ARMS PARLEY ADJOURNS TILL NEXT OCTOBER

Action Protested By German Who Calls It First Class Fur For Purpose

GENEVA, June 29.—(A.P.)—The world disarmament conference adjourned today until Oct. 30 despite the protest by Rudolph Nolde, Chancellor Hitler's representative, that the long adjournment amounted to a first class fur for purpose.

The German representative declared the public will be disillusioned by adjournment and asserted the plan to hold private conversations between now and October are useless.

Rene Massigli for France repudiated the charge that adjournment meant death of disarmament, saying everything depended on whether the governments participated in private conversations in a spirit of collaboration and peace.

LAKEWANS BAY, ROQUE ISLAND, Maine, June 29.—(A.P.)—Encouraged by an optimistic report on disarmament prospects, President Roosevelt yesterday emphasized to his special ambassador at Geneva, Norman H. Davis, that American promises for consultations hinge entirely on a successful world.

Below deck of the schooner Amberjack II in this fog-bound, isolated harbor, Roosevelt and Davis talked over the world armaments problem and how to spur the campaign for disarmament.

Europe has made up its mind, reported the Geneva emissary. (Continued On Page Six)

Three More Girls Entered In Beauty Contest At Milane

Miss Marilee Turrance, Miss Rebecca Wilson, and Miss Mildred Myrick are the latest entrants in the beauty contest which will be staged at the Milane Theater tomorrow night at 9:00 o'clock for the purpose of deciding which Sanford girl shall represent Sanford at Clearwater on July 4.

Their entry brings the total now entered to 16, with at least four more girls scheduled to be in the contest by tomorrow night.

Residence was issued to all this morning that they are invited to appear at the Milane Theater tomorrow night at 10:00 o'clock for a short rehearsal. Ordinary street clothing will be all that is required tomorrow, it was announced.

Thought the courtesy of the E. Paul Beauty Salon, all girls entering the contest and appearing tomorrow night will be "made up" for her appearance.

Contents of a similar nature are being staged throughout Florida tonight and tomorrow night, and from all indications probably 35 girls will compete for crown of an automobile, $100, and $50 in cash in Clearwater on July 4.

A final reminder to all girls considering entering came today from Joe L. Marvett, theater manager, said that the only requirements are that the girl be between 16 and 18, and have a bathing suit, pajamas, sport outfit, and a dress.

The merchant who enters the contest is sharing in the expense of sending the winner to Clearwater, and the theater manager is sharing in the expense of the automobile which will be given to the winner.

FATTY ARBUCKLE DIES FROM HEART ATTACK IN SLEEP

Movie Comedian Had Just Finished Film In Comeback Effort

NEW YORK, June 29.—(A.P.)—Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, bulky comedian of the films, died today of a heart attack that followed the celebration of his first wedding anniversary.

He was 45. The actor, who was attempting a "comeback" from the blight that fell on his career as the result of the mysterious death of a virgin in his hotel, during a party in his hotel suite in San Francisco in 1921, died in his sleep at a hotel here.

His third wife, the former Addie McPhail, actress, discovered his death which occurred shortly after they retired following an anniversary party given in their honor by William Lahiff, restaurant proprietor.

Arbuckle completed a picture "Tanalio" yesterday at a Long Island, studio.

Final Plans Being Made For Trip To Palatka On Boat

Insuring the success and adding a real dash of color to the moonlight excursion on the St. Johns River to Palatka next Monday night aboard the historic river boat "Gaeola" is the announcement today that Captain Thomas Lund, veteran of more than half a century's service on the river, will be aboard to guide the craft to and from Palatka.

Registration this morning were few but many persons are planning to be aboard by Monday night, a majority of them today ironing out last minute details as regards their businesses so that they may be free to enjoy the 34-hour trip which includes two nights on the boat and a day of entertainment at Palatka.

Mayor and Mrs. V. A. Speer were the first to register for the trip. Others are H. M. Papworth, W. J. Thigpen, and his daughter; Karl Lehmann, Miss Beale Prescott, Miss Mildred Bridges, Miss Mary Bill Peirce, Frank Peirce, and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bare.

The trip will be made by moonlight almost entirely. The boat will leave Sanford at 9:00 o'clock Monday night and arrive at Palatka after a leisurely trip at 8:30 o'clock on the 24th of July morning. At 9:00 o'clock that night the craft will leave on the return trip, arriving in time to permit all business men to open their store doors at the usual hour.

As announced earlier, the upper deck will be reserved for men, while the lower deck is for men, women and children. A nominal round-trip fee includes berth aboard the boat during the two nights. Meals will not be served, but light lunches and soft drinks will be sold. Reservations should be made at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce office as quickly as possible.

KAHN TELLS OF STOCK SALES TO AVOID TAX

States Capital Gains Clause Makes Government Gamble On Nation's Prosperity

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(A.P.)—Testifying that sale of stocks at the end of the tax year was a "act of annual custom", Otto H. Kahn, senior partner of Kuhn, Loeb and Company recommended to Senate investigators today repeal of the capital gains clause of the income tax law.

Kahn said the clause made the government "gamble" on the prosperity of the nation and caused the market to be depressed at the end of the year. The banker said he sold to his family members at the end of 1930 as well as in other years.

Ferdinand Peora, counsel for the banking committee, questioned Kahn about his tax returns for 1930, 1931 and 1932 after the committee heard Kahn and his youthful partner, Benjamin J. Buttenwieser, relate how Kuhn, Loeb and Company and other banks had reaped gross profits on nearly $3,000,000 on the sale in this country of $40,000,000 of Chilean bonds now in default.

Kahn told the committee he paid a substantial tax in 1928 and 1929, but none for the last three years.

"I hope it will be a different picture in 1933," he said.

Peora said his evidence showed Kahn had sold over 3000 shares of stock on Dec. 30, 1930, at a loss of $117,384 which was deducted from his income for that year in filing his return, and that the next day Kahn obtained the same amount of stock from his daughter, Maud H. Harriott.

Kahn said he did not remember selling the stock and only vaguely remembered some stock was assigned him by his daughter, but could not recall details.

Peora said he would go into these details today.

The stock included in Peora's question about the 1930 return was 1000 shares of Electric Power and Light, 1000 shares of International Nickel, 500 Manhattan Dearborn, 250 Reynolds Metal, and 500 Turbize-Chattillon.

When Kahn examined his return at the request of Peora, but found it difficult to interpret since it was made out for him, Carl De Gersdorff, attorney for K. L. Co., interrupted to say the deduction for the stock loss was made, disallowed by the internal revenue bureau, and later allowed on appeal.

"Do you recall being questioned about the transaction by representatives of the internal revenue bureau?" Peora asked.

"No," the banker replied.

Kahn then was requested to appear again today with a "refreshed" memory.

Labor Makes Demand For Higher Wages As Answer To Textile Proposition

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(A.P.)—A formal demand for a higher wage than now proposed, was labor's answer yesterday to the code laid before the national recovery administration by cotton textile manufacturers.

At the same time the operators themselves removed one controversial issue from the hearing by agreeing to a provision which would outlaw child labor from the mills.

Taking the stand late in the day, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said the proposed $11 a week minimum in the North and in the South was "not a bare subsistence wage."

He added that if prices returned to the 1929 level, the wage should be $17.48 a week, and suggested fixing the minimum at between $14 and $16.

Earlier Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, had recommended a $14 a week minimum and opposed the 40-hour week.

maximum for workers in favor of a 35-hour limitation.

At the hearing swung through the second day, Hugh S. Jones, the administrator, moved into action vigorously in quest of facts from the witnesses. He shut questions after question at the representatives of labor and industry who came to attack the code presented by two-thirds of the operators.

"The cotton goods industry has made up a long standing deficit to the workers," Green said. "This industry has failed to contribute its proportionate share to the nation's purchasing power."

"The average wage being paid in the cotton goods industry today is $10.40 a week. We have weekly pay envelopes as low as $1.51 for 32 3/4 hours. This average of $10.40 is lower than that of an other of the 204 industries reported by the labor department for May, 1933, save only one—shirts and collars which pay $9.50 a week."

STATE FUNDS ARE PLACED IN USE OF SCHOOL BOARDS

$291,643 Will Be Used To Pay Salaries Of Teachers For Year

TALLAHASSEE, June 29.—(A.P.)—A total of $291,643 in state school funds was placed in the state treasury yesterday subject to use by Florida's 67 county school boards to pay teachers' salaries and cost of transporting pupils during the fiscal year which will end at midnight August 31.

Under terms of the new school law passed by the recent Legislature, the money will be kept at Tallahassee and will not be disbursed to the various county boards. Warrants will be issued by county boards to teachers and school bus drivers and these warrants will be cashed here by State Treasurer Knott. The money can be used only for those purposes.

The sum is made up of net receipts from sale of automobile tags, beer taxes and license fees, mill and railroad tax and interest on invested school funds. It is apportioned to counties on the previous basis of teacher-pupil units.

President Starts On Final Leg Of Cruise

LAKEWANS ISLAND HARBOR, Maine, June 29.—(A.P.)—Despite a persistent fog which limited visibility to 100 yards, the Amberjack II with President Roosevelt at the wheel left here today on the final leg of his cruise in Campe Bello Island, New Brunswick. He has been now bound several days.

LOCAL GROUP PLEASED OVER ROAD EFFORT

Assurance Given Delegation That Work On Lake Shore Road Will Be Completed

Exceeding all expectations which were in the minds of a delegation of Sanford men who appeared before the State Road Department in Tampa yesterday to appeal for Federal funds for the completion of various road projects in this county was the assurance given them by the head of the Department that the lake-shore boulevard will be completed just as quickly as possible and that bids for the surfacing of this project will be let within the next few weeks.

That bit of good news was accompanied by the further statement that the material for the resurfacing of Road No. 202 from Ovidio to the Orange county line near Winter Park has been purchased and will be sent here at once.

Further, the local delegation was given assurance that work on Road No. 44 from the Brevard county line to the Lake county line at the Wekiva bridge, will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

As a final announcement that brought genuine satisfaction to the local group, it was stated that as the Department has not yet received word from Washington as to the steps required in releasing federal funds for maintaining city owned roads which connect State highways as does Park Avenue from Fulton to 23rd Street, nothing definite could be announced as to that project.

However, Seminole County's application for federal funds to build a new road, State Road 44, because it will be heavily traveled when the lake-shore boulevard is completed as a part of State Road No. 3, is the first of its kind entered, and therefore it will be given first consideration.

The outcome of this meeting was particularly gratifying to State Senator J. J. Parrish, of Titusville who spoke in behalf of Road No. 44 specifically, and lent endorsement of all the other local requests.

County Commission Chairman John Meisch, Sr., City Commissioner H. J. Lehman, H. M. Papworth, head of the trade body, and Karl Lehmann, its secretary, comprised the local group which made the appeal and returned last night satisfied that this county has never received a better "break" in regard to the improvement of its roads.

Hardin Is Speaker At Meeting Of Kiwanis

Kiwanian Smith Hardin's experience as a Methodist "circuit rider" in South Florida 10 years ago furnished the highlights of the program presented at the Sanford Kiwanis Club meeting at the Montezuma Hotel yesterday noon.

His talk was a colorful description of life on the prairies during the days when the Shivers and the Morgans reigned as cattle barons on an immense scale; days when hard liquor was the curse of the entire Kissimmee valley and almost every part of southern section of the state.

Reports from a joint meeting of Sanford, Orlando, and Winter Park clubs at Santa Fe Springs last Monday night also were made by Kiwanians C. O. Bare, Howard Overlin, Rupert Strickland, and Ray Fox.

Those attending the meeting were Kiwanians Howard Overlin, who presided, Howard Long, S. F. Nix, J. G. Sharon, Rupert Strickland, Jno. D. Jenkins, S. F. Douber, Ray Fox, J. M. Stinebaugh, F. B. Lamm, C. R. Mann, F. W. Wilson, Smith Hardin, W. B. Coleman, T. L. Dumas, C. O. Bare, Arthur Branan, B. D. Caswell, E. I. Hoy, W. T. Langley, Johnnie Johnson and Peter Schaal.

Britain Preparing Compromise Plan On Monetary Issue

Action Seeks To Obviate Possibility Of Gold Bloc Nations Leaving Conference

LONDON, June 29.—(A.P.)—British delegates were authoritatively stated today to have prepared a compromise plan which they hope would overcome the monetary stabilization crisis and obviate the possibility of the gold bloc countries withdrawing from the conference.

The plan is scheduled for discussion at a meeting tonight between representatives of the gold bloc countries and Great Britain.

In gold bloc quarters it was said a representative of the American delegation is expected to be there. American headquarters said they had heard nothing about America attending.

Virtually the entire conference activities were given over to meetings of various groups discussing the stabilization issue which was brought to a head by the gold bloc ultimatum that France, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland would quit the conference unless they received support to keep them on the gold standard.

Ethonia, a small Baltic state which has clung to the gold standard through the recurring financial shocks of the past two years slipped from their yellow bands yesterday.

The American delegation at London is understood to have participated in various conferences seeking to find a way of assistance for the French franc and associated currencies.

Into a proposed project of assistance which was to be reviewed by the Bank of England, American experts introduced two provisions, which while remaining a mystery to the outside world, were promptly rejected by the gold bloc.

While the American financial specialists were engaged in this drama, Raymond Moley brought a message of confidence and hope from Washington and President Roosevelt to his colleagues and to representatives of other governments.

Revival in the United States is genuine and substantial, Mr. Moley asserted at a press conference.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, who is in London, is expected to arrive in London tomorrow.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who is in London, is expected to arrive in London tomorrow.

Secretary of War George B. Akerly, who is in London, is expected to arrive in London tomorrow.

Secretary of the Navy Charles D. Wick, who is in London, is expected to arrive in London tomorrow.

LOSES JOB

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—(A.P.)—Andrew J. Volstead, an author of the enforcement act bearing his name, was divorced yesterday from official connection with its administration. The 73-year-old legal adviser to the Eighth District prohibition administrator, with headquarters here, was notified yesterday he would be indefinitely cut off July 1.

As a final announcement that brought genuine satisfaction to the local group, it was stated that as the Department has not yet received word from Washington as to the steps required in releasing federal funds for maintaining city owned roads which connect State highways as does Park Avenue from Fulton to 23rd Street, nothing definite could be announced as to that project.

NEW YORK, June 29.—(A.P.)—International currency uncertainty and nervousness of grains clouded stock market enthusiasm today. Prices generally backed and filled in the unimportant area. The American dollar rallied sharply in foreign exchange markets. Wheat and corn dropped about two cents a bushel at one time while oats, rye, and barley were easier. Cotton developed a rather heavy tone. Silver futures drifted moderately lower. Bonds were fairly steady.

BIRTH VENUE FOR TODAY

THE HIGHEST ROCK: Hear my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer. From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee; lead me to the rock that is higher than I.—Psalm 113, 2.

TO RUPERT BROOKE

Fling at noon the towers of Samorhand, You sought the field, your golden head held high, Nor deemed it wrong to heed within the sky. The crimson planet's passionate command, Mars in the sky; What did your god demand? Is it not dark enough that men must die, But that in madness and without a cry You hurl away this lift in war's black lead?

What is the evil webbing back of war

That it could twist your heart of white desire And arm your hand with bleeding scimitar? You, who loved life with such a leaping fire, Who tore your fingers from the surging lyre? Why were you blind and followed that red star?—By Robert Friend.

To a considerable extent, whether we like it or not, we are forced into a position where we are to swim or sink with Roosevelt, laments the Florida Beacon, a Republican paper. And they say Mr. Roosevelt is quite some swimmer.

Mr. Kahn admits to a Senate committee, not only that he made a three million dollar profit on the sale of $20,000,000 worth of Chilean bonds, but also that these bonds are now in default. We presume it is only natural that Chile bonds should sooner or later become frozen.

The popular "Success" stories of a few years ago, if they were written today, might read, "I attribute my success to a long list of well-established 'preferred customers', the perfection of building companies and subsidiary corporations, and my ability to escape the payment of income taxes."

The City of Sanford might as well get some benefit out of this $100,000,000 federal grant for highway building as any other section. Heaven knows, we need the money! And in spite of the gigantic local road building program of boom days, there are still many places in our streets which need attention.

Speaking of the Nizam of Hyderabad, who lies in India, and his gold hoard, Arthur Brisbane says: "If he had his hoard in the United States it would be much simpler. He would be told to bring in the gold and take nice green paper instead, and he would bring it." Proving what? That this is the land of liberty? Or that the $700,000,000 still being hoarded in this country is going to be returned?

Stocks are still going up. American Foreign Power, going begging a few months ago when it was quoted at 1/8, was selling yesterday for 1 3/4. If you had been wise enough to buy $500 worth in March, you could sell the block today for $4,500, a profit of $4,000 in three months time, not bad at all in these days of depression aftermath. There are other stocks which are today being quoted at two or three or lower on which similar profits can still be made. But you have to know which ones and you have to be prepared to see them decline temporarily.

Slicing Golfers Beware

Golfers in the future, when they commit the ancient sin of slicing and their ball lands on somebody's head in a nearby roadway, cannot claim the accident was an "act of God". At least this is what a New York court has ruled in extending damages to the victim of a golf ball which was driven through the windshield of a car causing severe lacerations to the face of the driver.

The defendants were the Golf Club and the player who drove the ball. The golfer pleaded that a gust of wind carried the ball off the course onto the highway and that neither he nor the Club was responsible because it was an "act of God".

But the judge was perhaps as well up on the Royal and Ancient game as he was on his law, for he stated in his ruling that evidence adduced during the trial showed that the ball had been sliced and that wind or no wind a slice was not an "act of God", opinions of many a duffer to the contrary notwithstanding.

The judge's decision of nineteen pages went into detail regarding the game, its hazards and benefits. "The ancient game of golf had its origin in Scotland and was formerly indulged in by only kings and the nobility. It furnishes a healthy means of exercise and relaxation and is a sport of the first order. In more modern times the game spread to England, and its popularity has so increased that the game is now extensively in vogue in this and other countries, among all classes of people.

"A golf ball in itself is an innocent, lawful article and so is the club which drives it. The game itself being fundamentally honorable and sportmanlike, suggests nothing unlawful or hazardous about it. But, when driven, though in full compliance with the rules of the game, the ball attains great speed and may thus become a dangerous and destructive object and may strike with great violence and force not unlike a projectile which is propelled from a weapon by whatever power it be actuated or a stone thrown by a catapult or by the hand.

"It must be conceded that, although golf should not be deemed a hazardous game, a driven golf ball is a very dangerous missile and that its flight and direction cannot always be controlled by the player. The uncertainty is a part of the game. The ball, when struck, is liable to go down the fairway or fly off to the right or left or at any angle."

No truer words were ever spoken, and although the defendant golfer may have regretted the awarding of damages he must admit that the judge "spoke a mouthful" in his last sentence.

Mass Athletics

"Sport for sport's sake" will have no place in Germany under the regime of Adolf Hitler. Hereafter all exercises and physical training will be carried on with the sole purpose of making the citizenry fit to bear arms in defense of the Fatherland.

Of course, it is not admitted exactly that this is the purpose of the new order, but it cannot help be suspected that the mass disciplinary exercises are a part of a broad plan for preparedness. It is declared there are six million athletes in Germany whose activities are directed by officials of the state, and it is not difficult to see that these athletes form a very potential basis for an army.

The principle of providing physical training for large groups of the population in the form of large scale gymnastics where health and discipline are stressed is a worthy one provided the ultimate goal is not militaristic. But behind Germany's national supervision of sports is the emphasis that the idea of the whole thing is to prepare for war.

Quite the contrary conception of sport prevails in America where individual excellence is stressed and where mass exercises are practically unknown. As a result, this country is producing many brilliant performers on the athletic field, while at the same time large numbers of our people are not getting proper physical training.

If the United States could adopt Germany's plan of mass athletics it would be a great health benefit and we don't believe there would be any suspicion that we were preparing for some war.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Morgan which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mettinger on June 26 at 1:00 o'clock. The marriage was solemnized by Dr. H. T. Gaines, pastor of the Methodist Church in the presence only of the immediate family. The lovely bride was attired in a lovely white gown with of Regency cord which was exchanged later for a hand-some blue traveling suit. After a delectable wedding lunch Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left on the 2:30 train for Jacksonville from where they sailed Monday afternoon on the S. S. Arapahoe for New York and Philadelphia. When they return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will be "At Home" at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mettinger for the present. Mrs. Morgan is well known in Sanford where she has lived all of her life and where she has many friends. Mr. Morgan came to Sanford from Baltimore several years ago and has been connected with the business interests of the town in several capacities: as prescription clerk in L. H. Philip's Drug Store where he later became a partner in the business. At the present time he is the proprietor of a prosperous hardware business and is also traveling in the interests of a Philadelphia drug house.

30 NATIONS JOIN IN CELEBRATION AT CHICAGO FAIR

1st Of Series Of 'Old Country' Days Began With Swedish Event

CHICAGO.—Fired by a patriotism to do honor to the "old country," and yet stirred to bison their record of achievement in the new, thousands of nations of more than 30 countries now living in all parts of the United States have planned national day celebrations at a Century of Progress, the Chicago world's fair. The series began with the Swedish celebration.

Like an old settler's picnic grown to grand and glorious proportions each jubilation is scheduled to draw countrymen from both the Old World and the New. From California and New York, from Minnesota, Missouri, and points between, special trains have been arranged to bring the foreign-born and their descendants to their national day festivals. Special tours are slated to bring delegations from European countries to join the residents here on their one big day.

Men and women born in some far-away section of the globe who have helped to build up whole districts of cities in the United States, others who have tilled the soil of the prairies, and thousands of the younger generations who have forged ahead in the professions are expected. To many, these national days are like a dream come true. They are the culmination of four years of planning under the direction of Maj. Felix J. Streyckmann, in charge of the foreign participation at the world's fair.

The governing committee, under Major Streyckmann, composed of one person from each national group, has reached out through various subcommittees to foreign language newspapers and organizations of foreign-born.

For the entertainment of the visitors Soldier Field, the Civic Stadium, seating 150,000 people, has been engaged for the latter gatherings and the Court of the Hall of States at the Exposition, with its semi-circular background of colorful state buildings, for smaller ones. Here ambassadors, ministers and consuls will speak. There will be pageants, choral singing, dancing in national costumes and athletics.

The Scandinavians started the ball rolling with Swedish Day. Count Folke Bernadotte came from Sweden to give the personal greetings of King Gustav V.

Thousands of Swedish people from all walks of life and from many parts of the United States streamed into the fair grounds throughout the entire day. Some had only lived in this country a few months. Others had lived here too long to recall which costume came from which province in the old country, or the exact words of the old Swedish songs.

A colorful parade stretched all the way across a bridge over the world's fair lagoon composed of all types of Swedish organizations. The silver helmets of the Vikings sparkled under mid-day sun followed by blue crowns above shimmering satin gowns. Girls in peasant costumes with white aprons accompanied men in velvet jackets.

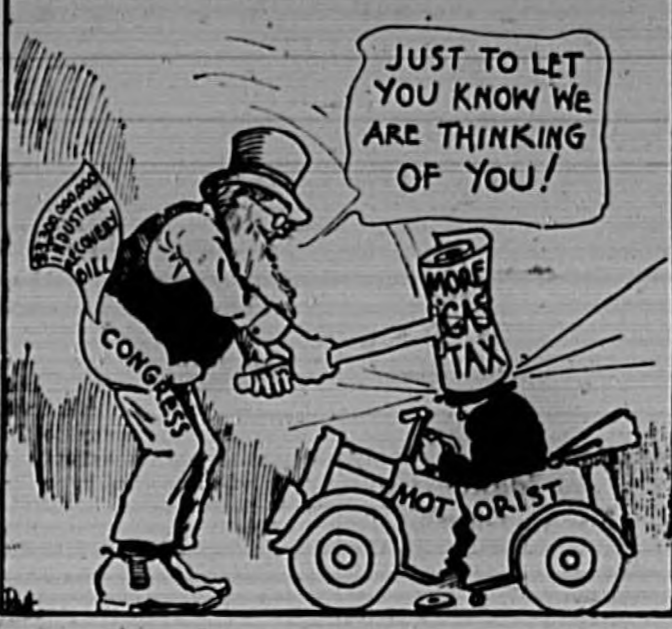

The stage for the musical festival in the evening was presided over by two regal-looking women, each sitting in a throne-like chair—one "Columbia" in flowing satin, red, white and blue, and the other, "Sven," in yellow and blue. Later they enacted a little tableau to symbolize the friendship between the United States and Sweden.

But not all were merely visitors. Some had come to participate in the programs.

The chorus of 600 voices in the American Union of Swedish Singers was really a composite of 63 choruses from many states. The organization is holding its tenth quadrennial convention, the first having been organized 16 years ago at Chicago's first world's fair. Then it had 15 choruses. Now it has 63 choruses drawn from many American cities, according to Fred Bolling, president.

During the day it is estimated that 45,000 people filed in long waiting lines through the Swedish pavilion, where they could see a model of a tiny vessel, the Calmar Nykaj, which, it is declared, brought over the first group of Swedish immigrants to this country in 1638. Beside it stands the Kungsholm, the Queen of modern Swedish steamers. In costume, a Swedish-American girl represented a program when at 8:00 o'clock a trio composed of violin, guitar and piano will be heard in an hour's recital. The public is invited to visit the Orange Room and enjoy this and all other programs.

ing Columbia and a Swedish girl representing Sven enacted a tableau to symbolize the friendship and co-operation between the two countries.

The climax of Norwegian Day was the arrival of the Sorlandet, a Norwegian training ship for future merchant marine captains which has made the long journey across the Atlantic. Thousands of little lapel buttons have been sold to Norwegians which entitle them to go on board the government vessel and which allow them a seat in the court of the Hall of States to hear the official Norwegian music festival.

On Danish Day, the voice of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark, was broadcast from that country to a Century of Progress. The Danes gathered at the fair also heard radiocasts of a speech from the Premier of Denmark, and remarks in person from other notable Danes.

Finnish bands and choruses from Ohio, Michigan, Massachusetts, and Virginia furnished the music interspersed with speeches by prominent Finns for the celebra-

Havana Is Scene Of Another Bombing In Front Of Home

HAVANA, June 29.—(AP)—An explosion of a bomb before the residence of Dr. Cosme De La Torre, one-time Cuban ambassador to Washington, today broke the peaceful period in which negotiations to arbitrate political differences progressed.

No damage resulted but significance was attached to the occurrence because the former ambassador is leader in a project to mediate between the government and its enemies.

It is understood this week-end would see the opening of peace conversations led by the American ambassador, Sumner Welles. All important opposition elements except Havana university students and former President Mario G. Menocal, exiled in Miami, have accepted Welles' good offices.

Reach for a Lucky - for always Luckies Please. To my brothers... I owe the pleasure of smoking Luckies. When I first had a desire to smoke, I knew exactly where to start. You see, for years I had heard all the men in the family saying "Luckies Please." They said it was "Toasting" that made Luckies so good. I've never questioned the reason—because I have always found Luckies so fragrant, so mild—and so pure to my lips! I can smoke lots and lots of them and still find them refreshing to the taste. Now I'm telling my brothers "Luckies Please", and each of them says, "You're telling me!" because "It's toasted!"

WAGG DELIGHTED WITH SHOWING OF FLORIDA EXHIBIT

Palm Beach Senator Calls It Outstanding One In Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., June 25.—Senator Alfred H. Wagg, of West Palm Beach, vice chairman of the Florida Commission, Century of Progress, is in Chicago attending the exposition. He is enthusiastic over the showing made by Florida—Florida Hall, the Florida Tropical Garden, the Florida Orange Grove, the Florida Tropical Home, Florida—everything shown by Florida.

"The whole Florida showing is outstanding," said Senator Wagg. "And it is being talked about everywhere one goes—on the exposition grounds, in the street cars, in the hotel lobbies, and I want to make the prediction that regardless of any other condition or circumstance, we are going to have a tremendous influx of visitors in every part of Florida next winter as a result of the publicity now being secured through the state's magnificent exhibit at this world's fair. The people of the state might just as well begin to get ready to take care of a rush of tourists, settlers, investors and health and comfort seekers. Because they surely are coming as they never came before."

"Naturally, because of my vice chairmanship of the Florida Commission and also because of my rather frequent visits to the headquarters of the Commission in De Land, I had some knowledge of what Earl Brown, general manager, and his corps of assistants were doing in the way of making an exhibit of Florida's resources at Chicago this summer. But I had no conception of what a really tremendous thing the finished product would be until I visited the exposition grounds a few days ago. Until then I had no idea of the real importance to the state of the wonderful showing which is being made."

"Without doubt, it is the biggest piece of international publicity Florida ever has attempted. The fair as a whole is stupendous. The attendance is beyond anything I ever had dreamed. I have discovered through my wanderings about the exposition grounds and seeing what is being done by exhibitors of all sorts, that the Florida exhibit—exhibits I should say, because Florida has several exhibits, stand out as among the finest in the entire exposition. Many home-seekers, investors, land buyers and tourists are being contacted for Florida by or through all other agencies combined, for the past 20 years."

"As for the Florida exhibits themselves, they are works of art. The main Florida Hall and the patio or exotic garden which adjoins it are beautiful—a dream—simply a little bit of Florida at its best, set down on the shores of Lake Michigan. To repeat a comment I have heard scores of times since I have been here, it has atmosphere. It must be seen to be appreciated. I have no power to give a word picture of it and I doubt if the most gifted writer could pen a description which would do it justice."

"That it has an appeal to the tens of thousands who throng the

RAIL ECONOMIES TO BE BIG HELP WITH RECOVERY

Lines Have Learned To Transport Freight In Economic Manner

CHICAGO, June 25.—When business recovers the railroads can haul traffic in most cases more cheaply than ever before in history and as a result be in a position to report astonishing gains and net earnings, Eliot K. Bartholomew, of Wood, Struthers & Company, New York City, told the investment conference of the convention of the American Institute of Banking Section, American Bankers' Association, at the Palmer House here recently. Operating efficiencies, he said, show remarkable improvement.

Picturing the falling off in the volume of railroad freight traffic as a reflection of the relapse in general industrial activity, Mr. Bartholomew quoted figures showing that "not a single locomotive was ordered in the United States in 1932 and the purchase of steel rails fell to one-third of those for 1933," which, he said, was the previous low record for 50 years.

"The railroads of 1932 carried only one-half the volume of freight they carried three years earlier," he said. "The railroads themselves cannot solve this problem but must await a recovery in general business. They can, however, put their houses in order so that as business recovers they will be in a position to take advantage of it. This the rail carriers have been doing in a very important way."

"Even in the face of sharply declining traffic, inches of operating efficiency the past three years have been showing in many cases remarkable improvement over any previous records set by the railroads."

"One reason for this has been the scrapping of obsolete equipment and the use of more modern. The savings from use of modern power are amazing. A large eastern railroad which bought 10 modern locomotives two years ago estimates that they have already paid for themselves."

He described the progress being made in stream-line, light weight, higher speed motor-driven trains and in air-cooled and air-conditioned passenger coaches which are being developed in the passenger business. These changes, he said, will permit the roads to compete more effectively with airplanes and buses. One road, he said, has a train under construction for passenger service to give a maximum speed as high as 110 miles an hour.

While state and national legislation affecting railroads for many years has not generally been of a kind favored by the railroads themselves, the recent trend has been more satisfactory, he said,

Priest Departs For Week Of Meditation

Rev. J. J. Kellaghan, pastor of All Souls Catholic Church here, left this week for St. Josephs Academy at Loretto, about 11 miles south of Jacksonville on the St. Johns River, where he will join dozens of other priests in attendance at a week's retreat or period of meditation.

The retreat is for all priests of the Florida diocese and its bishop, Rev. Patrick Barry, of St. Augustine. Exercises at the Academy will be directed by Father Cleary, S. J., and until late Friday, the group will concentrate its attention on things religious and spiritual.

Senator Futch Is Ready To Sign Lost Resolution

(Continued from Page One) cently after having been lost since its approval by both branches of the Legislature on May 24. Since it was not signed by the presiding officers during the regular session, there was some doubt about the legality of its being signed later.

Tomasello recently said he wanted to sign it and thought the action would be constitutional. Futch's statement in full: "I have thoroughly examined and checked the records of the Senate in all respects relating to the passage or adoption of House Joint Resolution No. 328, proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Florida consolidating the offices of tax assessor and tax collector in each county."

"I have compared the engrossed copy of the joint resolution as found in the House file of engrossed bills with the entries of said resolution as shown in the Senate Journal. The records of the Senate are complete and show conclusively that the resolution passed the Senate and that it was handled regularly and in proper order in the Senate."

"The only usual entry missing is the report of the enrollment of the resolution and enrollment is not required by the Constitution. The will of the overwhelming majority of the Legislature on, and the opportunity of the people to decide this important question should not be denied because of a technicality."

"I conceive the duty of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House to sign bills and point resolutions when passed one terminating with adjournment. I have therefore, concluded that it is my duty as presiding officer of the Senate to sign the resolution, thus certifying its passage and adoption by the Senate and the regularity of the proceedings relating to the resolution in so far as the Senate is concerned. I am confident that Speaker Tomasello will sign for the House and I am ready to join him in signing the resolution at any time."

If this proposed constitutional amendment is submitted to the voters at the general election next year, as it now appears it will be, it will be the eighth change in the Constitution put up to the people at that time.

LEAGUE EXPERTS SEE BIG PROFITS IN OPIUM TRAFFIC

Workers Against Evil Find Efforts Met By Wall Of Wealth

GENEVA—Anti-opium experts here estimate that the illicit trade in heroin—not counting the "legitimate" trade by narcotics for medical purposes—brings profits of nearly $2,000,000 a day to those engaged in the traffic. That the traffickers have such large cash resources at their disposal is said to account for the corruption the traffic introduces into many governments, even reaching to officials of the highest rank.

To cope with this situation, the League of Nations Opium Section works on a budget of 240,000 Swiss francs per year ($48,000 at par), of which about 100,000 is allotted to salaries. Fortunately the League has forces behind it which are greater than the power of money, but its anti-opium efforts frequently find themselves confronting a wall of wealth raised by the illegitimate profits of the drug-runners.

Heroin has become the principal drug of addicts. Morphine and cocaine have taken a secondary place in the illicit traffic. Morphine upon being converted into heroin remains approximately the same in volume, but becomes about eight times as powerful from the addict's point of view. Heroin is also much simpler to take, and for these reasons is the form of narcotic against which anti-opium workers are directing their principal attention. Large sums are involved in the morphine and cocaine traffic, but the figures for heroin alone are sufficiently high to indicate the "money power" behind this form of organized evil.

This estimate is reached by the following process: One kilogram of the drug, according to the League of Nations' A B C of narcotic drugs, provides 200,000 maximum doses. The price per dose at which it reaches the addict varies enormously, according to local circumstances. Hardly anywhere does the stuff without taking a profit of 1000 percent. A price frequently paid in China is cents gold per dose. This may fairly be taken as an average

TRAINING SHIP OF NORWAY AT CHICAGO FAIR

Ninety Youths Aboard Taught How To Become Real Seamen

OSLO, Norway—Ninety neat young navigators aboard the full-rigged Sorlandet represent Norway at the Chicago World's Fair. Experienced sailors, officers, a wireless operator and other "grown ups" accompany them, but the picturesque craft, with her billowing sails, is especially a boat for boys, provided by the Training Ship Institution of Norway.

The Sorlandet left Kristiansand Apr. 29 in time to arrive at Chicago June 20—Norway's Day at the Century of Progress exposition. The 90 boys, chosen from 350 applicants for training on the ship this year, embarked Apr. 18 at Kristiansand and their training was immediately started. In the price in China. In the United States, 50 cents per dose is often paid, but 25 cents may be taken as a very conservative average. In other countries, 10 cents per dose is a cautious estimate.

World consumption is estimated at a minimum of 45 tons, distributed as follows: China, 30 tons; United States, 7 tons; Europe 3 tons; Egypt, 2 tons; Far Eastern possessions of western countries, 2 tons (including 1 ton for India); and South America, 1 ton. The estimate for China is extremely low, for the Egyptian Government's report for 1932 states that during 1928 five tons a month, or 60 tons a year, entered China through three ports.

In the basis of these figures China consumes 36 tons, or 6,000,000 doses; which at 5 cents per dose cost $180,000,000. The United States takes 7 tons, or 1,400,000,000 doses, which at 25 cents per dose yield $350,000,000, and the rest of the world uses 8 tons or 1,600,000,000 doses, which at 10 cents per dose cost $160,000,000. The total for 45 tons is $690,000,000 per year.

This is by no means the total cost to the world of the drug evil. In the United States alone 4000 years of jail sentences are given annually for drug addiction or trading. Conservatively estimating the cost to the community of keeping a man in jail at $1 per day, means that drug sentences alone cost the taxpayers $1,400,000 a year. Then there is the burden of providing for dependents of addicts, which likewise falls upon the community.

words of Capt. H. Brunsvik, master of the ship, genial, experienced and firm, "They are taught to make knots, to splice, sew, paint, steer, trim lights—in short they are initiated in all the mysteries of a sailor's work. As far as possible the training is arranged in such a way that the boys immediately realize the use of what they learn and are afforded an opportunity of putting it into practice."

The boys are also taught "school" subjects, particularly Norwegian, English, arithmetic, sociology and hygiene. When lying at anchor, they practice rowing and sailing, and those who cannot swim have to learn to do so. The boys have to be reasonably versed in the use of lifeboats and the compass before any sailing takes place.

The Training Ship Institution of Norway was founded and is carried on by private enterprise, by shipowners, insurance companies and others actively interested in the good training of young Norwegians for the sea. There are four training ships, of which the oldest is the Stordad Erichsen, of Oslo, and the newest and finest the Sorlandet of Kristiansand. The fee is 200 kroner ($40 at 5--) for the five months' course, May-September, but some free scholarships may be obtained. This year the Norwegian Parliament has granted a sum toward the extra expenses of the Sorlandet and thus the representation of the Chicago exhibition takes on a somewhat official character.

The first cruise of the Sorlandet was to London, England, in 1927, and since then she has visited various ports abroad, including Newcastle-on-Tyne, Cardiff and Rotterdam. But the most interesting and exciting cruise by far is the one this year to Chicago. Incidentally, if the Sorlandet had been constructed but six inches deeper, she could not have come through to Chicago because of channel depths. She is allotted a favorable position at the exposition in the inner lagoon, where lies also a former Norwegian sealer Samson, now the City of New York, Admiral Richard E. Byrd's South Polar ship.

For the exposition visitors the lower deck of the Sorlandet is arranged as a novel and interesting display room, with a series of large pictures of Norway's scenery and trade, each provided with English text. The collection includes pictures of the Viking of 1893 (a copy of the ancient Gogstad-ship, sent to the Chicago exhibition of that year) and her master, Magnus Amverson, who, together with Joh. Tonnesen of Kristiansand, has a great share in the realization of the present nautical representation of Norway at the Chicago exhibition.
