FARMING IN FLORIDA

Instruments for Cultivation and How to Use Them

Through cultivation of Florida soils is an effective means of increasing crop yields. In many cases the success or failure of a crop depends on the cultivation during the period from first plowing to harvesting. It would be more productive if the moisture supply were controlled by judicious cultivation. Soils that were deeply plowed early in the season and have a liberal supply of humus have sufficient moisture now stored up to produce a good crop yield, even though little or no rain should fall between planting and ripening. It is not necessary to permit the moisture to escape by evaporation or taken up by weeds.

Weeder

Permitting grass and weeds to grow into sod, and then plowing the middles out with a turning plow, is almost sure to result in a low yield of corn. The scooter plow or one horse plow is not suitable for cultivation. The ordinary sweep or small shallow working tool is better, but will not do enough work per day. One of the most useful implements is the adjustable weeder. It costs about $12. It is light, and one horse can haul it. When working over the crop (not between the rows), it should cultivate 8 to 10 acres per day. It can be run over corn, cotton, sweet potatoes, some vegetables, and even winter pasture crops. All the surface should be cultivated right up to the plants. This can be repeated until the plants are two feet high. Then the weeder can be adjusted to run between the rows, until the crop is made. If this is done regularly once a week, little or no hoeing will be necessary.

A light smoothing harrow will answer a similar purpose until the plants are twelve inches high, if the teeth are set, so as not to tear up the crop.

Surface Cultivation

The surface two horse cultivator with knife like attachments working like sweeps does excellent work. It is adjustable to any width of row, and is made to work shallow. It is light and will cultivate six to eight acres a day. It costs about $15. It straddles the row and cultivates one half the middles on both sides.

Riding Cultivators

A riding two horse cultivator would be a good investment for any farmer with 25 or more acres in cultivation, providing the land is mostly cleared from stumps. These stumps are equipped with levers and adjustments, making it possible to run between any width of row or cultivate to any desired depth. Six or eight acres per day can be cultivated when the rows are four feet apart. The machine will cost about $45.

For a larger farm a better tool is the double two horse riding cultivator. It cultivates the entire middle of two rows, and in four foot rows will cover from 14 to 17 acres per day. It has various attachments and will cost about $55. Such machines have many uses.

Spring Tooth Cultivator

The Diverse Spring Tooth Cultivator is especially good for keeping down Bermuda or nut grass in cultivated crops. The long spring teeth will cover most of the grass they fall to tear out, and if the grass is kept below the surface the roots will soon die. The implement has two sections with a lever for each. When cultivating between rows, if it is desirable to throw some dirt up to the plants the levers are thrown backward, while to throw the dirt to the middle the levers must be shifted forward. The cultivator is also equipped with fenders, so that the row may be straddled, cultivating both sides at once, and the dirt thrown to the plants or away from them as desired.

Mulch Harrow

The mulch harrow does good work, especially when crops are nearly matured. The tooth bars are slightly curved downward so as to conform to the rows. The lever adjusts the angle of the teeth so that they run quite deep when it is thrown forward. When the lever-backward the implement becomes a smoothing harrow, and breaks only the thin crust on the surface. It has about sixteen teeth, arranged as with the ordinary smoothing harrow. The cost is approximately $7.

Cultivator

The ordinary one horse cultivator, used mostly in vegetable fields, does good work in tall crops, working between the rows when the crop is about mature. The best of these machines are equipped behind with rake-like attachments to break the ridges made by the cultivator feet, and drag out or bury the grass or weeds.

Disk Cultivator for Sweet Potatoes

Most riding cultivators have various attachments suitable for different crops. One of the most useful of these is the three disk attachment, especially in making beds for sweet potatoes. If after making the beds they are still too flat, the disk may be set to throw the soil higher when going over the beds a second time.

The same disk cultivator can be used for cultivating the beds after the plants are growing, or for running over the sides of the beds with these disks, and then reversing on the same row so as to force the loose soil back. (The fender attachment between the plants and the inner disks prevents covering the smaller plants.) This can be repeated until the plants have made a considerable growth.

Gassman is Legging It

Doc Gassman, who is one of Sanford's boosters in making a tour of the East Coast and every hour The Herald receives a card from him which reads as follows:

"Melbourne wants Sanford to be the state capital."

"Eau Gallie wants Sanford to be the state capital."

"Titusville wants Sanford to be the state capital."

If Doc keeps at it we will have the state capital before the bill to divide the state passes the senate, and at present we are too busy getting a court house to start building a state capital, but send her along, Doc, we will try and take care of the new baby in the proper manner.

Bulk Head the Lake Front

Editor Sanford Herald:

What public move ahead of us is of the importance to the growth of our city, now that the bulk heading and filling in of our lake front? We have visitors who come here and view the beautiful bay of water—Lake Monroe—and exclaim, "What an asset you have here in this lake and river!" As one put it, "You have here a million dollar asset!" Is it not time we were turning this asset to good account? And I am reliably informed by those who have gone into the matter that it is easily in our power to bulk head the lake front, and thereby, by lending its sanction can have it done without cost, save for what it may spend for the necessary work at foot of the streets and this can be done by long term city vouchers at a low rate of interest. I understand that it has been figured out that the space between West Side Cypress Avenue to West Side of French Avenue can be done for less than $35,000, and all with long term city vouchers at low rate of interest. Why this delay. We want the bulk head and hotel and the bulk head must be done to get the hotel to get to work

Sanford Water Works Will Be Improved

New Pumps And Large Stand Pipe To Be Installed

Southern Utilities Company Expect To Give Consumer The Best Of Service

Sanford will soon be able to boast of having the finest water system in the state not only in service but in the quality of the water. The Southern Utilities Co., who some time ago purchased the public utilities of this city claimed at the time that the water system would be improved and while this was thought at first to be an idle boast they are making good in record time and in a few weeks expect to spend some $40,000 here in extensive improvements.

Among them will be a mammoth stand pipe and system of aeration for the artesian water that will eliminate the sulphur smell. Two motor driven pumps will also be installed that will give ample pressure at all times where direct pressure is desired and not only will the patrons in all parts of the city have plenty of water and good pressure all the time but the water volume will be ready for any fine drain that can be put upon the plant in case of fire.

With the improvements contemplated Sanford will have the finest kind of fire protection assisted by the fine equipment of the auto fire truck and the able fire department.

Sanford artesian water has long been recognized as the best and purest water in the state. The only objection to the water being from strangers who are not accustomed to the sulphur odor will be overcome by a new system of aeration that will eliminate the sulphur and in a great measure make the water soft for domestic use. For many years there has been objection to the water on account of the tannic acid properties that accumulated in the pipes from time to time and darkened the water perceptibly. The new company now purpose to eliminate the lake water and get their supply from deep artesian wells that will afford an unending source of supply and give the consumers the purest and best water that can be obtained in the south.

The new improvements will mean that the water will be used for drinking purposes, for domestic use and that the city will never suffer from a water famine in any drought and that our fire protection will be guaranteed. Such a complete system of supply should of a necessity lower their insurance rates and in many ways the citizens of Sanford will be benefited by the changes and improvements.

Deriving the water from artesian wells and extracting the sulphur therefrom will enable the consumers to use the water in every part of the home, as there will be no rusting of the pipes or corroding, that heretofore precluded the use of the sulphur water coming direct from the flowing wells.

When the new system is installed Sanford people can boast of the finest water and best system that prevails anywhere and this plant will be another means of advertising our city as one of the health resorts of the south.

Music Club

The Music Club at their last meeting of the season and as an individual act were charmingly entertained by Margarita Martin, at Comfort Cottage, on Friday evening.

It has been Mrs. Martin's custom since its organization to extend this delightful courtesy to the club and the members always anticipate much pleasure in their last meeting at Comfort Cottage, with such a gracious hostess.

The meeting, which was largely attended by the club members who were pleased to have with them several visitors was presided over by the president, Mrs. Fannie S. Munson.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Miss Mahoney, the business of the club, in the winding up of the affairs of the Sanford Music Club necessarily brought out much discussion.

The president appointed a committee to examine and report upon a set of reference books which the club have under advisement and if found to supply the needs of the Music Department of the Woman's Club will be purchased.

A committee was also appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws of the club to conform as closely as possible with the constitution of the Woman's Club.

After ascertaining the wishes of the members as to the course of study to be pursued next year the president appointed a committee to arrange the program.

After a lengthy discussion as to the day of meeting, which is still to be decided, and several delightful musical selections were enjoyed, beginning with a vocal solo by Miss Mabel Bowler, accompanied by Mrs. Munson. Miss Chandler of Enterprise kindly gave several piano selections, which were much enjoyed, as was also, the cornet solo by Miss Jessie Stuman, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Tolar. Mrs. J. F. McDaniels entertained the club and visitors with two mandolin selections.

The delicious ice cream and cake served by the hostess and her charming assistants was accompanied with beautiful long stem roses and carnations, with sprays of asparagus fern.

The lovely evening was thoroughly enjoyed, as are all the evenings at Comfort Cottage with Mrs. Martin.

Sunday School Picnic

All the Sunday schools of Sanford decided yesterday to hold a picnic at DeLeon Springs on Thursday, May 29th.

Committees were appointed to arrange the details, as to securing the grounds, getting the railroad to give them a reasonable rate and a suitable train and all other necessary accommodations.

In the next issue we will state the hour of departure of the train from whence it will start and the railroad rate to be charged.

Let all the children begin to save their nickels and their parents their chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, etc., for all hands join in and give the children a royal day.

Rummage Sale

The Ladies' Union of the Congregational church will hold a Rummage Sale next Saturday in one of the stores in the new Leffler block on Sanford avenue. The ladies are requested to give out of clothing, furniture, shades, matings and any odds and ends that can be sold. These articles, if in good condition can be sold for small sums usually to the colored element who are glad of this opportunity to buy second hand articles at a low cost. Anyone giving articles can send them to the parsonage or notify Mrs. Chas. H. Walker who will arrange to call on them.

Chuluota is Coming

No county in the state is attracting more attention from the substantial class of people of the United States than Seminole county. Many are the settlers who are flocking to this county and are developing garden farms and grove property.

One of the latest developments on a large scale is in the south part of the county about eighteen miles southeast of Sanford and a few miles south of Chuluota, where a company of men from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, have acquired title to about 15,000 acres of land surrounding Lake Pickett, quite a large and beautiful lake. A new branch of the East Coast railroad headed for the Everglades passes through this district. A town has been laid out on the banks of the lake, which will be called Pickett Lake. Application has been made to designate the new town as a postoffice and articles are being signed for the incorporation of a state bank with a capitalization of $15,000.

These lands have been surveyed into small tracts for garden farms and orange groves and the company is arranging to plant a large acreage of citrus fruits and themselves, develop much of the land.

Like to Knock

It seems to be the province of some Florida papers to "knock" on every proposition requiring an expenditure of public money, which will not immensely benefit their own immediate locality. We are thankful however that the majority of Florida editors are men of sufficient mental calibre and liberal mindedness to "boost" for Florida as a whole. The opinions of an editor who cannot see beyond the confines of his own bailiwick will not be considered seriously by a thinking public.—Lauderdale Herald.

Daring Cuban Aviator Flies Across Gulf

Rosillo Negotiates Channel And Wins Purse Of Ten Thousand

Other News And Views From The State And Other Points Of The World

Aviator Domingo Rosillo left the Florida East Coast Railway terminal at Key West last Saturday morning in a Moisant aeroplane in his attempt to fly from Key West to Havana in competition for the $10,000 prize offered by the city of Havana. Reports received later said Rosillo was flying over Havana at 7:30 a. m. Augustine Parla, another Cuban aviator, attempted to make the flight shortly after Rosillo started, but was forced by the high winds to turn back. Before Rosillo's departure Parla sent a delegation to him asking that the flight be postponed. This Rosillo declined to consider. When Parla was informed of Rosillo's refusal he is alleged to have threatened to kill himself and is said to have drawn a revolver and placed it against his temple. Friends, it is stated, interfered and Parla decided to attempt his flight, which he was forced to abandon after two wires on his aeroplane had snapped from the strain caused by the high winds. Following Parla's return to the shore after his failure to make the flight, the aviator was arrested on a charge of attempting to kill himself. Both Parla and his manager declared they had not given his determination to attempt the flight to Havana. The city of Havana offered a prize of $5,000 for the second aviator completing the flight.

A car of boxes shipped from Tallahassee in New York last Wednesday morning fully through out for the business and those persons who want their slight participation of the tariff on citrus fruits would run the state. If Florida never shipped another orange, her many and diversified products are sufficient to make her a great and prosperous state. But there is little reason to fear that the changes proposed in the citrus tariff will materially injure the state's interests.—Lauderdale Herald.

Authorities are investigating the death of E. M. Stokes, postmaster at Roseland, about twenty-five miles south of Melbourne who was shot and killed by his brother-in-law, Jack Hardie, following a dispute over a bet on a ball game. Stokes in addition to being postmaster was agent for the Southern Express Co. and the keeper of a general store. Hardie owns a small farm at the power of Cedar Rapids county. Both men have large families. Hardie is in jail at Fort Pierce.

The "shoestring" Congressional district, comprised of the East Coast counties, from Monroe to Duval inclusive, will be the scene of a hot political contest next year. Senator Malone of Key West may be among the candidates, and of course Claude L. Engle of Jacksonville will be in the race. A number of others will also shy their castors into the political ring if the water looks fine to them before the time for entry expires.—Gainesville Sun.

This week we publish the names of forty people from other states who have purchased land in the "Wonderland of the Peace River Valley" within the past week. This week is no exception. Every week we carry a similar list, sometimes running a little short of forty, but more times being a greater number. With homeseekers flocking here in such a continuous stream can any one doubt the future of Wauchula?—Wauchula Advocate.

Hon. W. J. Bryan, Secretary of State and Mrs. Bryan expect to arrive in Miami today, for a stay of a week or ten days, their visit at this time being occasioned by the near completion of their winter home.

Over 136,739 barrels of Irish potatoes have been shipped from St. Johns county this season. The grand total for the county will far exceed that number. The entire crop has been excellent.

This week the contract will be let by Messrs. Frank and W. G. Wallis for a new brick business block in our city. The building is to be a one story structure with a frontage of 143 feet by 60 feet deep, put up with buff pressed brick and trimmings. The plan that will be carried out is to put down a foundation and walls that will enable the promoters to add one or two stories more later on.—Arcadia News.

A Young Men's Club is to be organized in Lakeland and an up-to-date club room will be fitted up for the organization. It is the intention of the club to have good magazines, basketball, and possibly an electric piano as well as a good glee club and later on to install a gymnasium course and other lines of entertainment. It will be non-sectarian and open to all young men.

Friday Bridge Club Mrs. Aylett Fitts was hostess of the Friday Bridge Club, Friday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played, one of which was a guest table. The club prize, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. J. L. Hurt.

Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin made the highest score at the guest table, winning also a deck of cards.

When the games of cards were concluded dominoes, ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

The members of the club and guests that were present were Mrs. J. L. Hurt, Mrs. Aylett Fitts, Mrs. J. E. Fitts, Mrs. E. L. Fitts, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, Mrs. Laura Fish, Mrs. George Fitts.

Likes Our Officers As suggested by the Sentinel a few days ago, the county of Seminole has a fine set of officers and saves the taxpayers the expense of holding an election to elect new ones.

The county officers are well liked and well managed so well the county officers will be re-elected.

The Executive Committee to recommend names to Governor Traub will for appointment to the various county offices until the next general election.

At the request of the committee, the following officers are recommended: F. C. Commissioners, C. W. Entenanger, of the Board of Health, J. E. Fitts, of the Board of Supervisors, J. E. Fitts, of the Board of Supervisors, J. E. Fitts, of the Board of Supervisors.

For Tax Collector T. K. Bates, of Sanford.

For Tax Assessor, W. R. Healy, of Longwood.

For County Judge, Capt. B. F. Whitner.

For Sheriff, Charlie Hand.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction, W. T. Lacker, Ocala.

For Treasurer, J. B. Jones, Ocala. They are a good lot of men and will make good officers and are well scattered over the new county. The Executive Committee organized by electing J. N. Whitner county chairman and Bob Holly secretary. Mr. Whitner is a man well qualified for this position having an intimate knowledge of public organizations and Bob Holly will certainly put ginger into the campaigners.

Now that is all over, we wish the new county and its officials smooth sailing. Here is our paw, brethren shake and call it square. Orlando Sentinel.

Capital at Sanford Sanford, Fla., May 14, 1913. Editor Sanford Herald:

I see in the papers that there is talk of dividing the state of Florida.

In your paper of May 13 you quote from another paper which suggests Ocala, Gainesville or Sanford as the capital for the east or south part.

By all means let's make it Sanford. By looking at a good map we see Sanford nearest the center when railroad connections is considered and with our fine waterway to the ocean makes it a ideal location for a state capital.

I might write pages and pages in favor of Sanford, but will let you think about it for awhile before saying more. Yours Respectfully, J. H. CELLAR, Route 2.

English Papers Opine On Probable Jap War

Think That America May Yet Have Trouble With Little Brown Men

Other Matters Of Moment In The World Culled For Herald Readers

London, May 19.—Should war break out, the sympathies of Australia, New Zealand and Western Canada would be violently on the side of the United States, says the Pall Mall Gazette today in discussing the California alien land ownership controversy. The newspaper considers that it would be a grave mistake to underestimate the chances of a conflict between the United States and Japan. It says "The opinion that the Japanese will never go to war to enforce their treaty rights in California is one of those dangerous generalities which lead nations blindfolded to the brink of the pit." The Pall Mall Gazette expresses the opinion that there are several reasons why Japanese may be desirous of forcing the issue at present. The most obvious of these is the pending opening of the Panama Canal, while a more remote one is connected with the condition of her internal politics. The article continues "The point at issue, the exclusion of Asians from permanent settlement, touches the British empire very nearly."

Fancy Work Circle Mrs. W. W. Long was hostess of the Fancy Work Circle Thursday afternoon. While the members of the circle and visitors were engaged with their pretty fancy work Mrs. N. H. Garner read to them a very interesting story. The circle were entertained on the porch, and after delicious strawberry ice cream and cake had been served by Miss Beale Long and Mrs. Gibson, the ladies adjourned to the parlor where they enjoyed singing a number of the old songs so popular some years ago and which are dear to every heart. The members of the circle and guests were Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. W. L. Miltner, Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mrs. N. H. Garner, Mrs. R. W. Hines, Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. L. G. Stringfellow, Mrs. W. T. Johns, Mrs. Henry McLaughlin, Mrs. Harold, Mrs. Gibson.

Praise for Bryan By his stand on the citrus tariff question, as expressed in his letter to the Florida Citrus Exchange, Senator Nathan Bryan has won the lavish encomiums of Collier's Weekly, in addition to many others. Speaking of the Florida Senator's position, Collier says:

Senator Bryan's letter closes with a really eloquent expression of political integrity. Every politician who, as President Wilson says "looks to the future," every young man anxious to identify himself with the sort of politics that is going to be successful in the future of the United States, might well commit this to memory.

I have written you thus at length because I do not wish to be misunderstood and because I feel as much interested I hope, in the success of the people of Florida engaged in that industry as any other citizen of the state. I had this question to meet when I was a candidate for the senate and I can only say to you now what I said to the growers themselves then: that I will not vote for a protective tariff on anything, wherever grown, manufactured or produced. If I believe I should do that I would not be a Democrat but a Republican instead. Yours very truly, N. P. BRYAN.

It is the aggregate of just such individual acts of courage and honesty as this that makes up the morality of a political party and the length of its tenure on the public faith.

Prominent Banker Honored Of interest to the public of this community and the public in general we find the following statement under the title: Farmer Loans in Europe

"In recognition of his special fitness to aid in the investigation of the European system of cooperative credits, to be conducted under the auspices of the Southern Commercial Congress, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., and in pursuance of special authority granted me, I hereby designate Hon. W. S. Witham of the Bankers Trust Company of Atlanta, Ga., as a member of the American Commission, and do hereby authorize and empower him to act as representative from the state of Georgia on said Commission, with all rights and privileges thereto belonging."

(Signed) Joseph M. Brown, Governor. This is a high compliment to Mr. Witham and at the same time reflects credit upon the Peoples Bank of this city with whom he is connected, and we are pleased to learn that he has been appointed to investigate the plans and methods of supplying farmers with money, now in use in European countries.

Mr. Witham will meet the Commission at Berlin, Germany, and is appointed as chairman of a special committee to inquire into the foregoing subject in Germany, Holland and France, and we await his report with interest.

Underwood for 1916 For good and sufficient reasons the Democratic party has been in the habit of taking its candidates for president from a contested state.

Oscar Underwood had great inherent strength at the Baltimore convention last June. In spite of the fact that he was from an uncontested state he was the choice of a large conservative element in the east.

But the Alabamian will be in a compelling position if the country prospers under the revised tariff. Many business men as well as politicians and farmers that the Underwood tariff has come to stay; that prosperity will be strongly evidenced, following the enactment of the

Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me."

A Chiel Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em—So Says Saunterer.

Florida, my Florida, Land of my birth, bright sun-kissed land, Florida, my Florida, Laved by the Gulf and Ocean grand, Florida, my Florida, Of all the states in east and west, Unto my heart thou art the best; Here may I live, here may I rest, Florida, my Florida.

In country, town, on hills and dells, Florida, my Florida, The rhythmic chiming of thy school bells, Florida, my Florida, Will call thy children day by day To learn to walk the patriot's way, Flunty to stand for thee for aye, Florida, my Florida.

The golden fruit the world outshines Florida, my Florida, Thy gardens and thy phosphate mines, Florida, my Florida, Yield their rich store of good supply, To all the states of hunger's cry, For thee we'll live for thee we'll die, Florida, my Florida.

Thy sons and daughters free must be, Florida, my Florida, From north and south, from east and west, From freezing States they come for rest, And find in thee their warmest quest, Florida, my Florida.

When life betide and woe o'erstrike, Florida, my Florida, Thy sons and daughters quick will make, Florida, my Florida, The sacrifice of love and life, To save from woe, from ill and strife, To tell thy foes that we are still, Florida, my Florida.

The above song written by C. W. Waugh of Crescent City has been adopted by the legislature as the state song of Florida. Preserve it for future use.

Sometimes the men who are really good and want to stay at home nights are not appreciated at their full worth by the wife who imagines she wants a spotless house instead of a spotless husband. The Orlando Sentinel sizes up the matter about right:

"A lady received the following reply from a neighbor in answer to a question as to why she allowed her children and her husband to litter up every room in her house. The sentiment will find lodging in the heart of every home-loving person in the land: 'The mark of little muddy feet upon the floor can be more easily removed than the stains where the little feet go into the highways of sin. The prints of the little fingers upon the window cannot shut out the sunshine half as much as the shadow that darkens the mother's heart over the one who is lost to the world's happiness.'"

If Joe finds home a refuge from care and his greatest happiness with its four walls, he can put his old boots in the rocking chair and hang his coat on the floor any day in the week. And if I stand it and he en, says it, I cannot see that it is anybody's affair."

A statement has been issued in behalf of the Swift Packing company to show that beef is two or three times as high as mutton and the reason for it. The people are urged to resist more to mutton and to give up as far as they can their addiction to beef.

Speaking of prices of cattle the statement relates that while the population of the country has increased by more than 16,800,000 in the last decade the decrease in number of cattle is 7,500,000. In a certain limited time 500,000 head of cattle came to the market during the same period last year, a loss of 700,000,000 pounds of beef.

One point is dwelt upon more than any other, and that is that the country must stop killing calves. Our people eat more veal, it is said, than in the case in any other country. But the only way to reach that situation is by a nationwide law, and the nation cannot legally enact such law; at least no ground has been discovered on which congress could act so as to control the markets of the entire country in the different states.

It is very easy, of course, to urge that there be resort to mutton, but it may be that hundreds of thousands and perhaps millions do not care so much for it, that they would rather have it one-third as many times as they have beef if they can only have the beef at all.

One sentiment of the Swift statement provokes a sentence of comment; that is the assertion that the packer's profit on a ten pound roast is only two cents. It appears in the study of the beef trust last year that pretty much all the cost of handling the entire carcass was charged to the fresh meat end of it and not distributed to the cost of handling and rendering off for market all the rest of the carcass of the beef cattle.

I am heartily in favor of promoting a better feeling between town and country and to this end would suggest a consolidation of all the boards of trade by Seminole county. The following from the Tampa Times gives good reasons for such a movement:

One of the best plans for promoting the prosperity of cities and the country lying about them had its origin in the small city of Trenton, Mo., and is known as the Trenton plan.

Its development came about in this way: There was a board of trade organized in the town on the usual lines that started out in the same manner as hundreds of similar boards have done in hundreds of other cities. The members were reasonably enthusiastic, they paid their subscriptions promptly and liberally and they attempted to promote the usual enterprises. But somehow the thing didn't work well, there were no results. Soon interest began to wane and the board in a short time was down to a very low ebb.

Just here a member conceived the idea of extending the operations and membership of the board to the surrounding country and inviting the farmers and others to join. The idea was acted upon and the response was immediate and enthusiastic. The membership almost at once was increased from one hundred and fifty to five hundred and the prosperity of the city and the region round about was promoted proportionately.

The Trenton idea was taken up in other cities and it has spread marvelously. And it is founded upon the correct theory. The city and the country surrounding it are mutually interdependent. What adds to that of the one increases that of the other also. The plan is well worth adoption elsewhere. It cannot fail, we think, to bring good results when energetically followed up.

The idea of some folks that they have the world by the tail and a down hill pull now that Sanford is a country seat tickles me to death. Some of these same people who sat on the store boxes and chewed navy tobacco while the new county was in process of formation are now sitting in the same place waiting for the ravens to feed them and expecting the mihna to fall from heaven. I just want to tell them that unless they get a move on themselves and do some things that the city will not be any better off than it was before county division was thought of. Two swallows do not make drunk and court house do not make a city by a jugful. What the old burg needs right now is a hustling spirit that will build a bulk head on the lake front and a new tourist hotel and until that is done there will be nothing doing in the raven and manna line. I have said it before and I say it again that unless Sanford builds a tourist hotel and cleans up the lake front and the city in general there will in a short time be no city to clean up. Some people never see farther than their own back fence and from the appearance of some of their yards and the individuals themselves they do not even see that far. Even the old cannon bursting did not wake up some of the dead timber here and I do not believe they will ever wake up and realize the advantages that Sanford offers and can offer with some of the improvements. Any little cross roads town in Florida can look head their water front and have a hotel except Sanford and unless we do something this summer we had better stop talking about what wonderful things we have done because really we have not started to do anything worth while yet. Hot air is all right in its place but its place is in the gas works where it does some of its commercial value. If you have a garden keep it yourself.

I am often asked, should a young man or woman go to college? Now, 24 days the thing of going to college or not is in the air. I hear it discussed in great detail and hear many arguments, both for and against a college course. As to the propriety of it let it be said that it all depends on so many circumstances that a direct answer is impossible. That every young man or young woman should go to college is just as nonsensical as that no one should go at all. Real genius is independent of all conditions, and hence some of the world's greatest men never entered a college door. Such is the case of W. J. Thigpen of this city. It always seems to me that a college education would have spoiled him and crippled his rare genius. But all such men have a training of some kind and equal to a college education.

But on the other hand all other things being equal, a college education is necessarily of great value. Because a few or even many college graduates are "asses" is no argument against the college. The college cannot change the nature of men or women. If they go into college as impracticables they will as a rule come out the same. A college develops, but does not create. It is an artificial institution and not a supernatural one. The question of going to college or not can only be solved by knowing the man or woman, the college and the circumstances incident to the case. Here, as in all cases, every tub must stand on its own bottom. Individuality must be consulted. Many persons will not take an education any more than some coarse rough stones will not take a polish. To attempt to educate them is to throw away time and money. It is to encourage false ambitions and to breed disappointments. On the contrary, supposing the possession of a good mind and character, there is nothing that can add to its power and usefulness like a college education. Here the mind is taught to work. The foundation must be laid for all future growth and development. A college education of the right kind and in the care of the right person is capital investment and well invested. It is not simply a money investment but also a mind and heart investment and brings pleasure and enjoyment to all the subsequent life. Hence go to college, if at all possible.

Sponge Fishing at Tripoli. Tripoli, which has been ceded to Italy by Turkey, will bring the former some enhanced prestige in the Mediterranean, but not much commercial advantage. It is carried on chiefly by Greeks. Since sharks have reached that coast from the Red sea, by way of the Suez canal, the sponge fishery has become a dangerous business. The men remain several minutes under water, a rope being tied around the body, which the diver jerks when he wishes to be hauled up with his catch. Some few years ago a sponge fisher dived down with a marble slab in his hands, to make him sink more quickly. A shark met him and half swallowed him head first, lacerating him badly, but not appreciating the marble, ejected him both. The man let go the slab, and made for the surface, the short-sighted shark luckily going after the marble.

Where Turks Crushed Serbs. It was on the banks of the Maritsa, near Adrianople, in 1864, that the Turks first came into conflict with the young Slavonic races—the Servians, the Bosnians, the Bulgarians. Louis I., king of Hungary and Poland, with the prince of Rousia, Saxia and Wallachia, had decided to conquer the serfs, a task that the Greeks had been unable to manage. The Turks were only half as strong as the allies; but the commander took advantage of their intoxication to make a sudden night attack. The Slavs were aroused by the beating of the Turkish drums. "The Ottomans were upon them before they could stand to arms. They were like wild beasts scared from their lair," says Sa'd-ud-Din; "speeding from the field of light to the waste of flight, those subjects poured into the stream Maritsa, and were drowned." The spot can still be seen on the map as Sir Sindughl, the "Serbs' rout."

Wonderful Transparency of Metals. Gold leaf of a thickness of four millionths of an inch will, in a cold state, allow the green rays of light to pass through, but this is the only example of light penetrability among metals in a cold state. Recently, however, scientists have turned their attention to the fact, discovered by Faraday, that gold and silver foil become transparent if heated. Thus it has been found that at about 1,000 degrees F. gold foil somewhat thinner than that already mentioned becomes completely transparent to white light, while a very thin film of silver placed on a glass plate becomes transparent at about 740 degrees F., the combination of silver and glass no longer acting as a mirror. Several other metals have been found to possess the same property when intensely heated, but aluminum, despite its brightness, has so far proved impenetrable by light.

Blind Girls at the Phone. The blind telephone girl has been tried and proven a success in Baltimore. Miss Elsie Sonderman, the first, operates the exchange for the Sheppard-Pratt system. Recently the Maryland School for the Blind turned out five other well trained girls and the managers believe they can open this field of work to many others. These girls are working with the regulation switchboards, but a new kind of board is being planned which will simplify the training and increase the efficiency of the sightless operators. The most difficult board now operated by blind girls is that at the Young Women's Christian association in Philadelphia. Like a hotel, the association club and home has 200 rooms and eight pay stations, and the blind operators are as accurate and quick as other girl operators.

His Support Poor. A Mississippi Democrat made several efforts to get a congressional nomination. He was soundly beaten every time, and at last announced that he was going over to the Republican party. Hundreds of negroes were in the district and among them the new leader did most of his work of organization. He built up clubs and held meetings and when another election period came had himself nominated. The negroes paraded diligently and the campaign had all the outward appearance of being full of hustle, but when the ballot boxes were opened there were but two votes for the former Democrat, and on top of that he was arrested for repeating.—Chicago Evening Post.

American Character in 1793. The arrest of M'lad Mitchell, a young American and protégé of Baron von Steuben, by the Spanish commandant of New Madrid, Mo., in 1793, on the charge of espionage, gave Don Manuel Gayoso de Lemos, lieutenant governor of Upper Louisiana, an opportunity to express his opinions of Americans. Writing to Baron de Carondelet, lord governor at New Orleans, he said: "In general that (inconsistency) is the character of the majority of Anglo-Americans. Yet another feature of their character is that if they find an abode in another country they forget their own and for a time usually serve with efficiency."

Imports From Japan. For each person in the United States a dozen paper napkins and a third of a pound of tea are imported from Japan every year.

Has No Remedy in Law. An English judge has decided that a purchaser of forged postage stamps has no remedy against the forger.

CHOOSE OWN SWIMMING HOLES

John Muir Relates How, by Their Own Method, Bathing Was Made — a Delight to Boys.

It appears natural for children to be fond of water, although the Scotch method of making every duty dismal contrived to make necessary bathing for health terrible to us. A member among the awful experiences of childhood being taken by the servant to the seashore when I was between two and three years old, stripped at the side of a deep pool in the rocks, plunged into it among crawling crawfish and slippery wriggling snake-like eels, and drawn up gasping and shrieking only to be plunged down again and again. As the time approached for this terrible bathing I used to hide in the darkest corners of the house, and oftentimes a long search was required to find me. But after we were a few years older we enjoyed bathing with other boys as we wandered along the shore, careful however not to get into a pool that had an invisible boy-devouring monster at the bottom of it. Such pools, miniature maelstroms, were called "Book-in-gots," and were well known to most of us. Nevertheless we never ventured into any pool on strange parts of the coast before we had thrust a stick into it. If the stick were not pulled out of our hands we boldly entered and enjoyed plashing and ducking long ere we had learned to swim.—John Muir, in Atlantic.

Advice for the Minister. In preaching, the minister had been rather long-winded, when the young bride remembered that she had left the Christmas dinner in the gas range without regulating the flame. She hastily wrote a note and slipped it to her husband, who was an usher. He, thinking it was intended for the minister, calmly walked up and laid it on the pulpit.

The minister paused in the midst of his sermon and took the note with a spillo, which changed into a terrible frown as he read.

"Please hurry home and shut off the gas."

They Needed It. Mr. Wabash—I see a stranger was arrested in Chicago the other day because he had $320 in his pocket.

Mr. Gotham—And wasn't it his own money?

"Oh, yes, it was shown to be his own money."

"Why did they arrest him then?"

"Why, he was trying to get out of town with it!"

No Wonder. "I've found a new use for those gramophone records you bought last week and which cost such a lot of money," said his wife according to the San Francisco Chronicle. "How clever you are!" he exclaimed. "What is your latest?"

"The old record," he replied. "I hold a skein of wool over my arm, the one end of the wool on a reel, place the reel on the gramophone and then start the machine. The wool is wound up in no time!" The fond husband gasped in admiration. "But that's not all," she continued. "Tomorrow I shall place a little bath brick on one end of the records, start the gramophone and so clean the knives!" He is still rasping.

Creation of New Worlds. People ask "How was the universe created?" The fact is the universe was never "created." It is in a process of perpetual creation. It is being made, destroyed and remade all the time. The telescope and the spectroscope bring down to us pictures of parts of it in all the stages of growth and decay. The most fascinating problem of modern astronomy is the searching out of that great process, the discovery of the method of the world machine. It is a question not of what happened once in ages ago, but of what is all the time happening.—World's Work.

Cable and Wireless. An announcement recently made by the directors of an ocean cable company once more emphasizes the fact that no detrimental effect whatever has been experienced by the rapid expansion of wireless telegraph communication. Just as in the familiar case of a new rapid transit system in a large city finding its own new business without taking from the traffic on existing means of transportation, so the cable companies are finding that there is ample room for both the old and the new systems in the increasing demand for transoceanic telegraphy.

Apples for Health. The old idea that apples were the favorite fruit of the god is a plausible theory. The freshness of youth was ever possessed by those who made apples their principal diet. Certain it is that there is no food so valuable. Apples nourish the brain and spinal cord. They contain phosphorous, albumen, sugar, gum, chlorophyll, malic acid, gallic acid, vegetable fiber and water. They cure gout and rheumatic disorder and exercise a beneficent influence on the liver and stomach. Ripen apples and bread as a diet will do more to restore health than drugs.

Americans Were "Bostonians." During the Revolutionary war and shortly after it, citizens of the United States were known in the Spanish colonies as "Bostonians," probably because the war began near that town. Francisco Cruzat, Spanish lieutenant governor of Missouri, writing to the governor of Louisiana on December 3, 1777, said: "Colonists in the English territories are being forced to bear arms against the Bostonians."

THE SANFORD HERALD

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

The small item of about $40,000 to be spent in improvements in the Sanford Water Co.'s plant here would indicate that the Southern Utilities Co. intend to give the people service.

The Sanford Herald has changed from a five to a six column paper which is very proper size for a county seat paper.

Five acres of Sanford celery netted one grower this past season the sum of $7,850.

The Sanford Herald has been enlarged to a six column paper and added a new press and folder; the Bartow Record has added a junior linotype and moved to more commodious quarters.

The editor of The Herald expects to spend several days of this week in Tallahassee attending the executive meeting of the Florida Press Association.

Unlike most of the state legislators, Orange county's representative, Mr. S. A. Robinson, has not had himself interviewed, has not posed for the camera man, has not strutted about in dress suits, has not advertised himself as a candidate for any office.

The drainage operations around Sanford should be continued this summer and no litigation or difference of opinion should stop this work.

SOME KIND OF A BUSTER

We note from that bright sheet, the Sanford Herald, that in the celebration of the joyful event to the Sanford people of the creation of Seminole county that the joy tripped "busted" Sanford's cannon.

But claims that appear to be taken seriously are made by almost every town of any size from Marion county southward.

HOG AND HOMINY

In these times of "high cost of living," the old slogan of real farming and living at home—"plenty of hog and hominy"—points the way to the only effective and permanent relief.

production of that important farm product, but the first instance of its natural sequence, the raising of hogs, comes from Greenville, S. C., where forty boys have enrolled in pork contests in that county.

The hog is the corollary of corn. Full corn cribs mean a full smoke house, and the two together mean cheap living, freedom from debt, contentment and happiness in the provider's home.

We hope to see the good example set by those Carolina boys, followed by the formation of boys' pork clubs all over Florida during the next year.

IS IT FOOL TALK?

Both West and South Florida want a state. Then, why not let Jacksonville have one too, making four including the present one.

WE LOVE SCHOLEY

It seems that some Florida editor with malice aforethought has been appropriating our stories and reprinting them, and we more than half suspect that it's "Bob" Holly of the Sanford Herald.

MAD AS MARCH HARES

The Sanford people have not yet gotten through celebrating their victory over the creation of Seminole county with Sanford as the county seat.

CAPITAL CANDIDATES

An amusing aspect to the state division discussion is imparted by the haste of each little cross-roads village to declare its candidacy for capital of one or the other of the proposed new states.

remarked Shad, with much satisfaction at the recollection. During the great unpleasantness, Shad was induced to leave his master and join the Federal army.

He preserved his old uniform and during occasions in Sanford, it was always in this attire that he fired the cannon, "Old Beelzebub," upon great public occasions.

It was Shad who fired the salutes to new steamboats on their arrival at the Sanford docks, and thus Old Beelzebub belched forth its roar upon the receipt of the news of presidential elections; and thus, and thus, on many other occasions the old gun waked the echoes under the practiced touch of Shad, the ex-artillery man.

These are great sources of revenue and help most substantially to make the state prosper. But there are other developments which are becoming more and more important as factors in the advancement of Florida.

Figures from Federal compilations demonstrate the wonderful progress in Florida. The value of property in the state increased from $103,947,937 in 1902 to $219,481,175 in 1912.

From 1900 to 1910 the population of Florida increased by 42.4 per cent., the average percentage of increase in the United States in the same period having been 21 per cent.

The resources and possibilities of Florida have the attention of the country as never before, and it is easy to understand that what Florida has accomplished—great as it is—is only a faintest of what is to come.—Industrial Index.

W. T. Field has returned from a several weeks' business trip to Tampa and will be in the city several days. Mr. Field says that he is now more than ever convinced that Sanford has every other place in the world backed clear off the map, and that Sanford has more natural facilities for a good city than any other place in the state, to all of which we can truthfully say, "I told you so."

Danger

Sho am going to organize a ball team tonight, city hall, 7:30.

Notice

There will be a meeting of the West Side Improvement Association Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Robbins Nest. Members are requested to come and bring their children. A large consignment of seeds and pamphlets have been received from Bupee's and these will be distributed to the children for planting.

Library Notes

Most of the volumes in the following list were given. We thank the donors, also the Wednesday Club and young ladies, who through Miss Helen Rowland gave the S. L. A. financial aid. The Wednesday Club's "Birthday Party" netted the S. L. A. $17.74. This, with $10 given by the Welaka Club for magazines has provided for this year an attractive array of periodicals for S. L. A. readers, and all who wish to avail themselves of the privilege of using the library as a free reading room.

The story of the National Cameraman by Logan Marshall is a vivid picture of the recent tragedy, through cyclone and flood. Here and there the story is brightened by many incidents of self sacrifice and bravery.

Herod Tales from the Far North by Jacob Riis, is another record of men, who in the face of many difficulties pluckily persevered and made the world a better place to live in, or at least the part of it in which they lived.

"Norwegian Life" by Clough, and "Religion of Ancient Scandinavia," by W. A. Craigie can be read with profit after Mr. Riis' book.

"New England" by French.

Boston Guide Book by Edwin W. Bacon.

Physiology edited by Dr. Andrew Wilson.

Telepathy Hallucinations by Frank Podmore.

Fiction.—

"Their Yesterdays," by Harold Bell Wright.

"The Signal Six" by Stewart Edward White. Deprive a modern system of its nerve system, "its julee," as Mr. White calls it, and the result of the rash act as told by a certain detective Mr. White employs to investigate, is interesting to the end. The book is a surprise. There are no mountain tops, forest depths, lumber camps or big game in The Signal Six, unless the New York "Boss" is big game.

GORDON FOR SHERIFF

Popular Deputy—Sheriff Is Chosen For Orange County

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee for Orange county, held in the court room at 10 o'clock this morning, Frank Gordon was made sheriff, receiving nine of the sixteen committee votes, defeating W. T. Chapman, his strongest competitor by two votes.

The nine candidates nominated for the office were A. Y. Fuller, J. B. Lawton, M. E. Weeks, W. T. Chapman, Samuel H. Kilgore, Charles McDowell, H. A. Lumsden, Frank Gordon and J. F. Harris.

On the first ballot, Fuller received two votes; Chapman five; McDowell, two; Lumsden, one; Gordon, five; and Harris one.

On the second ballot, all candidates were retained, and the ballot stood, Fuller three; Chapman, six; McDowell, one and Gordon six.

On the third ballot Fuller was still standing pat with three votes, with only standing pat with three votes, with only two competitors, Chapman receiving seven votes to Gordon's six.

On the fourth ballot, Fuller was dropped, leaving the two neck-and-neck candidates, which resulted in Gordon, nine and Chapman seven.

As a matter of courtesy Judge Perkins adjourned court while the committees occupied the court room.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman Seth Woodruff, with all members of the committee present but two, and they were represented by proxy.

Mr. Gordon's name will be presented to the governor for appointment.—Reporter-Star.

RE-DISTRICTING THE STATE

Should Johnson's Bill Become Law Seminole Changes Districts

Tallahassee, Fla., May 16.—The house Tuesday morning by an overwhelming vote passed Johnson's senate bill re-districting the state into four congressional districts. The only amendments made were adding the new county of Seminole to the First district and the new county of Bay to the Third. These amendments will be adopted by the senate and the bill will then become a law when signed by the governor.

New State Is Redistricted

The state is, under the bill that passed the house today and which goes back to four congressional districts, as follows:

- First District: Lee, Hernando, Citrus, Manatee, Sumter, Lake, Hillsborough, Pinellas, Pasco. Second District: Baker, Marion, Hamilton, Levy, Columbia, Lafayette, Taylor, Madison, Jefferson. Third District: Leon, Gadsden, Washington, Walton, Santa Rosa, Escambia, Bay.

- Fourth District: Duval, Putnam, Palm Beach, St. Johns, St. Lucie, Clay, Duval, Nassau, Orange, Monroe, Volusia.

The division of the districts as above leaves Frank Clark, Congressman from the Second district, in that district with his home county, Alachua, and not in conflict with Congressman Claude L'Engle, whose home county, Duval, comes out of the Second and into the Fourth.

The senate spent the morning discussing Governor Trammell's bill abolishing the convict lease system, which has been amended rather plentifully. The senate bill is preferred in the upper house to the governor's bill.

Speaker Farris of the house has appointed Brown of Polk, Martin of Hillsborough and Williams of Holmes as a special committee to draft the resolution re-apportioning the representation of the various counties in the state legislature as provided under the constitution.

Mr. Tomlin of Hillsborough today introduced an amendment providing for one senator from each county, which would make a total of fifty state senators and one representative for each 10,000 inhabitants and a major fraction, providing, however, that no county shall have more than three nor less than one representative. The indications are that a determined fight will be made for re-apportionment and that it will win.

Florida Leads in Autos

Atlanta, Ga., May 12.—Florida leads all southern states in the purchase of automobiles within the last year, each state judged by population, is shown in a list just issued here by the Southern Press Clipping Bureau, in its second annual statement of the number of automobiles owned in each southern state.

The list shows that nine southern states require state registration, two South Carolina and Texas, require county registration, and one state, Louisiana, has no state law governing automobiles, each county or township doing its own governing.

The list is complete to May 1st, and is based on information furnished by the automobile registrar in each state: Georgia—20,078; last year 14,900. Tennessee—11,226; last year 7,181. Florida—9,973; last year 4,896. Alabama—4,350; last year 3,360. Arkansas—3,500; last year 2,000. North Carolina—7,000; last year 4,000.

Virginia—6,092; last year 4,080. Mississippi—3,079; last year 2,000. Kentucky—7,500 (estimated); last year 4,000.

From the above it will be seen that the gain of Florida in a year's time is only a few hundred behind Georgia and when size of the two states is taken in consideration Florida leads.

COL. LANIER SENTENCED

Prominent Tavares Citizen Gets A Term in Paradise

The following from the Eustis Lake Region about our old friend, "Bat" Lanier will be read with interest by his numerous Sanford friends:

"A fine and sentence to prison for contempt of court would be a severe punishment, but it is sometimes the fate of barristers who encroach upon the sacred rights of the judiciary. Circuit Judge Bullock handed down a decision on Friday last that will long be remembered by a prominent Tavares citizen:

Ocala, Fla., April 11th, 1913. Mr. T. B. Lanier, Tavares, Fla.:

"My Dear Sir—

"It is considered and ordered that T. B. Lanier is guilty of unfeeling kindness and doing many acts of kindness for his friends and that he deserves to be confined in Paradise for the period that he selects, for such acts.

"Yesterday came, unannounced, a delightful box of oranges and the mark showed Sorrento, Fla., and from you they were extra fine, plump, juicy and nice, and I never saw any one enjoy fruit so much as my wife did these oranges.

"I thank you very much indeed for them.

"Yours very truly,

"W. S. BULLOCK."

Episcopal Church

Services in the Church of the Holy Cross, corner Park avenue and Fourth street, until further notice will be as follows:

THE LEGISLATIVE GRIND

Law Makers At Tallahassee And Their Doings—Brieflets Of Legislative Nature By Special Correspondent

Tallahassee, Fla., May 16.—The morning was consumed in the House over a bill to require county commissioners and members of boards of public instruction to give bond. Representative Worley spoke strongly against the measure, declaring it to be unconstitutional. It was Gornto's measure, and he strongly defended it and the bill passed. Adkins called the attention of the members to the fact that Clopton's bill of similar import had passed the House by an almost unanimous vote a few days ago and some of the members now speaking against the measure had voted in the affirmative, which caused a ripple of merriment.

The labor commission bill was further amended in the senate. It has been so emasculated that the labor advocates are much displeased.

The governor signed several local bills, and posed for a photograph with a number of western cowboys who are on a twenty thousand mile horseback tour.

It is up to the Supreme Court to decide the status of the Trammell-McRae incident, it being a mere matter of law and from the expressions given out by the attorney general's office and the governor himself, it would seem that everything is going to come out as it should be, that Secretary McRae holds his office; he was the choice of his people at the primary and technicalities in procedure are getting sort of antiquated. The question before many bar associations during the past year has been aimed at the demolition of technical deviation and this is but one of these cases. Secretary McRae has filed his bond, was nominated and elected by the people; the bond has been accepted and that should close the incident and doubtless will.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 16.—Recommendation by the county committee of Seminole county as to the appointments to be made in that newly created district office but when seen about the matter stated that other business was too pressing to take up this feature. Since the creation of Seminole county, everybody down there has been overflowing with exuberance and a desire to wait a subsidence of this excitement.

Robert J. Holly, editor of the Sanford Herald and one of the principal factors in the efforts of the county executive committee, and T. K. Bates, who acted as press agent for the delegation, has been named as tax assessor. E. A. Douglas, another prominent and persistent worker for the cause, received the plum of the clerk of the circuit court, of course all of these subject to the ratification of the governor. According to custom, though, it is up to the executive to make these appointments when the county executive committee so recommends.

Monday evening was given to a discussion before the members of the legislature of the Panama Canal question in its various relations to trade opportunities by two authorities on the subject—one by Hon. Guyt McLendon, of Georgia, one of the best informed men on transportation problems, and the other Hon. T. Sambola Jones, of Baton Rouge, special commissioner for the Panama Pacific Exposition.

Without having any apparent connection of purpose these two speakers chimed in and said much that was enlightening. Mr. McLendon's argument chiefly was against the free toll idea; he gave the figures of cost in construction and maintenance and gave the volume of transportation, which he said at first would not be large in proportion, and then pointed out the absolute necessity to have the revenue that would be derived from other free tolls in order to produce the necessary money to pay for the maintenance and bonded obligations. Incidentally, Mr. McLendon said that Florida ports were bound to benefit largely by the opening of the canal, and that Jacksonville had taken a great step forward by providing for necessary municipal wharfage. He placed Jacksonville's progress in this respect far ahead of the conditions at Savannah, and he said it would be a matter of a few years only when Jacksonville would be the greatest naval stores port in this part of the world.

Judge Jones pictured the advantages of having a newly opened market in the east—the far east and the Pacific West for Florida products, and stated with emphasis that the opportunity for Florida to get before the world in this way—through an exhibit at California exposition, was so rare that it should not be overlooked.

Capt. A. V. French, of Sanford, is working in the interest of an exhibit to be made at the San Francisco exposition. He has had large experience in exposition work, and if an appropriation is made he will likely be named as a member of the commission, or chairman of it.

The senate relaxed its dignity long enough this morning to put up a good joke on Chic Acosta. Senator Watson was in the chair and the senate had under consideration House Bill No. Z, a measure in which Chic was very much interested. Chic was in the chamber and as the roll call proceeded it soon became very evident that a majority of the senators were voting against it. Chic's face suddenly grew very long and rushing up to Senator Blitch he enquired what was the matter. About this time senators began changing their votes from one side to the other and back again and such confusion reigned that no one could tell where the bill stood. About this time Chic tumbled and he fell started to leave the chamber, but he was cornered by several senators until their mirth was spent. The roll was again called and the bill passed unanimously and Chic left with a radiant expression on his genial face.

The senate resumed the consideration of the Bryan primary bill this morning. There seemed to be prevailing in the senate this morning an entirely different attitude toward the bill from that exhibited yesterday. This may have come—and probably did—from the fact that all the senators, except Senator

Lindsay, who displayed such an eagerness yesterday to amend the bill, were absent from their seats this morning. Senator Conrad has been back in his seat for two or three days, after an absence of several days. Senator Conrad is one of the most popular senators at Tallahassee.

One of the first things to reach the senate Saturday morning from the house of representatives was the bill providing for the extension of the city limits of the city of Palatka. It has been customary at this session for bills of this nature to go on the calendar without reference to a committee, especially when there was no contest. But this bill went to the committee on corporations, where it is expected that a great contest will be waged by the warring factions of Palatka.

Senator Fletcher was an interested visitor at the capital Saturday morning. He was constantly surrounded by a number of admiring friends.

Baby Show
One of the opening features of the Carnival to be held at the corner of Park avenue and Fifth street, on May 26th and 27th, will be a Baby Show. Babies will be divided into classes, and a prize awarded to the one receiving the most votes in each class. It is desired that every baby in town, under five years of age shall be entered, and all applicants must send names to either Mrs. S. O. Chase or Mrs. J. E. Dickens by Saturday evening. The babies will be on exhibition from 7 to 8 p.m. on May 26th.

Sanford in Moving Pictures
The Sanford Celery fields will be shown at the Imperial Theater on Friday and Saturday nights. You will not miss this picture as you will be able to recognize many who you know.

This picture was taken some time since by the Kalem Company. Mr. J. F. Karpatz manager of the Imperial was in Atlanta and made special arrangements to exhibit this famous picture.

The prices will be same, and it will be shown on Friday and Saturday nights of this week, May, 23 and 24.

Spirit Appeared to Brother.
In recent years no African explorer has gripped the popular imagination more than the ill-fated Capt. Boyd Alexander, who was done to death in a gallant effort to induce certain native tribes to live at peace with each other. The story of his last expedition to the Dark Continent has been published.

The book contains the explorer's diary of the expedition, this, curiously enough, being the only diary he ever kept, having been accustomed on former occasions to trust to his carefully drawn maps, and his retentive memory. The book has been edited by the explorer's brother, Mr. Herbert Alexander, who relates a strange dream, which should be of interest to students of the occult. "I saw Boyd," he says, "illuminated from the darkness of night, standing up, surrounded by angry natives, who were armed. He was trying to speak to me, but I did not hear his voice, rather it was as if the whole air was echoing, 'I am in their power.' Then suddenly he was swallowed up in darkness."

Proved His Chivalry.
Visitor—"You say that old reprobate over there used to be one of the politest men in town? I suppose he'd give up his seat in a street car to a woman." Nattie—"Polite? Say, stranger, that man gave up his seat in heaven for a woman."—Satire.

Treatment for Burns.
Sweet oil and limewater spread on a piece of cotton and applied to a burn is very soothing. Every medicine closet should contain a bottle of this remedy.

May Recital

The opening event of commencement week the delightful May Recital given annually by the students of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson in honor of the graduating class of the Sanford High School was enjoyed Monday evening, May 19th, by one of the largest and most appreciative audiences ever assembled in the auditorium of the High School.

If it is a well known fact and one appreciated with pardonable pride by every citizen of the town that each and every one of these recitals are characterized by a very high standard of musical excellence and ability, consequently a delightful order of entertainment is always appreciated and realized, for neither Mrs. Munson or her students ever disappoint the highest expectations.

The stage Monday evening, besides the two pianos was simply and solely decorated with handsome ferns.

With the opening number, each selection on the fine program was charmingly and perfectly rendered by each performer, who on her individual and well sustained effort, contribute largely to the artistic tone and perfect success of the beautiful program, and delightful entertainment of the evening.

Miss Allen as mezzo soprano and Miss Buttorf as accompanist were valuable and appreciated additions to the recital. Miss Allen, though but a young girl student of Prof. John W. Phillips, of Stetson University, shows promise of a very beautiful voice in her delightful tones and pleasing interpretations. She sang with fine feeling and good taste—her soft tones were particularly enjoyable—a rare finish in even the mature student.

In addition to the pleasure of her voice Miss Allen won her audience by her simple, unaffected, girlish charm of manner.

The many friends of Miss Maud Alice Wagner were delighted to have the pleasure of hearing again such a remarkably talented and proficient young artist, and they with others predict a brilliant future for her in the musical world.

The performers and students of Mrs. Munson's piano class, each and every one rendered their selections so charmingly and perfectly, that special mention and worthy deserved praise accorded them would probably take up too much space; other than to say that Mrs. Ernest Tolar's remarkable performance of the "Andante de Finale (Lucia di Lammermour) with her left hand only, was worthy of more than passing notice and evoked much surprise and praise of her wonderful ability.

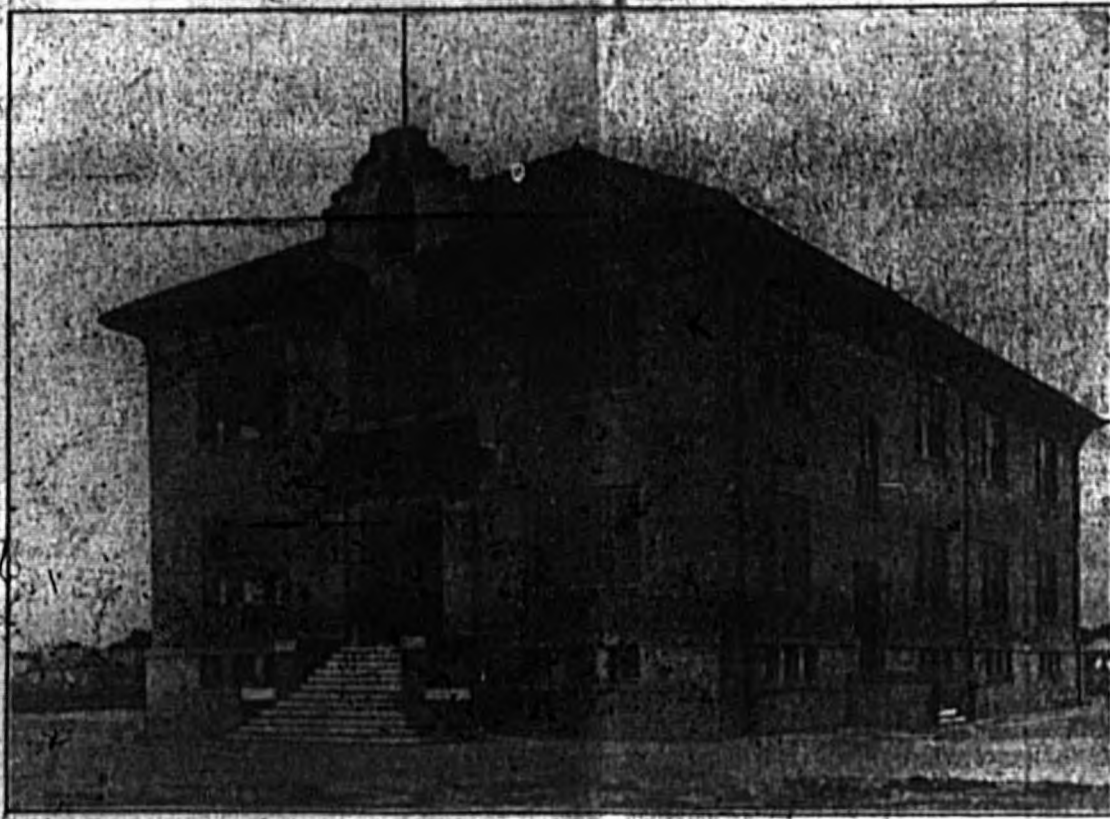

The following excellent selection of a program with a variety of music, of the greatest and best of music enjoyed Monday evening by all those whose good fortune it was to be present.

The Deacon's Second Wife

The annual play given by the literary societies of the Sanford High School was presented Tuesday evening, May 20th to a large and thoroughly pleased audience who were united in their praise of the clever young actors. "The Deacon's Second Wife, a fine character study was in every way up to the usual standard of excellence.

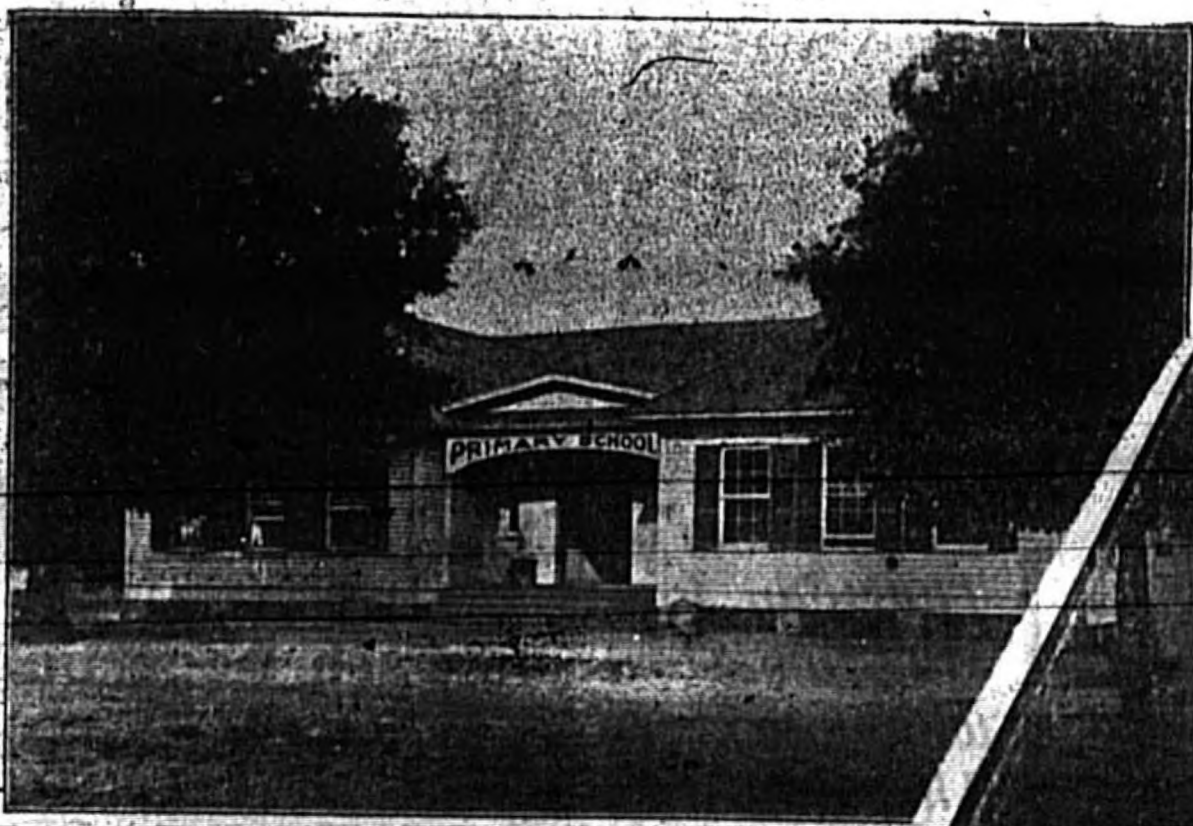

The personnel of the play seemed an unusually happy selection, and in the interwoven harmony of their interpretation of every day rural life on a farm, in the amusing three act play, nothing was left to be desired on the part of the spectators, of the mimic-serio-comic drama, through which the thread of the two pretty romances was pleasingly and happily woven.

Following is the program and cast

SYNOPSIS OF SCENES

- ACT I—Sitting room in Deacon Fritz's farm house
- ACT II—Deacon Fritz's dooryard.
- ACT III—Sittingroom, rearranged.

CHARACTERS

Malvina Fritz	Alma Pagenhart
Deacon Barachias Fritz	Wallace Crosby
Milton George Washington Fritz	Benjamin Whitner, 3rd
Nancy Melissa Fritz	Junnie Stunton
Mrs. Brown	Adelaide Higgins
Kate Rollins	Claire Walker
Jno. D. Bullock	George McLaughlin
Mrs. Bullock	Margaret Davis
Dorothy Bullock	Lucea Chappell
Hartley Bullock	Tenney Deane
Ernest Rench	Harry Kanner
Philip Gamboge	Bertie Pattishall

The play opens with Mrs. Fritz' departure on a short visit to relatives and the arrival of Kate Rollins, a niece of the deacon's on a visit to the family at the farm, and the farewell visit to Mrs. Fritz, of Mrs. Brown, a typical country neighbor, who always has a convenient ailment to nurse.

While Kate Rollins is amusing her little country cousins, Nancy Melissa and Milton George Washington by dressing up as an old woman, with a white wig, and before she can take it off the room is invaded by a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bullock, their daughter Dorothy and son Hartley, rich city people, seeking summer board in the country. They mistake Kate in her masquerade for Mrs. Fritz, and will have no refusal from her or listen to any explanation of the situation, especially as Nancy Melissa insists that there is plenty of room in the house and her husband has made the list of cooked things left by their mother. The deacon's timely arrival relieves Kate of further responsibility—and though he had been specially charged by his wife not to let any summer boarders come in, the house, the tempting pecuniary offer of the party and offer to help on the farm, the deacon decide to brave his wife's anger and set up a boarding house without her.

The second act sets forth many of the trying as well as amusing experiences of Kate Rollins, in keeping up the role of being the deacon's wife, as supposed by the boarders—a situation of which the deacon is entirely ignorant.

The efforts of the boarders to help in the home and farm work, presents a number of humorous situations.

The arrival of Phillip Gamboge, an inexperienced artist, with many unsold pictures and large expectations of fame and fortune, the lover of Dorothy, who is not approved by her parents deepens the interest in the unfolding of the plot.

In the third scene the sitting room is rearranged by the boarders and an artist's easel set up. In the midst of the enjoyment of a cup of tea Mrs. Brown comes in and is indignant at the changes made during Mrs. Fritz' absence, of which she will not approve when she returns. The boarders are puzzled by the reference to Mrs. Fritz' return, and will not stop talking long enough to hear Mrs. Brown's explanation of the situation in the farmhouse. Kate is questioned when Mrs. Brown takes her indignant departure and in the confusion speaks of the Mrs. Fritz mentioned by Mrs. Brown as Aunt Malvina. In attempting to correct her contretemps she said that Aunt Malvina was the deacon's first wife—as the inference was of course that she, Kate, is the second wife. About that time Mr. Bullock receives a telegram announcing a rise in the stock market requiring his presence. Phillip Gamboge receives a fine offer for one of his pictures. Ernest Rench is slightly wounded with a pitchfork and is placed on the lounge for repairs. He says he likes farm life and Mr. Bullock proposes to buy a farm and set him up in business.

The deacon offers his farm and as the bargain is about to be closed before the summer boarders leave, Mrs. Fritz returns unexpectedly, because her letter announcing her return had fallen in the water and been kept in the pocket of her son, Milton George Washington until it dried.

Explanations were in order all around. Mrs. Fritz' indignation was appeased by the sale of the farm. The sale of the picture changed Mr. Bullock's views and he gave his consent to his daughter's marriage to Phillip Gamboge. Kate and Mr. Rench found that they had a mutual attachment. Mrs. Brown was disgusted with Malvina and everybody, while Milton George Washington took from his pocket and ate with relish the last doughnut Ma left for them, as the curtain descended on the finely acted play.

Graduating Exercises of the Grammar School

About 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the auditorium of the Sanford High School was filled with the parents and friends of the pupils of the Eighth Grade, who with pleasure and pride in their hearts were present to witness the graduating exercises of the large class of forty-nine girls and boys, the pupils of Misses Flora Walker and Gertrude Speer of the Grammar school.

While a march was played, Misses Walker and Speer marched at the head of the class of girls down the right aisle of the auditorium on to the stage, while Prof. Perkins, Messrs. D. L. Thrasher of the county school board, L. R. Phillips and C. P. Walker of the local school board, Capt. George Lynch state inspector of rural schools and Rev. A. S. Peck preceded the class of boys down the left aisle to the stage, where they were seated in the chairs arranged for them.

Miss Fannie Reba Munson took her place at the piano and the exercises were very sweetly. "Who Knows What the
