Federal money buys sheriff more deputies

The sheriff has gained five new deputies to fight crime in Seminole County. Seminole County has been named one of nine areas in Florida that will receive federal funding under the latest round of COPS (Community Oriented Policing Service) grant awards. These awards are part of the COPS Universal Hiring Program. The COPS program was established under the Violent Crime and Law Enforcement Act of 1994. "This is just one of a few grants that we have applied for," said Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger. Grants will be made for up to 75 percent of the total salary and benefits for each officer over three years, up to a maximum of $75,000 per officer. The grant awarded to Seminole County was $375,000 for an average of $125,000 per year over three years. That $125,000 will be distributed between the five new officers that are presently in orientation according to Eslinger.

Funding begins once the new officers have been hired or on the date of the award and will be paid over the course of the grant.

In a press release issued Wednesday, United States Senator Bob Graham said, "Community policing is an invaluable addition to our state's crime prevention efforts." Graham went on to say that the money from the grants means "safer streets and families" for Florida. Over $1.5 billion in grant money was given to nine law enforcement agencies in Florida. This money will go towards the full-time and part-

Phone fraud: Much ado about nothing?

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

As the investigation of cellular phone fraud continues at the University of Central Florida, football coach Gene McDowell implied there could be much ado about nothing.

On Tuesday, United States Secret Service agents searched the Golden Knights locker room and questioned 12 players in connection with the unauthorized use of cellular telephone numbers. Among the players questioned were former Seminole County high school athletes Todd Cleveland, who played at Lyman High, and Tyson Hinshaw, who played at Lake Mary High. Conducting his own investigation, McDowell said Wednesday in a taped interview, "The best I can tell, it seems there's a whole lot less than there appears in this."

McDowell, who has so far spoken to four players, said it looked like at this point across the board some of the players purchased the phone service thinking that a salesman had sold them the service.

Magnet school to cost $14 million

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Seminole County School board members on Tuesday were told that the price tag for renovating Lakeview Middle School had nearly doubled from $7.5 million to $14 million.

Designated as a magnet school under a federal desegregation order, by next year Lakeview Middle will function as a fine arts and communication school offering a pre-international baccalaureate program.

"The renovation is necessary to bring the school up to speed," said Diane Kramer director of facilities for the school district. The additional funds required would be addressed in next year's budget, she said.

Based on cost estimates, about $6.9 million would go toward renovations; $5 million for new construction; the remainder would fund general conditions, insurance, contingency, and OH&P.

Although several board members balked at the added expense, the concept change was approved by consensus.

Representatives from the architecture firm of HKS/Harper Partners Ltd. presented a master plan of the upcoming renovation. Three proposed site plans were presented.

"The school's best asset is Lake Jenny," said project manager Matt Clear.

Clear said the existing facility offered a sound structure and shell, however, the roof, electrical wiring and infrastructure needed major work.

About 47,000 square feet would be added to the existing 134,000 square feet, which would be renovated including a new central energy plant, he said.

Courses at the school will emphasize fine arts and communication and academics will be at a much higher level in the IB program, said magnet coordinator, Walt Griffin.

Griffin also said that as another way to make Lakeview different, specialized certificates of study could be offered to students in the areas of pre-law, performing arts and communication. Students with five credit hours of specialized study could qualify for the certificates.

Lakeview Principal Jim Shupe said the new magnet program and renovation reflects a radical departure in both architecture and curriculum. Next year, he said, stu-

Teen one of first sentenced under street gang law

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is one of the first law enforcement agencies in the state utilizing the street gang recruitment law, resulting in the sentencing of a 16-year-old offender.

Victor Boyd was sentenced Wednesday by Circuit Court Judge Gene Stephenson after he pleaded guilty to one count of street gang recruiting, said sheriff's spokesman Ed McDonough.

Under the new law, which became effective in October 1996, it is a third degree felony to try to recruit a person into a street gang.

Boyd and two other teen-age suspects were arrested Feb. 24 for the beating of a 12-year-old boy who refused to join their street gang. The beating took place at the Regency Apartments on State Road 438 in Fern Park. The victim has since moved out of the state with his father, McDonough said.

Thomas Savaiano, 16, and Jeremy Eatop, 15, are scheduled to appear in Seminole County Juvenile Court today.

The street gang recruitment law was challenged as a violation of the teens' Constitutional rights, but the law was upheld. The Sheriff's Office Gang Suppression Unit continues to investigate gang activity

Bbee and the Cheers of Sanford

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

After a two month hiatus, Bbees is back.

Starting Nov. 19, Willie "Bbee" Rumph, owner and operator of the quaint Sanford restaurant will be cooking up some old favorites for the lunch crowd.

Located on 2511 Sanford Avenue, the restaurant has quite a history, according to Bbee.

"Most people remember the place as Angel's," Bbee said, adding that there have been several restaurants at the location since the early 1900s.

A native of Sanford, Bbee said he first thought of opening the restaurant when he noticed a for rent sign posted there two years ago. With no prior restaurant experience, but with plenty of interest and knowledge of cooking, Bbee opened his doors to the public.

The concept, he said, was simple. Offer good home cooking in a friendly environment where people can come in and feel comfortable.

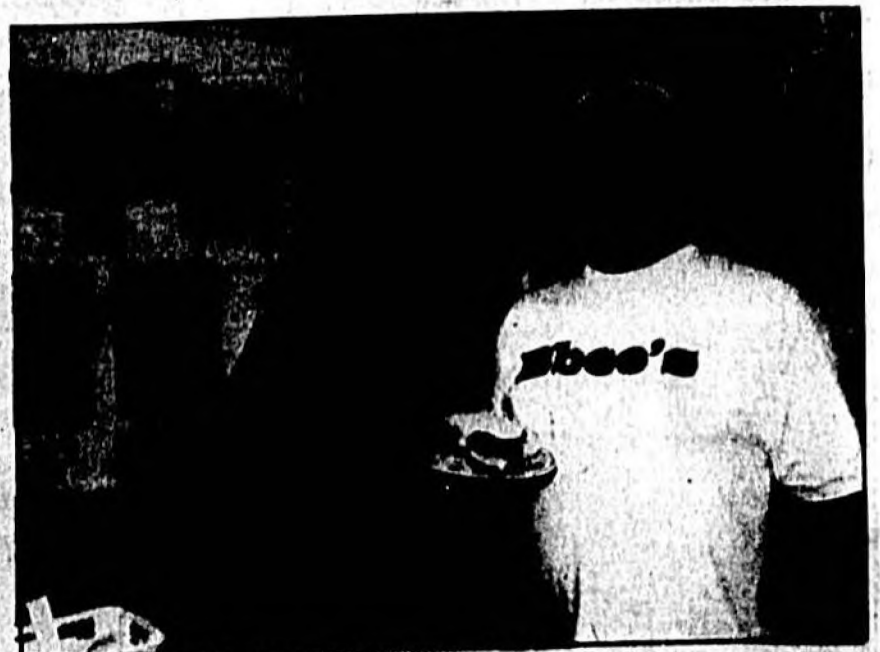

"People say I cook like their mother or grandmother," he said. "I've even gotten some marriage proposals but I'm already married."

Neighbors

Bbee said another reason people come to his restaurant is for the atmosphere and because they like his attitude.

"I come out and talk to the customers and they ask to see me. I can get people who don't even know each other to carry on a conversation. The first time I opened my doors I wanted to give people the feeling that they have been coming here forever, kind of like the Cheers of Sanford. I love it."

Wilson principal is servant for day

School gets wired for Internet with help from local company

By MARY ROWELL
Herald Correspondent

When Wilson Elementary wanted a way to increase sales for their CIA fund-raiser, someone suggested involving the principal. Suzie Crook, Wilson's principal, graciously went along with the plan. It was announced to the students that there would be a drawing from the top sellers. The winner would get the principal as their servant for a day.

The day was Oct. 16. The lucky master for the day was second-grader, Maverick Von Herbulis. Maverick's first task was to draw up a list of things he wanted his servant to do. Maverick's older brother and his friends helped out with the list.

1. Carry lunch box 2. Feed him lunch. Maverick's choice 3. Play the amplifier game 4. Eat Maverick 5. Pack up backpack 6. Clean out workspace 7. Provide a snack 8. Carry him to lunch 9. Answer to Maverick "Yes, Master" 10. Escort to car ramp and open door 11. Give Maverick a limo ride to McDonald's 12. Be Maverick's butler for the next year 13. Let Maverick eat in the teacher's lounge 14. Get Fenny Hardaway to eat with Maverick 15. Let Maverick skip a grade 16. Bring Maverick soft drinks 17. Carry Maverick's bags 18. Do whatever he says 19. Take Maverick to Toys R Us 20. Send Maverick home early 21. Let Maverick eat with three people.

Ms. Crook wrote a response to Maverick.

To My Master, Maverick Von Herbulis From Your Servant, Ms. Crook:

It was a pleasure to be your servant for the day. I found you to be a very fun and kind master. I only hope that I performed my duties to your satisfaction.

Because I am a humble servant who has very little money, I was unable to grant all your wishes today. I regret that I have not earned enough money this year so that I could have provided you with a limo ride to McDonald's and the trip to Toys R Us. I was able to get you a picture of Fenny Hardaway, even though I could not get him to come to lunch.

I look forward to next year when, perhaps again, you may be the master of the servant for a fun prize. Your humble servant, Ms. Crook.

Ms. Crook began her day as a servant by opening the car door for Maverick when his mother brought him to school. She escorted him to his room, unpacked his backpack, and hung it up for him. October 16 Home Depot came to help the second graders make bird houses. Ms. Crook helped Maverick make his. Ms. Crook took Maverick and three of his friends to lunch in the teacher's lounge. She also bought them ice cream. She didn't, however, let Maverick skip a grade.

Maverick's favorite part of the day was lunch. For her part, Suzie Crook didn't mind being Maverick's servant for a day. She's even looking forward to being it next year.

CIA plans Halloween party

By MARY ROWELL
Herald Correspondent

Wanting to offer safe Halloween fun, the Lake Mary Community Improvement Association will hold their second annual Halloween party on Friday, Oct. 31 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

There will be a costume contest, food, games, bobbing for apples, and more. And, of course, all of the little trick or treaters will get a bag of goodies.

Costume judging begins at 7:30 p.m. Age categories as follows: Under 2-years-old, 2-3-years-old, 4-6-years-old, 7-9-years-old, 10-12-years-old.

The kitchen will not be used for this event. Another group had already reserved the kitchen for Halloween.

Although it has not been confirmed, the leader of the group is rumored to be a descendant of Swiss scientist Victor Frankenstein. The group has asked for volunteers to help them with their little experiments. The squeamish need not apply.

The CIA party will be held in the Lake Mary Community Building, 260 N. Country Club Rd., Lake Mary. For more information contact president Sheila Sawyer at 321-7947.

Volunteer gives hope to job seekers

BY DAVID FRAZIER
Herald Staff Writer

You may say I'm a dreamer, but I'm not the only one. I hope some day you will join us, and the world can live as one. — John Lennon, "Imagine".

Beverly Pickney, of Lake Mary, dreams of everyone in the community having jobs. Pickney and her organization, Seminole Hope, are striving to connect those unemployed in what ever city it is that the group is sent to help with employment.

Pickney, an employee for the city of Lake Mary and the secretary of Seminole Hope, is currently busy planning another job fair to take place some time next year. It will be the third that has been done. "The second one that we had was a blast," said Pickney. "We had a very good response." There were more than 500 people that came to the civic center in Goldsboro. About 20 businesses showed up to offer employment. Pickney is aided by a job specialist from Volusia County in the choosing of the businesses that come out to the job fairs.

Her goal, eventually, for the job fairs is to have a tracking system that will allow Seminole Hope to track those who have received jobs and how they are working out. She said a tracking system should be up and working within the next two to three weeks.

Seminole Hope is a community association modeled after its sister organization, the Central Florida Coalition in Orange County. It has been running for three years since the end of 1994. It is sponsored by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and it receives funding mostly from government sources. The group is made up of randomly selected community leaders and they have a secretary, a chairman, a vice-chairman and two facilitators.

Beverly Pickney volunteers her time with Seminole Hope, to provide jobs for everyone.

Seminole Hope concentrates its efforts on areas that need the most help. Pickney said that citizens can personally come up to any member about a situation that needs correcting in the community. For instance, Pickney said that Seminole Hope conducted a "March Against Drugs" down Southeast Road, an area with drug activity. Pickney said that after the march the road was no longer a hub for drug transactions.

Pickney hopes that one day her organization will become independent without the reliance of any outside group. "I want to see it standing on its own two feet," said Pickney.

JAC - Triumph of the times

Those who attended the grand opening and dedication ceremony Wednesday for the Juvenile Assessment Center (JAC) are not likely to forget the experience.

The haunting rendition of "God Bless America" by the Seminole High School Gospel Choir was in itself a magnificent moment. As the talented youngsters sang, the emergency lights from Sheriff's Office vehicles flared splendidly.

The community collaboration to build the center indicates the leaders of Seminole County truly believe there is a way to bless America by helping young people when they need it the most. The JAC is an important partnership - a triumph of the times.

Calvin Ross, Secretary in the Florida Department of Juvenile Justice, gave a stirring address. He began by recognizing the gospel choir members and then congratulated the community leaders who had helped make the JAC a reality.

The JAC, he said, is one of 15 juvenile assessment centers in the state but the first to be run by a law enforcement agency - The Seminole County Sheriff's Office. All county law enforcement agencies will work with the sheriff's deputies in the effort. Mark Rehder and Kip Beacham will manage the JAC.

It took the cooperation of the county's commissioners, the School Board and the State Attorney's Office to raise the money, prepare the Sanford facility at 181 Bush Loop and begin assessment operations. More than 200 juveniles already have been brought to the JAC. There will be many more - the center operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The building - and the JAC program - were blessed Wednesday night by the Rev. Joseph Sitts, from the Episcopal Church of the Resurrection. So were we all.

nothing...and its not as bad today as it was yesterday," he said.

Former Knights player and AT&T employee, Patrick Brinson was arrested and has since been released in connection with the case. Brinson, a student at UCF, was allegedly involved in the use of 36 unauthorized phone numbers from AT&T Wireless Services.

David Finnerty, a UCF spokesman, said Thursday that the university will conduct its own investigation, as will the Secret Service.

"We have no reason to doubt what the players told the coach and we hope that is the case," Finnerty said. However, he added, "we have not yet interviewed the players."

"Our hope and wish is that it is true our players were scammed and were not involved."

dents will have seven period days with a minimum of two periods for exploratory courses and foreign language. The curriculum will be phased in over three years.

"We are very excited about the prospects of these implications for the future of Sanford," Bhupe said. "Now there is a real incentive to be in a Sanford attendance zone."

Bbee

Bbee said he learned about cooking from watching his mother prepare the meals for a household of eight children and numerous relatives.

"I learned by watching. There were always big pots in the kitchen and I have big pots in my kitchen too," he said.

He considers fellow cook, Al Byrd a definite asset to his establishment.

"Al use to cook at Mother's Kitchen. He's a great cook," he said.

Typical menu offerings include meatloaf, chicken and dumplings, smothered ribs, catfish, liver and onions, sliced roast beef and pork chops. Side dishes like room use to make include potato salad, mashed potatoes, okra and tomatoes, macaroni and cheese, blackeyed peas, and steamed cabbage. There is no skimping at Bbees where calories are not a consideration. Patrons come into the establishment with the intention of eating rich foods.

Known for his breakfasts, Bbee said he will start serving lunches again. And "yes," he said, there will be the Bbee burger, a half pound of fresh hamburger meat with all the fixings. Breakfast items like catfish, salmon patties, pork chops and steaks can't be found anywhere else, he said, adding that he serves up to 400 breakfasts each day.

Also in the works is a cookbook of Southern home cooking, which Bbee plans to market on the QVC network.

Bbees is open for breakfast at 8:30 a.m. every day except Sunday. Starting Nov. 19, he will be open until 3 p.m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

time employees that each agency hires.

In Seminole, Estinger said that of the five employees that the grant covers, two will be "beat" officers, two will be city and county investigators and one will be with juvenile justice. Part of the department's budget is for personal services which is where the grant comes in. Personal services includes P.I.C.A., Social Security, retirement and salary.

The United States Department of Justice considers requests from law enforcement departments about twice a year. A department submits an application for the grant and approval is based on the need by the individual department.

Science project? Consider 'Planet Ag'

Special to the Herald

TALLAHASSEE - It's the time of year that strikes anxiety in the hearts of many students -- and their parents. It's science fair project time, and many middle and high school students are beginning their annual search for interesting and exciting project ideas.

Florida Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford is encouraging students to explore the world of agricultural science when considering topics for their projects. Recently, Crawford unveiled "Planet Ag," an Internet web site packed with information to assist students in selecting a topic and carrying out their science fair project.

"As a father of two, I know first-hand what students go through in getting started on their science fair projects," Crawford said. "We launched this web site to coincide with the beginning of the school year, when students are receiving their science fair assignments and wondering, 'Now, how do I get started?'"

"Planet Ag" provides students with an explanation of the scientific method, from choosing a topic and stating a hypothesis, to deciding on a procedure and recording the results. The web site also provides a sample project for students to review, as well as look at previous winners' projects.

Among the hundreds of science fair project ideas featured at Planet Ag are:

- How are seeds and seedlings affected by gravity?
- How can a seedless watermelon be grown from seed?
- How are molds and bacteria used to enhance the flavor of some foods?
- How is the nutritional value of foods determined?

"Planet Ag" also provides an overview of the importance of agriculture to Florida, and examines many interesting career possibilities in agricultural science -- including biochemist, marine scientist, plant pathologist, forester and agricultural economist -- and offers suggestions to students on courses to take in high school and college.

"Agriculture has evolved into a high-tech industry that will require talented, scientifically inclined people to guide it into the next millennium," Crawford said. "We need to encourage today's bright young students to become interested in agriculture and excited about its role in our planet's future."

"Planet Ag" is accessed on the Internet at www.fl-ag.com/PlanetAg. For students who don't have Internet access, Planet Ag is available on diskette by calling 1-800-357-4273 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

And there's an added incentive for students to consider an agricultural topic for their science fair. Crawford will present a $1,000 Savings Bond to one middle school and one high school student whose agricultural projects are selected as winners during the State Science and Engineering Fair of Florida competition, April 1-3, 1998, in Lakeland.

Confidence abounds on eve of Magic NBA opener

SANFORD For fans of the Orlando Magic, this is the best time of the year. The Magic are in first place. Penny Hardaway leads the league in scoring. Every move John Gabriel has made on the off season has worked out.

There are also 29 other teams in the NBA who have similar opinions tonight on the eve of opening night to the season.

For the Magic, it's been an interesting off-season. When we last left the Magic, Darrell Armstrong had become a pop culture icon. Penny seemed on the verge of taking over as the heir to the Air and Chuck Daly, who will be collecting Social Security at the same time he collects hundreds of millions from the Magic, became the savior to the franchise.

Things stayed that way until Dennis Scott turned into Marilyn Manson in front of a bunch of kids in Virginia, then the wheel started turning.

Dennis was sent, along with his three-pointers, to a basketball hell in Dallas. He'll be able to rap his way in a place where Billy Ray outranks Snoop Doggy on the album charts, to a typical 20-win season for the Mavericks.

In return, the Magic did okay getting Derek Harper, a steady, longtime NBA point guard who will be a soothing presence in the battlefield that was the Orlando locker room last year.

There were some other salaries sent to Orlando with Harper but they are already forgotten.

Then, the Magic got rid of Brian Shaw, mostly known during his stint in Orlando for flipping a "we're number one" sign with the wrong finger last year, and David Vaughn who dated some famous women but is still single. Maybe they looked at the DNP's on his stat sheet.

For him, the Magic got the second best point guard of the 80s and early 90s, Mark Price. He's been described as fragile but if he's healthy, he can give some rest to the aging Harper and give the Magic some stability.

That's the key thing. Stability.

Last year's roller coaster ride through a bumpy season gave everybody headaches as a group that came up as young upstarts that reached the NBA Finals far too early, didn't know how to mature. The season was a waste as no one stood up to take charge of the situation until it was too late. Then, the popular choice was to fire the coach.

Anyone who knows basketball knows that Price and Harper never would have cooperated with the Magic Mutiny of '97. Another newcomer, Bo Outlaw, probably wouldn't have either.

Outlaw is a fierce rebounder who plays like a straight Dennis Rodman. Points mean nothing to him as long as he gets to carry his lunch pail to work every night and bruise his way to a win.

Those are the three players that will decide the season.

The old standbys - Penny, Derek Strong, Rony Seikaly, Nick Anderson - are all back and, except for Anderson, we all know what to expect.

The key thing isn't Penny and the gang, it's whether or not the Magic can make the transition of being a young, cocky team to a veteran team with pride in itself. This team is light years away from the one that got slammed by Houston in the finals (was that only three years ago?).

Orlando has the ability to be the best team in the east, especially with Scottie Pippen gone until the beginning of 1998 in Chicago and the loss of Alonso Mourning in Miami.

It can also end up 32-50. It all depend on how fast the Magic can grow up.

Extra, extra point: The Magic announced Wednesday that Friday's season-opening game will start at 7:20 p.m. instead of the traditional 7:30 p.m.

Last Second Shot: Can anyone tell me who won the World Series or if it's even over yet. I fell asleep around midnight Sunday and it was still the third inning.

Then again, don't tell me. I stopped caring.

Seminole succumbs Top-seeded Oak Ridge ousts Tribe from 5A-5

By KELLIE WERNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD Last night, the Seminole girls' volleyball team fell to Oak Ridge in the second round of the District 5A, Class 5 playoffs in straight games.

Despite the loss, the players proved that they had come a long way from the team that had to be taught the very basics when the season started.

Three seniors and coach Beth Corso worked hard this year to improve a team that was young and inexperienced but had talent and desire.

"After the game I told them about all of the work we have to do to get ready for next season," Corso said. "The volleyball season is very short and it's too bad that when we finally start to do well and put things together, it's over. The youth of the team showed tonight and they just couldn't handle the pressure on the floor."

Oak Ridge came at the Lady Noles with six seniors who stood up and carried their team. Seminole had a lot of trouble passing and that set Oak Ridge up well.

Despite their inexperience, Corso felt that the team was ready to play and had gone over the game plan with her players. Corso also said that the team's shortcomings were the direct result of the pressure.

While the team had already beaten Pine Ridge on Wednesday in addition to twice during the regular season and both Spruce Creek and Deltona, who were on the other side of the draw, the fact that they had never played Oak Ridge might have been cause for concern to the team.

Several players had good nights, including seniors Sarah Luke, Sonja Watson and Lindsay Keeler in addition to Courtney Newman and Kim Nelson, both of whom have matured greatly over the nine week season.

Seminole will have just under 10 months to condition, play club ball and become closer as a team. Since only the three seniors will be lost to graduation, Corso has the opportunity to return every other player on the squad and move up her pick of the junior varsity players.

"Not only do these girls need to gel as a team, they need to set their priorities," Corso said. "Playing club ball and getting into the gym will help them do that. We have a lot of work to do if we expect to be successful next year."

With all of the talented players returning and the added experience they will gain over the Sea Tribe, Page 2B

Brantley, DeLand advance in 6A-3

By JEFF BERLINICKE
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY For some teams, a winning record and the best team they've had in years would have been a great season.

For the Lake Brantley girls' volleyball team, that's not enough.

The Lady Pats came into the season ready to finally break through the one-two punch of Lake Mary and Oviedo in county play. Lake Brantley got off to a nice start and appeared to be a threat for a spot in the state playoffs, but 11 losses followed and it seemed the Patriots would once again finish third and out of post season play.

But Lake Brantley got hot near the end of the season and forged its way into the District 3 Final Four with a sometimes erratic 15-9, 15-6 win over Lyman in the opening round of district play last night at Lake Mary.

The win means the Patriots will take on Oviedo tonight while host Lake Mary takes on district newcomer DeLand which beat Lake Howell, 15-10, 15-5 in the opening game last night.

Lake Brantley started off slowly, trailing Lyman 7-4 in the first game before junior Dana Gorman started slamming away at the net and the Patriots came back into the match.

The last time Lyman led all night was at 9-8, then the Patriots ran away to take an easy win.

"There was no way we should have been behind," senior Rachel Sitkoff said. "We needed to pick up our game but coach told us there was no reason to panic."

The Patriots never had to panic in the second game. After Lyman ripped off a quick 2-1 lead, it was all Lake Brantley. Gorman dominated at the net along with Sara Winchell, Megan Helmers was doing a strong job serving and the usual standout, Carrie Arago, playing before the coach from Florida State University which is recruiting her, was her normal self, pounding away at Lyman all night.

Arago may be the best player in Central Florida and proved it last night.

"We were ready tonight," Arago said. "We got hot when it counted the most."

Lake Brantley coach Stan Cutler said his team was looking past the Greyhounds.

"It was tough to focus tonight," Cutler said. "We were looking ahead at playing Oviedo tomorrow (tonight). All four teams left are excellent and the best team will win."

The Lions and Patriots split their season series with each team winning once.

The Lyman Greyhounds put up a game effort, but they proved to be no match for the No. 3 seeded Lake Brantley Patriots in the quarterfinals of the Class 6A-District 3 Girls' Volleyball Tournament at Lake Mary High School Wednesday night.

Pebble Junction takes Chase lead

From Staff Reports

SANFORD Bob Markoe's sacrifice fly scored Mike Miller with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning as Pebble Junction rallied from a 3-1 deficit to edge Lillie Quinn DDS 4-3 to keep the title race alive and take over leadership of the Sanford Recreation Department Men's Fall Wednesday Night Slowpitch Softball League at Chase Park.

Lillie Quin came into the night with a half-game lead and looked like it might all but clinch the championship when Tony Smith led off the game with a triple and scored on a single by Raymond Hartsfield.

SYFA wins two, ends year at home Saturday

Special to the Herald

SANFORD It was a long full day of great football at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium last Saturday as the Sanford Youth Football Association Seminoles played the conference leading Daytona Beach Bucs.

The first game of the day was the Junior Pee Wee's and coach Kendrick's squad needed a victory to keep its hopes a playoff wild card spot alive.

It was Cavese Ricardson who came up with the biggest catch in his short career, a fine jumping catch in a crowd of Bucs defenders. It was the only score of the day as Freddie Davis had a key sack in the closing minutes as the 'Noles survived 7-0.

For the second week in a row the Junior Pee Wee's have knocked off a division-leading team and is quickly earning the nickname Giant Killers.

The Mitty-Mites dropped its third straight game in the final minutes, 30-27.

The Pee Wee's saw their playoff hopes grow a little dimmer as the Bucs clinched the conference title with a 20-0 victory. The game was scoreless until Daytona Beach got its offense in gear in the second half. Morrell Byrd played his finest game ever (fumble recovery, interception) and also stopped a potential touchdown run at the end of the half that kept the game scoreless at intermission.

The Junior Midget's also suffered their third straight loss, 12-0, with the Bucs' touchdowns coming late in the first half and late in the fourth quarter.

The Senior Midgets continued to play well under new quarterback Andre Raines and upset the Bucs 40-13. Justin McKinney caught two touchdown passes and Darryl Wright and Reno Williams hauled in one each. Victor Blue, Mark McNealy and Doug "Iron Man" Waliguraki also had great games.

We would also like to thank Senior Midget cheerleaders Cynthia Martin, Latoya Brown, Dominique Bryant, Stephanie Burke, Tiffany Hunter, Erica Jackson, Kristen Dean, Monique Martin, Jessica Richardson and Jennifer Waliguraki for their never ending support.

Psoriasis can cause painful arthritis

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have psoriasis. I also have very painful joints, which my doctor is unable to explain or treat effectively. Are the two related?

DEAR READER: Definitely. Psoriatic arthritis is a recognized complication of this common skin disease. The reasons for this are unknown. Also, it's unclear why some patients with psoriasis suffer from severe arthritis, while other psoriatic patients do not.

interfere with swallowing. Should I simply ignore this and stick to soft, ended foods?

DEAR READER: Not in my opinion. Your tonsils may have grown or become chronically infected. If they interfere with swallowing or breathing, they should be removed. Make an appointment with an ear-nose-and-throat specialist for an examination and advice about how best to resolve this problem.

In general, the treatment for this affliction is the same as that for other forms of arthritis: Anti-inflammatory pain medications (Motrin, Voltaren, Lidine, and others). In addition, methotrexate, an anti-metabolite, often helps the pain AND the skin lesions in psoriatic arthritis.

wouldn't restrict these or any other fruit in your diet.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Ever since I was a kid (50 years ago), I've had trouble with my tonsils. Lately, I've noticed that they are hard and painful and Ask your doctor to refer you to a rheumatologist, a specialist in arthritis, who should be able to prescribe appropriate therapy to relieve your discomfort.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am 71 years old. For the past few months, I've noticed black and blue areas that just appear in various places on my body. I'm not taking any medicine and feel well, but these purple areas are embarrassing.

DEAR READER: I believe that you are describing a condition called "spontaneous bruising," the appearance of bruises without significant injury or trauma.

Ordinarily, this symptom is a red flag for doctors, because it may reflect a serious blood disorder, such as leukemia. Fortunately, this is not always the case; vitamin deficiencies and low platelet (blood cell) counts can also cause bruising. Further, we all tend to bruise more easily as we age and our skin becomes thinner.

The problem you have is probably due to an abnormality in the speed with which your blood clots. Therefore, you need to be examined by your doctor and have several blood tests to check your clotting factors, as well as the blood cells themselves. Don't delay. If left untreated, this clotting deficiency might worsen, leading to internal hemorrhage.

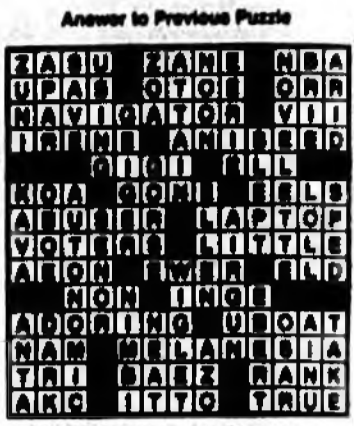

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have diverticulosis. Can I eat raisins?

DEAR READER: Sure. Diverticulosis is a common condition marked by tiny sacs that form in the intestinal lining. Occasionally, these sacs can become inflamed and cause diverticulitis.

Traditionally, doctors have prohibited such patients from eating roughage and fruits with small seeds, the theory being that such indigestible seeds could cause diverticulitis.

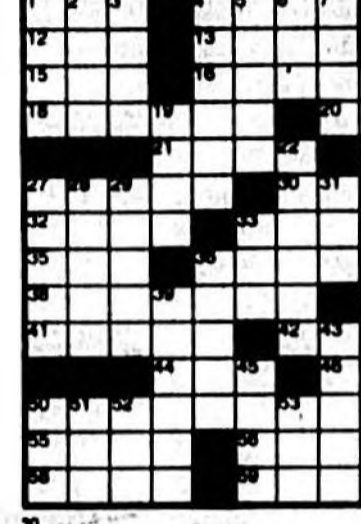

This prohibition is unnecessary for most patients. You should exercise moderation in eating raisins, but I

WIN AT BRIDGE

The morning after the night before

By Phil Alder

The final bulletin at the Summer Nationals is just a result sheet, put out the morning after the tournament finishes. Its top story was the victory in the Spingold by Grant Baze, Tipton Golias and four Polish champions, Cezary Balicki, Adam Zmudanski, Marek Szymonowski and Marcin Lesniewski. In the final, they beat Jimmy Cayne, Chuck Burger, Mark Feldman, Alan Sontag, Michael Seamon and Mike Passell, 152-118.

On this deal, both teams played in four spades. For the winners, it was declared by North. Understandably, East led his singleton heart. Also understandably - but fatally - West won with the ace and gave his partner a ruff. Yet now declarer could drive out the spade ace, draw trumps, and claim 10 tricks via one spade, three hearts, one diamond, one club, two diamond ruffs in hand (North) and two club ruffs in the dummy. If West had ducked the first trick to North's king, the contract could have been defeated.

In this auction, Szymonowski's one-diamond opening guaranteed at least a five-card suit. After Lesniewski's pre-emptive three diamonds, North's double showed length in the black suits.

After winning trick one with dummy's diamond ace, declarer continued with the spade king, which East ducked. Then came the heart king to West's ace. Now Lesniewski defended brilliantly. Resisting the temptation to give his partner a heart ruff, he continued with his second trump, allowing East to win with the ace and play a third round. With the bad heart and club splits, the declarer could no longer make his contract.

HOROSCOPE

Your Birthday

Friday, Oct. 31, 1997

Two significant but unrelated interests may dominate a large portion of your attention in the year ahead. In order to take full advantage of both, it's best to treat them separately.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Do not be in too much of a hurry to finalize an important arrangement today. In your haste, you might not get as good a deal as you could if you're patient. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) When socializing with friends today, don't monopolize the conversation. Give everyone a chance to participate and enjoy themselves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Forego trying to impress your companions by being lavish with your resources today. Your extravagance now might have you wanting later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Today you may be too insistent upon having others do what you want to do. Make your presentation, but back off graciously if you are outvoted.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Avoid reading derogatory meanings into the comments of others today. If not, you might end up with wounded feelings when no malice was intended.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It is best to be a trifle cynical today regarding proposals brought to you by people you don't know too well. Follow your instincts.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try to avoid any competitions today. If you get involved in a challenge, don't make winning so important that you lower your standards to do so.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Some of your stronger views could offend your audience today. If you see that your words are antagonizing your listeners, back off and change the subject.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try not to make material requests of others today, even from people who owe you favors. Do the best you can with available resources.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Take care that you're not thrown into the middle of a dispute between two warring factions today. You don't want to be considered a traitor by either party.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You may be inclined to make an impulsive promise today that you won't be able to fulfil. Do not assume the obligation if you can't deliver the goods.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Have fun and enjoy yourself today, but don't overspend your budget or overindulge yourself physically. You could be out of step in both venues.
