Goldborough said: "But when the time comes that any movement—whether labor or not—undertakes to carry out its wishes by methods which ultimately disintegrate society—at that point it must stop."

The soft coal contract expires June 30, allowing less than a month for the operators and Lewis to make a new agreement.

More than one-third of the nation's soft coal is produced by the groups making up the Southern Association.

The coal operators were standing by, ready to resume contract talks.

Lewis now has his choice of including the Southern Association in the bargaining talks or facing another fine for contempt of court.

Goldborough is the judge who twice already has fined Lewis and the UMW total of $2,130,000 for contempt of court. Previous contempt charges arose when Lewis and his union ignored court orders requiring them to end coal strikes.

Winding up a lengthy statement giving his decision today, Goldborough said:

"I will sign the order requested by the National Labor Relations Board."

The judge will sign the order formally later today.

This action makes two Goldborough injunctions hanging over Lewis. The other is an order prohibiting the union from striking in a dispute over miners' pensions. This dispute has been settled, at least to the satisfaction of the Justice Department, but Goldborough has refused so far to lift the order.

announced last night in New York.

In San Francisco, another union involved in the dispute said it also was going ahead with plans to walk out when the contract expires. It was the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Harry Bridges, ILWU president, was scheduled to attend a general union meeting in New York today to draft mutual assistance plans.

Meantime a showdown approached in the pioneer national emergency case, involving the atomic laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

An 80 day injunction issued Mar. 19 will be dissolved next Monday or shortly afterward. The workers are legally free to strike after that.

The Federal Mediation Service, making a last ditch effort to break the deadlock, has arranged a bargaining session Monday morning at Oak Ridge between the opposing parties, Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp. and the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council.

Yesterday the Atomic Energy Commission rejected an AFL demand that the commission step in and compel carbide and carbon to settle the dispute through an arbitration board. The government owns the laboratory but carbide and carbon operate it.

The commission said it favors arbitration but won't force the company to accept it.

In the atomic case, the National Labor Relations Board has conducted a plant election in which the workers rejected the last company offer by a vote of 771 to 28.

If the dispute still is not settled when the injunction is dissolved the President is required to send a report to Congress for action by the lawmakers.

Meanwhile the Rome newspaper Messaggero said a Yugoslav commercial pilot was forced at pistol point to fly his 40 passengers and crew of six—all Yugoslavs—out of Communist Yugoslavia.

The newspaper's dispatch from Bari reported he landed his Douglas plane there yesterday and said he had been compelled to change course on a flight from Belgrade for Sarajevo. The wireless operator and a passenger, both armed, forced him to head for Bari, the pilot was quoted as saying.

The dispatch said all aboard the plane were held by Italian police pending instructions from the government.

Smith said Gaudero, now in Cuba, has offered to appear. He showed reporters a cable from Gaudero to Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) saying in part: "Charges against me in connection with voice of America programs are unjust. I am at your disposal to testify."

Rene Borgia, the script writer for the series for several months, told the committee earlier this week that Gaudero directed him to write the scripts as he did.

Stone told the committee that because of a shortage of personnel the State Department did not think it practical to edit all the entertainment programs broadcast for it by NBC and the Columbia Broadcasting system.

At the time contracts were made with the networks last summer, Stone said, the department recognized that the networks had long experience in the field. He added:

"There was on the part of the private companies a feeling that they could do the job without having a censor sit there and watch every word that went out."

Stone said the department did not "sanitize" scripts in advance. "North America" series in advance, NRC officials have told the committee.

Stone acknowledged that the series in question had not been checked often enough.

men who had been helping civilians in holding the saturated dikes. One of them was Col. J. Toogood, commander of the 13th Armored Regiment.

The break on Hatzie Island, 45 miles east of Vancouver, was the largest along the Fraser during the current flood—800 feet. Water swept away the Canadian Pacific Railway's double-tracked main line, a pump station and the stationkeeper's house. The town of Beldwney was isolated and about 6,000 acres of land submerged. The British Columbia electric power station at Beldwney was knocked out.

On the lower Columbia, more troops and civilians hurried into danger areas to aid weary workers who have spent day strengthening scores of weak dikes against the river's savage onslaught.

Five hundred Army regulars and 250 Navy men were helping hundreds of civilians in the 12,000-acre Clatskanie area, which U.S. engineers said was in "very critical condition." Only one of nine dikes in this Oregon area 50 miles from the river's mouth, was good, they said.

Across the river in Washington, the situation in the Longview-Kelso area 45 miles upriver was almost as bad. Nearly 5000 men, including 100 fresh soldiers, labored on soggy dikes each day.

Their schedule called for laying 100,000 sandbags each day. Elsewhere along the lower river, the dikes were holding their own or the situation was improved over yesterday, the engineers reported.

FISHING RE-OPENS

TALLAHASSEE, June 4 (AP)—Both the fish and the fishermen turned out in record numbers for opening of the fresh water angling season in ten West Florida counties this week.

Thousands of men, women and children fished in the lakes and streams during the first three days after a disputed 60-day closed season ended. Many of them were from Georgia and Alabama.

Catches of bream and crappie were reported as better than usual from all sections.

gation on the first G.O.P. nomination balloting. What other Republicans want to know is where those votes will go if Warren should drop out of contention.

Dewey arranged a trip to Boston in a bid for "second choice" votes from Massachusetts. That state's early ballots are expected to go to a "favorite son"—either Senator Leverett Saltonstall or House Speaker Martin.

Taft is in North Carolina. Republican delegates and party leaders there invited him to address them. Taft's backers claim he will have strong support from Southern delegations to the party convention.

The Taft camp in Washington made the claim he will top all contenders on the first ballot—with at least 306 votes. They figured Dewey would have 281 and Stassen 149 with 358 going to favorites.

The number needed for the nomination is 548.

Stassen has predicted he will have 340 on the first ballot. Dewey's backers said the Taft camp's figures are "wrong—that Dewey will have more than Taft."

Henry A. Wallace, Third Party presidential candidate, concluded a western tour at Albuquerque last night. He told his audience there that he "will not repudiate any support which comes to me on the basis of interest in peace."

He added that "Communism are interested in peace."

Marshall's first response was to repeat the words "some reduction." Then he gave a short, sharp laugh which suggested that he considered the reduction huge.

He said: "The position of the department, and mine personally, has been stated a number of times and I don't think it requires clarification."

Taft Law

O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers Union said the law is designed "for preserving the employers' interest regardless of the effect it may have upon the interests of the employees." He said the law will lead either to chaos in industrial relations or the destruction of collective bargaining.

Henry Mayer, general counsel for the CIO Telephone Workers' organizing committee, said the law has been used "to worsen the organizational and wage status of over 650,000 telephone workers throughout the nation."

In another labor development, President Truman named a five-man fact-finding board to report on the dispute between shippers and six unions of seamen and longshoremen whose contracts expire June 15. Harry Shulman of the Yale law school heads the board.

The unions are threatening to strike unless they get higher wages and the right to use hiring halls to supply sailors and stevedores to ship owners.

STUDENTS GUILTY

GAINESVILLE, June 2 (AP)—Richard Wise, 19, of Miami, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of breaking and entering in connection with the May 13 robbery at the Gainesville Golf and Country Club.

Circuit Judge John A. H. Murphy withheld sentence for a further study of the case.

Wise, a University of Florida student, was apprehended by West Palm Beach police with much of the $1,500 worth of golf equipment in his car and when returned to Gainesville confessed to State Attorney T. E. Duncan.

Sharon Rossin, 19, also of Miami, who is being held in the Alachua county jail on a similar charge in connection with the same case, has also confessed his part of the robbery, Duncan said.

Wise has been free on a $1,000 bond since Tuesday.

The bond for Rossin was also set at $1,000 but Sheriff Fred Holmstrom said that Rossin had not made the bond today.

Ex-Denver Lawyer Is Found Dead In Home

DENVER, June 4 (AP)—Ben B. Laska, Denver attorney convicted of accepting ransom money in a sensational 1933 kidnaping, was found dead Wednesday at his residence.

Detective Sgt. Arthur A. Roush said Laska left six notes indicating suicide.

The cause of death was not immediately ascertained, Roush said. Laska was convicted in 1935 at Oklahoma City of accepting $10,000 of the ransom money paid in the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel. Laska was accused of accepting the money as a fee to defend Albert L. Bates, one of the kidnapers. Laska was given a 10 year sentence and released on a parole in June 1941. President Truman granted him a full pardon in March 1947.

After the pardon, Laska sought reinstatement to the Colorado bar. His request was pending at his death.

Roush said Laska's body was found by his stepdaughter, Mrs. Charlotte Ellers at the family residence.

Senate Downs Racial Issue In Draft Bill

Roll Call Vote Is 67 To 7 But Is Not Direct Test Of Solons' Segregation Views

WASHINGTON, June 7. (AP)—The Senate, pressing toward action on draft legislation, voted today a proposal to forbid race segregation in the Armed Services. The roll call vote was 67 to 7.

The vote was not a direct test on how the Senate feels about race segregation. Senate leaders were confronted with the prospect of a filibuster from Southern Democrats if the proposal was not side-tracked.

They are anxious to get final action on the draft measure which, as it stands, leaves to the Department of Defense the question whether the Army, Navy and Air Force are to have units of mixed races.

Senator Langer (R-ND) offered an amendment to prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color or religion in assignments or induction into the Armed Services.

It was tabled on a motion by Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Armed Services Committee. The motion was not debatable.

This was the first test on a set of seven Langer amendments covering most of President Truman's "Civil Rights" measures such as anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and anti-segregation.

Some senators who favor the Civil Rights Program opposed Langer's amendments. They said that the military manpower which is not the place to fight out such a fight.

Boy Is Electrocuted In Swimming Pool

HARRISBURG, Pa. June 7. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy was electrocuted when a short circuit in an underground power line sent current through a steel ladder in a public swimming pool.

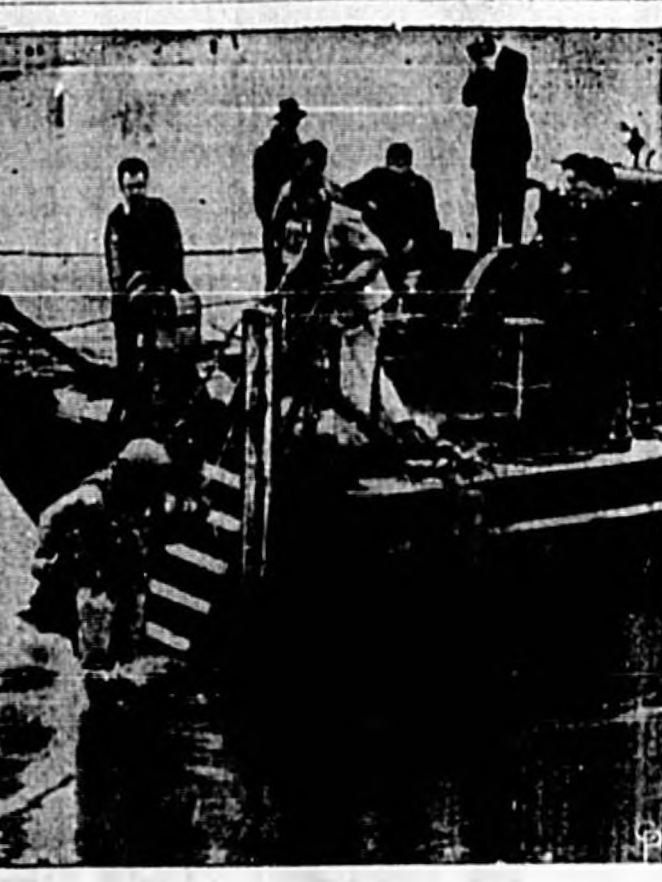

The boy and another swimmer, Rosamary Pritchard, 11, were within the charged area at the time. Both suddenly stiffened and sank beneath the surface. Dr. Yarnell said, but the girl was not hurt seriously.

Dr. Yarnell said the boy, Clyde Peters, of Harrisburg, died of electric burns yesterday as the water was charged in a 15-foot circle around the ladder at the Gay-Way swimming pool.

Army Engineers Throw New Field Command Against Columbia Flood

By WILLIAM PROPPS

PORTLAND, Ore. June 7. (AP)—The Army today threw a fresh engineering field command against the raging Columbia River. It was a desperate attempt to hold the widening 100-mile dike front from Portland to the Pacific.

Twenty-six officers of the Army Engineers Corps rushed to critical points in the heavily barricaded lower valley as the great river built up pressure with its second flood wave in a week. The reinforcements, including five lieut. colonels, flew in during the night from Fort Belvoir, Va.

The time was short, the task huge. Present expansion of the flood on the Columbia and Fraser rivers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Canada's British Columbia—26 dead, 82 missing, about 60,000 homeless, damage of perhaps $140,000,000.

The new flood crest was down into the already hard hit industrial area around Portland and Vancouver, across the Columbia in Washington. It was surging downriver, building up the current that has been grinding away the dike since the first crest rolled down six days ago.

The weather teamed with the river. So did the sea. Thermometers soared to seasonal highs throughout the Northwest Sunday—90 degrees and above in the mountains where the monsoon melted fast and streamed down to add new waters to tributaries of the Columbia.

And this was the day of the season's highest tide—nine feet. It churned upriver this morning and crashed into the flood current and sent the water level still higher, increased the grinding on overtopping levee walls.

Col. O. E. Walsh, commanding the U. S. Engineers' Portland district, assigned the 26 new engineer officers to operational commands all along the front of 13 dike districts.

After early morning briefing, they went to the levees to relieve weary men who have directed sandbag battalions of thousands of troops and civilian volunteers in the week-long, around-the-clock struggle.

In support, the Coast Guard started an air patrol and put 200 of cutters and auxiliary boats in the water.

Geiger Counter Seen As Prime Civilian Need If Atomic War Comes

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, June 7. (AP)—If atomic war were to come, a prime civilian defense need would be for a large number of Geiger counters to spot the lingering death rays. Hence the official hope is for the development of a low-cost, easily operated device to equip detector teams.

Current costs for Geiger counters range from about $210 to $1,000 each. There are a number of different types of such instruments. But, a spokesman for the Civil Defense Planning Unit of the National Defense Department said today, only a few are suitable for spotting the area of a bombed city made unsafe by radioactivity. Most types are those used in laboratories and classrooms for specialized studies, the spokesman told a reporter.

Atomic Energy Commission officials also said that the kind needed by their experts still is a main source. However, recently published testimony before a House Appropriations Subcommittee showed that Geiger counters are being advertised for sale.

Benes Resigns As Leader Of Czechoslovaks

Premier Gottwald's Office Announces Resignation Is Accepted By Cabinet

PRAGUE, June 7. (AP)—President Benes resigned today. Premier Klement Gottwald's office announced the resignation was accepted at a special cabinet meeting.

Benes was elected to a seven-year term in 1946. He resigned once before—in 1938 after the Munich conference brought the German invasion—but resumed the presidency in London, July 21, 1940. He first became president in December, 1935, after Thomas G. Masaryk resigned because of age and illness. Benes had been Masaryk's foreign minister 17 years and helped him found the Czechoslovak republic.

Three months ago Masaryk's son Jan, Benes' foreign minister, was found dead—a suicide, the Communist government said. That followed the Communist coup in February which sharply reduced Benes' powers. He resigned rather than accept the "people's democracy" constitution which the Communists put forward. He disagreed with its provisions and disapproved of the single ticket parliamentary elections which the Communist regime held eight days ago.

The first announcement of the resignation said it was a compromise would be issued later. There was no promise that the contents of Benes' letter of resignation would be made public.

There has been speculation for two weeks that the president would resign and all health would be given as the reason.

The ministry of Information said it could give no official statement of his health, his official status or whether he has signed the new "People's Democracy" constitution.

Seminole Hi Band Presents Concert At Daytona Beach

By WILLIAM PROPPS

The Seminole High School Band in new orange and black uniforms and caps made a fine showing when it appeared at the Daytona Beach Band Shell for a concert at 5:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon with B. E. Black directing.

Due to the late afternoon hour, there was not a large audience but in the evening at the Sanford Daytona ball game at City Island the band was cheered and applauded by more than 1,200 fans, as the members played a snappy march prior to the game and between innings.

George Robinson, Daytona Beach recreation director, introduced the band at the afternoon concert, and at the conclusion told Mr. Black that he had done a fine job in building up and training the band in a nine month period, and expressed appreciation for bringing the boys and girls there.

Among the featured numbers on the program was an overture, "Cavalcade," and a solo in "In the Evening," "Serenade of the Hills" which drew considerable applause. A trombone novelty number, some boggle woggle, "Thunder March by Sousa" and "Ballade" were played with Mrs. LaFitz leading the latter number.

Following the concert, members of the band enjoyed a picnic supper near the pier. Principal E. Morris, who was present, expressed pleasure at the band's fine showing and plauds, and congratulated the members.

Truck, Auto Fall As Bridge Collapses

LOS ANGELES, June 7. (AP)—A bridge across the Los Angeles River collapsed today, the sheriff's office reported, and a truck and semi-trailer and an automobile were plunged into the dry river bed.

The sheriff's office said it had not been determined whether anyone was injured, or how much of the span collapsed. The structure is on heavily traveled Imperial highway, he traced here and Lone Beach. The sheriff's office said the two-lane structure was modern concrete pier construction, 150 to 200 feet long and about 30 feet above the stream bed.

Western Powers Announce German Government Plan

Agreements Are Results Of 6-Power London Conference

WASHINGTON, June 7. (AP)—In the face of certain Russian opposition, the Western powers announced today a five-point proposal for creating a separate, federal government in Western Germany.

At the same time they revealed new measures to block any future German aggression.

The agreements, results of a six-power Western nation conference which ended at London a week ago, were announced simultaneously here and in Europe.

The five steps projected for creating a federal German government are based on the expressed belief that the German people themselves should take maximum responsibility for each step.

The steps include an authorization of the Allied military chiefs and German heads of each Western German state, election of delegates to a constituent assembly, drafting of a constitution by the assembly, ratification of the constitution by the German people and consideration of needed revisions in German state boundaries.

It reportedly was to meet French security fears and ease Western German fears of a possible takeover by the Communists. The three Western powers laid down their most comprehensive agreement thus far projected for keeping Germany under control.

Another victory for the French was contained in an agreement for an international control of the Ruhr in which United States, United Kingdom, France, Benelux countries and Germany would participate, and which does not require French approval.

Lodge Is Picked As GOP Platform Head

WASHINGTON, June 7. (AP)—Republican leaders were reported to have agreed today on Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts as chairman of their National Convention platform committee.

Appointment of Lodge to the important position put on expected to be made later in the day by Walter Hallahan of West Virginia, chairman of the GOP Convention Arrangements Committee. The choice of Lodge would end a deadlock that developed after Senator Milton E. Eisenhower asked not to be considered for the job because of pressing work in the closing days of Congress.

Senate Committee Delays Action On Red Curb Measure

Chairman Wiley Says Constitutionality Opinion Is Awaited

WASHINGTON, June 7. (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee took no action at a meeting today on the House-approved Mundt-Nixon bill to require registration of Communists.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wy.) said reporters the committee still has not received opinions on the constitutionality of the measure. He has asked them from Attorney General Clark and a number of private attorneys.

In a week-end development, Wiley and the editor of a Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker, traded insults over the bill.

Wiley started the name calling by sending an open letter to the Daily Worker saying its "alleged news reporting and editorial comment" on the bill to curb Communism were "the cheapest, foulest sort of gutter journalism."

John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, fired right back. He said Wiley, as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, showed "contempt for the American people" by shutting off testimony on the bill.

Wiley, he said, had allowed "only four days in which to demolish a measure which will revolutionize the entire legal system of civil liberties in the United States."

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee put off until tomorrow a vote on legislation to extend the foreign trade agreements act. The committee met for an hour and a half behind closed doors.

LEGION TO MEET

James Wright will preside at the business meeting of Campbell-Loring Post 53 at 8:00 o'clock this evening at the American Legion Hut.

Rotarians Make Vocational Talks At Club Luncheon

Perkins, Thompson, Holtzclaw And Martina Are Speakers

Vocational talks were made today at the regular luncheon of the Rotary Club by four members who were R. L. Perkins, Jr., speaking on "Men's Clothing," Robert Thompson speaking on "Radio Broadcasting," James Holtzclaw speaking on "Bottled Carbonated Beverages," and Sam Martina speaking on "Florida Fashions."

O. V. Horne, new superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line, who is taking W. M. Black's place, was introduced to the club by Leslie Shepard. C. Dewitt Miller of Orlando was also a guest of the club.

Mr. Perkins said that the No. 1 objective of the men's clothing business is to sell as many men as much clothing as possible and that to do this there are three primary essentials, advertising, display and fair prices.

Speaking of prices, he said there is little hope for any reduction in clothing prices until fall when he expects a trade magazine to announce that as long as labor costs demand higher wages little can be done about lower prices.

Mr. Thompson said that the local radio station has signed a contract for a national radio hookup and the papers have been forwarded to the Federal Communications Commission. Hookup programs should be available to the Sanford public within 30 days, he said.

Mr. Thompson also pointed out the many public services rendered the community by the radio station such as the broadcasting of religious services, service club programs and talks by winter visitors. And declaring that radio can be a big asset to any community, he said he appreciated the cooperation he has received since coming to Sanford.

Mr. Holtzclaw outlined the production and distribution of Coca Cola and said that the primary object of his company is to make and distribute its product under the most sanitary conditions possible and to furnish it to the consumer when he wants it, as he wants it. He invited the members of the club to visit the plant at any time and see how Coca Cola is made.

Sam Martina, speaking for the first time, said:

SWEET CORN

The public was invited today to visit the Central Florida Experiment Station, and see the latest sweet corn varieties. Sample ears of the corn can be seen at the market office next to the ball park, while the growing corn and ears can be seen at the farm on Celery Avenue, 1 1/2 miles east of Mellonville Avenue, Dr. E. W. Rupprecht stated.

UN Mediator Offers Peace Plan To Arabs

Bernadotte's Task Is To Reconcile Differences On Terms Between Nations

CAIRO, June 7. (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte handed to six Arab nations today his proposal for a starting time and conditions of the four-week armistice in Palestine.

Peace appeared unlikely during this week, however, Palace sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, said the Arab League political committee will not meet before Saturday. It is the keystone of the Arab effort in the Holy Land.

Fighting continued. The Jews claimed successes south of Tel Aviv, and to the northeast around the Arabs' Bulam-Jenin-Nablus triangle. The Arab army became active on the north border of Palestine and the Saudi Arabians were reported to have placed a considerable force with tanks and armor in Palestine alongside the Egyptians.

Bernadotte, mediator for the United Nations, has been empowered to fix the starting time of the truce to which both sides have agreed. The Arabs, however, offered "explanations" and the Jews "assumptions." It was the count's task to reconcile the differences, particularly over Jewish insistence and Arab objections to unlimited immigration to Israel during the truce and opening of the road to the 60,000 besieged Jews in Jerusalem.

Bernadotte gave his proposals to the foreign minister of Egypt, the minister of Saudi Arabia and Trans-Jordan and the charge d'affaires of Syria, Lebanon and Iraq. The seventh state arrayed against Israel is tiny Yemen. All seven belong to the Arab League.

The diplomats were asked to forward the terms to their governments. Bernadotte communicated the proposal also to Jewish authorities in Tel Aviv.

All sources agreed to give a close to the count's mediator's interpretation. Bernadotte, tired from a week of plane rides about the Middle East, was seen at the airport today.

5 Seminole High Boys Are Picked To Attend Boys State

Five boys from Seminole High School have been selected for local school organizations working in cooperation with the American Legion, to attend the Legion sponsored Boys State during the week of June 20 at Tallahassee. It was announced by Joel Field this morning.

Robert Irwin Brinson will represent Seminole. Arnold W. Harpington is backed by the Lions. Frank W. Cranston by the Jaycees, Stanley L. Bramley by the Kiwanis and James LaFitz by the Sanford Elks Lodge.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

The path is too narrow and not trodden as much as it should be, but the destination is beyond praise:
Thou wilt show me the path of life, in thy presence is fullness of joy.—Ps. 16:11.

Last Friday's primary in the Supreme Court justice race ends
the voting in Florida for this year
... until November, at least.

President Truman has come out against outlawing Communism.
That puts him in complete agreement with Governor Dewey on this subject anyway.

When the United States government cannot put on a news broadcast to combat the spread of Communist propaganda in foreign countries, it is any wonder that some individual newspapers in this country occasionally print things that are not so?

President Truman remains the favorite candidate among the majority of Democrats, according to the Gallup Poll. He has 76 percent of the vote; Marshall, who runs second, has only 10 percent.
The test, however, did not compare Truman's popularity with that of Eisenhower, since the general has persistently refused to run.

Fifty top political writers in Washington predict a Republican victory next November. They also predict that Senator Vandenberg will be the man. They think Dewey, Taft and Stassen will wear themselves out fighting each other and Vandenberg will be selected as a compromise. However, Vandenberg is not as young as he used to be, also none too well.

Congress has voted to spread the funds for European rehabilitation over 15 months instead of 12 months with the effect that the money will be cut about 25 percent, probably figuring that a half a loaf is better than none. However, halfway measures have proved again and again to be worse than none at all. We would neither rehabilitate Europe, nor would we avoid the danger of becoming another Uncle Shylock.

Henry Wallace says on Ed Mar-row's program that if he were President, he could make a deal with Stalin to bring peace to the world without sacrificing any of America's essential interests. Neville Chamberlain when Prime Minister of Britain, thought so too.
In fact, he thought he had made a deal with Hitler to bring "peace for our times." But it didn't last very long. And to save our life, we can't see any difference between Hitler and Stalin.

The people of Alabama again registered their disapproval of President Truman when they voted in Tuesday's election to send nine more delegates to the Democratic National Convention pledged to walk out if Truman is nominated. Five others had already been similarly pledged.
These delegates were not appointed, but were elected by the people of Alabama, indicating, we believe, how the rank and file feel about some of President Tri-man's recent proposals.

Miami, we fear, has taken a step away from good government.
Its city commission has discharged
Richard G. Danner, who has given the city a fearless, efficient and progressive administration as city manager. The reason given for the removal of the former FBI man is that he supported a defeated candidate for sheriff — Pertine Palmer, who was supported, in the main, by the law-respecting people of the city, but beaten in the primary by the incumbent sheriff.
That factional politics should dictate the retaliatory removal of a high-minded, clean and constructive public official is a disgraceful, un-American act in the history of Miami.—Times Tribune.

Biddles And Biddles

"Stab me with this carving-knife," ordered the 60-year-old Col. A. J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia. "What, here, in this hotel dining room?" "Yes, here and now." His friend accordingly made at him with the carving-knife, and found himself, disarmed, on the dining room floor.

Hand-to-hand warfare was only one of Col. Biddle's accomplishments, which included exploration, authorship, and the conduct of Bible classes. But he excelled so greatly in rough-and-tumble fighting that when in his 60's he enlisted in the Marines, he was accepted. Fortunately his recent death at 73 came soon enough after a stroke to keep him from the misery of being helpless.

His son, A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., a colonel in the occupation forces in Germany, was in the diplomatic service during the war, and at one time represented no less than eight conquered countries at once, Poland, Belgium, the Netherlands, Norway, Greece, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Luxembourg.

Of the other Biddles, Eric headed the Philadelphia Community Fund for five years, and is now in the State Department. Francis was attorney general under Roosevelt and Truman, and George, brother of Francis, is one of America's great painters. All presumably go back in one way or another to the Nicholas Biddle who was a naval hero in the Revolution, and the second Nicholas, president of the United States Bank, who fought a desperate and losing battle to preserve the Bank from the onslaught of President Andrew Jackson.

No wonder that the English visitor to Philadelphia heard the name of this gifted family so often that he asked his hosts, "What is a biddle?"

Unfunny Comic Books

For a long time parents, librarians, pastors and teachers have been concerned about the increasing number of "unfunny" comic books, whose subject matter may include murder, robbery and mayhem. Recently the sale of certain books classified as offensive has been banned by several cities, including Indianapolis, Detroit and Hillsdale. Michigan leaders in Centralia, Wash., appealed to publishers of such books to raise the tone of their contents.

Some so-called comic books may perhaps be defended. But many child experts believe that a great proportion of this type of publication tends to dull children's taste and desire for sound reading matter. Much juvenile crime is being laid to the ideas inculcated by such books.

The best way to cure the bad is by planting taste for the good. Never has there been an age when there was such excellent fare published for children as now, both in content and illustration. It is lamentable that parents should allow cheap comic books to divert small readers from enjoying the really worthwhile books now awaiting them in bookstore and library.

Irrelevant Sniping

"Isn't General Marshall the one who didn't know where he was the night of Pearl Harbor?" "And does he know where he has been since?"

Those slurs on the army officer who, next to General Eisenhower, did most to win the war, came from Congressmen. They sniped at General Marshall because he advocated extension of the Reciprocity Trade Agreement Act, which they opposed.

This confirms the prophecy, when General Marshall was appointed secretary of state, that his reputation would be smirched by a certain type of opponent. It takes a stout heart and tough skin to serve a democracy.

Man Kills Wife With Single Blow Of Fist

JACKSONVILLE, June 7 (AP)—A single blow from her husband's fist killed Mrs. Nancy Jane Ballau, 38, Saturday, city Detective R. B. Whittington reported.

The husband, Stephen C. Ballau, 59, operator of the Riverside Hotel, was jailed on a charge of homicide.

Detective Whittington said Ballau told this story:

Returning from a fishing trip, he found his wife had been drinking heavily at the hotel. He took her home. Mrs. Ballau threw her pocketbook at him and cursed him. Enraged, he struck her once on the right side of her face. She collapsed on a bed.

WAR DAMAGES

MANILA, June 7 (AP)—The U.S. War Damage Commission reported on its second anniversary Saturday it is settling Philippine claims at a rate of 2,300 a day.

In a report to President Truman and Elpidio Quirino, the commission predicted it would complete the distribution of $400,000,000 well in advance of Apr. 30, 1951—the deadline set by Congress.

By June 1, the commission had settled $1,300 claims with payment of $10,000,000. It has been giving priority to claims of farmers and small property holders. Partial payment of large industrial claims will be made soon to speed the islands' recovery.

"I'll Meet You At The Drugstore"

By W. V. Bitting

Toucheur Drug Co.

The corner drugstore is often a meeting place for friends. It is cheerful, bright and welcoming. There are refreshments, massages, chairs...

an air of hospitality.

The heart of this meeting place however, is the prescription counter. Here, medication prescribed by the doctor, with its release from illness, pain, and worry, are provided by the trained and conscientious druggist.

Never ask the druggist to prescribe. That is not his function. His job is to compound, prepare, and provide such medication as the doctor has ordered.

A good pharmacist is an ethical in his profession as the doctor in his. Choose a pharmacist with the same care that you do a doctor.

This is the spirit of a nation of free men and women.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is a growing mass of opinion in many countries that no real world recovery can be achieved unless it is founded on moral rehabilitation.

During my travels abroad since the war I have found both statesmen and the general public reaching for new moral support.

Churches and religious organizations have been swinging into action to meet the crisis.

That isn't strange when you stop to consider the widespread moral destruction wrought by the conflict. Some of it was deliberate, for Hitler undertook to kill moral values so he could more easily persuade his people to follow him in his barbaric aggression.

Many European countries still are struggling in the immoral morass he created. And, quietly but persistently, Bolshevism continues the anti-religious crusade on the premise that religion is the "opium of the masses" and renders them less pliable under aggressive totalitarian dictatorship.

Therefore many observers find great encouragement in the world assembly being held in California to celebrate the tenth anniversary of Moral Re-Armament. Attendees are political, industrial and labor leaders from some 24 countries, including representatives from the crucial areas of Europe and the Far East.

Dr. Frank Buchman, the Pennsylvania clergyman who founded M.R.A., set the conference in motion with a world-wide broadcast in which he referred to the scope of M.R.A. thus:

"Moral Re-Armament is the good road of all ideology inspired by God upon which all can unite. Catholic, Jew and Protestant, Hindu, Moslem, Buddhist and Confucianist—all find they can travel along this road together."

And Paul G. Hoffman, European Recovery Program administrator, further interpreted the movement in a telegram saying in part:

"You are giving the world the ideological counterpart of the Marshall Plan."

So the assembly has set under way, to devise means of meeting a crisis which A. K. K. Mackenzie, member of the British delegation to the United Nations, sums up like this:

"Without an inspired ideology democracy founders before the advancing tide of totalitarianism and economic and military aid fall of themselves to turn the tide of alien materialistic ideas."

In the language of the layman, M.R.A. is "practical religion." That is, it calls on the individual to put into practice on week days what he hears taught from the pulpit on Sundays, and not leave his good intentions behind him in the church. It is non-sectarian.

Dr. Buchman has trained some 1,000 specialists, both men and women, in this ideology and they devote their whole time to the work throughout the world. In addition innumerable groups of adherents to M.R.A. have been formed in 52 countries. There are headquarters in many cities, the chief ones are in London, Caux (Switzerland), New York, MacKinnon Island, and Los Angeles.

The efficacy of M.R.A. was emphasized in startling manner just after the war when allied military authorities discovered in

Speculation Grows In Elizabeth's Expecting

LONDON, June 7 (AP)—Genevieve, 36, said Saturday they don't know whether Princess Elizabeth's baby will be a boy or a girl, but the odds are heavy against twins.

The pedigree breeders have looked into the history of Britain's royalty all the way back to William the Conqueror. In that period, almost 900 years, they found no record of twin births to royal couples in near succession to the throne.

"It's amazing," they said. "The odds against Princess Elizabeth's having twins are doubtless thousands to one." Ordinarily, twins occur about every 90 births.

One of the obstetricians attending Elizabeth is pretty sure her baby, due in the Fall, will be a girl. But it is acknowledged that predictions of this nature, based on heartbeats or other criteria, are not certain.

member of the committee concerned about that situation that we can get."

Akin promised to investigate. Later his office told a reporter the Army is buying a small number of the detectors for use in research and development work. The Civil Defense Unit, still only a planning agency, is making no purchases.

Included in the tentative plans considered by the Civil Defense group is the creation of Mobile units in each state, trained and outfitted with instruments to detect effects of an atom-bomb or perhaps some future atomic development.

Civil Defense and Atomic Energy Commission officials suggest that the local sources for drawing such volunteers be chemists and physics teachers, x-ray technicians, doctors and similar specialists. The commission already has started a training program, working through various colleges, medical organizations and similar groups.

It would be unnecessary for each community to have a radiological team, planners say. A team located in one city could be moved quickly to another city under atomic attack, with all operations directed and coordinated by a state defense office.

Berlin's secret German report dealing with M.R.A. I was in Europe at the time and had access to the contents of what was an amazing document.

This report analyzed the operations of M.R.A. under leadership of Dr. Buchman and warned that it was an instrument of Christianity, dangerous to Nazism. Directives for the suppression of M.R.A. in Germany and occupied countries were issued on the strength of this report.

But Hitler failed, and today one of the representatives at the Los Angeles assembly is Dr. Edwin Stein, minister of education for Hessen, who is responsible for the re-education of 13,000,000 Germans. Recently he declared:

"We (the Germans) have tried to make democracy a reality, but have never succeeded. Now our job is to build a God-inspired democracy in Germany. I have seen the way to do this through Moral Re-Armament. It will only be through a change of heart."

Juniors, Seniors Have Annual Banquet, Prom

The annual Junior-Senior banquet and prom was held on Friday evening at the Mayfair Inn with 240 members of the Seminole High School board of trustees, faculty, class mothers and students present. The dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock in the main dining room of the hotel. A circus theme was cleverly carried out in the decorations. Flowers on the main speaker's table were delphinium and roses in shades of blue and yellow, the senior class colors. Down the center of the long table were pastel gladioluses and asparagus fern interspersed with small circus animals.

Piece cards were blue programs on the front of which was featured a picture of the guest dressed as a clown. The columns of the dining room were decorated with small white adding to the circus atmosphere.

During the banquet Coach Fred Ganas served as toastmaster and Mildred Turner acted the blessing. The welcome to the seniors was extended by Richard Bass, president of the senior class, and the response was made by the president of the senior class, Herbert Stenstrom. Herman E. Morris, principal of the high school, was also introduced and related the history of the class.

Featured on the program were songs, "Come to the Fair" and "Nature Boy," by Dick Allen. "Animals" was sung by the double quartet of the glee club. Mr. Bass also welcomed the alumni of the Class of 1923 with the response being given by Robert A. Williams. Leonard McLucas of Jacksonville, a member of the alumni, introduced each graduate of 1923 and told a little of the history of the class.

Following the banquet the prom was held in the ballroom with music being provided by the "Melodians" of Orlando. The ballroom was decorated like a circus tent with balloons on the chandeliers and life-like circus figures in blue and gold decorating the walls. The figures included monkeys, clowns, animals, tight-rope walkers and many other novelty figures.

Giants Split With Islets And Cop Tilt From Senators

Sanford And Orlando To Meet At Tinker Field For Single Game This Evening

Art Dunker will draw the starting mound assignment for the Sanford-Orlando contest to be played at Tinker Field tonight. Manager Hal Gruber of the Giants announced this afternoon.

Charlie Peipo will return to the lineup at third base tonight, and Lonnie Worsham has been placed on the disabled list, Gruber added.

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor.

The Sanford Giants completed the past weekend with a pair of victories and a single defeat as they nipped the Daytona Beach Islets here Friday night, dropped a tilt to Daytona there Saturday evening and trimmed the Orlando Senators here yesterday afternoon.

Sanford took a 7 to 6 decision from the Daytona Islets here Friday night by a 7 to 6 margin. Eddie Lisiewski and Herman Meadows tangled in the hill duel, but Meadows weakened in the eighth to send one run across as he walked. Tim Tyler with the sacks jammed Johnny McManus scored the run.

Saturday night the Daytonians turned the tables on the Giants. Wally Gadda received credit for a 4 to 1 victory over the Sanfordites. Joe Schultz opened on the hill for the Sanford club, and was pulled in the seventh frame for a pinch hitter. Jerry Greasy went in to complete the contest. Greasy has been out with a broken finger, and has recently returned to the lineup.

The Giants narrowed the distance between them and the loop leading Orlando Senators by turning in a sparkling 12 to 9 victory over Manager Lou Bevil's cohorts yesterday.

Don Umscheid opened the batting with the Senators, but was pulled in the seventh canto in favor of Eddie Lisiewski, who completed the game.

Tony Caruso started for the Senators, but ran into difficulty in the fifth. Eddie Noriega came in to assist Caruso, but gave away to Manager Bevil in the seventh.

Luc Matie rapped a home run over the left-center field wall in the eighth with none on the sacks.

Tonight the Giants move to Orlando to meet the Senators, and tomorrow night return to the home park to tangle with the St. Augustine Saints.

Volusia County Track To Feature National Champ

Victorious in her first start last week, Forever Amber, former National Coursing Champion, will step out in quest of her second straight win when she races against the feature ninth race pack at the Volusia County Kennel Club in Daytona Beach.

The famous racing female has been pitted against a notable pack of greyhounds, among which are Oh's Caloway, winner of the Volusia Inaugural Stake, and Sooner Select, which won last Friday night's feature attraction.

Also in the big race will be Stupid Hugh, Hiawatha Lady, Victory Chance, Rocket Lad and Nankin.

The feature field will travel over the long 5-16th mile course, a distance much to the liking of every greyhound in the field.

Chief rival for Forever Amber tonight may be Sooner Select and Oh's Caloway. Sooner Select turned in a remarkable 5-16th mile race last Friday over the 5-16th course and the speedy racer is expected to make it tough for the best on the track this summer at the Daytona Beach dog track. Sooner Select was a Derby contender on the Miami tracks this past winter.

A powerful pack of marathoners gallop in the tenth race Beach course event. Furler Hurley, victor last week in a marathon test steps out in quest of a second straight win here. The speedy racer however, will be up against faster greyhounds tonight. Special Deluxe has just arrived at the track and has been entered in the long distance test. This greyhound specializes in marathon races and may be tough to beat tonight.

Meeting Of Umpires Is Held At Valdez

L. V. (Dick) McLaughlin, newly appointed umpire supervisor for the Florida State League, met with members of the umpiring staff of the loop last night at the Valdez Hotel, and opened a round table discussion to answer questions and assist the arbiters.

Many of the rules were given careful consideration, and umpires were instructed as to how to move about on the diamond to be in the best positions to call plays.

League President A. S. Herlong was present for the meeting, and assisted McLaughlin in laying down the law to the arbiters.

"We have nine men at present, and we will have to cut someone this next week," McLaughlin declared today. "Georgia" Standa, who has been in the Atlanta hospital for a minor operation, will return next week. "Then we will have to think about cutting another one," he said.

"These meetings will be held about every two weeks in the future, and we will try to iron out the essential of the game," the new supervisor said this morning.

NEW YORK—The Paramount movie house is a great barn of an affair which was thrown up in the heart of Times Square during the Twenties and for some years enjoyed the reputation of being the gaudiest, most elegant cinema cathedral in the whole of the country.

The Radio City Music Hall, meantime, has come along to make all the other film houses in town seem like so many grass shacks, and the Paramount, in all its gilded and rococo splendor, now reminds one faintly of an aging post-deb standing philosophically by at a cotillion while the young bucks follow the spoor of the sub-deb. This shabby comparison does not apply to the business of making money, however, because the Paramount never seems to lack for customers.

Since the late Nineteen Thirties, when Benny Goodman's orchestra first siphoned them from the classroom, the joint appears to have stood firm as the favorite haunt of the Sweet Sixteen set.

These rather hastily-thrown-together young citizens ordinarily can be found parked endlessly outside the stage door in 44th street, just up the street from the theatrical restaurant Sardi's, where they wait patiently to see, touch or scream at whatever crooner is currently in the Paramount stage show.

They while away the long hours insulting each other loudly in the peculiar display of affection that appears to be the peculiar property of young America, or writing in lipstick on the building walls that they love you, Frankie, and always will.

Today, however, there is no addle-headed multitude to pick our way through, for there is no baritone dreamboat at work these weeks. The only hangers-on are a few vitalist, adolescent gentlemen hoping for a glimpse of Lina Romay, the movie actress and one-time Xavier Cugat band singer who is on the bill.

The only hangers-on are a few vitalist, adolescent gentlemen hoping for a glimpse of Lina Romay, the movie actress and one-time Xavier Cugat band singer who is on the bill.

THE MID-AFTERNOON SHOW IS DONE and a trumpet player can be heard on some far-away landing, playing a little hop music. The shuffle of tap-dancing is a cacophonous counterpoint to the trumpeting, and a half-dozen musicians are standing in a hall discussing what first important step is to be made now that they have been paid.

They decide to try a little beer, and they troop into the elevator and down out of the building. We wander around and, coming at last to Miss Romay's dressing room, we knock gently and enter. She has just cleared out the last visiting piano player and the smell of coffee still is strong in the little flower-decked room, for it seems that Lina brews java all day long and administers it ceaselessly to drummers, bass players and guitarists.

"Why, it costs these poor boys 15 cents every time to send out for coffee," she says, defensively. "Here they get it for free. I even make hot tea with lemon for one guy."

We sympathize politely with these poor boys, each of whom undoubtedly owns a limousine and a mink-clad blonde, and Miss Romay shows the way down into the street and up a half-block to Sardi's.

Over a barbaric dinner of calves liver and potato skins—that's right—the animated Lina tells us how popular musicians are the most wonderful persons in the world.

"I never saw men who were so instinctively right about things that count," she says. "They can spot a phony of any kind a block off. And they are so talented. I could listen to music for the rest of my life."

Miss Romay is enthusiastic but she also is practical. "If you don't like the musicians and you are a singer," she adds, confidentially, "and if they don't like you, they can really louse up your performance. You know, there are two ways to play a note—any note—and they play it the good way if they like you and the bad way if they don't."

LENA ALWAYS IS ON THE OUTLOOK for promising young musicians and when she unearths one, she takes him aside and gives him frank, motherly advice on how to keep his shoulder to the wheel, etc., with all the accumulated wisdom of her 25 long years, on earth.

Currently Miss Romay is virtually at the babbling stage over a 19-year-old alto sax man with Shinnay Bunn's band named Ronnie Lang. She heard him play the old Benny Carter number, "Malibu," one night recently in Chicago's Palmer House, and was so impressed that she came to hear him every night for two weeks hand-running.

In a way, she is beginning to become a handmaiden to the popular music field; a bunch of Chicago's musicians threw a jam session in her honor the other night and when she was in Chicago a half-dozen members of the Chicago theatrical house band blew her to a farewell dinner.

The coffee-making routine started at the Chicago, incidentally; Lina would brew up a batch and then step out into the backstage hall and yell up in the direction of the musicians' dressing rooms, "Hey, you bums—who wants coffee?"

Miss Romay is a native New Yorker, but the five-a-day routine at the Paramount keeps her from coming out of the town these days. From 10:30 a. m. to 10 p. m. or so, she is in and out of that dressing room—singing, napping, gabbing, sipping . . . and brewing coffee for those poor boys. She seems to thrive on it; perhaps, in the words of Pearl Bailey, that ain't so bad life at that.

Goldsborough acted under the Taft-Hartley Act which Lewis called "the first major threat of Fascist tyranny in the Republic."

Gurney told his colleagues before the vote that the two-year draft bill "is of paramount importance."

He said civil rights legislation should "stand on its own feet" and not be hooked on to the draft bill.

Gurney urged that all of the Langer amendments be voted down on grounds that (A) they are not necessary and (B) they would create a morale problem within the Armed Services of the "first magnitude."

Gurney said the committee had carefully considered all the "pros and cons" of racial segregation during its open and close-door hearings. He said it was felt that it was a "national issue which extends far beyond the military establishments."

Gurney said that the services today are meeting the problem "intelligently."

Senate Votes To Let Army Enlist Aliens

Under Lodge's Plan
Enlistees Will Be Eligible For Citizenship After 5 Years

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—The Senate voted today to let the Army enlist 25,000 aliens. The 43 to 33 vote put the permission into the two-year draft bill. Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) sponsored it.

Under Lodge's plan, the enlistees would be eligible for citizenship after five years of service.

He said the group would not be formed into a "foreign legion" but would be spread through the Army for service.

The idea is that there are in Europe thousands of anti-Communist Poles, Czechs and others who would jump at the chance to serve in the American Army.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Armed Services Committee opposed the amendment. He said he doesn't think the proposal ought to be linked to the Selective Service proposal.

"This is a fundamental change in our policies," Gurney said. "Many people feel that such a move would subject our nation to the criticism that our own people are not willing to bear arms in defense of the nation."

As originally introduced, Lodge's amendment proposed enlisting 50,000 aliens. He cut the number to 25,000 at the suggestion of Senator Tydings (D-Md.) when it appeared doubtful the Senate would accept the larger figure.

Cooper Is Elected Chairman Of Soil Conservation Board

R. F. Cooper, east side grower and former Orlando school principal, was yesterday elected chairman of the new Seminole County Soil Conservation District board.

C. A. Wales of Fern Park was named vice chairman. Voting was by secret ballot at the meeting which was held at 2:30 P. M. in the office of County Agent C. R. Dawson.

Mr. Dawson was directed to serve the five member board as secretary and treasurer. Other members of the board are present were: T. L. Lingo of Orlando, R. F. Milner of Longwood and J. T. McLean of Geneva.

Duties of the board were outlined by H. S. MacLennan, state conservationist, and R. E. Weatherill, district soil conservation agent. The first action of the board was to direct Mr. Dawson to make application to the United States Soil Conservation Service for a working agreement, and to request assistance in a program including soil and water conservation. In connection with this survey are planned, and a topographical map of Seminole County showing elevations, also a map depicting type of soils to be made.

Members of the board plans to make a survey trip all over the county June 14 and 15, and will meet for this purpose at 9:00 A. M. June 14 at the County Agents office. They will follow a prepared schedule, said Mr. Dawson, and county commissioners of each district are to be requested to be on hand when their particular districts are visited.

Mr. Dawson today declared that he would like to receive suggestions by the public at large and growers as to this work, and requested that growers file applications with him of work needed, and to do this as soon as possible so that there will be a "back log" of applications on hand. The government will not pay for actual improvements but will pay for engineering service and counsel, he advised.

Littlefield Is Made State Demo Leader

PUNTA GORDA, June 8. (AP)—Sheriff Alex Littlefield of Daytona Beach today was elected chairman of the Florida State Democratic Executive Committee. Littlefield, friend of Senator Claude Pepper, defeated Frank A. Upchurch of St. Augustine, a Pepper foe, by a committee vote of 64 to 51. It was the second test of Pepper and anti-Pepper strength in Florida Democratic Party circles in two days. Upchurch won the first round yesterday in Tampa when he was named chairman of the Florida delegation to the Democratic National Convention. John B. Scruggs of Tallahassee, nominating Littlefield, said the Volusia county sheriff was a friend and supporter of both Senators Pepper and Spessard L. Holland and also of Fuller Warren, Democratic nominee for governor.

House Committee Seeks Fund Cuts In U. S. Agencies

Group Suggests 9 Percent In Atomic Energy Board, 7 In VA

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Cash money cuts of nearly nine percent for the Atomic Energy Commission and seven percent for the Veterans Administration were suggested today by the House Appropriations Committee.

At the same time the committee called for a halt to "hobby" training under the GI Bill of Rights. It also said Atomic Energy Commission officials should show less reluctance to consider the "practical realities" of spending government funds.

In a $5,795,048,921 bill to finance six agencies during the year starting July 1, the committee recommended:

Firemen Put Out Fire Near Gas Tank, Home

A gas tank of the South Atlantic Gas Company, frame home, and the frame Church of God on Holly Avenue near Sixth Street were menaced this afternoon by a wind swept fire that burned over a densely grown area of palmetto bushes.

One patch of the short grass 15 feet from the gas tank was extinguished. Two fire trucks and all men available from the Fire Department were required to keep the fire from leaping an alley and spreading to houses. Fire did cross the alley in one place and burned an area close to the home of Joe Russel and was put out before it spread to some high bushes close to the frame house.

Chief Mack Cleveland personally directed the firemen. Flames were more than 25 feet high in the burning brush as a brisk west wind sent the blaze over a wide area of bush land toward Holly Avenue. Cross lies near a railroad spur were on fire, and it is believed the fire first got momentum among these at about 1:30 o'clock. The blaze was noticed all over the city. The burned area is immediately east of the City incinerator and north of the gas tanks.

President's Tour Plans Bring Plaints From Montana Democrats

RUTHE, Mont. June 8. (AP)—Arrangements for President Truman's visit here tonight are bringing everything from complaints to commendations from prominent Montana Democrats.

And the Republicans are making the best of it. It started when state Democratic Chairman Lester H. Loble of Helena said party members were "hot under the collar" because they won't be allowed on the Presidential train when it goes through the state.

He sent a wire to Nebraska Democratic Party Chairman William F. Ritchie. It said, in part: "Treatment accorded your committee and Iowa and Nebraska Democrats on occasion of President Truman's visit is same as we are receiving. We are given no personal arrangements, and have been advised that none of us will be permitted on President's train."

Last night, Loble said he had "nothing to add" to his telegram, except: "Our delegation was instructed to vote for Mr. Truman. Asked to comment here, Charles Murray, son of Senator James E. Murray (D-Mont.), said: 'I have checked carefully and found no one complaining about Mr. Truman's desire to visit Montana without reference to political considerations.'"

Senate Group Vote Extends Trade Pacts

Committee Approves
Bill After Adopting
Compromise Amendment
Of GOP Solons

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee voted 8 to 5 today to extend the foreign trade agreements act one year with less drastic revision than the House approved.

The committee approved the bill after adopting, 7 to 6, a compromise amendment proposed by Republican Senator Vandenberg (Mich.) and Miliken (Colo.).

Under this amendment, the President would have to notify Congress within 30 days if he ignores recommendations of the tariff commission in making trade agreements.

A House provision, which the committee threw out, would have allowed Congress to veto tariff rates approved by the President in disregarding tariff commission recommendations.

Approval of the Miliken-Vandenberg amendment was on strict party lines, with seven Republicans for it and six Democrats against.

Miliken declined to say how the committee members lined up later in approving the bill 8 to 5.

The present trade agreements act is scheduled to expire Saturday. The Administration had asked a three-year extension without change. The House Republican majority slammed through a bill extending the act one year, with the current President's tariff-making power. The Republican majority on the Senate committee previously had opposed the three-year extension without change.

Before the committee session today, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) as "sailed" the Miliken-Vandenberg proposal, saying it would leave (Continued on Page Six)

Gas Explosion In California Country Club Injures Five

LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP)—A gas blast heard for miles killed the fashionable Hillcrest Country Club smart today, sending five persons to hospitals.

An earlier report from an ambulance driver that he had picked up two bodies was not borne out, police said.

Two of the victims were in the dining room, and one fell on an Olin Durr, and one at the club escaped injury by a few moments.

The explosion occurred in a locker room, and scattered lockers in a semi-circle for 50 feet. The roof blew off the clubhouse and fire virtually gutted it despite efforts of 12 fire companies. Loss was estimated by manager John Steinberg at $175,000.

Hospitalized were Clarence Myers, who was sitting in the men's grill with Edward Koellbe, 62, club auditor; John Steichen, steward; Emil Lapp, chef; Jimmy Wanecek and J.M. Friday, maintenance men.

The blast occurred at 8:05 A. M. and it was nearly two hours before police could piece together a picture of what happened.

Mailman Saves Tot From Death By Train

NORMAN, Okla., June 8. (AP)—The mail was a little late in Norman—all because of a very small, 20-year-old Navy sailor, was trudging his usual round yesterday.

As he neared the Santa Fe tracks, he saw three-year-old Jerry Russell sitting between the rails, idly toying gravel. Barring down on him was the southbound streamliner Texas Chief.

Price hurried his mail sack to the ground and raced a half-block through waist-high weeds. He just made it. He jerked the child backward and they both fell beside the tracks.

Flood Swollen Rivers Pour Third Crest Against Straining Dikes

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8. (AP)—The Columbia and Fraser Rivers fired their third flood crest downriver today. Weary sandbag battalions, defending battered American and Canadian dikes were reinforced for three more weeks of siege.

Scorching weather throughout the Pacific Northwest sent tons of water from fast melting mountain snow into the two comping river systems. The Kootenay River, one of many feeding the Columbia, crashed through another dike in Canada. Water poured over 8,000 acres of rich farmland near Creston, B. C., 350 miles east of Vancouver.

Elsewhere in the vast, flood-ravaged region of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia men and machines held the weakening levees—barely held them.

How long they could go on winning, no one knew. Nor did anyone know what to expect from the third crest. It had not built up enough to forecasters could say if it would top the first and second crests of the past week. It all depended on how long the sun blazed down on the snowpack.

In both countries, more men, power and earthworking equipment was thrown into the battle that already has cost 27 lives and perhaps $140,000,000 in damage. Hundreds still are listed as missing in the Memorial Day downing of Vancouver, war housing site of 18,000, on the Columbia.

Along the far-reaching flood front of the Columbia and Fraser, the fight is against two great currents—river and tide. In the American and Canadian lowlands near the Pacific, the two combined against men.

Authorities at New Westminster, B. C., advised 5,000 residents of suburban Queensborough on Lulu Island to evacuate nightly while the swollen Fraser crashes into high tides coming up from the sea.

New Westminster's Mayor W. M. Mott appealed for 1,000 workers daily to meet the new crisis. "We will be able to hold the river bank if we get manpower," he said. "We are fully equipped with machinery and supplies but manpower is the vital link in the battle."

It was the same on the lower Columbia in the hard hit area from Portland down the Oregon and Washington shores 100 miles to the ocean. U. S. Army engineers rushed more men and equipment into the fight that has tagged the clock around for 20 days.

Voting Machines Are Sought For County

Andrew Carraway, representing the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, appeared before the County Commission this morning and requested investigation of the possibility of securing voting machines for some of the precincts in the county in order to give them a trial. No specific request for installing voting machines in any particular precinct was made by Mr. Carraway.

The Board did not take any immediate action on the request, but as they stated, to the fact that the purchase of machines could not be financed this year, but suggested that they might include such outlay in next year's budget.

A request by R. F. Connor that a ditch draining his land in the Cameron Avenue section be deepened to prevent flooding of farm lands, was approved.

Bidault Leads Drive
For Formal Acceptance
Of Accord Reached In London

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—The French cabinet approved today the six-power agreement on Western Germany. The minutes voted to submit the agreement to the national assembly today.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault led the drive for formal acceptance of the accord reached by the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The cabinet debated for hours on the agreement. It will meet again tomorrow and discuss the currency question, the last point in the London accord.

"The conclusion from the deliberations of the government is that the cabinet has given its approval to the London accord," a cabinet spokesman said.

The British cabinet approved the accord yesterday.

The cabinet committee, which has the accord under review, is expected to issue a statement of support from both Communist and extreme rightists. The government indicated it would not make the issue one of confidence in which the cabinet would stand or fall.

General Charles de Gaulle is expected to issue a statement of support for the accord before the assembly meets.

Informed sources said the assembly may approve the recommendations by the weekend.

New York and London dispatches on the plan but no materials. The Russians have denounced the negotiations that led up to it.

The agreement reached in London, a so-called public statement by the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

It calls for a West German federal government, international control of Ruhr valley, and a common currency to keep Germany from becoming a military threat.

It is subject to home government approval. The British cabinet approved the accord yesterday.

Some Frenchmen have said that Germany's present situation is a "trap" set by the Allies to force a German surrender.

Communist newspapers have called the agreement a "diplomatic disaster" with having "definitely" defeated French interests.

General Charles de Gaulle's right-hand man, Gaston Palewski, said Sunday Bidault had abandoned French security.

Mr. Bidault's position appeared stronger today than at any time since the agreement was signed. The press and political leaders sounded much friendlier.

The violent Communist and Gaullist attacks seemed to have frightened, watering elements. These realized that if the attacks persisted the government might fall. Palewski had said De Gaulle was the "only man" to take over.

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—Genevieve Danelli Gestapo spy, was executed today. She was the first woman to face a firing squad in liberated France. An accomplice, Roger Calame, was executed with her.

The woman was convicted of betraying hundreds of members of resistance forces under the German occupation. The prosecution said she helped torture her victims.

She fainter for half an hour when notified she would be shot today.

Count Bernadotte Requests Observers
To Aid In Mediation

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Twenty-one American military officers are being immediately to serve as observers in Palestine, the State Department announced today.

Seven Navy officers are leaving by plane sometime today, seven Army and seven Air Force officers will be assigned from the Army soon thereafter.

The report that observers came from Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator, who has been trying to arrange an agreement between Arabs and Jews on terms of a four-week truce.

Michael J. McDermott, State Department press officer, said the request came in the last few days. Officials understood observers also were being dispatched at Bernadotte's request by France and Belgium.

These three countries are represented on a so-called Truce Commission in Jerusalem.

The United States' idea is that observers should be only from the countries on that commission, but Russia offered at the UN council meeting to send Red Army observers. Action on Russia's proposal was postponed until Thursday.

McDermott said the Security Council's truce resolution made it a mediation had authority to call observers. McDermott said the same authority to ask assistance to be possessed by the three major powers.

McDermott said the State Department was not advised immediately of the names of the American observers.
