Bomb Scare: Courthouse Evacuated, Searched

The Seminole County Courthouse, Sanford, was evacuated and a Sheriff's Department bomb expert began to search the building for explosives just before 11 a.m. today.

Sanford police Lt. Bill Bernosky said Sanford police received an anonymous call at about 10:45 a.m. today from a man who said there was a bomb in the courthouse and advised that everyone be evacuated before a certain time. Bernosky would not say what that time was.

In his 15 years on the Sanford police force Bernosky said he couldn't recall a bomb scare at the courthouse. "But in this day and time when somebody says 'bomb' we've got to get everybody out."

It was reported that at least one judge with court in session asked to be allowed to finish giving instructions to a jury before leaving the building. Security officers said that was completed in just a couple of minutes, then the courtroom evacuated with the rest of the building's occupants.

Security personnel said even at that time the bomb wasn't supposed to go off until an hour later, according to the threat.

After leaving the courthouse the judge escorted the jurors to a room at Sanford city hall, across from the courthouse, so they could begin deliberating.

Sheriff's bomb expert Lt. Marty LaBrusciano, searched for the bomb, Bernosky said. Apparently, no bomb was found because at noon Bernosky advised the building would be reopened at 12:50 p.m.

Police and rescue workers had blocked off the area surrounding the courthouse.

Victim And Accused Pass Lie Detector

A child molestation trial has taken an unusual twist with experts testifying that both the victim and the accused passed lie detector tests.

On trial is David Alonzo Anderson, 33, of 5 Ruby St. He is charged with the sexual battery of a 14-year-old girl. The case may go to the jury today.

Different polygraph experts testified Wednesday that neither the victim nor Anderson is lying about the incident.

According to court records, Anderson, who is free on bond, was arrested Aug. 13 and charged with sexual battery after the girl and her mother reported the "forced" sex acts to a Florida Health and Rehabilitative Services counselor. The counselor reported the allegations to Seminole County Sheriff's investigators on Aug. 10.

An examination of the girl at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, supported the girl's allegation, a sheriff's report said.

Another One Shopping Center Plans Revealed

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

A $5 million, 100,000-square-foot shopping center is slated for construction on the 10 acre tract across the street from Sanford Middle School.

The property is east of French Avenue between Central Street and High Street.

The Seminole County School Board Wednesday granted a 90-day option to Donald Huber of Huber Construction, Orlando, to buy the site composed of 67 city lots, for $600,000.

Huber said today he is a spokesman for a group planning to develop the shopping center which will include two major stores and about 20 other retail shops. He said plans will be submitted to the city within 30 days.

Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said today the city can serve the site with both water and sewer and the tract is sufficient in size for a 100,000 square foot center.

Huber said he will ask the city to abandon an unopened street and alleyway through the middle of the parcel and to rezone the back portion to commercial. The part of the property fronting on French Avenue is already zoned commercial.

Knowles said the abandonment and rezoning could be accomplished within the 90 days of the option if Huber expeditiously submits plans for the center to the city. The requests would have to be heard by the city's planning and zoning commission and the city commission at public hearings. An ordinance would also have to be adopted if the city approves the requests, he said.

Huber said he will submit plans to the city as quickly as possible and that he plans to talk to residents whose property is near the proposed center to

Newsman Escapes After Year Captive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The family of kidnapped reporter Jeremy Levin jubilantly identified a photograph of him today that confirmed reports he had escaped from his captors in Lebanon.

"That's him. There's no doubt about it," Levin's step-daughter, Clare Moss, 22, said. "He's got gray in his beard. A longer beard than I'm ever used to. (But) it's trim."

"He's OK," she added. "He looks great to me! We've been waiting for that picture for one year."

"My mother is looking at it with a big smile on her face," Moss said.

Moss said Mrs. Levin, at the family's home in Washington, was clutching the picture of her husband. It was taken by a French News Agency reporter who had seen Levin after his escape.

Levin, Mideast bureau chief for Cable News Network, was kidnapped last March from Beirut where he had his headquarters. Reports from Lebanon said he escaped in his pajamas and took refuge with Syrian troops in the Bekaa Valley.

"It's not coming as a shock," said

Mrs. Levin, all smiles in one of a series of television interviews. "We expected it all along. We are very, very grateful and very thankful. But we trusted God for his release. And we are still trusting God for the release of the others," a reference to four other Americans being held captive in Lebanon.

Asked if Levin would take great risks in escaping his captors, Mrs. Levin said, "I don't think that is what happened. I think this is a message from the Mideast, a desire for peace and we should answer it with our prayers and careful concentration on peace with them."

"It would be awfully strange for him to escape after being held for a year. But these things have happened before and it may be their way of making a gesture. And that's just my heart reaction."

As to the validity of the reports, Mrs. Levin said, "I'm believing, I'm really believing."

She said she would take her cue from the government as to whether she would go to the Mideast to see her husband but she would like to

Just 20% Overweight Considered Obese

WASHINGTON (UPI) — How fat you are and where that fat is on your body can be hazardous to your health, a national panel of specialists says.

A committee convened by the National Institutes of Health says anyone 20 percent overweight, as determined by his insurance company weight-height tables, should be considered obese and in need of medical help.

Previously, health professionals considered 40 percent overweight obese.

By the 20 percent standard, at least 34 million Americans are obese.

"At 20 percent overweight, there is sufficient evidence of biological hazards to warrant treatment," said Dr. John Hirsch, the committee chairman.

"We want the average American and his physicians to know that obesity is a disease," he said. "And it carries with it the risk for increased mortality and deserves to be treated and considered just as seriously as any other disease."

The 14-member panel said obesity is closely associated with high blood pressure, abnormally high levels of cholesterol in the blood, adult diabetes and increased risk of cancer of the colon, rectum and prostate in men and cancer of the gallbladder, the bile passage, breast, cervix, uterus and ovaries in women.

"Obesity is a killer," said Hirsch, of Rockefeller University in New York.

The committee based its overweight percentage on the midpoint of the body mass index, a measure produced by the Massachusetts Life Insurance Co.

According to the index, a woman between 5 feet 3 inches tall and 5 feet 7 inches tall should weigh between 127 and 153 pounds. A man who is 5 feet tall with a large frame should weigh between 154 and 180 pounds.

The committee said people who are obese are 20 percent overweight should be treated if they have diabetes or high blood pressure.

"We've found that obese people who are treated at the time they are obese have a 50 percent lower mortality rate than those who are not treated," Hirsch said.

"We feel very sure in our recommendation that obesity is a disease and should be treated as such," Hirsch said.

Suspect Questioned In Slaying Of Longwood Man

Orlando police investigating the stabbing death of a Longwood man are questioning a suspect who was nabbed with a stolen van and charged with theft and aggravated battery Wednesday, but no charges have been filed in the killing.

Police spokesman Jeff Peck said today he couldn't release information that might link the theft suspect to the killing, but lawmen were acting on a telephone tip that linked the suspected van thief to the stabbing of Paul David Switzer, 49. The suspect was nabbed by Orange County sheriff's deputies when he ran from the van which was reportedly stolen from an Orange County church parking lot early Wednesday. He was arrested on Old Winter Garden Road, in Orange County.

Switzer's body was found about 11:30 a.m.

Monday in a first-floor room of the Parliament House Motor Inn in Orlando. Switzer, a hospital consultant who lived at 101 Butternut Lane, Longwood, with his wife Marcia and son had reportedly checked into the motel under an assumed name earlier Monday, Peck said.

The Parliament House is reputed to be a homosexual hangout, police say.

A hotel resident who saw a bloody sheet through the open door to Switzer's room alerted police to the killing, Peck said. Switzer was stabbed in the upper torso and "it was an instant situation. He had not been dead long," Peck said.

The man who spotted the sheet also reported seeing a man in the room, going through a wallet and a second witness reported seeing a man dressed in boots and boxer shorts running from the scene, a police report said.

The Orange County Sheriff's Department received a call Wednesday that reportedly linked the man later arrested in the van theft and on an aggravated battery charge related to an Orlando, Jan. 24 incident, to the killing, but Peck would not comment on any tie between the cases, except to say the man was being questioned.

Switzer moved to Longwood from New York in 1980. His family refused today to talk about his background or his murder.

A witness reported to police he saw Switzer around 4 p.m. Monday in the motel's bar along with the man later seen running from the room, Peck said.

Motorists Ignore Bleeding Victim

NEW YORK (UPI) — A doctor who was abducted by robbers, stabbed, tortured and left for dead, lay bleeding and begging for help beside a busy parkway for 10 to 15 minutes while hundreds of motorists sped by, police said.

"Please don't let me die here," Dr. Dhananath Roy, 54, implored of two police officers who stopped to help him Tuesday.

The officers did not wait for an ambulance and took him to a hospital.

Doctors said Roy lost more than eight pints of blood and would have died if the policemen had not seen him and acted quickly.

Roy underwent hours of surgery for stab wounds to the chest, leg and groin. His attackers also carved an X on his leg before robbing him and tossing him out of his car on the Bronx River Parkway and down an embankment near the Bronx Zoo.

He was in critical but stable condition early today at Jacobi Hospital.

"There were hundreds of cars in front of us," Officer Angel Morales said. "There's no reason why anyone else didn't see him."

I have average vision and I saw him clear as day."

Police arrested three suspects, including two men living in a shelter for the homeless, who were found sitting in the doctor's car. The three were charged with attempted murder, abduction, possession of a dangerous weapon and grand larceny.

Roy's ordeal began when three men forced him into his car outside a clinic where he works as a gynecologist, police said.

The men drove Roy around for about an hour, robbing him of cash and other valuables and stabbing him repeatedly.

Crime Spree Ends In Shootout On Kansas Farm

COLBY, Kan. (UPI) — A carload of bandits on a bloody rampage across snowy northwest Kansas killed a restaurant manager during a robbery, executed two hostages and tried to hold off police in a final gun battle at a remote farmhouse. One suspect was killed.

The Wednesday afternoon crime spree that covered about 125 miles through tiny farm communities left four people wounded, including a state trooper who confronted the gunmen on a lonely country road and the operator of a grain elevator struck by bullets fired from the suspects' speeding car.

Police officers caught up with the suspects and a gunfight erupted in a snowy farm yard, killing a man tentatively identified as Mark Anthony Walter of Sutton Bay, Mich., and wounding Daniel Eugene Remeta and Lisa J. Dunn, ages and hometowns unknown. The fourth suspect, James C. Hunter of Amoret, Mo., was chased down and arrested as his three cohorts lay bleeding in the snow.

Court Reverses Castration Ruling

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — South Carolina's Supreme Court has reversed a judge who offered three confessed rapists the option of castration or 30 years in prison, ruling the surgery would be unlawful mutilation.

Circuit Judge C. Victor Pyle of Anderson, who drew national attention with his controversial sentence option, was ordered Wednesday to resentence Roscoe Brown, 28, of Pendleton, Mark Vaughn, 22, of Clemson, and Michael Braxton, 20, of Saratoga.

Brown, Vaughn and Braxton pleaded guilty in 1983 to repeatedly raping and torturing an Anderson woman for six hours. The 80-pound victim lost about half of her blood during the ordeal.

The justices voted unanimously to strike down the castration option. But two justices, siding with the state, said that while the castration option must be disallowed, the 30-year prison sentence should stand.

Hotel Fire Blamed On Arsonists; American Death Toll Climbing

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Police said today arsonists simultaneously set fires on two floors of the luxury Regent of Manila Hotel, engulfing the resort in flames that killed at least 23 people, including five Americans. Only two Americans, part of an entourage of Internal Revenue Service personnel, were reported dead Wednesday.

"All indications are that it was the job of arsonists," Brig. Gen. Victor Natividad, the metropolitan police command chief, told the official Philippine News Agency.

The French news agency AFP said today it received a note signed by a called the "Angels" saying the fire was a "protest against the U.S.-Japan support to the Marcos dictatorship." The note warned "other forms of sabotage" would follow.

Officials said that rescuers so far have retrieved the bodies of 23 people from the smoking hotel and were searching for an unspecified number of victims believed trapped inside and feared dead, officials said.

make them aware of development plans.

The school board agreed to sell the property as surplus because Sanford Middle School already has an adequate campus and because the tract is difficult to use since students must cross busy French Avenue to reach it, said Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent for facilities.

Arnold also pointed out that the money received for the 10-acre tract will be used to improve the middle school.

Among projects to be undertaken with the funds are development of physical education facilities, drainage, paved parking and re-roofing of part of the school.

Meanwhile, the school board rejected a bid of $135,000 for the purchase of 10 acres off McCracken Road, near the former Crooms High School, submitted by Owen Lowell Clements Jr. of Orlando.

Clements had planned to build low-income rental housing at the site and to finance the project through tax-free bonds. The board rejected his proposal for an option because it had no time limit on closing the sale, Arnold said.

But Clements said today he withdrew his offer prior to the school board meeting in a telephone call to Arnold's office. Arnold said he found Clements' message after the board meeting.

Clements said today he is still interested in buying the property, but first he must determine the feasibility of his planned project. He said he has built similar housing for the past 15 years in Orlando.

In other action, the board approved the expenditure of $10 million to revamp and expand Oviedo High School. Arnold said 120,000 square feet of new construction is planned at Oviedo High School in addition to renovation of 110,000 square feet of existing facilities.

At its Feb. 27 meeting, the board plans to name its Middle School "X", under construction behind the Lake Mary High School on property bought from the developers of the Crossings.

The board is accepting nominations for a name for the facility. Nancy Warren, school board chairman, said since there is already an elementary and a high school bearing the name of Lake Mary, that name will not be considered.

Names which have been submitted for consideration so far are: Frank Evans, a founder of the Lake Mary community; William P. Layer, former school superintendent, and Greenwood. Nominations for the name will be accepted at the school office until Feb. 27.

Paper: Chernenko 'Incurably Ill'

MOSCOW (UPI) — New reports surfaced today concerning Soviet President Konstantin Chernenko's 49-day absence from public view, fueling speculation about his health and Kremlin power struggles over a possible successor.

In Bonn, the Bonner Rundschau newspaper reported today the 73-year-old Chernenko was incurably sick with "chronic lung emphysema" and will live only a few more weeks.

The newspaper gave no source for its Bonn-dated dispatch but indicated it was based on reports reaching the West German government from Moscow.

"Doctors give the most powerful man in the Kremlin, who has not been seen in public for some time, only 'three to four weeks,'" the newspaper said, adding the West German government was beating its Soviet policy on the information.

Couple's Spat Ends In Stabbing

A squabble between a Lake Mary husband and wife ended with the man hospitalized with knife wounds and jailed for aggravated battery ordered on the woman. Lake Mary police reported.

Lake Mary police report being called to 123B W. Grandbend Ave., Lake Mary, early Wednesday.

They were met by a woman who reportedly told them, "I stabbed that..." a police report said.

The officers saw the male suspect and reported he appeared to have a stab wound in his chest, the report said.

A rescue unit was called to treat the man and he was transported to Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, the report said.

The woman reportedly told police the man had choked her and hit her in the face. Police reported seeing bruises around her mouth and knots on her head. She alleged the man had threatened to kill her and her sons who were in bed at the house. She said she fled to the kitchen, got a knife and stabbed her husband and he continued to choke her, the report said.

A reason for the fight was not given in the report.

Police determined that the man who was transported to the hospital had refused treatment and left. He was arrested and charged with spouse abuse at 10:09 a.m. Wednesday after he returned to his home. Before being transported to jail he was taken to CFR where his wounds were treated, the report said.

Bill Cassels, 29, has been charged in the case. He was released on $500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Feb. 2.

A warrant charging Roxanne Marie Cassels, 32, with aggravated battery has been ordered by police, the report said.

NATIONAL REPORT: A storm that delayed Valentine's Day mail deliveries with 15-foot snow drifts in the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley crept into Canada, but wind-blown snow kept countless roads blocked today, closing schools and stranding travelers. National Guardsmen used bulldozers to bring supplies of food and medicine to people isolated by the snow in Ohio, while marooned motorists spent the night in Indiana armories, Tennessee truck stops and Kentucky civic centers. Longwood Commission To Examine Code Enforcement Board Rules

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood police are cracking down on businesses that are in violation of the city code, but in at least one case the city commission has learned the city does not have the means to follow up on enforcement.

In the case of Bobby Clark Used Cars, cited by the city for a set-back violation, the commissioners found that the incident was not covered under the chapter outlining responsibilities of the city's code enforcement board.

Clark was told by city officials he was violating an ordinance requiring a 25-foot setback from the power pole for cars on display; pavement and drainage for surface water; and a permanent guard rail that would prevent vehicles from accidentally rolling into the street.

Sanford Attorney Thomas Speer, Clark's attorney, told the commission Monday night it would be "unconscionable" for the city to require his client to comply with present city codes since he has been in business at 425 S. East Lake St., since 1978 and should be "grandfathered in."

Speer, who also represents Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jean, owners of the property for the past 40 years, said the business met city codes existing in 1978, but has lost property to the state road department for road rights-of-way three times as the street (county Road 427) was widened. This makes it more difficult to comply with the more recent restrictions.

The second time they took property up to the steps of the building and the third time it took the steps, Speer said.

"I sympathize with you," Commissioner Larry Goldberg said. "If you complied with the 25-foot setback, you would only have room for two or three rows of cars."

"It's very elementary," Speer said. "The old comes under the old and the new comes under the new. I ask you not to cite my client as an individual."

City Attorney Frank Kruppenbacher told the commission there is "a great deal of litigation over whether something (in existence when new requirements are passed) is actually grandfathered in."

"A concern I've had is that if you move off requirements on one item this week then be prepared next week for persons demanding to be treated the same way," Kruppenbacher said. "I'm not sure you have the right to grant a variance without an ordinance. You would be acting hastily if you approved anything tonight."

He said the commission should consider changes in the code enforcement ordinance to bring this type of violation under its jurisdiction. "There are hidden problems here," he added. "You need to look at the overall situation."

The commission agreed to discuss the problem further at a workshop before its first meeting in March.

African Relief Line Set Up

Southern Bell has installed a toll-free telephone number in Florida for the Red Cross to speed fund-raising efforts for drought-stricken Africa.

People calling 1-800-488-GIVE will reach a recording telling them of the urgent need for funds and where to send contributions to the American Red Cross African Famine Relief Campaign. Callers desiring more information also will be able to leave a message so that they can be contacted by representatives of local Red Cross chapters.

The African Famine Relief Campaign was launched by the Red Cross to help some of the 180 million people in 27 African countries who are in danger of dying of malnutrition or starvation. Red Cross chapters have pledged to raise as much as possible toward the worldwide goal of $70 million sought by the international league of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies.

Southern Bell spokesman Larry Strickler said that the use of the 800 INWATS service will help local Red Cross chapters battle their biggest enemy — time. "The Red Cross needs money and it needs it quickly to provide relief for famine victims," he said. "The establishment of toll-free numbers throughout Southern Bell's four-state area allows the Red Cross to provide specific information to contributors and volunteers in the most efficient manner possible."

Fostering Reform In Philippines

If policy-makers in Washington have a nightmare about the Philippines, it no doubt goes like this: The decaying dictatorship of ailing strongman Ferdinand Marcos gives way to something even worse — a military coup and subsequent dictator in uniform or a communist regime brought to power by guerrilla insurgents of the Maoist New People's Army.

Neither of these extreme outcomes, and most especially a communist takeover in Manila, seems very likely. But American interests in the Philippines are far too important to run any risk at all that Washington might misread the situation and, therefore, fail to apply the appropriate pressures on its troubled Asian ally. Accordingly, administration officials spent the latter half of last year carefully reviewing trends in the Philippines and formulating policy recommendations.

The result was a national security directive signed in January by President Reagan. It calls for continued U.S. pressure on President Marcos to effect political, economic and military reforms.

The desired political reforms would expand and accelerate the current process of restoring the Philippines to the multi-party democracy that Mr. Marcos dismantled during the 1970s. The economic reforms would center on replacing the Marcos regime's corrupt "crony capitalism" with free markets for such basic Philippine industries as coconuts. The military reforms would reserve the politicization of the Philippine officer corps, tighten discipline in the ranks and curtail military abuses of civilians.

This is an ambitious agenda to be pressed on a Marcos regime already steadily, if still gradually, losing its grip. And there are risks. In the short run, liberalization probably will produce more rather than less turmoil in the Philippines as a resurgent political opposition tests its new limits.

Then too, there is the danger that excessive pressure against the Marcos government at a time of economic crisis and political uncertainty could precipitate its collapse. That, in turn, could produce just the sort of chaos that would invite a military coup, and no doubt permit dramatic gains in the countryside by communist guerrillas.

But the Reagan administration's policy review must have left no doubt that potential disaster looms in the Philippines absent any reform at all. Inflation and a slumping economy are shrinking living standards; most painfully for the millions of urban poor who were barely subsisting during the growth years of the 1970s. In rural areas, the New People's Army (military arm of the Communist Party of the Philippines) has roughly doubled its ranks and activity during the last few years. The chief grievances of many Filipinos sympathetic to the NPA are pervasive government corruption and abuses of power by the Philippine army and the paramilitary Philippine Constabulary.

The political situation is similarly critical as the 87-year-old Mr. Marcos, who reportedly suffers from kidney disease, grows visibly more ill. Mr. Marcos may be authoritarian but he is shrewd enough to recognize that continued liberalization is inevitable if a political explosion is to be avoided. The same cannot be said for some of those around him, including his ambitious wife, Imelda, and some senior military officers.

Clearly, then, the Reagan administration is walking something of a diplomatic tightrope in trying to influence events in the Philippines. But American interests there — a decades-old alliance, the last U.S. air and naval bases in Southeast Asia, and $1 billion in economic investments — are too important not to try.

More to the point, the policy priorities approved by President Reagan seem the right ones given the circumstances in the Philippines. And, as both Congress and the administration know full well, the economic and military aid requested by the Marcos government give Washington a huge lever to use in fostering reform. Now to use it.

Reagan Skirts Tough Budget Issues

The State of the Union may be as good as Mr. Reagan says it is, but the state of the bond market isn't.

With all the hoopla about how the Reagan Administration is — or isn't — going to cut the fiscal year 1986 budget, most commentators ignored the fact that the estimate for FY 1985 has quietly been raised from $185 billion to $222 billion.

Paul Volcker testified a few days ago that in his opinion, a $50 billion cut in the deficit next year would reduce interest rates by about 1 percent. This is an eminently reasonable estimate, and one with which we would fully concur.

However, deficits and interest rates are not a one-way street. If a $50 billion deficit reduction will reduce interest rates by 1 percent, it logically follows that a $37 billion increase would raise them by about ¾ percentage point. In fact, it seems likely that interest rates will rise this year in any case, although the increase is expected to be between 1 percent and 1-½ percent instead of ¾ point because of the generally strong nature of the economy.

The Administration cannot realistically expect to get away with the game of proposing large budget cuts "next" year while surreptitiously allowing outsize gains to occur "this" year. This procedure has been going on for four years, and is one of the reasons — although obviously not the only one — why we have a projected deficit of $222 billion this year compared to a $73 billion deficit when Mr. Reagan first took the oath of highest office.

Under this withering assault from the Treasury, combined with an expected robust increase of 4.7 percent in real GNP this year, we do not see how interest rates can do anything but rise in 1985. The fact that the Fed found it necessary to increase the federal funds rate from 8 percent to 8-½ percent even before the year properly got underway serves as a clear notice that the monetary authorities are not inclined to sit idly back and let the Treasury unload ever-increasing amounts of debt without having some negative effects on interest rates. Volcker is in effect saying to Congress: if you want lower interest rates, we need serious action on cutting the deficit — both in terms of lower spending and higher taxes.

Yet Mr. Reagan's State of the Union message addressed this issue in only the most peripheral manner. The Administration offered only the lame explanation that a proposal on tax reform would be forthcoming "later" and did not need to be broached "at this time" because it would be revenue neutral in any case and hence did not affect the budget totals.

This sort of mealy-mouthed approach is not the kind of leadership that Congress requires in order to begin to chop the budget deficit down to size. As a result, the true deficit figure for FY 1985 will not be $180 billion, as proposed by the Administration, but well over $200 billion. Only a concerted action in terms of both a freeze and revenue-raising tax reform can bring the deficit figures to heel. Otherwise, it will be more of the same: promises of a reduced deficit, but an actual increase that has averaged over $37 billion per year during the tenure of the Reagan Administration.

Based on the facts, as opposed to the forecasts, the outlook for interest rates is up. While the Fed stands willing to become more accommodative upon the evidence of sharp cuts in the deficit, we believe they will remain disappointed, and will eventually have to turn to tightening measures later this year to offset what would otherwise be inflationary growth in the money and credit aggregates.

Visit At Any Cost

By Helen Thomas
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House apparently wants a state visit in April from South Korean President Chun Doo Hwan — at any price.

Government security forces roughed up an American delegation including two congressmen and Pat Derian, former assistant secretary of state for human rights, when they escorted South Korean dissident Kim Dae Jung back to Seoul.

Instead of defending activist Americans who seek to promote democratic rights, the administration from President Reagan on down blamed both sides, and appeared to be heavily weighted against the Americans.

Elliot Abrams, who holds the position once held by Derian, called the American entourage a "traveling circus" and U.S. Ambassador to Korea Richard Walker, a political appointee, more or less indicated that the Americans had instigated the turmoil at Kimpo airport.

Administration spokesmen said repeatedly after the incident that there were no plans to cancel Chun's visit.

And so it has been with the United States and South Korea for more than 30 years. Americans have poured billions and billions into that country, which has remained a military dictatorship.

For all that the United States has been able to extract little in the way of democracy with changes of government coming only from military coups when one leader is cut down by an assassin's bullet to be replaced by another.

It is the president himself in his State of the Union address who spoke of supporting freedom fighters everywhere, but apparently he only means freedom fighters against Soviet tyranny. Other dictatorships go by the board or are relegated to what the administration likes to call "quiet diplomacy."

The Reagan administration has yet to show one major foreign policy triumph compared to the Carter administration. President Jimmy Carter peacefully negotiated the future of the Panama Canal, the Camp David accords and the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty, SALT 2, which so far the administration has abided by although it was never ratified. Not to mention the Carter drive for human rights throughout the world.

IRS Blushes Over Birthday Surprises

WASHINGTON — The federal government, which has regulations forbidding just about anything, appears to have been caught with its "can'ts" down in a touchy area of employee decorum. The question, stripped to its bare essentials, is: Should government workers be permitted to have strip-tease entertain at the office?

The answer seems to be: Nobody knows. At least no one has been able to dig up a regulation that might cover the situation.

The most fascinating feature of this titillating tempest in the teapot where it originated: the grim, anti-theatrical regional headquarters of the Internal Revenue Service in downtown Washington, D.C., known to local taxpayers as Dracula's Castle. Behind its clinical, glass-and-concrete facade lurks a spirit of meriment that belies the revenue agency's grim image.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Liberals' Last Chance

NEW YORK (NEA) — It doesn't require any very advanced degree in political prophecy to foresee that, for American liberals, 1985 is going to be one long open season on South Africa.

The white regime at the southern tip of the African continent provides liberals with very nearly their last remaining chance to claim moral superiority over their adversaries. Having maneuvered themselves into well-nigh impossible positions on everything from Mr. Reagan's "Star Wars" ("What's wrong with Mutual Assured Destruction?") to abortion ("The fetus does not scream"), liberals in search of a quick moral fix can always arrange to be arrested in front of some South African consulate.

Beyond that, there is sure to be a big effort to push anti-South African legislation through Congress — the more punitive, the better. For starters, there will be an attempt to ban the sale of gold Krugerrands in this country. That won't hurt South Africa in the slightest, since it can easily sell the coins elsewhere, but the gesture will play well in any congressional district where black voters outnumber the citizens of white South African ancestry (and that's just about all of them).

But the liberals will almost certainly call for madder music and stronger wine. What they really want is U.S. withdrawal from all economic relations with South Africa — not only a pullout of all American businesses there, but economic sanctions against trade as well. That would indeed hurt South Africa, though by no means fatally. It would also hurt a great many important businesses in the United States and imperil our supply of some strategically vital minerals, so you can safely bet that Congress will find some way to avoid going that far. But the liberals will demand it anyway, and their reason for doing so deserves closer examination.

The point not understood by most Americans who think about the matter at all is that effective U.S. economic sanctions against South Africa would harm first and foremost the very people it is allegedly designed to help: South Africa's blacks. Large numbers of blacks are employed by U.S. businesses operating in South Africa, and many others by South African firms doing business with the United States. They will be the first to lose their jobs if sanctions are imposed, and will be the hardest hit by any contraction of the economy that results.

But the liberals will not be deterred — partly because their hidden agenda for South Africa calls precisely for increasing unrest among its blacks, leading to acts of violence and (ultimately) open rebellion. Even more compelling, however, is their own desperate need for a new moral issue on which to confront and combat the Reagan administration. Compared to that, how important is the interim well-being of South Africa's blacks?

right. Pressed for comment, an IRS spokesman told my reporter Scott Barrett only that "we don't sanction" such forms of free speech on government premises.

A second incident occurred in almost equally surreal quarters last Dec. 19 at the Smithsonian Institution's environmental research center in Rockville, Md. A woman employee who had, until then, been making no great fuss over her birthday, was visited by a young man dressed in a Santa Claus outfit. With appropriate jollity, St. Nick peered on everything.

William Klein, director of the research center, said he had been "totally unaware" that the birthday-suit surprise had been planned. "If I had known, I would have stopped it," he said. "I totally disapprove of it."

When asked for enlightenment on the legality of stripping in government buildings, the Office of Personnel Management responded

Better Insulin Delivery

By Lidia Wasowicz
UPI Science Writer
SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Researchers report encouraging preliminary results in the experimental use of a new device that allows diabetics to inject insulin directly into the abdominal cavity.

Doctors said studies show this to be a more efficient technique than the insulin-administering methods currently available to the 1.5 million American insulin-dependent diabetics.

The new device, called a "subcutaneous peritoneal access device" (SPAD), was developed at the University of Utah Health Sciences Center and College of Engineering.

The injections are virtually painless, researchers said, and the time it takes the insulin to reach the liver, the body's major chemical processing organ, is known.

"This allows patients to better judge when to take the insulin and how much they need, which is related to when, what and how much they eat," said Dr. Robert Stephen, principal investigator and research associate professor of surgery.

Stephen said preliminary studies indicate in some patients suffering kidney disease caused by diabetes, damage to the organs can be slowed or arrested, possibly because of better insulin control.

The device — about 2 inches across — is made of silicone rubber, polyurethane and polyethylene glycol. Implanted just below the skin in the patient's abdomen, the SPAD has a small opening into the peritoneal or abdominal cavity.

"It is used in an attempt to imitate both the normal pattern and normal pathway of insulin release by the pancreas," Stephen said.

Patients push a small needle through the skin into the container and inject insulin, which flows through the opening into the abdominal cavity, where it is drained rapidly and directly to the liver. There, the insulin metabolizes, controls glucose and influences at least 20 other body chemicals.

In diabetics, unlike healthy people, the pancreas produces almost no insulin, leading to serious chemical imbalances in the body. The patients must administer the insulin themselves every day. Without it, starvation and death could result.

in effect that there is no official policy. An official did cite a passage in the Code of Federal Regulations, titled "General Conduct Prejudicial to the Government," which reads: "An employee shall not engage in criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral or notoriously disgraceful conduct or other conduct prejudicial to the government."

But of course it wasn't an employee who did the stripping. Is it prejudicial to watch? The OPM official passed the buck to the General Services Administration, which is directly responsible for government buildings.

"We're not arbitrators," said a GSA spokesman, doing a little sidestep and tossing responsibility deftly over the footlights. "I doubt there's a policy on this."

He did say that GSA, like any landlord, doesn't encourage in-house parties, and expressed the feeling that such affairs should be "in good taste."

SCC's Sandwich Attack Eats Up Central Florida

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Call it a perfect sandwich. A mouth watering offensive night from Linny Grace on top, a delicious game-winning Kenny Edwards' jumper in the middle and a tasty game-preserving Rob Brantley block on the bottom.

All three ingredients added up to a digestible 81-79 Seminole Community College victory over Central Florida Wednesday night before 111 fans at the SCC Health Center.

"The bench wouldn't let them quit," said SCC coach Bill Payne about his third straight 20-victory season. "You could just see the whole bench pick us up."

For CFCC coach Benny Gabbard, it was just another tough loss. The Knights fell to 14-16 and 4-9 in the Mid-Florida Conference. SCC kept its hopes of hosting the post-season tournament by improving to 9-4 in the MPC and 20-10 overall.

Also Wednesday, Florida Junior clinched the conference title and an automatic berth in the state tournament by beating Lake City, 99-91. Daytona Beach used 12 points from Fred Miller and 10 from Willie Mitchell to squash Santa Fe, 100-84. Daytona improved to 24-8 and 9-4.

Which means, the Daytona-Seminole battle Saturday night at Daytona Beach will determine the host school for the post-season tournament. SCC whipped Daytona earlier this year at home. The winner of Saturday's game will receive a bye until the semifinal round in addition to hosting the game.

The Raiders, who were put in a must-win situation by losing two games last week, responded to the call Wednesday. Central Florida built a 12-point lead just before halftime, another 12-point lead four minutes into the second half and an 11-point lead with 10 minutes to play.

CFCC, which received 28 points from forward Kregg Overton and 18 from Darrion Mixon, traded baskets and free throws with Grace during the first 10 minutes. Grace, who finished with 27 points, five rebounds and six assists, connected on all seven free throws and four buckets for 18 first-half points.

"Linny was really playing hard," said Payne about his 6-3 forward. "Our team's been in a hell of a shooting slump but we came out of it tonight (34 of 59 for 58 percent)."

The Knights used two Overton jumpers to take a 29-23 lead with five minutes left in the first half but guard Mike Landell came back with an 18-footer and a free throw to ignite an SCC surge. Greg "Slim" Johnson scored on a rebound and Greg Bates stole the ball and dunked to pull the Raiders within 33-30.

Central Florida, though, went to a spread offense which produced six free throws and a 41-34 halftime lead.

Payne said he used the intermission to politely remind 6-4 guard Edwards that he was the team's best shooter. "We're going to lose with you not shooting the ball," Payne said to Edwards who took just one shot in the first 20 minutes. "Put that damn thing up."

Hoping to instill some life, Payne made two key substitutions to open the second half. He started 6-7 Willie Strother at center and 6-1 Calvin "Kidd" Bryant at forward. Both paid off. Strother stole the ball immediately and Bryant grabbed his missed shot and put it in.

Edwards fired away the next time and hit from the wing. It was Bryant's turn the next time around and he drilled a 25-footer. The former Seminole High standout then broke loose underneath and Grace slipped a perfect pass as the Raiders pulled within 50-47.

Landell, who earned a start after several strong showings off the bench, stole the ball and was fouled as he drove for the hoop. He hit one free throw to hoist the Raiders within one.

SCC's Kenny Edwards rips a rebound away from Darrion Mixon. Edwards hit the game-winning shot with 11 seconds left to hoist the Raiders to an 81-79 victory.

"SCC is a physical team," said Gabbard, who cited the performance of the Raiders' defensive backs. "They did a nice job of playing within the bump-and-run that the refs allowed."

After Landell's free throw, however, Central Florida outscored the hosts, 11-2, over the next four minutes for a 61-50 lead. Overton hit three straight shots to fuel the surge.

But as quickly as the Raiders faded, they bounced back. Bates scored on a slam. Brantley tallied on a goal tend and Bates dropped in one from the baseline to pull SCC within five.

Overton hit another clutch bucket to stem the roll somewhat, but Grace came back with a three-point play at the 8:53 mark to close the gap. The blade-like sophomore used the baseline to pull SCC within 65-61 before turning control over to Edwards.

The Parla, Ky. native drilled home two straight wing jumpers and then followed up with a rebound basket to produce a 67-67 tie with 5:41 to play. Grace then came up with a big steal and fed Brantley who dunk the ball for a 69-67 lead with 5:27 to go.

SCC edged its lead to four points, 71-67, on a pair of Brantley free throws but Overton came back with four free tosses

Lady Rams Seniors Rip DeLand

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

It was Senior Night at Lake Mary High Wednesday as many of the players who have been with the program since it started four years ago played their last regular season home game.

And, in a fitting finale, every one of the seniors on the Lady Rams' roster contributed as Lake Mary rolled to a 58-38 victory over DeLand's Lady Bulldogs in Five Star Conference action.

The Lady Rams improved to 18-7 overall and 13-3 in the Five Star with the win. Lake Mary, which is two wins away from its fourth straight 20-win season, travels to Spruce Creek Friday for a 4:45 p.m. game and closes out the season Monday in a key conference clash at Lake Brantley.

DeLand now stands at 18-8 overall and 10-6 in the Five Star. Senior forward Alleen Patterson, who played on the junior varsity as a freshman in the school's first year of existence, led the way Wednesday with a game-high 22 points and 13 rebounds.

Courtney Hall, who has been on the varsity roster for four years, tossed in six points and pulled down seven rebounds and Liz Stone, also on the varsity for four years, added six points, four assists and two steals.

Kim Averill, a four-year starter for the Lady Rams, chipped in with two points, five rebounds, five assists and three steals. Senior forward Andrea Fenning, a JV player as a freshman, hit four points and handed out three assists. Fenning is still being slowed by a knee injury that has kept her out most of the season.

Larra Hall, who started on the junior varsity as a freshman, contributed six points, two assists and two steals in her final regular season home appearance for the Lady Rams.

Senior forward Terri Reynolds, who has been with the Lady Rams for three years, turned in a strong performance inside with two points and six rebounds. And senior forward Sloan Stewart, a transfer student from Michigan, added four points.

Stone and Larra Hall were the key figures early in the game as Lake Mary ran off the first 18 points. Stone, a 5-1 guard, scored two points, handed out two assists and came up with two steals in the Rams' first quarter rally. Hall, a 5-4 guard, pumped in six points, had one assist and one steal.

DeLand finally got on the scoreboard with 2:11 left in the first quarter on a layup by Robyn Swartz. Lake Mary took a 22-4 lead into the second quarter.

The Lady Rams went on to outscore the Bulldogs, 18-10, in the second quarter to take a 37-14 halftime lead.

Shawn Lane's 16 points and seven rebounds were high for DeLand. Swartz added 12 points while Kathy Wyche contributed four points and six rebounds.

While Lake Mary will lose eight seniors off this year's team, the future looks bright as the Lady Rams return varsity players such as Karen DeShetler, Heather Leckie and Anquetette Whack and a number of its junior varsity players will be moving up next season.

Lake Mary's junior varsity ran its record to 13-0 for the season with a 48-32 victory over DeLand Wednesday night. The JV Lady Rams close out the season Monday at 6:15 at Lake Brantley.

Lake Mary raced to a 7-0 lead after the first quarter and built a 28-10 halftime lead. Lake Mary went up by as much as 21 in the fourth quarter before DeLand rallied within 13 but the JV Lady Bulldogs could come no closer.

Terri Whyte, a 6-3 freshman center, led Lake Mary with a game-high 13 points while Virnee Chapman and Tonya Lawson teamed in, 11 each and Marcie Dalziel added eight.

Florida State's Loss Is UCF's Gain

Florida State's loss is UCF's gain. That's the way the Donald Grayson situation was resolved Wednesday. Lake Mary's versatile football player signed with the Fighting Knights after FSU backed off.

It's hard to fathom that Grayson, a solid 6-2, 200-pound with brilliant hands and tenacious blocks, is not a major college football player. As good as the Lake Mary senior looks on the hoof, his intangibles are much better.

Having known the young man for the past six years, I've watched him come up with clutch play after clutch play in football, baseball and basketball. Grayson made the diving catch, hit the home run and dropped the pressure free throws whenever he was called on.

But the big schools had questions about his speed as a wide receiver and size for a tight end. Florida State, where Grayson preferred to go early in the recruiting process, only signed two wide receivers and already has a quality tight end bigger than Grayson.

But with shoulders from Sanford to Lake Mary and a body which wasn't built by weights one has to wonder how big and strong the 17-year-old coaches' dream will become. At least 30 pounds heavier.

With Grayson's versatility, he wouldn't be limited to offense either. Whenever coach Harry Nelson felt his defensive secondary may be weakening, he called on Grayson to shore up the gap.

One story comes to mind when an assistant was hesitant to use Grayson on defense "because he didn't know the plays," according to Nelson. Harry went into one of his tirades and fired off, "He's an athlete. Get him in there."

Grayson, of course, intercepted the next pass thrown and Nelson reportedly asked the assistant where he was going to work next year?

"UCF is growing, it's going to be a big-time place," said Grayson Thursday morning. "I'm going to get to play tight end and they're going to throw the ball a lot."

"Anyway, the education is the same at both places."

Florida State, of course, had one of its biggest recruiting bonanzas ever as it signed everybody's All-America Sammie Smith from Apopka. Lake Howell's Jeron Evans became a happy young man this week when he signed with Vanderbilt. Evans, a close friend of Vandy All-America and former Lake Howell grad Chuck Scott, hopes to follow in his hero's footsteps at wide receiver.

Lake Howell Bounces Back From 8-0 Deficit To Drop Lions — SCC Wins

Mike Schmit, Shane Letterio and Rod Metz each cracked home runs while Ron Natherson stroked three hits as the Lake Mary Rams pounded Winter Park, 7-1, in prep baseball Wednesday at Winter Park High School.

The victory equaled the Lake Mary record at 1-1. The Rams go to Okeechobee Saturday for a double-header. Winter Park fell to 1-1.

Coach Allen Tuttle's squad, which is considered the favorite in the Five Star Conference race, broke on top in the first inning against lesser Staley Wausonburgs. With one out, Letterio singled before Scott Underwood and Schmit walked to lead the bases. Metz rapped a tailor made double play ball to the shortstop who tossed to the second base to throw Schmit at second. His throw to first base, though, was too late as Letterio scored. Natherson, who had a double and two singles for 2 RBIs, followed with a smash to left for a 2-0 edge.

Schmit, who pitched a three-letter, struck out 10 and walked just one, drove up his early run in the second on a bloop single to right field. The hard-hitting junior promptly scored in the third when he slugged a long drive over the 380-foot sign in center field for a solo later.

The Rams added four insurance runs in the seventh as Letterio rapped his second homer of the year over the left field fence. With one out, Schmit drove a walk and Metz hammered a blast down the left field line for a two-run homer. Lake Mary picked up its final run when Natherson singled, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on Kevin Hill's double to left center.

Hill also had a single while Keith Wallace, rebounding from shoulder surgery which has sidelined him for two years, chipped in a single as did Brett Mole.

In other action Wednesday, Oviedo's Lions jumped to an 8-0 lead over Lake Howell but then fell apart defensively as the Silver Hawks stormed back for a 15-9 victory at Lake Howell High School.

"They started hitting and the errors started coming," said Oviedo skipper Steve Lawson. Natherson committed three errors while the Silver Hawks played spotlessly on defense.

Craig Duncan, the third Oviedo hurler, suffered the loss for the 1-4 Lions. Oviedo plays at Oak Ridge at 3:45 p.m. in the Seminole Invitational Baseball Tournament. Lake Howell improved to 1-1.

Sophomore Mark Merchant rapped four hits including two doubles for Oviedo. He also drove in two runs. Sophomore Glenn Reichle had an RBI double while Dave Wood and Les Watson singled home one run each and John Lowrie accounted for a pair. Watson ripped a solo homer in the fourth.

For the Hawks, Scott "Thurman" Munson ripped a single and a homer. Eric and Ernest Martinez each had a pair of singles and Eddie Taubensee rapped a pair of hits good for two ribbles.

In other tournament action beginning today, Seminole, 2-0, opens its invitational tournament at 3:45 p.m. against Titusville Astromut at Seminole Community College at 3:45 p.m.

At Longwood, host Lysman meets Eustis at 7 p.m. and Lake Brantley battles Leesburg at 8:30 p.m.

In junior college baseball Wednesday, SCC avers its record to 2-2-1 with a 7-1 victory over Hillsborough behind the nine-hit hurling of Chuck Brent. Brent, 2-0, allowed a run in the second and blanked HCC the rest of the way.

Jack Smith singled twice and drove in two runs while Mike Sawyer added a pair of hits and an RBI. Seminole travels to Bradenton to play Manatee today at 5.

Farmton Association Pushes For Members; Discourages Vandalism On State Property

(Editor's note: Larry Williams is a life-long Sanford resident who is active in the Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's Association. If you have any information concerning fishing or hunting activities, call him at 321-0720. His column will appear every Thursday in the Evening Herald.)

Every year there are more and more hunters and fishermen using Florida's limited resources. State officials say the trend is more toward private clubs and fewer state-owned or leased resources.

What does this mean? This means a cost of $200, $300, $500 or more to hunt on a private lease — if one can be found — instead of $10 for a wildlife management permit which allows the hunter to use state-owned or state-leased land.

Some of the large land owners are going to private clubs because of the way the public is using — or rather misusing — their land. Vandalism, including gates torn down or run over, fences cut and improper disposal of trash and garbage, are some of the reasons that the public is losing these lands.

What can we do about it? One group of hunters and sportsmen formed the Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's Association, Inc. This association's main goal is its motto: "Protect your privilege to hunt."

The Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's Association works with the land owner of Farmton Wildlife Management area to help preserve our privilege to hunt on this 53,000 acre tree farm.

Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's association now has a membership of over 500 members. This association helps by building cattle gaps, food plots, repairs fences and replaces gates destroyed by vandals.

It has placed many trash barrels throughout Farmton and has a cleanup day the weekend following the close of hunting season each year. Since the founding of the Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's Association Inc., vandalism has taken a sharp decline. The trash barrels are also helping to keep the woods free from litter.

But to be more successful, the association needs help. A yearly membership costs only $5. Interested parties may send your name, address, and phone number with your membership fee to: Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's Association Inc., P.O. Box 288, Lake Monroe, FL 32747.

Farmton Hunters' and Sportsmen's Assoc. Inc. is having a work day Saturday, March 2. It is planning to install five new cattle gaps and work on the food plots for the game. The membership and public is invited to participate. Those interested should meet at Bellridge camps at 8 a.m. on Mar. 2.

Seminole County Gun & Archery Association, Inc. is having a work party Sunday, Feb. 17 at the range at 9 a.m. Bring your tools, such as hammers, post hole diggers, saws, etc. Next club meeting will be on Thursday, March 21.

Don Smith, owner of the Seminole Sporting Goods, says that shad are doing very well. Fishermen are catching from 8-15 per boat. Specks are being caught in shallow water between 1-1 1/2 ft. deep using jugs, especially around the lily pads. Bass are fair, being caught mostly on shiner.

Dale Abernethy, owner of the Osteen Bridge Fish Camp, reports fishermen are still laying the specks out his way. Bream and blue gill are good and bass are fair.

The ninth annual Gene Gilmartin Memorial Fishing Tournament for the blind, sponsored by the Sanford Lions Club will be held Saturday, March 9, from 8:15 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

This weekend the summner tables forecast good fishing. Barometer readings are essential to your success during the time you are fishing. During a steady or falling barometer, and an abrupt seasonal change in the weather, fish will seek deeper water. During normal weather situations with a high or rising barometer, fish will be more easily found.

Whether you are hunting, fishing, or just enjoying the great outdoors, good luck!

Twin 125s Mark Final Prep For Daytona 500

By GARY KALE

UPI Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — A pair of 125-mile qualifying races today, with Bill Elliott and Cale Yarborough on the poles, mark the final prep for Grand National drivers before Sunday's Daytona 500 stock car classic.

A crowd of over 85,000 is expected for the 250 miles of Grand National racing.

The red-haired Elliott, a fast rising NASCAR star, earned his right to the pole in today's opener by establishing the all-time speed record for a NASCAR lap, a remarkable 205.114 mph in last Saturday's qualifying for the Daytona 500 front row.

"We're hoping to win our 125-mile race tomorrow, but a lot can happen in 50 laps and probably will at the speeds we're running," said Elliott, who like Yarborough is driving a Ford.

"The biggest thing we've got to do is stay out of trouble. There are a lot of fast cars out there with drivers in them who are not used to running race speeds at 185."

Yarborough, seeking a third straight Daytona 500 victory, also broke his old track record with a speed of 203.814 to automatically enter the classic.

The three-time Grand National champion said that "it's finally show and tell time for us. We thought we had our overheating problem fixed and we do. In a morning session the motor ran at 150 degrees with no problem, but we have a little problem still in that we are losing just a trickle of water.

Mainland FTs Turn Back Brantley

DAYTONA BEACH —

Mainland's Buca hit 14 of 19 free throws in the fourth quarter Wednesday night en route to a 62-51 victory over Lake Brantley's Patriots in Five Star Conference action at Mainland High.

Wednesday's matchup was a makeup of an earlier game that was cancelled because of cold weather. The Buca improved to 18-5 overall and 10-5 in the conference with the win while the Patriots fell to 3-19 overall and 1-14 in the Five Star.

After a close first quarter (Mainland led, 15-11), the Buca built a seven-point cushion, 30-23, at halftime and went on to take a 14-point lead, 45-31, after three quarters.

Lake Brantley came back within eight and had the ball with just over two minutes remaining but the Patriots missed a layup and Mainland got a three-point play on the other end and went on to hit its free throws down the stretch to sew up the win.

"We showed good patience on offense and hit the boards pretty well," Lake Brantley coach Bob Peterson said. "I hope we can start peaking now for the last week of the regular season and the districts."

Greg Courtney led the Patriots Wednesday with 13 points and the 6-8 senior also blocked four shots. Mark Moser tossed in nine points for Brantley while Wade Wittig added seven points and nine boards.

George McCloud fired in a game-high 24 points to lead the way for the Buca while Mike Polite contributed 12 points.

In junior varsity action, Lake Brantley hit an impressive 19 of 21 from the free throw line (90 percent) as the JV Patriots pulled out a 63-59 victory over the JV Buca.

Lake Brantley will host Lyman Friday. Mainland journeys to Seminole. Lake Mary goes to Spruce Creek, Apopka travels to Lake Howell and Seabreez goes to DeLand in other Five Star games.

IN BRIEF

Hawkins, Mickey Appeal For Liver On Dying Boy's Behalf

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — Doctors for 1-year-old Ryan Osterblom, a victim of a terminal liver disease, said a nationwide search for a liver donor, launched by Sen. Paula Hawkins and Disney World's Mickey Mouse, could give the infant his only chance of survival.

"While he looks much better than he did when he first got here, he can't survive without the transplant," said Dr. Joel Andres, Ryan's pediatrician. Hawkins stood at Ryan's bedside Wednesday and made a televised plea to parents nationwide to help Ryan and children like him. She also called for the establishment of a national organ bank.

Education Gets Third Of Budget

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham today proposed a $14.3 billion state budget that calls for a higher state tax on cigarettes and numerous increased fees, including state university tuition and driver's license charges.

The spending plan represents an increase of 8.2 percent — or $610 million — in general revenues, an increase Graham's budget writers called "modest."

Total state spending, including construction, would climb $1 billion over the current fiscal year.

Graham said his plan emphasizes education and 36.8 percent of his budget would go toward increasing teachers' salaries, expanding the controversial master teachers program, bolstering university programs and making other educational improvements.

Commission Halts Garage Construction

By Jane Cassalberry
Herald Staff Writer

Just when it seemed a truce had been worked out in Longwood resident Spencer Whitehead's ongoing battle with the Longwood City Commission, he was ordered by the commission to halt construction on the garage he is building on a lot behind his house.

The latest twist came Monday night when an astonished city commission learned that Whitehead, who lives at 225 E. Maine Ave., was building a much larger structure than they had visualized when they told him it would not be necessary to have his two lots rezoned from R-2 (residential, single family/duplex) to C-2 (commercial office) in order to have a garage for his private use.

They discovered that Whitehead, after being issued his long-awaited building permit, hired a contractor to begin construction on a 43-by-24-foot four-bay garage with grease pit, roughed-in plumbing and a 688 square-foot second story for storage. They had been told by Whitehead that he only wanted a garage for his car and boat with a workshop for his tools and had no plans for commercial use. But the building permit he was given referred to his building as "commercial" and was for 1,740 square feet. The building department had written on the permit that it was issued by order of the city commission.

"That's in error," responded Whitehead. "I was not trying to pull something off on the commission. I was not aware of the errors in the permit."

Most homes need H.E.L.P. this winter. Because 9 out of 10 homes leak energy—around windows, doors, heating ducts and other places.

That's why so many homeowners have called for H.E.L.P. in the last few weeks.

H.E.L.P. with caulking and weatherstripping. H.E.L.P. with leaky heating ducts. H.E.L.P. with low-flow showerheads, water heater blankets, wall outlet insulation gaskets, and energy-saving inserts for jalousie windows.

You won't just save on energy costs. *FPL will pay you up to $75 or one-half the cost (most H.E.L.P. packages average less than $100).

We'll even arrange to get the work done for you. You won't have to lift a finger, except to call us.

So get a little H.E.L.P. for your home. From FPL.

'Twenty Questions' Is A Serious Game For Gamblers Anonymous

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to Al (not his real name) for 16 years. I love him and I know he loves me, but I cannot stay in this marriage unless he quits gambling. Al owns his own business and we live well, but he owes money all over. He bets on football, basketball, baseball, boxing, horses and dogs. He even bets on elections, and he bets big! I know he's won a lot of money, but he never tells me how much he loses. Please help me to help him. Abby. Gambling is like a disease with him.

AL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Compulsive gambling is a disease; it's never "cured," but it can be controlled. Gamblers Anonymous (fashioned after Alcoholics Anonymous) offers this questionnaire:

1. Do you ever lose time from work due to gambling?
2. Is gambling making your home life unhappy?
3. Is gambling affecting your reputation?
4. Have you ever felt remorse after gambling?
5. Do you ever gamble to get money with which to pay debts or otherwise solve financial problems?
6. Does gambling decrease your ambition? Efficiency?
7. After losing, do you feel you must return as soon as possible and win back your losses?
8. After you win, do you have a strong urge to return and win more?
9. Do you often gamble your last dollar?
10. Do you ever borrow to finance your gambling?
11. Have you ever sold anything to finance gambling?
12. Are you reluctant to use "gambling money" for normal expenditures?
13. Does gambling make you careless of the welfare of your family?
14. Do you ever gamble longer than you had planned?
15. Have you ever gambled to escape worry or trouble?
16. Have you ever committed or considered committing, an illegal act to finance gambling?
17. Does gambling cause you to have difficulty in sleeping?
18. Do arguments, disappointments or frustrations create in you an urge to gamble?
19. Do you ever have an urge to celebrate any good fortune by a few hours of gambling?
20. Have you ever considered self-destruction as the result of your gambling?

Ask your husband to answer these questions honestly, and if he answers yes to seven or more questions, he is a compulsive gambler, and I strongly recommend that he get in touch with Gamblers Anonymous (it's in your phone book).

It is a non-profit fellowship of men and women who admit that gambling is not a game or a sport — it's a disease they must learn to control.

Encourage your husband to go to a meeting and learn firsthand how he can overcome the disease.

For more information about Gamblers Anonymous, write to the national office: P.O. Box 17173, Los Angeles, Calif. 90017. Please enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Don't tell me it's St. Valentine's Day again! Well, it is, so be a sweetheart, and call someone you love and say, "I love you." (Make two or three calls. Who said you can't love more than one person — in different ways, of course.)

Go through your closets and put all those clothes you haven't worn in a year in a box for Goodwill or your favorite charity. Take some flowers to someone in a nursing home and offer to take him or her for a little ride. Forgive an enemy. Pray for your friends. Donate some blood. Pay your doctor bill. Listen to your teen-ager. Tip the cook in addition to the waiter — or waitress. Invite a lonely lady (or gentleman) to lunch. Tell your parents you think they're wonderful. Drive carefully. If you're walking, watch where you're going. And don't wait until next year to be a sweetheart again. Love, ABBY

Heme Iron: A Needed Mineral For Women

DEAR DR. LAMB — I don't think I am absorbing the iron I get in my food. For the past year I have been going to the blood center to sell my plasma. Many times I have not been accepted because my iron level was too low. Often the test was 36 or 37, and they don't accept anything less than 38.

I am including a list of iron pills I have taken. None of these has worked. Most days I eat a lot of spinach and I often eat liver or Denver steak for lunch, but I still can't get my test above 36 or 37. I am a 36-year-old female, 5 feet tall and weigh 128. I have always been healthy.

Where do I find heme iron? Nobody has heard of it in any stores.

DEAR READER — First, as a woman in her childbearing years, you will have an increased need for iron, because of menstruation and the persistent iron loss that it causes. It is very difficult to correct an actual iron deficiency with diet alone. If you do get your iron up to higher levels, I still would not consider you to be a likely candidate to be giving blood, at least until after the menopause.

The iron in many vegetables and cereals is really not absorbed, so it doesn't do you much good. This is called elemental iron, and it combines with substances in the cereals and vegetables to form an insoluble compound that cannot be absorbed.

In contrast, heme iron is absorbed directly from the stomach. It is found in animal meat, and liver is a good source of it.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What is your opinion of lipolysis, the new surgical technique for the removal of impossible-to-move fat? I understand that the fat is turned into a liquid and the liquid is sucked out of the body by a small tube. Only a small incision is required. Is this a safe process? What happens to the excess skin, or is there any?

DEAR READER — No, the fat is not converted to a liquid. It is simply sucked out through a hollow probe inserted under the skin, which makes tunnels in the fat deposits. This can leave a waffled surface of ridges and valleys. The excess skin will not go away, which is one reason the technique should only be used with women under 40.

The technique is of little value in correcting much generalized obesity. It can only safely remove about 6.5 pounds at a time, and even removing that much fat can produce shock and may be dangerous.

If the technique has any redeeming feature. It is that it can be used to remove small areas of fat, such as over the small of the back. Even then, it should be done by a professional — and I mean a surgeon, not in the beauty parlor.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
The late Adam Meredith was an eccentric bidder, but a card player of such consummate skill that he was a key factor in the British team's winning the World Championship in 1955. He later lived for many years in the United States, where he was a feared rubber bridge competitor at the Cavendish Club in New York.

Today's deal, although characterized by primitive bidding (three no-trump would have been the preferred contract), shows Meredith at his best.

The opening lead was the diamond king, ducked all around. On the diamond continuation, East discarded a heart and Meredith won the trick. Had East ruffed this trick, declarer could make the contract by playing four rounds of spades, which would squeeze East between hearts and clubs. After winning the diamond ace, declarer led a heart to the king. He then played three rounds of trumps, played a club to the queen, another club back to the king and then played a third club toward dummy's ace. West, who could not gain by trumping this trick, discarded a diamond.

Now dummy's fourth club was played and Meredith threw his last diamond. East had to return a heart, and again West was stymied. If he ruffed, declarer would play low from dummy. When West discarded still another diamond, Adam Meredith won the trick, played dummy's last diamond and trumped it.

Declarer had 10 tricks, while poor West had to play his high trump on his partner's high heart at trick 13.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

FEBRUARY 15, 1985
You may be called upon this coming year to make a few sacrifices on behalf of someone close to you. Do so cheerfully because your deeds will be rewarded.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be careful not to overreact today when confronted with problems. A failure to keep a cool head will only make matters worse. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you what signs you are best suited to romantically.

To get yours mail 82 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is a good day to sit down and seriously analyze your expenditures. A number of leaks in your budget should be plugged up.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be kind when dealing with subordinates today. If you use threats or intimidation to try to bend them to your will, it'll be a serious mistake.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If a friend does something that bugs you today, don't stew about it in silence. The matter can be resolved only if brought out into the open.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This is not a good day to mix business with pleasure. Refrain from talking business with people you're socially involved with.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) When making decisions today that affect others as well as yourself, it may be wise to let your heart rule your head. Don't be self-serving.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Co-workers may not be as industrious as you think they should be today. The reason for this could be the example you'll be setting.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do not take chances speculating on the unknown today. It's best you trust only what you can grasp in your mind or in your hand.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today your spirit may be willing but your flesh could be weak. You might not exercise the necessary resolve to finish what you start.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Others might find it difficult to live up to your expectations today. Try not to demand things of associates that they are incapable of doing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Self-discipline will be required today in managing your resources. If you let your guard down, you may dissipate your funds foolishly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't look to place the blame on others if there's friction in your household today. It could be your input that is stirring things up.
