

Story Of Santiago's Disaster Is Told By 10 Surviving Crew

Ward Line Steamer Is Sunk off Hatteras Losing 25 of Crew CAPTAIN OF SHIP

Lashed to a Mast Drowns as Ship Sinks While First and Third Officers are Washed Overboard Trying to Release a Hatch Cover Which the Storm Had Torn Off.

By The Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Md., Mar. 15.— Ten stolid, bearded, sailor-like men, clad in non-descript clothing, fled down the gangplank of the Norwegian steamer Classy which docked here Friday.

They are the only known survivors of the crew of 35 men of the big Ward line freighter Santiago, sunk in the blizzard off Hatteras Tuesday night.

They brought a tale of a ship which had been battered by storms for three days suddenly turning over and going down with her captain lashed to the bridge, her engineer and his assistants drowned in the hull and other crew members scrambling for the boats.

Ten stokers were caught in the fire room and went down with the ship.

The Classy picked up the 10 survivors on Wednesday afternoon after they had clung to their capsized life boat for hours. When they left the Santiago there were 11 but when the boat overturned one was washed away.

The first and third officers were knocked unconscious and washed overboard by the furious seas which flooded the ship through an open hatchway. Finally the cargo shifted, one of the men and it was only a short time before the ship began to list and turn over slowly.

The crew made for the boats, two of which were launched. Only one succeeded in getting away.

The other was smashed like an egg shell against the side of the ship.
The story of the disaster, obtained piecemeal from the survivors follows:

For 70 hours the big Ward liner which was bound from Centuegos, Cuba, to New York, with a cargo of sugar plowed through the heavy sea. Late Tuesday night one of the hatches broke and the sea swept over the ship and poured into the holds. The chief and third officers tried to retrieve the hatch cover which swung to and fro across the deck with every roll.

A wave poured over the deck and over the two officers disappeared.
Their names were not remembered; only the ship's roll would show, and it was lost with Capt. J. S. Baldwin. The captain was tied to the mast when the ship keeled over on its portside and shouted to the men to launch the lifeboats.

Two life boats were launched and filled but the first was tossed against the huge hull and crushed.
The water swallowed up the men in it. The second boat went over successfully with the 11 men in it. There was no attempt to man the oars. All they could do was to cling desperately to the gunwales. The last they saw of the Santiago was when the vessel rolled over and disappeared.

Following a three hours battle with the storm, the lifeboat was capsized. The men were thrown into the water. One didn't come up. His name was John something or other but no one was sure. He was a good man, too.

AT POINT OF DEATH.
BALTO, Mar. 15.—Mrs. Katherine Belk, 26, Montgomery, Ala., was declared at the point of death as a result of an overdose of sleeping potion taken in a hotel here last night. She said she had been suffering from nervous troubles for several months.

WITNESSES HOLD
LIQUOR WAS SOLD
ON LINER ORDUNA

Charles Dace, witness in the liquor case, is shown here.

Champaign, Whiskey, Benedictine, Rum, Beer, Gin and Narcotics were Dispensed Freely to Bootleggers by Officers And Crew.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Trial of the government suit for confiscation of the Royal Mail Liner Orduna, seized Wednesday as a smuggler, began Friday with witnesses testifying that narcotics and liquor were sold freely each time the vessel reached this port and that her owners shared the proceeds.

Charles Dace, witness, benedictine, rum, gin and drugs were dispensed to bootleggers by officers and crew of the Orduna, according to the testimony. The witnesses, including federal agents and members of the crew, declared the Orduna's bar never was closed in port.

At the outset of the proceedings, E. J. Berwind, American and British coal operator and financier, posted a $1,000,000 bond so the Or-duna might continue in trans-Atlantic passenger service. She is scheduled to sail for Hamburg today with 144 passengers.

Says Brought Liquor Three Years.
Charles Dace, the ship's storekeeper and one of the seven members of her crew to plead guilty of illegally importing liquor, was the government's principal witness. He testified that in his three years on the Ordu-
na liquor had been aboard her every time she reached the port of New York.

He declared the liquor was brought in under seal, the seals were broken when the vessel docked, the liquor was disposed of to bootleggers, and the storehouse sealed again by his shipmates. He didn't know where the seals came from, he said.

Dace identified Joseph Smith, one of the revenue agents who raided the ship on Wednesday, and one of the government chief witnesses Friday as a bootlegger who often had bought liquor on the Or-
duna.

Bootleggers Laden With Booze.
Smith, preceding Dace on the stand, said he was a truckdriver until he became a federal liquor agent last January. While still driving truck he had seen bootleggers laden with liquor leave the Orduna on twenty or thirty occasions, he said.

He told of joining the government service, of boarding the Or-
duna with a fellow agent two voyages ago, and of buying two bottles of $23 a case and gin at $3 a bottle.

They also drank good beer over the ship's bar at Dace's invitation, said the witness.

Smith's next visit to the Orduna was when she reached port in February. Ralph Oyster, a federal narcotic agent, accompanied him, Smith testified he bought 60 cases of whiskey at $35 a case from Storekeeper Dace and his lineman and that Oyster bought several ounces of a narcotic drug.

Federal Men's Ruze.
Smith also testified that he and Oyster last Tuesday arranged with Dace to buy all the champagne, gin, rum and benedictine in the ship's storehouse, and a considerable supply of narcotics. It was the pretense of taking off these purchases the next day that a squad of federal men raided the ship, made seven prisoners and impounded the vessel.

Curiosity prompted him, said the witness, to ask Dace what he did about "the people who run the boat." Dace's answer was, according to Smith:

"Says Required to 'Get Money.'
"We turned the money into the company. They don't care what we do with the liquor as long as we get the money."

Oyster followed Smith on the stand and quoted Dace as having explained further in answer to a similar question:

"The company makes more out of this than we do. They require a certain amount for each bottle and we get just the profits over that price."

Oyster corroborated Smith's testimony throughout.

Counsel for the defense indicated that the Royal Mail Line owners' defense would be that the liquor and narcotics were smuggled and sold without the knowledge of themselves, the ship's master, Capt. Walter P. Warner, or other responsible officers aboard.

Dace stated, however, that Percy Foyle, the chief steward, bought the liquor, both the company's and the "private" stock; that Dace sold it all; and that he and Foyle "split 50-50" the profits on their own liquor and the amount they received for the company's stock in excess of the company's stated price.

BANQUET NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT TO BE A SUCCESS

Large Number of Reservations Lions For Prosperity Dinner Sent Into Secretary's Office Indicating Interest and Enthusiasm.

Judging by the large number of reservations that have already been made for the Chamber of Commerce "Prosperity Dinner" to be held on next Tuesday night at the Waldorf Hotel, the affair will be a great success according to an announcement by R. W. Pearman, secretary, who declared that much interest and enthusiasm is being shown in it by the business men of Sanford.

Believing that at no time in its history has the community generally been in a better economic condition or that the future of the city has appeared more optimistic, the officers of organization have laid plans to stage the dinner at which Harry T. Bodwell will be the guest of honor and principal speaker.

Although the affair is being arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, a cordial invitation is extended to all business men of this city as well as the women of Sanford, who are interested in the progress of the "City Substantial."

An attractive program is being arranged which includes among other numbers, speeches by Mayor Forrest Lake and Frank P. Forster and by Mr. Bodwell, who will give the principal address. Edward Higgins, president of the organization, will serve as toastmaster.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Joseph Reizenstein's Orchestra, it was announced. Other special musical numbers will also be given. Secretary Pearman is making preparation to accommodate approximately 150 guests.
President Higgins declared that every business man and every woman in Sanford who is concerned with the welfare of the community and who are cognizant of the rapid growth and development of the city, should make it their duty to attend the dinner on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Musical Comedy Will Be Presented by Local Talent Tuesday Night

"Springtime" is the name of a three-act musical comedy which will be presented Monday night at the High School under the auspices of the Episcopal Church and for the benefit of the building fund, it was announced Saturday.

Inactment of 25 Per Cent Reduction In Income Taxes Payable This Year Is Predicted By Senator Harrison

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Enactment of the provision in the revenue bill for a 25 per cent cut in income taxes payable this year before second installments are due June 15, regardless of the fate of the measure itself, appeared assured Friday night.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, Friday predicted passage of the provision as a separate resolution "whether the revenue bill becomes law or not." Joining house leaders who recently announced they would seek adoption of a separate resolution providing for the cut if the revenue bill were delayed.

Revenue Bill Sidelined.
Meanwhile the revenue measure was sidetracked by the senate finance committee while inquiries continued into the condition of the treasury prepared to revision of the rate schedules adopted by the house.

The committee did not meet today, Chairman Smoot announced, and actual work on the rate schedules cannot be started, he said, before late next week, pending conclusion of the hearing of treasury officials.

Mr. Smoot declared, however, that if further delays were encouraged, night meetings of the committee would be called in an effort to get the measure before the senate.

Criticizes Coolidge Message.
Senator Harrison, in endorsing the proposed cut in taxes payable this year, criticized President Coolidge's message asking immediate action on the proposal as a "preludicrous move" asserting the president "knew this action could not be taken in the time left before first installments are due."

Here In Interest Of
Woman's Association

Miss Minnie E. Burgin, supreme chaplain of the National Woman's Benefit Association, is in Sanford for a few days to assist the local chapter in some of its work. Miss Burgin comes from Philadelphia, where she maintained her headquarters for carrying on the organization's work in that state.
She will assume charge of the work in this state and will aid in the organization of a large number of chapters in Florida.

Miss Burgin has been connected with the association for many years and has watched it grow until at present it has a membership of over 275,000 and its resources run over the $2,000,000 mark. She is enthusiastic about extending the work in this state and is anxious to see the establishment of more chapters here.

State headquarters will be maintained at Fruitland Park, where Miss Burgin owns an orange grove.

Oil Committee Has Recess Until Walsh Recovers From Cold

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—The oil committee took a sudden recess Friday until next Tuesday because of the illness of Senator Walsh of Montana, its chief prosecutor.

A cold from which the senator suffered for some time, developed into a slight bronchial trouble and his physician advised him to rest for several days. It was stated until Senator Walsh returns to the capitol the order of procedure which his condition was not serious, in the inquiry will be undetermined. There are several phases remaining including the report of the auditors who examined the books of stock brokerage firms examined by witnesses relating to the story of Leonard Wood, Jr. regarding alleged attempts at "oil deals" during the Republican convention at Chicago in 1920, and the questioning of Harry F. Sinclair.

During the day President Coolidge transmitted to the senate copies of diplomatic correspondence passing between the American and Colombian governments regarding the Colombian treaty, but there was nothing in this correspondence to show that Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the Interior, had influenced the administration's course in urging ratification of the long pending convention in 1921.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, sponsored the resolution under which the conference was transmitted to the senate. He wanted the documents referred to the oil committee, but Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee, insisted that it be referred to his committee as it was international matter, and he carried his point.

The correspondence was ordered printed in public report and as such it will be available to the oil committee.

State To Observe Forest Protection Week Apr. 21 to 27

By The Associated Press.
TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 15.—Florida will join the rest of the nation in observing Forest Protection Week, which has been set by President Coolidge for April 21-27.
This will mark the fourth annual observance of the intensive campaign to acquaint the public with the damage caused by forest fires.
An area of about 11,000,000 acres is swept every year by these fires, it is estimated.

The idea of an intensive campaign to protect the heavily wooded regions of the country originated on the Pacific Coast, and in 1921 President Harding took cognizance of the efforts and issued a proclamation urging all governors and all citizens, either in association or as individuals to make proper observance of the occasion.

Many organizations, other than the Federal Forest Service, will take active part in the observance this year, it is indicated. President Coolidge's proclamation, which probably will be issued later, making the occasion a national holiday, is not a movement calculated to benefit any single class of citizens or business interests.

Arbor Day in many states is proclaimed to coincide with Forest Protection Week.

Colonel William H. Greeley, chief of the Forest Service, in discussing the question, says: "The President of the United States has officially approved the plan of designating the week of April 21-27, inclusive, as Forest Protection Week. In so doing he has again made this matter of burning up the woods a subject for serious thought by every citizen."

Daugherty Denies Insinuations Made Concerning Himself

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Attorney General Daugherty Friday night made a general public denial of the insinuations against him made in testimony before the senate investigation committee.

"Any inference, direct or indirect," he said, "that I ever participated in any way with the late Jess Smith or any one else, for a consideration, either monetary, political or social, in any dishonorable way, in connection with the administration of the liquor laws or any laws is false and untrue.

"On several occasions," he continued, "it has been intimated by persons ostensibly acting for Miss Boxie Stinson that for a consideration her silence could be purchased and any documents in her possession could be delivered, all of which deliberate and serious attempts at blackmail have been absolutely and unconditionally rejected."

The attorney general then proceeded to deny in detail, in a formal statement, the insinuations as to wrong doing on his part contained in the testimony of Roxie Stinson, Smith's divorced wife, whom Mr.
Daugherty described as "a disappointed woman who blames me because her divorced husband did not make her sole legatee under his will."

He declared he had "no interest whatever" with Colonel James G.
Darden in his western oil company, that he had not been a party to any speculation to make money out of violations of the law or out of the showing of prize fight films and that Jess Smith never approached him at any time on the subject of clemency for Federal prisoners.

Soldier Bonus Bill Will Be Voted on By House Next Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Protected by rules prohibiting amendments and limiting debate, the soldiers' bonus will be brought before the house for a vote next Tuesday.

Under this agreement, agreed upon in the house Friday, a two-third vote will be necessary for passage by proponents of the measure Friday night predicted approval of the measure. Advocates of a full cash payment option for the principal opposition to the bill as now drawn, but after a protest on the floor Friday against consideration of the measure and limiting rules this group said no organized effort to obstruct the measure was to be expected.

The bill provides for paid up 20-year endowment life insurance policies and cash payments to veterans entitled to not more than $50.
Representative Jaffer, Democratic, Alabama, who favors a cash option, described the bill on the floor Friday as a "gold brick" and protested against consideration of it under rules prohibiting amendments. Other speakers also declared for a full cash payment option.

Watchman found Dead At Hollywood Studio

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Mar. 15.— R. Jensen, watchman in the Hollywood studio of Warner Bros., was found fatally wounded near the studio gate early today and died on the way to a hospital. An auto belonging to H. L. Warner with the engine warm was found inside the gates. Efforts to learn who drove the car were unavailing.

A police report later was changed to show the automobile belonging to H. M. Warner, general manager of Warner Bros. studio.
His chauffeur was questioned by the police and later released.

SANFORD FACTS

RE-ICEING PLANT.

Sanford has the largest original iceing plant in the world from which refrigerator cars are iced before beginning their journeys to markets all over the country. The iceing station or platform accommodates 52 cars and during the trucking season, the plant is operated day and night. Each car is iced with five tons of ice. For the season of 1922-23 refrigerating required 81,975 tons or 63,950,000 pounds of ice. The plant is operated by the Southern Utilities Company.

murder of a woman believed to be Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Appalachu, arrested when he returned to Thomasville early today. The woman was first thought to be

Producer of Dempsey Carpenter Pictures Under Investigation

QUIMBY TESTIFIES

Exhibitors Got by Laws with Payment of Small Fine and Netted Huge Proceeds—In New York State Paid
$1,000 Fine and Continued to Show without Interference Making About $75,000.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.— F. C. Quimby, New York, who made the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films was the first witness in the Daugherty investigation Saturday. Frank A.
Vanderlip was sitting near the committee table. Quimby said he made the pictures on arrangement with Jack Kearn and Tex Rickards and a later agreement was made with Rickard for displaying the films in other states. He said Rickard informed him that William Orr and Jap Muma, mentioned in testimony yesterday, of Gaston Means' plan to display the films. "These men were understood to have a plan whereby these pictures could be shown legally and everything would be all right." It was understood Orr was a friend of Jess Smith, he said.

"You mean that these men had a plan whereby the films could be shown and you would not be bothered by the department of justice," Senator Wheeler asked. "I was told to go ahead and I wouldn't be bothered." It was understood the exhibitors were to pay small fines in each state. Quimby said they paid $1,000 fine in New York and continued to show without interference making the proceeds about $75,000. He said he understood Muma was an employee of Edward
B. McLean.

Quimby said that half the proceeds showing films was for him and half for Muma and Orr, their salary amounting to $65,000. He understood Jess Smith had an interest in the contract with them.
He was examined after a severe cross Wheeler intended to show he never planned to show pictures outside of New Jersey until it was learned it could be "fixed" at Washington. He answered affirmatively the question "Rickard told you Muma was a close friend of Harry M. Daugherty and E. B. McLean and that it could be fixed to show them all over the country?"

P. C. Baldwin, former department justice agent, testified concerning the alleged gun running on the Mexican border during the unsuccessful Cantu revolution. He said while engaged in stopping neutral violations he was transferred and was appointed to succeed him leaving 200 miles of border open. He said William Hanson in the immigration service was involved in getting arms to the revolutionists.

During Friday's investigation more sensations tumbled into the record of the senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty. A woman they were fired off with machine gun velocity, Gaston B. Means, former investigator for the department of justice and man of many adventures, who described his present business as "answering indictments," testified that he was the money carrier for Jess W. Smith in various deals implying corruption.

He told a startling tale of collecreceiving any of the money collect-people he said he got it from.

Absence of Extreme Heat and of Severe Cold One of the Many Manufacturing Advantages

Florida has notable advantages for many lines of manufacturing, and is rapidly developing in this field. The even climate of the state means much economy in fuel and enables workingmen to enjoy many unusual comforts. Abundant water transportation available to almost every section assures preferential freight rates both on raw material and finished products. The fine harbors of Florida are always open gateways to foreign trade, free from congestion and from ice, sleet and snow. Large areas of the coastal portions of the United States also may be reached quickly and economically by ship. Numerous Florida products now marketed in the natural state offer excellent opportunities for notable enlargement of factory operations. Fruits and vegetables, lumber and phosphate, nuts and fish, are interesting possibilities in manufacturing. "Best Evidence of My Opinion of Florida Investment of Five Million Dollars" —WILLIAM J. A Week of Accomplishments

This has been an important week in Sanford. A big step forward has been taken by this rapidly growing city. Sometimes it is well on Saturday night, and over the Sunday rest period, to look back on the activities of the week to see what has really been done and to make plans for the future.

On Monday the city commissioners sold $375,000 worth of bonds at a premium of $1,888. By that deal assurance was given the people that there will be no delay caused by lack of funds, in bringing this city municipal ownership of waterworks. In the sale of the bonds at such a fine price the substantial character of Sanford was once more proven and the faith which financial houses have in the future of the city was satisfactorily demonstrated.

And now one of the finest and most adequate water systems in the south is to be constructed. The city commissioners are insisting that no time be wasted in building the new waterworks. Contracts for the construction of the new plant are to be awarded on March 21 and soon Sanford will have plenty of water and good fire protection.

In the issue of Wednesday The Sanford Herald contained a news story stating that more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of real estate deals have been closed here during the past few days. Several sales of downtown business property together with some big deals for acreage have mounted up to big figures.

The sale of important property undoubtedly means improvements will be made. Stores and offices in the business district will in all probability be remodeled and repaired as new owners take charge. New buildings will be erected and the general appearance of the downtown section will be improved.

Every day it seems as if Sanford gathers greater momentum and that with more speed it travels toward big city days. Startling changes have been made in the last few months and strangers cannot help but make comments on the spirit of progressiveness and co-operation that is in evidence here.

On looking back over the week that is closing the selling of the waterworks bonds and the big real estate deals which have been made, stand out prominently while in the background can be seen many other and important things accomplished.

In looking forward to next week and the weeks to come it is with a feeling of anticipation and eagerness to get going. The people, one hundred percent of them, are eager to do their part in making Sanford the city it ought to be.

Be There Tuesday Night

Every person interested in the growth of Sanford should attend the "Prosperity Dinner" to be given by the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday night. The Valdez Hotel should be crowded with those who have the development of the city at heart.

Prominent men have been invited to attend. Speakers will include Harry T. Bodwell, Mayor Forrest Lake, and Frank P. Forster. Special music and entertainment features are being arranged by Secretary Pearman and the committee in charge.

The general purpose of the gathering is to take official recognition of the fact that Sanford is fast becoming one of the most progressive cities in the state and that it is on the era of unprecedented growth. Old time settlers who came to Sanford years ago and who have contributed largely to the growth of the section will meet with those who have recently come to make this their home.

In planning this "Prosperity Dinner" the Chamber of Commerce is doing so in the belief that it will stimulate enthusiasm over the city's growth and will act as a get together meeting where ideas will be exchanged among those interested in the further growth and prosperity of the city.

Tuesday evening should be set aside and reservations made for the "Prosperity Dinner." Ladies are invited.

SHOULD SEND BRYAN PLANT CITY COURIER

MY FAVORITE STORIES

For the benefit of those among us who have not been abroad and had clothes made by the same tailor who makes clothes for the Prince of Wales, it should be explained in the preface that on the other side "Big Ben" is the familiar name of a very famous town clock and, by the peculiar phrasing of the Britisher, what we call a mailbox he calls a pillar-box.

A London policeman appears in court as witness against a person arrested by him for drunkenness. "How do you know the defendant was intoxicated?" inquires the magistrate.

"Well, your worship," says the copper, "when I first see 'im he was droppin' a penny in the pillar-box and then 'e looked up at Big Ben and cried out 'Great Gawd! 'E's lost eleven pounds!"

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT, NEA Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—George Holden Tinkham, bachelor representative from Boston, boasts more Mayflower blood in his veins than any other member of Congress.

Out of the forty-one men who signed the compact drawn on board the Mayflower Nov. 11, 1620, when the Pilgrims were deciding the organization of the colony they were to found, five were fated to become ancestors of the future member from the Back Bay district.

In other words, George Holden says claim to five Mayflower forebears, such claim being duly attested by the Society of Mayflower Descendants, which investigated Tinkham's genealogical status before admitting him to membership.

With such an ancestral record, one may wonder how Tinkham could have chosen to play the part of designing mammals who now in him an opportunity for their daughters to marry into the Mayflower aristocracy. Doubtless many of them tried. But George Holden is a brave man, and in spite of the heavy odds he has held his bachelor status with the same boldness tenacity that he holds on to his genealogical certificate.

Tinkham's favorite sport is big game hunting in Africa. That is, in the off-seasons, when Congress is not in session, when Congress is on the job his favorite recreation is baiting the anti-saloon league and firing occasional volleys in favor of the return of wines and beer for the working man. For Tinkham doesn't believe his puritanical Puritan ancestors, for all their stern views of right and wrong, would have approved present day prohibition. So he's against it.

Major Allen S. Fletcher, commanding the Petit Barracks at Zamboanga, Philippine Islands, recently accompanied an air service squadron that made a flight back into the Moro country.

The planes were a cause of much astonishment to the old Moros, who gathered about the airfield and jibbered all sorts of questions. Fletcher, who can speak the dialect fluently, was approached by one old Data who asked: "When you were up there, so high, did you see Heaven?"

"Oh yes," Fletcher answered, "I saw a good lot of it." "Then why didn't you go there?" the Moro asked. Fletcher had to think fast for a fitting answer. But he hit one. "I didn't have enough gas," he said.

A number of Michigan friends, acquaintance of long standing, have been guests of Mr. E. T. Woodruff and his sister, Miss Emma, at their hospitable and pretty home, 317 Oak Avenue, both last and this year's winter months. Among these Mr. and Mrs. Marshall of the Misses Borland promise to be in Sanford for their next season's outing, having become quite captivated with our enterprising town and charming people. Mr. and Mrs. Galey, here last year, this winter went to California, and in writing from that state say among other things: "For the first two months of the weather to me was cold, not like the Florida climate, which I had been accustomed to and the overcoat was an inseparable companion. I don't like California. Sincerely yours, M. Caley."

TWICHELL-FICKEISEN
The following announcement will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. Twitchell, who has made many friends here during his frequent visits as the guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Key.

The Congregational church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Miss Margaret Shields Fickelsen became the bride of Richard H. Twitchell; the pastor, Dr. W. L. Lewis, performing the ceremony.

The bride, who has been the guest of her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shields, at their winter home on Volusia Avenue, since fall, has been one of the most popular girls in the younger social set. She is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin M. Fickelsen, of Crab Orchard, Ky. The groom is a well known young business man of the Triple Cities, and is the son of Mrs. Walter H. Twitchell of Daytona Beach.

The bride was attired in a modish three-piece coat suit, in one of the new shades of brown; which was trimmed in paisley, made from a paisley shawl, an heirloom in the groom's family, and left particularly for his bride. She wore a becoming hat of brown, and accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of ten roses. The church was attractively decorated for the ceremony, to which only relatives and a few friends of the young couple were invited.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held in the rose room of the Arroyo Gardens.

The guests included the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Byron P. Abbey, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Key, of Sanford, Fla.; Mrs. Walter Hawes Twitchell, the mother of the groom; Howard R. Fickelsen, of New York City, an uncle of the bride; Mrs. John N. Baye, of Montclair, N. J., an aunt of the bride; Shields Fickelsen, of Crab Orchard, Ky., a brother of the bride; Miss Doris Miller, and the bride's mother and grand-mother, Mrs. Irwin W. Fickelsen and Mrs. J. W. Shields.

Mr. and Mrs. Twitchell have gone on a wedding trip of several weeks to Cuba and will be at home to their friends at 309 Vermont Avenue, Daytona Beach, after April 10.—Daytona Journal.

A-109 Office of R. C. HUNTER & BRO Architects. (House A-109) —A DESIGN ALONG CLASSIC LINES—

The dignity that a formal house offers is favored by many. The classic style as applied to house design bespeaks the home of a gentleman. When properly carried out, this type of house shows refinement in every detail. The proportions of the house must of course be good, and suitable materials must be used. The house shown herewith is a good example of this type. The plain stucco walls, classic doorway and cornice, and tile roof; all result in an appropriate and harmonious design. The wrought iron railing in front of the large first story window lends interest. The walk and driveway gates at either side of the house tend to broaden the front and they add greatly to the effect. In plan, the arrangement is most compact, the house is nearly square, making for economy in construction. One enters into a small hall from which the stairs lead to the second story. A large coat closet opens from the hall. The small sun porch is an attractive feature. It has French windows on two sides with curved head transoms. It connects with both living room and dining room. The layout of the second floor shows three nice bed rooms, all with cross ventilation, a bath room and plenty of closet space. A cellar is provided under the entire house where is located the heater, coal bin, laundry, etc. This house measures fifty feet front overall and is designed to occupy the full width of the lot, the gate piers being set on the property line on each side. Cost about $8500. Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-109. R. C. Hunter & Bro., Architects, 501 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

THE NEW TREATMENT FOR BAD COLDS

Druggists are instructed to refund money in every instance where satisfactory results are not obtained. The very first dose of CLEM JONES LIVER AND KIDNEY TONIC almost invariably stops the tendency of sneezing and coughing and the third dose usually stops the severest COULD. The common Cold must be classed as a serious disease so get rid of it at once. If your muscles are sore or you have that chilly feeling with a dull headache, it's a sure sign that you have taken cold.
