Banker Scores Delay Paving First Street And Bulkhead Work

Forster Says Work Is Held Up Because Of Agreement Between Lane and City Body

Progressiveness Manifested, He Says

He Says Commission Failed To Live Up To Its Agreements

A new factor in the delay of the extension of First Street and the bulkheading work near the new Hotel Forster Lake was brought up by E. P. Forster, president of the First National Bank, at the luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the Seminole Cafe today when he stated that because of an oral contract made upon the receipt of a deed for the right of way of First Street through certain property, the city is bound to commence this work at Sanford Avenue. This means a delay of several months in the development of the land near the hotel because of the great distance from Sanford Avenue to the hotel, he further stated.

Forster declared that the deed was received by Mayor Forrester from E. F. Lane, the mortgage promising by oral agreement to have the work begun at the end after he was informed that there were several reasons why Mr. Lane did not want the work across his property just at the time. That was several months ago and Mr. Forster stated that Mr. Lane is now holding the city commission to this agreement while work should be going on at the end of First Street extension from the east end.

Changed Decision Sought.

Mr. Forster urged that the Chamber of Commerce members get behind the movement to have Mr. Lane change his decision in the matter and give his consent to have the work start immediately at the east end. He stated further that he, Mayor Lake and other members of the trade body have already talked to Mr. Lane several times but so far have not been able to have him change his decision.

Summing up his remarks, Mr. Forster declared that whoever is responsible for the continued delay in paving First Street and bulkheading the lake front, should be censured for the unprogressive spirit manifested in this action.

Mayor Lake also spoke in regard to the matter and said that it is desirable that permission may be secured this afternoon for the work to begin from the east end, following a conference with Mr. Lane this morning by M. B. Hutton, representative of the company constructing the retaining wall of the east end bulkhead extension.

A committee appointed to confer with Mr. Lane today and Saturday in a last effort to get him to change his decision, is composed of E. P. Forster, J. G. Ball, S. O. Shubholzer, and J. G. Sharon.

Mr. Lane's statement.

In a statement on the matter, Mr. Lane said today:

"I was told for the right of way was given to the commission sometime during April with the understanding that they would start work on the east end. The three commissioners were present and agreed to it. They also agreed to give the dirt from the excavation of the street to me to be used to fill in the lower part of my property. I have had nothing to do with the dredge not getting here and keeping them from filling in the lower end near Sanford Avenue."

It also gave a deed for the extension of Hughey Street with the understanding that it be opened and graded within 90 days but to the present time, the commissioners have failed to do so. They just opened and graded through my property but did not cross the railroad and connect Hughey Street with Rose Court as was agreed upon. They were asked to pave Mellonville Avenue sometime ago and since then other streets have been paved but Mellonville has not.

Agreement Not Carried Out

"If the original agreement signed by Harry T. Bodwell when he first came here, had been carried out by the Bodwell Realty Company, there would not be any discussion about the property at present as I have had an agreement with him for the extension of First Street and the lakefront bulkhead."

"This is purely a matter for the property owners and the City Commission to decide, as I see it."

Ticket Office Discussed

Committee representatives reported that at its meeting last Monday the Board of County Commissioners approved a two mill property tax for this county, which will provide funds to the extent of

FORT MYERS BIDS FOR LOCAL CLUB IN STATE LEAGUE

Negotiations Opened Thursday May Be Consummated Today; Deal Would Be Effective Beginning Next Monday

That negotiations are under way and are likely to be closed today for the purchase by a group of Fort Myers baseball enthusiasts of the Sanford franchise in the Florida State League, was admitted this morning by C. L. Britt, president of the local club, in answer to rumors that have been current since Thursday morning that the club had been sold.

Although no official statement was given out by Mr. Britt, it is understood that officials of the local club were approached yesterday by a prominent sportsman of Fort Myers named for his home to meet with the group proposing to purchase. If the west coast city fans accept, the local management to receive word sometime today, it is understood.

The price asked for the franchise was not divulged, neither was the amount of the original offer of the Fort Myers group. It is believed, however, that the price will amount to a large sum, and that the indebtedness of the club here.

Should the sale be consummated, it would become effective beginning next Monday, it was declared. The Clerymen and the Smokers will finish their three game series here this week and next week the local players would go to Lakeland as the Fort Myers team.

Action of the local management in entering into a deal to dispose of its holdings has been prompted, it is said, by the lack of support among the fans in the club by the Sanford people. It is understood that the club has had considerable difficulty in arranging financial matters to play this far in the season and it is rumored that for some time the organization has been getting more and more in debt.

The franchise had to be disposed of or assistance in a financial way had to be forthcoming immediately, it is the way local fans have summed up the situation. Since the financial assistance was not to be secured, the only alternative was to dispose of the club, it is declared.

Announcement was made this morning that a double header, the first game starting at 2:30 o'clock will be played this afternoon because Thursday's game was rained out. It is also thought that a double header will be played Saturday afternoon because of a game that was not played here during the first series of the second half.

Today and tomorrow will probably be the last time this season that Sanford people will have an opportunity to see league baseball on the local field and everyone is urged to attend these last games, thereby lending their support to the Clerymen in their last appearance in this city.

Boy's Hand Is Badly Mangled By Alligator

LOS ANGELES, July 10—An angry alligator closed its jaws on seven-year-old Francis Ernest's hand when the lad ventured too near while his uncle, John Ernest, was feeding the reptiles at an alligator farm here late yesterday. By leaping on the alligator's back and gouging its eyes with his fingers, the boy's uncle forced the beast to relinquish hold. The hand was badly mangled but amputation is not necessary, examining physicians said.

Tennessee's Evolution Trial Opens At Dayton; Scopes Is Re-Indicted

Time Old Attempt To Define The Truth Is Revived In Scopes Trial In Tennessee

Precedents Were Set Centuries Ago

Dayton Trial Is Akin To Fundamentalist- Modernist Dispute

DAYTON, Tenn., July 10—Daytonians who have been looking forward to seeing two former secretaries of state arrayed one against the other in the Scopes litigation were discussing with regret today the announcement that Bainbridge Colby will not attend the trial here. They had anticipated a unique situation and interesting developments when William Jennings Bryan and Mr. Colby, a later member of the Woodrow Wilson cabinet should sit at opposing counsel tables in a state court.

Judge John T. Raulston, who will preside in the evolution trial, was making a preliminary survey of the Rhea county court room Thursday when he was interrupted by the exclamations of attendants. Turning the judge smiled when he saw who was entering the door. "Ah, there's some valuable help!" he chuckled.

Mr. Bryan, entering with a group of workmen, was dragging in two chairs. The Floridian and his companions arranged their newly brought seats. Mr. Bryan wiped the sweat from his brow, took off his white helmet and greeted the judge. The two chatted while Mr. Bryan, coatless and without collar, his shirt tucked in at the neck, rested against the edge of the counsel table. They discussed the court room arrangements.

During the informal conference Rose Comfort, young daughter of Judge Raulston, presided in the seat where today her father will convene the court. Her mother and sister, Mariantha Raulston, occupied jury chairs.

Mr. Bryan was introduced to the Raulston family and chatted with them at length.

Judge Raulston, who had announced that "coats off" will be the uniform order in the court room, still wore his coat today.

The Dayton evolution story should be a joy to newspaper headline writers. The number of short words or names of persons concerned with the case, well suited to comprehension, between rigid um rules, has been remarked on. Here are Scopes, Bryan, Colby, Hicks, Godsey, Neal, White, Malone, Darrow, Dayton, Rhea, Scopes, and Bible, none of which runs more than six letters.

Scarcely any long names stand out prominently, Raulston and Rappaport being among the wider space takers. Court attendants however, are forecasting that theoretic and action will be placed on the stand during the course of the trial who will put in the record words of such dimensions that "head writing" will be one of the least enjoyable occupations.

The window of Robinson's drug store—where it all started—has been made a public bulletin board where citizens come to learn developments of the evolution drama. Among the bulletins chalked up here to stir the interest.

Special Session Of State Legislature Sought By Key West

TALLAHASSEE, July 10—A special session of the Florida Legislature would cost approximately $6,000 for one day, which it has been estimated would be ample time to correct the mistake brought about by death in the Senate of Clerical Department of the Monroe County Water District Measure. This is indicated by the cost of the one-day extra session following the regular session this year.

The Key West Chamber of Commerce is to take the first step toward calling the special session by presenting a resolution to the board of County Commissioners of Monroe, requesting that they use their office in having an extra session called for the purpose of re-enacting the measure. The resolution also has been presented to the city council of Key West.

Most of the expense for the day's session would be for mileage allowed the legislators, at the rate of ten cents a mile each way to and from the Capital. Official records here show that the extra day of the 1925 session June 6 cost the State slightly more than $7,000, including nearly $1,000 in per diem allowances for attendees. These allowances would not be necessary for a brief session to deal with only one bill, and that much of the expense probably could be saved.

Of the amount paid for the one day, $708 went to Senators and Representatives for their salaries at the rate of $6 a day each, $1,382.50 mileage for Senators, and $4,151.80 for mileage for representatives.

Nation-Wide Search Is Begun For Miami Boy

MIAMI, July 10—Miami police today issued a country wide appeal for aid in their search for Jack Manson, 12 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Manson, missing since Wednesday morning. Jack is believed to have been kidnapped.

A woman's voice over a telephone invited Jack to attend a party to be given for one of his school chums and later that night Mrs. Manson learned that the call had been faked.

HAYS TO DIRECT AFFAIRS OF BIG AERO COMPANY

WASHINGTON, July 10—Appointment of a public relations committee headed Thursday by the National Air Transport, Inc., the recently organized $100,000,000 commercial air service company.

Howard E. Coffin, president in making the announcement, also made public a letter of acceptance from Mr. Hays, who is also director of the moving picture industry.

More than two dozen editors and publishers of leading newspapers have accepted membership on the committee which will serve without financial interest. The purpose of the committee is to aid in educating the public with reference to the scope and problems confronting the government in connection with the encouragement, control and regulation of the commercial phases of aviation.

UNITED STATES WILL HAVE BIG 1925 CORN CROP

WASHINGTON, July 10—Indications of a enormous corn crop, probably the third largest ever grown, slight improvement in prospects for wheat, prediction of the smallest potato production since 1919 and unfavorable fruit forecasts were set forth in the July crop report issued Thursday by the department of agriculture.

With a higher condition than the ten year average and an average 15 per cent larger than last year, corn production was forecast at 3,025,000,000 bushels, or 650,000,000 bushels more than last year. Among the causes listed for the large increase were the high price of corn and a tendency to increase feed crops for livestock.

Wheat prospects increased 19,000,000 bushels during June, a forecast of 680,000,000 bushels new being made for this season. Winter wheat last 3,000,000 bushels during the month, but spring wheat prospects increased 22,000,000 bushels.

Danger Of Fundamentalism Shown By Shaw Writing On Tennessee "Monkey Trial"

LONDON, July 10—Bernard Shaw writes of the Tennessee "monkey trial" as follows:

"Bryan Butler (father of the anti-evolution measure) and the legislators of Tennessee do not believe in any sort of evolution. They believe God invented and constructed them, once and for all, in the Garden of Eden and saw that it was good, and they have ordered that the school children of Tennessee be taught to look forward to an eternity of the incorrigible and unimprovable, because perfect Bryans and Butlers are leading that happy state until the day of judgment."

"And they have decreed dreadful penalties against any teacher who shall suggest to the young that a man is any better than his father or that he is any advance on the ratemake. When a boy in England who has been taught to believe what Butler believes about the Bible grows up and discovers here his interest shown in the club, he empties the baby out with the bath" by declaring:

"Parsons are a pack of frauds; the Bible is a parcel of lies; God and religion are inventions, like Hell and the flood and the whale that swallowed Jonah and all the rest of it."

"That is the danger of fundamentalism. I do not believe it is a danger peculiar to England. I have met American workmen as well as English ones. I have seen the same cynical stamp on their faces and heard the same blasphemous and obscenities from their lips when the name of religion was mentioned. This is because their teachers lied to them and taught them the false religion of fundamentalism, instead of the truths revealed by the inspiration of their own day."

Bells In Rockefeller Gift Range From 15 Pounds To Over Nine Tons In Weight

NEW YORK, July 8.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is presenting the finest and heaviest carillon in the world to the Park Avenue Baptist Church in memory of his mother. The carillon comprises 53 bells which run 4 1-2 chromatic octaves. The great mass of bell metal weights more than 50 tons, and when completely installed the steel work and fittings will bring the gross weight the church tower must support to more than 100 tons.

The bells were made by Gillett & Johnston, bellfounders of Croydon, Surrey, England, where the carillon was first tested in public last May in the presence of King George and Queen Mary, the American and French ambassadors and other guests of note.

Size determines the tone of a bell, according to the makers. The largest Rockefeller bell is accordingly the lowest in tone—"Low F"—weighing nine tons. The top note, "High A," floats from the smallest of the bells, a tiny one of but 15 pounds.

The secret of a carillon's success lies in the tuning the British makers say. The Rockefeller deal their own phrase for the belfry choir, is tuned according to the "Simpson five-tone principle," which in their opinion surpasses the best efforts of the long redoubtable bellmakers of Belgium.

A bell is "cast on the heavy side," they explain. It is then reduced to weight and tone by experts who lath out the inside surface of the bell according to the Simpson method. Once a bell is tuned, it stays tuned forever.

The carillon is played from a keyboard similar to the piano-forte. The instrumentalist is called a "carillonneur," who plies lever-keys and foot pedals with such might and main that a vigorous hymn leaves him in much the state of an active college half-back on a warm day.

Nevertheless the art of the carillonneur is one of the oldest and most cherished in sacred music. The Belgian players have virtually a monopoly on the profession, the Croydon bellfounders say. They serve an apprenticeship of years in the cathedral school where they are trained.

The Episcopal church at Cohasset, Mass., has a 43-bell carillon, and 23-bell carillons surmount the

Under Age Friendless Woman Barred In Cuba

HAVANA, July 9.—The Immigration Department has issued instructions to steamship companies not to book as passengers, unaccompanied American women under age, unless arrangements have been made for their landing in Cuba by relatives or friends here.

Unaccompanied women of age will be allowed to land if they have return tickets, or are residents of Cuba, the statement issued by the department said. These precautions are taken to prevent undesirable persons from landing here and then being unable to secure return passage or become public dependents.

After being exempt from "all taxes and assessments whatsoever" since 1767, land near Blackfriars Bridge in London, that was originally reclaimed to aid navigation, is now being valued for rating.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Taxation theory and taxation practice are two mighty different things. The theory, as pointed out in a preceding article, is that taxes should be just sufficient to support efficient but economical government, and be divided up in proportion to people's ability to pay. In practice, efficiency and economy are possible, but by no means means can the burden be equitably distributed.

Most of the state and lesser governments throughout this country depart, in practice, from the whole taxation theory. They can't distribute the load fairly, practically without exception they're wasteful and few of them are efficient.

From the standpoint of economy the federal government, under President Coolidge, does pretty well.

Edget Director Lord plans to hold the coming fiscal year's expenditures down to three billions. The last pre-war year figure was a billion and nearly 179 millions.

Considering that a dollar is worth only three-fifths what it was worth then and that interests' being paid on more than twenty billions and a half of war debts, this isn't bad, let taxpayers kick as they may.

Whether the federal government's efficient or not is a matter of opinion. My own is, as stated in the first article of this taxation series, that it's better than the electorate has any right to expect, from the way it votes and doesn't vote.

But the most conspicuous way in which taxation theory and practice fail to jibe is in the matter of distribution of the burden in proportion to the taxpayers' means.

In the very nature of things the relatively poor man is soaked with practically the whole load, while the rich one carries hardly any.

Why? Because the former controls the sources of supply of all the necessities, comforts and luxuries of life, and before he hands them over to the "ultimate consumer," includes his taxes in the prices he charges for his stuff—so that the relatively poor, as an overwhelming majority of "ultimate consumers," foot the bill.

To be sure, the rich man is an "ultimate consumer" himself, but he's only one individual, at that. Three meals a day, one smoke at a time, a single suit of clothes at once are about his limit, just as they're the limit of anybody else. He may eat a little better food, smoke Havanas instead of a pipe and have some extra raiment in the closet at home, but nothing like enough to offset the advantage inherent in his ability to pass his taxes along to someone farther down the line.

The government, as well as the people, dislikes an income tax, because it's recognized as a tax. Those who pay it want to know what's being done with the money they distinctly recall having dug up.

It makes 'em critical. In that lies its one merit.

It's only theoretically fair, for it's passed on down from above, like any other tax. But it does result in a sharper public scrutiny of pork barrelism than an indirect tax.

The tariff, in addition to its protective feature, is a nice tax, from the government's standpoint, because it works subtly. It doesn't figure as a tax.

One reason why President Coolidge turned down the Tariff Commission's recommendation for a reduced sugar impost was that it would cost the government forty millions, which would have to be replaced by "some kind of a tax."

As if the increased sugar prices the public antes up, because of the duty, weren't a tax!

The treachery in the tariff is that its amount can't be estimated, as a tax.

The government gets from it about a half billion a year. But in increased cost of living, it represents—God knows how much more. It's supposed to filter back into the government's hands, in devious ways.

But does it? Again, God knows.

SHIPMENTS OF WATERMELONS RE 1,200 CARS

Seville Ships Largest Number of Cars With 900; $250 a Car Is Received

PENSACOLA, July 10.—Watermelon shipments from the west coast territory this season have totaled 1,200 carloads, according to Frank A. Griffin, division freight agent of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Graceville, the largest melon shipping point in Florida, shipped 900 of these carloads. The other 300 cars were shipped from Chipley, Sneads, Grand Ridge and Marianna.

According to the records growers are receiving this year from $250 to $400 per car for their melons. At Graceville, where the large purchasing houses maintain headquarters, the producers receive for the crops as soon as they are placed in the cars there, and they are greatly reducing the volume of melons shipped from the west coast are sent to Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland, Evansville and Cincinnati.

SIDELIGHTS ON SCOPES' TRIAL ARE GIVN HERE

Hundreds are asking each day "how long will the Scopes trial last?" In the absence of any possible authoritative estimate, guesses have been freely exchanged. A summary of these ventures would probably set the duration of the court action here between two and four weeks. There are those who insist that the "trial need not take more than half a day," but they are not popular in Dayton.

An investigation of the living costs in Dayton and especially the rates of one Dayton hotel has just been made by the city commission. No official action was taken, other than the erection of a sign across the street from the hotel urging new arrivals to call upon the Progressive Dayton Club before making arrangements for their stay in Dayton. At the investigation it was brought out that the guests "eight dollars a day for single rooms and meals. Five dollars a day will be charged those who are willing to share rooms with others."

Through a corps of workers, already on the ground, a Chicago newspaper is completing arrangements for broadcasting the proceedings of the Scopes trial.

Agriculture Inspection Department Expected To Be Re-Organized Soon

TALLAHASSEE, July 10.—Appointment of members and reorganization of the department of inspection of the state agricultural department is expected to be announced early next week, following the return to the capitol of Governor John W. Martin from his trip to Chicago, Maine and New York. Reorganization into a body of all the inspectors heretofore employed by the commissioner of agriculture was authorized by the last legislature, on recommendation of Commissioner Mayo. This plan is expected to greatly facilitate the inspection service of the state, in keeping a check on drugs, foods, citrus fruit, gasoline and oil fertilizers and feedstuffs.

Under the plans of organization in the past inspectors for each of the departments enumerated have been named for the purpose of giving their entire time to one particular line of duty. Whenever work in that particular branch of the departmental service became Considerable discussion was heard during the early part of the luncheon in regard to the establishment in Sanford of a downtown ticket office by the Atlantic Coast Line railroad company and explanations were given by superintendent, T. L. Dumas for the omission of Sanford in passenger tariff rates for excursions from northern points.

Favorable discussion was also heard on the subject of summer advertising by the local chamber in state papers by R. H. Berg and George W. Knight. Owing to the great influx of people and money into the state during the summer months, it was said, advertising through the summer should be very profitable for Sanford. Mr. Knight further urged that those people in Sanford who signed up to become members of the

FLORIDA FACTS

There are 100 accredited senior "A" and "B" high schools in the state of Florida. Last year there were 99. Junior high schools now total 18 while last year there were only 11.

Sarasota has the largest paid membership in its chamber of commerce per capita of population of any city in the United States.

The Florida Keys are a series of islands starting at the extreme southern end of the state and curving westward through the waters of the Strait of Florida connecting the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. They form a chain approximately 200 miles long. Many of the keys (Spanish for small island) are very fertile and produce a wide variety of tropical fruits and vegetables.

Florida had seven territorial governors. They were Andrew Jackson, July 1821-1822; William P. Duval, 1822-1834; John H. Eaton, 1834-1839; Richard K. Call, 1839-1843; Robert Reed, 1843-1844; Richard K. Call 1844-1845; John Branch, 1845-1845.

A state museum is maintained as a department of the University of Florida at Gainesville. There is also a historical museum at St. Augustine.

The state prison is located in Bradford county near Raeford and is officially known as "Bradford Farms."

The Historical Society of Florida was organized in St. Augustine in 1856. Major A. J. Putnam was the first president. The society has issued a number of publications.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
THE NINTH COMMANDMENT
Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor. Exodus 20:16.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS
If you can dress to make yourself attractive.
If you can make puffs and curls your chief delight.
If you can swim and row, be strong and active.
If you can dance without a craze for dancing.
If you can give play to your joy without giving play to your tongue.
If you can enjoy the love of friends without romancing.
If you can be the friendless and the friend.
If you can master English and Spanish and Latin.
If you can acquire, as well, a priggish mien.
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin.
If you can despise calico and gingham.
If you can ply a saw and hammer.
If you can do a man's work when the need occurs.
If you can sing when asked, without excuse or stammer.
If you can give a friendly smile and a nod.
If you can make good bread as well as good cakes.
If you can sew with skill and have an eye for a day.
If you can be a friend and hold no grudges.
If you can win all will love because they must.
If some time you should meet and love another.
If you can be a home with faith and peace enshrined.
If you can be a loyal wife and mother.
If you can work out pretty nearly to mind.
If you can be developed through the ages.
If you can win the best that life can have in store.
If you'll be a girl, a model for the ages.
A woman whom the world will love before.—Selected.

THE THIRD TERM AGAIN
JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL

It is a little early to re-select President Coolidge for another term, second, third or whatever it may be, but it is not too early for the public to be generally forgetting a joke by the time an Englishman sees through it.
The Tailors' Association has decreed that the "two dressed men" must have four overalls this winter. That's alright but where are they coming from?
Some of these people who are always "turning out" in the streets, and from their noses that way.

Must They Fight For Fair Wages?

In his address to The American Federation of Teachers, president of the union, Dr. A. H. ...

And must it take the "unionizing" of the teachers of the country to obtain for them a just compensation for their work? Must they have a "union scale" and demand "time and a half" for the hours they spend after school laboring with backward youngsters, and "time and a half" for hours they give at night to correcting great piles of school exercises for which no correcting time is provided in the day's school schedule?

Since the beginning, the teacher has been under-paid. His work has been accepted by greedy people quite as if a teacher is supposed to work for the love of the profession.

The Herald confesses to a real sorrow at the thought of having the country's teachers driven to the protection of unionism. But if that is the only way by which an honest wage can be secured for the laborers who contribute the most to the upbuilding of the nation's citizenship, let it come—and come soon.

A Matter of Being Truthful

Hundreds of philosophies of life have been written by those who would teach others how to live. These books contain various spiritual and moral laws, which, if they all worked to perfection, would make a real paradise on earth.

Good common sense is indeed a priceless attribute to one's being. Yet how rare a gift it is to find a gift and more like institution than any cultivated sense. Those who have it are usually calm and serene, unshaken by petty disturbances, and usually are persons of great self-possession.

HOPE YOU have been leading a double life, pretending to be wicked and being really good all the time. That would be hypocrisy.—Oscar Wilde.

Disappearance Coolidge. No Third Term. Exploiting Superstitions. BY ARTIE BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THE LONDON Daily News Daily President Coolidge's fourth address and says there is nothing in it to show that the President has tried to master the facts concerning it.

THAT SUITS THE UNITED STATES. D. W. MULVANEY, Republican National Committeeman from Kansas, says "I see nothing against another term for Coolidge. There is nothing in the third term election."

MR. MULVANEY may add that there is no question of any THIRD term. The President has been elected once only this far, and every sensible American, from George Washington on, means by a third term, a third election.
