 3 o'clock trying to figure out if we can use the same game plan against Jacksonville."

"We're just going to have to put out of our mind that they are ranked fifth in the state, and just try to come out and jump on them early. If we can get into an execution game, I like our chance against anybody. But if we get into a talent game with them, my hopes aren't so high."

The Father Lopez-Gateway matchup couldn't be described as an execution or a talent game, but the Green Wave was still able to dispose of the second-year Kissimmee school early.

Father Lopez (3-1) scored the first 15 points of the second quarter to claim a 28-9 lead. Gateway, on the other hand, wasn't able to score in double figures in any of the first three quarters, and Father Lopez, like South Fork, played its entire roster to prepare for the quarterfinal game against Oviedo.

"We're used to playing 3A and 4A teams, so we're not going to be intimidated by Oviedo," Father Lopez coach Neil Braly said. "But they are undefeated, have a lot of depth and are playing at home so we have our work cut out for us."

The Lions will have their work cut out trying to control Father Lopez power forward Carlton Miles. Miles had 14 points and 15 rebounds, but the Green Wave will need to find help for him in order to keep Oviedo from improving to 7-0.

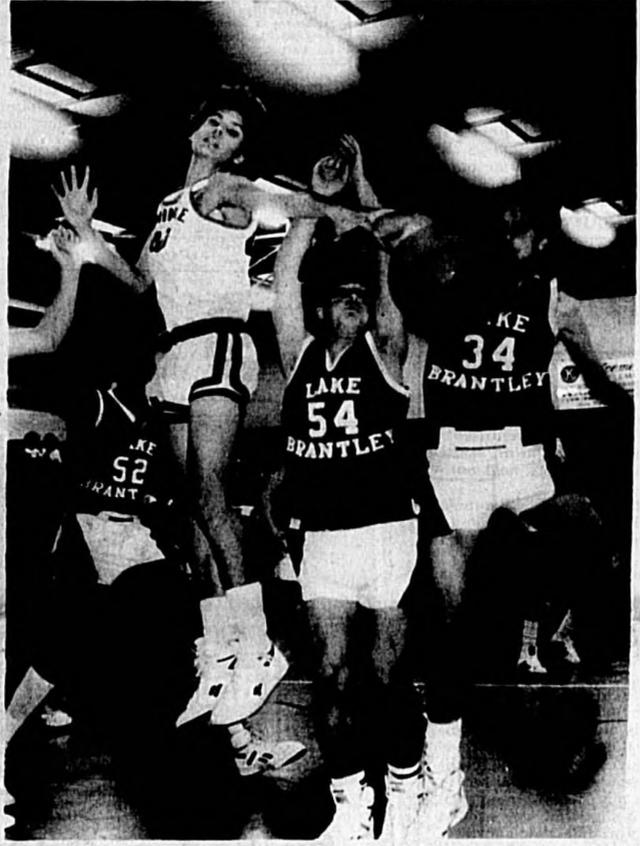

Oviedo coach Dale Phillips refuses to look ahead to a semifinal meeting against either Raines or South Fork.

"The last time I looked ahead was in our preseason tournament last year, and before you know it, Mount Dora beats the heck out of us," Phillips said. "I don't want to say anything bad about (Father Lopez) because they are liable to come out here and whip our butts."

Everyone in the tournament, though, suspects the brackets are set up in Oviedo's favor, and Braly is using that to his advantage.

"I heard (Braly) tell his kids that we set up the tournament so we could play them," Phillips said. "That is all they need to hear."

Oviedo will face Father Lopez at 7 p.m. followed by South Fork vs. Raines. Gateway meets Dunedin in a losers' bracket game at 5:30.

Seminole's Steve Dickison, left, fights Brantley's Rob Boggs (54) and Tony Cunningham (34) for a rebound. Seminole freshmen won, 81-60.

who connected for 13 points. Vince Florence tallied 11 and point guard Robert Thomas connected for 10.

"We didn't execute," Lawrence said. "If we execute tomorrow I'll be happy whether we win or lose."

Lake Mary staged a comeback with 1:55 to play but fell short. The Rams had to foul which resulted in the final score being much larger than was indicative of the game.

The two teams went neck and neck in the first quarter as the lead exchanged nine times with the Cougars coming out on top, 14-13, at the end of one.

Mike Mandeville put the Rams back out in front, connecting on a three-point play earlier in the second quarter. Countryside's David Fletcher tied the score back before Oscar Merthie sank a pair of free throws for the Rams for an 18-16 edge.

The Cougars then put on a surge to go up by four 20-16 with 5:18 left in the first half. After getting a cushion Countryside was able to maintain a steady lead going to either 6-10 Matt Geiger or 6-7 John Slattery.

Countryside came down and went to Geiger who was fouled and he connected on the free throws and the Cougars led 34-29 at the half.

"We're playing just well enough to get beat," Lake Mary coach Willie Richardson said about his 1-4 club.

Lake Mary fell behind in the third quarter as Geiger and Slattery connected for 15 out of the 20 points.

Geiger and Slattery led the Cougars with 17 points apiece. Slattery put 15 down in the second half. Matt Brecher connected for 12 and Fletcher added 11, all in the opening half.

The Rams did not go willingly, putting on a final flurry which scared Countryside coach Bob Heintz. "We had a long bus ride over and were a little tired," Heintz said. "But they (Lake Mary) put on a rough press."

The Rams battled back from a 63-50 deficit with 3:26 left to cut the lead to 64-60 with just 57 seconds left. After the Cougars finally broke through the pressure they hung on to the ball forcing the Rams to foul. Countryside showed its poise hitting 9 of 10 free throws in the final minute of the game to break the score open.

Lake Mary was led by senior forward Matt Napoli and Terry Miller, both hit for 18 points. Miller had 16 in the second half.

Fresh Squash Brantley

Ondreaus Redding, Brandon Cash and Willie McCloud were too much for Lake Brantley inside as the Seminole High freshman trio combined for 45 points in the Tribe's 81-60 rout of the freshman Patriots Wednesday night at Seminole High.

Seminole ran its record to 5-0 for the season and returns to play Jan. 5 against Oviedo at Seminole. Lake Brantley fell to 1-4.

Redding, a 6-2 forward, had a game-high 18 points and eight rebounds while Cash, a 6-1 center, pumped in 15 points, grabbed 12 rebounds and blocked four shots and McCloud added 12 points.

"I put Redding out on the wing and he did real well," Seminole coach Bill Zicss said. "Cash and McCloud also played well but we still have some things we need to work on."

Bobby Coffield contributed eight points, five assists and four steals for the 'Noles while Steve Taylor added seven rebounds and Derrick Fritton, Jessie Nightengale and Steve Dickison chipped in with six points apiece. Clint Johnson was high for Lake Brantley with 14 points.

16 Percent Shooting Freezes Lady Lions

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

While the temperatures remain pretty mild, about the coldest thing in Central Florida Wednesday night was the shooting percentage of Oviedo's Lady Lions. Icyshles started to form on the Oviedo hoop Wednesday as the Lady Lions made just 8 of 49 shots from the floor for 16 percent in a 29-18 loss at Melbourne Central Catholic.

The Lady Lions went into this week with a 3-4 record but now stand at 3-7 after three straight losses.

"We played three games in a row and just went downhill," Oviedo coach John Thomas said. "The energy just seemed to be zapped right out of us tonight. That really effected our shooting, plus we were throwing the ball away readily."

Suzanne Hughes, held scoreless by Lyman on Tuesday, was a bright spot for the Lady Lions Wednesday night as the sophomore forward hit a team-high seven points, grabbed 10 rebounds and blocked four shots. Jodie Switzer added six points for the Lady Lions.

Oviedo led by three, 6-3, after one quarter but MCC came back for a 14-10 halftime lead. MCC took a 20-15 lead after three quarters and outscored the Lady Lions, 9-3, in the final eight minutes.

"We'll be thankful for the Christmas break," Thomas said. "It will give us a chance to get some rest and some practice. We're way behind in getting our game plan together."

In junior varsity action Wednesday, Cindy Willming led a balanced attack with 11 points as Oviedo's JV Lady Lions improved to 5-0 for the season with a 44-38 victory over Melbourne Central Catholic.

Behind Willming for the JV Lady Lions, Bridgette Szobar had nine points and eight rebounds. Cheryl Buntz and Shannon Wilcoxson had eight points each and Anna Hollis added five points.

Carrie Stelhorn and Kirsten Colon helped out inside with six rebounds apiece. Buntz led the defense with seven steals. Wilcoxson had six thefts and Willming five.

OVIEDO (18) — Hughes 7, Switzer 4, Harrall 2, Jenerette 3, Malchow 0, Thomas 0, Philpot 0, Smith 0, Kelley 0. Totals: 8 2-4 18 16 fouls.

MELBOURNE CENTRAL CATHOLIC (39) — Thurston 10, Kr. Mayo 4, Ke. Mayo 7, Sientz 6, Richardson 2. Totals: 10 9 20 29 7 fouls.

CLARK, WARRIORS BURN BRANTLEY

Jennifer Clark scored 12 of her game-high 25 points in the decisive third quarter as West Orange rallied from a seven-point halftime deficit to claim a 66-54 victory over Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots Tuesday night at Lake Brantley High.

Lake Brantley dropped to 4-4 for the season and returns to action Friday night at home against Orlando Evans (junior varsity 5:30, varsity 7), West Orange's Lady Warriors improved to 7-2 with the win.

"We had total control the first half and a total breakdown the second half," Lake Brantley coach Cindy Frank said. "We got out of our game on offense and didn't play any defense."

Lake Brantley held a 31-24 lead at halftime but West Orange, behind Clark, went on a 22-7 spurt in the third quarter for a 46-38 lead. Lake Brantley could not come back in the final eight minutes.

Jenny Tufford, a sophomore guard, had her best game of the season with a career-high 17 points to lead the Lady Patriots. Laurie Rivers added 11 points while Janice Abaray and Tracy Brandenburg added eight each. Julie Billmyer had four points but left the game in the third quarter with a sprained ankle.

WEST ORANGE (46) — Anderson 12, White 7, Richardson 8, Jefferson 7, Clark 25, Edwards 7. Totals: 26 14-24 66.

Gooden Reps, Lawyers Discuss Charges

TAMPA (UPI) — An official in the state attorney's office confirmed Wednesday that Dwight Gooden's representatives and lawyers from the prosecutor's office already have met to discuss charges pending against the All-Star pitcher of the New York Mets.

Following the advice of attorney Charles Ehrlich, Gooden, 22, continued his vigil of silence about the specific aspects of the case but said he may hold a news conference later in the week. Gooden was arrested with four friends Saturday night after a police officer stopped the 1984 silver Mercedes-Benz he was driving and a fight developed between Gooden, his companions and several officers.

Gooden and his friends were charged with battery on a police officer and resisting arrest with violence. Gooden received an additional count of disorderly conduct. Also arrested were Gooden's nephew, Gary Sheffield, a first-round draft pick last June of the Milwaukee Brewers, Vance Lovelace, a minor-leaguer for the California Angels, Phillip Walker and an unidentified 17-year-old minor.

The felony counts carry a maximum penalty each of five years imprisonment or a $5,000 fine. The disorderly conduct charge calls for a 60-day jail term or a $500 fine.

Chris Hoyer, chief assistant Hillsborough

County State Attorney, said Wednesday. "We met with the attorneys (for Gooden) and just talked about the case in general. No decisions were made."

Ehrlich says his preliminary investigation indicates that after the police asked Gooden to step out of his car, officers used excessive force and taunted the pitcher with racial slurs. Gooden and the four other black males arrested were hit while they were pinned down on the ground, Ehrlich alleged. All of the arresting officers are white.

According to a report in the New York Times, an internal police memorandum states a blood-alcohol test administered to Gooden Saturday night showed a blood alcohol level of .111. Florida laws define a level of .100 as driving under the influence.

Tampa police have not charged Gooden with any alcohol-related offenses and the blood-alcohol test was not administered at their request. Instead, Gooden was tested at Tampa General Hospital, where he was treated for bruises and swelling in the emergency room after the altercation in a residential neighborhood of North Tampa.

Bob Gilder, the head of the Tampa chapter of the NAACP, agrees with Ehrlich the arrests were racially motivated.

Snow's 2 Goals Provide White Delight For Mary

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

While there probably will never be a White Christmas in Central Florida, Lake Mary's Lady Rams will definitely settle for the Snow they saw Wednesday night. Not the kind that falls out of the sky, but the kind that scores goals.

Crisie Snow, a freshman for the Lady Rams, scored a pair of goals, including the game-winner with five minutes remaining as Lake Mary pulled out a 3-2 victory over Oviedo's Lady

Soccer

Lions in Seminole Athletic Conference play at Oviedo High.

Lake Mary improved to 5-1-1 overall and 2-1-1 in the SAC while Oviedo fell to 1-2-3 overall and 0-2-2 in the conference. Both teams will compete in the Burger King Tournament starting Friday.

Oviedo took a 1-0 halftime lead on a goal by Jenny Lanbousis and held onto the 1-0 lead until Snow broke the ice for Lake Mary with a goal 12 minutes into the second half. Kelley Broen got the assist on the goal.

Lake Mary took a 2-1 lead eight minutes later as Michelle Mattingly scored on an assist from Amy Alexander. The Lady Lions, though, fought back to tie it at 2-2 with 15 minutes left in the game on a goal by Jennifer Whittaker.

The score remained tied until five minutes remaining when Snow put in the game winner on Broen's second assist of the night.

"We were pretty flat tonight,"

Snow

Eissale

Lake Mary coach Bill Eissale said. "In the first half we were not aggressive and didn't do the things well that we have been doing all year. Luckily, we made some adjustments at halftime and picked up the pressure in the second half."

Lake Mary took 27 shots on goal for the game compared to eight for the Lady Lions. Oviedo goalkeeper Lori Blackburn turned in a strong effort with 17 saves and Lake Mary keeper Tammy Scott made six saves.

Abernethy's Hat Trick Clobbers Lake Howell

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The last three years, Karen Abernethy made life miserable for midfielders and forwards. The dominant Lyman High sweepback was an all-state defender all three of those seasons.

In the 1986-87 season, though, Abernethy is wreaking havoc on the other end of the field. Wednesday night, the senior midfielder pumped in three second-half goals as the Lady Greyhounds blanked Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks, 4-0, in Seminole Athletic Conference action at Lyman High.

Lyman now stands at 4-1-3 overall and 1-0-3 in the SAC while Lake Howell fell to 4-2-1 overall and 2-2-0 in the conference. Both teams return to action Friday in the Burger King Tournament.

The hat trick Wednesday gives Abernethy six goals in eight games. Her previous high for one season was 11 goals.

"I like playing midfield better than defense because it lets me get in on the offense more," Abernethy said. "It's a whole different part of the game and I'm enjoying getting to know the position. It's a big adjustment and it's hard getting to learn it, but the coaches have taught me a lot and give me a lot of encouragement."

Lyman dominated both halves Wednesday night as it took 33 shots on goal compared to Lake Howell's four. The Lady Greyhounds, though, could not score on Lake Howell keeper Sherri Ryanor in the first half.

Abernethy's first goal, which turned out to be the game winner, came 10 minutes into the second half on a direct kick just outside the box. Five minutes later, Kim Mitchell scored on an assist from Maye Belle Bryant for a 2-0 Lyman lead.

Abernethy's second goal of the night was her most impressive as Lyman coach Laura Dryden said she dribbled into the open and cranked a shot from about 30 yards out into the upper left hand corner of the net. "That was an unbelievable shot," Dryden said.

Abernethy completed her hat trick late in the second half when she scored on a corner kick from Dana Boyesen to make the final 4-0.

"We were really working the ball well in the first half but we just didn't put it in the net," Dryden said. "I told them at halftime to keep doing what they were doing and the goals would come. The girls were really on tonight and working real well together."

Along with Abernethy on offense, Dryden said Randi Huddleston, Bonni Steeves and Kerry Musante also played well in keeping the Lady Greyhounds in control.

While Halbig feels his team can win the tourney, he isn't happy with playing Largo in the first round.

"I'm disappointed in the bracket we got," Halbig said. "It would have been nice if the other coaches would have had some input into the tournament."

Lake Brantley has the county's leading goal scorer in junior Julie DeRusso who has nine goals in seven games. Other offensive threats for Brantley include Colleen Lievertz, Cara Marien, Jennifer Josephs and Beth Schaefer. Michelle Herbst is a swift and skilled midfielder while Reenie Deaver is an all-state defender and Wendy Vickery an outstanding first-year goalkeeper.

Lake Howell has one of the up and coming programs in the county and comes into the tournament with a 4-2-1 record. Kirstin Reesman, Becky Trevino and Dawn Towle are among the offensive leaders for the Lady Silver Hawks while Sherri Raynor is a capable goalkeeper.

In Friday's games at Oviedo High, Seminole squares off with Melbourne at 6:30 and Oviedo takes on Vero Beach at 8:30.

Seminole High, 2-3-2 overall, has one of the best goalkeepers around in senior Sherri Rumler and a top-notch sweepback in junior Cindy Bengé. Offensively, Vicky "Spuffy" Pakovic, Melissa Shuckman and Rachelle Denmark lead the way.

"I hope taking the day off Thursday will recharge us for Friday," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "Melbourne's unbeaten so we expect a tough game."

Oviedo's Lady Lions have one of the most improved teams in the area and take a 1-2-3 record into the tourney. Cathy Bergman has seven goals for Oviedo while Kelly Price has three. Jill Knutson is a top-notch midfielder while Doris Arcomone leads the defense. Lori Blackburn is solid at goalkeeper.

Cummins, Strikers Slip Past Sting

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Stan Cummins scored his first goal of the season at 9:48 of the second overtime Wednesday night to send the Minnesota Strikers to a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Sting.

Cummins converted after taking a pass from Steve Kinsey as the Strikers posted their fourth victory in a row.

Brantley Burns Seminoles

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The first nine minutes of the match were pretty quiet, but it was only a matter of time before the fuse burned down and the Lake Brantley time bomb exploded.

The Lady Patriots scored three goals in a five-minute span en route to a 5-0 victory over Seminole High in Seminole Athletic Conference action before 101 fans Wednesday night at Lake Brantley High.

Lake Brantley, 6-0-1 overall, maintained its lead in the SAC with a 3-0-1 record. The Lady Seminoles now stand at 2-3-2 overall and 0-3-1 in the SAC. Both teams will compete in the Burger King Tournament which begins Friday.

The ball movement and passing was excellent tonight but we were still a little flat," Lake Brantley coach Wolfgang Halbig said. "We've had between 35 and 40 shots the past four games and now we have to work on getting a better percentage of goals scored."

Julie DeRusso, the junior with the howitzer left foot, scored three goals and had one assist for the Lady Patriots Wednesday night while Colleen Lievertz and Beth Schaefer also scored.

Brantley took 39 shots on goal compared to three for the Lady 'Noles. Seminole keeper Sherri Rumler made 27 saves, including one on a penalty kick, while Brantley keeper Wendy Vickery made three saves in recording her fourth shutout.

Lake Brantley's first goal Wednesday night came on a nice pass from DeRusso to Lievertz who headed it in with 31:02 left in the opening half. Less than four minutes later, Cara Marien got a nice crossing ball in front of the goal where

Soccer

DelRusso stuck it in for a 2-0 lead. DeRusso's second goal came one minute later on an assist from Karen Kopp. The Lady Patriots held onto their 3-0 lead at halftime.

"We were asleep in the first half," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "The girls started to go to the ball a little more in the second half and played much better."

Brantley upped the lead to 4-0 only two and a half minutes into the second half when DeRusso hit a rocket of a shot that bounced off Rumler's hands and Schaefer stuffed in the rebound. The final goal of the night came with 20:20 remaining when DeRusso dribbled into the open and blasted in a shot from 15 yards out.

Seminole's best chance to score came with 19:45 left to play when Bengé hit a hard shot on a direct kick from 35 yards out. Vickery, though, made the save to preserve the shutout.

Seminole's best defensive series of the night came with five minutes remaining. Rumler had to come out to make a save but couldn't hang onto the ball and Marien hit a shot that was headed toward the open goal. Seminole defender Kim Walsh, though, got a hand on the ball and knocked it away. Lake Brantley was awarded a penalty kick for the handball and Marien hit a high, hard shot that Rumler leaped up and knocked over the crossbar for the save.

Seminole did have some moments on offense in the second half and most of them were created by Michelle Blaigni and Shannon "Slick" Sundvall. Sweepback Cindy Bengé also had a solid game for the Lady Tribe.

Weighty Problem' Helps Tribe Matmen Subdue Oviedo, 45-27

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

OVIDO — This wrestling is a tough racket when you don't have much weight to throw around. Oviedo's Lions found that out Wednesday night against Seminole.

Faced with the burden of forfeiting the heavyweight and unlimited classes (12 points), Oviedo's lower and middle weights put up a scrap for a 27-27 deadlock after 11 divisions.

The inevitable came crunching down, however, when Sanford's Randy "Park" Bryant pinned Mike Lee at 222 pounds before Julius Bennett (HWT) and Derrick Butler picked up forfeit for a 45-27 victory before 101 fans in Oviedo's Commons.

"I knew it would be a physical match," Horn, who was missing starters at 128 and 140, said. "We stayed with them for a while but the bigger kids just don't come out."

Horn said he hopes half his problem would be solved when standout footballer Andy Palmer (270 pounds) recovers from a groin injury. Other than that, he doesn't know where to turn for his "weighty" problem.

Wednesday's Seminole Athletic Conference battle was a feisty one as 159-pounders Tracy Turner and Jene Hartman were both disqualified for fighting. Seminole's Turner had a 3-1 lead at the time. Another 'Nole, Tim Tennon, was excused for biting against Arthur Miner at 148.

"We looked like a bunch of street fighters tonight," Seminole coach Glenn Malolini said about his 5-0 Tribe. "We have to get the fighter out of them and the wrestler into them."

Malolini didn't have any trouble with Titus Manning (101), Trent Schake (128), Troy Turner (170) or Bryant. Each picked up a pin while Troy Rollins (141) had a technical fall (15-0) and Sheraton Mays, wrestling up a class, took a hard-earned 7-5 decision from Charlie Vela.

Turner, two-time state runner-up, built an 11-0 lead before pinning Tate Buntz at 1:53. Schake broke from a 3-3 first-period tie for an 8-5 lead before getting his stick at 2:15 against Doug Seeley. Manning, a freshman, broke a 4-4 tie with six consecutive points before getting his pin at 3:03 against Chris Baker.

Oviedo's Emery Sneed (188) turned in a strong effort, pinning Richard Mobley at 3:25. Kenny Schrupp (114) nailed Myrtel Reid with a cradle at 5:30. Shawn Dezege (108) whipped Brad Dyce, 15-0, for a technical fall.

Seminole returns to action Friday night at Bradenton against Manatee. Oviedo, 1-4, travels to Longwood for a match with Lyman Friday.

HOWELL PINS BOONE

Powered by five pins and six forfeits, Lake Howell's Silver Hawks trounced Orlando Boone's Braves, 76-3, Wednesday night in prep wrestling action at Lake Howell High.

Coming through with pins for the Silver Hawks were Marcel DeMaria (108 pounds), Brian Horvath (135), Nate Hoakins (158), Jose Collazo (170) and Henry Helm (188). Hoakins had the fastest pin of the night as he stuck Bill McDaniel in 45 seconds.

Also getting victories for Lake Howell were Dave Figler at 141 and Chris Cina at 148.

ICBA Cagers To Launch 5th Year With Dec. 20 Christmas Tourney

The Inter-County Basketball Association is getting ready to launch its fifth season with action in five different age groups. ICBA President Mickey Norton announced this week.

Norton said the ICBA will tentatively have four senior division teams (high school age boys), 10 varsity divisions (eighth grade boys), 10 JV divisions (sixth-seventh grade boys), six girls division (sixth-seventh-eighth grade girls) and four Little Guys and Gals (third-fourth-fifth grade boys and girls).

About half these teams will open play in the ICBA's Christmas Tournament on Dec. 20-23. The regular season will begin on the weekend of Jan. 10-11 and continue through the end of February. Preliminaries at Rollins, UCF, Stetson and Seminole Community College games are also planned.

Norton said ICBA all-star teams entering the AAU and USYBL tournaments in the spring.

Samocki Is Lake Howell's MVP

Lake Howell High School honored its Lady Silver Hawk 1984 state championship girls cross country team with a banquet at the Villa Nova Restaurant Monday night.

Lake Howell had 10 different individuals receive an award.

The most valuable award went to senior Lisa Samocki, a front runner for the Lady Silver Hawks all season. Samocki also won the high point award for the Lady Silver Hawks.

Most dependable went to senior Martha Fonseca and twin sister Mary received the most consistent award. Martha was also honored as the team leader.

Sophomore twins Jenny and Tammy Bolt each picked up an award. Jenny was cited as most sincere and Tammy was noted as the comeback runner for Lake Howell.

The most improved award went to RaeAnn Chambers as Diane Madison took the most dedicated award. Coach's choice awards went to both Bonnie Oliver and Michelle Lee. Hollie Marshall picked up top honors for the Lady Silver Hawk junior varsity squad.

Paterno Captures Bryant Award

HOUSTON (UPI) — Penn State Coach Joe Paterno, who has won more than 80 percent of his games and graduated more than 80 percent of his players, has been named Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association of America.

Paterno was named winner of the Paul "Bear" Bryant award at a banquet Wednesday night in Houston. Paterno, one of four finalists for the award, did not attend. Jimmy Johnson of Miami, Dick Sheridan of North Carolina State and John Cooper of Arizona State were the other finalists and all attended the banquet.

Paterno's second-ranked Nittany Lions take their 11-0 record into the Jan. 2 Fiesta Bowl against top-ranked Miami. Paterno has a 198-44-2 record in 21 years at Penn State. Last year, he was UPI's Coach of the Year.

Oviedo LL May Activate Softball

The Oviedo Little League will be reactivating its girls softball program this coming season — if registration warrants it — OLL President Mickey Norton announced this week.

Norton said the league has not operated a separate division for girls the past few years but it is hopeful that enough players would be interested in forming a softball addition to its regular scheduling.

Division age groupings will depend on the number of girls that sign up. Girls may register for the Oviedo Little League softball program on Saturday, Jan. 10 and Saturday, Jan. 17, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Little League field.

Call Norton at 365-4040 for further information.

Spurrier To Interview At LSU

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Southwestern Louisiana head coach Nelson Stokley and former USFL Tampa Bay Bandits coach Steve Spurrier were scheduled to interview today for the LSU football coaching job before a school screening committee.

The panel also will interview former Cleveland Browns coach Sam Rutigliano on Friday, the committee chairman said Wednesday.

Craig Cordes said the panel will speak to Stokley early today. Spurrier in the afternoon and Rutigliano early Friday as possible replacements for Bill Arnsparger.

The committee will present a minimum of three recommendations to the LSU Board of Supervisors on Dec. 23, he said.

Cardinals Covet Expo Wallach

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals and Montreal Expos are working towards a deal involving Montreal third baseman Tim Wallach, officials said.

The Expos had announced last week at the winter meetings they would not make any deals before finding out if the club can sign free agents Tim Lincecum and Andre Dawson.

But Expos general manager Murray Cook said: "The Lincecum-Dawson thing will have no bearing on what we do, and I told (St. Louis general manager) Dal Maxvill that."

Stocks Open Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which fell 17.85 Wednesday, was down 1.12 to 1917.19 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 536-406 among the 1,394 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 9,397,000 shares.

The stock market fell in active trading Wednesday, hit by futures-related selling in advance of Friday's triple witching hour.

The so-called triple witching hour occurs quarterly; stock index futures contracts come due while options on those contracts and options on individual stocks simultaneously expire.

"As we get close to expiration Friday, people are worried about market volatility," said Peter Furniss, vice president in equity trading at Smith Barney, Harris Upham. "People don't really know what's going on so they are taking some profits now."

Furniss said activity is being dominated by professional traders while large, institutional investors are on the sidelines.

"Wall Street's inclination is to stand away from the market until we get through the triple witching hour," said Edward Nicoski, research director at the Minneapolis-based firm of Piper, Jaffray & Hopwood.

Gold Up Slightly As Dollar Falls

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar opened lower against most major world currencies in light trading today. The price of gold edged higher.

In Tokyo the dollar closed at 163.20 yen, down 0.55 from Wednesday's close of 163.75 in slow trading.

In European trading in Frankfurt the dollar opened at 2.0135 German marks, down from 2.0167 on Wednesday.

In Zurich the dollar opened at 1.6975 Swiss francs, down from 1.7015, and in Paris at 6.585 French francs, down from 6.60.

In Amsterdam the dollar opened at 2.275 Dutch guilders, down from 2.278, and in Milan, one dollar bought 1,396.25 lire, compared with 1,397.75 on Wednesday.

In London, the pound was unsettled by stumbling blocks to an OPEC agreement in Geneva. The pound opened at $1.4284, compared with Wednesday's close of $1.43.

In New York the dollar opened lower against all major foreign currencies in light trading.

Gold gained $1.30 at the opening in Zurich at $392.80 and 25 cents in London to $392.25.

The morning fixing in London was $392.50, up 50 cents from Wednesday's close.

Silver opened 2 cents higher in Zurich at $5.37 and edged 1.5 cents higher in London to $5.375.

In earlier trading in the Far East, gold closed at $392.80 an ounce on the Hong Kong Bullion Exchange, off $1.20 from Wednesday's close.

In early trading on New York's Comex, a 100-troy-ounce gold futures contract for current delivery in December opened at $392.30 an ounce, up 10 cents from Wednesday's close. A 5,000-troy-ounce silver futures contract for delivery in December opened at $5.352, off 1 cent an ounce.

Investors Riled At GM Over Perot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Angry institutional investors say they will decide what to do about the unpopular General Motors Corp. $742.8 million buyout of dissident Director H. Ross Perot after they meet with GM Chairman Roger Smith.

Such meeting with Smith has become a sore point with the Council of Institutional Investors.

The Council had scheduled a meeting for Wednesday with Smith, but he failed to show up. Instead, despite his promise to attend, he sent several GM vice presidents — much to Council members' displeasure.

But Perot was there and hinted that if the Council wants him to be involved in some shareholder action against GM, he might accept that role.

"I was distressed Mr. Smith took it upon himself not to show up," said Council spokesman Harrison Goldin, New York City's comptroller. "We have a right to meet with the chairman of a company of which we are ... owners."

dent is guilty of anything."

Inouye and the panel's vice chairman, Sen. Warren Rudman, R-N.H., also agreed with their House counterparts and most members of the Senate Intelligence Committee and said it was "premature" to discuss immunity for anyone involved in the scandal.

Hamilton said his panel would "work closely" with the Senate committee, but stressed that the House has a responsibility to carry out its own investigation of the affair. He offered no timetable for completion of the committee's work.

Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., the head of the Senate Intelligence Committee which has also been probing the case, said Tuesday he thought most of the story had been told. But Hamilton reserved judgment.

"What emerges to me after several weeks of hearings is that there is a lot we don't know," Hamilton said.

"I don't think I can make a judgment on that until I hear from the two principal witnesses who must come forward," he said, referring to Poindexter and North.

Hamilton indicated it may not be necessary to call CIA William Casey, who already has testified before several committees and was hospitalized Tuesday. He said Casey "is rather completely on the record now ... We do have quite a bit of information from him."

Other Democratic members of the special committee include incoming House Majority Leader Tom Foley of Washington, Foreign Affairs Committee Chairman Dante Fascell of Florida and Rep. Peter Rodino of New Jersey, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee that voted articles of impeachment against President Richard Nixon during the Watergate scandal.

The remaining Democrats are Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Texas, chairman of the Government Operations Committee; Les Aspin, D-Wis., chairman of the Armed Services Committee; Edward Boland, D-Mass., former Intelligence Committee chairman; Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, incoming Intelligence Committee chairman; and Ed Jenkins, D-Ga.

The other GOP members are William Brockfield, R-Mich.; Henry Hyde, R-Ill.; Jim Courter, R-N.J., and Mike DeWine, R-Ohio.

agreement, whichever comes first.

The point that additional connection fees will cost $1 per gallon less than the county's wastewater connection fee at the time was questioned by the county commission, but they were told it was because the city will be paying for transmission lines.

In addition, under the agreement, the county will provide treatment and disposal of Longwood's sewage for an initial user charge of $1.50 per thousand gallons of wastewater. The charge will be adjusted from time to time by the county based on its cost for providing service.

Under the agreement, the county will design the master lift station for the project, but will be reimbursed by Longwood, which will pay for the construction. It is estimated to cost $350,000. It is scheduled to be built at the site of the existing Skylark plant or another site to be named by the city commission.

Other officials who will be taking major roles in the planning are: Tim Jackson, project manager; Bill Kercher, in charge of public participation; Dr. Mike Dennis, in charge of environmental concerns, and Tim Jackson and Steven Smith in charge of planning and engineering.

Jackson said the main objective right now is to plan alignment of the expressway that will be supported by the community.

"We need to look at conditions of each possible route — where the lakes are and where people live," he said. "We need to take into account the toll revenue that each route will generate and how much each route would cost."

The one-year planning process for this highway began Dec. 1.

By July, Jackson said, he hopes to have an agreed upon alignment for the third series of public meetings.

Next month, Jackson's group will begin presenting alignment possibilities to the authority and will schedule three public meetings for early March. The first meeting will involve citizens south of Lake Jessup to the county line. The second group will be the south side up to U.S. 17-92. And the third will be those from U.S. 17-92 to Interstate-4.

In May, another series of meetings will be held, with those same groups. "And we will actually be recommending an alignment for the south part," Jackson said.

By July, the total route recommendation will be made, he said.

From July - November, the planners will prepare a draft document. And between October and November, the final alignment will be adopted by the authority.

It will be a limited access highway, and Fregger said in answer to a question from the audience, funds may be available to provide parking lots where people can leave their cars and board car pools or public transportation to their destinations on the expressway.

Insofar as planning for this major highway, there will be three elements for the authority to handle: planning/engineering, environment, and public participation.

Steve Smith, of Wilbur Smith and Associates, will address the planning and engineering needs. Environmental concerns will be addressed by Dr. Mike Dennis. And public input will be assured by Bill Kercher of Glatting Lopez Kercher Anglin consultants.

In planning and engineering, Smith will be trying to determine the lanes and exits needed, speed and safety, where to put interchanges, the necessary grade separations, railroad crossings, drainage, and cost estimates. He will also coordinate sequencing of construction and identify sources of revenue to operate and maintain the road.

Addressing environmental concerns, Dr. Dennis said if anyone knows where an eagle's nest or heron rookery might be they should tell him now — or anything of an environmentally sensitive nature. He is concerned about wetlands impact, uplands, endangered species, and system-wide impacts.

"It doesn't do any good to design a road if you can't permit it from the permitting process," he said. "We earnestly solicit your input."

Those with concerns or questions on engineering, environment, or public participation, call the authority at 321-1130 or 1101 E. First St. in Sanford.

tion, and rezoning of 10,709 acres, north of Alberta Street on the southside of Island Lake, owned by Elaine Keller, Mt. Dora, was tabled.

The applicant had requested the Land Use Plan be amended from County Agricultural/Low Density Residential to City Low Density Residential and Property Rezoned from County RIAA to City R-1A.

There was some confusion over whether the property owner would have to pave the dirt road leading to the property, which she does not want paved. Nagle had originally thought the county might require the road be paved, but he said the county had waived this requirement on Monday.

The only access to the property is through unincorporated roads. The developer would have to pay to extend water lines to the property and would need an easement from Florida Central Commerce Park to do so. Mrs. Keller's representative said Monday night that water is available to the property from Altamonte Springs.

Smerison made the motion to table the public hearing on the requests until the staff can have a conference with the developers. "I have no problem with it if Longwood gets a developer agreement."

Walter E. Judge withdrew his request for annexation and rezoning of 1.82 acres on the northside of Wildmere Avenue, 250 feet west of U.S. Highway 17-92, now being used for a mobile home park. Proposed use of the property was a six-plex movie theatre.

Woman On Probation Arrested For Assault

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A 41-year-old Orlando woman sentenced to 15 years probation in the Nov. 1985 attempted murder of a Seminole County sheriff's deputy has again been arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies.

She is being held without bond in an Orange County jail, following her arrest at about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday on charges of aggravated assault, resisting arrest.

That woman, Georgeann Nussbaumer, in the attempted murder case, shot at deputy Robert Cox outside the office of mental health counselor William Piper at 2828 Casa Aloma Way near Winter Park, Nov. 12, 1985. Cox had responded to a report that Ms. Nussbaumer had been threatening to shoot Piper and his wife Virginia.

Ms. Nussbaumer shot at Cox outside Piper's office when Cox had ordered her to drop her gun. She shot and tried to reload but dropped the gun after several orders from Cox to do so. In that case she was charged with attempted murder and sentenced to 15 years probation and ordered to pay $200 court cost in April.

Piper, who had been Ms. Nussbaumer's therapist and who had resumed counseling her after her attempted murder conviction, called Seminole County sheriff's deputies to his office Wednesday afternoon to report that on Dec. 3 and 10 she had reportedly threatened him.

Piper said that in his office Ms. Nussbaumer on those dates had brandished a handgun and threatened to kill him, his wife and children and a doctor associated with him, a sheriff's report said.

While deputies were questioning Piper at his office Wednesday afternoon Ms. Nussbaumer drove up and spotted two Seminole County sheriff's patrol cars there.

She fled and her car was pursued by two Seminole County deputies to State Road 436 into Orange County, where her car was stopped near Aloma Avenue.

Ms. Nussbaumer at about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday was charged with aggravated assault, fleeing to elude police and resisting arrest. She was jailed in Orange County, because the arrest by Seminole County deputies was made in Orange County.

Deputies reported finding a rifle and 50 rounds of ammunition in Ms. Nussbaumer's car.

Before being charged with attempted murder in the Cox case Ms. Nussbaumer had been taken into custody Nov. 12, under the Baker Act, to be hospitalized, because she was estimated by deputies to be a threat to herself or others.

In the latest arrest, she was scheduled for a first appearance in court today and was being held without bond, to face the latest charges in a Seminole County court.

Computer Artist Says Mona Lisa Is Self-Portrait By Leonardo

NEW YORK (UPI) — Is Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece painting of Mona Lisa actually a self-portrait? The smile may provide the answer.

Oscar award-winning computer artist Lillian Schwartz believes it is after accidentally running a computer image program matching a sketch of the artist with the enigmatic smile.

Schwartz, who won an Oscar in 1980 for special effects created for the movie "Lathes of Heaven," said she and a colleague at Bell Laboratories decided to test the computer program by comparing the Mona Lisa, which was painted over a period of years between 1504 and 1517, with a self-portrait of Leonardo in red chalk done in 1518 when he was an old man.

"We had Leonardo's work stored in the computer, so I decided to try out the program with two of them," she told the magazine.

"First the hairlines appeared, then the eyebrows, one line at a time, one smooth, the other bushy. Then the eyes, both turned in the same direction as I'd expected, but the pupils were so alike, I began to get excited."

"The image taking shape before me was a single face."

Mrs. Robert Joseph Haas

Jacquelyn Greene, Robert J. Haas Exchange Vows

Jacquelyn Irvine Greene of Covington, Ky., and Robert Joseph Haas, Ft. Thomas, Ky., were married on Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, Sanford. The Rev. Dr. Virgil L. Bryant was the officiating clergyman for the double ring ceremony.

Pre-nuptial music was presented by Kathleen Atanasi, Soloist was Ture Larson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irvine Greene, 242 Royal Oak Drive, Winter Springs, formerly of Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Haas, Ft. Thomas.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose for her vows an exquisite candlelight gown, an illuise caudle, fashioned along a romantic Camelot silhouette. The fitted basque bodice, embellished with seed pearls, featured a sheer yoke defined with Chantilly lace, a high neckline and camelot sleeves highlighted with seed pearls. A taffeta flounce fell from the slim mermaid-style sheath skirt at mid-calf and cascaded into a graceful semi-cathedral train. A forward beaded wreath headpiece held her flowing cathedral-length veil of imported illusion. She carried a formal cascade of sonia roses, stephanotis and Cymbidium orchids.

Miss Jenni Ramsey, Cincinnati, Ohio, attended the bride as maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Lisa G. Temple, Silver Spring, Md., was the matron of honor. Each wore a peacock-colored gown fashioned with a long crushed velvet torso, long puffed sleeves that tapered to the wrists and a heavy-satin ballooned tea-length skirt. Each carried an arm bouquet of huge peach-colored Gerbera daisies, imported from Holland, tied with a shower of peacock streamers. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carol G. Asher, sister of the bride, West Palm Beach; Miss Emily Asher, niece of the bride, West Palm Beach; and Miss Judy Bales, Sanford. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendants.

Steven Beacock of Cincinnati, served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were James Haas, brother of the bridegroom, Cincinnati; David Haas, brother of the bridegroom, Newport, Ky.; Roger Asher Jr., nephew of the bride, West Palm Beach; and Andrew Asher, nephew of the bride, West Palm Beach.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at Country Club of Heathrow, Lake Mary. The bride's book was kept by Beth Corso and Tammy Shoemaker. Wedding guests were served a hot buffet and danced to music provided by the Starlighters, Nick Pfeiffauf, Lee Wheeler, Bill Martin and Paul Holdersbaum.

After a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the newlyweds are making their home in Kentucky (Greater Cincinnati area) until their new home is completed. The bride is a dancer with Cincinnati/New Orleans City Ballet Companies. The bridegroom is also employed by the Cincinnati/New Orleans City Ballet Companies.

Before the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. B.E. Greene Jr., aunt and uncle of the bride from Vero Beach, entertained at a brunch at Holiday Inn, Sanford Marina, for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Happy Holidays

It's The Real, Absolute Truth: Everybody Lies Just A Little

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter about the little boy who lies. There is a good reason for it. I lied as a child because that's the way I was brought up. "Tell the man I'm not home." "Don't tell Daddy I bought a new dress." "Tell Auntie you love her." "Tell the lady in the box office you're 11 years old." "Tell the teacher you were sick."

Children learn early to lie. And who teaches them? We grown-ups, who are supposed to know better. Shame on us. Lying is a habit that is hard to break. Is there a cure?

43 AND STILL LYING

DEAR 43: Yes. First the liar must admit that he or she is lying. Obviously, there are different degrees of lying. The purist would protect, saying a statement is either true or it isn't. And if it's not true, it's a lie. But there are exaggerations (to make a better story) until there's more embroidery than fabric — and that's industrial-strength lying.

Dear Abby

There are the big, bold lies ("I didn't do it!" "My children never gave me one minute's trouble"), and little white lies ("You look maaaaavevous!" "Oh, I didn't mind waiting").

I could go on and on, and I'd be lying if I said I never lie, because everyone, if he's truthful, lies a little. George Bernard Shaw wrote in "Self-Sketches": "All autobiographies are lies. I do not mean unconscious, unintentional lies. No man is bad enough to tell the truth about himself during his lifetime ... And no man is good enough to tell the truth to posterity, a document which he suppresses until there is nobody left alive to contradict him."

Now, the cure for lying: One must think before he speaks, then ask himself: Is it true? And if it isn't, opt for silence rather than speak an untruth — which is another "ain" (omission).

So, you see, it's not easy to be totally truthful. But we can all try to improve our batting averages. It's never too late to turn over a new leaf. And that's no lie. Or is it?

DEAR ABBY: I was married to a man who thought one child was enough. When I got pregnant the second time (by accident), my husband wanted me to have an abortion. I refused, so he insisted that after the baby was born the doctor should perform a tubal ligation to be sure there would be no more accidents. In fact, he said he wouldn't bring me home from the hospital until I had one. I was stupid enough to go along with it.

Well, we were divorced, and we both have remarried. I regret more than I can say that I listened to that selfish man. If I had had any brains I would have told him to get a vasectomy.

Now I can't have any more children. My "ex" and his new wife are expecting and he is on cloud nine.

REGRETTING

DEAR REGRETTING: Your point is well-taken. Women file this away in your memory bank. If your mate wants a childless marriage, tell him to get vasectomized.

DEAR ABBY: We who work at the Postal Service would like nothing more than to get your cards, letters and parcels to their destinations as quickly as possible. You can help us by writing (or printing) clearly the name, address and ZIP code of the recipient.

If you can't read it, neither can we. This holiday season please give us a break!

LOREN K., DULUTH, MINN.

DEAR LOREN: And may I add that a return address is always a good idea in case the letter or parcel is undeliverable.

Physicians Can Often Be Very Intimidating

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — Although I enjoy your column and find your answers informative, it seems a shame that so many people have to write to a newspaper for answers to medical problems. I assume that because of the many lawsuits, the doctors have to be very cagey in answering patients' questions. Good patients have to suffer because of those looking for a fast buck. Where is this lawsuit frenzy going to end?

In the Cheerio might not be dissolved by nasal secretions. Take him to a qualified ear, nose and throat specialist for a thorough examination.

DEAR DR. GOTT — A number of years ago I had a large part of my colon removed. I happened to mention it to a young intern at a hospital, who told me it would grow back. Is that true?

DEAR READER — False. The human body is not capable of regenerating intestinal tissue. Dr. Gott's new Health Report on MENTAL AND EMOTIONAL ILLNESS describes the different types of illnesses and the treatments available. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

DEAR READER — Good question. I wish I had an answer. However, I do not believe that people write me because their doctors are afraid of lawsuits.

Most of the questions I receive seem to come from sincere, perfectly ordinary people who are ashamed, embarrassed or hesitant to query their own doctors. I try to give common-sense answers to these questions so that patients will feel less intimidated about going to their own physicians for further information, clarification and discussion.

Although I am happy to answer questions, my replies are not meant to be the last word. I hope to encourage people to seek out their own, more individualized medical attention. I like to think that what I do in print is exactly what any good doctor would do in the office. It's certainly what I do, I, too, am fearful of possible lawsuits; any intelligent, practicing doctor is, because so many lawsuits are ill-founded and frivolous. I think that people write to newspaper columnists because patients have a need to know about health issues and, unfortunately, doctors are often too busy or seem disinclined to provide information.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My son, 5, stuck a Cheerio up his nose two years ago. The nurse tried to remove it with a Q-Tip, but just shoved it up further. Since then my son has had constant sinus problems, but the doctor says the Cheerio couldn't still be in there.

DEAR READER — The Cheerio could still be providing a source of irritation and inflammation in your son's nose. The grain fiber

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
A lesson we learn early in bridge play is not to lead away from A-Q combinations. Instead, we are taught to wait and take two tricks with that combination. Another good lesson to remember is that there are exceptions to almost every rule. The West defenders at both tables in this deal from a team-of-four match remembered the exception.

West led a heart. East took the ace and played back the seven. Declarer played the jack, losing to the queen. Meanwhile declarer had discarded from dummy a club and a spade. West was sure from the return of the heart seven that his partner had no more heart winners. West was looking at two aces, but where was the setting trick? Declarer probably had good spades to go with that suit in dummy and would soon force out the diamond ace. Finally, West concluded that South just might be short in clubs, and if so, a club lead would be best even if South had the king. Accordingly West played a low club. Declarer won dummy's jack and played a diamond to the jack in his hand. West grabbed the ace, played the ace of clubs, which now swallowed South's king, and cashed the club queen for down one. A nice defense, but duplicated at the other table, which was just another way of reminding both pairs of defenders that they were, after all, playing in a world championship.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
DECEMBER 19, 1986
A course you'll plot for yourself in the year ahead might not be an easy one, but you'll know its true worth. Don't let those who are unaware of its values dissuade you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) People may find you hard to please today because of your reluctance to lay all your cards on the table. Major changes are ahead for Sagittarius in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Play it very close to the vest today if you have to work with limited resources. Don't go in the hole trying to keep up with friends.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Partnership arrangements will fall flat today if your associate's aims are not in perfect harmony with yours. Both must be of one mind.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In order to make it easier on yourself today, you might delegate some responsibilities to a person who you cannot rely on. You're apt to do better if you do things yourself.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you apply pressure tactics today to one who is indebted to you, this person might totally renege on the obligation instead of paying up.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Family funds could become a sticky issue between you and your mate today unless everything is handled considerably on both sides. Each must bend a bit.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you set a poor example, persons who are working with you today will emulate your behavior and nothing will get done. Be a good motivator.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It'll be necessary for you to champion your own cause today in order to be properly compensated for your services. Don't leave it to another.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You may have to make it clear to your youngsters today that you have laid down certain rules for their own good, and that you intend to enforce them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Nothing will be gained today by trying to even up an old score with someone who has wronged you in the past. In fact, it could add new complications.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Occasionally, you have a tendency to be overly generous with the wrong people. Today, you might ignore the deserving and cater to those you shouldn't.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's important that you clarify your goals today or else you may waste a lot of time on pursuits that will give you little gratification once they're achieved.

An Extraordinary Year For American Television

NEW YORK (UPI) — The fireball in the sky erupted just 28 days into the new year. As the space shuttle Challenger was swallowed by clouds of smoke it was clear 1986 was to be an extraordinary year for television.

Those of us tuned to CNN watched in horror as seven lives were engulfed in a fireball. And we watched it live.

Within seconds after the shuttle erupted into flames a stunned nation again turned to television as the altar for its collective grief.

This was just the beginning of an incredible year for television, where the medium touched not just the stars, but the world.

There was the election in the Philippines, where at times the candidates seemed to be campaigning for our vote as much as the home crowd. While the Philippines were welcoming American media with open arms, the South African government gave us the boot.

And in Libya, after days of mass media mingling in which Moammar Gadhafi and President Reagan traded insults on TV, the U.S. warplanes struck.

Television took on the immediacy of oldtime radio.

It was 7 o'clock, just in time for the nightly news. Dan Rather, anchor of "CBS Evening News," was on the phone to correspondent Jeffrey Fager at the Grand Hotel in downtown Tripoli when the bombs began dropping.

"Is there an attack under way in Tripoli at the moment and can you hear it out the window?" Rather asked. "If so, put your microphone out that window and let us hear it."

He did and we heard it. A day later the pictures came back.

At the nuclear disaster in Chernobyl, the visuals were elusive. The Soviets, who had announced the fiasco with a 42-word statement, suddenly went mum. But world reaction forced Mikhail Gorbachev to turn to television. In a 25-minute speech, the Soviet leader said the accident had shown the "sinister force" of nuclear energy going out of control.

In the scramble for video, two networks were hoodwinked. ABC and NBC bought what they thought were pictures shot by a Yugoslavian tourist of the smoldering Chernobyl plant the day after the accident. Instead, the videotape was of a smoking chimney at a cement factory in Trieste, Italy.

Yet it was not long before a remarkable photograph began turning up on American TV screens. A satellite 500 miles high had photographed the damaged reactor complex. It was not a classified spy satellite photo, but one taken by a commercial company and sold for $50 to the media.

Thanks to satellites, the world was becoming a much smaller place, and television has been one of the main beneficiaries of the high-in-the-sky technology.

But 1986 was also the year that the free ride ended for satellite dish owners. Cable entities like CNN and HBO scrambled their signals so that satellite owners could no longer capture the signal free of charge — leading to a technological strike from "Captain Midnight."

John R. MacDougall, 25, of Ocala, Fla., interrupted HBO programming April 27 and superimposed a message for 4 1/2 minutes: "GOODEVENING HBO: FROM CAPTAIN MIDNIGHT: $12.95-Month? NO WAY! (SHOWTIME-MOVIE CHANNEL BEWARE!)"

MacDougall was nabbed and paid a $5,000 fine.

If cable had its trouble, so, too, did the commercial networks.

The Big Three — ABC, CBS and NBC — laid off more than 3,000 employees to prepare for the "New Reality" — no more limos, no more free lunch, no more skyrocketing ad revenues, no more fat.

The bottom-line mentality caught on because the networks were invaded by ax-wielding financial mavens: Capital Cities at ABC, General Electric at NBC and Laurence Tisch at CBS.

But things were looking mighty fine at NBC. Even though miracle man Grant Tinker left the chairmanship, NBC continued to steamroll the competition. The Thursday night lineup, anchored by "The Cosby Show," racked up impressive ratings once again.

While NBC's "Miami Vice" faltered in the ratings against CBS's revamped "Dallas," NBC came through with "L.A. Law," a new show that dazzled critics and promises to draw high ratings as soon as it catches on.

Over at CBS, the return of Patrick Duffy to "Dallas," whose character had been killed off the season before, meant convincing viewers that everything they saw last season was a dream. Nevertheless, the resurrection of Bobby Ewing boosted the ratings and lifted the show back into the top 10.

CBS also came up with its own

Kelsey (Jill Eikenberry) finds a passionate letter that helps her in a contract dispute over a "self-wrinking" teabag in the "Sidney the Dead Nosed Reindeer" episode of "L.A. Law." It airs tonight on NBC.

critically acclaimed new show — "Designing Women," a situation comedy about four middle-aged women living in Atlanta.

ABC tried to build on the success of its hit show "Moonlighting" by creating "Jack and Mike," a program about a fabulously successful and happily married couple. It did not work.

Indeed, ABC did many things that did not work. It brought back Lucille Ball for "Life with Lucy," a sitcom that failed miserably, and gave Ellen Burstyn a shot at her own sitcom, but that failed, too.

ABC's biggest reason to smile, "Moonlighting," was a bust at the Emmy Awards show. Although it was nominated for 16 Emmys, the show won just one minor award for editing.

The only shining light at ABC seems to be coming from the news corral. "Our World," with Ray Gaddoff and Linda Ellerbee, finishes last in the ratings because it runs against Cosby, but the show makes money because it's cheaper to produce than a situation comedy or drama.

Although ABC's failures were plenty, it was CBS that seemed to be in shambles. After Ted Turner's unsuccessful bid to take over CBS, morale was at an all-time low and finally the troubles came to a head in an all-day bedroom shootout in which control was wrested away by Tisch, the major stockholder.

It was also a bad year for news. After years of playing third fiddle, CBS finally threw in the towel in the morning and canceled "CBS Morning News." And NBC finally gave up trying to put on a newsmagazine show to compete with CBS's "60 Minutes" and ABC's "20/20." In December, NBC canceled "1986" and said it would concentrate on documentaries.

ABC had some problems with its 1987 miniseries "Amerika," which tells the story of America 10 years after the Soviets invaded. ABC's Moscow bureau chief was told by the Soviets that they were displeased with the subject matter and it might affect their ability to cover the Soviet Union. The United Nations was also seeing red over the way the U.N. was depicted in the miniseries.

Most of the year, NBC was flying high in the ratings thanks again to "The Cosby Show." But the No. 1 network did have its troubles, the worst of which came on May 5 when "NBC Nightly News" broadcast an interview with Mohammed Abbas, the alleged mastermind of the Achille Lauro hijacking. In exchange for the interview, NBC News had agreed not to reveal his whereabouts.

The State Department accused NBC of being an accomplice to terrorism. The same month, NBC was accused by the CIA of broadcasting a report containing classified information.

If NBC was under fire for making a deal with terrorists, ABC also took some heat for its cozy arrangement with a Hollywood producer.

The No. 3 network turned David Wolper's "Liberty Weekend" celebration into a festival of glitz, with 200 hip-heaving Elvices, dancing cowgirls, songs, schmooze and the world's largest fireworks show.

Over at WTBS, the Atlanta superstation run by media mogul Turner, Russians were in, and nuclear power was out. In July, Turner broadcast the "Goodwill Games," a kind of mid-term mini Olympics, from Moscow. The opening ceremonies were not as grand as the "Liberty Weekend" festival, yet they seemed even more spectacular because the Hollywood glitz was gone. Expectations were high. Ratings were low.

Turner also created a fuss by taking such classic black and white films as "The Maltese Falcon" and colorizing them. Critics moaned, but millions tuned in to WTBS to see Humphrey Bogart's pink cheeks.

1986 was also the year of babble. No less than 15 talk shows hit the airwaves. In the biggest fuss was over the feud between Johnny Carson and Joan Rivers. When Rivers told Carson she was leaving NBC to help Fox Broadcasting Co.

launch a fourth network, Carson reportedly hung up the phone on her and refused any more contact.

Meanwhile, another talking head, Phil Donahue created a stir when he secured, on live television, a heart transplant for one of his guests, the young unwed parents of Baby Jesse. The show raised questions about the growing role of the media in determining who gets organs.

The king of the anchors, CBS's Dan Rather, also met with some trouble in 1986. After leading the pack for more than 200 weeks straight, the demon ratings caught up with "CBS Evening News." Now, just a horse hair separates "NBC Nightly News," "ABC World News Tonight" and "CBS Evening News" in the weekly ratings.

Meanwhile, over at ABC, David Hartman decided to leave "Good Morning America" without a fight, ending an 11-year reign.

If 1986 was a remarkable year, the television networks can look forward to an even more eventful year ahead, according to CBS ratings guru David Poltrack.

It will be the first year that all three networks will be operating in their new, leaner, downsized mode; the first year NFL football may not be on network television; the first year that "people meters" will be used to determine ratings instead of the old diary method; and it will be a year of election campaigns and Olympic trials.

Injured Cameraman Suing 'Twilight Zone' Director

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A cameraman who gave damaging testimony at the "Twilight Zone" manslaughter trial says he is suing director John Landis and four associates over injuries he suffered in the film's fatal helicopter crash.

Roger Lee Smith acknowledged the suit Wednesday during cross examination by attorney Leonard Levine, who represents movie unit manager Dan Allingham. Levine said he brought Smith's civil suit to light to show the cameraman has a financial interest in the defendants' conviction.

He testified Tuesday that Allingham told him

Landis promised no special effects explosions would be set off in the fatal scene until the helicopter was a safe distance away.

Special effects explosions were set off near the helicopter and they engulfed the aircraft "just like a tidal wave," Smith testified.

The aircraft then crashed on top of actor Vic Morrow, 53, and two child actors, killing them during filming of a spectacular Vietnam War scene July 23, 1982.

"Obviously, if these men are found guilty, his civil suit alleging negligence and recklessness is going to be a lot easier to prove than if they're found not guilty," Levine said.

What Was Best And Worst On TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — TV's best and worst for 1986:

Best New Drama — NBC's "L.A. Law," by a longshot. Exquisitely acted, written and produced. Kinky, daring, funny and best of all, real. It almost makes you like lawyers.

Biggest Blunder — ABC's "Life with Lucy." A little extra eyeliner could not hide the fact that this show was 30 years old. It was an embarrassment.

Best New Cop Show — NBC's "Crime Story." Gritty, dark and surreal at times, all too real at others. Best is yet to come.

Most Overrated, Overwatched — NBC's "Amen." Stupid jokes and stereotyped blacks plus the same characters from "The Jeffersons." May it rest in peace. Amen.

Most Underrated Underwatched — ABC's "Our World" because it is up against NBC's "The Cosby Show."

Best Morning News — NBC's "Today," by a New York mile.

Most Unforgettable Moment — Watching CNN live when the Challenger burst into a fireball and melted away into a billow cloud.

Best Miniseries — NBC's "A Year in the Life" (airs Dec. 15, 16, 17).

Best Babble — NBC's "Late Night with David Letterman."

Best P.R. Catfight — The brooha over Joan Rivers and Johnny Carson.

Best News Show — Sorry to disagree with Walter Cronkite, but it is most definitely not "Entertainment Tonight."

Best New Comedy — CBS's "Designing Women." Honorable mention to ABC's "Sledge Hammer!"

Worst New Comedy — NBC's "Ali," as funny as a funeral.

Best of the Old — CBS's "Cagney and Lacey." Beautiful writing, excellent acting, wonderful relationships, and great stories.

Best Heax — ABC and NBC were duped into running what they thought was a home movie of the smoking Chernobyl reactor. But what they got was a smokestack in Italy.

Hottest Seat, News — NBC News President Lawrence K. Grossman. In one year he was lambasted by the State Department for making a deal with a terrorist and one of his reporters was accused by the CIA of revealing classified information.

He also refused to submit to NBC President Robert C. Wright's "budget exercise" which asked the question: "If you could cut 5 percent from your budget ... and he refused to allow his news division to play the Political Action Committee game with Wright when he wrote a memo that either mandated or strongly suggested (depending on who's reading the memo) that employees donate money to political causes that would benefit NBC.

Hottest Seat, Entertainment — ABC's Brandon Stoddard, who can't seem to do anything right in the battle to beat NBC and CBS.

Voyager Heads Towards Aviation Record But Fuel Runs Low

Maneuvers to avoid bad weather the Voyager's precious fuel supply so quickly the crew is concerned the experimental aircraft may not be able to complete its historic nonstop global flight.

Early fears that the splendid plane may be forced down early, pilots Dick Rutan and Jeana Yeager were expected to easily surpass a record for non-refueled flight at about 3 p.m. EST today as they neared the midway point in their 27,000-mile journey.

The standing 12,532-mile record was set in 1982 by an eight-engine B-52H bomber on a U.S. Air Force flight from Okinawa to Spain.

At Voyager Mission Control in California's Mojave Desert, there was growing concern about the fuel supply, which was depleted by storm maneuvers and a longer-than-expected need to keep the aircraft's front engine running.

Texas Sex Killer Executed

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (UPI) — Convicted sex killer Richard Andrade, whose request to die without witnesses was denied, was executed today after spending less time on death row than any Texas inmate executed since the state resumed capital punishment.

Andrade, 25, whose emotions in the final hours of life swung from tears to laughter, was silent before receiving a lethal injection for the savage stabbing death of a bar owner during a sexual assault in 1984.

Andrade, who had received stays of two previous execution dates this year, had been on death row since November 1984 — less time than any of the previous 19 men Texas has put to death since resuming executions in 1982. The average stay on death row in Texas is about six years.

He is the 10th person Texas has executed this year.

Newton Awarded $19.3 Million

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — NBC News was ordered to pay Wayne Newton $19.3 million by a jury that ruled network employees knew their reports linking the nightclub star to the mob were false or seriously doubted the truth of the broadcasts.

Newton grinned broadly when he met with reporters after Wednesday's verdict, but refused to comment on the advice of attorney Morton Galane who said, "It is a major victory but it is not over."

Network attorneys said they were sure the verdict would be reversed, saying the Las Vegas jury may have been biased in favor of a hometown boy.

The ruling said NBC reporter Brian Ross, producer Ira Silverman and executive producer Paul Greenberg "had knowledge of falsity or had a serious doubt about the truth" of three broadcasts in 1980 and 1981.

Newton claimed in his suit that he lost millions in earnings and got an ulcer because of the NBC Nightly News reports that said Newton was less than candid with officials about his relationship with reputed New York Gambino crime family associate Guido Penosi.

DeLorean Cleared Again

DETROIT (UPI) — John Z. DeLorean, founder innocent of embezzling $8.5 million from his failed car company, emerged from his second victory in a criminal trial in two years thanking God and charging prosecutors had "destroyed" his life.

A federal jury Wednesday acquitted DeLorean of all 15 charges of fraud and racketeering in a case involving allegations he diverted investors' money for his own use. DeLorean was acquitted in 1984 on federal drug charges.

The verdict ended nearly five years of criminal litigation for the automaker, who became the youngest General Motors Corp. division head in the 60s, left GM and formed his own company in the 70s, then saw his dream of a stainless steel, gull-wing sports car built in Northern Ireland die in the 80s.

IN BRIEF

Heart-Lung-Liver Transplant Patient Doing Well

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI) — A 35-year-old woman who underwent what was believed to be the world's first heart, lung and liver transplant operation was in intensive care and "making a satisfactory recovery," health officials said.

A 15-member team led by four surgeons at Papworth Hospital, a pioneering center for heart transplant operations, 55 miles northeast of London, performed the seven-hour operation on the unidentified woman Wednesday.

The heart and lung transplant was carried out first, followed by the liver surgery. All the organs all came from the same donor, thus reducing the chance of rejection, a hospital source said.

"The patient is making a satisfactory recovery in the intensive care unit," a spokesman for the local health authority said.

Soviets Release Documents

JERUSALEM (UPI) — American industrialist Armand Hammer persuaded the Soviet Union to send Israel a document prosecutors contend proves that a retired U.S. autoworker was the feared Nazi death camp guard "Ivan the Terrible," Israeli officials said.

The officials said Wednesday that it was the personal intervention of Hammer that persuaded Moscow to hand the documents over to Israel despite the lack of diplomatic relations between Israel and the Soviet Union.

Retired U.S. autoworker John Demjanjuk, 68, is accused of forcing thousands of Jews to their deaths as a sadistic Nazi guard known as "Ivan the Terrible" at the Treblinka concentration camp in Poland during World War II.

Demjanjuk, a Ukrainian soldier captured by the Germans, plans to argue he is a victim of mistaken identity at his trial, which opens Jan. 19. The prosecution says the Nazi German SS document shows he was "Ivan the Terrible."

Activist Said Beaten, Detained

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — A leading Solidarity activist arrested during Poland's demand for the legalization of the outlawed union said police kicked and brutally beat him during 24 hours in custody.

Iran-Contra Probes Digging Deeper

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional committees investigating the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal, having heard testimony from top White House officials, have found that each detail uncovered leads to more questions — about money, motive, and the Marine colonel who put the scheme together.

The Senate Intelligence Committee, wrapping up its third week of hearings, planned to hear today for the second time from former national security adviser Robert McFarlane, who made a secret trip to Iran in May 1986 with a shipment of U.S. arms.

"It is an open agenda to call back witnesses to examine them on areas in which other testimony may be somewhat different from their own," Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., chairman of the Senate committee, told reporters Wednesday night.

McFarlane, who resigned in December 1985, had testified earlier that President Reagan gave advance verbal approval to the August 1985 transfer of arms to Iran in an effort to open a dialogue with "moderate" elements in the Islamic government and to try to secure the release of Americans being held hostage in Lebanon.

White House chief of staff Donald Regan was scheduled to testify today before the House Intelligence Committee. Regan, who appeared before the Senate panel in closed session Tuesday, told committee members that he and Reagan knew nothing of the alleged diversion of up to $30 million in arm sales profits to the Nicaraguan Contras.

Regan reportedly also told the Senate panel the president approved the August 1985 shipment of weapons to Iran after the fact, in October 1985.

Other top-level White House officials who have appeared before the Senate committee included Secretary of State George Shultz, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Attorney General Edwin Meese and CIA Director William Casey.

Durenberger has said he is convinced the clandestine operation was conceived, planned and executed by former National Security Council aide, Lt. Col. Oliver North.

North "is the key to this" and "operated without any authority on the Contra conversion other than his own," Durenberger said.

North, who worked for Meese and his successor, Vice Adm. John Poindexter, was fired Nov. 25 and Poindexter resigned the same day after Reagan and Meese disclosed the diversion of the Iran arms sale profits to the Nicaraguan rebels fighting to overthrow the Sandinista government in Managua.

North and Poindexter appeared before several congressional committees investigating the scandal, and each man refused to answer questions after repeatedly invoking the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination.

Reagan, seeking to put the greatest political crisis of his presidency behind him, called on Congress to seek a federal court grant of limited immunity against prosecution for the two aides to induce them to testify.

But Durenberger and the incoming committee chairman, Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., turned such action premature. Durenberger said it would hinder the investigations of the two special congressional committees and could hamper the work of an independent counsel requested by Meese.

Boren said all the committees want to hear from North and Poindexter but not at the expense of granting immunity.

"It is inappropriate and would pull the rug out from the other committees and the independent counsel," he said.

Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, chairman of the Watergate-style select committee that will begin work when the new Congress convenes, said the panel's work will be long and arduous and the hearings could last for months.

Meese, who testified for nearly 4 1/2 hours Wednesday, publicly disclosed that the money from the arms sales was diverted to the Contras. But he said, "I don't know," when asked if the rebels actually received any of the money.

Durenberger said Meese was able to "add to the credibility" of his statements that money actually was deposited in Swiss bank accounts for the Contras but it is unknown how much was funneled to the rebels, who say they never received any money.

Sen. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., vice-chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, agreed with Durenberger that North helped in executing the plan, but he does not know whether North acted on his own or was following orders.

Casey testified that Iran paid little more than $12 million for U.S. anti-aircraft and anti-tank missiles, which leads to questions about how an estimated $30 million in profits were diverted to the Contras.

Hasenfus Enjoys First Day Free

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (UPI) — American gunrunner Eugene Hasenfus, pardoned by Nicaragua in a Christmas message of peace "to the American people," today spent his first full day of freedom 74 days after being shot down while dropping supplies to the Contra rebels.

Hasenfus was pardoned from his 30-year prison sentence and expected to be back on U.S. soil in time today to help celebrate the seventh birthday of his son, Adam, family members said.

Hasenfus' sister, Gaudy Casper, today told ABC's "Good Morning America" it would be "the best present I think he can get."

Hasenfus left Nicaragua late Wednesday, accompanied by his wife, Sally, and Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., for Guatemala

City in the first leg of his trip home. Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega persuaded the National Assembly to pardon the former Marine from Marinette, Wis.

Hasenfus, 45, was sentenced Nov. 15 to 30 years by a Sandinista People's Tribunal for helping supply weapons to the Contra rebels trying to overthrow the Nicaraguan government.

"They're going to be home in Wisconsin with their family," Dodd today said of Hasenfus and his wife, Sally, in a GMA interview from Guatemala City.

"I don't care if you're a Democrat, a Republican, a conservative or a liberal," said Dodd, who opposes the very aid to the Contras that Hasenfus was giving when he was captured. "If you've got a chance to bring an American home, you do it."
