Yanks Drop Game To Senators 3 To 1

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Sad Sam Jones again was had news to the not to secure Yankees this afternoon, setting them down, 3 to 1, in the first game of the Senators-Yankees double bill and reducing their lead over the Athletics to a slim game and a half. Sad Sam allowed but six hits, while George Piggott was driven from the mound in the 7th when singles by Cronin, Rice and Goslin. A walk to Jones and Robertson's boot netted the Senators their three runs. The Yanks run came in the fifth on Robertson's single, Durocher's sacrifice and Bengough's single. Ruth and Gehrig both went hitless.

DEMPSEY STATES HE WILL GIVE OUT IMPORTANT NEWS

Sports Writer Believes Former Champ Will Announce His Intention Of Returning To Game Of Squared Arena

By Davis J. Walsh
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—(INS)—Jack Dempsey may peep out of the grease paint long enough today to declare himself back in the running for the world's heavy-weight championship. This, anyhow, was the intimation taken from his announcement that he would have something "important" to say to local sports writers at his hotel before tonight. Even Dempsey realizes that the only important announcement he can make in regard to himself is one having to do with his immediate intentions in connection with boxing.

Face] with a "yes or no" question about boxing again while he was making up in his dressing room for the premiere of his show last night, Dempsey was saved the embarrassment of answering when his press agent interposed with this significant remark: "Mr. Dempsey is reserving his answer to that question for the sports writers tomorrow."

In view of the fact that the Mr. Dempsey was discussing had answered that question in the negative at least a hundred times out of a possible ninety nine or something during the last six months, it is assumed that the worthy fellow is not imbued with the notion that anyone wishes to hear him say no again. The man in other words always must bite the dog very severely to get his name in an eight column banner line for the late sports extras.

The other well known ex-fighter Mr. Tunney, may be wearied by the daily interview, but if there ever was any danger of Mr. Dempsey reaching this stage the crisis passed when he signed a theatrical contract. Just at the moment Mr. Dempsey would rather have a banner line than both Mr. Tunney and Dave Barry on the floor together with the St. Vitus dance to do the counting.

Some few persons are intimating today that there is a singular connection between Dempsey's important announcement and the fact that his show has just opened. These individuals, always ready to impugn another's motives, declare that Mr. Dempsey feels he has something to say because now is the time for all good men including decrease prize fighters to have something to say. It is hinted in this connection that his announcement will be an innocuous affair, ranging somewhere in between definite affirmation of his return to the ring and actual negation of the intention.

My opinion has been that Dempsey will decide to fight, sooner or later, pessimism being one of the outstanding virtues of my very lovable disposition. He will decide to fight, first, because he has almost nothing against money; second, because Mr. Tunney no longer is identified with the profession; third, because he has almost nothing against money.

These three reasons may prove to be the abiding ones in the end. Our John may fear permanent injury to one of his eyes; in fact the eye probably needs treatment right at this moment, but even more than this, does he fear being without money. And still more so does he fear Mr. Tunney.

As a matter of fact he never got so tired of a man in his life as he did Mr. Tunney during the two fights they fought and the only two they will never fight.

Giants Win From Phillies To Get Runner-Up Position 4 1/2 Games Behind St. Louis

Yanks Add Whole Game To Their Lead When Combs Snags Ken Williams' Drive Which Looked Like Home Run

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(INS)—The Giants are back in the race again. They advanced to the runner-up position, four and a half games behind the Cards, by beating the Phillies twice while St. Louis and Chicago were losing both ends of their double headers to the Reds and the Pirates.

Old Jack Scott who helped John McGraw capture two pennants started and won his first game since his return to the Polo Grounds 4 to 3 and Joe Genewick turned in the finale 9 to 3 when his team mates his Ed Bacchit 20 times.

Purdy started in the opener of the two games the Reds took from the league leading Cards. Trailing until the ninth inning of the opener the Cards then wacked out three runs to take the lead 5 to 4. Purdy drove in the tying run in the last of the ninth and the game remained in a knot until the same Red brought home the winning tally in the eleventh. The late game went to the Reds in the sixth when a flock of hits brought in six runs to make it 8 to 2.

The Pirates won the morning game from the Cubs 16 to 1, and took the afternoon session 6 to 3, dropping the Cubs out of their second place seat. Paul Waner used the two games to rap out six hits, one of them a home run, and lift himself to within one percentage point of Roger Hornsby who was held idle when the Graves-Rubin game was rained out.

Odd London Gutter Slang Is Revealed By Tests And Road Work For Months

LONDON, Aug. 30.—(INS)—London has 25,000 persons without any home of their own. This estimate is made by Tom How, member of the London City Mission who works in the common lodging houses of the capital.

"Heathens as intense in its own way as any to be found among the backward races and a prevalence of vice and wrong hardly exceeded in any capital of the world are to be found in London's metropolitan lodging-houses," writes How in the organ of the Mission. "These men are a queer lot," he adds. "The professional legging letter writer, street singers, match sellers, who are beggars in disguise, and social derelicts and live in the common kitchens, which are always open."

They have a curious "lingo," of which How gives some examples. A pedlar says his "stiff" hat run out. He has plenty of "swag," "smells," "stretchers," but he is "swearing a leg in order to find an "Oxford scholar" for his brief.

In other words, he is a street vendor whose license has expired in London's lodging houses the "needy" is a hawker; a "skipper" is a real hobo, a "mush-maker" is an umbrella maker; a "grinder" is a street musician; a "snow-lifter" is a stealer of laundry; while the missionary in the "Bible puncher" or "sweet bye" and bye.

Bob Holly Returns From Trip Bringing Optimistic Reports

The summer seasons in many tourist resorts for the past two years have not been so good. Rain and cold shortened the season and one hotel that has been very popular in this line is now in the hands of a receiver on account of poor business. All of this shows that Florida is not the only state to suffer and when you remember that some of our hotels were not filled last season because the state was greatly overbuilt our situation is not so bad. In time all the Florida hotels will be filled again and those who know say this fall and winter will be our banner year for the people are coming here after the election.

It is really surprising to know that Sanford is looked upon as one of the most substantial cities in Florida, which is just another axiom that you have to go away from home to learn the news. The majority of people looking for a place to live, want a location where there is something growing, something tangible upon which to pin their faith in the future and in this respect our city has something real to talk about.

"Numbers of smaller industries in the north are looking for new locations in the southern states. Many of them want to locate in Florida and they are needing information on the subject. An expert in the manufacture of shoes said a small factory would probably pay in Florida and that he was coming down here to investigate our possibilities. Another manufacturer of overalls and cotton goods thinks that Florida could operate more of these small factories, especially since electric power is available in all parts Florida.

"We can never hope to get the larger industries here but there are many smaller ones that can be induced to locate in this state and if Sanford today had a dozen or more small factories even employing 25 men and women in each factory they would add materially to our payrolls.

"In discussing Florida with that great mass of people in the north who are not millionaires but have some money, I found that the big question with them is what to do when they get here. The millionaires can spend their time in amusements but thousands of good people would like to come here with some money and want something to occupy their attention after they are here. They are in middle life, have made money but do not want to retire, and all they need is something to do and they are the men who would start smaller industries, would like poultry farms or vegetable farms, or canning factories, preserving works, citrus juice factories, etc.

"We have a lot to be thankful for in this valley of tears and especially in the valley of the St. Johns. There is much work to do here. If we intend to build that great city which is the hope of our future, we must get to the point that we think Sanford is the best location for a big city in Florida—when we think it, live it and work day and night to accomplish it, Sanford will become that city of our dreams. We all need a new perspective for a few days or weeks and we will come back to take up the burden anew with the feeling that our city is as ever the most substantial in this state.

"There are hundreds of items along this line but lack of space will not permit them to be printed here. This is just passed along to my friends here to let them know that "having been all wet" all summer it is high time they were standing on the banks of Lake Monona and drying off and getting ready for a big winter season for it is coming and the fellows who have their umbrellas tilted the right way will get their part of the shower of gold."

Man Is Subject Of Scientists' Lesson

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The Golden Text was from Job 32:8, "There is a spirit in man; and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" (Genesis 1:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is co-existent and co-eternal with that Mind" (p. 336).

FRENCH FLIERS LEAVE FOR U.S. IN MONOPLANE

The fliers hope to reach New York in less than 50 hours. Their plane has a cruising speed of 125 miles an hour and a theoretical flying radius of about 5,600 miles. Its fuel tanks hold 1,125 gallons. Power is furnished by an 850 horse power Hispano motor.

About an hour before Assolant and French fliers, Lavreau and Mariner, took off on a long distance flight but returned within 10 minutes because their plane was unable to gain altitude.

The "Yellow Canary" is almost exactly similar in every particular to the Bernard monoplane in which Capt. Couduret made an unsuccessful attempt to start for America last week. Couduret's ship came to grief on the telegraph wires at the edge of Le Bourget field.

Friends of the fliers stated after the start that there was a possibility that they might head south for Fakar, Senegal Africa, after reaching the Azores if conditions for continuance of the westward flight were not propitious. Should they fly to Dakar it is believed they would then essay a hop across the South Atlantic to South America.

Mrs. Pariziana felt today that the flight should not have been attempted so closely upon the heels of the tragic accident which cost the lives of Air Minister Bokanowski and four others.

Advised that it was the general belief that his son was aboard the "Yellow Canary" the father of Armand Jotti said he was only mildly surprised but deeply grieved because of the effect it would have upon his wife.

Deputy Sheriff Wounded Twice By Drunken Man

(Continued From Page 1) called to his dog. Stephenson said he told Sweat that he (Stephenson) believed Sweat knew where the dog was and declared that unless the dog was forthcoming soon "there would be trouble." The father of the assailant then denied the charge and pulled his gun. Stephenson, standing within six or seven feet of Sweat, was struck first in the leg and then in the arm, the latter shot causing him to fall. Sweat had been drinking, the deputy said. A man by the name of Paunchemon, who accompanied the deputy, and a woman employed in the filling station are said to have been eye-witnesses to the shooting.

We Believe In Sanford!

We believe in Sanford's future. We believe business is going to be good this winter. We have backed our belief with our money, and we are prepared to spend still more money when business warrants it. We believe our investment will bring better returns to us and better service to you, our customers. So—

We Have Installed A Clarifier System

This new clarifying system insures a constant stream of clean fluid that is CLEAN, WHITE, DRY, SOFT, SWEET and SAFE. Germs cleaned in this purified fluid cannot be otherwise than spotted. The quality of cleaning work we turn out is directly in proportion to the quality of the solvent we use. With this clarified solvent, we know our customers' garments will be safe and spotless. That is why we have spent our money. It will give our customers better cleaning service.

We now provide better quicker Dry Cleaning

We firmly believe our cleaning, pressing and dyeing service unexcelled before we installed this new equipment. Now we know there is no service in Sanford that can compare with it. Our equipment will not only better the quality of work but it will quicken cleaning service even swifter than it has been in the past. Invite you to try it.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A TERRIBLE CONTRAST—The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish; but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

PRAYER—O God, have mercy upon us for Thou art righteous and dost love righteousness and hate iniquity.

That bulb-growing is profitable in Florida is demonstrated by the fact that Sanford shipped a carload of narcissus bulbs for which the growers received $15,164.62.

Apopka Chief, Seminole County farmers are learning the value of diversification of crops.

Chris Stephenson as a bullet stopper isn't worth a darn. His Tuesday night he was looking as good Tuesday as if he had just been elected sheriff. Congratulations, Chris. You have many friends who are glad of your escape from any worse luck.

Our old friend Frank Miller, we understand, objects to our signing a petition for pardon. But we wonder if Frank, in effect, hasn't signed a few such petitions himself in the past year. It seems only fair for us to hope that he will believe us as honest in our convictions as we believe him in his.

If proper inducements were made to Dr. Kellogg, we believe he would be inclined to locate his sanitarium where the Forrest Lake Hotel now is. Such a decision on his part would mean more to Sanford than anything which has happened here in years. It would mean an industry comparable in large measure to celery growing.

Bob Holly who has just returned from a big public utilities meeting in Michigan says he can't tell what is going to happen in politics. It looks to him as if the Democrats were going to vote for Smith and the Republicans for Hoover, but you never can tell. Judging from what Bob said, we wouldn't be surprised to see him vote for light wigs and cheer.

The attempts to ring Ruth Bryan Owen in on Al Smith's campaign must be most annoying to our Congressional nominee. Her father was the greatest temperance leader this country ever had, and as the Democratic presidential nominee, was knifed in the back by Tammany upon three separate occasions. His daughter should be allowed to conduct her own campaign in her own way without trying to win election for another nominee.

We note with optimism some activity in the real estate market during the past six weeks or two months. The Hill Hardware Company and A. P. Connelly & Sons have moved from their old stands into the Ball Building. Lloyd Shoe Company has abandoned First Street for Magnolia Avenue. R. L. Perkins is now occupying the former Hill Hardware location. J. C. Penney is about to open his store in the Woodruff Building. W. J. Thigpen is another who has found the old Ball Building irresistible. These movements may demonstrate nothing more than a restless spirit, but it looks encouraging to us.

The first obligation of a newspaper is to print the news and to refuse to print what is not the news. To curry favor with advertisers or other influential parties either by withholding news or by printing as news something which is not news is a prostitution of the public trust imposed upon newspapers. The newspaper which uses a policy of this kind to gain an advantage over its competitors is subjecting those competitors to a species of competition which is at once traitorous to the profession, false to the public, and rottenly unfair to the newspapers which are trying to be honest and still stay in business—Jacksonville Journal

Dr. Tigert Comes

Preparing for the opening of the University of Florida on September 10, Dr. John J. Tigert arrived in Gainesville Monday where he assumes the duties of president of that institution. Coming as he does from the office of United States commissioner of education, and from practically a lifetime devoted to purposes of education, Dr. Tigert is most ably qualified for the task to which he has been appointed.

Recalling the love and esteem with which the late Dr. Murphree was held by faculty and students, there are some no doubt who are inclined to view the coming of the new president with a feeling of skepticism. It is certainly not to be denied that the shoes left vacant by Dr. Murphree are large and that only a big man will be able to measure up to his qualifications and attainments. In Dr. Tigert, we believe that the State Board of control did its utmost in finding a worthy successor for Dr. Murphree.

"It is confidently believed," says the Times-Union recently, "that Dr. Tigert, as head of the University of Florida, will so administer its affairs that this institution of higher learning will go forward and achieve a record for usefulness and worthiness such as is the common desire shall be made."

"In greeting Dr. Tigert upon his arrival here, and in welcoming him to the state, there is hearty expression of enthusiasm and of confidence in his ability so to perform his duties so that they will meet with sincerest commendation. Dr. Tigert will find back of him the combined citizenry of the state, not only because they have faith in his entire competency for the position he is to fill, but, also, because of the intense desire of the people that the University of Florida shall take its proper place among the leading educational institutions of this country, a place toward which the university has made remarkable advancement in recent years.

"Therefore, and as has been said, Dr. Tigert will receive all of help and assistance that reasonably can be given by the people of this state for the making of his administration of the university less burdensome than otherwise it would be, and all the more possible of success."

Postcard Week

Having already declared ourself in favor of an intensive advertising campaign for the promotion of celery, it remains only for us to add that we are thoroughly in favor of anything which tends to more thoroughly acquaint the nation with the advantages of this section and with the benefits to be derived from celery consumption.

For this reason we were interested in seeing that the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has selected October 1 to 6 for Florida Postcard Week. The first inclination of the average person is of course to say that this is just another of those "weeks" and doesn't amount to much. But while we are thinking of advertising celery, it might be a good idea for us to give a little more thought to this suggestion of advertising Florida through the dissemination of postcards.

It is entirely possible, that the local Chamber of Commerce might have several thousand postcards printed with pictures of celery bunches and a few words of celery facts on one side which might serve as a little stimulus, by way of its novelty, to Sanford people to write to their friends in other parts of the country. There are some twelve thousand persons in this vicinity and if each one of them sent only one postcard to some friend or relative in the North, twelve thousand persons would think of celery who might never have thought of it before.

There are wonderful possibilities in this postcard advertising and as long as the State Chamber of Commerce has seen fit to designate a certain week in the near future for the special purpose of mailing cards, we think it entirely appropriate for the local Chamber to get behind the idea and do what it can for the advertising of Sanford and Sanford celery.

DR. STRATON COMING

ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR

The announcement that Dr. John Roach Straton will speak in the Orlando auditorium next Friday evening under the auspices of the Florida anti-saloon league, has served to quicken interest in the national campaign.

Dr. Straton is an orator who has attracted national attention. His career has been somewhat spectacular. He has been praised and criticized without stint. His pulpit attack on Gov. Smith brought a quick challenge from Mr. Smith because the governor realizes the power of Dr. Straton as a speaker, and his influence on the public mind.

Strange as it may seem, Dr. Straton and Governor Smith are men of very much the same type. Both are men of positive ideas and dauntless courage. They duplicate two other prominent men in American history who have gone to their reward—Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. Both were great Americans whose ideas of life were very much the same and who were outstanding leaders in their respective parties but whose training in life had been so different that they approached political questions from opposite angles, and yet both were admitted to be honest and were highly respected. The same can be said of Dr. Straton and Gov. Smith.

The Reporter-Star commends to the public the hearing of Dr. Straton. His will be a message worth hearing. Undoubtedly he will be followed by some man of equal note who will present Gov. Smith's side of the controversy over the liquor issue will be presented by men capable of an intelligent presentation of the most outstanding issue in this campaign. And in this manner much better results will obtain than in a joint debate.

Honest and frank discussion of great issues during this campaign will be helpful. And when these discussions are by men of high rank there is less likelihood of prejudice and passion being developed than when men of limited understanding and petty notions take up the cudgel and fan the air. Already there is too much appeal to prejudice and passion and too little honest reasoning. Men who are motivated by passion, by ambition or by financial considerations are not safe leaders in political thought. Radical agitation is the very thing that should be avoided in this campaign.

A GERMAN IN PARIS

ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

One of the interesting things about signing of the peace treaty in Paris the other day was that Stresemann of Germany was the real hero of the hour. He had come to Paris in spite of his own serious illness, because he was so intensely interested in the occasion and because he wanted to show Germany's good will in the matter.

The signatures were affixed alphabetically, using the French names for the countries signing. That gave Germany "Allemagne" first place.

The crowds who watched the various officials arrive and depart at the Palais d'Orsay, where the treaty was signed, cheered heartily for Stresemann. He is the first German cabinet minister to enter the city of Paris in 57 years. France and Germany have fought two wars in that time. In spite of improved relations between the two countries since the World War, it is believed that Stresemann would not have been so welcomed at this time had it not been for the great significant occasion of the treaty signing. Stresemann goes home again deeply moved and grateful for the cordial French welcome.

After such breaches as have existed between Germany and France, the getting together again is always awkward and difficult. It is splendid that the first official visit of this sort has now been made so happily. Others are likely to follow quite naturally and easily.

The outlawing of war—the abolition of hate which war breeds—These are the objects of the mutilated treaty sponsored by

POT AND KETTLE POLITICS

NEW YORK TIMES

Republican politicians who keep harping on the wickedness of Tammany are causing some veteran political observers to have what Mr. Lloyd George once called "that cross-channel feeling." Here, for example, is Mr. Frank K. Kent, who is understood to be personally friendly to Mr. Hoover, writing in The Baltimore Sun of "Republican humbuggery" in setting out to make this campaign turn on the issue of Tammany. Mr. Kent specifies:

Think of the Republican party, which is so largely dependent on the vote machine in Philadelphia, the Mayor machine in Pittsburgh, the Thompson-Cox machine in Chicago, the old Cox machine in Cincinnati, the Matese machine in Cleveland, the Watson machine in Indiana, and which in the South is composed largely of patronage-selling negroes; some of whom have recently been indicted—think of this party talking about Tammany and the evil of machine politics!

Along with this may be read the attack of The Chicago Tribune, traditionally a Republican newspaper, upon the efforts to harmonize the rival party factions in Cook county. It has been sought to do this by appointing a chairman of the Republican county central committee whom The Tribune attacks as a man about on the level with the exiled Al Capone. It says of this attempt to rehabilitate the Republican party in Chicago:

Such a management assumes that the only durable influences in Chicago political action are the influences of the racketeers, bombers, machine gunners, kidnapers, beer peddlers, panderers, join keepers, gamblers, payroll mendicants and petty thieves, fee robbers, habitual criminals, immobilized murderers and such gang chiefs who are able to keep away from each other's sunfire and enjoy the protection of official patronage on strictly business terms.

Such comparisons of the corrupt machines of one party with Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state of the United States of America. The signing of this treaty is fraught with tremendous significance. "To make war more difficult" is the main thought behind the treaty says Kellogg, who is not so optimistic as to believe that war can be abolished overnight. It is a matter of education, leadership and cooperation. May the aims and objects insofar as they deal with international unity be not defeated.

WESTERN UNION FINISHES LAYING OF OCEAN CABLE

Four Messages Each Way Can Be Transmitted Simultaneously Over Line Between Newfoundland And Azores

HORTA, FAYAL, Azores—Sept. 4.—Exactly 70 years after a jubilant populace publicly celebrated the laying of the world's first trans-Atlantic cable by Cyrus Field and his associates, the final splice in the fastest duplex cable in the world was made here Saturday by Western Union engineers, completing the task of laying a new cable between Bay Roberts, N. F., and this port. The shore end of the cable was spliced to the deep sea portion which was buoyed off shore and communication was established with New York via Bay Roberts.

First sign of activity after the Dominica came to anchor was the approach of a powerful motor launch dragging a large lighter to which the Dominica transferred the shore end of the cable about a mile in length. By means of barrels the cable was floated to the shore with the aid of 50 Portuguese longshoremen.

The cable was much heavier than the portion laid by the Dominica in deep water between Horta and Newfoundland. It was heavily armored shore end, designed to resist dragging anchors, marine borers, swordfish and all the other enemies that menace telegraph cables in shallow water.

Operation of the cable when communication was first established with Bay Roberts, N. F., was a slow and tedious process, for the testing instruments in use at the moment are not those that will be used in commercial operation. In fact, it will be several months before the Western Union is operating the new line to its full capacity of four messages eastward and four westward, simultaneously.

To obtain such a capacity of eight simultaneous messages it has been necessary to design new and elaborate equipment, which must be installed at both Bay Roberts and Horta before full capacity operation is possible. Before many days, however, the cable will be operating commercially on a double message basis. This will not begin, however, until exhaustive tests have been completed by Western Union cable experts and engineers.

Among those who saw the cable bonded were a group of Western Union engineers, some of whom accompanied the Dominica from Newfoundland, and others who had preceded the ship here to set up testing equipment. The populace turned out in force, too—for the cable office here is one of Horta's most important "industries," and each new strand that comes ashore adds just that much prestige to an island that has been very much in the news in recent years since trans-Atlantic flights became the fashion.

J. Grubb Alexander, author of the Universal picture, "Midnight Rose," which comes to the Milane Theater today with Liza De Patti and Kenneth Harlan in the leading roles, lived in the actual locale of his story.

For several years he was a reporter in San Francisco covering the police beat which included the hectic Gold Coast. Here he saw actual human drama every day and absorbed the riotous atmosphere of the district to such an extent that now, eight years later, he is able to write a drama of the section.

The atmosphere of his story is colorful and his two leading characters are strongly etched against the degrading influences about them.

Miss De Patti is a cabaret dancer with all the longing for night life which creeps insidiously into the blood while Kenneth Harlan is a vagabond who reforms and works to bring the girl out of the slough.

The story was written under the title "Blackwash" and both the treatment and the script were done by Alexander.

James Young directed "Midnight Rose," adding to it many touches.

Rescue Crews Seek Men Thought Under Freight Car Wreck

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Frankie efforts today are being made to rescue harvest and construction gang workers believed buried beneath the mass of wreckage of nine freight cars which piled up at Lyndon, a Chicago-Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad station 12 miles east of here.

One young man, about 20 is dead, and nine others, all seriously injured are at a Milwaukee hospital. At least four more are known to be pinned under the pile of iron and wood.

Early reports stated that at least 20 men, railroad workers and harvesters "boating" their way eastward, were aboard the middle car which caused the wreck. About 10 others were in following cars.

JACKSONVILLE—Florida State Fair will be held here November 22-December 1.

John Coolidge Has Body Guard Upon Arrival In Gotham

Street, was hustled into a waiting auto and sped away. His destination was said to be the offices of A. S. May, treasurer of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

It was learned that John will stay at a "friend's" apartment while in this city and will not go to a hotel.

Young Coolidge was dapper in a blue serge suit, a dark unostentatious four-in-hand cravat and a gray felt hat. He did not carry his baggage which consisted of a handbag, three valises, two golf bags and two hat boxes.

These were shipped to the Pennsylvania Station and that was held to be an indication that his stay in New York would be a short one for the present. He was expected to remain in the city until the arrival of Miss Trumbull from abroad on the ninth of this month.

It is whispered that the Connecticut Governor's charming daughter has been selecting her trousseau in Europe and that announcement of a betrothal will soon be forthcoming.

The couple, according to plans are to meet here and make for the Trumbull camp in Maine before John buckles down to his first job.

GETS CHANGE OF VENUE

COLUMBIANA, Ala., Sept. 5.—(INS)—A change of venue has been granted for Mrs. Mabel Montebello and Miss Cecil Tubbs who were indicted for assault with intent to murder Police Chief R. F. Blake of Calera, a few minutes after he was acquitted of a murder charge in connection with the death of Miss Louise Montebello, a daughter of Mrs. Montebello.

Among those who saw the cable bonded were a group of Western Union engineers, some of whom accompanied the Dominica from Newfoundland, and others who had preceded the ship here to set up testing equipment. The populace turned out in force, too—for the cable office here is one of Horta's most important "industries," and each new strand that comes ashore adds just that much prestige to an island that has been very much in the news in recent years since trans-Atlantic flights became the fashion.

J. Grubb Alexander, author of the Universal picture, "Midnight Rose," which comes to the Milane Theater today with Liza De Patti and Kenneth Harlan in the leading roles, lived in the actual locale of his story.

For several years he was a reporter in San Francisco covering the police beat which included the hectic Gold Coast. Here he saw actual human drama every day and absorbed the riotous atmosphere of the district to such an extent that now, eight years later, he is able to write a drama of the section.

The atmosphere of his story is colorful and his two leading characters are strongly etched against the degrading influences about them.

Miss De Patti is a cabaret dancer with all the longing for night life which creeps insidiously into the blood while Kenneth Harlan is a vagabond who reforms and works to bring the girl out of the slough.

The story was written under the title "Blackwash" and both the treatment and the script were done by Alexander.

James Young directed "Midnight Rose," adding to it many touches.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A TERRIBLE CONTRAST. The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish; but he will cast away the substance of the wicked.

PRAYER—O God, have mercy upon us for Thou art righteous and dost love righteousness and hate iniquity.

That bulb-growing is profitable in Florida is demonstrated by the fact that Sanford shipped a carload of narcissus bulbs for which the growers received $13,164.62.

Apopka Chief, Seminole County farmers are learning the value of diversification of crops.

Chris Stephenson as a bullet stopper isn't worth a darn. His twice Monday night he was looking as good Tuesday as if he had just been elected sheriff. Congratulations, Chris. You have many friends who are glad of your escape from any worse luck.

Our old friend Frank Miller, we understand, objects to our signing Key's petition for pardon. But we wonder if Frank, in effect, hasn't signed a few such petitions himself in the past year. It seems only fair for us to hope that he will believe us as honest in our convictions as we believe him in his.

If proper accommodations were made to Dr. Kellogg, we believe he would be inclined to locate his sanitarium where the Forrest Lake Hotel now is. Such a decision on his part would mean more to Sanford than anything which has happened here in years. It would mean an industry comparable in large measure to celery growing.

Bob Holly who has just returned from a big public utilities meeting in Michigan says he can tell what is going to happen in politics. It looks to him as if the Democrats were going to vote for Smith and the Republicans for Hoover, but you never can tell. Judging from what Bob said, we wouldn't be surprised to see him vote for light wires and cheer.

The attempts to snag Ruth Bryan Owen in an Al Smith's campaign must be most annoying to our Congressional nominee. Her father was the greatest temperance leader this country ever had, and as the Democratic presidential nominee, was knifed in the back by Tammany upon three separate occasions. His daughter should be allowed to conduct her own campaign in her own way without trying to win election for another nominee.

We note with optimism some activity in the real estate market during the past six weeks or two months. The Hill Hardware Company, and A. P. Connelly & Sons have moved from their old stand in the Ball Building. Lloyd Shoe Company has abandoned First Street for Magnolia Avenue. B. L. Petkins is now occupying the former Hill Hardware location. J. C. Penney is about to open his store in the Woodruff Building. W. J. Thigpen is another who has found the old Ball Building irresistible. These movements may denote a state of things more than a restlessness, but it looks encouraging to us.

The first obligation of a newspaper is to print the news and to refuse to print what is not the news. To carry favor with advertisers or other influential parties either by withholding news or by printing as news something which is not news is a prostitution of the public trust imposed upon newspapers. The newspaper which uses a policy of this kind to gain an advantage over its competitors is subjecting those competitors to a species of competition which is at once traitorous to the profession, false to the public, and rotfully unfair to the newspapers which are trying to be honest and still stay in business.—Jacksonville Journal

Preparing for the opening of the University of Florida on September 10, Dr. John J. Tigert arrived in Gainesville Monday where he assumes the duties of president of that institution. Coming as he does from the office of United States commissioner of education, and from practically a lifetime devoted to purposes of education, Dr. Tigert is most ably qualified for the task to which he has been appointed.

Recalling the love and esteem with which the late Dr. Murphree was held by faculty and students, there are some no doubt who are inclined to view the coming of the new president with a feeling of skepticism. It is certainly not to be denied that the shoes left vacant by Dr. Murphree are large and that only a big man will be able to measure up to his qualifications and attainments. In Dr. Tigert, we believe that the State Board of control did its utmost in finding a worthy successor for Dr. Murphree.

"It is confidently believed," says the Times-Union recently, "that Dr. Tigert, as head of the University of Florida, will so administer its affairs that this institution of higher learning will go forward and achieve a record for usefulness and worthiness such as is the common desire shall be made.

In greeting Dr. Tigert upon his arrival here, and in welcoming him to the state, there is hearty expression of enthusiasm and of confidence in his ability to perform his duties so that they will meet with sincerest commendation. Dr. Tigert will find back of him the combined citizenry of the state, not only because they have faith in his entire competency for the position he is to fill, but also, because of the intense desire of the people that the University of Florida shall take its proper place among the leading educational institutions of this country, a place toward which the university has made remarkable advancement in recent years.

Therefore, and as has been said, Dr. Tigert will receive all of help and assistance that reasonably can be given by the people of this state for the making of his administration of the university less burdensome than otherwise it would be, and all the more possible of success."

Postcard Week

Having already declared himself in favor of an intensive advertising campaign for the promotion of celery, it remains only for us to add that we are thoroughly in favor of anything which tends to more thoroughly acquaint the nation with the advantages of this section and with the benefits to be derived from celery consumption.

For this reason we were interested in seeing that the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has selected October 1 to 6 for Florida Postcard Week. The first inclination of the average person is of course to say that this is just another of those "weeks" and doesn't amount to much. But while we are thinking of advertising celery, it might be a good idea for us to give a little more thought to this suggestion of advertising Florida through the dissemination of postcards.

It is entirely possible that the local Chamber of Commerce might have several thousand postcards printed with pictures of celery bunches and a few words of celery facts on one side which might serve as a little stimulus by way of its novelty, to Sanford people to write to their friends in other parts of the country. There are some twelve thousand persons in this vicinity and if each one of them sent only one postcard to some friend or relative in the North, twelve thousand persons would think of celery who might never have thought of it before.

There are wonderful possibilities in this postcard advertising and as long as the State Chamber of Commerce has seen fit to designate a certain week in the near future for the special purpose of mailing cards, we think it entirely appropriate for the local Chamber to get behind the idea and do what it can for the advertising of Sanford and Sanford celery.

DR. STRATON COMING ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR

The announcement that Dr. John Roach Straton will speak in the Orlando auditorium next Friday evening under the auspices of the Florida anti-saloon league, has served to quicken interest in the national campaign.

Dr. Straton is an orator who has attracted national attention. His career has been somewhat spectacular. He has been praised and criticized without stint. His pulpit attack on Gov. Smith brought a quick challenge from Mr. Smith because the governor realizes the power of Dr. Straton as a speaker, and his influence on the public mind.

Strange as it may seem, Dr. Straton and Governor Smith are men of very much the same type. Both are men of positive ideas and dauntless courage. They duplicate two other prominent men in American history who have gone to their reward—Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. Both were great Americans whose ideas of life were very much the same and who were outstanding leaders in their respective parties but whose training in life had been so different that they approached political questions from opposite angles, and yet both were admitted to be honest and were highly respected. The same can be said of Dr. Straton and Gov. Smith.

A GERMAN IN PARIS ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

One of the interesting things about signing of the peace treaty in Paris the other day was that Stresemann of Germany was the real hero of the hour. He had come to Paris in spite of his own serious illness, because he was so intensely interested in the occasion and because he wanted to show Germany's good will in the matter.

The signatures were affixed alphabetically, using the French names for the countries signing. That gave Germany "Allemagne" first place. The crowds who watched the various officials arrive and depart at the Palais d'Orsay, where the treaty was signed, cheered heartily for Stresemann. He is the first German cabinet minister to enter the city of Paris in 57 years. France and Germany have fought two wars in that time. In spite of improved relations between the two countries since the World War, it is believed that Stresemann would not have been so welcomed at this time had it not been for the great significant occasion of the treaty signing. Stresemann goes home again deeply moved and grateful for the cordial French welcome.

POT AND KETTLE POLITICS NEW YORK TIMES

Republican politicians who keep harping on the iniquities of Tammany are causing some veteran political observers to have what Mr. Lloyd George once called "that cross-channel feeling." Here, for example, is Mr. Frank R. Kent, who is understood to be personally friendly to Mr. Hoover, writing in The Baltimore Sun of "Republican humbergery" in setting out to make this campaign turn on the issue of Tammany. Mr. Kent specifies:

"Think of the Republican party, which is so largely dependent on the vote machine in Philadelphia, the Magee machine in Pittsburgh, the Thompson-Crowe machine in Chicago, the old Cox machine in Cincinnati, the Matuschek machine in Cleveland, the Watson machine in Indiana, and which in the South is composed largely of patronage-selling negroes, some of whom have recently been indicted—think of this party talking about Tammany and the evil of machine politics!"

Along with this may be read the attack of The Chicago Tribune, traditionally a Republican newspaper, upon the efforts to harpoonize the rival party factions in Cook county. It has been sought to do this by appointing a chairman of the Republican county central committee whom The Tribune attacks as a man about on the level with the so-called Al Capone. It says of this attempt to rehabilitate the Republican party in Chicago:

"Such a management assumes that the only durable influence in Chicago political action are the influence of the 'wetters,' bombers, machine gunners, kidnapers, beer peddlers, panders, job keepers, gamblers, payroll men and petty thieves, fee robbers, habitual criminals, immunized murderers and such gang chiefs as are able to keep away from each other's gunfire and enjoy the protection of official patronage on strictly business terms."

Such caricatures of the corrupt machines of one party with Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state of the United States of America. The signing of this treaty is fraught with tremendous significance. "To make war more difficult" is the main thought behind the treaty says Kellogg, who is not so optimistic as to believe that war can be abolished overnight. It is a matter of education, leadership and cooperation. May the aims and intentions, insofar as they deal with international unity be not defeated.

"Talking Movies" Seen As Boon To Picture Industry; Goldsmith Perfects Device

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Scientists were regarding the progress of "talking movies" with the keenest interest.

Broadway has tried out the "talkies" and O. K.'d them. So have many theaters throughout the country and it is only a question of a short time before audiences in the small towns and villages will be viewing and hearing them, too. Screen stars are getting in for voice culture, musicians are beginning to worry about their jobs and the motion picture magazines are pondering the future effect upon the industry.

Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, chief engineer of the Radio Corporation who was largely instrumental in developing the newly perfected photophone which is to be distributed to theaters all over the country beginning next month, predicted in an interview today that the motion picture business will be "basically altered" by the various new devices of recording sound on the films.

The photophone is one of the three major devices for recording sound on film, the other two being the vitaphone and the movietone.

"I think the new devices will bring about marked changes in the movie business," Dr. Goldsmith told International News Service. "I think they will make for greater entertainment for the people."

"They will mean that the motion picture business will be basically altered. Screen stars to be really successful will have to have trained voices and good enunciation. Scenarios will have to be written with equal attention to sound and sight. Better writing finesse will be required."

"The action of a film will have to have equal emphasis on voice and appearance. No longer will appearance alone suffice."

"Technique of directing a movie will undergo a change. It will be the technique of the stage instead of the silent motion picture. Pantomime will have to be modified the voice in many instances replacing movement or gesture.

"Tragic events will no longer be indicated by a title. The spoken word will be substituted.

"Comedy will be accentuated. For example, the adding of sound to a comedian falling down a flight of stairs heightens the effect. The comedian is depicted better than ever. Hearing the tramping of feet while seeing a parade makes the scene more vital, more impressive.

"From an educational standpoint splendid results can be achieved. A lecturer can describe the scenes flashed on the screen.

An operation, for instance, can be shown and described at the same time."

The photophone was demonstrated in the projection studio of the Radio Corporation of America to give several celebrities in the motion picture field and others an idea of how the system operates. Spectators got a thrill from listening to the sounds that accompanied the parade in honor of the Bremen flyers, being able to pick out individual voices in the cheering. Listening to a symphony orchestra there was not the slightest loss in fidelity of tone or volume. Small theaters, it was explained, never would be able to provide such music.

The acoustics of theaters throughout the country will become an important matter. Dr. Goldsmith said. Heretofore, the size of the theater did not matter when silent pictures were being shown. It will be different, with the voices accompanying the pictures.

Gloria Swanson has arranged with the Radio Corporation of America to record her voice in a new film, by the photophone device. She is said to be the first major woman film star to record her voice in a talking picture.

Chicago Hotel Man Declares Crime Stories Are Hurting His Business

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Arthur F. Falk, Chicago park commissioner who shot and killed his only son, during a quarrel, with a gun he had given the boy for Christmas, today begged for death.

Sitting in his cell, writhing in grief, Falk pleaded with a guard to give him his gun that he might end his "miserable life."

At the inquest yesterday, Falk, still slightly under the effects of moonshine liquor, collapsed over the body of his son. He had to be carried bodily from the undertaking rooms.

Falk's only daughter, Bernice, who with her mother witnessed the tragedy in the Falk home, also collapsed at the inquest. The coroner continued the investigation until September 7.

When the elder Falk came home under the influence of drink and quarreled with his son, Elbridge, 22. When the father threatened to kill the boy if he left the house, the youth is said to have loaded the shotgun for him, bared his chest and dared him to shoot, saying, "I would rather be dead than the son of a drunkard."

Office Seeker Says Lawlessness To Be Ruin Of Everything

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Warning that "calamity lies ahead" if the people do not rise up to check lawlessness, R. P. Miller, candidate for a county office, produced statistics here to show that the percentage of homicides per 100,000 persons in the nation has increased "from 2.1 to 11 per cent within the last thirty years."

"Whether or not this condition may have been a result of the world war or prohibition laws, cannot be determined," Miller declared. "We know that the underworld is waging an incessant war against the people."

"The people of America do not seem to realize that during the past year 12,000 human beings lost their lives at the hands of assassins, and that the total loss levied by these violators of law is far in excess of the price of building the Panama Canal."

Miller suggests that "America unite in a concerted drive against the 'organized underworld.'"

Socialists Plan To Exploit Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Socialist Party plans to enter North Carolina and put candidates in the field this year, it was learned here.

Socialist headquarters have written the State Board of Elections regarding their ballots printed in North Carolina.

Previously they had been informed that it was too late for the state to print their tickets on the ballots, but that the party itself could print the ballots if they wished.

Education Director Says Modern Youth Is Really Not Bad

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Flaming youth is really "not so hot" considering the complexity of present social and economic life, so says Miss Margaret M. Alltucker, assistant director in the National Education Association of Washington, D. C., here as a member of the summer session faculty at the University of California.

Were it not for the sensationalist, the public never would have heard of flaming youth, she says. Change in social conditions and standards has necessitated the public schools to assume a greater responsibility for moral growth. And education has borne that responsibility successfully, she believes.

Education today seeks to establish three prerequisites in the development of moral conduct. First it strives to make the child recognize the proper thing when he sees it; second, it seeks to develop the child's ability to do that right thing after he sees it, and third it tries to develop the child's will to do it after he first recognized it and knows that he can do it.

Agent Is Suspended For Shooting Negro

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Don Strong, a prohibition agent, has been suspended pending an investigation of the alleged shooting of William L. Green, Negro, during a raid Saturday near Hickory, Md. It was declared today by John F. J. Herbert, prohibition administrator for Washington and Maryland.

The inquiry will determine whether Strong violated regulations providing that agents cannot use their pistols except for self defense. Green has been released from a Baltimore hospital.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of 1927, under the Constitution of 1933, of the State of Florida, did pass four Joint Resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida, and the same were referred by vote of three-fifths of all the members elected to each house, that the votes on said Joint Resolutions were entered upon their respective Journals, with the yeas and nays thereon, and they did determine and direct that the said Joint Resolutions be submitted to the electors of the State at the General Election in 1928, to-wit:—
NOW, THEREFORE, I, H. CLAY CHAWFORD, Secretary of State of the State of Florida, do hereby give notice that a will be held in said County in Florida on Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, A. D. 1928, the said Tuesday being the sixth day of November.

SIXTH DAY OF NOVEMBER
for the ratification or rejection of the said Joint Resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution of the State of Florida, viz:—

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an Amendment to Section 24 of Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Florida, Relating to County and Municipal Government.

He is Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida, That the following amendment to Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Florida, relating to County and Municipal Government, is hereby agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of the State at the next general election of Representatives in 1928, for approval or rejection.

The Legislature shall establish a uniform system of County and Municipal Government, which shall be applicable, except in cases where local or special laws for Counties are provided by the Legislature that may be inconsistent therewith. The Legislature shall by general law classify, create and define the powers, duties and privileges of the County and Municipal Government, and shall by general law provide for their incorporation, government, and the powers, duties and privileges under such classifications, and no special or local laws incorporating cities or towns, providing for their government, jurisdiction, powers, duties and privileges shall be passed by the Legislature.

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an Amendment to Article III, Section 21, of the Constitution of the State of Florida, Relating to the Passage by the Legislature of Special or Local Laws.

He is Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida, That the following amendment to Section 21 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Florida, relating to the passage by the Legislature of Special or Local Laws, is hereby agreed to, and shall be submitted to the electors of the State at the next general election of Representatives in 1928, for approval or rejection at the next general election of Representatives in 1928, to-wit:—

Section 21 of the Constitution of the State of Florida shall be amended to read as follows:—
Section 21. In all cases enumerated in the preceding section all laws shall be general and of uniform operation throughout the State, but in all cases not enumerated or excepted in that section, the Legislature may pass special or local laws except as now or hereafter otherwise provided in the Constitution. That no local or special bill shall be passed, unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or thing to be affected may be situated, which notice shall state the substance of the contemplated law, and shall be published at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the Legislature of such bill, and in the mean-

FAMOUS AUTHOR URGES CHANGE IN GERMAN RELIGION

Count Reventlow Points Out Dissatisfaction That Has Followed In Wake Of War; Writes Book Upon Subject

BERLIN, Sept. 8.—(INS)—A new "German religion," consisting of the old, pre-Christian, German ideas about life and death combined with the doctrines of Christ, under strict exclusion of all Jewish elements of the Old Testament, is proposed by Count Ernst zu Reventlow, famous during the war as Germany's most quoted military writer.

Count zu Reventlow explains his idea in a book just published and entitled "For Christians, or The God question of the Germans."

Because of the disillusion of war and defeat, also, as Count zu Reventlow himself points out, because all warring nations prayed to the same God for victory during the war, there is both a lot of religious "disaffection" in Germany as well as religious fermentation.

Fights Materialism
The latter finds expression in movements which range from the adoration of the stigmatisation miracle of Therese von Konnersreuth to the German youth movement. Count zu Reventlow's book is an attempt to reach a synthesis of these various movements.

His fight is directed particularly against modern materialism, against the predominance of rationalism, and against Judaism.

The churches, he says, have failed and are losing themselves in mere formalism. As a result, he claims, the Germans have twice lost their religion, first their own original religion when Christianity was forced upon the Germanic tribes by the sword, and now the Christian religion through the collapse of the churches.

Every nation or race, he believes, must have its own religion that must be born of its own innate religious aspirations and convictions. But he rejects the theory of a "chosen people" whether these people be Jews or Germans, and ridicules the pretensions of some Germans that "am deutschen Wesen soll die Welt genesen," meaning that the world must be regenerated by the adoption of German ways.

The foundation of the new religion, Count zu Reventlow says, must be the "old Aryan, Germanic, or Germanic idea of the unreality of the world of appearances, and of the guilt, the responsibility, and the freedom of the individual."

Christ, he says, preached the same fundamental ideas and therefore he should become the center of the new religion.

Urges Study
Count zu Reventlow does not propound finished doctrines and set formulas. He merely urges the Germans to search their own souls, to reject what is foreign and above all "to know themselves."

As foreign rejects both the Jewish God Yahweh and the doctrine of redemption. The first, he says, is merely a tribal God, and the latter is an adaption of oriental ideas to load one's own guilt on the shoulders of another and make him suffer for it. The old German tribes, he says, also suffered under the consciousness of guilt which was part of the evil fight but they accepted their guilt and fought the evil to their death, after which they became eligible to fight side by side with the half-gods in the final struggle between good and evil.

Christ's doctrine, Reventlow maintains are entirely contrary to the Jewish doctrine; therefore, he says, though he will not claim that Christ was in Aryan he certainly was not a Jew.

CHICAGO IRKED BY PUBLICITY FROM GANGSTER PLOTS

Citizens' Report Says That Reputation That Winds City Has Acquired Is Unjustified; Play Up Of Stories Deplored

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(INS)—"When a gunman's weapon" barks, it is heard around the world, while the same weapon discharged in any other city of the country would hardly be heard around the block."

That is a sentence from a report on Chicago crime made by Arthur V. Lashly, a former county prosecutor of St. Louis, just published by the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice.

Gang killings, according to Mr. Lashly, are "spectacular, mysterious and dramatic; they possess all the elements of intense human interest and therefore have great news value."

By the reputation given Chicago around the world as a result of its gang wars is "entirely unjustified," according to Lashly. In this connection he reported:

"Murder in Chicago during the last few years has been a never-failing source of news; morals have declined, speakers have ridiculed and scathingly condemned, humorists have indulged in their best jokes, and the 'movie' scenario writers and producers have reaped a golden harvest all at the expense of the good name and reputation of the second city of America. Yielding place only to New York in population and conceded to be the fastest growing and one of the most progressive of the larger cities in America, Chicago is in bad standing before the country."

"A canvass of the public utterances of prominent men throughout the nation and of press comment from one seaboard to the other discloses a unanimity of condemnation which, for bitterness and invective, has probably never before been equaled. One would expect denunciation no more harsh, nor criticism less tempered by reason and understanding if Chicago were in a state of war with the balance of the country. Nor is it limited to this country. The bad name has traveled around the world."

Charges Analyzed
"An analysis of the charges in the blanket indictment upon which this community has apparently been tried and convicted in the world forum of public opinion indicates that they are numerous and some are of long standing; but the principal complaint is its crime record, and more specifically its record of gang murders and bombings."

"The bomb, as a gang weapon, has been used sporadically for years, but has only become really popular since the summer of 1927. As a means of intimidation it has no equal. It has been used effectively by extortionists, the so-called racketeers, who resort to all manner of force and violence to terrorize their victims into joining mushroom trade organizations and combinations of small business concerns. Liquor and gambling syndicates have used the bomb to warn competitors against territorial encroachments. Disappointed liquor, vice, and gambling racketeers, who had been receiving protection but had it withdrawn and given to others, have bombed the homes of those to whom they trace the double-cross. And in the last primary campaign in Cook County, bombs were used as a political weapon to intimidate voters and candidates for public office. A United States Senator and a Judge of the Circuit Court had their homes bombed and the lives of their family were endangered."

Construction Work Begins On Chicago's Giant Aerial Beacon

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(INS)—Construction work on the "Bremen Light," giant aerial beacon that will signal directional advice to aviators from dusk to daylight every night has been launched.

The light, dedicated by the German-Irish fliers, first to fly the Atlantic from east to west, at the time of their reception in Chicago, will serve as a permanent memorial and token of appreciation of the feat accomplished by the three navigators of the air, Baron von Hufschaldt, Capt. Herman Kohl, and Major James Fitzmaurice. Its 3,000,000 candle-power beam, blasting from a 50 foot steel tower, will circle the air at a rate of six revolutions per minute, government standard for all lights listed by the department of commerce. It will be official, recorded as the "Bremen Light," its position is the Northwest part of Chicago, a region barren of aerial guiding lights until this time.

The beam will be easily discernible from low or high altitudes because of the open nature of the surrounding land, and an emergency field, smoothed and prepared for landing purposes, will serve in cases of necessity for crippled ships.

Walter E. Olson, donor of the light and owner of the field, plans to start the light on its nightly search of the heavens by October 1 or sooner.

At no other age are there so many falls, bruises and sprains as there are during the 7th school years, Dr. Bailey reported. "This is

BERKELEY, Sept. 5.—(INS)— Modern ladies do not faint—they sprain!

Dr. Edna W. Bailey, associate professor of education at the University of California, offers a record kept of 700 girls at University high school during a six months period as proof.

Emergency treatments for 100
sprained ankles and wrists, ointments for 225 cuts and abrasions. And sneezing salts for only 9 cents.

"We found that the school physician spent about as much time on girls suffering from minor injuries as on boys hurt while playing," Dr. Bailey says.

The swooning heroine of the Victorian era has gone the way of lace pantaloons and crinoline skirts the statistics for the half year showed. Also they are concerned about their futures.

Students of high school age are interested in the sort of men and women they will become, and we get them to care for own health through this means," Dr. Bailey continues. "Aside from the amazing number of minor hurts and bruises they are a healthy lot of youngsters. Their absence rate is very low."
