For the Next Move

Evolution Trial IS OVERFLOWING IN HUMOR, PATHOS

DAYTON, Tenn., July 11.—Humor and pathos overflowed here Friday when counsel gathered from distant states for Tennessee lawyers to launch a court proceeding widely heralded as one of the most portentous legal battles of the century.

Informality was the rule, gravity the keynote in the Rhea county court house where the testing of the state anti-evolution law began in an auditorium packed with eager spectators. Flashes of the nation's press—one hundred and fifty men and women who strained to mark each significant word.

Within the trial arena sat the principals in the drama. Here were Darrow, defender of Leopold and Loeb, there Bryan, thrice national leader of his party, and once holder of the highest cabinet position, and there was Kauston on the judicial pedestal. Others surrounded them—and the quiet Scopes himself—but these three were the targets for the crowd's attention today.

Break Into Applause
Twice the sweating, fanning, throng burst into applause. When Bryan entered the room they cheered. They shouted even more wildly when a candidate for the jury testified that "of course" he believed the Bible most talking.

Darrow did the Bible most talking. In the court and to the jury he talked quietly and unemotionally and all the while exchanged affable repartee with the state's attorneys. Spectators whispered one to another the stories they had believed the Bible most talking.

From Bryan and from his son who sat near him, no single word issued to enter the records of the case. Yet his every movement was closely marked and he was busy shaking hands in every recess.

Spectators began to find seats in the jury room two hours before the Scopes trial began. By 8:20 o'clock the high-ceilinged room, which will seat approximately 800 persons contained 100 men, with a scattering of women observers.

The lawn and walks outside were thronged.
A hum of tense conversation filled the court room and above this sounded the clatter of reporter's typewriters and the muffled click of telegraph instruments.

Judge Raulston entered at 8:30 followed by his wife and two young daughters and mother-in-law. The judge's family took seats within the railing. Kauston was busy shaking hands with friends.

At 8:45 few seats remained unoccupied and the entrance and stairways were crowded. The attorneys sitting and the spectators began to crane their necks toward the door anxiously.

Defense Attorneys Enter
Dudley Field Malone of defense counsel, followed by Scopes, Darrow, Hays, Neal and the defendants' father, entered at 8:50 and took seats at the counsel table to the left of the judge's seat.

All principals in the case passed through a group of photographers at the entrance to the court house—rounds. Judge Raulston with a Bible and a dictionary under his arm, posed for them for several minutes.

Scopes entered the ground with Darrow, Malone, Hays, Neal and Rappleyes. When they pushed their way through the crowd, cameras men scampered ahead and posted themselves upon the court house steps.

Applause burst forth as Bryan entered, pushing his way through the throng. He shook hands with Darrow and the cheering redoubled. He greeted other defense lawyers who stood with him in front of the judicial desk. They mopped their brows.

YOUTH SEEKING THRILL SOUGHT AS MURDERER

Ex-College Beau, Brunmel,

Corps Being Hunted For
Slaying of Taxi Driver

Pair Glasses Leads Suspicion of Knapp

Is Son of Manufacturer; Ruddy
Dead Man Found in Ruins
Old Army Base Hospital

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 11.—Having committed murder to get the super thrill of his hectic career, in opinion of the authorities, Philip K. Knapp, 27 year old ex-college beau, brunmel, deserter from the army aviation corps and a wrecker of women's hearts is being sought by police, like the murder of Bobby Franks in Chicago, in which the finding of a pair of glasses in a swamp led to the intellectual slayer's capture.

Knapp's carelessness started the hunt for him. He is charged with picking for his victim a modest, trusting man, Louis Panella, a taxi cab driver and the father of two children. His body was discovered when searchers stumbled over a foot protruding from the ruins of the old Camp Mills base hospital near here on July 4. Knapp disappeared the day before the desire for a super thrill was revealed in a letter which Knapp left in his Mitchell Field locker.

In a letter to an officer-friend, Knapp said he had been unable to find anything to satisfy his "craving for danger" and suggested he might try suicide "to be faced to face with death."

Army Bullet
The bullet which killed Panella was similar to that used in army revolvers and a weapon of that type was missing from the rank to which Knapp had access.

Detectives working on the case reported yesterday the evidence they had gathered indicated the soldier employed Panella to drive him to a lonely spot near Hempstead, where the taximan was killed and his body hidden. After using the car July 5 and in driving about Long Island, Knapp is supposed to have taken it to a used car agency in New York where it was sold July 7 for $1,000 by a man who presented Panella's driver's certificate.

The check for $100 given in part payment by the purchaser was cashed at a New York bank after it had been endorsed by "Louis Panella." No effort has since been made to collect the $900 balance. Knapp's descriptive notes declared to tally closely with that of the man presenting the car for sale.

Knapp joined the army last Spring and because of his previous education as a engineer, was assigned to aviation. According to Major William H. Hensley, in charge of Mitchell field, he kept much to himself, refusing to join frequent excursions from camp for amusement.

The murdered man was married and the father of two children. He lived in Hempstead.

Band Concert Will Be One Feature Of Booster Program

The people of Sanford will have the privilege of hearing a concert by the local Municipal Band during the Booster Day Celebration to be held at the city ball park Thursday afternoon, July 16, according to a definite announcement this morning by officials of the Sanford Baseball club who after having received additional financial support for the team, confirmed this morning a report made last Friday afternoon to the effect that this city will retain its franchise in the Florida State League.

Friday when negotiations for the sale of the club to Fort Myers had been virtually completed by local officials, it was said that the occasion would not be held as planned. Now, however, since the baseball club will remain at Sanford, it is announced that a larger celebration than ever will be staged.

During the past several weeks the Sanford band has been complimented by many of the local people and out of town residents who have heard the members of the musical organization perform with their instruments. It is understood that a regular concert will be given next Thursday at the ball park and in addition selections will be played at intervals throughout the two games which will be staged.

At 2 o'clock sharp the "notorious" game between the "fats" and "leams" of this city will begin and at 4 o'clock the Sanford and Lakeland clubs will play their regular scheduled game here.

The celebration will begin with a parade which will form in the downtown section about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and will end that night with a mammoth fireworks display at the municipal ball park beginning promptly at 9 o'clock.

MOTHER OF RICH BOY SUCCESSFUL IN KIDNAPING HIM

Mrs. Canady Spirits Roscoe
Canady From New York
Home to Texas After 5 Unsuccessful Attempts at Job

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 11.—Roscoe Canady, Jr., five, son of Roscoe A. Canady, millionaire resident of Forest Hills, N. Y., who disappeared from his home there last Tuesday arrived here at 4 a. m. Friday. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Virginia Canady and her attorney.

Mrs. Canady through her attorney, admitted having spirited her child from the Canady home, after she had been defeated in five previous attempts to gain possession of the youth.

Accompanied by her attorney, Mrs. Canady made plans to spirit Roscoe back to Texas.

The program called for a relay of five automobiles into which Mrs. Canady was to switch at intervals in order to throw pursuers off her track. Trenton, N. J., was selected as a rendezvous where the mother was to catch a transcontinental train back to Texas.

Five attempts to seize the child were defeated at the last moment. About noon Tuesday, Mrs. Canady arrived at the home, saw her son leaving from a second-story balcony. Only the child's paternal grandmother was at home with the servants.

The mother grasped the child and fled. Private detectives in the employ of Canady were given the alarm and the chase to Jersey began.

At one time the mother saw one of her pursuers pass the car into which she had switched, but she huddled with the boy in the rear seat and escaped. A joyous reunion took place when Roscoe met his sister Josephine, seven, who has not seen him since Canady abducted the boy April 18.

Attorneys for Mrs. Canady declared today that should Canady re-enter the state he will be arrested on an indictment charge containing three counts.

One of the purposes of this conference with the Secretary of State will be to map out this end.

Debt Situation Not Serious, Is Indication

President Depends On Press Reports For Trend Foreign Matters For 2 Weeks

BOSTON, July 11.—Secretary of State Kellogg arrived here today from Chicago to consult with President Coolidge at the summer White House at Swampscott on debt funding, the Chinese situation and other matters.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 11.—In his first conference with a cabinet officer since leaving Washington for a vacation President Coolidge will discuss today with Secretary Kellogg late developments in the debt funding and the Chinese situations.

The Secretary of State, who was on his way Friday to the Summer White House from his home in St. Paul, Minn., will be joined here by Under-Secretary Grew, coming from Washington. It is probable that they will confer at length today with the Executive and perhaps extend their stay here over the week-end.

There is no development in either the debt or Chinese situation, it was indicated Friday at White Court, that has alarmed the President or led him to believe that a serious crisis had been reached.

On the other hand, it was stated before Mr. Coolidge left the Capitol, that he arranged with Mr. Kellogg as he did with other cabinet officials to come here whenever he had information of importance with regard to departmental matters.

For more than two weeks Kellogg has been working on the President had depended upon press reports of foreign affairs in which the United States has a vital interest. Since he became a vacationist, however, there have been preliminary negotiations on debts with Italy, France, Belgium and other European nations and it is presumed that the President desires to ascertain from Mr. Kellogg, who had only been a member of the American debt funding commission, but has been in intimate touch with the preliminary negotiations, just what the United States can expect from its debtors.

As to the Chinese situation it was made clear that President Coolidge believes on the treaty affecting China negotiated by Washington conference are ratified by France and thus become effective the way will be clear for conferences that should do much toward untangling the vexing Chinese problem.

Although he has not been in close touch with the late developments Mr. Coolidge does not look with favor on the suggestion that there should be a conference separate and distinct from those authorized under the Washington treaty dealing with Chinese credits and extra-territorial rights, for the purpose of restoring some semblance of order in chaotic China.

The President is of the opinion that the conference authorized by the Washington treaty should be adequate to deal with the situation in China as far as the United States is concerned, but is convinced that as soon as France completes ratification it will be necessary for the American government to act without undue delay in concert with other powers signatory to the treaty.

One of the purposes of this conference with the Secretary of State will be to map out this end.

JACKSONVILLE, July 11.—A state-wide campaign in search of persons failing to make complete income tax returns is being waged in Florida by a corps of revenue officers, according to Internal Revenue Tax Collector Miller with offices in this city.

Most of the violators of the income tax law are real estate dealers, it was stated, who fail to make an accurate return of profits made on real estate deals.

More than $250,000 has already been obtained from such persons in Miami, the collector stated and he expressed the belief that the toll of the State would reach $1,000,000 before the campaign is over. There are twenty-eight additional revenue officers at work in the state, it was explained, most of them being in Tampa now. They will come to Jacksonville following the completion of their work in Tampa.

TWO WOMEN AND MAN INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Small Boy Miraculously Escapes Injury Also When
Large Bus Smashes Ford
Sedan Near Plant City

PLANT CITY, July 11.—Two women and a man were more or less seriously injured and a ten-year-old boy miraculously escaped injury Friday morning when a Ford sedan in which they were riding east along the Lakeland Road swerved into the ditch and was crushed to mangled pile of wreckage by a bus of the White Stage Line. The accident occurred about a block this side of the Wilder Road on the Plant City-Lakeland Highway. The injured are:

R. R. Stieh, 36; Miami, back sprained and head bruised; injuries not considered serious.
Miss Catherine Reid, 20 Miami, arm broken, head bruised and other injuries; may be very seriously injured.

Mrs. R. M. Carlos, 25, New York, bruised and cut; injuries not believed serious.
A ten-year-old boy, also in the car, escaped injury and was picked up by a passerby who took him to Lakeland. Mrs. Carlos was taken to Tampa by a passing car. Stieh and Miss Reid were brought to Plant City and treated by Dr. J. W. Alsbrook at his office here.

Bus Passengers Escape
None of the fifteen passengers in the bus were seriously injured. C. L. Anderson was driving the bus.

Reports of the accident conflicted. Stieh declared his car was thrown against the bus and thence into the ditch when one of its tires blew out. He did not know whether it was a front or rear tire. According to occupants of the bus, Stieh had just passed the bus from the rear and cut ahead of the bus too close so that it was practically impossible for the bus driver to avoid hitting the right rear wheel of the smaller car.

They declared that the front of the bus caught the rear wheel and the bus caught the rear wheels and ditch. The Ford sedan was crumpled into a mass of wreckage almost beneath the front wheels of the bus.

Passengers on the bus were thrown from their seats, luggage strewn over the roadside, and several occupants of the bus were cut by flying glass.

The injured were removed by Hillsborough County Traffic Officers Keene and Berry, assisted by James McDougal, a policeman of Plant City.

Many Liquor Cases Given Attention In County Court Term

Because of the large number of liquor cases on the docket yet to be disposed, the regular session of County Court which has been in session since last Tuesday, will continue through next week with the prospects of the entire week being consumed, according to prosecuting Attorney E. F. Householder.

With Judge J. G. Sharon on the bench, court convened for the present session facing what is declared one of the heaviest dockets for some time. Many of the cases, which have resulted in conviction during the present week, have not had sentence passed on them as yet. During the week four cases for violation of liquor laws have been disposed of.

A majority of 35 cases that have been brought up this week have resulted in conviction or the defendants pleading guilty and there has been several acquittals. The four liquor cases this week ended in one conviction, one mistrial, one acquittal and one disposed of upon a plea of guilt.

The prosecuting attorney announces that other liquor cases to be heard next week are to be prosecuted vigorously.

FORD MAKES BID FOR 200 SHIPPING BOARD VESSELS

Submission of Automobile
Manufacturer's Bid Is Effected at Capital Friday;
Devison to Come Soon

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Acting with dramatic suddenness, Henry Ford Friday submitted a new bid for the 200 all-steel vessels of the United States shipping board, which is it planned to sell for scrapping purposes.

After the board Thursday had turned down the bid of the Boston Metal and Iron Works of Baltimore for $1,300,000, W. B. Mayo, chief engineer for Henry Ford, submitted a new bid to Chairman T. V. O'Connor, leaving the Ford offer the only one now before the board.

Although Chairman O'Connor said he knew the amount of the Ford bid, he refused to disclose it, adding that it was much better than that of the Boston Metal and Iron Works.

"All I am interested in," the chairman said, "is to get as much money as possible for these ships for the government."

The submission of the Ford bid, following unofficial negotiations which Chairman O'Connor conducted recently at Detroit, and after the bid had been cleared of other competitors, is the last chapter in a series of clashes that have been occurring in the board over the manner of disposing of ships that originally cost the government $100,000,000.

The policy the president had sought to establish with the board was that all sales should be handled by the president of the first corporation, Admiral Leigh C. Frazier, president of the fleet corporation, had recommended the acceptance of the Boston Metal and Iron Works bid, but was promptly turned down by the board under the leadership of Chairman O'Connor.

Previously received bids had been opened June 30 and after their rejection it had been decided to close negotiations July 16.

It developed Friday, upon admission of Chairman O'Connor that Henry Ford's agent, W. B. Mayo, was in the city June 30 when bids were opened and that he had conferred with the board's chairman prior to the rejection of the bid of the Boston Metal and Iron Works yesterday.

Admiral Frazier refused to discuss the character of the Ford bid. He said he knew the total amount but had not read the conditions, and after removing the certified check that accompanied it, had resealed the bid, leaving it to be opened July 16 when a final decision is to be made.

Fort Myers Offer Is Formally Rejected; Newman New Head Re-organized Club

Fans Raise Nearly
$3,000 For Support
Increased Interest In
Local Club By Fans
Noted by Club Heads

Sanford will retain its franchise in the Florida State League, according to a decision reached at a meeting this morning, when the bid of Fort Myers baseball enthusiasts for it was definitely rejected and plans for strengthening the club were made.

The election of new officers and a new board of directors was announced together with the appointment of a new manager to succeed Nick Carter, who tendered his resignation because of his desire to return to his home at Lake City, Ga., to look after his business interests.

R. A. Newman was elected president succeeding C. L. Britt, who tendered his resignation, stating that the press of business affairs has made it impossible for him to devote the time necessary for running the affairs of the club. Vance E. Douglass was named vice-president succeeding Judge E. F. Householder. Billy Burdick was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

On the board of directors the following were named: A. Newman, Vance E. Douglass, Forrest Lake, Fred Dornier, Joe Chittenden, C. L. Britt, and W. P. Stone. The new officers are to take office immediately.

Moore Appointed Manager
Following the election of officers, the resignation of Carter was resigned. The selection of Jim Moore as manager was announced. The new manager will assume his duties beginning this afternoon. Moore has been playing left field on the local team for the past several weeks.

The new manager played in the Florida State League in 1919, being named manager of the Bradenton club during the second half when Sanford beat out that club by a half a game for the pennant. Moore also played with Orlando that year, where his hitting was a feature.

In 1920 Moore was manager of the Danville Club in Piedmont league, where his team finished in second place. In 1921 he was manager of the Cairo, Ill., team in the Kitty League. His club won the pennant that year. Moore then went to Jackson, Miss., in the Cotton States League in 1922 where his team finished in second place. The club in 1923 was bought by Sanford but later was farmed out to Spartanburg in the South Atlantic League.

Last year Moore was general utility player and scout for the Atlanta Club. His admirers here predict that the next manager will be a valuable asset to the Sanford club and in assuming the role of leader, his work with the team will be watched with unusual interest.

Financial Support Is Given
As a result of a campaign informally started yesterday when news that the franchise was to be purchased by Fort Myers nearly $3,000 had been raised this morning to meet obligations now facing the club. This amount, it is understood, will place the club on a sounder financial basis, taking care of practically every bit of its present indebtedness.

With the raising of additional funds, plans were made for securing further financial aid so that the club will not have to face this problem for the remainder of the season. Increased support has been shown by many who have not heretofore manifested enthusiasm, it was announced.

The new officials as well as the outgoing ones expressed appreciation of the unusual interest that has been taken in the club during the past 24 hours. Indications are, they declare, that the team will receive much better support than has been accorded it in the past. To give Sanford a baseball outfit that wins at least 50 per cent of its games, is the aim now of the management, it was announced.

With the advent of Moore as manager, it is expected by many club observers that several changes in the personnel of the club are scheduled. Just who is scheduled to receive the pink slips, it was not indicated by the new manager, who has nothing to say this morning except that he is going to do his best for the team.

The largest moving picture house in the world is soon to be erected in New York at a cost of $6,500,000. It will be called the Rex theater.

Dayton, Tennessee, Was On Map Years Before Scopes Came, Citizens There Insist

DAYTON, Tenn., July 9.—While the trial of John T. Scopes, charged with violating the Tennessee law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in the public schools, has attracted attention to this city from all parts of the country, its citizens insist that it was permanently placed on the map long before on its own account. The trial scheduled to begin today is expected to bring to the city a large number of visitors who never have been here before; some, perhaps, who never have heard of the place.

Citizens of Dayton take pride in the city's claim to be the largest strawberry shipping center in the world, and they are optimistic that within a few years it will rival Fort Valley, Ga., as a peach center.

The county seat of Rhea county Dayton is the center of a rich agricultural country. Its strawberry shipments this season amounted to 500 cars, which, local men say, is far below the shipments of previous years.

MARION COUNTY GIRL IS FIRST IN WRITING CONTEST

Is Awarded Prize for Best Story Written By Those Who Attended Club Short Course at Woman's College

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 10.—Ester Brant of Electra, Marion county has been awarded first prize for the best story written by those who attended the girls' club course at the Florida State College for Women in June. More than three hundred girls participated in the contest in which three prizes were given. Fannie Pilkinton of McIntosh, Marion county, won second prize, and Eula Langford of Brownville, DeSoto county, third prize.

"The short course has meant much to me and I want to express my appreciation of it," wrote Miss Brant. "I have attended classes and learned something that I did not know before but wanted to know about clothing in relation to health, flowers home improvement, the essentials of a 4-H club girl, basketry, poultry, canning, nutrition, dairying, parliamentary rules in club meetings, and gardening."

"In studying clothing in relation to health," she continued, "I have learned that we should wear clothes that hand from the shoulder and fit loosely around the body; they should be of uniform thickness and porous. Our clothes should be made of material that is easily laundered. Our shoes should be changed often and kept clean. It is very important to keep our body clean and free from the waste that comes out with perspiration."

"There are different flowers for different purposes and we should study our surroundings and the effect we want to produce before planting."

"The home improvement classes have been especially interesting to me. I have learned how to paint vases, etc., chairs; how to make an attractive vanity dresser, how to make crocheted and plaited rag rugs, how to make lamp shades, and how to make lamp shades."

"The poultry classes were very helpful to me as I learned about a good layer and what some of the bad points were. I learned about feeding young chickens; they should have an easily digested feed to begin with and then gradually harder food."

"In canning I saw how some of our citrus fruits could be used to the most advantage."

"In the nutrition class we much made a booklet containing various helps about cooking and serving."

"The dairymen taught us that milk was one of the best foods."

"The gardening class was very interesting such things as we studied the vegetables and fruits that we liked best, and some different kinds of seeds."

"Recreation hours have been especially interesting as all the games and stunts were new to me. During this time I have met other girls and had a good social time, and learned new ideas."

"I appreciate my short course very much and it has been a pleasure to me and I have learned so much that I wish every country girl, especially would take advantage of this opportunity to make themselves better for their life work."

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The dinky little freight cars to be seen on old world railroads have given American tourists in Europe many a hearty laugh in the past. Is it possible that these laughs were premature?—that just such cars are what we need on our railroads here, for short-haul economy? Secretary Charles W. Holman of the American Institute of Co-Operation thinks maybe so.

The institute includes 37 organizations of farmers, dairymen, fruit growers and others in allied industries. Its purpose is to get higher prices for these producers for these producers for the commodities they have to sell and at the same time to develop their markets by reducing the prices which "ultimately consumers" have to pay—in short, to reduce the producer-consumer price spread.

Also its aim is to set down the prices which its members have to pay for what they themselves need—as consumers, for of course, part of the time, they're that, too.

Hardly necessary to say, the cost of transportation is an important item in creating the producer-consumer price spread, whether from farm producer to urban consumer or from industrial producer to rural consumer.

Now the producer complains that this cost is so high as to wipe his profit out. At the same time the consumer declares it so high as to make his living expenses ridiculous.

Simultaneously the railroads wait that it's so low they're nearly bankrupt—and one great system, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, actually is so that they make out a pretty good case.

Well, perhaps not all but many railroad men agree that the short haul is their great difficulty.

The law doesn't permit them to charge as much for short as for long hauls. Yet it isn't hard to prove that a short haul may cost even more than a long one. A big single cargo is loaded into a huge car in San Francisco, New York is the most convenient for the car's shot through to New

J. W. Rappleyea.

This is what started all the evolution trial fuss in Tennessee. It is a facsimile of the telegram sent by George W. Rappleyea, instrumental in bringing about the indictment as a test of the anti-evolution law, to the American Civil Liberties Union. Since he gives John T. Scopes' name as "Scops", perhaps he didn't know him as well as he has since indicated.

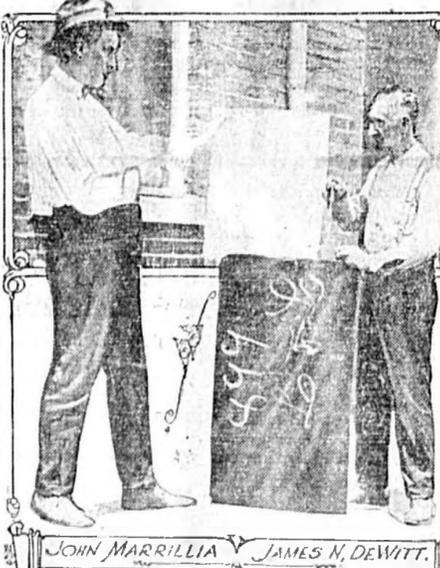

Head of British Air Force Wants Aerial Warfare Abolished

OXFORD, Eng., July 9.—An attempt is being made to organize an Air Force Officer's Training Corps in Oxford, along the lines of the existing University O. T. C. There are several difficulties to be overcome, among them the university prohibition of flying by undergraduates. The anti-military spirit which characterized the undergraduates who had been passing away as a new generation comes into residence and the military training courses are becoming popular again. Sir Hugh Trenchard, the head of the English Air Force, in a recent speech at Cambridge, informed his hearers that there is no defense against air warfare, that it can aim only to destroy the people and cities and industries of the enemy without preventing the enemy from carrying on a like program of destruction. If he had his way, he said, he would abolish air warfare. This admission from an officer so highly placed has dampened the ardor of many aviation enthusiasts.

Father of Twenty-One Children Hears of New Protection Plan For 60,000 Railroad Workers

For more than forty years James N. DeWitt has devoted his time to making good at his job and to being the proud father of one of the largest families south of the Mason-Dixon line. There have been twenty-one little DeWitts and eighteen of them are still living, the oldest a son of 46 and the youngest a toddler of just two.

DeWitt is a carpenter employed in the Louisville, Ky., coach yards of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and his general foreman, John Marrillia, who is shown in the above photograph with him, will tell you that no more competent artisan is engaged on the coast. The idly worker is, above all, a family man, and he shows his large flock. Despite the fact that many of them have grown up and married and live in cities far distant from Louisville, he still finds time to communicate with them and to share
