Stop The Clock? Nearly everyone dreams with a nostalgic

*United States was an untouched wilderness. *These dreams are the basis of present-day efforts of conservationists to stop the clock so far as remaining wilderness areas are concerned. Many conservationists fail to realize that there is no way to stop the clock in conservation matters any more than in other aspects of our

- In fact, stopping the clock would be a disservice to true conservation. The pressure of * population leaves no alternative but to move . ahead with the circumstances into an era of wise use of our lands and forests, both for rec-* reation and the business of living.

In a way, this is the message of a fascinating book, entitled "Epitaph for the Giants," . whose author, J. Larry Kemp, tells the story of the most devastating conflagration of 20th Century America - the great Tillamook fire that in 1933 laid waste to 600 square miles of the Western Oregon Coast mountains. It is a * heart-stopping account of a disaster that made the Chicago fire of 1871 seem puny by com-

"In a single 20-hour period, from August 24 1 to 25, in 1938, the raging inferno destroyed more than 12 billion board feet of prime timber. - In a single holocaust, to use the words of the author. "The fire blew up! It blew 40,000 feet · straight up!" Timber destroyed represented the production of all the lumber, shingle, lath and pulpwood mills in the United States for a full

- year in the early 1930's. "The lesson of this grim story is simple: Much of the burned area was an untouched wilderness. There were no roads, no way for -fire fighters to get into it, yet the encroaching activities of men, loggers and campers were responsible for the fire. Today, with the enlightened forest management of the larger timber companies, we should never again see a catastrophe of this kind.

The name "Super Simon" is a familiar one in this area, Tomorrow night, the former Oviedo High School star, who now makes his home with the Semisecond player to go over the 1,000 point mark. Harper is but a mere II points away from this awesome goal. The gallant attempt by Harper will come during another crucial Division II game with Central Florida Junior College of Ocala, in the Raiders last home speciacle of the season.

Seminole now stands 20-2 overall, with their two losses coming at the hands of division foes Lake City and Florida Junior College, Seminole avenged the loss to Florida JC here Wednesday as they powdered the Jacksonville visitors, 87-71.

If Harper goes over the 1,000 point mark, he will follow on the heels of Vernell Elizy, now a player for the Florida State University Seminoles. Harper is carrying the highest scoring average of any Raider in history as he boasts a 24.6 shooting clip per game. Ellzy averaged 20 points per game during his final

The first meeting this year between these two crosscounty foes, ended with Oak Ridge a slight favorite. The Greyhounds want revenge, and this Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the Lyman gymnasium they will attempt to earn it. In Lyman's last contest, after a nip-and-tuck first quarter, a very talented DeLand Bulldog basketball team outclassed the Greyhounds to sear to a 71-40 thrashing. Led by the outstanding performances of Fred Ross and Jim Kicklighter, who scored 45 points between them, the Bulldogs were just In that tilt the Hounds showed that they could keep up with a fine squad, but as Coach Jim Hatfield put it afterwards, "We stayed with them until they hit a hot streak and then they took off with it." When a team like state ranked DeLand gets hot, no team can even stay close. Tomorrow evening, the Lyman quint will be looking toward the improvement of their six win and eleven loss record. With three games to play, the Greyhounds are hopeful of ending the season on a favorable note. The Hounds have great respect for Oak Ridge, especially a player by the name of Charlie McClendon. The Pioneers have fallen one point short of victory. They are a team that will give Lyman a lot to think about The Greyhounds will probably start at the guard slots, Bruce Rose and Ed Stafford, with Rick Browne and Curtis Hitt at the Forward posts. ## National Director Post

Robert Hattaway, immediate past president of the South Seminole JayCees, has been elected to a national JayCee office. He was one of three JayCees in the state to be elected to the office of administrative national JayCee director during this weekend's convention in Panama City. Hattaway also announced his candidacy for the presidency of the Florida JayCees. That election will take place in May at the state convention in Tallahassee. Thomas Freeman and John Morris served as delegates from the Sanford-Seminole JayCee

At the convention four local JayCees received plaques in recognition of their activity in local affairs and for their work in recruiting new members. They are Jerry Ellis, David Robb, John Morris and Sidney Vilhen Jr., president of the local organization.

The delegates at the convention passed a resolution that the Florida Legislature enact legislation to preserve Florida fresh water from pollution. They also passed a resolution in support of President Nixon's policy in Vietnam. Several state dignitaries were in attendance at the state convention. They included State Treasurer Broward Williams, Sen. John Mathews, president of the state Senate and candidate for governor, and Robert M. Haverfield, state representative from Miami.

Lt. Charles Fagan, Sanford police, said the car had been stolen earlier at Orlando but was found empty in a local French Avenue night club parking lot by police. A four-hour stakeout of the vehicle proved unsuccessful, so authorities finally removed the auto, which was registered to Glenn Patrick Byrd, of Orlando.
