Massacre Could Stall Gun Bill

By Deane Jordan
And
Kathy Tyrity

The killing of six people by a berserk gunman in Palm Bay Thursday and the wounding of 10 others could stall consideration of a bill in the Florida senate that would remove the authority of county commissions to approve or disapprove concealed weapon permits and place that decision-making process in the hands of the state.

While the delay is not assured, it's a definite possibility, said an aide to the bill's prime sponsor, Ron Johnson, D-Panama City. Similar legislation has passed the state house of representatives.

"We just got into town this morning and the delay could just well happen," Johnson aide Charles Goodman said today.

He said a delay would help keep the bill and the massacre from blending into one issue, thus avoiding dilution of the bill's opponents.

"The issues should not merge but stay separate, as it should be," said Goodman.

The gun permit legislation pending in Florida's legislature is being met with acceptance by at least one Seminole County commissioner and outrage by law enforcement officials. The bill would allow "upstanding" citizens in the state to carry concealed weapons without proving "compelling need" as is now required in Seminole County. The Seminole County Commission has issued only one concealed weapon permit in several years and is considered by some people as an example for why the state should control the permits, to the regret of most local officials.

"It is so unfortunate," said Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett. "I think you would have everyone carrying concealed weapons if you get to that point, and you are going to have more guns available and more possibility of violence. That's a fact."

Driving Force

Bonnie Selph, Seminole School Bus Driver, led her Seminole team to a second place victory in state school bus driver's competition in Lakeland over the weekend, edging out 36 other districts. Selph is reigning Seminole driving champion and was last year's state champ. In the competition points were scored for maneuvering and safety competency.

Kiwanis Recognizes Seminole's Top Cops

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Top cops serving in Seminole County were singled out for doing an all round good job, rather than for having participated in a single dramatic incident, when they were honored as "outstanding police officer of the year" by their departments and the Kiwanis Club of Central Florida Saturday evening in Orlando.

Persistence, determination and dedication beyond the call of duty were cited by their superiors as qualities of these Seminole lawmen. In addition to a Seminole County sheriff's captain and a policeman from each of the seven city forces serving in Seminole County, about two dozen officers from city, county and U.S. police agencies serving Orange, Lake, Osceola and Volusia counties were also recognized during this 9th annual awards presentation for a job well done.

In a Saturday night ceremony, with Gov. Bob Martinez's Chief of Staff, Jim Smith, as keynote speaker, at Stouffer's Resort at Sea World, Seminole County jail administrator Capt. Jay Leman, was recognized as the Seminole County Sheriff's Department's outstanding officer for 1986.

Sanford police selected Officer Guy Brewster for the same honor and the other city police forces, tapped as their top cop: Lt. Richard Beary, Altamonte Springs; Officer Michael A. Toole, Casselberry; Sgt. Thomas Taggart, Lake Mary; Sgt. Tommy Jackson, Longwood; Sgt. Robert Metcalf, Oviedo; and Officer Tim Willis, Winter Springs.

Capt. Jay Leman, 41, who has been a sheriff's deputy for about 17 years, was described as "Just Cracker Jack, a super example of a police officer," by Chief Deputy Duane Harrell. Leman, who underwent a kidney transplant in 1986, "Always gives 100 percent every day and despite health problems never slacked up. He could handle any assignment. He's very versatile. Not only that, he's a good person, a good family man, a good father and the personification of what a good law enforcement officer should be," Harrell said.

Sanford's Guy Brewster, 30, assigned to duty at Lake View Middle School and who has been on the Sanford force six years, was recognized for his work with youth and efforts to bridge the gap between youngsters and law enforcement. Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said, Off duty, Brewster, who is a member of the Seminole County SWAT team, spends time with youngsters, including Little Leaguers. He also was instrumental in starting the department's Explorer Scout unit. Brewster has served as a motorcycle patrolman and is also a traffic homicide investigator.

Sgt. Thomas Gaggart, 38, a Lake Mary detective and chief investigator for his force has worked his way up from a patrolman to sergeant detective in two years. Lake Mary Police Chief Charles Lauderdale said,

"He's one heck of a good cop and active in the community including scouting and church. We went for the 'whole man' concept," Lauderdale said.

Lt. Richard Beary, 28, who commands special investigations for Altamonte Springs and is very active in drug prevention programs. He's been with the department almost 10 years and in 1986 spearheaded a task force that focused on auto burglaries and another on robberies.

Cruse In Isolation

Palm Bay Police 'Catching Heat'

PALM BAY (UPI) — Tear gas billowed through the bullet-riddled supermarket and the blast of concussion grenades still echoed in the darkness when the alley door opened and William Bryan Cruse walked into the waiting guns of police.

The guns were silent. "On the ground!" a marksman yelled. "Move and you're a dead man!"

That Cruse, 59, is not a dead man, awaiting burial with the six people slaughtered in a volcanic eruption of blood and terror Thursday, is causing Police Chief Charles Simmons and his men a certain amount of grief.

Simmons hung black wreaths on the doors of his station to honor the two officers Cruse cut down and said his SWAT team is "catching a lot of heat" from officers in other cities because they did not kill Cruse.

"We are not an assassination team," he said. "We will not lower ourselves to the crude mentality of shooting because we're mad. He surrendered, and our job when a person surrenders is to put him in jail and not gun him down like the dog he is."

"We're trained to use our intelligence and to be patient when

A moment of silence is being observed by Altamonte Springs police officers Rick Wisecup, left, and Jack Berning at a candlelight service for victims of crimes, including those in last week's Palm Bay massacre. The service, organized by State Attorney Norman Wolfinger, was held at the Sanford Courthouse Sunday at 8 p.m. in conjunction with Victims' Rights Week.

Man Arrested For Firing At Deputies

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A reported family dispute involving child abuse led to shots being fired at Seminole County sheriff's deputies from a Longwood home at about 11:30 p.m. Sunday and the arrest on an attempted murder charge of the accused 69-year-old gunman. The man's wife and son were also arrested in during the incident.

Two shots were fired at sheriff's deputies outside the suspects' home, with one bullet passing directly to the right of the head of deputy Yvette Willis. No deputies were wounded by gunshots, but Willis and deputy Brent Davison suffered minor injuries in scuffles with the suspects.

Arrested along with Edward Ray, who was also charged with unlawful use of a firearm, was his wife Edith O. Ray, 52, and their son Robert Larry Ray, 32. The Rays were arrested at their home at 109 Chapman Ave. Edith Ray has been charged with battery on a law enforcement officer and resisting arrest without violence. She has been released on $1,000 bond.

Robert Ray faces the same charges and early today was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond. Edward Ray was being held without bond.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies reported that the following incident led to the arrests:

Deputies responded to a disturbance call at the Ray home at about 11:20 p.m. Earlier Sunday a 14-year-old girl identified as "Angela," and apparently the Rays' granddaughter, had been placed at the Rays' home by the State Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, because her mother had been arrested for child abuse. A 5-year-old boy was also at the home.

At the scene deputies met Angela and Robert Ray, who said Angela's mother had been making harassing calls and threats to the home.

Angela alleged that her grandfather, Edward Ray, was also harassing her and accused him of having battered her in the past. Angela said she didn't want to stay at the Rays' home.

Edith Ray let a deputy enter the home to call his supervisor and to make contact with HRS.

But while that deputy was in the home, Willis and Davison arrived and Robert Ray became belligerent toward the deputies, especially to Willis, cursing her and making reference to her gender.

He was advised not to interfere with the investigation. Edith Ray let Willis into her home to use the telephone. Deputies George Hart and A.J. Collazo tried to keep the two men from interfering with Willis' phone call. After the call the deputies went outside and Edward Ray advanced toward them. Edith Ray pushed both men back into the house and closed the door while she remained outside standing

Midwives Plan Favored

The majority of the Seminole County commissioners favor a proposal to allot $60,000 annually to hire three state certified nurse "midwives" to aid in births by mothers not financially able to get other assistance.

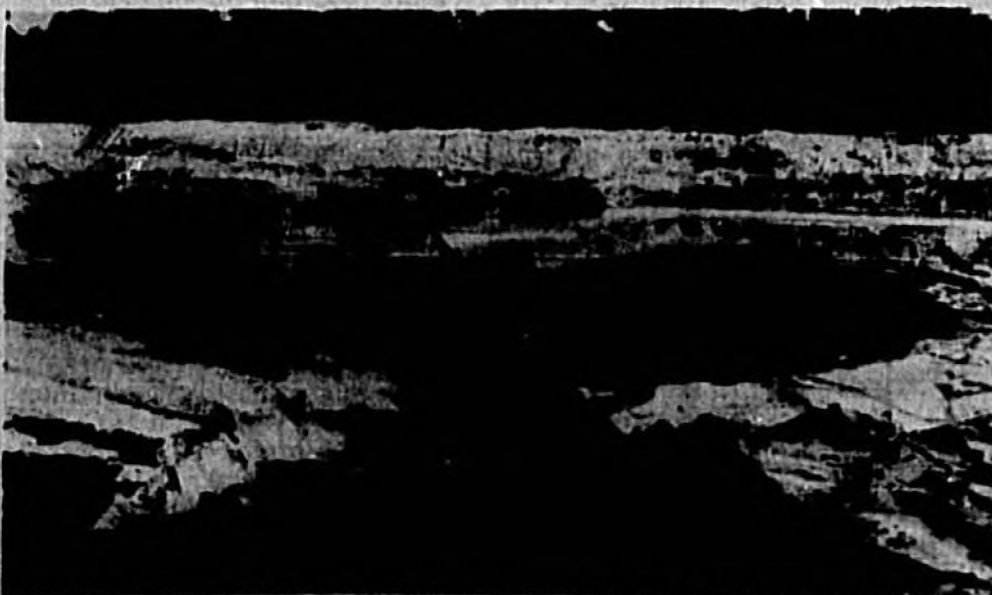

The work session on the proposal is scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in Room N-300 at the County Services Building, 1101 E. First Street. A formal decision is expected to be made at a later regular meeting, perhaps as early as Tuesday night.

The petition to hire nurse midwives is being brought by Health and Human Services Department Director Dr. Jorge Deju. He says there exists a potential maternity/delivery crisis.

"Due to the increasing costs for physicians to maintain malpractice insurance, three out of four obstetricians have notified us they will no longer provide deliveries of indigent maternity patients effective May 15, 1987," Deju said. "Further, Central Florida Community Health Clinic (the former Migrant Health Clinic) no longer has OB/GYN physicians and maternity patients are referred to the health department for

After yielding bones that may be a million years old, this excavation site 1,000 feet south of Lake Jesup, off State Road 434 at Wagner's Curve, will be allowed to fill with water to become a private lake.

Museum Gets Ancient Bones

Excavation Ends Today

By Jane Casselberry

Excavation on the site near Winter Springs where ancient bones that may date back one million years is scheduled to be completed today and the hole is allowed to fill with water to form a 4.7 acre private lake, according to Jim Meade of Christmas, owner of the property.

Meade, who is employed by the company, Boa Constructors, which has been excavating in the former orange grove south of Lake Jesup since October 1986, said the latest bone discovered was a jaw bone of a whale. He said Jerry Britt, a graduate student at the University of Florida, who was there at the time it was dug up, said he would take it to the Florida State Museum in Gainesville, which has the other bones from the site. As of Friday, a spokesman for the museum said he had not seen the jawbone.

The first bones discovered in February after the crew uncovered a layer of shells.

"I never in a million years thought I would find shell. I expected sand," Meade said. "Then the backhoe operator said, 'I've got something I want you to see. It looks like a big old bone.' It was a vertebra 14 inches across. At first I thought it was from a dinosaur. We were afraid if we reported it they would shut down

IN BRIEF

Man Charged With Escape After Noisy Party

Insisting he could make all the noise he wanted until 11 p.m. and that he did not have to leave when ordered to by an officer landed a Longwood man in jail on disorderly conduct and attempted escape charges.

The officer reported that he went to Third Street in Lake Mary after police received a call about a loud party. There he saw a man leaning against a vehicle and two other men. The incident occurred around 10:55 p.m. Friday.

The officer said he tried to explain to the men that they had to quiet down, but the man leaning on the vehicle said he could make all the noise he wanted until 11 p.m. The officer told the man that if he did not lower his voice, he would be arrested. Then, the officers asked the men, who were on the road's right-of-way, to leave. The man who was leaning also said they did not have to leave whereupon the officer placed the man under arrest and put him in the patrol car.

That caused the other men to complain and while words were being exchanged about that the man in the patrol car slipped out and started away.

The officer chased him and tackled him about four houses away.

Charged with disorderly conduct and attempted escape was Robert Walter Moore, 28, of 530 Longwood Lake Mary Road. Bond was set at $8,000.

Nude Woman Reports Rape

A Sanford man told police he answered a pound on his door around 9:15 p.m. Friday to find a nude woman who told him she had just been raped.

The man let her in and called police. The woman told officers she had accepted a ride from a man about a half hour earlier from a Sanford store and instead of taking her home, he drove to his residence. He told her he had to get a few things and she could come in with him. Once inside the home, he grabbed her, told her to take off her clothes then assaulted her.

Afterwards, he left the room to get some matches and while he was gone she slipped out a window. She scaled a chain link fence, cutting her right thigh, and went to a nearby house.

The woman was treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. The case is under investigation.

against the door.

Deputies feared she would be hurt by the men pushing on the door from the inside and told her to release the door knob. When she did Robert Ray came out and was arrested for obstructing police. Collazo tried to secure Robert Ray, who went back into the house.

Collazo and Robert Ray fought in the living room and Willis, Hart and Davison forced their way in to assist Collazo.

Edith Ray tried to prevent the deputies from entering to assist Collazo. She had to be forced from the doorway and restrained by Davison. She hit him several times on the upper body with her closed fist, deputies said.

Collazo, Willis and Hart subdued Robert Ray and took him out to a squad car. He again became violent and Collazo radioed for assistance from Hart and Davison, who helped secure Robert Ray in a patrol car.

Edith Ray began yelling, "Don't take my babies. Where are my children?" Deputies noticed both children were across the street and Davison and Collazo tried to take them to a patrol car.

Edith Ray began hitting Davison, saying, "You're not taking my babies away from me." The boy was put in the patrol car by Davison as Collazo restrained Edith Ray.

At that time two shots were fired from inside the Rays' home. Edward Ray was the only occupant of the home.

Davison forced Edith Ray into his patrol car along with the boy after hearing the shots. Angela got into the same car, trying to take cover from the gunfire. Davison drove away with the children and Edith Ray in his car.

Willis, Collazo and Hart took cover behind another patrol car and radioed to the sheriff's department "shots fired, shots fired Seminole," and asked for help from other lawmen.

Deputies and Altamonte Springs and Longwood police arrived. Edward Ray turned on three flood lights in front of his home.

He came out with his hand behind his back and walked down the drive way to Collazo and Hart to be arrested.

The adult Rays were arrested and booked into the Seminole County jail. The two children were surrendered to HRS.

Alley Closings On City Commission Agenda

Among the items on Monday's Sanford city commission meeting will be two public hearings to consider closing a portion of an alley lying between Palmetto Avenue and Magnolia Avenue; and the closing of a portion of an alley lying east of and abutting Chapman Avenue. The meeting starts at 7 p.m.

The two unrelated requests are being brought forth by private citizens and notices have been sent to affected property owners within each of the two blocks.

The first request was brought by Ted Williams, 104 Brentwood Dr., Sanford. His request stems from the fact that, according to him, the city owned alley which runs west from Palmetto Avenue runs through his property has never been used in the 30 years that he knows of. He said that he would be willing to let the city use his property north of the alley if the city would agree in exchange to deed the unused alley to him.

the occasion calls for patience. However, Cruse owes his life to luck as much as restraint.

At one point he stuck his head out the door of the Winn-Dixie where he was holed up with a 21-year-old hostage. A police sharpshooter drew a bead on it and murmured into his radio, "Do I have the green light?"

Three more times he asked for permission to fire. He never got it and Cruse finally ducked out of sight.

That Cruse survived that moment, Simmons said, was the result of confusion. The sharpshooter had the green light; he just never got the word.

"We gave the green light to everybody. We knew the man was dangerous and that we couldn't put our officers in jeopardy."

In the little concrete block Grace Bible Church Sunday, the Rev. Calvin Bodeuch told a memorial service for the dead that "one thing the tragedy has brought to life is the uncertainty of life. None of us is guaranteed another minute of life. What we are all guaranteed is death."

"The God of creation is still in control," he told the weeping mourners, "even though parts of his creation are out of control."

That portion which went out of control in Palm Bay sits in a tranquilizer haze in isolation in the Brevard County jail at Sharpes today, facing 44 charges, including six counts of murder.

"He seems basically quiet and holds to himself mostly," said Lt. Toni Merritt, first shift commander at the jail. "He makes no demands and doesn't appear to be too terribly emotional."

Cruse is under constant watch, Merritt said. "We normally do this because of the suicide potential, but in this case the concern is more for his personal safety."

"He's been catching a lot of abuse. The guys in here are pretty angry."

Hand-painted signs hung from cell windows near Cruse's read, "Put him in my cell" and "Fry his kind."

Cruse says he does not remember walking through the Sabal Palm Square shopping center, his blank zombie's stare occasionally giving way to giggles, shooting 20 people with his Ruger M-14 assault rifle, his revolver and his shotgun.

But Robin Brown said he remembered it well enough as she washed the blood from his hands in the back of the Winn-Dixie Thursday night.

"If I hadn't gotten drunk all this wouldn't have happened," he told her. "I know I have crippled people. I know I have done a lot of damage."

Cruse found Brown and another employee cowering in the restroom after driving a horde of panicked shoppers out the back door, killing one and wounding others.

The bloodlust suddenly gone, Cruse told the other woman to leave, then turned to Brown and said, "I'm sorry to do this, but you're my hostage."

Cruse, with Brown following his orders, stalked through the store trying to douse the lights, but when he switched them off emergency generators brought them back on. They finally began throwing bottles of wine and cans at the overhead lights.

"He never got them all," Brown said.

The ice cream melted and gurgled out of the freezer case.

The rank smell of sour milk mingled with the odor of blood and fear.

Finally, she said, they sat in a stock room and "swapped a lot of hard luck stories." Cruse told her about his wife, who has Parkinson's disease, and she told him about her failed marriage.

Cruse stuffed himself with soft drinks and crackers, she said.

Near the end, she said, he decided to kill himself.

"Don't do that," she told him. "At least not in front of me. Go to the bathroom."

"He just looked at me real hard after I said that, like he was going to cry," Brown recalled. "Here I was the hostage trying to convince him to live. Then he said, 'Go ahead, just like that. Go ahead and leave.'"

"I said, 'Are you sure? You promise?' He said, 'Go ahead.' I got right out of there. When I left the back door I ran to where the police were standing and I think I kissed every one of them. Everybody was crying. So was I."

Palm Bay police also came under fire for ignoring earlier warnings about Cruse.

Police had three complaints about Cruse, 59, including two vandalism reports and an indecency report filed a week ago. Cruse's neighbors said they were upset with the lack of police response to those and other complaints about the man's sometimes-threatening behavior.

"They have to kill someone to get the police around here," said Gladys Suarez.

"They were scared, but my neighbors heard the police say they couldn't do anything," Suarez said.

Officer Michael A. Toole, of Casselberry, "showed good determination and persistence in making arrests. In two cases he chased down suspects and didn't give up when investigating a rape case with a 12-year-old girl as victim." Casselberry Police Chief Frederick McGowan said. Toole has been a Casselberry officer seven years.

Longwood's Sgt. Tommy Jackson, 30, who has been full-time on the force five years, after starting in 1978 as a part-time officer was described by Longwood Police Lt. Frank Taylor as, "Outstanding. Dedicated. When you need him he's out there and doing it." Even while off duty he helped capture suspects in a Winter Park auto burglary, Taylor said.

Sgt. Robert Metcalf, who has been an Oviedo officer since 1982, in 1984 created his own program as a school resource officer at Oviedo High School.

"He does an outstanding job with the kids and parents," Chief Robert Hancock said. Metcalf, who started out as a patrolman is also a field training officer and his over all performance is tops, Hancock said.

Officer Tim Willis, 29, a road patrolman for Winter Springs "Takes time with individual's problems." Winter Springs Police Chief John Gourhuk said. "He's conscientious with the community and dependable and dedicated. He'll help people on the road with a car problem. He's an over all good cop and good person. Give him a job and he's going to put his time in and get it done."

Willis also helped calm and armed man who in a Winter Springs home was threatening to harm himself and others.

Winds Threaten Atlantic Coast

By United Press International

A record hot spell eased today in the central Plains and the Northwest a day after temperatures reached up to 80 degrees, while gale-force winds threatened to batter the central Atlantic Coast.

Hot weather was predicted for the south-central states today, but high temperatures up to the 90s were expected to drop to the 70s in the Plains, said Hugh Crowther of the National Weather Service.

"It's not going to be a whole lot cooler, only in the 70s," over parts of the central Plains as Canadian air moves south today, he said.

The Northwest, where the mercury rose to 90-degrees in Hazel Dell, Wash., Sunday, cooled off early today with 50-degree readings in Seattle and Yakima, Wash.

Cold air surged into the Northeast, forcing temperatures into the low 30s in New York early today. Temperatures in Maine were expected to dip into the upper teens.

Forecasters warned that gale-force winds could buffet the central Atlantic coast. Thunderstorms diminished over the Southwest early today after producing locally heavy rain. Local flooding was reported near Bisbee, Ariz., and two thirds of an inch of rain fell in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Sunday highs reached the 80s across much of the western two thirds of the nation Sunday, with 90-degree readings reported as far north as Nebraska and Washington. The temperature in Portland, Ore., peaked at 85 degrees.

A score of cities in a dozen states from Oregon to Louisiana broke or tied record high temperatures in the 70s, 80s and 90s. Sailboats sprinkled the rivers, weekend duffers flocked to golf courses.

Local Report

The high temperature Sunday in Sanford was 78 degrees and the overnight low was 56 degrees as reported by the University of Florida Agricultural Research and Education Center, Celery Avenue. No rainfall was recorded. Clear today with expected high of 82 degrees.

Area Forecast

Today mostly sunny and mild. High near 80. Wind northeast 10 to 15 mph. Tonight mostly fair. Low near 60 to the mid 60s. Wind northeast 5 to 10 mph. Tuesday partly cloudy with the high in the low to mid 80s. Wind northeast 10 mph.

Report: North Recruited CIA Operative For Contra Mission

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At about the time his boss was reassuring Congress about respect for the ban on U.S. military aid to the Contras, Lt. Col. Oliver North was recruiting an ex-CIA operative to help coordinate supply missions for the Nicaraguan rebels, according to a published report.

North, the National Security Council aide fired in the Iran-Contra scandal, recruited Felix Rodriguez in September 1985 even as national security adviser Robert McFarlane told a congressman the NSC was not violating "the letter or spirit" of the ban on Contra aid. The Washington Post reported Sunday.

Subway Vigilante's Trial Opens

NEW YORK (UPI) — Subway gunman Bernhard Goetz pushed his crusade for crime victims' on the eve of his attempted murder trial, while an attorney hoped the controversial villain-or-vigilante case would not add fuel to a "long, hot summer."

The slight, bespectacled Manhattan electronics specialist said he hoped to return to the days when "it was recognized that the victim was in a lawless situation and the only law that was applicable was the law of the jungle."

There are six crime victims on the jury of four women and eight men chosen to decide whether Goetz is a victim or a vigilante. Opening statements are scheduled to begin today in state Supreme Court in Manhattan.

14th Body Recovered, 14 Missing

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UPI) — Search crews being counseled on coping with despair by psychologists in hard hats labored a fifth day today to find workers buried in the rubble of a collapsed building that has yielded 14 bodies.

One body was pulled early today from the L'Ambiance Plaza wreckage and four were removed Sunday, bringing the total recovered to 14. A 15th body had been spotted in the twisted rubble and 13 other workers remain unaccounted for.

Search On For Ronnie's 4th Liver

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Doctors today conducted an urgent nationwide search for a fourth donor liver for critically ill Ronnie DeSillers and the 7-year-old boy's mother appealed to President Reagan for help.

"His liver has decreased in function," said Children's Hospital spokeswoman Lynn McMahon. "That is causing his condition to deteriorate. Doctors have now classified his need for a fourth liver transplant as urgent."

McMahon said that as of 8:30 a.m. there was "not even a potential donor identified."

Maria DeSillers, Ronnie's mother, sent a telegram to Reagan early today "from one Ronnie to another" noting that the president helped her son before after thieves stole $4,000 from a fund collected for transplant surgery.

...Gun Bill

"If we get to the point when everyone who has a problem can carry a firearm in situations of heated emotions they are likely to resort to it," he said. "There will be increased concerns on the part of other citizens and the community, and there will no doubt be more shooting incidents. I think it's just a further erosion of home rule, and I think local government is the best government because it's closest to the people."

State Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs, is a co-sponsor of House Bill 253 which would grant concealed weapons permits on a statewide basis, instead of county by county. And the criteria are less stringent than Seminole County's 10-year-old ordinance, under which only one person, a private investigator, has gained such a permit, after being twice denied.

Lake Mary Police Chief Charles Lauderdale was also discouraged about the likelihood of the bill passing into law. It has already passed the House and the Senate has similar legislation on its agenda.

Last year, similar gun permit legislation passed both the Florida house and senate but then governor Bob Graham vetoed it. Gov. Bob Martinez is thought to be less opposed to the legislation, Grindle's aide said.

"I am opposed to any means of making it less than totally professional as the reason for anyone to obtain a concealed weapon permit," Lauderdale said. "When you allow someone to have the ability to conceal a weapon, all you have to do is look at the statistics. Handguns are a real problem. A shotgun or rifle is a different story, based on the statistics. I say, why facilitate this. It's just a shame we can't make the legislators personally accountable."

On the other hand, people like County Commissioner Barbara Christensen are pleased the state may be about to override the county's policies of the past. She said the county's split vote, usually 3-2, has denied all but one concealed weapons permit and she thinks that's unfair.

"I think that it's our own fault that this type of legislation is coming out of the state. We have had a lot more applications for gun permits and we have just flat denied them. I don't think it's right after the sheriff has given us his recommendation, to approve some of them," Christensen said. "I don't think that we have been reasonable and this was the state's only recourse."

Seminole Sheriff John Polk said today he does not recommend approval or disapproval of gun permits. He said he just reports whether a person's background includes reasons to issue or not to issue a permit. He said his office may average two or three such request per year.

Polk said he has heard officials on both sides of the issue talk of Seminole County's gun permit policy.

Some officials use Seminole County's one permit issued as an example to contrast against thousands of permits issued in Duval County, which is the city of Jacksonville. Some officials say Seminole County apparently tough policy is reason to make it a statewide control issue. Others, Polk said, say if there is to be statewide control it should be patterned after Seminole County, not Duval County.

Polk said the bill was originally four and a half pages but has grown to 11 pages after input from law enforcement. He said bill grew after the state's sheriff association gave its recommendations to legislators and asked for safe guards.

He said he has heard the bill probably will not be introduced in the senate until later this week to reduce possible impact from the Palm Bay shootings.

Christensen said that she and County Commissioner Sandra Glenn have voted to allow many of the concealed weapons permits, while Commissioners Bill Kirchhoff and Bob Sturm have voted to deny, and Commission Chairman Fred Streetman sometimes went one way or the other.

"We have had a reputation of being a difficult county in which to obtain a permit. People don't even apply because they know that, and we've only had a few applications since I've been on the commission (for three years)," said Streetman referring to the legislation.

He said he could understand the rationale behind making the state uniform in its permitting criteria, "because a private investigator may go from county to county and not have the right to carry the gun in some counties." But he said the problem with the legislation is that it does not give the investigative powers to the sheriff's department to recommend if a person is qualified to carry a concealed handgun.

"I naturally think the best option would be for some local approval with some statewide criteria," he said.

Commissioner Bob Sturm said he is against the state assuming control over gun permits.

"I think it should be left to local control. I always have thought that and always will. I think the local people have a feeling for what is the need of a particular individual who is applying for a permit," Sturm said.

"I have consistently voted against issuing such permits. I don't think any of the applicants have shown me a compelling need to carry a gun," he said.

Glenn said she was unfamiliar with the legislation and so hadn't formed an opinion.

Kirchhoff, who has voted against issuing any concealed weapons permits, would not say Seminole County's method is better than the system proposed by the state. He said what the legislature wants, the legislature gets and there has been a move in the legislature to usurp local control on a variety of issues.

"Seminole County has been very good as far as concealed weapons permits are concerned."

"We look at whether a person needs a weapon in his business for protection. I feel the sheriff's job is protection," he said.

"I haven't seen too many people complaining. The only people complaining are the people who don't show a need for a concealed weapon in their business," Kirchhoff said.

Another piece of legislation, House Bill 251, also sponsored by Grindle, calls for up to a 48-hour waiting period on the purchase of handguns. The bill would make the waiting period uniform throughout the state.

that is, decreasing 72-hour waiting periods in some counties to 48 and creating waiting periods in some counties.

The bill has the following provisions, according to Grindle's office:

- A person may obtain a concealed weapon permit for $125 valid throughout the state for 3 years, with a $100 renewal fee, if he has been a Florida resident 6 months or more, is at least 21 years of age and meets certain criteria. Applicant criteria includes that:
 - He or she has no physical infirmity that would affect his use of the weapon;
 - He is not ineligible to possess the weapon due to felony conviction;
 - He has not been committed for use of controlled substance or been guilty of a crime concerning a controlled substance;

- He does not chronically and habitually use alcoholic beverages;
- He desires a legal means to carry the weapon for lawful self-defense;
- He demonstrates competency with a firearm.

• He has not been adjudicated an incompetent, or if so, has waited 3 years after competency was restored by court order;

• He has not been committed to a mental institution, or if so, possesses a certificate from a psychiatrist registered in Florida saying he has not suffered the disability for 3 years.

The Department of State may deny or revoke the permit if the person has committed a crime of violence within the past 3 years.

our job.

Weeks later we came up with more whale bones and what was later identified as an upper arm bone of a giant ground sloth, so I called the state museum and told them if they promised not to shut us down I would tell them where it was and give them the bones."

Russa McCarty, a paleontologist at the Florida State Museum in Gainesville, identified the vertebrae as being from the backbone of baleen whales. McCarty said the extinct shells found could be a million years old.

Meade said Art Reeves, a retired archaeologist now teaching at Valencia Community College, told him the giant sloth had been extinct 450,000 years.

Meade said the pit was 35 to 40 feet deep, not 65 feet as has been reported. Also found at the site were a whale rib bone, bones from several fish including a shark, oyster, snail and large conch shells.

"It was pretty amazing," Meade said. "I was hoping to find a skull. We did find some 'fool's gold,' at least I think it was iron pyrite in the clay. I haven't had it tested."

While the excavation has been going on a pump has been removing water from the pit, but now that it will be allowed to fill up and the edges of the lake sloped, Meade plans to build a home by the lake. He said the last survey was done on the property in 1867.

Meade, 28, said this is the first time he has come across anything like this in his work.

prenatal care."

The midwives would staff a maternity/delivery crisis unit at Central Florida Regional Hospital, which would provide space for the service. In turn, the nurse midwives would provide assistance to the county at the health department by providing clinical services and hospital follow-up.

Early today, three county commissioners said they favored the proposal as long as it meets legal requirements.

"I think it's great, and we're somewhat breaking new ground. We can meet the need and save money at the same time," said Commissioner Barbara Christensen.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said, "That's how babies used to be delivered all the time — by midwives." He said he favored the proposal as long as there are no legal restrictions.

Commissioner Sandra Glenn agreed, saying, "As long as the midwives are properly certified I don't have any problem with it."

Supreme Court Rejects Race Of Jury Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court left intact today a California man's hit and run conviction, rejecting arguments his lawyer was unfairly denied the right to exclude three black jurors.

The justices refused to hear an appeal by Herbert Pagel, who urged the justices to decide if last term's landmark ruling prohibiting prosecutors from excluding jurors on account of race applies to defense attorneys as well.

The case arose in 1984 when Pagel, a white man, was accused of hit and run driving. The victim and all the witnesses against him were black.

lawyer exercised his peremptory challenges to strike three blacks from the juror pool hearing the case against his client. A peremptory challenge is the term that describes an attorney's right to remove jurors without giving a reason.

The trial court then granted a motion by the state to dismiss the entire juror pool on grounds the exclusion of black jurors violated a state court ruling prohibiting any use of race-based peremptory challenges.

A new jury was chosen and Pagel was convicted. He later appealed his sentence, saying he had a constitutional right to use peremptory challenges any way he pleased.

Farm Subsidies Are Global Woe

Fifteen years ago, international leaders were warning of possible global famine. In 1984, the drought-stricken African nation of Sudan was appealing for international aid to feed its people.

Today, the world is awash in grain and, after two consecutive record harvests, Sudan is one of nine grain-exporting African nations. To be sure, there still are too many hungry people in the world. But their hunger must be attributed to transportation and economics, not to a world-wide shortage of food.

A Green Revolution is occurring in many Third World nations. And government policies in Europe and other developed countries have led to increased agricultural production in those countries as well. Modern farming techniques and extensive irrigation systems have made deserts bloom. Saudi Arabia, for example, last year grew more grain than it could use or store, so it simply donated large amounts to Egypt.

Even the Indian subcontinent has become nearly self-sufficient. Bangladesh still is a grain importer, but its farmers now grow a wheat crop between their two normal rice crops. India grows so much wheat that it has begun subsidizing exports.

And that is the one dark cloud over the world's otherwise bright agricultural picture. Agriculture is the most subsidized segment of the world's economy. Export subsidies and import restrictions have become constant sources of friction among the world's exporting nations.

Earlier this year, the Reagan administration threatened to impose tariffs on British gin, French wines and European cheese in retaliation for European Community restrictions on the sale of feed grain to Spain and Portugal. A settlement eventually was negotiated that permitted additional U.S. grain sales and kept the Brie and white wine coming to America.

In an attempt to head off farm trade wars and reclaim some of its lost agricultural markets, the United States last year urged the 92-country General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs to move the farm subsidy debate to the top of its agenda. GATT members, many of whose economies are suffering as a result of the high cost of subsidized agriculture, have agreed. Negotiations are scheduled to begin next year.

U.S. farmers have been hurt badly by the proliferation of agricultural subsidies. More than 30 percent of U.S. grain production is sold on the world market. But with import restrictions and export subsidies flourishing throughout the world, the U.S. share of the world grain market has decreased. At the same time, the cost of U.S. farm subsidies has skyrocketed. Last year, U.S. farm subsidies cost federal taxpayers $26.1 billion, nearly 10 times their cost a decade ago.

Most of the world's governments have decided that consumers and taxpayers prefer low food prices and slightly higher taxes to high food prices. That is unlikely to change, here or elsewhere.

But the Reagan administration does want to lower farm subsidies at home and abroad. It knows, however, that unilateral action would only hurt U.S. farmers. The problem is global, not domestic. And, with farm subsidies hurting European economies as well, they too see the need to reform world agricultural markets.

Those reforms won't come quickly or easily. Nor should they be designed to discourage continued agricultural development in Third World nations. But fewer agricultural subsidies and a more open market in farm products would benefit all nations, rich and poor. Importers and exporters. It's a goal worth pursuing. Market reform is needed to fulfill the promise of the Green Revolution.

Don't Waste Your Sympathy On Traitors

Oh, to be a young man on assignment in a foreign country. Once that was actually a fate to be envied, not an excuse for treason.

Even if the assignment was only Marine guard duty at an embassy, it was arguably better than many military postings and surely as interesting as the bulk of available jobs back home. How many of Sgt. Clayton Lonetree's non-Marine peers will ever experience the exotic pleasure of strolling down the streets of Moscow?

For some reason, though, there has been a subtle undercurrent of sympathy for Lonetree and his fellow Marines ever since the story broke of how two or more guards may have helped Soviet spies penetrate the U.S. embassy.

Nobody has condoned their actions, of course, but some of us seem surprisingly eager to swathe their import in a thick gauze of understanding.

These Marines were just "kids," we have been told — male and single, and therefore easy marks for a KGB temptress. Who could have expected them to match wits with professional Soviet spies?

This generous attitude was nicely summed up in the following headline from a major newspaper: "U.S. Marine Guards Leading Lonely, Isolated Life in Soviet."

Really, now. To explain treason by reference to commonplace frustrations is to trivialize evil. Poverty breeds crime, too, but most poor people aren't criminals. A particular Marine sergeant may indeed have been lonely. If so, he wasn't the first.

Not only do Lonetree's frustrations explain little, they justify nothing at all. You might as well sympathize with the treachery of Guy Burgess, one of this century's notorious spies, because he'd been rebuffed for membership in the Eton Society as a result of his flagrant homosexuality. (Don't laugh: The critically acclaimed British movie "Another Country" seems to suggest that the Burgess-like character was justified in betraying Britain on precisely such grounds.)

The deeper reasons for treason simply aren't illuminated by reference to youthful snubs or solitude. All sorts of young men in their teens and 20s have been standing lonely vigil for centuries, and fighting lonelier wars, in defense of the West. In an important sense, their work began 490 years before Christ, on the plains at Marathon, and has continued ever since at locations from Tours to Okinawa.

Naturally, many traitors are alienated from their own society. That almost goes without saying. To cite just one more example: The British traitor Kim Philby idolized his father, whom the younger Philby believed had been ill-treated by the British establishment.

Still, people betray their country for a host of other reasons as well, many of them contradictory — because they're smug and amoral, or because they're too clever for their own good, or too stupid, or simply because they're greedy.

When all is said and done, though, motives don't much matter. Although there seemed nothing remarkable about Lonetree's assignment, no burden that most of us, at his age and in his circumstances, would have had trouble bearing up against, what if indeed there had been such pressure? Is that a sufficient defense for anyone: that life is hard?

Save your sympathy for someone who has earned it.

Reagans Focus On Library

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan appears to be heavily focused on the Reagan presidential library that will be built at Stanford University after he leaves office.

In recent weeks he has had several meetings with the foundation he set up to drum up private money for the project. The goal is $80 million, but the upkeep will be on the public tab, as it is with all of the presidential libraries.

The time has come in the Reagans' life when presidents and their wives begin thinking about their future. With two years to go, the President and Mrs. Reagan know that time is running out and they have to make the most of their remaining tenure.

It was expected that both would want their portraits painted in the White House and later to be officially hung there.

Top White House aides have been pushing one message in recent weeks: "The President is in charge."

The fact that the president is in command should not be a surprise. That's the way it usually is, but there has been a major campaign under way to reassert Reagan's authority that has been somewhat diminished in the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal.

The president said he did not know what was going on in the National Security Council in reference to the diversion of money to the Nicaraguan rebels, or Contras, from the sale of weapons to Iran.

The message is being conveyed in many ways. Reagan is busier than ever and he is more visible than he has been in many months. He also is pausing to answer questions in a new show of openness.

Much of the credit of lifting Reagan out of the doldrums goes to new White House chief of staff Howard Baker, a low-key, smiling top aide who knows it is best not to raise his profile too high to invite problems from some quarters.

Unlike former chief of staff Donald Regan, who incurred Nancy Reagan's wrath, Baker stays out of the limelight and off camera as much as possible.

In fact, he is very busy himself taking pictures of the president and his awesome new surroundings.

When Reagan toured a school in Columbia, Mo., recently, a teacher asked one youngster, "What does Nancy Reagan do?"

The answer from the child, "She fired Don Regan."

Stinger Shipments To Afghan Rebels End

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Afghan freedom fighters used up their modest supply of American Stinger anti-aircraft missiles more than three months ago and have received no replacements, despite reports to the contrary. This has seriously crippled their fight against the Soviet invaders of their country.

That's not all. The anti-Soviet mujaheddin were drastically shorted on the Stingers and launchers they did get: only 100 missiles instead of 150, and only 28 launchers instead of 50. The CIA simply didn't deliver what Congress apparently ordered it to.

The Stinger scandal is one of several indications that the CIA is botching — perhaps deliberately — its biggest covert assistance program since the Vietnam War. We were alerted by sources within the agency who claim that millions of dollars in Afghan military aid has been wasted or misused. We began an investigation, including a trip by Dale Van Atta to the Afghan-

Create Charter Commission

On Tuesday, the County Administrator will recommend that the Seminole County Commission establish a charter government "advisory committee." This group would draw up a proposed form of government, submit it to the County Commission, and the County Commission would change it any way it saw fit, then put its version on the ballot for the public.

In other words, the County Commission would put its proposal for government on the ballot.

I hope the County Commission has enough faith and confidence in the people of Seminole County to take the alternative route: establish an independent and autonomous charter commission which would not have big brother watching over its shoulder. Government exists at the will of the people, and it is the people, not government, who should determine if a charter is needed and what its form should be.

The citizens deserve the opportunity to vote on exactly what an independent Charter Commission comes up with without having the proposal meddled with by the County Commission and its parochialism.

Hart's Nagging Debt

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — While Gary Hart mounted the stage of the Palace Theater in Hollywood to speak at a fund-raiser capping his first week of campaigning, federal marshalls quietly entered the box office and seized about $29,000 in proceeds from the event to pay off a creditor from Hart's 1984 campaign.

Representing Semper-Moser Associates, a small California advertising agency, the marshalls were armed with a judgment for $105,412 that had been issued against Hart's 1984 campaign committee, "Americans With Hart," by a federal court in Washington, D.C.

Semper-Moser Associates contends that Hart still owes $162,754 — including interest since March 1984 — to the agency, which produced and placed commercials for Hart during that year's California primary.

During the 1984 campaign numerous questions were raised about Hart that collectively became known as "the character issues."

These included problems with his wife (two separations and an announcement of an impending divorce), changing his name from Hartence, misrepresenting his age and a late U.S. Naval Reserve commission obtained, apparently, to give him a military service "record."

Organizers of Hart's 1988 campaign readily admit that its candidate owes more than $1.3 million to some 60 creditors from the 1984 campaign, but in recent weeks they have been trying desperately to downplay the matter.

A lengthy statement issued in Denver when Hart officially announced his candidacy stressed that over the last 18 months the debt had been reduced from $4.7 million to its present level.

The document also pointed out, quite correctly, that many former presidential candidates still owe creditors money, including Jimmy Carter from 1980 ($676,000), John Glenn from 1984 (more than $2 million), John Connally from 1980 ($841,000) and Ted Kennedy from 1984 ($83,000).

Tracing Risks Of Hepatitis

By Rob Stein
UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — A study of a 1942 outbreak of hepatitis in the Army suggests the long-term risks for cancer and chronic liver disease growing out of hepatitis B infections may be lower than believed.

"That was a rather striking finding," said Dr. Leonard B. Seeff of the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Washington, who headed the study. "We have to rethink the whole idea of hepatitis B infection."

As many as 350,000 American servicemen received inoculations in 1942 for yellow fever with a vaccine that was withdrawn after some 50,000 of the soldiers were hospitalized with jaundice.

Although doctors at the time speculated that the vaccine was infected with hepatitis B, they were never certain.

In the new study, researchers located 221 men who received the contaminated vaccine and were hospitalized, 171 men who received the suspect vaccine and were not hospitalized and 205 men who did not receive the vaccine.

Blood tests revealed that about 98 percent of the first group and about 75 percent of the second group had antibodies to the hepatitis B virus in their blood. Only about 12 percent of the last group had the antibodies in their blood.

Antibodies are formed by the body's immune system in response to invading viruses or other foreign substances. Seef said the blood findings show conclusively that hepatitis B was the virus involved.

"There's no question that that was an outbreak of hepatitis B," Seef said in a telephone interview. "That was not known before."

Other studies had indicated that between 5 percent and 10 percent of those infected with hepatitis B could be expected to develop a chronic infection, which can lead to cirrhosis of the liver and liver cancer.

But the researchers were surprised to find that only 0.25 percent of the two groups of men who received the tainted vaccine had developed chronic infections.

"This is an extraordinarily low carrier rate," said Seef, who published his findings in a recent issue of The New England Journal of Medicine.

In addition, preliminary results of a companion study found no indications of an increased death rate from liver cancer or liver disease among the men.

Pakistani border.

From sources in Washington and in Peshawar (the Pakistani city that is headquarters for most of the mujaheddin units), we learned that the CIA has bungled the secret supply line to a mind-boggling degree. The agency's mismanagement is particularly mystifying in light of the broad bipartisan support for the Afghan guerrillas both in Congress and the country at large.

For years after the Soviet invasion in December 1979, the Afghan guerrillas begged the United States for an anti-aircraft weapon that could shoot down or scare away the Soviet warplanes and helicopter gunships that were devastating their fighting units and the villages that supported them.

The CIA grudgingly produced some Soviet SA7s, short-range surface-to-air missiles of dubious reliability. The agency compounded the ineffectiveness of the weapons by issuing precise, wrongheaded orders for their use: one or more rebels hiding near Soviet-run airports are supposed to stand up and fire when a plane takes off.

The mujaheddin were dismayed at this tactic. Not only was it almost certainly suicidal, but it missed the whole point of their request for anti-aircraft missiles. The Afghans wanted the weapons to protect their supply convoys and friendly villages from Soviet strafing attacks.

But as one intelligence source put it, the CIA "had a box-score mentality, just like the body-count mentality in Vietnam." No airport attacks, no missiles.

When the Afghans complained that the SA7s were no good, their CIA suppliers disagreed, pointing out that the Viet Cong had used them with devastating effect in Vietnam. The mujaheddin tried to explain the crucial terrain difference: In Vietnam, the guerrillas could hide in heavily canopied jungles until American helicopters were hovering practically overhead. They couldn't miss.

But there are no protective jungles in Afghanistan. The guerrillas must take what cover they can in gullies on the barren hillsides some distance from their targets.

Determined congressional friends of the mujaheddin finally overcame the resistance of the CIA and Pentagon officials who "didn't want their fancy toys going to some ragheads," as one source put it, and forced the shipment of Stingers in the spring of 1986.

For a while the mujaheddin used the Stingers with great effectiveness, achieving a 60 percent kill ratio. The Soviets radically changed their air operations in eastern Afghanistan — and last December closed their airfield at Jalalabad, between Kabul and the Khyber Pass.

But then, in the first week of January, the supply of Stingers stopped — and the mujaheddin ran out of the missiles a week later. The Soviets quickly realized what had happened, and reopened the Jalalabad airfield, capable of handling 300 or more aircraft.

The CIA still insisted on its airport attack policy — they assigned 10 launchers each to use against the Kabul and Bagram airfields, and eight to the Jalalabad airfield.

Seminole Selects Robinson

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Greg Robinson, a coach who has been long on skill and short on talent in his 12 years at Lake Howell High School, realized his ultimate dream Sunday afternoon.

Robinson, a 36-year-old Crooms High graduate, will be returning home to coach Seminole High School's basketball team, Seminole Principal Wayne Epps announced today.

"I'm really excited about it," Robinson said this morning. "I love the kids at Seminole and I've always wanted to return home. This has been one of my life's dreams."

Robinson will replace Bill Klein, who resigned three weeks ago. Klein, who coached the past two years, coached Seminole to a 25-6 record this year and won the Seminole Athletic Conference for the second year in a row.

Robinson was selected from a list of eight candidates, which included Seminole assistants John McNamara and Tom Smith; Lake Mary coach Willie

Basketball

Richardson, former Seminole assistant Terry Woods; Vero Beach coach Wesley Aldrich, Palatka coach Jim Baxter; and Florida Community College assistant "Chill" Campbell.

"It was a clear-cut decision by the committee," Epps said. "We were impressed with Greg's background in fundamentals, the fact that he is a role model to the kids and his ability to foster a competitive spirit."

Although Robinson's teams never won a district nor conference title at Lake Howell due to a lack of talent, he is highly regarded for his basketball knowledge, according to Epps.

"Greg played for Murray Arnold at Birmingham Southern and Joe Sterling at Seminole Community College," Epps said. "He has an outstanding background in fundamentals."

Robinson, a multi-sport star at Crooms, played on SCC's state championship team before completing his education at Birmingham Southern. After his graduation, he taught and coached the Seminole junior varsity in 1973-74. At the same time, he also assisted Sterling at SCC.

"It will be a big change talent-wise," Robinson said. "But the expectations will be more so. It's a challenge and I'm really looking forward to it."

Robinson and his wife, the former Ella Wiggins of Sanford, live in Winter Springs. They have two daughters, Tammy, 9, and Nicole, 5.

Greg Robinson, 36, who has been head coach at Lake Howell High for 12 years, will be the new Seminole High basketball coach.

Sixers Tighten Up: 1-1

United Press International
The Philadelphia 76ers tightened their defense and evened their opening-round playoff series against the Milwaukee Bucks.

The Sixers, who came from 10 points behind in the fourth period, used a mixture of experience and youth at the guard position Sunday to take a 125-122 overtime victory over the Milwaukee Bucks and send the series back to Philadelphia tied 1-1.

Philadelphia used the combination of Maurice Cheeks and rookie David Wingate to frustrate the Bucks on offense and spearhead their comeback run.

"The turning point was when we went down 10 points and were able to get back in it," Philadelphia Coach Matt Guokas said. "We didn't really have any rhythm up to that point. We finally decided on Maurice (Cheeks) and David (Wingate) in the backcourt and it worked. They trapped some and I think the defensive intensity picked up at that point."

Charles Barkley scored 8 of his 26 points in overtime, including the go-ahead basket with 11 seconds remaining, as the Sixers rallied from a 97-87 deficit in the final 6:43 of the fourth period.

The score was tied 108-108 at the end of regulation and the 76ers opened a 115-112 lead on Julius Erving's 3-pointer with 3:28 left in the extra period.

The lead switched hands five times before Barkley hit a baseline jumper with 11 seconds left to put the Sixers in front 123-122.

"In the overtime period, they got a lot more rebounds than we did," Bucks guard John Lucas said. "We made some crazy errors that really cost us. When they began to press us with six minutes left, that really turned the game around."

Elsewhere, Portland defeated Houston 111-98, Boston got by Chicago 105-98, Detroit blew out Washington 128-85 and Atlanta squeaked by Indiana 94-93.

Lewis Butler had his hop (left), skip (middle) and jump (right) hitting on all three gears Friday night at the District 4A-9 Track & Field Championships. The Seminole High freshman triple jumped his way to second place with a 44 1/2-foot leap. Lake Mary's Cecil King won by bounding 45-8. Seminole won the district easily.

Oviedo, Forest Match Similar Styles In Region

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer
Two teams with very similar styles, Ocala Forest and Oviedo, will be meeting on Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Region 3A-3 baseball final at Ocala Forest High School.

The Oviedo Lions are a team that loves to run. When a player makes it to first, chances are pretty good that coach Howard Mable will send him. Ocala is a team that similar to Oviedo in that the Wildcats aren't afraid to take a chance either.

"We like to run out there," Ocala Forest coach Wayne Yancey, who is in his ninth year at Ocala, said. "We stole 86 out of 93 bases (.925 percent), and we will run every chance we get."

Oviedo advanced to the game with a 15-3 thrashing over Leesburg last Friday night. Forest edged Gainesville Eastside, 1-0, in a 10-inning game last Friday.

Ocala comes in to the game with a record of 21-6. Oviedo, which is ranked fifth in the state and has won its last 12 games, comes in with a 22-5 mark.

The pitching matchup in the game will pit each club's top pitcher, Scott Bowers (7-3), a curveballing right-hander, will be on the mound for Oviedo. Yancey said that Kevin Teppl, a southpaw who fanned 17 batters in last Friday's win, will probably be on the hill for the Wildcats.

"Kevin is a real tough pitcher," Yancey said about his 9-0 ace. "He has pitched a lot (14 innings) in the district tournament, and I'll just have to see if he's ready to go on Tuesday."

Yancey said that either Tim Christman (4-4) or Tony Cason (5-2) will pitch if Tippet is not ready to go.

Oviedo coach Howard Mable said that he has heard only good things about Tippet. "I heard that he is heck of a pitcher," Mable said. "I also heard that he is a fastball pitcher, and we don't mind that a bit."

"I think that Scott will be ready," Mable added. "He's come through for us before, and had pitched in a number of big games."

Ocala has a strong hitting team as the Wildcats have team average of .295. Right fielder Kenny Cotton leads the way for Forest as Cotton is hitting .425 this season. Tim Christman has swung the big bat as Christman is hitting .412. Christman also has two homers with 28 runs batted in. Tippet also chipped in by hitting .373.

"We are a pretty good hitting team," Yancey said. "I'm real anxious to play Oviedo. I've heard a lot about them."

Mable said that his team needs to play at its very best in order to beat Ocala. "They played pretty well in the Apopka Spring Tournament," Mable said. "We need to go out there and play our game. When we do that, we usually win."

Yancey said that playing the game at home is definitely an advantage. "We have a pretty good following here," Yancey said. "Playing at our own park undoubtedly helps."

The field won't exactly be suited for Oviedo as there is no fence in left field. The outfield is the football practice field. "That doesn't help us a lot," Mable, who has a lot of right-handed batters on his team, said. "We'll just have to stick it out." There is a fence in right field, though.

Oviedo has been getting solid hitting throughout the order as everybody is chipping in. "I'm expecting us to hit the ball," Mable said. "In order for us to win this game, we need to play very good defense."

Both coaches said that they are anxious to play each other. "It should be a heck of a game and I'm really looking forward to it," Yancey said.

"It's going to be a fight, but I truly believe that we are ready," Mable said.

Brantley Pits Home Edge Against Boone Tradition

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
Orlando Boone's Lady Braves are a team rich in postseason success, having won three consecutive district titles and two region crowns in a row. To continue that success, however, the Lady Braves must beat a surging Lake Brantley team that has not lost on its home field in two years.

Boone and Brantley collide Tuesday night at 7:30 at Lake Brantley High in the 4A-5 Region playoff. The winner of Tuesday's game, a rematch of last year's region playoff, will advance to the 4A-3 Section playoff on Friday against the Merritt Island-Palm Beach Gardens winner.

Lake Brantley, 16-6 overall, has won seven of its last eight including a 5-2 victory over DeLand in Friday's district final.

"We peaked at such a perfect time," Lake Brantley coach Renny Betris said. "The last six games before district we were getting 15-16 hits a game and scoring a lot of runs. If we can keep hitting like that and the defense makes the plays it's supposed to, we can beat anybody."

Boone, 18-5 overall, advanced with a 2-1 victory over Apopka on Friday. Apopka, the Metro Conference champion, had beaten Boone twice during the regular season but the Lady Braves completely shut down the powerful Apopka offense in Friday's game.

Softball

"The only error we made led to Apopka's run in the first inning," Boone coach Wayne Rickman said. "After the first, Apopka had only one baserunner the rest of the game."

Brantley and Boone met once early in the season with Boone on the winning end of a 5-2 score.

"We played great defense in that game but didn't hit the ball," Betris said. "Boone doesn't score a lot of runs, but they score enough to win with the way they play defense."

Boone, which has lost in the sectional to state champion Palm Beach Gardens the last two years, had five players in the lineup who have started for three years. Leading the way is pitcher Cheri McClain who has been selected as pitcher for the North squad in the annual FHSAA North-South All-Star game.

Other three-year starters for the Lady Braves include slugging first baseman Katy Mello, third baseman Kattie Deming who had the winning hit against Apopka, strong-armed shortstop Jody Guthrie and outfielder-rover Melissa Ligas.

Boone's leading hitter for the season is outfielder Novella Set-

Tracy Brandenburg, right, consoles Tammy Lewis after Brantley's victory over Lake Howell.

Evert Rallies, Tops Martina

HOUSTON (UPI) — Chris Evert, two points away from her 38th loss at the hands of Martina Navratilova, turned near-defeat into a milestone victory — the 150th tournament triumph of her professional career.

Evert, who had not beaten Navratilova since the 1986 French Open and is 34-37 overall against her longtime rival, took a 3-6, 6-1, 7-6 (7-4) victory Sunday in the final of the $150,000 Virginia Slims of Houston. Evert's 150 victories is the most of any professional tennis player, male or female.

Navratilova bounced back in the doubles final, teaming with Kathy Jordan to defeat third-seeded Lori McNeil and Zina Garrison of Houston, 6-2, 6-4. Navratilova and Jordan were seeded second.

Playing on the clay courts at Lakeside Racquet and Athletic Club, Evert said she could feel her chances dwindle in the third set when Navratilova broke her service for a 5-4 lead, then took a 30-15 lead in the 10th game.

"When I was down a break in the third with Martina serving and leading 30-15, I thought my chances were slim," Evert said. "That's when she usually puts her opponents away."

Instead, Navratilova hit two backhands into the net and a third shot wide, allowing Evert to tie the set at 5-5.

Tennis

After hitting her second shot into the net, Navratilova screamed: "Oh God, you choked."

Both players then held service to force a tiebreaker. Both held service until Navratilova served the seventh point, with Evert taking a 4-3 edge on a forchard lob that fell just over Navratilova's outstretched racket.

Navratilova held off one match point at 6-3, passing Evert with a backhand down the line. With Navratilova pinned at the baseline, Evert then hit a drop volley, and put away Navratilova's weak return for the match.

Navratilova looked at Evert during the awards ceremony and said: "You did it to me today."

However, Navratilova agreed she was her own worst enemy in the third set.

"Two points away from winning, and I can't come through," she said.

Blaizers 11, Rockets 9
At Portland Ore., Clyde Drexler scored 32 points and Terry Porter had 15 assists to lead the Trail Blazers and even their playoff series at 1-1. Porter's assist total matched Portland's high for a playoff game which was set by Darnell Valentine in 1983 against the Los Angeles Lakers.

Kiki Vandeweghe added 22 points and Porter had 16 as the Trail Blazers bounced back from a 125-115 loss to the defending Western Conference champions Friday night.

Ralph Sampson and Allen Leavell scored 28 each for the Rockets, who committed 25 turnovers to 12 by the Trail Blazers.

Celtics 165, Bulls 96
At Boston, Larry Bird netted 29 points to move the Celtics within a game of a first-round playoff sweep of the Bulls. Boston, which won its 31st straight game at Boston Garden and 15th in a row over Chicago, set an NBA playoff record by committing only 5 turnovers.

Chicago received a game-high 42 points from Michael Jordan and led 87-85 with eight minutes to go. Boston took command with a 12-2 run as Danny Ainge hit a pair of 15-foot jump shots and a layup after stealing the ball from Jordan.

Pistons 128, Hawks 85
At Pontiac, Mich., Adrian Dantley scored 24 points and Isiah Thomas added 17 as the Pistons blew past the Bulls to take a 2-0 lead in their series. Detroit rolled to a 76-36 lead at halftime, the largest mid-game margin in playoff history, by outscoring Washington 40-14 in the second period. Thomas ended the half by nailing a 32-foot shot at the buzzer.

Washington shot just 38 percent from the field in the game, and Detroit made 57 percent of its shots, including 71 percent in the first half.

Joe Dumars and Vinnie Johnson each had 14 points for the Pistons. Terry Calledge led Washington with 19 points and Moses Malone had 17.

Hawks 94, Pacers 87
At Indianapolis, Dominique Wilkins scored 25 of his game-high 43 points in the second half to give the Hawks a 2-0 advantage in their series against the Pacers.

Indiana, which led by 9 points with five minutes left in the third quarter, had a chance to take the game but John Long missed a 15-foot jump shot from the foul line with two seconds left.

Spud Webb finished with 12 points and 14 assists for Atlanta. Chuck Person led Indiana with 24 points and Wayman Tisdale had 15.

Awesome Dawson Continues Assault With 2 Home Runs

United Press International
 Andre Dawson, who often complained about playing on the artificial turf in Montreal, rarely had a problem hitting in Olympic Stadium.

N.L. Baseball

Dawson returned this weekend to the stadium where he played the previous 10 seasons, and it was just like old times. The former Expos slugger hit two home runs Sunday to power the Cubs to a 7-1 victory and a three-game sweep of Montreal.

For the weekend, Dawson was 7 for 12 with three doubles, two homers and six RBI.

"I don't want anyone to think that I came here to beat up on my former team," said Dawson, who signed with the Cubs as a free agent. "For me it was just the way I do my job."

Cubs Manager Gene Michael likes the way his new player operates.

"Dawson is a winner," Michael said. "We need a player like Dawson and his bat. Having the advantage of playing so many games on a natural surface like we have in Chicago is going to help him."

Dawson hit a two-run homer in the fourth and clubbed a solo shot in the ninth, giving him five home runs this season.

"It took me a while to get to the groove," Dawson said. "I started slowly. But I fixed up my mechanics since the season started and I know the hits will fall in there as long as I concentrate."

"With the other guys swinging the bat now, I think we'll have a good season and we will have to be contented with it."

The Cubs swept the Expos for the first time in Montreal since 1982 and are 8-2 away from home, their best road start since 1946. Chicago is 9-8 overall.

Chicago's Steve Trout, 1-1, went the distance for the first time since Sept. 29, 1985 — a period during which he failed to pitch a complete game in 29 starts.

solo home run that started a four-run rally in the fifth inning. The Cardinals have beaten the Mets five times in six games this season, one fewer victory than St. Louis had against New York all of last season.

Reds 11, Astros 3
 At Houston, Dave Parker hit two home runs and drove in five runs to help Mario Soto earn his first victory since last August and give the Reds a three-game sweep of the Astros. Soto, 1-0, coming off arthroscopic surgery on his right shoulder, walked one and struck out two in 6 1-3 innings.

Giants 6, Braves 4
 At Atlanta, Jeff Leonard drove in two runs with a homer and a single to lead the Giants, who turned four double plays. San Francisco set a major-league record for most double plays in three consecutive games, making 13 in the weekend series. The previous record was 12 by four clubs.

Padres 4, Dodgers 0
 At Los Angeles, Eric Show threw a three-hit shutout and Mark Parent drove in the first two runs of his major-league career. The victory was just the fifth in 20 games for San Diego and snapped the Dodgers' four-game winning streak. Show, 1-1, earned his first victory since Aug. 20 of last year.

"I was wondering when my last complete game was," Trout said. "I knew it was so long ago that I forgot about it."

In other games, Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 6-4. St. Louis defeated New York 7-4. Cincinnati clubbed Houston 11-3. San Francisco edged Atlanta 6-4 and San Diego blanked Los Angeles 4-0.

In the American League, it was Kansas City 6, Detroit 1; New York 14, Cleveland 2; Minnesota 10, California 5; Toronto 5, Chicago 2; Milwaukee 5, Baltimore 3; Texas 5, Boston 3 in 13 innings; and Seattle 8, Oakland 5.

Nordiques, Islanders Extend Perverse Loss Trend At Home

United Press International
Any night now, look for Wales Conference fans to demand their money back — or for the teams feeling the pressure of playing at home to start offering their rosters payment to stay away.

The Patrick and Adams finalists Sunday night extended this year's perverse trend of losing at home as the Montreal Canadiens evened their best-of-seven Adams series 2-2 and the Philadelphia Flyers took a 3-1 Patrick lead, with all but one game going to the visiting team.

The Canadiens defeated the Quebec Nordiques in Le Colisee, 3-2 in overtime on Mats Naslund's 50-footer. The Flyers raised their season record at Uniondale, N.Y. with a 6-4 triumph over the New York Islanders on the strength of three second-period goals within a span of 6:40.

Both series switch sites Tuesday, and if necessary again Thursday. Both Campbell Conference series are scheduled to resume Monday night, as the Edmonton Oilers, who lead the Smythe Division final 3-0, visit the Winnipeg Jets, and the Detroit Red Wings visit the Toronto Maple Leafs, who lead the Norris 2-1.

"I don't have any answer to the home-ice problem," said Islanders Coach Terry Simpson, whose team is 1-7-1 at home since a regular-season victory March 21.

Overall, visiting teams have won 33 times in the Stanley Cup playoffs this season, compared to 25 victories for the home teams.

Haas Wins In Sudden Death

THE WOODLANDS, Texas (UPI) — Jay Haas was so certain his sudden-death playoff with Buddy Gardner at the $600,000 Houston Open would last longer than one hole, he didn't bother looking as Gardner lined up for a 2 1/2-foot par putt.

When Gardner missed, Haas found himself sweating over a similar 2 1/2-footer for victory Sunday afternoon. He sank it, winning the $108,000 first prize and his first tournament victory since 1982.

"I wasn't even looking when Buddy missed his putt," said Haas, who sank a 60-foot birdie putt on the final hole of regulation to force a playoff. "I just figured he'd make it. I was worried about my own."

"I wasn't nervous over my putt until he missed his, and then I started shaking."

Haas and Gardner finished 72 holes over the Tournament Players Course at The Woodlands Country Club tied at 12-under-par 276, one shot ahead of Payne Stewart and three ahead of Wayne Levi and Nick Price.

Haas shot a 5-under 67 for the final round while Gardner shot 2-under-par 70.

Last year's Houston Open also was decided in sudden death, as Curtis Strange beat Calvin Peete on the third extra hole.

Gardner, who has not won a PGA tournament, finished second for the fourth time in his career and the second time at Houston.

Florida, TCU Tie At Penn

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Florida won the plaque and watches awarded to the winner of the 4 x 100-meter relay in the 93rd Penn Relays.

In an unprecedented development, so did Texas Christian.

Florida's team of Tony Jones, Stacey Simmons, Dennis Mitchell and Ed Frazier won the event in 40.22 seconds Saturday afternoon as Auburn was second in 40.29 and TCU, winners of 13 straight 4 x 100 races, was third in 40.71.

However, TCU's first runner was in lane 7 and its second was in lane 8 because of a mixup caused when East Carolina withdrew, and the Flyin' Frogs protested.

After meet officials and coaches of all the teams involved huddled for more than an hour, Dr. Leroy Walker, the meet referee, decided there should be a second running of the race because of the lane confusion.

Walker ruled participation would be optional, Florida would keep its victory and there would be co-champions if the winner of the second race topped the Gators' time.

TCU promptly did that, taking the two-team second race in 39.26 seconds as Auburn was second in 39.43.

YMCA To Have Track Program

This spring the Seminole YMCA will sponsor a track program for elementary age children led by area high school track coaches and featuring competition in the atmosphere of the richest tradition.

Lake Mary and Lake Brantley High School track coaches will coach children at both schools for three weeks from May 4 to May 23.

The climate of instruction includes three meets, the last of which is the Golden South Classic in Winter Park.

Call the Y for more information at 321-8944.

Patterson: Herald's Leading Lady

Lawson, Whyte, Hillsman, Hankins Complete All-County First Team

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

After two years of banging around with much taller players inside, Cynthia Patterson moved to the perimeter in 1986-87 to a position she was not at all familiar with.

But it was Patterson's quick adaptation to the wing position that was a key in the success of the Lake Mary Lady Rams.

Patterson concluded an outstanding career by finishing second in Seminole County in scoring (16 points per game), fifth in rebounding (7.5) and fifth in steals (3.4). She was also a tenacious defensive player for coach Bill Moore's team which won the district title for the third year in a row.

For her outstanding senior season, Patterson was selected the Sanford Herald Seminole County Player of the Year by three county coaches and sports writer Chris Flister. Lyman coach Lisa Carlson, Oviedo coach John Thomas and Lake Brantley coach Cindy Frank did not return ballots.

"Starting the season, I knew very little about my new position," Patterson said. "But I thought I improved a lot as the season went on and, overall, I think I had a better year than last year."

Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said Patterson contributed in all phases of the game instead of only scoring.

"She would have averaged 20 to 25 points per game for any other team in the county," Moore said. "But we had all five starters in double figures so we needed her support in other areas. She rebounded well and was a key player on defense for us and she usually came through when we needed the big basket."

Patterson, 5-5, is hoping to continue her basketball career in college and the schools she is currently looking at include the University of Central Florida, University of Florida, North Carolina, Miami, Seminole Community College and Manatee Community College.

"I want to play in college and I'm sure I'll be playing guard," Patterson said. "All the colleges I'm talking to say I would be playing guard. So I'll have to work on improving my ballhandling and outside shooting."

Patterson was joined on the All-County First Team by Lake Mary teammates Tonya Lawson and Teri Whyte, Seminole's Adrian

Lawson, a 5-7 senior guard, also took on a new position late in the season when she switched from two guard to point guard. Lawson ended up averaging 12 points, 2.5 assists and 5.2 steals per game.

Whyte, a 6-5 junior center, was a dominant presence inside for the Lady Rams this season, particularly on defense. Whyte, who is expected to be highly recruited as a senior, led the county in blocked shots with 98 (3.6 per game) and also averaged 9.8 points and 10.4 rebounds per game.

Hillsman, a 5-7 sophomore guard, had a tremendous season in only her first full year with the Lady Seminoles. Hillsman led the county in scoring with 19.5 points per game, was sixth in rebounding (7.2), third in assists (3.8), third in steals (5.1) and fourth in free throw shooting (61.8).

Hankins, a 5-2 senior guard, led the Lady Silver Hawks in scoring for the second year in a row with a 15.9 average that was third in the county. Hankins also set a school record for season free throw shooting

The All-County Second Team included Lake Howell junior guard Tammy Lewis, Lake Brantley sophomore guard Tracy Brandenburg, Lake Howell senior forward Denise Arriola, Lake Mary junior forward Sharon Bonaventure and Lake Brantley senior center Laurie Rivers. Arriola and honorable mention center Dina Mulholland will both attend Bradenton's Manatee Junior College on scholarships next year.

Lewis led the county in assists (7.0) and steals (5.8) while Brandenburg was second in assists (3.9) and fourth in steals (3.5); Arriola led the county in rebounding with an 11.2 average while Bonaventure was fourth in rebounding (7.5) and Rivers was fifth in scoring (12.5) and third in rebounding (8.0).

Outsiders Get Derby Chance

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The defections of ailing Temperate Sil and Tallum, both solid Kentucky Derby prospects, have prompted trainers D. Wayne Lukas and Woody Stephens to give two outsiders opportunities to run for the roses.

Lukas and Stephens both cited the shrinking field Sunday in revealing they had decided to enter On The Line and Conquistadore respectively in Saturday's classic.

Eugene Klein's On The Line ran and won his only Derby stakes prep Saturday, taking the $56,700 Derby Trial by 6 1/2 lengths over No More Flowers, the 4-5 favorite.

Conquistadore, a mudder, has not won a stakes since he took the Meadowslands' Young America by a half-length Oct. 11, but he worked five-eighths of a mile Sunday in a snappy 1:00 3-5.

Tallum, the Flamingo Stakes winner, appeared to be the strongest member of Lukas' planned three-horse entry, which also includes struggling 1986 juvenile champion Capote and Blue Grass Stakes winner War.

HERE'S AN OLD SAYING IN GOLF THAT "THE LEGS DO MOST OF THE WORK."

IT'S PROBABLY TRUE FOR A GREAT MANY GOLFERS. SIMPLY BECAUSE THEY MAKE INSUFFICIENT EFFORT TO STAY IN SHAPE.

I'VE EXERCISED MORE THE OLDER I'VE GOTTEN. AND I'VE PAID DIVIDENDS ON BOTH OF THE GOOD COURSES AND OFF.

I PARTICULARLY WORK ON MY LEGS ESPECIALLY IN THE WINTER WHEN I'M WALKING FEWER COURSES.

SO SHOULD YOU.

Earnhardt's 4th Win Ties Winston Record

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Dale Earnhardt tied a NASCAR Winston Cup record for consecutive victories Sunday by winning the Sovran Bank 500, and had Kyle Petty and Geoff Bodine to thank for clearing the path to the checkered flag.

Bodine held a four-second lead with 16 laps remaining Sunday when Petty tagged him from behind in the second turn at the Martinsville Speedway, tangling up both drivers and giving Earnhardt the lead and his fourth consecutive triumph.

Rusty Wallace also slipped past Bodine and finished second, while Bodine had to settle for third. Phil Parsons earned the fourth spot, the last driver on the lead lap. Petty finished 12th.

Bodine said he planned to follow the advice of his family and crew chief and look ahead to next weekend and the Talladega race.

"I'm not going to complain," said Bodine. "I certainly don't think Kyle did anything on purpose. It might have even been my fault. I don't know."

For Earnhardt, his fourth straight victory tied a Winston Cup mark for consecutive triumphs, and his six victories in eight outings this year marks the fastest start in the history of the sport.

"I didn't wish any bad luck on Geoff, but it just happened to him," said Earnhardt, who was not challenged over the final laps. "I didn't know anything happened to them (Petty and Bodine), but Geoff was hanging over the curb when I went by. I knew all I had to do was run the car smooth at the end."

Earnhardt, who led for a total of 156 laps before a record crowd of more than 40,000 and earned $50,850, called his winning streak "impressive."

"None of them are easy. You just work hard and do the best you can," Earnhardt said. "We've got a good team that works hard. I think this streak is impressive, considering the competition. There are a lot of competitive race cars out there."

Polesitter Morgan Shepherd, who set a track record in time trials, led for only 34 laps before developing engine trouble and eventually finishing 17th. Defending champion Ricky Rudd finished 16th.

Stocks Sharply Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened sharply lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues, hurt by a sliding dollar and plunging bond prices. The Dow Jones industrial average was off 32.53 points to 2202.84 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 1,102-165 among the 1,539 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 27,332,300 shares. The stock market ended 46 points lower Friday in active trading, closing out a week in which nervous investors found little respite from worries about the slumping dollar and bond markets.

For the week, the Dow average had a net loss of about 40 points. Analysts said the market continued to be plagued by doubts about the dollar.

Gerald Simmons, managing director in the listed trading department of Smith Barney, Harris Upham & Co., said the tone of the market was set early on by "relentless" selling by institutions raising cash positions at the expense of stocks.

"The market was down for the same reasons we've been talking about: the dollar and bonds," Simmons said.

a.) One 1978 Chevrolet Monte Carlo Automobile, Vehicle Identification Number 1Z37U81514643

b.) $19,317.00 United States Currency.

THE SANFORD POLICE DEPARTMENT seized the described property on the 22nd day of September, 1986, at or near the Lake Jennie Apartments, 1311 Santa Barbara Drive, Sanford, and a Towing Company at 2734 Orlando Drive, Sanford, Seminole County, Florida 32771.

On 13th day of January, 1987, the Seminole County Sheriff's Department filed a Petition for Rule to Show Cause and for Final Order of Forfeiture with the Clerk of Circuit Court, Seminole County Courthouse, 300 North Park Avenue, Sanford, Florida. A copy of said Petition is on file in the Clerk's office and is available for examination during regular business hours.

WHEREAS a prima facie showing has been made by the Petitioner that there is a probable cause for the issuance of a Rule to Show Cause,

YOU, the above-indicated potential claimant, Gerald Antonio, ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the HONORABLE C. VERNON MIZE, JR. in Chambers, Seminole County Courthouse, Seminole County, Sanford, Florida, on the 19th day of May, 1987, at 8:30 A.M. for Pre-Trial to show cause why the above-described property should not be forfeited by this Court as Contemned, pursuant to Sections 932.701-704, Florida Statutes (1985), to the Sanford Police Department, as the agency which seized said property on the 22nd day of September, 1986, in Seminole County, Florida, based upon alleged felony violations which occurred in Seminole County, Florida.

WHEREAS a prima facie case has been shown, it is therefore the Order of this Court that all potential Respondents who claim an interest in the above-described property, shall within twenty (20) days from service but no later than seven (7) days before the date set above, show cause by filing in this Court, responsive pleadings as to why this Court should not enter its Order forfeiting the said property to the use of, or sale by, the Chief of Police of Sanford, Seminole County, Florida.

YOU ARE FURTHER COMMANDED to serve a true and correct copy of such pleadings within said time period upon ANNE E. RICHARDS-RUTBERG, Assistant State Attorney, Office of the State Attorney, 100 East First Street, Sanford, Florida 32771. Failure to file and serve such pleadings within said time period shall result in the entry of a Default and a Final Order of Forfeiture DATED this 2nd day of April, 1987.

CITY OF LAKE MARY, FLORIDA

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the Planning and Zoning Board of the City of Lake Mary, Florida, that said Board will consider a request for final site plan review for the construction of an office building in an area zoned PO Professional Office with the following variances:

— rear building setback to be reduced from 40 ft. to 35 ft.

— rear parking lot to be allowed to encroach into setback to within 5 ft. of rear lot line

— required parking spaces to be reduced from 92 spaces to 88 spaces on the following described property:

The East 40 ft. of Lot E, block of lots N through V, Block 51, amended plat of Crystal Lakes Shores, according to the plat thereof, as recorded in Plat Book 4, Page 16, of the Public Records of Seminole County, Florida.

More commonly known as Lake Mary Boulevard between Fourth Street and Fifth Street.

The Public Hearing will be held in the City Hall at 158 North Country Club Road in Lake Mary, Florida, at 7:00 P.M. on May 12, 1987, or as soon thereafter as possible. At that time all interested persons for and against the requests will be heard. Said hearing may be continued from time to time until a final recommendation is made by the Planning and Zoning Board.

A taped record of this meeting is made by the City for its convenience. This record may not constitute an adequate record for purposes of appeal from a decision made by the City with respect to the foregoing matter.

Any person wishing to ensure that an adequate record of the proceedings is maintained for appellate purposes is advised to make the necessary arrangements at his or her own expense.

Couple Roasted And Toasted At Bridal Party

Beth Freeman will become the bride of Jack Bridges Saturday at Central Baptist Church followed by a reception at the Heathrow Country Club.

Beth is the daughter of Ann and Frank Newkirk, Sanford, and Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Freeman of Norfolk, Va. Jack's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bridges of Sanford.

A roast and toast for the couple was given at the Woman's Club of Sanford by Mary Ann and Mack Cleveland, Beverly and Terry Huffman, Gail and Roger Stewart, Judy and Stan Sandefur and Sharon and Chuck Baragona.

The order of the evening was Jack being royally deep-fried by his friends who were somewhat kinder to Beth. Among the roasters were Robbie Robertson, Gail Smith, Bob Whitaker, Mack Cleveland, Beverly Huffman, Gail Stewart and Dr. Roger Stewart.

One guest said she never laughed so hard in all her life.

Beth was the guest of honor at a bridal luncheon and lingerie shower at the Sweetwater Country Club given by Bernice Clements of DeLand, and Gloria Burke of Deltona.

Among the Sanford guests were Karen Futch, Sharon Baragona, Gail Stewart, Kathy Miller and Beverly Huffman.

The home of Karen Futch in Sweetwater was the setting for a miscellaneous shower honoring Beth. Sharing the hostess role with Karen were Beverly Huffman and Sharon Baragona.

About 35 attended the lovely catered event which included entertainment.

The final party, the traditional bridesmaids luncheon, will be held Saturday. The rehearsal dinner will be held at Heathrow Country Club Friday.

Dara Wells has been named to the Dean's List for the winter quarter at Valdosta State College, Valdosta, Ga.

The Annual May Day Brunch to help beautify Sanford will be held Sunday at the Sanford Civic Center. Tickets, at $3.50 each, are available at the door or from any Sanford Woman's Club member.

Serving hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The menu includes Larson's Strata Eggs, Sausage Patties, Steamed Grits, Danish Pastries, Fresh Strawberries, Coffee and Orange Juice.

For information, call the chairman, Bill Gielow, 322-6473.

According to Irene Brown, president of the Celebration Choir, the choir will, hopefully, become a permanent part of the community. Irene has big plans for the choral group that made its debut during the recent Martin Luther King Jr. celebration in Sanford.

The group will meet Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m., at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Sanford. Irene said "Great things are in store for our group. And we need each and every one of you to realize our dream."

The April meeting of the Wildflower Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford Inc. was hosted by Mrs. Don Partain and Mrs. Bert McClelland. The circle will cater the luncheon at the May general meeting of the club.

It was announced that Mrs. Gerald Warner donated 48 plants to the Missing Children's Center, Longwood, to be used at the center's Fun Fair to be held Saturday and Sunday.

According to Joyce C. Sammet, president of the City Council of Beta Sigma Phi, the Sanford BSP chapters will celebrate Founder's Day at a dinner Thursday night at the Park Suite Hotel in Altamonte Springs.

In celebration of earning his Eagle Scout Badge, Robert C. Hopkins, 15, will be honored at open house at the home of his father, Bob Hopkins, 401 Longwood-Lake Mary Road, on Sunday, May 3, from 2-4 p.m.

Two area girls, Kristen Merkle and Lori Lynn Feldman, are finalists in the 16th Annual Miss Florida National Teen-Ager Pageant May 1, 2 and 3 at the Radisson Hotel in Orlando. This is the official state pageant, a preliminary to the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in August.

The winner of the state pageant will receive a $1,000 United States Savings Bond, a 2-year tuition scholarship to Oklahoma City University and an all-expense paid trip to compete in the national finals, among other prizes.

Kristen, 16, is the daughter of

Kristen Merkle

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merkle, formerly of Sanford, who now live in Lake Mary. She is a junior at Lake Mary High School and says she enjoys singing, acting, playing the piano and softball.

Her sponsors are her parents and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neiman.

Lori Lynn, 16, a student at

Lori Lynn Feldman

Seminole High School, is the daughter of Ma. Renee Webb of Sanford, and Dr. Leon R. Feldman of Miami. She is a hospital candy stripper and says she enjoys church activities, horseback riding, bowling, dancing and singing.

Lori is being sponsored by her father.

Gift Of Car Banners Reflects Mother's Concern For Teens

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me where to write to obtain some "Please Call Police" reflective banners that can be taped on the front and back windows of automobiles in case of a road emergency.

My teenage daughter and her friends are approaching the age when they will be driving, and I think those banners would make terrific sweet-16 birthday gifts.

MRS. ROBERT SVIHLA, RIVERSIDE, ILL.

DEAR MRS. SVIHLA: Write to: WCIL-BANNERS (Westside Center for Independent Living), P.O. Box 86942, Los Angeles, Calif. 90066. The cost is $4 per banner — postage and handling included. Make your tax-deductible check or money order payable to WCIL-BANNERS. This organization exists to help disabled people live independently. Thank you for suggesting that the banners would make terrific gifts. I agree.

DEAR ABBY: Because of a recent personal experience, I am writing with the hope that you will print this (anonymously, of course) to remind professionals that "confidentiality" is still of vital importance in the nursing profession.

My husband is a recovering alcoholic. He went to a physician for a physical examination. Several nurses in that doctor's office were nursing classmates of mine.

A few weeks after my husband's visit to that doctor's office, the husband of one of the nurses came to me and told me how "proud" he was of my husband because he had quit drinking! He told me that his wife had read my husband's medical history, and told him "everything." I was shocked.

Abby, I, too, am a nurse, and I have always regarded a patient's medical history as privileged information — to be held in the strictest of confidence.

Perhaps other professionals need to be reminded of this. Thank you for letting me air my opinion.

DEAR NURSE: And thank you for airing it as a reminder to everyone who, in the line of duty, has access to privileged information. This includes therapists, lawyers, school teachers, hairdressers, housekeepers, telephone operators, hotel (and motel) personnel — the list is endless.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know how many readers really like these new French-cut swimsuits — which seem to be the only kind one can find nowadays. I used to buy two swimsuits every season. Now I don't buy any — I wear my older ones rather than buy one of those new ones.

At first the slightly larger cutout look was attractive, but they kept cutting out more and more until the bottom of the suit barely covers the crotch! I'll be darned if I am going to start removing hair from yet another area of my body! How antifeminist can you get? I am over 40, 5 foot 6, weigh mention of the address will generate thousands of responses from families who will be delighted to find that they are not alone.

ELLIOTT B. BADANES, FIRST VICE PRESIDENT, CALIFORNIA ALLIANCE FOR THE MENTALLY ILL

DEAR MR. BADANES: Those who pointed out this serious omission number in the hundreds. Knowing how enormously helpful this organization is, I am printing your letter with pleasure.

DEAR L.G.: Keep looking. If you can't find them in the stores — look in the catalogs. I'm with you all the way.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 16-year-old girl who has this question for you. Is it proper for a girl to say to a boy on their first or second date, "If you were thinking about kissing me goodnight, it's OK with me?"

ALLENTOWN, PA.

DEAR ALLENTOWN: Only if you're absolutely positive he's thinking about it. Imagine how embarrassing it would be (for both of you) if he weren't.

DEAR ABBY: Hats off to you for publicizing the book "A Family Affair: Helping Families Cope With Mental Illness," and to the psychiatrists for whom you gathered the material to make that study possible.

It is unfortunate that you neglected to mention the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill because many who have read that column desperately need support, resources and education and do not know where to turn. The National Alliance for the Mentally Ill has more than 700 affiliates nationwide.

The address is 1901 N. Fort Meyer Drive, Suite 500, Arlington, Va. 22209. The mere

On 15th day of January, 1987, the Seminole County Sheriff's Department filed a Petition for Rule to Show Cause and for Final Order of Forfeiture with the Clerk of Circuit Court, Seminole County Courthouse, 300 North Park Avenue, Sanford, Florida. A copy of said Petition is on file in the Clerk's office and is available for examination during regular business hours.

WHEREAS a prima facie showing has been made by the Petitioner that there is a probable cause for the issuance of a Rule to Show Cause, YOU, the above-indicated potential claimant, Elismond O. A. A. R. E. H. R. E. B. Y. COMMANDED to appear before the HONORABLE C. VERNON MIZE, JR. in Chambers, Seminole County Courthouse, Sanford, Florida, on the 19th day of May, 1987, at 8:30 A.M., for Pre-Trial to show cause why the above-described property should not be forfeited by this Court as Contraband, pursuant to Sections 932.701-704, Florida Statutes (1985), to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department, as the agency which seized said property on the 1st day of August, 1986, in Seminole County, Florida, based upon alleged felony violations which occurred in Seminole County, Florida.

WHEREAS a prima facie case has been shown, it is therefore the Order of this Court that all potential Respondents who claim an interest in the above-described property, shall within twenty (20) days from service but no later than seven (7) days before the date set above, show cause by filing in this Court, responsive pleadings as to why this Court should not enter its Order forfeiting the said property to the use of, or sale by, the Sheriff of Seminole County, Florida.

YOU ARE FURTHER COMMANDED to serve a true and correct copy of such pleadings within said time period upon ANNE E. RICHARDS-RUTBERG, Assistant State Attorney, Office of the State Attorney, 100 East First Street, Sanford, Florida 32771. Failure to file and serve such pleadings within said time period shall result in the entry of a Default and a Final Order of Forfeiture DATED this 2nd day of April, 1987.

Ask Your Doctor For Facts About Medicine

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My doctor says I have to take sulfinpyrazone for the rest of my life. This is for a stroke I had two years ago, which left me somewhat disabled. I'm 85 and take one aspirin and dipyridamole daily, and have normal blood pressure. What can you tell me about sulfinpyrazone?

DEAR READER — I believe that you misunderstood your doctor. Sulfinpyrazone is used to treat gout. It increases the urinary excretion of uric acid, thus lowering body levels of this compound. Adverse reactions to the drug include stomach upset, peptic ulcer, rash and disruption of the blood-forming cells in the bone marrow. The manufacturer states that aspirin can interfere with the action of sulfinpyrazone, so you should check with your doctor to see if you should be taking your one aspirin a day.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am apparently highly allergic to cigarette smoke: It makes me develop a sore, stinging tongue, ringing in my ears, erratic heartbeat, a throbbing in my neck and severe coughing and sneezing. Is it possible, by blood analysis, to determine which chemical in my blood triggers this reaction? Can it be neutralized or removed by dialysis or transfusion?

DEAR READER — The reactions you describe may be due to the local irritating effects of tobacco smoke as it touches the sensitive lining of your upper respiratory tract. Blood analysis will not identify, nor will dialysis remove, any compound in your system that causes this reaction, since it is due to mechanical irritation of the cells themselves. Your only option is to avoid cigarette smoke.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Just above my collarbone, on the front right side of my neck, there is a big pulse that can be seen from quite far away. The doctor tells me not to worry and that veins get more prominent as we get older. Is he correct?

DEAR READER — The throbbing pulsation above your clavicle probably is not a vein; it is an artery. Veins do not normally pulsate. This abnormally obvious pulsation may be due to an aneurysm (stretching of the arterial wall) or to the uncoiling of arteries that normally occurs with age.

Your doctor is correct in reassuring you that veins become more prominent in the elderly; there is less support tissue, so they become more obvious.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
If you're going to "bid 'em up," you'd better be able to "play them up." After North's raise to three hearts, South was well-advised to consider slam. After East's diamond overall, South's A-Q-10 had taken on the trick-winning capability of A-K-Q. In addition, South had a secondary fit with partner's opening-bid suit. But investigating slam by cue-bidding would have been more prudent than blasting with key-card Blackwood. When North's response to the four no-trump inquiry showed that he did have two key cards (in this instance, the A-K of hearts), South bid slam with cheerful optimism. The three of diamonds lead was an obvious singleton but posed no great threat. In fact, prospects were not bad for the contract. East was likely to have the spade king for his overall, so if the hearts were splitting no worse than 3-1, declarer could draw trumps ending in dummy, take the spade finesse (twice if necessary) and then win another diamond finesse to make the contract. This plan shredded when it turned out that West held all four hearts. So declarer played three hearts ending in dummy, led the queen of spades for a finesse and played a second spade to his hand. Unfortunately the king of spades was not doubleton with East. Having won the nine of spades, South now ran off all his trumps and cashed his ace of spades. East was forced to keep two diamonds. If he came down to the bare ace of clubs, he would be thrown in to lead away from his diamonds. If he got rid of the club ace, declarer would lead up to dummy's queen, and West would have to win the club king and give up to dummy.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...
YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 26, 1987
In the year ahead you will receive the opportunities for which you have always hoped. They are likely to emanate from least-expected sources.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Plans you conceive today have excellent chances of working out as you envision them, provided you don't make adjustments to incorporate the weaker ideas. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you want something kept confidential, don't even discuss it with a friend today. You'll have only yourself to blame if a distorted version comes back to you later.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone you've done favors for can't be relied on to reciprocate today. This person may be too busy trying to feather his or her own nest.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You have the potential for praiseworthy achievements today, yet they may only earn you jealous murmurs instead of applause from co-workers.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be careful not to put yourself in a position today where your generous nature can be taken advantage of by others. Be kind, but also be realistic.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Although you might look outside of the family for acceptance and enjoyment today, you could discover, the hard way, that those who really appreciate you are within your own household.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Avoid gambling with romance or dollars today. Your hunches in these areas are not too nifty and you might end up a loser.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Financial conditions are a trifle unusual today. On one hand, you might be on a roll for accumulation and, on the other, you could suffer losses through poor judgment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The time you spend brooding over real or imagined problems can be chalked off as a waste today. Instead, immerse yourself in involvements that can yield tangible results.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone who needs your help may come to you hat in hand today. Don't embarrass this person further by outlining all of his or her mistakes.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Engage in productive activities today, both mentally and physically. Even if they tire you, you'll feel good about your achievements, whereas idle time could depress you.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) This could be the kind of day when what you think you want, you won't find, and what you already have might not make you too happy either.
