Committee Representing Little Business Recommended For President's Okey

Shoe Dealer Is Group Chairman

Hectic Session Characterized By Yells, Applause, Near Riot

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Fred Roth, Cleveland wholesale shoe dealer and chairman of President Roosevelt's conference of small business men, suggested today the creation of a permanent advisory committee to represent little businesses in the same manner that the Executive Advisory Council represents large interests.

Roth, chosen permanent chairman of the conference in a hectic session marked by applause, yells, roars of approval and disapproval, made the suggestion as he outlined the purpose of the meeting.

The conference then broke up into 10 discussion groups.

Both speakers after the conference received word from President Roosevelt that he expected "suggestions resulting from your conference will be very helpful to me."

Jaycees Seek Cooperation For Air Show Sunday

Officials of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce today requested the cooperation of the residents of Sanford and Seminole County in making the Art Davis air meet, sponsored by the local club, an outstanding success.

The exhibition will take place at the local airport Sunday afternoon, when flying and other aerial performances will be featured.

At their regular weekly meeting in the Valdes Hotel yesterday, members of the Jaycees also appointed Raymond Landquist and Andrew Carpenter as a committee to approach a Junior Chamber of Commerce staff team.

It will also be the duty of this committee to arrange for tournaments with other civic clubs in the city. E. E. Laney, president, stated and attempts will also be made to arrange inter-city matches, he said.

Arrangements were made at the meeting last night, Mr. Laney said, for a series of monthly "Star Parties" the first of which will be held in the Rainbow Inn in Orange City Friday night. Members are to leave the Seminole Tire Shop at 7:30 o'clock, he reminded.

Joe Davis and Robert Hayes both of Sanford were visitors at the Super Supper yesterday.

Orlando Minister Delivers Address At Kiwanis Club

St. Johns River And Lake Monroe Called Big Asset For City

The Rev. Melville Johnson, dean of the Episcopal Cathedral in Orlando, told Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon in the Valdes Hotel today of the "Sanford That Is To Be."

Rev. Johnson advocated, chiefly, further exploitation of the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe, and declared that in his opinion Sanford and Seminole County constitute the "Garden of Eden" of the State.

The Orlando minister asserted that Sanford is not a metropolis today because residents have failed to catch the romance and beauty of the lazily moving river bordered on either bank by stately palms; they have failed to play up and advertise the beauties of this area.

Pointing out the many advantages Sanford has over Orlando, the Orlando declared that localities should take further advantage of the river and lake for recreational activities, in addition to fishing, he mentioned canoeing and sailing as particularly appealing and also the motor boating possibilities offered by the large lake.

The guest speaker commended the city on the plans for the new Fort Mellon Park, declaring that this is one of the greatest forward movements taken in a number of years.

Reports at the luncheon showed that the Kiwanis-theatre party Monday afternoon for members of the Methodist Orphanage at Enterprise was an outstanding success. Nearly 100 children were brought from the orphanage in private cars by the Kiwanians and arrangements were made so that each of the visiting girls had as hostess a member of the local Girl Scout troop. They were given a complimentary show by Kiwanian Joe Marynette, and were served refreshments before they were returned to Enterprise.

Visitors at the luncheon today included Richard Hill of Chicago, Harold Costen of Rochester, Mich., and Capt. Ralph Ross, who has replaced Capt. Fred Fera as commanding officer of the local Seaside Army Camp.

It was also announced at the luncheon today that all Kiwanis Clubs in this section will meet for an inter-club rally at Clement, Dec. 17, James M. Mink of Buffalo, N. Y., who for a number of years has served as congressman, will be the guest speaker at the joint meeting.

Eckerson Sees Texas Canners As Irregular

Unfair Competition Causes Florida Canners To Cut Down Production Of Juice

Declaring that Texas competition threatens to destroy one of the most recently developed and fastest growing industries in this state, the canning of grapefruit juice, C. H. Eckerson, president of the Eckerson Fruit Canners, Inc. plant here, stated today that his company and seven other leading canners of the State have found it necessary to curtail juice production in their Florida plants indefinitely because of the low prices asked by Texas canners for their grapefruit juice.

"Because of the extremely low prices for the fruit in the plants of the southwest and the extremely low wage scale paid in the Lone Star State, Florida canners cannot compete with the Texas canner product," the company president said, pointing to the latest market report as bearing out his statement.

Texas canners, according to the report, are marketing their product for 42 1/2 to 65 cents per dozen No. 2 cans with some bulk sales as low as 60 cents per dozen cans. The Florida canners are asking from 77 1/2 to 80 cents per dozen No. 2 cans and these prices must be maintained in order to pay the higher costs, Mr. Eckerson said.

Mr. Eckerson has just returned from the National Canners convention at San Antonio, Texas.

A. R.; Fort Mellon Chapter of the Sons and Daughters of Florida; Campbell League Post of the American Legion Auxiliary; N. de V. Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; Lion's Club; the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Gov. Rivers Asks For Tax On Luxuries

Some Other Kind Of Tax Also Demanded To Offset Losses On Home Exemption

ATLANTA, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Gov. E. D. Rivers asked the Georgia legislature today to enact a "luxury or non essential" special tax to yield an additional $2,500,000 for the payment of state appropriations in full this year.

The general assembly last year set the 1937-38 budget at $44,000,000.

The Governor said he was "willing to join hands with you" also in obtaining another $2,500,000 for counties to offset losses which they attributed to the $2,000 homestead and $300 household property exemption measure.

The Governor said he thought the state should tax luxuries before taxing necessities.

Senate Approves Bill To Aid Home Builders 42 To 40

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Administration leaders, beating off a Senate rebellion by the close vote of 42 to 40, passed a bill to President Roosevelt yesterday the bill designed to stimulate a vast home-building boom.

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to sign the bill quickly. Its sponsors said much activity in building, slowest paced of the major industries, will result.

Overriding the strident criticism of "Big Tax" included Southern and Western Democrats, as well as Republicans, the Administration men succeeded in keeping out of the bill the "prevailing wage" amendment sponsored by Senator Lodge (R. Mass.).

This amendment would have forced the payment of prevailing wages on housing projects insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Its backers said that without it, the housing bill would depress wages in the building trades. Opponents declared the amendment would wreck the bill, and by leading to wage fixing in other fields, would carry the country toward "fascism."

First major legislation of either the special or regular sessions to be sent to the White House, the bill is intended to make home-buying easier by reducing down payments and financing charges.

Through amendments to the existing F. H. A. law, down payments on homes costing $5,000 or less will be cut to 10 per cent, and the remainder can be paid out over 25 years. The F. H. A. will insure mortgages covering 90 per cent of the cost for a premium of one-fourth of one per cent of the diminishing balance. Interest charges will be 5 per cent, plus the insurance premium.

On homes costing between $5,000 and $10,000, the F. H. A. will insure mortgages covering 90 per cent of the cost below $5,000 and 80 per cent of the remaining cost. Previously, the F. H. A. would insure only 80 per cent of the cost of large or small homes.

Mr. Lettice advised that the Control Committee will hold its meeting to decide whether proration will be effective for the coming week at Lakeland Friday instead of holding joint meetings with the Seminole and Berwyn counties districts in Sanford and Berwyn, respectively, as was the case during the past week.

Roosevelt Okeys WPA Project For Tourist Survey

MIAMI, Feb. 2.—President Roosevelt has approved a Works Progress Administration project for an official survey of Florida's mammoth tourist industry, Frank Gough, chairman of the tourist and convention committee of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said he had been advised today.

Mr. Gough's information came to him in a telegram from Senator Charles O. Andrews, who said the project is being sponsored by the Florida Railroad Commission.

The Federal contribution will be $85,748, he said. The sponsor's contribution was not quoted. Senator Andrews said he considered the project a very valuable one and that he will try to hurry it through regional and State offices of the WPA in order to expedite it as quickly as possible.

The survey will determine the answers to such interesting questions as from what other states Florida visitors come, the length of time they spend in the Sunshine State, and the amount of money they leave with Florida business men, Mr. Gough stated. Recreational facilities, housing accommodations and other information of interest to the visitor and home-seeker will also be covered in the survey.

Mrs. DeForest exhibited a portrait drawing.

From the 81 pieces included in the show six will be chosen for special display at the Central Florida Exposition.

VonBlomberg Resigns As Minister Of War

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—(AP)—A reliable informant said today Field Marshal-Werner von Blomberg, Germany's minister of war, resigned because army leaders objected to his recent marriage to Erika Groth, 23-year-old daughter of a carpenter.

The informant said the minister of war handed his resignation to Reichswehr Chief of Staff Jan. 31 before going to Capri on his honeymoon. There has been no official announcement.

Geppan, who knew of the war minister's marriage referred to it as another "Walls Simpson Affair," considering it similar to the case of former King Edward Eighth of England, who abdicated rather than give up the woman of his choice.

London and Birmingham are the only English cities which have a million blackheads.

Seminole Celery To Be Advertised In Rail Dinners

C Of C Solicits Aid Of Largest Railways In Campaign

A month of thorough effort by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce today resulted in an announcement that the leading railway dining cars of the United States will again feature Sanford and Seminole County celery in their menus during the next few months.

Hailroads that are cooperating in featuring the local product in their dining cars are: Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central System, The Pennsylvania Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway, Pere Marquette, Seaboard Air Line, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central System, and the Southern Railway.

In communicating with railroad officials during the past few weeks, the Chamber of Commerce reminded them of the volume of produce handled from this county and solicited their co-operation by the use of celery in their dining cars. All of the railroads heard from up to today have indicated a desire to co-operate, and it is believed that a considerably increased volume of Sanford and Seminole County celery will be used as a result of this practical service to the farmers rendered by the local trade body.

The Chamber of Commerce has also distributed several thousands copies of a specially prepared Celery folder containing recipes and data on the value of celery as a food. Anyone desiring copies of the folder may secure them at the Chamber of Commerce Building. The Secretary announced this morning.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Chinese re-inforcements moved forward by thousands today, under heavy shellfire, to plug a widening gap in the southern defenses of China's lifeline corridor. Long awaited, the major engagement on Tientsin apparently was beginning.

An estimated half-million Chinese and Japanese troops massed for a struggle over the corridor where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has urged his warriors to yield not an inch.

Domel (Japanese news agency) correspondents with Japanese troops reported several Chinese reports said both sides had been heavily in the southern fighting.

In Tokyo, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota told the Japanese Diet "There is no Chinese Central Government recognized by Japan. A state of war exists between the two countries." Japanese officials refused to comment on the statement but said so far has not formally declared war in China.

The tanker was carrying petroleum from a Black Sea port to the Loyalist government when seized.

Why Unemployment?

One of the chief causes of unemployment in this country is revealed by the report of the Jax Brewing Company at the annual meeting of its stockholders in Jacksonville yesterday. The Jax Brewing Company, doing a total business of about a million dollars a year, is a small business as big businesses go nowadays and undoubtedly would come under the classification of "little fellows" who are now presenting their complaints and recommendations to Washington.

The brewing company revealed that it took in $1,000,000 last year from the sale of beer and other products. It further showed that out of these total receipts, nearly half, or $450,000 to be exact, went for the payment of city, county, state and federal taxes. One-fourth, or $250,000, went into its payroll. That is, that's what the employees who worked for the company got out of it. And the rest, or about 25 percent of total receipts, was all that was left for the purchase of raw materials, rent, insurance, interest, power, and all the other expenses of operation, and possible dividends for the stockholders who put up their money for the business.

Now here is a business which, out of every two dollars that come in, has to give one of them to the government. And it has to do this regardless of whether it is making money or losing it. It has to do this before it pays off its employees, who actually do the work, or its stockholders and bondholders who put up their money which made the business possible in the first place, or before it pays for its raw materials, its power, and light bills, or its rent. In other words, it has to turn over to the government one of every two dollars which come in, or close up.

Now everyone admits the wisdom and justice of paying taxes to the government. Everyone recognizes that government is essential, that it costs money, and that business has to pay its share of these costs. But we believe, and we believe that most fair-minded citizens will admit, that government nowadays is demanding so large a share of all business revenues as to interfere seriously with the successful and progressive operation of business.

We submit that if the tax bill of the brewing company had been only 25 percent of the total receipts instead of nearly 50 percent, the business would have had $250,000 more which it could have paid to its present employees in increased salaries and wages, or to new unemployed workers in new jobs, or in the purchase of new supplies and equipment, which in turn would have furnished employment, or in the payment of dividends to its stockholders, who might have spent this money in building homes, buying furniture, clothes, automobiles, or groceries, which also make more jobs.

Get Out Or Fight

One would think that Japan is having enough trouble in the Far East without going out of her way to insult American, English, and other nationals, and apparently inviting retaliation from the most powerful countries on earth. But despite the fact that she now has her hands full with the Chinese forces recently re-organized and re-armed with Russian assistance, Japan continues to make it as unpleasant as possible for representatives of peace-loving nations in China.

Since the amicable settlement of the Panay incident, the sister ship of the Panay, the Luzon, narrowly escaped being hit by shells, an American envoy in Nanking had his face slapped and was roughly handled by Japanese troops, and three American missionaries have been killed. Insults to Englishmen and attacks on them are continuing in much the same way, while it is noticeable that very little of this nature occurs to disturb the pleasant relations existing between Japan and the two European fascist powers.

The only conclusion that can be drawn is that Japan is trying to run the United States and England out of the Far East without actually going to war with them. Japan knows that American interests in China are small and that the people of this country are not disposed to fight a foreign war. Though we have certain rights in China which are guaranteed us by numerous treaties, the Japanese war leaders undoubtedly figure that if they make it hot enough for us we will get out, treaty or no treaty.

That Italy and Germany are co-operating with Japan in her schemes goes almost without saying. The British had no sooner begun to concentrate some of their ships and aircraft at their new naval base at Singapore, and the attention of the world was centered on what was taking place in the Orient, than a new outbreak of "piracy" occurred in the Mediterranean and a British merchantman was sent to the bottom by an unidentified submarine.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By FRANKLIN GROVER

This is the first of two articles in which Franklin Grover, Washington columnist for The Southern Herald, examines British labor legislation and policy with an eye to American labor problems.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—When the President recommended at the area conference that it would be worthwhile for the nation to study the British labor act he emphasized that he was not sponsoring adoption of a similar system in the United States.

It is likely enough that neither labor nor employer, in their present state of mind, would sleep quietly at night with such legislation on the books.

In the 1927 trade disputes act which was enacted in the fury of public resentment at the general strike of 1926, is a section outlawing "sympathy strikes." In American sympathy strikes—or the threat of them—have been one of labor's most powerful tools. As a recent sample it may be recalled that during John L. Lewis' organizing campaign in "big steel" it was repeatedly pointed out that a supporting strike might be called in the "sympathy" (steel company owned) coal mines in event a steel supporting strike proved difficult. Such a threat would be barred under the British act.

Mass Picketing Banned Again. The British act outlaws strikes intended to influence the government. Yet it will be recalled that in the United States it was a large of a possible coal strike which pried the first Guffey coal control act through congress two years ago, leaving the Supreme Court the job of throwing it out.

The British act outlaws picketing on the American style. The act prohibits picketing, of course, but not in such numbers or in such a manner as to intimidate either the employer or a non-picketing employee. The maritime strike in this country would never fit into that picture. Since the British act applies with equal force to employers and employees, it seems probable that the manhandling of automobile union officials near the Ford plant in Dearborn several months ago also would come under the ban. In the summer would the so-called anti-union "reign of terror" in Harlan County, Ky., be banned by the act?

Parents Of Students Work At Many Jobs

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—It isn't only the merchant, the banker or the lawyer who sends his children to college nowadays—it's the farmer, the druggist, the contractor and a host of others, too.

Four hundred occupations were listed for the parents of students at Florida State College for Women here. The survey was made in the Registrar's office.

The occupations ranged all the way from abstractors to yacht captains. Those appearing most on the list were physicians, teachers, salesmen, railroad shop leaders, lawyers, physicians, newspapermen, real estate men and waitresses.

Idahoan Sends Gift Of Beans To Governor. The small bag of beans reached the office of Governor Fred T. Owsen here. "Great" northern beans from southern Idaho distributed by the Chamber of Commerce of Twin Falls, Idaho, was the gift in the bag. The governor was listed as Governor R. W. Clark of Idaho.

More than 1,000 people are killed and 50,000 injured annually in London streets.

"Bigger" Foot Goes To Museum. NEW ORLEANS, La.—(AP)—A striking Negro boy made his way to the Negro Folk Museum at St. Augustine and probably was described as the "bigger" foot ever seen.

It turned out to be a perfectly preserved seven-and-a-half-inch long foot of a mummy. The boy, Eric Binkley, related that he had found it in a Williams county, Mississippi, creek bed.

Parents Of Students Work At Many Jobs

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—It isn't only the merchant, the banker or the lawyer who sends his children to college nowadays—it's the farmer, the druggist, the contractor and a host of others, too.

Four hundred occupations were listed for the parents of students at Florida State College for Women here. The survey was made in the Registrar's office.

The occupations ranged all the way from abstractors to yacht captains. Those appearing most on the list were physicians, teachers, salesmen, railroad shop leaders, lawyers, physicians, newspapermen, real estate men and waitresses.

It turned out to be a perfectly preserved seven-and-a-half-inch long foot of a mummy. The boy, Eric Binkley, related that he had found it in a Williams county, Mississippi, creek bed.

Iso Briselli, Violinist, To Give Concert Here

Iso Briselli, star of the younger generation of violinists who appears here on Monday evening, Feb. 7, at 8:15 o'clock at the Princess Theater, has played under the batons of such distinguished conductors as Leopold Stokowski, Arthur Schnitzler, Eugene Ormandy, Alexander Smallens, Hans Krieger and others, and has been heard many times as soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra. He has also had the honor of a joint-recital with Josef Hofmann.

The 25-year-old artist, now embarked on a highly successful career, had an early life of storm and stress. Born in Odessa, Russia, he was a little boy of seven when the Revolution began. Already a prodigy, he made his professional debut under very-wrecking conditions. Time and again he was ordered by the Bolshevik soldiers to play for them in return for food.

Following many hardships Iso and his family came to Berlin where he began lessons with the great pedagogue, Carl Flesch. One year later he was ready for a European debut in Berlin, creating a considerable local stir with his performance of the Violin Concerto in G minor.
When Flesch came to this country as head of the violin department of the Curtis Institute of Music of Philadelphia, he brought Iso Briselli with him. Briselli has also studied under Leopold Auer, but his major work for the last three years has been under Albert Meiff of New York.

Snow White Seen As No. 1 Show For This Year

Romance, high comedy, pathos, excitement, color of breath-taking beauty and "tuneful music" are the words used to describe the new Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. Walt Disney's first step into the feature-length production field. This is the verdict of the first night audience.

Combining every element which spells entertainment, the seven-act animated feature brings to life the beloved Grimm's fairy tale, known in almost every land the world over.
Disney and his staff of artists have created a beautiful heroine in Snow White herself, whose skin was white as snow, lips red as a rose, and hair black as ebony.

In the seven little dwarfs, they have imitated all of the personality and comic little quirks so definitely associated with Disney characters. Instead of treating them as a unit, as they were in the original story, the studio staff gave them names and made each of them a distinct person. In fact, Doc, Sneezy, Dopey, Sleepy, Grumpy, Happy and Bashful are due to take the screen world by storm.
Snow White's beautiful but villainous persecutor, the Queen is the villainess of the piece, and the comic scene where she changes herself into an old witch-like hag in order to give unsuspecting Snow White a poisoned apple is one of the high points of excitement in the picture.

Snow White's prince charming is as handsome as any leading man in Hollywood, and sings lovely songs in her in a magnificent tenor voice. The music throughout the picture is ravishing.
Snow White, the Prince, the Queen, and the Queen's henchmen are all figures entirely devoid of caricature, and are the first characters developed by Disney to have all the physical attributes of normal human beings.
The picture, distributed by RKO Radio, is exquisite entertainment for adult and young alike, and marks a new milestone in film features. It is a "must" attraction for every amusement seeker.

Idaho Solon Warns Senate That U. S. Is Heading For War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Senator Borah (R., Idaho) warned the Senate yesterday that America was risking war by permitting the world to believe it was in an alliance with Great Britain.

Other nations "practically without exception" believe the United States and Britain are building up their navies under a "tacit alliance," Borah asserted.
The result, he added, was a world "practically gone mad" in an armament race similar to the one that led to the World War.

Chairman Pittman (D., Nev.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, quickly took issue with the ranking Republican member of his committee, contending that America was avoiding "alliance, either for offense, or defense."
An alliance, he argued, would make naval building less necessary. Construction was unnecessary, he added, "by the very fact that our policy calls for no military alliances."

"The cheapest thing this country can do," Pittman asserted, "would be to spend a few billion dollars for National defense to preserve the civilization, humanity and morality of the world."

Eckerson Sees Texas Cannery As Irregular

vention held last week in Chicago at which the heads of various canning industries over the nation were present along with leading buyers and sellers. At this meeting the extent of the competition was realized when Texas companies offered their product delivered for as much as 1 1/2 cents per dozen cheaper than did the Florida canners. Mr. Eckerson said.
Reports revealed that the Texas producers have been paying an average of 22 cents per box for their fruit while the average fruit prices for the season paid by Florida canners is 20 cents per box for fruit used for peaches and 19 cents per box for juicing fruit.

Mr. Eckerson pointed out that the canneries in Florida offer an invaluable outlet to citrus growers for citrus that would ordinarily be a total loss to the grower. The latest report of the local plant showed that to date $2,522 boxes of grapefruit have been purchased and used for juice production and he said that this represented about 13 of the anticipated juice pack here.

At present Texas is not in competition with the Florida plants in production of canned peaches because of the softness of the fruit in the Southwest, Mr. Eckerson said, adding that production in this department will continue and that canning of orange juice will partially replace the canning of grapefruit juice at the local plant. The effects of the southwestern competition is reflected in the latest figures of the total canned juice production for the State. In 1937 the production to date was 1,857,610 cases but the total production this year is only 1,087,394 cases.
While at the convention in Chicago, Mr. Eckerson, assisted by a large staff, dispensed a considerable amount of orange juice canned at the local plant. The juice was advertised to the 13,000 persons who registered at the convention as the Sanford brand produced at the Sanford, Florida.

Fugitive Slave House To Be In State Park

RIPELY, O.—(AP)—Historic "Eliza House," famous as the first station in the "underground railroad" of fugitive slaves escaping from the south, soon will be part of a state park.

Col. Al Hatfield, present owner, announced he had accepted a $5,000 offer of the Ohio State Archaeological society for the house and grounds.
The house became a refuge for slaves during the height of the abolitionist struggle in anti-slavery days. It was the residence of the Rev. John Rankin, pastor of the Ripley Presbyterian church and one of the leading abolitionists of southern Ohio.
As the fugitives crossed the Ohio river, they were accreted there until they could be taken to the next station on the road to Canada and freedom.
Long engagements are the rule with young English couples.

WPA Officials To "Shoot The Roll" In Winter Months

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Works Progress Administration fiscal authorities decided yesterday to "shoot the roll" on winter employment and trust that Spring will bring a business boom to absorb the thousands who will have to be cut off their rolls then.
Aubrey Williams, acting WPA administrator, announced that because of increasing demands work-relief enrollment would be expanded to approximately 2,000,000 persons during February, then would be progressively curtailed to about 1,500,000 by June.

This, officials said, would require an outlay of around $184,000,000 in February compared with an average of less than $100,000,000 a month during the first half of the fiscal year. Since WPA spent from July to December, inclusive, $362,332,925 of the $1,050,000,000 earmarked for 1937-38 work-relief, they asserted that thousands added to the winter payroll would have to be dropped in the Spring and Summer to keep expenditures within the budget.
Essentially, WPA has averaged less than 1,500,000 a month during the first six months, mounted to 1,331,961 during the week ending January 22.

Officials said the December spending had been chiefly for November employment, and that it would be ten days, or more, before Treasury disbursement figures showed how much WPA funds had been reduced by the Winter relief demands.

Three Spaniards were killed and 12 other persons wounded today when insurgent planes bombed an American-French caravan of ambulances and supply trucks in Spain near the French border.

Reports received in France did not say if there were any Americans among the wounded. A "traveling hospital" furnished to the Spanish Government by American sympathizers was believed to have been part of the caravan.

In China, Japanese military commanders marked off a huge area and told Americans and other foreigners to evacuate it if they wished to escape the dangers of war.

Supreme Tribunal Of State Declares Bingo Is Gambling

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 3.—A game of bingo, widely played all over Florida, was branded yesterday by the Florida supreme court as gambling.

In an opinion written by Justice Terrell, with four other justices concurring, the court affirmed the conviction of six men in Tampa charged with operating a gambling house, which furnished for a brief period at Tampa and Twaits streets.

"Chance selected by the hope of getting something for nothing is the controlling element in gambling," said the court.

Justice Buford agreed in approving fines imposed on those charged with operating the bingo plant because they ran an establishment in which a game was played and a prize awarded.

But Justice Buford did not agree in the decision that bingo players engage in gambling.

Escaped Prisoner Gives Up To Local Police Department

Convict Will Be Returned To Prison In North Carolina

Efforts Sought To Pump Credit Recommendations Will Be Submitted To The President At Once

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Delegates of "Little Business" adopted over many shouted protests a program of advice to the present administration, including a recommendation that the government supply financial aid by stimulating private credit.

Without formal debate a standing vote was taken by Chairman Fred Roth of Cleveland, Ohio, despite the insistence by some of the small businessmen from the floor that minority reports be heard, and the insistence of others that any contradictions between the various recommendations should be composed.

During the temporary luncheon a group of businessmen themselves did the job. Officially they had told Shaffer he ought to be quiet. He was insisting on his right to speak when some members of the audience dragged and pushed him through the door. His trousers were almost torn off.

Later Robert Kempfer of New York was ejected from the meeting by plain clothes officers for causing a disturbance. He called himself New York's " forgotten man."

After adopting the recommendations, the conference adjourned in tumult. A committee from the conference was to present the recommendations to President Roosevelt this afternoon.

The general session was held in the auditorium of the Commerce Department where, four years and more ago, hearings on many N.E.A. codes were conducted. Today's gathering reminded many of those hearings, with the exception that (Continued on Page Three)
