A special call to all who care

When their

Tony Tizzio and Doreen Kirk were not to be found. Quite posalbly, they were walking on air. For several years, 42-year-old Tizzio has been urging the Board of County Commissioners to create a Disability Advisory Council. On Tuesday, they approved. Tizzio and Kirk wili be key members of the council. Both understand the needs of the disabled. Tizzio was born with cerebral palsy, Kirk was a stroke victim. There are a thousand or more like them in the county. Unappreciated. Left out. Ignored.

Years ago there was a council but it didn't do anything - it never really had a purpose," Tizzio said. This one is going to have focus. It's going to address the needs and issues of the disabled community."

Tizzio sat at the conference table with the county commissioners, crossing one leg over the other and describing just what the council would try to accomplish and telling the board what type men and women quant to be on the board.

Commissioner Daryl McLain asked Tizzio how long the members of the council should serve. Two year or four years terms?

Tizzio said either was acceptable. Whatever the commissionera believe will work best." he told McLain. "The important thing is to get started as soon as we can. This has been put off long enough."

Commissioner Grant Maloy suggested that Chris Drummond be on the council, and Tizzio agreed wholeheartedly. Drummond is the 33-year-old son of a former county commissioner (Greg Drummond). He also was born with cerebral palsy. He has been a champion for the disabled community for almost all his life.

"Not everyone on the council has to be disabled," Tizzio said. "We should have some attorneys, doctors and others who are not disabled. Not all of us are in those positions, which is unfortunate.

Tizzio will continue to serve on the county's Code Enforcement board and Trails task force, seeking to be a voice of the disabled community. On Tuesday, he possessed the energy of ten able bodied men.

When Tizzio and Kirk left the County Services Building, their eyes were full off joy and wonder. It didn't take long for their special services driver to locate them. "Seems you've had a good day," he said.

"The best," Tizzio said.

SANFORD -When John Glenn launches into space Thursday afternoon, memories of the first manned space flight streaking through a clear night sky will be dancing across tocal resident Bill Egan's mind.

Egan was 11-years old growing up in New Jersey when his grandmother took him to a quiet spot to watch the launching of Sputnik, the first manned space flight by Russia, in 1957. Egan's passion for space flight will be fueled again on Thursday, when NASA plans to launch 77-year old John Glenn, who on Feb. 20 1962 became the first man to orbit the earth, back into space.

"When I saw that rocket streaking across the sky I was hooked," Egan said. "That's burned into me. I like what they're doing with John Glenn. They're doing some experiments on the effects of space on older people. That's important because age is experience. and you need experience in the space program."

The passion for space flight runs in the Egan family. His mother bought him a telescope for Christmas as a child, but after using it a few times he lost interest.

It was his daughter Rosalyn who rekindled the fire, as the two epent many hours studying the stars and constellations with their telescopes. He also enjoys walking at night and looking at the stars with his wife, Gail.

Adult video stores short-circuited

HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - A couple of adult video stores in Fern Park were the focus of get-tough decisions Tuesday by the Board of Seminole County County Commissioners.

Both businesses were ordered to cease operation or move to a designated area west of Sanford by Sept. 30, 1999.

They're telling us we have to move to some cow pasture," said attorney Steven G. Mason, who represents Excitement Video, one of the two adult video stores the county said failed to comply with lighting, sign, landscaping and color re-

Excitement Video and Bob's Video both began but did not finish improvements that were required by the county for the two stores to remain in business at a plaza at 8575 U.S. Highway 17-92. The owners of both businesses say they will take legal action.

The Board of Commissioners listened to pleas from each store to be given more time to comply with the county directives but these requests fell on deaf ears. Excitement Video was turned down by a 3-1 vote, Bob's Video by a 3-0 vote.

Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide said he wanted to be "fair' and thus voted to give Excitement Video more breathing room.

The record will show I'm against these types of adult businesses but we must be fair about these matters," said Van Der Weide, who left the hearing before the call on Bob's Video. Commission Chairman Randy Morris was not present.

'It's clear these businesses didn't meet the letter of the law," said Commissioner Win Adams, who chaired Tuesday's hearing. They were given sufficient time to make the required changes. Two other businesses (Circus Circus and Erotic Emporium) complied."

Your Personal Freedom Is At Stake!

Beware...An angry group of religious zealots, motivated purely by their own personal political agendas and greed, have succeeded in placing two dangerous issues on your November 3 ballot - known as the Non-Binding Question (Casselberry) and the Public Decency Ordinance.

These so-called "do-gooders," backed by Pat Robertson's aggressive Christian Coalition, feel they have the right to infringe on your Constitutional Freedoms and the separation of Church and State.

Remember Pat Robertson's idle threat last summer...

"I would warn Orlando that you're right in the way of some serious hurricanes, and I don't think I'd be waving those flags in God's face if I were you."

The frightening truth is that this militant group won't stop with Seminole County...Robertson has boasted that:

'We have enough votes to run this country...and when people say, 'We've had enough,' we're going to take over!"

The Christian Coalition is using their interpretation of the gospel and our local issues for their own political gain...

Compare Robertson's statement to Hermann Goering's:

"We have faith, deep and unshakable faith, that he (Hitler) was sent to us by God to save Germany."

Talk about blind faith!

If the Ordinances are passed, anyone over 10 years old can be arrested for wearing a bathing suit, evening gown, or any clothing considered too revealing. This means your 10-year old child could be arrested if he or she doesn't wear government-approved clothing.

If the Ordinances are passed, our Sheriff must enforce them ariywhere outside the interior of your home. This means more government and more taxes<sup>n</sup>

Do you want a group of religious zealots telling you how to live?

Isn't there too much Government in your life already?

VOTE NO on the Non-Binding Question (Casselberry) and VOTE AGAINST the Public Decency Ordinance on Tuesday, November 3.

COMMUNITY VIEWS

Boys and men

Men are accountable. Boys have to learn accountability, Men have integrity. Boys have to learn the meaning of standing behind their commitment. Men tell the truth. Boys must learn the importance of honesty. Men face the consequences of their mistakes. Boys are scared to face the punishment.

Lee Moore, a fifteen year old sophomore at Seminole High School, is more of a man than his Dad, Thomas. Lee admitted to his mistake knowing, the consequences that he faced. He is accountable, or at least wants to be. He committed to his coach, his teammates and his school that he would not drink, on campus or off and he broke that commitment, by his own confession. He told the truth. He stood ready to face the consequences. That was before Dad entered the picture.

His Dad wants to make the issue one of the right to privacy. His Dad thinks that the school has no right to administer the consequences that are clearly spelled out in advance to every student who wishes to participate in any extracurricular activity in High School.

Good citizenship is getting hard to come by. Individual rights are precious and need protection. But in order to have any working, practical and orderly society individuals must sacrifice SOME of their individual rights. By the senior Mr. Moore's argument, Lee should be punished by himself. Good theory as far as it goes. But it does not go far. What about the kid that has no Dad? What about the parent's that just don't care? And what about the team? What about the school? How do they operate not knowing what the parents will and won't do?

No. This issue is very, very simple. This issue is not about an individual's right to privacy. This issue is about Lee's broken obligation to his team and his school. It's about Lee facing the consequences of his actions. And Dad? You should be admiring your son's sense of truth, obligation, and integrity as he faces those consequenees. Believe it or not, that would be a win-win stance for

Development and Sanford

In the mid-seventies, Tom McDonald was Chairman of the Orenter Sanford Development Corporation, which was a group of downtown people and others interested in the redevelopment of the dying downtown area. Something needed to be done as quickly as possible and the GSDC was formed to try and accomplish the task.

Tom was on the board at the United States Bank, located in the Sanford Plaza (recently demolished) and I was president at the time. He came toe as a friend and working member of the community and asked if I would succeed him as chairman and work for the redevelopment of the downtown area. He reasoned that since my business was not located in the area, maybe influence could be brought to bear on the commission and others to accomplish their aims. If they wanted me and would elect me, I would accept the honor and duties. They did and

In two years of work by the OSDC including Sara Jacobson, Cai Conklin, Bill Colbert and others we influenced the city to build planting beds, landscape, and new streets from Sanford Avenue to Oak Avenue that shows the redevelopment done and now exists. There were other goals for the OSDC, but this was the main one and since it was accomplished, the group in a few years ceased to exist.

Now, over twenty years later, the chance occurs for us to accomplish those goals started and dreamed of so long ago. A hotel and conference center is being proposed for the downtown area. A dream could come true for many of the leaders of Sanford, could help the ad vaforem tax coffers, allow every high school in Seminole County to have their graduation ceremonies under one roof in Sanford and not have to go to Orange County. This will allow the Chamber of Commerce to attract many small conventions to come to Sanford--not to compete with Orlando. It will allow visitors to see our beautiful city and tell others. They will come here and build other stores and buildings to increase our quality of life.

It is difficult to see why anyone could be opposed to such a phenomenal chance to have all this without any tax dollars being spent by the city to accomplish what has been desired for so long. If it odes not happen this time, it may never happen again, at least not for a long, long time and for sure we will lose our chance for the conference center.

OH YES, there is a reason for people to oppose the idea. They say that we are going to lose the park. They forget to tell you that you (WE) are going to have a park that will be several acres larger than the present park. As a matter of fact, it will be four or five times as large as the park on Park. To give you a perspective, the new park will include the ball park next to the present park. As a matter of fact, the new park will have the ambiance of, and be comparable to, say Central Park in New York City, comparing the size of Sanford to New York. The developer and the city have agreed on this

Taxes will not be increased by approving the resolution. As a matter of fact, taxes will be reduced as the hotel and conference center grow and begin paying more taxes to the city of Sanford.

The improvements, that is the hotel and conference center plus the value of the land will all be taxable, that is a 40 to 60 million dollar increased tax base with the increase being added to the tax base of the City of Sanford. In addition to that, there will be additional sales taxes, eigarette taxes and tourist taxes collected on all their sales.

There will be new jobs. Some will be beginning salary wages but there are many citizens in Sanford who will benefit from that wage. There will be additional high salary wages and even if brought in by the hotel, they will live in the area and spend their salaries here. All this will help the growth of the area, which if you ask the present merchants, they will tell you that they are just holding on until something big hap-pens to Sanford to make it worth their effort.

 The Community Redevelopment Agency will get the additional ad valorem tax increment on all properties located in the CRA area to be used for improvement in that whole area, with no additional taxes levied on the citizens of Sanford. These moneys will be used to improve all of the facilities in the area including the lighting on First Street, finish the lighting on Second Street, and expand the redevelopment of First Street both East and West to make it more pleasant to shop in downtown Sanford.

Lake Monroe Park is the most under utilized park in Sanford. With the revitalization of that park, with its enlargement by at least thirty percent. it will be the most beautiful park in town and hopefully the most utilized.

With all these admitted benefits for the citizens of Sanford, it is our most urgent destre that you will be sure you vote next Tuesday and vote "Yes" for the park, the boardwalk, the piers, the conference center, and the hotel. When passed, this will be the culmination of action by many people on many boards for many years. Most assuredly they would love to see the fruit of their labors, it will be for your benefit.

John Y. Mercer, Chairman Community Redevelopment Agency

Faces in the mirror

I firmly believe that the attitude of Florida's legislature reflects, as in a mirror, how it regards Florida's school children and their teachers. Last year Republicans, Senator Toni Jennings and House Speaker Daniel Webster, tried to pass legislation to eliminate teachers' tenure and effectively dismantle their union.

When a teacher faces the mirror, he or she needs to confirm that the image reflected is of a dedicated and respected educator. That image is clouded if the teacher is weighed down by anxiety and uncertainty over Job security.

Apparently the Republican senators and representatives couldn't see or didn't care that their image was reflected as one of disrespect and disregard for the public school systemchildren and teachers-in the state of Florida.

I believe that our Democrat Governor and members of the legislature perceive a clearer, image as they face the mirror. It is imperative, then, not only for registered Democrat voters but for those registered as Republican or independent to vote to elect or reelect responsible Democrats to state office.

If you want to make sure that Florida's image is of a state that truly values its most important resource, its children and their teachers, I urge you to vote Nov. 3 for Democrat candidates for Florida's State Senate, House of Representatives, and for Governor.

Merchant responds to park group

As a downtown Sanford business owner and life long Sanford resident, I feel compelled to respond to the misrepresentation of the facts by the "Save the Park" group.

First, I urge the citizens to not be led by anyone until you see all the facts. Please, don't just go along with what the Save the Park' few who say, The whole city will be concrete." Look for yourself. I have talked to supporters of the "Save the Park" and most of them until the last couple of weeks did not even know there would be an 8-acre enhanced park still there. I could see the surprise in their eyes when they realized there would be a better park still there. Some were probably too embarrassed to admit that maybe they need to get all the facts first.

Remember, this city is made up of all age groups of people. Most are good, honest, hardworking people who take it very seriously when they are not told all the facts. They said the Seminole Town Mall would fail, but it is a great success. I asked one of the members to go down to the park with me after dark with $100.00 in their pocket and see what hap-pened... "Oh, no takers. I see.

Quite frankly, it's not safe there at night. If we had a well lit, improved park, I don't see this to be a problem. I have been in business in downtown Sanford for 28 years. I'm tired of hearing, "Oh, I don't go downtown Sanford." Well guesa what folks, the "Celery Bunch" are all gone. They made millions off the land and the people. They stopped growth here and left us with a poor and decaying downtown area. Don't you think it's time that we got some quality, clean, decent projects downtown so the merchants can afford to fix up our buildings and attract some new business long needed in Sanford?

This reminds me of when I aponsored Pee Wee football teams through a Seminole County sponsored program. Most of our boys were from Sanford and were black. When it came time to get our equipment-helmets and shoulder pads from Seminole County, we got a truck load of worn and left over equipment to use because we were in Sanford. The red-headed stepchild of Seminole County."

Well guess what again folks. All of a sudden, we are now The Jewel of Seminole County." Where else in Seminole County do you have a growing and prospering airport and a beautiful 4.5 long lake-front with a vibrant and prospering Port of Sanford? It is time we got the best for a change. We need a quality project in the commercial area to enhance it and help it grow. I just can't forget the expressions on those boys faces when the Tuscawilla Wildcats", or whatever their names were from South Seminole County, ran out on the field with their shiny, new uniforms. I want us, for a change, to get the very best. Don't be fooled. if we don't have men and women of vision as our leaders; smart, progressive and excited, we will go into the 21st century with another 50 years of being the "red-headed stepchild."

Remember, you, the citizen exercised your birthright and voted our current leaders into office. Your leaders, all of them, want this to happen for you. Have the courtesy to stand behind the people you voted for. It was your choice, so don't be fooled by the misinformstion out there. Get the facts and vote.

in conclusion, your Sanford Pee Wee team conquered the title of State Championship that year. Here are two verses for thought: "A people without vision will surely parish." You shall know the truth, the truth shall make you free."

Teens fall somewhere in the middle

WASHINGTON D.C.- What are teen-agers really like?

Are they like Liberty Franklin, 17, the aspiring orthodontist who recently was named national Youth of the Year here by the Boys & Girls Clubs of America? Liberty is being raised by a single mom in a low-income housing project in Everett, Wash., where drugs and crime are common. Yet she somehow maintains a 4.0 grade-point average while working three part- time jobs.

Or are teens more like the Laurel, Md., youths, ages 15 to 18, charged with chasing down and kicking to death an immigrant dishwasher, a stronger who was minding his own business when they allegedly confronted him? Police say at least three youths stomped Gilberto Hernandez, 35, while the others egged them on. None of the boys- two of whom are on the Laurel High School varsity football team- had prior arrest records.

Most teens, of course, fall somewhere in between. But it's the extreme that fascinate and challenge us, mocking our easy assumptions. Each time we hear a horrific teen tale-the girls who atrangles her newborn baby, the athletes who rape a mentally challenged neighbor, the "normal" kid who opens fire on classmates-we ask questions similar to the one now plaguing

What could inspire apparently normal, middleclass boys-kids with part-time jobs and decent homes-to behave so abominably?

But I have another question: Shouldn't we spend at least as much time saiding what could explain behavior as off-the-chart terrific as Liberty's? This is a girl whose mother is a recover-ing alcoholic and whose brothers have drifted in and out of prison and drug rehab. She could easily have turned out a mess-yet she's succeeding beyond most people's imaginings.

At a breakfast ceremony held in a U.S. Senate banquet room and hosted by retired Gen. Colin Powell, Liberty won the Boys & Olris Club higheat accolade over four other similarly impressive regional finalists. Blinking away happy tears. Liberty explained that she doesn't see herself as "different" at all.

"I think it's the kids who are doing wrong who are different," she said. "I weighted it out," Liberty said. "Drinking, drugs and depression on one side: a happy family on the other."

How simple. So why do so many kids choose Thomas James, of Fort Smith, Ark., a Youth of the Year finalist, blames teens' lack of spiritual grounding. Seated in the fancy meeting room where the Boys & Girls Clubs honors were announced, Thomas, who cared for his two young brothers during his mother's recent surgerieswiped at eyes still moist from the ceremony.

DONNA BRITT

Synidicated Columnist Washington Post

"A lot of kids don't have a relationship with God-I wish they did," Thomas said. "The bad things of the world just don't appeal to me."

A senior who will be the first person in her family to finish high school, Liberty was born on the 1981 day that American hostages arrived home from Iran. Her mom, Mary Antoine-who cites her daughter as her inspiration for getting and staying sobe-was moved when hostages kissed the ground, shouting, "Libertyl"

Of course a girl named Liberty would believe that kids who act terribly feel trapped by the notion that no one cares.

"They think that if they died today, nobody would notice," she said. "The richest kid in the world can have the same problem if their parents don't have time for them."

As details from the tragedy in Laurel emerge, we're bound to hear all the complex factors that inspire "good" kids to do awful things. So let's take a moment to consider what causes teens with every reason to fail to succeed.

Caring parents, supportive organizations like the Boys & Girls Club and a solid spiritual foundation all help. So does noticing young people who make the rights choices. Liberty Franklin saw people living well and wanted a piece of it. She figured that if she did well, someone else might be similarly inspired.

So "I did the things that I said were right-and people looked at me as an example," she told me. "I saw that it matters. ... "People are watching no matter who you are."

Forget the NBA, there are a lot of other things to do

SANFORD _ What a shame.

Professional basketball players have decided that smoking pot and getting paid too much money for something they like to do anyway is more important than their fans.

While some of you are sitting around wondering what on earth you are going to do until these overpaid sports icons actually take the court, I have come up with a list.

It is Kellie's list of things to do instead of watching an NflA basketball game.

Believe it or not, there is life outside of bas-

Here are just a few of the things you can do instead of parking it on the couch with a bag of popcorn, a six-pack of your favorite beverage and holding onto the remote with a death-grip. (Three of my favorite hobbies, by the way.)

You can head out to the Seminole High School homecoming parade on Thursday afternoon. While there, you can not only see the homecoming court, the football team and the band, but also a member of the World Champion New York Yankees. Tim "Rock" Raines is slated to be the Grand Marshall of the parade.

If you miss this glimpse of the future Hall of Fame baseball player, check out the Seminole homecoming game on Friday night. Raines is expected to be an honored guest at the slugfest between the 'Noles and the Oviedo Lions.

How about a little cocktail party? The world's largest is occurring this weekend when Florida and Georgia travel to a neutral site in Jacksonville, to determine who, will stay alive in the Southeastern Conference race. There are sure to be some other college games on of interest, though I can't believe anyone could actually be

Don't care for football? How about a little voileyball? For the next two nights, the girls' volleyball teams in Seminole County will be battling it out on the courts of Lake Mary and Winter Springs High Schools to determine who is the best in the area. It's a pretty safe bet that Lake Mary or Oviedo and Winter Springs will take top honors in their classes, but if you don't mind a little drive, check out the Seminole game. The Lady 'Noles are playing at Oak Ridge in Orlando and should put on a pretty good show tonight in their attempt at an upact in the Class 5A playoffs.

Need something a little more cultural than sports? (I can't see why!) in just three weeks. Sanford will hold the first ever Heritage Festival complete with art, entertainment and culture. Downtown Sanford will come to life.

Can't wait that long? Lake Mary High School is putting on "Death of a Salesman" on Thursday and Friday night. While musicals tend to be its strong suit, Lake Mary will no doubt do justice to the Arthur Miller classic. Speaking of Miller, don't forget that he married Marilyn Monroe, who in turn married Joe DiMaggio...which brings us back to sports.

Two local high schools are putting on their sports carnivals in the next lew weeks. This weekend is Oviedo's and then Lake Howell will hold its carnival in two weeks.

Also, soccer season starts soon. Oh, wait. Watching a blank screen and making up a basketball game in your mind might be more entertaining.

There are family activities, however, that can be enjoyed in lieu of no basketball and soccer. The newly expanded Seminole County YMCA offers a little bit of something for the whole family. In addition to the fitness room and swimming pool, there are classes offered daily in everything from arts and crafts to karate. Or the whole family can take in a Pop Warner football game. Oviedo, Sanford and Lake Mary's team's are playing very strong this year and nothing is cuter than watching those little players in their oversized uniforms run options and sack quarterbacks. So, never fear. There is plenty to do instead of pining for the basketball season. Besides, it's time to take a stand and tell these players that their behavior, salaries and ridiculous demands are not going to be tolerated anymore.

Even if the season starts, don't watch. Keep finding fun things to do in the community. Anyway, high school basketball starts soon. That is much more entertaining.

Refuse to lose

Seminole comes back from brink of defeat to oust Mainland in 5A-5

By Jeff Berlinicke ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

ORLANDO _ Two points away from getting blown out in the first round of the Class 5A-District 5 girls volleyball playoffs, Seminole needed a quick boost.

With survival at hand, the 'Noles found it and scored the next 13 points on the way to a dramatic come-from-behind 13-15, 15-13, 15-4 win over Mainland to advance to the second round tonight against host Oak Ridge. A win tonight would guarantee the Seminoles a berth in the Class 5A Regionals next week.

For a while, it looked like Seminole would already be lining up Homecoming dates for this weekend instead of playing another volleyball match. The Seminoles were off their game early and, down 13-2 in the second game, looked headed for early elimination.

But for the second straight match, the 'Noles found a way to come from behind to pull out the win. Last week against Pine Ridge on Senior Night, Seminole wiped out another huge deficit.

There were a lot of heroes in the comeback. Servers Couriney Newman, Kim Nelson and Tracey Swaynon were tough throughout the comeback and coach Beth Corso went to her bench and found freshman Tara Wiggins who played a key role in the comeback. Nelson had a strong night setting for powerhouse Amanda Cook and the Seminoles found their game just

We started off flat and got worse," Corso said. I kept telling them to find their composure and we went to an attack game. It worked."

Corso said that, with a big deficit on the Oak Ridge scoreboard, a key was that her team never panicked.

"They never got upset," Corso said. "I got frus-trated but we just needed time to find our game." Seminole found it behind strong serving and Mainland mistakes. Mainland called a timeout, leading 13-12 in the second game, but it was the last time the Seminoles would trail.

Behind Swaynon's serve, Seminole closed it out on three straight spikes from Cook, Newman and Emily Wontenay to force a deciding

At that point, it was all Seminole.

The 'Noles got a side-out after a Mainland mistake and, with Newman serving, recled off the first nine points. Cook had five winners during the Seminole run, but, after a side-out, Seminole had another mental lapse, a problem which has plagued the team all year.

Mainland cut the lead to 9-4, but Mellissa Witte took over serve after a side-out and Seminole closed out the win on a six-point run fea-turing two spikes from Wiggins.

Now the 'Noles head back to Orlando tonight to face Oak Ridge which features twin towers up front. Seminole lost twice in the same week to the Pioneers during the regular season, but Corso is eyeing a spot in the Regionals, which would be the Seminoles' first since 1998.

They block well but if we can make their middles move, we can have a lot of success." Corso said.

SANFORD _ When you look at the results from Tuesday night's games in the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Women's Fall Slow Pitch Softball League you will see a lot of runs and games ended by the run rule.

And while the winning teams combined to score 52 runs and none of the games went over five innings, fans should not overlook the winning teams' defense.

In two games the losing teams only had five hits and in the third game the defeated team only had alx safeties. Only one of the 16 hits went for extra bases and the three teams only combined for six runs.

So don't say that there is no defense in slow pitch softball.

in results from Pinchurst Park, Flyers Wings & Orill put on an awesome display to club Orlando Dodge, 24-3; Bunniland Corporation whipped the Sharks, 13-1; and Curt's Alleycats topped Vaughan Incorporated, 15-2.

Curt's Alleycats and Sunniland Corporation are both 6-1 and Flyers Wings & Grill is 5-2. Completing the standings are the Sharks and Vaughan incorporated (both 2-

5) and Orlando Dodge (0-7). Next week, Vaughan Incorporated battles the Sharks at 6:30 p.m.; Orlando Dodge challenges

LAKE MARY _ Sometimes you get what you ask for and it doesn't matter. After the first round of VolleyFest 1998 last Thursday at Lake Mary High School, Rama star Brett Pocock said that Lake Mary was "gunning" for Dr. Phillips.

Well, when the smoke had cleared Saturday afternoon, the Rama had indeed got their wish to meet the undefeated Panthers. And while the hosts led late in both games, Dr. Phillips railied to win its first ever VolleyFest Championship, 15-13 and 15-13.

The Championship Game was the second time the two boys' volleyball powers had met on Saturday, as the Panthers had edged Lake Mary, 15-10, 15-8, in the Winner's Bracket Final.

Dr. Phillips, which finishes the season with a perfect. 25-0 record and did not lose a game in the tournament, looked like it would walts to the championship. when the Panthera took a 10-4 lead in the first game of the finale.

But the Rams, who end the year 21-5, refused to quit and bounced back to take a 13-12 lead before Dr. Phillips, behind VolleyFest Most Valuable Player Fabio

Offer little beggars 140 Hwy. 434, Longwood. ToughLove is a self-help, ac- old-fashioned fun with yummy treats

I've been haunted for months by Halloween recipes sent to me through the mail, all of them involving packaged mixes, nondairy toppings, premade cookie dough and the like, and tarted up into spooky shapes with candy and prepared frostings.

As you can tell, I'm a purist about Halloween. I believe in homemade decorations and costumes (although I don't sew, I've managed to duct-tape together some pretty cool outfits), lots of candy (DON'T be one of those people who hands out little boxes of raisins), and parties featuring all the old-fashioned treats: punch, popcorn balls, caramel and candied apples. I had to look in some pretty old-fashioned books to find the recipes: "The Joy of Cooking," a 1961 Betty Crocker cookbook and a candy book written by the editors of Farm Journal in 1970. The punch came from a relatively new book, "The Penny Whistle Halloween Book," which has an old-fashioned

Note: If you are throwing a kids party that involves serving a meal, do get a copy of "Roald Dahl's Revolting Recipes." Readers of Dahl classics — "James and the Giant Peach," "The BFG," "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," - will relish the chance to try "Snozzcumbers," or "Frobscottle," "Crispy Wasp Stings," "Mud Burgers" and "Stink Bug's Eggs."

BOBBING APPLE PUNCH

1-1/2 cups orange juice

Happy Halloween!

4 cups apple cider
1 cup pineapple juice
2 tablespoons suger
4 cups ginger ale, chilled
6 to 8 email, red apples

In a punch bowl, mix the orange juice, cider, pineapple juice and sugar. Chill for a couple of hours. Just before serving, add the ginger ale, apples, orange slices and ice cubes. Garnish with relative spiders or burs. If desired Yield: 10-1/2 cups.

POPCORN BALLS

7 cups popped com 1 cup sugar

1/3 cup water 1/3 cup light com syrup

1/4 cup butter, plus more for gress ing your hands 1 teaspoon vanilla

Put the popcorn in a large bowl. Mix sugar, water, syrup, salt and 1/4 cup butter in a saucepan. Cook, stirring, to 250 degrees (this is the "hard ball" stage, which means that a spoonful of syrup dropped into cold water will form a firm ball that will not flatten when removed from the water). Remove pot from heat. Stir in vanilla. Pour in a thin stream over the pop-corn, stirring constantly to mix well.

With buttered hands, form into balls. Note: To make jack-o'-lanternshaped popcorn balls, add a few drops of red and yellow food coloring to the syrup when you add the vanilla. Stir well to mix. Proceed, and when you form the balls, add eyes, noses and mouths of gumdrops, candled corn, jel-lied fruit, etc. Use a green jelly bean or a piece of licorice for a stem. Yield: 12 to 15 large balls.

Line a baking sheet with aluminum foil or waxed paper (if using foil, butter it generously). Remove the stems of the apples and insert a wooden skewer into the stem end of each apple.

Boil several inches of water in the bottom part of a double boiler. Keep it simmering until you need it.

Meanwhile, in the top part of the double boiler, combine the sugar, water, corn syrup and cinnamon stick. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Put the pot on the heat, cover and bring to a boil; boil without stirring for 3 minutes, until the steam has washed down any crystals that may have formed on the sides of the pan. Boil the syrup until it reaches 290 degrees on a candy thermometer (this is the "soft crack" stage, which means that if you drop a teaspoon of the syrup into cold water. it should form strands that can be stretched and bent when removed). Remove the pot from the heat, remove the cinnamon stick and add the food coloring, if using.

Set the pan over the bottom part of the double boller, over - not in - the boiling water. Working quickly, dip each apple, one at a time, and cost evenly with the glaze. Twiri the apple at the end of the extra drips off. Set each on the prepared baking sheet. Note: If you'd like, dip each apple before it hardens in chopped nuts or recognit Viald. 5 armins coconut. 2-2/3 cup evaporated milk Twist stems off the apples and insert wooden skewers in the stem ends.

stirring constantly. Cook briskly to a thick syrup, stirring constantly. Slowly add the remaining 2 cups of the evaporated milk (keep the mixture boiling briskly as you add) and cook until the syrup reads 242 degrees on a candy thermometer (this is the "firm ball" stage, which means that if you drop a spoonful of the syrup into cold water, it should form a ball that holds its shape and will not flatten when removed). Remove from heat and let stand until syrup stops bubbling.

Working quickly, dip each apple into the syrup. Twist so any surplus drips off and the coating is smooth. Place on prepared baking sheets. (If the candy becomes too hard for dipping, add a little more evaporated milk and reheat, stirring to keep amouth. The caramel not be too heavy.) Yield: 15 apples. without saying goodbye or telling me where he was going.

He said he didn't need to explain his whereabouts, which was very difficult to deal with, but over time and many tears later. I learned to lite with it. Later on, he accepted a high-paying job that took him away frem our family for long periods. We would see each other on weekends or during school vacations. Over the wars I have learned to entertain years I have learned to entertain myself without intruding on his "space" or complaining when he was away for long periods.

Now that he isn't working and I am still working, he doesn't get my attention when he wants it. He says he facility ignored or unloved because I have continued to entertain myself by reading, playing bridge with my women friends, or occasionally women friends, or occasionally working on weekends. My colleagues laugh at me when they hear me call my husband from work to ask if it's OK if I meet a client on the weekend. Sometimes I resent doing it, but it does keep the peace.

Meanwhile, my husband watches every sporting event on television, pouting or sulking when I don't join him.

Abby, I love this man, but now that he is home, he wants me to be constantly available. Is there a

BORED IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR BORED: For a man who wanted his "space," your husband appears to have become very dependent. It's flattering that he wants you by his side, but you are in danger of being smothered.

Remind him that when he married you, he demanded and was given his "mass," and now you need yours. Encourage him to become physically active and to get involved with groups where his talents are needed. I'm oure there are many.

DEAR ABBY: I think you were way off base in your response to the lady who asked whether she should let her mother-in-law read the letter on computer disk that her father-in-law left to his 2 1/2-yearold granddaughter. If the man intended the letter to be read by everybody and his brother, he wouldn't have addressed it to his granddaughter.

In my opinion, this has nothing to do with "bringing peace to a grieving widow," but rather with a domineering woman sticking her nose where it should not be. Just because the letter is on a computer disk dosen't mean it's any less a letter then if it were written on paper and sealed in an envelope. By adve-cating allowing the mother-in-law to read that letter, you're also advo-cating denying that little girl her right to a precious gift given to her by her grandfather out of love because he knew he wouldn't be there to watch her grow up.

I'm just curious - do you also advocate opening and rewrapping children's gifts before they receive them just to make some adult "feel better" about knowing what's in them? Remember that even the youngest members of our society deserve our respect, and one of the aspects of that is to respect their

A READER WHO DISAGREES

DEAR READER: The child's grandmother is not "everybody and his brother," and I do not agree that allowing the grand-mother to read the letter would diminish its value to the 2-year-old when she's finally old enough to appreciate it. Howevenough to appreciate it. However, intelligent minds can disagree, and I respect your opinion although it does not coincide with mine.

Too many red cells cause problems

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a man in my 70s under treatment for hypertension. Four times a year, I have to have a unit of blood removed because the hematocrit is too high. What level of hematocrit is high and why does this happen?

DEAR READER: The quantity of red blood cells is expressed as the hematocrit — the percentage of cells per total fluid volume. For adults, the normal hematocrit is 40 to 50 percent. Figures above 55 percent indicate polycythemia. Values below 35 percent reflect anemia, the opposite of polycythemia.

Polycythemia will make the blood too thick and viscous, leading to a variety of serious consequences. Removing blood (phlebotomy) produces a temporary thinning of the blood. It's a useful remedy that works quickly. However, there are more effective ways to treat polycythemia. depending on the cause.

For instance, polycythemia can result from lung diseases that lower the amount of oxygen in the blood. Treatment of the pulmonary disorder will allow the blood to return to its proper consistency.

But polycythemia also can be caused purely by an over production of red blood cells. Under these circumstances, physicians usually choose to give drugs that curtail blood cell production.

I do not believe that your blood problem is related to your hypertension or the drugs prescribed for it, but you should ask your doctor if it could be related to a lung disorder that should be addressed.

To give you related information, 1 am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Blood — Donations & Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long. self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, N.Y. 10156. Be sure to mention the title. DEAR DR. GOTT: Can a person have shingles without a rash? DEAR READER: In my experience,

Shingles, known medically as herpes zoster, is a virus infection of the nerves in the skin, characteristically in one area on one side of the body. It ordinarily begins as a sensation of burning or tingling. Soon thereafter, the typical blisters break out, followed by what can be an extended period of viral activity. The blisters form, break and reform. Intense discomfort always occurs, and neuralgia, a type of chronic nerve pain, may appear. DR. GOTT

PETER GOTT, M.D.

With time, the process regresses, but it may continue to cause symptoms for months or years afterwards.

I cannot recollect ever having seen a patient with zoster who did not have

The enigmatic question

By Phillip Alder

You are on lead with the singleton trump ace. Should you lead it? Or should you keep it as a later guaranteed entry?

The latter will usually be better. However, if you think that when you are put in with the trump ace you will be endplayed, forced to give declarer a free trick, then you should get that thorn out of your hand as quickly as poszible.

Well, which applies to this deal? Look only at the West hand and the auction. What do you lead?

The four-heart overcall is frisky. Yet opposite a passed partner, you are unlikely to miss a slam. And consuming all that bidding space may stop the opponents from finding their best spot.

At the table, West backed up his debatable bid with a worse lead: the spade ace. He switched to the diamond king, but it was too late. South won with the ace, drew the missing trump, and conceded three tricks: one one heart and one diamor Starting with the diamond king is much more sensible. And East should signal enthusiasm with the nine. Let's assume South wins with the ace and plays a trump, which is reasonable. Now what should West do?

If East started with two diamonds, declarer would have six - forget that. Instead, East must be encouraging diamonds because he has the jack. This points the way: Continue with the diamond 10. With luck, partner will overtake with his Jack and switch to a heart, hopefully from either a singleton or the doubleton queen jack. If East doesn't overtake, continue with the ace and another heart, expecting partner to ruff.

As you can see, this line of defense works very nicely, thank you.
