

P.F.C. RICHARD A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Smith, left this weekend for a 12 month tour of duty with the U. S. Army, in Korea. He spent 30-day leave with his family at his parents' home 1202 Randolph St. His wife is the former Miss Helen Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gladys Scott, 709 West 9th Street. She will make her home with her parents while he is overseas.

Housing Costs Dip Compared To 'Ole Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—Practically everything cost less in the "good old days," but grandfather had to spend more of his income on housing than you do right now—and he had to work a lot longer to pay for his home. William J. Levitt, president of Levitt and Sons, Inc., in the course of building some 60,000 single-family houses, has come up with some interesting information on housing. Grandfather, he says, was supposed to budget 25 per cent of his earnings for the purchase and upkeep of his home. Today, however, housing costs the average family only about 20 per cent of its income. "That's true whether you rent or live in your own house. In the case of home ownership, the 20 per cent includes taxes and insurance as well as mortgage principal and interest."

Times also have changed, Levitt said, in the amount of labor required to purchase housing. "The general rule of thumb for grandpa was that it took the equivalent of about two and one-half years' income—the fruits of his labor for that time—to pay for a home. The average family today buys a home that costs the equivalent of only two years' income." Levitt's figures, based on his company's experience in building residential communities, are confirmed by government statistics which show median income of families with FHA-insured mortgages is $7,108 before taxes, and the median value of the houses they buy is $14,607—just slightly more than double the typical income. Chief reason for this change in the homeowner's favor, Levitt feels, is that incomes in recent years have increased faster than the purchase price of homes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT It All Depends Whose Ox Is Gored

Newspapermen are a strange breed of people. They hold a fierce loyalty to their newspaper, more so than any other person to his profession or his special line of endeavor. And they work hard and fiercely to maintain an honest and integrity relationship with their readers.

Purpose of a newspaper is manifold but the prime purpose is to present honest, factual reporting of the news. The Sanford Herald has long endeavored to follow this prime purpose . . . in fact, has endeavored mightily to present an unbiased picture in all, including controversial, matters.

For a month or more The Herald has been under attack by three members of the City Commission. In the beginning, all five members sought to have The Herald publish a "letter to the editor" complaining of "unfair news practices." The Herald refused to publish this letter but, in a meeting with all five Commissioners, guaranteed to publish a letter complaining of any specific misrepresentation of a news story. The Commission countered with only generalities, failing to pinpoint any specific item. The Herald also agreed to publish statements by any Commissioner if he felt he had been misquoted or his position misrepresented.

Two members of the Commission withdrew their names from the letter when the other three began circulating copies throughout the county. Jimmy Crapps and Al Wilson withdrew their names from the controversial letter when they learned it was to be circulated to others than The Sanford Herald. For the most part, responsible persons who received this letter read it and discarded it into "file 13." But an out-of-county newspaper has seen fit to air the epistle and, therefore, The Herald must say its say.

We owe this responsibility to our readers.

The Herald points to the fact the City Commission "killed" the jet fuel pipeline to the Naval Air Station but after this newspaper printed the facts the Commission recanted and approved the facility.

The Herald points to the fact the City Commission "killed" the new military academy but after this newspaper printed the facts the Commission recanted and now is completing negotiations to have this 250-cadet school located here.

The Herald believes in publishing the facts, especially for the betterment and improvement of the community and regardless whether it steps on the toes of a privileged few.

The City Commission has extended the olive branch to The Herald news staff . . . or so we understand. We will learn at 2 p.m. Friday whether the dove of peace is flying over City Hall. We hope so . . . but, regardless of outcome, we will continue to print the facts.

By LARRY VERSHEL

Well, now that the City Commission got their controversial letter published maybe they can concentrate on operating the town. Like why didn't they plan ahead for water improvements two years ago when the city manager urged them to.

We have been accused of a lot of things down here at the Herald but at least we never taped a phone conversation.

Good to see plenty of flags flying along First St., Magnolia and Park Aves. today.

Spanish American War veterans decorating the graves of the war dead this morning.

Jail staff got a boost today when the State termed the facility "one of the best operated" in the state.

Yes, there really is a George Touhy. When I was up in New York Touhy filled in writing this column and people asked if that was my non-de-plume. Went to the sports banquet last night and there was George in the flesh. Actually there is no real Larry Vershel—just a figment of the City Commission's imagination.

Some youngsters at the Francis Blankner School in Orlando went on an outing at Big Tree Park the other day and were "insulted" etc., etc. at Big Tree Park. It came to light at the County Commission meeting and the board has asked for a full inquiry.

I guess people can't pay their taxes . . . Tax collector's office expects some 3,000 tax certificates to be sold.

Since businesses in town were open today . . . no reason for the courthouse and city hall to close.

City should do something about Ft. Milton Park swimming pool area. Youngsters getting hurt slipping and fallin' all over the place. Might use a new coat of paint.

Some of those Geneva residents who were promised better telephone service a few weeks back report that they still haven't noticed any marked improvement . . . issue seems to have gotten lost in the shuffle at the Public Utilities Commission, they say.

A gap in government operations in the county was pointed out by County Engineer William Bush to the County Commission Wednesday.

The matter came up when Bush said a landowner had been the belief for several years that the county held right-of-way through donated land to his property only to learn, too late, the deeds had never been filed. Bush said there is no law providing that incorporated municipalities in Seminole County shall notify the County Commission of annexations. This, he said, effects the engineering, road, tax assessing, tax collecting and sheriff's offices. Clerk Art Beck with was directed to request co-operation of town and city clerks.

"The flags are fluttering and flying today in Ovidio," proud Mayor Lee Gay telephoned The Herald this morning. He wanted the world to know that Old Glory flies most of the time in his city, whether on a special observance day or just "any day."

W. A. Patrick, one of the big citrus men in town, has closed his packing plant on French Ave. . . . Result of that damaging freeze.

"Kwikie" closed its doors on French Ave. That was quick.

Memorandum to Pete Knowles: If you're looking for that controversial tape look no further. Wasn't it sent to New York?

Chamber, City To Meet Friday On Prep School

Executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been invited by the City Commission to attend a joint session at 11 a.m. Friday to "clarify matters" pertaining to the establishment of Sanford Military School.

Initial action was instigated by the Bureau of Private Colleges and Schools, New York City, which brought the principals together, followed by action by the Chamber of Commerce in bringing the MacFadden Foundation together with the City Commission.

The City Commission now is near completing negotiations with the Foundation for the 250-cadet school here, starting in September. Commission members also will meet at 2 p.m. Friday with the publisher and news staff of The Herald, also to "clarify matters."

2 Face Illegal Fishing Charges

Two men charged with "monkey fishing" will be arraigned June 17 before County Judge Vernon Mize. Judge Mize said today that the two local men, William V. Hosack and William T. Behrens, were charged by a fish and game warden with having possession of an illegal device for taking fresh water fish.

The men were said to have had several hundred pounds of fish in their possession when arrested, obtained by using an electrical shocking device commonly referred to as a "monkey box."

Negroes Promise Stepped Up Drive

Negroes promised to step up their anti-segregation campaign in Jacksonville, Miss., today despite the possibility of more arrests.

There also were racial demonstrations in Florida, North Carolina and Louisiana Wednesday but the most violent protest against discrimination happened in the North—at Philadelphia.

Around 250 demonstrators protesting discrimination in hiring practices, fought with 300 policemen at a school construction site in Philadelphia and eight policemen and two pickets, including a minister, were hurt.

Heavy Rains Here Give Boost To Vegetable, Citrus Crops

Heavy and consistent rains during the last week have given a "good boost" to vegetable and citrus crops and to home shrubbery and lawns. Heavy winds accompanied a 1.37 inch rainfall Wednesday evening, causing minor damage in and around Sanford but a $1,500 damage to a floating dock at Monroe Harbor.

Normal rainfall for May is 2.4 inches but as of May 22 only 1.83 inches was recorded this month at the county agricultural center. However, the Naval Air Station weather bureau reported this morning a total of 3.34 inches now has been recorded for this month. The NAS bureau added that 2.33 inches fell during last weekend.

"We hope this is the start of the rainy season," Ernest Lundberg, assistant county agent, said today. "The rains so far this month have brought the ground water level up and we hope it continues."

"March, April and May usually are the dry months," he added, "but these last three months have been drier than usual."

Damage to the Monroe Harbor dock, at the north end of the St. Johns River bridge north of Sanford, was estimated by Jim Lappin, operator, who reported the marina was hit by what he believed to be a small tornado at 5:20 p.m. Wednesday.

He said waves four feet high were pushed by the wind, which tore off the dock roof, smashed it down on a boat and pushed the dock 100 feet to shore. The wind also knocked merchandise from two shelves in his store.

Senate Bound

House Okays 30 Day Extended Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House voted today to extend the 1963 session for up to 30 days.

The bill extending the session was passed in the House where enough supporters have already signed a petition to assure its adoption.

A three-fifths vote is required for an extension beyond the regular 60-day session which runs out tomorrow night.

Sponsors said the move was made today to overcome efforts by Gov. Farris Bryant to call the legislature back into a special session restricted only to finance and tax measures.

Speaker Mallory Horne said should the Legislature be able to overcome the monumental problems ahead of it by Friday night, the resolution called by recalled and killed. But nobody really believed this was possible.

Rep. Leo Jones of Bay said the extension would allow the Legislature to take up any matters it wishes and retain control of its own affairs.

The Legislature would not have to meet the full 30 days. It could adjourn at any time before that if it finished its job.

The Senate went into immediate executive session following the House action.

With more than a half dozen big tax bills facing them, both the Senate and the House were set for hot debate on which to use to pay for a record $987 million in spending during the coming biennium.

But the big questions were scheduled first in the Senate's morning session. The senators were faced with a hiked and expanded four per cent sales tax and a fight to get a three cents hike in the cigarette tax to the floor.

The cigarette tax issue raised a furor in the Senate Wednesday. Most of the Senate went on record Wednesday as being opposed to the four per cent sales tax—one per cent above the present mark. The tax is also expanded under the bill to include most items with the exceptions of groceries and medicine. It also raises the tax on automobile sales from one to two per cent.

The bill was passed and sent to the floor by a 9-3 vote of the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee, Sen. A. J. Boyd, Leesburg, said he had 29 commitments to veto the bill, more than enough for a kill on the multi-million dollar proposal.

Move On To Halt U. S. Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negotiators for the nation's railroads and five railroad unions gave up their holiday today in an effort to avert a nationwide rail strike.

But spokesmen for both sides in the long-standing dispute cautioned against interpreting the decision to work through the holiday as a sign that an agreement was near.

One source said there had not been much change in the situation since the latest round of negotiations began following the May 14 report of a presidential emergency board appointed to recommend a settlement.

The main issue in the dispute is the railroads' desire to eliminate the job of fireman on diesel locomotives. The railroads say the firemen no longer are needed and union rules which require their presence in the cab are featherbedding.

Male Chorus

Spring Serenade Tonight

The usual arrangement of a chorus singing, accompanied by the piano will be reversed for two numbers in the Male Chorus Spring Serenade at 8 p.m. tonight in the Seminole High School auditorium.

In two compositions, Jesus, Joy of Man's Dearly by Bach and the Moonlight Sonata by Beethoven, Mrs. Bettye Smith, accompanist will be "accompanied" by the chorus, as they sing softly in the background while the spotlight is turned on the piano, "solo."

Mrs. Smith, who is an accomplished pianist is a self-taught artist, who has had no formal training until this past year when she began studying organ, under Dr. Helen Allinger.

"It just sort of came to me naturally, I guess," said Mrs. Smith when queried about her keyboard proficiency.

She is organist for the Protestant church services at the Sanford Naval Air Station, formerly played for the Pinecrest Baptist Church, and for the Mayport Naval Air Station Glee Club.

She has been accompanist for the Sanford Male Chorus for the past three years under the direction of Robert Carnie.

Mrs. Smith gives Carnie credit for much of her recent progress and increased interest in the field of music.

She is the wife of Dr. Robert Smith and has two sons, John and Rob.

Geneva Tables Organization Of Fire Dept.

Organizational plans for a Volunter Fire and Rescue Dept. in Geneva bogged down in discussion at Tuesday night's called meeting resulting in the whole matter being tabled for at least another week.

Civic leaders of the community interested in forming the organization reported today that only 10 persons showed up for the meeting and that "it's the same as in the past, we just can't get started."

Another meeting has been set for 7:30 p. m. next Tuesday in the Community Hall at which time it is hoped at least a nucleus organization will be formed.

By Donna Estes

H. L. Heath of Sanleone Springs Dr. in Longwood, celebrated his 88th birthday last Saturday by having his favorite dinner of chicken and dumplings with his sister, Mrs. Lottie Cramer, and his niece, Mrs. Hettie McNamara, at their home on Bay St. in Longwood.

Mr. Heath is justly proud of the fact that he still takes care of his own home and drives his own car. His favorite pastime is fishing which he does nearly every day after his household chores are completed.

Better late than never. * * * Marry Hittell finally received details of the wedding of son Claude (Bubba) to Johanna. Also some very nice pictures of them. Everyone of them are sure good. Bubba is bringing her home in August. * * * Jimmie Wakefield told me that his mother is doing fine at Seminole Memorial where she underwent surgery recently. I think she got to come home Tuesday. Hope so. A speedy recovery to you. * * * Little Kenneth Spivey is much improved after his little accident of hurting his leg. He has returned to school. * * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Saxon are the proud parents of a brand new gal, little Marita Naomi born Friday at Seminole Memorial Hospital. She will be welcomed home by five year old brother Verlin. * * * Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cowling spent the past weekend in Jacksonville with friends and relatives. * * * Mrs. Christine Driggers of Orlando came over and helped Lucille Spivey can pepper relish. Lucille forgot to get some red peppers for the relish so she decided to use part of a finger. * * * Mary and Steve Davis motored to Kissimmee where they enjoyed the week-end water skiing with Steve, brother Holler Davis and family. Coming home they got in a big rainstorm and had to wait two hours. * * * Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dennis and family and several friends went over to see Six Gun Territory last Sunday. Hear tell that Lorne Greens (Ben Cartwright of Bonanza) will be there this weekend. Everyone who has visited there said that it is real interesting to see. * * * Our thought this week is by Will Rogers. He says: "When you are confused it's when you don't know enough about a thing to be worried."

Local 'Beauty' Thanks Lions

Miss Sharon Williams, runner-up in the Miss Seminole County contest and an entrant in the Seaside Fiesta at New Smyrna Beach this weekend, was a luncheon guest Tuesday of the Lions Club, her sponsors. Miss Williams spoke briefly on her experiences in being a contestant in the beauty pageant and expressed her appreciation of the Lions Club sponsorship in the East Coast Fiesta.

"I thank you gentlemen for this opportunity," she said, "and I will endeavor to do all that I can to make you proud of your selection." The Lions also heard R. N. Hubbard, Florida representative of the Florida Record Benevolent Assn., Inc., who explained to them the various services, books, records and other equipment now available for the use of the blind. This philanthropic organization which has been active since 1879 provides many free services for blind people, Hubbard said.

He listed among the services six different Braille ed by W. W. Tyre, vice president of the Braille Lending Library; records and magnetic tape; Sight-Saving large type ink print journals; special services for blind parents with sighted children, and correspondence courses.

Aid to the blind is the Lions Clubs International project.

Tax Aid Seen For 'Investors'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional tax writers held out hope today of big tax savings next year for long-term investors who have paper profits in the stock market.

The House Ways & Means Committee voted late Tuesday to slash taxes on profits made from sale of stocks, bonds, homes and other real estate.

The tax reduction, which would be effective next Jan. 1, would amount to 40 per cent for most taxpayers and to 22 per cent for those in high tax brackets.

The actual savings would be even larger for most taxpayers because levies on capital gains would be reduced still further by cuts in income tax rates that the committee plans to approve later in drafting its compromise version of President Kennedy's tax bill.

The most astonishing political announcement of recent years is that of former Minnesota Governor Harold Stassen that next year he might enter presidential primaries in New Hampshire and other states.

Once an esteemed and promising Republican prospect, Stassen began a long political descent in 1948 when he overreached himself in bidding for the GOP presidential nomination.

Four years later he made a pitifully weak second try. Everyone but Stassen seemed to understand he had no chance. After that he ran for governor of Pennsylvania, and then mayor of Philadelphia, and failed each time.

Today it is charitable to say he is in political oblivion. His serious presidential hopes ended 15 years ago. They will not be revived by this serious effort to recapture the past.

Nagging Questions

The Senate Preparedness Committee report that Soviet offensive missiles might be in Cuban caves nearby ready for use deserves a little exploration.

Actually, the committee's observations on this point does not differ in most respects from one made months ago by President Kennedy. There is no reason any difference should exist, since in both instances our intelligence experts are the source of this admission.

In the present state of things, we cannot prove such missiles are hidden in caves, nor can we demonstrate they are not.

The committee, led by Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi, does go beyond anything we have had from the President or other administration sources on one big point.

It says that "assuming maximum readiness at preselected sites, the Soviet mobile medium range (1100 miles) missiles could be made operational in a matter of hours."

This calls for frank comment from the President, Defense Secretary McNamara or a top military official.

Kennedy indicated months ago that while missiles might conceivably be stored in Cuban caves, this nation's regular surveillance of the island was such that we would know quickly if they were brought to the surface and made ready for use.

He implied that the Russians and Cubans would have to repeat the process of erecting suitable bases, which we forced them to halt last October.

The Stennis group seems to suggest that Cuba under Soviet control could prepare sites and locate vital auxiliary equipment without our detection. Only thus, obviously, could missiles hauled out of caves be set to fire within hours.

Yet this conjecture leaves unanswered the question just how these extensive Soviet-Cuban preparations could be managed without giving us a clue.

We are entitled to know on what information and reasoning the committee bases this most crucial guesswork. And, as suggested we are also entitled to hear what the government says about this.

The security of free mankind is at stake in this matter of who has what missiles where. There is no place today for idle speculations that cannot be given some foundation in fact and good sense.

Leftover From Revolution

Bullet scars mar the metal grill work at the entry way to Argentina's General Confederation of Labor headquarters in Buenos Aires and a patch of concrete is a memento to a bomb.

These are the leftovers of the revolution in 1955 which toppled the dictatorship of Juan Peron but left behind more than two million of his angry followers who continue to dream of his return.

Peron drew his power from the "shirtless ones" organized in the General Confederation of Labor (CGT), and although Peron has been gone for eight years, his followers continue to be the decisive factor in Argentine politics. It was fear of their return to power that led Argentina's military forces to depose President Arturo Frondizi 13 months ago, that led to two unsuccessful military revolts against current provisional President Jose Maria Guido last September and in April and which also precipitated the current government crisis.

These bitterly opposing elements, the Peronists on the one hand and the military on the other, now are approaching national elections scheduled for July 7.

Their differences still are unresolved and even should Guido solve his present crisis, there remain more reasons than not to believe it is only the beginning of another series between now and election day.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The hassles between the United States and the United Kingdom on transatlantic air fares is the worst mess international civil aviation has been in since World War II.

For a time the Americans and British were standing eyeball to eyeball, threatening to deny landing rights to each other's planes. Then Washington blinked and backed up.

There are two alternatives. President Kennedy has asked Congress to give the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board the power to fix rates to and from the United States, subject to his approval. Air Transport Assn., which is the American private industry trade organization of civil aviation companies wants the government to have only the power to suspend objectionable rates while negotiations are carried on to adjust them.

Chairman Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee has introduced bills to carry out both the government and the ATA proposals. When Congress finally decides what powers CAB shall have in this field, it will settle a long-standing controversy.

Existing organizations for establishing international air travel rates were set up at the end of World War II. First the prewar European International Air Transport Assn.—IATA—was revived in 1948 for area rate traffic conferences.

In 1946 the Americans and British met at Bermuda to work out the first international air transport agreement. This was the pattern which later was expanded to take international air carriers of about 25 countries into IATA. It has operated successfully for 15 years and fixes rates by unanimous agreement of airline operators.

The current controversy arose from a new package of rate adjustments negotiated by IATA. Foreign carriers, nearly all of which are government subsidized and operating at a loss, wanted a sharp increase in all fares.

The American carriers wanted to continue existing rates but finally agreed to go along on a deal they considered good. It knocked $25 off the first class luxury transatlantic fare. It continued existing group and economy excursion rates which is where the volume traffic and profits are. It cut the 10 per cent discount on round-trip fares to 5 per cent.

The last item amounted to a $27 increase on the transatlantic fare. Foreign carriers insisted on this. American carriers opposed it but gave in.

Here, however, the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board under Chairman Alan S. Boyd entered the picture and disapproved the 5 per cent discount. CAB believes the best way to promote air travel is to push rates downward.

Then the U. S. State Department got into the act in support of CAB through C. Griffith Johnson, assistant secretary of Economic Affairs.

Presumably, though this hasn't been admitted, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Kennedy got involved.

A decision was made to force a showdown with the British, who were prime backers of the small round trip discount.

The British Minister of Transport made a hot speech in Commons and rallied European support to defy the United States. A threat was made to deny British landing rights to American planes if U. S. carriers continued the 10 per cent discount.

The United States could have stuck to its guns and threatened to deny American landing rights to European planes if they sold round trip tickets at the 5 per cent discount, but the administration chickened out.

The current controversy arose from a new package of rate adjustments negotiated by IATA. Foreign carriers, nearly all of which are government subsidized and operating at a loss, wanted a sharp increase in all fares.

Edith has been doubly that. For she has worn a wig. For she has worn a wig. For she has worn a wig.

In case you think I am spoiling your wives, let me quote from Dr. John C. McDermott's recent admirable essay in California Medicine: "The womb's only known useful function."

Yet sexual appeal has nothing to do with childbearing! A woman can even have her womb removed (hysterectomy) at the age of 18 or 25 or 37, or have it cease normally at 45, yet that fact will not alter her physical charm, if.

And that big "IF" means, if she doesn't become almost hypnotized by the erroneous belief that the womb is the barometer of her sex appeal. The vermiform appendix also is tacked on to the bowel, much as the womb is fastened to the sexual apparatus.

Yet you wives know that your womb because you have had your appendix removed! Well, by the very same token, the womb can also be removed or stop functioning due to your arrival at age of 40 to 45, yet you are not diminished in sexual allure.

So, wives, please get help to modern medical facts. Dr. McDermott adds this additional confirmation: "Except for the childbearing function, the uterus (womb) is a dispensable organ."

Not only can a woman get along satisfactorily without it, but without it she is free of certain nuisances and dangers.

In the latter connection, he says that cancer of the womb is the second most common type of cancer in women above the age of 30.

If you wives will just face the facts, you will recall that it is tactile stimulation that whets the erotic passions.

And the tactile nerves are all hooked into the central nervous system that includes your spinal cord and brain.

When you pass the age of 45, you know very well that you do NOT lose the sense of touch.

Nor do your other senses diminish to any great degree. Oh, after the age of 60, maybe we are reduced possibly five per cent in hearing and visual acuity, plus taste and touch.

But that drop from 100 per cent to 95 per cent is not significant. So your sexual desensitization likewise does not drop more than the same five per cent, since eroticism is a tactile sensation.

So send for my medical booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Group Plans To Build Stand In Village

By Mona Grinstead

Tentative plans to build a concession stand in the North Orlando Recreation Area were announced this week by members of the Little League Parent's Auxiliary.

Present proposals call for the stand to be located on the sheltered east side of the Community Building.

The North Orlando Civic Assn. and the Village Council will be approached for donations toward the project. However, it was suggested by Mrs. Anton Kreeck that if other organizations do not wish to assist with the financing that the auxiliary handle the entire project as its contribution to the Recreation Area since it presently is using the Community Building which is financed by the Civic Assn.

Bailey Connects Again To Give Giants Win

Rival players like to kid Ed Bailey about his hometown of Strawberry Plains, Tenn. (pop. 400), but the San Francisco Giants' catcher is having the best laugh these days.

Bailey unloaded another important home run with two mates aboard Wednesday night to earn the Giants a 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

It was the rugged catcher's 11th homer of the season and fifth in his last six games. It also enabled the Giants to increase their National League lead to 1 1/2 games over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who had to settle for a 3-3 standoff against the Braves at Milwaukee when their game was called in the seventh because of a heavy fog.

Bill White's 10th inning homer gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the Houston Colts in the only other NL action.

Bailey's latest homer off receiver John Taitouris gave the Giants a 5-1 lead. The Reds made it close when they picked up a single run in the seventh and Marty Keough hit a two-run homer off Juan Marichal in the eighth. Billy Pierce then took over and preserved Marichal's seventh victory.

The fog rolled in at Milwaukee after the Braves had chased Johnny Podres with a three-run barrage in the sixth to tie the score at 3-3. When the fog remained after a 58-minute wait, the game was called and immediately rescheduled as part of a doubleheader, July 21.

White's blow off Houston reliever Don McMahon gave the Cardinals their second straight 10th-inning victory over the Colts. Houston had tied the score at 2-2 on eighth inning doubles by Brock Davis and Al Spangler.

The ancient mines and diamond mart of Golconda were so rich that the name became synonymous with Oriental splendor.

Nine Game Streak

Twins Riding High

Pitching and power—those are the ingredients that have helped the Minnesota Twins carve out a nine-game winning streak.

The Twins' pitchers have turned in complete games in six of their last seven outings. During this same period, manager Sam Mele's sluggers haven't been sitting on their hands. They've unloaded 15 homers in their last five games.

Dick Stigman contributed his second straight route-going job to the Twins' streak Wednesday night when he allowed only two hits in a 10-1 breeze over the Washington Senators. The fire-balling southpaw pitched no-hit ball after giving up a triple to Minnie Miocso in the first inning and a double to Ed Brinkman in the second. He struck out nine and walked three in raising his record to 4-5.

Vic Power provided the power with a grand-slam homer in the fifth inning and Earl Batley added a three-run blast in the eighth for good measure.

Another nine-game winning streak was snapped when the Kansas City Athletics halted the Baltimore Orioles 5-4 in 11 innings. In the American League's only other action, the Los Angeles Angels downed the Detroit Tigers 4-2. New York at Boston was rained out.

The Orioles finally bit the dust when Ed Charles singled with the bases loaded in the 11th inning to give relief ace Bill Fischer of the A's his seventh victory against a single defeat. Baltimore scored all of its runs in the sixth inning to barge ahead 4-3, but Norm Sieborn knotted it with a solo homer in the bottom of the frame.

Rookie first baseman Charley Dees, who was recalled from Honolulu last Saturday when Bo Belinsky was shipped to the same club, led the Angels to victory with a three-run double in the sixth inning. Albie Pearson accounted for the Angels' other run with a homer off loser Bill Faul.

Dean Chance, making his first start since May 12 when he was relegated to the bullpen, picked up the victory although he was relieved by Julio Navarro in the eighth.

Sign Goodwin

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Baylor halfback Ronnie Goodwin has signed a contract for the 1968 season with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Jones Top Choice In Classic Race

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—It was the field against Parnelli Jones today for racing's richest jackpot, the 47th annual 500-mile auto race.

Jones, a crew-cut 28-year-old, was the first man to officially turn a magic one-minute lap, 130 m.p.h., on the track and this year in qualifying he set both a one-lap record of 151.847 m.p.h. and a four-lap mark of 151.153.

But his background and his practice performances made him an even greater standout in the field of the 33 fastest qualifiers for this stake race which could split up $500,000 among the starters with as much as $150,000 going to the winner.

Jones also was the fastest qualifier last year when he set the previous speed records and he led the field for half the race before he was forced to slow down because of brake failure.

Since his qualifying, he has been the fastest driver on the track, practicing with consistent laps of 148 or 150 m.p.h. to indicate he expected to travel at that pace in the holiday drive-for-pay contest.

Jones, though, can't be an odds-on choice for the struggle expected to last almost 3 1/2 hours. Four former winners were in the field, the defending champion, Roger Ward, Jim Rathmann, Troy Ruttman and A. J. Foyt.

Non-winners also were rated as contenders, particularly two sports car notables, Scotsman Jimmy Clark and Dan Gurney.

Final U.S. Berths Filled In Golf Play

ATLANTA (UPI)—The final eight berths in the sectional trials for the U.S. Open golf championship were filled Wednesday and it still appears the men to watch, in addition to the big name pros, are Bob Charles and Stan Thirkat.

Charles, a 27-year-old left-handed swinger from New Zealand, led the nation in the first round tests, held at 56 cities throughout the United States, with a blazing 65-67-132 at Memphis Tuesday.

Thirkat, a Kansas City pro, carded a neat 133 the day before in his home district trials.

JACK CAOLO, right, receives the most Improved Football Player trophy sponsored by Kader Jewelry and presented by Coach Jim Pigott.

Clemente Suspended In Umpire Rhubarb

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The jostling of umpire Bill Jackowski has cost Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder Roberto Clemente a five-day suspension and a $250 fine.

In a telegram to the fleet outfielder Wednesday, National League President Warren Giles said Clemente's actions "were the most serious reported to our office in several years." The suspension runs through Sunday.

The rhubarb started in the fifth inning of a game Tuesday night with the Philadelphia Phillies here after Clemente was ruled out at first by Jackowski after hitting into a double play.

During five minutes of heated argument, Clemente twice bumped Jackowski bodily.

Clemente complained that the Pirates have been getting the short end of close calls all year. "We don't argue and we don't get them," he said.

Clemente also said close calls at first base cost him "15 to 20 points a year" on his batting average.

Yank Favored In British

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—The betting is that an American will win the British Amateur golf championship again this year—and don't be too surprised if his name turns out to be Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz.

The 41-year-old doctor came up with the best practice round thus far Wednesday over the famed old St. Andrews course, a neat one-under-par 71. He played with 23-year-old Dick Sikes of Springsdale, Ark., and they teamed to beat Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla., and defending British champion Richard Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., 2 up.

Clay Told: You Talk A Lot, Walks Out

LONDON (UPI)—Like any fast-talking circus barker Cassius Clay appreciates an audience.

Wednesday, heavyweight contender Clay, boxing's gift to the world of poetry and erudition, stormed out of a London television studio when an interviewer told him "you talk too much."

Clay, who bills himself as the "Louisville Lip," boasted to television interviewer David Coleman that he once had former heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson "out on his feet" during a sparring session.

Cassius, who has received rough treatment by British boxing writers since his arrival here to prepare for a fight with British heavyweight Henry Cooper, apparently irritated Coleman with his answers.

The one that finally broke Coleman's patience had to do with much money Clay has made for his manager, "I don't know how much he has made. All I know is how much I've made," Clay retorted.

"Mr. Clay, you talk too much," snapped Coleman. "Look here, this is way past my bedtime," came back Clay. "I didn't have to come to this place. If you think I talk too much, I'm just leaving."

And he stormed from the studio.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column I noticed the rather vitriolic letter from DOUG concerning his dislike of tobacco smoke. What amazed me was your approval of a device that would retaliate with an equally disgusting odor. On the basis of this, if the odor of garlic is offensive, why not use a logger's peavey to cram a couple of dozen buds down the throats of garlic eaters? And if you don't like the beehive hair-do, simply bust the wearer over the head with a hockey ax-handle. If you are annoyed because your linoleum is being pitted by ladies' steel heels, take a scythe and slash off their feet at the ankles. Heaven knows we all have to put up with a lot of things we don't especially like, but why not try to tolerate it with grace? If smoke is bothersome, stay away from people who enjoy smoking.

BILL: You rattled the wrong cage. A beehive hair-do harms no one. One can step back a foot or two from another who has eaten garlic. And when you discover that your linoleum is being damaged you can ask the lady to remove her shoes. BUT, the air belongs to everyone. And no one has the right to pollute it. Many people become physically ill from smoke but, sadly enough, the smoker is usually so enslaved by the habit that he neither asks nor cares whether he is offending the next person.

DEAR ABBY: In the obscene of a "retaliator" for non-smokers, I'll tell you how I defend myself against the smoke thoughtless smokers send my way. I pick up a menu or newspaper and fan it back at them. My wife tells me it is extremely rude, but it is no more rude than those who would choke me with their smoke.

DEAR ABBY: It's only a hunch, but observing the recent tirade you launched against smokers, I'll bet ten bucks you were recently told to give up cigarettes and are dying for a smoke.

DEAR AL: Send the ten bucks to the Cancer Society, Sport. I have never smoked and never will.

For a personal, unpublished answer to your letter, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Don't put off writing letters. Send one dollar to Abby for her booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

What would you do with the South hand after East opens with one club? Bobby Wolff of San Antonio decided to jump right to four hearts. This was an all-purpose bid. If his partner had anything, Bobby expected to have a play for four hearts. If his partner didn't Bobby could not be hurt and probably East and West would have a game. Actually East and West can make four spades, but it is doubtful if they would get there in any event.

East cashed three club tricks and continued the suit. Most players would discard a diamond and hope that East would hold the ten of hearts.

don't like to listen to a woman talk, if there is even a sneaking suspicion she knows more about the subject than they do.

A man will listen attentively and with at least a show of respect to any man who sounds off on his ideas, even though it is obvious he is ignorant and poorly informed. Just the fact that he is a man makes those opinions carry some weight.

But let an intelligent, educated, well-informed woman sound off on her ideas about a serious subject—and men not only are unimpressed, but often they aren't even courteous enough to make a pretense of interest.

The lofty attitude of men is in great part responsible for the waste of feminine brains and practical opinions.

Men don't want to learn from women when they can. And they could, often enough, if they were as willing to listen openmindedly to women as they are to other men.

Half of the brains of the country never get a fair hearing, simply because men refuse to take women's ideas seriously.

Miss Jean Wilke, organist, presented a program of spiritual music and accompanied soloist, Miss Clarine Ivey, who sang "This is My Beloved," "Eternally" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of Chantilly lace and satin, featuring a fitted bodice, portrait neckline, long pointed sleeves and a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion, fell from a matching headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white orchids.

Miss Elizabeth Haddon, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a street length dress of pink organza, over taffeta, with a boat neckline, matching pillbox head-dress with circular veil and carried a crescent bouquet of deep pink carnations.

Mrs. William Park, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Robin Huff, Miss Judy Lavender and Mrs. James F. Haddon, all wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor and each carried a crescent bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride's mother wore a blue sheath with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a champagne beige sheath with matching accessories and a green cymbidium orchid.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Educational Building of the Church. The bride's table was overlaid with a cutwork cloth and centered with the tiered wedding cake, flanked by silver candelabra. The bride's book and anniversary candle were on a table at the entrance, presided over by Mrs. Charles Mull.

Flourishing hostesses were Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. Earl Moxley, Mrs. Otto Thomas, Mrs. Donald Reagan and the Misses Sue Lynn Howell, Ann Mahan, Ceni Wheatland and Mary Lynn Thomas. Miss Janet Johnson presented soft background music at the piano, during the reception hours.

For traveling, Mrs. McNeill chose a beige suit, with matching accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. They spent a few days on the East Coast and are now at home at 1805 B. West Pensacola St. in Tallahassee.

VAH-9 Wives Hold Festive Party

A very festive, gay Change of Command Party was held at Mrs. T. B. Wood's home last weekend by the VAH-9 Officers Wives. The party was planned to coincide with the official change of command which took place aboard the USS Saratoga in Naples, Italy, when Cdr. G. W. Kimmons turned the squadron over to Cdr. J. L. Shipman.

During cocktails Mrs. J. L. Shipman presented Mrs. G. W. Kimmons with a beautiful silver punch bowl, a gift to Cdr. and Mrs. Kimmons from the Officers of VAH-9.

Mrs. J. A. deGanahl presented Mrs. Shipman with a pair of silver boot owl earrings, a gift from the Hoot Owl Wives.

Dinner being a covered dish event, the guests were offered a variety of many delicious casseroles, salads and desserts.

During coffee and dessert gag gifts were presented to Mrs. Kimmons and Mrs. Shipman. One of the most interesting was a squadron mascot named Ninah, a very feminine Hoot Owl, dressed in black sequins, with flutery eyelashes and a lovely rhinestone tiara.

The wives also enjoyed movies taken on the cruise and sent home by several of the husbands.

Be very careful not to betray a child's confidences.

Homemakers

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Good afternoon. Well, Mrs. Anna Hansen has come to our rescue for the Pizza recipe that Frances Warren requested. Mrs. Hansen told me she has been making it for years.

Pizza Dough

- 1 pkg. yeast
- 1 tbsp. lukewarm water
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 2 1/2 tps. salt
- 1/2 cup olive oil or cooking oil
- 6 cups sifted flour
- 2 cups warm water

Soften yeast in 1 tbsp. lukewarm water. Put sugar and oil in bowl, add water and yeast mixture, stir well. Add about 1/4 of the sifted flour, beat thoroughly, then gradually add remaining flour. Divide dough in two portions for cookie sheet, or four parts for 12 inch pie plates. Turn onto a lightly floured board and roll out immediately and lightly about 1/4 inch thick. Put on lightly greased cookie sheet and let rise until double in bulk keeping dough warm (about 85 degrees).

Pizza

- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1 large can Italian plum tomatoes
- 2 oz. jar Italian grated cheese
- 1 tsp. oregano salt and pepper (a little cayenne)
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 lb. American cheese, coarsely shredded

When pizza bread dough has risen to double in bulk, brush surface with olive oil. Cover dough with drained tomatoes, cut in small pieces. Sprinkle grated cheese over tomatoes and season well with salt and pepper and cayenne, minced garlic, then spread cheese over all generously. Sprinkle oregano over top. Bake in hot oven 25 degrees about 20 minutes. Serve piping hot.

Here's another one of Rachel Donelson's favorite summer beverages. With summer here and picnic season too this will be swell.

- 1 cup orange juice
- 1 cup lemon juice
- 1 cup white corn syrup
- 2 cups water

Blend ingredients, pour into ice cube trays. Freeze. Serve 2 or 3 cubes in tall glass with ginger ale. Garnish with maraschino cherry.

Had a letter from Thelma Autrey in Hattiesburg, Miss.

She was down here a short time ago visiting relatives and had a chance to read the Corner and liked the recipes. She decided to write and send us some. Here is one of them:

Nutty Crust Cherry Almond Pie

- 1 baked pie shell
- 1/2 cup chopped almonds, if desired in pie crust
- 1 1/2 cup (15 oz. can) Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped

Bake pie shell, allow to cool. Then mix together condensed milk, lemon juice, vanilla and almond extract. Stir until mixture thickens. Fold in whipped cream and spoon into cooled shell. Top with cherry glaze.

Cherry Glaze

- 2 cups (1 1/2-lb. can) pitted tart cherries, drained
- 1/2 cup cherry juice
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. cornstarch

Set aside drained cherries. Blend cherry juice with sugar and cornstarch. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly. Add cherries, spread. Mixture is thickened and

Corner

Basic corn meal pastry

3 ozs. sliced Mozzarella cheese cut in 1/4-inch slices

Brown beef and onion in hot skillet. Stir in seasonings and tomato sauce. Simmer until thickened. Meanwhile, prepare basic corn meal pastry. Roll out to circle about 1/4 inch thick. Fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim and flute edge. Fill pastry with hot meat mixture. Cover with cheese strips. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until cheese is bubbly and lightly browned.

North Orlando To Build Babe Ruth Field

By Mona Grinstead
Decision to build a regulation Babe Ruth baseball diamond in North Orlando was announced this week by the community's Little League Parent's Auxiliary.

Beaver Pelts For Christmas?

By Joan Casselberry
What would your reaction be if your husband brought home eight beaver pelts and said "Here's your Christmas present" or handed you a live King Crab to cook for supper?

These were only two of the unusual experiences which Mrs. Willis Benson, former Casselberry resident, had during her winter and spring on Kodiak Island in Alaska.

Mrs. Benson gave those attending the County Federation of Women's Club meeting held at the Casselberry Woman's Club last Thursday an interesting glimpse of life in our northernmost state.

She and her son Billy joined her husband on Kodiak where he teaches math and science in the Navy Base school. Their elder son, Charles, stayed in Casselberry in order to complete his senior year at Lyman High School and she is in town for his graduation.

Kodiak Island is at the head of the Aleutian chain and is 100 miles long and 50-60 miles in width. The town of Kodiak has a population of 3,000 and the Navy Base, which is located seven miles from the town, has a population of approximately 5,000.

The economy of the island is based primarily on the fishing industry. Some of the varieties of fish found in abundance in the area include salmon, king crab, and smelt. Many people smoke their own salmon and it is a delicious hors d'oeuvre.

Deer, elk and bear on the island provide exciting hunting and there are some cattle ranches. Beaver dams are found on the streams. Fields and slopes are covered with beautiful wildflowers and blueberries, cranberries and salmon berries abound.

There is one bakery and as bread is priced at 30 cents in town and 25 cents on the base. Mrs. Benson soon learned how to bake her own. She also learned how to make that old favorite of the prospectors, "Sourdough Pancakes."

Transportation to Kodiak is primarily by plane and the boat comes from Seattle only twice during the summer. A ferry to be put in operation in 1964 will make the island more accessible to tourists.

Alaska enjoyed a relatively mild winter this year. The temperature varies but the lowest record on Kodiak is nine degrees and the highest for August is 55 degrees and for January, 30 degrees. Several days of high winds, known as Wilia Walls, during the winter forced the closing of schools.

Armed forces radio and television programs, seen without commercials are broadcast from Elmendorf Air Base at Anchorage.

The population includes many retired people, authors, artists and guides who love to live there because of the friendliness of the people and the magnificent scenery.

There is a variety of businesses, a small hospital, and churches of many denominations are found in the small town.

To fill her time Mrs. Benson worked as a substitute teacher and as a clerk in a gift shop. Some of the souvenirs which she exhibited at the Woman's Club were a cribbage board made from walrus tusk, a small totem pole, a belt of hair seal and recipe books containing examples of colorful Alaskan cookery.

She and Charles are looking forward to joining the rest of the family in Alaska soon after his graduation in June.

Little League Parent's Group Okays By-Laws

By Mona Grinstead
Proposed by-laws of the North Orlando Little League Parent's Auxiliary were accepted as read by Mrs. Arthur Rhodes, secretary, at a meeting of the newly organized group held Sunday night in the Community Building at the Village Recreation Area.

The treasurer's report, also read by Mrs. Rhodes in the absence of Mrs. Arthur Ferrin, stated that the auxiliary is in good financial condition and now has a total of $137.90 in the treasury.

Arthur Rhodes, president of the group, read resignations from Mrs. Leonard Stewart as concession stand chairman; Leonard Stewart as finance chairman and Robert Stephenson as general manager and manager of the Little League team.

It was suggested that Stephenson be asked to umpire games since he offered help in other capacities if needed. However, the group decided to leave this matter entirely in the hands of the coaches as they are better qualified to select umpires.

Anton Kreeck was elected to fill the office of manager with Gary Ferrin and Eddie Connelly named as assistants. The group was advised by Charles Kowitz that all decisions made must be approved by the Little League Association before they become final.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Police Protection

The North Orlando Village Council this week announced that within the next few days full time police protection will go into effect in the community.

At the same time the council requested cooperation of all residents and through motorists in obeying traffic laws approaching and traveling within the municipal limits since all intentions are to strictly enforce these laws once the volunteer police department is on 24 hour duty.

The council also issued a special reminder to residents of the village that they will be expected to comply with the dog ordinance which calls for dogs to be on leash, or in the company of the owner, at all times.

It is not the intention of the council, which has met with some delay in organizing its police department, to work a hardship on anyone. However, now that one is organized, the village does intend to see that law and order are maintained without partiality to anyone.

Your cooperation is requested... give it.

Legislators 'Bogged' On Financing Probe

By Larry Verabel
How about a special Joe Tully Appreciation Day here... Joe leaves us soon and no one has done more for this community than the popular Heavy Attack Wing One Commander.

Asked Gordon Frederick if he had any comment about extending the legislative session 30 days, I couldn't make out what he said he was laughing so hard.

City Hall was closed yesterday but it was business as usual for Sonny, Joe and the Mayor. Went out to Pinecrest Inn to eat yesterday and there they were: What's that song Andy Williams sings? "Can't Get Used To Losing You" or to quote Hemingway again but give him credit "Seems like when they get started—they don't leave a guy nothing."

The Mayor said it was a meeting of the city's industrial park board... That was the item some $1,000 was spent on... Remember?

Men's Garden Club continues to keep up the planting along 17-82 by Lake Monroe and someone continues to steal the plants. The Club is offering a $100 reward for any information regarding the thefts... Check with Sid Ives III.

Notice that new addition to the HarCar Aluminum Products Co. plant on Hwy. 17-92.

The Civitan Club who doesn't want publicity, handed over $200 to the Little Red School House last night.

People out Country Club Manor way still complaining about speeding in the area.

Too much speculation and shoe-string operations... that's the word from Tax Collector John Galloway for the giant upswing in delinquent taxes... Take a look at these figures... In the county over 3,000 tax certificates sold for a total of over $115,000... Twice as much as last year... In the city it's the same story... some 418 tax certificates sold for a total of $6,132... Last year's total was only 132 sold for $1,182

Memo to critics of the Pipeline Co. outfit may help bring in a new industry here.

For want of $13,000 we can still use that prep school. City fathers debating on who's gonna foot that brokers fee... MacFadden Foundation says Absolutely No.

Memo to City Attorney Bill Hutchison: Isn't it a federal offense to tape phone conversations and not tell the people involved... Something like invasion of privacy?

I wonder if we would have had an luck with Celery Ave. if it wasn't for Mack Cleveland Jr. in the capitol?

It is presumed in business and club meetings that when a party seconds a motion he or she will say "aye" when the matter comes to a vote. But County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick doesn't always hew to the line. Twice in recent times he has seconded a motion and then voted against the question. He did that Wednesday on the $13 million WinMac shopping center.

What ever happened to that airport in Lake Monroe?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Legislature, pressed for time and money, shrugged aside tax bills until next week's extra session today but bogged down on disagreement over bond financing investigations.

Today is the last day of the biennial 60-day session, but the legislators voted yesterday to meet up to 30 days more, if necessary, to work out taxes to finance $987 million in record spending.

The Senate refused to accept a House amendment to its big bill to investigate bond financing in the state, and also hurriedly passed a substitute bill clamping controls on bond spending and sent it back to the House.

The lower chamber vetoed a similar bond control bill Thursday but Sen. John Mathews Jr., backer of both the investigation and restrictions bills, said it failed because the House loudspeaker system went off and representatives thought they were voting on another matter.

The House amendment which the Senate refused to accept would put the investigation in the hands of the legislative council, Mathews said it could be better handled by a selected interim investigating committee as the original Senate bill proposed.

The investigation would be aimed at all bond and revenue certificate issues in the state for roads and university construction, especially the $187 million refinancing of the state turnpike.

Both Senate and House today passed a batch of local bills to clean up the calendar and work on finances next week.

At 8:15 a. m., the Vatican radio cancelled all regular broadcasts and began "an extraordinary service" in a number of languages.

"After two days of steady improvement, this morning the condition of his holiness worsened following a sudden crisis that took place during the night," the radio said.

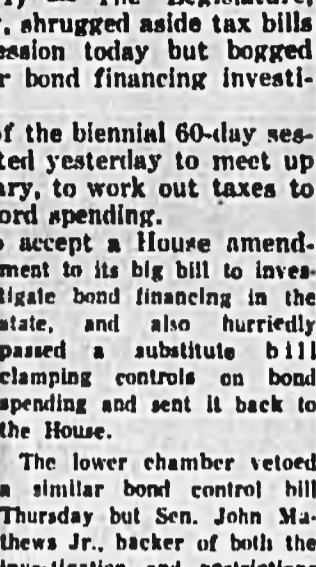

"The Pope has received the sacrament of Extreme Unction with edifying piety." This was broadcast first in Italian and then in French, Spanish, Polish and other languages.

Shadows fell over tiny Vatican state in the heart of the city of Rome as clouds moved across previously sunny skies and radio loudspeakers gave the news that the Pope was dying.

Groups of pilgrims and tourists clustered quietly in St. Peter's Square, looking up to the third story Vatican apartments where the pontiff was nearing the end of a four and a half year reign.

J. DAN WRIGHT of Sanford was named chairman emeritus of the Florida Orange Marketers, Inc. board of directors at a meeting this week. Wright was a former chairman.

JOHN KRIDER, manager of the Chamber of Commerce was reappointed today by the State Legislature to serve on the St. Johns River Canal district board along with John Brunley, also of Seminole County.

Canal District Bill Awaits Bryant's OK

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant was reported ready today to reappoint a St. Johns River Canal district to become law.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Mack Cleveland and passed in the Senate and House, is on the governor's desk awaiting his signature.

Even if he doesn't veto the measure, the bill will become law without Bryant's name on it.

The district, which will include Brevard, Orange, Seminole and Volusia counties, would be controlled by a five-member board.

The directors would serve four terms, but the first board would serve shorter terms in some instances, in order to stagger membership.

Two of the members of the first board will serve four-year terms, one a three-year term, one a two-year term and the fifth a one-year term.

Two of the members of the board will be from Seminole County and one each from the other counties in the district.

"The purpose of the district," the bill says, "shall be to secure funds, receive donations, or acquire lands to be used by the canal authority of the state under the direction and control of the State Board of Conservation."

Each of the members of the directors board will be required to post a surety bond of $10,000 before joining the board. They will select their own director and secretary.

The governor has not indicated when he will name the board, although the board will become law — with or without Bryant's signature if he doesn't veto it — next week.

House Votes To Take Up Impeachment

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House voted today to take up impeachment charges against Pasco Circuit Judge Richard Kelly next Tuesday.

House Speaker Mallery Horne had predicted Thursday that the House would "drop" the matter rather than take up four or five hours of discussion on it when faced with mighty tax problems.

But the report of the Special Investigating Committee which recommended by a 6-1 vote that the House impeach Kelly, was read to the House today by Rep. Richard O. Mitchell, Leon, chairman of the committee.

The report charged that there had been "flagrant violations" of the code of ethics governing circuit judges by Kelly. It repeated charges by the Pasco bar that an "irreparable breach" existed between the bench and the bar because of Kelly's actions.

Dead were Mrs. Lawson and her youngest son, David, 10, and her two children, Sandra, 16, and John, 15, were rushed to a hospital in Rockledge, then transferred to the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando. Both were in critical condition with bullet wounds in the head.

Mrs. Lawson used a .22 caliber rifle to shoot the children, then seized a shotgun and shot herself in the abdomen.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — About 500 Negro college and high school students—220 of them arrested during integration demonstrations Thursday—packed a courtroom today for a hearing on the arrests.

Organization of the County Zoning Commission; realizing justice of the peace districts; permitting Oviedo to reorganize its tax collecting structure to coincide with the county policy; permitting the county to regulate junk or salvage yards; permitting the School Board to set the superintendent's salary.

The House approved a bill providing for water and fire protection for Altamonte Springs.

Senator Cleveland said these measures have been introduced in the House: Giving the circuit judge a salary increase; providing changes in the Sanford police relief and pension fund; a new charter for Casselberry; repealing sheriff's fees for service process in view of a new statewide uniform measure; allowing Seminole Memorial Hospital 30 days after the close of its fiscal year to submit a statement of operations to the County Commission; calling for a special community election for incorporation of Fern Park.

Organization of the County Zoning Commission; realizing justice of the peace districts; permitting Oviedo to reorganize its tax collecting structure to coincide with the county policy; permitting the county to regulate junk or salvage yards; permitting the School Board to set the superintendent's salary.

The House approved a bill providing for water and fire protection for Altamonte Springs.

Senator Cleveland said these measures have been introduced in the House: Giving the circuit judge a salary increase; providing changes in the Sanford police relief and pension fund; a new charter for Casselberry; repealing sheriff's fees for service process in view of a new statewide uniform measure; allowing Seminole Memorial Hospital 30 days after the close of its fiscal year to submit a statement of operations to the County Commission; calling for a special community election for incorporation of Fern Park.

A future policy of harmonious co-operation and better understanding was reached mutually by the City Commission and the Chamber of Commerce shortly before noon today.

Mayor Tom McDonald used The Sanford Herald as a "whipping post" to explain the past differences between the two bodies, charging the Chamber released personal telegrams relative to the Sanford Military Academy to The Herald.

T. E. Tucker, president of the Florida State Bank at the outset of the tape-recorded meeting, said to McDonald: "I don't know what you are talking about; I have another appointment," and he walked out of the session.

McDonald opened the meeting by claiming there was not proper co-operation between the Chamber and the City Commission, in that the Chamber had endeavored to place the Commission in an "embarrassing position and in bad light by releasing information to the newspaper."

He referred to a telegram from J. P. Wiegars, New York City, chairman of the MacFadden Foundation, sponsors of the academy, to John Krider, Chamber manager, in which Wiegars charged the Commission with "governmental interference."

Chamber President F. E. Roumillat Jr. read a prepared statement expressing appreciation for the opportunity "to appear before the City Commission in a spirit of co-operation, for we feel that understanding among the various governmental bodies and agencies is necessary to create an area of trust and unity."

However, Roumillat's statement concluded: "I trust that this is the purpose for which the meeting has been called; otherwise, it is questionable that anything beneficial will result."

McDonald requested of Roumillat whether the Chamber planned to answer The Herald's editorial, "All Depend on Those Ox Is Gored," in Thursday's edition. Roumillat explained the Chamber was not involved and the Commission should "resolve its differences with the newspaper."

The Chamber president continued that the primary concern "is that we want the school and need it."

Commissioner Joe Baker queried the Chamber officials why the Chamber would not "take a stand there" (meaning in the City's differences with The Herald).

It was at this point that Tucker told McDonald, "I don't know what you are talking about" and walked out.

Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the Chamber's long range committee on education, cleared the air somewhat by suggesting that "we leave bygones be bygones and work together to build the community."

McDonald pressed Roumillat and Krider for information relative to any late developments with the Foundation in bringing the military academy to Sanford. The Chamber officials finally acknowledged nothing has been accomplished since the Commission formally ratified the negotiations.

Race Tensions Flare In North; Two Slashed

By United Press International
Two policemen were slashed and several persons were injured today in a new flare-up of violence at a Philadelphia construction site where hundreds of Negro demonstrators protested alleged job discrimination.

One patrolman was slashed on the wrist and another on the arm during a fight which broke out when Negro pickets refused to move to permit workers to report to their jobs.

Five other policemen and about 200 pickets were cut and bruised in the melee.

The workers got through to the school construction site which had been the target of protests for a week. It is located in a largely Negro neighborhood in North Philadelphia.

In the South, authorities at Jackson, Miss., were prepared to arrest racial demonstrators by the thousands. Two large buildings at the state fairgrounds were set up as temporary jails.

The city of Durham, N. C., announced it would open its municipal swimming pools on a segregated basis, a move taken earlier in the week by Atlanta.

Geel Moore, the president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) branch in Philadelphia, said the picket protests would continue until more Negroes are employed in skilled trades at the school site.

Tropical Storm Developing?

MIAMI (UPI)—The Miami Weather Bureau said today it was "watching closely" a big Caribbean squall band which could possibly develop into a tropical storm.

Heavy rain and wind gusts up to 52 miles an hour were reported over a 700-by-350-mile area of the Caribbean.

"We are watching the area closely. Turbulent areas like these sometimes become tropical storms," said forecaster Gilbert Clark.

He added that there was "no indication at this time" of a tropical storm developing because of the area's huge size.

The band of turbulent weather stretched from the Central and Eastern Bahamas down across the Eastern tip of Cuba and to a point about 200 miles south-southwest of Jamaica.

It was expected to drift slowly northward.

Cyclone Death Toll At 10,000

DACCA, Pakistan (UPI) — Authorities feared today that the death toll from a cyclone and tidal waves in East Pakistan would exceed 10,000.

The toll mounted every hour as delayed reports from the stricken areas reached Dacca. Officials believed the casualties would leap to between 10,000 and 15,000.

Press reports estimated that 10,000 other persons were missing and 2 million homeless in the affected 178-mile stretch along the Bay of Bengal.
