(By The Associated Press)
CANNES, Jan. 11.—Premier Briand will leave for Paris today not only to inform the French cabinet as to the status of negotiations at Cannes but, it is understood, to meet and answer criticism of certain groups of opposition and to demand of the chambers of deputies support or reject him.

George Harver attended today's session of the Allied Supreme Council meeting, having almost completely recovered from the shock suffered in an automobile accident today.

Representatives of German government summoned to appear this evening before the Allied reparations commission to explain Germany's inability to meet her January and February reparations payments.

British memorandum of proposed Anglo-French pact which was telegraphed textually to London, declares Great Britain makes security of France a problem of her own and that she will be ready to again throw in her forces as in 1914 if the French soil is attacked.

Coburn's Minstrels Were Great at Princess Last Evening

Coburn's Minstrels were better than ever at the Princess Theatre last night if anything can be called great at this "tumble down shack". Half of the stage fixtures could not be put on the stage and the orchestra could not sit on the stage and in other ways the show was handicapped, four of the men having been injured in an auto accident at DeLand due to a careless driver. But the show was full of pep at that and the performance delighted the large crowd. The sweet singers were there with the sweetest of songs, the black face men were funnier than ever, Charlie Gano kept the house in an uproar all the time and the songs, the musical numbers, the saxophone boys and all the rest of the bunch were excellent. Karl Denton is "beautiful" this season and wore stunning gowns. The afterpiece, "Shanghaied in India" written by Charlie Gano showing a scene in Indian, was good, in fact it is one of the best that has been put on in minstrelsy in many years and it went with a bang that is needed just when most shows drag. Each one of the boys deserve special mention but space will not permit it. We hope to see them all again some time when we have an opera house that will allow them to put on their entire outfit as it should be placed. Coburn's Minstrels are always assured of a big house in Sanford even if we have to play them in a barn.

JULIEN S. RODGERS, D. D.
Director of the Moody Bible Conference for the Southeast

The Sanford Bible Conference being held at the First Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, is drawing unprecedented congregations. Last night the house was filled to hear Dr. Ostrom give his address on the "Re-discovery of the Church." At the same hour Chaplain Shuler spoke to a large congregation at the First Baptist Church, colored.

Interest in the meetings is growing with every service and the director, Dr. Rodgers, expresses himself as greatly delighted at the interest being shown by the people of Sanford in the study of the Bible. The music under the leadership of Prof. Boyd, of the local Methodist church, is proving quite a feature of the Conference sessions.

Services are being held thrice daily, 3:00, 4:00 and 7:30 p. m.

This afternoon Dr. Ostrom will continue his lectures on Galatians. Dr. Guille will speak again on the Book of Hebrews, and tonight Dr. Guille will bring his great message on "Molchizadek." This sermon has been heard by thousands all over the country and wherever Dr. Guille has given it, people have been eager to hear it again.

At 7:30 Chaplain Shuler will speak in the Baptist church at Lake Monroe on "The Second Advent."

Thursday evening at 7:30 Dr. Ostrom will give his famous address on "The Jews and the Jews of Sanford are invited to be the Conference's special guests on this occasion. Wherever this address has been given scores and hundreds of Jews have heard it, and it is expected that Sanford will be no exception to the rule.

PEACE WILL REIGN NOW OVER THE IRISH REPUBLIC, LOOKS LIKE SETTLEMENT

Of All the Difficulties That Beset the Country for Many Years

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—When the Dail Eireann adjourned tonight by consent of all sides to February 14, the situation which last night was dangerous and obscure had been to a great extent clarified. The new president, Arthur Griffith, and a new cabinet, had been elected and the way had been smoothed to putting into effect the terms of the treaty.

Immense relief is felt in Dublin at the turn events have taken, and this will undoubtedly be experienced throughout Ireland.

The temporary withdrawal of Eamon De Valera and his supporters from the Dail, which rumor had forecast, proved not to involve a permanent split. Mr. De Valera confined his protest to the election of a new president, declaring his unwillingness to recognize the suitability to that post of a man who, as chairman of the London delegation, was bound to give effect to the treaty, which, according to DeValera, subverts the republic.

During the luncheon hour, Mr. De Valera and his associates, who left the hall, held a private meeting. Some of the more ardent spirits advocated refusal to return, but moderate counsels prevailed and the Dail reassembled as a united body. The De Valera party is meeting again tonight to formulate plans for the future, but it was made evident by the numerous speeches from Mr. DeValera what those plans are likely to be.

He holds that the decision of the Dail in favor of the treaty blinds him and his adherents not to obstruct the new government in carrying out the treaty, but he reserves the right of free criticism should Mr. Griffith in the capacity of chairman of the provisional government, do anything inconsistent with the rights of the Irish people or the existence of the Irish republic.

At the same time he expressed the conviction that English hostility may have to be faced. There is still intense existent on both sides of the Dail of the good faith of the British ministry. DeValera was clear in his assurances of the full support of his party in resisting an attack from an outside enemy.

Mr. Griffith was repeatedly pressed by Mr. DeValera to define his position, which DeValera described as a new case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

Mr. Griffith was challenged to define his attitude toward the republic, and it evidently was supposed that he would have difficulty in reconciling his position as president with the position of Chairman of the provisional government.

Mr. Griffith, however, frankly recognized during the transition period the existence of the republic, which he undertook to maintain, but he said when the free state was framed and ready to come into operation there must be a general election, so that the state and the continuance of the republic could choose between the free public.

HONEST PEOPLE IN ORLANDO

ORLANDO, Jan. 10.—J. B. Lewis of this city, recently experienced two thrills that come twice in a life time. His first was when he lost a wallet containing $10,000, his second when he recovered it, in reality, only a short while afterward, but imaginatively several generations, he said.

Mr. Lewis discovered his loss when he reached for the wallet at his home to put it away from the circulation without.

On an avenue downtown Josiah Hancock, with his eyes alert, espied the wallet before him on the sidewalk. He too experienced unusual emotions. He hurried into a nearby store and told his find. He turned the money over to the owner of the store for safekeeping. In the meantime Mr. Lewis was not maintaining secrecy in regard to his loss and as a result he was finally steered to the store where the wallet and its treasure was returned to him.

SANFORD BAND WILL PLAY IN ORLANDO SUN.

The Sanford Band has been receiving a great many favorable comments lately, and visitors who have heard the band have returned home with the highest words of commendation for this organization. The ability and excellency of the concerts rendered by the Sanford Band was brought to the attention of the Band Committee of the Sanford Chamber thru the local Chamber to give in Orlando the Sunday of January 14th.

The invitation of the Orlando Chamber has been accepted and the Sanford Band has arranged to give one of its excellent concerts in Eola Park, this coming Sunday at 3 P. M. A bus has been chartered by the Orlando Chamber to bring the band there, and the members will leave Sanford at 1 P. M. giving short concert at Maitland and Winter Park. The Tourist and Convention Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, which has this matter in charge, urgently request as many Sanford people as possible to be in Orlando Sunday and give the Band their moral support which a large delegation from Sanford will show. The Orlando people have been assured of a treat and will, no doubt, turn out in large numbers to hear the very excellent concert arranged by Director Hall.

It is indeed gratifying to the Sanford Chamber of Commerce that it has again had the opportunity of demonstrating the cordial feelings of friendship and co-operation it holds toward the City Beautiful and it is hoped that the visit of the Sanford Band to Orlando will insure the success of those who are endeavoring to secure a Municipal Band for Orlando.

The Sanford Band has already proven a valuable medium of publicity for Sanford, in addition to the entertainment it has afforded, its efficiency will obviously progress with time and financial arrangements will be made whereby the Sanford Band will become a permanent fixture in Sanford. Be in Orlando Sunday afternoon with a Sanford tag on your car.

Japan Halts Treaty on Fortification Question for a While

SUBS AND GAS

WILL BE PUT INTO FINAL PEACE PACT AND SHANTUNG LOOKS GOOD

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Except for details of the Pacific fortification agreement and half a dozen lesser questions of phraseology the five-power naval limitation treaty was put into final form yesterday at a conference of the heads of the American, British, Japanese, French and Italian delegations.

"The question of geographical scope was understood to be the chief point remaining unsettled in the fortifications article, which provides for maintenance of a fortifications "status quo" in the Pacific. The Japanese were said to have agreed tentatively to an American draft of the article, but to have deferred final action until they communicated with Tokio.

As a result of this development and other time-consuming details of final drafting, some of the delegates predicted that the full naval committee would not be called to act on the treaty before Thursday or Friday and that no plenary session to discuss it publicly would be held until next week. There was a consequent postponement of tentative sailing arrangements for the foreign delegation, with indications that a majority believed the Washington conference would last until late in January.

The day's discussions, both among individual delegations and at the meeting of the "big five" are understood to have revealed a growing inclination to exclude the submarine and poison gas resolutions from the naval treaty and make them the subject of a separate agreement. Whether they will take the form of another treaty or will be attached as an annex outside the main body of the five power pact was not finally decided, but the impression of many delegates last night was that they did not properly belong to the same instrument with the provisions for tonnage limitation.

Meantime, the Shantung negotiations, which for several days have appeared to be near the verge of dissolution, took a new lease on life. Without settling for the present the central disagreement over return of the Tsintao-Tsinanfu railroad, the Japanese and Chinese agreed to resume their separate conversations today in an attempt to clear away other points of difference.

It was indicated that Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour, whose tender of good offices have not been formally accepted by both parties to the controversy, nevertheless, were working quietly for a settlement. In some quarters there were suggestions that President Harding might be asked to mediate in the railroad dispute, it was said at the White House that so far he had received no formal invitation to do so.

The five delegation heads came together to discuss the naval treaty yesterday after each national group had met separately and completed the detailed study of the text begun Monday. At the end of a three-hour session the "big five" adjourned to meet again this morning, in agreement so far as policy was concerned on all the provisions except article 19, relating to the Pacific fortifications. A half dozen other articles, it was said, remained to be finally cast into legal phraseology, but none of those seemed to present any considerable difficulties.

The aim and end of spinal adjustment is to effect orderly arrangement of the spinal column to insure free course to health energy from the brain over the nerves, which all pass through between the joints of the column and extend to every cell in all parts of the body. When this end is effected health will result naturally to any part formerly unhealthy.

WHO HAS SEEN A VITAMINE?

No One, Says Science. They Work Like Magic, Uncaught By the Eye

Vitamines are known to be real things and indispensable parts of our daily food

Apparently, there has never been given a better definition of those mysterious elements than given by a learned scientist

"Vitamines are to food what our souls are to our bodies. They are there. They do things. But we cannot see them."

Ever since creation man has been eating vitamines, but didn't realize it until very recent years

Scientists agree that the invisible vitamines supply a certain need of the body that is necessary to life itself

Many agree that vitamines supply the body with certain necessary chemical units which the body is unable to manufacture

There are three kinds of vitamines, Fat-soluble A, Water-soluble B, and Water-soluble C

A is found mainly in milk, butter fat, eggs, spinach, carrots, sweet potatoes, kidney fat, cod-liver oil, yellow corn and tomatoes

C is contained mostly in citrus fruits, such as oranges, lemons and lemons

Anyone whose regular diet contains a good balance of A, B and C vitamines is said to be pretty sure of good health

Lack of one of the three is known to have produced scurvy, beri-beri, rickets, pellagra and even blindness

Any persons who are not fortunate enough to have the advantage of an all-winter supply of garden and orchard fruits and vegetables containing the proper vitamines, should remember that science has been able to offer vitamines in condensed form

Great Man? Look at His Coat!

Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British delegation, greeted by Secretary Hughes on his arrival in Washington. As a man, to be careless of his clothes, must be either very poor or very great, the British statesman, who is certainly not poor, must be a very great man, indeed. Look at the old coat with pocket pulled away, fitting badly and carelessly buttoned.

BOYS PROVED THEIR HONESTY

Small New York News Vendors "Made Good" Without Having Given Promissory Notes.

One of the great New York newspapers pays an astonishing tribute to the young merchants who sell its wares upon the streets. This newspaper, like practically every other, printed an "extra" after the big Jersey City prize fight. When the papers arrived at Times square the young man whose business it was to sell them to the newsboys, taking their cash in return, found himself overwhelmed by an eager flock of youngsters who grabbed the papers as fast as he could open the bundles and race away to dispose of them without going through the usual formality of paying for their stock.

Many a boy could have kept all the money he received as profit and neglected to pay for his papers, but, so the paper declares, as soon as the storm of selling was over the boys returned to the neighborhood and settled, until the cash turned in was exactly what it should have been for the number of papers sent out from the office of publication.

That was only ordinary honesty, it is true, but a kind of honesty met with seldom enough to be uncommon. Yet it would be expected by those who are familiar with newsboys. The newsboy doesn't expect to be cheated, and he certainly doesn't intend to cheat anybody. More power to him. —Hartford Times.

FIVE MEN DIED FROM POISON DRINK OBTAINED ON SHIPS

Settling a Complicated Question.

One of the queerest requests that has reached state officials for several months is a petition signed by eight beekeepers at Kala, Mo., asking that owners of a sorghum mill near-by be requested to screen the mill so as to prevent great loss to the petitioners because of the death of their bees after visiting the mill. After a long and tortuous journey through federal and state boards, the petition finally reached the board of agriculture, and Jewell Mays replied that after a careful search of the statutes he believes the beekeepers have no recourse at law, but are liable themselves under the statutes prohibiting trespassing.—Jefferson City correspondence Sedalia Capital.

Stripping Hemp by Machinery.

Many hemp-stripping machines of a simple type are in operation on the hemp plantations of the Davao gulf region of Mindanao, and two three-horsepower oil engines connected with sets of four stripping machines each have recently been installed in that region. The machines pull the hemp over a knife in much the same manner that it is cleaned by hand. They are comparatively inexpensive and are operated by one man. With the aid of one of the machines one worker can strip a picul (about 140 pounds) of fiber in a day, which would be a large amount of work for one week if done by hand.

Protest Nomination of Postmaster for Tallahassee

Has Not Been Citizen of State for Year and Not Living in Tallahassee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Protests characterized as "the most vigorous" were made today before the senate committee against the confirmation of W. H. Mays, nominated by President Harding to be postmaster at Tallahassee, Florida. Although the committee consideration was behind closed doors it was learned that representatives of Tallahassee citizens strongly objected to favorable action on the nomination. It is understood to be claimed that Mays was hardly a citizen of Florida and is not now residing at Tallahassee was the charge made. It was reported he did not have the highest grade of three who lead in the examination and that he arrived in Florida from Pennsylvania less than a year ago. At least one witness before the committee is said to have urged his name to be withdrawn and another, that of a local man who had lived in the city practically all of his life be substituted. It is stated this request may be presented to President Harding by Senator Fletcher.

DAIRY PRODUCTS FIGHT WAXES WORM IN JAX. PRICE IS REDUCED

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, January 10.—A rather warm fight has developed here among distributors of dairy products, and as a result the city health department has drafted a proposed city ordinance requiring that all dairy products be labelled as to their exact content and where they were obtained.

The disagreement among the distributors resulted when three increased their prices while the fourth announced he would have his dairy supplied from out of town sources, and reduced his price to the consumer.

The three distributors who put the increase into effect claimed their action was necessary because of similar increases made by the dairymen in this country.

When the fourth distributor announced he would combat the increase the three distributors immediately started a clamor for an ordinance requiring all milk to be labelled.

SCHOOL BUSES EXEMPT FROM TAX

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 10.—An understanding exists in some quarters it is said here, that the automobile license law which became effective January 1, includes in its scope motor vehicles operated by school authorities for the purpose of conveying students to and from their studies.

It is pointed out that the legislation, which apportions the license tax according to the weight of the car, superseding the flat rate in existence prior to its enactment, expressly exempts all vehicles operated by public schools for the transportation of students. It proves, however, that all vehicles so operated, should be appropriately marked as to make identification possible.

PAY CASH AND SAVE MONEY

TO THE PUBLIC AND OUR CUSTOMERS

We have been seriously debating for some months the advantage and the wisdom of putting our business on a STRICTLY CASH basis and we have arrived at the conclusion that it is the proper thing to do. We therefore announce, with the greatest possible appreciation of the confidence and business of the past, that beginning with the date of this announcement, nothing will be charged to anybody, nor will anything be sent out, or allowed to be taken out on approval, unless first paid for, in which event, if the merchandise does not suit, the money will be refunded.

Our reasons for this step: The country is in an upset, unsettled economic and social condition. A war of business readjustment is on. The time is here demanding great personal and business economy. CASH IN HAND is more and more the balance of power between higher and lower living expense.

What we mean is this: If the merchant pays cash he can buy for less, and hence sell for less.

If he sells for cash he can sell for less. Why? Because he carries nothing on his books. All in the shelves and no account losses. Last, but not least, he KEEPS HIS CASH BUSY turning and therefore makes his money on volume of business rather than on big profits.

Do these arguments seem sane and sound? The answer must be yes.

We realize that wages and salaries are being cut on every hand, and that the public is demanding lower prices on the necessities of life. We are going to meet the demand, as nearly as possible, by offering the buying public our merchandise at only cash prices. We will announce and give comparison of prices after the 15th.

Yours for hearty, honest co-operation in an effort to lower the high cost of living.

SEE the difference—FEEL the difference—KNOW the difference between ordinary thin aluminum utensils and "Wear-Ever."

This special offer is made so that you can see for yourself that aluminum cooking utensils are NOT all the same. "Wear-Ever" utensils are made from hard, dense, cold-rolled, THICK, sheet aluminum—metal which again and again has been passed through gigantic rolling mills and subjected to the pressure of huge stamping machines.
