Congress Again Told About Acts Which Roosevelt Expects Passed This Session

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(AP)—Congress had the benefit today of a reiteration concerning some legislation President Roosevelt does not want enacted in the usually hectic days of a closing session.

Through the press, a definite but not all-inclusive list was supplied in a supplement to presidential views already given in legislative matters directly.

The list showed on the "aye" side, an income tax revision compromise, point stock market regulation and a few capital-labor mediation bills.

Under the heading "no," was the McLeod bank deposit pay-off bill.

After the meeting with reports around his desk, the President invited railroad managers to the (Continued On Page Four)

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1934

OUR INHERITANCE The Lord knows the days of the upright; and their inheritance shall be for ever.—Psalm 37:18.

A. C. L. Road Pays $111,454 For School Tax—headline, it wasn't the A. C. L. that paid that tax; it was Sanford farmers.

See where Representative Patman, of bonus bill fame, has bought out a new measure which offers $25,000 reward dead or alive for the heads of public enemies. He should at the same time offer another reward to the people who get killed in this campaign by mistake.

One of the measures, favored by Roosevelt as worthy of enactment in this session of Congress is the Wilcox municipal bankruptcy bill which provides for a scaling down of both principal and interest by over-bonded cities and counties. The support of the President probably assures its passage, which will be a real triumph for Mark Wilcox and a blessing for Sanford.

President Roosevelt favors the creation of a special commission for the purpose of formulating a national aviation policy. He wants the entire subject of air mail awards removed from politics as quickly as possible, it is said. To which all good citizens will say, "Amen!" We don't believe politics and aviation will mix very well and the quicker the politicians are thrown out on their own patches the better.

France has 3,000 war planes; Italy 1,500; England, 1,400. Japan most likely at some time in the near future has 1,079 war planes. While Russia, against whom Japan may find it necessary to test her strength, has 3,000 military planes, and 5,000 commercial planes which could be converted readily to war purposes. It is this air strength upon which Russia is said to rely in the event of Far Eastern hostilities.

Things are picking up in the political circles affecting the County Commission. E. H. Kilbuck's announcement is followed quickly by a statement from Sammy Long, the popular Oklawaha Board member, that he will seek re-election. Then comes a meeting in Lake May to select a candidate for District No. 3. Evidence is that the pot will boil. To date the old staidby, John Melch and Boston Steele, are keeping mum. They will probably be heard from in a few days.

A new eagle known as the Code Eagle is to take the place of the Blue Eagle. The old bird which flies in every window where business is done on a grand scale, and in many where it isn't, was given free of charge to employers who promised to be good. But this Code Eagle is a high society bird. It will have to be paid for. Until you have paid your dues to your association, or your association to your code authority, or what ever they call it, no eagle will roost on your window sill. You cannot expect the services of the government in running your business without having to pay for them.

Evidence of political corruption in places of high public trust, such as revealed in New York recently in a case involving a utility company and a state senator, make one wonder whether political control and management of business institutions will not simply become the occasions for such corruption. The big companies which can afford to pay for special privileges may enjoy them, while the little companies which are unable to see the right political power will have to toe the line. In this connection it is well to remember that it is quite all right for a utility company to buy

May They Both Work

The Editor seals his house up tight in winter by order to keep it warm inside. The Cuban also builds his house without windows, keeps his doors closed, but to make it COOL inside. Both are perfectly satisfied that they are right.

In America we create the NRA to raise wages, shorten working hours, and increase costs of production, with the ultimate objective of increasing purchasing power, reducing unemployment and reviving prosperity.

In Italy they are also creating an NRA. But Italy's NRA will LOWER wages, LENGTHEN working hours, DECREASE costs of production, but has the same worthy objective of increasing purchasing power, reducing unemployment, and reviving prosperity.

Under a decree recently issued by Dictator Mussolini every salary and wage in Italy, and every article of food and clothing, and all rents, heating, lighting, and transportation, have been reduced from six to 20 percent.

Government officials and employees were not exempted from this sweeping de-fascist move. Their salaries were reduced from six to 19 percent while Cabinet ministers took a 20 percent cut. All rentals were ordered reduced from 19 to 15 percent.

While we in this country have been enjoying an unbalanced budget for the past four years, and working truth and loveliness to throw it even more out of balance, and while loudest talkers advocate most strenuously inflation of one kind or another in order to put more money into circulation, Mussolini announces that his NRA is aimed to do three things:

- 1. To INCREASE exports.
2. To REDUCE currency in circulation.
3. To induce foreign tourists to come to Italy.

This program of wage reduction will save the Italian government one billion lire a year and taxes will be reduced by an equivalent amount.

While we in this country are doing everything possible to raise prices to the 1926 level, Mussolini is doing everything he can to reduce the cost of living. In a statement to his constituents he proudly proclaimed the fact that living costs in Italy have been reduced from 100 in June of 1927 to 75 last March.

In Italy they have a planned economy. In America we have a planned economy. They both seek exactly the same goal, but they are both running in precisely opposite directions.

Measles

Epidemics of measles come in waves, says a health bulletin recently released. Unlike many communicable diseases which occur from year to year with a certain amount of regularity, measles aff but disappear for a period of two years, and then break out again in epidemic form during the third year.

This observation of the Iowa State Department of Health, is borne out, it says, by the records of the prevalence of the malady in Iowa. Apparently the outbreaks of the disease come after the natural increase in the population has created another large group of infants which have not been exposed to measles.

The Department says that measles has several distinctive characteristics: The disease tends to spread rapidly. Fatal complications are most apt to occur among infants and children under five years of age.

Parents can help in the following ways to lessen the prevalence of measles: (1) By reporting promptly the presence of illness in the home, (2) by co-operating faithfully with health and school authorities, (3) by seeking medical advice without delay so as to prevent serious illness in younger children in the home.

NEWSPAPERS, POLITICS AND CRITICS

Although its one newspaper was unable to support itself, Sarasota branches out with its second daily.

A few weeks ago The Herald, which had the field to itself, was forced to interest a syndicate of rich winter residents in the venture to keep from going to the wall.

Now the wealthy Potter Palmer interests launch another publication.

The newspaper fraternity, quite familiar with the weakness of the Sarasota field, wonders why anyone would be interested in giving life to a business which is destined to lose money.

"We suspect that local politics had a whole lot to do with it," comments the Ft. Myers News-Press.

"The Herald had been disagreeing with the county commission in its fight for a better road system after the voters had decided in favor of the referendum. Disagreeing in all right but it is very good policy to persist after the voters have decided otherwise. That leaves a newspaper alone in the field open to a charge of unfairness and creates the same kind of wish for a dominating organ."

All the News-Press points out Sarasota will never be established by a vicious business two-fisted push with a newspaper to smother it.

"There no doubt will be some conflict but it will be expensive; and some cash."

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

BY JOHN HANNAH, D.D., C. S. B.

... of the Scriptures...

MATERIAL SENSE CANNOT GRASP THE SPIRITUAL. It is really not surprising that the materially-minded, the self-satisfied intellectuals, and those unaccustomed to think in terms of Christ Jesus' Christianity should not be able to understand either Christian Science or its Discoverer. It will be recalled that the Apostle Paul, centuries ago, made these significant statements: "Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? ... But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness; but unto them which are called, both Jew and Greek, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God." Thus it will be recalled that spiritual teachings have ever been stumbling blocks and foolishness to the carnal mind, and this same carnal mind has consequently never been able rightly to appraise the worth or the work of the spiritual saviors of its day.

UNFAIR BIOGRAPHIES There have been possibly more varying views of and conflicting opinions about Mrs. Eddy's life than about any religious leader of this age. Some biographers have, in some instances, been harshly criticized for raising doubts against what the professor sets out to prove, from the standpoint of the modern psychiatrist, that every act and every word of Christ Jesus was the result of a sick brain! Could any fair-minded person object to a Christian's refusal to endorse a biographer who recommends it to a building student of Christianity? Could he object to a Christian's maintaining that such a book was evidence in itself that the writer had absolutely failed to understand Christ Jesus or his teachings and was himself manifesting the mental unconscious which was trying to attribute to the Master?

A LIFE-SIZED PORTRAIT Because of her uncompromising stand against evil and the carnal mind, Mrs. Eddy's life and motives are a study in the history of the world. It is a study which is being read and understood and deliberately perverted by those who received a merited rebuke from her, or by those outside her fold who could not and would not grasp the glory and wonder of her mission. Christian Scientists are rejoicing in the recent publication of a Life of Mrs. Eddy by the Rev. Dr. Lyman P. Powell, an Episcopal clergyman, whose breadth of thought and love of fair play has enabled him to present what he has been pleased to call a life-size portrait of the great Christian woman. It will be well if every sincere seeker after Truth would make it his business to peruse this and wholesome appraisal of Mrs. Eddy's great life-work. When Dr. Powell, in his preface, says: "The Christian Science movement is a study in the history of the world," he is not only right, but he is also right in saying that the Christian Science movement is a study in the history of the world.

OPPOSITION TO PROGRESS Every forward step in the history of mankind, every unfolding of intelligence, every overcoming of limitation, has had to force the streams of human incredulity and press onward through the quagmire of stubborn, self-satisfied, unreasoning thinking. When news reached a certain section of the country that Robert Fulton had perfected a boat which would run by steam, he had to force the laughing and to have greeted the announcement: "It is a waste of work," said the incredulous, placidly and finally. "But it has worked! It actually has moved in water!" was the report. "Then it will move far, perished the others. "But it has traveled a certain number of miles!" "Well," and this to settle the whole matter,—"no one will ever ride on it any way!" How like the reception of the message which Mary Baker Eddy has given the world! When, in her book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," she announced the human family that she had discovered that the healing wrought by Jesus Christ, the prophets, and the early Christians were not special miracles vouchsafed to certain saints, but were the result of the operation of a mighty spiritual law, and that this law was as available to mortals today as centuries ago for the healing and salvation of the rare, behold the storm of unreasoning objection and ridicule! First, say the objectors, Christian Science never did heal anyone of anything, to which tens of thousands of witnesses promptly reply, "But it healed me!" Then there was nothing much the matter with you," is the self-satisfied retort; "and besides, you probably would have recovered anyway." Further evidence is offered in rebuttal, the final fling of the skeptical thought is apt to be a shrug of the shoulders and a flip-pant dismissal of the whole question with the statement that "of course Christian Science or mental suggestion may be good for certain nervous disorders."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOT SUGGESTION Now let it be said at the outset that Christian Science healing is not the result of mental suggestion. In her search after Truth, Mrs. Eddy had experiences with mental suggestion, magnetic healing, etc., which convinced her that this was not the Christ-method of healing. If anyone questions this statement or believes that there is to be found in the "pure teaching of Christian Science" a single trace of mental suggestion, let him read the works of the Christian Science Textbook. The unbroken record for Truth is certain to find in this textbook only the crystal-clear metaphysics of Christ Jesus and the spiritual

Among the other characters are the Misses Rebecca Wilson, Dorothy Marshall, Martha Bishop, and Betty Wholesome who represent Gene, Pluff, Bertha, and Belle, four pretty girls; Miss Carolyn Cogburn, the peevish Miss Proctor, who is supposed to have designs on George Stovall, the scholarly Doctor Aristotle; Randall Blaghter, the janitor; David Butler, Professor Barclay Courtwright; and James Dyson, as Jimmy Anderson, who is supposed to be ready for the insane asylum. Reports Are Made On Missionary Session

Reports from the twenty-fourth annual session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Florida Conference held recently at Silverdale Methodist Church in Jacksonville were made by Mrs. John Alden Brown and Mrs. M. Rupert Strickland, Jr. at the regular program meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church of this city held Monday afternoon at the church. As chairman of Circle Number Three, Mrs. R. W. Turner opened the meeting with a Scripture reading which was followed by a hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," and a prayer by Mrs. W. A. Cooper. In their reports Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Strickland stated that 129 auxiliaries were represented at the conference which was attended by 236 delegates, including 36 from the Orlando District, 274 visitors, 10 visiting ministers, three deaconsesses, five visitors from Georgia, and two from South Carolina, making a grand total of 688 persons. They also reported that Mrs. L. C. Jenkins of Orlando was elected conference vice-president; Mrs. F. F. Gentry of Orlando was chosen conference secretary; and Mrs. W. A. Patterson of Orlando, who assumed the office of Orlando district secretary; Mrs. C. G. Ware, was re-elected to that position. One of the features of the conference was a program of "Missionary Service to the South," presented on the second evening of the conference. In summarizing their reports Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Strickland stated that they considered it one of the most interesting and successful conferences ever held in the state. They both voiced the opinion that the general spirit of the meetings was very uplifting.

TAMPA PINCHED BY FALLING OFF OF TAX REVENUE

City Forced To Undertake Bonding of Some of Its Debt

MIAMI, Apr. 17.—Although Tampa, like Jacksonville, is a conservative city and was only incidentally affected by the 1933 boom, the pinch of falling tax collections plus an unusual drop in assessment payments forced it to undertake a refunding of bonds falling due between 1932 and 1935. Property tax collections in Tampa declined from $1,000,000 in 1922 to less than half a million dollars last year. At the same time, however, street paving was shaved one third and extended from 10 to 20 years by acts of the 1931 legislature, and of course property owners took prompt advantage of the right to quit paying. Collections from this source alone were reduced from $702,000 in 1927 to $61,000 last year, and on these most of the bonds immediately due were depending for payment. The actual operating cost of Tampa was reduced more than a half during this period, bringing it down almost to the present operating cost of Miami. Even those economies failed to halt the drying up of the cash on hand, but if Tampa is freed of bond payments for the next two years, it may be able to pick up its 1936 maturity of $702,000 with success.

The romantic angle is not neglected and is supplied by two couples, Cugney and Miss Davis and Allen Jenkins and Miss White. Other prominent members of the cast include Arthur Kohl, Philip Reed, Robert Cavanaugh, Mayo Methot, Rufe Havelle, Philip Foxworth and Nora Lane.

Largest Opening Day Mob In 3 Years Attend 8 Major League Ball Games Tuesday

By HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Apr. 13.—(AP)—Before the largest opening day outpouring of fans in three years, major league baseball regained its place on the sport scene yesterday.

Indicating the club owners had some justification for the general feeling of optimism with which they had approached the opening of 1934 campaigns, the eight get-away games, four in the National and four in the American, drew an aggregate attendance of better than 180,000.

This compared with 153,828 for the eight openers spread over several days last year and 138,000 for the 1932 inaugurals when adverse weather conditions likewise were a handicap. However, it still was far behind the record total of 249,010 set in 1931.

There was no kick on the menu of the weather man handed out yesterday. Conditions, especially in the East, were close to ideal. Of the total estimated attendance of 183,717 persons, no fewer than 100,000 were packed in the stands for the four Eastern games at New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia.

NORTHEAST LOOP HEAD ASKS MORE DATA ON CLUBS

Buck Weaver Wants To Know Who's Back Of Local Ball Club

Sanford's application for a place in the Northeast Florida League along with Leesburg has met with only lukewarm response, it was indicated in a letter received here today from W. P. Weaver, president of that organization, who says that he wants to be "shown" that both Sanford and Leesburg have the financial backing to participate in his "fast" league.

The letter, a copy of which is printed below, was turned over to Earl Varn, who had recently discussed the situation with Leesburg fans.

In the meantime, the local situation is still up in the air, with fans on all sides discussing baseball as they have never discussed it before. When word was spread around the city yesterday that Sanford and Leesburg had applied for a place in the Northeastern, it met with favorable reaction in every quarter, and there was reason to believe that the 1934 Sanford club in that league would be well supported.

Here is a copy of Weaver's letter:

"This acknowledges receipt of your wire, which I appreciate. I do not believe it is advisable for me to solicit the entrance of Leesburg club into Northeast Florida Baseball League at this time, in view of the fact that I have no way of determining whether our present clubs will act favorably on the addition of clubs at this late date.

"It occurs to me that you are in much the better position to contact Leesburg and learn what they would like to do.

"In this connection wish to advise that even should both Sanford and Leesburg desire entrance into the league, I would want to know all about financial backing of the clubs, the names of the men, etc., also some definite ideas as to the playing strength of the clubs.

"It is my information that Leesburg baseball men do not want to come into a league as fast as ours, as they lost too much money last year. I give you this information just as it has been given to me.

"As stated above, if Leesburg makes formal application, at once, to join our league, and both Sanford and Leesburg will give me complete and satisfactory information relative to financial and playing strength, I will be glad to take the matter up with our clubs.

"I know you will appreciate the spirit in which this is written. We have what seems to be a strong, well-balanced league of six clubs, and would not want to consider addition of two clubs unless the addition seems satisfactory from all angles."

AIR LINES WILL ASK DAMAGES IN THE COURTS

District of Columbia supreme court, aimed directly at Farley as a private individual and not in his official capacity on the ground that he had no power to annul the contracts.

"James A. Farley arbitrarily and in a manner contrary to law cancelled the contracts of these companies without giving them any notice or any opportunity to present the true facts," said a resume of the charges, issued at the office of William J. Donovan, counsel for the airlines.

"It is alleged that the cancellation of these contracts without giving the companies an opportunity for hearing deprives them of their property without due process of law in violation of the fifth amendment of the constitution."

The companies claim that they were given no notice of Farley's intention and that none was advised of the specific charges against them.

"They are today wholly ignorant of the alleged facts upon which the postmaster general based his action except for information obtained from the public press," the resume said.

The lines assert that in eight years they have flown 80,000,000 miles, approximately 40 percent of their scheduled trips have been completed, which they claim is "remarkable."

NEW BRITISH BUDGET BANS DEBT ISSUE

Great Britain's prosperity. His premise was that the surplus in the year just ending—aggregating 30,000,000 pounds or $200,000,000—must in justice be devoted to relieving those classes who suffered when the crisis was acute.

"The assurance that Britain has regained her place as the first exporting country of the world; an estimated 1934-1935 surplus in operating expenses of 29,100,000 pounds (about $145,000,000); a cut of six pence in the pound in the basic income tax rate;

The Chancellor said he proposed to make no provision for the payments of war debts to the United States or the receipts of war debts from Great Britain's debtors.

McLeod Bill Turned Down By President

White House for a further effort to settle the rail wage dispute. Meanwhile the House Interstate Commerce subcommittee approved today a revised Fletcher-Rayburn stock market control bill carrying a 45 percent margin requirement.

The Wirt investigating committee of the House put off until late afternoon its closed session to discuss future procedure.

A veto threat removed by Senate leaders, the new tax bill was sent to conference yesterday to allow a committee of Senators and Representatives to untangle the numerous complications caused by the increases written into the bill by the Senate.

Chairman Harrison of the Senate Finance Committee said an effort would be made to put the tax on coconut oil, to which President Roosevelt objected, into a shape acceptable to the Chief Executive, or falling this a joint resolution probably would be offered to repeal or modify the Philippine impost.

"I hardly think the President would veto the bill even though he is opposed to this Philippine tax," Harrison said after a visit to the White House and State and War Departments.

"But," he added, "I am hopeful we can work out something in conference that will be satisfactory. If we cannot, then a joint resolution probably will be offered."

Harrison issued a formal statement later terming "unjustified" criticisms of the bill as it passed the Senate.

"It has been widely stated in the press," he said, "that the Senate bill completely departs from the original purpose of making such changes in the revenue laws as are necessary to prevent tax evasion, and instead constitutes a hasty and haphazard revision of our entire revenue system."

"A careful examination of the Senate bill will reveal that these criticisms are quite unjustified. Viewed as a whole, the Senate bill has the same purposes as the House bill, namely, to prevent tax avoidance.

"Although it is true that a large amount of additional revenue will be obtained, it is obtained mainly from stopping loopholes rather than from increasing rates, and for the most part will be obtained in the fiscal year 1936 rather than in the next fiscal year."

Sholtz Suspends South Florida Commissioner

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 13.—(AP)—Charges of malfeasance, misfeasance and incompetency in office yesterday brought suspension of C. B. Arbogast as a member of the Martin County Board of Commissioners at the hands of Gov. Dave Sholtz.

The suspension will be referred to the next session of the state Senate.

Arbogast was charged specifically with voting as a commissioner to make payments to himself as agent for an insurance company covering premiums on insurance policies on county property; with voting to make payments to an oil company for which he was wholesale distributing agent in Martin county, and with buying and selling Martin county bonds, "presumably at a profit to himself."
