

Maternity Death Rate Reaches Low Point In Florida

Jacksonville, Feb. 14. (Special) The State Board of Health this week revealed that "despite the war, shortage of doctors and nurses, plus the second largest crop of babies in the State's history, the maternal death rate reached an all time low in 1943. More babies were born in 1944 however, than ever recorded in any maternal death rate has been set up by the National Negro Health Program." Data from children born in 1943 show that 95 were white and 5 were colored. Ninety-five percent of the white mothers were delivered by physicians, while only 31 percent of the Negroes had direct medical supervision during delivery. The remaining colored babies, this figure, were delivered by midwives.

Another interesting and important revelation according to Dr. Lucille J. Marsh, director of the Board's Maternal and Child Health Bureau, was that the method of delivery is being done among the more than 200 midwives in Florida. Instruction in the more modern methods of midwifery is being pushed by the State and individual health units are holding regular classes with attendance stressed as mandatory.

Even greater results in bringing down the Negro child birth death rate are now expected in connection with the State-wide Negro Health Committee's new program which includes a more detailed educational work with individuals in maternal and child health pursued from a level of individual midwives.

All forms of midwifery are described as indispensable during the past war years. With the acute shortage of doctors, and some counties having neither private physicians nor health unit officials pointed out that many expectant mothers who would ordinarily resort to a physician's care have been forced to turn successfully to their midwives.

All home side midwives, it was stressed, are registered with the State Board of Health. They are directly under the jurisdiction of local health officers. Their patients are examined at least once by the physician and are seen at regular intervals by the public health nurse. In counties where health departments have not yet been established, midwives are supervised by a consultant from the State Board of Health. In the absence of a local health department or officer, patients are urged when possible to have at least a blood test by a private physician.

Two Russian Forces Meet West Of Oder, Push Toward Berlin

Konev's Troops Rushing Toward Two Key Cities, Outflanking Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—The Allies are expected to deal with German field commanders—not with the Nazi government or the Wehrmacht—before the hour comes for imposing the unconditional surrender terms. This was suggested by competent quarters as the answer to one question arising from the Big Three Conference.

LONDON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Almost all of Germany has been placed under virtual martial law by a decree requiring the military trial of "whenever tries to make difficulties toward the capital." Civilians having "cowardice" will be subject to the death penalty.

Marshal Ivan Konev wheeled the main weight of his powerful offensive toward Berlin today after linking with Marshal Gregory Zhukov's forces west of the Oder River as the massed armor of the First Ukraine Army bore down toward the German capital's Spree River defenses from the southeast.

Moscow dispatches said the Nazi Neisse River defenses were shattered in fierce battles near Potsdam and Guben.

Konev's troops reported across the Neisse in force, were smashing toward Breslau and Cottbus, 31 and 62 miles from Berlin, rapidly outflanking the German's Oder defenses.

The Canadian offensive ground forward slowly, closing in on Goch. As the Germans rushed reinforcements from all parts of the western front to bolster the last major bastion before the open country leading to Rhur and the Rhine.

The Scots advanced close to Mayen and the fighting reached new heights of fury but the Canadians and British waded two bridgeheads over the Niers River into a single five-mile foothold.

The American Third Army made slight gains in the Wallen-

Victory Aids Told Kiwanians By Ben Dean

International President Warns Against War Weariness And Risk Of New Wars

Observations in Kwangs, the front on which the American delegation is continuing toward the basting of "total victory" were outlined last evening by Jim Dear, of Grand Banks, Mich., president of Kiwanis International, to Sanford Kiwanians and their wives at the Hotel Mayfair.

Mr. Dean warned against war weariness or anything that might hamper the war effort and that an organization like Kiwanis, included should play a part in building up public morale.

The second of six he added was to build up greater peace and carry on the war greater than the present war with me and dissident groups, and to keep the peace through plane bombs, land mines and other forms of war.

He quoted four communists who consider themselves as separate from the rest of the world with no more tie on an industrial and agricultural basis what there is a single unified spirit in the world, there is no public security for America or other people.

Action of Kiwanis is to invite the United States, Iron, the League of Nations, and President Wilson's insistence a definitely pacific communism helped to bring on the present war," he asserted.

Michigan (MI) Senator Alvin Vandenberg, chairman of a red finger in dealing peace, was present.

Mr. Dear, in his annual types of persons who predicted peace, but warned, "If we can't build peace permanently, it won't be just peace."

Survey Is Made By Phone Company On Service Extension

A telephone survey which started in Seminole County last week to determine the requirements for telephone service on the farms of the county has been completed, it was announced.

The completion means that the Southern Bell Telephone Company can now begin to make more detailed working plans which will carry out as soon as materials and equipment for further telephone development are available, according to E. V. Lawton, local manager.

One of the next steps to be taken, when materials and equipment are available, will be the interviewing of residents to determine which of the county's farmers will take telephone service when equipment can be had and actual construction can be started.

"Our aim is to furnish for the rural areas of Seminole County the very best telephone service possible," Mr. Turner stated upon completion of the survey.

Actually the Southern Bell farm telephone expansion organization in 1938 on a general basis had had to be suspended in mid-1942 because the materials and equipment were more urgently needed for war purposes. We look forward to resuming this development as soon as the demands of the armed forces have been fully met."

No charges have been made in the city up to date, but it was the Sheriff's office to which the case had been referred, since the accident happened outside the city limits.

probability of blocking it into a condition for eventual invasion.

In the Philippines, the Yanks advanced four miles on Batan but gains in Manila were measured by yards. Captured documents showed the Japs planned to defend Manila with 2,000 soldiers, but had lost interest in the soft targets on Batan. In much of Candy, a few days ago, the Japanese had advanced four miles below Abucay bay to the eastern bank of the final American defense line in 1942.

A United States Navy task force is now attacking military targets in and around Tokyo. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today in the boldest words of naval history:

The dramatic new war is an increase in a secret special campaign. Nimitz' new advanced headquarters at Guan 1.56. P. M. EST.

It left no doubt that the attack continued and that its success in the opening phase was complete.

At the same time, surface units of the Little Fleet and aircraft of the Pacific Ocean strangle air force are attacking the Japanese. Vol. 1 and from 1 hours to 700 miles to the south.

Mitscher In Charge

Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, famed carrier plane ranger, is directing the attack on Tokyo and its area, which includes the great port of Yokohama and the naval base of Yokosuka on Tokyo Bay, with a task force including battleships. It was America's most highly developed naval force to the Imperial Navy to come out and fight.

Warships of the immensely powerful Little Fleet under Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, are holding Iwo Jima in the Volcanic Islands 750 miles south of Tokyo.

The purpose of the strategic air force are attacking Iwo Jima in its most positions in the Bonin Islands to the north.

Tokyo broadcasts heard by the FCC said that small planes were attacking Tokyo at night in waves and hitting many areas and said the "war battle is still going on."

It was three years two months and a week after the year's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. At attack, Japan had the element of surprise, but the U.S. had but they did not have the American homeland to defend.

Historic Commando

Nimitz' chief of staff had come to Iwo Jima to see the progress of the assault. There are attacks on Iwo Jima, but it was still too early to say who would win the battle.

"Adm. Marc A. Mitscher is in command of a powerful task force of the Asiatic Fleet, which is now attacking enemy aircraft air bases at other military targets in the South China Sea."

This situation has long been待機 in the opportunity to accomplish the safety of every American and man in the Pacific Fleet."

Other fines levied against officers were: Joe Williams,

charged with assault and battery,

$25 or 60 days; Captain William

H. Charles Moore, Willie Nall, and James Henderson, were each fined $10 or 30 days on charges of disorderly conduct.

Case of Maebell Griffin charged

of George McCrum, white and Loyce Moore, colored, were executed.

is to fulfill citizenship obligations or forfeit self government," he said. He scored the citizens of the state away from the election time, and fathers and mothers who did not want their sons or daughters in politics because of its alleged crookedness.

"It is necessary for Kiwanis to uphold public servants of integrity and to accept responsibilities in public office," he declared, and added that after 1945 Democracy was still on the march in the world.

Mr. Dean quoted the Kiwanian objective of stressing spiritual rather than material values. He told of the billion dollar contribution of Kiwanis to the war effort, and of large bank contributions. He traced the organization's growth from its start on Jan. 21, 1915, in Detroit to its present 2,561 clubs and membership of more than 391,000 business and professional men.

Mr. Dean was introduced by Lt. Col. Gandy, governor of the Florida District of Kiwanis. Visitors included Capt. O. P. Simon and Mrs. Simon of the Sanford Naval Air Station; Lt. Col. Sidney Herlong; Roy Brewerton, secretary of the Florida District and Mrs. Brewerton and Snell Duncan, president of Orlando Kiwanis, and Mrs. Duncan.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Mrs. Frank Richards Installed As Leader St. Valentine's Day Observed By School

Mrs. Frank Richards, installed as leader of the Southland School observed St. Valentine's Day with much enthusiasm. The children of the Southland School were installed as Valentine Dinner Tuesday evening. Mr. George Kardamis, Mrs. Harry Hall and Mrs. Max Fundus decorated the library with bright streamers and large red hearts. The dining table was covered with a heart-shaped cloth and red candles and lanterns were arranged at vantage points. Each lady present was presented with a heart corsage for her hair and baskets of holiday candies were placed at each plate.

During the dinner, Mrs. Richards addressed the group, thanking members for their efforts to make the event a success.

The stage was set with shrubbery and vines blooming with red hearts, white lattice trellises and a large frame decked with red ruffles and white lace formed the picture frame for animated Valentines.

The play opened with the small man chorus, which carried heart-shaped lanterns and small valentines.

The children gathered around the dinner tables, where the young ones sang songs and played games. The costumes were carried out the red and white color scheme.

A spotlight was focused on Dan Cupid (C. R. Flowers) who stepped out from the frame with his silver bow and arrow.

The animated Valentines were shown as follows: Sandra and Sandra, Mary and Mary, Eddie and Eddie, and Sandra and Sandra.

The entire performance was well-planned and presented with charm.

Harriet Lee Brown, clad in silver lame and white tulle, entered the program with a piano.

Those present were Mrs. P. N. Whitehead, Mrs. W. W. Whitmore, Mrs. E. M. Tyre, Mrs. Roy Ellis, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Peter Rosenthal, Mrs. W. Barnes, Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Lundquist, Mrs. W. A. Lovell and Mrs. C. R. Dawson were hostesses for the afternoon.

The Valentine motif was carried out by the school department in its annual bridge service on Wednesday, Jan. 10th at 1:00 P. M. in the clubhouse.

Guests included the state director of isolated enemy areas, who had broken out of the walls of the city, and captured many more prisoners, including three officials; the last being

(From The Yale Review)

Remember man, that epic and mortal animal, the small of foot, the traveler of skies, his careless creature grace, his rounded skull, unguarded moments in his guarded eyes; his mortal heart, that wears so

EDITH HENRICH

The Nazis are threatening to use poisonous gas in their last despairing struggle. But it could not be any worse than the poison gas they used before this war began.

Lieut. Col. George McRoy, who recently returned from France and has been recuperating in the Thonjaville hospital, expects to visit Sanford the late part of this month.

John S. Knight, then whom there is no whiner in the publishing business, is reported negotiating for the purchase of radio station WQAM to add to his other Miami property, the Miami Herald. The price is a reported $500,000. But if Knight pays that much for it, it must be worth it.

Lillian Smith, Georgia author of a book about a white man in love with a colored girl, hails the repeal of the poll tax in her native state, and gives credit to the women. "Sometimes men
wonder what more their women have up," she says, "and sometimes they get nervous, for they know there is an iron grip under that velvet touch."

The cost of the war since Pearl Harbor to the present time is $238,000,000,000 (billion), according to Secretary Morgenthau.
That is seven times the total cost of World War I which broke the great depression of 1930. Taxes are not paying 40 percent of current war costs,
the rest is being borrowed for future generations to pay.

Life magazine tells about the boom in Miami real estate, revealing that some properties have been resold four or five times in the past year, each time at an increase in value, some of them jumping 100 percent in price in the short time. With so much money in so many people's pockets,
it is inevitable that something will have to give sometime before the next can for a long time to come. And that's summing.

The Army is 16,000 nurses
short of its goal in providing adequate care for wounded soldiers overseas and planes are steering completion to draft nurses into the Army; as soldiers are drafted when voluntary methods fail. No one can dispute
the necessity for such measures, but one wonders what is to be done of sick civilians in hospitals,
or those who have been severely injured for by conscientious nurses. Meanwhile, thousands of women who could learn to nurse, or be nurses' aids, continue to playbridge and grumble about
the hardships of the war.

Manila Dawn:

Losing their stolen Manila, the Japs would end their defiling occupancy with an orgy of destruction! It is hard to recall any such needless and spiteful fate as the envious little superman visited upon the unfortunate capital city of the lovely Philippines.

That is, excepting the similar fate which the Nazis, spiritual brothers of the Japanese, are wreaking upon the European countries now slipping from their evil grasp.

"Conquer or destroy" is the motto and method of that evil brotherhood. For a time it almost seemed as if half a world could be lost to its owners, and mankind might be left for a long age struggling to carry on modern civilization in a world split between the civilized and the barbarous.
But "God's in his heaven." And though it cannot yet be said that "all's right with the world," dawn is breaking.
God grant that we make better use of the new day than we did of the old one.

For it is not wealth and gadgets that promote civilization. It is men and women who really know what life is for, and why human beings have been set here in this wonderful universe, who appreciate and utilize their limitless opportunities for growth, friendliness, righteousness and cooperation.

No Room For Faction

An exhibit of the work of the Polish underground movement was reported on display recently in a midwestern library. Pictures showed sabotage of German war activities, achievements of Polish flyers in Allied armies, trials and execution of traitors, and a thousand other activities that have, ever since the Nazi conquest, kept Polish national consciousness alive.

The odd fact about inquiries from some local Poles was that they wanted to know whether the exhibit was sponsored by the Lublin or the London Polish government.
The library properly replied that they did not know and did not care, that as American citizens they were interested only in furthering the war against Nazi Germany, an enterprise in which Poles, Americans, British and Russians are all joined. Any factional disputes were of importance only as they aided or hindered the war effort.

This doctrine holds good for all the United Nations.
Victory will come only if they refuse to let themselves be divided by partisan or national differences.

Should They Vote

The proposal to let the 18-year-olds vote leaves school superintendents cold. The magazine, "The Nation's Schools", polled 500 on various phases of the subject, and 68 to 70
per cent voted no.

One superintendent let a cat out of a bag. He said:
"The very reasons that make an 18-year-old a good soldier mentally keep him from being a conservative, sensible voter." This superintendent identifies sense and conservatism.
Not all Americans would agree with him that more conservation was needed in the electorate.

On the other side Doris M. Wheelock, superintendent at Whitman, Neb., said, "With the social studies and school discussions what they are today, many an 18-year-old is better qualified to vote than are his parents."

It sounds like the making of a wonderful fight.

Paint It With Iodine

MELBOURNE TIMES

Never crush a tick with your bare fingers. If you are bitten by a tick, paint the spot with iodine. Those are instructions given by Army doctors in their fight against tularemia (rabbit fever) which until recently was believed to be contracted only from handling rabbits living in the woods.

The pomelos, a native flower
of Mexico, was named after Joel Poinsett, of Charleston, S. C.

Boerrieke, who is 50 years old,
has lost 50 pounds in interment
and is recovering from beriberi.
With him was his steadfast friend in camp, Miss Helen Louise Wolfe, of Beverly Hills,

Calif., a first cousin of Bernard Baruch.

Trained in Manila three years ago while traveling, Miss Wolfe
had known hunger so intensely that she has gone to bed sick at her stomach after a day of hard work at the camp's dishwashing squad. Boerrieke, who taught a course in mining at Santo Tomas seminary at the start of his internment, later organized the camp garden, the green vegetable tables from which saved the lives of many Americans.

Boerrieke found extra work for Miss Wolfe on the garden staff, and she was able to obtain additional rations. In turn she helped him learn how to cook. Their friendship has been one of reciprocal aid and it is typical of the way in which the Christian spirit
has flourished in these sixty acres
of misery.

From a private garden patch Boerrieke harvested vegetables for a quart can of powdered milk
which he showed his prize to Miss Wolfe. She burst into tears. Milk was that precious.

versity this week.

War Problems Of Hospital Recited In Annual Report

He added that if the present hospital building and site could be sold, the proceeds of this sale could be applied towards the cost of a new hospital, provided the new hospital perpetuates the name of Fernald Hospital. Memorial Hospital, as this provision was made in the will of Mrs. Mabel Laughton Fernald, who deeded the present building and site to the City of Sanford.

High praise to the hospital staff and Mrs. Mickler, hospital business manager, in maintaining fine service in the face of over-crowding and help shortage, was contained in the report of H. C. DuBose, as chairman of the hospital Executive Committee.

"Your Committee had a very hectic year, with many new and varied experiences," Mr. DuBose reported. "The hospital has been overburdened with patients during the greater part of the year, as is reflected in the annual statement made by its President, and to supply an adequate force of nurses, cooks, janitors and maids, there has been a tremendous problem. He added that Miss Leslie Poynter, hospital nurse, had suffered a severe accident to one eye during the close of the year which rendered her helpless for several weeks.

"Just how we carried on when her hand was removed from the helm, I could not possibly explain," he declared, "but taking it all and all, we find that the hospital has rendered every service within its power during the entire year, and that those who actually did the work there deserve the highest praise that can be given them."

Mrs. Endor Curlett, as secretary for the Executive Committee, reported that remodeling of the Hospital as begun during the early part of 1943 had been completed, and that a central delivery room, a colored nursery, ward and waiting room had been provided and equipped, and that Venetian blinds had been installed in the rooms of the Hospital devoted to negroes. Substantial donations for these improvements had been received from negro individuals, lodges and churches, she asserted.

A new delivery room had been furnished and equipped by the Chase family, she said, and the negro nursery room had been decorated in the same taste. Other improvements made which local doctors contributed generously included an extra operating room with superior lighting and equipped with a hydraulic table, stainless steel instruments and air conditioning unit.

Special attention was called by Mrs. Curlett to the Emergency, Maternal and Infant Care Program. Governmental funds from the State and Federal Governments for the benefit of the mothers of men in the seven lowest rates of military service. Under this program, she pointed out, 62 mothers were exempt for and the hospital received from the subsidy, $3,223.

One of the most commendable services rendered during the past year, was that of the nurses aiders, said Mrs. Curlett. A class in this course graduated several months ago after a period of instruction by Miss Dorothy Sonnely, a retired Navy nurse, who donated her time to this training work.

These ladies of the Nurses Aides assisted in the Hospital not only during the time of the training, but also during some time after their graduation, as some of you rendering service without charge, Mrs. Curlett stated.

At this point a sum of appreciation was given to the Negroes for their valuable work in training this class, and to the members of this class for the "excellent service" they had given. Thanks was also given to the Blue Club for its assistance in remunerating the nurses, and girls from Seminole High School who had dedicated many hours of their time to assisting the nurses in after school hours.

H. C. DuBose, auditor, reported that the hospital balance at the beginning of the year had been $2,221 and it had received from all sources during the year, $42,349, making a total of $47,570. Total expenditures were $40,818, which left a balance at the close of the year of $6,752. Disbursements and expenditures over $1,000.00 included payment of a $2,000 note carried over from last year.

The following members of the Association attended the meeting: E. W. Lawson, president; Mrs. Endor Curlett, Mrs. Pauline Karp, Mrs. Julius Langford, Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. L. Z. Peterson, Mrs. Louise R. Billie, Mrs. E. E. True, Mrs. T. W. Higginbotham, Mrs. D. J. Dickey, Mrs. Foster

U. S. O. Fighting Battle Against Ennui In Forces

Eases Boredom Of Men In Americas Who Never See Combat

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 16, (AP)—Rumba dance programs by natives of Latin American countries, where many American soldiers are stationed, and imported for the men on duty in bleak Alaskan outposts, are some of the varied types of entertainment the United Service Organizations, which recently observed its fourth anniversary, brings to American men to help them battle boredom.

This wing of the varied activities of the U.S.O., according to William E. Leigh, director of the U.S.O. overseas department, is most important. These men, serving outside the continental United States but at stations throughout the Western Hemisphere and, too, in that combat zone passed them by, Comiso, means headlines, which they do not get for their duty, and thus they suspect that those at home have forgotten them, too.

Long for Companionship

Homesick from months away from familiar faces, Mr. Leigh said, they come to the U.S.O. clubs near their stations for entertainment or, often, merely for the companionship they meet in the staff personnel. Through this friendly attitude of the organization, which draws its support from the public's gifts to the National War Fund, the men are better fit for duty, Mr. Leigh said.

Unable for security reasons to reveal the names of men and women on these posts, Mr. Leigh estimated that they made 3,000,000 visits a month at the U.S.O. Western Hemisphere clubs. They attend dances, parties and take "rubbernecking" trips. Others welcome the mobile units which march through the jungle territory of the Canal Zone and Brazil or touch the isolated islands of the Antilles and the frigid wastes of northern Alaska.

Talents among natives in many of these areas has been developed by U.S.O. directors on duty. There are numerous Puerto Rican soldiers who entertain Puerto Rican soldiers of the United States Army. In the Canal Zone native entertainers have done their stunts at "dockside shows" for men passing through the canal.

Show on Battleship

Professional entertainers, too, are on hand, some giving shows for two years in Latin America. Recently, a local director reported a hit show which lasted for an hour and a half aboard a battleship. The girls changed costume for their variety turns in a curtain which had been drawn modestly with shower curtains.

These units are ready to meet emergency calls over a wide area, Mr. Leigh said. One such group in the Canal Zone had just been flown to Nicaragua, the Galapagos Islands, Ecuador, Peru, Colombia, Honduras and installations in the primitive wilds of those countries.

In Hawaii, Mr. Leigh noted, the U.S.O. uses a former royal palace as an all-service women's club. It is the former palace of Prince Kawanakaj in suburban Honolulu. These women also have the privileges of the Young Women Christian Association building Honolulu proper.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, has nicknamed Mrs. Alice Cooke, territorial director of Hawaii, a "chin-up girl," because of her contributions to service personnel's morale. Mr. Leigh called her one of the U.S.O. tireless volunteers.

We believe in an unwritten law, quite ideal, beyond the range of all human rewards or penalties. This law bids us each and all to share our good things with one another; it bids us to be ready to suffer and die for the common good—men, money or the nation, but for humanity; for those whom we have no power over; for those unknown. It bids us let our selfish will go, in the name of the universal good will. There is no true man who does not, at his best, bow to this kind of ideal.—Charles Fletcher Cole

'First Army Battles Way Near Calcar'

Montgomery Order of The Day Foretells Of Crushing New Attacks On Germans

The Canadian First Army battled into the center of Goch and to within a mile of Calcar on the northern end of the Siegfried Line as a confident order from Field Marshal Montgomery foreshadowed an all-out offensive on the western front.

Berlin, declaring the zero hour is nearing in the north west and east, predicted a massive assault by the Russians on the Oder River 30 to 40 miles east of the German capital. It also claimed the British Second Army had been lunging into the Canadian push to burst through the West Wall defenses guarding the Ruhr.

To the south, the American Third Army broadened its front in Germany to 32 miles, seized a bridge and sped on to the invasion spearhead into the Reich near Vinzenz. The U.S. Seventh Army drove two miles into the Saar basin.

The reinforced German and Russian armies battered furiously southeast of Berlin where Berlin said the Reds entered Berlin despite sharp Nazi counter attacks. The Russians continued to push ahead toward Dresden and Berlin's southeastern third belt.

John Russell, fruit and produce merchant of Idaho and Texas, and former Sanford resident, who recently visited Sanford yesterday, Mrs. Russell after an absence of more than 15 years, died suddenly last night in McAllen, Texas, of a heart attack, according to word received by his nephew, Fred Russell.

Mr. Russell was born in Kansas and was 80 years old. He lived in Sanford about 14 years and built the large home on East Second Street later occupied by Dr. Marshall. He left Sanford 16 years ago to engage in the produce business in Caldwell, Idaho.

With Mrs. Russell, he recently visited their son, Howard Russell, S. B. USNR, who is attached to an air control and radio unit at the Vero Beach Naval Air Station. Another son, Edmond, was recently killed while serving as an Army aerial gunner in New Guinea.

Survivors in Seminole County include a brother, H. T. Russell of Lake Mary; a niece, Mrs. John R. Jones, and three nephews, Ralph Chapman, Foyder Russell and Harry Russell, all of Sanford.

The body will be brought to the Erickson Funeral Home Thursday morning and funeral and burial will take place Friday at a time to be announced later.

Lot Sales Reported In Negro Section

Much activity is reported in the colored subdivision known as Hookerton, located west of Lake Monroe on Orange Boulevard. Colored people are purchasing lots for post-war developments, and during the past 60 days there have been at least 30 purchases of lots. It was reported by L. B. Mann who took over the development last Fall.

"This colored section has great possibilities in the future and may, sooner or later, be one of the leading negro communities in the town, being ideally located near the river, where they can fish at any time. Also nearby there is a fine, scenic negro school," said Mr. Mann.

Southern Democrats Organize To Offset Effects Of Wallace As Commerce Head

Washington, Feb. 18.—Southern Democrats are planning a drive in the wake of passage of the George Bill, launched a movement last night to try to influence President Roosevelt to nominate a Southerner to the Federal Trade Commission.

The measure, introduced earlier this month, would give the Secretary of Commerce power by the end of the year to federalize the nation's 130 cotton gins. The bill, introduced by Sen. George W. Norris, D., of Nebraska, would make public the sale of cotton gins to foreign buyers. It would also prohibit the Secretary of State from authorizing the sale of cotton to any country other than the United States.

After a brief reprieve, the northern forces and members of the Viet Cong from Russia, Vichy, and Thailand, which Japan could be expected to join, parts of North China and Siberia.

Price Ceilings Disasters Said Announced On To Have Reduced Cheap Clothing Strawberry Crop

Full Effect Of Extension Of Present Price Ceiling Are Requested of OPA

WICHITA, KAN., Feb. 18.—The action of Congress in extending price controls to the food and clothing industries, which manufacturers are asked to obtain from the government, will be forced through.

Congress is set to be swaying up to the White House to insist on a new, more stringent bill of controls before the month is out. The measure, which would extend the existing ceiling on food and clothing to all sectors of the economy, is to be introduced by Rep. George H. Mahon, D., of Texas, and Sen. George W. Norris, D., of Nebraska.

Men's regular sized short range of 40 cent to 50 cent men's business suit $37.50; women's dress $37.50; house dresses $37.50; children's suits $12.50; children's coats $12.50; children's shoes $12.50; children's hats $12.50.

The ceilings range OPA is planned to cover differences in quality in kind of cloth used and to allow for higher retail ceilings on garments bought from wholesalers than when they are purchased direct from manufacturer.

OPA, sponsor of the clothing program with WPA, has committed itself to roll back "over inflated" clothing prices by re-enacting inflated clothing prices by seven per cent. It is up to what extent this first step in the program will accomplish in that objective.

The agency said that to a lesser extent, the rollback of the National Clothing Bill will be achieved by returning to store shelves inexpensive clothing now unavailable.

WPA's part in the program is to channel 75 per cent of all civilian fabric to low and popularly-priced garments. The measure is intended to "freeze" or ration to a considerable extent buying of so-called luxury clothing items other expensive fabric products.

Under the OPA cotton action, "practically all infants' and children's apparel of such material and a very large part of men's and women's cotton garments will have tags attached by manufacturers to show exactly what the retail selling price is," the agency said.

This may an understand pricing method will apply to from 65 to 90 per cent of all civilian cotton garments manufactured when the program becomes fully operative, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said.

These garments, he added, "will not appear in stores overnight, but should become available in quantity in the early Summer."
