GROWERS LOSE MONEY ON CAR SHORTAGE HOOD SENDS WIRES

Lack of Information Prevents Growers Shipping

WANT THE TRUTH

MOVEMENT OF REFRIGERATOR CARS UNSATISFACTORY AND GROWERS WILL SUFFER LOSS

The Sanford growers are having difficulty in obtaining sufficient refrigerator cars to haul their stuff and while there is a car shortage everywhere and business men are suffering from the car shortage the growers think they should receive some information daily about what they can expect in the way of refrigerator cars. For instance a grower wants to cut celery or lettuce today and he wants to know when he can get refrigerator cars and he is informed that he will get a car but the car is not forthcoming. The grower finds out too late that he will not be able to get his stuff into cars after he has started cutting and one can imagine his plight.

The growers are entitled to have definite information from the railroads and from the Armour Car lines about what they can expect and they want definite information. In other words they want a plain "yes" or "no" about this car business so they can govern their field operations accordingly. J. D. Howl wired Senator Fletcher and the Interstate Commerce Commission today about this condition and expects to get some definite information about it.

The farmers are not arbitrary about this condition. They realize that there is a serious car shortage and they realize that they will have to take chances with other lines of business. But other lines are not dependent solely upon the movement of cars like the growers are and the growers want definite information and they must have it or suffer great losses in their crops. They should know whether it will be possible to get a car on the day that they expect to cut or not and the railroads and the Armour Car Lines should be able to tell them.

ICE GORGE BREAKS UP BIG DAMAGE

TWENTY FEET HIGH GORGE IN ALLEGHENY RIVER PLAYS HAVOC

Pittsburg, March 12. (By Associated Press) An ice gorge twenty feet high stretching eight miles broke loose in the Allegheny river last night at Freeport and started a rush down the river smashing flat boats, barges, houseboats and other crafts. "The crash was heard for miles and caused fright among the people living in the vicinity of the gorge."

Madeline Travers in Strong Photo-Play At The Princess Today

Coming to the Princess today is a William Fox photoplay entitled "Lost Money" in which, it seems from advance report, that which is found in place of the money is quite worth the sacrifice made by the beautiful London belle. Madeline Travers in the stellar role in this intensely interesting story certainly has the beauty and the dramatic ability to make the picture live up to all its promises.

The scene of the story is laid in the South African diamond fields. Episode No 2 of Adventures of Ruth also given for the usual admission.

Date of Christ's Birth.

The Christian era first used by a monk, Dionysius Exiguus, in the year 533 A. D. and adopted by Christian nations at a later period, was intended to begin with the birth of Christ. Dionysius is believed, however, to have made an error in fixing that event in the year of Rome 754 instead of 753. Christ's birth is now considered to have taken place in or before the year 4 B. C.

New Orleans Has A Big Fire

New Orleans, Mar. 11.—Fire, which broke out at 1:30 this morning in the plant of the American Coffee Co. at 423 South Peters st., practically destroyed that plant and the warehouse of August H. Plaspoller Co., in the rear of the American Coffee Co. plant, and badly damaged the warehouses of J. C. Morris and Thomas J. Kelly companies.

Early statistics estimated the loss would amount to $100,000. The fire started on the second floor of the American Coffee Co., and gained much headway before being discovered. Fanned by a strong wind the flames spread to adjoining buildings and for a time threatened a d stroy block.

WIRELESS PHONE GAINS IN REACH

Success Claimed for New Small-Power Device.

TALK MORE THAN 900 MILES

Conversation Carried on Between Chicago and Ossining, N. Y., With Use of Small Aerial, Low Wave Length, and Power of Only One-Tenth of One Kilowatt—Points to Elimination of Expensive, High-Powered Generators.

The De Forest Laboratories of High Bridge, N. Y., announced that during the last thirty days wireless telephone conversations have been carried on between Ossining and Chicago, a distance of some 900 miles, as well as with cities and towns in Indiana, Ohio, western New York, and South Carolina, with the use of a small aerial, low wave length, and power of only one-tenth of one kilowatt.

Robert F. Gowen, engineer in charge of the De Forest Radio company station at Ossining, said that the success during the last month in the face of all sorts of weather difficulties, was ascribable to a new type of modulating circuit and the use of a new glass in the De Forest audion—a device which earned for that particular kind of apparatus the term of "bottled wireless."

Claims Saving of Expense.

After asserting that the experiments pointed to the elimination of expensive, high-powered generators and telling how he had worked entirely on the 375 meter amateur wave length, Mr. Gowen said:

"The effect of the new circuit is to render this voice transmission much clearer, while the use of a new type of glass permits of much greater input current in the development of wireless power."

"It is further interesting to note that all my experiments are being conducted on a comparatively low wave length—that is to say, the special amateur wave lengths permitted by the government regulations. In addition, the experiments show that the distance between Ossining and Chicago is covered by using one-third of the energy of which the De Forest oscillation or oscillating audion is capable of developing. In other words, with only one-tenth kilowatt of input energy in a single tube, we are enabled to talk without wires from New York to Chicago."

Profited by War Experiments.

"The new apparatus is a development, in large part, of the splendid improvements made on radio apparatus during the war. At that time radio experts were able to talk from airplane to the ground and from ship to ship for only a few miles."

"We have been able to talk over a distance of 900 miles, but we have today reached the commercial development of the wireless telephone under all conditions."

Mr. Gowen, who is one of the engineers of the De Forest laboratories at New York, is a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Superintendent Public Instruction

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as superintendent of public instruction for Seminole County, subject to the Democratic primary to be held June 8th, 1920.

T. W. LAWTON.

STREAMS RAMPAGE IN OZARKS

MISSOURI LOSES MUCH IN LIFE AND PROPERTY DAMAGE BY RAINS

Brunson, Missouri, March 12. (By Associated Press) Flooded streams added menace to life and property in southwest Missouri where the tons of yesterday filled at least thirteen and injured others and did unestimated property damage every stream in the Ozark mountains being bank full or overflowing. It is believed that the death list will be increased by later reports.

E. A. Douglass For Clerk

In this issue E. A. Douglass announces his candidacy for Clerk of the Circuit Court to succeed himself. Mr. Douglass has held this office since the county was created and he had considerable to do with the creation of the county. He has administered the affairs of the office in a manner that gives entire satisfaction not only to the people but to the county commissioners, the judge of the circuit court and the state officials who have commended this office upon many occasions as being one of the best kept clerk's offices in the state. With all his many duties in the clerk's office and as manager of the abstract office Mr. Douglass finds time to start and help build the new hotel, the rebuilding of the Pico block and many other public enterprises and he is always found ready and willing to give his time and money toward those things that spell progress and the development of Sanford and Seminole county.

E. A. Douglass has resided in this part of Florida the greater part of his life time and needs no introduction to the people with whom he comes in contact during the past twenty-five years and he is asking the people for their support on his record as a faithful public servant and as one who has served them well.

BRITISH TO DEVELOP ANTARCTIC WEALTH

Imperial Expedition, to Leave In June, Will Seek Scientific Data.

The scientific exploration and commercial development of the regions traversed will be the main object of the British imperial antarctic expedition, which will leave England in June for five years' exploration in the antarctic, during which an attempt will be made to reach the South pole by airplane. Dr. John T. Cope, the surgeon and biologist in the Ross sea party of the Shackleton expedition, who will command the new expedition, has given the purposes of the journey as follows:

1. To ascertain the position and extent of the mineral and other deposits of economic value already known to exist in Antarctica (through the scientific reports of Bruce, Mawson, Scott and Shackleton) and to obtain data for their practical development as to a further source of imperial wealth.
  2. To obtain further evidence of the localities and migration of whales of economic value, and to create British industries in this trade.
  3. To investigate the meteorological and magnetic conditions in the Ross sea area and at Cape Ann (Enderby land) in connection with their influence in similar conditions in Australia and South Africa, respectively. That such results are of great economic value has been proven by the station established by the Argentine government for similar purposes in the South Orkneys.
  4. To circumnavigate the antarctic continent.
  5. Generally to extend the knowledge of Antarctica, especially with a view to obtaining further scientific data of economic importance.
- The cost of the expedition is estimated at £150,000.
- Capt. C. H. Wilkins, chief of the scientific staff of the Stefansson expedition, will accompany Doctor Cope as chief of the scientific staff for the new venture.

For Clerk of Court

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as Clerk of the Circuit Court for Seminole County, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held June 8th, 1920.

E. A. Douglass.

AMERICAN LEGION HAS BIG TIME

HELD IMPORTANT MEETING AND SMOKER IN COURT HOUSE LAST NIGHT

The Campbell-Lossing Post of the American Legion promises great things for the soldier and sailor boys and at their meeting last night 17 new members were taken in making a total of 67 members in all. The Post had a fine time last night at the court house holding an informal smoker and among the invited guests were Forest Lake, F. P. Foster, J. G. Ball, R. J. Holly, L. M. Tyre and several others. Forest Lake gave the boys a fine address on "Americanism" and F. P. Foster on "American Ideals" and R. J. Holly gave a short sketch on the part the boys played in the war and stressed the importance of joining the American Legion. After the regular business of the meeting had been concluded the boys and the guests were treated to excellent sandwiches and soft drinks that were greatly enjoyed. The sandwiches were built by L. F. Roper who has charge of the Legion commissary and who had several K. P.s to assist him.

Many important questions were taken up by the Legion in respect to a drive for memberships, in the erection of a suitable building for their meetings and for a recreation place, a big celebration at some future date and other important phases of the work of the Legion. Post Commander Whitecomb stressed the importance of the boys keeping up their government insurance and read several important items about insurance and the aims of the Legion in obtaining a square deal for the boys in Congress. The meeting was well attended and if every soldier and sailor in Seminole County at the present time will join the Campbell-Lossing Post it will be one of the best in the state.

PORTUGUESE GOVERNMENT PROCLAMATION

CALLS ON PEOPLE TO STAND BY GOVERNMENT IN TIME OF NEED

Madrid, March 12. (By Associated Press) A Lisbon telegram says the Portuguese government has issued a proclamation to the new cabinet assuming power in time of distress and the republic is shaken to its foundations by the confusion in the minds of the people and the spirit of opposition to discipline is prevailing the country and asks for support in "this grave hour."

Big Land Deal

Florida as a whole will be greatly interested in the $500,000 timber land deal which was negotiated yesterday, 43,000 acres of virgin timber land in Osceola and Polk counties being sold to William Candler of Atlanta, treasurer of the Coca Cola Co., wealthy real estate man and banker. With Mr. Candler will be associated R. A. McTyer, Clay Binlon, R. C. Woodberry and E. C. Elwell. The land purchased was known as the Pfann-Singleton tract. The deal was made by J. E. Crawford, who is associated with Elwell & Co. Mr. Crawford is a native of Orange county and son of Senator G. B. Crawford. He has worked on the proposition for months and of course is rejoicing as it is one of the largest timber land deals ever made in the state.—Orlando Sentinel.

Bass' Statement Of Fight With Harris

Kissimmee, Mar. 9.—Fred M. Bass, candidate for state senate from the Nineteenth senatorial district today gave his side of the story in regard to the encounter he had last Saturday with W. B. Harris, editor of the Kissimmee Valley Gazette. Mr. Bass stated that he saw Mr. Harris crossing the street and he walked out into the street and up to Mr. Harris. He asked the latter if he would apologize for what he said to him in the Gazette office Friday or would he take a licking. Mr. Harris replied he would do neither and thereupon Mr. Bass stated the editor called him a name no white man would take and when he did Mr. Bass took hold of Mr. Harris' collar with his left hand,

CITY COMMISSIONERS WILL ENJOIN SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY

From Collecting For Service Not Given

MEANS SOMETHING

TO THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE SUFFERED WITH POOR SERVICE ALL THIS WINTER

At the meeting of the City Commissioners last night a representative crowd of citizens were present and expressed themselves on the subject of the Southern Utilities Co. collecting for services that have not been rendered. F. L. Miller urged the commissioners to enjoin the company until such time as they could guarantee service and told them of the action of the city council getting up an injunction suit to prevent them from raising the rates her several years ago. The commissioners agreed to enjoin the Southern Utilities Co., from collecting the money hereafter the same to take effect from the time the injunction is granted by the courts.

HOBO IS "IN BAD"

Knight of the Road Confronted With Hated Work.

High Cost of Living Has Made It Hard for Itinerants to Pick Up an Easy Existence—Not Like Good Old Times.

No other art has suffered greater deterioration through price manipulation than that of kitchen panhandling, and a war is now going on from a thousand "juggles" all over the quiet land. Even the price of soap, which is occasionally used, though not encouraged, promises to make the American hobo look like a mud-battered soldier after a long vigil in a cattle-ridden trench.

This year's convention, in a sense, will be memorable inasmuch as the war has revolutionized the craft of hobbling and many novel and startling suggestions as to how to live and travel without work will be presented by scores of delegates, hailing from every section of the country. "Jungle" philosophy likewise has undergone a great change and the high cost of living has only served to rub a sore hind upon when the hand of industry during the war reached into box cars, down into the trucks "underneath," combed the roofs of sleepers and dry coaches of ten thousand trains.

Work's brutal prior to work scuffed and burned, it is true, but it did not crush the spirit of the hobo cult nor deprive the hobo of his wits. The coming convention will be a parade of wits, in fact, largely devoted to the question of "How to get by with prices so high."

Many a sigh will go up from a thousand bosoms when the old order of things is mentioned. Five years ago every hamlet, town and city in America had a "jungle," or conventional rendezvous for hoboes, where they could cook their own "mulligans," "boil up" and shoot dice to see whether they would hop a train for north, south, east or west and where they could evade the surveillance of the "bulks."

But today things are different. Five years ago it was tolerably easy to approach the kitchen door, if the dog was tied up and the buckyard showed no traces of a wood pile, deliver a reminiscent tale of home and mother, to the kindly housewife and come away with beefsteak, pie and cake. It was easy five years ago to "mooch" the ordinary bucolic sojourner for the price of meat, potatoes and onions with which to "stew up" a "mulligan."

And five years ago it was possible for certain of the hobo gentry to talk the average restaurant keeper out of a meal and sidestep the dish pan. But nowadays it appears to the American hobo that there are but three words in the lexicon of the average citizen—"work" and "heat it."

Hoboes are purchasing no nourishment in job lots these days. The approved plan is to band together, each "ho" taking a certain territory to canvass, turn the "collectors" into a general fund and buy a calf or a pig on the hoof, lead the animal to the "jungle" and there prepare the "mulligan."

Down at the South, as Col. Waterman would say, the hoboes this year will find practically every hand turned against them, every kitchen door closed tight, for the high cost of living is holding hilarious carnival in those parts and the demand for labor is greater than ever before.—New York Evening Sun.

A Way to Fame.

Fame is very easily acquired. All you have to do is to be in the right place at the right time and do the right thing in the right way—and then advertise it widely.—Kansas City Star.

From Collecting For Service Not Given

TO THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE SUFFERED WITH POOR SERVICE ALL THIS WINTER

At the meeting of the City Commissioners last night a representative crowd of citizens were present and expressed themselves on the subject of the Southern Utilities Co. collecting for services that have not been rendered. F. L. Miller urged the commissioners to enjoin the company until such time as they could guarantee service and told them of the action of the city council getting up an injunction suit to prevent them from raising the rates her several years ago. The commissioners agreed to enjoin the Southern Utilities Co., from collecting the money hereafter the same to take effect from the time the injunction is granted by the courts.

This paper is not informed as to whether this will affect the bills presented for the past three months and the consumers should find out about this before refusing to pay their February bills but it will prevent the Southern Utilities Co., from collecting any more bills until they can guarantee service which is something The Herald has fought for since the day the plant started to go to pieces.

Another matter brought to the attention of the Commissioners was the ordinance relative to parking cars on the streets at night, an ordinance that has given rise to much discussion since it operates in the majority of cases against strangers in our city who are ignorant of the ordinance and who are liable to arrest for leaving their cars in front of the hotels or other places and in many cases they are forced to leave the cars on the streets if no garage is convenient. Henry McLaughlin had a petition asking the commissioners to repeal the ordinance but they decided to ask the officials to be more lenient in discharge of their duty and especially in the case of strangers to the city to explain the ordinance to them and not attempt an arrest and fine as it gives the city the name of being a bad place for strangers to stop. This was satisfactory to all parties concerned and after visitors had all been heard the regular order of business was held and reports of the various departments made which will be given in a later issue of this paper.

Chairman Stevens gave the citizens a most respectful hearing in all the cases and the commissioners were disposed to meet the people more than half way and do all they could to straighten out these little tangles that have vexed the people's minds for so many weeks.

THOUSANDS OF SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

ON ACCOUNT OF LACK OF TEACHERS AND FAILURE TO PROVIDE SALARIES

Washington, March 12. (By Associated Press) The Bureau of education reports say that eighteen schools were closed up to February 18th by the lack of teachers through the failure to provide adequate salaries.

The Pulestons Return

Dr. and Mrs. Puleston and daughters Mary Elizabeth and Camilla have returned to Sanford after spending the winter in Miami. Dr. Puleston will resume the practice of medicine here and having been away from home long enough to realize that old song about "no place like home" says he will live and die in Sanford. The many friends of the Puleston family are glad to know that they have returned home and will again be identified with the business and social life of Sanford. They will be the guests of the Valdes until they can build a new home.

Thirty-three years is a long time for any business to be conducted by the man that originated it. But more particularly an amusement venture—a business that is viewed as precarious—
Thirty-three years ago Al. G. Field entered the Minstrel profession as the manager of the company bearing his name. He has been active in the management of this company every year since.
There is not a city or hamlet in this land wherein the company is not well, and favorable known. It is said the success of the company has been greater than any company of its kind.
It has outclassed and outvalued any and all of its competitors. Mr. Field has accumulated a fortune from its earnings. It is known, not only as an attraction, but an institution. Clean in every detail, it has furnished amusement for generation after generation. The public views it as their own, capacity audiences greet it everywhere.

This, the third of a century tour, is to be made memorable, the company augmented. The Al. G. Field Minstrels will this year present stronger claims for public patronage than ever before.
Engagements in every city will be lengthened to afford all an opportunity to witness the greatest entertainment Al. G. Field has ever presented. Coming to Lucerne theatre Orlando Florida, Friday March 12th, one night only. Seats sale opens Tuesday Estes Pharmacy.

The Big Nine Reel Feature "Eyes Of The World" at The Princess Today

"The Eyes of the World" the photoplay from Harold Bell Wright's truly great novel, shown at the Princess today is a big and intensely interesting production.

The photoplay follows the author's story with exactitude and the characters on the screen are the characters from the pages of the novel to the life.

It is unnecessary to say anything about the plot—let it suffice that it concerns a group of the most interesting characters ever presented

A prologue gives ample explanation of the story proper, accounting for the actions and the punishment of the various characters.

Monroe Salisbury, as the cynical LeGrange, is easily the outstanding character in the photoplay.

Jack Livingston as the struggling artist; Kathleen Kirkham, as the designing Mrs. Trainer; Jane Novak, as the pure-hearted Sybil; Edeard Pell, as the sensuous Rudlidge; Lurline Lyons, as the pitiful Myra Willard; Arthur Tavares, as her persecuted brother; Jack McDonald, as the disgustingly crippled Taine, and Fred Burns, as the likeable forest ranger all do colorful, vividly splendid work in big roles.

The exteriors are things of beauty. The rugged, towering mountains of San Bernardino county and the orange groves and rose gardens around Redlands, the locale of the story have been exquisitely photographed into scenes of rare charm.

It took eight months to film "The Eyes of the World" and the photoplay shows it in the careful working out of the smallest detail.

The picture is one of the best ever shown in the city. Its story is big and vital, but yet full of the human interest of every-day occurrences among every-day people.

SHERIFF BAKER DEAD

Palm Beach Official Passes Away Suddenly With Indigestion.

West Palm Beach, March 9.—George B. Baker sheriff of Palm Beach county, died this morning at 10 o'clock after a short illness from acute indigestion. He suffered his first attack last week and although seriously ill had apparently recovered and attended his official duties on Saturday.

Mr. Baker had been sheriff of Palm Beach county ever since that county has existed, a period of 11 years, a tribute to his faithful and fearless execution of his duties. He was 68 years of age and is survived by a widow and a large family of children. Funeral services will be announced later.

Fisherman's Lucky Day.

A 14-carat gold band ring was found by John Moore, one of the crew of the fishing schooner Gertrude De Costa, inside a big halibut caught on George bank recently. The ring is a man's size and is believed to have been dropped overboard from some trans-Atlantic liner. Judging from its condition when recovered from the halibut's stomach by Moore, the ring had been lost recently. Moore will wear it, as there is no way of determining the ownership.

Gauging an editor's eye out because the latter failed to give him a complimentary notice, accompanying his announcement, is a new method of campaigning inaugurated by a Kissimmee candidate. THE SCHOOL TEACHER

The school teacher is criticized for being behind the times! He spends very little for recreation. He cannot afford to buy books or magazines. It is a mad scramble to keep a shirt on his back and shoes on his feet. He never goes to the theatre. The 15 cent movie is about his limit. More of the details could be "aired"—but the facts are familiar to every body.

If a great satirist like Voltaire or Dean Swift were alive, what fun he could have with teachers! Here would be some of the points for him: Teachers educate themselves to appreciate good books—but they haven't the price to see them. They study to get an understanding of great plays. They would enjoy Shakespearean productions more than most people but they haven't the price to see them. They train themselves to appreciate the best music, and would give anything to hear the latest operas—but they must leave all that to successful haberdashers and paving contractors, and be satisfied with listening to the cat that sings on the back fence. They, in short, prepare themselves for the highest enjoyment of culture—and end up by eating at the second table. What better layout for his savage pen could a satirist want?

Young people are, first of all, tremendously impressionable. They see what goes on around them. They see these teachers with their patched pants and rindown shoes. What kind of an idea does it give them? Doesn't it give them the notion that the thing to do in this world is to let your ideals go, and make a dash for the dollar? Why fool with ideals if the pursuance of them takes you to the poorhouse?

It strikes me that it would be awfully shrewd and far-seeing to give teachers enough so that they could appear well. Why advertise to the young the penny of the highly educated? Isn't that a way to help drive them into the rankest materialism?

The above article taken from the March issue of The American Magazine is a statement of the reasons for the existing conditions in practically every state of our Union. The memorandum below was adopted at a meeting Jan. 7 by public school officials on a number of the eastern States and published in the current issue of School Life.

In the States of the Atlantic seaboard hundreds of schools are closed because teachers are not available for them. There are being employed as teachers large numbers of persons who do not possess the qualifications that have hitherto been required. A loss of students in the State normal schools amounting to 25, 30 and in some States 50 per cent indicates that young persons are turning their attention to other occupations than teaching. Commercial and industrial opportunities are not only attracting teachers from the schools, but they are drawing away from supervisory positions in education those upon whom reliance for leadership should be placed.

PALATKA NEEDS COMMISSION GOVERNMENT

By a vote of about four to one Palatka tax payers voted, long ago, to establish a commission or city manager, form of government for the administration of municipal affairs. The sentiment among tax payers has not changed, but the conviction has grown that this municipality has an antiquated and unwieldy system of city government, a lax tax system and indefinite public improvement policies.

The council is too large, the administrative officers vested with too little power and subject to too much political and personal influence. A majority of the members of the council which retires, favored a commission form of government. It is, up to the present council to provide the machinery for establishing such a government.

Several cities in Florida and they are among the most progressive cities in the state, have tried the commission form of government with splendid results. Among these is St. Petersburg. It has charged at one time that this government was a failure. It was at first because the personnel of those selected for the responsible positions were not suited to them. The personal equation must enter into every form of government and can spoil the best. Palatka News.

CO-OPERATION

Ten men working together can create far more than ten times the wealth that any one of them could create working by himself.

The ratio going on, ever increases. On thousand men in co-operation can do more than a hundred groups of ten men each, every group working alone.

United nations progress faster than countries in which there is continual internal discord. Civilization is the result of united peoples.

If we ever have a co-operating world, with all nations working together and enjoying free intercourse and free exchange of products, the prosperity we have enjoyed up to the present time will, in a later day, appear to be negligible.

These are self-evident facts, supported by the experience of all ages.

Co-operation is a mandate of nature. The man who can and does co-operate with others is rewarded; the one who cannot or will not is punished.

In helping others to grow, we ourselves grow. The farmer's problem is the manufacturer's problem, because the manufacturer like the merchant and the man of profession, relies on the farmer for food. The manufacturer's problem is the farmer's problem, because the latter relies on the former for his manufactured products.

The interests of all men are interlocked. The farmer cannot turn manufacturer and the manufacturer cannot turn farmer without a loss.

The man who refuses to co-operate is an enemy to society.

A commercial organization in a town is a body whose purpose is co-operation of all business interests for the good of the entire community.

Join the Board of Trade!
Co-operate!—St. Augustine Record

Ancient Ruling House.

The Rajput house of Chamba have ruled their little Indian mountain state for more than 1,500 years of unbroken descent. Long before the dawn of modern English history, before the Mussulman invasion, through all the changing scenes and dynasties of northern India, this Rajput state has upheld its independence under the same Rajput family. The Raja Bhuri Singh has just died. When royalty was thrust upon him 15 years ago by his brother's abdication, he accepted his honors under protest with modesty and dignity and with the fullest sense of responsibility has ruled his state in the interest of his people.

Almost Wiped Out by Dance and Feast.

Famine Follows Fete Among Alaskan Indians—Forty-Two Are Dead.

Cordova, Alaska.—A play, a dance and a feast, winding up a season of plenty was responsible for the near-extinction of the Quigillingok tribe of natives last winter and spring, according to John H. Kilbuck, superintendent of schools for the Kuskokwim river district.

The famine following the feast, Mr. Kilbuck said in his annual report to the bureau of education, caused the deaths of at least 42 of the natives, and would have wiped out the entire clan had not missionaries come to the rescue with a supply of food.

The tribe, Mr. Kilbuck said, stored up great quantities of fish, during the summer and fall seasons.

In celebration of their good fortune they invited other tribes to attend a "kuygagyangag" featured by a play, a "white man's dance" and the giving away of food. When it was all over the guests were millionaires in the currency of the section, while the hosts were paupers.

It will be years, Mr. Kilbuck declared, before the Quigillingoks recover from the effects of their generosity.

MORE PEOPLE READ BOOKS

According to English Authority, This is One of the Results of the War.

There are five times as many people in England reading books as there were before the war, according to Sir Ernest Williams, one of the foremost publishers of London. He says war has taught the people there the value of books, and shown them the joy of reading. When air raids were numerous and all social activities stopped, there still remained the inner room, the light and books. There was a quick demand developed for light reading, but it has changed and grown so that now the best books are most in demand. When air raids were ended and lights and social activities were used again, the habit of reading was continued and has grown rapidly the past year.

There is an insistent demand, this publisher says, for books that deal with real life. It is his belief that out of the experiences of war has been born a deeper appreciation of life and understanding of how tremendously worth living it is. On this new consciousness he bases the demand for books that deal sincerely with problems of life.—Ohio State Journal.

ISLAND SAVED BY WOMEN

How the Female Population of Helgoland Upset Calculations of Danish Admiral.

Helgoland, the naval wall flower during the World war, had its fate decided, upon one memorable occasion, by the women of the island, according to a bulletin of the National Geographic society. About the time William Penn was settling Pennsylvania a Danish admiral captured the island's fishermen one night while they were placing their nets. He threatened to hold them as hostages until the island surrendered to Denmark. Wives, mothers and sisters arose and forced the Danish garrison to relinquish any claim upon Helgoland.

In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Helgoland was a center of the North sea herring fisheries. Then herring soared back to Scotland's coast and the islanders handed down a tale of the misdeeds by which they forfeited the boon. Until a few years ago horses were unknown to the island. One story has it that when an old woman saw an Englishman ride up the hills she dropped dead from the shock of what she believed was a supernatural creature.

Humidity.

Humidity is the moisture or aqueous vapor in the atmosphere. The vapor is really an invisible gas. When this vapor becomes visible it is called dew, fog, mist, haze, clouds, rain, snow, hail, etc., according to the size of the drops of water or the method by which the vapor condenses. A given space at a given temperature can contain only a definite amount of moisture. When a given space contains all of the moisture it is capable of holding it is said to be saturated. The percentage of moisture in the air to what it would hold if saturated is called the relative humidity. When the air is saturated with moisture the humidity would be 100 per cent, and if half saturated 50 per cent, three-quarter saturated 75 per cent. The increased humidity has much to do with the effect of the temperature on the individual, which is the reason the subject is so commonly discussed during hot periods.

Responsibilities.

Thinking of others does not excuse folks from respecting their own responsibilities. The world wouldn't get along very fast if all our time and thoughts were given to others. To get along and have the means to be helpful to others we must do considerable for ourselves. Our job must bring enough returns to the boss to pay him for the trouble of bothering with us. Our home life touches others and we must see to it that our contact leaves them happier for the touch. Life is more than mere routine however much it may seem to be cast in a one piece mold. It's our thoughts for others that lift us out of the humdrum and make life worth living. There's no limit to the enthusiasms of life when concern for another's welfare gets hold of you.

Envied the Tailor.

When Douglas Fairbanks was a little boy, five years old, he lived in Denver, and he was always sent to bed much earlier than he wanted to go. Opposite his bedroom was a tailor shop where the lights burned brightly a long time after Douglas went to sleep. He used to lie and watch the industrious tailor, and one day he surprised his father by saying that he knew what he wanted to do when he grew up; he would be a tailor. "Why?" said his father. "Because," said Douglas, "I could sit up then as long as I wanted to—all night if I pleased."

What Is A Bank?

A bank is much more than merely a safe place for keeping funds, for handling checks, for collecting drafts, etc.

A bank should be regarded as the intimate helper, advisor, and friend of the customer, ever ready to co-operate in every proper way, to extend necessary accommodation as required, and to protect his interest in every way that lies within its power.

This is the kind of service that we endeavor to render; and we invite you to make your connection with us with such service in view.

At the conclusion of business Mrs. Kelly served a dainty sandwich course with coffee.

Prominent Visitor Here

Ex-Congressman Charles D. Haines of New York who has a winter home at Altamonte was in the city today and paid the Herald office an appreciated visit. Mr. Haines is prominent in New York business and manufacturing circles and served his state many years in Congress having entered politics when he was in his twenties. He is not an old man yet and is of the virile, progressive type of real American manhood and one has only to talk with him a few moments to discover that he is a real American in every sense of the word. He is a great booster for Florida and Altamonte and Seminole county in particular and says that Altamonte is destined to become one of the greatest tourist resorts in the central part of the state in a few years and anyone that has ever seen Altamonte can well believe it. If the county had a few more men of the Charlie Haines type it would build up twice as fast as it is now building.

Accepted Incident as Mandate.

A remarkable case of ring pulling is related of St. Athanas, bishop of Zamora, who lived in the tenth century. He wanted to surrender his bishopric and threw his episcopal ring into the Douro. But a fish brought it back to him, and he concluded that he should continue to bear his burden.

"Sycophant."

Sycophant is from a Greek word which expressed in English letters, is written, sykophantes, meaning "blabbers." In ancient days democratic Athens passed a law forbidding the exportation of figs in order to keep down the prices. The law, of course, was evaded, but there were always found men fellows, who for reward or to win favor with the authorities, informed on exporters. They were called in contempt sykophantes, ("blabbers.") or "informers," as we would say. Hence sycophant came to signify a government tony and then a tony generally.

Curtain At 8:15. No one Seated During The Prologue

An Epoch-making event in the annals of American amusements is the presentation by Richard Walton Tully of the virile-compelling accomplished American actor, Guy Bates Post, in the iridescent bubble of modern humanity, "The Masquerader." This dramatic masterpiece by John Luther Long, taken from the widely read novel of Katherine Cecil Thurston, intimately illustrates the lives of two men who met in the fog and traded identities and living quarters.

The dual characterization offers Mr. Post a wonderful opportunity and the contrasted characters are impersonated by him with all the art of a genius mind. His drug fiend is a pitiful wretch; his Eeder, the "man," the mental and moral antithesis of the other.

More intensely and artistically interesting than Jeckyl and Hyde—more massive in presentation than any modern play, and yet, so deftly done, its ponderous scenes move with the smooth rapidity of an uninterrupted panorama, and that is what this wonderful play is—A LIVING MOVING, TALKING PANORAMIC REFLEX OF THE WARP AND WOOF OF HUMANITY.

The most Ponderous of all Modern Plays pulsating with the element that comprises "Life" presented in.
