Three men hold up two Winn Dixie stores; Jacksonville man attempts bank robbery

By Ruse White and Joe DeSantis

Staff Writers

Seminole County law enforcement agencies are investigating three armed robberies - two of them apparently related — that occurred Thursday.

"Fortunately, no one was injured at these there incidents," said Chief Deputy Steve Harriett of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. "Law enforcement agencies were put to the test. There are going to be spikes like this. You do the best to prevent them by being an omnipresent force in the community. There has been a reduced rate of this type of crime."

Two Winn Dixie stores were robbed early Thursday morning. Police said the descriptions of the men who robbed a Winn Dixie off Lake Howell Road in Winter Park at 4:30 a.m. matches similar descriptions given following a 5:23 a.m at the Winn Dixie at 926 West State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs.

The suspects in these holdups are described by witnesses as black males, 18 to 20 years old, wearing dark clothing and masks and driving a maroon 4door car. They entered the 24hour grocery stores carrying snub-nosed handguns.

Brown pulls support from HOPE VI

SANFORD — United States

Congresswoman Corrine Brown announced Thursday she no longer supports the Sanford Housing Authority's proposal to demolish 170 units of public housing.

The demolished units would make way for affordable houses, apartments and condominiums if the Housing Authority's proposal is accepted by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Brown's announcement comes in the wake of increasing protests from residents, including a march on Monday in front of Lake Monroe Terrace involving an estimated 50 to 70 tenants. Residents plan another march this coming Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Sanford's City Hall.

"My office has participated in numerous meetings with public housing residents in Sanford, and the application presented fails to meet the needs of the public housing residents," Brown (D-Jacksonville) said.

The Congresswoman said she does not believe Sanford's HOPE VI grant application to HUD provides adequate relocation plans for the displaced See HOPE VI, Page 8A engineering and planning for the City of Sanford. Construction on the trail is scheduled to start in Fiscal year 2003-2004, Marder said.

There is also $25,000 committed in next year's budget to do a master plan study for the landscaping of Fort Mellon Park. "We really don't know yet how to plan the landscaping," said City landscape architect Howard Jeffries.

Jeffries said that plans for the hotel and conference center will be made with plans for Fort Mellon Park.

"People are wondering if we will have a band shell and what it will look like," Jeffries said. "We really don't know yet."

In other action, city officials said landscaping at Memorial Park and updating the park's irrigation system will occur as key areas of the sea wall receive repairs. The city's Scenic Improvement Board recommends creating separate play areas in Ft. Mellon Park for children up to age five and for elementary children up to age 12. The Board also recommends a possible teen area and an area for senior citizens.

Other items the Board recommends include a fitness trail, night lighting, and adequate walkways throughout the park with benches, waste containers and drinking fountains.

In addition, the Board recommends creating a floral garden, and band shell, a large picnic shelter, and shade trees. Finally, there could be a water feature, such as a pool or fountain, and a larger restroom facility, the

Soon after the Lake Howell robbery, the same men are believed to have hit the Winn Dixie in Altamonte Springs, where they ordered five employees to the office and demanded money out of the safe.

As if police weren't busy enough, a stand-off at the Colonial Bank in Lake Mary Thursday afternoon made for some tense moments.

ASWAT team hostage negotiator was able to persuade Ira Lee Stafford, a 45-year-old Jacksonville man, to surrender and allow employees to leave the Colonial Bank-without anyone being injured. Lake Mary Boulevard was blocked, causing major traffic delays at evening rush hour time.

Lee Stafford's bold attempt to rob the Colonial Bank at 4:25 in the afternoon caused a silent alarm that brought dozens of Lake Mary police and Sheriff's deputies to the scene. They surrounded the building and Stafford walked out. But when he spotted the police, he went back inside.

When Stafford first entered the bank, he told employees he wanted to open an account. Soon, he pulled a handgun.

Seminole County deputy Jan Kloff, an 18- year veteran of the department made initial phone contact with Stafford.

"The first thing we try to do in situations like this is to get as much information about the suspect and as much information about what's going on inside," recounted Kloff.

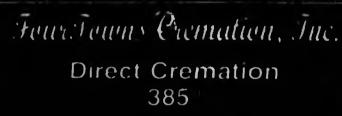

"He seemed a little anxious on the phone but was very compliant. I think he realized he had gotten himself into a real 'situation."

Kloff said Stafford made no demands concerning the hostages and expressed concern for their safety as well as his own.

"He was very adamant when he released the women that they not be hurt." Kloff said. "He wanted to make sure police knew they were being released. I offered him some suggestions about how to resolve the situation and he took

Don't wait for tragedy to bring you close to the ones you love

As the Kennedy and Bessette families mourn the loss of loved ones taken too soon, it reminds me of a childhood warning from a Bishop in my church — Don't wait for tragedy to appreciate those around you.

Sorry, Bishop, but that's easier said than done.

A childhood friend recently came down with a deadly illness. We led very different lives as adults, and I have rarely seen him in recent years. It should not have taken this tragedy for me to call him. Unfortunately, friends are taken for granted amid the sterile onslaught of daily duties.

However, there is still time to enjoy the friendship. It may take years for the illness to take effect. But there is one thing that my friend insists on - Don't let tragedy bring us together. Let friendship bring us together.

We all experience the loss of friends and loved ones. Counselors tell us about the five stages of grief. Religion tells us about what waits beyond the veil. Faith tells us that we will prevail, somehow, in ways we do not yet under-

There is no way to measure and compare tragedy. The Jewish people survived the Holocaust and countless other tragedies through the years in areas such as Germany, Poland and Russia.

Europe survived the Bubonic Plague.

Parents of one of my best friends survived the loss of their home during the Vietnam War, and a harrowing journey to a nation full of people speaking a language they did not understand.

Is the pain of a nation more terrifying than the pain of an individual? Perhaps, but try asking the Kennedy or Bessette families.

Turn on the television and the Kennedy family is on the beach or together in their family home. Tragedy brought them together.

We all have trials and tribulations. The Kennedy family has an open closet filled them. But, they also learned the lesson my Bishop tried to teach.

They come together not just in tragedy, but in love.

Now, if you'll excuse me, I need to spend time with a friend.

"The selfish, dishonest person will never know the satisfaction," Kushner said. "He will come to the end of his life having had the opportunity to be authentically human and never having taken advantage of it. For me that is the worst punishment I can imagine, even if he has no idea what he is missing. It is far worse than being dipped in boiling oil or tormented by little red figures with pitchforks." Kushner, who wrote

Many bridge pros take the money and run, putting nothing back into the game. One exception to this rule was Bobby Goldman, who died on May 16 at age 60. He will be inducted into the American Contract Bridge League

Hall of Fame on July 21.

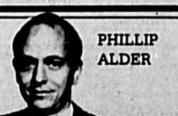

Goldman won four world championships — the Bermuda Bowl in 1970, '71 and '79, and the Mixed Teams in '72 — and 19 national titles.

This deal from the '79 Bowl was an interesting battle between Goldman and Italian Arturo Franco.

East, Franco, had to open one diamond because one club would have shown 17-plus points.

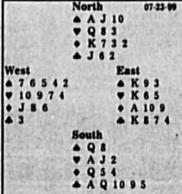

West, Dano DeFalco, decided to lead his partner's suit, Goldman taking Franco's nine with his queen. South led the spade eight to dummy's 10 and East's king. Franco exited safely with a spade, declarer overtaking his queen with dummy's ace. Goldman ran dummy's club jack, then played a club to his queen, getting the bad news.

Needing a dummy entry for a third club finesse, Goldman led the heart jack from his hand. However, realizing what was happening, Franco ducked his king. Still, it only postponed the in-evitable. Goldman continued with the ace and another club, endplaying East.

If Franco turned to diamonds, dummy's king would score. If he led a heart, it would concede two more tricks in the suit. So he exited with a spade. But that resurrected dummy's jack and gave Goldman nine tricks via two spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs. This is an excellent example of thrust and parry, with both East and South knowing the lie of the cards

Personal savings hit another low

Americans are continuing their spending as fast as they have coming into their homes, en dipping into savings. This leaves the nation's personal savings rate, which is a percentage of after tax income, at a record low of minus 0.6 percent in March 1999.

The September 1998 savings rate was a minus 0.2 percent. This 0.4 percent further decline since then indicates Americans are getting even further into debt.

Conventional advice is that we all should be saving 10 percent of our take home pay, with a goal of saving enough money to cover 6 months worth of living expenses. Discipline and deferred gratification are the key to saving. The first thing to be done to get spending under control is to Stop Spending. Don't put any more debt on credit cards. Second, stop and think before you make a purchase. Ask yourself, "do I really need it?, How much am use am I going to get out of it? Do I have something else that can be used in place of this item?

BARBARA HUGHIS

Third, waiting for a few days before making the purchase also helps. Often a substitute item can be thought of during this time that will replace what you think you need. And too, sometimes the need will go away in a few days time, because situations change.

Outcry heard against gender apartheid

DEAR ABBY: Some months ago I wrote to you describing the nightmarish situation of women in Afghanistan, stripped of even the most basic human rights by the Tal-iban militis. I asked people to join the Peminist Majority's campaign to end this cruel system of gender Reporters told me the reason the Afghan situation had received so little coverage was that their editors thought Americans aren't interested in this kind of news. The Taliban assumed that their treatment of women would be of no consequence to the rest of the world. Even the Afghan women, who thought the people of America were their last hope, were afraid to believe we would speak for them.

Well, Abby, someone forgot to tell that to your readers! To date, well over 45,000 of them have called to join our campaign. And they've made a huge impact.

The State Department tells us that the high volume of mail we have generated is historic. The campaign has received unprecedented bipartisan support, with both con-servatives and liberals offering backing and action. The president has met with us to express support for our goals and discuss ways to end gender apartheid. We've also met with United Nations officials who tell us that our campaign has put the issue of gender apartheid on the world stage.

The Taliban are now claiming they have eased some restrictions, allowing some home-schooling for girls and some segregated hospital wards for women. Those changes are unverified. But, true or not, the fact that the Taliban are making these assertions shows that they now realize the rest of the world has drawn a line in the sand over their denial of human rights to women a line the Taliban can no longer pretend not to see.

And, Abby, now the Afghan women themselves know we are speaking out for them and will continue to speak. Radio Free Europe and Voice of America have carried news of our campaign into Afghanistan, and letters have been smuggled out to us from women who are daring to hope again.

I would like to share with your more than 45,000 readers who took up their cause a letter of thanks from a woman in Kabul: "I wish I could cover you with flowers to show how grateful I am. I know I only send you a few drops of my tears as a gift. Let me call you the angels of mercy. Your love is our hope." Though she courageously signed her letter, I can't reveal her name for fear she would be killed. I hope your readers will join us in keeping up the momentum they helped our campaign to build. Our work is beginning to have world MAVIS NICHOLSON LENO, public housing residents.

"I will not support a demolition grant without seeing any solid provisions for the public housing residents who will be relocated," Brown said, "Public housing serves a crucial need in our communities, and I am very concerned about how these residents will be accommodated if their present housing is demolished."

Tim Hudson, executive director of the Sanford Housing Authority, said that he is "shocked" by Brown's announcement. On May 26, he received a letter of support for the proposal from Brown. Brown's office on Thursday requested that he return the letter of support.

"We have tried over and over again to address their concerns," Hudson said.

Hudson said he will still submit letters of support from Seminole County, Sanford Mayor Larry Dale and U.S. Reps. Bill McCollum (R-Orlando) and John Mica (R-Casselberry). HUD will announce whether the application is approved in October.

"This decentralization will allow families needing public housing a wider choice of housing developments," McCollum said in his letter, dated June 8. "The Housing Authority is making every effort to change the image of Public Housing."

If the application is approved, all 100 units of Lake Monroe Terrace, 40 units of Edward Higgins Terrace, and 30 units of Cowan Moughton Terrace would be demolished. With help from private developers, the Housing Authority would build 50 homes, plus 15 townhouses and condominiums priced at affordable housing levels, which are higher than Public Housing prices.

"HUD has said we must develop mixed-income communities," Hudson said.

Public housing residents and those holding Section 8 housing vouchers would be given preference, although the homes would be open to the community, Hudson said.

The residents asked to relocate because of the demolition would receive housing youchers to purchase a home, or the option of remaining in public housing, Hudson said. "We understand their concerns," Hudson said. "If someone tells you to leave a place where you've been living for years, you resist. No one really likes change, but change is inevitable. Public housing is changing."

Margaret Knight, a member of a group calling itself Sanford Tenants Organized for Reform of Management (STORM), said that she does not believe Hudson understands the concerns of the tenants.

"It's all about money and development," Knight said, "We have fences that need repair, and 22 houses behind me sitting empty because people can't afford the down payment. He ain't done nothing for us except evict our friends, all our friends."

Knight said that tenants have not been adequately involved in the decision making process to seek the HOPE VI grant. 5he added that the meetings Hudson has held with tenants leaves them with too many unanswered questions.

"What he (Hudson) is doing is not right," Knight said. "Tim-Hudson is not on our side. I'm glad she (Brown) changed her mind. She didn't know what was happening."

Brown on Thursday said that although HOPE VI offers economic development opportunities that can help revitalize communities, she is concerned about part of the community being left out of the application process

"In order for an application to be competitive, the residents must be included in all phases of the application preparation, planning, implementation and operation of the HOPE VI development," Brown said. Repairs to the three complexes that would be demolished under the grant application are on-going. Hudson said that the total cost of renovating the complexes so they meet City and State codes is estimated at $9.2 million.

That is more than 95 percent of the total development costs of the complexes, Hudson said. HUD recommends demolishing units when the cost of repairs exceeds 90 percent of total development costs.

That's why we're doing this," Hudson said.

A business incubator is also proposed on three acres of property located at the corner of 6th Street and Olive Avenue. Residents would receive training in a variety of job skills at the incubator, Hudson said.

He said that the opportunities people would receive through HOPE VI would reduce crimes such as the sale of drugs, decrease unemployment, and raise Sanford's property values.

Tennessee Country Saloon keeps eye on Pebble Junction in Wed. softball

By Dean Smith SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - All things would appear to be right in Pebble Junction's world as it holds a half-game lead in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Men's Spring Wednesday Night Slow Pitch Softball League with only two

But there could be a cloud coming into the picture for the league-leaders as they have games left with the third and fourth place teams. while second place Tennessee Country Saloon only has one game left against the fifth place team in the standings.

Pebble Junction and Tennessee Country Saloon took care of business Wednesday night at Pinehurst Park, but they did it in very different Pebble Junction did not even have to take the field as AAA Services did not show up for their scheduled contest.

Tennessee Country Saloon, however, very nearly saw its championship hopes end as it fell behind Courtyard by Marriott of Lake Mary 6-0 in the top of the first inning and was still trailing 16-11 before scoring six runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to take a 17-16 lead.

Courtyard by Marriott of Lake Mary answered right back, plating three runs to grab a 19-17 advantage.

Tennessee Country Saloon was up to the task, putting together its second straight six-run inning to take a 23-19 lead. Bill Marino's sacrifice fly tied the game and Dan Dougherty's two-out single put Tennessee Country Saloon

Courtyard by Marriott of Lake Mary had one more chance to pull off the upset, but could only muster a one-out double from Lee Hood before a pair of grounders to short ended the game. In the other game, Wells Contracting moved into third place as Bob Wells tossed a two-hitter and Ray Hartsfield homered and Mark Whitley drove in a pair of runs with two doubles in a 10-

O whitewashing of M.T. Muggs.

Pebble Junction is 9-1, while Tennessee
Country Saloon is 9-2. Trailing the leaders are Wells Contracting (6-4). Courtyard by Marriott of Lake Mary (5-4). Nobles Communication (3-6). AAA Services (2-8), and M.T. Muggs (1-10).

Monday at Pinchurst Park, Courtyard by Marriott and Wells Contracting will meet in a game at 8:30 p.m. that will go a long way toward deciding which team will finish third.

ABC, ESPN2 TO TELEVISE FINAL TWO RACES OF 1999 PEP BOYS INDY RACING LEAGUE SEASON

INDIANAPOLIS - ABC Sports and ESPN2 will televise the last two races of the Pep Boys Indy Racing League's 1999 schedule, network and League officials jointly announced recently.

This will give us a head start on our new contract that begins with the 2000 season and will be beneficial both to the Pep Boys Indy Racing League and to the network," said Howard Katz, president of ABC Sports. "We are pleased to be televising the season finale on ABC from the Texas Motor Speedway on October 17."

in addition, ESPN2 will televise the next-tolast race September 26 from the Las Vegas Motor Speedway.

"We are very pleased to resume our long relationship with ABC/ESPN and get a head start on next year," said Tony George, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and founder of the

Pep Boys Indy Racing League. The networks and IMS signed a five-year contract in May, which begins in 2000. ABC/ESPN will carry the Indianapolis 500 and all Pep Boys

Indy Racing League events. The announcement concerning the final two races of the season was made following an agreement with FOX Sports Network, which carried the majority of the Pep Boys Indy Racing League events in 1999. FOX Sports Network agreed to an early termination of its contract, allowing ABC/ESPN2 to televise the final two events of the season. FOX Sports Net will have televised five Indy Racing events, and FOX Sports will have televised one event at the end of the contract period. ABC Sports televised the Indianapolis 500-Mile Race and the TransWorld Diversified Services Indy 200 from Walt Disney World Speedway.

We have enjoyed our relationship with FOX," said George. The telecasts have been among the best in conveying the excitement of Indy Racing. We expect to continue working with FOX on the telecast of the inaugural United State Formula One Grand Prix at Indianapolis on September 24, 2000. Hopefully, the experience and relationship established this year will be beneficial to ali."

All 10 races in 1999 will have been televised live nationally, with three on ABC, one on FOX and six on FOX Sports Network. Similarly, the 2000 schedule calls for ABC to carry at least half of the Pep Boys Indy Racing League events, with the balance on the ESPN networks.

In its four-year history, all the races of the Pep Boys Indy Racing League have been nationally televised.
