

New Wonder Drug Causes Startling Growth In Plants

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—(AP)—Strawberries as big as peaches, apples as large as grapefruit, and vegetables much larger and more succulent than those now grown may become a new scientific gift to the consumer.

Agriculture Department plant scientists say a new development in the science of plant breeding opens a startling new field for development of new and better varieties of fruits, vegetables, grains, and flowers.

Only time will tell, officials said today, how valuable the development is.

It involves the use of a drug called colchicine, which has been utilized for many years in developing new plants. Heretofore, it was effective only on a very limited number of plants.

The drug has the ability of modifying characteristics of plants treated with it. Through its use, it is possible to take plants of desirable characteristics, cross-breed or hybridize them and come up with new plants bearing double the desirable characteristics of the parent plants, officials said.

Colchicine is a poisonous drug derived from the autumn crocus. Under proper procedure, plants successfully treated with it double the number of chromosomes in their cells. Chromosomes are carriers of heredity or characteristics.

A plant with extra chromosomes is likely to be different from and frequently superior to related plants with the normal number.

A new method of treating plants with the chromosome-doubling drug—developed by Dr. Hamilton P. Traub of the Department's bureau of plant industry—makes it possible to use it successfully for the first time on a broad list of plants and flowers.

Under this method, a plant is treated with the drug and then given an eight-hour "rest" period under which it is allowed to "re-cuprate." This treatment is repeated from four to six times.

Heretofore, the method had involved one single severe treatment.

Soviet Captain Calls U. S. Ships "No Good"

SINGAPORE, Feb. 13—(AP)—The skipper of one of the 672 lendlease ships the United States is trying to get back from Russia says they'll be returned—"They are no good anyway."

Sgt. Konstantin Kozlovsky, master of the 7,170-ton freighter Ivan Polzunov, told newsmen aboard his vessel here that the American Liberty ships were carelessly built and "personally know of several such ships breaking up in rough weather."

Snapping his fingers, Kozlovsky return the American craft at any time since they have their own good ships. His attitude was at variance with that of his government, which in now-deadlocked negotiations has balked at returning the vessels sent them in World War II.

Kozlovsky's ship, carrying four steel tugboats and a cargo of flour from Odessa to Vladivostok, put in here for water.

Railroad Accident Fatalities Reach 175 In Past Year

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13—(AP)—Three major train accidents last year helped to send 1950 railroad passenger deaths to 175 compared with 26 deaths in 1949, the Interstate Commerce Commission reported today.

Of the 1950 fatalities, 144 occurred in a trio of spectacular wrecks on the Long Island and Pennsylvania railroads.

Thirty-two persons were killed in a wreck on the Long Island near Rockville Center, N. Y. in February, and a November accident on the same line at Richmond Hill, N. Y. killed 79. The Pennsylvania Railroad accident in September near West Lawayette, O. involved a troop train. Thirty-three Pennsylvania National Guardsmen bound for a training camp were killed.

The ICC data, a preliminary summary made available to a reporter, indicated that train accidents on the decline after the war were the rise again with the increased freight traffic incident to the war in Korea.

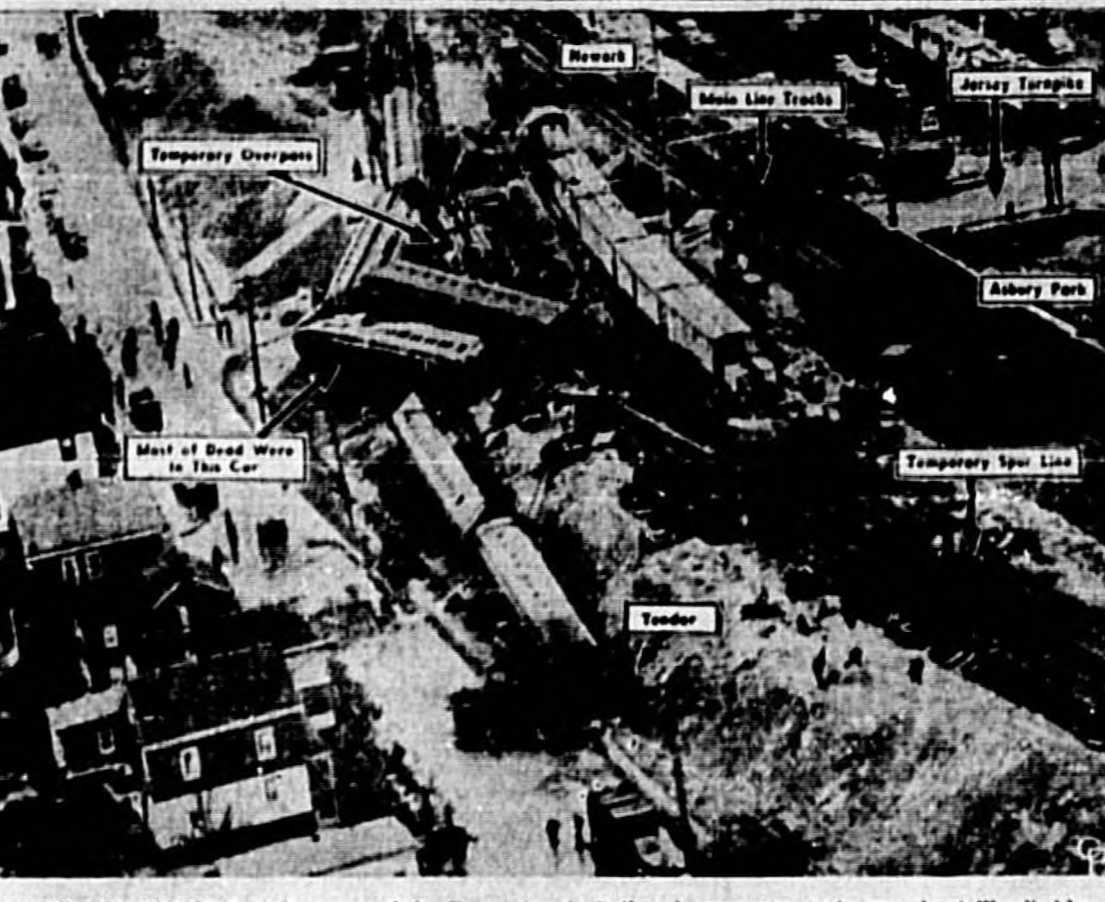

The tally showed 10,262 accidents of all kinds for last year, against 8,507 in 1949.

The total number of deaths from train operations also was up, from 3,307 in 1949 to 3,403 last year. The 1950 fatalities total included 1,577 persons killed at grade crossings, 1167 trespassers and other miscellaneous mishaps. The grade crossing deaths compared with 1,507 the previous year.

The 1950 accidents resulted in 33,111 in 1949, with employee injuries accounting for 21,748 of the total, and injuries at grade crossings coming to 4,371.

Although breakdowns have not been completed, officials indicated the increase in number of accidents was largely in booming freight operations, involving an estimated 535,497,000,000 ton-miles (one ton hauled one mile) in 1950, against 526,500,000,000 (b) ton-miles the year before.

Inquiries as to causes brought about the same response from both ICC and railroad sources: "more miles, more hazards." The ICC noted that the busy war year of 1944 produced 16,258 train accidents of all kinds, involving 4,612,227 fatalities of all classes and 61,227 injuries.

AN AIR VIEW DIAGRAM of the scene of the Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train wreck at Woodbridge, N. J., tells where and how more than 82 passengers died and 500 were injured. Eight separate probes were started to determine what caused the packed, evening rush-hour coaches to be scattered over the embankment. High speed over the temporary wooden trestle was believed responsible. (International)

Flying Saucers Said To Be Navy Balloons

NEW YORK, Feb. 13—(AP)—A Navy official confirmed today that "Flying Saucers" really existed, but actually were huge plastic balloons used in high-altitude cosmic ray studies.

Dr. Urner Liddle, chief of the Nuclear Physics Branch of the Office of Naval Research, made this disclosure in an article in the current Look Magazine.

Liddle, in Washington, discussed the Look story further when newsmen queried him.

The Navy balloons, Liddle declared, were 100 feet in diameter and sometimes rose to a height of 19 miles. He added that winds might sweep them along at 200 miles an hour.

High Housing Rents

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) commented that the defense program "communities suddenly built may be suddenly vacated." He suggested it might be dangerous to stretch the amortization period on houses in what may become "ghost towns."

Campbell replied that was part of the risk involved in the defense program. He said that if there was a loss, the government should absorb it.

Campbell also proposed that present credit curbs on housing be relaxed in defense areas to be said this would encourage house building for defense workers.

Student Enlistments

(Continued From Page One) vice to be already inducted, as well as National Guard and other reserve units and individuals now on duty it was reported.

This new feature developed as the full 113-member Senate armed services committee met to go over the bill at a closed-door session at 2 P.M.

Final committee action today was unlikely.

The bill also would continue President Truman's existing authority to extend for one year the enlistment of all persons in the military services. This applies only to persons who voluntarily enlisted and so does not include draftees or reservists.

The President now has this year's authority to freeze all regulars for an additional year of service. However, this authority would expire with the present draft act July 9 unless extended for two years as is provided in the pending bill.

One other change was noted in the subcommittee plans. This would allow the present $75 monthly pay for all drafted men to continue pending further manpower developments. This is the present minimum pay for recruits in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Originally it was proposed to lower this pay to a $50 monthly during the basic training period of four to six months.

Growth Of Cattle Industry In State Called Phenomenal

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 13—(AP)—Development of Florida's cattle industry during the past decade has been phenomenal—development unmatched by any other section of the United States.

A national authority on livestock, Edward N. Wentworth of Chesterton, Indiana, director of Armour & Co.'s Livestock Bureau, made that statement in an address last night to students of the Agriculture Club and faculty members of the University of Florida College of Agriculture.

"Florida may well claim to be one of the oldest livestock sections in the United States, and those early cattle were well adapted to the coarse grasses and feeds of early times, but it was not until about the time of the First World War that cattlemen began trying in earnest to improve their animals by bringing in numerous purebreds.

There was some progress in developing better feed up to about the time of World War II, and since the beginning of that war the developments in improvement of feed and cattle have been phenomenal. I don't think any other section of the nation has shown as much progress in cattle during the past 10 years," Wentworth declared.

Feed is still the limiting factor in Florida's livestock industry, but the progress that has been made with improved grasses and feeds in recent years indicates the possibility that this state may become one of the major low-cost meat producing sections of the United States, he said.

Emphasizing the need for continued effort to improve and increase feed and improve the quality of meat animals, Wentworth pointed out that higher wages during the past few years have resulted in a steadily increasing demand for quality cuts and his firm and other packing concerns are interested in doing all they can to satisfy the consumers' demand for such meat.

Wentworth is a member of the Agricultural Advisory Committee of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, which is holding its annual meeting at the University of Florida.

House Burns

(Continued From Page One) taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Kilbee, and was shaken by the order that a physician was summoned from Oviedo to attend him. Mrs. Hodgkins was taken care of by another neighbor, Mrs. Lucille Norton.

Mr. McGill, a former lieutenant of the New York Fire Department, said that the cause of the fire was undetermined. He added, however, that flames were first noticed in the living room at about 7:00 o'clock this morning by Mr. Storey, who summoned him to the scene.

"If Mr. Storey had not warned Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkins, they would have been trapped by flames while still asleep," Mr. McGill declared.

The house, he added, was totally destroyed. Here, he noted, a neighbor, assisted in preventing the spread of the fire to his home by means of hose lines connected to electrically powered pumps.

Mrs. Kilbee tried unsuccessfully to telephone the Oviedo Fire Department, said Mr. McGill.

The Hodgkins are friends of the Williams family, now visiting in Vermont.

U. S. Foreign Aid

Guests at the meeting which was presided over by President Greenville Touchton, included Dr. Frank Knight of DeLand, E. Heisberger of Sally, Ill.; David Smith of New Haven, Conn.; Rev. Angus Melnick of Sanford, H. A. Backer, Donald Heisberg, Richard Niberg of Temperance, Ill., Harold Greenwood, Gardner, Mass.; Simon Tudor, Alexandria, La.; Ira F. Chase of Mount Pleasant, N. Y.; Fred Saywell, Hudson, Ohio; Ira Sobel of the Bronx, N. Y.; Henry Pein of Boston, Mass. and Holly Guild of Genesee, Ill.

Korean War

Other Allied planes also hit two other groups—about 400 Reds 10 miles northeast of Yuju and another 100 skirting Chipyong.

There was little ground fighting Tuesday compared with Monday's blood battle around Hoengsong. American and South Korean troops had fought their way out of the trap sprung by a 100,000-man Red force and had taken up new defensive positions.

Much of Tuesday was spent by both Allies and Communists in regrouping for new fighting.

But there was one clash 15 miles west of Wonju. An Allied force drove back into the hills a Red column striking for the Wonju-Yuju road. Allied planes aided in routing the Reds.

The withdrawal from Hoengsong leaves Chipyong the northernmost Allied stronghold on the central front.

In addition to hitting the Chin-quantities of ammunition and supplies, Allied aircraft also destroyed piles left behind when the Hoengsong perimeter collapsed. Some field artillery, heavy mortars and ammunition were showered with flaming gasoline bombs before the Chinese had a chance to salvage the Allied weapons.

Rural Common Sense

By SPUDS JOHNSON
Spring pastures may be just around the corner but winter can still steal cattle profits if cattle get only what they can rustle from ranges and fields.

The most critical need for supplemental feed comes in February and early March. Dry winter pasture is very low in protein and phosphorus content and the volume of grazing may be low.

Trouble begin when cattle lose too much weight, warns J. A. McGregor, assistant animal industrialist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. He says, "Beef steak is an extremely costly feed for cattle." Supplemental feed at this season to prevent excessive loss of weight may be the cattlemen's best investment in this year's cattle profits.

Well-wintered cattle are in the best condition to make most efficient use of good pastures next spring and summer. They produce stronger calves, give more milk and breed promptly for next year's calf crop. The cow that loses too much weight in the winter is not producing efficiently while she regains this weight in the spring and summer. Also, the cow that has produced a weak or dead calf because of the lack of winter feed adds nothing to cattle profits.

Protein is the most common deficiency in dry winter forage. When grass begins to mature the protein content drops rapidly. Winter weathering causes further losses in protein content and by February most dry grass has only one-third as much protein as when young and green. The phosphorus content of the forage is reduced in the same manner. Most cattlemen like to feed cottonseed cake, meal or pellets, citrus seed meal, soybean meal or other protein food in the winter months to supply the deficient protein and phosphorus and help cattle make better use of the dry winter

HADACOL May Relieve Cause Of Distress If Due To Lack Of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

A healthy childhood is the basis for a healthy adult life. Little Lee Horton, age four of 106 74th Avenue, Houston, Texas, was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and just didn't eat. Then they heard about HADACOL on the radio, and Lee Horton decided to try it for Lee. After taking HADACOL, said Mr. Horton, Lee's appetite picked up and he started eating three hearty meals a day. Now Lee has gained weight, has more energy, and never has to be coaxed to eat.

Here is Mr. Horton's own statement:

"Lee was very weak and run down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL on the radio and decided that was what Lee needed. After he started taking HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight and eating real well now. He has been feeling real good. HADACOL has been good for Lee and I heartily recommend it to everyone."

TODAY'S HILITE VERSE

We need a square and company to prove our work. The master builder provides the tools of perfection.

President Truman defends the directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. He doesn't seem to care what they do up there just so they're from Missouri.

We like Sandy Anderson's idea of using cabbage for desert during this emergency. He brought us one the other day, and we tried it, and I was wonderful... especially with corn beef.

When the New Deal passed the Social Security Act, the idea was to make everyone secure against the financial hazards of life, in old age, in sickness and in death.

One of the many fine compliments we received on our special edition ended like this: "Why don't you get one out like that every day?" It's as simple as that.

General Vandenberg says that in the event of a determined Russian bombing raid on this country about 70 out of 100 planes would get through in spite of everything we could do.

The Army reveals that General MacArthur is being reinforced with troops which have received no more than 14 weeks of basic training in this country.

The Republican Party seems to be playing both ends against the middle with respect to foreign policy. Former President Hoover, Senator Taft and many others are in favor of defending ourselves with air and sea power.

Senate investigating figures on the newspaper business came from a recent Census of Manufacturers by the Department of Commerce.

Pity The Pretty Girl

"I've made a mess of my life so far," writes an anonymous woman of 36 in Pageant magazine, "and there's one big reason for my failure: I'm too pretty."

A shocking story of personal neglect and disappointment is contained in that sentence. Because the anonymous author was beautiful and besieged by men, she turned down a number of highly eligible suitors—and then bit for a poor specimen of a man when she got scared.

No boss dared to give her a promotion, says the Pageant article, because tongues would wag; and she made her life difficult for herself by choosing the easy path.

The pretty girl finds it difficult to make friends with her own sex, because women are always suspicious of her, points out Pageant. They resent her appearance and think she's trying to steal somebody's man; moreover, however hard they try to be fair, an element of envy always enters into their judgment.

Strength For These Days

Where are we to find strength for the living of these troubled days? When tensions pile up and the gloomy aspect of the future deepens, there is an almost overpowering temptation to forget the struggle, to accept stoically what happens and give up trying to make things come out right.

To answer this question most persons probably think first of their religion, as the rock to which they can always cling. Clergymen and other church officials all over the country have said there is a definite increase in general interest in religious matters.

There are other friends and supports which can help, too. Fine music has a remarkable power to ease the mind, allow it to let go its tensions, and to relax the whole body. The great classics of poetry and prose literature do not have that rank solely because they are old or because they were written with an artistry which successors have not been able to match.

The classics, the arts and history are friends worth cultivating. They have been through troubled times before, and can help us now.

Macedonian Friends

Worthwhile results of the Economic Co-operation program are found in Macedonia, which experienced last summer a severe drought of famine-causing proportions. However, because of American food distribution, no famine resulted. Visitors to this Yugoslav region found the populace in good health.

Naturalized American citizens, visiting their former homes in Macedonia, were found to have dropped their native mental attitudes and to feel intense loyalty to the United States.

The building up of friendly attitudes among nations such as Yugoslavia, which are strongly influenced by the Russian viewpoint, is important today.

Fort Pierce Under Consideration For Naval Supply Base

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The Navy has under consideration a request to establish a supply base for Caribbean and South American points at Fort Pierce. Rep. Rogers (D-Fla.) said today Fort Pierce "offers one of the most desirable ports on the Atlantic seaboard and could well be utilized by the Navy at this time."

and Smathers, Florida Democrats, met here yesterday with a Fort Pierce delegation and Vice Admiral F. B. Low and Naval Operations. The Fort Pierce group was headed by Mayor Frank Free and included M. A. Baumgardner and D. E. Corman. Admiral Low was given a brochure setting forth the advantages of Fort Pierce as a supply base, and the Florida delegation argued in its behalf.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It's a notable commentary of our times that Persia's serious young Shah has joined Asiatic leaders who at long last recognize poverty as being the cause of most of the unrest in their part of the world.

Twice within recent days 26-year-old Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi has made striking moves to better conditions in his own country. The first was his announcement that he will sell his huge holdings to the land-hungry peasants. Yesterday he capped this by ordering that the celebrations in connection with his marriage to the Princess Faraya Esfahani should be stripped of the usual royal pomp and be confined to one day as a measure of national economy.

To understand just what this means one must know that less than 300 families control most of the land and other wealth in Persia. The Shah himself is officially estimated to own 1,000 villages and surrounding agricultural lands, which support a quarter-million peasants. The Shah's properties now are to be sold to the little people on easy terms.

This championship of the people is a bold move on the part of the ruler. It requires no imagination to realize that the landed gentry of Persia will fight to the last ditch against such a redistribution, on the basis that it is likely to drag them along with it. They aren't yet ready to share with the poor.

However, a battle with his landed gentry is the less of two evils for the Shah. Across his northern border the long arm of Russian Communism is reaching to win converts among the underprivileged. Poverty and hunger provide the most fertile soil for the growth of Bolshevism.

The dissolution of the great landed estates of Europe, with a resulting benefit to the small folk, has been moving apace in recent years. As I pointed out in a recent column, Britain's landed gentry is rapidly disappearing, the change being due largely to heavy taxation which has forced the sale of the huge holdings. And on the continent, Italy has been having a field day in splitting up big estates.

Persia will be about the farthest west that this upheaval has reached on a big scale, barring the American-prompted reforms in Japan. In many other Oriental countries the farmers either are tenants, paying rent to the big landlords, or their ownership comprises a tiny parcel of land, India, Pakistan and China are great nations which provide prime examples of a call for development of the land.

There are more farmers in China than in any other Asiatic country. Some of these are tenant farmers who have to pay rent to the overlords, and some own their land, but in either case the holdings are tiny, and taxation is very high. Many Chinese farmers devote their whole time to their little holdings, but take outside jobs to make ends meet.

Several international projects for the betterment of farming in the far east are getting under way. Perhaps the young Persian Shah's venture will speed the slow but steady movement of redistribution and improvement of the agricultural lands.

Shipping lanes to South American and Caribbean points. The absence of coastwise shipping at the port at this time makes it ideal for base purposes during the existing defense emergency, he said.

The congressman added that an apply base at Fort Pierce at this time would not disturb civilian use of the port and "would prove a boon to the area."

Rogers said the Fort Pierce delegation's argument "impressed" Low and that the officer planned to look into the Navy's need for east coast bases and give an answer.

The Fort Pierce men pointed out their port is only three miles from the deep sea, has two rail lines, plane, train and highway connections.

State Was Bilked On Furniture Deal, Auditor Declares

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 14.—A state auditor today said furniture placed in the new Senate chamber was "quite different" from that paid for and called for in specifications.

Robert L. Kennedy, Jr., told the Improvement Commission that associated stations of Tallahassee made numerous substitutions from that paid for and called for in specifications.

He said many of the prices were above list prices and commented the State could have saved $5,000 if they had been made on a normal discount basis.

Kennedy made his statements as the improvement commission continued its investigation of alleged irregularities in furnishing the Senate chamber and Supreme Court building.

The projects were supervised by I. W. Snyder for the Improvement Commission.

Last week the commission heard testimony from Kennedy that Snyder was financially interested in one firm that obtained a contract for furniture for the court building, that other furniture was bought without competitive bids at higher than list prices.

He also said about $2,000 worth of furniture paid for could not be located and $1,700 worth was found in the Improvement Commission office.

Acheson Says

Eisenhower told Congress he did not want any unwilling soldiers in his Allied force, Acheson said. High Commissioner John J. McCloy had made clear to the Germans they would not be compelled to fight.

The resolution proposed in the Senate by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) and 20 others declaring the friendship of the American people for the people of Russia represents truly the attitude of Americans, Acheson said. It is the Soviet government which prevents normal, friendly relationship between the two peoples.

A. A. note from the United States, Britain and France on proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting will go to Moscow soon. Until that time, and probably pending the Soviet reply, Acheson cannot say whether deputies of the ministers will hold a preliminary meeting in Paris.

The United States is consulting on military developments and political questions with countries United Nations able in Korea, which have forces fighting on the front. That was about as far as he could go, Acheson said, in talking crossing the 38th Parallel. He said a military operation is under way and he did not want to provide information for the opposition.

Chinese Attack

The 60 Reds in the patrol used Korean civilians as a shield. At a signal, the civilians dropped to the ground and the Reds fired at Allied forces on the south bank. The GI's fired back. "It was a like shooting sitting ducks," one American soldier said. A second Red patrol was wiped out at its camp in the Seoul City almost which is located on the sand flat.

Across the peninsula, at least seven Russian-built MIG-15 jets attacked American B-29s. The Superforts were making a bomb run over Red barracks at Tokchon. All returned safely to their Japanese base, landing in a spow-storm.

Bad weather held down the number of Allied flights in support of ground forces. But skies cleared somewhat at noon Wednesday permitting Allied warplanes to strike in about 100 sorties along the flaming contact front. The enemy pushed their ground attack there at tremendous costs in Red manpower.

Air and artillery have been doing a tremendous job on these (Red) columns," a 10th Corps spokesman said. "They have been hitting them all day." Five Red columns with an estimated strength of 5,000 men were spotted moving south toward Wonju from the northwest.

An Allied unit which had been surrounded seven miles southeast of Chiapong broke out of the Communist ring Wednesday morning after a two-hour fight. Later it counter-attacked and pursued the Reds into the hills four miles northeast of Yolu.

United Nations artillery was pounding with deadly effect into the Red ranks. One Red division walked into an American artillery ambush Wednesday noon about six miles northwest of Wonju. Another earlier barrage caught a Chinese force which included pack animals loaded with ammunition.

Ralph Bogart Posts Sizzling 70 To Win Medalist Honors

Washington Champion Is One Under Par For 1st 9 Holes In Qualifying Round

ED HARPER
Ralph Bogart, Maryland amateur champion in 1949 and 1950, turned in a sizzling 70 yesterday in the qualifying round of the Seminole Country Club Invitational Tournament to lead the field by four strokes. Runners-up at 74 were Lee Draper, Herb Smith and Jim Spencer.

Bogart, who led one of the teams which tied for first place in the annual Pro-Am tourney Sunday with best ball scores of 67, birdied Nos. 3, 8 and 10 but went one over on 1, 12 and 18.

The Washington insurance man, who holds the club title at Chevy Chase in Maryland, was never in serious trouble, playing the first nine in 34 and the back in 36. In a practice round last week he lashed out a four under par for a 31 on the front nine and took a 39 on the back for a par 70 for the 18.

The championship flight will play 36 holes of match play tomorrow beginning at 10 A. M. Don Bispinghoff, who qualified with a 78, will be paired with medalist Bogart.

Draper, who took a 38 on the front nine and a one over par 36 on the back, is paired with J. W. Altman who qualified with an 81.

Smith and C. F. Hegler, who put together a 39 and 41 for an 80, are paired as are Jim Spencer and F. S. Jaeger.

E. B. Smith with a 76, John Ivey with 77 and Al Bryant with a 75 are among the local golfers who finished high in the standings.

The tournament is scheduled to go into the quarter-finals tomorrow, semi-finals on Friday and finals Saturday.

Those qualifying for the championship flight with today's pairings are as follows:

| Name | Qualifying Score |

Battered FSU Five Takes On Rollins In Lakeland Tonight

LAKELAND, Feb. 14 (Special)—Florida Southern's battered team of basketball players will meet the Rollins College Tartan Wednesday night at the FSC gym in the opening clash of a two-night doubleheader. The game will start at 8:30 p. m. The Rollins Tartan, which is the only team in the state to have won a game against FSU since the 1949-50 season, will be the favorite to win. The Tartan is coached by Coach J. J. ...

By ED HARPER

Lean, cold-eyed Sugar Ray Robinson has been stalking Jake LaMotta for 18 months. Tonight the squat middleweight must shed his cynicism and fight the talented and persistent challenger.

The two boxers present a curious study in contrast. Slender, wiry and clever, Ray Robinson has been described by another as "the fastest fighting machine of the decade." LaMotta, a brawny slugger who has never been knocked off his feet, is bull-like in the ring, disdaining the use of a battering body attack designed to wear his opponent down.

LaMotta won the title on a freak and has kept it by the wily method of fighting only second raters. He defeated Marcel Cerdan, a consummate boxer and the pride of France, by first wrenching the somewhat bewildered Frenchman's arm out of joint in a second round wrestling session. Even so it took the lumbering champion ten rounds to exhaust a fearful but defenseless Cerdan.

He retained his title against another Gallie fighter, Laurent Dauthuille, by a desperate 15th round knockout with 11 seconds to go. Dauthuille had a comfortable lead on points when the glory of La France got the better of his judgement and he elected to slug it out with the durable Jake.

In five fights with Sugar Ray the middleweight title holder has done something no one else ever accomplished. In 1943 he won a ten round unanimous decision. But three weeks later Robinson reversed this rather decisively.

Sugar Ray, who will give away five points to the Bronx Bull tonight, has collected more ecstatic comments on his grace and boxing than any modern fighter with the possible exception of Heavy Leonard.

Always a feared fighter, he was unable to get a crack at the welterweight title he now holds until after the war. Since then he has defended it with ease against all logical contenders. But for the past year he has sought a bout with Jake for the coveted middleweight crown.

Duke Snider Seeks To Wipe Out Sorry Showing In Series

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14—(AP)—Outfielder Edwin (Duke) Snider has more than one reason for hoping his team, the Brooklyn Dodgers, wins the National League Pennant this year.

The hefty 24-year-old player wants to atone for the disappointing job he did for the Dodgers in the 1949 World Series. Dejectedly, he recalls that he batted a puny .143 and fanned eight times.

Snider, who lives with his wife and infant son in suburban Lynwood and heads for the Dodgers' camp in Florida next week, thinks Brooklyn might up and win the pennant. "And," he added, "I'd sure like to make up for that '143 flop'."

Young Duke was anything but a flop last year. He finished third to Stan Musial and Jackie Robinson with a .321 average in hitting, including 31 homers. He fanned the league in total bases and hits, and was third in the league in assists, putouts and total chances.

All of which, incidentally, brought him a purported 70 per cent raise in salary and a paycheck of around $18,000.

"I used to swing much too fast and much too hard," Snider said. "Even in 1949, I was still breaking my back and striking out more than anybody in the league."

"But I put on quite a bit of weight last year. Went up to 200 pounds, and most of it settled in my chest, back and shoulders. As a result," he said, "I just couldn't come around so far and so fast. Getting to be an old man, too, I guess. But anyway, that was just what the doctor ordered. I met the ball more solidly and wasn't fooled so much."

Snider won 16 letters as a high school athlete at nearby Compton High School. He is reported to have completed one pass in football for 68 yards, and two years found his way to baseball for Montreal and Newport News in 1944 and then spent 18 months in the Navy. Discharged, he returned to baseball with Fort Worth in 1945, and the following year found his way to St. Paul, Montreal and Brooklyn. He really began to roll in 1949, when he batted .322 with the Dodgers in 144 games.

AT LONG LAST - By Alan Mauer

Robinson And LaMotta To Battle For Middleweight Crown Tonight

CHICAGO, Feb. 14—(AP)—Middleweight champion Jake LaMotta weighed 160 on the head, making the exact weight for his title defense against Sugar Ray Robinson at the Chicago stadium tonight. Robinson scaled 155½ at the official weigh-in.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, world welter king, rules a solid favorite to strip Jake LaMotta of his middleweight crown tonight in the first battle of two champions since the days of Henry Armstrong. Simplifying the prevailing 3-4 odds, Jake the Bull is a 3½ to 1 underdog in man-to-man betting. Chances are it may come down to 2½ to 1 by ringtime at 10:00 p. m. (EST).

Some 12,500 fans are expected to pay $175,000 to see the 15-round bout at Chicago Stadium.

Millions more will hear the CBS radio account for this sixth meeting of these ancient rivals in all parts of the nation.

LaMotta, the cement-jawed "Bull of the Bronx" who never has been knocked off his feet in 95 fights, is the mystery man. Nobody knows his exact weight. Nobody can fathom his pre-fight strategy.

Weight always is a problem with squat Jake. That is why the weigh-in will be two hours before noon, giving LaMotta extra time to sweat off sweat if needed.

Barracudas Edge Celeryfeds 49-43; Local Five Rallies In Second Half

A desperate 14 point surge in the third quarter wasn't quite enough last night as the Celeryfed basketball team was edged by New Smyrna 49 to 43.

Jerry Covington and Garnett "Whizzer" White with 10 and 9 points respectively, led the Celeryfed attack which generated only 6 points in the first quarter and 15 for the half.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Doubter ever wonder if the west was really as it is portrayed in horse operas?

Well, I have, and at last I found someone to reply to the question. He is A. Guthrie, author of "The Big Sky" and "The Way West." The latter won him a Pulitzer Prize for the best novel on American life in 1949.

Born in Montana and reared on western lore, Guthrie was on the staff of the Lexington, Ky., leader for 20 years. He now conducts a writers' workshop at the University of Kentucky and is considered one of the top authorities on the western scene. He is here to write his first screen play, "Shane" and I interrupted his labors to ask if he thought movie westerns were authentic.

"No," he replied, after protesting that he didn't want to seem pessimistic.

"It seems to me the movie western and western fiction have fallen into the same pattern of using the old clichés time and time again. For instance, there is the familiar character of the ranch foreman who is trying to put something over on the boss. And the boss usually turns out to be a beautiful girl."

"Then there is the situation of a town going to ruin because of some evil forces. Everybody is too weak to beat them, until the stranger comes to town and cleans out the evil-doers."

"It seems to me that the cleaning up in the west was not done by one strong man, but by many of them. For instance, the vigilantes of Montana, who were organized at mass meetings."

Historical figures have taken a beating in the movies, Guthrie added. He pointed out that Billy the Kid was a trigger-happy little punk who never looked nor acted like Johnny Mack Brown, Robert Taylor, Jack Austin, or Audie Murphy. (All have played the character on the screen.)

"And the western sheriffs are made to seem like great men," he added. "But from their records, you can get only that they liked to kill."

He also punctured the myth that all western characters could wig a gal's eyebrow at 60 paces. Of course, there were some marksmen, like Wyatt Earp and Wild Bill Hickok, he said. "But being a good shot required not only natural ability but years of practice. Few of the men had time for that."

Glamor girls were lacking in the west, he said.

Here's Good News For Parents of Puny Children

HADACOL May Relieve Cause Of Diarrhea If Due to Lack of Vitamin B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

A healthy childhood is the basis for a healthy adult life. Little Leo Horton, age four of 108 74th Avenue, Houston, Texas, was deficient in Vitamin B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and just didn't have any appetite at all. His father, Mr. F. W. Horton, said that they just couldn't get Leo to eat. Then they heard about HADACOL on the radio, and Leo Horton decided to try it for Leo. After taking HADACOL, said Mr. Horton, Leo's appetite picked up and he started eating three hearty meals a day. Now Leo has gained weight, has more energy, and never has to be coaxed to eat. Here is Mr. Horton's own statement:

"Leo was very weak and run-down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL on the radio and decided that was what Leo needed. After he started taking HADACOL, his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight and eating real good. Now he's healthy and happy. HADACOL has been good for Leo and I heartily recommend it to everyone."

Johnston Urges

(Continued From Page One) Johnston said he would not try to give the committee any detailed plan for imposing the additional taxes to keep the country on a pay-as-we-go basis during the preparedness program. He declared, however, that "on the average, the American people can pay much more in taxes and still be as well off as they have been in recent months."

Victim Of Fire

(Continued From Page One) friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, while the latter were visiting in Vermont, were roused from sound sleep at 7:00 o'clock yesterday morning by Curtis Storey, 33 of Orlando, who pounded on the door after noticing that the house was on fire.

British Are Told Germany May Be Next Red Target

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell told the House of Commons today that Russia's "experiment" in Korea succeeded, "Berlin or western Germany might be the next step."

Hints To Housewives

The egg shines more brightly than ever in the breakfast spotlight since research has shown that a breakfast containing a good deal of protein, and some in particular of top quality, can do more for the eater's sense of well-being and stave off fatigue hours longer than a morning meal that is poor in protein.

Hillis Declares Food May Win "Cold War"

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Food production may well be the lifeline of a free world, President J. Hillis Miller of the University of Florida said last night.
