MOTORISTS TAKE TO ROADS IN LOW CARS THIS YEAR

Long Closed Models Shown At Annual Display Being Staged In Gotham; Latest Cars Are Richly Equipped

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—Automobilists who can afford a new machine in 1927 will take to the roads in long, low, closed cars, set well down to the ground and equipped with compact, powerful motors.

This was the indication seen in the latest models on display at the twenty-seventh annual automobile show. Three hundred models of 454 makes of machines are constructed almost without exception along these lines.

The show, an annual event which fills the hotels with visitors from all parts of the world, also contains 65 models of 21 makes of trucks, indicating that automobile express service during the year will be carried mostly in lighter and faster machines, built for good roads that now connect the principal cities.

Few radical departures from 1926 models are noted. The lowered center of gravity in the passenger cars, long recognized by manufacturers, has been applied this year because of the increasing use of the closed car. The open, or touring, car, is almost a thing of the past, the exhibits revealed, and some firms will adopt the policy of making the touring car only on order of the buyer within the next few years. Three-fourths of the models are closed types.

In general, the makers have confined themselves to the conservative single color and combinations of not more than two tones. Among the duo-tones, the cream and green and green and black predominate, although some models have come forth in screaming contrasts.

Almost without exception, however, the outer metals of copper, brass and aluminum have been left "as natural" and richly burnished. Handles, locks, window lifts and indicators are nearly all silver plated, as are lights, radiator caps and other furnishings. The conventional motorometer has given way to fantastic and decorative ornaments for the radiator cap.

The 1927 machine is richly equipped inside with electric cigar lighters, vanity and writing cases and odd pockets for gloves and magazines. The dashboard has become a simplified and artistic accessory, with gasoline and motor heat indicators included on the board, incidental locks are used almost entirely, some operation on the transmission and ignition and others locking the transmission and wheel.

Miller Has Promising Contender For Title

CHICAGO, Jan. 10. (AP)—Walk-Miller, manager of Tiger Flowers and Young Stribling, says he has discovered a promising heavyweight boxing prospect "with world's championship reach and feet."

The young giant is a Tampa negro longshoreman named Roy Clark, 19 years old, and weighing 245 pounds. Clark wears 15 1/2 shoes and his huge arms extended stretch 87 1/2 inches. Miller said he had never been able to get a pair of padded mitts big enough to permit the fighter to close his fists. Due to his size, Clark has had but a few matches, but has won them all by knockouts. Clark is being developed in training matches with Flowers and Stribling, preparatory to a challenge to some of the lesser heavyweight contenders.

A rare white elephant has been loaned to Regents Park Zoo, London, upon condition that no one be permitted to ride upon it.

Tex Rickard Enlarges Heavyweight War Map To Include Champ Delaney

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—Tex Rickard today bent to the task of ironing out details of his elaborate heavyweight program, seeking to definitely fix Jack Dempsey and Jack Delaney in the scheme of his elimination program.

A conference with Delaney was expected to decide whether the light heavyweight champion is to be included in the race with Jack Sharkey, Jimmy Maloney, Paulino Uzcudun and Paul Berginbach for the chance to battle Gene Tunney next September. Pete Reilly, Delaney's manager, thus far, has declined to fight the "rask and file" of contenders, holding out for

CRUIKSHANK IS WINNER OF LOS ANGELES MEET

Diminutive Scotchman Plays Brilliant Game To Carry Off First Honors Sunday

VAN NUYS, Calif., Jan. 10. (AP)—Bobby Cruikshank, of the Progress Club, New York, today was richer by $3,000, a diamond medal and the praise of golfers as the result of his brilliant victory in the second annual Los Angeles $10,000 open tournament.

He won the Pacific classic yesterday with a card of 282 for the 72 holes of play.

While the diminutive Scotchman traded over the difficult El Camellero Club course to his triumph, Harry Cooper, of Los Angeles, last year's winner, fell behind the 10 prize winners. Cooper found the seventeenth and eighteenth fairways so closely matted with spectators that he lost his usual control and fell far below par. He turned in a card of 296.

Cruikshank met with similar difficulties. He said he would have turned in a card two strokes lower had it not been for the interference of motion picture cameramen on the eighth green during the morning eighteen hole round.

Cruikshank's card for the 72 holes was 70-71-74-67.

Charles Guest, of Hollywood, one of the youngest professionals in the tournament, took a 284 to share second place honors with Ed. Dudley, of Oklahoma City. They divided the $1,500 second and $1,000 third prizes.

Another tie resulted when Al Watrous, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Jo Farrell, of Manassas, Va., each turned in cards of 289. They split $750 fourth and $500 fifth prizes.

Eastern Quintets To Play This Week

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—Five games on the schedule for the Eastern Interscholastic Basketball League this week will call every quintet of the circuit into action for the first time this season.

Pennsylvania, victor over Yale in its first encounter, will figure in two contests against two teams which also got off to a good start, meeting Princeton on Wednesday and De-mouth on Saturday. The Tigers likewise will engage two foes, coming to grips on Saturday with Yale after opposing Pennsylvania.

The champion Columbia cagers, who dropped the opening game last Saturday, face Dartmouth on Wednesday before receiving Cornell here Saturday.

Twenty-six marriages have been performed in the Luray Caverns of Virginia.

TO CONTINUE STIMULANTS

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 10. (AP)—Physicians attending Albert B. Fall today planned to continue the use of heart stimulants to cause normal blood pressure. The former secretary of the Interior, who has been ill at his home here with pneumonia for two weeks, was reported in a serious condition Saturday.

Principals and coaches of the institutions decided to bar spectators as a precaution against a possible demonstration, resulting from feeling over the forfeiture of a football game last fall to Jefferson.

Nadson's eleven left the field after a dispute, players and officials were the spectators for today's melee.

Battle Over Farm Relief Act Will Be Under Way Shortly

By WILLIAM S. NEAL, International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 10. (INS)—Farm relief forces began today to wind up the preliminaries of their drive for legislation, with prospects that the battle will be raging on the entire congressional front within two weeks.

Despite their inability to reach an agreement with the administration, or to end all differences in their own ranks, farm bloc leaders expressed hope that an imposing farm aid bill may be passed before congress folds its tent and goes home on March 4.

The house edition of the McNary-Haugen bill, modified to meet the demands of Representative Haugen (R), chairman of the agriculture committee, is expected to be introduced tomorrow, with a strong probability that a vote will be reached within a few days.

Senator McNary (R) of Oregon announced that the senate agriculture committee, of which he is chairman, will begin hearings on his own bill late in the week.

Under the present plans of farm relief leaders, the fight for legislation will be conducted in both houses of congress at the same time.

"Ben Hur" Is To Be Seen On Screen At Milane On 2 Days

Fred Niblo gathered beauties from all the Mediterranean littoral (and many of the hinterlands) for the picturization of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer screen version of "Ben Hur," General Lew Wallace's classic, which will be presented at the Milane Monday and Tuesday nights, Jan. 17 and 18, with a matinee Tuesday.

"I got a commissionaire in Paris," said Mr. Niblo, to hire the Folies Bergere dancing girls to week-end in Rome and do the festival maidens in the forefront of the triumph of Arrius. Seems funny that all Italy could not provide these lily-like revelers, but it's a fact.

"For my black beauties in the Orchard of Palms scene I had recourse to Tripoli, and some of the delegation (it was told by my agent) originated in the slave markets of the Sahara, where bootlegging of the comely Nubians is still practiced. Oriental types come from Syria, the Holy Land and Egypt, and needless to say, there were plenty of Roman girls in the ensemble scenes, too."

"Mrs. Niblo (Enid Bennett) saw 'was a trying job to handle the 'eternal feminine' of a score or more of various hues, climes and tongues. She was fertile of suggestion in teaching the different kinds of beauty the different kinds of action. When the ensembles were completed, she echoed my thought in saying, 'My! I'm glad that House of All Nations is over and packing up!'"

Basketball Game To Be Minus Spectators

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—A basketball game without spectators between keen scholastic rivals, unique in this athletic era of cheering crowds, was on today's sport bill of fare in the metropolis. The contending teams represented James Madison and Thomas Jefferson High schools.

Message Out Of Invisible Called Poet Frank L. Stanton Home, Friends Think

ATLANTA, Jan. 10. (AP)—The men who worked with Frank L. Stanton believe a message out of the invisible called the poet "home."

An unpretentious headstone beneath a laurel tree in Westview cemetery today marked the last resting place of Stanton. For the many friends who heard the funeral service yesterday, afternoon, and countless others there was a farewell.

A few days before Stanton left his little office in the Constitution building for the last time he dropped in on James A. Holleman, associate editor, and finding him busy expressed a wish that he might hold out with an occasional "hog and hominy" editorial as he used to.

"But I can't any more," he said. "I am going home." "Why, has Marcelle come for you already?" Holleman asked, thinking that perhaps his daughter had come earlier than was her custom.

"Bigger Navy" Bill May Be Sidetracked By Mexican Muddle

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—A showdown of President Coolidge's policy toward Central America may overshadow an anticipated fight against his "small navy" program when the new $321,000,000 naval appropriation bill reaches the floor of the senate, it was learned today.

Opponents of American intervention south of the Rio Grande were threatening today to inject the issue into debate on the navy bill by an attempt to forbid the use of American warships, and American marines in behalf of the Diaz faction in Nicaragua. This could be accomplished if the senate were willing to forbid the use of naval appropriations for that purpose.

The senate naval affairs committee met this morning to begin consideration of the bill, which the house passed Saturday after upholding the president's "small navy" program. As the measure reached the senate, it provided $23,350,000 for increased strength for the navy, but no funds for building the three cruisers authorized in 1924.

Couple Scheduled To Wed At Church Take Vows at Hotel

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—A sudden switch of plans that left a large crowd waiting at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church while William Ziegler, Jr., young banking powder millionaire, and Miss Helen Martin Murphy, of Troy, N. Y., were married at the Hotel Elgin, remained unexplained today.

The church chapel was decorated with flowers and many guests had arrived for the wedding yesterday afternoon when it was announced that the bride and groom would not appear. Later it was learned they had been married at the Hotel Plaza with only the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy, Mrs. William Ziegler, mother of the bridegroom, Frederick J. Pohlendorff, a friend of the bridegroom, and Miss Gertrude Ide, of Troy, attending.

Principals and coaches of the institutions decided to bar spectators as a precaution against a possible demonstration, resulting from feeling over the forfeiture of a football game last fall to Jefferson.

Pictorial Review Is Sued by Chaplin for $500,000 Damages

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. (AP)—A series of articles written for the Pictorial Review by Jim Tully and advertised as containing "a real life story" of Charlie Chaplin, forms the basis of a $500,000 damage suit brought by Mr. Chaplin against the Pictorial Review Company.

Mr. Chaplin complains that the articles contain many statements that are false and tend to bring him into disrepute and that his name and likeness were published for advertising purposes without his consent.

He seeks an injunction to prevent publication of further articles in the series.

Arthur W. Kelly, Mr. Chaplin's Eastern representative, says in the complaint that Mr. Tully, one-time tramp and pugilist and now an author, arrived in Hollywood some years ago "in very straitened circumstances," and that, on solicitation of a mutual friend, Mr. Chaplin gave him work in his studio. It is said that Mr. Tully described himself at the time as a "scavenger of literature."

U. S. Fleet Leaves For Cuban Waters To Hold Maneuvers

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 10. (AP)—Led by the battleship Texas, flagship of Vice Admiral Robertson, 50 ships composing the scouting fleet were under orders to steam out of Chesapeake bay today for Cuban waters for the annual winter maneuvers.

Sixty airplanes were in readiness to accompany the fleet with plans calling for maneuvers between them and the surface ships enroute to the drill grounds.

Withdrawal from the fleet for special duty in Nicaraguan waters of the cruisers Marblehead and Cincinnati and the destroyers Barker, Osborn and Smith-Thompson will necessitate some changes in the practice program officers said, but their absence is not expected to interfere greatly with original plans.

Admiral Robertson said he had not been advised whether additional vessels would be sent to Nicaragua, but he felt satisfied that the forces there are on the way would be sufficient to safeguard the lives and property of Americans.

Printed, If Any

A friend of ours came in the office the other day and asked us to keep a certain story out of the paper. As it was news dealing with municipal development about which our readers had every right to be informed, we were unable to grant his request, and of course he left us feeling somewhat disgruntled and very much abused.

But the humor of the situation is this: The same man would have been the first to howl if another story regarding some other project about which he was very anxious to get all the details had been left out.

We wonder how many of our readers noticed on the editorial page of a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post an article under the caption, "Nothing in the Papers." This editorial, particularly well-written and handling the subject most completely, suggests that there is something in all good newspapers; the trouble is with the complaining subscribers who are not clever enough to find it.

The statement that there's nothing in the papers," says the Post, "is rarely true. Too often the reader who makes such a remark means that there is nothing sensational or shocking or salacious. He means that he is not stunned by the headlines or swept off his feet.

The remarkable thing about the reading public is that in their philosophical moments they make ardent speeches that crime news, scandals, and whatever may strike their fancy for the minute should be deleted from the papers, but just let a few monotonous days go by with no local Aimee Semple McPherson, "Peaches" Browning, or Francis Stevens Hall, nothing but soporific Chamber of Commerce activities, ever-recurrent Rotary luncheons, and the parties of the society page, and they raise the cry on every doorstep, "There's nothing in the paper."

The trouble with most folks is they like to read the good about themselves and the dirt about other people. Whatever they do which may be praiseworthy they think should be played up in bold, conspicuous type, but at the same time if they must read about the other fellow, they prefer to read about some fellow who has just murdered his mother-in-law or eloped with the chauffeur's wife.

Hereafter if "there's nothing in the paper," don't jump on us; we can't commit murder just to get the story. Rejoice that there is nothing salacious or sensational happening, and then read about the songs the Kiwanis club sang.

Florida-Bound Travelers By The Thousands

Under the caption, "The Rush To Florida," the Charlotte Observer, one of North Carolina's reliable newspapers published an editorial ten days or more ago that speaks a good-time prophecy. There was just one paragraph and it went like this:

If any part of the public has come to the conclusion that Florida business this winter isn't going to amount to much, it is not that part of the public living along the lines of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, for that company is this season running more and finer through trains than it ran in any past season. The Seaboard's Florida business was formally opened the first of this month, when four new through trains were put on the lines, all four running out of New York, splitting, when Florida is reached, two down the east coast, and two down the west coast.

Other newspapers in the Carolinas and Georgia report an enormous increase in the number of cars headed south. And the good news also comes that the majority of the Florida-bound travelers look and act as if they had money enough to pay their way after they get into the "land of ease and plenty."

Cold-blooded though it sounds, Florida does not offer a welcome to the indigent traveler who cannot, or will not, earn his living. Florida has no place for the ne'er-do-wells, the riff-raff, the undesirables of the communities they have left. And if there is to be a minimum of poverty-stricken nomads heading for Florida this winter, the people of Florida have another item to place in their list of blessings.

And if Florida, in addition to fanning off the shiftless rabble, could find a way to keep her gates closed to the race track touts, the fancy crooks, the high-flying gentry in the big confidence games—if Florida could recognize thieves and rascals, regardless of their guise, and make short shrift of them, how beautifully the new citizens of this state could be winnowed from the crowds that head toward Florida when the King of Winter gets underway for his reign of discomfort!

And yet, after all, a town need only have the sort of people it wants. There are ways of getting rid of undesirables. Even if there are parts of Florida where criminals and riff-raff have a welcome, Sanford need not have them. Sanford is in a position to choose the kind of people it desires as Sanford citizens.

Among the thousands coming to Florida this winter, Sanford should be at work offering attractions to the most desirable.

LAUGH MONTH MIAMI HERALD

It is to laugh. At least this is the intention of some organization or other which has designated January as laugh month.

The idea is to start a universal titillation, to arouse the risibilities of the nation, to create a guffaw that will reach Mars, to tickle the funny bones of the population, to grow a gigantic giggle. Presumably, if this is done old man Gloom will sneak away into utter darkness and there will be a happy, even a merry new year.

This is an undertaking of some pretensions. It is hard enough to laugh occasionally in this day when the funny muscles have become set and hardened so they will hardly work. To set a billion of merriment gallivanting down a whole month is impossible, even if it were a laudable thing.

Here is a nation which is unashamedly engaged in an effort to re-weight and that nation is asked to laugh—and grow fat. It cannot be done. No maiden fair is going to risk her sylph-like figure by a 31-day giggle.

It is all right to laugh when there's something funny going on. A forced or scheduled laugh is of

As Brisbane Sees It

Religions Still Alive, Justice By Imitation, Husband and Wife, Flying.

RABBI BROWNE says bolshevism has not succeeded in killing religion, as it planned. Religion may be, as sovietism says, on conspicuous signs.

Some that have quit the worship of the old orthodox Christian "ikons," images of saints and holy men, have substituted a new worship which they call "communistic ikonolatry."

Lenin's mausoleum is worshipped as the tombs of the saints are worshipped and his images are rapidly becoming "holy" images.

IT IS NOT surprising that a few years of sovietism should be unable to wipe out the old beliefs. Long years of universities, public schools and public newspapers have been unable to end belief in the "12" superstition, and many well educated human beings would not walk under a ladder, or sit 13 at a table.

Old superstition goes deep into the brain, science penetrates only a little way, as yet.

STAMFORD'S MAYOR advises lashing husbands that beat their wives. Mere imitation is not the wisest kind of justice, although men have practiced it for ages. If a man stole something with his right hand, they cut off that right hand. If he blasphemed, they cut out his tongue.

Old superstition goes deep into the brain, science penetrates only a little way, as yet.

STAMFORD'S MAYOR advises lashing husbands that beat their wives. Mere imitation is not the wisest kind of justice, although men have practiced it for ages.

MODERN WISDOM should find better ways than mere imitation, to punish a wifebeater, why not put him to work, until he earns enough money to buy his wife a nice little automobile—he could do that in two years.

Then let him sit at the window and see her drive by, and warn him that if he repeats his offense, he will have to earn a new car for her. Better plans could be found, but nothing could be more dull than mere imitation.

LAST SATURDAY Sir Samuel Hoare, British air minister, and his wife fled from London to Delhi, India. The flight of 6,300 miles was made in 63 flying hours, an average of 100 miles per hour.

MEN THAT MANAGE Britain's flying force actually fly. That seems very strange in this more conservative country, quite with out adequate air defense, its flying in the hands of men that know as much about practical flying as a turtle knows about ice skating.

ARABS ARE PICTURESQUE when they come to Paris they bring smallpox with them and Frenchmen get it. So France will vaccinate all her Arabs, whether they like it or not, which will mean a hard fight against Mohammedan superstition.

TELL CERTAIN Americans that their children should be vaccinated, and they will give you some religious objection or a worse pseudo scientific one of their own manufacture.

ONE THING IS certain, the French are logical, scientific and do not let back. They will vaccinate those Arabs, whether or no, and let them wonder why Allah and Mohammed do not appear to prevent it.

IN MEXICO, RELIGIOUS agitation continues at boiling point. Railway bridges have been burned in protest against the anti-religious laws, rebellions have broken out in many places.

A small boy, Alfredo Trejo, ran to his mother crying that the Virgin had appeared on earth again, he had seen her, and she had left her image upon a tree.

THE MUNICIPAL authorities, according to an Associated Press dispatch took charge of the tree and the population, unable to find any image upon it, accused the authorities of carelessly removing it.

Such a miracle, believed by thousands, will move public opinion. And the Mexican unrest is back to the old poker of certain American oil interests, annoyed by new Mexican laws, and powerful in a practical way.

Church Service Body Of Holy Cross Parish Has Enjoyable Meet

The newly organized Church Service League of Holy Cross Episcopal Church held its first meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Raymond Key. The league is composed of members of the Women's Guild and the St. Agnes Guild.

Rev. Mortimer Grover, rector of the Parish, presided over the business session, when the secretaries gave an account of the work done in their respective departments during the past year.

The executive board of the Service League is composed of members of both guilds, and in the election of officers the following were named: President, Mrs. B. P. DIES OF INJURIES
FORT LAUDERDALE, Jan. 10, 11.—(INS)—Eight-year-old Milton Edelson, Jr., and his 4-year-old brother, Wyman, were in a serious condition in a hospital here today from injuries received when struck by an automobile while returning home from Sunday school yesterday.

Opposition To The World Tribunal Is Voiced By Means

ORANGEBURG, S. C., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Senator Rice W. Means, of Colorado, voiced his opposition to the world court in an interview with an International News Service correspondent here today.

Senator Means is visiting the South Carolina headquarters of the United Spanish War Veterans here. He is national commander-in-chief.

"I'm no world court," he said. "I would vote to the League of Nations only when it had been made clear to me that the sovereignty of the United States would thereby be retained."

The Senator discussed farm relief legislation at length, declaring that he thought the Curtis-Cripp bill for farm relief a better measure than the Haugen-McNary bill.

"I will vote for the measure that comes nearest controlling the surplus of the principal farm crops on the market," he said.

Two Boys Seriously Injured In Accident

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Eight-year-old Milton Edelson, Jr., and his 4-year-old brother, Wyman, were in a serious condition in a hospital here today from injuries received when struck by an automobile while returning home from Sunday school yesterday.

The boys got out of a bus in front of their homes and started to cross the street when a passing automobile struck them. The driver of the car was ordered held without bond pending the outcome of the lad's injuries.

Drexel Biddle, with 1,000 boxes in a diamond burlesque, available only for the elite listed in the social registers.

The first three reserving boxes for the season were said today to be E. T. Stuberly, William Randolph Hearst and E. F. Hutton.

Cocoa Woman Pays Visit To Property In Mount Plymouth

Mrs. Jessie Trafford of Cocoa visited Mount Plymouth Wednesday, Dec. 8, and stated that she was surprised at the amount of development since she purchased her lot last spring.

Mrs. Trafford stated that she had been advised from time to time as to the development which was taking place, but that the company might be stretching the story a bit. She found, however, that the Mount Plymouth corporation had kept all of its promises and had understated the amount of progress which has been made, especially in the matter of the club house.

At the time she purchased her lot at Mount Plymouth she was told that in due time a club house costing $40,000 would be built, and in a few months the beautiful club house and hotel is practically completed at a cost of approximately $350,000.

This is just another example of the conditions which have made Mount Plymouth property continue to sell fast.

Mary Garden Calls Herself A "Creator"

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Mary Garden is a creator rather than a singer, the opera star told an audience at the Woodman Theater last night.

"I am entirely in agreement with the critics when they say, as some of them do, that I am not a singer. I should be deeply humiliated were I described only as 'Mary Garden, singer.' I am not a singer, I am a creator."

The address was in connection with a concert by the French Choral Society and Miss Garden said that although she had been announced to talk on French music, she couldn't, because "I am too full of it." She talked therefore on drama, "for to me, France is music."

Knoxville Baptists Want To Prevent Visit Of Lindsey

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 11.—(INS)—The Knoxville Baptist Ministers' Association was considering further action in an effort to prevent Judge Ben J. Lindsey of Denver from speaking before the Optimist Club here next April.

In the meantime, Judge Lindsey characterized the attempt as "high, lush and poppycock."

The ministerial association recently passed resolutions asking the civic clubs to withdraw an invitation which had been extended to the jurist. The ministers based their objections on a series of articles published in the Red Book Magazine in which they allege Judge Lindsey upholds and advocates "free love."

"I am not an advocate of free love," Judge Lindsey said, "but I do recognize the fact that modern society is drifting more and more toward it every day. I am seeking a sensible and permanent cure for an evil that no sane man or woman will deny exists—and that is more than the Baptist brethren of Tennessee have ever done."

"Thus far they can lay claim only to having made their state the laughing stock of the thinking man and woman of the world."

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson Never Had Any Doubt Of Outcome Of Case

By AIMEE N. McPHERSON
(Written For International News Service)

LAS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Three things have upheld me during these months of trial. These were, first, the kindness, strength and comfort of my Heavenly Father; second, my knowledge of my innocence of the charges against me; third, the confidence and trust of my people.

Realizing that I possessed three things which I never had any doubt of the ultimate outcome of my case.

District Attorney Keyes' statement is ample that my confidence was well founded. He admits that the evidence against me was not worth bringing into court.

I am glad he found out before further prosecution that I, Mrs. McPherson's story was false, just the same as all other attacks on me have been false.

My loyal followers and countless thousands throughout the world believe in me and in what I have told the truth, and I want to thank them for their faith in me, knowing that I would be fully cleared of all falsities.

We shall go on in the work of the Lord.

Refugees Leaving Hankow With Shanghai As A Goal; Peace Parleys Under Way

SHANGHAI, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Arrival of American and other refugees here from Hankow and points up the Yangtze River illustrated to the outside world today how the Chinese dragon, with some of the characteristic blurring that marked the boxer uprising 26 years ago, has shaken the foreigners from his back.

Shanghai was the goal of all refugees as the anti-foreign situation remained in an uncertain state. The accomplishment of a peace parley in driving British and American citizens from Hankow and Kichiang is said to have resulted to the credit of the Cantonese faction.

There has been talk that the Peking government forces, may take over the foreign concessions in Hankow in an attempt to eliminate its power to the China of outside elements.

The foreign colony at Kichiang was the last to fall. Stories reaching here today indicate that the British and others withstood the threats of mobs for hours before being taken aboard ships and put under way downriver.

Hankow is reported quiet. Dispatches last night said the situation at Hankow, which has been evacuated by the British and many Americans, was quiet and that the Canton government had allowed the British to take control of the entire city.

About 100 foreigners were said to be marooned at Kichiang, just south of Kichiang, and others in distress at Nanking, farther down the river.

A ship bearing 60 American refugees from Hankow arrived here last night with her upper decks shielded with sheets of iron and snarling barricades as a precaution against having to run a gauntlet of fire on her way down the river.

Some of the women refugees reported that they had been compelled to submit to a series of indignities. Coxies threw bricks and spat at them while they boarded the ship.

Two Conference Yards.

A Hankow dispatch says there were two conferences today of British and American representatives with Eugene Chen, Cantonese Chinese minister, who vigorously protested against the recent internment of British and American interests.

Further word from Hankow tonight said that things were outwardly quiet although rabid anti-British feeling still prevailed not only there but in Wuchang, Ichang and Nanchang.

The British consul at Ichang reportedly denied a rumor that there were 45 Chinese casualties in the recent rioting at Hankow, caused by British fire. A similar report at Shanghai, except that the number of casualties was placed at 104, caused an anti-British demonstration.

The powers have made it known that they will defend Shanghai in case trouble develops there.

Nature's Strong Man

The stomach is the center of the body from which radiates our vitality, strenuously our fighting strength. A healthy stomach turns the food we eat into nourishment for the blood stream and the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery tones up the stomach walls, removes the poisonous gases from the system. Impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are expelled through the liver, bowels and kidneys. Send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

RUB CHEST COLDS AWAY: STOP PAINS

Pain and congestion is gone. Quickly!—Yes. Almost instant relief from chest colds, sore throat, backache, lumbago, follows a gentle rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

Rub this soothing oil right on your chest and like magic relief comes. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless liniment which quickly breaks up chest colds, soothes the inflammation of sore throat and breaks up the congestion that causes pain. It never disappoints and does not burn the skin.

Get a 25-cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store. It has been recommended for 65 years.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair, fully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound, it is known as Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur Compound and can be obtained at all drug stores for only 75 cents a bottle.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.
