Yank POW Freed After Two Years

TAY NINH, Vietnam (AP) — An American soldier, held prisoner by the Viet Cong for more than two years, was set free early today and walked barefoot eight hours to safety at an allied base camp 70 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command in Saigon identified him as Staff Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., 23, of Warren, Ohio. They said he was captured Aug. 12, 1969, when his armored unit was ambushed near An Loc, about 15 miles from where he was freed.

He was pronounced in "generally good" condition after being examined at an Army hospital. But field officers who saw Sexton said he looked "a little drawn" and his feet were cut and sore.

There also was some indication he may have suffered an arm wound, they said.

Officers said Sexton told them his captors did not explain why he was being freed, nor did they give him any "message to the American people," as the Viet Cong sometimes do in releasing prisoners.

"He said they gave him the map and just told him to walk down a road until he came to the camp," one officer reported.

At the time of his capture, Sexton was a member of the 2nd Squadron, 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, sources said.

The unit at that time was operating in the jungle and rubber plantation country north of Saigon.

Officers reported the soldier believed his captors were Viet Cong because they wore odds and ends of clothing rather than the regular uniforms of the North Vietnamese troops.

Dan Pelham, principal of Sanford Middle School called said, "There are no pregnant girls, to my knowledge, enrolled at our school."

And the other call was from Duane Harrell, chief deputy of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department, saying that we should "dismiss" Larry Neely from the responsibilities of "chief researcher" . . . cause his tip about those cars being painted wrong are painted right! (Wanna run that one thru again, John?)

The rule is that the Sheriff may paint his cars any color he chooses, but the others (meaning civilians, etc.) may not use the green and white color combination to give indication or resemblance to the normally accepted Sheriff's cars.

Don't lock me up, Sheriff . . . that's my first one (today).

Let me share this one with you . . . from the mail bag and offered by Paul Alley:

(Re: Your column on our under-performing Loans to the tune of $50 million dollars to kill)

Dig back in your files, Tom Dooley. It wasn't so many years ago that this young ex-Navy copman was begging for U.S. charity to try to save the people of that embattled country. The thought occurred: how much more we are willing to give for war and how little for humanity.

Tom Dooley was a modern Don Quixote. I recall hearing him speak in New York at the height of his popularity and when his cause was the "IN" thing to help. The guy must be spinning in his grave to know what has happened in the Far East during the past few years.

I thought this might generate a bit of worthwhile commentary on your part. You're welcome.

And another "thought" . . . there is absolutely no way for either Seminole or Longwood High to accommodate all of their fans . . . whether it's played in Sanford (as it is scheduled) or in Longwood.

Instead of creating goodwill, there's nothing but resentment building as a result of the refusal of Seminole High to not permitting WTRB to broadcast the game . . . not only for those who'll not get in the gates, but for others who might be ill, etc.

Before it's too late . . . serious reconsideration should be given to this matter . . . especially with both probably being undefeated at game time!

Low Consumers' Price Rise Sought In Freeze Phase 2

By STERLING F. GREEN
 Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has outlined a second phase attack on inflation, based on wage and price controls and "voluntary cooperation of the American people."

There will be no ceiling on profits. But Nixon said his administration will call for cancellation of price increases that might result in profit windfalls. The President wants steady power to control interest rates and corporation dividends — but only "as a safeguard." He will ask Congress shortly for that authority and for a one-year extension of the Economic Stabilization Act under which he freezes prices, wages and rents on Aug. 15, and on which he is basing Phase 2.

He announced in a nationally televised address Thursday night that he will appoint two new quasi-independent bodies — a 15-member Pay Board with three representatives each from labor, industry and the public, and a Price Commission of seven public members to administer price-wage-and-rent controls when the current 90-day freeze ends Nov. 15.

The President's anti-inflation goal, said the White House, is to hold consumer prices to a 2-to-3-percent annual rate of rise by the end of 1972.

Some economists said that could mean a guideline of 5 to 6 percent a year for average wage increases, but the White House did not confirm that estimate.

Nixon's address disappointed many who had hoped to hear from him the new guidelines for permitted wage-and-price increases. Officials explained: The guidelines don't yet exist. The new boards still must draft them.

The Cost of Living Council, headed by Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, will keep the top-level supervisory role it is exercising over Phase 1. The two new boards will be "quasi-autonomous," a White House official said, but the council can overrule their price or wage criteria if it feels they would not meet the anti-inflation goal.

Reaction to the presidential message generally was restrained. Economists said they found his battle plans encouraging but probably hard to administer. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce (Continued on Page 5A, Col. 3)

Altamonte Protests 'Tax Money Spending' Sanford Port, Hospital 'Under Fire'

By MARION BETHEA

Public apathy again was evidenced at last night's meeting of the Orange Seminole legislative delegation, with less than a dozen citizens present other than the principals involved.

Sen. Kenneth Plante told the delegation he had been contacted by various persons relative to matters which may be presented at the next hearing of the delegation on Nov. 4.

Senator Plante said he had contacted a newspaper article and asked if I wanted on last night's agenda. I said, "No, I am not prepared." And I asked to be on the next meeting's agenda. We do believe the Port Authority and the hospital should not be tax supported. We believe the hospital can be operated by private enterprise and possibly the port can be successful, too, as a private business. We feel no more tax money should be poured down the drain."

Plante said the Seminole County Bar Association has cited the need for a salary raise by the county prosecuting attorney.

Further, Plante said, the Bar Association has suggested a trusteeship be initiated for the law library when it is housed in the new courthouse.

Also suggested is a legal aid agency, with the notion that the service is presently on a voluntary basis, with no funds given to the attorney. The Bar Association, Senator Plante said, is requesting a bill patterned after that of Orange County.

Senator Plante went on to say that Justice of the Peace Robert Carroll had also contacted him with regard to a change in the justice of the peace system.

Also, he said, County Commissioner Chairman Greg Drummond had renewed his request for consideration of a special act proposed by the county to add workdays to property deeds indicating that deed restrictions will not be enforced by the county government.

Rep. Eugene Mooney reported to the delegation on the progress of the eradication of "love bugs." Mooney said he had met with the state Department of Agriculture and he and Senator Plante also had met with University of Florida entomologists. Mooney explained there had been basic research into the life cycle of the insect but none on control.

It was disclosed that Rep. Ted Alvarez has pre-filed a bill approving $50,000 to the University of Florida Food and Agriculture Sciences Institute for a possible control method of the insect.

East Of Sanford On SR 46 Shopping Center Slated

By BILL SCOTT

A new shopping center is being contemplated east of Sanford, just outside the city limits on State Road 46 in the property adjacent to Washington Oaks subdivision, now under development by Hallmark Construction Company of Orlando. The disclosure came from

Seminole County planner David Farr, who appeared at the Sanford Zoning and Planning Board meeting last night at the request of Sanford planner Gerald Duke to inform the city of the county zoning plans for property contiguous with Sanford.

Farr said the developer divulged he did not want to become a part of the City of Sanford but wanted to receive commercial zoning from the county zoning board.

Washington Oaks subdivision, which lies to the east of Summerlin Avenue and extends eastward to Brison Avenue, is now composed of housing and has been annexed to the City of Sanford, all except that portion consisting of 129 acres which has been mentioned for commercial development.

Darwin Nutt, Hallmark Construction Company official, when contacted today at his Orlando firm, said the property to which Farr referred is not a part of the Washington Oaks housing development, which he said consists of 80 acres.

He said the 129 acres is part of a trust and is being administered by C. H. Davis of Orlando.

The Herald attempted to contact David today but he was in a conference.

Farr also divulged that another potential shopping center developer for a site on 17-32 Roberts A. W. Shoemaker Jr., Douglas Stenson and S. Joseph Davis Jr. from the Margarett K. Store Trust of Leesburg.

Future plans for the structure have not been concluded but it will be removed.

Roumillat Bldg. Sold

By JANE CASSELL-BERRY

Ownership of the Roumillat building, First Street and Park Avenue, has been transferred at a reported price of $80,000.

Realtor Herbert Stenson reported the building has been purchased by Dr. W. Vincent Douglas, Stenson and S. Joseph Davis Jr. from the Margarett K. Store Trust of Leesburg.

Future plans for the structure have not been concluded but it will be removed.

Development Approved, 3-1

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — Approval was given to preliminary plans for the development of Westview subdivision on a three one vote by the city's planning and zoning commission Thursday night.

The subdivision, located on 88.46 acres of land fronting on SR 41 at Sanford, has 132 lots to be developed into 126 lots in the 33,000 to 50,000 price range, according to Irving Berger, a principal in the SIB Development Corporation.

Included within the development, an 18-acre "wet place" is to be expanded into a 21-acre body of water named Lake Westview. On insistence by City Engineer William Palm lot elevations are to be between 85 and 86 feet above sea level.

Berger asked and gained approval for lot frontage variances to 85 feet rather than the city's highest zoning classification of 100 feet.

Berger told the board as well that even though his company will expand the right-of-way at some spots of Rock Lake Road, an existing road through the property from 50 to 70 feet as required by the subdivision ordinance, he will pave only a 20-foot wide strip. The ordinance calls for collector roads to be paved 24 feet wide. Of the road, Berger said he is doing the city a "favor" by paving it at all.

Berger insisted the additional four feet is the responsibility of the city. The developer also said he has no intention of assuming the city's responsibilities of installing fire hydrants.

When board member Tracy Estes questioned the large number of variances being requested in frontage size — fully 75 percent of the lots have frontages of 35 feet — Berger said the lots will have 10,000 square feet in each and further that he could have asked for R-2 zoning which only requires 75 feet frontage if he wished. Estes also questioned the placement of a ditch across five lots as shown in the plan, but the developers said specifics on the ditch would be set forth in more detailed plans.

Rev. Jack Lindsay, board member, elicited agreement from Berger that the lake on the property will be dredged rather than pumped for safety's sake. He mentioned the recent drowning of a youngster in a lake which had been pumped and thus had a deep hole in its bottom.

Voting for approval were June Lorman, Richard Crossnash and Lindsay while Estes voted "no." Chairman B. H. Ferrell was absent.

Longwood Mayor's Race Looms

The widow of a former Longwood Mayor declared that the Sanford Herald Thursday night she would seek the position held for 12 years by her late husband. (See Donna Estes' column on Page 5A.)

Mrs. Al (June) Lorman confirmed a rumor for the first time, while attending a Page Air says social gathering at Sanford Airport Page terminal Thursday night, and disclosed she would seek the Longwood mayoralty.

The mother of three children is affiliated with the real estate firm founded by her late husband at Longwood. The Lorman children also are engaged in the real estate business with their mother.

Although a newcomer to politics, Mrs. Lorman is no newcomer to the duties of the Longwood mayor's job, having helped her husband when he held the reins of city government.

At present she is a member of the Longwood Zoning and Planning Board and also serves as secretary to the vice president of the First of Orlando Corporation's College Park First National Bank.

Thus far, no other candidate, former mayor Ken Brown, has indicated he will seek the Longwood position, which opened with the resignation of Robert Kalkinski.

Revive Faith In Yourself

By REV. LEROY D. SOPER
Holy Cross Episcopal

During the past few years it has become quite fashionable to say that the Church is a dying institution, no longer relevant to the modern world. I guess maybe that sort of idea popped up when people were talking about the "death of God."

Quite the contrary now appears to be the truth. There is a strong current of strength now running through the Church. It may not surface in every community or in every parish. Nevertheless, God's presence is being felt by more and more people.

First of all, there is a wide need for a sort of openness which we don't always see, even in those who are regular in attending church. What we mean, is an openness toward God. We are all too inclined to try to go life on our own. We pride ourselves on being self-sufficient and quite capable of handling anything life has to offer.

So that the first step in personal revival, the second is to worship. Worship really means all of us who believe in God and His Son getting together to say, "Look Lord, here we are. All of us are part of Your Body, the Church. We want to sing your praises, thank You for Your goodness, and ask for Your blessing on our lives."

So many of us are hung up on language. We either think God demands that we speak in Elizabethan English, or that we at least use resonating phrases and, perhaps, read American English. But God understands whether we pray in broken English or Swedish, so why fight that battle? Just pray. Prayer from the heart, no matter how it is expressed, is heard and answered.

Bishops Living Longer

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — American Roman Catholic bishops, in most cases, are going along with a new Church policy of retiring from office at the age of 75. It is intended for the good of the Church. It also seems to be good for them.

The average length of their lives has been going up recently since the "change," said Bishop Francis P. Leipsig, 76, the retired bishop of Baker, Ore., and an expert on episcopal longevity.

"They're freed of the stress and difficulties of their position in their later years," he added. "Since the Church's origins in this country, the average age to which Roman Catholic bishops have lived is 68. But the figure started going up for the first time in 1968, averaging about 74 since then, although many bishops live far beyond that."

It was in 1968 that Pope Paul VI introduced the new retirement practice into the Church, requesting that bishops offer their resignations at 75, except in special circumstances mitigating against it.

Since then, in steady succession, 28 American bishops have stepped out of office, turning over their jobs to younger men.

"It means a tremendous change for them, of course," Bishop Leipsig said in a telephone interview. "But it's a change for the good. There might be some who would like to carry on, but most of them have been ready to sit back and turn the work over to others."

Prior to the new policy, bishops ordinarily kept their posts until the end, often until they were 80 or older. They were sometimes beyond that.

He himself reaches 75 a year from the end of his episcopate, he said. He will be 75 in 1972. He is now 76, three of whom will be 77 by the year's end, and three are older than that.

Asked what bishops do when they retire, Bishop Leipsig said some continue serving as diocesan consultants, while others write, travel or simply relax. "I read and take care of my yard," he said.

At present, he estimates the average age of living bishops to be in the middle 70s or a little higher. They reach the episcopal rank at the average age of 48. But some get there quicker, including four bishops who now are only 41, the youngest in the hierarchy.

As for the effect of the retirement policy on the Church, Bishop Leipsig said that "any time young men come in, they bring new ideas and vitality."

"The older men have the experience of years," he added, "but traveling about and other duties become more difficult for us as we get older. They have the strength and drive for it."

At present, Bishop Leipsig's figures show, 68 of the 256 American bishops are 75 or above, including the 28 who already have retired and the 75 or still in office who are 75 or over.

In spite of what is going on around us, you yourself are still on the shore when it comes to religion, one could pray that you might meet one of those newly "turned on" Christians. If you are on the timid side, uncertain and maybe a little uncommitted, but would like to cast aside uncertainty, let us make some suggestions.

Household Utilities Tax Repeal Bid

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew Thursday night called for a sales tax exemption on apartment rentals and household utility bills, but said the state could not afford such measures without the corporate income tax.

"We can't do any of this until we find a significant, new source of revenue which grows with Florida—and her needs," Askew said in a testimonial dinner thrown by the Pinellas County Democratic party.

Askew has been stumping the state seeking support for the Nov. 2 referendum which would authorize the Legislature to levy a 5 per cent tax on corporation profits.

"I would like to repeal altogether the sales tax on household utilities, a tax which is unfairly burdensome to citizens on limited incomes," he said.

He also supported an exemption on the "first $100 or $200 in apartment rentals." Askew compared rent and utilities to groceries, and said "we don't tax a man's groceries in Florida because we recognize that he can't live without them."

Askew also said the state couldn't live without a new revenue source. "The question no longer is whether there will be new taxes, the question is who will pay them," he said.

He called the corporate income tax "the single most difficult tax to pass on to the consumers of Florida, and the tax most likely to require big corporations to begin paying a fair share in Florida."

Askew said Associated Industries of Florida, prime opponents of the tax, were placing newspaper ads "all over the state and inquiring about television time to campaign against the tax."

He said Associated Industries, and other opponents of the tax, had created a goblin in claiming the tax would lead to a personal income tax.

Askew said the goblin was being "well-fed by misinformed corporation lobbyists and special interests."

At a hearing Oct. 18, the Senate Commerce Committee will meet in Coral Gables to discuss a bill prohibiting interest fees on a previous month's balance.

Such a practice, said sponsor Gerald Lewis, D-Miami, "can mean customers end up paying interest on something they've already paid."

He said the widespread "previous balance" revolving charge account procedure does not give customers interest credit for payments made during the month.

"The committee will look seriously into the present situation regarding credit card bill practices, especially with retail department stores," said Committee Chairman Sen. Fred Karl, D-Daytona Beach.

'First Salvo In The... Battle' Credit Interest Rates Probed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Interest rates charged on revolving charge accounts and credit cards will be investigated by a state Senate committee. A legislative aide described the probe as the "first salvo in the consumer credit battle."

At a hearing Oct. 18, the Senate Commerce Committee will meet in Coral Gables to discuss a bill prohibiting interest fees on a previous month's balance.

Such a practice, said sponsor Gerald Lewis, D-Miami, "can mean customers end up paying interest on something they've already paid."

He said the widespread "previous balance" revolving charge account procedure does not give customers interest credit for payments made during the month.

"The committee will look seriously into the present situation regarding credit card bill practices, especially with retail department stores," said Committee Chairman Sen. Fred Karl, D-Daytona Beach.

Karl said two Miami attorneys, William Hicks and Bill Colson, who have filed suits against major department stores throughout the state involving interest rates, have been invited to testify before the committee.

"I'm reluctant to discuss a case that is pending before the court at a Senate committee hearing," Hicks said.

Separate suits have also been filed involving interest rates against two credit card companies and a flock of gasoline companies.

Commerce committee staff director Radford Bishop, calling the Senate probe "the first salvo in the consumer credit battle," said the committee is interested in developing wide-ranging legislation—possibly in the form of a Florida consumer code.

"We're really going to dig into this problem, and take as broad a possible look at it," said Bishop.

Heber said that under most revolving charge accounts, if you owe $100, make a payment of $50 in the middle of the month, the bill at the end of the month will include interest on the full $100—even though you've paid the $50.

How About An Accent On Efficient Spending

Control of the American, indeed the global, economy is at such a point of critical decision that the language being used to discuss it verbally or in writing is of a nature which invites deep thought, encourages informed speculation but is certainly somewhat unclear to the average householder.

and in depth with this raising money side of the question. There have been few attempts to take a look at the other approach to fiscal sanity which is stated simply as: "A penny saved, is a penny earned."

Those who would check the apparent no-limit requests for increased salaries which go as high as the White House and are only too visible in the lower echelons of government in state house, county court-house and city halls, see a stop to bureaucratic expansions as a simple, quick and effective means of taking the steam out of boozed taxes.

cutting out of overlapping or out-dated services — would have the result of adding working dollars to the tax fund with no millage jump.

Bean Vibrations

A green revolution it may not be, but it's impossible not to be intrigued by the implications of the agricultural experiment conducted in this summer by a pretty Louisiana teen-ager and reported in the latest Life.

She planted two bean patches in the same soil and gave them identical treatment when it came to water and fertilizer. But one she loved, literally — cooing to the sprouts as they pushed through the dirt, reading poetry as they matured, gently washing each leaf when the plants were "dirty." The other she hated — sitting in the patch while giving off bad vibrations, wishing they'd wither and die.

The results? Life says that within a month the love-patch was five feet tall and lush with beans. The other was barely knee high, the leaves sickly yellowed, and bore only two small pods.

It's the sort of simple idea, like music for milk cows, that might revolutionize agriculture. And who knows? It might even be worth trying with people. — Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal

A British home owner recently had a harrowing experience that could be instructive for politicians everywhere.

It seems that Edward Stainer was worried about a draft in his living room. Lifting the floorboards he discovered that there was nothing beneath the room but a gaping hole, 1,000 feet deep. The hole, he discovered, was a 200-year-old mine shaft.

Political Notebook U. S. Losing Competitive Edge

By BRUCE BLOSSAT WASHINGTON (NEA) — With every passing day, it will get harder for President Nixon to remove his controversial 10 percent surcharge on imports. And there is no sign, anyway, that it can help much to check this country's worsening competitive position in world trade.

A lot of learned stuff is being turned out these days about the "work ethic." Stripped of philosophic gloss, the issue is whether the notion of hard work may not be antiquated and square, whether it might not be more sensible for us to lie down in the park and just let the affluence flow over us.

Well, all this has its price. In 1970, for the first time in this modern era, we yielded the title of world's foremost exporter of manufactured goods — to West Germany. In 20 years, our share of world exports of manufactures has dropped from 28 per cent to less than 20.

Religious Notebook China Opening Religion Door

By REV. DAVID POLING Since 1949 the thoughts of Chairman Mao have been anti-religious. The Christian community look the brunt of his attack, although Buddhism, Confucianism and Taoism were also put down systematically.

It is not hard for one to do a bit of good. What is hard is to do good all one's life and never do anything bad, to act consistently in the interests of the most Americans cannot grasp: The Christian community in Hanoi, primarily Roman Catholic, did not entirely flee to the south, as some propagandists would have us believe. Nor have the followers of Ho Chi Minh been so doctrinaire in their Marxist view of religion. Coexistence seems to be the stance and most resident Christians in the north have found heavy support to the administration and its confidant.

DONNA'S DELIBERATIONS

By: Donna Estes

The City of Longwood has found itself in the somewhat embarrassing position of having no ordinance regulating municipal elections.

City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr., surprised by the announcement from City Clerk Onie Shomate this week, insisted the city at one time must have had some law in this area. Perhaps an election ordinance was one of those 35 which are missing. Mrs. Shomate said. It was found some time ago that 35 of the city's laws disappeared when the records were moved from the old city hall to the new one in 1963.

So, the only regulations electors and candidates must follow are those set forth in the charter and various amendments. Since the county clerk previously is handling voter registration, electors must qualify under state law, i.e. 18 years old, resident of the state one year and the county and city six months.

Candidates, however, must be citizens of the United States, registered voters, and residents of the city for "ONE YEAR" and property owners of record for "ONE YEAR."

These provisions under a 1969 charter amendment will disqualify at least one of the candidates who has been talked up, namely Richard (Dick) Crenshaw, president of the South Seminole Jaycees.

Candidates for the governing bodies of the four cities with elections in December — Altamonte Springs, Longwood, Casselberry and Sanford — should be reminded there are also strict regulations concerning campaign expenditures and special voucher bank accounts which also must be complied with.

Madam Mayor

Latest mayoral candidate being talked up in Longwood is Mrs. June Lormann, widow of A. R. Lormann, mayor of the city for many years. Mrs. Lormann is attractive and a successful businesswoman.

Also don't be surprised to see erstwhile mayor Ken Brown as a candidate again. To the list of candidates for council should be added the name of Theodore Maxwell, a television repair shop owner. And don't count E. B. Williams out of the race. Williams, veteran of many years' service to the community, is sure to give it a try one more time.

Look for incumbent councilmen, B. L. (Slick) Helms and Sandra Thompson to change their minds about their plans for reelection in December. Both have heard rumors that an effort will be made next year to stop the city's planned sewer system, a pet project of the officials.

Remember Mama?

One of Altamonte Springs' "nice people", an elderly retired woman, went into city hall recently to donate $5 cash toward the upkeep of "Mama Dog" and her family and pledged $5 per month until homes are found for the animals.

If you remember, Mama Dog is a stray picked up by the police department last night and she gave birth the next day to seven puppies. When the apparent owner of city hall to claim the dog, she declined to do so when she found she would also have to take the puppies.

The puppies, incidentally, leave the mother now if anyone would like to have them. Two are promised so far, according to Betty Davis, the mayor's secretary.

Wirz Changes Mind?

In Casselberry, Richard Wirz was out of town and not available to comment on the rumor that he has changed his mind about running for mayor and will instead run for Council. Latest rumor is that Wirz will run against incumbent Dr. Ed Duerr for Council. However, the rumor mill should be informed that candidates for Council in Casselberry run at large in a field and not specifically "against" any one person.

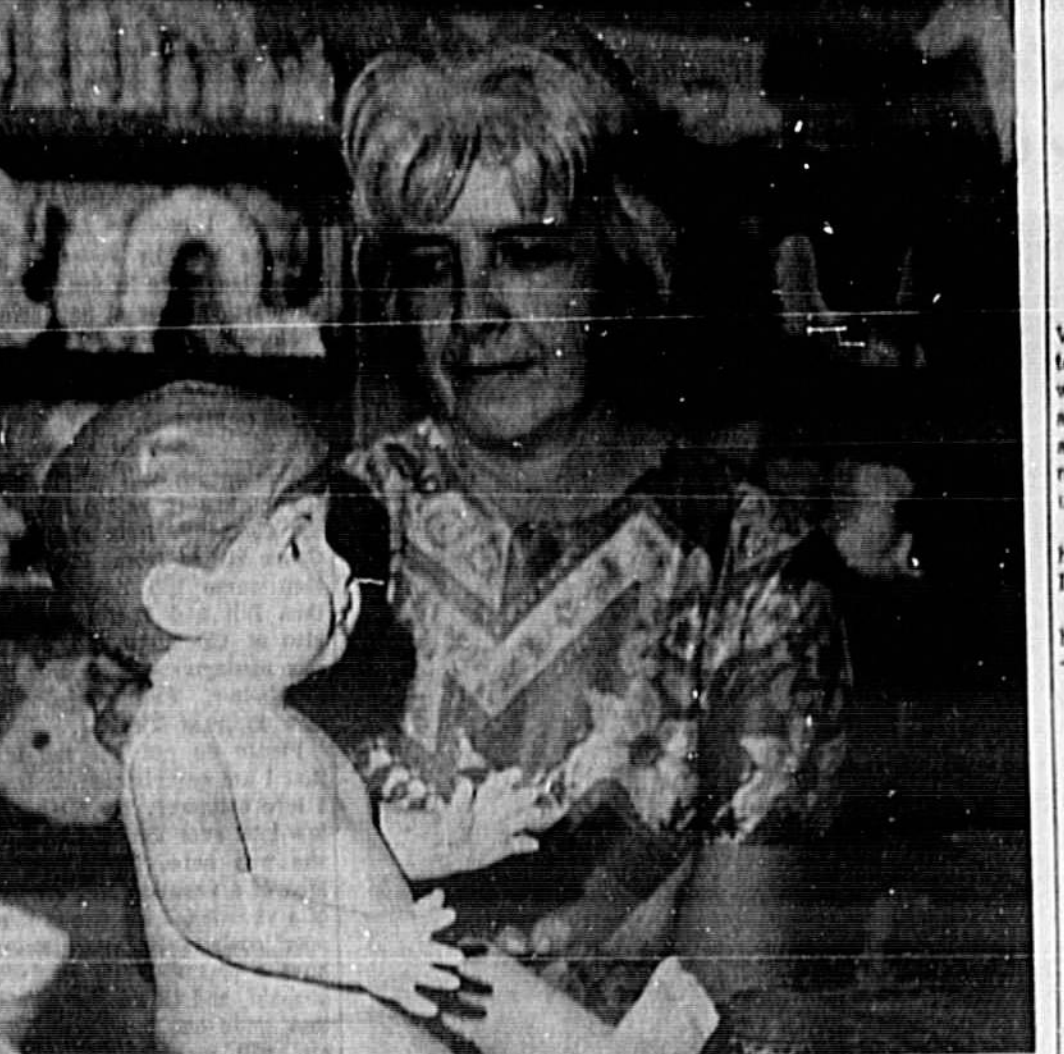

Hunters Warned

Longwood Police Chief R. E. Sweet has given fair warning that the city ordinance banning use of firearms within the municipality is being enforced. Last weekend two persons who had shot birds within the city limits were arrested. Hunters should also know that Longwood is officially a bird sanctuary, in addition.

Youthful Example

All those persons who insist the youth of today have no respect ought to attend one of the sports matches at the high schools in Seminole County. The 13-year-old Bishop Moore game last weekend was a good example.

With bleachers packed full of young fans, you could have heard a pin drop during presentation of the colors and when all joined in the singing of the National Anthem and the pledge to the flag.

Low Consumers' Price Rise Sought

Commerce said the President "has done what he feels he has to do," but it called for return to "a free economy without inflation" as soon as possible.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Mich., called for Senate authority to confirm or reject members of the price-and-wage control bodies, saying Phase 2 could be "soft, very soft on price restraints" and profits, and perhaps also on wages.

Profits will not be controlled, Nixon said, because "higher profits in the American economy would be good for every person in America."

"Windfall profits, however, are quite another matter," he went on.

"When wages and other costs are held down, even though prices are also held down, circumstances could arise in some industries, rather than tax such profits, the Price Commission's policy will be that business should pass along a fair share of its cost savings to the consumer by cutting prices."

Nixon said he does not expect to use the requested standby power to control interest and dividends. And while the Phase 2 controls will be backed up by the strong court-enforcement provisions which have been passed during the freeze, Nixon said, "We will rely primarily on the good faith and voluntary cooperation of the American people."

A Word To The Wise

Annent the replacement of County Attorney Harold Johnson. One of the newly elected county commissioners, speaking confidentially to a group of supporters in a South Seminole city in January, informed of a Brevard County Attorney, Actually E. Andrew Speer of the Brevard County Attorney mentioned, moved into offices at Sanford before the change was made.

Other county department heads beware, though. The same county commissioner said two other county department heads are to be replaced as well. He said only one department head is safe because he has "influential" connections.

U. S. Air Support Turns Battle Tide

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SANFORD (AP) — A top North Vietnamese field commander today credited U.S. air support with turning the tide of battle along the Cambodian border on Tuesday with the withdrawal of the main force of enemy troops. But military spokesmen claimed a new flare-up today, striking along the North Vietnamese border with the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Kreek. There also were reports of continued enemy pressure on South Vietnamese Fire Base Alpha, 3 1/2 miles east of Kreek, and on U.S. artillery base Pace, just inside Vietnam and seven miles to the south. A small crash a few miles farther south also was reported.

Informal sources said U.S. tactical fighter-bombers have flown as many as 70 combat missions since the North Vietnamese launched their drive Sept. 26 in the frontier region 60 to 90 miles northwest of Saigon.

Air Force B52 bombers have laid another 100 strikes against enemy troop concentrations and supply bases, while helicopters have flown thousands of sorties ferrying troops and supplies.

South Vietnamese aircraft also are supporting the drive but have a limited capability that requires heavy assistance by the Americans.

The South Vietnamese air force is flying about 50 per cent of the tactical air strikes, 40 per cent of the troop and supply missions and 35 per cent of the helicopter gunship missions, field commanders said.

Think said U.S. helicopter support was vital, especially for resupply. South Vietnam has an squadron of heavy helicopters and will acquire its second next month.

All South Vietnamese forces still are being supplied by air because Route 23, which runs north from Tay Ninh forward headquarters to Kreek, remains cut on the South Vietnamese side of the border.

A South Vietnamese battalion of 300 men backed by armor is trying to reopen the last five miles of the road south of Fire Base Pace. Field commanders said it battled Thursday against up to 100 North Vietnamese.

Initial reports said one South Vietnamese soldier was killed and 10 were wounded. Enemy losses were not known.

Three U. S. helicopters were hit by enemy ground fire while troops in Pace. All three were carrying South Vietnamese soldiers to fly back to other bases, and there were no casualties.

U. S. senior advisers said that reports of a withdrawal of two North Vietnamese divisions appeared to have withdrawn, the force has retained a covering force to keep the pressure on the South Vietnamese.

In a later development this morning, Vilen informed The Herald that he has contacted Langley Adams, head of a newly formed Seminole County Pollution Department, to inspect the site of the oil spill and the extent of the spill on the county level, and that he is requesting Adams to prepare a report of his findings for consideration of the County Commission at its next next Tuesday meeting.

Following the inspection of the site, Vilen said that Senkevich termed what he envisioned as a statement due to the fact that such action would have to come through Senkevich. However, Mathes said that action is proceeding expeditiously.

Vilen continued that after inspection of the site spill and the extent of the spill on the county level, and that he is requesting Adams to prepare a report of his findings for consideration of the County Commission at its next next Tuesday meeting.

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D. CASE R-303: Bobby Speaker, aged 9 1/2, intruded my dinner.

It was on a Sunday last spring when I had delivered the address from Dr. William Thompson's Presbyterian pulpit in Indianapolis.

At noon we drove to the delightful Hamal and Greel restaurant for dinner.

Bobby was seated at the organ, playing for the assembled dinner.

He isn't very large for his age.

So I was promised an introduction to Bobby after our dinner was over.

what does it mean?

Frightening, isn't it? You see a picture like this and suddenly you feel you are standing at the edge of a chasm in the dark. You are confronted with the threat of the unknown, and you don't like it.

Why, you wonder? Why can't men live together in peace?

We all need the courage to face the future unafraid. We need to find and develop love, understanding and peace of mind. But to attain our goal, we need Faith. That help can be found in church.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday — millions of men and women will unite in one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's hope and life is to be found.

Building Of SR 46 Starts On Nov. 1st

By FRED VAN PELT

Thirty years of effort by Seminole County civic leaders will begin to bear fruit about Nov. 1 when actual construction will be started for a new State Road 46 between Interstate 4 and the Wekiva River. Clearing and grubbing of the right-of-way will be commenced Oct. 25, according to James Conner, of the contracting firm of J. W. Conner and Sons, Tampa.

Work order has been issued by the Florida Department of Transportation's district engineer, C. A. (Bill) Benedict, DeLand, to the Conner firm. Conner was low bidder for the contract with $860,600.

All new road will be constructed within the next nine months. Only 1,000 feet of the present road bed, east of the Wekiva River, will be utilized. Otherwise the new highway will parallel the present roadway.

Conner will construct a two-lane highway for approximately five miles. The state has acquired title to a 300-foot wide right-of-way for future construction of a four-lane arterial highway.

Wekiva River is the boundary between Seminole and Lake Counties. Lake authorities already have met with Seminole leaders and have agreed to petition the state to improve State Road 46 between Wekiva River and U. S. 441 at Mount Dora in Lake County.

Conner, in a telephone interview with The Sanford Herald this morning, said heavy machinery will be moved in late this month and actual construction started by Nov. 1.

Seminole County leaders already have "started the ball rolling" for eventually constructing a four-lane expressway between Interstate 75 on the west and Interstate 95 on the east, following the present State Road 46 right-of-way between Mims and Mount Dora.

Autumn Chill Hits Florida In Rainfall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures in the middle 30s gripped the Florida Panhandle today as an autumn chill over Florida's northern borders. Weekend rains deluged the Tampa Bay area where a water use ban had been imposed.

The mercury fell to 36 degrees at Crestview as cold air trailed a weather front that pushed into the state over the weekend and touched off the heavy rains in the Tampa and Sanford areas.

An early morning low of 43 degrees was registered at Pensacola, breaking a record for the date of 46 degrees set in 1902. It was 47 at Jacksonville, 54 at Ocala and 45 at Tallahassee. Miami had 71.

City officials at Tampa ordered water use restrictions lifted in the wake of weekend rains that added four inches to the reservoir.

"It rained like hell all weekend so we can go back to normal use at noon," said Sam Lockwood, city water chief.

Restrictions were clamped on the city of 250,000 last Wednesday.

City officials blamed the ban on overtaxed water treatment facilities.

"We did not have a shortage of water, just a shortage in treatment capacity and we're making some design changes in the plant to minimize possibility of it happening again," Lockwood said.

All Housing Board Directors Yield To Pressure . . . Resign

By BILL SCOTT

The five-member Sanford Housing Authority Board has resigned en masse.

The resignations were disclosed in an Oct. 9 letter to the Sanford City Commission, delivered Saturday to city hall and signed by Howard Monteth, housing authority chairman, at the direction of the authority commissioners.

Calling the present situation between the housing authority and the Sanford Tenant Council "untenable," the housing commissioners, William E. Kirchoff, B. L. Perkins, John M. Fitzpatrick, Andrew Carraway and Andrew Monteth presented their resignations to Mayor Lee P. Moore.

In a lengthy letter outlining the reasons behind the decision to retire from the authority, the members stated, "With the ever-changing attitude of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and criticisms from HUD for following the guidelines that HUD, itself, laid out and without the necessary support of the city officials for the Housing Authority commissioners, it is virtually impossible for the present commissioners to ward off the continued misrepresentations, complaints, demands, false statements and charges the Tenants Council."

Citing that modernization funds cannot be obtained without tenant cooperation and asserting that non-

Ambulance Firm Faces Questioning On Service

By HERKY CUSH

Herdon Ambulance Service has been asked to have a representative at tomorrow's County Commission meeting to answer questions why service was refused an Oviedo resident when the county has an ambulance subsidizing program.

Commissioner Ed Yarbrough brought to the attention of the board that a Herndon driver administered first aid but refused to take an Oviedo woman to the hospital when she could not produce a $35 deposit.

The County has a $22,500 subsidizing program which is designed to take care of such situations.

Also on tomorrow's agenda is a request from the public defender's office for additional operating funds. The funds were not included in the 1971-72 budget.

The commissioners also will have the task of designating precinct poll workers for the Nov. 2 election at tomorrow's meeting.

Another agenda item deals with the General Waterworks area of certification. General Waterworks has been asked by the board to present the exact area it services and also an in-depth report on its inability to service certain homes.

A decision also is due on the hospital redistricting referendum legislation request. The request deals with the possibility of having two hospital districts.

The board also is expected to make a decision on the Pine-wood Court participation paving project.

Five public hearings also are on the agenda. The hearings, which start at 7 p.m., include four rezoning requests and an appeal against the Board of Adjustment denial to park a trailer in an A1 (agricultural) zone on Lake Mary Boulevard.

Two of the rezoning requests deal with changes from A1 to C1 (commercial). One area requesting change is located east of 14, north of SR 46, west of Elder Road. The other is north of Geneva Avenue and west of Brisson Avenue.

Seeking a change from A1 to RM-3 (travel trailer park) is property located east of 14, south of SR 46. The other rezoning change is located west of Longwood-Markham Road opposite the Seminole golf course and desires to be changed from A1 to RC-1.

Lengthy Agenda For City

Sanford City Commission is expected to burn the midnight oil again tonight at the first October meeting with several agenda items expected to draw attention.

Among those items is the expected designation of a site at French Avenue and Fourth Street for the location of a proposed $550,000 police-municipal complex.

City Manager W. E. Knowles is expected to have the figures ready for the Commission to act on the site, first proposed by Commissioner J. H. Cropps and seconded by Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer is expected to be outvoted in his effort to place the police station on 24th Street at Marshall Avenue.

Another item is the announcement expected from two appraisers of a 18-acre city-owned site along the lakefront, being mentioned first as a probably 300 site and lately as the location of an apartment complex to be financed by a local investors group.

Consideration of the sale of electric and telephone systems at Sanford Airport to the public utilities now serving the air base is expected to be approved for almost $80,000. The revenue derived from the utility sale will be used to renovate the airport's present sewer and water systems.

The Seminole Zoological Society is expected to ask for all or a part of the proceeds derived from the sale of the 18-acre lakefront plot, if the property is sold to help defray expenses of relocating the Sanford Zoo to a county site.

Commissioners have been at odds over whether the Audubon should go to the zoo since the property was at one time designated as the zoo site.

The establishment of a public hearing date for a list of city dwellings on a condemnation list is also on the agenda. A1 to RC-1.

Shevin: 'Florida Power Should Foot The Bill..'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida Power Corp. — and not the state — should foot the bill for an independent audit to determine if a requested $20 million rate hike is "in the public interest," Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin said today.

Shevin urged the Florida Public Service Commission to order the St. Petersburg-based utility to pay $25,000 for an independent analysis of its books and records.

The commission took Shevin's motion "under consideration."

The attorney general told the commission he'd like the full $25,000 but might accept less if the commission thought that amount was too high.

He later told a newsman he might settle for $15,000, claiming the City of St. Petersburg, which requested his intervention in the rate case, "might come up with $5,000."

Seeking a change from A1 to RM-3 (travel trailer park) is property located east of 14, south of SR 46. The other rezoning change is located west of Longwood-Markham Road opposite the Seminole golf course and desires to be changed from A1 to RC-1.
