Sanford Garden Club Entertains Famous Guests

A beautifully decorated buffet and an enthusiastic crowd of the Sanford Garden Club ladies welcomed two distinguished guests at a noon reception yesterday at the Shrine building. Mrs. Fred B. Noble and Miss Mary Noble, well-known writers and speakers, were guests of honor from Jacksonville.

Miss Mary Noble spoke on "You Can Grow Orchids," which is the title of her popular book now in its second printing. "My start in this hobby began simply with the urge—highly feminine—of wanting to wear orchids, lots of them and not only for special occasions, so I decided to raise them. Mitigating against this were two old facts: I was a working girl with not much spare time and I had much spare money. But I made a beginning and have found it most rewarding. What I did you can do."

"In our favor is our location in Florida, on the edge of the tropics where one may avail herself of favorable climatic conditions." Miss Noble displayed specimens of her home grown orchids, from the parent type, Vanda, the Sandiana, through mutants of various colors, of purple beaked petals fringed with autumnal brown, to lavender and pink, a cross of Arachnis and Vanda and a truly different blue orchid. Many had Japanese-Hawaiian names.

A question and answer period followed, with advice given on soil temperature, plenty of air and soft rains which would be encouraged to encourage this stuporously.

Mrs. Fred Noble's inspirational talk was on "Your Own Garden." "We are all on a fortunate," she stated, "in owning a piece of land which we can garden as we please. Let's be venturesome in trying out new ideas. Let's enjoy our neighbors' gifts of cuttings. I am glad for individuality in one's landscape. We are happy people in that we are permitted to work with our hands in our own gardens. In Russia, where people are regimented, with many living in collective units, we find that their gardens, too, are mobilized. There is no little plot where a housewife may putter about, relaxing from community effort. There are public parks (for show-off) but no individual home gardens, so far as travelers can find out, and no time to work in one, either."

"There we have beautification of our towns, some with hibiscus, of which there are as many gorgeous specimens. Also, flowering trees. Where else may one obtain so much beauty for so long a time and for so little money, as in a Florida flowering tree? Gardening brings us a spiritual message, for God gave us plants and flowers, coupled with the talent of discovering, for ourselves new varieties. I believe with Luther Burbank that nothing builds character like gardening. And if we help a child to wonder about the mysteries of life in a seed's planting, it's miraculous growth, we have done much for ourselves, too."

The welcoming committee included Mrs. Fred R. Ganat, president; Mrs. George McCull, Mrs. Charles H. Cole, Mrs. George Harlan, Mrs. Henry Simpson, vice president; Mrs. L. E. Spencer, Mrs. Arne Erickson and Mrs. Karljole Housholder.

Generally fair through Saturday; low tonight 63-64.

Buyers Swamp Stores As Big Sale Continues

The big two-day shopping event in Sanford will continue through tomorrow as the Sanford Merchants Association sponsored "Banner Days" brings some of the biggest values ever offered in Sanford stores to local and surrounding area home owners.

"There are a lot of people in town today," said Merchants Association President B. E. Perkins Jr., and he added, "there are a lot of people in the stores shopping."

Huge display banners announcing the big event were on display in store windows and across store fronts yesterday and this morning. Every store in the downtown area was filled this morning with clerks in every establishment taking care of the early on rush of shoppers. Parking meters were covered this morning with paper bags which were free parking in the downtown metered areas throughout the day today and tomorrow. Authorization for the free parking came from the office of City Manager Warren E. Knowles.

Also available for free parking was the Municipal Parking Lot on Commercial Ave. between Palm and Wood Aves. This morning, nearly all parking stalls in the Municipal Parking Lot area were taken.

A larger crowd is expected to visit downtown Sanford tomorrow as local merchants display hundreds of items from their fall and winter stocks along with special purchases for the Banner Days event.

Sanford Merchants, through their cooperative efforts in the Sanford Merchants Association, emphatically stated that Banner Days event "is not a stock clearing sale at all, but a sale where the latest and most up-to-date merchandise is featured at amazingly low prices."

Shoppers on the street this morning after completing their purchases are loaded with huge packages of merchandise, significant of the attractive prices that are being offered in Sanford stores during the Banner Days sales event.

Sanford merchants are prepared to take care of the crowds tomorrow which will be in Sanford for Banner Days bargains. "We are ready to take care of the and to serve them," it was said today as the big event got underway at 9 o'clock.

Lines Not Vines, is this mass of cable hanging from overhead. These are the cables to be connected into dial equipment which will be erected into position next week. One of the many men engaged in bringing these lines and cables into the new building on S. Laurel Ave. can be seen partially hidden (in plain shirt) as he works on another line to be connected.

Inter-Club Meet To Hear Herlong

Every civic and service club in the city will be represented in the inter-club meeting to be held Monday noon at the Episcopal Church Parish House when Cong. A. S. (Syd) Herlong Jr. will be the speaker originally scheduled to address the Sanford Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting.

Herlong, when informed of the desire of other clubs to join in the meeting, expressed his pleasure at the interest shown in the accomplishments of the last congress, the subject of his talk.

Joining with Rotary will be the following organizations: Business and Professional Women's Club, Pilot Club, Kiwanis, Lions and Jaycees. Mrs. Roberta Gatchel plans to serve a turkey dinner with all the fixings at the regular rate charged the luncheon clubs. Club secretaries are asked to be at the door promptly at 11:45 a. m. to check in their members.

A group of nearly 200 is expected to be welcomed by Rotary's president, Dr. Charles L. Perazzo. Program chairman for the occasion, Bill Kirk will introduce Cong. Herlong. Congressman Herlong will be met at the city limits on West First St. Monday morning by a motorcade which will accompany him to the Seminole County court house where he will be available throughout the day to talk with his constituents with the exception of the noon luncheon period when he will speak to a joint meeting of the Sanford civic clubs.

Congressman Herlong will be honored at a dinner given in his honor Monday night at Jim Spencer's Restaurant by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee. The dinner will be held at 6 o'clock. Invitations to the dinner were issued Tuesday by the Secretary of the local committee, Robert S. Blihmier.

Following Monday night's dinner honoring the 5th District Congressman, Herlong will address a Democratic Rally to be held at the corner of First St. and Magnolia Ave., according to Andrew Caraway, chairman of the activities throughout the day.

Other prominent Seminole County citizens on the platform with Herlong Monday night will be Representatives Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Gordon V. Frederick, and James H. Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee.

Caraway, chairman of arrangements for Herlong's visit here Monday, said that a huge crowd is expected to greet the Congressman Monday night as he makes his bid for reelection.

District Governor Will Visit Local Pilot Club Tuesday

Mrs. Marie Gleason of Ocala, district governor of District Four, Pilot International will make her official visit to the local Pilot Club on Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Mrs. Gleason will be honored with a dinner in the Yacht Club at 6:30 p. m. after which a business session will be held with Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson presiding.

All members are requested to bring their packages for gifts for the "Christmas on the High Seas" project, sponsored by the American Red Cross. The gifts will be individually wrapped following the meeting and turned over to the local Red Cross chapter.

Union Schedules Session Tuesday

A meeting of members of a federal employees union, organized at the Sanford Naval Air Station about 2 1/2 months ago will be held at the air station's auditorium on Tuesday, Oct. 30 at 3:15 p. m.

Purpose of the meeting, according to a member of the Executive Committee, will be to elect officers for the next fiscal year beginning in November of this year. The local union at the Sanford Naval Air Station is affiliated with the National Federation of Federal Employees.

Oviedo Man Cut In Tavern Fight; Hearing Today

An investigation will be conducted by Justice of the Peace Theo Aulin, in Oviedo, into the last Friday night slaying of Camby Kimble, 33-year-old Army man of Oviedo.

Constable George Kelsey said that Kimble attempted to step into a fight last Friday night about 11:30 at the Seminole Tavern, north of Oviedo.

In the scuffle that followed, Kimble was cut across the back and possibly the stomach. He is now confined in the Orlando Air Force Base Hospital.

Kelsey arrested William Angus Neel, a convict guard at Cocoa, and lodged him in the Seminole County jail. However, Neel was later released for lack of evidence.

Listed as witnesses, on the record file at the Seminole County Sheriff's office were: Roy Alford and Jewel Burton of Oviedo, Tony Summersell and James High of Geneva.

The Justice of the Peace hearing this afternoon is being held at 3 o'clock to look into the assault.

"There may be another arrest and others involved," said Kelsey.

Kimble, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kimble of Oviedo, has been in the army for 12 years and is now stationed at Charleston, S. C.

Auxiliary Members Report Successful District Confab

A representative group from Sanford was in Winter Park yesterday at the East Central District of the Association of Florida Hospital Auxiliaries second annual conference.

The meeting, an all day one, was held in the Tree Top Room at the Langford Hotel.

Hostess auxiliaries were the Hospitality Guild of the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital, the Orange Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, and the Winter Park Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Attending the conference from the Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary were Mrs. A. W. Epps Sr., president; Mrs. A. B. Peterson, Mrs. J. N. Blackwelder, Mrs. Alleen Richter, Mrs. Sadie Berry, Mrs. Robert Feyl of De Bary, and Mrs. Nancy Gray of Lake Mary. Mrs. Epps said this morning, "We came away enthused and informed. We are the newest of the auxiliaries to be taken in."

"We had the feeling, after hearing reports, that the local auxiliary had done a wonderful job, and we felt doubly proud," Mrs. Epps said.

"Some of the other clubs have staged the 'Follies' successfully, according to reports, and we are staging the same one here in February to secure funds for an orthopedic table for our hospital," said Mrs. Epps.

The highlight of the conference, said Mrs. Epps, was an address by Mrs. Tracy B. Hare, State Director and Past President of the statewide auxiliary.

The conference was attended by representatives of ten other auxiliaries other than the local one.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Maxwell Aultick, District Chairman of Orlando.

Warrant Is Issued For Former Bank Employee's Arrest

Jack B. Roxton Missing Nearly 2 Weeks From Desk At Atlantic National Bank

The possibilities that embezzlement charges will be made against a former employee of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank in Sanford are growing more imminent as auditors probe into the records of the Personal Loan Department of the Bank.

Already, an investigator of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been in Sanford relative to the disappearance of one of the bank's employees.

A search is now being conducted for Jack B. Roxton, a former vice president and manager of the Personal Loan Department, of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, who has not been at his desk for the past two weeks.

The disappearance of Roxton has caused a flurry of rumors in and around Sanford for the past week.

The Sanford Herald, in contacting the United States Marshal's office in Orlando learned of the warrant issued for Roxton's arrest. The warrant was issued by U. S. Commissioner James S. Byrd, Commissioner for the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida, Orlando Division which read as follows: for "making a false entry into the books of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank with intent to defraud such bank, said bank being a national bank, while an officer of said bank."

The U. S. Marshal's office said "there is a warrant issued."

Roxton is now a fugitive and is the subject of a widespread search.

Robert J. Bosman, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank this morning, said that he is not making any statement relative to the case. However he said "We are in the process of a routine audit and should anything develop or be amiss the bank is amply covered by insurance."

The release of the news concerning the warrant issued by the U. S. Commissioner in Orlando will quell many rumors which are circulating throughout the area.

McAllister To Speak At Chiefs Club; Attendance Urged

An important meeting of the Seminole Chiefs Club was announced this morning by Program Chairman Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. for Tuesday night, Oct. 23 at the Pinecrest School Auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Epps stated that notice of the meeting is being mailed to each member of the Seminole Chiefs Club in an effort to stimulate greater interest in the group which is supporting and focusing attention on local athletic programs.

The highlight of the meeting will be an address by Don McAllister, Sports Director of WDBO-TV.

There will be a report on membership and a report on the Junior High School football teams, said Dr. Epps.

In addition, he said, there will be an introduction of honorary members.

Also, an important part of the meeting will be the showing of a film of the 1934 Florida Clemson game which was a 6-6 tie.

A full attendance of members and those interested in becoming members of the Seminole Chiefs Club is urged, he said.

Next meeting of the Seminole Chiefs Club, to follow the Oct. 23 meeting at Pinecrest, will be held on Nov. 6 this meeting will be a barbecue at the Sanford Elk's Club when the All-American from Ohio State, Ensign John Burton is slated to speak.

The Nov. 6 meeting will also feature a film of the Florida Rice game.

Mrs. Mary Detyens Seeks FSNA Post

Mrs. Mary Detyens Superintendent of Nurses at Seminole Memorial Hospital of Sanford is a candidate for First Vice-Chairman of the NSNA Section of the Florida State Nurses' Association.

The 1935 Convention will be held at the Governor's Club Hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Oct. 21-24 and the election will be held during the Convention.

REV. WILFRED ALDRIDGE (Staff Photo)

Rev. W. Aldridge Tells Woman's Club Of Foreign Travels

DE BARY—The Plantation Estates Woman's Club met this week at the mansion for a buffet luncheon at which they welcomed 25 new members.

The guest speaker was the Rev. Wilfred Aldridge who talked on his last year's travels, with special reference to Yugoslavia where, he stated, the people are friendly and most anxious to become acquainted with Americans.

In a speech dealing between serious reflections and hilarious comments the Rev. Aldridge described this country which for the most part is so unknown to us, where a little U. S. money buys much in hours. "When it was learned that I was a parson there was much difficulty in obtaining a passport but when once received and I called on the different religious orders, I found that is actually freedom of religion in their country."

Close-up of a nerve?

No. It's just a rope... at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."
 The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:
 It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.
 With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted... he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.
THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'The Bad Seed' playing at the Ritz Theatre beginning Sunday

'Bad Seed' Opens Sunday At Ritz

Warner Bros. brings to the screen what is reportedly the most shocking film ever dared to be produced, "The Bad Seed," opening Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Producer-director Mervyn LeRoy, one of Hollywood's leading directors, signed six of the best actors direct from the stage play, to re-create their roles for the screen: Nancy Kelly, Patty McCormack, Ellen O'Hara, Henry Jones, Evelyn Varden, and

"The Bad Seed" deals with the controversial theme that evil can be inherited, and in the film, Nancy Kelly, portrays a mother whose most horrifying fears about herself are confirmed by the evil in her daughter.

Originally a novel by William March, the story was adapted for the stage by one of America's greatest playwrights, Maxwell Anderson. John Lee Mahin wrote the screen-play for Warner Bros.

Nancy Kelly returns to the screen after an absence of several years which found her one of the more occupied performers of the New York stage. In that interim, Miss Kelly won the highly coveted Antoinette Perry Award for the best performance by an actress for her performance in "The Bad Seed." The award rates comparable to that of motion picture's Academy Award.

"The Bad Seed" introduces to the screen the highly-praised dramatic talents of Patty McCormack. She is seen in the pivotal role of the girl whose angelic smile hides a bad streak which reportedly will shock the most blasé film fan.

The role of the strange janitor is again in the hands of Henry Jones whose outstanding performance promises to rate high with filmgoers and critics.

Mervyn LeRoy has been a consistent member of the "Champion of Chamberlains," an honor bestowed upon only few film producers. He has many times in the past proven his imaginative leadership, bringing films like "Wizard of Oz," "Little Caesar," "Quo Vadis," and "Mister Roberts" to the screen.

The shocking theme of "The Bad Seed" became one of Warner Bros.' most closely guarded secrets. LeRoy actually filmed the story behind locked doors, and purposely withheld the story's crushing climax from even his cast until the scenes were filmed. "The Bad Seed" is a Mervyn LeRoy Production.

Curtis Scores Strong Role In Rawhide Years

Popular Tony Curtis has scored another smash action-film assignment in his new starring role with Colleen Miller and Arthur Kennedy in Universal International's Technicolor film, "The Rawhide Years," which opens tonight at the Prairie Lake Drive-In Theatre.

Tony has been brought to the screen in Arabian Knight stories, prizefight and sports car racing films which leaned heavily on the action side, but his current role as a river steamboat gambling adventurer tops his previous films in the action category. The fact that a qualified veteran film stunt man recently told a syndicated film writer that Curtis comes closest among the current crop of leading men to emulating the late and great Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. in screen daring, is strongly sustained in the unfolding of "The Rawhide Years."

Curtis becomes a fugitive at the outset of "The Rawhide Years" when he becomes a prime suspect in a murder aboard a river boat. Curtis rides the fugitive trail for three years before his decision to return to the scene of the gambling murder and free himself of the charges. His journey is rudely interrupted on the trail when he is relieved of his money by a bold but lovable saddle tramp played by Arthur Kennedy.

When Curtis outmaneuvers Kennedy and regains his possessions, he has become friends and pressed toward Curtis' original destination.

Curtis' homecoming finds his fiancée, a gambling hall entertainer played by Colleen Miller, the prize and joy of gambling hall proprietor Peter Van Eyck.

When the young adventurer is given reason to believe that Van Eyck was involved in the river boat murder, Curtis is once again forced to become a fugitive. This time he is pursued by Van Eyck's henchmen.

The swiftly-paced film reaches its exciting climax when Curtis and Kennedy outmaneuver the river pirate murderers and the former is cleared of the murder count that had been hanging over his head for three years.

"The Rawhide Years" was directed by Randolph Mate and produced by Stanley Rubin, William Demarest and William Gargan head the strong supporting cast.

ECONOMIC SURVEY TO BE MADE

TALAHASSEE, Fla. (Special) — State Socialist Herman Gunter said today that Gee and Jensen, West Palm Beach consulting engineers, had been hired to make an economic survey of the proposed $100-million canal.

The survey was asked by the 1955 Legislature and Dr. Gunter was designated to supervise the study. A $15,000 appropriation was made for the work. A report will be made to the 1957 Legislature.

United Nations Observes 11th Anniversary Oct. 24; Support It!

"To... live together in peace with the other as good neighbors" is the purpose of the United Nations.

And on United Nations Day, October 24, 1956, we celebrate the 11th anniversary of the 92-nation organization.

Last year there were many ways to celebrate United Nations Day—a children's party in Copenhagen; a sunrise service and the pealing of bells in Manila; a dance in Mexico City symbolizing the rhythm of a common purpose: "fires of joy" on the hills of Togoland.

Why do people all over the world celebrate this day? Partly, perhaps, because they are conscious of some of the things which have been made possible through the machinery of the United Nations, but more, more because the day symbolizes for them a hope and a faith: hope that peace may be preserved in the world, and faith that, in acting together, nation with nation, good may come for all.

Such hopes and desires are centered in the United Nations which was founded eleven years ago in a world scourged by war to provide the means by which men might live together in peace.

And peace the United Nations Charter recognizes, is no negative thing, no mere avoidance of war. It is a positive way of life which must be based on justice between men and between nations, on the sharing of the necessities of life and the good things of the earth — its material riches and its wealth of knowledge — and on the brotherhood of man.

These are not new ideas. For man's great desire for peace goes back a long way. What is new about this age of ours is that for the first time in his history, mankind, as has been said, dares to believe it practical to build a better life for the whole human race.

On and for these purposes, the United Nations was founded.

We observe the 11th anniversary of the United Nations — and place before our readers the fact that the basis on which the United Nations should be judged is whether it provides the means for building international peace and fellowship.

It is realized that the United Nations could never have been founded if the people of the world had not wanted it. It can never accomplish its purpose if it lacks their support.

Indifferences

A curious thing is happening, so far as shots to prevent poliomyelitis are concerned. All over the country, the program to bring about universal vaccination is pushing up against a dead weight of indifference.

The causes of this indifference are hard to pin down. But the fact of it is indisputable. Millions of persons to whom the polio vaccine is now available are not getting it. Though the bulk of these are adults, many thousands of children—especially older children—also are included.

For instance, in the Florida Polio News, a bulletin issued by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, it was revealed that the percentage of eligible population, age 0-19 receiving one or more injections of Salk Vaccine purchased with federal funds or supplied by the Foundation, up to June 1, 1956 in Seminole County was 21.4.

The highest percentage of the eligible population receiving the Salk Vaccine shots was in DeSoto County with 41.5, while the lowest was Lafayette County with 9.1.

The figures according to the report, were obtained from reports of infections sent to the State Board of Health.

Cost of the shots may have deterred some adults. This can scarcely be true in the case of pregnant mothers however, or in the case of children under 20. For those groups, government vaccine is available without charge and the only cost involved is the doctor's fee. "Thousands of children," the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said recently, "face the needless prospect of a lifetime of crippling unless unused federal funds for purchase of Salk Vaccine in most states are promptly put to the purpose for which they were allocated."

In some states, doctors are being notified that federally-purchased polio vaccine is still available for the asking. The National Foundation also is urging adults to be vaccinated, and has announced that it will spend 10 million dollars to buy shots for families that cannot afford the vaccine. At least half of the states has approved use of commercial vaccine supplies for adults.

When the vaccine is available, it is foolish not to use it. For though millions have now been vaccinated, all those not vaccinated are still vulnerable to this terrible disease. Common sense says: If possible, be immunized.

Candidates who feel optimistic because of the cheering crowds that greet their appearances should remember Oliver Cromwell's remark when he was told how many thousands had come to hear him speak: "Twice as many would have come to see me hanged."

Pigeons have been timed at more than 90 miles an hour over an 80-mile flight. Unless you're a pigeon, however, such speeds are not recommended.

Ruth Harlam Builds Guided Missiles

By HAI HOYLE
GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—There is a young gal engineer here who holds down a top job in building America's guided missiles — but admits she can't fix her own motor.

"I can change a tire," said Ruth Harlam, smiling. "But if anything goes wrong with the motor, I take it to the garage. Just like everybody else."

The current national shortage of trained engineers has broken down much of the old antipathy against career women in this field. At 32, Miss Harlam, dark-haired and quietly attractive, is a rising star in the world of the atomic era.

She is a project supervisor in developing launching mechanisms for two key weapons in the nation's defense arsenal—the Talos and Bomarc guided missiles. She directs a staff of 23 male draftsmen and engineers in the laboratory of the American Machine Foundry Co.

It sounds like an unfeminine job, but Miss Harlam was advanced to it because of the outstanding work she did on such other unfeminine projects as a new howitzer, an anti-aircraft gun and a tank.

The gal is thoroughly feminine herself. She wears dresses in the laboratory, donning slacks only when her job sometimes makes them more practical. She likes to knit and would rather cook than eat out, eventually hopes to marry and have a family.

Miss Harlam, who was born in Berlin and came to this country in 1938, worked her way through college as a sewing machine operator. She speaks, writes and reads four languages, now studying night to win her doctorate in engineering.

"I got in to this by accident," she recalled. "I started doing some tracing work for my brother who was studying drafting. But he wound up in sales work, and I ended up an engineer."

Miss Harlam blushed when asked if her knowledge of thermodynamics might operate as a barrier to romance by making her too critical of men, who are usually more thermal than dynamic.

"No, I don't think so," she said. "Men are human, after all, and not an engineering problem. There is no predictable scientific law on how two people fall in love."

She has found neither her sex nor her youth such a handicap in supervising men engineers senior to her.

"The don't resent me," she said. "In engineering work, what determines how a thing gets done is whether it is right or wrong. Whether a girl says it or a man makes no difference."

"Girls with the right training and the right attitude toward their

Ike, Stevensen Repeating Selves

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The longer this campaign lasts the more President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson sound like phonograph records of themselves.

They've been repeating themselves—not only in their attacks, promises, claims and counter-claims—but particularly in some of the words they use.

This might be expected in a campaign and must be due to one of three reasons:

1. They can't think of new words — or 2. they like the old ones so much they can't bear to part with them or 3. they think using them over and over is goal politics.

If this campaign sounds dull, it may be because the candidates are beginning to make one speech sound pretty much like another. One of Eisenhower's favorite words is "peace." He works that one overtime, using it in practically every speech. Although he says "peace" isn't an issue in this campaign, he's made it sound like a big one.

It's not hard to guess why: The President and his advisers probably decided that — since there's no big-scale shooting in the world and the Korean War ended during his administration — it's one of his best selling points. He manages to bring Korea into most of his speeches some way.

Stevensen has actually taken out a copyright on a few words and phrases which he bounces off the Republicans every chance he gets.

With these words, sometimes arranged in new combinations, he accused the Republicans of "complicity" and "political cynicism" and of being "stalled on dead center." He says they are "amug" and "put up stubborn opposition to new ideas."

While he says the Republicans haven't kept their 1952 campaign promises — in those words — he sometimes gives them a run by jaxing up the same idea with little color, such as saying the Republican promises are "checks that bounce."

Eisenhower is a great man for "facts" and "honesty" and "telling the truth." Those words pour through his speeches as regularly as a night watchman making his rounds and punching a time clock.

Stevensen — perhaps because he has talked far more than Eisenhower in this campaign — has a larger vocabulary of staid words and phrases which he pulls out, dusts off, and plays over and over.

One of his specialties: "The Democratic party is the party of the people." This is often a preliminary for him to accuse the Republicans of being "indifferent" to the "little man" and the "small business man" and the "small farmer."

He alternately accuses the Republicans of "indifference" and of an "unfeeling attitude."

The phrase which has brought him perhaps the most lively response—at least from Eisenhower—under whose skin it seems to get—is the repeated complaint that the present White House occupant is a "part-time president."

For Veterans

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am a totally disabled veteran and I applied for a waiver of premiums on my GI insurance policy. But I continued to pay my premiums until VA informed me my application for waiver was approved. I understand that I have a refund due me. Instead of receiving it in cash, could I leave it on deposit with VA to pay future premiums if and when my disability improves to the point where I no longer would qualify for waiver?

A. You may leave the money with VA. But you must authorize VA in writing to use the funds to pay future premiums.

Q. I applied to VA for Vocational Rehabilitation under Public Law 804 for disabled Korea veterans. I have not yet started my training. Meanwhile, my disability rating has been reduced below 10 percent. Will I still be allowed start?

A. No. Veterans whose compensable disabilities are reduced below 10 percent may not be authorized vocational rehabilitation training. However, veterans who already started training, and then had their rating reduced, would be permitted to continue their course.

Q. My son qualifies for schooling under the War Orphans Education program. He now has an Atomic Energy Commission scholarship to study physics. Could he receive the War Orphans allowance while studying under the scholarship?

A. No. If a student has any sort of scholarship paid for by the United States—such as an AEC scholarship—he would not qualify for allowances under the War Orphans program. This would constitute a duplication of benefits paid from the Federal Treasury, and the law prohibits such duplication.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their GI benefits should write or visit the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

Jean and Bill Stetson of Fason entertained Betty and Jim Guy, and Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Falaska Wednesday night.

John and Dodie King of VAH-9 have bought a boat. This will be Johnny's project for the coming months.

Today is Beryl Swinson's birthday. Happy Birthday, and many more of them.

Millie Thomas and Betty Harlett of VAH-9 had lunch with Jane Miller Wednesday. Here is the recipe for the soup that Jane served. Millie says it is delicious, and urged me to pass it on.

Lobster Bisque

1 can tomato soup
1 can green pea soup
2 cups light cream
1/2 cup sherry
1 can lobster
Mix thoroughly, and then heat slowly over low flame. Add lobster, and heat for two minutes. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Serve with hot biscuits and preserves.

There will be a buffet supper at the B. O. Q. Sunday night. Dinner will be served from five thirty until seven-thirty. Children will be 13c and adults $1.50.

Jack Schirard of Loch Arbor shot a large rattlesnake in the neighborhood Wednesday. The rain has put them on the move, so warn your children about them, especially if they play in high grass.

John and Spook Hook will have as their guests this weekend, P. H. and Helen Wilson of VAH-1, formerly in HATTU. Paul and Helen used to live at Lake Minnie, in the apartment that Fran and Dick Murray vacated during the deployment of VAH-6. They have many friends in this area.

BPW Hears Talk On United Nations

"International Relations" was the subject of a most interesting program presented by Mrs. Daisy Knox at Wednesday's meeting of the business and Professional Women's Club.

Preceding the program, those present enjoyed a wonderful buffet supper prepared by Mrs. Homer Little and her assistants, after which Mrs. Evelyn True, niece of Mrs. Myrtle Gradick who was out of town, made a few brief announcements, a moon which was the Civic Dinner to be held Monday at 12:00 at the Episcopal Parish House.

The program theme was carried out in the table decorations, which featured individual place mats picturing various scenes of the United Nations Building, both inside and out, and, marking each place, a tiny flag representing one of the member nations. The flags were anchored in large varicolored gumdrops. Cotton leaves were used down the length of the table to add a touch of Autumn color.

To start her program, Mrs. Knox displayed for the ladies a scale model of the United Nations Building, which she had assembled. It was of cardboard and showed all the various offices, chambers, etc.

She followed this with an informative talk on the United Nations. Some of the highlights of her talk were: that Oct. 17-24 is United Nations Week, with Oct. 24 marking the 11th birthday of the world organization; that there are 56 nations belonging to the United Nations, representing 80% of the world's population; that each member nation contributes to the budget, with the United States' share costing each person in the U. S. exactly 40c per year; that the United Nations is made up of six parts which are 1) the Security Council, 2) the Economic and Financial, 3) Social and Cultural, 4) Trusteeship, 5) International Court of Justice, and 6) the Secretariat.

Mrs. Knox said that the United Nations should not be judged as a success because it has solved some of the world's problems, or a failure because it has failed to solve others. She stated that the only basis on which it should be judged is whether it provides a means of building international peace and fellowship.

The Club will hold a household goods party on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Gilbert, 709 Palmetto Ave.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. Helen Constantine, Mrs. Helen Pearson, Mrs. Euphemia Huntley, Mrs. Betty Baker, Mrs. Erna Andres, Mrs. Alice Harvey, Mrs. Josie Carter, Mrs. Lucille Foster, Mrs. Marguerite Graham, Mrs. Evelyn True, Mrs. Pat Wood, Mrs. Olga Hunter, Mrs. Harriett Slaughter, Mrs. Gertrude Gilbert, Mrs. Daisy Knox, Mrs. Jessie Brisson, Mrs. Mary DeWyns, and a guest, Mrs. C. R. Dawson.

The Men of the First Presbyterian Church will have their monthly dinner meeting in the Educational Building at 7:00 p.m. On the program will be Mr. Larry Jones and Judge Housholder.

The Unify Class will meet at 8 p.m. in the Valdez Hotel, with the Rev. Josephine Stuchins teacher. The Public is invited.

The Band Association of Seminole High School will meet at 8 p.m. in the Band Hall. This will be preceded by a Board meeting at 7:30 p.m.

The Girl Scouts of the First Presbyterian Church will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Church.

Those planning to attend are requested to bring a sandwich lunch, and a drink will be furnished.

Following the lunch hour a dedication service will be held in the Church Sanctuary, which will conclude the Quiet Day of Prayer.

On October 24, at 7:30 p. m. the Wesleyan Service Guild will sponsor Prayer Meeting and will

Officers Installed By Home Demonstration County Council

Some of the highlights of the Seminole County Home Demonstration Council Meeting yesterday were an installation of officers, a speech by Mrs. James McGrath on Civil Defense, a short talk by Cecil Tucker, County Agent, a talk by Mrs. J. E. Andrews on Landscaping, and an amusing skit by Mrs. Margaret Tindel.

The Council met at 10:30 at the Home Demonstration Center on Geneva Ave. with Mrs. J. M. Dingman presiding. After the regular business was disposed of, and reports were heard from the various chairmen, Mrs. James McGrath told the group of women some of the things that they personally could do to prepare for an enemy attack. She brought out how much more alert and better trained are the people in the Northern States than they are down here and stated that the importance of Civil Defense has been increased through the use of the H-Bomb." There are three parts to Civil Defense, she said, these being physical, mental and spiritual. The physical aspect requires that you have everything that you would be likely to need in the event of an attack readily at hand at all times.

The mental part of Civil Defense should start today with your thinking in terms of a possible attack and persuading your friends and neighbors to think that way also.

And on the spiritual side, you should strive to maintain that faith in God on which this great country was founded. She suggested as a help in maintaining this faith, that everyone memorize the Psalm of Protection, Psalm 91, and that they refer to it often.

In closing Mrs. McGrath stated that she believes everyone should learn as much as possible about Civil Defense because "Knowledge is Power and the Powerful Never Fear."

Following Mrs. McGrath's talk the group relaxed a little with the singing of "A Gymnastic Belief"—with appropriate gestures—and "A Song of the Open Country", which is the National 4-H Song.

Mrs. George Otto installed the officers who were: president, Mrs. Bonnie Guthaus, Chuluota; first vice president, Mrs. Margaret Tindel, Elder Springs; second vice president, Mrs. Carl Moss, Lake Mary; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Andrews, Lake Monroe; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Wallis, Sanford; Delegate, Mrs. Vincent Matecki, Longwood; alternate delegate, Mrs. Fred Youts, Geneva.

Mrs. J. M. Dingman, the outgoing president, was presented with a lovely gift by Mrs. Guthaus on behalf of the Council. Mrs. Dingman in turn presented to Mrs. Guthaus a gift for the Council.

After a covered dish luncheon was enjoyed by all present, the meeting resumed with the new president presiding.

Cecil Tucker, County Agent, gave a brief talk on just what he has been doing and what the 4-H Clubs are doing.

An excellent talk on Landscaping was given by Mrs. J. E. Andrews, who asked that each member go home and look at her yard and do something to improve it. Then report to the Home Improvement Chairman of her Club what she had done.

Mrs. Margaret Tindel, with the help of several of the members, gave a brief skit on "The Wrong Way To Hold a Meeting", followed by Mrs. George Otto who gave some tips on the right way.

Mrs. Guthaus then adjourned the meeting.

VFW Auxiliary Postpones Bazaar

The Bazaar, which was scheduled for Nov. 3 by the VFW Ladies Auxiliary to Post 3282, has been postponed to a later date, due to the illness of some of the members. It was announced at Tuesday's meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Smith, president, presided over the meeting which, because of bad weather, was very short.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Collum have returned from New Jersey, where they have spent the past three and a half months.

Mrs. L. N. Hall of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Brubaker, 2001 Palmetto Ave.

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 6.

SHS Eleven Underdogs In Tilt With Bulldogs

The Sanford Seminoles, three touchdown underdog to the Melbourne Bulldogs, will travel to Melbourne tonight with one thing in mind. To mark the opening of Melbourne High's new stadium by upsetting the highly touted Bulldogs.

But the Bulldogs have something in mind, too; protecting their second place in the Orange Belt Conference.

The Seminole defense is suffering worse than they have been all season, that is, since the Cocoa game. The weak spot of the team has shown itself again with both of the starting defensive ends on the injury list. Tom Brown, the youngster that completely chilled runs around his side of the field, is in the hospital with a muscle spasm. Murray Nance hurt his hip in last week's tilt with Bolles, and the last few days of bad weather has not been conducive to a speedy recovery.

Ronnie Giles, another starting defensive man, is still hindered with a knee injury and is slated for only limited action. His extra point kicking, however, was much improved yesterday, and for the first time since the season opener the Seminoles will stand a good chance of tallying the extra point.

Bob Johnson, still nursing a cracked finger, will be on tap for service at the quarterback slot, but will not be able to go full speed.

Jack Stotsky, in bed for the last three weeks, has seen three days of practice this week, and may be able to see limited action.

On the positive side of the docket, Brantley "Choo-Choo" Schirard is in prime condition. He leads a host of 60-minute men in the field. Schirard leads the offensive backfield in grinding out yardage with 154 yards, and is the spark of the defensive line.

Al Stanley, new at the quarterback position this season, will be calling the game for the Seminoles. Stanley is a southpaw aerialist and a hard runner.

Phil "The Squirrel" Hyrd has the patch removed from his eye for the game and reports are that the laceration has sufficiently healed and he will not have to favor his head. Last week Hyrd played his best game of the season.

The line, with the exception of Nance, is in full bloom. Bob Little will alternate with Claude Hillitt at the left end spot. Bill Tyre will again man the left tackle spot. Murray Nance will be running the left guard spot and will be backed up by Fred Behrens. Charles Pence will again cover the pivot spot with a little relief from Stotsky, Virgil Gracey will be at right guard, Meredith Scott will man right tackle, and John Williams will be the key pass receiver at right end.

The defensive unit will be led by Eddis Harbour, the tackling terror, and Schirard. The defense will be weak again tonight with the absence of Brown. His services at end have considerably reduced the yardage racked up against the Seminoles since the Cocoa game.

With the vast improvement shown in the last week, the Seminoles have a slim chance of taking Melbourne, but the odds are against it. Should the Seminoles upset the Bulldogs, however, they could go on to take second place in the conference.

"The team as a whole is perhaps more aggressive than they have been all season," Fleming said this morning. "They want a win and I think they can get one. It's up to them; they know enough to win a game by this time."

Once again the Seminoles will go into a game with a "do or die" attitude. Last week it was good enough to give them a tie with favored Bolles. This game will tell the story for the season. Game time is 8 p. m. tonight in Melbourne's new stadium.

Greyhounds Battle Favored Bishop Moore Saturday

The Lyman Greyhounds find themselves in the back seat again this week as they travel in Harper-Shepherd Field in Winter Park Saturday night to take on Bishop Moore.

Until last week it looked like Lyman would have a good edge on the parochial Hornets from Winter Park, but the Hornets stung Tavares for their first win and completely changed the picture.

Tavares rolled easily over the Greyhounds in the second half of the Lyman-Tavares game to toss the Greyhounds for their first season loss. The 25-4 beating slowed the Greyhounds down, and since then they rolled to a 12-0 victory over the Edgewater Baby Eagles.

Bishop Moore, once thought of as a weak slater in the now defunct Central Florida Conference, met and defeated Tavares, one of her old rivals of CFC, to the tune of a 50 upset.

This makes the Hornets five touchdowns better than the Greyhounds on a comparative basis. But Greyhound mentor Jim Payne was quick to point out that a comparative rating was highly unreliable.

"Our first string will be able to handle Bishop Moore," he said. "Our big trouble is in our reserves. For the first time the Bishop Moore team has good substitutes, and they'll have us there, but even that won't necessarily decide the game. Don't forget that our boys were in poor physical condition when we met Tavares, and we still held them 66 at the half. It would have been a different story if we could have been able to iron-man it for the entire game. We simply ran out of gas and couldn't hold Tavares. This week we're in pretty good shape and we are not about to let this game be a runaway."

Payne said he would be considerably hampered with Lamar Helms still out with a broken ankle, but his line was in good shape. "We should have had another day or so in hold heavy workouts," Payne said, "but we had to take it easy for fear of injuring a starter. We wouldn't be able to afford that."

Game time is 8 p. m. Saturday night at Harper-Shepherd Field.

Syracuse football star Jimmy Brown competed in five varsity sports at Manhasset, N. Y., High School, last May.

New Mayfair Inn Golf Pro Arrives

Mario Carfagno, named year round golf pro for the Mayfair Inn Country Club by Frank Mebane, arrived in Sanford yesterday, bringing his wife with him.

Carfagno, 28, began his golfing career some 20 years ago, when, as an eight year old lad, he caddied at the Forest Hills Golf Club, Bloomfield, N. J.

Golf became important to Mario then, and caddieing for Bob Hope and many other famous personalities gave the game additional lustre.

Mario turned pro when he was 18 years old and has been in the game ever since. His many years experience coupled with the enthusiasm of his youth make him a standout on any course.

Mario came to the Mayfair Inn Country Club from Glenwood Springs Country Club at Glenwood Springs, Colo.

Carfagno is not a stranger around this neighborhood. He was pro for the Mt. Plymouth Hotel for three years under Frank Mebane.

He was pro at the Mohawk Country Club, Sparta, N. J., for eight years before he joined the staff with Mebane at Mt. Plymouth.

Mebane, in announcing Carfagno's arrival, said, "He is an excellent teacher, one of the best I have ever seen and besides, he's a good golfer."

Mario remarked that both he and his wife are pleased with their return to Central Florida. "It's nice to be back," he said. "I have always liked Sanford very much while I was at Mt. Plymouth, and I think I shall particularly like it now that it has one of the finest conditioned golf courses in the state."

Mario said he would begin golfing at the Club at once.

Panthers To Meet Team Own Size For First Time

The Crooms Academy Panthers will be meeting a team approximately their same size for the first time this season when they go to Harper-Shepherd Field in Winter Park tonight to take on Winter Park's Hungerford High.

Although Crooms Academy has only 125 students from the seventh through 12th grades, it is playing the top teams in the state. So far the most points that have been scored on the Panthers in a game was the 9-0 defeat they suffered against New Stanton of Jacksonville.

In their season opener, the Panthers rolled over Melbourne 31-6, and last week tied Northwest of Miami 6-6. Melbourne is just a little larger than Crooms. Northwestern of Miami and New Stanton of Jacksonville are both about four times larger than Crooms.

Hungerford will go into tonight's game with a 1-1 record. They fell before Leesburg 34-6, and then bounced back to upset Plant City 6-0.

Head football coach for the Panthers, Joe Fair, said, "Hungerford is an upset minded team. They periodically play outstanding games. We'll have to watch that they don't get high spirited and outlast us. They are a little larger than we, and have a few more reserves."

When asked how Crooms, one of the smaller schools, could be rated as high as the larger schools of Florida Fair said, "The big difference is the attitude of the boys. Our boys could just as

Club To Hear Full Report On Jr. High Football Project

A full report on the action of the committee for the Junior High Football Project will be given to the Chiefs Club by committee chairman W. W. Tyre when the Chiefs Club meets Tuesday night at 7:30 in the City Hall, John Schirard Jr., president of the Chiefs Club announced.

The Junior High Football Project committee is already moving rapidly in an attempt to get uniforms for the school before the end of the current gridiron season. The committee is at present receiving bids for the cost of the uniforms from Sanford's local merchants Tyre said he hoped to have the completed bids by meeting time Tuesday.

Florida Gators Are Sporting New Look

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Vanderbilt scouts must have had to do a bit of scrambling this week in revising their reports on Florida's football personnel.

The Florida Gators came up with something of a new look in last Saturday's victory over Rice, playing several men who had been only limited action in previous games this season.

Coach Bob Woodruff sent five players out with the first unit, whose places on the team earlier this year were as low as the fourth team.

Tackles Larry Wesley and Ray Midden, End Dan Felham, Quarterback Jimmy Dunn and Halfback John Symank "came through", and it appears they may have found a place among the starters in Florida's game with Vanderbilt at 2:00 p. m. (EDT and EST) this Saturday in Nashville.

However, the matter of whether or not several players recover sufficiently from minor sprains and bruises will determine who are to be members of the starting, or blue, teams and their first replacements, the orange team.

Senior end Bobby Burford is still being bothered with a neck strain, but seemed to be improving this week and probably will see action at his left end post.

If Jackie Simpson, star left half, is sufficiently recovered from a collision with a bench three games ago, he is likely to start at left halfback.

New apparently completely ready to play an all-out game, right tackle Charlie Mitchell could reclaim his starting position.

Seniors John Barrow, the team captain, and Bob Voth, have a firm hold on the starting guard positions, while any of three centers, Bill Bolton, Joel Wallberg, or Gene Graves, a senior, junior and sophomore respectively, could get the nod at center any given week. Bolton has started, however, for the Gators first four games.

Dunn's creditable job of engineering Florida to its only and winning touchdown against Rice (7-0) should help him keep the starting quarterback role he won last week.

Right halfback Jim Rountree, a superlative ball carrier and extremely dangerous man on kick-off and punt returns, returned a punt 34 yards against Rice, only to be held at center by given week. Bolton has started, however, for the Gators first four games.

Fullback Joe Brodsky, four-time selection on the weekly Associated Press check list, and Florida's leading ground gainer to date, averaging 2 yards per carry, is in little danger of relinquishing his position.

The Gators will depart from Gainesville by air at 9:00 A. M. Friday morning and are expected to arrive in Nashville at 11:30 A. M. Headquarters will be The Homecoming in Nashville.

Following the game Saturday, they will depart from Nashville around 6:00 P. M. and will return to Gainesville around 8:30 P. M.

FSU Eleven Ready For Homecoming

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A revitalized Florida State football squad began to slack preparations today for its homecoming game with Wake Forest Saturday.

FSU Coach Tom Nugent said after yesterday's brisk practice session "the fellows are as happy as they've been all season. I just hope they're this way Saturday."

Nugent announced the seven seniors on the squad will captain FSU for the homecoming game. They are quarterbacks Lee Corso and Len Swantz, halfback Buck Metts and Billy Olson, center Bud Leonard, guard Al Pacifico and Holt.

RATES CRAWFORD AS TOP TAILBACK

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Francis Powers, chief scout and publicity director for the East-West Shrine game held annually in San Francisco, rates Wyoming's Jim Crawford as "the best tailback in the country."

Bosseler Needs 65 Yards To Lead Ground Gainers

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—A good night against the University of Georgia Bulldogs Friday would make Capt. Don Bosseler the leading ground gainer for all time among University of Miami fullbacks.

The 47 yards Don picked up against Maryland last week pushed his career total at Miami to 1,113 yards and shoved him ahead of Bob McDougal, Harry Mallon and Harry Ghaid.

Last of the fullbacks ahead of him is Terry Fox, who piled his way through enemy lines for 1,117 yards in a college career which ended in 1950. Bosseler thus needs just 65 yards to take over the leadership among the fullbacks.

Bosseler then has a long way to go to overhaul the two all time ground gaining leaders at Miami—Eddie Duncan and Frank Smith. Dunn gained 1,178 yards playing quarterback and halfback while Smith gained 1,666 yards as a halfback.

Don would have to average 80 yards per game the rest of the way to overhaul Smith. He did get 97 against South Carolina in the opener but has not been used as frequently in recent games and his average for the season is 63 yards per game.

Another record breaker among the Hurricanes is Sam Scarnecchia who seems destined to wind up his career as the most accurate passer in Miami history. He has hit nine times in 15 tries this year to give him a career record of 40 completions in 66 tries, slightly better than 60%. Carl Garrigus completed 57% of 47 tosses, and Don James 53 per cent of 121.

The Hurricane footballers, who looked back before the Maryland game but came up with a whole of a game against the Terrapins, have been sharp in workouts this week and the U-M offensive may come up with its smoothest attack so far this year. The U-Mers have been doing a lot of passing in drills this week—passing with deadly accuracy and no doubt will use the passing game as one of its weapons against the Georgia Bulldogs Friday.

As for Wally Butts' Georgians, they are expected to fill the lanes with aerial bombs. Gustafson believes that Wally Butts has some of the best pass patterns in football and "we expect him to throw all night against us."

Georgia arrives in Miami Thursday afternoon and will quarter at the Shelburne Hotel on the beach. The team will workout under the lights at Memorial field on the beach at 7:30.

SUTTON STARR IN TARHEELS SETBACK

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina may have been surprised in its 26-6 opening game setback at the hands of North Carolina State but at least the Tarheels figure to get a lot of future football out of Ed Sutton.

The slashing halfback gained 90 yards on 10 carries, completed the pass he threw for 14 yards, returned two 33 yards and tallied his team's only touchdown.

LUND SAYS: GIVE "AGED" A BREAK

The aged should have the right to earn at least $1800 annually without having their Social Security benefits affected. The present limitation of $1200 does not reflect the increased costs of living nor does it allow these people to maintain a decent standard of living.

Thanks to the Eisenhower administration, living costs have not risen over 3 per cent since 1952. Thus, an increase of 50% in their earning capacity would allow these old folks to enjoy more of the comforts of modern living.

"I WIND OPPOSE 'GIVEAWAYS'

The "poor oil millionaires of Texas still enjoy the 27 1/2 per cent income tax exemption bestowed on them and protected by Southern Democratic congressmen. They get this give away on the theory that oil drilling is a risky business. Why don't these same Florida congressmen fight to give their own people the same exemption. Does not my opponent and his Democratic colleagues in Congress believe that the citrus business is risky too. Do they believe the commodity and small farmer in Florida does not have hazards of enterprise? For that matter, what little business doesn't have its share of risk? The only trouble is, these poor fellows don't have a Congressman leading a fight for them. If the 27 1/2 per cent exemption for the oil men is to remain, then let's have it for everybody.

GOOD SCHOOLS FOR ALL

No one in the Southern States is fighting for integrated schools. That's not an issue here. But overcrowded classrooms and underpaid teachers is an issue. It's high time funds were appropriated to correct this condition. There should be good schools for the Whites and equally good schools for the Negroes. Then, no one will complain and there will be less talk about integration.

COMMODITY FARMERS PROBLEM

The commodity farmer has a "farm" problem that has not been met. It is not the fault of the administration. The blame lies directly on the dilatory attitude of our present congressman in failing to get up in Congress and fight for an amendment to the Farm Act that would give them relief as was given the midwest farmers of the North. Had our congressman visited these small farmers on his so-called "annual" visits, instead of the "big game" he would have been aware of their plight. The President cannot be expected to know the individual problem of each district. That's why Congressmen are elected.

Telephone Firm To File New Rates With Commission

New telephone rates, which will become effective with the inauguration of the projected toll-free "Metropolitan" service, will be filed by the Winter Park Telephone Company with the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission within thirty days, company officials disclosed yesterday.

The extended, non-optional telephone service between Orlando and Winter Park will go into effect in September 1957 and will enable 10,000 Winter Park subscribers to call 80,000 telephones in an area of 200,000 population on a flat rate basis.

Earlier this month the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission granted the Winter Park Telephone Company rate increases totaling approximately $9,000 to compensate the company for the loss in revenue it will suffer with the abolition of local tolls.

The company had asked for $9,000.

"We shall have to do with what we are given," Mr. C. H. Gault,

President of the company said at the time. "It is either that or deprive the public of the benefits of 'Metropolitan' service."

With the filing of the new tariff with the F.R.P.U.C. Commission, the Winter Park Telephone Company will bring to a conclusion the first phase of what was described as the biggest single move made by the company in its 45-year history—the $1,500,000 "Metropolitan" service plan.

The plan, first conceived by company officials some five years ago, involved a number of moral and material factors, the most important of which can be listed as follows:

1. Approval of tariff and rates by the Commission
2. Gaining of public concurrence
3. Planning of the facilities required
4. Changing plant designs to conform with the new equipment needed

100 Voice Choir To Present Hymn Festival Nov. 18

The Combined choirs of the Churches of Sanford will present a choral hymn festival November 18, at 4:00 p. m. in observance of the Thanksgiving season.

At a meeting of the Sanford Choirmasters, churches were represented as follows: First Christian, Mrs. N. V. Farmer; Congregational Christian, Miss Helen Wittry; First Presbyterian, Mrs. George Touhy; First Methodist, Roger Harris; First Baptist, Kirby Rogers; Holy Cross Episcopal, Jack Bookhardt; Central Baptist, Mrs. Katherine Hall; Nazarene, Johnny Carter; and Christian Missionary Alliance, Mrs. Guy Bishop.

The First Presbyterian Church was chosen as the setting for the festival. Kirby Rogers, of the First Baptist Church, was chosen conductor. At the same meeting committees were appointed to complete plans for the festival.

Funeral Services Art Set Sunday For S. T. Field

Funeral services for S. T. Field, prominent in agricultural circles all over the State of Florida, and a brother of Sanford's, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Brison Funeral Home.

Mr. Field was Administrative Assistant to the State Chemist in the Florida State Department of Agriculture.

He was a Director on the Executive Board of the Florida State Association of Sanitariums, a member of the Legislative Committee of that organization. He was a member of the National Association of Sanitariums, member of the Men's Bible Class of the Trinity Methodist Church of Tallahassee, member of the Southern Bakers Association of which he was a lifetime honorary member, he was an inspector for the Department of Agriculture of Florida, member of the Southern Association of Food and Drug Officials, and a member of Campbell-Lossing Post of the American Legion of Sanford.

Mr. Field served in the U. S. Navy during WWI, and when discharged with a 4.0 rating in 1919 his rating was Chief Quartermaster (Aviation). While serving at Charham (Mass.) Naval Air Station he was rushed to Minocola Air Field with a detachment of 350 men under his command to assist in the landing of the Airship R-34, the first Airship to cross the Atlantic.

Active pallbearers will be Al Wallace, all of Sanford; Bryce Robson, all of Sanford; Bryce Starling, Orlando; L. E. McCutchen, Leesburg; B. E. Wilkins, Orlando.

Additional Work On Dial System Slated Next Week

A maze of lines hanging from overhead in the new Southern Bell Telephone Co. building at Ninth St. and Laurel Ave. represents a portion of the many cables to be connected into dial equipment which will be erected in vertical position later next week. While many component parts of the new dial system are purchased as units, the parts must be wired by hand.

The local manager, Earl Turner, pointed out that the telephone installation is a "tailored" job which is designed specifically for Sanford and must be assembled by hand locally.

Approximately 7100 telephones are being serviced currently through the local manual telephone switchboards. "The present system," according to Turner, "is no longer adaptable to plans for providing telephone facilities to serve the expanding Sanford area." He added that the new exchange equipment will permit considerable

Navy

The Naval profession, like the ministerial calling, requires periodic transfers from one community to another. The best life that binds most of us, therefore, aside from kinship with others in the naval service, is one of close association with the church of our particular choice wherever we go.

We temper the distress of frequent moves with the binding influence of church life which remains substantially the same as we travel from clime to clime. Our wives and children join us in this spiritual association and we find church loyalty is not a thing of a week, a month, or a year, but an everyday occurrence.

This is why our naval personnel, their wives and dependents are so actively engaged in Sanford's local church life.

The more than 5,000 husbands, wives, sons and daughters who make up your local Navy population are happy to join in the magnificent salute to and recognition of church loyalty in this month of October, 1956.

came with his admission that he knew none of their language and had a fine time acting out his gustatorial desires. His description of how he ordered eggs in a restaurant, which finally ended in the chef's taking part in the pantomime, brought down the house!

The Rev. Aldridge said that he enjoyed all of his travels, for the reason that he loitered where he best enjoyed the scenery and amusement or inspiration, as in Bonn, where at Beethoven's home he remained three hours drinking in the atmosphere of the master, his organ, piano and violin. "Up to then," confessed the speaker, "I feel pretty sure I never had known that Beethoven was a violinist too."

Received with much applause were two classical duets played by pianists Therese Kupecz and Laura Platt Brown. Dues were collected and the new year books distributed. Mrs. David Bunkle, president, reviewed the last year's programs and outlined the educational, philanthropic and social season to come. A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Dorothea Lauterbach, hospitality chairman, for her splendid efforts in this initial luncheon, for '56-'57.

Interim funds totaling $1,200,000 to finance the project, were obtained from the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City, the First National Bank at Winter Park, the Commercial Bank at Winter Park, the First National Bank at Orlando, and the College Park National Bank.

Further funds were sought by the company to cover $1,200,000 expansion costs in 1956-57 and for this purpose the first 3,000 shares of preferred company stock at 5 1/2 percent, $100 per share, were put on the market by Security Associates, Inc., Winter Park investment bankers, last week.

Telephone company officials said here last week the new building will probably be completed by December 10. Part of the present offices on New England Avenue will be moved into the new premises at the beginning of the year, including the offices of the vice President—Plant, Plant Manager, Traffic Manager, Purchasing Agent, Plant Engineer, Traffic Manager and a staff of six.

Passport to Happiness

By MAYSIE GREIG

CHAPTER 19

VAL'S HEAD was beating painfully fast. "Please don't let's talk about those unpleasant incidents," she murmured.

"Are you angry with me?" asked Dr. Harrison quietly, and the little note in his voice twisted her heart.

"No," she said. "But I shall be if you continue to make an issue of the bitterness with Dirk."

There was an uncomfortable almost frightening pause. She had to say something to break it, and as often happens on such occasions she said the first thing that came into her mind.

"I'm sorry you've missed me on the dance floor, but Mrs. Featherstone likes me to read to her in the evenings."

"I can understand why you haven't come to the dance, you'd have had to dance with Harrison," he said bluntly. "Remember the fact you appear friendly. I'm sure you don't like or trust him."

Val looked up at him in surprise. "I assure you that since the reason I haven't come, and I've told you I like Dirk."

"But I don't believe it. I don't want to believe it. From the moment I met you I felt you and I were in sympathy. It meant a great deal to me to know that we would both be working together in Montego Bay. I felt, and of course, I may be flattering myself, that you felt the same. Suddenly he brushed out the cigarette and barely began to smoke and dropped on one knee beside her chair. "You did feel the same, didn't you, Val? He took one of her hands and held it between both of his gently. "Tell me, please tell me."

"Yes, I felt that way," she said, as though she was rushing her into something she wasn't really ready for. "I was certainly glad to learn we were both going to work in the same hospital," she said finally.

His grip tightened on her hand. "And you're still glad?"

"Yes, I'm still glad," she said quietly. And added, almost breathlessly, "I'm very glad."

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By JOSEPH WHITNEY

Do most children deceive their parents?

Answer: Nearly all small children are open and aboveboard unless they learn from parental example to be deceptive. Parents who fail to keep promises, who make phony excuses to avoid responsibility, etc., create an atmosphere of deception which may do much harm. Children who are made to say "Thank you," "I'm sorry," etc., when they are neither thankful nor sorry, will likely conclude that deception is an adult policy they must learn to follow.

you may not have intended to do so, and your honest reaction will clear up any misunderstanding at once. Second, if the barb was intentional you might have deserved it, and honest self-appraisal may lead you to uncover a fault you can correct. Third, most of us can't hide our feelings anyway, and attempting to do so usually makes matters worse.

Can you dislike someone instinctively?

Answer: No. We all form occasional instantaneous dislikes, but it is because the disliked person reminds us of someone in our past with whom we once had an unhappy experience. The association may be with a teacher who humiliated us before the class, an official who spoke rudely to our mother or father, etc. Long after the incident is buried away, the image remains in our unconscious mind, and comes forth when some particular personality comes in on the childhood miscreant.

Should hurt feelings be covered up?

Answer: As a rule, no. The reasons that favor honest reactions usually outweigh others. First, the person who offended

Spotlight On Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD P — The film world was surprised when Darryl F. Zanuck stepped down as head of 20th Century Fox studios to become an independent producer. To day he tells why he did it.

"Throughout my career, first as a writer, then an editor, then a producer and finally as studio head, I considered myself essentially a writer. It was the creative end that really interested me."

"Until a few years ago, I was able to devote myself to the creative end entirely. I didn't have to talk to actors. I had people to handle the business matters."

"But this business has changed. Three or four years ago, I found myself devoting 90 per cent of my time talking to this agent or that agent or George Peck or some other star. I found I had less and less time to work on stories."

"So I told Mr. Skouras, my company head Spyros Skouras that as soon as I could find someone to take over for me, I'd like to step out and devote myself to the active job of creating. I think I can serve the company and the industry better that way."

He found his successor in able, aggressive Buddy Adler, who now heads studio production. Zanuck plans to produce 50 films in the next five to seven years. Some will be produced by others under his guidance. At least one a year will be what he calls a "blockbuster." His first will be "Island in the Sun," based on the best-selling novel by Alec Waugh.

Always an enthusiast, Zanuck seems bristling with energy for his new career. He delighted in showing me some pages someone had sent him from the memoirs of the late George Arliss. The actor depicted the young Zanuck as "a born leader, not a blind follower." The passages told how Zanuck, then in his 20s, energetically told his ideas for the film "Distant," which won Arliss an Oscar.

"It was interesting to learn what Arliss thought of me," Zanuck said. "That's the kind of spirit of creating I want to get back to."

Despite a few years of hard times in Hollywood, Zanuck has lost none of his hopes for the film industry.

"I think the outlook for theatrical films is very good," he said.

"LITTLE JOHN," one of the U.S. Army's junior-sized atomic weapons, blasts from its launching site at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland. This 12-foot-long missile and the "Dart," a new anti-tank missile, were unveiled in a weapons show before 5,000 persons gathered for the annual meeting of the American Ordnance Association. "Little John" is a small caliber field artillery rocket and the smallest of its kind so far to boast atomic capability. At bottom, the latest in infantry weapons are two rifles capable of delivering semi-automatic and automatic fire, using standardized ammunition. They are being held behind a 1903 model Gatling gun. ## Use Bedspread To Make Pretty Accessories For Your Closet

A PRETTY CLOSET can make the busiest housewife feel elegant. Clothes will last longer, too, if protected by garment bags and dust covers.

A new and practical idea to carry out a decorating scheme in bed room and closet is to make closet accessories from a bedspread matching the one on the bed. Just buy two matching bedspreads, and use one to make a garment bag, shoe bag and dust covers. In a bedspread you have a piece of fabric as big as a six-by-nine-foot rug — ample for a complete set of closet accessories. Local sewing experts tell you how to do it.

Make the big garment bag first. It's easier than ever if you follow the no-pin, no-haste method of zipper insertion illustrated on new zipper packages.

Double hanger frames for garment bags are sold in most five-and-dime stores.

Start by cutting two side pieces 20 inches wide and 54 inches long. Then cut two side boxing strips eight inches wide and 54 inches long. Cut top and bottom pieces eight by 20 inches. Slash the center of one side boxing piece and insert a 36-inch zipper slipper, following directions on top package. Using your multilotted binder attachment on your sewing machine, bind edges together along all 84-inch lengths. Embroider eyelets in top piece large enough to fit over hanger. Stitch top and bottom in place.

To make the shoe bag, cut a piece 36 by 18 inches. Cut two horizontal strips, 40 inches wide and 10 inches deep. Tape the cut edges. Divide strips into four equal sections and stitch, section by section, to the back panel. Bind all cut edges. Stitch loops to the top of the bag.

You will have just enough of your spread left over for two shoulder covers. For each cover cut two pieces eight inches deep to the top of the bag, plus two inches for seams. Round off corners to shoulder shape and seam together, right sides facing. Leave a two-and-a-half-inch opening at the top for the hanger. Turn cover right side out and bind bottom edge and top opening.

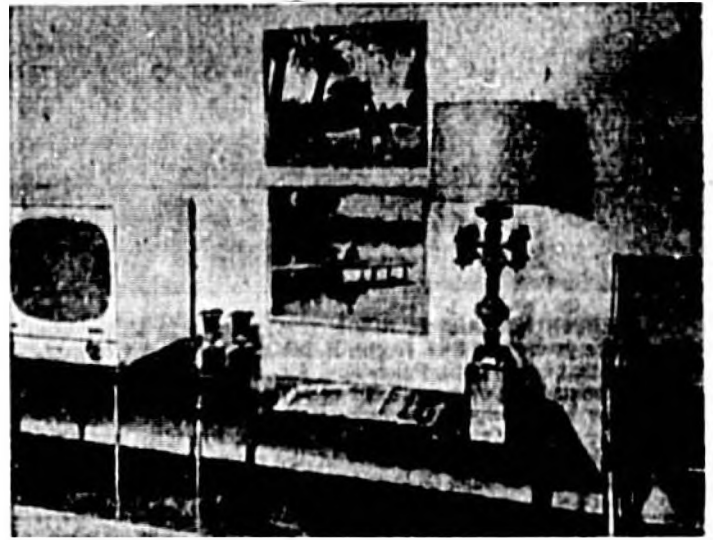

Other suggestions for closet accessories made from bedspreads are: Hatbox, blanket box covers, cases for sweaters and gloves. You can even line closet and cover shelves with fabric to match your bedroom decor.

How To Inspect Seam Construction On New Clothes

When buying clothing, housewives should remember that seam construction is just about as important as the fabric, point out textile and laundering experts at American Institute of Laundering, A.I.L., is the research and educational center for the professional laundry industry.

- When checking seam construction, look for the following:
1. Beware of seams with raw edges. In most cases, seams should be bound or protected. This is especially true on synthetic fabrics. If seams are not pinked or overcast, the fabric is apt to pull through the stitching and fray.
  2. Generally speaking, the stitching on seams should be small. By that it is meant stitches should not be expected to cover too much area. Large, loose stitches generally indicate weak seams.
  3. Check seams for puckering. Puckering may be the result of undue tension on the sewing thread.
  4. Sufficient seams allowance should have been made. Check seams to see whether there is a skimpy or generous allowance on either side of the stitches.
  5. If seams are not bound, make sure that the end of the fabric has been pinked or overcast with sewing thread.
  6. Apply a little tension on the seam. If distortion results you can expect some seam slippage.
  7. Check the finish of the seam. Determine how easily the fabric frays or ravel by gently pulling the seam allowance.
  8. Inspect the area where the needle has gone into the fabric. Look for little needle holes that may have cut fibers.
  9. Beware of seams that have been sewn with regular sewing on one side and loops on the other (chain stitch). If such a sewing method has been used, a snag on the seam may pull out all the seam thread.
  10. Seam thread should be checked for strength. Find a loose end and try to break it with the fingertips. If the thread breaks easily, it is weak. A.I.L. textile authorities point out that the chain stitch and weak thread often go together.

the Snapshot Guild

This room, featuring informal family portraits on the wall, was decorated by C. Eugene Stephenson, an internationally-known decorator.

Take Your Family Portraits Out of Hiding

Every family has a certain number of professionally-made portraits, commemorating the important events in the lives of its various members. There certainly are baby pictures, graduation photos, wedding and anniversary portraits.

It used to be that these pictures, in cardboard folders or easel-type frames, graced the top of the upright piano. Thus this custom more or less went out of the style, at least as far as the interior decorators were concerned, and the portraits went into hiding in drawers and boxes.

Today, however, the decorators have found ways to put these cherished portraits on exhibit again—and not as an extra. These days they play an important part in the decorative scheme.

Large portraits are often used singly or in pairs. Smaller ones go into interesting little frames to form unusual groupings that are bound to be a conversation piece.

Frames are available in so many different styles that it isn't difficult to find a color and design that is complementary to the decorative scheme of any room in the house—and that includes the breakfast nook which is a good place for less informal portraits or enlargements of some of your own family snapshots.

The picture we've chosen to illustrate this column shows an interesting use of family pictures in a room decorated by C. Eugene Stephenson, National Chairman of the Board, the American Institute of Decorators. Mr. Stephenson points out that use of portraits is an ideal way to add warmth and a lived-in feeling to the new house or apartment and to give your home decoration a personal touch that no one else can duplicate.

Modern techniques, offering full color and a broad range of tonal prints, have made today's portraits a very definite asset in decoration. Keep this in mind the next time one of the family has a portrait made and you won't have any deciding what you want to do with it.

—John Van Gulder

DIET FOOD

Skim milk is said by some doctors to be as good a source of calcium, phosphorus, iron and protein as whole milk.

If your eyes are merely blue, you can make them as romantically violet as the heroine of an Edwardian novel by wearing a violet-hued hat.

New Electronic Eye Developed

PASADENA, California, (AP)—A new electronic eye promises supervision for telescopes to solve some of the greatest mysteries of the universe.

With it the great 200-inch Palomar telescope might see objects 10 times fainter than those it sees now. It might even become a 2,000-inch telescope.

That might answer big questions: Is there an edge or limit to the universe, a boundary in space where there are no stars? How old is the universe? Does space curve?

The electronic eye is a kind of TV tube or electronic magnifier that could be attached to regular telescopes.

And this eye could be a practical thing soon, says Dr. William A. Baum, astronomer of the Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories.

The 200-inch telescope can see one to two billion light years into space, photographing great galaxies so far away it has taken light from them one to two billion years to reach us. A light year is the distance light travels in one year at a speed of 186,000 miles a second.

But astronomers estimate our universe is only five to six billion years old. Could the electronic eye and telescope perhaps see beyond the limits or edge of the universe?

The universe appears to be expanding as though everything started from one great central explosion. The galaxies, or great families of stars each containing hundreds of millions of stars like our own Milky Way, are apparently rushing away from one another.

The farther away a galaxy is, the faster seems its speed of recession. Perhaps at distances of billions of light years away, they reach the speed of light. In that case, even the electronically magnified telescope might not be able to catch up with them.

But by extending visible distances, this telescope promises to tell far more about some puzzles of the universe.

The electronic eye captures photographs of distant galaxies through electrons.

Regular telescopes tell astronomers the most by photographing distant stars and galaxies on specially sensitive plates. It takes long exposures to catch the faint images of the most distant stars and these faint ones don't make clear images. Background light and night glow of the earth blacken or develop the grains in the photograph plate nearly as much as does the pinpoint of light from the tiny, faint image.

It takes 1,000 photons or units of light to make one grain of photographic emulsion developable.

But it takes only 10 photons to dislodge one electron from certain photosensitive metals like the photocathodes in the pick-up tubes used in television electron tubes. This way a beam of electrons can be beamed onto a photographic plate to produce the image of a faint star.

The electronic magnifier promises a revolution in telescopes, just as the electron microscope far extended visibility into the tiny world of matter compared with microscopes that depend on light waves, Dr. Baum explained.

Other electronic methods, utilizing principles in TV, are being devised to increase the contrast between background light or night-glow and the image from the star itself.

These may permit almost instantaneous "snapshots" of winking images such as Mars. Such pictures might answer once and for all the mystery of the lines known as canals by recording them for detailed study.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

CLEWISTON (AP)—The Florida Tomato Committee has made two recommendations in the U. S. secretary for marketing the state's 1956 crop.

One recommendation called for statewide classifying of the tomatoes according to individual sizes. No size regulations are now in effect since the expiration of last year's marketing rules.

The other recommendation asked for weight limits on the various containers in which tomatoes are shipped. No more than 62 pounds of tomatoes, for example, could be packed in a 60-pound crate under this regulation.

If approved they will go into effect about Nov. 5.

Shaw 'Victim Of New Type Of Censorship'

By BERNARD GATZER
CHICAGO (AP)—Shavian enthusiasts said the late George Bernard Shaw has become a victim of "commercial censorship" and that amateur rights to his play "Pygmalion" have "disappeared somewhere behind the Iron Curtain of a Broadway musical, 'My Fair Lady.'"

The Chicago Shaw Society said that as a result of the sensational success of Broadway show—a musical version of Shaw's play—no amateur or stock group in America is allowed to stage "Pygmalion." It also said that the movie version of "Pygmalion" has been withdrawn from public exhibition.

Elmer Gertz, attorney and president of the Chicago group, and Mrs. Lois E. Solomon, a suburban Glencoe housewife instrumental in formation of the society, said withdrawal of amateur producing rights to Pygmalion violates Shaw's will.

In New York, a spokesman for "My Fair Lady" producer Herman Levin said Levin had permission of Shaw's estate to produce the musical, as well as stage and screen rights to the musical until 1970.

He said the only restriction he knows of against showing the movie "Pygmalion," which is part of the agreement with the Shaw estate.

The spokesman said that as far as was known there are no restrictions of nonmusical presentations of "Pygmalion."

But Gertz and Mrs. Solomon said the Chicago society had received complaints and inquiries from university theaters, high school drama groups and amateur producing companies concerning failure to obtain "Pygmalion" for production.

William D. Chase of Flint, Mich., secretary of the Shaw Society of America, said in a statement that the situation makes the late Irish playwright the "victim of a new type of censorship."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF
THE SALES MANAGER'S wife appeared unexpectedly in his office, and discovered her husband eating lunch—with his pretty secretary on his lap.

"Well," snorted the wife. "Explain this one, you worm!"

"Control yourself, dear," said her husband calmly. "You see all this food on the table. I had to do something. The waiter forgot to send up a napkin."

"How do you expect me to chalk up any victories with the material available this fall?" whined a football coach to some prying old grads. "I gotta use an unbalanced line—and my backfield ain't so smart neither."

The kids in a tough neighborhood were lined up for inoculations. The doctor asked one bulldog-jawed youngster, "Ready for your shot, my boy?"

"Yeah," was the answer. "Make mine eye and ginger ale."

Stars Protest Showing Of Old Movies On TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Mickey Rooney takes sharp issue with Clark Gable, Judy Garland and other stars who have objected to the showing of their old movies on TV.

The release of the huge studio backlogs, especially those of MGM has brought strong protest from some stars who complained that frequent appearances on TV hurt them as film stars; that they may be competing with themselves on TV; and that they get no money from film showings.

The irrefragable Mick doesn't go along with the mourners. He asks, "How can you have too much exposure? I don't see how those old pictures can hurt me. In fact, I think they ought to help me."

As for the money involved, Mickey philosophized: "You can't get any of it, so why worry?"

One thing he did object to. He heard MGM was thinking of slicing the Andy Hardy series up into half-hour shows. Mickey hustled in his lawyer about that and the project has not been mentioned lately.

Mickey's current career continues at a busy clip. He did three pictures this year, including a much-lauded performance in "The Bold and the Brave." This summer he played several profitable weeks at Las Vegas, Reno and Lake Tahoe. He recently appeared on the Steve Allen TV show and is doing a half-hour TV filmed drama this week. He opens his act soon at the Coconut Grove here.

Added to all of this is his TV series, "Hey, Mulligan," which is playing profitably on the normal circuit. Unlike the MGM movies, he shares in the profits of these.

But still the ambitious Mickey isn't satisfied. "What I need," he said, "is a big picture with the right kind of prestige."

Gossip Clouds

Cindy Houmilla, whom did you have a date with Tuesday night? Virgil Gracey who was that cute gal you had a date with Tuesday night? Could this mean that Susan Waters isn't going steady anymore?

Who are those two girls? Oh yes, that Maggie Jane and Jeff, they just got back from Augie's — you sure do look cute, girls! Hey gals, we hear Philip Byrd has a new hobby, standin' in the corner watching all the girls go by.

Seems like Charmion Miller likes green Ford's. Now that sounds like Terry Goemba's. How much ice cream does he make you eat, Charmion? ? ? ? Where were two carloads of girls going last Friday night? Could it have been to the big game in Melbourne?

The most familiar chant in the halls is "Where's Johnny?" What does Edna Cowan do in Eustis? ? ?

When are Gregory Walker and Henry Russel going to stop giving Mr. Cowley a rough time in band? Who's the "Red Haired" Flash in SHS Glee Club who can't keep out of trouble.

Poor Kay Jenkins, she's been in bed for a week, and guess what, she's got "black and white" tonsils. She was supposed to come back to school today. We sure have missed her! ! !

Why is Pat H. causing her new car? Maybe it's because it won't ever start! (Why don't you put a nickel in it) Would anyone like to buy a real cheap Mercury? ? ? The SHS Glee Club would like to say that they really did appreciate Nancy Cash's wonderful job of playing the "whole Program" Tuesday night. We think she deserves a big hand.

The Freshman class is really happy to have that cute Earl Summersville in school from New Smyrna. I know one freshman girl that is especially happy. I think he knows too. She says they are just friends, "I wonder!"

It seems like there are a couple of freshman girls fighting over Leo G. It couldn't be Connie B. and Billie B. could it?

Well two of our freshmen are going together. Good luck to Ronnie H. and Beverly H.

Who is that Kathy C. Is always looking for? Is it Richard P.?

Who is that Bill T. has been lingering in the halls with before school? Who could it be? J. K. From what I hear Janet G. has been getting letters from a darling football player from Indiana. Could it be they go together? Who is it Janet?

Marilyn McD. has an eye on a real cute sophomore boy. I think you almost have him.

Well, Don McKay has dropped back to the 8th grade for a girl. I wonder if it is N. A.

From what I hear Rickie Cox has been walking around on air. How about Lester Bush?

Hey Jimmy E. who's that cute little blonde you have been following? Could it be Glenda C.

Double Quartet Is Doing 'Fine Job'

By SHIRLEY ANDERSON
The Double Quartet, composed of eight boys, has really been working hard this year. The boys really enjoy singing and one night a week they come to the school for practice.

The boys are as follows: first tenors: Billy Tyre, Johnny Barley; second tenors, Phillip Hyrd, Bobby Little; baritone, Murray Nance; Bradley Schirard; and Bass: Teddy Walker, Al Collins.
The boys did a grand job in the annual "Variety Show" last week. For those who weren't present they sang, "Standing on the Corner," and "Dry Bones."

Who's New?

By MARY JANE FLYNT
Who's new will appear in Smoke Signals weekly as long as new students keep coming to SHS. The purpose of this column is to acquaint you with our new pupils. First we have Treassey Young, a senior, who moved here from Aruba, Netherlands Antilles which is 21 miles off the coast of Venezuela. She lived in Aruba for four years; was a majorette, three years; on school paper staff, two years; and president of the ninth grade class.

Rod Phillips is a new addition to our sophomore class. He came to SHS from San Diego, Calif. While living in San Diego, he was a member of the varsity club, in the varsity club he played basketball and baseball.

Canadian Sunset Tops Song Hit List

By ANGELO COMPAIN
The latest hits of the day seem to be "Just Walkin' in the Rain," "Love Me, Tender," Cole Porter's "True Love," "Friendly Persuasion," and "Sally Lunn." "Friendly Persuasion," a soft and smooth number from the motion picture of the same name is headed for a big success, what with the backing of its artist Pat Boone, who waxed such hits as "Ain't That A Shame," "At My Front Door," and "I Almost Lost My Mind," and its writer Dimitri Tiomkin, who scored such favorites as "Don't Forsake Me My Darling" and "The High and the Mighty."
The winter season has been officially opened — to the record-wise, that is — with the release of Mitch Miller's "Black Cherry Winter," done nicely in Miller's own special style.

In the popular field, the Chordettes' newest recording, "Tonight You Belong To Me," appears to be the most popular around S. H. S. these days, is currently in third place on the Hit Parade.

Patti Page's dreamy rendition of "Allegheny Moon" ranks fourth this week, while Elvis Presley's catchy "Don't Be Cruel" is second and Duke Ellington's haunting "Canadian Sunset" is still at the top of the list of hits.

Students Urged To Have 'Sally' Pictures Made

Have you had your picture made for the "Sally" yet? This is the most-asked question around school. For those who haven't read the announcements written on the boards in all classrooms, here is what you should know:
JUNIOR and SENIOR PICTURES
The place: Jameston Studio, 108 North Park
The Time: 3:30 every afternoon
The price: $1.75.

Also they are open Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights by appointment.
The deadline for these pictures is Nov. 17. Go now—don't wait until the last minute.

Freshman Class Elects Officers

By KAY IVEY
The Freshman class held its second meeting Tuesday, Oct. 18. The meeting was presided over by Jimmy Gracey and we elected students for the following offices: student council, Marilyn McDaniel and Ray Lundquist; Chaplain Dian Aiken; and Treasurer, Rose Marie Russel.
Also it was decided that our dues for the year would be 50 cents.
The meeting was then adjourned.

The sergeant was tutoring some recruits on the firing range. "This type of bullet," he impressed on the rookies, "will penetrate two feet of solid wood, remember to keep your heads down."

Platter Chatter Around SHS

By CLAUDIA WARMACK
Have you heard Elvis Presley's latest "Love Me Tender"? We think it's the "Most."
Don't you think so?

Johnny Ray's latest, "Walking in the Rain," is "Super." It really has what it takes.

Hey Kids! How about a "Hit Parade" at Seminole High School? We think it would be a good idea to have a "Hit Parade Box" in the hall and let everyone put their selections in the box through the week. Then Friday at noon they will be picked up and counted. The results will be printed in "Smoke Signals" on Monday.

We can try it and see how it works out. If you want to have a "Hit Parade" everyone will have to contribute at least one song each week.

All you have to do is write the name of the song you like best on a little slip of paper and drop it in the box.

High School Gets Check For Work On Savings Plan

The Florida State Bank recently presented a check for $18.75 to Seminole High School in appreciation of the fine work done in connection with the U. S. School Savings Program during the school year 1955-56. The check was received by A. J. Bracken, principal, who turned it over to Miss Edna Childtenden, who handled the sales for the sponsoring organization, the Library Council, to be used in carrying out activities of this group.

The interest of the Florida State Bank in civic and school activities and their generosity is greatly appreciated.

The Library Council will miss Irene Kelly who has transferred to the D. C. T. Program. Irene has been responsible for many of the bulletin boards in the library and she is to be commended for her splendid work.

Mr. Mathieux' art students will take charge of the bulletin boards in the future. Carolyn Hall and Dorothy Cain have arranged a most attractive Halloween bulletin board, consisting of a "spook" whose head is pumpkin and body is of book jackets.

Proper Diet Plus Exercise Shed Pounds

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
The mailbag is chock full of: "How can I lose weight" pleas. It seems lack of dates puts a girl in the "take a good look at yourself" mood. After all holiday parties are just a whiffle a way.
The best way for young girls to reduce is by exercise and reducing the quantity of food eaten. If too much is being consumed, say the experts.

The many faddish diets going the rounds worry medical men who find that they (1) do not keep the weight off after strenuous reducing or (2) dehydrate you and may cause serious illness or (3) debilitate because of their imbalance.

Any safe and diet must include foods the body requires. If one is overeating these may be cut down gradually. Eat a little less each day until you find a satisfying norm of a wide variety of foods. Avoid between meal nibbles and unnecessary sweets.

One of the best exercises for reducing is walking, and a good time is in the morning. It will help slim your hips, abdomen and thighs. The point is to walk briskly. Eat breakfast before the walk so that you do not increase your appetite by early morning exercise. A half-hour walk in the morning and a half-hour walk before or after dinner is ideal also.

Good exercises to do at home include these: — Stand with feet slightly apart keeping knees straight, bend down from waist, lending right hand to left foot. Repeat bending down placing left hand to right foot.

For the hips — Lie down on the floor. Raise right leg up as far as possible keeping arms outstretched and on the floor. Now swing right leg over left leg as far as possible aiming for the left hand (practically impossible but keep trying). Do this ten or twenty times or work up to it by adding a few extra every day.

A good exercise for the buttocks is this one: — Sit on the floor. Fold arms and then move across the floor by propelling yourself along by mov-

Open Letter To Youthful Drivers

(This open letter to youthful drivers was written by Sidney J. Harris of the Chicago Daily News after he had been forced off the road the previous day by a youthful driver who passed him on a hill, then cut in sharply ahead of him to avoid an oncoming car.)
Dear Son:
You may think you are a good driver, and perhaps you are. But I'd like you to keep in mind that most of your "skillful" driving is due to other motorists.

Anybody can whip along the road as fast and careless as you did. There's no trick to that — the new cars are loaded with power and pick-up — too much so, I'm afraid.

Just remember that it was my alertness that prevented an accident on the hill, not yours. Also, the driver approaching us had to apply the brakes suddenly and avert to save his life and yours. It is not your courage or dexterity that has kept you alive this long, but the prudence and courtesy of others. You have been trading on our good will and sense of self-preservation.

I wish it were possible to point out to you that your kind of driving is nothing but bad manners.

Glee Club Variety Show, 'Picnic' Rated Success

By FRED BALL
Last Tuesday the SHS Glee Club presented its Variety Show called "Picnic" in the auditorium of the Pinecrest School. The Glee Club is the first group from SHS to give a performance at Pinecrest, and it seemed a very satisfactory arrangement. For one thing, acoustics at Pinecrest are far superior to those at SHS. It must have relieved the soloists of a great deal of strain to know that they could be heard clearly.

"Picnic", for the most part, featured songs from Broadway musicals. There were many excellent solos and duets, and the Triple Trio and Double Quartette, as usual, made a big hit with their numbers. Comedy was provided by "Joe Smith." The choreography by Carol Nutt added considerable polish to the show.

The stage at Pinecrest offers much to work with in the way of lighting, and one of the most effective scenes in Picnic was bathed in blue light. A fall theme, with vari-colored leaves, formed the background for the acts.

This year's show, M.C.'d by Henry Cason, was one of the best yet presented by the Glee Club, and Miss Whittle is to be congratulated for a fine performance.

Rain Ruins FFA Chapter's Crop

By A. J. CLEMENTS
Our chapter did well at the Cattle Show in Ocala this past week. Many ribbons and awards were won by the boys who showed the cattle. This turned out to be the best show in which our chapter has entered since.

Our chapter has also had many hardships in the past week. The biggest problem is the so-called flood we had last week. The rain pretty well smashed our crop for the fall. But we hope to get the bean crop going again.

A truck-driver pulled up beside one of those tiny foreign sports cars, stalled on the highway, and poked his head out. "What's the trouble pal?" He grinned, "Need a new flint!"

Under the spreading mistletoe the homely maiden stood, and stood, and stood, and stood!

ing one thigh and then the other. The trick is to do it faster and faster as you go along.

An exercise for a puffy abdomen is this one: — Lie down on the floor, arms overhead, legs straight. Without moving your legs attempt to sit up, touching your toes with your hands. This is not an easy one to do, but it gets easier as time goes on.

If you do go in for the exercising method of reducing, it's a good idea to be strict with yourself about food. If you think that just because you are exercising you can eat more, that is a mistake. You can only lose if you combine the two; exercise and diet. But make sure the diet is a sensible one.

Tom-Tom Talk

By ANGELO COMPAIN
Is Leo Dinkins engaged? Surely, the maturity he has seemed to develop during the past year is exemplar of something. . . .

The newest fad seems to be to look like Yul Brynner; be dashingly Wally Pope, for instance. Will someone please tell me what became of Frances Jobe. . . . Why doesn't Kathryn Carpio date? Is she trying to follow in home-spun Chairman Miller's footsteps? Is Donna Newsum married? . . .

Despite Orsen Welles' amazing prediction, Al Phelps may still be our next President. . . . Has anyone noticed that (1) George Harriett has the smallest feet in school, (2) George Paris has the widest grin in Mrs. Coleman's angelic Latin II class? . . .

Where did Linda Cannon come from? . . . I may be out of my mind, but do Sid and Deloris compose the only Vliken-Jones duo in school? . . .

Time and time again our adolescent, wordless, and inexperienced freshmen have incited paternal compassion and protection in us grown-up appraisers. . . . Al Collins, huggin', n' juggin' a doll-like six-pound-two-ounce baby girl on the S. H. S. stage, seemed to fit the role of "Ma-da" so beautifully and appropriately that I'm wondering if he was trying to encourage and impress or discourage and depress a certain adoring freshman girl. . . .

"To pass or not to pass. That is the question." It isn't the students, but Mr. Dabbs who is worrying about it.

He doesn't seem to think students should be the only ones with report card blues. So he made up a report card for the students to grade him. I wonder if all teachers did this, how many would pass.

Albany Ham Radio Operator Helps Save Man's Life

By JIMMY ROBERTSON
Managing Editor
The Albany Herald

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—An Albany ham radio operator helped save the life of an Ohio man in a wreck 125 miles southwest of this city without leaving his home.

James Goode, supervisor of Palmyra Hosiery Mills Inc., went to his amateur radio transmitter upon returning home from work and put station K1JJD on the air.

At 4:30 p. m., he heard the following:

"This is K4TXO, Macon, Ga." The operator, known only to the hams as George and heard frequently here, explained he was in his mobile station—his automobile—on U. S. Highway 129 north of Jasper, Fla. He had just come upon an auto wreck.

Inside the smashed vehicle was a tourist, his arm hanging to the body by a few shreds of flesh. George pleaded for immediate help for the motorist.

Goode immediately notified the Georgia Highway Patrol short wave radio station WISB in Albany explaining the circumstances. WISB radioed details to the Florida Highway Patrol head quarters in Tallahassee. The Florida patrol notified the sheriff at Jasper and an ambulance service.

From the time K4TXO's first distress call hit the air to the time an ambulance and officers left Jasper heading north, a scant two minutes had elapsed.

Eight minutes later the ambulance and officers arrived at the wreck scene and a physician began administering to the victim.

The Ohio tourist, whose name was not learned here, will lose his arm but will live, the Albany ham operator reported to the West Virginia.

Social Security Changes Registering Late Must Be Stopped

Many farm operators in this area are affected by recent amendments to the Social Security Act, Paul K. Weaver, manager of the Orlando social security office said today.

"If the farm owner who rents his land or who has sharecroppers materially participates in the production or management of a crop or livestock on such land, the income is covered under social security," Mr. Weaver explained. "Farmers who have a net profit of $400 or more this year from rental income on land they substantially help to farm will receive a year of social security credit for 1956. If the farmer farms part or all of his own land entirely alone or with hired labor, or if he is a member of a farm partnership, he will include any net profit from these activities in determining if he has a total profit of $400. He will also include any other self-employment income derived from covered business enterprises."

With regard to farm income, self-employment farmers now have a new optional method for figuring their earnings for social security purposes. Mr. Weaver emphasized that the new method applies to taxable years ending on and after December 31, 1956 and may be used by farmers newly covered, as well as those who have been covered since 1954.

Under the new law, a farmer who has a gross income of $1800 or less during his taxable year has the option of reporting either his actual net earning or two-thirds of his gross income. For example, a farmer whose gross income for 1956 is $1500 has the option of reporting $1000 which is two-thirds of his gross, or of reporting his actual net earnings. A farmer whose gross income exceeds $1800 during his taxable year must compute his net. But if his computed net is less than $1200, he is allowed to report less than $1200, if he chooses to do so.

Two-Month Report On Road, Bridge Construction Given

Nearly $20 million in road and bridge construction projects were underway in the state during August and September, according to a monthly progress report issued today by Wilbur E. Jones, Chairman of the State Road Department.

In addition to the $209,204,237 of projects already under construction, Chairman Jones said that bids were received for $11,714,970 in new construction. During the two months, contracts were formally awarded for road construction totaling $10,077,023, while work completed and accepted by the Department in the period amounted to $7,832,490.

William H. Dial, of Orlando, Road Board member from the Fifth District, reported that construction under 83 contracts in the 12 counties comprising this district accounted for $34,078,958 of the state total. This is for the two month period.

"The Brownie Book of Picture-Taking"

As our regular readers know, we don't very often discuss books or booklets in this column. But we recently ran across a remarkably comprehensive little booklet that we thought you might want to look into. Entitled "The Brownie Book of Picture-Taking" its pages are packed with dozens of helpful tips and suggestions on how to get the best results from your box camera.

The "Brownie Book" is intended for all those who are just venturing into the great big wonderful world of picture taking. And that doesn't mean it's aimed only at the junior members of the family. For it should have particular appeal for the young marrieds who have just bought their first camera and are about to shoot pictures of their children.

Easy instructions, illustrated with photos and cartoons, make it a snap to get acquainted—or reacquainted—with your camera. And you'll enjoy learning all kinds of simple tricks for good close-ups, action shots, color pictures, indoor snapshots, outdoor shooting with flash, as well as ideas for your vacation picture taking and a reminder about photographic greetings.

Don't be misled by its compact size or its small price of thirty-five cents—"The Brownie Book of Picture-Taking" can serve as both an introduction and a refresher course for all box-camera owners. Why not pick up a copy at your dealer's next time you're there?

Herlong Will Address Residents At Rally; Everyone Should Attend

Sanford and Seminole County is in the process of generating one of the most aggressive programs for growth and expansion in the entire area.

Certainly a large part of that aggressiveness and stimulation is from our friends who are in advantageous positions.

Such a friend is Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong, Jr., of Leesburg, Congressman for the Fifth Congressional District who is seeking reelection.

Congressman Herlong is in Sanford today on his annual visit so that he might talk with all of his constituents—talk about their problems, listen to their suggestions, and

Vote Intelligently

Back in the early day of our nation, when people were interested in their future and what the future held for their children and their children's children, they crowded around Benjamin Franklin one day as he came out of the Constitutional Convention, and asked, "Mr. Franklin, what do you have?"

Franklin replied, "You have a Republic, if you can keep it."

There was undoubtedly some question in the minds of those wise men who founded our government as to whether people were actually capable of governing themselves. They knew only too well that something that is everybody's business may easily become nobody's business.

There is one thing for sure—government in a free nation is everybody's business and the nation will remain free so long as it is everybody's business. The only way people can prove they are capable of self-government is by retaining the responsibility for that government in their own hands.

Do you ever complain about the kind of government you are getting or about individuals holding public office?

You have no right to do so—unless you take an active part in politics yourself, unless you register and vote at election time, unless you keep yourself informed on matters of government. We can be quite sure that in the long run, free people in a free country get just the kind of government they deserve.

We often hear it said, by entirely rea-give them an insight on what is happening in the Nation's capitol.

We suggest that Sanford and Seminole County Citizens take advantage of the opportunity to hear Congressman Herlong when he speaks at a Rally tonight at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Ave. We are sure that our Congressman has the facts and figures, the details and the history of his already brilliant career in Washington, a career or representing his District as well as a career of handling the business of the nation during his important committee assignments.

Two important events take place tonight—a dinner honoring Congressman Herlong, given by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, and a Democratic Rally in downtown Sanford—and we hope that those who are invited to the dinner and those who have an opportunity to hear Congressman Herlong at a public Rally, will all do so.

The Sanford Herald welcomes "Syd" Herlong to Sanford!

pectable people. "Why I wouldn't have anything to do with politics for anything in the world. It's a dirty-business and I wouldn't get mixed up in it."

That is the most dangerous attitude a person could take to continue to live in a free nation. It is the surest way to destroy freedom. That is not the attitude that Washington and Jefferson and Jackson and Lincoln and all the other great patriots took! They believed that taking part in politics was the finest thing they could do for their country—and they were entirely right.

Politics in itself is not a "dirty business." Politics is no dirtier than the people who engage in politics. Politics is the science of government and the kind of government we have depends upon the kind of people who take part in it.

A man can possess no more valuable right than the right to vote. It is the one way in which every man can have a voice in his government. It is a responsibility and a duty that no free man can shirk if he wants to remain free.

It is at the voting booth in a free nation that every man is equal to every other man—where every man's voice is heard, where every man's vote is counted alike, where every man makes his choice as to who shall serve him in public office.

A man who doesn't exercise his right to vote deserves nothing better than the corruption and despotism in government which he will eventually get.

Countless lives and years have been spent in gaining for us the freedom which we now have in the United States of America. Shall all that sacrifice have been wasted because we are just not interested enough in our government to go to the polls on election day?

Vote! Vote because it is your priceless heritage. Vote because it is your responsibility to yourself and your fellowmen. Vote because it is your duty to future generations.

And don't vote blindly—vote intelligently! Inform yourself as to the fundamental issues at stake. Make up your own mind as to which candidates are best equipped to meet these issues.

Remember—when you are in the voting booth, no one can tell you how to vote. You vote as a free man—not as a slave.

Farm Officials Keep Watchful Eye On Prices, Markets

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration farm officials are keeping a watchful eye this fall on prices and markets for agricultural products.

Their aim is to be ready to act quickly to shore up markets for any commodity which shows signs of weakening significantly.

They already have set up a broader list of price support and surplus disposal programs than at any time since President Eisenhower took office in 1953.

Administration leaders make no bones about their sharp interest in developments in farmers' markets. They say it is prompted in a large measure by a desire to reduce Democratic campaign charges that the GOP administration is lagging in an interest in the welfare of farmers.

At the moment, administration officials are keeping closest tabs on markets for hogs—a major source of fall income in politically important midwestern states.

Hog prices have recovered somewhat from last year, largely because farmers raised fewer pigs. Last week they averaged about $16.04 a hundred pounds in eight midwestern markets, or about 8 per cent higher than year earlier.

Government buying usually has the effect of bolstering prices because it reduces supplies available for consumers. The government has already entered markets for hogs for the declared purpose of adding strength to hog markets.

The administration has been buying eggs and turkeys for several weeks in an attempt to boost poultry returns. It similarly is buying hamburger meat to help cattle prices and plums, cabbage, and sweet potatoes to aid vegetable and fruit growers.

The decision to buy eggs and turkeys was a reversal of policy because Secretary of Agriculture Benson had refused in previous years to enter markets for these products on the argument that government buying would give prices an unwarranted boost that would serve to encourage continued overproduction.

The lard, eggs, turkey, hamburger and fruits and vegetables are being turned over to the government sponsored school lunch program and to charitable institutions.

The department is pushing a program for the diversion of surplus potatoes into starch, flour and livestock feed. Under this program, growers get government subsidies of 30 cents a hundred pounds on table stock potatoes diverted from regular potato markets.

In another step to bolster potato prices, the department has renewed import regulations aimed at restricting imports. It also is cooperating with other

Odd Items Appear In Writer's Mail

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Odd items a columnist might never pick up if he didn't read his mail, or peek over a few transoms:

That although Indians in Cuba were blowing cigar and pipe smoke in each other's faces centuries before Christopher Columbus arrived, the first cigarettes were made in Turkey in the 18th century.

That the pocket gopher is one of the few animals—aside from politicians—that can run backward as rapidly and easily as they can go forward.

That the odds are 5-1 you aren't keeping a single New Year's resolution you made on last Jan. 1.

That the three most crowded lands on the globe are the Netherlands, Belgium and Japan. The Japanese population, now by 110 million, has increased a spectacular 18 million since the end of the World War II.

That those who bewail the rock 'n' roll fad may or may not be convinced by a new trend—calypso music is becoming popular again.

That if every oil well suddenly went dry there is enough coal in America to heat its homes for 1,000 years—but who wants to carry out all those ashes?

That one of every 10,000 persons suffers from hemophilia, a disease marked by profuse bleeding from even slight injuries.

That although hemophilia often is called "the curse of the Hapsburgs," it actually was spread through Europe's royal families by descendants of Queen Victoria, who inherited it from her father. That, however, since the disease skipped Queen Victoria's eldest son, Edward VII—and once the chain is broken it stays broken—none of Britain's present royal family are "bleeders."

That if, as its critics say, radio is "deader than vaudeville," why are more home radios still being sold than television sets?

That the average child at the age of one year can say dada, mama and three other words. This is five words more than his father or originally uttered during breakfast.

That, according to the American Optometric Assn., eye accidents in industry occur at the rate of two a minute every working day. And 98 per cent are avoidable.

ment has disposed of virtually all its surplus stocks of cheese and dried milk. Most of these products were donated for welfare use at home and abroad and to the school lunch program. A year ago, the department held a full month's extra supply of butter.

Farmers' fall pocketbooks are being helped through the payment of 251 million dollars for participating in the new soil bank program this year. Under this program, producers get subsidies for taking a part of their allotted acres out of the production of such surplus crops as cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

Adlai, Ike Lacking New Ideas

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a twinning between President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson not only in the promises they make but in the lack of new ideas in this campaign.

Eisenhower has offered no new ideas at all. Neither has Stevenson with two possible exceptions: on the H-bomb and school aid. Eisenhower is vague on his promises although Stevenson in most cases is pretty vague too. An American who looks at the two parties with fixed prejudices or new enthusiasms may feel he discerns big difference between the men. To an impartial European this election may look like a choice between two managers for the same store.

Both men, moderate and conservative, are basically alike in their outlook; they are agreed the social progress of this country must be retained. They're not offering to change it but only to improve it.

Thus voters must make their choice on small differences rather than big or radical ones; which man can do the White House job better, and whose programs, since they are generally similar, look a little better?

On foreign affairs Eisenhower and Stevenson basically see eye to eye on a need for alliances and continued foreign aid.

And on one of the really fiery issues of the day—getting the South to accept the Supreme Court's ruling against public school segregation—both men have expressed only platitudes. Neither has offered a program or a solution.

On this issue Stevenson has taken a little stronger stand than Eisenhower; he at least says he approves the court's decision. Eisenhower, asked several times if he endorses the decision, has never said he did but must, as president, back it up.

Eisenhower—whose theme is peace, prosperity and progress—stands on his record, belittles the Democrats, promises to expand existing programs or get action on measures previously introduced in Congress but not yet approved.

Stevenson—with no White House record of his own—points with pride to past performances of the Democrats, belittles the Republicans, and in general makes the same kind of promises as Eisenhower: expansion and action on measures already discussed.

One notable difference between the two men is in their farm programs: Eisenhower assures the farmers they'll "make out fine under his flexible price support policy; Stevenson says they'll do better with higher rigid supports. Eisenhower so far has not gone into details on anything he's promised. Stevenson has gone into detail on three programs: health, education, and older people. If two of Stevenson's ideas can be considered new, these are the ones:

1. He has proposed the United States take the lead toward ending H-bomb tests. If he is suggesting they be ended without ironclad agreement with Russia to do the same, that would be new. But it still is not clear precisely what he has in mind.

2. Instead of offering the kind of school aid bill debated in Congress this year—to give states money only for building schools—for example; one might need money to train teachers more than to build schools.

Eisenhower and Stevenson, as is usual in a campaign, have exaggerated the differences between them and between their parties. But the general similarity of their programs can be seen from this list which both have proposed:

Erasing the schoolroom shortage; properly for the farmers, although by different methods; medical research; housing; jobs for older people; steps to ease unemployment; soil conservation; water resources development; and new supplies of power.

FISH SWIM ACROSS HIGHWAY
WEST PALM BEACH—Eric H. Seburg said he saw fish swimming across U. S. 41 when he slowed down to ease his car through an inundated stretch near Taylor Creek yesterday. With a sidearm roll case, the West Palm Beach man said, he caught a 2 1/2-pound bass "which took the lure about at the center strip of the flooded road."

VOTERS OF SEMINOLE COUNTY

The undersigned Democratic nominees for Seminole County public offices in the General Election on November 6, 1956, urge the voters to support the Democratic Party on the local, state and national level.

It is our belief that only through the election of a Democratic Congress and a Democratic administration can we maintain a voice in national affairs and reflect our views in government.

Our own United States Senators and Representatives from Florida, together with their colleagues from our neighboring states, occupy important chairmanships and positions on the influential committees of Congress. They likewise hold high positions within our own Democratic Party.

Their voices, speaking for us as our representatives, can best be heard in Washington by the party of which they are members—the Democratic Party.

Senators Holland and Smathers, Governor Collins, Congressman Herlong and our six other Democratic Florida Congressmen, have endorsed the nominees for the Democratic Party. We join them in urging the election of a Democratic administration and a Democratic Congress in November. In this way, and in this way only, do we have a chance to make our voices heard.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN

The monthly luncheon of the wives of VAM-9, held Thursday at the B. O. Q. Hostesses were Polly Brubaker and June Ludalle. The table arrangement of garden flowers was made by Polly with blossoms from her own garden. Bridge was played on the porch, following the delicious luncheon of creamed chicken. Attending were Vi Mildred, Ann Bear, Betty Emausky, Spook Hook, Pat Hanlon, Virginia Deremig, Bert Burholder, Jean Ross, Marva Wood, Millie Snee, Joan Fellini, Bonnie Grandy, Sadie Noide, and Ellen Gonzalez.

Polly Brubaker wishes me to announce that she will again be having her bridge at her home on Mellenville. The time will be Wednesday morning from ten to twelve. Polly teaches the Goren system, and we think it must kind of to donate her home and time to teaching beginners, or those who wish to brush up on their bridge. Anyone who would like to learn, may appear Wednesday morning. Last year quite a few girls took lessons, and today are enjoying the many bridge parties for which the Navy wives are so famous.

A group of Station wives met at the home of Della Hibbard in Winter Park Thursday for a delightful luncheon of fruit salad. There were two tables of bridge. Playing were Muriel Hawkins, Bea Hamrick, Dol Leary, Sally Love, Joy Webster, Carol Cook, Geneva Quicker and the hostess, Geneva won first, and Della, second. Newcomers in town—Ralph and Maria Levi have moved into 827 Catalina Drive with their three little girls. Ralph is a North American Aircraft representative, and will be attached to VAM-9. They have come from Millington, Tenn. Betty and Charles MacBratnie have bought the yellow house in Grove Manor. They have two boys, Kevin and Shawn. Betty has had a great deal of experience in stage management, and is very interested in theatre work. Perhaps we can help Dottie and Francis Roumillat reopen the Little Theatre.

Ruth and King Hodges have as their guest, Ruth's father, Mr. A. N. Garrett of Williamsburg, Virginia. Mrs. Garrett was unable to get away at this time, but will be down for a visit later in the season.

Mrs. Volie Williams Jr. gave a coffee in her home in Grove Manor Thursday morning, and very nicely included the Navy wives in the neighborhood. Among the many guests at this lovely "re-acquainted affair" were Skip Horrel, Doris Francisco, Spook Hook, Betty MacBratnie, Marilyn Forrest, Katie Cummings, Rusty Lillebo and Ruth Hodges.

Don't forget to make reservations for the Halloween party Saturday, Oct. 27th. There will be a delicious dinner of roast prime ribs, and all the trimmings, besides dancing, games and prizes. Booths will be set up in the TV room, with amusements, including caricature's drawn by Polly Brubaker, and fortunes told by the mystery lady. The reason she's such a mystery is because we haven't found her yet. If any one is adept at this art please volunteer to help us out. Anyway, the party will be a lot of fun whether you come in costume or not. Your unit representative has tickets now!

NEW IDEA: PIQUANT STUFFING IN BAKED SHRIMP
Here's a luxurious way to serve shrimp! Stuff butterfly-style with a piquant mixture of rice, chopped mushrooms, green pepper and pimiento. By stuffing the shrimp, one pound serves five to six generously!

The stuffing for the shrimp is made of a well-seasoned mixture of cooked rice, onion, pimiento and succulent mushrooms. This stuffing is placed between the halves of split shrimp. Dry bread crumbs sprinkled over the top turn a glorious golden brown in the oven. Shrimp prepared this way is an elegant main dish.

INGREDIENTS:
1 1/2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoons chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons chopped canned mushrooms
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento (about 1 lb.) fresh or frozen (thawed) jumbo shrimp
1/2 lb. frozen breaded butterfly shrimp (thawed)
2 tablespoons milk
About 1 cup dry white bread crumbs
1/2 cup of bought breaded shrimp are used
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

METHOD: Put the water, salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat and leave the lid on 10 minutes. While the rice cooks, melt the 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in a small saucepan. Add the onion and green pepper. Cook, stirring occasionally, until almost tender. Stir in the mushrooms and cook until the onion and green pepper are tender. Stir in the pimiento.

Prepare the shrimp if breaded shrimp are not used. Shell and devein the fresh or frozen (thawed) shrimp, but leave the tail piece on. Split the shrimp in half lengthwise, butterfly fashion. Dip first in the 2 tablespoons of milk, then in the bread crumbs. Save the remaining crumbs. Arrange breaded shrimp on a piece of greased aluminum foil placed on a large baking sheet. Press each half of split shrimp flat.

After the rice cooks, stir in the 1/2 cup of milk, cook, stirring, over a low heat until the milk is absorbed. Stir in the black pepper, garlic, salt, Worcestershire sauce and the green pepper mixture.

Stuff each shrimp with the rice mixture placing it over and between the split shrimp. Cover with the rest of the bread crumbs. Pour the 3 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine over each stuffed shrimp.

Place baking sheet in a preheated 400° oven for 18 to 20 minutes.

This recipe makes 5 to 6 servings allowing 3 shrimp to a serving.

OPEN HOUSE AND AUTUMNAL-TEA given by the DeBarry Woman's club at the civic center, Friday afternoon. All women of DeBarry were invited to the occasion, with Mrs. Alton McCalley and Mrs. Joseph Meehan at the tea tables. Music was provided by Cooper Gregory of Orlando.

Wife of New Golf Pro Has Many Interests; Likes All Sports

The "future pro" who is due to arrive sometime next month is the main interest in the life of Mrs. Mario Carfagno, wife of the new pro at Mayfair Inn Country Club. She said they have no preference as they could raise a female pro as easily as a male.

The Carfagnos arrived in Sanford on the 15th and will make their quarters at the Country Club where they are well-pleased with the three room apartment provided for them.

Mrs. Carfagno is a native of Elizabeth, N. J., and attended Benedictine Academy, which is situated in a small town just outside Elizabeth. She was formerly associated with a national insurance company.

All types of sports interest this lady, but her particular favorites are horseback riding, swimming and boating, and although she as yet is not too active in golf—she's just learning the game—she hopes someday to be able to break par. She is also an avid baseball fan, and in addition counts sewing as one of her foremost hobbies.

This is not Mrs. Carfagno's first introduction to Florida, as she spent her honeymoon in Vera Beach and fell in love with it then, although at that time, she said, she never dreamed she'd be so lucky as to be making her permanent home in the "Sunshine State."

She had nothing but nice things to say about Sanford and, more especially, the people here, saying that everyone had been "very friendly and nice."

Sanford is always happy to welcome new residents and especially when they are as nice as the Mario Carfagnos.

Westside Carnival Schedules Varied Events, Activities

A fish pond, duck pond, cake walk, country store, white elephant sale, and a rummage sale are a few of the events that will be featured at the Westside School Halloween Carnival which is to be held on Saturday, Oct. 27 at 5 p. m.

There will be hot dogs, ham burgers, cake, coffee and cold drinks sold in the cafeteria and the country store will feature groceries, plants, homemade jams and jellies, and needlework.

Also there will be candle apples sold and several rides are scheduled. Mr. and Mrs. Wieboldt will be on hand to take pictures of the children in their costumes.

Two Films Shown At Thursday Meet Of Lutheran Ladies.

Mrs. Bill Southward showed two of a series of three films, "What the Bible Says About Missions" and "What Others Did About Missions" at Thursday's meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, which was held at 7:30 p. m. at the Church. The other film will be shown at the next meeting.

Mrs. Henry Thurston presided over the business meeting and committee reports were given. It was decided that the members of the Ladies Aid would be hostesses for a supper for church members and friends to be served at the church, Thursday Oct. 23, at 6 p. m.

Mrs. James Ekern announced that a new book "The Link" by Marjorie A. Clark has been purchased for the church library and reminded members that these books were available for checking out.

It was decided that a bake sale would be held in front of Sears, a date in November to be set later.

After the business meeting a white elephant sale was held, followed by refreshments served to 18 members and three guests by the hostesses Mrs. Jerry Senkark and Mrs. Bill Southward.

Citizens: Help Push Recreation Dept. For City

BY B. HUGH ANALEY
Friday night I was sad. Sad because I witnessed half a team try to stop a smooth running machine; filled with pride and play as I watched boys who should be on an injury bench try to do their team proud. Sad because I knew the Seminoles couldn't have won the game even if they had been in top condition.

Anyone would have been touched to see the game attitude of the boys. Anyone would have felt the same shudder had they seen their teammate placed in an ambulance and taken to some unknown hospital with some unknown hurt casting him in the chain of delirium.

I felt the same futility that the team must have felt as, one by one the key players wined in pain but kept going because there was no one to take their place.

And I felt the same dread of another defeat as did the coaches and the players. We knew excuses would only ease the sharpness of the home folks' tongues.

But I felt a stirring pride when I noticed tears running down the cheeks of some of the players. They knew the next play was going around their end, but there was nothing they could do about it.

I was angry when I watched Sophomores and Juniors win with twice as much experience as our Seniors. Rick Gillespie said his team was "building this year."

More than anything else I was troubled because I knew the Sanford Seminoles would never be competitive in the Orange Belt Conference under the circumstances. No team can compete with another when there are years separating the teams experience-wise. And I know the Sanford Seminoles faced at least two more years of this same kind of drubbing.

Bulldogs Crush Seminoles 33-7

From the second play of the game the Sanford Seminoles were on the skids. It was a downward journey for the rest of the game, and the Seminoles were crushed 33-7 by Melbourne, three time champion of the Orange Belt Conference in as many years, Friday night in Melbourne.

The Seminoles jumped to an early lead, when Bob Johnson pitched out to Phil Byrd and Carl Myers to Brantley "Choo-Choo" Schirard in a breathtaking razzle-dazzle play that carried 47 yards and a score. Ronnie Giles talented toe added the extra point, but that was all for the haggard Seminoles.

Both defensive ends for the Seminoles, Murray Nance and Tom Brown, were on the injury list and were unable to see action.

On the second play of the game Al Stanley made a beautiful tackle, but caught a knee in the head that sent him to the hospital with a serious but not critical concussion.

The only other quarterback to

BYRD ON THE WING—Phil Byrd (20) intercepts pass intended for Bill Archer (30) and returns it 18 yards. Bob Johnson (25) was also covering Archer, and Bob Little (35) is coming in to block out Archer. Ronnie Russell (24) also figured in the play.

Things Popping As Golf Lessons Get Under Way

Things have been popping at the Mayfair Country Club since Mario Cragano set up shop. Carl Hubbard has been a daily visitor to the course and as his resting progresses, so does the sharpness of his play. Sunday he came in with a 72—that's only two over par.

George and Audrey Speer are newcomers to the sport of the fairway. They took first lessons from Mario Sunday, and, from gossip going around, they enjoyed themselves.

Carl Yost enjoyed Mario's competition over the weekend. Yost finds Sanford more pleasant than any other course he has played, and considers himself a permanent member of the community.

Beginning classes in golf are already underway, and four beginners are topping the list. Jeanne Miller, Jean Stetson, Jean Dille, and Betty Class can hardly wait until they get enough experience to join the regular Women's Golf Association activities.

Speaking of Women's Golf, the Kaefer Tournament will be held Oct. 24 thru Nov. 7. There will be a winner and a runner-up in the full handicap event. Sorry ladies, but you can't decide what three score cards to hand in after you play. If you want your score in count, you must have the card attested by Mario before you tee off.

Wednesday the women will have a luncheon at the Country Club. About 40 of our locals are expected to be on hand.

Oct. 28 will be a special day during the Kaefer tournament. The women will have a two ball mask tournament—just a little touch of Halloween.

Stanley Suffers Concussion Friday Condition Better

Al Stanley is resting well after the concussion suffered during the Melbourne game Friday night. He was taken to the hospital in Melbourne Friday night. Saturday his condition was reported to be improved and he had regained consciousness. Sunday he was cognizant of his surroundings and was taken home. Doctors said his concussion was severe but not critical and the injury was sustained in the area of the frontal lobes. There was no apparent fracture. He will require complete rest for a few more days under close inspection of a physician.

What was Al's reaction to it all? He was angry that the Seminoles lost the game, and said "I could have stopped those end runs." He was optimistic about his recovery and said he was anxious to get back to school and football.

After the next few days of surveillance the doctor will determine whether or not Al will see action for the Seminoles again.

Lyman Falls Before Bishop Moore 9-0

The Lyman Greyhounds came out on top in everything but points as they fell 9-0 before a revitalized Bishop Moore squad Saturday night at Harper-Shepherd Field in Winter Park.

The score-conscious Hornets, unable to penetrate the bruising Greyhound defense for a scoring punch, called on the talented toe of quarterback Mike DeVoe to boot the Hornets into the scoring column by a 15 yard field goal in the second quarter.

The Greyhounds, making deep penetrations in every quarter, were unable to go the final yards and were blanked out by the Hornets.

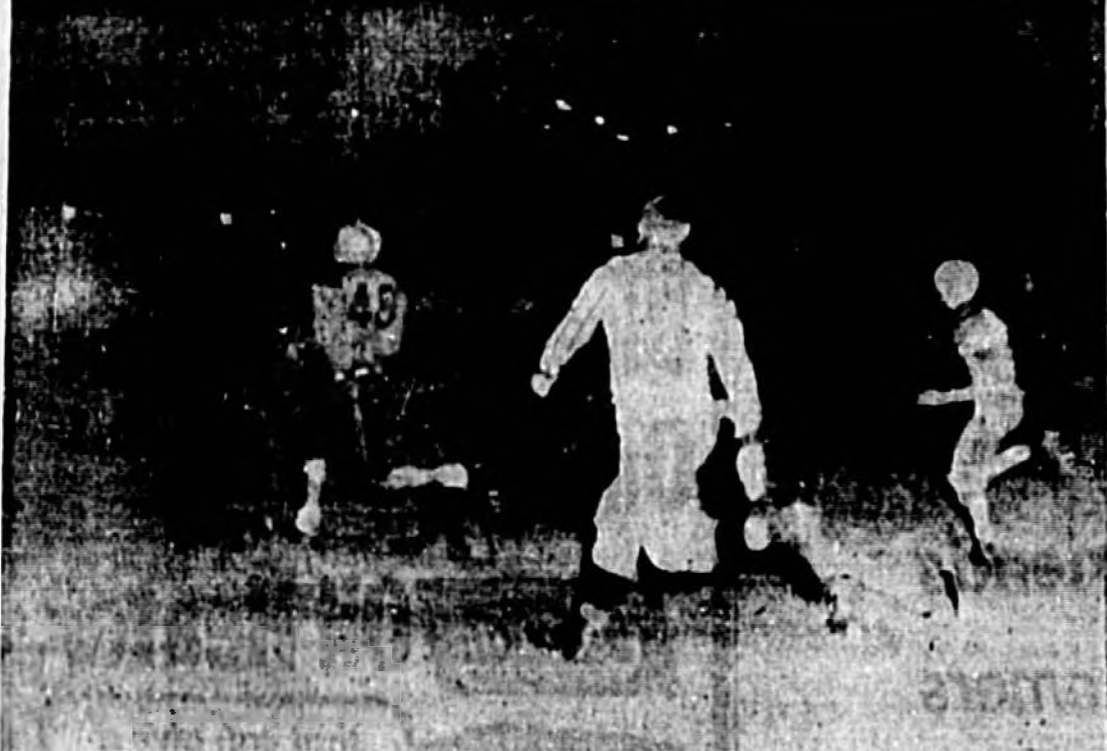

In the final minutes of the game the Hornets slipped through for yardage again, and again didn't let a scoring opportunity slip through their hands. On a fourth down attempt, DeVoe flipped a nice yard aerial to right end Jay Barry for the final score.

Panthers Tie Hungerford 6-6

Overconfident Circums Academy met tired Hungerford at Winter Park Friday night in Harper-Shepherd field, and it took all the Panthers could muster to pull the game out of the fire and come out with a 6-6 deadlock.

Lesler Sears put the Winter Park team out front and it was rough for the rest of the way. The defensive unit of Hungerford repelled every scoring attempt until the last of the game.

It was the most unimpressive outing for the Panthers this season.

CHOO-CHOO CARRIES THE MAIL—Brantley "Choo-Choo" Schirard makes the first score of the game Friday night in Melbourne as he travels for 47 yards to complete the razzle-dazzle maneuver when Johnson pitched out to Byrd who in turn passed to Schirard. Schirard ran over Carl Myers (71, on ground by referee) when Myers attempted to sidetrack him.

NEW EAGLE SCOUTS are David Watkins, former Sanford boy (left) and Carroll Watson, who won the coveted award recently. The two boys are the first Eagle Scouts in Pahokee in over 10 years. (Glades Observer, —Pahokee, Fla.)

David Watkins, 14, Becomes BS Eagle Scout Recently

David Watkins, 14, of Pahokee, Fla., was recently awarded the most coveted and highest honor in Boy Scouts—that of Eagle Scout. The presentation was made in B-lle Glade at the Court of Honor of the Glades District, Gulf Stream Council. David along with another Pahokee boy were the first Eagle Scouts from Pahokee in over ten years.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Watkins, was born and reared in Sanford and moved to Pahokee about a year and a half ago. He started his Scouting career in Sanford with Troop 31, under the leadership of Mr. W. W. Tyre, Scoutmaster and under the sponsorship of the First Methodist Church. He is a freshman at Pahokee High School where he plays football on the Junior High School team and is a member of the First Methodist Church, Pahokee, and is President of the Intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Kemp Says Harness Racing Will Bring New Taxpayers

Seminole County will gain many wealthy, prominent new tax-paying residents from all sections of the country if voters ratify the harness racing proposition on Nov. 6, William R. Kemp, president of Seminole Raceway, told The Herald today.

"This is not idle speculation," stated Kemp. "In Orlando, with its city-owned track from 30 to 50 families have purchased homes and become permanent tax-paying residents just because the harness horses winter there."

"When we are able to expand our facilities to handle our horses, there will be owners, trainers and drivers seeking homes in Seminole County just to be near the training activity. And these are spending people, not dependent upon local earnings for their income," observed Kemp.

Orange County's harness horse colony includes such prominent and wealthy people as Clarence Gaines, former owner of Gaines dog food and a wealthy breeder; Len McNamara, owner and breeder of Indianapolis; Sherman Jenney owner of Walnut Hill Stud Farm in Lexington; Roy Amos of Edinburgh, Indiana, wealthy business man and breeder; and such famous drivers as John Simpson, Billy Haughton, Delvin Miller and a host of others.

"This is just a few of the many who have acquired homes in Orange County," Kemp said. "As Seminole County comes into the picture at the largest training center in the nation, scores of other owners, trainers and those closely connected with the fabulous industry, will acquire property and homes here."

DeBary

(Continued from Page 1) taxes assessed against the home of a resident, occupied by him, up to $5,000, "except assessments for improvements." So when the commissioners decided that this word "improvements" included road building, in Daytona and other places where roads were built, the cost was assessed against all property, including that covered by the Homestead Act and provision of that Constitution. The Supreme Court, in a suit brought before it, gave their decision that roads are "improvements" and therefore assessments for their cost and maintenance did not have the benefits of the exemption provision.

"This year everyone in De Bary will have an assessment of seven mills on all property owned by them in this district," concluded Power.

Cocoa Man Bound Church Over To Court After Hearing

A convict guard from Cocoa, formerly at the Oviedo Road Camp, was bound over to Seminole County Court Friday afternoon at a Justice of the Peace hearing in Oviedo.

The hearing was held to look into the alleged razor blade cutting of Camby Kimble, 33-year-old Army man whose home is in Oviedo.

The cutting was reported to have taken place in the Seminole Tavern, north of Oviedo, on Friday night, Oct. 12, about 11:30 p. m. when Kimble attempted to disrupt a fight which was being fought between two men.

Kimble was taken to the Orlando Air Force Base Hospital for treatment. His condition has not been reported.

Arrested was William Angus Neel, 27, a Cocoa convict guard. He was charged with aggravated assault and bound over to Seminole County. His bond was set at $250 by Justice of the Peace Theo Aulin before whom the hearing was conducted.

Constable George Kelsey investigated the incident and had originally held Neel in the Seminole County Jail but had been released because of insufficient evidence.

Care Of Young Diabetic

By HERMAN M. BUNDLEH, M.D.
If your child is a diabetic, you may have a great psychological problem as well as a physical health problem on your hands. Care of a young diabetic—and there are a lot of them—presents innumerable stumbling blocks for unwary parents.

The dangers of under-precision, carelessness and indulgence are readily apparent and the results might be fatal. But over-protection also can be extremely harmful.

Abrupt Beginning
Generally, diabetes in young patients begins more abruptly and is more severe than in older patients.

If you rigidly enforce administration of insulin, diet restrictions and make a great thing out of treating the disease, your youngster may look upon this discipline as both unnecessary and cruel. He may actually feel that you are rejecting him.

The emotional health of a young victim is sometimes so severely affected that he becomes dependent, health-conscious, even self-centered. The reason is that a youngster is not able to rationalize the situation as an adult does.

Eventually, a child might actually rebel against his parents and their insistence on the necessary dietetic restrictions.

You'll get the best cooperation from a youngster under the age of 10. These younger children expect to be told what they can and cannot do by their parents. And they usually obey even though they do not understand the reasoning behind such orders.

Difficult Age
Most difficult age to control is between 12 and 18.

During this period of life, the young diabetic is apt to become discouraged. The character of both the patient and his diabetes changes. His insulin and dietary requirements, you see, are increased during adolescence.

And his social and emotional pressures become intensified. As many parents know, family relationships, even with healthy children, frequently are strained during the teen-age period. With a diabetic youngster, the problem may be even more acute.

Most Pro Golfers Find Tour Rough

Editor's Note: Ed Furgol, one of the many national figures in pro golf, is expected to be in Sanford for the $15,000 Mayor Inn PGA Open.

DETROIT (AP)—Ed Furgol, one of the nation's leading money winners among the golf professionals, was kicking around the question of golfers and their earnings.

Strangely, it's not a touchy subject at all with the former National Open titlist.

"A lot of people think that because a guy is a golf pro, he's rolling in money," says Furgol. "It's not this way at all. A lot of guys—most of them, in fact—have a rough go of it trying to make expenses."

Furgol says a pro has to make $10,000 annually to break even. He says "there are a million and one expenses that the average golf fan doesn't stop to think about. . . things like clothes (a guy has to look right, you know), travel expenses, cleaning, saddle fees, entry fees, living expenses, and so on."

"At the minimum, and only if a golfer goes second-class, it takes $10,000 a year for the guy who makes all the tournaments. It costs from $250 to $500 for every journey he enters. And don't forget, there are just so many winners, and there's not enough big money to go around."

Furgol believes people would be surprised at the number of young pros who try the circuit for a while, maybe a year or so then give it up mainly because of financial problems.

For a guy who "got into a lot of tournaments with little more than a prayer and a few bucks in his pocket," Furgol estimates they are 12 to 15 pros who make "real good" livings at it.

Most of the club jobs aren't too lucrative, either, he claims. "You have to win a lot of tournaments or finish pretty good in the money to make ends meet," says Furgol. "I'm not crying for sympathy. I've been fortunate, but the thinking seems to be that because a fellow is a golfer, that

Spotlight On Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD —The big news in local TV last week was the globbering an independent station, KTTV, gave the networks with the first of its MGM pictures, "30 Seconds Over Tokyo."

The station snagged almost double the ratings of the three network channels during the two and a half hours of the 1944 movie. This no doubt caused consternation among the networks. Certainly there was jubilation at KTTV.

"The results far exceeded our hopes," said KTTV boss Richard A. Moore. "We are delighted."

He added that the rating victory offers hope for the independent stations to compete with the networks, adding:

"Naturally it is hard for us to compete with entertainment shows. We can't afford to pay Ed Sullivan $100,000 a week for only one market. The networks can pay him that for many markets."

"But these movies can put us in a competitive position, as the ratings proved."

Moore pooh-poohed network fears that the influx of old movies will curtail creativity in TV.

"On the contrary," he said, "I think it will force the networks to create better shows."

"Faced with the competition of our movies, they must come up with more imaginative programming. There must be something wrong when they lose 80 per cent of their audience in one week."

KTTV, which is owned by the Chandler newspaper interests, acquired the MGM library for 4 million dollars on a seven-year lease. In addition, it sold the studio a quarter interest in KTTV.

Moore estimated that only about 20 of the 225 films are unusable. They date from sound to 1940. Two hundred of the best films have been reserved for the Friday night at 8 blue-ribbon showings. The others are being expended five times a week at 10:15 p. m.

Jory Finally Gets To Tokyo After 2 Weeks AWOL

TOKYO (AP) - Jory, a whittaker German seaman who hates cages and distrusts strangers finally got to Tokyo Thursday after being AWOL two weeks in Alaska. His mistress had to fly back to get him.

Capt. and Mrs. Edson Sweeney of Santa Fe, N. M., bought Jory the day their only son, Steven, was born 4 1/2 years ago. Sweeney was transferred to a jet fighter base in Japan recently, and the family took an airplane from Seattle three weeks ago. Jory's crate was put on another plane later in the week.

At Anchorage, Alaska, attendants decided the lonely, unhappy dog would enjoy a walk. When they started to put the 10-pound animal back into his cage, the broke his leash as if it were cotton thread and took off for the woods.

The airline advertised for the dog's return via newspapers, radio and television. Hundreds reported sighting him, but no one could get within half a block. At Tokyo, Jory was transferred to a jet fighter base when he learned his beloved companion was lost.

Mrs. Sweeney flew to Anchorage and began traipsing around the places where Jory had been seen. A telephone call sent her hurrying to a vacant block, scolded off by police to keep strangers from frightening the animal away.

Mrs. Sweeney was 100 yards away when Jory recognized her and dashed headlong for her. The trip to Japan was uneventful.

"Next time," Mrs. Sweeney told newsmen at the airport, "we'll make certain Jory is on the same plane with us."

THE CARD OF THANKS Very often a Card of Thanks in the Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the rated authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a loved one by an "In Memorium" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. At Oria Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it: "How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start When memory plays an old tune on the heart."

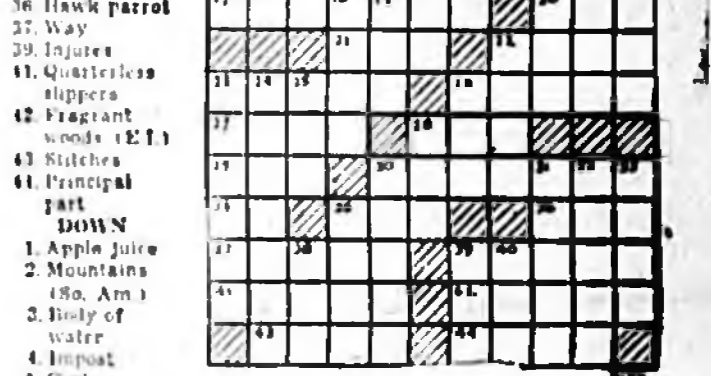

Most frequently an In Memorium is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE Cards of Thanks are $1.00 per insertion regardless of size. In Memorium notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

CHAPTER 19

THE next morning on the notice board outside the printer's office there was a notice stating that there would be a fancy-dress dance that night, but that all the costumes were to be impromptu and there would be prizes for the most original.

"Of course you'll be coming to this gale dance, Val," Dirk said enthusiastically over luncheon. "It should be grand fun. I've already decided on my costume and yours."

Val wanted to go very much. She was young and full of vitality, and though she knew she didn't dance very well, she loved it. Besides, it would be a change from reading to Mrs. Featherstone. Her employer never appeared to take the slightest interest in what was being read to her; half the time she seemed to doze off, but whenever Val thought her patient was asleep and stopped reading, Mrs. Featherstone would rouse herself and say sharply, "Go on reading, Nurse. What are you stopping for? Do you think I'm asleep? Or are you too lazy to read any more?" She would smile cruelly and add, "You'd like that, wouldn't you, to leave me asleep and slip on my deck and dance or make love with your various boy friends."

"The nurse Mrs. Featherstone won't let me go. She'll want me to read to her," Val answered Dirk now.

"Oh, boss, I'll arrange it with Aunt May. She's not a bad old stick at heart. She'll know you and I want to have some fun." But there was a faint note of doubt in his voice. He hadn't been seeing Mrs. Featherstone so easy to get along with lately.

"But I've no fancy costume," she protested. "And I've no idea how I could improvise one at the last moment."

"I'll fix you up," he said grinning. "You can wear my tailcoat. Your tails? But I'd look awful in a man's full dress suit!"

"Don't be silly," he said cruelly. "Women have made their stage reputations on the strength of having the figure to wear a man's full dress evening suit. Few women have the figure to get away with it, but you have." He grinned across at her admiringly.

"Well, perhaps," she said slowly, and smiled. "I could try it on anyway," she conceded.

He put one finger to the side of his nose and winked across at her. "Trust Uncle Dirk. He'll arrange everything."

She glanced across at the table where Bruce was sitting. They hadn't talked since last night on the top deck. He had seemed to hurt her, and the knowledge had been almost ready to promise him anything. Almost... What had he said her back? Was it a genuine feeling of friendship for Dirk, or her sense of gratitude to him for having been so nice to her? Was it also a sense of duty? Or was it really that in her heart she didn't want to lose his friendship because it had become something very precious to her?

Dirk was as good as his word. During the afternoon he told her that he had fixed it with Aunt May and he would send his steward to her cabin with his tails. When they arrived she tried them on at once. And after she had turned up the trousers with pins, the suit fitted her perfectly. He had sent as well a fine linen pleated shirt, white waistcoat and white tie, and she supposed she could wear her own high-heeled patent leather shoes. On an impulse she went to the ship's dressmaking room and had her already short hair cut shorter. She looked at herself in the mirror with both pleasure and surprise.

Mrs. Featherstone had consented to her going to the dance, but certainly she was in no mood to be happy about it. Val was also worried that her patient didn't seem well, although the book was quite steady now. She seemed rather short of breath and her face, usually flushed, was now an unhealthy white color.

"Please, Mrs. Featherstone, before I go I shall dress you. You let me call on the doctor?" Val asked anxiously.

But the mere suggestion agitated Mrs. Featherstone to such an extent that for the moment she was almost inarticulate.

"Call in that nurse, my ex-gardener's son, who hates me? What are you thinking of, Nurse? But, of course," her lips turned to a half smile. "You would want to call in an obstetrician, don't you? I shall have your gings-out with him—and with Dirk," she added hoarsely.

Val didn't reply to that. She merely said, "I should feel so much happier if you would see Doctor Harrison, Mrs. Featherstone."

Her patient half-raised herself on the bed. "I said I'd never have the man in my cabin, and I won't let you die!" After a few moments she subsided onto the pillow and spoke more rationally. "You'd better go and start getting dressed for the dance tonight. Dirk has told me he's ordered champagne in here so that I can have a drink with you before the festivities begin. And I believe a few glasses of champagne will do me good. I haven't been feeling at all well lately, and I'm sure it's my heart. But it won't be long now before we're on shore and I understand Dirk's friends in Montego Bay are really charming people and have a lovely house right on the water. I'm looking forward to it." She gave a short laugh and added vehemently, "I am certainly looking forward to getting off this boat."

As I am, Val thought in her heart. Oh heavens, as I am!

Some Couples Will Receive Social Security Benefits

Some couples will receive their social security benefits in a single family check. Paul K. Weaver, district manager of the Orlando social security office announced today. Wives of retired workers who filed their claims within the last month or so will have their benefit amounts combined with their husbands' old-age and survivors insurance benefits, if they are living at the same address, and are not entitled to aid-ase insurance benefits based on their own work records.

Up until now, retired workers and their wives have been paid their benefits each month in separate checks although in many cases, one of them would take both of the checks to the store or to the bank to be cashed. Being paid their monthly social security benefits in a single check will make the cashing of checks simpler for many of these couples, and if they have been paying fees to have their checks cashed, they will now have to pay only one fee instead of two.

The combination of the husband's and the wife's benefits into one check in no way affects the right of either individual to his or her benefit, nor the amount of that benefit. Both of them must sign their names on the back of the check before the check can be cashed.

The new method of payment, which is being instituted on a trial basis, is expected to cut the expenses of the Government in issuing and mailing checks and to relieve congestion in post offices around the first of each month when social security and other Government checks are mailed out.

Since 1951, the Social Security Administration has combined benefit payments to children living in the same household into a single check. This procedure by reducing the number of checks, has resulted in considerable savings.

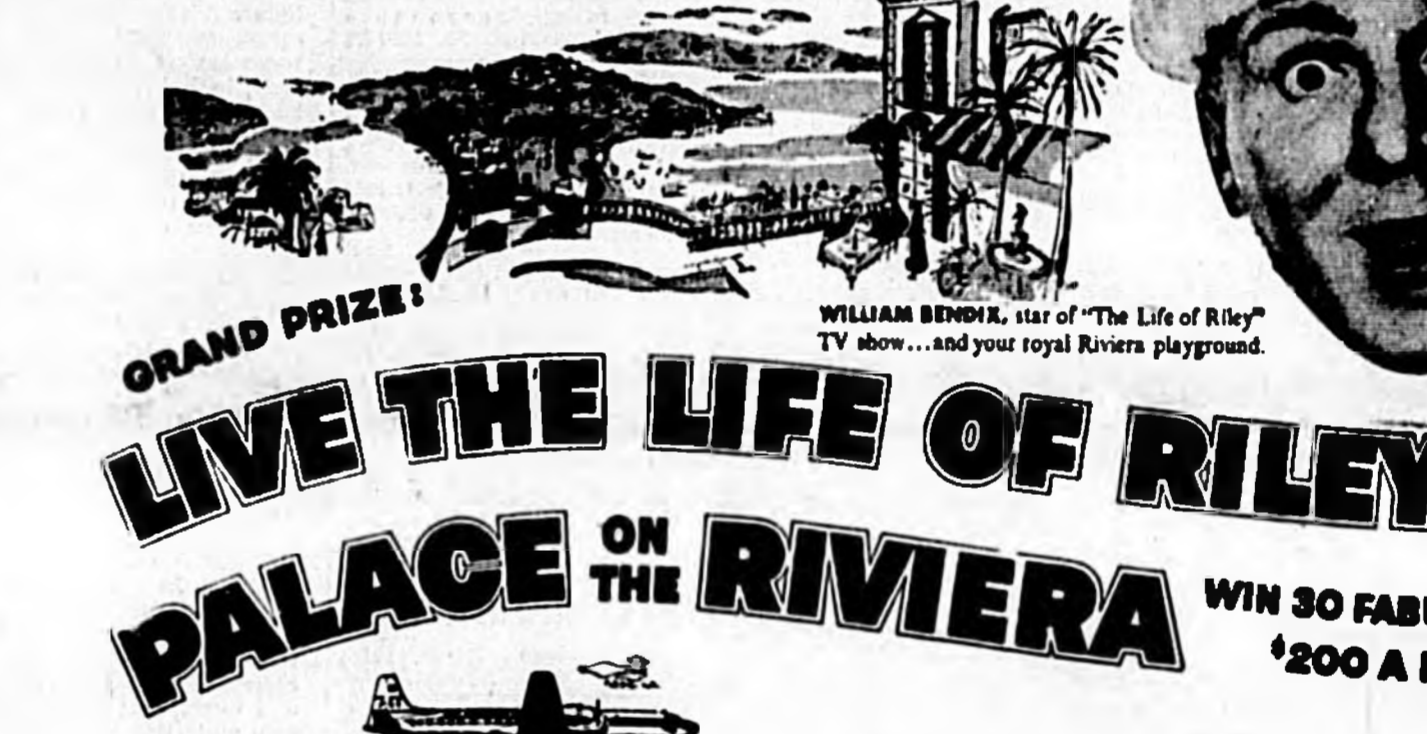

No combination of the social security benefits payable to a husband and wife will be made where they are not living together or where part of the wife's benefit amount is an old-age insurance benefit based upon her own record of work under social security. Separate checks will also continue to be issued where either the husband or the wife has been determined to be incompetent to handle funds.

Any beneficiary who for any reason objects to having his or her benefit amount combined with that of a spouse will be paid by separate check. Weaver said. He or she need only notify the social security office. The new procedure of paying husbands and wives by combined check, he pointed out, will not be extended to all elderly couples on the social security rolls before September 1956, until it has proved successful and productive of the expected savings in administrative costs.

'Proud Of Record' Cong. Herlong Tells Rally Crowd

At a Democratic Political rally last night at the corner of First and Magnolia St., State Senator Douglas Stenstrom introduced Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong. Stenstrom in his introduction stated that Congressman Herlong should be re-elected to Washington on his past performance, leadership and integrity.

Herlong in addressing the crowd said "I am proud of my record and will stand on it. I have worked hard in attending to your business the best way possible."

"I have worked for you 100 per cent during my eight years in office. I have worked hard for all ten counties in my district."

"My voting record has been attacked. Congressional records will show that I have voted on 689 of 752 bills in eight years. In advertisements in newspapers have appeared half-truths in opposition to me, that the type of man you want to represent you?"

In again referring to advertising, Cong. Herlong stated that expenses incurred in running for office would not exceed $2500. "I intend to abide by this. If others wish to do otherwise that is their business. But I don't intend to. I have no reason to apologize—because good results have been obtained during my stay in office. I will run on my own record," said Herlong.

Herlong spoke about the "numerous" things he had done for this area. "I helped obtain $500,000 for Canaveral Harbor, $300,000 for a citrus laboratory in Orlando and $75,000 for one in Winter Haven. I obtained research money for the fruit fly and vocational schools," he said.

On the welcoming committee and seated on the speaking stand were: State Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Representatives Mack Cleveland, Jr., and Gordon Fredericks, Judge Vassar Carlton, County Clerk O. P. Herndon, Sheriff Luther Jobby, County Commissioners elect Homer Little and James H. Lee, Seminole County Democratic Chairman.

Gen. Snyder Praises Guard Unit Strength

The Assistant Commanding General of the 48th Armored Division of the Florida-Georgia National Guard was in Sanford yesterday for a formal inspection of the troops and facilities.

On hand to greet Brig. Gen. Maxwell C. Snyder, on his arrival from St. Augustine yesterday about 3 o'clock were Maj. Roy Green, Maj. Bob Baker, Capt. Johnnie Kroschick, and Capt. Joseph D. Bryant.

Headquarters of Co. B, 154th Armored Infantry Battalion at the Sanford Army were inspected by a staff of officers arriving with Gen. Snyder.

Mayor F. D. Scott welcomed Gen. Snyder to Sanford.

Gen. Snyder commented at length on the "strength" of the local National Guard Company which numbers only 61 men.

"If the people of the community would only recognize that the National Guard is theirs," Gen. Snyder told Mayor Scott, the unit could come up to its full strength.

"This man," Gen. Snyder said as he pointed to Capt. Joseph D. Bryant, Commanding Officer of the Company, "has a tough assignment."

"It is the lack of manpower and the rapid turnover of personnel," he told the Mayor, "which gives us a hard time getting young officers personnel."

"Traditionally we have a high standard of training and the unit strength does not live up to those standards," he said.

Gen. Snyder pointed to the fine record of the local unit prior to World War II. "Seminole County and Sanford furnished more troops than any other unit in Florida, and more troops than any other city in comparison with size," he said.

He also compared Sanford with other units throughout the state. "For instance," he said, "Apalachicola has a strength of 90 men, 102 at Starke; 98 at Camp Blanding; 193 at Clearwater, and 90 at St. Augustine, among a few that we can recall."

"We need the support of the community," Gen. Snyder said, "and we hope that you can do something about it."

Lt. Gen. Joseph C. Hutchison (retired) was at the Armory yesterday to greet Gen. Snyder on his arrival here for the formal inspection.

Others accompanying Gen. Snyder to Sanford for the inspection were: Capt. R. G. Nelson, CWO H. W. Mullis, and Col. A. E. Durrell.

Herlong Federal System To Include 17-92

More than 200 members of Sanford's civic clubs heard Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr., report yesterday on the 84th session of Congress at a joint meeting held at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House.

Held jointly with the Sanford Rotary Club, other clubs represented were the Sanford Kiwanis Club, Sanford Lions Club, Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Sanford Pilot Club, and the Business and Professional Women's Club of Sanford.

Presidents of the various civic groups were seated at the speakers table.

Bill Kirk, prominent Seminole County Democrat introduced Congressman Herlong whom he compared with a prominent athlete. "His life is like an open book," said Kirk, "the way he conducts himself on and off the field." He added, "In these troubled times we are proud to have such a man as 'Syd' Herlong in our Congress."

Herlong's address was completely non-political and dealt only with the accomplishments and problems of the last session of Congress.

The Fifth District Congressman spoke briefly on the Farm Bill which came before the nation's lawmakers. Discussing the bill which passed during the 84th session, Herlong said "I think it was the lesser of the two evils—and still is not the answer to our problems."

"The cost is about a million dollars a day for storage of surplus farm products and there is just about as much going out today as there is coming in," explained Congressman Herlong.

An important adjunct of the farm bill and aid to the farmer was the proposed soil bank program—the bill which is intended to pay the farmer for not planting, said Herlong. "It isn't the idealistic program," he said, "and I voted against it."

A lot of these things look good on paper, Herlong explained, so you have to dig into the meat of them to find out what they are. "I have contacted farmers in this district to find out how they feel about the proposed bill — and they're against it," said Herlong.

Turning to the Federal Road Program Congressman Herlong told his civic club audience that the bill provides for "some 41,000 miles of highways."

The original bill, said Herlong proposed the forming of a Federal Highway Corporation empowered to issue bonds to be paid off in 30 years. This was the administration's estimate.

"Under authority of the bond resolution you are authorized to issue additional parity bonds with a pledge of the gross revenues from the Utility Department," he said.

"It seems to me that it can be done," Holt said, "but it is a question of whether or not you want to pledge these revenues."

However, attention was called to (Continued on Page Seven)

FHA Operating Loan Service Expansion Told

New legislation has increased the number of farm families who are eligible to obtain operating loans from the Farmers Home Administration, Curtis J. Green, the agency's County Supervisor said today.

The new law increases the maximum amount that can be advanced, and as a part of the Rural Development Program makes loans available when the farmer has part-time employment off the farm.

Operating loans are made for the purchase of machinery, livestock, equipment, fertilizer, seed, tractor fuel and other farm and home operating expenses needed to carry out efficient farming operations on family-type farms. In some instances, a loan may be made for the refinancing of existing debts.

Under this new law loans will also be available to applicants who have part-time employment off the farm, provided they are established farmers conducting substantial farming operations and spending the major portion of their time farming. Such operators must have dependable sources of outside income. The main purpose of these loans will be to help farmers who live in areas designated for the Rural Development Program.

Operating loans are repayable over periods of one to seven years with the interest rate at five per cent.

All of the present loan services of the Farmers Home Administration, which include loans for development and purchasing of family-type farms, farm housing and soil and water conservation continue to be available.

The Farmers Home Administration County Committee will determine the eligibility of each applicant. The committee is composed of three men, two of whom must be farmers.

In Seminole County the Committeemen are William P. Chapman, Box 1378, Sanford, Cader G. Hart, P. O. Box 274, Geneva, and Henry J. Schumacher Jr., Rt. 2, Box 210, Sanford.

Additional information regarding these loans may be obtained at Room 418, Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building.

Sportsmen Urged To Attend Meet

The Seminole County Sportsman Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Seminole County Courthouse Thursday night, Oct. 25 at 8 o'clock.

John Meisch, president of the sportsman's organization, urged members to attend and take part in the important discussions on matters that will be placed before them.

Partly cloudy today and Wednesday with a few widely scattered afternoon thundershowers; low tonight 66-67.

Sewer Extension Curtailment Will Stop City's Growth

Democrats Honor Congressman Last Night At Dinner

A dinner honoring A. S. "Syd" Herlong, Fifth District Congressman, was given by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee at Jim Spencer's Restaurant last night at 6 o'clock.

James H. Lee, long-time chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee presided at the dinner with Andrew Carraway making the introductions of guests invited.

Herlong told the group of 32 Seminole County leaders that an experience during his annual visit to Sanford and Seminole County rewarded him for "all of my efforts" in Washington.

He told of a family, mother, father, and two children who visit him to express their appreciation for all that had been done for them. "That is something that makes working a real pleasure," said Herlong.

Lee, the Democratic group's chairman in Seminole County, introduced Herlong saying "He is the greatest statesman of our time."

Included in the guest list for the occasion honoring Herlong were: Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Representatives Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Gordon V. Fredericks, Lee Gary, Mayor of Oviedo, F. D. Scott, Mayor of Sanford, Circuit Judge Vassar B. Carlton, Judge Ernest Housholder, Supt. of Public Instruction R. T. Milner, Sheriff Luther Jobby, Clerk of Circuit Court O. P. Herndon, and Tax Collector John Galloway.

There were 32 guests at the dinner.

Congressman Herlong, in impromptu discussions regarding various accomplishments of the 84th Congress, said "The Sanford-Titusville Canal was proposed in the Omnibus Bill during the last session but was vetoed by President Eisenhower."

Odham: Problem Critical

No further extension of the sewer system in Sanford was brought to the forefront last night as the Board of Sanford City Commissioners discussed the construction of a sewage treatment plant.

J. Bralley Odham, speaking to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, said "It seems to me that you are of the opinion that it will be four years before a treatment plant is started."

"I happen to know," said Odham, that there will be no further extension of sewers according to a letter from the State Board of Health.

"The effect of that letter," Odham stated, "is that growth will be strongly curtailed."

"I want to see Sanford grow, and it will with strong leadership," Odham told the Board. "There is a direct relationship between the Capital Improvement program and the Sewer Treatment Plant," he said.

"I long ago said that the sewage treatment plant would give us the number one opportunity for growth," said Odham. "I am in the building business and I have now 19 homes for sale unless we can arrange for sewer extension. By this coming January I will have completed 230 homes and we're just one of the builders, no more loans—VA says no more sewer extensions—FHA says no more more loans—VA says no more loans."

"Do you have a letter granting extensions?" asked Odham. "I discussed this with Dave Lee of the Board of Health this morning," he said, "and I am utterly amazed."

City Manager Warren E. Knowles interrupted Odham to say "We are deeply concerned about this and want to get the sewage treatment plant as quickly as possible."

Commissioner David Gatchel commented "We are concerned. But I'd like to see our Utility Department self-sustaining. Before my three year term expires we will have a treatment plant either built or under construction."

"I think this is something you've got to get into now," Odham said. Commissioner Gatchel, reminded that sewer extensions had been stopped said "I doubt very seriously if any member of this commission will allow sewer extensions to be cut off."

The question of continuing sewer lines outside of the city limits came up when City Manager Knowles said that "When we talk about pledging revenues, they are done so to continue building sewers outside of the city."

(Odham replied "You can't limit Sanford to 25th St.")

Action Is Delayed On Move To Reduce Total Negro Cabs

Reduction of the number of Negro taxicabs operating in the city of Sanford came before the Board of Sanford City Commissioners at its meeting last night.

However, with two commissioners absent and unable to hear the discussions, final action on the move was delayed to a later meeting.

Attorney R. W. Ware represented the executors of the estate of Will Hankerson, and requested that the commission "give some reason for rejecting the transfer of permits for the operation of the two taxicabs formerly operated by Will Hankerson."

Mayor F. D. Scott pointed out that the City of Sanford has a many Negro taxicabs as are needed and many complaints have been received by the commission on their operation.

"It seems as if we could get some more equitable means of cutting down on the number of cabs operating on our streets," said Commissioner David Gatchel.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles reported to the Board of Commissioners that a crackdown on taxicab operation was in force and that two operators had been brought before him because of violations resulting in a 30-day suspension of their licenses.

However, said the City Manager, the crackdown will require the steadfast backing of the Board of Commissioners.

City Attorney William C. Hutchison called attention of Attorney Ware to Section 24-4 of the City Code on Page 312 relative to the application for taxicab permit.

Mayor F. D. Scott tabled the discussion and action until the Board of Sanford City Commissioners' next meeting.
