

Shafer Calls For Probe Of Security Act

Payroll Pension Taxes Are Said To Be Diverted To Finance New Deal Spending

Only Small Part Goes To Pensions

Collection Of Over One And 1/2 Billion Is Hardship

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Representative Shafer, Michigan Republican called for a congressional investigation today of what he called the Treasury's "diversion" of $1,569,000,000 from the Social Security reserve fund to "finance New Deal spending."

He introduced a resolution which would authorize the Speaker of the House to appoint a committee of seven to conduct the inquiry. The resolution asserted that although the Treasury had collected $1,562,000,000 from workers and employers in payroll taxes under the Social Security Act during the past 14 months, less than $100,000 had been paid to those "insured against the hazards of old age."

The resolution said the payroll tax was "creating a hardship on business" and destroying jobs for employable persons.

The House was advised the tax bill might encounter a Presidential veto if the special tax on closely held corporations were eliminated.

Chairman Doughton, North Carolina Democrat, of the Ways and Means Committee, seeking to swing the tide of votes against the amendment to kill levy, told the legislators that if the amendment carried "in my judgment the bill will be vetoed."

He spoke while the House was moving toward a showdown on the tax provision, the most controversial part of the bill.

The North-O'Mahoney Federal licensing bill as condemned as an edict to "put all industry in bondage" by Merwin K. Hart, head of the New York State economic council, in testimony before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee yesterday.

The measure, which proposes to ban child labor and to eliminate unfair and cutthroat business practices by Federal licensing of all corporations with more than $100,000 gross assets operating in interstate commerce, has not been publicly approved by President Roosevelt.

Protesting that the proposal "seems to have been borrowed from our socialist friends," Hart warned against the bureaucratic regimentation of all industry to punish "the majority of the few."

County Debts Are Cut By $30,000 In Bond Transfer

Park Asks For Referendum On Project To Build Hospital

The outstanding indebtedness of Seminole County was reduced from $2,238,000 to $2,208,000 by the cancellation of $30 refunding bonds and their attached coupons by the Board of County Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting in the Court House yesterday, Clerk O. P. Herndon reported today.

The cancelled $30,000 in refunding bonds represents an equivalent amount of old bonds heretofore taken by the Clerk in payment of taxes.

Dr. C. L. Park appeared before the Board and requested the Commissioners to investigate the possibilities of calling a referendum on the proposed hospital for Seminole County on the same date as the Democratic primary. The matter was referred to County Attorney E. F. Housholder for investigation. A report will be made soon, it was stated.

Members of the Board passed a resolution requesting the City to cancel certain paving liens against the Hendry and Spear property for right-of-way purposes. (Continued on Page 17)

Plan Offered For Canning Of Extra Celery

Food Chemist Tells Trade Body Board Canning Of Celery Is Now Practical

A discussion as to the possibilities for canning surplus celery occupied the attention of the directors at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce building last evening.

The subject was introduced by W. D. Patton, a chemical technician, who was said to have spent much time in making food tests and investigations.

He stated that from reports he has received from various distributors, he is convinced there is a demand for canned celery and that a plant in the vicinity of Sanford would be in position to manufacture a product superior and at a lower cost than that now offered on the market. California canned celery is now being retailed at approximately 30 cents for a number two can, he said.

A committee will be appointed by President T. E. Simpson to investigate the matter further. Mr. Patton, a winter resident of Eustis, was introduced by H. J. Lehman. Mr. Simpson called attention to highway improvements being made in Seminole County at the present time. He also stated that he would join the County's delegation in appearing before the State Road Department's Budget Meeting in Orlando on Mar. 18, to request certain other appropriations for this county. Mr. Simpson also commented upon the large amount of publicity being given the BIG TREE, which he said is becoming more and more recognized as one of the unusual attractions in the United States.

James Law explained a plan for compiling, printing and distributing a directory of Seminole County citizens, to be the first issued since 1926. Mr. Law explained that he expects to sell 1,000 copies of the directory at $3 each and that a minimum of $750 worth of advertising will be necessary to finance it. Upon motion of T. W. Lawton seconded by E. H. Laney, the Chamber of Commerce gave its endorsement to the project as outlined.

At the request of H. J. Lehman, the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign was postponed until the latter part of April so that the Salvation Army drive may be held during the first week of April.

President Simpson presided over last night's meeting which was attended by the following Board members and visitors:

From Fern Park, Gordon J. Barnett, Mrs. Prudence Bruno, F. E. Geisler, Mrs. F. E. Geisler; from Forest City, Fred Forward; from Fred Forward, W. B. Carwell; from Geneva, J. A. Logan; from Lake Monroe, J. Tilden Jacobs; from Longwood, W. J. Wells, Jr.; Oviedo, W. D. Williams; Paola, E. H. Laney, D. K. McNabb; Eustis, W. D. Patton, and E. J. Wirtz.

Sanford directors present were: L. F. Boyle, H. H. Coleman, W. S. Coleman, L. H. Connelly, R. L. Dean, H. C. DeBose, W. M. Haynes, P. R. Lawson, T. W. Lawton, James Law, H. J. Lehman, R. A. Newman, H. E. Papp, T. E. Simpson, D. I. Thresher, W. H. Tunnicliffe, Geo. Weinstain, Fred T. Williams, Fred B. Wilson, and Secretary Ralph Bagwell.

Pankowski Signs With Indians In Cleveland

Tommy Pankowski, well-known to many Sanford baseball fans, has signed with the Cleveland Indians for the coming season, according to information received today.

Pankowski pitched several games for the Leokates last season, and after being placed on the roster of several teams in the northeast was forced to retire for the season because of an ailing arm. His home is in Detroit and he has been turned out to the Springfield, Ohio, team in the Middle Atlantic League for the season. In addition to being an able baseball player, Pankowski is the amateur heavyweight boxing champion of Detroit.

DARING RESCUERS SAVE STRICKEN FREIGHTER AT SEA

These pictures tell a vivid story of the rescue of the ill-fated freighter, Azalea City, which lost her propeller during terrific storms in the north Atlantic and wallowed helplessly for 18 days until Coast Guardsmen came to her aid. At the left, guardsmen aboard the cutter Chelan are shown in the act of firing a line across the drifting craft. A few minutes later a hawser linked the two ships and the Azalea City (in distance at right) bucked against the line. But the hawser held firmly and the Chelan towed the freighter into Boston Harbor. Bound from Panama City, Fla., to England, the Azalea City ran into eight terrific storms and each time she took a severe battering. She carried 11 passengers, some from Mobile, Ala.

Legislative Rule Of County Group Changed By Lloyd

Candidates For Legislature Run As They Please

Candidates for the legislature from Seminole County will be allowed to qualify in either of the two groups they desire, according to a statement made today by S. M. Lloyd, chairman of the Seminole Democratic Committee, in spite of a resolution adopted at a recent meeting of the County Committee, which provided that candidates from precincts 1, 1 A, 2 and 3 A would have to make the race in Group No. 1 and candidates from all other precincts in the County would be required to qualify in Group 2.

Mr. Lloyd said he favored his statement on a telephone conversation yesterday with J. B. Hodges, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, and a letter from Mr. Hodges received today.

Mr. Hodges quoted Section 413 of the Compiled General Laws of Florida, which provides "each candidate . . . shall indicate therein the group in which he desires his name to appear on the ballot."

Mr. Hodges also said that "Since the Statute provides that the candidate shall present a sworn statement in which he indicates therein the group in which he desires his name to appear on the ballot, I am of the opinion that the Committee would have no power to limit or regulate the selection of a candidate in regard to the group in which he desires his name to appear on the ballot."

At present H. J. Lehman and J. G. Sharou have announced their intention of making the race for the legislature in Group No. 1, and John Leonardy, Gordon Barnett and G. H. Bridges, Jr., have announced for the other post to be filled from Group No. 2.

Cashier Shifted Firm's Securities To Whitney

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Robert J. Rosenthal, cashier of the bankrupt firm of Richard Whitney and Company, testified today that he took large blocks of securities out of accounts held by the firm for safekeeping and investment and handed them over in January to Richard Whitney, former president of the New York Stock Exchange and senior partner in the firm.

The firm yesterday was suspended from the exchange for failure to meet obligations. Later it went into bankruptcy. Rosenthal testified at a public hearing before Assistant State Attorney General Ambrose V. McCall of New York, opened yesterday, first questioning Henry D. Mygatt, a partner in the firm.

Process servers from McCall's office were unable to locate Whitney, Counsel for the firm, however, said "Mr. Whitney will be present if we can locate him."

Whitney is a brother of George Whitney, a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Company.

Annual Inspection Of National Guard Will Be On Mar. 17

The annual Army inspection of the Sanford National Guard units, conducted by an inspector of the regular army will be held on Mar. 17 and 18. Col. H. W. McCrex will make the inspection both of equipment and personnel, commanding officers of the three local units notified officers and enlisted men, declaring that this is one of the few times during the training year that no excuses are accepted for nonattendance.

The Medical Detachment under Major A. W. Knox is expected to be present at the inspection several methods of first aid to the injured in addition to the litter drill and methods of artificial respiration.

Headquarters, Company 1st Battalion under Lieut. W. D. Hoffmann will execute a command post exercise, which involves the use of all of the methods of communication available to the unit, including code and cipher messages.

Company D of the machine gun unit under Captain H. C. Washburn is expected to put its squads through elementary and advanced machine gun drill as well as the regular close order drill.

In the past, the inspection has proved very interesting to many spectators, and the public is invited to attend the exercises which for the most part will be held on the lighted drill field. This occasion affords the public the opportunity of seeing the local units at their best, both in their exhibitions and the attendance, as 100 percent attendance of officers and men is obligatory, guard officers indicated today.

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Sales of General Motors cars and trucks to consumers in the United States in February amounted to $2,251 units, compared with $2,069 in January and $1,600 in February, 1937.

Dr. W. S. Allen Is Speaker At Kiwanis Lunch

President Of Stetson Says Enrollment Has Doubled Since 1934

Pointing to the growth and development of the John B. Stetson University in DeLand during the past years, Dr. W. S. Allen, president of the institution, told Kiwanians at their luncheon today that since the founding of the school of higher learning as an academy 55 years ago the motto had been "for God and for Truth" and that it had been the aim of the school to send out Christian citizens.

George DeCottes, an alumnus of the University and chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker who declared that enrollment in the school had increased 124 percent during the past 3 1/2 years, and that at the present time there were 832 students in the school taught by the 60 members of the faculty.

Since his coming to the University in 1934, Dr. Allen stated that the working program had consisted of six fundamental points; namely: development of health consciousness; development of scholarly attitude and creative effort; growing citizenship consciousness; aiding each student in selecting and preparing for his life's vocation; creating an appreciation for culture; and the development of a dynamic Christian character.

Dr. Allen declared that scholarship and high idealism were conjoined in an effort to obtain greater improvement for the students; create an appreciation for the finer things of life as well as a recognition of the various problems of citizenship and their solutions.

Two visitors were present for the meeting today, Herbert Stuckey, of Atlanta and Dr. Frank Atkinson, of West Palm Beach.

Kiwanians were reminded at the luncheon today of the ladies night inter-club affair to be held soon in Mt. Plymouth at which Fred Parker, of Chicago, and International Secretary, will be the guest speaker. President Sidney Nix presided over the meeting.

Citrus Fruit Freight Rate Up 5 Percent

ICC Grants Railroad Plea For 10 Percent Increase In Rates; Exceptions Up 5

15 Percent Hike Plea Turned Down

Railroads Expect Increase In Revenues Of $270,000,000.00

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Citrus fruits, Interstate Commerce Commission officials said informally today, are subject to a five percent increase under the Commission's freight rate decision.

While declining to give an official opinion, ICC officials said they were "quite sure" the Commission intended to exempt citrus fruit from the 10 percent rate increase which the Commission allowed railroads yesterday. Commodities exempted from the 10 percent increase are subject to a five percent boost.

The increases may be put into effect by the railroads on 10 days notice and must be made effective before July 1. They are designed to boost their revenues $270,000,000 annually. The carrier's plea that a 15 percent rise is necessary to save them from bankruptcy was rejected.

Immediately after the announcement, under which agricultural products, bituminous and lignite coal and iron ore are partially exempt, President Roosevelt said he would meet with the ICC officials and representatives of the railroads next week in an effort to find a solution to the carriers' problems and avert their ruin from decreased revenues.

Commissioner Walter M. Splawn estimated that the adjustment, representing two-thirds of that sought by the railroads, is equivalent to a full horizontal (Continued On Page 12)

Pictures Of City Taken For Use In Lion's Club Show

Cameras are already whirring for the Lion's Club show the "Movie Queen" to be shown at the High School auditorium on Mar. 17 and 18, it was announced today by Maxwell Stewart, president of the Lion's Club.

"Yesterday scenes were taken in the celery fields of Sanford," Mr. Stewart said, "and also shots were taken of the Jaycees as they left the Valdes Hotel after their noon meeting. Also today many scenes about the business section of town were taken. These local scenes will be worked in with movies of the festive parade to be staged here on Saturday and with the gangster 'plot' pictures to be taken on Monday."

"In connection with the Lion's Club stage and screen show, Sadye's Dress Shop will give a fashion show." Mr. Stewart continued. The models fit right in with the plot of the play, being Hollywood mannequins which Jacques Flowers, Parisian dress designer has presumably created for the movie queen's introduction to Hollywood's society.

"Tonight's rehearsal will take place at the Armory at 7:30 o'clock," he concluded.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life; but teach them thy sons and thy son's sons.—Deut. 4:9

Speaking of needed tax changes, did you know that under our present tax system if a man hires more workmen for repairs the pay of those he already employs, his taxes are increased, but if he lays off a few or cuts their wages, his taxes are reduced?

Joe Marantette, proprietor of the town opera house, is back in the city after a short vacation spent among the blue bloods and thoroughbreds of the Hialeah race track near Miami. Full of pep and enthusiasm, Joe recom-mends this tonic for anyone who needs to be re-energized on the future of the great state.

Secretary Hoper, dumb in deal-ing with little business men, knows something about politics. He is in Daytona, when asked who was going to be the next senator from Florida, "In many years of politics I've learned that there is nothing more de-structive than for a man to tell the people of another State how to run its affairs."

Speaking in Florida on the same evening one in Daytona, the other in Hialeah-in-the-Hills, Dr. Townsend and Alf Landon, both seemed to have the same idea that a coalition of anti-New Dealers is required, but Dr. Townsend would organize a brand new party to the destruc-tion of both the old parties while Dr. Landon would bring them all under the Republican banner, both plans entail certain diffi-culties.

Walter Coleman was at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last night with blood in his eye following the theft by party or parties unknown of some of his prize animals and camels. Next in line to the man who poisons a dog is one who steals a camel, but in this instance, it seems the thief was a woman. The report of a woman's shoe was found in the animal box. Nevertheless, man or woman, we recommend that a law be passed providing the most extreme punishment for anyone who steals a plant or shrub.

Word comes from Jacksonville that Remond's County's hospital budget is in proper order, and ready for official okay, awaiting only a referendum by the people of this county before authoriza-tion. With increased appropriations by the federal government for unemployment relief and with special emphasis being laid on hospital projects, there is every reason to believe the local hos-pital would be quickly approved. The Democratic primary will take place on May 3 which seems to be an excellent time to hold the referendum.

Tax Collection

City officials in Fort Myers have decided that the time has come for delinquent taxpayers to pay up, or else. The "or else" in this case, happens to be a cessation of public services which may prove embarrassing to large property owners and any other citizens who may have gotten behind in their taxes.

The Mayor has served notice that until all back taxes are paid, water and sewerage service will be discontinued, garbage collection will be stopped, and police and fire protection for the affected properties will be discontinued. Furthermore the city sanitary inspector has been ordered to keep a close watch on these properties and to make prompt arrests for any violations of health ordinances.

We doubt very seriously whether the city has the right to deny its services to any citizen regardless of whether he pays his taxes or not. Certainly it has no right to deny police and fire protection to anyone, even a stranger in the city, a hobo, or a bum, much less to a property owner who for the moment, possibly because of circumstances over which he had no control, happened to get behind in his taxes.

Here is certainly a question which we would like to see taken to the Supreme Court. But there seems to be no likelihood that it will be. The city may have no right to do these things, but it is doing them just the same, and the property owners are already taking the hint and paying up. Perhaps a good bluff was all that was necessary to make them do their share toward the proper support of the town.

At any rate it provides an interesting experiment which will be watched with interest from this distance. Sanford has also had its troubles in collecting taxes. Probably as serious troubles as Fort Myers. Our commissioners have just recently adopted a somewhat more considerate attitude toward delinquent taxpayers in an effort to get them back on the tax rolls.

Here, a proposition has been made whereby a property owner can settle all his back taxes, even in cases where they run back to 1930 or prior years, simply by paying his 1934 and subsequent taxes. In cases of improved property he must also pay ten percent of his taxes prior to 1934, but even in such instances, this compromise generally represents a fifty cents on the dollar settlement.

However, it stands to reason that if property owners fail to realize the advantages of effecting a settlement on this basis, some such stringent methods as are being carried out in Fort Myers will have to be applied here. Perhaps a fairer and more legal procedure would be merely to foreclose on the property, but in any event something like that will have to be done.

The time for letting local taxes ride has passed.

The TVA Battle

In Washington this week, President Roosevelt is trying to settle the squabble that has arisen among his trusted advisers in charge of the Tennessee Valley Authority, the billion dollar project which was to light up the deep South.

Kingpins of this vast government undertaking are Arthur E. Morgan, Harcourt Morgan, and David Lillenthal. This little triumvirate has stirred up a tempest in a teapot which threatens to blow up a number of well constructed dams.

"The chairmanship of the authority is held by Arthur Morgan," explains the Miami Herald. "But it is an empty title. The other Morgan and Lillenthal have consistently outvoted him for more than a year. They would like to get rid of him. But Chairman Morgan clings to his position. Only a concurrent resolution of congress can remove a TVA commissioner.

"When Senator Berry set up claims with TVA for his flooded marble quarries, Chairman Morgan saw his opportunity to even scores with Lillenthal and the other Morgan. He charged that TVA records will show that the two did not want Berry's demands to come into open court but favored another sort of settlement.

"The other Morgan and Lillenthal have not contented themselves with sniping at the chairman but have also been busy accumulating evidence to prove that all the chairman is bent on is 'sabotaging' TVA.

"Senator Norris, father of TVA, and his staunch supporter, Representative Maverick, declare that Chairman Morgan is playing up the Berry claims for no other purpose than to destroy the TVA. They would like to have TVA investigated. But they want an inquiry that will enable them to pressure congress into removing Chairman Morgan.

"The battle between the chairman and his two adversaries has gone far beyond the personal stage. Arthur Morgan, erstwhile conservative college president, has attracted to his side the conservative elements at Washington. The other Morgan and Lillenthal are recognized liberals. With them are lined up all the left-wingers in administration circles and in congress.

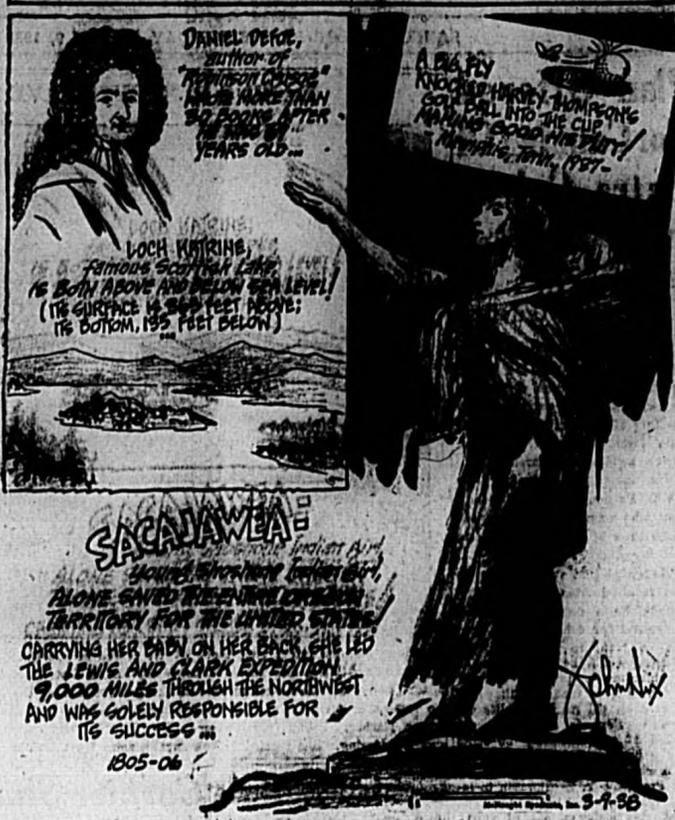

"The conflict is widening in scope to a showdown between these two groups. When the blowoff comes, the explosion may upset more commissions than the Tennessee Valley Authority."

STRANGE, AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX.

SAGA OF SACAJAWEA... Strange as it seems, the faithfulness and ability of a 20-year-old Indian girl was responsible for the acquisition of the vast Oregon territory by the United States. Sacajawea, her name was. Born a Shoshone in Idaho, daughter of an Indian chief, at 16 she was captured by a war party of Hidatsa Indians and sold to a Canadian, Toussaint Charbonneau, who married her.

In Washington, D. C., at this time, Thomas Jefferson finally had managed to secure an appropriation to send an expedition westward to chart the vast region won from England in the Revolution. Meriwether Lewis and Captain William Clark were selected to head the party.

When in the winter of 1804-05 Lewis and Clark reached the Mandan Indian village where Sacajawea resided, the young Indian girl was engaged as a guide and her husband, Charbonneau, as interpreter for the expedition. With her two-month-old baby boy strapped to her back, Sacajawea led the party over a trackless wilderness where she had played as a young girl.

In the following summer, the party camped at the triple fork of the Missouri where, years before Sacajawea had been captured by the Hidatsas. Naming the three branches Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin, the explorers, led by the faithful Sacajawea, proceeded up the Jefferson River, reaching the head of navigation on Aug. 12.

Marching across the Nez Perce trail, along the Bitter Root Mountain, they finally came to the headwaters of the Clearwater branch of the Columbia River. Only by the guidance of Sacajawea were they able to find their way across the Continental Divide to the western slope of the Rockies.

The party reached the Pacific on November 15 and, after a winter of hardship, returned to St. Louis. All in all, Sacajawea had led her 9,000 miles arduous, with her baby boy, "Daplaté," strapped to her back.

By virtue of the records of the Lewis and Clark expedition, the United States was later able to establish a claim on the vast region and definitely settle the "Oregon Question" with England.

Sacajawea lived to be 100 years old and after her death in 1884 a river, a mountain and a peak were named for her. No other American woman has been honored with as many memorials as has Sacajawea.

STYLE

CHRISTIAN-SCIENCE MONITOR

For those who don't know it, all others we sometimes felt that we were learning a new tongue. Among other things, this crackle led to simplified spelling and excessive hyphenation. When we meant "doe" we had to write "doo" and "cozy" became "cozy" and "though" was "thoo."

I worked for a little while on a little New York tabloid. I worried little about style, yet even there the editors must have been whimsical. One such person was the editor of the "C. S. M." inserted after Washington in every edition from the national capital though it is almost a universal newspaper rule that world capitals need not be identified by country. So we faithfully wrote "D. C." dozens of times a night so no one would think that Congress was sitting in Washington, Mo.

And so, while I don't know much about styles, from Bond Street Fifth Avenue on, the Rue de la Paix, I feel qualified to testify on journalistic fashions. —By C. L. S.

Warning to Dog Owners. If you have a dog and he becomes sick do not try to doctor him, take him to the doctor and find out what is the matter with him, for if you have any sense you will get your dog's body the same way from his mouth as you get in contact with your blood. You are subject to the rabies if you do have the rabies and if you do not take the rabies treatment and get the rabies it is certain death, for there is no cure, only a preventive. The writer's dog died of the rabies. He had a dog tied to the dog that are running around are biting the dog that are tied, and they in turn endanger their owners. Most people are taking this epidemic too lightly.

On an afternoon paper in Kansas City we were not permitted to run a short item in two paragraphs. It had to be one, three, or more. Why? No one knew, but it was undoubtedly the result of an editorial whimsy of years ago.

I moved to another Kansas City paper where I was told, as were all newcomers, that we must never carry a story dealing with snakes, whether under that name or disguised as reptiles or varmints. The tradition was that years before an editor had created a terrible scene over a snake story, and that his personal aloofness must be respected. We carefully hung all snake fairs on the spike until one night we received a teletype account of a strange adventure in Western Kansas. A farmer had fallen into a abandoned well and was immediately set upon by reptiles which were annoyed at being disturbed. When the farmer was rescued, he was so badly bitten that he had to be taken to a hospital. The telegraph editor, though fearful, thought he ought to use the story. He thereupon put it through a dry censing process, carefully changing every reference to snakes to "benches" and we printed it. Nothing happened except that we got a letter from another farmer in Western Kansas. As a pioneer of the prairies he had encountered many strange creatures in his time, he said, but he had never run onto a denizen, in a well or out. He wanted to know what it was.

We laughed until one man, bolder than the rest of us, decided to ask the editor in question why he had banned snake stories. The editor was surprised. He asked snake stories? All that had happened was that one night years before he had decided that a certain snake item was not good reading for Sunday morning and ordered it out. In the stress of meeting an edition he had spoken sharply, and thus was an editorial taboo born.

Later I went to a great New York morning newspaper. As a journalistic Titan this paper had rules and about four feet deep, but the principal one of which all hands were warned was known as the "was alive" construction. For years this paper has forbidden the use of a person as the subject of a passive verb. Anyone who lets go in such a statement as "John Jones was given a check by the chairman" is guilty of a journalistic crime. It was given, not was given, for a person cannot be given anything. It was given, not was given, for a person cannot be given anything.

The Japanese also said a Chinese cavalry detachment had repulsed a Japanese drive against Liat in southeastern Shantung, killing 500 Japanese. The Japanese artillery attacks were concentrated on Chinese positions opposite Mengshai and Weishien, where the Japanese hoped to cross the river and cut the Lanchow railway between Chelienow and Loyang.

Although handicapped by slow, the Japanese continued to harass retreating Chinese in Szechuan Province, preparatory to invading Szechuan, the commercial stronghold. Chinese said Japanese in North-China had advanced to Yelgy River near Peking and captured Peking in Szechuan Province, but were forced back by a spirited Chinese counterattack.
