A. W. Lee Enters Race For City Commission Job

Lamson Calls Attention To Poll Tax Payment Provision

A. W. (AD) Lee, today announced his candidacy for the City Commission to fill the post vacated by former Commissioner Perry N. Whirlhouse, resigned.

He is the second to enter the race, J. H. Trelock having made public yesterday his intentions of running.

Mr. Lee became a resident of Sanford in 1919, coming here from Trussville on his discharge from military service during the World War.

He is a plumber by profession and has been actively engaged in that business since becoming a citizen of Sanford. Mr. Lee is 44 years of age, a member of the Episcopal Church, the American Legion, an Elk, a Shiner and a member of a chamber of commerce.

His entry into the race is a surprise, since he has had his name on file with the City clerk not more than 30 days nor less than 20 days before the day of voting. Each one becomes a candidate only by the payment of a deposit containing at least 25 names of qualified electors.

City Clerk Frank Lamson announced that all persons expecting to vote in the forthcoming election should do so by the 10th of this month.

Alabama Colored Boy Uses Mails To 'Court' Love

Willie Hall, an Alabama colored boy, apparently has considerable faith in the Department of Agriculture in publishing leaflets for an "Maiden Love."

Or perhaps, Hall chose the postal method to advertise because there was the best chance of a letter not being kept out of the way before he could present his offerings in person.

Shoof Charles Head, district manager, received a package from Hall to his high school. The package was packed with a large heart, drawn in ink on numerous bills and decorated with a picture of a girl.

It was addressed to the "Misses" and the "Misses" took some time to open it, and finally found the "Maiden Love" where it was a picture of a girl.

The Leesburg outfit, which eliminated Sanford a week ago at Daytona Beach in the North east conference tournament, was held in even terms throughout and it was not until the final seconds that the Jackets capped the decision. A desperate long shot, attempted by Johnnie Morgan, local guard in the last ten seconds of play bounded off the rim to end the hopes of the Sanfordites.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told his press conference today that communications to the White House were running seven to one in approval of his Victory Dinner speech last night in which he said the Supreme Court decisions made achievement of his economic objectives uncertain without some new action "now."

The only other reference to the speech at the press conference was a statement by the President that he referred to a decision of Federal Judge Gore in the middle district of Tennessee when he asked in his speech how the Tennessee Valley project could be completed "while the lower courts have not hesitated to paralyze its operations by succeeding injunctions."

Emphasizing the financial and civic benefits to be derived from the project, the directors then voted unanimously to take an active part in attempting to obtain a camp for Sanford.

While the Board offered no suggestions, it indicated that it would spend money to help the recommendations made by City officials who are investigating possibilities of the camp and collecting data from other Florida municipalities.

A part of the night's session, held in the home of President Hoyt of the club, was devoted to a training school for officers and committee members.

The sessions were served on a buffet plan.

Dr. C. W. Pease, State health officer, will arrive here in April to administer immunization serum to public school children, Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, school nurse, said today.

She declines to say for the physical health of the County could be improved by having no pre-arranged schedule on which to operate. The time spent in one County, it was estimated, depends on the number of treatments he is required to give.

Pease is expected to arrive in Sanford for the prevention of diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox in the State of Florida by Dr. Pease. Mrs. Lamb stressed that the medical attention, although highly beneficial, is not compulsory in given only with parents' consent.

President Roosevelt did not speak with his usual clarity last night in trying to prove the universal incapacity of men past seventy or the necessity for six new justices on the Supreme Court. The impression which many received from his remarks was that the Supreme Court is a very alert and active body of men who have succeeded in tying the President and the entire membership of Congress hand and foot and have completely blocked their New Deal program.

The President's Speech

There are, as the President put it, "one-third of the nation ill nourished, ill clad, and ill housed," and that is "New", after four years of the New Deal. There are "thousands upon thousands of farmers wondering whether their next year's prices will meet their mortgage interest." And that, too, is "New", after four years of the New Deal. And there are "strikes more far-reaching than we have ever known," and there are floods and droughts, and he might as well have added, rumors of wars and influenza epidemics; and all of these calamities after four years of the New Deal which was to bring us Utopia and "the more abundant life."

In Denver, Colo., a former relief worker proved his appreciation for the government help he has received for the past three years. Disgrituted over having been cut off the rolls, he walked into relief headquarters and shot the director and two assistants, killing all three of them. His only crime was that they had cut him off relief.

THE DRED SCOTT DECISION

Dred Scott is being mentioned in a new way in the pages of the Supreme Court. From the beginning of the Federal Government and the end of the Civil War the Supreme Court has been a very alert and active body of men who have succeeded in tying the President and the entire membership of Congress hand and foot and have completely blocked their New Deal program.

Whether or not the Dred Scott decision based on the Civil War is not mentioned in the present discussion. People are usually thinking of the suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus by the Supreme Court, and they cite the Dred Scott case in which the Supreme Court decided against the will of Congress and the national will. Beginning in 1850, pro-slavery sentiment ran high in the country. The nation was tired of Daniel Webster supporting the Fugitive Slave Law for the sake of national unity and peace. In 1852 election there were 1,000,000 Democrats and Whigs against 100,000 Free-Soilers. Two years later Stephen A. Douglas, then for the Presidency, got through the Kansas-Nebraska Bill. At that time as the 1854 election there were 1,000,000 Democrats and Whigs against 100,000 Free-Soilers. Two years later Stephen A. Douglas, then for the Presidency, got through the Kansas-Nebraska Bill. At that time as the 1854 election there were 1,000,000 Democrats and Whigs against 100,000 Free-Soilers.

Dynamite Shows Crush On Teacher; Refuses To Be Advanced In School

Federal and Dynamite schools consider the collapse a model school. She says there isn't a teacher to be seen in her school and she obeys all the rules, falling in line with the others when recess and dismissal is being rung. "We had to mark him 'unsatisfactory' in department one month," Mr. Martin concludes. "He created such a stir when another dog followed one of the pupils to school." Dynamite appears bored when the class is studying arithmetic and she like-but usually he is interested. Forrest says the dog "look up" with him three years ago and they have been pals ever since.

England's Indian Power May Depend On Aga Khan

British Empire Looks To Single Man To Preserve Unity Among 100,000,000 Persons In East

By EDWIN HACHENBERG
AP Foreign Specialist
NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—(AP)—The unexpected strength shown in elections by the anti-English Nationalists of British India, who demand absolute independence, may mean that the future trend of British rule will rest to no considerable degree in the hands of a single individual—the Aga Khan, all-powerful religious ruler of more than 100,000,000 Mohammedans.

This great spiritual leader always, has displayed intense devotion to the throne. Indeed, it is said that the loyalty of the Mohammedans of India has been due largely to his influence, and this loyalty in turn has been responsible for the strength of British rule.

At the moment, the Nationalist campaign revolves about the new constitution under which England has granted British India a measure of self-government. The Nationalists oppose the constitution bitterly, and their program calls for every possible obstruction to its working. The largest number of Nationalist representatives just elected to the provincial legislatures are pledged to block the wheels.

The Aga Khan strongly favors the constitution, which he himself helped to frame. He never intervenes directly in politics, and he belongs to no political group. But his wishes are law to his followers. They reverence the head of their religion, and were reverence not sufficiently impelling there remains an even more potent force—his power of communication and of blighting with a curse extending through generations. Mohammedans dread this more than death.

Judging from the past, it is reasonable to assume that the Aga Khan will let his followers know they are supposed to be-operate with the government under the new constitution. That might do much to alleviate a situation which is decidedly uncomfortable for England, to say the least.

It is an interesting circumstance that another world-famous spiritual guide, Mahatma Gandhi, is leading the Nationalists away from England. His influence also is vast.

At the moment the Aga Khan is in East Africa, receiving the homage of his subjects there. His realm also extends into Central Asia as well as India.

The Aga Khan is one of the striking personalities of his time—as Oriental potentate of fabulous wealth who is thoroughly westernized and spends most of his time in Europe, where the most exclusive doors are open to him. He is 60 years old, and is 48th in direct and unbroken descent from Mohammed's daughter Fatima and her husband A. I.

When among his followers he is the autocrat, attired in the gorgeous robes of a prince and gleaming with priceless gems. His subjects prostrate themselves before him.

But see him in England or France. He sheds the mysterious and exotic east as completely and easily as he does his colorful trappings. He is the correctly attired western gentleman—affable, charming and wholly likable. His English is perfect (he is a Cambridge graduate), and it is said that he can speak every language on the continent with-out a trace of accent.

The Aga Khan is perhaps best known in Europe as a great sportsman. His racing stable is famous, and he has thrice won the English derby—crown of crowns in the realm of turf. British punters often bet on his horses on general principles, because his ownership is a guarantee of speed. Not long ago the value of his horses was set at five million dollars. He has been twice married and his first wife, an Italian, bore him a son who is heir to the father's position. The young man last year married an English woman, the former Mrs. Thomas Loel Guinness, who comes of a distinguished and wealthy family. The Aga Khan's second wife is a beautiful girl, 26 years his junior—Miss Andrea Coryn, daughter of a Paris hotel man. They were married in 1928 and have a son.

Route of the new 165-mile waterway across Florida that cuts 255 miles off the old route around Cape Sable. The canal will be formally opened to yachtsmen with ceremonies at Stuart and Fort Myers on March 22 and 23.

Despite his interest in sports and society, the Aga Khan is said to devote many hours daily to the needs of his religious followers.

Rebels Say France Stirring Up Pass In North Africa

Kansas Farm Women Reviving Old Art Of Spinning Wool

PATTEVILLE, Ark., Mar. 5.—(AP)—The old fashioned spinning wheel is whirling again in Arkansas. In a revival of the art of spinning, Mrs. D. D. Bates, extension specialist in home industries, says farm women are finding the spinning wheel and loom sources of added income and greater beauty in the home.

Spinning wheels, used since Civil War days, have been brought out of their storage places and reconditioned, she says. Some have sought their equipment new. Others, more industrious, have made their own.

As a result of the sudden increase in popularity, the extension service, in co-operation with the University of Arkansas college of agriculture, is sponsoring demonstrations in spinning and weaving in 21 counties.

Florida Relief Rolls Will Be Shipped 4,000

Ingram Is Ordered To Reduce WPA Work- ers To 1930

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 5.—(AP)—Says Administrator Frank P. Ingram said today that 4,000 persons will be dropped from WPA rolls in Florida during April and May.

He said he had orders from National Administrator Hopkins in Washington to reduce Florida rolls from their present total of 24,000 to 19,000 in April and 19,000 in May.

Ingram said Hopkins warned against discharging workers who are in actual need and are unable to find employment in private industry.

Outside relief agencies, cities and counties must care for all needy persons dropped from Federal aid and who are unable to obtain employment, he declared.

England To Halt London Air Raids With Big Cables

LONDON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—The British air force disclosed a plan today to defend London from air attacks by huge steel cables in asking Parliament for appropriations that cover 1937 cost of Britain's war machine to $1,348,000,000. The Air Ministry announced that expenses estimated for the current year would reach $412,000,000 or almost twice the amount asked for last year.

Premier Of France Lifts 5-Month Ban On Gold Trading

PARIS, Mar. 5.—(AP)—Premier Leon Blum's Government, seeking to steady France's reeling finances, lifted a five-month-old ban on domestic gold trading today and announced the deficit-ridden budget would be reduced drastically in preparation for a new loan to pay national expenses.

The effect of the Cabinet's action, officials hoped, would be to attract gold from hoarders inside the country and draw French gold back into France from the outside.

An official communique left a question as to the further devaluation of the franc unanswered. But informed sources predicted it is prepared to stabilize the monetary unit at 29.94 to the dollar.

President Tells Nation That Tribu- nal's Action Is Contaminating U. S.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today contended that the Supreme Court's decision on the constitutionality of the National Labor Relations Act has contaminated the United States.

With an obvious reference to the "dictator" charges hurled by his enemies, he declaimed any intent to seek a third term in office.

At this point in his speech the president quoted what he had said a few days ago to a member of Congress in these words: "My great ambition on Jan. 20, 1941, is to turn over this desk and chair in the white house to my successor, whomsoever he may be, with the assurance that I am at the same time turning over to him as president, a nation intact, a nation at peace, a nation prosperous, a nation clear in its knowledge of what powers it has to give its own citizens, a nation that is in a position to use those powers to the full in order to move forward steadily to meet the modern needs of humanity—a nation which has thus proved that the democratic form and methods of national government can and will succeed."

President Roosevelt's attack on the Supreme Court's majority in the court that we live in a nation where there is no legal power anywhere to deal with its most difficult practical problems—a no man's land of finality.

The president's first intimation on the court's decision was made on the judiciary went to Congress a month ago, was delivered at a "small" White House dinner here, featured event of a day of democratic dinner, through the country celebrating the 19th anniversary of the court's decision.

President Roosevelt's attack on the court's majority in the court that we live in a nation where there is no legal power anywhere to deal with its most difficult practical problems—a no man's land of finality.

He said it pleased the "personal economic predilections of a majority of the court that we live in a nation where there is no legal power anywhere to deal with its most difficult practical problems—a no man's land of finality."

Again and again, he emphasized in short, emphatic sentences that the conditions which his administration seeks to correct by legislation are conditions that exist "now."

"If we would keep faith with those who had faith in us, if we would make democracy succeed, I say we must act now."

His address began with a reference to the banking crisis of his inauguration, four years ago yesterday. And then, quickly, he said: "Now we face another crisis—of a different kind but fundamentally even more grave than that of four years ago. Tonight, I want to begin with you a discussion of that crisis."

The democratic party, he continued, will remain the majority party only if it solves "the pressing problems that perplex our generation." He pledged that those problems would be solved "after election day in 1936."

GOBBELS HITS BACK AT TALK BY LA GUARDIA

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—The United States democracy has not yet failed and does not need to fail. And we propose not to let it fail.

Nevertheless, I cannot tell you with complete candor that in these past few years, democracy in the United States has fully succeeded. Nor can I tell you, under present circumstances, just where American democracy is headed nor just what it is permitted to do in order to insure its continued success and survival. I can only hope.

"For as yet there is no definite assurance that the three horse team of the American system of government will pull together. If three well-matched horses are put to the task of plowing up a field where the going is heavy, and the team of three pull as one, the field will be ploughed. If one horse lies down in the traces or plunges off in another direction, the field will not be ploughed."

Among other measures he referred to the railroad retirement act and the Guffey coal act as having been declared unconstitutional "as the child labor amendment had been outlawed 20 years before."

In addition, he said, court injunctions have paralyzed the machinery of the national labor relations act. So far, he said, "the attitude and language of the courts in relation to many of our laws have made the locality of this act also uncertain, and have encouraged corporations to defy rather than obey it."

The attitude of the courts, he said, made it impossible "confidently" to complete the Tennessee Valley development. The Ohio river, recently in flood, and the dust bowl, he added, "are not conversant with the interstate commerce clause."

"But," he added, "we shall never be safe in our lives, in our property or in the heritage of our soil until we have somehow made the interstate commerce clause conversant with the habits of the Ohio river and the dust bowl."

"Here, too, we cannot afford either individually or as a party to postpone or run away from that fight on advice of defeatist lawyers. Let them try that advice on sweating men piling sandbags of the streets at Cairo."

He said it pleased the "personal economic predilections of a majority of the court that we live in a nation where there is no legal power anywhere to deal with its most difficult practical problems—a no man's land of finality."

Again and again, he emphasized in short, emphatic sentences that the conditions which his administration seeks to correct by legislation are conditions that exist "now."

County Farmers To Hear Details Of Soil Program

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—The county wide soil conservation program has been established today by the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Dawson announced that all farmers and growers who give indications of participating in the 1937 program will be eligible to cast one vote selecting a County Committee.

During the County wide sessions, he explained, names of those in attendance will be asked for, and the list obtained in this manner will correspond to a list of regular voters used in political elections.

The County agent said one of the principal differences between this year's program and that of 1936 is that work sheets must be filled out and returned to the County agent.

Catholic Church To Hold Novena; Service Tonight

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—The Catholic Church in Washington will hold a novena service for the souls of the dead, starting tonight.

The original picture of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Father Kellanagh said, is enshrined in the Redemptorist Church of St. Alphonse in Rome and is of very ancient origin. A copy of the picture is in the local church. The execution of the original, the priest declared, is attributed by some to St. Luke, the evangelist.

Schools and chapels the world over have been dedicated to the Mother of Perpetual Help, it was explained. Thousands of churches and chapels have a Perpetual Help shrine. In France alone some 12,000 churches and chapels have made such dedications.

Colery Feds In Clash With Leesburg Today At Tavares

Leesburg Captains Had Chance For Revenge Against Opponents

Clashing through with a 27-24 victory over Umatilla yesterday morning, the Colery Feds this morning faced a formidable Leesburg opposition in the opening quarter-final match early today. The two clubs sought to further themselves in the fight for the 1937 District Tourney crown at Tavares.

The Yellow Jackets, twice beaten by the Feds during the regular campaign, eliminated the Leesburgs in the Northeastern Tournament, defeating the home side by a 21-20 count in the semi-final and then going on to defeat Daytona for the title.

Leesburg, favored to win the crown, clashed with Daytona last night while Orlando and Tavares met in a quarter-final round game. Orlando took on Daytona.

A victory for the Feds will send them, in all probability, against the Tigers in the semi-final round which goes under way today.

Inaugurate Full Day Sessions At School

Engle Extends Rookie Prof Says Storms Of Classes; May Card Dust Can Be Stopped

With the crew of rookies attending the local baseball school more or less limbered up, full day sessions were in order, beginning yesterday morning as Joe Engle, Clyde Milan, Bernie Nies, Fred Bingham, Zinn Beck and Doc Jenks prepared to concentrate more or less individually on their one hundred odd proteges.

Instead of just the one class in the morning at which all the rookies were in attendance, periods have been extended with various groups reporting at different hours in order that the diamond moguls might have ample opportunity to study the ability of each youngster and aid every one as much as possible.

The possibilities of some of the youngsters seeing action in games soon loomed as practically an actuality with arrangements for two games for Sunday afternoon being considered. Should arrangements for such be made, they will be announced as soon as the plans are formulated.

Question About CARDUI PERIODICAL PAINS

"Why do so many women take Cardui for menstrual pains of menstruation?"
Each dose of Cardui contains a purely vegetable and antispasmodic—that is, a pain-relieving and cramp-relieving medicine that is especially effective at monthly periods.
This fact about Cardui (that it helps to relieve many of the ordinary functional pains of menstruation with a beneficial plant extract, but habit-forming, not objectionable to take) is greatly appreciated by thousands of women. They recommend it to others. Cardui is purely vegetable, liquid in form, and comes in 8-ounce bottles, with full directions for use. Try it if of course, if it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.—Adv.

Brilliant English Playwright-Actor Vanishes At Sea

Frank Vosper Missed After Champagne Party Celebrating Landing Of Vessel

Scotland Yard, Beauty Puzzled

Chorus Girl, Stage Luminary Stroll On Ship's Deck

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Mar. 5.—(AP)—Frank Vosper, brilliant British actor and playwright, returning from Hollywood, vanished today from a gay journey's end champagne party aboard the Europe-bound liner Paris in circumstances baffling both to Scotland Yard and to his beauty queen mistress.

Vosper and Miss Muriel Oxford, "Miss Great Britain" of 1936, talked together on the deck of the liner while friends were drinking champagne and everybody was happy. The beauty queen did not disclose the subject of conversation. Vosper then disappeared completely.

Miss Oxford and other members of the party notified the ship's officers and a search was made but the actor could not be found. "I heard a man's voice saying 'You won't marry me I'll jump overboard,'" one passenger asserted to investigating officers.

"Nothing like that ever happened," retorted Miss Oxford, 23-year-old chorus girl who had been appearing in a New York revue.

When the liner docked at Plymouth two hours later, Vosper still was missing.

Longwood Meeting Enthusiastic, Say Chamber Officials

Chamber of Commerce officials today predicted one of the most enthusiastic Board of Directors meetings looked for Tuesday night in Longwood.

President T. E. Simpson urged all directors to lay plans so that they might attend the session.

Principal speaker of the evening is Michael Gray, of the Department of Public Relations for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

A warm reception is being prepared by the people of Longwood, Mr. Simpson said.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of business.

The Longwood convalesce is one of a series of directors' sessions which are being held in various Seminole County communities at the invitation of out-of-Sanford residents.

Two Firemen Still Feeling Effects Of Early Week's Blaze

Two Sanford firemen today were still feeling the physical effects of a blaze which raged at a dry cleaning plant at 108 Palmetto Avenue Monday afternoon.

Rube Willis was confined to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital with a scalded throat and a minor lung ailment, both of which resulted from his swallowing flames as he fought the fire.

Joe Tatum was developing a cough and a "sandpaper" throat, a condition which also resulted from inhaling flames.

City Physician J. N. Tolar said Mr. Willis was in no danger and probably would be released from the hospital tomorrow or Monday.

Hearing For Bond Validation Is Set For Next Wednesday

A circuit Court hearing for the validation of bonds in Sanford's $5,000,000 refunding program is scheduled for Friday.

Official sources said little opposition to the plan for re-financing the City's debt is expected, since 87 percent of the old certificates are held by an Association which already has agreed to the operation.

Meanwhile, a special employee of the City has been active in contacting individual holders of old bonds, returning with the most successful reports.

Next week's hearing will be before Judge Millard B. Smith of the ninth judicial circuit of Florida. If further hearings are necessary, they will be carried to the Supreme Court of the State.

A soft glow, easy on the eyes, is given off by the electrical unit.

Leavitt Enters Race For Post On Commission

Trio Of Candidates Now Lined Up For Vacancy On Board

V. A. Leavitt, chief clerk of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway shops here, today announced his candidacy for the vacant City Commission post of Perry N. Whitehurst, resigned.

Although an official proclamation to fill the hole has not been made by Mayor Ed Higgins, three citizens are seeking the job. The other two are J. H. Truluck and A. W. Lee.

Mr. Leavitt has been a life-long resident of Sanford with the exception of a few months spent in Tampa and Lakeland, other terminals of the railway with which he has been affiliated for 18 years.

The candidate is a grandson of Dr. Seth French who pioneered here with Gen. Henry Sanford, after whom the City was founded. French Avenue was named for the doctor.

His entry in the forthcoming election is Mr. Leavitt's first venture in politics. He is married to Mrs. Irene Fletcher Leavitt.

About one year ago Mr. Leavitt purchased the home in which he now resides at 2493 Orange Avenue.

Mayor Higgins Monday night will issue his proclamation calling for the election of a Commission.

Public Support Is Asked For Hospital Benefit Next Week

Only one appeal for funds to benefit Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital will be made this year by the Civic organization.

Sanford District—to comprise all farming territory north of Lake Jessup.

Those taking an active part in the campaign emphasized the single opportunity available to aid the hospital, pointing out that the movement is the only one of its kind made in the City.

Mr. Bagwell said, expressed surprise at the sport, agricultural and vacationing attractions offered in Central Florida.

Considerable interest has been evidenced in rentals and general living costs in Sanford proper, the secretary reported.

There were indications that some of the tourists are planning to leave here next winter.

Mr. Bagwell said it is conservatively estimated that some 150 families were unable to be accommodated here this winter because of a shortage of apartments and cottages.

Fifteen more business days remain in which to file application for homestead exemption on the 1937 tax records, Sanford Deputy, Seminole County tax assessor, said today.

He emphasized that no applications will be accepted after April 1, pointing out that the period between that date and Nov. 1 is utilized in preparing the tax roll.

Persons who filed exemption application last year will find a prepared blank awaiting them in Mr. Dendney's office. Those who did not file are offered assistance in entering requests for the benefits.

Applications for the exemption must be turned in to Mr. Dendney for State and County taxes, and at the City Hall for City assessments.

Sanford Tourist Club Is Formed, Invites Members

Annual Dues Are Set At 25 Cents; Year To Begin Dec. 1

A Sanford Tourist Club was permanently organized yesterday afternoon when a charter and by-laws were officially adopted by a special meeting of winter visitors held in the sun-room of the Montezuma Hotel which has been designated as temporary headquarters.

Ralph Bagwell, secretary of the Seminole County Chapter of Commerce, presided over the meeting. The charter and by-laws were prepared and approved by the following committee appointed by the Chapter of Commerce:

Mrs. Cora Hollinger, Mrs. W. R. Shelky, W. R. Shelky, W. L. Francis, E. E. Reynolds and Arthur A. Kirchhoff.

Membership dues covering activities for the remainder of the season were set at 25 cents a person for the year ending Nov. 30. Dues for the new year beginning Dec. 1, 1937, were placed at $1 a person.

Mrs. Chas. V. Moynihan, Mrs. Hollings and Mr. Shelky were appointed a committee in charge of arrangements for an entertainment to be held in the City Hall Auditorium next Saturday night.

All winter visitors in Sanford are cordially invited to attend the entertainment and evening of fun which is being given especially for their enjoyment, Mr. Bagwell said.

Attention is called to the fact that no invitations are necessary for admittance, nor is there an admission charge for either the entertainment or refreshments.

Visitors Showing Marked Interest In Sanford Vicinity

A marked increase in the number of winter visitors passing through Sanford and using the facilities of the Chamber of Commerce was reported today by Secretary Ralph Bagwell.

Many of the first-time visitors, Mr. Bagwell said, expressed surprise at the sport, agricultural and vacationing attractions offered in Central Florida.

Considerable interest has been evidenced in rentals and general living costs in Sanford proper, the secretary reported.

There were indications that some of the tourists are planning to leave here next winter.

Mr. Bagwell said it is conservatively estimated that some 150 families were unable to be accommodated here this winter because of a shortage of apartments and cottages.

Woolworth Employees Say They're Satisfied With Terms

CAIRO, Egypt, Mar. 5.—(AP)—Militant monks who held their monastery in a two-month stay-in strike, protesting against an unpopular abbot and restricted social life, moderated their stand today when officials threatened to storm the ancient citadel.

Two delegates from the embattled copse monastery reached Cairo and told police they were ready to admit any public officials to their desert retreat.

No churchmen would be permitted, they said, to investigate their high walled retreat where more than 100 brothers kept a protesting vigil.

Since negotiations to end the strike started, police said there is little likelihood of the threatened police attack.

OSAKA, Japan, Mar. 6.—(AP)—Three hundred gaily clad geisha girl entertainers in Osaka's night lighted cafes ended an eight-day strike today with resignation of their right to form a union.

Associated Press At Legislature To Cover For Herald

Sanford Herald subscribers today were assured of complete coverage of the Legislature when it swings into session next month at Tallahassee.

Regular Associated Press service will keep Seminole County citizens informed of legislative activities which will be of interest to the State as a whole.

Special Associated Press facilities will provide The Herald with complete information concerning legislation applying only to this County.

In order to give its clients full coverage the AP has assigned four men to cover the Legislature of 1937. All these reporters, have had previous legislative experience and will furnish brief but complete and unbiased reports of happenings in Tallahassee.

Survey Of Flowing Wells In Seminole County To Be Made

Efforts to locate, chart and collect comprehensive data on Seminole flowing wells will be made in continuation of the 1937 Federal Soil Conservation Program, although the two will have no connection, Farm Agent C. R. Dawson said today.

Some of the information sought is as follows: Number of crop acres supplied by each well; number of acres not supplied by any well; size and depth of well; whether well flows or is pumped; location of wild wells; and depth of any less than 40 feet.

Mr. Dawson pointed out the survey is being made at this time because the conservation program makes it possible to contact a large number of farmers and growers.
