GOOD PROGRESS MADE ON TRACK NEAR LONGWOOD

Club House Nearly Finished And Stables For 600 Horses Will Be Ready For Occupancy By February 15

Seminole county will soon become an important racing center as a result of the enterprise of the Seminole Jockey Club, a corporation formed several months ago in Sanford, the members of which include several well known citizens of this city, who together with a syndicate of business men from Canton, O., have furnished the means with which to build one of the finest racing courses in this country.

"Seminola" as the new course will be known, is near Longwood, and the part consists of 300 acres on which is now being constructed a full mile track, a grand stand with a seating capacity of 6,000, a club house with all modern improvements, including a row of boxes fronting the dining room and every comfort for visitors.

The track is nearly finished, the club house is ready for the roof, the stables with stalls for 600 horses, will be ready for occupancy by the middle of February, and the stand will be completed before the date set for the meeting which is Mar. 1. There are 200 men and teams at work at Seminola, and additional workmen will be added to the force during this week.

No more beautiful course will be found in this country than Seminola when the work is finished. It is said, the drives through the woods and around the grounds furnishing a scene to delight the eye. The infield contains a lake covering one-third of the inclosure, while the back ground is made by a grove of trees, giving to the course a setting that can be had nowhere but in Florida.

The coming meeting, beginning on Mar. 1 and continuing for 30 days, will bring to Seminola many of the best race horses now in training, two year olds of great promise, three year olds of Derby caliber, and several of the best of the handicap division. Among the stables for which stalls have been reserved is that of Philip T. Chitt, the most extensive breeder of thoroughbreds in Kentucky, and whose collection of race horses includes a brother of Sarazen, winner of the International 1924 and conqueror of the French invaders, Elnard, which horse is named in honor of the golf champion, Gene Sarazen, now in Sanford, where he has competed against the greatest players in the world.

The purses offered by the Seminole Jockey Club will average more than $800, ranging in value from $700 for horses of lesser capacity to $1000 for those of the handicap division, making a total of $5,800 per day for the seven races. These prizes compare favorably with those offered by the best meetings in Kentucky, and with the exception of the stakes given at Miami, are larger than any ever offered in Florida.

MANY PERMITS ISSUED FOR NEW SANFORD HOMES

Twelve Taken Out Wednesday For Residences In Various Sections Of City To Cost Approximately $64,500.00

Building operations in and around the city took a decided spurt yesterday when approximately a dozen permits were taken out for the erection of as many houses representing a total sum of approximately $64,500 according to entries at the city clerk's office.

The majority of the permits were taken out by the Sanford Home Builders for residences in Dreamwood and San Lanta ranging in cost of construction from $8,000 to $7,500. Four handsome Spanish structures are scheduled to be built in Dreamwood and three in San Lanta.

F. B. Clements took out a permit for a $4,500 stucco bungalow to be erected on Park Avenue between Sixth and Seventh Streets, and A. F. Collum obtained permission to build a $6,000 home in Fort Mellon.

In commenting on the many permits that are being taken out daily, City Clerk L. R. Phillips said this morning that no more convincing proof of Sanford's prosperity could be found than an examination of the records showing the consistent increase in the number of new homes being built in this city daily.

Alabama Magnate Congratulates City On Lake's Election

Sanford voters' popularity of the Lake brand of mayor is bringing much publicity to this city as evidenced by numerous letters that have been received here commenting on the record that Sanford is believed to have set among Florida cities by returning Mayor Forrest Lake to office for the twenty-fourth year.

One of the most recent of these letters is from C. J. Day, secretary and treasurer of the National Cast Iron Pipe Company at Birmingham, Ala. In complimenting Mayor Lake on his long career as the head of Sanford's city government, Mr. Day spoke of the rapid development of this community in recent years, and ventured the opinion that no other Florida community could boast of more many-sided growth or greater solidity than the "City Substantial".

In his letter to Mayor Lake Mr. Day said: "The article describing your reelection as mayor of Sanford was most interesting and I take this opportunity of congratulating you upon this evidence of confidence and esteem in which the people of Sanford hold you."

FEMALE BANDITS NOT RESPONSIBLE DOCTOR CLAIMS

Defense Witness Says Mrs. Rogers And 19-Year-Old Daughter Are Unbalanced; Says Mother Influenced Girl

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Arguments as to the sanity of Mrs. Catherine Rogers and her 19 year old daughter, Zera, was expected to consume most of today in their trial on charges of bank robbery.

Defense counsel was prepared to stress testimony given by medical experts that Mrs. Rogers was insane when she robbed the State Bank at Bonner, S. D., and that her daughter was mentally deficient and easily submissive to the mother's will.

Dr. O. Charles Erickson, testifies for the defense, gave Mrs. Rogers from three to four years to live. Declaring on the stand that a disease from which the woman is suffering would shorten her life, he doctor was pressed by prosecuting counsel for a more definite estimate of the number of years she would be able to live under the circumstances.

"She will live only three or four more years," Dr. Erickson replied. "The girl was mad by Dr. Erickson to have the mentality of a seven or nine year old child and unable to distinguish right and wrong."

Sanford Manor To Get Imported Coral Tinted Sidewalks

Now that the opening of Sanford Manor is an accomplished fact, attention has been given to the work going on in that locality, according to the Sanford office. Making of the streets and laying of the sidewalks, putting in combination curb and gutter and installing street lighting and sewer systems are the accomplishments being given particular attention at this time. The work is being pushed to completion as rapidly as money and ingenuity can do so.

A unique system of street signs and lighting effects will be introduced throughout the entire subdivision. There will be no haphazard haphazardness, garishness or any discordant note to mar the refinement of real beauty and art. Maurice Kresley, in connection with Herick-Shoopff, of Orlando, are architect. The construction work is being done by Cook Brothers of Sanford.

A striking effect will be produced in the sidewalks. These will be uniformly six feet in width, and will be of coral concrete. Not the dull grey or drab concrete commonly seen, but an exquisite color note, running like a gay thread through a beautiful fabric. In order to obtain the best that the market affords, this concrete is being imported and is guaranteed to last its lifetime without fading.

A CORRECTION

In a news item appearing in The Herald yesterday with reference to the new building code adopted by the city, through an error the name of S. O. Chase was listed among the members of the committee entrusted with preparing the code, instead of S. O. Shimholzer.

Mr. Chase was not a member of the committee, while Mr. Shimholzer is described as the principal drafter of the code and the guiding genius of the whole system of regulations. His activities in the enterprise are anxious for him to receive the mention he deserves.

Pershing Sails Today On Cruiser Denver To Return To America

ARICA, Chile, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Gen. Pershing is sailing for the United States on the cruiser Denver today after a meeting of the Tenth Army Military Commission. His place as neutral chairman of the commission is being taken by Maj. Gen. William Lassiter.

Today's meeting is expected to approve the electoral law framed to govern the plebiscite which is to decide the sovereignty of Tacna and Arica as between Chile and Peru. While General Pershing's physical condition is not such as to cause immediate anxiety, the doctors here believe it best that he return home and submit to treatment without delay.

The general has been taking daily exercises, walking or horseback riding after the long hours spent in his office. His appearance is normal, although he is perhaps paler and more careworn than when he arrived.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Despite a downturn at the opening today, wheat values quickly scored an advance. Aggressive buying on the part of houses with eastern connections was largely responsible for the strength which developed.

To a considerable extent the fresh buying movement appeared to be based on trade estimates pointing to a possible deficit of 25,000,000 bushels in world supplies of wheat at the beginning of the new crop year and to likelihood of great exhaustion of stocks in all countries.

The opening, half to 1c lower, May 1.42 1/2, to 1.73 and July 1.49 3/8 to 1.19 1/2 was followed by a rise to well above yesterday's finish.

Efforts Are Made To Have Japanese Boys Study In U. S.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Under plans launched by the American Friends Service Committee a selected group of Japanese students will be invited to come to the United States next autumn to the guests of Americans.

The Friends Service Committee said that a nation-wide appeal would be made for co-operation in carrying out their plan. A number of colleges already have volunteered. "This is the first concrete proposal," said a statement, "to give general expression to the widespread desire . . . to improve war relations with the people of Japan."

That lighting fixtures are a part of the decorative scheme in the home and not merely "fixtures" is the thought back to a new selling plan being put into force by The Peninsular Electric Company who are now offering to install new lighting fixtures in homes and take the old fixtures on a trade-in basis.

Styles change in lighting equipment as in furniture and furnishings, according to Mr. Randall. Originally the red plush family album lay beside the fancy-shaded kerosene lamp in the parlor. Then came gas fixtures—perhaps not things of beauty—but serviceable. Later the combination type of fixture—using both gas and electricity—came into vogue. During the past few years lighting equipment has been radically revised along style lines. The vogue today runs strongly toward decorative features in fixtures.

Mr. Randall also speaks of style in equipment by calling attention to the fact that for only a few short hours in the evening are lighting fixtures used for lighting purposes. All day long, by light of day, the fixtures hang from the ceiling or on the wall and are either in or out of harmony with the decorations in the home. Newer styles in lighting equipment are so finished as to blend with modern styles in color schemes of furnishings and general tone of furniture.

This plan of taking in old fixtures as part payment on new equipment is adopted from the automobile industry's plan of taking in old cars on new ones.

The Flaring Silhouette Is Possible in the Frock Made of Fifty-four-inch Material.

After many seasons of straight frocks with skirts like pillow-slips, the final establishment of the flared skirt is a matter of no little moment—so far as dress is concerned. And some women had become so accustomed to the tubular frock and pencil silhouette that they resisted the flare quite doggedly and seemed to think that it was all "all wrong." But then every real change in fashion causes dogged resistance in some quarter. Anyway, the flare has come and the majority of the new frocks show it in some form or other. Now a dress is in a measure dated by its skirt—if it flares we know it must be fairly recent. If it is tubular we have pretty good reason to believe that it is a last season's frock. Some of the new things are straight up and down, but from some other feature reveals their recent vintage.

But it is not so difficult as you might think to give the appearance of a flare to a last season's frock. You may not actually make the skirt flare—you may add drapery or trimming of some sort to take away the severely perpendicular aspect. A very simple way of adding the desired flare is by inserting godets. These may be put in at the side, in the front, at the back or all around.

One reason why some women regretted the passing of the tubular frock was because they had become quite addicted to frocks made from two lengths of fifty-four-inch material. They made them fit along with the aid of a little dressmaker by the day, and revelled in the lovely patterns and designs of the silks that they used in this way. But don't imagine that the flared skirt has made an end of this type of frock. It is a simple enough matter to insert little godets at the lower part of the skirt and some of the new printed silks are specially designed to permit of such inserted godets. The sketch shows a latter-day version of this that would be possible in words. The silk shows an interesting color scheme with accents of black which

The design of the wide material detail is made of crepe silk in black and white, possibly with a small floral pattern. The skirt is flared and reaches down to the ankles. The bodice is simple with a high collar and long sleeves. The overall look is classic and elegant for the early 1920s.

MRS. JAMES FOX, CONLEY, M'CALL HOSTESSES AT LOVELY BRIDGE PARTY HELD AT NEW HOTEL

The attractive Hotel Forrest Lake was the scene of an unusual, beautiful party on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Emmett McCall, Mrs. Lee O. Conley, and Mrs. Raymond Fox were hostesses at bridge.

Pink and green, the dainty color motif, was most effectively carried out in every detail. Tall wicker postcard tables, filled with pink and green flowers and feathery sprays of asparagus ferns, were placed around the ball room, where the card tables were arranged with articles of art. Potted foliage plants were also used to advantage.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Fox and the house guests, Mrs. R. E. French of Lakeland.

Mrs. McCall was lovely in a creation of Nile green metallic cloth combined with georgette. Her flowers were a corsage of violets centered with a pink rose.

Gettysburg red georgette studded with rhinestones, fashioned the becoming costume worn by Mrs. Conley. She wore a corsage of sweet peas, violets and baby blue.

Mrs. Fox was attired in a striking look of maize georgette, heavily beaded in harmonizing tones. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of violets and yellow carnations.

Of lovely less-over-flesh georgette, was the handsome costume worn by Mrs. French. She wore a corsage of pink roses, baby blue and violets.

The falling alone in quaint designs of flowers in pastel tints, were given out by Mrs. W. W. Potter, who was crowned in a lovely frock of rose georgette-banded in blue.

A most interesting game of bridge was played during the afternoon after four progressive rounds were collected by Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. Hawkins Connelly and Mrs. Fred Daiger. The prizes for the winners were a beautiful educational set of books, a set of stationery and a set of the highest recommendations by the book.

In addition to the staid music of the piano, the hostesses had a variety of refreshments and a delicious lunch served by the hotel.

The party was a success in every way and the hostesses were complimented on their excellent arrangements.

The party was held at the Hotel Forrest Lake, which is a beautiful resort in the heart of the Florida woods.

THOUGHTS—WISE AND OTHERWISE

A book never seems really worth very much to me until it has been read by some of my friends.

With each added borrowing and reading it becomes more valuable, more personal, somehow, and I like nothing better than a good book that has given pleasure to at least half a dozen other people.

Nevertheless, there are certain advantages in lending books. For one thing, there are some persons to whom you just can't lend books if you ever wish to see them again. They forget or at least neglect to return the books and are offended if you ask for them. I know one of my prized books has been on the shelf of an acquaintance of mine for a couple of years and I haven't the temerity to take it home with me some day from her house. She is a queerly sensitive individual, and I don't like to ask for the book, which she recently lent to another friend as her own. The situation is unpleasant, to say the least, and the only thing to do is never to lend her another book. But that and a few similar experiences do not dampen my enjoyment of book lending.

I don't keep track, excepting in my mind, of where my books are. But I do remember very carefully every book I borrow, and return them within a reasonable time. I have a friend who has plenty of money to spend on books and who buys all sorts of interesting things to read, and she keeps a little notebook in her library in which she lists all books lent and their borrowers. Then she knows at any time just where her books are. And that is really a sensible thing to do. If you have many books lent to your different friends.

Country Club Dance Is Delightful Event Of Wednesday Night

The dance at the Sanford Country Club on Wednesday evening, honoring those taking part in the Central Florida Open Tournament, was a decided success in every way.

Tall feathery bamboo, potted palms and plants—each in the bell room forming a rich setting for baskets of cut flowers of various hues. Myriads of candles furnished the only illumination, and gave a most artistic finish to the lovely picture.

Sensible Synchronizers provided the music, which was exceptionally good. Dancing was indulged in until a late hour. About 100 couples were in attendance.

Warner Scoggans of the University of Florida arrived here on Thursday to spend several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scoggans of Sanford.

LENGLEN TAKES U. S. NET STAR TO VIEW NICE COURT

Possible Scene Of Matches Between Miss Wills And French Star Viewed With Interest By The American

CANNES, France, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Having a day off at the Gallia tournament, Helen Wills went over to Nice and inspected the courts of the Imperial Club where she possibly may meet Suzanne Lenglen in match which her heart is yearning for.

And the California girl was accompanied on the tour by no less a person than Suzanne herself. A supply of champagne was drunk and the two champion racquet players toasted one another as regards tennis, but neither of them talked into the subject of tennis. The French girl took particular pains to point out the counter part of the club on which she sent down Mrs. Molla Malory to defeat in 1922.

The welcome Miss Wills received from Mlle. Lenglen and her party was whole-hearted, except one member whose antipathy to the California girl overcame his manners. This was one, Kiki, an ancient Belgian poodle dog which met all advances of Miss Wills with growls.

"He's too old," said Suzanne, in an endeavor to cover up the lack of civility shown by the animal. "He does not like young people."

Next Saturday Suzanne is to let it be known whether she will play in the singles at Nice next Monday. Miss Wills is entered in the tournament.

Miss Wills is somewhat wrought up over the publicity she is getting along the Riviera. She says she can not understand it and that she wishes the newspapers would let her go through her vacation undisturbed.

The literary efforts of the American champion in writing of a tournament in which she is playing are beginning to attract the attention of the French newspapers. Some of them openly criticize the permission of writing granted Miss Wills and refused William T. Tillett. The Gazette de la Semaine says:

"It is quite possible that before Miss Wills has an opportunity to meet Suzanne Lenglen, the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association will take measure against this youthful representative as it did against William T. Tillett, a newspaper man in Jeddah, who was not tolerated from 'Big Bill' cannot be tolerated from 'Little Helen'."

INTEREST SHOWN IN TEAM PLAY AT BOWLING MEET

More Than 200 Are Entered In Rink Play While But 60 Complete In Doubles Starting Today At St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Lawn bowling interest from a competitive standpoint is centered principally in rink or team play, at least entries in the first national tournament ever held in the winter time here, would so indicate. Less than 60 teams are entered in the doubles starting today while more than 200 bowlers participated in the rink play.

Recently rounds in the consolation group, in which eleven remain in the race, will be played off during the day that finals in both the championship and consolation classes may be played tomorrow afternoon.

Toronto H. H. Davison, skipper, R. E. Webb, Dr. A. E. Burritt, and C. W. Lines will meet Buffalo, N. Y. Andrew Oliver, skipper, W. W. Duden, Charles D. Gardner and H. S. Chadwick, in the championship match. Members of both teams will come in for good prizes.

Officials of the St. Petersburg Lawn Bowling Association, sponsoring the tournament, announced today that singles would probably be started Saturday and that finals in both the doubles and singles would be played off early next week, unless bad weather should interfere and make possible the two tournaments necessary.

The consolation include: Chicago, Charles Blake, skipper; Toronto, James Byrie, skipper; Bruin, Pa., W. W. Arford, skipper; Orange, N. J., George Smith, skipper; Winham, Ontario, Alex Crawford, skipper; Kingston, Ontario, John Angrove, skipper; Brooklyn, N. State Geologist Believes Chances Of Oil Discovery In Florida To Be Slight

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Herman Gunter, state geologist, in a statement issued here on the outlook for discovery of oil beneath the surface of Florida, declared that the chances are "extremely slight" and that any person putting money into well drilling "should be well able to lose it."

Mr. Gunter attributes the active interest being shown now in the possibility of oil production in the state to several reasons. First, he declared, there is nation-wide concern regarding the many tales of wealth in real estate and other development transactions. Then, he said, there is the activity of those posing as geologists.

The geologist also issued a warning to those property-owners interested in developing Florida's oil chances that the granting of a lease to oil men, when no money is involved, "will often prevent full control of the land in a subsequent real estate transaction."

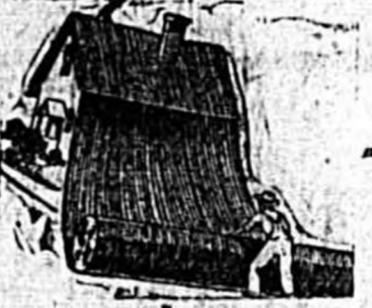

Mr. Gunter's statement follows: "There are perhaps several reasons for the very active interest now shown in the possibility of Florida producing oil. First of all the nation-wide interest in Florida and the marvelous tales of wealth growing out of the huge sums turned over in real estate and other development transactions, thus creating in many instances a large surplus of money available for speculation and investment, has attracted the attention of various classes of promoters. This easy-money situation in Florida, coupled with the slowing down of new drilling operations in the more or less known oil territory is making the state a Mecca for oil promoters, as suggested by the number of inquiries received by the State Geological Survey, Tallahassee.

"Some of the inquiries are men of recognized standing representing reliable oil companies, or consulting geologists gathering data for their clients, who spend considerable time in the survey offices discussing in detail the geology of the state. Such men usually agree after thorough study of the recorded data, and specimens in the Geological Survey's office, that the chances for finding oil in Florida are extremely remote, and though some slight structure may exist it would require extended field work to discover and accurately map it, which the data so far of record scarcely warrant. Such men are only too glad to have as a guide in a new region the reports published by the federal and state geological corps.

"A number of wells have been drilled in Florida as tests for oil or gas. Among these might be mentioned three in Escambia county, 1,452, 1,620 and 1,702 feet in depth; two in Walton county, 1,888 and 770 feet in depth; one in Washington county, 4,912 feet deep; one in Calhoun county, 1,320 feet deep; one in Gadsden county, about 1,750 feet deep; one in Leon county, about 3,755 feet deep; two in Wakulla county, 2,163 and about 2,000 feet in depth; one in Citrus county, about 2,000 feet deep; two in Sumter county, 2,092 and 3,090 feet in depth; one in Osceola county, about 2,000 feet deep; one in Brevard county, about 1,000 feet deep; one or more in Lee county over 2,000 feet deep; two in Polk county, one of which is over 3,000 feet deep. In addition tests of unrecorded depth have been drilled in Columbia, Duval, Manatee and Glades counties. All of these to date have yielded discouraging results.

"In many instances samples of the drill cuttings have been saved from some of the test wells listed and these have been of great assistance to the Geological Department in studying sub-surface conditions in the state. In fact information relative to the structure of the state is largely dependent upon a study of these wells, especially those of considerable depth, which it has been the policy of the state to develop and maintain for the purpose of providing well information for the benefit of the state and the people.

Pen and ink sketch of the Fleetwood of Daytona Shores from plans of the architects, Beecham, Le Grand and Gaines.

Great Will Be the Setting of This New FLEETWOOD Hotel

ITS THE OCEAN, the beaches and the ocean bathing in winter that bring nine-tenths of all the people to Florida. And Daytona Beach and the whole wonderful Halifax River country, growing today with amazing rapidity, are supreme in this respect; for Nature has endowed this region not only with genial climate and unmatched beauty but also with twenty-five miles of unsurpassed beach. A beach where ocean bathing is an unalloyed delight—and where motorists can speed gloriously on the sands along the ocean's edge.

And now the cosmopolitan throngs drawn to Daytona Beach in the winter are to have for their accommodation the most magnificent hotel in all Florida outside of Miami and Palm Beach—a 15-story hotel that will be a worthy sister to the greatest hostelries of those two cities. As announced a few days ago this second Florida

Fleetwood will be built by Commodore E. Perry Stoltz, President and General Manager of the Fleetwood Hotel system, at a cost of $2,000,000 on Fairyland Point in Daytona Shores.

Brilliant will be the setting of this new Fleetwood. Standing on the beautiful wooded peninsula at the juncture of the Halifax and Tomoka rivers, it will be surrounded by magnificent estates. The mile-long Fleetwood Concourse will connect it with the Dixie Highway—a double boulevard with central parking, 120 feet wide. Along the majestic Halifax from the Fleetwood to Ormond will run Fonteneda Drive. And for a distance of seven miles along the Tomoka river from the Fleetwood to the Daytona Shores F. E. C. Railway station will be Tomoka Drive.

Along these river drives and connecting boulevards, as along Fleetwood Concourse, will rise the great estates or the modest homes of those discriminating people who want close proximity to Daytona Beach across our proposed Halifax River Causeway, coupled with the attractive community life which will focus about the Fleetwood with its delightful dining and dancing, its varied entertainment programs, and its Casino and Pool.

While this property is not yet available to the investing public, requests for reservations are pouring in on the heels of the Fleetwood announcement. Accordingly, preliminary plats have been placed in the hands of our local representatives, where they can be seen by anyone interested in getting information about this exceptional property in advance of its formal opening.

Pathe Camera Men Here To Film Golf Stars In Big Meet

Additional publicity that Sanford will receive as a result of the Central-Florida Open Championship Golf Tournament was provided for this morning when Andrew T. Kelly and J. B. Campbell, of Florida Productions, Inc., came to Sanford as the representatives of Pathe News for the filming of the various stars in action over the sporty local course.

Mr. Kelly is vice-president and production manager of Florida Productions, Inc., the same company that is in charge of filming Seminole county scenes for exhibition at the Tampa fair.

In commenting on the advantages of advertising through the medium of the motion picture, Mr. Kelly said that scenes "shot" on the local links this morning would be exhibited in practically every theater in the United States and in parts of Canada above a conspicuous Sanford caption.

"The audience that will witness these pictures, numbers millions and millions," Mr. Kelly stated, "and the advantages that your community will receive from their exhibition will many thousands of times compensate your golf club for the expense of bringing this famous gallery of players here."

Notice of the day and time of the electrocution was given by Governor Martin.

Columbia Official Is Reinstated By Martin

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 28.—(AP)—J. O. Keen, member of the Columbia county board of public instruction, has been reinstated in office by Governor Martin following his acquittal by a jury of indictments charging criminal felony and malfeasance in office.

The indictment of Keen is said to have followed a shooting on a roadside, after an altercation between Keen and another motorist. After the indictments had been returned, Governor Martin suspended Keen from office, naming P. G. Brown as a successor. The reinstatement, however, automatically cancelled the latter's commission, it was stated at the governor's office.

500 Persons Offer Plans For Ending Anthracite Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Five hundred persons and organizations have offered plans to end the anthracite strike. James Gorman, secretary of the joint conference of miners and operators, was in session here, said today that plans have been submitted from all sections of the country. Most of the proposals have common features, with no technical differences of the terms and their enforcement are regarded of as negotiable issues. Many plans are complicated that they would be unworkable. Nevertheless, each suggestion has been given attention. One proposal started by rectifying the golden rule. Suggestions came by wire and special delivery. The proceedings continued behind closed doors at a hotel, no the operators have rejected the proposition made by the miners that newspaper men be admitted to the conference. Another thing against war is that it seldom if ever kills off the right people.—Baltimore Sun.

Loch Arbor

DEVELOPMENT on an extensive scale* is now taking place in Loch Arbor. Several homes are nearing completion in the Crystal Lakes Club Section which was entirely sold to home folks of Sanford. Other sections will be ready for building in the very near future.

Every stage of development should bring increasing values to early investors in Loch Arbor. Conservative estimates of those familiar with the unusual improvement plans make it seem that values can be expected to double within a few short months after the plans are consummated.

Complete details are available at the property, the administration office, and at our sales offices located throughout the state. We advise you to see this development whether you plan to buy or not. You will find the entire development most interesting because it is so different and entirely practical.

TWO NET CHAMPS BELIEVE LENGLEN WILL BEAT WILLS

Bill Tilden and Samuel Hardy agree that Frenchwoman's better knowledge of game will overcome Wills' skill.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Wm. T. Tilden, national tennis champion, and Samuel Hardy, captain of the 1920 Davis Cup team, think Suzanne Lenglen will defeat Miss Wills.

Hardy, in a copyrighted article in the New York Telegram, today says that he fears Miss Wills will be defeated several times during the invasion of European courts.

Besides Miss Lenglen, Hardy names Miss Vlasto, whom Miss Wills conquered in the metropole tournament and Senorita Alvarez, the Spanish champion, as probable obstacles in her path.

Miss Lenglen is faster than the American, he argues, playing on her toes all the time while Miss Wills is too much on her heels, and as a strategist, Suzanne is a champion.

"Suzanne looks to be the better equipped in every way, but Helen is a real champion," Hardy sums it up. "If she plays a daring, hard hitting game she will be right in the thick of the fight every minute and may record an upset, but in the normal course of events, Suzanne looks like the winner."

Tilden has told the Brooklyn Eagle that Miss Wills might win on home courts or at Wimbledon, but because of unfamiliar environment, has little chance of victory on the Riviera.

"Miss Lenglen is a genius; and, as such, subject to flights of artistic temperament," says Tilden. "Miss Wills hasn't the court craft to beat Suzanne in her own game, as a strategist Miss Wills is not in Lenglen's class. Helen may have a poker face, but Suzanne has a chess brain."

Tilden said if he were coaching Miss Wills he would make her "knock the cover off the ball," as perhaps a terrific burst of slugging might demoralize Suzanne.

And just a few years ago being knock-kneed was a misfortune instead of a dance.—Birmingham News.

Another paradox is that many climb to considerable heights by remaining on the level.—Florence (Ala.) Herald.

Mrs. Argabute Dances Charleston 3 1/2 Hours; Claims World Record

A new world's record for the popular Charleston is claimed by Mrs. N. M. Argabute, Sanford Terpsichorean artist, who is said to have maintained through three and a half hours of the popular dance.

Mrs. Argabute began the house-shaking contest yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the home of G. M. Henderson on Sanford Heights, continuing until 7:45 o'clock, according to several witnesses gathered to give moral support and encouragement.

While the exact world record for the popular endurance contest is not definitely known, Mrs. Argabute maintains that she should have the laurels formerly worn in this state by three University of Florida girls who held out for some time like two hours.

Witnesses of yesterday's performance included: George Nesbit, W. M. DuBois, L. E. Gouss, Mrs. G. M. Henderson, G. M. Henderson and Miss Thelma Lake. Reginald Holly served as master of ceremonies.

CIVIC BODY IS URGED TO HELP BIG BOND ISSUE

Mayor Forrest Lake Stresses Need Of Improvements Of Public Utilities In Speech Before Commerce Body

The proper appreciation of the many benefits that will be provided for the city by proposed bond issue and the necessity for a thorough understanding of developments contemplated were stressed by Mayor Forrest Lake at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce held today in the Seminole Grill with Mayor Lake presiding in the absence of President Edward Higgins.

In commenting on the proposed improvements of sewers, streets and public utilities, Mayor Lake stated that in order to keep Sanford abreast of other Florida cities, these improvements were essential and must necessarily be provided for at once.

A committee composed of Frank P. Forster, W. M. Scott, and W. H. Tunniffle was appointed to confer with the City Commission in regard to plans designed to secure the full co-operation of the citizens of Sanford when the matter comes to issue.

In connection with a discussion of action designed to free the Murre bridge at toll, E. H. Kilbee, County Commissioner from Geneva pledged the support of the commissioners to any well outlined plan that the city officials may present.

Harrison Completes Work

P. H. Harrison, Jr. of the Traffic Department of the commission body, made a brief report on the general traffic situation with reference to the Sanford Section, and told of plans perfected for the continued operation of monthly bus lines setting forth the requirements of this community in accordance with the request of the railroad that they be given the same advance notice on the number of cars needed for each district.

His address that his work with the local commerce body had practically been completed for the time being and that he was leaving for Tallahassee within a few days. Upon the vote of thanks was extended Mr. Harrison for his "invaluable assistance rendered during his stay in Sanford."

Following a report by Frank MacNeil on the golf tournament which ended here yesterday, the chamber gave a rising vote of thanks to the committee responsible for bringing here the greatest golfers in the nation, and Mayor Lake expressed the hope that the tournament could be an annual affair.

Broadcasting Discussed

In speaking of results obtained through the use of the Winter Park broadcasting station for the dissemination of Sanford news, Mayor Lake declared that telegrams and messages had been received from many parts of the country following the program last night, and that he was well pleased with the general reception that the concerts and speeches were obtaining.

He urged Sanford citizens to attend the weekly programs in the big bus donated by Sanford Mayor every Thursday.

Sandy Anderson and J. C. Trawick attended the meeting as delegates from the Lions Club with plans for the free distribution of Sanford news in the various restaurants of the city. Following some discussion, the matter was referred to the publicity committee to report on at the next meeting.

Plans relative to the entertainment of the delegates to the Press City convention who will arrive here Feb. 2 were discussed and reports read on the Seminole county exhibit planned for the Tampa Fair.

Sanford Is Most Inviting Business Field In Entire State, Asserts Jersey Man

South Florida with its tinted castles and gilded pleasure palaces may be the most popular amusement section of the state, but Sanford and the solid, substantial section surrounding it is the spot that discriminating business men will select for permanent location according to Augustus T. Gray, prominent realty operator of Hillsdale, N. J., who arrived in this city yesterday on an intensive tour of Florida points in the company of D. H. Doremus, retired banker of Newark, N. J.

"The building activity in these various areas makes well for their rapid, substantial development, for no matter how attractive a development may be, it is not an active contributing factor to the city unless homes and permanent residents are on the premises."

Mr. Gray is a plain spoken, keen business man, and in commenting on this intensive tour of Florida points he said that "this is not going to be any boost story of the usual vintage, but a frank statement of my honest opinions in regard to Sanford."

"You asked for my opinions relative to Sanford's future," Mr. Gray said, "and I am giving them to you straight. If I didn't think your city worth a continental I would not hesitate to tell you so."

2 GEORGIA BOYS ARE EXECUTED AT COLUMBUS

Garvis Bloodworth And Willie Jones Pay Supreme Penalty On Gallows For Murder Of Howard Underwood In 1924

Two young boys, Garvis Bloodworth and Willie Jones, were executed today in the city of Columbus, Georgia, for the murder of Howard Underwood in 1924. The boys were aged 17 and 18 at the time of the crime.

The execution took place at the state prison in Columbus. The boys were taken to the gallows by a guard and were executed by a firing squad.

The murder of Howard Underwood occurred in Sanford, Florida, in 1924. The boys were arrested in Georgia and were held in custody until they were transported to Columbus for trial and execution.

Mitchell Resignation Is Accepted Today By War Department

Five Are Dead In Illinois Coal Mine Disaster

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The resignation of Col. William Mitchell from the army has been accepted.

In accordance with his expressed wishes, the air service officer will be permitted to stop out on Feb. 1, thus automatically bringing to an end the five year suspension to which he was sentenced by a court martial after conviction of breaking discipline by his criticism of the government's aviation policies.

The decision was announced in this statement by Secretary Davis of the war department.

The secretary of war has decided that the resignation of Col. William Mitchell, air service, will be accepted to take effect Feb. 1, 1926. The actual removal of the army has been notified to this effect.

Nothing beyond this brief announcement was made public.

The decision was made after a hearing was held, however, that the acceptance was unconditional and did not hinge on any formal notation that it was "for the good of the service."

Mitchell Remains Silent

Secretary Davis feels that the fact that the resignation was offered by an officer under approved sentence for violation of the article of war sufficiently indicates for the record the circumstances under which Col. Mitchell is to be separated from the military service.

Informing by the Associated Press of the decision to accept his resignation, Col. Mitchell would make no comment. He feels he will not be fully at liberty to speak for publication until he actually has ceased on next Monday to be a member of the military department.

There is no doubt, however, that the airman is planning to begin immediately upon his return to civilian status an active public campaign in support of his views as to the aviation necessities of the national defense.

Sentence Too Light, Says Weeks

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 29.—(AP)—John W. Weeks, former Secretary of War, who, with Charles Mitchell and Lorrie Jenkins were each assessed a fine of $12 and the charges against John Swanson and C. R. Silberstein were continued.

Silberstein was driving the Dodge roadster which is said to have collided with a car driven by William Merriweather, who died last night at the Fernald-Laughton Hospital, according to authorities.

C. W. Wright failed to appear to answer to a charge of drunkenness and his bond of $10 was also forfeited when he failed to appear in answer to a disorderly conduct charge. Will Noland forfeited his bond when he did not come in after being arrested for driving with bright lights.

RADIO PROGRAM FEATURES SONGS BY LOCAL TALENT

Mayor Lake Announces Golf Meet Results To Fans Over Entire Country Last Night; Sharon Talks About Cetera

Radio fans in Miami, Jacksonville, Atlanta, Vicksburg, Miss., St. Petersburg and Garden City, Long Island, showered congratulations on the city last night in the telephonic broadcast of the program, which was broadcast from the Winter Park station from 8:30 o'clock until midnight.

The program had been very well received and that it was one of the most entertaining, as well as instructive, heard through the air.

The features of the evening included a talk by Judge J. G. Shannon and the singing of F. McNeil, members of the Hodwell Realty Company's staff.

Judge Shannon devoted his remarks to the various parts of the program and told his audience of the methods used in planting, cultivating and marketing the largest of Sanford's crops.

Other songs were broadcast by Mrs. Lucille A. Takach, who was accompanied at the piano by Sledge Ward Deas.

One of the uses for which the studio was actually demonstrated last night when Mayor Lake announced the results of the Central Florida Open Golf tournament through the microphone. Thousands of golf fans all over the country heard the Mayor list the great field of stars who competed here and their scores for the two day event. That this method of sending out news of national interest and importance will result in many benefits to the city was the opinion of many local people who heard the scores go out on the air.

BOOST IN WAGES NOW SOUGHT BY RAIL EMPLOYEES

Union Leaders Representing Conductors and Trainmen of All Roads Ask for Peak Scale In Effect In 1926

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Restoration of the peak wage scale of 1920 for conductors and trainmen of all the railroads in the U. S. is sought by union leaders.

Local unions have been instructed to file schedules of wage increases on Monday and to request an answer in writing by Mar. 2. In the event that any company seeks to present modified proposals, local unions are instructed to go into conference and submit the final proposition to headquarters.

Railroad men here have expressed the opinion that the wage request would increase the total annual expense of the country's railroads by $500,000,000. Orders from the submission of schedules have been issued by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors.

The new wages would mean an increase of $1 to $1.50 a day over the present scale, with the agreement, flagmen and brakemen, conductors receiving about $8 a day and $200 a month, would obtain $7.75 a day and $232.50 a month.

Corresponding increases would be asked for assistant conductors, and yard service employees. In many cases the demands would be equal to $1 a day.

A canvass of railroad officials by the New York Times indicated the opinion that such increase would cut the railroads' 1926 income in half and bankrupt many of the weaker roads.

PIONEER CITIZEN OF COUNTY DIES

William Merriweather Said To Have Died As Result Of Injuries Received In Auto Wreck Wednesday Morning

William Merriweather, Seminole county pioneer citizen, died last night at the Fernald-Laughton Hospital as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident Wednesday morning when the sedan in which he and Mrs. Merriweather were driving, collided with a roadster driven by C. R. Silberstein at Sanford Avenue and H Street, according to reports.

According to word received late this afternoon from the Miller Funeral Home, the funeral was to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Dr. T. J. Nixon officiating.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Merriweather were slightly injured in the accident and after having a few cuts and bruises treated at the hospital they were allowed to proceed to their home.

It is stated that Mr. Merriweather, who is in the eighties, began to complain of internal pains yesterday and was brought back to the hospital early last night. Reports state that doctors attributed his death to the jolting of the machine in which he returned to the hospital, causing irritation to internal injuries he might have received in the accident.

Mr. Merriweather came here in the early eighties and has spent most of his life in this county. He was a veteran of the civil war, having followed Grant through the western campaign.

Just three weeks ago Mr. Merriweather signified his intention of moving to Sanford to make this his home.

MUCH PUBLICITY RECEIVED FROM LOCAL GOLF MEET

Chamber Commerce Official Praises Local Papers For Active Co-Operation Shown; News Flashed All Over U.S.

Sanford has received more publicity as a result of the Central Florida Open Championship Golf Tournament played on the local links yesterday and Wednesday than from any other one thing that has been brought to pass here in many months according to Secretary R. W. Pearson of the Chamber of Commerce, whose exchange list of papers contributed to by publications in every part of the nation show that the tournament was given good space in papers northern, southern and western. The tournament was featured in practically every state paper of any consequence.

"Both Sanford papers have featured the tournament every day since it was announced," Mr. Pearson said.

"Front page stories and editorials with references to the event were carried by The Herald for practically every day during the announcement of the date of the tournament and the date of the Associated Press within six days that elapsed between the date and the time when the players arrived."

"The Herald has co-operated wonderfully with us in advertising this event, and through its news items, photographs and AP connections the tournament was in my opinion given excellent prominence."

"Through the publicity department of the Chamber of Commerce advance and follow-up stories of the meet were forwarded to all state papers, and more than 20 nationally known publications in the north, east and west. Special dispatches have been rushed to the New York Times, the Chicago Herald Tribune, Brooklyn Eagle, New York World, Indianapolis News, Baltimore Sun, Boston Transcript, Philadelphia Ledger, Detroit News and Press, Milwaukee Journal, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and all of these papers have featured the item."

"The Florida Times-Union and many South Florida papers have carried several columns on the tournament here, and every state paper with the exception of the Orlando papers have played the event up strongly."

Special writers for the Associated Press and International News and scores of camera men including representatives of Pathé News were on the links. Mr. Pearson continued, "and the fruits of their efforts will shortly begin to appear."

"In my opinion the Chamber of Commerce with the active assistance of the Sanford Herald, has handled this meet in a highly creditable manner, and I do not believe that more publicity could possibly have been given in the brief period of time allotted."

Conference Plans To Make Demands For Farmers' Relief

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 29.—(AP)—Machinery created here by the marketing conference of delegations from 12 middle western farm relief committees to Congress will be geared for action today.

Appointed near the close of Thursday's conference as the permanent machinery of the 12 agricultural states, the agricultural committee was in session, completing its organization.

Guided in its demand for congressional action by the conference's approval of the principles of the Dickinson farm surplus bill, the committee is considering the establishment of a bureau in Washington to aid the fight for the bill.

George N. Peck, former president of the Peck and Peck Agricultural Council of Agriculture, is permanent chairman of the committee of two representatives from each of the 12 states. They are Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The conference closed its business with clarity after a day of addresses, in which Frank C. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, the governors of three states, and several agricultural experts had reviewed the situation. Each prescribed a remedy, with proponents of the Dickinson bill predominant.

Settlement Of Coal Strike Is Uncertain

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Peace in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania seemed as distant as the moon in the joint committee of miners and operators entered the fourth day of renewed negotiations.

Every formal proposal has been rejected and so far as could be ascertained the conference had no definite plan before it as a basis for settlement of the five months' coal strike. Both sides, however, maintain their attitude of hopefulness.

RAIN HALTS NET MACHES

CANNES, France, Jan. 29.—(AP)—All of today's matches in the Galla lawn tennis tournament, in which Miss Helen Wills, the American champion, is competing, were postponed because of rain.

Sanford's Future Highly Praised By Chicagoan Attending Golf Tourney

James L. Mead, president of the Mead Cycle Company of Chicago, was a visitor in Sanford for the past two days and while here attended the golf tournament together with a number of Chicago and Evanston people who are wintering at Tarpon Springs, on the west coast.

Sanford is indeed a wonderful city," Mr. Mead said.

"We came over here expecting to find a small village and upon our arrival were surprised to note that we were entering a city which is characterized by many fine homes and large business buildings, not to speak of the activities noted along the streets and at the golf course."

"I have many inquiries concerning the business and shipping interests which are centered here, and the result of these inquiries has convinced me that this city will be, if it is not already, one of the leading cities of the entire south. You have some reason for the subtitle which the history of this city and the wonderful water supply and scenery make it well deserved."

Adventurous Girls In Boy's Clothing Taken Back Home By Parent

Two young girls, dressed in boy's clothing, who gave their names as Doris Cravess, 15, and Evelyn Albert, 12, were picked up by Officer A. H. Beckwith yesterday afternoon on West First Street and taken to the police station where an investigation disclosed that they had run away from their homes in Lakeland and were out on a care-free journey to other parts of the world.

Beckwith stated that he first thought they were boys but upon closer scrutiny found they were merely masquerading. Each had a bundle of clothes and a coat over their arm. They said passing motorists had given them lifts at various stages of their journey between here and Lakeland.

The police department telephoned to Lakeland and last night at 9 o'clock the fathers of the runaways were called and returned them to their respective homes.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Only one further venue is left Col. Charles R. Forbes, former Veterans' Bureau head, and John W. Thompson, wealthy St. Louis contractor, in their fight against a two year prison sentence and $10,000 fine.

All other avenues were closed to them yesterday when the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals denied their petition for a rehearing, filed after it had upheld their previous conviction.

Howard and Kelleher were taken to the hospital and treated for their injuries.
