

Four Scenic Plans For City Approved

By HILL SCOTT
Four first-year projects with some possible alternatives were approved during this morning's meeting of the Sanford Scenic Improvement Board held at the Seminole Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Tom H. Walls Jr., a Winter Park landscaper, unveiled his recommendation for the first year of a five-year program drawn up with the assistance of the Tri-County Planning Council with a $5,000 grant from the City of Sanford.

Walls would place beautification and landscaping projects at the traffic islands intersecting Lake Monroe and Highway 17-92 on French Avenue; establish a park and picnic area at present Park Avenue at Fourth Street location; utilize pastoral scenes and ornate space with walks at the Marina Park, site of present motel development, and do a landscape plan for Crooms High School.

Arguments Pro And Con On Safeguard

Senate Enters Long Debate On Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the main arguments for and against the Safeguard antiballistic missile — ABM — system as presented to the Senate by majority and minority members of the Armed Services Committee.

For: "It is believed that the Safeguard system will provide the Minuteman with sufficient protection to make it a credible deterrent."

Against: "Even if Safeguard works perfectly as designed, it will be practically nothing to protect Minuteman sites."

Strikes And Spares

BY: JOHN A. SPOLSKI

I know what you're thinking, what with all this hot weather we've been experiencing lately. "It's so doggone hot, wonder when the rains will come or some cool weather set in?"

I don't have the exact answers for those posters, but I can give you an approximate date - about six weeks from now. "Yep, you guessed it... that'll be the start of the Fall League." Just doesn't seem possible that those organizational daysnights are that close. The thing is certain, we'll have more and different leagues scheduled for your pleasure during the coming fall schedule.

BOWLING POT POURRI
Last season we added four new leagues, mostly as a result of the equally new industries locating within the area. The latest making an official inquest is for a Friday evening men's league from Dynatronics. (Who knows, maybe we'll even get Vice President and Plant Manager Sam Ackerman to roll the ball again.)

You talk about tough shots and high games, then you should be thinking of "my favorite nurse" - Becky Chase and young charmer Vicki MacLeary.

Becky converted the 7.6 split and a couple of weeks back, we did make mention of Vicki's 250-plus game, but the green-line "lost" her photo. (Oh, would you believe I goofed with my 9c Bronic camera...)

Each of our most recent Presidents had my respect, especially so with their display of participation in activities. Eisenhower for his golf, Kennedy and his swimming, Johnson for his hunting, and according to the current issue of TIME, President Nixon just rolled his first 200-plus game last week. Now I don't suppose it's necessary to elaborate which had my GREATEST interest and respect, now do I.

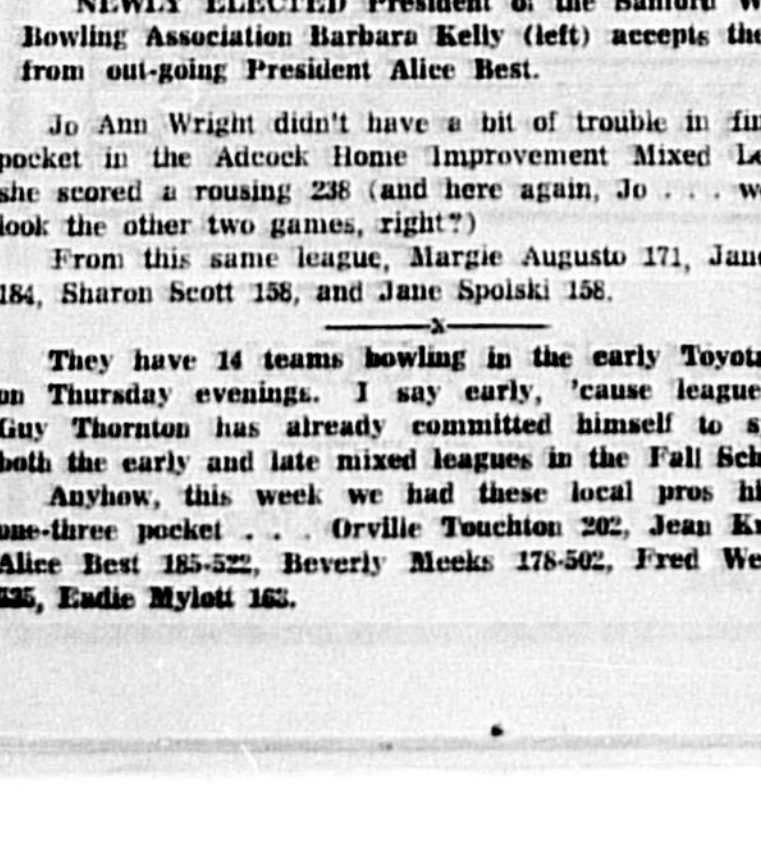

Larry Kemp added his name to that select group which can lay claim to converting the difficult 6-7-8-10 split. It happened this past Monday during the Kegler's League action. Speaking of all-around Simplex Classic B'keepers, the Johnny Jacob ball continues to null strikes as he leads the league with his 170 average, one point higher than Chuck Kanavel.

There were more than just a few of the big ones in the City League this week. However, there was only one kegger who averaged 200 or better for the night with a 60-plus split. Jesse Cook of the Trophy Lounge fivefivesome registered a 212, 200-60 series. Not too many pins behind was teammate T. Neumann 210-57. For the Toyota team, Gene Miller doesn't show any dividends from his recent bowling career as he newcomers a 218-55.

Incidentally, I don't know which "wise guy" wrote forget it along side of Spolski's scores this week. The night was a mauler 170 and a bare 58 series. (Alike you happy now that it's in print, buddy?)

Getting on with some of the other bomber scores... Johnny Brunell 210, Reggie Simon 208, and Jim Lamb 201. (Don't worry Mike... I won't print your 119 score.)

Question Raised Whether HHH Could Have Changed Election Course Book Tells Nixon Aide Tried To Sabotage Peace Talks

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Could Hubert H. Humphrey have changed the course of the 1968 presidential campaign by disclosing information that a Richard M. Nixon supporter tried to sabotage preliminary Vietnam peace talks?

Author Theodore H. White speculates in his book "The Making of a President 1968" that Humphrey might have won the election if he had ballooned the story.
But William Connell, Humphrey chief political aide, doubts it and says the aide, a Nixon supporter, undermined against making the alleged intrigue a public issue.

"I thought we were on the way, anyway, and that we might get a backlash from it," says Connell.
White reports in his recently published book: The Johnson administration intercepted messages from Ann Chas. Cheney, a Nixon supporter, under a pseudonym, that she was talking to sabotage the Paris agreement preceding the U.S. bombing halt in and peace negotiations.
But White reports, Humphrey refused to air the story despite urgings from some in his campaign staff.
When Nixon aides learned of the activities of the Chinese-born Mrs. Chennault, White says, there was "fury and dismay" and the feeling that "if they lost the election, Mrs. Chennault might have lost it for them."

When asked for comment Mrs. Chennault's secretary in Washington said Mrs. Chennault was in Asia.
Mrs. Chennault, widow of the wartime hero Gen. Claire Chennault and now an American citizen, had raised funds for the Nixon campaign and was chairman or co-chairman of several Nixon citizens committees.
She learned by gossip, rumor and speculation of the October halt, White says, and "she had undertaken most energetically to sabotage them."
But, White continues, her communications with Asia were lapped by the U.S. government and turned over to Johnson.

White says Johnson was aware of Mrs. Chennault's Asian messages before he made his announcement Thursday, Oct. 31—just five days before the election—or the bombing halt and the anticipation of the peace talks, but had not taken them seriously.
Formosan, the South Korean and the South Vietnamese governments she had begun early by cable and telephone, to mobilize their resistance to the agreement—apparently implying, as she went, that she spoke for the Nixon campaign.
But, White continues, her communications with Asia were

Cost Of Food - - Still Going Up

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The rising cost of food, already having a painful impact on the nation's consumer, is still going up and the government says there is no sign of any leveling off.
Agriculture Department economist Stephen J. Hiemstra made the grim assessment after it was disclosed Tuesday that wholesale food prices jumped another 1.2 per cent during June.
And when wholesale prices go up, the cost of putting food on the average citizen's table follows right up the spiral, Hiemstra indicated.
"There's not anything that we can see to indicate a drop or a leveling off," he said.
Due entirely to the jump in food costs, the government's Wholesale Price Index climbed four-tenths of one per cent in June to 113.2.
Continuing to lead the way in the rising food prices is the cost of meat, particularly beef.
Hiemstra said currently high farm prices for beef, the most popular meat, are expected to continue their momentum for most of the summer at least.
The Labor Department said Tuesday wholesale prices for processed meat, poultry and fish jumped 4.5 per cent in June, leading all other food items.
Calling meat a significant factor in consumer food spending, Hiemstra said that it accounts for 25 to 30 per cent of the average grocery bill.
Consumers, as an average spend about 17.2 cents of their take-home dollar on food.
Retail meat prices have been rising steadily while livestock prices paid to farmers have gone up over the months. The wholesale price of livestock went up 6 per cent in June, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.
Despite efforts of the Nixon administration to discourage inflation, the impact of the food price spiral is more than obvious to the consumer.

Specialists Inspect Apollo 11 Spaceship

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Crews of specialists painstakingly inspected the Saturn 5 rocket and Apollo 11 spaceship today with only hours remaining before the start of the countdown for the moon-landing mission launch.
Engineers and technicians probed the 36-story-tall combination both inside and out, searching for possible flaws that could delay or ruin the $530 million flight.
The lengthy countdown is to start at 8 p.m. EDT Thursday, aiming for a liftoff next Wednesday at 9 a. m.
The three astronauts who will make the momentous journey, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins, planned several more hours today in the command ship trainer, practicing the critical launching phase and what they would do in various emergency situations.
Walter J. Kapryan, deputy director of launch operations, said: "We are moving ahead with launch with confidence, based on experience—but not with overconfidence."

Full Agenda Faces Board

Negroes Fill City Hall Jobs

By RON HARRIST
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTE, Miss. (AP) — Mayor Charles Evers guided his administration—administration—all Negro except the city attorney—through its initial day of operation Tuesday and then set about fulfilling a campaign promise—removing junked cars from the streets.
Evers, first of his race elected mayor of a biracial Mississippi city since Reconstruction days, and his five-man Board of Aldermen were confronted with a lengthy and confused agenda at their opening session.
Selection of new department heads, consideration of a budget and repealing segregation ordinances stretched the meeting into several hours.
Then Evers joined with three aldermen in a tour of a shabby Negro section of this southwest Mississippi town of 1,600, pointing out many abandoned cars.
"These wrecks are real hazards," he said. "Can you imagine what would happen if a child fell in this mess or accidentally locked himself up in a trunk with no one around? This is tragic."
"The whites have neglected this area while keeping up their own. You don't see this sort of thing in their areas. We are going to change all this," Evers said.

Some Get Glassy Eyed

By RODNEY ANGOVE
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Some people get all glassy-eyed when asked about the finest wine they ever tasted.
Such was the case at a recent tasting session for rare old wines, at the Paris branch of Christie's, the London auction house.
"They are the Clarets of 1858!" said Richard Walter, a young, bearded Christian man. "That was their golden age. Everything conspired to make them, well you cannot call them immortal, but certainly the finest of any living memory."
"When you sip one, it is like having his voice trailed off and his gaze fixed afar."
Then wine expert Walter, like a rank amateur, pushed the cork into a dust-covered bottle of 1835 Richebourg, all but ruined by it.
Walter, his somber daydream and his moment of insight, characterizes the vintage wine business. Because it there were any over all impressions to be gained from that tasting session, they were these:
—Taste is largely a question of imagination, and is a highly individual matter. Some people have cultivated their tastes and some have not. But even the professionals differ on how taste should be translated into dollars and cents. And the rarest and oldest wines are never automatically the best.
—The vintage wine people make mistakes like everyone else. Vintage is sometimes allowed to age right on past their peak and grow worse, perhaps by 10 or 20 years. Some are rediscovered and sold after being forgotten for years in obscure cellars.

Mrs. Hester Davis, 85, of 413 W. First St., died Monday night at a local nursing home. Born in Karnes, Tex., she has lived in Sanford for 43 years and was a retired restaurant waitress.
Survivors include her husband, Andy Davis, Sanford; a daughter, Mrs. Neha Jane Pelt, Portsmouth, Va.; a son, Woodrow W. Coleman, Jr., U.S. Air Force in Thailand; two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Spears and Mrs. Elizabeth Harkey, both of Sanford.

ALLEGED violations of the borrow pit regulations charged by the County Commission are evident in these two aerial photos taken by Herald Photographer Bill Vincent. The two pits, owned by Leiffer and Pyle Land Clearing Company, are said to be violating regulations which require sloping at the sides of the pits. White arrow in the above photo shows where it is charged the two firms are infringing on county right-of-way. The county has further charged the two operations are not observing set-back requirements. Commissioner Greg Drummond has asked both operators to let the county governing body in on its plans for reclamation of the lands on which the pits are operating. Drummond has noted that the pits cannot be used for sanitary landfills since there has not been sufficient earth to cover up trash or garbage dumped at the sites.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 9 at New Orleans.
The couple plans to reside in Atlanta where the groom will resume his studies at Morehouse College.

To cease the flow of water, an embankment was built by Frank and his crew at the head of the channel leading from the U. S. Mainland to the east end of Goat Island which separates Niagara's two major waterfalls.
He informed us that it only took them three days to stop the flow and force it to the Canadian side where it is now cascading water in huge quantities.
The American Falls will remain dry until some time in December 1969.
As Inverca directed our tour, he briefed us on all phases of work he was doing, even to the use of regular lawn re-rolling water sprinklers, used to keep the rocks dampened enough to prevent total disaster to the Falls on the American side, and points of historical interest.
He presented my son a piece of coin and rock taken from the bottom of the Falls, and more than 100 of the most exciting color photographs ever taken.

Battle Deaths Decrease

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. battle deaths in Vietnam dropped last week to the lowest level since late April, giving apparent support to President Nixon's position that casualties rise and fall with the level of enemy attacks.
Although official figures are not yet final, sources say the toll for the week ending July 4 probably will be down generally close to the 100 Americans killed in action in the week ending April 26, the last time there was a fall in the fighting.
The cause of U.S. casualties has been a matter of growing controversy, with some critics contending U.S. battlefield initiatives bring about high losses.
Nixon told a news conference June 18 "Our casualties are in direct ratio to the level of enemy attacks."
Insisting U.S. forces have not escalated their operations, the President said "We have only responded to what the enemy has done."
Strategists still are puzzling over the significance of the lack of enemy ground operations.
The last full continued about two weeks before enemy assaults waning upward abruptly in mid-May bringing U.S. combat killed to 426 in the week ending May 17.
The actual week for 1969 saw 422 names added to the killing action roster in the final week of February, and the enemy's post Tet offensive.
Since then, the enemy has carried U.S. battle deaths down to 164 in the week ending February 23.

800 GIs Home From The Wars

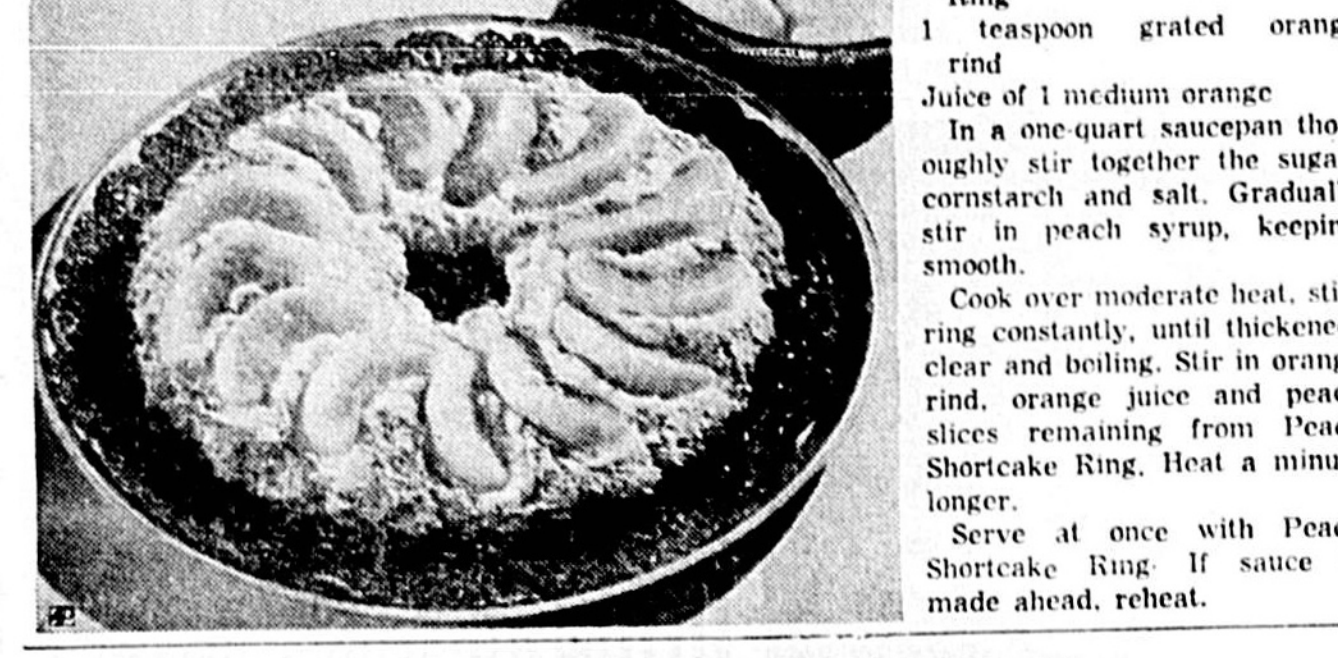

By KENT STUGHIS
Associated Press Writer
J.T. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — More than 800 American soldiers, some of them old beyond their years, slept under quiet skies for the first time in months, home from the war in Vietnam.
The vanguard of 25,000 servicemen President Nixon is withdrawing from Vietnam flew into Goldsboro Air Force base Tuesday.
"It's a wonderful feeling," said their commander, Lt. Col. Peter H. Peterson of Arlington, Va.
"I hope they bring them all out," said Elvino Williams, 22, Houston, Tex.
Their first night at this Army post was a far cry from their last night in Saigon, where helicopter gunships hovered on the horizon to keep the Viet Cong from spilling their exit.
When the first group of 94 veterans, most of them in their early 20's, stepped from their C141 transport plane, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, told them they would find themselves "more mature, more dedicated to the service of others, more compassionate, more responsible, more realistic and more practical" than their contemporaries.
Their reaction was mixed.
"I'm going to go home and cut the grass," said Sgt. Jerome DeLoach, 36, of Tusaville, Pa.
"I'm going out and raise hell," said Dave Schutte, 26, of Quincy, Ill.
"I'm going to be a bum during my leave," said Sgt. Kenneth Reynolds, 22, of Black Duck, Minn.
"I want to get home to my girl," said Michael Santoro, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y.
Of the 814 troops, 776 are enlisted men and 38 are officers. Of the enlisted men, 116 are being released from active duty and 698 are being reassigned.
Sixteen officers will be reassigned and 22 will be released from active duty.
"The men go through the red tape of military processing to day and practice for a mile-long welcoming parade in Seattle Thursday. Most weren't too happy in Vietnam and the war is not being slowed down."
"I hope just one hippie breaks his rump," said S. Sgt. Art Blasius, 26, of Mooresville, Pa. "I'll shove his head."
But Pfc. Michael McGiligan, 20, of Cincinnati, Ohio, said: "If they start throwing stuff, I'll duck—I've had enough fighting."

Utility Budget Under Study

Consulting engineer H. C. Conklin with "extremely limited information available" estimated gross receipts tax and expenditures for the county to regulate privately-owned water and sewerage systems in Seminole will total $20,000 in the new budget year.
Expenditures in the budget submitted by Conklin, at the County Commissioner's request, include salaries for engineer and secretary in addition to office expenses, fees for certified public accountant and legal expense.

Pantryshelf Peach Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
When you want a quick dessert from the pantryshelf, consider making up a Peach Shortcake Ring.
Biscuit mix goes into the base and canned cling peach slices make the topping. The peach syrup is used for a good-tasting sauce.
This dessert is fine for lunch or supper. It's also perfectly appropriate for brunch.
Peach Shortcake Ring
1 can—1 pound, 13 ounces—cling peach slices
2 cups biscuit mix
1/4 cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup butter
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 1/2 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Peach Sauce
Turn peaches into a colander or strainer to drain thoroughly. Reserve peach syrup for use in Peach Sauce.
In a medium mixing bowl with a fork, stir together the biscuit mix and the 1/4 cup sugar. With a pastry blender, cut in butter until particles are fine. With the fork, stir in orange rind and milk. Spoon onto a buttered cookie sheet, spreading dough to make a flat ring about nine inches in diameter.
Arrange 20 of the peach slices over the dough. Reserve remaining peach slices for use in the Peach Sauce. Mix the one-tablespoon sugar with the nutmeg. Sprinkle over peaches.
Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven, on rack above center, until well browned around outer edge—about 18 to 20 minutes. Serve warm and accompany with hot Peach Sauce.
Makes eight servings.
Peach Sauce
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup syrup from peaches used in Peach Shortcake Ring
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Juice of 1 medium orange
In one quart saucepan thoroughly stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually stir in peach syrup, keeping smooth.
Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, clear and boiling. Stir in orange rind, orange juice and peach slices remaining from Peach Shortcake Ring. Heat a minute longer.
Serve at once with Peach Shortcake Ring. If sauce is made ahead, reheat.

Make Checkerboard Sandwiches

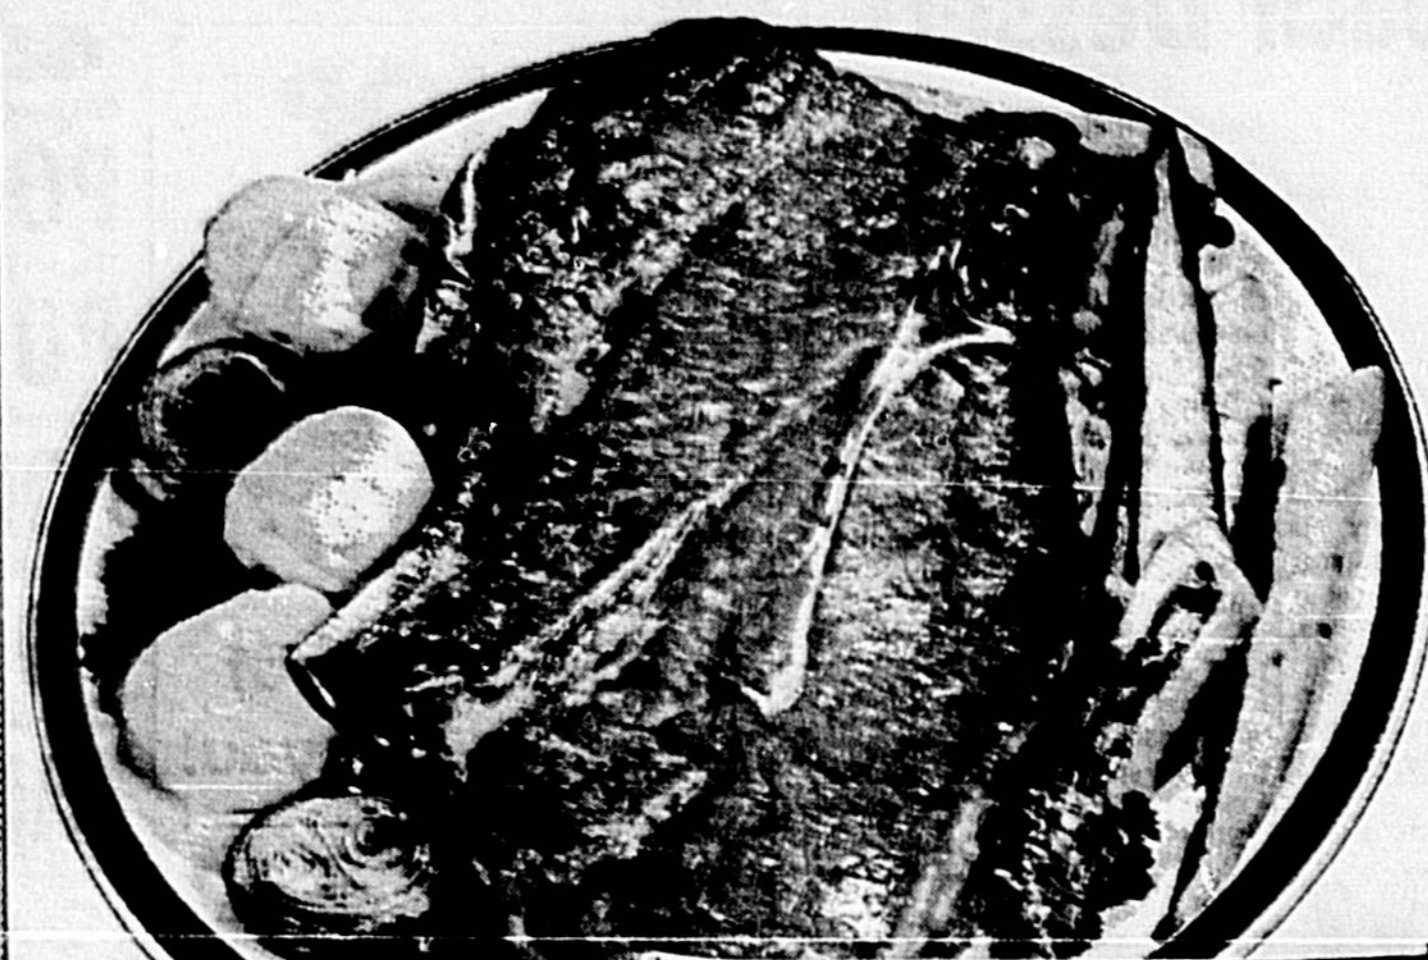

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
"Mom, you're a genius!" That's what the pre-teen son of a friend of mine said to his mother when she brought forth a platter of peanut-butter checkerboard sandwiches she had made for his birthday party. And all his young friends agreed.
We don't blame them for being enthusiastic. These sandwiches are the most intriguing ones we've had eyes on in many a moon. And so good to eat! The filling is nothing more than peanut butter mixed with imitation-bacon pieces or sliced white bread slices firm-type thinly sliced whole wheat or other dark bread.
Stir together until well mixed the peanut butter and bacon pieces. Spread one slice of white bread with about one and a half tablespoons peanut-butter mixture. Top with a white slice and spread white slice with about one and a half tablespoons peanut-butter mixture. Top with a dark slice. There will be four slices of bread stacked with peanut-butter mixture filling.
Wrap the stack in plastic film and refrigerate. Prepare two more four slice stacks, following the same method. Wrap and refrigerate. Chill stacks at least one hour, longer if convenient.
Remove one stack from refrigerator. With a serrated or very sharp knife, trim crusts generously so that all edges are straight. Slice the stack into four equal ribbon-stacks. Wrap one ribbon-stack and return to refrigerator.
Spread a wide side of one of the three remaining ribbon-stacks on top of peanut-butter mixture, making sure that strips of dark bread are on top of white bread and white strips are on top of dark. Spread with two tablespoons peanut-butter mixture and add the third ribbon-stack, again making sure that strips of dark bread are on top of white and white strips are on top of dark. Wrap and refrigerate.
Repeat the process, using the second refrigerated stack, and then the third refrigerated stack. This will leave three ribbon-stacks in the refrigerator. Use these to make still another checkerboard stack. Wrap and chill all four checkerboard stacks.
Just before serving, slice each checkerboard stack with a sharp knife into six checkerboard sandwiches about a half-inch thick.
Makes 24 checkerboard sandwiches.
NOTE: Crusts trimmed from stacks can be put in a plastic bag and frozen for youngsters' future stacktime nibbling.

Marshmallow Cereal Crunchies

If you prefer sweets for the youngsters that are foods as well as confertions, try these Marshmallow Cereal Crunchies. They will be fun things for the children to do while the grown-ups are watching in the yard.
Cooking for marshmallows dipped in melted chocolate is interesting. Besides making good nutritional contribution, breakfast cereals are handy recipe ingredients. Try them by using a small chocolate dip or water keepable fondue pot for the sauce. And double or triple the recipe as your crowd requires.
Marshmallow Cereal Crunchies
1/2 cup semi-sweet or milk chocolate bits
3 cup butter-scootch bits
1/2 cup peppermint non-alcoholic
2 cups marshmallows
Combine first 3 ingredients in small heavy saucepan. Place over very low heat and allow to melt; stir until smooth. Sprinkle marshmallows with a long lambda shower or fondue fork and swirl it in chocolate mixture until bottom and sides are evenly coated with mixture. Roll in crushed cereal, press additional crushed cereal onto marshmallow, if needed. Remove from sauce or fondue fork and cool on buttered baking sheet or waxed paper.
Yield: 50 crunchies.

Outdoors Cooking Cuts Diet

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

Cooking outdoors can suit weight-conscious eaters. When you are barbecuing in the backyard you can call on figure-right recipes.

If, for example, you like to use the low-calorie fruits designed for dieters, you can whip up Chicken Pineapple Kabobs. For this, chicken breast meat, low-calorie canned pineapple, mushrooms, onions, cherry tomatoes and green peppers are treated to a marinade. Then meat, fruit and vegetables are skewered and charcoal-broiled. A sauce to accompany the kabobs is made from the leftover marinade, thickened with a little cornstarch. By the way, cornstarch is lower in calories than flour.

Low-Calorie Chicken

Pineapple Kabobs
1 uncooked whole chicken breasts, about 1 1/2 pounds, skinned and boned
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/2 cup soy sauce
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 can, 1 1/2 ounces, low-calorie diet pineapple chunks or 2 cans, each 8 ounces, low-calorie diet pineapple slices
12 small whole mushrooms
6 small white onions, partly cooked
6 cherry tomatoes
2 small green peppers, cut into 1/4-inch squares
2 teaspoons cornstarch, mixed until smooth with 2 tablespoons water
Salt and pepper
Cut chicken into 1 1/2-inch cubes.
In a shallow pan mix together garlic, soy sauce, oil and lemon juice. Mix in the chicken, undrained pineapple chunks or quartered pineapple slices, mushrooms, onions, tomatoes, and green peppers. Let stand at room temperature for two hours. Drain and reserve marinade.
Tear chicken, pineapple, mushrooms, onions, tomatoes and green peppers on six skewers, dividing ingredients equally among the skewers. Save marinade.
Broil in range, six inches away from source of heat about 10 minutes on each side, brushing with reserved marinade every five minutes. Turn kabobs once during cooking, or broil over charcoal.
During last five minutes of broiling, prepare sauce by adding cornstarch and water mixture to remaining marinade. Stir constantly over moderately low heat until clear and thickened. When kabobs are ready, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and serve with sauce.
Makes six servings—29 calories per serving.

Cucumber Salad And Dressing

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

DELICIOUS DINNER
Try this superb dressing to serve with cucumbers. Delicious, too, with cold poached salmon.

- 1 cucumber, sliced
 - 2 French Fries
 - 1 tablespoon mayonnaise
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
 - 1/4 teaspoon onion
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 2 tablespoons minced parsley
 - 2 tablespoons minced scallion
 - 2 green onions, top included
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 - 1/2 cup small pimiento-stuffed green olives, finely chopped
- With a fork, thoroughly mix together all the ingredients. Cover and chill for several hours or longer to allow flavors to blend.
- Mix lightly before serving in case any liquid from your cream has gathered at the top. Makes about one and a half cups.

PARTY SUPPER

A Cleveland hostess contributes a fine recipe for party.

- 1 Chicken Liver Pate
 - Curried Shrimp
 - Rice
 - Chutney
 - Salad Bowl
 - Frosted Cake
 - Fruit
- LEAH DEMBO'S CHICKEN LIVER PATE
1/4 pound, 1 stick, butter
1 medium onion, peeled and minced
2 1/2 pounds chicken livers
5 hard-cooked eggs
Salt and pepper to taste
Parsley sprigs
In a skillet, melt the butter. Gently cook the onion in the butter until golden and add chicken livers, cooking gently until just pink through. Cut up livers small, then puree in electric blender with onion and liquid in skillet. Mix with pureed eggs. Add salt and pepper.
Butter a ring mold and pack liver mixture into it. Cover and chill thoroughly. Loosen sides with spatula and turn out. If some of the mixture doesn't come out, remove it and use for patching mold. Arrange parsley sprigs around mold and if you like, you may hard-cook an extra egg and use it as a garnish along with the parsley. Serve with party-size rye bread slices.

LOW-CALORIE DINNER

This salad tastes good and fits into a diet of low-calorie recipes.

- Cold Sliced Roast Veal
- Figure-right Molded Salad
- Low-calorie Bread Sticks
- Coffee Whip
- Beverage
- FIGURE-RIGHT MOLDED SALAD
- 1 can 4 ounces pimiento
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 1 medium red apple, unpared and diced
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 box a strainer net over a quart measure, turn the pimiento to drain thoroughly. Dice pimiento and reserve. To the pimiento liquid add enough cold water to make 1/4 cup. Then add gelatin and allow to stand about five minutes to soften. Add boiling water, sugar and salt, stirring until gelatin dissolves.
Stir in vinegar, reserved pimiento, apple and celery. Turn into a one quart mold. Chill until set. Unmold and serve on salad greens. Makes six servings.
