2 Carter Appointees To Quit Clubs; 3 Others Silent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top-level Carter administration appointees say they will quit private clubs that have no black members and do not routinely accept women. Atty. Gen. designate Griffin Bell and Thomas "Bert" Lance, named to head the OMB, said they would drop their memberships in private clubs in Atlanta and Savannah, Ga. None of the clubs have black members. But there is no word yet that three other Carter nominees would give up their membership in similar exclusive clubs. The three are Michael Blumenthal, named to be Treasury secretary; Dr. Harold Brown, secretary of defense-designate; and Cyrus Vance, Carter's choice for secretary of state.

Wind Is Key In Oil Spill

BOSTON (AP) — Marine experts are hoping that an expected wind shift will keep a 100-mile long carpet of heavy oil from encroaching on the rich fishing grounds of Georges Bank. But that's all they can do — hope. Forecasters said the wind would reverse from southeasterly to northwesterly today and could hold off the oil slick, which is spreading from the tanker Argo Merchant, wrecked on the shoals off Nantucket Island.

Mother Has 3rd Set Of Twins

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Beating odds of 512,000 to one, Margaret Murphy has done it again — she's had her third set of fraternal twins. "I guess my reaction was I really wasn't too surprised since it happened before," the 36-year-old mother said Thursday, one day after the twin boys were born.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Thousands Of Pilgrims Flock To Bethlehem

BETHLEHEM, Occupied West Bank (AP) — Thousands of Christian pilgrims were arriving today to celebrate "tidings of great joy" with bells, carols and a solemn Mass in the town where Christ was born. Some 20,000 visitors were to arrive here Christmas Eve on buses that have to have special passes to come near the cramped and winding streets of this hilltop town. Strict military security has been imposed by Israeli soldiers to guard against terrorist attacks.

Youths, Police Clash

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Thousands of youths protesting the arrest of Communist leader Santiago Carrillo have clashed with police in Madrid's central square for a second night.

An estimated 3,000 to 4,000 young people threw rocks, raised clenched fists and hoisted red flags in front of police headquarters Thursday night. Police chased the demonstrators through side streets and threw smoke bombs to disperse them. No arrests or injuries were reported.

Connell, Klosky Defend Fisher At Hearing

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer
A judge for the Florida Division of Unemployment Compensation has continued until "sometime in January" hearings in the City of Longwood's efforts to stop former Public Works Director Ralph Fisher from collecting unemployment compensation. An appeal by City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. for an exact time in early January was denied.
Julian, who stood with Mayor James R. Lorman, also representing the city at the hearing Thursday in a tiny room at the Crane's Rost office park in Altamonte Springs, asked for the new hearing to be set for Jan. 3. Mayor-elect Gerard Connell is to take office that day.
It had been expected that action would be completed Thursday in the matter; but the unexpected arrival of Connell and former city councilmen William Klosky and B.L. (Slick) Helms to testify on Fisher's behalf brought the announcement from the judge that the hearing would be continued.

Around The Clock Page 4-A

He said he had allotted only 30 minutes for the hearing, had not anticipated so many witnesses, and had other hearings later in the day.
Klosky, who served on the city council for one term from January, 1972, to January, 1974, and was elected one of those years, as chairman of the board, asked to testify Thursday because he is scheduled to go into the hospital for major surgery after Christmas.
Helms indicated he will return as many times as necessary to get his testimony into the record.

3 Cities Await Grant Approval

Projects for three Seminole County cities have been placed on a list of projects found worthy of receiving federal grants under the public works program.
Requested grants from the three municipalities total $1.85 million. It has been stressed by Rep. Bill Chappel (D-Ocala) that the cities and projects were included on a published list of those that far found worthy, but that none of the cities has received grant approvals.

The cities and projects include: Altamonte Springs, $1.25 million for construction of a law municipal law enforcement complex adjacent to the city hall; Orlando, $480,000 to complete a paving project of streets and repairs. The city began a paving project and spent $400,000 in city funds some time ago; and Winter Springs, $120,000 to extend fire mains into the Ranchlands area down Hays Road for fire mains.

Mayor Troy Piland stressed today that the city owns the fire mains even though it does not own the water system and that the fire mains are maintained by the city.
Thursday, unofficial word was received that grants under the public works program have been approved by the Economic Development Administration for the new law enforcement center at Five points for the sheriff's department, $4.69 million; $1.5 million for Sanford's proposed new city hall complex and $200,000 for water system expansion and improvements for Lake Mary.

Klosky testified about a barbecue pit that he had had Fisher build in 1973 for the boys baseball league. This was one of the points brought out in an investigation by State Attorney Abbott Herring's office — that someone in the public works department had on city time or at least with some parts belonging to the city built Klosky a barbecue pit.
Klosky said that he had appealed to a Longwood business man for donation of large oil drums to the city, between 20 and 50 of them, planning to use them as trash barrels at the city's mini-parks.
Klosky said he took one to Fisher, asking that it be cut in half and made into a barbecue pit. He said the grill was put together at the city garage, hinges installed between the halved drum, and legs welded on.
The former councilman said he assumed the legs were made from scrap pipe belonging to the city and didn't know where the hinges came from.
Klosky said he requested the work not as a councilman, but as a person interested in Seminole's boys baseball teams, and that the barbecue has been used on many outings for the boys and has never been used by Klosky for his own or his family's benefit.
Fisher's attorney, James Piggatt, brought out testimony from Klosky that Fisher was aware that Klosky was a councilman when the request was made.
Klosky said he saw nothing wrong with the barbecue pit being made at the city garage and that the city maintains a ballfield for the teams. Active with the boys' baseball teams, Klosky said, "When it comes to the youth of the area, it doesn't matter how or where I could get anything for them. It didn't cost the city a dime for the materials."
During his term of office, Klosky said, he had found Fisher doing an excellent job. In answer to a question from Julian, Klosky said there was no inventory of the street department. "I never saw Fisher work on the barbecue during working hours," Klosky said.

Klosky said that he never saw or heard of any marijuana being grown on city property. According to testimony given in depositions to Herring's office, there was one plant that may have been marijuana grown on city property and that Fisher saw an employee watering it one day.
Fisher was fired after 11 1/2 years as a city employe in September for "misuse of city property, tools, supplies and time."
The action was recommended by Lorman and approved by a 3-2 vote of the council with Connell and Councilman Parker Anderson opposing.
Several weeks later, Julian worded motions for councilmen for the specific purpose of stopping Fisher from collecting unemployment compensation.

...Jail Construction

that, in the interim before the south Sanford complex is completed, space will be available to house women prisoners. Presently women prisoners are being "farmed out" to city and county holding facilities in Orlando.

Once the new jail complex is completed, Proudfoot said, the county will be able to accept federal prisoners, who now must be housed at the Orange County Jail, plus receive revenue by renting vacant cell space to other counties for housing of their prisoners.

Studies show that Seminole's population has increased from 33,700 in 1970 to almost 140,000 now. The increase is projected to reach 182,000 persons by 1980.
The present jail, damaged by a June 1975 fire that killed a correctional officer and 10 inmates, has consistently housed inmates over capacity for a number of years.

NEW JAIL COMPLEX SITE IS NORTH OF OTHER COUNTY BUILDINGS.

Couple Gets $600,000, Live in Fear Of Robbery

MIAMI (AP) — The wife of a former Miami waste collector given a $600,000 settlement for an accident injury says she and her husband live in fear of being robbed.
"We don't have the money yet," Corrine Dense said Thursday. "And we won't ever have it here in the house, but those teen-agers around here don't know that and they won't care."
"A lot of them are on junk and when they want a fix, they just break in somewhere and steal stuff."

Syndrome Kills Floridian

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — One person in Florida has died from the Guillain-Barre syndrome since Sept. 1, but she had not been vaccinated against swine flu, state health officials say.
Another 16 Floridians have contracted the temporary paralytic condition and 13 of them had received some type of flu vaccination, a spokeswoman for the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services said Thursday.

Bevis Hits Refund Estimate

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Public Service Commissioner Bill Bevis says contentions that a Supreme Court ruling will result in a $54-million refund to Florida Power & Light Co. customers are way off the mark.
Bevis also said Thursday that the some 1.7 million customers and former customers affected by the ruling won't be getting any refunds for probably five months, if not longer.

2-Year-Old Beaten To Death

MIAMI (AP) — A Miami man has been charged with second-degree murder in the beating death of a 2-year-old girl who was left in his care while her mother visited a health clinic.
Abraham Wallace, 23, who was cleared of charges in another death six months ago, was arrested on second-degree murder charges in the slaying Tuesday of Rowanda Williams, police said.

Navy Cutback Plan Scrapped

KEY WEST (AP) — The U.S. Navy has decided not to cut back the number of people stationed at its Boca Chica air station just outside Key West, a spokesman for Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., says.
"The study undertaken last March has been completed and no change in the current status of the Naval Air Station will be made," Barbara Burris, Fascell's press secretary, said Thursday.

Inmate Hangs Himself

MIAMI (AP) — A Miami man who said he murdered for love in 1969 has taken his own life at Florida State Prison in Raiford, prison officials say.

Burial was scheduled today in Miami for Eugenio Rojas. Raiford officials said he hanged himself with a bedsheet in his prison cell Tuesday.
"I killed for love and now my life is ruined," Rojas had told police in 1969 after slaying the throat of Miami housewife Paula Turner. He was convicted of first-degree murder in 1973 and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Nephew Pleads Innocent In Altamonte Slaying

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A Jan. 31 circuit court trial date has been set for an Altamonte man accused of slaying his uncle on Dec. 9 in a citrus grove at Altamonte Springs.

A plea of innocent was entered for Tilden Charles Walsh Jr., 40, on Thursday when he was arraigned in county court on a grand jury indictment charging first-degree murder in the death of Harold Walsh, 73-year-old former owner of the Madison et Jardin restaurant at Altamonte Springs.
Tilden Walsh is being held without bond in county jail pending trial. He was arrested a short time after a man shot and killed Harold Walsh as he grazed citrus trees in a grove near his home.
An autopsy showed the elder Walsh, who investigators said hadn't seen his nephew in 15 years, was shot three times — twice in the back and once in the head — apparently from close range.

Minutes later deputies reported a window at ABC Liquors, U.S. 17-92 and Wildmore, Longwood, was smashed by vandals.
Deputies said unknown persons apparently used slingshots to hurl marbles through windows at two residences in the Forest Brook and Lake Howell Road areas of south Seminole.

Deputies said unknown persons apparently used slingshots to hurl marbles through windows at two residences in the Forest Brook and Lake Howell Road areas of south Seminole.
Deputies said a third suspect fled the scene leaving behind a bicycle.
Thompkins Land Co. officials reported vandals broke into a vacant house at 1255 Balsa Dr., Trillwood Estates, south Seminole, and caused $1,500 to $2,000 damage to walls, carpeting and kitchen cabinets.
Deputies reported Charles M. Moore, of Orlando, was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital, Sanford, for a cut over his left eye Thursday afternoon after a bulldozer overturned near U.S. 17-92 south of Sunland Estates, Sanford.

Sanford police reported vandals slashed six tires on two cars at Joe Creamons Inc., U.S. 17-92. Damages were estimated at $450.
Deputy Arthur Price and detective Dave Dugan arrested two juvenile boys, ages 13 and 16, after watching three youths in an orange grove on E.E. Williamson Road at I-4 throw fruit off an overpass at cars on the four-lane divided highway.

By REV. RAYMOND CROCKER
Palmetto Avenue Baptist Church

Peace real peace, is not in a treaty. Peace is not in a certain set of circumstances. Peace, God's peace, is in a person. The parents brought the Child to the Temple. The aged Simeon took the Babe in his arms, looked into His face, and then lifting his eyes to heaven said, "Let the servant depart in peace... for mine eyes have seen Thy salvation." He could die in peace because he had seen the salvation of God's peace, God's salvation was, and is, in the person of Jesus Christ. Is peace on earth the impossible dream? Only to those individuals and to those nations who refuse to look into the face of the Lord Jesus Christ and confess that He is the only Saviour is it impossible. That humble soul who in faith will confess Jesus Christ as Lord and as his only hope for heaven will know peace. Peace of heart, peace of mind can only be built on the foundation of peace with God.

Peace with God is possible. Peace to live in, peace to die in is possible because almost two thousand years ago a Babe was born to die. He came to give His life. He came to collect the wages owed to every sinner. "The wages of sin is death." Having no sin of His own, He was able to die for the sinner. When by faith the sinner gives His sins to the Lord and receives His righteousness in His Christmas without Christ. Many will. But you cannot have that peace that passes understanding without Him. You cannot have Him without receiving Him.

Jeannie C. Riley Is Back On Farm

NEW YORK (AP)—She had made the big-time, acquiring money, acclaim and lavish living. But it came empty to her and false. The desolation persisted until she saw the star, and her bull-up image as a tart-tongued, miniskirted rebel fell her disillusioned.

"I'd achieved my goals but I was miserable," she said. She recalled that as a small-town girl from Anton, Texas, she had had pored over mail-order catalogs, dreaming of fancy clothes, a big house, chauffeur cars, the limelight of attention.

"But it didn't bring happiness," she said. "I knew there had to be something greater, something more. Things began to happen in my conscience."

Then a "miracle happened" on that strange afternoon in a Texas eatery, she said, and "God worked his way into my heart and changed my life."

"I put my former look-together, she said, noting that she and her husband have remarried and now live on a farm outside Nashville, Tenn., where she works at the Forest Hills Baptist Church.

"It's done so much for me, it was a matter of breaking my pride, of taking my eyes off myself, or making me more content with what I have. It's a rebirth. I'm happy now, happier than I've ever been, and it's for real."

Church Construction Expected To Increase

Financing and construction of new Florida churches and church related facilities during 1977 is expected to double 1976 figures. This is the projection of B. Forrest Thompson, president of American Heritage Institutional Securities, Inc.

"The Orlando firm is the largest Florida-based bond service company dealing exclusively in church related securities and financing."

"In closing out 1976 we are already involved with 11 churches of various denominations throughout the state," says Thompson "that are expected to begin expansion programs totaling more than $2.5 million in the first quarter of 1977. This is double the same period of 1976."

Included in the new construction plans are two sanctuaries, seven multi-purpose educational facilities and two gymnasiums. Four of the projects are scheduled for northern Florida, one and six for southern Florida.

"Church construction has always been a good barometer of the general economy," says Thompson. "We believe this early surge in new church related expansion programs for 1977 is indicative of an even stronger economic recovery expected later in the year."

As a full-service bond company American Heritage has within its corporate structure both a programming and marketing division.

The Program Division, under the direction of Milton M. Russ, works directly with the individual church or institution in analyzing its financial needs, structuring its bonding capabilities, and assisting the church in conducting and underwriting of the bonds within its own congregation and circle of influence.

In the event a church or institution desires assistance in selling bonds outside of its own membership, American Heritage has available the full services of its Marketing Division. Headed by Robert L. Noble, this department conducts state-wide advertising and placement of bonds.

Christmas Eve Services Slated

The Christmas Eve Candlelight Service at Messiah Lutheran Church, 510 N. Hwy. 17-92 (just south of Dog Track Road) in Casselberry, will be at 11 p.m. today. Holy Communion will be celebrated. The sermon on the topic "Your Greatest Christmas" will be given by Pastor, L. Franklin Dorton.

There will be singing of Carols by the congregation. The Senior Choir will sing "A Child of Hope" by Lani Smith. Soloists are William H. James and Alice Dorton. Assistants in the service are Edward Curdoff, Dr. J. Donald Lynch, Eleanor Carveth, Greg Carlson and Brian Marenkov.

On Sunday at the a.m. service the Senior Choir will sing the Christmas Cantata, "Night of Miracles" by John Peterson. Soloists are William H. James, Janet Hayner, Norma Klebaum, Florence Edmunds and Mildred Blair. Director is Lillian James and Organist is Joyce Mayden.

The public is invited to both services.

Oviedo Baptist

"Christmas Eve by Candlelight" will be the theme of the service tonight at the First Baptist Church of Oviedo. The church will be observing the ordinance of the Lord's Supper during the service.

Singing traditional Christmas carols, reading the Christmas story, and a Christmas devotional by Pastor Bill Marr will all be a part of the service for the entire family. Families from all over the community are invited to come together for a celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ.

In order to permit families to spend Christmas Eve together, the service will be from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Out-of-town guests will be especially welcome at the worship service illuminated softly by candlelight.

Persons of all faiths are cordially invited to Christmas Eve by Candlelight at the church located in the center of Oviedo at the junction of SR 426, 520, and 419.

Ascension Lutheran

Ascension Lutheran Church of Casselberry will celebrate the Nativity of Jesus Christ with two Christmas Eve Candlelight Services tonight at 7:00 and the second service at 8:30. The Ascension Choir will sing and the service will conclude in Candlelight.

Christmas Day will be commemorated with a 10 a.m. Christmas Matins Service. Pastor Seaman will deliver the message, "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Eve," at 7:30 p.m. Ascension is located on Overbrook Drive just off 17-92. The public is invited.

Grace Methodist

Grace United Methodist Church, 118 W. Airport Blvd., Sanford, will have a Christmas Candlelight Service on Christmas Eve, at 7:30 p.m. The service will include singing Christmas Carols, scripture reading and a sermon, and will conclude with the singing of Silent Night. As the candles are lit by the congregation, all the people will recess to sing outdoors around the Live Nativity Scene.

The youth of Grace are cordially invited to participate in a Live Nativity Scene last night and tonight beginning at 6:30 p.m. The community is invited to drive by or pause for a few minutes and enjoy the beauty and meaning of the scene, which will be located in front of the church.

Redeemer Lutheran

A Christmas Eve Candlelight Service will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Redeemer Lutheran on West 25th Place, Christmas Day, Dec. 25, will be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday. Also a New Year's Eve service will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 31.

Alamonte Community

Alamonte Community Church on SR 436, Alamonte Springs, will hold three services on Christmas Eve beginning at 7:30 p.m. with a service for families in the main sanctuary.

At 9:30 and 11 communion services will be held in the historic old chapel with the Rev. Wayne E. Smith conducting all three services.

Good Shepherd

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church at 2917 Orlando Dr., Sanford, will hold a candlelight service at 11 a.m. Christmas Eve. Holy Communion will be celebrated at this time.

To You Is Born A Saviour

"...and she gave birth to a son, her first-born." Luke 2:6

"And when thou art big and art a man, full woe will be for thee. For cruel men thy death will plan, and nail thee on a tree." Yet the shepherds dared to hope in the news of a saviour lying on a bed of hay, always overtake the hope that good news awakens. A beautiful old English carol addressed to the infant Christ-child reminds us of this.

Couple Presents Series

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Perkins will present a series of programs for all ages Jan. 1-6 at Sanford-Eustis Free Methodist Church, nightly except Saturday at 7 p.m.

"Uncle Howard" and "Aunt Mabel" Perkins with their ventriloquist figures, Donald and Julie Ann, are known as the Gospel Magnifiers. Their use of ventriloquism, "magic," and other audio-visual aids throughout the presentation of the Gospel message challenges the interest and attention of all ages.

Dr. Perkins is an ordained minister in the Mini-Kota Conference of the Free Methodist Church; taught at the University of North Dakota; was Dean at Central College in Piquette, Kan.; and has also served in Christian Youth Crusaders Camping in Canada and the United States where he was given the title "Uncle Howard."

Mrs. Perkins has her Masters Degree from Northwestern University and has been active in the teaching field in both Christian and secular schools. This team has membership in National Association of Ventriloquists and the International Association of Christian Magicians. Their experiences have enabled them to develop a dynamic spiritual emphasis with a vibrant message making their a family outreach program.

Beth Am Beginning today, Congregation Beth Am will meet for Sabbath services and Religious School at Interstate Mall on SR 436, Altamonte Springs. Services will begin at 8 p.m. Religious School begins at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday.

Rev. David dePlessis To Speak

The Rev. David dePlessis will speak at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 331 Lake Ave., Maitland on Monday, Jan. 3 beginning at 8 p.m. Mr. dePlessis, who was born in South Africa, is a descendant of the French Huguenots. He has served as secretary of the Pentecostal World Conference on three different occasions and has been a leader in the Pentecostal movement for many years.

In 1961, Christianity Today magazine wrote, "dePlessis began a one man campaign witnessing to Ecumenical leaders, fully expecting to be ignored, instead he was taken in and given repeated opportunities to testify in behalf of the 'Baptism of the Holy Spirit'." Mr. dePlessis has had a large ministry to the mainline Protestant and Anglican churches. He was the only Pentecostal observer at the Vatican Council and has served as a consultant to the Vatican. His participation in many international assemblies and denominational gatherings has earned him the title of "Mr. Pentecost."

Second Shiloh

The pastor's first anniversary was observed at Second Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church Dec. 19 at 3 p.m. The Rev. Remer Baker Sr. delivered the sermon for his son Rev. Remer Baker's anniversary.

All Souls

A Midnight Mass will be celebrated on Christmas Eve at All Souls Catholic Church of Sanford and Christmas Day Mass at 8 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and noon with no evening Mass. There will be no Saturday vigil and Sunday Masses will be at 8, 10:30 a.m. and noon.

There will be a 7 p.m. Mass on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day services at 8, 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Sanford Christian

A full color motion picture, "The Prior Claim" produced by Dr. Irwin A. Moon at the Moody Institute of Science in Whittier, Calif., will be shown Sunday at 7 p.m. at Sanford Christian Church, 137 W. Airport Blvd. The challenge of exploring the ocean depths and the creatures that live there will be the subjects of the film.

Can't Wait Until Tomorrow...

The anticipation... of all those brightly wrapped packages under the Christmas tree is almost more than Shannon Pahel can stand. She is the 22-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Pahel Longwood, and like kids of all ages the world over, can't resist a shake, a peek and a plea to know what's inside the package with her name on it. Just one more day...

May I Open Just One?

What Do These Women Have In Common?

Influence!

Speaking Of Santa, Just Who's Fooling Whom?

"Does she believe in — you know — (whispered) Santa Claus?" I asked a friend recently of her four-year-old daughter. "Well," smiled my friend, "she'll believe anything you tell her, this time of year." Now that's odd, I thought. Here are two adults who should know better, pretending like that Santa Claus exists, for the sake of a child. While that little child, who does know better, is pretending she doesn't, for the sake of us grown-ups. It made me stop and wonder: just who's been fooling whom all this time?

I got the feeling that perhaps the kids of the world have been engaged in a giant conspiracy all these years. A kind of "let's go along with their foolishness" deal — "it makes them happy — and is a great way of getting gifts." There is no formal organization to this conspiracy, you understand. In fact, it's doubtful whether the young perpetrators even acknowledge to each other that they've got the stockings, they were, full of runs, but they held plenty). We placed a sheet over the carpeting near the hearth — he always made such a mess with his sooty footprints did old Santa (we called him Father Christmas, after the English tradition). On the mantelpiece was a plate of Christmas fruit cake and bottle of soda pop — in South Africa, Christmas falls during mid-summer, so we kids figured Santa would need a cool drink to refresh himself as he labored through the sultry night hours. Anyway, being just-turned-four, I guess I didn't fall asleep quite as fast as my sister, Liz and the baby twins, Megan and Richard. Although my eyes were shut, my ears caught a sort of whispering noise, and the sound of rubber on a hardwood floor. Well, I closed my eyes tight, probably even pretended to snore a little in my anxiety to appear fast asleep for my parents. And I heard them stop at the foot of my bed, and I felt their eyes on me, and I heard Mom say to Dad, "And to think she'll believe Father Christmas hauled this big old thing down the chimney for her!" And there was something about the way she said it, and the way Dad replied, "Yes, isn't that something?" that made me yow never to tell. And I didn't — at least, not until I was eight.

Billie Jean King, Barbara Walters, Helen Gurley Brown, Barbara Jordan (all pictured left) are widely different personalities with widely differing careers. But they all have one thing in common: influence. They are among 25 women selected by a panel of judges from across the nation for the World Almanac as having most influenced Americans and American life in areas from politics to sports to communications during the current year.

Journalists and politicians head the list, notably lacking are women in business — board members and directors of banks and corporations. Mary Wells Lawrence is the one exception. There are no women listed from the physical sciences and only one from the entertainment field — Joan Ganz Cooney.

As the first black woman to be elected to Congress, Shirley Chisholm, 52, always tried to persuade women to flex their political muscles. She herself did not hesitate to seek the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1972, making her the first black woman presidential candidate from a major party. After graduating from Brooklyn College and Columbia University, she was employed as a nursery school teacher, then as a state education consultant until 1964 when she won a seat in the state Assembly.

More Americans learn about investments and wise consumer buying habits from Sylvia Farter than from any other source. She started writing her financial column in 1959 and it now appears in more than 340 newspapers with a potential readership of 40 million. Now 63, she considers herself a consumer representative.

Until the murder of her husband, Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., 49, seemed a supportive figure, always in the background. Yet she was often at her husband's side — at the civil rights demonstration in Selma, Ala., at protests over the Vietnam war, she has a regal appearance and a strikingly beautiful voice, the result of extensive training at Antioch College and the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. Since the assassination, she has become increasingly prominent in the struggle for black civil rights.

When Katharine Graham was honored by "Ms. Magazine," she declared that she preferred Mrs. M. and disliked being called "the most powerful woman in America." The daughter of millionaire publisher Eugene Meyer, she is given to sally language and hard work. She is publisher of the influential Washington Post and controls the parent company which owns "Newsweek" and radio and television stations.

The first woman to hold Cabinet-level status since Oreta Culp Hobby, Anne Armstrong was appointed the first woman Ambassador to Great Britain in January, 1975. In 1972, after a distinguished career within the Republican Party, Mrs. Armstrong was appointed White House counselor with Cabinet status, where she served under Presidents Nixon and Ford.

Jean Ganz Cooney, 47, brought a fresh concept of entertainment coupled with education to children's television in the late 1960s. Her productions of "Sesame Street" and "The Electric Company" resulted in numerous and assisted in the birth of "Ms. Magazine" and the National Women's Political Caucus.

A storm of outrage erupted with the publication of Betty Friedan's "The Feminine Mystique" in 1963. The seminal volume called attention to the wide gap between women's abilities and their opportunities at a time when no one was listening. She moved to New York City with her family, dropping her role as a suburban housewife and, eventually, her husband. She helped found the National Organization for Women and the National Women's Political Caucus.

Influential Women O'Neil, Brown Marry In Sanford

In 1960, her political column was syndicated. Today it appears in more than 50 newspapers around the country. Among her other distinctions, Ms. McGroarty takes pride in the fact that her name was discovered on the Nixon White House's "enemies list."

As chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Council for the Arts, Nancy Hanks, 48, has acted as a national broker promoting the arts since 1969. She administers the imaginative federal program to subsidize theater companies, symphony orchestras and other cultural institutions.

Abigail Van Buren's "Dear Abby" column is the most widely read newspaper advice column in the world. Helen Thomas, White House Bureau Chief for United Press International, has covered presidents for 16 years. The first woman to head up White House coverage for a major news service, she traveled extensively with Presidents Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon and Ford.

One of the most popular and respected First Ladies, Claudia Alta Taylor Johnson, was born Dec. 22, 1912. An able businesswoman, she became owner of a radio-television station in Austin, Texas.

Charlotte Curtis broke the somber mold of society writing and turned it bright and biting. She applied the sociology she had learned at Vassar to covering well-to-do people at play. The women's pages of newspapers have never been the same since.

Mrs. Gerald Ford, 59, has settled comfortably into the taxing job of mistress of the White House, despite illness and a once-professed desire for her husband to retire from public life. As First Lady, she has spoken out on her interest in the arts and in children, particularly the underprivileged and the retarded.

Lenore Hershey's involvement and influence in women's activities always went beyond her editorial duties. Currently editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, she has conducted seminars on women's role in the economy, leading to the creation of the federal government's Advisory Committee on the Economic Role of Women.

She also serves on the boards of several social action groups. Mrs. Hershey, 56, is a vice president of Downe Publishing Co., and managing director of Woman Inc., a company division.

Co-founder of the trend-setting advertising company of Wells, Rich, Greene, Inc., Mary Wells Lawrence is today the company's chairman and chief executive officer. Last year under her leadership the firm grossed billings of $187 million.

Born in Youngstown, Ohio, Mrs. Lawrence has won a number of awards, including Advertising Woman of the Year (1971) and Marketing Stateswoman of the Year (1970). She has also been elected to the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960. Six years later, she was elected to the Texas state senate where she sponsored the state's first minimum-wage bill. Her election to Congress in 1972 made her the first black woman ever sent to the House from the old Confederacy.

She achieved national prominence first as a member of the House Judiciary Committee during its impeachment proceedings, and again this year when she delivered the keynote speech to the Democratic National Convention.

Anthropologist Margaret Mead was brought up to believe a woman should have a profession. In 1927, she wrote a scholarly study of the sexual mores of young Polynesians on the island of Samoa. Since then, she has studied seven cultures and written 17 books.

In her 1974 Connecticut campaign to become the first woman governor who got there on her own, Mrs. Ella Grasso, 56, carefully ignored sex as an issue. The election drew national attention, although few doubted that she could lose in the heavily Democratic state. Mrs. Grasso, a canny professional politician, earned the game in two terms in the state House of Representatives, three as Secretary of State and two in the U.S. Congress.

This fall, she lost in her bid for the New York Democratic Senate nomination to Daniel Patrick Moynihan by a scant one per cent of the vote.

Since earning a degree at Columbia Law School in 1947, Bella Abzug has been railing against the inequities in the American system and striving to make it more responsive. Through the 1950s, she represented labor unions and blacks in the South. In the 1960s, she was a leader of both the women's movement and the protests against the Vietnam war and nuclear testing. In 1970, she scored a surprise victory for a seat in the House of Representatives and became a national protest figure.

In the pressure cooker of Texas politics, no one survives who isn't tough and talented. Barbara C. Jordan, 41, is both. Trained as a lawyer at Boston University, she worked as a volunteer for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960. Six years later, she was elected to the Texas state senate where she sponsored the state's first minimum-wage bill. Her election to Congress in 1972 made her the first black woman ever sent to the House from the old Confederacy.

Elizabeth Anne O'Neil became the bride of Randall Carey Brown in a double ring, candlelight ceremony conducted by Rev. Randall Chase at Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sanford, on Dec. 18 at 4 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. O'Neil, 316 E. Crystal Dr., Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Gilbert Lee Swartz, Sanford, and the late Lt. Cmdr., Robert Nelson Brown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza featuring an open neckline, cluny lace bodice embroidered with seed pearls and full bishop sleeves caught at the wrists with lace cuffs. The natural waistline was encircled with satin ribbon edged with matching lace. The full train was beautifully banded with matching cluny lace. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried an Edwardian bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, gypsophylla and miniature English ivy.

Lori Morrison served as maid of honor in a long sleeveless gown of red suede cloth accented with ruffled finished neckline and natural waistline banded and caught in front with a gold clasp. A long sleeved, close fitting jacket completed the ensemble. She carried a French hand bouquet of miniature red carnations and white snowflake mums.

Gail Sanders, Janice Holcomb and Bonnie Hughes served as bridesmaids in gowns identical to the honor attendant. Tiffany Wallace was flower girl, carrying a Bo-Peep basket of white and red petals. Gary Ramsey was best man. Groomsman were Clark Wright, Bobby Lundquist, Howard Welchel and George Wallace. Chandler Tyre was ring bearer.

Following a reception at the Forest, Lake Mary, the couple left on a wedding trip to Aspen, Colo. They will make their home in Gainesville where the bridegroom is a dental student.

Holy Journey Made By Royal Decree

"And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed. . . . So begins the Bible story of the birth of Christ in Saint Luke's Gospel. "All the world," of course, meant the Roman Empire of the time, and the "taxation" referred to was basically an "enrollment," according to biblical scholars, a census, leading ultimately to a land tax; so it was decreed that "All went to be taxed, every one into his own city."

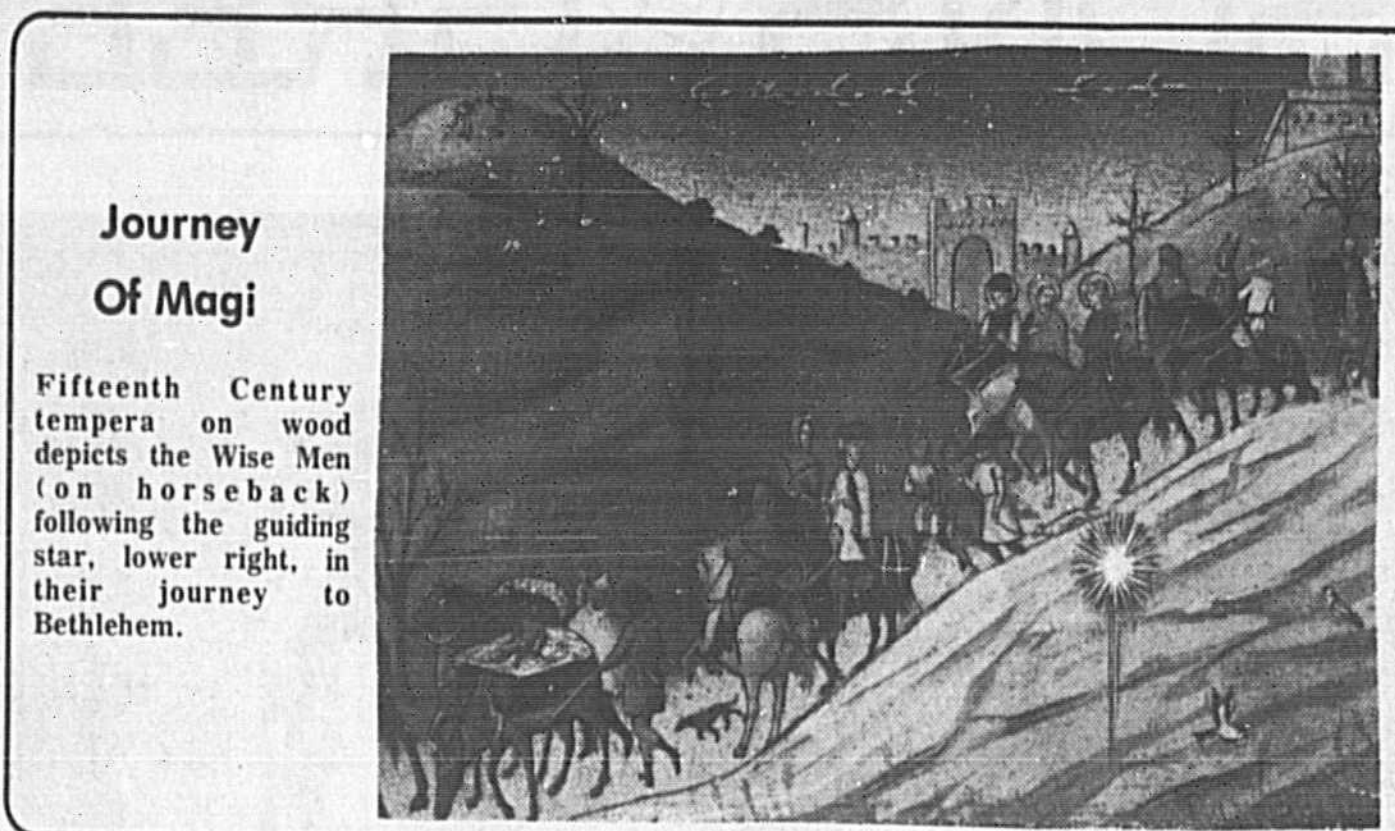

And so, Saint Luke goes on to tell us, "Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child."

The Bible gives us little more than those bare facts about the journey which ended at a manger outside Bethlehem. It has remained for biblical scholars and archaeologists to try to fill in the details as best they can from facts known or guessed about the Palestine of that time and from other indirect evidence in the Bible itself.

Although Joseph was a Judean by ancestry, he lived and plied his trade as carpenter some 70 miles to the north in Nazareth in Galilee, where Jesus spent his early years, thus becoming identified as Jesus of Nazareth.

There was a good road leading southward from Nazareth to Jerusalem and Bethlehem, for this was no "backwoods" area but one traversed by merchants and their caravans as well as functionaries of the Roman Empire, all following in the footsteps of invaders and travelers of many years.

A journey of some 70 miles over mostly hilly country without a car might give many of us pause today, particularly in view of Mary's condition. According to tradition, Mary rode a good part of the way on an ass, a common beast of burden and one certainly more appropriate to the task than either camel or horse, even had these been available to Joseph.

Journey Of Magi

Fifteenth Century wood depicts the Wise Men (on horseback) following the guiding star, lower right, in their journey to Bethlehem.

A journey of that distance, with Joseph walking and leading the ass, would be bound to consume several days, so it is likely that the travelers made provision for spending some nights along the way and, also, carried sufficient food and water in case supplies were not always available.

Although Nazareth was a fair-sized town, it was reported to have had only one good source of water, known today as Mary's Well, from which it would have been prudent to obtain a "canteen" before setting on a journey. Wells and springs were to be found infrequently in the hills, particularly toward the end of the dry season, which historians believe was the most likely period for the trip of Mary and Joseph. As to food, there would have been no problem in procuring rations of bread, olives, and other provisions for the journey from an area as rich in agriculture as Galilee.

Arrival at their destination in Bethlehem did not bring an end to "roughing it" for the travelers, for there was so many who had preceded them that "there was no room for them at the inn." Therefore, this predicament led Mary and Joseph to the manger, a cattle shelter outside Bethlehem which symbolizes the birth of Jesus.

The First Carols of Christmas

The first carols were dance songs, or ring songs, sung by villagers around a Maypole, or to celebrate other festive occasions throughout the year, during the Middle Ages. Later they became more exclusively associated with Christmas.

The word "carol" derives from the Greek and Latin word "chorales" meaning "chorus." The phrase, "Christmas Carols" first appeared during the 18th century in England in little songbooks printed by Wynken de Worde and Richard Kele.

DANCE CAROLS—Best examples of these rounds or ring dances are still to be found in Sweden, where people dance around the tree stinging many rollicking songs. Elsewhere, dance carols are merely sung, although many of the tunes are known to inspire dancing feet.

SHEPHERD CAROLS, of and about the shepherds to whom the angels appeared, and their coming to the stable with humble gifts are the most human and appealing accounts of Christ's birth. They were sung to accompany the vivid portrayals of this scene in the medieval "mystery" plays, which were common in England as well as in other European countries. Best known today is the traditional English carol, "While Shepherds Watched."

LULLABY CAROLS were among the earliest Christmas songs and like all cradle songs have a rocking, lulling rhythm and a simple melody. "Cradle songs" carols or "Kindergarten" were a part of the church ritual in Germany and Austria.

A good example of this type of carol is the 18th century English carol, "What Child Is This?" which was sung to the 18th century dance tune, "Greenleeves." Another is the 19th century American anonymous carol, "Away In A Manger."

One of the most beautiful of all lullaby carols is the "Coventry Carol," which was a part of one of the English medieval "mystery" plays. It is sung by a group of women, portraying Bethlehem mothers just before Herod's soldiers slaughter their babies.

CAROLS OF THE MAGI—The arrival of the Magi with precious gifts for the Christ Child is the most picturesque and colorful part of all Christmas pageants. The Magi songs all tell this rich, spiritual story. Among the most familiar of these to Americans is "We Three Kings," the words and music for which were written by John Henry Hopkins Jr., in the 19th century.

NATIVITY CAROLS—There are many variations of these. The first hymns in honor of the Nativity were written in Latin during the 8th century, when Christmas was fully established as one of the great church feasts. It was not until the 13th century, when St. Francis of Assisi inspired his friends to write in their native tongue, that Nativity Songs were written for the people to sing. From Italy, these Nativity Songs spread throughout all Europe.

Two of the most familiar of these to us are: "Joy To The World," written by Isaac Watts in the 17th century and the 18th century German "Stille Nacht" (Silent Night) by Joseph Mohr. The original musical called for a guitar accompaniment.

LEGENDARY CAROLS spring from the folklore of people throughout the world inspired by superstitions and pre-Christian beliefs. One thing they have in common is that they all tell a story. Most well known of these is the traditional English "I Saw Three Ships," "The Boar's Head Carol" both from the Middle Ages, the latter of which is still sung at Christmas dinner at Queens College, Oxford, as the boar's head is ceremoniously brought in. "Good King Wenceslas," written by J.M. Neale in the 19th century is about a fervent Christian Duke of Bohemia.

CAROLS OF CUSTOM deal with pre-Christmas customs that have become attached to Christmas celebrations. For example, the yule log and mistletoe of England go back to the Druids. Decking the halls with boughs of holly and evergreen come from the Hebrews, Egyptians, Romans and other ancient peoples, for whom the evergreens were symbolic of life triumphant over death. The wreath came originally from the ivy crown worn by Romans in Bacchanalian festivals. "Wassail" was the Anglo-Saxon drinking pledge, "Wass-Hael" which means "Be in health" and which was part of Early Saxon feasts.

"O Tannenbaum" (O Christmas Tree) the traditional German carol goes back to the early days of wandering tribes, who would always leave a grove of trees in the middle of the land they cleared.

CAROLS FOR THE TWELVE DAYS—During the 8th century, the 12 days from Nativity to Epiphany were declared a festive season, celebrated in medieval England by many gay customs including, jousts, banquets, caroling and "mumming," which originally was a sort of pantomime dance performed by masked and costumed groups. Best known of these carols are the traditional English "God Rest Ye Merry," and "The Twelve Days of Christmas," which is based on an old French rhyme and chant.

Christmas Trees Do Shed...No Humbug

By The Associated Press
'Twas the week before Christmas
And the family was red.
As the tree they had chosen
Started to shed.
Millions of Americans bought the family Christmas tree already and by the time Saturday rolls around they will have purchased an estimated 27 million live trees. And many consumers will find themselves sweeping up needles even before the holiday arrives.

You can avoid shedding entirely by buying an artificial tree. You can also keep a live tree fresh with just a little care, however.

John Koch, a Birtsboro, Pa., grower who is president of the National Christmas Tree Association, says consumers should take two steps to minimize shedding.

First, he says, slice an extra piece off the bottom of the tree or have the retailer do it for you. As much as three weeks may elapse between the time the tree is chopped down and the day you take it home. In that period, the "wound" at the base has healed and the tree cannot absorb water unless you make a new cut.

Second, give the tree plenty of water. Because it has been dry for a long period, the tree may "drink" up to three quarts of water the first day, Koch said. Never let the stand get completely dry. Once it has dried out, the "wound" at the base of the tree heals again and adding more water later on is useless.

How long should the tree last? "I know people who have Scotch pines still up at Easter," Koch said.

While they are growing, trees shed once a year. You may find some needles from this normal shedding left in the tree, particularly with a Scotch pine. But Koch said that a tree will keep indefinitely, without covering the floor with needles, as long as it is kept in water and not allowed to get dehydrated.

The most popular trees, according to Koch, are the Scotch pines and the Douglas firs, followed by balsam firs. The Douglas firs are the most expensive. Koch said wholesale prices this year are $8 to $9, meaning consumers can expect to pay at least $20 for a six-foot tree. Scotch pines at the wholesale level are going for about $4 or $5, Koch said.

There are several things to take into consideration when buying a tree, Koch said. Personal preference in terms of shape and size is a major factor. The experts also look for a symmetrical tree that tapers at the top, has a fair amount of fullness and is a good dark green. Don't be too quick to ignore the tree that seems scrawny on one side. You can put it into a corner or against a wall and may be able to find a price bargain.

To check for freshness, simply try to bend a needle or two. If it feels rubbery and doesn't break, the tree is fresh.

Finally, make sure you place your tree well away from any source of heat such as a fireplace. Check tree lights for frayed wires, loose connections, broken or cracked sockets and spots where bare wire is exposed. Fasten the lights securely, but make sure that none of the bulbs come into direct contact with needles or branches.

Nicest Gift You Can Give: The One You Made Yourself

Some of the nicest gifts you can give are those you've made yourself. They have a special way of showing you really care. The recipes below are for interesting holiday treats that you can make before the festivities begin. Attractively wrapped they will make most welcome gifts, or perhaps you'll want to show them off at home, for guests and your loving family.

Ah, Fudge! Harper's Weekly, Dec. 30, 1876, shows how they stirred holiday pudding in those days.

Christmas Menu—Circa 1897

In their December, 1897 issue, Ladies Home Journal suggested the following menu for a traditional Christmas dinner:

- Oysters on the Half Shell
- Clear Soup
- Custard and Spinach Bloks
- Braised Spaghetti
- Roast Turkey—Chestnut Dressing
- Sweet Potato Croquettes
- Peas in Turnip Cups
- Ginger Sherbet
- Lettuce Salad Cheese Balls
- Toasted Crackers
- Plum Pudding—Hard Sauce
- Coffee Bonbons

Quite a dinner to polish off! And crammed full of those beautiful and hip nuggets called!

then line with water paper, a loaf pan measuring 9" x 3 x 3". Place first 4 ingredients in sifter. In large bowl put nuts, dates and cherries and sift flour mixture over them. Mix with hands till fruits and nuts are well coated. Beat eggs till foamy, add vanilla, stir into nut mix until well mixed. Spread evenly in pan, bake until done. Cool in pan on wire rack for 15 minutes. Remove from pan; peel paper off; cool on rack. Wrap in aluminum foil and store in refrigerator. Will keep for 5 or 6 weeks.

Holiday Spots Before Eyes? Call Out Cleaners

Every day can be a holiday through the Christmas season. A little imagination goes a long way in keeping your family full of that festive spirit.

Sprinkle a touch of candied fruit into hot oatmeal for a breakfast treat.

Give your favorite fruit salad that holiday look with a sprinkle of pomegranate seeds.

Cut bells from slices of canned cranberry sauce when serving.

Candy canes make flavorful stirrers in cups of hot cocoa or tea.

Year-round favorite casseroles have a holiday look topped with a cheese star.

Place a waxed paper stencil of a Christmas tree over a bowl of potatoes or rice, sprinkle with chopped parsley, remove stencil.

Pimento poinsettias make colorful garnishes on any one of many dishes or bordering a filled platter.

Addressing a long list of Christmas cards can really be fun! Gather the family around the table and keep them happily at work with cookies and hot fruit punch!

Ever try pancakes poured onto the griddle in Christmas tree shapes? It takes a steady hand and concentration, but think how they'll delight your family.

Cocoa and chocolate: As soon as possible sponge with cold water. A paste of borax and water can be applied to table lenses.

Chewing gum: Rub with ice cube until hard. Scrape as much as possible away. If fabric is linen or cotton texture, put adhesive tape over spot and press down hard. Pull adhesive up quickly while someone else holds the fabric tight.

Candle droppings: Scrape excess wax away. White wax spots can be put between 2 layers of blotting paper and pressed with a warm iron. If spot persists, dilute a little wood alcohol with water and apply.

Ice cream: Sponge with warm water and let dry. Sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Lipstick: Sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Blood: Fresh blood stains respond well to a mixture of 2 tablespoons of salt and 1 tablespoon water. If fabric is washable soak in cold water.

For white fabric that is not washable use hydrogen peroxide.

Ink: A solution of table salt and water will remove most fresh ink spots.

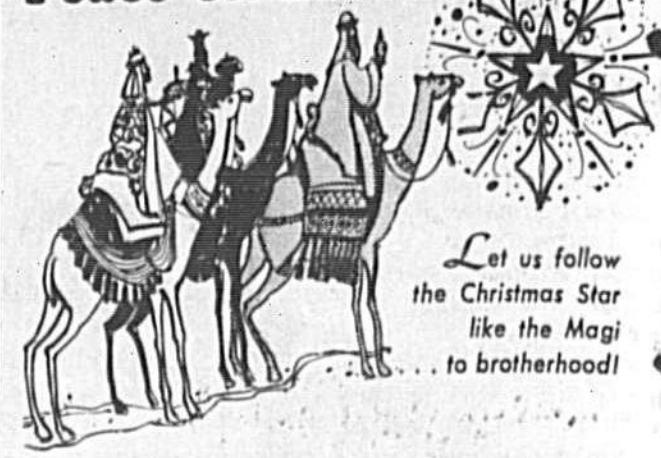

Shoe polish and bed marks: Dampen a clean, soft cloth with a reliable cleaning fluid, kerosene or turpentine and rub gently on reverse side of fabric.

Legendary Doll House Sparkles Anew With Magnificent Christmas Fantasy

STETTHEIMER DOLL HOUSE Famous Stettheimer Doll House in New York museum truly is a delight when "dolled" up for Christmas. Here is how the 1920's version looked. Left, famous personages gather in and around art gallery; Gaston Lachaise, painter Marcel Duchamp, writer Henry McBride. Right, the Doll House living room with a mother and daughter having tea.

The Christmas season celebrated in museums across the country, brings a rich panoply of holiday customs, traditions and dazzling beauty. One such display, a Christmas exhibition at the Museum of the City of New York, "A Party at the Stettheimers" was put together by John Noble, curator at the Museum. It was a labor of love and involvement for Mr. Noble who says the personality of the creator of the house "very clearly expressed itself" in determining what he could and could not do, in creating a Christmas fantasy in this unique doll house.

A different level of reality has been achieved and a set of dolls artfully designed to bring the house to sparkling life. It is the Stettheimers themselves, Florine and Ette, Carrie and their mother, who are portrayed, and the house was decorated for Christmas as they might have done it in the mid-1920's, and peopled with some of their illustrious friends.

The Stettheimer House was made during the 1920's by Carrie Walter Stettheimer, one of three fabulous sisters, who, with their mother "ruled for almost a generation one of the acknowledged intellectual salons of our town." (Henry McBride).

Given to the museum 30 years ago, the doll house was the life-long project of this wealthy figure. It has advanced decorating ideas, a miniature gallery, and as Mr. Noble suggests, almost ghostly glimpses into the life of the Stettheimer sisters.

Florine Stettheimer was a self-taught painter and stage designer whose works were exhibited at the Museum of Modern Art, in the 1940's after her death. Ette Stettheimer wrote novels under the name of Herie Waste, Carrie, long considered the least talented of the three sisters, created her fabulous doll house, putting together its elaborate furnishings herself. Carrie Stettheimer created a diminutive world not unlike the one in which she lived... one of embroidered bed sheets, bedspreads lined in chintz, luxurious draperies, crystal chandeliers.

Original petit point covers many of the chairs and also carpets the living room floor. All the miniature pieces have been faithfully reproduced. There are tiny bottles atop a dressing table, a bathroom scale of minute proportions, dishes and cutlery of microdimensions, and would you believe, a working elevator!

In the nursery which is appropriately papered and furnished, there is a set of doll furniture that could fit in a nutshell.

The house was filled with dolls of the Stettheimers and their friends, by Mr. Noble. The dolls were modeled from Florine's paintings and dressed in authentic styles of the day. Among them are sculptor Gaston Lachaise, painter Marcel Duchamp, writer Henry McBride, photographer Edward Steichen, composer Virgil Thompson and other eminent personalities who frequented the salon. Some of the greatest literary and artistic figures of the 20's and 30's were part of the coterie attempting the small formal dinner parties in the lavish apartment of Mrs. Stettheimer.

The most remarkable feature of the doll house is its art gallery containing what has proved to be a choice collection of works by important artists of the period, all created especially for this miniature. Of the many small original masterpieces, perhaps the most celebrated are Marcel Duchamp's miniature version of his "nude Descending a Staircase" and the alabaster "Venus" by Gaston Lachaise. The festive doll house, with its glittering ephemeral decorations and its soigneé occupants, show a glimpse of a lifestyle now almost lost, a glimpse of people who have become legends.

ring of August, and report in a pot one or two sizes larger than the original, and bring indoors again about Labor Day.

Poinsettias are photo-period sensitive plants that flower in response to the length of the day. Ten hours of daylight and fourteen hours of darkness will start flowers on their way, but the least glimmer of light during the dark hours will abort any flowering.

From about October 1 to mid-December, the plant should be in complete darkness from sunset to sunup. It can be put into a closet, in a room that remains dark through those hours, or under a table that is skirted to the floor. If you have a large enough carton available upend it over the poinsettia to keep light out. Unless the plant is kept in the dark it will not flower.

The colorful brackets that develop from this period will be ample reward for your tender loving care, and will add much excitement to your holiday decor.

TLC...That's What A Poinsettia Needs

Do you know the origin of the lovely plant we have come to identify with Christmas? These colorful plants were first introduced to America in 1825, by Joel Poinsett, then serving as our Ambassador to Mexico, who brought some 16 plants back to his South Carolina greenhouse. He gave them to friends and botanists with greenhouses who nurtured them carefully.

Poinsettias moved out of doors in the early 1900's when a Swiss horticulturist, Albert Ecke, started to raise them in California for local holiday selling. Now we have come to enjoy poinsettias, not only at the Christmas holiday, but all the year round as well.

The most popular is the vivid red, but there are white, pink and marbled flowers as handsome and radiant.

Poinsettias need specific care if they are to flourish, but that care is not really complicated. They are happiest kept at room temperature, near a window, in full daylight, but out of drafts. Water when the top soil feels dry to your touch, keeping the soil moist but not wet.

If you decide to move your poinsettia outdoors for the summer, it will need cutting back to help it retain its shape. To encourage a shorter, fuller plant cut it back between the middle of July and the beginning of August, and report in a pot one or two sizes larger than the original, and bring indoors again about Labor Day.

Christmas Brings Back Swiss 'Christkindli'

Christmas has a unique significance in the German and French speaking regions of Switzerland because the "Christkindli," or Christ Child, is believed to walk on earth during this season.

Instead of Santa Claus, the "Christkindli," represented as a beautiful, radiant, angel-like being with wings carrying a magic wand and wearing a shining crown, distributes Christmas gifts and Christmas trees glittering with fanciful decorations.

Although the "Christkindli" is commonly believed to personally be the Christ Child, he is sometimes represented as an angel bearing a light or a star just as an angel heralded the birth of Christ at Bethlehem. On the other hand, the "Christkindli" has some of the characteristics of a sprite, as suggested by the wand and the wings, which can be linked to pre-Christian beliefs. Some suggest he may stem from the pagan custom of representing the New Year as a radiant and beautiful child.

Like Santa, the "Christkindli" also arrives in a sleigh drawn by reindeer, so there would appear to be some intermingling of Christmas legends here.

St. Nicholas is represented in several ways in different parts of Switzerland. In some, he is called Father Christmas and comes with his wife, Lucy (representing St. Lucy whose feast day is December 13) to distribute gifts. He wears the traditional Santa Claus costume, while Lucy wears a round cap over her long braids, a laced bodice and a fancy apron.

In the central part of Switzerland, St. Nicholas is represented more realistically in his bishop's regalia complete with mitre and crozier. On St. Nicholas' Day, which falls on December 6th, there is a magnificent parade in which white bearded masqueraders, clothed in long white shirts, carry huge three-foot mitre-shaped lanterns over their heads. These lanterns are perforated in intricate religious designs, similar to church windows, and when the candlelight shines through them, as their bearers execute a stately dance, they are an impressive sight indeed.

Women Lib All Out For Green Xmas

For about 35 years both men and women have been sentimentally dreaming of a "White Christmas." The poignant message of Irving Berlin's popular song is dear to us all, at holiday time. However, a Green Christmas is an ancient custom and more universally observed.

At pagan winter festivals in early times, winter flowerings, plants and evergreens were prized for their promise of the return of the sun and of spring. Holly and ivy are party of that ancient heritage and were extolled in an old Christmas carol "The Holly and the Ivy."

Giving Book To Kid--Only Half The Job

GAINESVILLE (AP) — When you give a child a beautiful book for Christmas, you've done half of a terrific thing, says a University of Florida specialist in children's literature.

"You're not finished when you hand over the book," said Joy Anderson. "Then you should read it with the boy or girl you give it to. The fun you have sharing books with children is not only as much a part of the gift as the book itself, but it is also the best art and literature appreciation course they'll ever get."

Mrs. Anderson, herself an author of three children's books, said it doesn't help to force things by saying, "You should like this because it's very good literature."

"Your own pleasure as you read kindles a sensitivity that you can't teach any other way," she said.

Every Christmas, Mrs. Anderson said, she and her five children, ages 13 to 22, take breaks between cookie baking and other holiday events to read several books aloud.

"We always read a beautifully illustrated copy of 'The Christ Child' though we're not a religious family," Mrs. Anderson said. "It wasn't my idea to make these books part of family tradition. The kids have brought them out every year."

She is convinced that what children read really matters to their lives and to civilization.

When Mrs. Anderson joined the English faculty here three years ago there was one "kiddie lit" course. But the school is now one of the nation's most complete centers for aspiring authors and scholars in the field.

Author Ruth Baldwin of New Orleans has given the center a collection of 22,000 pre-1900 children's books.

Mrs. Anderson is not the only author in the college's royal charter of 1933.

But now he's obsolete. Three months ago, the college brought in an automatic machine to do the job.

The machine, unlike people, never forgets, as Cook admits he did on a few occasions. It never rings too early or too late.

"You had to keep a pretty close check (on your watch) as you worked," he says. "Every-one would miss it sometime."

He'll miss the job. Ringing the 87-year-old bell, W&M's third over the years, set him apart from other custodians — a break from the monotony of cleaning up, sweeping floors, changing light bulbs.

From a 3-by-2-foot wall panel on the second floor, Cook pulled a cord to ring the bell 10 or 12 times for the start, and 10 or 12 more times for the end, of every class.

"The Mickey Mouse Clock," Cook calls it, scornfully. He says he was almost always good at ringing the bell — punctually.

"Students, they'd get mad if you were late," he says with a chuckle. "If you were early, it was all right."

"You'd just pull it. Wap! Wap! Wap!" He imitates the sound of the cord slapping against the bell stop. "The first ring was the hardest... I do miss it."

For Cook, the college had set aside a tiny alcove behind the cupola of the historic Christopher Wren Building to signal the start and end of class periods, as decreed in the college's royal charter of 1933.

Through the rippled panes of a tiny octagonal window in the alcove, you can look out over Colonial Williamsburg, all the way down Duke of Gloucester Street to the colonial capitol.

Cook sits next to the table, which is cluttered with a small mirror and several small jars. The afternoon sun streams over his face as he slavers in his worn, dark green sweater.

"It's cold in here," he says. The only sound in the musty, white-walled room comes from the hissing heater and the relentless ticking of the clock that now runs the bell-ringing system.

Lots More CB Bands But Not Enough CBs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is giving us 17 new Citizens Band channels on New Year's Day, but the CB industry doubts it can provide enough new radios immediately for all who want them.

Last July, the Federal Communications Commission approved expansion of the current 23-channel CB band to 40 channels, effective Jan. 1.

Since then, the industry has been struggling to meet what it figures will be a heavy demand for the new 40-channel sets. Most expect to come up short for some months.

"I think there will be an initial shortage based on several things," says John Sobolaki, vice president of the Electronic Industries Association, a trade group.

"One, the FCC will not allow shipping the new 40-channel sets until Jan. 1, and then it will take some days to get them from warehouses to retail outlets.

"Also, the FCC has required new and tighter (anti-interference) standards on these sets and not every manufacturer is qualifying every set in his line. The result is a somewhat narrower selection," compared with the number of 23-channel sets still on the market.

The FCC is committed to complete by Jan. 1 its tests of the more than 800 models submitted by its Nov. 1 deadline. It expects to have approved more than 200 models by year's end.

Manufacturers with FCC approvals of their 40-channel models have geared up their production lines and, in the words of a spokesman for one manufacturer, "We're going like crazy... We're producing them as fast as we can."

Others, still waiting for FCC approval, have taken a chance and begun production on the assumption they will get the okay in time.

May every day throughout the year abound with treasured moments of this holiday.

It's In The Cards Ever Since 1843: Merry Xmas!

Each year researchers come up with more and more fascinating information about the origins of Christmas and New Year greetings.

Greeting cards are usually made of stiff paper or card-board, but cloth, vellum, leather, celluloid, metal, wood, clay, cork, and new materials have been added to their designs. Cards and their messages vary in size. In 1929 an inscribed grain of rice was presented as a Christmas greeting to the Prince of Wales, and in 1934, President Calvin Coolidge received a Christmas card that measured 21 x 33 inches!

In ancient Egypt the New Year was celebrated by the exchange of symbolic presents such as scented bottles and scarabs inscribed "an ab nab" ("all good luck"). The Romans exchanged strews, originally branches of laurel or olive, often coated with gold leaf. Symbols of seasonal good will, such as a Roman lamp and the figure of Victory surrounded by strews, were combined on objects of baked clay, with the inscription "Anno Novo faustum felix tibi sit" ("May the New Year be happy and lucky for you"). The acknowledgment of the New Year with the exchanges of good will continued in Europe through the early days of Christianity.

In the 15th century, master wood engravers produced inscribed prints which had the same intent as the modern Christmas and New Year cards. One of these shows the Christ Child with halo, before a cross holding a scroll on which appears "Ein gut selig ior" ("A good and happy year"). During the 18th and early 19th centuries, copper plate engravers were producing prints and calendars for the New Year and greetings by merchants and tradesmen were common.

Recognized as the first Christmas card is one designed in England by J.C. Horsley, in 1843 for his friend Sir Henry Cole. An edition of 1,000 copies was placed on sale at Felix Sumner's Treasure House in London in 1846. They were printed by lithography on stiff cardboard, in dark sepia and hand colored. The design shows a family party in progress, beneath which is the greeting, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

A similar card was designed by W.M. Egley of London and produced as an etching in 1848. While this card is more elaborate, its design suggests a relationship to the Cole-Horsley card. The same may be said of an American Christmas card of the same period, designed by R.H. Pease of Albany, N.Y., which bore the inscription, "Pease's Great Variety Store in The Temple of Fancy." Sentiment cards were exchanged and collected in the United States from 1830 to the Civil War and many have survived... among them an "expanding heart" Christmas present or greeting card in pure form, dating from about 1850.

Today you can say Merry Christmas in Macedonian, Greek, Hungarian, any one of 32 languages plus Braille. There are greeting cards available in our polyglot nation in Polish, Spanish, Japanese, Armenian, Croatian, Chinese, Macedonian, Portuguese, Greek, Swedish, Norwegian, Hungarian, Lithuanian, to name just a few. Distributed throughout the United States, many are produced in this country, others come from abroad.

It was noted by one of the manufacturers of these Christmas cards, that whenever there is turmoil or a revolution in a foreign country, the sales in that language soar. Since type faces in some languages are unavailable, many of the exotic messages are photographed from the originals. In the case of some Chinese messages, a waiter in a Chinese restaurant who is also an artist, wrote the greetings on a piece of paper from which they were photographed and reproduced. Felices Navidades! Froliche Weihnachten! To you all!

Signs Of Zodiac Make Easier Shopping

Perplexed about choosing gifts? Personality characteristics suggested by Signs of the Zodiac, might help you select "just the right thing."

ARIES

March 21-April 20

Aries people are a racy, vibrant, on-the-go lot with an enormous amount of self confidence that is apparent in everything they do. Male and female will welcome a new host or hostess apron designed especially for entertaining or tending holiday bar. A wide decorative watchband will make an old watch new again.

LEO

July 23-August 23

Dramatic entrances are just the kind of thing a Leo person relishes. Generally in command of most situations, they are also given to extravagant gestures. Dramatic flavor should be a keynote when choosing this gift. A silk tie in a vivid art deco design or a slim metal stretch snake belt.

SAGITTARIUS

November 22-December 21

The one sign that believes the world is worth smiling at! Intensely thoughtful and sincere, Sagittarians are very open in their relationships. You'll find them most appreciative of most anything you choose for them. A man's silk patterned blazer scarf — silver or pewter snowflake pendant on a chain.

TAURUS

April 21-May 20

A comfort to those around them, Taurus people have warm and consoling natures. Worriedly wise, they still prefer things on the safe side and are basically conservative. Decorative pillows make happy gifts and come in exciting colors decorated with bouquets, patchwork, etc. Try giving your favorite red and white wines for a holiday treat.

VIRGO

August 24-September 23

Hidden powers of logic and concern for detail are strong characteristics of this sign. Meticulous and to the point, they delve deeply before pursuing any new venture. Virgo people appreciate fine things and enjoy the classic choices. They will appreciate a stereo headphone set or a special new recording of one of their favorite symphonies or rock group.

CAPRICORN

December 22-January 20

A pleasing nature and ready smile cover the withdrawn nature of Capricorn people. Generally quiet, they are often all-knowing in many ways. A rugby shirt for the Capricorn male or argyle knit socks and the lady will treasure a handsome leather passport case or wallet in an unusual color... try lavender!

GEMINI

May 21-June 21

Great, rapid fire wit is typical of these people. Their bubbly spirit is ever present, rarely deserting them. Select a present with a touch of humor, and remember a Gemini is able all innocent and wide eyed. You'll have to decide which side of this fickle nature you want to please. Try the newest and most exciting new perfumes and toiletries.

CANCER

June 22-July 22

This is the sign of the incurable romantic, given to gentle ways. Soft spoken and soft natured as well. Romantic, subtle gifts will surely win their heart. A collection of poems in a lovely binding is an original way to say "Happy Holiday." A tiny decorated jewel-like pill case is too.

SCORPIO

October 24-November 22

This is a gentle breed with true feeling that runs deep and long. Frequently we see a delicate touch of the exotic under this sign. A gift with unusual flare would be a treasured possession. Pretty colored soaps in holiday wrapping are sure to make a hit... or a dazzling necklace... or a long, long, long scarf.

PISCES

February 19-March 20

Here is the eternal romantic — drifting from one dream to the next before settling down to reality. Delicate and sensitive by nature, they view the world through rose colored glasses. Many creative people were born under this sign so choose something clever and unique — seashells in a basket? A brocade covered jewel box?

Miracle Of Christmas

The merry rejoicing at Christmas, celebrating the Birth of Christ, seeks to recapture the glory and wonder of the Nativity. People everywhere come together in warmth and goodwill, recalling the Source of the Spirit that binds them together.

Although Christmas is celebrated all over the world, it is not really known whether or not Jesus, as a boy, ever had a birthday party. Jews of His time did not celebrate birthdays... such observances were for kings and other important people, who lived in palaces. With or without birthday parties, Jesus had an enchanted childhood, so say the legends.

One such story says He made mud-pie birds one rainy day, and as He finished them, they flew away. For having bowed down to give its fruit to His Holy Mother, Jesus rewarded a palm tree by having a cutting of it planted in Paradise.

The Magic of Christmas is happily contagious, transforming the world in an atmosphere of brotherhood and anticipation. Its magic brings families together, inspires a spirit of generosity and giving, and fills the heart with a heady light-headedness long remembered from one's childhood.

For it is in childhood that the magic of the Yuletide is felt most keenly. The air quivers with excitement and the promise of things to come. Pungent smells fill the house and little ones can hardly sleep, for listening to the furtive sounds of mom and dad tiptoeing and whispering and wrapping, far into the night. An old French proverb says, "Miracles happen only to those who believe in them." Surely, we can all believe! Surely we can reinforce our faith in miracles!

Bake A Cookie... Little Ones Find It's Fun

Youngsters can spend many creative hours in the kitchen, baking and putting together their very own cookies and Christmas treats.

The recipes below are easy for little folk and will provide some toothsome goodies to add excitement to your table, hang on your tree or wrap as gifts.

Basic Cookies (from a mix). Decide which cookie to make and make up basic dough from package directions. Use ginger-cookie mix if preferred. Roll dough out about 1/8" thick. Cut in desired shapes. Bake as package directs, then decorate with prepared frosting.

SANTA COOKIE: From cookie dough mix, cut out tear drop shape about 3" tall. Sprinkle with red sugar. Bake, cool, then decorate. Pointed top of tear drop is Santa's peaked hat. The wide bottom, his body.

GUMDROP CHRISTMAS TREE: Cut out triangle for tree, and small rectangle for tree base, from basic cookie dough. Press parts into place on cookie sheet and bake. When cool, add gum drops for ornaments.

SINGING ANGEL: From cookie dough mix, cut out circle for head and larger triangle for body. From contrasting dough cut wings in tear-drop shape. On cookie sheet, press all parts into place and bake. Cool and decorate with frosting or egg paint (recipe below).

EGG PAINT: It is easier for young people to decorate baked cookies, but egg paint can be applied before baking too. To make this medium, mix an egg yolk with a few drops of water. Put small amounts in tiny dishes and add vegetable coloring as desired. Use a soft brush for each color, and let your imagination go! If you are using the cookies for Christmas tree trimming, remember to leave a small hole about 1/8 inch from top of the cookie, for a bit of colored yarn or ribbon as the hanger.

New Doll Has Look Like You

MIAMI (AP) — There is a new answer to the old question of what to give the person with everything. A local toy firm now offers the opportunity to give that special someone a look-alike doll for Christmas.

Using a photographic process and a little marketing ingenuity, the firm can give you a doll with the face of your choice for $15.95.

"We thought it would essentially be for kids," said Dr. Sanford Siegal, who helped create the product. "But we're getting calls from women who say they want a doll of their husbands."

Siegal said the idea was first presented to him a year ago. A self-described "patterer," Siegal helped develop cameras to take the large color pictures which are inserted into the heads of the Raggedy Ann-type dolls. He then formed the company that sells the product.

Siegal said the concept of giving children the opportunity to play with a likeness of themselves has resulted in several sociological and psychological insights since the dolls went on the market a few months ago.

"We're getting a large response from blacks and Orientals," he said. "I think that may be because there isn't a sufficient number of black dolls on the market."

Siegal also said the rag dolls were designed to last a long time — for emotional as well as commercial reasons.

"We started thinking of the psychological experience a child could have if its own doll suddenly lost an arm," he explained.

The firm only markets a girl doll, but there are plans to add a boy doll.

Siegal said some grandparents are buying dolls that look like their grandchildren — but not for the obvious reason.

"They're doing it so they can have dolls of their grandchildren close by," he said.

Easy Paper Bag Santa Puppet

Things you'll need:
Paper bag, a size to fit comfortably over the hand
Red and black crayons or markers
Glue
Red paper
Cotton and a cotton ball

3. On flap, add a red circle for Santa's nose, and two black ones for eyes. Using strips of cotton, make eyebrows and a moustache under the nose, at the bottom edge of the flap.

4. Glue a fat, white cotton beard onto the red paper just under the flap, and down the front of the bag. With red crayon lightly circle two rosy cheeks. To use, put hand inside bag grasping the flap.

1. Beginning under the flap, glue red paper onto the bag, its full length. If no red paper is handy, color bag with red crayon.

2. Cut hat shape out of red paper the width of the bag, and glue to top edge of the flap. Add cotton ball to top of hat.

HO! HO! HO! TO YOU ALL!

Reindeer Crucial To Man

Reindeer flourish in large numbers near the Arctic Circle in Europe, Asia, and North America. Norway, Sweden, Finland, Russia and Alaska are all places where herds of at least semi-domesticated reindeer are accustomed to working with man, particularly the Laplanders.

The reindeer provides a vital source of food, clothing, and even transportation for many peoples living on the edge of the arctic world. Among other things, reindeer milk is as rich as the cream of cow's milk, although available in much smaller quantities.

There are several species of reindeer in North America, where it is called the caribou, ranging from the woodland species, which is found in wild northern woods, through the barren ground caribou, which is the slightly larger but close cousin of the European reindeer, to the Peary caribou, living north of the Arctic Circle. The present domesticated reindeer of Europe and Asia, where it can be found in single herds of up to 30,000, is a descendant of the barren ground species of those regions.

Because of the Arctic habitat, near his North Pole headquarters, reindeer provide an ideal means of transportation for Santa Claus, but he can hardly claim a first for using them: cave paintings and bones found in prehistoric sites in Europe are evidence that the reindeer has been more or less domesticated since the time of the cavemen. But Santa Claus might qualify as an early supporter of women's equality, since the reindeer or caribou is unique among the deer family in that the females as well as the males grow antlers. Both sexes shed their antlers in the spring, like other deer.

God bless us, every one... and especially you. Our thanks to one and all.

Her Name Has Ring Of Xmas

"Merry Christmas" in June? September? It is for a lovely young lady in Sacramento, California, who name is truly Merry Cheree Christmas!

In answer to endless inquiries and as many jokes this charming young woman never tires of explaining that her name really is Merry Christmas, and is spelled just that way. She is used to people thinking it's funny and the constant teasing, but enjoys the fun of it as much as others.

Miss Christmas, whose fame has spread all over the world, spends a considerable amount of time answering the many people who write her. She starts writing her Christmas cards in September.

Asked about marriage proposal and changing her name, Miss Christmas responded "Well, I've seriously thought about marriage a couple of times, but I was raised the old-fashioned way and I guess I'm looking for an old-fashioned type of person who thinks like I do. I really like the traditional things — like Christmas."

Christmas Gets Bigger, Louder And Cheerier

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP) — Christmas in many ways is symbolic of the entire pattern of American culture. Like Americans, its origins are in the length and breadth of the Old World.

Traditional Christmas was a combination of two elements — placating the dead, honoring the new born. It combined the old with the young, rich with the poor, the sage and the shepherd. For Americans it has become a time for goodwill — spending money, a baying forgiveness for past sins. It implies a belief in the supernatural and expresses a hope for a better tomorrow. It's a time to pray, to eat and drink.

Christmas is celebrated Dec. 25, the day after the end of early Christianity's rival Saturnalia celebration. Christmas Day, too, is close to the winter solstice, in Pagan days a time to pray to the Gods to lengthen daylight and restore life back to earth. Its direct purpose, of course, is to honor the birth of the Christ child.

The chief ingredient in a successful Christmas today is Santa Claus, venerable old St. Nicholas who lived in Patara in the 4th Century and died Dec. 6, 343 A.D. Among the many miracles attributed to St. Nicholas are two of great importance.

Heard that three young girls were to be sold into slavery, he supposedly fashioned three golden balls which he disguised in napkins and tossed over the wall inside which the girls were held — providing each with a secret dowry.

On another occasion he is supposed to have discovered that two boys had been chopped into bits by an innkeeper and salted down in a barrel of pork. His team fished out the bits, fitted them together and brought the boys back to life.

He became the patron saint of children, travelers and young women in distress, largely on the foundation of the two acts. The three golden balls he devised hang in front of pawn shops the world over, enabling those who overspent to borrow a few dollars. St. Francis, the animals' friend, also was an early contributor to the holiday. Through him the friendly creatures so important to Yale time were brought into the Christmas picture.

The English drew from these traditions and celebrated their own brand of Christmas, based on ancient pagan rites. Americans adapted some of the English Christmas to their own holiday — the yule log of oak, mistletoe and food — plum pudding, goose and pork.

The Irish contributed holly, and from Germany came the Christmas tree — preferably fir — as the abode of the God Wodin. Attached to the tree are ornaments, originally fertility symbols.

The sleigh and reindeer are from the Dutch, though that picture wasn't complete until America's Rudolph appeared on the scene. The English sang carols, ate food and lit fires and even gave gifts of food — but that was on St. Stephens Day (Dec. 26). To them Christmas didn't achieve major proportions until the days of Queen Victoria. Her husband, Albert, a German, introduced many of his native country's customs to England.

Strange as it may seem to America, Christmas was outlawed altogether by the founding fathers. It was recognized, of course, but festivities were kept dormant. As late as 1845, Dec. 25 was a normal work day. Christmas did not win prominence until after the Civil War.

At least three people are responsible for Christmas as Americans celebrate it now — Washington Irving, whose

Knickerbocker's History of New York mentions the curious Dutch celebration; Clement Moore of New York, who published "The Night Before Christmas" in 1823, and Charles Dickens, who wrote "A Christmas Carol."

Little by little, the holiday caught hold. In 1891, President Grover Cleveland celebrated Christmas in the White House and the festive avalanche began to rumble.

Around these basic ideas, behind the blatant commercialism, there lurks a mass of tradition handed down from parent to child by word of mouth — babies born on Christmas Day will be lucky; a green Christmas Day will tell your fortune; Christmas Day forecasts the weather for the coming year.

Despite the best attempts of church and state to curtail or eradicate Christmas, the holiday continues bigger, louder and more expensive each year.

St. Nicholas has been removed from the canon of saints and the prelates of the church have shouted against it. But it continues. Attempts to outlaw Christmas trees, colored lights, ornaments, cranberries and even to regulate the kinds of presents one can give have been dismal failures, and those who rail against it are thought of as Scrooges.

And the merchants depend on it, the children accept it as proof of fairyland and even the old and cynical have been known to smile Christmas morning.

White House Model Real Labor Of Love
DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — If anyone in the year 2075 wants to know what the White House was like 100 years earlier, they'll get the inside story from John and Jan Zweifel.

The Zweifels don't plan to be around, of course. But they hope the six-ton, 60-foot-long, true-to-life replica they spent 20 years building will be.

"Our dream is to give the White House to the people, so that 100 years from now they will know what it looked like on July 4, 1976," says Zweifel, a designer.

He says he, his wife and other craftsmen have put in an estimated 200,000 man-hours of labor, made many trips to the White House and spent as much as $50,000 of their own money for parts and materials in building the model, now on display in Daytona Beach.

"People question why somebody wants to do something without commercial intent, but just seeing the lines of people waiting to see it is enough," says Zweifel.

Walls have been left off the one-inch-to-one-foot replica so people can see into the rooms, which are exact down to such details as scratches on the real White House furniture.

Each piece of furniture is made from the same type of wood or material as the original. The model's chandeliers are of glass; the lights light; the walls have miniature oils painted by Mrs. Zweifel, an interior decorator, to match the famed paintings of the real building.

The Zweifels have shown their model in 35 states and say they hope to take it to all 50 states by the end of the year. They say they hope to have it accepted by either the White House or the Smithsonian Institution for permanent display.

Real Fishy Gift At $500
NAPLES (AP) — What are people giving millionaires for Christmas. Naples shopkeepers say they don't want to spoil any surprises, but a four-pound tin of Russian black caviar valued at $500 tops the list.

This resort town on Florida's Gulf Coast claims to have more than its share of millionaires, with estimates of 600 or so. Car dealer Bob Taylor says that at least four of them will get automobiles in the $23,000 to $26,000 range. He'll throw in a dozen red roses with each.

One couple is getting a $25,000 round-the-world cruise, on the Queen Elizabeth. For that money, they only get medium-priced accommodations for the 76-day adventure that includes a stop in the People's Republic of China.

It's too late to buy the $3,000 silk Christmas robe at one store here: a woman already snatched it up. The grayish blue robe is interwoven with sterling silver thread and has a diamond stick pin in the lapel. Somebody bought a $525 electric model airplane with six-foot wing span as a gift.

And a candy store that sells chocolates at $2.95 a four-pound box also suggests a $3,000 antique book on herbs to read while eating.
