BIG MEETING OF CATTLE MEN HERE

SEMINOLE, VOLUSIA, BREVARD ORANGE, OSCEOLA, OKEECHOBEE AND ST. LUCIE COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED AT MEETING

Seminole county will be included in the list of Florida counties carrying on systematic dipping of cattle for eradication of the cattle fever ticks.

The meeting of cattle owners and county officials in Sanford yesterday brought the announcement by the county commissioners that they will be ready, and by the cattle owners that they are anxious to clean up this year.

Dr. W. F. Blackman was elected to serve as chairman, in the absence of Seth Woodruff who is chairman of the temporary organization which called the meeting. Alfred Foster is secretary and called the meeting to order.

About one hundred cattlemen from Seminole, Volusia, Orange, Brevard, Osceola, Okeechobee and St. Lucie counties were present.

Although the purpose of this meeting was to discuss conditions and time of starting work in Seminole, Volusia and Brevard counties, the gentlemen from the lower part of the state were particularly interested in action to be taken regarding work in Brevard county as affecting their interests in neighboring counties.

J. A. Brumby, speaking for our board of county commissioners, said that every vat will be ready by April 1st, the county has invested considerable money in preparatory work, and the cattlemen want to clean up this year and they are going to answer ready.

Charles Entzinger and E. H. Kilmer both said they could not see any necessity for putting off the work until next year, waiting for Volusia county to get ready. This county has a harder boundary to clean up along the Orange and Lake county lines and the cattlemen will be prosecuted if their ticky cattle get into either of those two counties.

Several of the cattle owners also expressed their desire to get to work as quick as possible.

M. O. Overstreet, chairman of the Orange county board stated that the state has promised to protect their borders from cattle drifting across, the protection being in the form of prosecutions against owners of cattle violating the quarantine, and that the county commissioners would hold the officials strictly to account in the matter. He told of the late start made in that county last year, necessitating some clean up this season, but said the money it has cost has been a permanent investment of great value to the county.

C. T. Smith, manager for the Caloushatchee Ranch, in Orange county stated that the cattle owners did not report violations last year, as they wanted to be lenient with their neighbors across the line, but he is sure the same men will promptly report all violations this year, to protect their own property interests.

The exact status of Brevard county was not decided at the meeting, none of the county officials being present, but the cattlemen present said the county will be ready in two weeks. Volusia county cannot get ready and that is causing considerable argument as to methods to follow in the southern part. Most of the cattle owners want to divide the county and work the southern portion with Brevard and Seminole, while others want to wait until next year. Owing to a large number of vats having to be put in where the water level at this season of year is near top of ground, it will be impossible to get the necessary vats completed before June or July in that county.

R. W. Storrs, a member of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board at conclusion of the reports by cattlemen and officials said: "I think I am safe in saying that our board at the meeting next week will promulgate quarantine notices and authorize the start of systematic dipping of cattle at once in Seminole county, as you are practically unanimous in saying

Death of Rev. J. Lawton Moon

The very sad and unexpected news of the death of Rev. J. Lawton Moon came by wire to Mrs. Moon Tuesday night. It was a shock, as Mrs. Moon had received a cable last Saturday saying that he had arrived safely.

Bro. Moon was one of our best beloved ministers of the Florida conference. He graduated at Emory College and went from there to Cuba as a missionary. After serving there for a short while he came to the Florida conference where he has served most efficiently for the past fifteen years. He served as pastor at Ft. Meade for four years and built the beautiful Methodist church there. He made many warm friends wherever he went. His last charge was at Bradentown. He was much loved by the people of Bradentown and they were loath to give him up. He felt the call to the Y. M. C. A. Overseas work and left for that work and was accepted. He was eminently fitted and suited to that work.

He leaves a wife, son, father, mother, two brothers and three sisters, with many devoted friends to mourn his death.

Mrs. Moon was Miss Carrie Chappell, a sister of H. H. and A. R. Chappell and Mrs. Davis of Sanford.

It is expected that the body will be returned to Volusia and will either be interred in Florida or Georgia, final arrangements not having been made as yet.

PROMINENT A. C. L. OFFICIALS HERE

ARE MAKING AN INSPECTION ALONG ROUTE OF THIS LINE OF RAILROAD AND CALLED AT SANFORD

Sanford was visited yesterday by several very prominent Atlantic Coast-Line officials who are making an inspection trip through Florida, visiting each point of connection along the line. The party travels in two private cars and are traveling southbound at this time, arriving in Sanford at 10:15 and leaving at 11:15 a. m.

At the depot the party were met by Mayor Davison and an automobile party of several Sanford men and were invited to take a short trip through the celery farming district here, which they gladly accepted. The men in the party were delighted with the short trip, visiting the celery fields and talking with the farmers about the present crop and their transportation problems.

The party consisted of the following: R. L. Winchell, Regional Director of the Southeastern Region, whose headquarters are in Atlanta; J. N. Brand, Asst. General Manager of the A. C. L.; Lyman Delano, Federal Manager of the A. C. L. system and Mrs. Delano and J. C. Murchison, General Superintendent of the A. C. L.

From Sanford the party left for Orlando and Kissimmee where similar visits were made yesterday.

With this excellent organization this fine class of young men should be able to do excellent work the coming year and it is expected that the class will thrive under this fine corps of officers.

Mrs. R. E. Millen who has been at Port Orange for several months returned home Sunday. Her numerous friends hope for her a continued improvement and speedy recovery.

SEMINOLE HOTEL IS IMPROVED

POPULAR HOTEL IS BEING REMODELED AND ANOTHER STORY ADDED WHICH WILL MAKE ATTRACTIVE HOTELRY WHEN COMPLETED

Another hotel improvement for Sanford which will prove a great assistance in caring for our visitors is the improvements being made by B. W. Herndon on the Seminole.

The Seminole has been a very popular hotel since the day it was first opened, but the small size has proven a decided handicap. It has formerly occupied only one floor of the Herndon building at the corner of Second and Park avenues and contained scarcely more than a dozen rooms.

Workmen are now busy remodeling the first floor of this building and when the present plans are completed the hotel will occupy both floors. A dining room is being built near the front on the first floor and several more rooms are being added. This will make a very nice little hotel, complete and modern in every detail with dining room, lobby and a good number of modern bedrooms.

It is expected that this hotel will be ready in a few months. This with the new Valdez which is contemplated and the other hotels of the city will be ample to accommodate the many visitors who desire to stop in the city.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS THE ISSUE

THIS IS THE ONE BIG SUBJECT BEFORE CONGRESS AND THE PRESIDENT AT THIS TIME

Washington, Feb. 27.—Renewed discussion of the league of nations plan was resumed in corridors and cloak rooms this afternoon following dinner at the White House last night at which President Wilson outlined the reasons upon which he predicates his belief that the future peace of the world rests upon such an organization.

Republicans opposed to the league plan, however, apparently had not changed their views and will continue to voice opposition in the senate until congress adjourns Tuesday.

There will be replies from the democratic side, Sen. Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee, planning to speak briefly on the subject. Sen. Lodge, republican leader, who will speak tomorrow, had completed preparation of his address and given considerable attention to newspaper correspondents before last night's resignation.

Discussion at the White House was not held back. The President told senators and representatives that unless America joined the league, the whole plan would fall and the world would be in a state of chaos. He pointed out that had a dozen new nations had come from the capable of the great war and said the great nations must combine to protect them until they are able to stand alone.

The success of the entire plan, the President was quoted as saying, depended entirely on the friendship of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan and importance of the league might result from the withdrawal of any of them. Serious trouble has been the two associated nations was said by the President to be unworkable and he contended a league already existed through reference to agreements already entered into.

Formation of the league carried with it surrender of some sovereignty. The President told his guests and there could have been no consent of nations to guard against war unless each was willing to make some concessions.

Sen. Brandegee of Connecticut, republican took the lead in questioning the President. Sens. Lodge and Knox of Pennsylvania contended themselves largely with listening to the discussion. No secrecy was imposed on the guests, the President stating at the outset that they were free to discuss afterwards what transpired.

Replying to specific questions the President was declared to have said that America was free to withdraw from the league at any time, that the Monroe doctrine was not contravened because all signatory nations would be obliged to uphold it and that recommendations of the executive council for world disarmament could not become effective until each nation approved them and thus had a voice in the apportionment of such armament.

Presbyterian Church

Last Sunday was a fine day for the Presbyterian church with good congregations at all the services. Hours of service next Sunday: Morning school 10:15 a. m. Morning worship 11:30. Christian Endeavor 6:30 p. m. Evening worship 7:30 p. m.

Excellent Celery Prices

Celery is going forward at the rate of several cars per day. The quality is reported good and prices excellent. At present there is every indication that this will be one of the best seasons in the history of the trucking industry of Sanford.

It is hoped that the distributors of this Sanford product will use every effort to properly distribute the shipments to the several points and not flood any particular point with too much. In this way prices will be maintained and all will have the opportunity to use and enjoy this excellent product of Sanford soil.

Annual Meeting Woman's Club

The members of the Woman's Club of Sanford are reminded that on Wednesday, March 5th, at 3 p. m. will be held the annual meeting of this club and that election of officers will take place at that time. As the Woman's Club is an incorporated organization, in order to meet the requirements of the law, there must be present a quorum of the membership, and it therefore becomes the duty of every member to be present. Annual dues are payable at this time also, and as the funds in the treasury are low it is hoped that the members will respond.

By order of the president,
Charlotte K. Watson,
Rec. Sec'y.

Matinee Birthday Party

Little Miss Carmen Guthrie invited a few of her little friends to attend the matinee with her Monday afternoon, celebrating her sixth birthday.

Later in the afternoon little Miss Guthrie invited the little guests to the ice cream parlor and served them with delightful refreshments, after which they went to the photographers and had their pictures taken.

Mrs. Ben Guthrie chaperones the little misses.
Those enjoying the delightful afternoon were Dorothy Lawson, Margaret Britt, Evelyn Peabody and Carmen Guthrie.

MONUMENT PRESENTED ON SUNDAY

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY WAS WITNESSED BY LARGE ASSEMBLY OF CITIZENS FROM THIS SECTION OF STATE

One of the most impressive ceremonies witnessed by Sanford and Seminole county audiences in many days was that of the unveiling of the Soldiers' Monument in Central Park on last Sunday afternoon.

With over 1500 people present from this and adjoining counties a beautiful program was carried out with G. W. Spencer acting as chairman. The speeches of presentation and acceptance, as well as the oration were forceful and inspiring, touching upon the valor of Seminole boys who were lost in the Great Cause.

The monument, which is a beautiful piece of marble presented to the county by F. L. Miller of the Milvis Marble Co., was unveiled by little Beth Lossing, sister of one of the boys who was killed in France. It is inscribed with the names of the boys who were lost, the date of presentation and the fitting quotation: "Only those are fit to live who do not fear to die."

The monument is in the form of a broken shaft, emblematical of the lives which were given to the cause of Right and Justice in the prime of their young manhood. It will forever stand in Central Park as a constant reminder of the valorous deeds of these our boys who gave their lives that others might live.

The names of the boys inscribed on the monument are as follows: Frank A. Campbell, Arthur D. Lossing, Archie B. Liles, Jos. S. Luig, J. Oscar White, Harry Phillips, Carl Malin, Edwin J. Robinson, M. W. Lovell, Jr., Geo. W. Calhoun and Handy Jenkins.

The Seminole County Guards were present in a body and took part in the ceremonies under the leadership of Lieuts. Turner and Maxwell, assisted by Lieut. Geo. A. DeWittes, recently returned from the army.

The program as carried out was as follows:
Invocation Dr. C. D. W. Brower
Presentation and Unveiling of Monument F. L. Miller, Miss Beth Lossing
Reception of Monument Judge E. F. Housholder
Presentation of Banner Dr. E. D. Brownlee
Acceptance Judge Housholder
Chorus Fourteen Girls
Oration Major Forrest Lake (Representing Gov. S. J. Catts)
Star Spangled Banner Mrs. R. E. Herndon
Benediction Rev. A. S. Peck

VALDEZ HOTEL PLANS ACCEPTED

PLANS AS ACCEPTED CALL FOR FOUR STORY BUILDING, THOROUGHLY MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT AND CONTAINING AMPLE ROOM

The plans for the new Valdez Hotel were accepted by the Board of Directors yesterday at a meeting called for that purpose, after going into the matter carefully with Architect Trimble.

The architect's drawing of the new hotel can now be seen at the store of T. J. Miller & Son and all who have seen it agree that the new Valdez will be a beautiful hotel.

The plans as finally accepted call for an addition to the present building of one more story, making in all four stories. This has been contemplated but was never fully decided upon until yesterday. It was found that the present walls of the building will easily support the added story and as this extra story will be needed it will cost less to add it at this time than later. This added story will give a total of 63 bedrooms, 39 with private bath and 24 with connecting bath which will be ample for the present, it is believed.

The new plans call for three parlors, one on each floor, a sun parlor on the back 20 x 10 feet, a dining room on Commercial street 28 x 51 and a coffee room on the Park avenue side. Each room will be connected by telephone and all the other features which go to make up the thoroughly modern hotel will be included in this hotel when completed. The exterior of the present building will be retouched and the entire appearance of the building changed.

Everyone is delighted with the new plans and every Sanford citizen as well as the visitor is anxious to see work begun on the new hotel.

Specifications are now being worked out in the regular manner and in about two weeks these will be ready and the directors will then be ready to advertise for bids for the work of remodeling.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Burdick served tempting refreshments of sandwiches, tea and candy.

Keep Your Saving System Going.

It is poor policy to figure to out your deposit one week and make up the deficiency next pay day. This course will soon break up your saving system. You'll find. Get a little money ahead and then you will wonder how you could have enjoyed yourself a minute while you were living from one pay day to the next, constantly putting off your creditors, and without a cent to fall back on should you become ill or lose your job.—Norton Spirit.

Earthquakes in Italy.

Statistics gathered in Italy throw some light on the question of the relative frequency of earthquakes by day and by night. It has been alleged that the supposed greater frequency of nocturnal quakes is only apparent, being due to the fact that quiet conditions at night make the shocks more readily perceptible. It appears, however, that considering only those shocks which were so intense that they could not have escaped notice at any hour, 965 occurred during the 12 night hours.

Daily Thought.

Were there no Heaven nor hell I should be honest.—John Webster.

Alleviates Earache.

If earache does not occur often possibly home treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so severe while it lasts. Wring out hot cloths and apply them to the ear. This often brings quick relief. Or moisten a small piece of cotton, saturated with sweet oil or lanolin, and place it carefully in the ear. This is generally efficacious if the trouble is caused by the hardening of the wax.

Going Ahead Too Fast.

The young detective was enthusiastic. He had just experienced. Rushing into his chief's office in great excitement he cried: "I've found the assassin! I've got him cornered so that he can't escape!" The chief regarded him with a stern expression. "Allow me," he said, "to check your information on the fact and if proved we will be looking not for the assassin, but for the man who told you so."—Julius.

Simple yet exceedingly rich in effect is this frock of white chiffon cloth daintily beaded and trimmed with all-over net. Panels of the net are used on either side of the skirt. Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry.

The curious combination of an owl and a steel trap in which the bird had become caught and flown away, trapped and still, alighting on a high-powered electric cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Goodfear, Conn., stopped the power and threw several hundred men out of work for several hours. Linemen, after several hours' search, located the owl, burned it a choler.

The Stick-Carrying Habit.

The stick habit is much more common in England than in America. In New York, or Boston, or Chicago, or any other American town for that matter, you seldom see a youngish man carry a stick. As a general thing he is too busy to be bothered with a piece of wood on his hand. He carries his paper or book, and he must have on hand free for a cigar and for raising his hat.

Halt Sand Drifts With Grass Tufts.

Sand is used for railroad embankments in many parts of Holland, but much regard to the roadbed was made necessary by the fact that the tracks piled up and drifted during the high winds. To prevent this drift of coarse sand, tufts of grass have been planted along the slope, and as the roots spread, a well-sodded bank is formed.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Source of Republic's Strength.

Government in a well-constituted republic requires no help from man beyond what his reason authorizes. He sees the weakness of the whole system, its origin and its operation, and as it is best supported when best understood, the logical result is that the citizen should assume the form of government a creature of his own.—Thomas Paine.

Not Originally Military Title.

General, the noun, and the adjective general, the antonym of particular, go back to the Latin generalis, meaning belonging to a race or kind, and itself going to genus, general, from gignere, to beget. Genus is the root of the word genus, the Roman general being an ancestor. The title of general is a military function, an officer holding a general command.

Patriotic Air Roused Her.

A Quince girl returned from a dance, recently at about 3 a. m. and could not be awakened for work. The alarm clock had no effect, nor did repeated calls from members of the family. Her little brother looked the ravine, but the girl was no waker. Finally "The Star-Spangled Banner" was played, and to that the patriotic girl immediately responded.—Boston Globe.

Advice Soldiers Need Not Take.

Sergeant, the French for which is sergeant, the Italian sergente, comes from the medieval Latin word serganeus, meaning a servant, a vassal, or a vessel soldier who seems to have noted as an orderly or scribe. "Fall this to your sergeant some warm day when he criticizes your appearance on parade in his course, unfeeling manner. It will soften him. It may even melt him.—New York Evening Post.

Just What He Had Done.

Charlie, trying to amuse himself as best he could, came out of the garage dragging an old cobwebby umbrella, which after much exertion he was able to open over his head. His grandmother, coming to the door, called out, "Charlie, you put that umbrella right up this minute." Charlie piped back, "I has dot it up and Ise doin for a walk."

The waist has the front trimmed with a broad panel of self-material outlined with large black satin buttons. The long panel at the back is also of black satin. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch satin and 5 yards 4-inch crepe. Pictorial Review Costume No. 7950. Sizes, 16 and 20 years. Price, 25 cents.

Linked France and Scotland.

The small border, or trossure, which surrounds the arms of Scotland in the British coat of arms is the emblem of preservation or protection. A legend states that the border was given to Aethus, king of the Scots, by Charles IX. as a pledge that the French king should defend the Scottish throne. The significance of this lies in the design of the border, which is composed of fleur-de-lis.

Cold-Water Cure.

If our eyes are in good order we may keep them so by opening them under cold water every morning when we wash, hot cold water for strong eyes; weak ones should use it tepid. Therein. Keep your powder dissolved ready mixed in a bottle, then you won't have to make it up every day.

Ability of the Aged.

It has often been said that a man cannot learn a new trade after he is forty, but this statement has frequently been disproved. Peter S. Du Pont was eighty when he wrote his valuable treatise on the Cochran Chinese language, and had only then recently taken up the study; and the late John Bigelow was still an author turning out a book when he passed his ninety-fifth birthday.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Opportunity to Be Seized.

A porter in London was engaged in cleaning a luggage van, when the door swung back, striking him violently on the head. "Oh! Pat," he exclaimed to an Irishman standing on the platform, "I believe I've cut open my head." "Well, begor, now's the time to get something into it," was Pat's witty reply.

Get Out of the Rut Occasionally.

There is sometimes no harm, and often a beneficial for a spell, and many a time it loosens up the strings of the heart to be extravagant, even like the young boy at the circus who said: "I got 15 cents, and I got 20 cents, and I got it all on peanuts, and I don't need a turn who knows it, neither."

Fashions in Humor.

A lady once suggested "Alice in Wonderland" to a steady-going man. The volume was soon returned with thanks and with the explanation that what was wanted was something light, not all these puzzles. Unfortunately there are fashions in humor.

Historic Island.

Thomas Paine's Island is a small island in the Ohio river about two miles below Fort Snare, W. Va. It has been in history. It gets its name from having been once owned by Thomas Paine, a wealthy Philadelphia merchant, who built a fine residence on it. While living there he became friendly with Aaron Burr's associates and reasonably schemes, and they proved his ruin.

Husband Charges Deception.

A Connecticut man, residing in the city of New York, when he was counting his wife, she always met him at the front door with a kitchen apron on, leading him to believe she was domestic in her taste, and after he married he learned to his dismay that she had never worn aprons. This he had an egg and she had a hat. The alternative of boarding or staying out.—Houston Post.

All Sailors Superstitious.

All sailors are superstitious, but none is so completely under this influence as the old deep-sea fisherman. He puts the deepest faith in "signs" and omens of all kinds. Nothing would induce a skipper of the old school to sail on a Friday; one intrepid unbeliever who dared to leave the docks at Greenwich, England, on a Good Friday was hoisted through the back gates by the scandalized populace. In spite of this challenging the fates, however, he returned safely with ship and crew.

Mr. T. O. Charles

I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:

Color	Clear	Colorless	1.25 parts per million
Reaction	Slightly Acid	Reaction	5.80 parts per million
Total Alkalinity	50 parts per million	Total Hardness	25.31 parts per million
Aluminum Ammonia	Trace	Nitrate	Trace

The absence generally of free and albuminous amounts in this water and its very small amount of chlorine indicate its excellent quality for household purposes. Keep Your Saving System Going.

It's poor policy to figure to cut your deposit one week and make up the deficiency next pay day. This course will soon break up your saving system. You'll find. Get a little money ahead and then you will wonder how you could have enjoyed yourself an infant while you were living from one pay day to the next, constantly putting off your creditors, and without a cent to fall back on should you become ill or lose your job.—Norton Spirit.

Earthquakes in Italy.

Statistics gathered in Italy throw some light on the question of the relative frequency of earthquakes by day and by night. It has been alleged that the supposed greater frequency of nocturnal quakes is only apparent, being due to the fact that quiet conditions at night make the shocks more readily perceptible. It appears, however, that considering only those shocks which were so intense that they could not have escaped notice at any hour, 865 occurred during the 12 night hours.

Daily Thought.

Were there no Heaven nor hell I should be honest.—John Webster.

Alleviates Earache.

If earache does not occur often possibly home treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so severe while it lasts. Write out hot cloths and apply them to the ear. This often brings quick relief. Or moisten a small piece of cotton, saturated with sweet oil or lanolin and place it carefully in the ear. This is generally efficacious if the trouble is caused by the hardening of the wax.

Going Ahead Too Fast.

The young detective was enthusiastic but inexperienced. Rushing into his chief's office, "Great excitement," he cried. "I've found the assassin! I've got him cornered so that he can't escape!" The chief regarded him with a stern frown. "Allow me to say," he drawl, "your attention to the fact that at present we are looking not for the assassin, but for clues."—Julius.

The Stick-Carrying Habit.

The stick habit is much more common in England than in America. In New York, or Boston, or Chicago, or any other American town for that matter, you seldom see a youngish man carry a stick. As a general thing it is too heavy to be hoisted with a piece of wood in the hand. He carries his paper of course, and he must have one hand free for a cigar and for raising his hat.

Source of Republic's Strength.

Government in a well-constituted republic required no belief from man beyond what his reason authorizes. He sees the rationale of the whole system, its origin and its operations, and as this is best supported when he understands the human element and with it the moral and political principles of the system.—Thomas Paine.

Not Originally Military Title.

General, the noun, and the adjective, go back to the Latin generalis, meaning belonging to a race of land, and itself tracing its roots to gen, from genens, to beget. Generals in the army and Pompey's day had nothing to do with the army, the Roman general being an operator. The title, however, in this means an officer holding a general command.

Patriotic Air Roused Her.

A Quince girl returned from a dance, recently at about 3 a. m. and could not be awakened for work. The alarm clock had no effect, nor did repeated calls from members of the family. Her little brother teased the revivify, but the girl was no soldier. Finally "The Star-Spangled Banner" was played, and to that the patriotic girl immediately responded.—Boston Globe.

Advice Soldiers Need Not Take.

Sergeant, the French for which is sergeant, the Italian sergente, comes from the medieval Latin word servus, meaning a servant, a vassal, or a soldier. A soldier who seems to have acted as an orderly or striker. Tell this to your sergeant some warm day when he criticizes your appearance on parade in his coarse, unfeeling manner. It will soften him. It may even melt him.—New York Evening Post.

Just What He Had Done.

Charlie, trying to amuse himself as best he could, came out of the garage dragging an old cobwebby umbrella, which after much exertion, he was able to open over his head. His grandmother, coming to the door, called out, "Charlie, you put that umbrella right up this minute." Charlie piped back, "I has dot it up and I see dain for a walk."

Protection From Live Wires.

For the sure protection of linemen handling live wires a pair of gloves inside and one outside of the rubber gloves have been recommended. The woven fabric inside glove takes up perspiration and shields the rubber from the finger nails and a leathery scum over the rubber glove protects from outside mechanical injury, aids in grasping tools and keeps the hands warm in winter.

Transfer, blue or yellow, 15 cents.

Owl Stopped Wheels of Industry.

The curious combination of an owl and a factory is the title of a story in the current issue of the "Littell's Living Age." The owl, it is said, alighted on a high-powered electric cable carrying 11,000 volts of electricity to run a mill at Goodyear, Conn., stopped the power and threw several hundred men out of work for several hours. Lluemien, after several hours' search, located the owl, lured to a choker.

Get Out of the Rut Occasionally.

There is something to be learned, and often a beautiful one, in just being out of the rut for a spell. And many a time it loosens up the strings of the heart to be extravagant, even like the country boy at the circus who said: "I've got 15 cents and I'm going to spend it all on peanuts, and I don't care a damn who loses it, neither."

Fashions in Humor.

A lady once quipped "Alice in Wonderland" for a steady-going nation. The volume was soon returned with thanks and with the explanation that what was wanted was something slight, not all those puzzles. Unquestionably, there are fashions in humor.

His 'pric' Island.

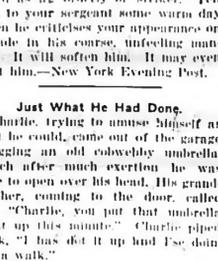

The "pric" island is a small island in the Ohio river about two miles long. It is a very fertile island, and it is a very interesting one. It is a very interesting one. It is a very interesting one.

Husband Meets Deception.

A man in the city was sitting at the front door with a kitchen apron on, leading him to believe she was domestic in her taste, and after he married he learned to his dismay that she had never even heard of how to hold an egg and that she was the alternative of laughing or crying out.—Houston Post.

All Sailors Superstitious.

All sailors are superstitious, but some are completely under this influence as the old deep-sea fisherman. He puts the deepest faith in "shigs" and omens of all kinds. Nothing would induce a skipper of the old school to sail on a Friday. The intrepid unbeliever who dared to leave the docks at Grimsby, England, on a Good Friday was hoisted through the lock gates by the scandalized populace. In spite of this challenging the fates, however, he returned safely with ship and crew.

A VOGE OF THE DAY.

A semi-formal frock of figured crepe combined with satin is featured here. The skirt is laid in three tiers, narrow, but cleverly arranged to suggest fullness. The waist has the front trimmed with a broad panel of self-material outlined with large black satin buttons. The long panel at the back is also of black satin. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch satin and 5 yards 4-inch crepe. Pictorial Review Costume No. 7950. Sizes, 16 and 20 years. Price, 25 cents.

Linked France and Scotland.

The small border, or tressure, which surrounds the arms of Scotland in the British coat of arms is the emblem of preservation or protection. A legend states that the border was given to Achamus, King of the Scots, by Charlemagne as a pledge that the French allies should defend the Scottish lion. The significance of this lies in the design of the border, which is composed of fleur-de-lis.

Cold-Water Cure.

If our eyes are in good order we may keep them so by opening them under cold water every morning when we wash, but cold water is for strong eyes; weak ones should use it tepid, with a little boracic powder dissolved therein. Keep your boracic solution ready mixed in a bottle, then you won't have to make it up every day.

Ability of the Aged.

It has often been said that a man cannot learn a new trade after he is forty, but this statement has frequently been disproved. Peter S. Du Pont was eighty when he wrote his valuable treatise on the Cochlin Chinese language, and had only then recently taken up the study; and the late John B. Hewson was still an author turning out a book when he passed his ninety-fifth birthday.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Opportunity to Be Seized.

A porter in London was once cleaning a lamp when, when the door swung back, striking him violently on the head. "Oh! Pat," he exclaimed to an Irishman standing on the platform, "I believe I've cut open my head." "Well, begor, now's the time to get something into it," was Pat's witty reply.

ELDER SPRINGS WATER

THOMAS O. CHARLES, PH. D.

Natural and Analytical Chemist, Professional of Natural Springs, Analytical and Consulting Chemist, Gainesville, Florida

Private Laboratory of Radium, Gallium, Water Park, Fla., Nov. 10th, 1918

Dear Sir:

I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:

Color	Clear	Chlorine	1.75 parts per million
Reaction	Neutral	Total Solids	5.00 parts per million
Total Ammonia	30 parts per million	Total Hardness	51.00 parts per million
Abnormal Amounts	None	Total Solids	5.00 parts per million

The absence practically of free and abnormal amounts in this water and its very small amount of chlorine indicates its excellent quality for household purposes. In addition to the good quality characteristics of superior household water, it possesses special features of much value, especially those of certain natural mineral water and LITHIUM.

The bacteriological analysis, resulting in an average total count in full samples of the water of 1 bacterium per cent and in finding no coliform or other bacterial bacteria, fully confirm its good quality, indicated by the chemical analysis.

Of the many water of Florida and other regions that I have analyzed, I have found none superior in all good qualities to that of the "Elder Springs Water."

Yours very respectfully,

All America is holding its breath until it shall find out the whereabouts of the Monroe doctrine.

President Wilson's fourteen points evidently made a strong impression upon the fourteen nations that signed the league constitution.

Maybe when President Wilson is again settled at the White House he and the senate will hold a love feast—and then again maybe they won't.

It is a question which brings the greatest aggregate amount of joy to America—the day when a transport from France arrives or the day when the price of butter drops a cent a pound.

Premier Clemenceau says that President Wilson is "the most stubborn man he ever encountered." It will be recalled that the emblem of the Democratic party is a sturgeon, one, and that the emblem of the United States is a determined as it is powerful.

We said in this column last week that the light and power service was very bad. The service is still bad at times and may continue until parts are obtained for the repairing of the big engine in the plant that was almost wrecked last week.

The Herald has the assurance from the new manager, however, that he has instructions to spare neither money nor matter to put this plant in first class condition as early as possible and we believe it will be done. The company has a large investment in Sanford and they cannot afford to do otherwise so that keep it up to standard. Two competent engineers have recently been added to the force and the general situation will be most satisfactory.

We still hope, however, that the municipal plant is the thing of the season. We can hope if the matter will be for the better.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS
It is a difficult matter to turn the clock back five years, especially if within those five years the world has had a century's experience of pain and wrong and suffering and fear.

Yet it is a matter of the nations and the world. The nations are the units of the world, and the world is the sum of the nations. The nations are the units of the world, and the world is the sum of the nations.

That day is ever long. Through disaster and suffering the new brotherhood of the world has come into existence. No man has to himself alone and to his own race, but all are brothers and all are one.

The League of Nations has been formed. It is the expression of a truth that will become more clear to us all as time goes on. That after all the separate interests of the world merge into one great interest.

WHEAT AND FOODSTUFFS
Well, Mr. High Cost of Living is getting some serious blows nowadays. He is beginning to feel the effect, but the process will be a slow one, and it will be some time before he is ready to throw up the sponge.

The high prices of the past two years have encouraged production in this country tremendously. We have great crops of wheat and corn and heavy production of beef and pork.

The calls of the Allies have lessened and the U. S. government will require less and less as the army demobilizes. The result will be a gradual further lowering of prices.

Just now the factor in keeping them up seems to be the government's guarantee of the price of $2.26 for the 1919 wheat crop. Wheat is a standardizer. It keeps up the prices of the other grains—and of feed, and consequently of beef and pork.

But the same cause does not operate in other countries. We may be put in the anomalous position of paying $2.26 for wheat when it sells in the Argentina for not much more than half that price.

The government must keep faith with the farmer. He has been loyal and willing and has planted wheat at the government's request.

Two courses are suggested—one that the government should buy the wheat at $2.26 and sell it at the market price. The other suggestion is that the government should pay the farmer the difference between $2.26 and the price at which he sells his crop. Either way would give us wheat and consequently flour and bread, at lower prices, and also safeguard the farmer. The loss would ultimately come out of the pockets of the taxpayer.

GET BEHIND THE VICTORY LOAN
Recent news dispatches from Washington seem to have created the impression in some quarters that the Treasury Department has decided NOT to float another Liberty Loan.

These reports were based upon the proceedings of the House Ways and Means committees when Treasury representatives appeared to lay that body plans for future war finances. The Secretary of the Treasury asked for authority to issue short time securities instead of bonds which would mature in ten, fifteen, twenty or twenty-five years.

The fact that a new form of security may be offered does NOT change the plans for the VICTORY LOAN. There will be another popular war loan, beginning not later than April 21st. A nation-wide campaign, similar to those conducted for the sale of previous bond issues will be put on in every state, county and city in the United States. The representatives of the Treasury Department are expected to meet in Washington without such a campaign.

standardizer. It keeps up the prices of the other grains—and of feed, and consequently of beef and pork.

But the same cause does not operate in other countries. We may be put in the anomalous position of paying $2.26 for wheat when it sells in the Argentina for not much more than half that price.

The government must keep faith with the farmer. He has been loyal and willing and has planted wheat at the government's request.

Two courses are suggested—one that the government should buy the wheat at $2.26 and sell it at the market price. The other suggestion is that the government should pay the farmer the difference between $2.26 and the price at which he sells his crop. Either way would give us wheat and consequently flour and bread, at lower prices, and also safeguard the farmer. The loss would ultimately come out of the pockets of the taxpayer.

GET BEHIND THE VICTORY LOAN
Recent news dispatches from Washington seem to have created the impression in some quarters that the Treasury Department has decided NOT to float another Liberty Loan.

These reports were based upon the proceedings of the House Ways and Means committees when Treasury representatives appeared to lay that body plans for future war finances. The Secretary of the Treasury asked for authority to issue short time securities instead of bonds which would mature in ten, fifteen, twenty or twenty-five years.

The fact that a new form of security may be offered does NOT change the plans for the VICTORY LOAN. There will be another popular war loan, beginning not later than April 21st. A nation-wide campaign, similar to those conducted for the sale of previous bond issues will be put on in every state, county and city in the United States. The representatives of the Treasury Department are expected to meet in Washington without such a campaign.

The terms and terms of security to be offered remain to be determined. Whether they will be timed to coincide with the war effort or to be a separate period of it is absolutely essential that the most possible measures of distribution be realized.

The Liberty Loan campaign has been planned for the month of April, beginning on April 21st. It is expected that the Treasury Department will meet in Washington without such a campaign.

"Our Boys are Coming Home Again"

Our boys are coming home again,
From out the gates of hell,
And most of them, we hope, and trust,
Unharm'd by shot or shell,
And when they come, oh how we'll cheer,
And glad and loud and long,
And give them a good welcome,
For the tidings those will bring,
Of boys we've loved and miss'd,
Of peace in all the world,
Of Freedom's Banner flying on high,
And to the breeze up-birdied,
In many lands where brave hearts
Have far from home been tried,
We'll cheer and shout and sing,
And give them a good welcome.

And when they come, oh how we'll cheer,
And glad and loud and long,
And give them a good welcome,
For the tidings those will bring,
Of boys we've loved and miss'd,

A. W. C. A. Drive Strenuous
The Y. W. C. A. drive recently put on by the ladies of Sanford was a success so far as Sanford is concerned. The quota was raised in a few days by the local ladies in fact and through sales, etc., no one being asked for a cent. Some of the other towns and communities throughout the county have not been heard from but it is expected that they will come up with their portion.

WOMEN GIVE OUT
Housework is hard enough when you're young. Every Sanford woman who has had a headache, time and nervous spots, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles should be glad to find this Sanford woman's experience.

Mrs. L. Y. Bryan, 112 Palmetto Ave., says: "Some years ago I was in awful shape from kidney trouble. I had a terrible soreness in the region of my kidneys and was down and out. It was nearly impossible for me to get around at all. I was nervous and the least little thing set my nerves on edge. Often I got dizzy and black specks floated before my eyes. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I bought a box and they helped me right away. Three boxes entirely rid of this attack and I am glad to recommend Doan's."

Write us at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy. Get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bryan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOLSHEVISM IS ONE OF THE REACTIONS FROM AN AUTOCRACY.

Not having an autoeracy in this country there is naturally no resting place for Bolshevism here.

We have patriotism as compared to Bolshevism.

Patriotism as expressed in two million fighters in France and twenty million holders of Government securities at home is an earnest indication that Bolshevism cannot exist here. Therefore let us

Resolve that we continue our pledges to our Government that we will not dispose of our Liberty Bonds or ask for redemption of our War Savings Stamps except in dire necessity, and will not begrudge our Government the funds it will require to pay the cost of the War and expenses incident to demobilization.

The Fight Is On. "There is nothing," recently said a worker who has been right at the front, "that the personal, religious experience of Christians in America needs more than absolute fearless, self-sacrificing, unflinching courage for the sake of Christ and His Kingdom." Is that true? Is life a battle? Is the right for us? Kingdom of God is at hand? These are the questions at the Convention, Sunday morning at eleven.

Birthday Party. Tuesday afternoon the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Betts was the scene of one of the most delightful parties of the season, when Master Charles Archibald Betts invited about fifty of his little friends and their mothers to help celebrate his second birthday.

The house was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and a dainty little cake with two tiny candles graced the dining table. The little host was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts.

The afternoon was merrily spent by the children playing games and taking pictures after which delightful refreshments of ice cream served in red, white and blue cups and white iced cakes were served.

Later each guest was presented with souvenirs in which were found tissue paper caps and all sorts of little favors.

Literature Dept. of W. C. The regular meeting of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club was held in the club rooms at 7:30 p. m. on Saturday evening, Feb. 23rd.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. L. R. Phillips. The theme for the evening was "The Kingdom of God is at Hand." The program was presented with interest and enthusiasm. The club flower, red roses, were the feature of the program and were presented to the members and friends of the club. The meeting was closed by the chairman, Mrs. L. R. Phillips.

After a brief preliminary business session the splendid program was presented. Mrs. J. W. Barnes read an interesting paper on France, "Our Sister Republic," which was full of valuable information and appropriate quotations. This paper was greatly appreciated by those so fortunate as to be there. Mrs. A. M. Phillips next gave a beautiful vocal selection which, as always, charmed her auditors. The singing of the Marseillaise was the next pleasing feature of the program and was sung by a quartet, Mrs. Ed. Higgins, Mrs. M. A. Phillips, Mrs. Seagran and Mrs. L. Woodruff, with Mrs. Julius Tabach pianist. Mrs. E. M. Galloway introduced to the club Mrs. W. C. A., a national secretary for the W. C. opportunity to prove their interest in this matter of child welfare. It has been the ambition of the president of the club and others specially interested in child welfare to hold mothers' conferences at the club on Welfare Department days, and it is hoped that this may yet be accomplished. The conditions during the war, and the inevitable re-education so far prevented this, but I take pleasure in announcing that on March 31st, Dr. Whitford will be in Sanford to conduct our initial mothers' conference, and each and every mother is invited to attend. It will be an opportunity to meet a charming woman, a capable physician, and an efficient member of our State Health Board. Mothers, who have questions concerning their children unsolved will find in Dr. Whitford a splendid adviser and a sympathetic friend. We hope every one will come to greet her."

An address by Dr. C. DeW. Brower, dwelling on the relation of child welfare to the general activities was very much appreciated.

Supt. Lawton spoke briefly on the meaning and importance to school children of American spirit and principles as portrayed in the lives of our three greatest Presidents, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson. He earnestly begged for a heartier and more sympathetic cooperation of the parents in training the children of our schools to a keener appreciation of the true sense of Americanism and of their duties and responsibilities to their country.

At the close of the exercises delightful refreshments were served by the teachers, assisted by young ladies from the High School.

A Mr. Will Wichter of this county had some hogs that were down with cholera and had given up all hope of saving them and would not spend one penny on them. I gave him one pound of your B. A. Thomas Hog Powder and he has just come in and paid me for it and advises that every one of his sick hogs got well and that he had killed them and now has them in his smoke house and that all were as fine as any he had killed this year.

I want to add that he said his hogs were down and so sick that he had to pry their mouths open and his wife poured the powder down their throats.

Please find check in full of my account and with kind regards we beg to remain, PREVENT HOG CHOLERA. The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder has a record of 95 per cent cures of Hog Cholera. If you feed your hogs as directed you need never fear hog cholera or any other hog-disease. And the directions are very simple, just about what you are doing, plus a few cents' worth of B. A. Thomas' Hog Powder in the feed twice a week.

Usually though Cholera gets in before we know it. Then it requires close attention to each hog—each hog must be dosed—and if you will dose them as directed, you will save better than 90 per cent. If you don't use the B. A. Thomas medicine costs you nothing. We—not some distant manufacturer—pay your money back.

OUR CAPTAIN HERRING

Sanford Man Writes Interesting Letter From France.
Co. A, 121st Inf., A. E. F.,
France, Jan. 25th, 1919.

Editor Holly:

For the benefit of yourself and my many friends in Sanford and Seminole county I will give you a brief sketch of the old 121st Regiment's movements. We spent the winter and spring at Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., where we had very intensive training. In May, 1918, we were moved to Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C. Here I received an appointment to attend the School of Small Arms, at Camp Perry, Ohio. But I hardly arrived at Camp Perry before receiving an order to rejoin my regiment. At Camp Sevier, the regiment was filled to war strength and it was constant drilling all the time. From Camp Sevier we went to Camp Mills, N. Y., and on July 30 at 3 a. m. we left Camp Mills and embarked on board the Empress of Asia. On the following morning we weighed anchor and together with fourteen other ships started across the Atlantic. We were escorted by a battle ship and three torpedo boat destroyers. The voyage was a perfect one. After the first 24 hours the sea was very smooth. We landed in Liverpool, England and entrained for the rest camp at Ramsey. Here we spent two days and while we were at Ramsey we were visited by the 121st Regiment's band. The whole regiment was marched out to the estate and spent several hours roaming over the beautiful grounds. The officers were taken through the manor house by Lady Ashley herself and took tea with the Col. and Mrs. Ashley. The Ashley estate of 7,000 acres is one of the handsomest in all England. From Ramsey we marched to Southampton and embarked on the "A. S." for France. We left Southampton at 8 p. m. Every light on the ship that could be put out. The next morning at 6 a. m. we arrived safely in the harbor of Le Havre, France. From 6 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. we lay in the harbor waiting for orders. Finally we steamed in, debarked and marched to the so-called rest camp which was "perched" on the bluff above the city of Le Havre. Here we spent a very nice and quiet night for we had a "golden" night for our blankets on the board floor till the airplane alarm was given and we had to roll out, get our companies formed and into the trenches. All outdoors, so much as the heat of a match. The next night we entrained and after two nights and a day arrived at Tanley. Here the regiment was split up and the companies billeted in small towns. I was 1st Lieut. in "C" Co. at this time and we went to Melissey. Here we remained for about a month. Melissey is a quiet town and for many hours per day. Early in September to the great joy of the entire outfit we received orders to go to the front. We started on our march, each man and officer carrying his full pack. After two days' hard marching we entrained at Evry. While the weather was cold, it was not freezing, and we camped in a little meadow at Evry, taking train the next morning. The first night we had of the enemy was when an airplane attacked our train. It sailed the full length of the train, firing a machine gun. We were lucky in not losing a few men. After we detrained at a station near Champ le Due, the airplane fled to get us, but we were on a road and the trees shaded us, so the airplane couldn't locate us. From this point we were under shell fire of the Boche guns. We marched by night from Champ le Due to Mayeumont. Here my company formed the garrison for the town for five days. Then we went up on Mere Henry and into the front line trenches. The Germans had the same line they had occupied since 1916. We were very close to the German lines, at one place only 30 yards from them. We shelled the Germans daily and they returned our fire, and we had a little fight almost every night. But the losses were slight. We lived in "dugouts," and had to be very careful to keep from being sniped. After three weeks of this we moved out one night at 12 o'clock and after two nights marching reached Vouzeourt. Here I received my promotion and was attached to Co. C as commanding officer. From Vouzeourt we went to Chatel sur Moselle, where we entrained; passing through Nancy and Toul we detrained at Sumpigny, where we once more took up the march to the front. We marched always by night, as we were under shell fire of the enemy. Passing through St. Mihiel we, after some nights marching relieved the 138th Infantry at Les Reunis. Here we waited for several days and finally on the morning of Nov. 9th we were moved out at 6 a. m. The "drive" started at 6:45 a. m. and the roar of the guns was deafening. My Bn. marched to Handemont and took up a position in the trenches as regimental reserve. Here we lay all day of the 9th and 10th without fire or shelter. We were heavily shelled by the Germans but we kept well under cover and our loss was slight. The 32nd Infantry of my Brigade made the attack on the 9th, then the 3rd Battalion of my Regiment reinforced them on the 10th and renewed the attack. On the morning of the 11th at 5 a. m. the 2nd and 1st Battalions of my Regiment were ordered to attack. The Germans had been driven back about a mile and a half on the two preceding days. So we moved out and through Marchelles (the captured German town) to the attack. It was a bitterly cold morning and there was a dense fog. Just as my company left the road to deploy the Germans laid down a heavy artillery barrage on us, of high explosives with gas. Two shells struck us at almost the same instant—killing seven men and wounding ten. But old "C" Co. was as steady as a clock and deployed just like they were on the drill field back home. We advanced for over a mile creeping in under the German barrage so that our losses were very light, then the German machine guns opened on us. But the fog prevented their seeing us and again our losses were light. In my company only two men were hit by the machine gun fire.

We were right up on the Germans at 11 o'clock when the order came to halt and not to fire on the enemy. I was in the front line and I had been right in the thick of the Germans. The Germans pretty soon fell back; the fog lifted and we could see them leaving their trenches. Then came the news to us that the armistice was signed. The ground was frozen hard and we were all half dead, we were so cold. But in a few minutes we had fires going and gradually thawed out. Our company had lost 143 men. I was wounded and lost my gas mask. I was in the hospital for 7 months. I came home without a scratch. The one thing that saved us was that when the gas began to come on us, we retreated rapidly and got under cover. The Germans could not see on account of the fog and evidently thought we were unable to get through their barrage so they did not move their tanks and most of the gas went over us. It was a great experience. A man lived a whole life time in a few hours. I will always feel very proud of old "C" Co. for I don't believe any troops ever acted better under fire.

After the battle my battalion was designated as out guard, and we went on the ground and garrisoned the front from the 11th to the 17th. Then we marched 160 miles to our present station. I am now in the 121st Infantry, Co. A, 121st Inf., Meuse, near Verdun, France. I am now in the 121st Infantry, Co. A, 121st Inf., Meuse, near Verdun, France. I am now in the 121st Infantry, Co. Surely Not Bump of Knowledge.
O'Brien met the man and noticed he had a big bump on his forehead. "Hello," said O'Brien, "is that a bump of knowledge?" "Indeed, it's not," said Flanagan. "It's a bump of ignorance of knowing nothing about boxing."

Hospitality.
There is no more hospitable, almost untiring, to equip that of the hostess who pours the chatted cream on the guest's penches as if chatted cream were an everyday incident in that household. Blessed is hospitality.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
