ST. LOUIS, Apr. 9.—(AP)—Before an estimated 20,000 fans Joe Musto defended his title for the 18th time last night by stopping Tony Musto of Chicago in nine rounds. Louis weighed 157 1/2; Musto 150 1/2.

After finding considerable trouble solving Musto's pronounced crouch and crowding tactics through the early rounds, the Brown Bomber started to find the range in the seventh and had Musto so badly cut up around the nose and right eye in the ninth that Referee Arthur Donovan halted the bout. Louis was a technical knockout winner at 1:55 of the ninth.

Consolation Race Scheduled Tonight At Longwood Oval

The 5-16ths of a mile Derby Consolation race goes to the post tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, located midway between Sanford and Orlando on U. S. Highway 17. Post time is 8:15 o'clock for the first race.

Tomorrow night the track will shutdown after its final program of the 90-day, 1940-41 racing season. The season will have been the most successful in the six years of the track's operations.

There will be only seven entries in tonight's race due to the scratching of Merry Ida because of a leg injury. The seven will be Pleasant Sue, Red Kob, Mormoney, Daisy, Upside Lady, Exception and Friend Mose.

Gunter Laddie, the stout brindle son of Hazard Laddie and Frisco A, uprang the most stalling upset of the current racing meeting.

amount of punishment, Musto was only floored once—in the third when a left hook to the jaw dropped him near his own corner. But he was up with a squeak of only one.

Spartan Nine Meets Gator Team Saturday

TAMPA, Apr. 9.—(Special)—The University of Tampa baseball Spartans will open their intercollegiate schedule against the University of Florida Gators Saturday at Gainesville. The Spartans will meet the Gators in a return game at Tampa the following Saturday.

Claims to last year's state baseball championship, the Spartans, under Coach Miller K. Adams, have strengthened their offense this year and with a little pitching, should prove dangerous contenders for the title. The Spartans are slated to play 12 games against state college foes this Spring.

First base on the Florida Gator baseball team, where Football Coach Walter holds forth this season, is the sixth position that the big Tennessee has occupied on the nine in his three years of play. At one time or another he has played third base, second base, shortstop, pitcher, and right field.

State League Teams Schedule Pre-season Games

Umpires Named Include 3 Graduates Of Barr's School

WINTER HAVEN, Apr. 9.—(Special)—At least nine exhibition games involving Florida State League teams now getting ready for opening season games Thursday night, Apr. 17 will be played between tonight and next Tuesday, it is indicated in official data on file with the League Secretary's office.

The Cocoa Indians of the Florida East Coast League that opens play next Friday night, will travel to DeLand for a game on Wednesday, Apr. 9, with the Red Hots. Cocoa whipped DeLand 5 to 2 in DeLand last week.

Thursday afternoon, the Jacksonville Tars of the South Atlantic League will play Wilbur Good's Leesburg Anglers in Leesburg, while that night the Ocala Hearings will open their exhibition playing host at home to Eddie Martin's Gainesville G-Men. (Jacksonville swamped Leesburg, 20 to 4, Saturday, while the G-Men dropped a 10-2 decision to the Camp Blanding All-Stars at home Sunday.)

Three games already are scheduled for Sunday afternoon—at Daytona, Ocala, and Gainesville.

The always popular Gona-Al semi-pro's of Suwanee, Ga., will be in Gainesville for a session with the G-Men, and there's every reason to believe that the veteran and sensational 1937 star—Elbert Padgett—will be on the hill for them.

Ocala expects to meet the Tampa All-Stars on the Ocala field at 3:00 o'clock while the Daytona Beach Islanders who reported to the East Coast field Monday after several days of training in Georgia, will meet either Rochester or DeLand in Daytona.

Games already booked for Monday night include Jacksonville's appearance at Gainesville, and Leesburg's visit to Ocala, while on Tuesday night Ocala drops down to Leesburg for a tilt.

Sanford, Orlando, and DeLand all were busy yesterday trying to line-up exhibitions, and there is a decided possibility that St. Augustine and Daytona will have lined-up affairs of this kind before tomorrow.

The Class D Florida State League opens its sixth consecutive season of play Apr. 17, with five of its 1940 umpires back in business along with three newcomers from the George Barr School and Dick McLaughlin of Sanford as a reserve arbiter who will be a third man on the field during the year.

Edward Reynolds, Walter "Red" Ryan, Stanley Hummer, C. T. Butler, Ralph Kendall, and Eugene Lee.

Newcomers are: Andy Smith, 25-year-old resident of Rockville Center, N. Y.; Robert McVran of Sharon, Mass., a 25-year-old 190 pounder who stands six feet; and Edward "Ed" Draper, a graduate of the Barr School in 1935.

Draper is on the payroll upon recommendation of Frank Peters, former state league umpire who saw Draper work the finals of the National Semi-Pro tournament in Kansas City last year and was impressed with his work.

All three of the newcomers are highly regarded by Barr, veteran National League umpire who has for three seasons given the Florida State League the pick of his annual school.

Their assignments probably will be handed to them in Gainesville next Tuesday when they gather at the call of the league president. They are expected to handle their own transportation, meals, and incidental expenses. Umpires usually are paired off so that those owning autos are paid mileage by those who do not.

The league's schedule calls for their having appeared an equal number of times in each of the league's eight cities. The schedule also is so arranged so that there are assigned an equal number of times to each club.

All umpires are employed by the league president and are subject to his use but his authority may be discharged by a majority vote of directors.

Henry Gaudin, a state umpire who has been from Tampa, and who has been of 12 years with the University of Florida, has been named in his third year since Al Rayburn, 1940 season, held the record in all but three and five-year seasons.

Seminole Will Play Rollins Today In Another Game To Try Rookies; Daugherty May Be Used On Mound

Playing Rollins this afternoon at Winter Park, the rookies of the Seminoles will have another chance to show their prowess in a pre-season game.

The team leaves about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for the game to be played on the Rollins' diamond at 4:00 o'clock and Manager Joe Whitlock expects to take all of his squad of 21 players. Bill Daugherty may see some service in the game this afternoon but it will still be a game for the rookies with Armelina and Hansen doing most of the work on the mound.

Friday night the local boys will have a chance to avenge their loss to the DeLand Red Hots when they meet them here in a night game. It is expected to result in a less lopsided showing on the score board since Whitlock will put some of his first line pitchers up to test the slab and it will be the first time the Sanford fans have had a chance to see the team in action on the local field.

Monday night the Rollins nine will journey here to play a return game with the Seminoles. Whitlock expects both games with the college team to be good as Rollins showed strength in the game with Alabama last week.

Still carrying the big squad of 21 players Whitlock has not decided definitely on but few of the positions and will not reveal them until later in the training season. It seems to be touch and go for places between some of the boys from last year and the new players trying out. Whitlock

Pacers Set Record At Seminole Park

A pair of two-year-old racing fillies were clocked in the fastest mile this season yesterday at Seminole Park, near Longwood. The record time was declared unequalled on any training track in the country.

Carris Reynolds, sired by Dick Reynolds, dam Caramel, owned by W. N. Reynolds, driven by Roscoe Carlock paired with Fay Sterling, sired by Volomita, dam Fay Worthing, owned by Ben White, driven by Guy Hoadley, worked a mile in 2:16 flat, last quarter, 32 flat.

Trotters and pacers are training each day at Seminole Driving Park.

Spartan Trainer To Work With Barons

TAMPA, Apr. 9.—(Special)—Gregory Lucas, Spartan athletic trainer since the first year of football here, has accepted an offer from the International League baseball club, the Birmingham Barons, to serve as their trainer this season. Lucas' contract, however, contains a clause which will enable him to report here next Fall in time for the opening of the Spartan grid season.

British In Greece Head Northward To Battle Nazi Force

Showdown In Balkans Is Believed Near; English Send Tanks And Armored Cars

Germany's Troops Said In Belgrade

Berlin Assaulted In 3-Hour Attack By R. A. F. Warplanes

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Apr. 10.—(AP)—The Turkish government announced today it had "found it advisable" to withdraw a considerable portion of Istanbul's population. The action was regarded as an indication of how serious Turkey considers the threat of war to Istanbul on the European side of the Bosphorus, less than 100 miles from Nazi-occupied Bulgaria, and 150 miles from the section of Greece now in German hands.

Battalions of British flame-throwers, tanks and armored cars, newly arrived from Africa, were reported rushing north today from Piræus, the port of Athens, for a decisive battle with Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg legions.

As the five-day-old battle of the Balkans nears a showdown, unconfirmed reports indicated that the British had captured and destroyed Hitler's favorite theater—the State Opera House of Unter Den Linden on Berlin's downtown Broadway.

From Moscow, meanwhile, came a cryptic declaration of the Red Star, Soviet army organ, asserting the Russo-Yugoslav friendship pact signed just before the Balkan outbreak. "It is all the more valuable" under the new conditions because Russia "always fulfills its international pledges."

Greek troops trapped east of the Vardar River by the German capture of Salonika were reported by Berlin to have annihilated.

MASTER PLAN FOR NEW SANFORD AIRPORT

This map, drawn for The Sanford Herald by Ralph Lushinski of the City engineer's office, is the master plan for Sanford's new municipal airport, and shows three stages of development. Work on the first stage, indicated on the map by the heavy solid line, began today. The second stage, indicated by the light solid line, depends on additional funds from the government. The ultimate stage, which makes allowances for the distant future, is shown by the dotted line. The present development is 270 acres, and the entire plot shown on the map encompasses 1120 acres, of which the City owns about 800.

Greeks Remain Intact To Hit Blow At Nazis

Fate Of Troops Cut Off By Germany's Drive To Salonika Is Still Obscure

Military Heads Are Confident

Support From Allies Is Counted Upon For Decisive Move

ATHENS, Apr. 10.—(AP)—The Greek army remains intact "to deal a decisive blow at the German invader with Allied support," despite the entrapment of some forces in eastern Greece, Greek military sources declared today. The fate of the forces cut off by the swift Nazi drive to Salonika remained obscure, but they were reported holding out late last night.

The main Greek army will strike at the right time and the right place," military informants asserted confidentially.

Everything turns upon the battle of the Atlantic which is proceeding with growing intensity on both sides," Churchill told the House of Commons in a speech more somber than any he has made since敦堡 and the collapse of France.

The battle of the Atlantic, he asserted, stands out above all other actions in the war—other than the attack on Pearl Harbor—as the most important in the Balkans, the push of Indo-German power forces across North Africa to threaten Egypt and the capture of the Suez Canal and the threat of a Nazi thrust at the oil fields of the Middle East.

Work began this morning on Sanford's new $115,000 WPA airport, with a crew of 125 men under W. G. Hoagy, foreman, clearing the tract of 270 acres. When the plot has been cleared, drainage ditches will be dug, the land will be graded, and grass will be planted.

J. M. Goggans, supervisor of the WPA in Orlando, said that the project has been mechanized to a large extent, and two big La Tourette power scrapers will be used in the grading.

The City has advanced additional sponsor's funds to rent a "bull dozer" or heavy tractor for clearing a drainage will also be used to excavate muck for placing on the field.

Because of the mechanized equipment employed, the field should be well on the way to being finished in about 90 days, Mr. Goggans said.

Mr. Higgins, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, who worked with the City in securing the allocation of funds for the airport, asserted today he had reason to believe the field will be certified for national defense funds, in which case it will be made available for an advanced flying school or an Army squadron.

Plans and specifications, together with an application to enlarge the airport, are now in the hands of the Secretary of War and other interested government officials in the nation's capital, Mr. Higgins explained.

If the field is certified for national defense funds, a tract several times larger than the initial development will be graded and finished in about 90 days.

The present project calls for developing 270 acres, but the City owns about 800 acres in the tract which can be used for future development.

In the brief which is now before government officials in Washington, the strategic location of the airport and its advantages are pointed out. The site is one and three-quarters miles from Lake Monroe at the southern terminal of the navigable St. Johns River, and one and one-half miles from the highway to Lake George.

House Offers Measure To Increase Tax Levy On Bets At Horse Tracks

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 10.—(AP)—Forty-four members, enough to pass it, joined today in introducing in the House Governor Holland's program for an added levy of five cents on each dollar wagered at horse tracks to raise $2,000,000 a year for old-age pensions.

The bill would increase the present tax on bets from three cents to five cents.

It would also provide for a railroad tax on the amount of the bet.

Gardenias!

With the co-operation of local organizations arrangements are being made for 50 tables of games at the Bundles for Britain bridge and bingo party to be held at the Mayfair Hotel Monday night at 8:00 o'clock.

This report is made by Mrs. C. F. Proctor, chairman of the committee for contract bridge.

Mrs. H. B. Pope, chairman for ticket sales, announces that "Tickets for sale have been accepted so willingly and eagerly by the various organizations we feel confident of the success of the party."

Games of Rummy, Chinese Checkers, and Mah Jong will be played in addition to bridge and bingo. Mrs. J. W. Daniel and Mrs. C. L. Lewis are in charge of games of Chinese Checkers.

Two games of Screeno will be called promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. Proctor says, thus making it worthwhile for all guests to be prompt.

Seminole High School Art Students are making and donating tallies for the party, further reports the bridge chairman, and bridge cards are being provided by the Sanford Elks Club. Pencils are donated by C. S. Morrison and Hill Hardware Co. The other committee chairman report generous donations in this co-operative effort.

Complex Problems Face Legislature in Current Term

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 10.—Tuesday witnessed the grand opening of the Florida Legislature upon which rests the hopes and fears of taxpayers, labor, aged and destitute persons, bond holders, motorists, and various and sundry other groups and interests.

The 1941 session faces many complex and troublesome problems which have inherited from the 1939 session and some which have been born since that time. In makeup the present Legislature is pretty well balanced with 17 new and 21 old senators, and 23 new representatives and 33 who served in 1939. The enthusiasm of the newcomers balanced by the experience of the veterans may achieve the wholesome results for by the public; but there are many observers who are predicting an extra session will be necessary to afford time for the ironing out of the numerous problems which have arisen even before the session started and which will arise during its course.

A brief glance at some of these problems and conflicts show how great a task is before this session. The allocation of the seven-cent gas tax is one of the major problems. Every county and community in the state is crying for more and better roads. National defense groups are demanding adequate highways, and the State Road Board states that it needs more than 144 million dollars to put highways in proper condition to meet the needs of the state.

Governor Holland has proposed a nine-point program, the principal item of which gives the State Road Department four cents in lieu of the three it now receives and gives the counties two cents for the payment of road and bridge bonds in the place of the three cents they now receive. But the Association of County Commissioners is opposing this proposed distribution, claiming that such action will bankrupt the counties and necessitate the laying unbearable taxes upon county taxpayers. Bondholders, fearing the best possible security for their bonds, will also be active in shaping legislative action on gas tax legislation.

The three major steps proposed by the Brookings Institute and which have the tacit approval of Governor Holland are certain to be the subject of protracted dis-ussions. The first recommendation proposes an independent, strict budget control of all funds collected and disbursed.

This is, in substance, the "one pot treasury" idea advanced by Governor Cone two years ago and which never got beyond the incubation stage.

This proposal would abolish the system of continuing appropriations and earmarked revenues, which the Brookings Institute says is "an outstanding evil. It tends to expand the beneficiaries of more and more functions seek to secure secured financing, to escape legislative control and to tap the general revenue fund in case of shortage."

The second Brookings proposal is the "equalization" of property assessments, less compromise with delinquent taxes, penalties for failure to pay.

In support of this proposal it says: "Equalization of assessments as between counties and as between governmental divisions within a county should be required by law to be made by some appropriate state administrative agency."

The third step recommended by the Brookings Institute which is "state control of the funded debt refunding and adjustment of cities, districts and other taxing agencies."

A number of old age pension bills will be submitted to the Legislature, proposing payments of from $40 to $50 per month and decreasing the age limit to 60 years. Plans for raising the necessary money to provide these pensions will include a general transactions tax of 3 percent, a luxury tax on cigarettes, chewing gum, theater tickets, an increase in the tax on betting at the race track, a 10-cent break at the tracks, a licensing of gambling establishments under State supervision, a State income tax, and a tax on jook organs.

Florida's 90-day residence divorce law, which has made this state a mecca for unhappy spouses and a gold mine for divorce lawyers, is slated for a battering at this session. Another domestic relations law giving wives equal rights with their husbands in property management and contractual transactions is expected to be proposed.

HEADS BAPTISTS

TAMPA, Apr. 10.—(Special)—Russell Dixon, Cocoa, was elected president of the University of Tampa Baptist Student Union at its annual business meeting last week. Other out-of-town officers elected were: H. B. Fordyce, Miami and Eleanor Baillie, Tarpon Springs, training union and Y. W. A. representatives.

Cucumber Exposition Planned At Wauchula

WAUCHULA, Apr. 10.—(Special)—Not to be outdone by other communities that stage festivals honoring the products for which they are famed as the Orange Festival at Winter Haven, the Strawberry Festival at Plant City and Bowling Green, the Tomato Festival at Danis and Husky and many others, Wauchula is planning a Cucumber Exposition which is scheduled to open Monday, Apr. 14 and continue through Apr. 19.

The affair is being sponsored by the American Legion post and will feature a splendid cattle show as well as exhibits of agricultural products. It will be county wide in scope and is expected to attract visitors from all sections.

The economic and strategic importance of the Philippine Islands was known to the Dutch as early as the 17th century, when a pamphlet on the subject, by Joannes de Laet, was published in Leyden, Holland.

The Mores, who comprise approximately 5 percent of the Filipino population, trace their conversion to Mohammedanism to the coming in 1380 of two missionaries, Makdum and Abu Bakar, from Malaya.

Aluminum Drive Is Milton's Help In Defense Plan

MILTON, Apr. 10.—(Special)—Anxious to aid Uncle Sam, Milton staged an "aluminum drive" this week in which clubs, city and county officials and schools co-operated.

Noting that there is a shortage of aluminum, Milton set out to gather all the old pots, pans, auto parts, buckets. In fact anything at all that is made of aluminum.

Every citizen was solicited and all were urged to give at least one thing made of the needed metal. A huge receiving pen was erected on the court house square to receive the gifts. Schools were dismantled early, both in Milton and Bagdad, and a parade was staged led by the high school band.

As marchers passed the receiving bin, they threw their gifts in the enclosure. A surprising amount was collected and it will be turned over to the government for use in airplane construction.

The enthusiasm shown by the people of Milton in the drive and the willingness with which they participated is a real tribute to democracy and goes to prove that it will work end work in a big way when the occasion demands. Americans will voluntarily give their services or their possessions to their country and need no dictator's stick backed at bayonet point to force them as in totalitarian countries.

It is believed that Milton has staged the first drive of this kind in the country and it is hoped by those responsible for the idea that other communities will take it up.

Although barter was the principal method of exchange among the Filipinos in the 14th century, they were acquainted with metal coinage systems.

Selective Cutting Of Pulpwood Is Recommended

STARKE, Apr. 10 (Special)—Around 1,500 farm people from central Florida were given a demonstration in proper pulpwood cutting near here recently, in which it was recommended that selective cutting be followed. It was pointed out that this type of cutting will give greatest returns over a period of years.

Directed by Frank Heyward of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association, the demonstration received co-operation from the National Container Corporation, Florida Agricultural Extension Service, Florida Forest Service, University of Florida School of Forestry, and U. S. Forest Service.

Extension Forester L. T. Nie-

land says the three demonstration plots represented as many distinct types of cutting. Clear cutting is the most destructive type, while leaving seed trees is somewhat better but still destructive, he declares. Removing only cull or defective trees or those which need to be thinned out to give others a chance to make proper growth is the method urged not only by Nie land but by other foresters and even the pulpwood companies, who are vitally interested in a future supply of timber.

Contests in wood chopping, sawing, log rolling and other woods arts featured the occasion.

Professor Dr. Rudolf Hennig, a German scientist, in a study of the life of Christopher Columbus, fixes the time and place of Columbus' birthplace as September or early October, 1451 A. D. at Genoa. Historians have dated both time and place.

Books And Authors

By MRS. IRVING FEINBERG

A year ago, when "Escape" was first published and making plenty of talk in literary circles as well as among the mass readers, columnists were speculating almost daily on the identity of Ethel Vance, the author. When Isabel Patterson, who does turns with a Bookworm for the Herald Tribune, named four women writers most likely to be hiding behind the non de plume, a prominent literary agent reportedly called columnists and begged them to say that the author of "Escape" was a man. He was supposedly calling from the hotel room of the author of the best-seller - a woman who was alarmed over the possible disclosure of her name, because the methods of escape from the concentration camp described in her book so closely followed the actual adventures of her own family, some of whom were still in Nazi Germany. But that was more than a year ago. The story goes on to say that the writer's family are now safely evacuated - and that Ethel Vance is the distinguished writer, I. A. R. Wylie.

Nazi Germany, concentration camps and Hitler are all synonymous to my mind and mention of any one brings up speculations concerning the others. In this connection I am reminded that a correspondent of the London office of Oxford University Press asks whether any one has noticed the following anagram: A. HITLER - THE LIAR. Well, no, I hadn't noticed it - not as an anagram.

The sea serpent, or something of the sort, appears to be with us again, John Weid, author of "The Padners", says that he has seen one - or maybe it was the Loch Ness monster. He saw it from the front of his own house, which is situated on the headrock of a cliff overlooking the Pacific and he swears that he had not been imbibing. Here is the description of what he saw: "It had green eyes and catlike ears. It swam along with its head out of the water and its neck arched like a swan's. I tried to interest some other persons in it, but they were indifferent. That's California for you. They've got everything here."

And then there is Willy Ley, science expert of P.M., who has written a book called "The Lungfish and the Unicorn" to be published on April 18 by Modern Age Books. Mr. Ley has made a study of strange beasts - mythical, extinct and hard to find - and he is convinced that the sea serpent actually exists, although he does not think it is a sea serpent. That sounds a bit cryptic, but no doubt Mr. Ley knows what he means. After all, what does he mean? The vast deep holds so many unnamable monsters these days that a mere sea serpent would be a welcome change.

California's may, if they choose, ignore this paragraph. It concerns a man who was born in Los Angeles, became bored with the California scene before he was 11 and set out to see what else there was on view. He went to sea as a cabin boy in Pacific Coast windjammers for a couple of years, had a brief sojourn in the United States, and then went back to sea as an actor in New York, worked for a time on a newspaper in Shanghai, did more newspaper work in various cities in the United States, tried theatrical photography with some success, and then went back to writing. His name is Richard Burke, and he is the author of the recently published "The Dead Take No Lies."

Says Donald Shan of The American News Company while commenting on April's publications: "There's no point in eating around the bush. Aside from the disclosure of the fact that there's always the risk of picking up a touch of persimmony that way. So we might as well tell you it seems clear to us that Eric Knight's 'This Above All' is far and away the best bet in sight this Spring."

"It's all quite unexpected. Lunch table pontification in the trade had it established that a hit war novel couldn't be expected until excitement cooled, presumably a few years after it was all over. What they wanted now in fiction, consciously or unconsciously, was escape stuff. The conclusion was announced, and we believe it still holds, as a rush of war-background novels on the heels of Mr. Knight's book probably will prove. But 'This Above All' is the exception by reason of its distinctiveness. It is a novel about the attitudes and behavior of people, many sorts, under the impact of cataclysm; it is not merely the result of an author's recognition of a dramatic wartime situation suitable with easy stock casting for the production of a slick, punchy magazine story."

"That's not to say 'This Above All' isn't punchy. In cumulative effect and very frequently in detail, it is. Decidedly. Moreover it is a love story such as 'Forfeit Arms' is. A story of 'illicit love' we suppose it will be tagged here and there, and that's good commercial killing.

"Eric Knight is known now to a few who found and laughed at his 'The Flying Yorkshireman' a few years ago. He will be known, though, the publishers of 'This Above All' recognize the potentialities of the novel and they're smacking a wad on the pun, in this case that's all that's necessary."

If I may be permitted to reveal a little of the story to you the book has the most exciting descriptions of the war in France and the retreat from Dunkirk that we have yet seen. It has one marvelous "low cut" character, Monty, the soldier who used his head. And it has a nice love story. It also has a picture of America like a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie, long discussions about the essential rightness or wrongness of England, and some interesting side lights on work in England's factories. In other words, it has some magnificent stuff in it and a good bit of propaganda, which I believe will all be able to take.

Here's another idea in publishing. A new monthly magazine called "Who" has been launched by the Gerald Publishing Company, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City. It is edited by Lawrence Conant, and it is devoted entirely to articles about people - the great and not great of the day in every field; their careers, their backgrounds, their personalities. It opens, appropriately, with an article by Thurston Clarke on Winston Churchill, Rock of Empire. Under the title "Author at Home" Robert Van Gelder writes about Hendrik Willem Van Loon. Michael McGovern gives us a word picture of Willa Katarina Knudsen, Lady of Defense, and there are other articles on such diverse personalities as Batista of Cuba, Frank Allen, Imam of Turkey and Duke Ellington. The magazine is handsomely illustrated.

Last year a book was published which was one of the most successful first novels ever brought out. A story of the early days of Kentucky, and the origins of the name of the state, it was called "Shenandoah." The author of this tremendous popular novel of appeared on the New York Herald Tribune's best seller short list. In consecutive years it was on the McGraw-Hill list. Since the publication of "Shenandoah" Clark McMeekin has been hard at work on a new novel. Published on April 4, it bears the exact and provocative title "Beckon With the River." Those who have read this book are unanimous in acclaiming it as even better than "Shenandoah." It has a more dramatic nature, a more gripping character, and a more deftly plotted, and in every way it shows a marked improvement over what was undoubtedly a remarkable first novel.

Meekin's leading character, the figure of "Beckon With the River" is an unforgettable figure. A gallant old woman who has lived with the Indians as a child, been a school teacher, a nurse, a crowd, at eighty she directs her amazing energies to putting her family down the Ohio River to the rich land of Kentucky in the early 1800's. The unusual nature of Meekin's two great novels, the conspiracy of Aaron Burr, the mystery concerning the intriguing "Straw Hat" and Meekin's connection with historical events, the Indian, the frontier, conflict, excitement, real life historical romances.

The great trek of pioneers down the Ohio to the promised land of Kentucky is of the stuff from which the great stories are made. "Beckon With the River" Clark McMeekin has done full justice to a stirring, American theme. Here is a book which is typical of the authentic and moving pictures of those hardy adventurers who dared greatly, loved roughly, experienced dangers and unbelievable hardships, who fought all the perils of the great river, and finally conquered on treachered wilderness and set up homes so that their sons and their daughters might play their part in the establishment of a great nation.

A census of the Philippine Islands in 1939 revealed 17,740 Chinese, 9,262 Japanese, 8,735 Americans and 4,637 Spaniards in a total population of 16,000,000.

her book so closely followed the actual adventures of her own family, some of whom were still in Nazi Germany. But that was more than a year ago. The story goes on to say that the writer's family are now safely evacuated - and that Ethel Vance is the distinguished writer, I. A. R. Wylie.

Nazi Germany, concentration camps and Hitler are all synonymous to my mind and mention of any one brings up speculations concerning the others. In this connection I am reminded that a correspondent of the London office of Oxford University Press asks whether any one has noticed the following anagram: A. HITLER - THE LIAR. Well, no, I hadn't noticed it - not as an anagram.

The sea serpent, or something of the sort, appears to be with us again, John Weid, author of "The Padners", says that he has seen one - or maybe it was the Loch Ness monster. He saw it from the front of his own house, which is situated on the headrock of a cliff overlooking the Pacific and he swears that he had not been imbibing. Here is the description of what he saw: "It had green eyes and catlike ears. It swam along with its head out of the water and its neck arched like a swan's. I tried to interest some other persons in it, but they were indifferent. That's California for you. They've got everything here."

And then there is Willy Ley, science expert of P.M., who has written a book called "The Lungfish and the Unicorn" to be published on April 18 by Modern Age Books. Mr. Ley has made a study of strange beasts - mythical, extinct and hard to find - and he is convinced that the sea serpent actually exists, although he does not think it is a sea serpent. That sounds a bit cryptic, but no doubt Mr. Ley knows what he means. After all, what does he mean? The vast deep holds so many unnamable monsters these days that a mere sea serpent would be a welcome change.

California's may, if they choose, ignore this paragraph. It concerns a man who was born in Los Angeles, became bored with the California scene before he was 11 and set out to see what else there was on view. He went to sea as a cabin boy in Pacific Coast windjammers for a couple of years, had a brief sojourn in the United States, and then went back to sea as an actor in New York, worked for a time on a newspaper in Shanghai, did more newspaper work in various cities in the United States, tried theatrical photography with some success, and then went back to writing. His name is Richard Burke, and he is the author of the recently published "The Dead Take No Lies."

Says Donald Shan of The American News Company while commenting on April's publications: "There's no point in eating around the bush. Aside from the disclosure of the fact that there's always the risk of picking up a touch of persimmony that way. So we might as well tell you it seems clear to us that Eric Knight's 'This Above All' is far and away the best bet in sight this Spring."

"It's all quite unexpected. Lunch table pontification in the trade had it established that a hit war novel couldn't be expected until excitement cooled, presumably a few years after it was all over. What they wanted now in fiction, consciously or unconsciously, was escape stuff. The conclusion was announced, and we believe it still holds, as a rush of war-background novels on the heels of Mr. Knight's book probably will prove. But 'This Above All' is the exception by reason of its distinctiveness. It is a novel about the attitudes and behavior of people, many sorts, under the impact of cataclysm; it is not merely the result of an author's recognition of a dramatic wartime situation suitable with easy stock casting for the production of a slick, punchy magazine story."

"That's not to say 'This Above All' isn't punchy. In cumulative effect and very frequently in detail, it is. Decidedly. Moreover it is a love story such as 'Forfeit Arms' is. A story of 'illicit love' we suppose it will be tagged here and there, and that's good commercial killing.

"Eric Knight is known now to a few who found and laughed at his 'The Flying Yorkshireman' a few years ago. He will be known, though, the publishers of 'This Above All' recognize the potentialities of the novel and they're smacking a wad on the pun, in this case that's all that's necessary."

If I may be permitted to reveal a little of the story to you the book has the most exciting descriptions of the war in France and the retreat from Dunkirk that we have yet seen. It has one marvelous "low cut" character, Monty, the soldier who used his head. And it has a nice love story. It also has a picture of America like a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie, long discussions about the essential rightness or wrongness of England, and some interesting side lights on work in England's factories. In other words, it has some magnificent stuff in it and a good bit of propaganda, which I believe will all be able to take.

Here's another idea in publishing. A new monthly magazine called "Who" has been launched by the Gerald Publishing Company, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City. It is edited by Lawrence Conant, and it is devoted entirely to articles about people - the great and not great of the day in every field; their careers, their backgrounds, their personalities. It opens, appropriately, with an article by Thurston Clarke on Winston Churchill, Rock of Empire. Under the title "Author at Home" Robert Van Gelder writes about Hendrik Willem Van Loon. Michael McGovern gives us a word picture of Willa Katarina Knudsen, Lady of Defense, and there are other articles on such diverse personalities as Batista of Cuba, Frank Allen, Imam of Turkey and Duke Ellington. The magazine is handsomely illustrated.

Last year a book was published which was one of the most successful first novels ever brought out. A story of the early days of Kentucky, and the origins of the name of the state, it was called "Shenandoah." The author of this tremendous popular novel of appeared on the New York Herald Tribune's best seller short list. In consecutive years it was on the McGraw-Hill list. Since the publication of "Shenandoah" Clark McMeekin has been hard at work on a new novel. Published on April 4, it bears the exact and provocative title "Beckon With the River." Those who have read this book are unanimous in acclaiming it as even better than "Shenandoah." It has a more dramatic nature, a more gripping character, and a more deftly plotted, and in every way it shows a marked improvement over what was undoubtedly a remarkable first novel.

Meekin's leading character, the figure of "Beckon With the River" is an unforgettable figure. A gallant old woman who has lived with the Indians as a child, been a school teacher, a nurse, a crowd, at eighty she directs her amazing energies to putting her family down the Ohio River to the rich land of Kentucky in the early 1800's. The unusual nature of Meekin's two great novels, the conspiracy of Aaron Burr, the mystery concerning the intriguing "Straw Hat" and Meekin's connection with historical events, the Indian, the frontier, conflict, excitement, real life historical romances.

The great trek of pioneers down the Ohio to the promised land of Kentucky is of the stuff from which the great stories are made. "Beckon With the River" Clark McMeekin has done full justice to a stirring, American theme. Here is a book which is typical of the authentic and moving pictures of those hardy adventurers who dared greatly, loved roughly, experienced dangers and unbelievable hardships, who fought all the perils of the great river, and finally conquered on treachered wilderness and set up homes so that their sons and their daughters might play their part in the establishment of a great nation.

A census of the Philippine Islands in 1939 revealed 17,740 Chinese, 9,262 Japanese, 8,735 Americans and 4,637 Spaniards in a total population of 16,000,000.

Seminole Beat Rollins 6 To 3 For Initial Win

Sanford Team Uses Five Pitchers On Mound During Duel

The Seminoles won their first victory this year by a score of 6-3 in the game with Rollins at Winter Park yesterday afternoon as Manager Joe Whitlock threw the top of his pitching staff into the game.

Five pitchers were used on the mound, starting with Bill Dougherty who gave up four of the hits collected by the Tartans. Whitlock was favored with a perfect day at the plate with three hits out of three times at bat and one walk.

Only extra base hit of the game was made by Joe Justice who belted the ball down the third base line for a double. Justice also had the honor of stealing the only base of the game. Billigan took the lead in the second inning but dropped it to Stanford when the Seminoles scored three times on a two base error and three hits in the fifth. In the sixth the Rollins team scored two runs but remained behind the Seminoles who scored a single trip around the bases in the same inning. An error, two base hits, and two hits gave the local legs two more runs in the seventh.

Friday night the Seminoles will play a return game with the DeLand Red Hots at the local ball park.

Gator Athletics Present Double Bill Saturday

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 14 (Special)—It's a double bill (two Saturday afternoon) for Gator fans when the University of Florida football and track teams take on Tampa and Georgia Tech, respectively, in important contests.

Coach Sam McAllister's Florida Gator team, which came back with an easy win over Rollins after dropping the opening contest to Alabama, will meet in the stadium a veteran opponent which claimed the state diamond title last season, Florida. This season's state champion in football was Tampa, and Georgia Tech, which overpowered Georgia, 51-20 last week, looks for a stern opposition from the Yellow Jackets. Tech turned in a good showing in the Florida Derby with such individual stars as Morris Brown, George Klay, and M. M. Flavin.

Track Coach Percy Beard will coach an old-fashioned "high school" team—Carl and Paulsen, who made 10 points in an event against Georgia, Point Park, and first place winner in the shot and javelin at Ed Giffin, who took 11 points in four events, and heavy heavyweight, who came within a whisker of the school high jump record, to lead the Gators. Beard's opponent Coach George Griffin's Eagles.

Florida, the capital of the Philadelphia Derby, will be the first of a series of events, which will be held at the University of Florida, and the first of a series of events, which will be held at the University of Florida.

Final Night Of Racing Slated Tonight At Longwood Dog Track

Don't be shut out! It's closing night tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, located midway between Orlando and Sanford on U. S. Highway 17.

For the past 20 nights, crowds from all over Central Florida have flocked to the track to watch the greyhound races—most thrilling of all sports. Tonight, the 20-day season curtain is rung down with the final card of 11 races featured by the Au Revoir Handicap.

The au revoir will go to the post at the ninth race, featuring 1,000's of a mile runners in a hot and scrappy for winning purse.

Entered are My Success, Imperial Leader, Real Fire, Summer Chief, Jerry Kay, Lamp Light, Gold Leaf Lad and Jovial Minstrel.

Winners for the first race will open promptly at 8:00 o'clock when tickets for the daily double will also go on sale. The first race will start at 8:15 o'clock, and the races will be run off as promptly as possible under the strain of closing night crowds.

Roosevelt Is Only Pitcher Sure Of Having Assignment In Opening Game When Senators Start Session

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—(AP)—The only wild pitcher in baseball who always gets a coveted opening day starting assignment comes for the Senators. He lives in an old house at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue. The name: President.

F.D.R. is all warmed up and ready to throw. Barring sudden international developments requiring his attention, he'll flip out the ball starting baseball's 1944 season here April 14.

His throws generally are wild. Perhaps he's just fooling the boys. At any rate, he looks toward home plate but his tosses land somewhere near first base. While his 1941 log is in the air there'll be a scramble among Senators and Yankee players for the job of starting the game. Then some obscure athlete named Joe will grab the agate and Mr. Will Harridge's men-in-blue will take charge and the campaign will be under way.

No one seems to know just how it started, this custom of the President lending his official presence to the annual launching of America's national game. William Howard Taft was the first Mr. Big to take part. That was in 1910.

Two years later Clark Griffith came to Washington. He recognized the value to the game of the President's participation and the Chief Executive has worked every opener since.

Roosevelt will be the pitcher of the day in 1944 when he will pitch the opening day game. He will be the pitcher of the day in 1944 when he will pitch the opening day game. He will be the pitcher of the day in 1944 when he will pitch the opening day game.

Tampa Athletes Work On School Building

TAMPA, Apr. 10.—(Special)—Sixty University of Tampa athletes have directed their brains from the sports field to the rehabilitation of University buildings. The athletes, working under the direction of Elmer Stewart, dean of men and athletic head, have begun work on "Florida Hall," which will serve as the laboratory section for the University's marine and aeronautics engineering departments.

Dr. James Elliott Mooney, president of the University, said that labor being done by the University students will save the university several hundred dollars. Hallways will be renovated, partitions knocked down, repair work done, and new coats of paint added.

Two Negroes Held As Chicken Thieves

O. P. Sloan, constable at Oviedo, said today two negroes had confessed to a series of chicken robberies in the Oviedo section. He gave the men's names as L. C. Collins, Oviedo, and Willie Collins, his brother, Oviedo.

"About seven different people had been reporting their chickens missing during the past five weeks," Mr. Sloan said.

A preliminary hearing was held for the two men before Theo Aulin, justice of the peace at Oviedo, Monday night, after which they were bound over to the county court. A grand jury, charged with petty larceny, the Oviedo Police Department cooperated in arresting the men.

State League Managers Are Faced With Many Duties And Obligations

WINTER HAVEN, Apr. 10 (Special)—Remember back in the summer of 1932 when Jerry Tummy was manager of the Daytona Beach club, he ordered his club to leave the field at Sanford, later to draw a stiff fine as well as cause his club to leave the park.

The delay that followed that penalty ended the Florida State League for weeks, with many well-intentioned fans arguing that the league president "couldn't do that."

He most certainly can, and there is no recourse other than to reorganize the league, with a new constitution and by-laws drafted.

Fourteen paragraphs of the by-laws were devoted to the duties of the manager, and because so many of his duties are so widely misunderstood by the average fan, they are listed here with for the benefit of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Fan who, shortly later this season have reason to remember one or more.

Ample from the fact that the manager must have a working knowledge of all playing rules of baseball, the Florida State League has reminded him that he is responsible for the maintenance of order and good conduct on the part of his players at all times.

It is the only person delegated with authority to discuss any situation with an umpire or umpires.

It is expected to keep his and visiting players' bench clear of all players except men in uniform, and only those who are properly on the club's roster at the time.

It is expected to prohibit visiting players of the opposing team.

It is expected to see that no player takes his place for latting or fielding practice or during a regular game unless he is properly dressed and in full uniform.

It is responsible for the fixing

Precautions To Prevent Fire Listed By Board

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—(Special)—Chimneys by fire is a danger in spite of modern fireproofing efficiency.

To help prevent fires, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has recently issued 10 general precautions which, if observed, are said to minimize the likelihood of fires in the home.

They take into metal chimneys, cover wooden ones. This also applies to storage of rags and mops that may contain paint and oil stains.

Never force a heating plant in bad weather. Call a heating expert.

Always disconnect electrical appliances, even if you leave them for only a minute.

Use only electrical equipment listed as approved by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc.

Never under any circumstances use inflammable cleaning fluids such as gasoline, naphtha, or benzene.

Guard against accumulations of rubbish anywhere, especially in attic or basement.

Make sure that all gas connections are tight. Do not use rubber or other flexible tubing.

Always place an iron screen with a fine mesh in front of the fireplace.

Terraces Leaflet Available Now, SCS Official Says

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 10.—(Special)—A new U. S. Department of Agriculture leaflet entitled "Terrace Construction with Small Equipment in the South" is available to Florida farmers without cost while the supply lasts, according to Colin D. Gunn, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service.

The 12-page leaflet describes the use of four different types of light equipment in constructing terraces. These are plow and slip scrape or drag, plow and V-drag, one-way disc tiller, and small blade terracer. The various steps in each method of construction are illustrated by photographs and charts.

Many farmers can construct their terraces advantageously by using farm power and small equipment, even though the work may be done more quickly and efficiently with experienced operators and large equipment, it is pointed out in the leaflet. Constructing terraces with small farm equipment makes a cash outlay unnecessary.

The maintenance of terraces is discussed in another recently issued leaflet, "Plowing for Terrace Maintenance in the South." Both leaflets can be obtained while the supply lasts simply by writing to the Soil Conservation Service, Spartanburg, S. C., and requesting them by name, Mr. Gunn said.

Agreement reached for men to return to work in the Allen-Chalmers plant at Milledgeville, Ga. Agreements provided for selection of a referee to rule on all controversial matters.

LONGWOOD

On Easter Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock the Methodist and Baptist congregations of Oviedo will meet in a union service at the Methodist Church. The sound motion picture, "In His Steps," based on the book of the same name by Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, will be presented. This book, published more than half a century ago, is still widely read. It has enjoyed a larger circulation and been translated into more different languages than any other book ever published in English, except the King James version of the Bible.

The gripping story of a community which tried to live the Sermon on the Mount in everyday life has now been put into pictures and is being shown for the first time in this section of the state at this service on Easter Sunday night.

Thomas F. Alexander, former superintendent of the Tampa Municipal Hospital, was appointed assistant superintendent of the State Hospital, Chattahoochee, last week. He succeeds P. J. Liang, Dr. J. H. Therrell remains as head of the institution.

Many British boys between 16 and 19 have been given jobs stuffing sandbags and filling in bomb craters.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the Rev. John H. Hager, minister of the church, is speaking on these respective subjects: "Betwixt the Follies," "Our Greater Responsibility," and "The Ever Present Christ." On Thursday evening the Holy Communion will be celebrated; and on Friday evening the young people of the church will present the program, "The Children of the Cross," by Charles A. Martin.

Those taking part in the program are Mrs. Marion Estes, and Dr. Elmer G. Lee Wheeler, Mrs. M. B. Giddens, William W. White, and Mrs. Martha Williams.

How LONG is a Gallon of Gasoline?

WELL, it's longer going down than up, longer going clear than fast—but the important new discovery of the year (or also Buick's Improved Carburetor) appeared in that it's longer when you have Buick's than when you have one!

Here's why: In every going like most of your travel, just one of Buick's smaller-than-usual carburetors thrills handles all engine requirements.

Only when you want extra power does the second carburetor come in.

Then, momentarily, it adds extra fuel and extra power only while it's needed.

Result is that carburetion is always fitted to your driving needs.

You're never driving with a carburetor that's bigger than you need for low-range travel, or one that's too small for top-range performance.

Now the net result is that the same-size engines give up as much as 10% to 15% more miles-per-gallon than last year.

And that's a handsome saving—mighty handsome in a car big and roomy and smart as a Buick.

Look over the next Buick that passes you—or better yet, go trial-drive one—and see if you don't agree.

DRIVERS ARE WARNED

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 10.—(Special)—Warnings were issued this week by the State Motor Vehicle Department that county officers have been instructed to arrest anyone found driving a car without a 1941 tag. Attention is also called to the fact that persons employed in the state must obtain Florida tags and may not use out-of-state tags if working in the state.

There are 17,000 motion picture theaters in the United States, more than in any other nation in the world, but Russia is a close second with 15,000.
