Sanford's Moore: 'A Subtle Move Toward Consolidation'

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford City Commission Monday night voted to file a lawsuit in the state courts seeking redress from Seminole County on the question of tax equalization. Court action opposing the county's proposed comprehensive plan development framework was also considered by the

Both unanimous votes came after Mayor Lec P. Moore delivered a stinging condemnation of the County Commissioners' positions on both issues.

The pleasant surprise came as the result of City Manager W.E. Knowles' "filling out some forms" about 21/2 years ago and sending them to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

"I filled out the forms and forgot about it," Knowles said. "I never expected to hear another word." Here's how the bonanza came about: In late 1973 the city received a $766,000 EPA grant to upgrade its sewer plant. The city was required to put up a local share to match the federal money. During construction of the improvements, Congress passed a new law applying to the funding of such improvements, and EPA developed new regulations. When construction was completed in mid-1975, Knowles submitted an application for a federal refund of the difference, as specified in an EPA letter to the city. IN BRIEF

GM Offers Deal To Appease

Owners In Engine Switch Flap

DETROIT (AP) - General Motors Corp., swamped by consumer complaints and mounting legal actions over the use of Chevrolet engines in other GM cars, has worked out a settlement to appease disgruntled owners.

But the attorney general for Illinois, the state where the whole engine flap started, says GM's offer does not go far enough. Under the GM plan, an owner of a new 1977 Buick, Oldsmobile or Pontiac with a Chevy engine may trade that car for a new 1977 model, but must pay eight cents for each mile he drove the original car. Or, the owner may keep the car and get a 36,000 mile, 36-month engine warranty.

Clinton Town Meet Flops

CLINTON, Mass. (AP) - Without an attraction like President Carter, Clinton can't get residents to town meetings.

Thousands gathered when Carter attended a mock meeting here in March, but a scant 268 persons showed up Monday for the real thing. The annual meeting had to be postponed until Thursday because of the lack of a 300voter quorum, officials said, and consideration of a budget exceeding $6 million was put in abeyance.

Those who did show up Monday offered some solutions, perhaps tongue-in-cheek. "Do you think we could get the President back for a real town meeting?" one man suggested after adjournment.

"I'd settle for Mondale or a cabinet member," another of the town's 7,500 registered voters quipped.

Auto Theft: Insult To Injury

CALAIS, Maine (AP) - Prompt recovery of their stolen car brought little solace to Mr. and Mrs. Bror Olsson.

Olsson, who owns two restaurants in this Canadian border city, was working at his Wickachee Dining Room Inn when he spotted two men driving his new car out of the parking

The theft was reported to authorities, and the vehicle was spotted a short time later. Police gave chase.

Attempting to elude pursuers, the drivcer of the stolen car shifted into reverse, speeding backwards into another vehicle and crashing through the front glass window of the Restaurant Angelholm

The restaurant also is owned by Olsson. The two suspects fled on foot but were nabbed moments later. Nobody was injured in the crash.

Hussein Cites 'New Optimism

WASHINGTON (AP) - Jordan's King Hussein, entering his second day of talks with President Carter, says his habitual caution in assessing Middle East peace prospects is giving way to new optimism. Carter and Hussein met for the first time Monday for talks about the role of the Palestinian Liberation Organization in any new peace efforts in the Middle East. They agreed to the need for a new Geneva peace conference this

FBI Prosecution Will Go On

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite FBI claims of shattered morale, Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell says he'll continue the prosecution of an FBI man for allegedly illegal mail-opening and wiretapping because it's a matter of principle. "What is at stake is the rule of law," Bell said Monday after listening for 90 minutes as FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley and 10 agents complained that bureau morale has suffered because of the charges and the continuing Justice Department investigation.

'Cannonball' Asks Privacy

WASHINGTON (AP) - Even a self proclaimed Human Cannonball has a right to privacy, says Hugo Zacchini, who wants the Supreme Court to decide that television news cameras can't record his 15-second act without his permission. The nation's highest court was told Monday that a Cleveland television station should not have been protected by its First Amendment right to gather the news when it filmed Zacchini's ntire act for use on a news program.

Knowles has met with County Sheriff John Polk to discuss the tax equalization issue, and the commissioners instructed Knowles to continue the discussions, which Knowles has described as "fruitful."

The city commissioners indicated Seminole's other cities would be given an opportunity to join with Sanford in the double-taxation litigation.

City Attorney C. Vernon Mize Jr., told the city commissioners that several cities in Florida "have, on the trial level, gotten favorable results" in state courts on double taxation. The "only way to move the issue along" and create the leverage which might lead to a county compromise, is to file a suit, he said. The city commissioners, after authorizing Mize to file the double taxation suit, instructed him to present, at the commission's next meeting May 10, a resolution opposing the county's proposed comprehensive plan. The resolution would be presented at the county commissioners' public hearing to consider the plan on May 17. The mayor said he doubted the city commission could stop the comprehensive plan at this point, and Mize agreed. Mize said the best chance of opposing the plan in court would be after the plan's adoption. "At the point of implementation, we would have a reasonable chance of success in keeping them from infringing on the functions of the City of Sanford."

Mayor Moore said he used to feel Seminole County, "a small county to have so many incorporated governments" should adopt some form of consolidation But, he said, the county plan will "direct those functions which will be done on land inside the City of Sanford, a situation to which, "I am diametrically opposed."

No Doubt About It Energy War At Hand

President Carter warned at the outset that his talk about energy was not going to be pleasant. It wasn't. He spoke of future energy shortages in terms more alarming than an American President has ever used before, and declared that the situation demands a national effort which would be "the moral equivalent of war."

This isn't the first time Americans have been told that a "Pearl Harbor" has occurred which demands an all-out effort to forestall a disastrous energy crisis. Mr. Carter is picking up where former Presidents Nixon and Ford left off in their own frustrating effort to get Congress to pass legislation which would give the country a coherent and comprehensive energy policy.

The President has raised the tone of his appeal closer to the level of an emergency. As he points out, the problem is getting worse with each day that passes without the existence of a firm and clear sense of what we are going to do about the energy problem. He was armed with a new study by the Central Intelligence Agency which indicates the demand for oil and gas is going to overtake the world's ability to produce it by the mid-1980s - a more grim outlook than had been assumed.

There is some grumbling on the sidelines about the accuracy of the CIA projections, but the argument boils down to a question of time. Whether or not a final crunch on oil and gas supplies comes in the 1980s or later, it is coming, and Mr. Carter is quite correct in warning that the magnitude of the consequences depends on what we start doing today to prepare for it.

The anlogy of "war" is not perfect, since the strategy in this case is going to be threshed out on the floor of Congress and, if that body reads its mail, the public will have a say in how the troops are going to be deployed

Under previous administrations, Congress decided hardly to fight at all, leaving price controls in place to prolong the illusion that energy can be realtively cheap even when the country is consuming more than it produces. Unfortunately, that thinking may have infected Mr. Carter's energy advisers. His program, as leaked to the press, envisions new taxes to encourage us to conserve energy, but misses the point that production also needs to be encouraged by removing price controls. There are two fronts - demand and supply - on which the energy war must be waged.

Except for the Arab oil embargo of 1973 and the fuel shortages in the East last winter, Americans on the whole have barely tasted battle where energy is concerned. He has tried to get our attention with a stark reading of where the imbalance in the production and consumption of energy is leading us. His next task is to work with Congress in creating a fair, workable and effective energy program worthy of the national commitment he has asked for.

A Better Choice

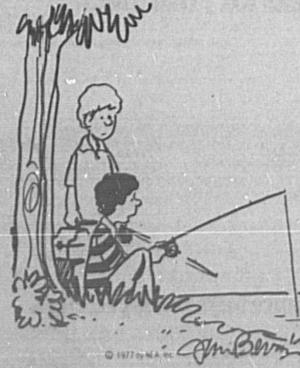

Increased case loads and the growing complexity of courtroom cases are cited in the continuing pressure at all jurisdictional levels for more judges.

Chief Justice Warren Burger of the U.S. Supreme Court is no less reticent than the presiding judge of the smallest county system in advocating additional judgeships to attack backlogs. But in Los Angeles, the county Economy and Efficiency

Commission has taken a dim view of a Superior Court appeal for 34 more judges, recommending to supervisiors that the request be denied. Commission Chairman Robert Downey acknowledged the court's mounting problems, but proposed an alternative to the burden more judges would place on the taxpayers. The court, he said, should seek "every way to improve procedures and to expedite cases in order to maintain expenditures at the present

With all government officials scrambling to cut tax rates in response to public grumbling, the commission's conclusion seems to reflect the taxpayers' mood: "The discipline of holding the judicial complement to the present level should have a positive effect in pressing the court to search for improvement." It couldn't be better said.

Not all sheriff's deputies patrol Seminole and nvestigate crimes. Four deputies in Sheriff John Around Polk's civil division supervised by Sgt. Howard Mullen have jobs that sometimes can be heartbreaking. They serve civil papers from the courts,

> Most evictions stem from nonpayment of rent, officials say, and must follow strict procedures set out in state law. Mullen says his men average about 15 evictions a month. Landlords must give threeday notices and if tenants don't move out the property owner can file for court-ordered eviction of persons and property. Following this the court issues a five-day summons. If the tenant still doesn't vacate the landlord can get a writ of possession from the court.

"We attempt to serve the writ at least three times during a day." Mullen says, "and if we can't, we post it on the main entrance to the building. Twenty-four hours after posting the writ the law allows the sheriff's deputies to go in and physically evict the tenant. Laborers paid by the landlord are used to put the tenant's property on the county's

"The sheriff won't let us put property out in the rain," Mullen explains, but once the goods are out our job is done and we must leave." "We will not put weapons or money on the side of the road if we know they're in the goods. We don't like to put people and their property out but we have to do it under court order." Mullen says there seldom are complaints of thefts of property put on the roadside. About two weeks ago a south Seminole woman reported to deputies that after she was evicted she couldn't immediately move all her property to a new address and items valued at $500 were stolen

Listed among the items that neighbors said were taken by two men in an old-model van were bookcases, shelving, a desk top, chairs, office supplies and 25 ladies wigs and 96 plastic wig heads plus a pair of wooden crutches.

Deputies said the neighbors reported the men made three trips loading up the goods before neighbors "ran them off."

Mullen says Altamonte Springs has a city ordinance against leaving property on the streets and cooperates with eviction deputies. The city collects the items and stores them for a short time at the expense of the owner.

If evictions increase with the continuing influx of people in Seminole similar ordinances would seem to be beneficial for everybody concerned.

For Sale: Gold-Plated Caddy

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The gold-plated Cadillac of Isaac Hayes, Academy Award winner for "Theme from Shaft," goes on the auction block Thursday.

The court-ordered auction follows the filing in federal court last December of bankruptcy petitions by Hayes and his wife, Mignon, An attorney for the singer-composer estimated that Hayes' debts may run up to $6 million. Jasper Jones of Delta Auction Co., who will conduct the auction, said he expects the car to go for $10,000 to $15,000.

The 1972 Eldorado Cadillac is equipped with a television, refrigerator and bar. All exterior chrome is gold-plated.

Fire Chief Confirmed Despite Scores Flap

The Casselberry City Council Monday night voted 3-2 to confirm the appointment of Fire Chief Roy LaBossiere. The council refused a request from Councilman Frank Schutte for an attorney's opinion on the legality of the chief's civil service board

Voting to confirm Mayor Gerald Christensen's appointment of LaBossiere, who had formerly served as fire chief in Longwood and as a paid firefighter in Casselberry, were Councilmen Nathan Van Meter, Carl Robertson Jr. and Don

Councilman John Leighty joined with Schutte in seeking the legal opinion and voted against the confirmation when it was

Algase said that Leighty asked him when LaBossiere would be tested for the position, contending that Leighty was angry with LaBossiere for working against a friend of his in a Longwood election. Christensen instructed Algase to put in writing his complaint against Leighty and forward it to the mayor's office. Schutte said the civil service examiner

Max Algase, a member of the civil service board and a strong Christensen supporter, criticized questioning of the civil service board testing procedures. He said it is not within the purview of the council, that the council's job was to confirm or not confirm the appointment. "You're stepping on thin ice," Algase told told him it is the practice of the civil practice in which scores are based on the passing grade on tests, permitting additional points to be added for residency and military service, only after a passing score is achieved. LaBossiere, after leaving the Longwood fire chief's office under fire two years ago, took the Casselberry civil service test for fire chief, but did not pass it. He was able to pass the test for firefighter.

On the most recent test, LaBossiere received a score of 63.3 per cent, a little more than six points less than the passing grade required by the ordinance. The examiner, in a memo to the mayor, explained that LaBossiere's posted score of 73.3 per cent included a 10 point advantage. Two others who took the test received scores of 92.6 per cent and 88.3

per cent, according to posted documents. Algase said last night that the other two men who took the test were given 10 point advantage each as well as LaBossiere and another 10 points was added to one of the scores for residency and military service. Algase said information on the additional points would not have been made public, but that someone had taken the scores from a desk at city hall and had them posted in one of the fire stations. Algase also said the hearing examiner. identified only as a Mr. Turner, could have taken the tests home with him to grade, and could have graded them in any manner he chose if he were not "straight." Schutte insisted he was not questioning the integrity of the hearing examiner. He said his question concerned the legality of the scoring procedures. Algase added that the scoring method is recommended by the Chicago firm that prepares the tests. — DONNA ESTES

Weight Watchers Founder Hears Many Excuses

"I'm glandular." "It's hard o lose weight when you eat out a lot!" "It runs in my family."
"It's hard to lose weight when you eat at home all the time!" Jean Nidetch, founder of Weight Watchers in 1962, has heard these excuses and thousands more from the "fatties" of the world who spend their energy thinking of reasons not to lose weight instead of using that same effort to do something about it.
As a FFH (former fat

Seattle Slew A Phenomenon

NEW YORK (AP) - Eddie Arcaro is impressed with Seattle Slew but he's not ready to put the family fortune on the speedster's nose in the May 7 Kentucky Derby.

You see, Eddie knew Slew's great grandpappy well. "Seattle Slew reminds me a lot of Bold Ruler," said the onetime king of the stakes riders, winner of five Derbies, who finished fourth on the Wheatley Stable star at Churchill Downs

"Bold Ruler leaped out of the gate like his tail was on fire. He would run until he dropped dead. But he didn't like to be rated. He was unmanageable. You had to fight him all around the track." Despite his splotchy record - a series of front-running victories, including the Preakness, and defeats in the other two ewels of the Triple Crown, the Derby and Belmont Stakes - the fleet son of Nasrullah turned into one of racing's alltime great

His most famous offspring, Secretariat, won the Derby in a man expects the Islanders to sweep of the Triple Crown in 1973. Now comes Seattle Slew, a chocolate comet unbeaten in six "Their strategy of taking the in Monday's only Junior league with his round-tripper being starts, bidding to become the fifth straight Derby winner with the play to us is no different from game. rich Bold Ruler strain coursing through his veins. Color the blood any other team," Bowman said. Winning pitcher George drove in three runs.

It is a racing phenomenon.

"I thought Seattle Slew ran a very impressive race in the Wood Memorial," Arcaro said, referring to the colt's 314-length victory at Aqueduct last Saturday. "But I still don't know how far he can the man pretty well. There's an

"I still wonder what he can do over the 114 mile Derby distance and possibly against better opposition. Down in Kentucky, the with a two-goal lead, they could Calvin Rollins. If hard boots are high on this horse, Giboulee, who was a closing second to Slew in the Flamingo."

Arcaro, looking 20 years younger than his 61, was in New York over the weekend to join in the ABC commentary of the Wood, had to open up a bit. VFW Wins First Pony Showdown

Andriano, Gens Hurl Pony Wins

One of the most important nights of the year for Seminole Pony Baseball League occurred last week when crucial showdowns were scheduled for the Pony, Bronco and Mustang fields. On the Pony portion of the Five Points complex, it was National Division leader ComBank taking on American Division top dog. VFW Post 5405. It was their first head-to-head confrontation. While these two giants were colliding, the Bronco field was the site of an inter-city clash between the two Casselberry teams, Orange Paving and Maassen Blueprinting.

Orange Paving had lost but once this season and it was Maassen who turned the trick. A large crowd turned out to find out if it could do it again. Not to be out-done, the Mustangs had a blue-plate special lined up themselves, as AFCOM and Dulando Screens were scheduled for a shoot-out of their own. The first half of the season had recently ended with AFCOM and Dulando being two of the three teams that finished in a flat-footed tie for first place. Of the three games, only the Pony squabble lived up to advanced billing. The other two matches turned out to be more along the one-sided variety than contests. The Pony game was all anybody could ask for.

The VFW team brought out their power from the start and amped on starting pitcher David Long for a run in the top of the first. Rob Reich doubled to lead off the game and later came around to score on an error.

they did. Before the dust cleared, and the inning was over, they had touched Reich and his teammates up for four runs. Some sloppy infield play by the Winter Springs boys had aided the Casselberry cause but in most part it was their slashing hitting third, and three times in the fourth to deadlock the affair. A double by Frank Joyce and a sacrifice by Kurt Kline actually gave VFW a short-lived lead at 6-5, in the sixth. But ComBank was able to roar back in their half of the inning when Tom Bush scored on a Derek Carrow shot up the middle. Both teams failed to capitalize on scoring chances in the seventh, throwing the game into extra innings. Finally in the top of the eighth, VFW pushed across two runs to forge ahead for good. An outstanding drag bunt by John Reich was the key blow in the rally.

Charlie Turner relieved brother Eddie for VFW and shut the door on ComBank to preserve the exciting win. Both teams appear to be headed for the championship play-offs at the end of the season, so this initial meeting might be just the first in a series of memorable battles.

The Bronco game proved to be a no-contest, as Orange Paving gained a measure of revenge, and thensome. The final score was 20-3, as Frank Zubor, and Sibee Helms showed the way for the winners with three hits each. Mike McArdle was in complete control for the Jim Withrow coached team, as he hurled a three hitter. The Mustang game was also a "turn-about is fair play" battle with Dulando Screens avenging an earlier loss by the count of 13-

Okay, smart home shoppers, can you spot the difference?

you've looked real close with your best eagle eye, put away your fine toothed comb. Actually, this is all a trick. You see, the difference isn't something you can see at all. But make no mistake, there is a difference.

Got it now? It's the mortgage. Fact is, a First Federal of Seminole mortgage can make all the difference in the world. We're big lenders, we can get you the best rate. Fast service, too. In most cases we'll tell you if we'll lend you the money within six days after you apply.

And we'll close within two weeks Our pre-qualifying plan is really helpful. You can shop knowing exactly where you stand. As you build equity and your home's value also increases, you may want to add on to your mortgage later to make a home improvement. We're one of a few lenders with an easy add-on advance clause. Last, but not least, we've got eight convenient offices, all staffed by people who know mortgages and how to make a difference for you.

So see us for your mortgage. And see the difference for yourself.

"There have been aggravations," Barks said. County Commissioner Bob French said he knew there was some "misunderstanding" in Barks' department as a result of reorganization. He said health department employes felt Todd was "coming in and taking over their baliwick."

Barks said he underwent a "long period" of aggravation when the state reorganized the department two years ago. Then, the aborted swine flu inoculation program brought further hassles. And, finally, the county health department was placed under Todd's supervision. Commission chairman Dick Williams said he was "aware" of some problems when Todd took over. But Williams said there's always resistance when an

Williams said he and County Administrator Roger Neiswender met with Barks and his employes and explained reorganization. Williams said Barks did a "fine job" for the county Barks declined to comment on the manner of job Todd is doing as director. Todd earns $16,000 a year and has a master's degree in management. He is retired from the U.S. Navy. Barks, 65, said he has no plans - except to retire. However, he also said he would not have submitted his resignation if it hadn't been for reorganization. Barks began working for Seminole in 1945 as county physician. Then after the war, he opened a general practice while working part-time for the county. He has held the position of health director for the past two years. The health department until January operated more or less on its own. About 70 per cent of the funding for the department comes from the state. Two years ago, Management Consultant Woody Underwood recommended the county create a department of human services. But it wasn't until January that Todd was hired. -ED PRICKETT
