HISTORY REPEATS—IN A HAPPIER SETTING

Wilcox Favors Tariff Against Cuban Produce

Representative J. Mark Wilcox, in a statement directed partially to Seminole County truck farmers, today insisted that he "could be a Democrat and still sponsor a tariff high enough to protect growers in this State."

Concerned because certain Florida vegetable farmers told him they could not make a living unless the low tariff agreement with Cuba was scrapped, the West Palm Beach congressman proposed duties high enough to equalize the cost of production on domestic farms and those on the island.

When Wilcox explained to Representative Treadway of Massachusetts that the House the Floridian's theory was in line with Republican policy.

He turned to Wilcox and said, "Thank you, sir." "The gentleman," said Treadway, "should have run on the Republican ticket and should be sitting on this side of the aisle if he believes in that principle."

Wilcox insisted he was a Democrat. "But the statement of my position does not give the gentleman the privilege of charging me with Republican inclinations," he said.

From widely separated angles, Wilcox and Senator Claude Pepper of Florida have set about to correct difficulties they attributed to the agreement with Cuba.

The senator obtained the appointment of a committee to represent the two countries in working out a solution, and asked for the establishment of research agencies in Florida and Cuba. Wilcox took his case to the House Ways and Means Committee and the State Department's Committee on Reciprocity Information.

Whole Cities Facing Doom From Floods

Weather Forecaster Expresses Fear For Entire Citrus Crop Of California

The rampaging Ohio River today threatened to engulf whole cities and villages as it beat back lowland defenders along 1,000 miles of the nation's most critical flood front.

It poured through a broken levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind., driving 7,000 residents in high ground.

It forced officials of Portsmouth, Ohio, to flood the business and industrial districts purposely to save a $1,000,000 sea wall.

Some 13,000 of Portsmouth's 50,000 dwellers fled to the hills.

The Ohio's all-tide waters barred more than 50,000 from their homes in Ohio and 15,000 in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Missouri contributed to the estimated national refugee total of 800,000 in 10 flood-harassed states.

3 Quads Die After 40-Mile Dash Over Ice

Canadian Ambulance Carrying Rondeau Babies Crashes Into Moving Snowplow

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Three of the Rondeau quadruplets, rushed to St. Justine Hospital in a 40-mile dash over ice roads during which their ambulance crashed into a moving snow plow, died today.

Two boys and two girls were born yesterday to Mrs. Arade Rondeau, 40-year-old housewife of St. Thomas, Quebec.

Fearful that the infants, weighing little more than two pounds each, could not live unless placed in incubators, physicians ordered them brought here.

The babies apparently were unhurt in the crash with the snow plow but the ambulance driver, a doctor and one of two nurses accompanying the quadruplets were injured.

The Rondeaus have ten other children, seven daughters and three sons.

City Fire Loss For Year Falls To Low Figures

Sanford's fire loss for 1936 amounted to $5,134 on property valued at more than 740,000, according to an annual report completed today by Fire Chief Mack Cleveland.

The per capita loss was recorded at 42.34 cents.

Estimated value of all property involved was the greatest since 1931 when $482,845 worth of buildings were endangered by flames that cost $26,991 in property loss, the chief's report stated.

The department answered 104 alarms during the year and drove its trucks 129 miles to fires in buildings where total insurance coverings amounted to $43,260.

Total number of hours served by the Department was officially entered as 31,146.

Relating to various equipment used, Chief Cleveland reported that more than 61 gallons of chemicals were thrown, 1,100 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose unrolled, and 200 feet of three-quarter inch hose required.

A review of the Fire Department's record since 1912 showed the greatest fire loss was recorded in 1932 when $61,200 worth of property went up in flames. The smallest loss was reported in 1933 when only $3,578 were lost in blazes.

Agricultural Club Moves To Standardize Pack, Crate Of Celery Shipments From Sanford

The Seminole County Agricultural Club last night launched a movement to solve labor and marketing problems appearing this year with the celery.

Members of the organization's principal standing committee studied records of former years to discover that processing operations now costing 70 cents formerly were obtained for 30 cents.

A definite move toward solution was made when the Club invited all shippers of celery in the region to attend a mass meeting Monday night in the Seminole High School building for an open forum discussion with club members, of the knotty question.

Chief of Police Roy Williams said this afternoon he was holding a man identified only as Kirkus who is booked on charges of drinking, a suspicious character and peddling.

Chief of Police Roy Williams said this afternoon he was holding a man identified only as Kirkus who is booked on charges of drinking, a suspicious character and peddling.

Citrus, Vegetables At Tampa Fair To Get NBC Spotlight

Florida citrus and truck crops will "be on the air" Feb. 1 with the National Farm and Home Hour through 64 National Broadcasting Company stations, according to information received here today.

An entire hour, from 12:30 P. M. to 1:30 P. M., will be devoted to a description of the Tampa Fair with its exhibits of citrus and vegetables, and a word picture of the "Empire" of Tampa by Gasparilla and his legions.

One of the principal attractions of the Tampa Fair is a "float" of growing celery entered by Seminole County interests. Because of its novelty, it is expected to receive special mention on the nationwide radio hookup.

William E. Drip, director of agriculture for NBC, is a driver of the program. He will be assisted by Everett Mitchell, supervisor of announcers for the chain.

Warm Weather Saves Local Schools Cash

Continued warm weather through the usually cold months are saving a tidy sum of money that would be spent otherwise for heating in Seminole County schools.

Why You Should Advertise
 From time to time excellent reasons for advertising in the home town newspaper are advanced, the St. Augustine Record insists. Merchants and professional men who do not avail themselves of the opportunities and privileges of advertising should read the following 12 very good reasons presented for the use of advertising space in the daily newspaper:
 1. Newspaper reading is a universal habit. Newspaper advertising, therefore, reaches virtually all who read and buy.
 2. A newspaper advertisement can always be seen by the reader.
 3. The newspaper advertisement, as part of the complete paper, goes into the home as a welcome guest.
 4. The newspaper advertisement can have as much news value and reader interest as the news item.
 5. The amount of text used in newspaper advertisements is dependent only upon the size of the space.
 6. Newspaper advertising is flexible.
 7. Newspaper advertising is quickly controlled.
 8. Newspaper advertising may be adjusted to different conditions.
 9. Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers and dealers to state where their products may be bought.
 10. Newspaper advertising is inexpensive. Merchants have learned that it covers more families, for less money, than any other form of advertising.
 11. Newspaper circulation is known and is comparatively unaffected by daily change.
 12. Newspaper advertising reduces selling costs because it entails no waste in circulation. This helps reduce costs for the consumer.

New Smyrna's Regatta
 New Smyrna is making plans for the holding of the ninth annual motorboat regatta on Indian River early next month, an event which has come to take on state-wide significance as one of the outstanding attractions during the winter for tourists who are interested in boating. According to the Regatta committee, invitations and entry blanks have been mailed to leading speed boat owners and drivers in every part of the country and special sanction for the races has been received from the American Power Boat Association. Thousands of visitors are expected to attend and suitable accommodations are being provided for them.
 The races which will be held on February 13 and 14 are the outgrowth of an undertaking which was begun in 1928, shortly after the collapse of the Florida real estate boom, but while the country as a whole was still enjoying a great wave of prosperity. That it has been held every year since, right through the depression, is adequate testimony to the faith and courage of its promoters. This year's regatta is expected to be the best ever and indications are that a record breaking crowd will attend the many interesting events. Sanford congratulates New Smyrna on its foresight in continuing these exhibitions and wishes her every success in this year's undertaking.

Bradenton's Trailer Camp
 The Kiwanis Club of Bradenton has done a very praiseworthy thing by building a thoroughly modern trailer camp, and providing that the funds realized from it shall go to underprivileged children for the primary purpose of buying artificial limbs, straightening deformed legs and arms of little boys and girls.
 The club first raised a fund with which to build the camp and then secured a long term lease from the city on a forty acre tract of land. The camp which is now open and well patronized by "trailer tourists" is said to be one of the most picturesque in the entire country. Built among beautiful pines the camp is well shaded, adequately supplied with water and has commodious administration, recreation and other buildings.
 Every requirement of the State Health Board regulations has been met. City water, sanitation, electric lighting and heating are among the facilities provided at the camp. There are also amusement and recreational features furnished within the camp grounds. Everything is properly supervised and policed. For this the Kiwanis club collects a small fee which pays the expenses and leaves something over for the care of dependent children.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO
 Among the many attractive parties which marked the society functions of the week, the rose reception with which Mrs. G. F. Smith entertained on Friday afternoon in honor of her sister Mrs. T. J. Price of Lancaster, Ky., was a charming event. The beautiful home was a veritable bower of roses. Pink roses nestled among graceful sprays of asparagus fern that was massed on the mantle and in the great colonial fireplace, a fascinating background for the gracious hostess and her guests together. A charming group of visitors who assisted in receiving were Mrs. Fayron Lake, Mrs. W. E. Watson, Mrs. W. J. Thigpen, and Mrs. S. E. Barrett. In the dining room refreshments were served by Misses Bertha Lake, Fern Ward, Fannie Roba Munson and Dorothy Rumph.

Consulting Criminologist Work To Be Easier In '37

Analysis Of Typewriting Plays Prominent Part In Work Of Tracing Criminals; Says Machine Is 'Dead Giveaway'

By BAN JACKSON
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22. (AP)—The more fact that the new year bears the number 1937 will make work much easier for Edward Oscar Heinrich, consulting criminologist.

In Heinrich's profession of scientific crime detection, analysis and solving of typewriting plays a prominent part, and there is no character on the typewriter beyond that such a "dead giveaway" as the seven.

Other characters are fairly well standardized among the various makes and models of typewriters, but the designers put some individuality into their seven. Often a single glance at the figure in an account book or suspected document enables Heinrich to name the precise model of typewriter on which it was written.

When the felon who does his communications in 1937 has one strike on him at the start.

A typical case in which Heinrich's typewriting studies helped police authorities clear up an extortion case occurred in 1935.

A San Francisco physician received a typewritten note demanding $100 on a threat that alleged scandalous information about his wife would be divulged to the newspapers. He was able to name a young man he suspected but he hadn't a shred of proof.

Heinrich's analysis of the typing disclosed that it had been done on a certain old model typewriter, and he suggested the federal officers trace the youth's daily routine to see if it took him near such a machine.

It was found that the suspect frequented a theater and was on friendly terms with the owner, and that an old model typewriter was stored in the basement.

Inspector George H. Austin typed off a copy of the note, and microscopic examination by Heinrich showed flaws in the alignment and shifts in the type proving conclusively that the extortion letter was written on the same machine.

Confronted by this silent evidence, the suspect pleaded guilty. Heinrich's measure errors in alignment in thousands of an inch, to compare curvature of letters or slants in such characters as "c," "o" or "i" with microscopic exactness.

"In this business a miss of a hundredth of an inch is as bad as a miss of a mile," he observes. "A case in which corporation directors' minutes had been altered proved simple. The guilty party had substituted one page containing important changes in the record. The trouble is that the substitute page was typed on a new noiseless typewriter that was not on the market at the time the corporation meeting was held."

The simplicity with which scientific clues fit into each other was shown in an Oakland poisoning case.

Six members of an Oakland lodge received "free samples" of whisky soon after prohibition repeal. One man, suspicious of its odor, discovered it was poisoned and news stories on his revelation warned the other five against drinking theirs.

The lodge was canvassed and one member recalled receiving an anonymous letter, which he had kept. Comparison of the handwriting on the envelope and that on the whisky packages immediately showed they were the work of the same person.

Heinrich then turned his attention to the anonymous note itself, which was a short verse in an unusual variety of typewriter lettering. He learned from the local agency handling machines with such lettering that only one such typewriter had been sold locally, and that it was in the library of an Oakland newspaper.

Meanwhile the poison had been analyzed as cyanide, which suggested an engraving plant, where cyanide is a stock product.

The newspaper's engravers were questioned and one was found to be a member of the lodge in question. Confronted by the chain of circumstantial evidence, he confessed mailing the poisoned whisky and was sent to San Quentin prison. A lodge feud was his motive, he explained.

Listing himself as a "legal chemist," Heinrich has been called into consultation on the scientific aspects of many major crimes in his 18 years of practice.

Reading And Writing

By JOHN SELBY

The difficulty with most discussion of the encroachments of dictatorship and its ideology is that it remains only discussion. For the most part the people who have the detachment essential to effective analysis seem to remain detached when action is needed.

Perhaps it is this which makes Hamilton Fish Armstrong's "We or They" seem valuable. Mr. Armstrong is the editor of "Foreign Affairs" and knows pretty accurately he struggles of which he writes. He is of an executive turn of mind, and it seems second nature to him to provide each idea with an area in which action may be had—not simply to propound it and leave it lying in his study.

Mr. Armstrong's little book is about the great coming battle, or perhaps the battle is already under way. On one side are Italy, Germany, Russia, perhaps Japan, and certainly the scattering baby dictatorships such as Little Portugal. On the other are England, France, the United States, and the also scattered minor European states in which there still remains some freedom.

The question as Mr. Armstrong sees it is simply who shall survive. We may be conscious of our own political inefficiency, or England's muddling, or France's occasionally hysterical selfishness. Just the same, we either unite with the liberals against the totalitarianism, or we go under.

The fight is, Mr. Armstrong believes, beyond the line at which discussion and settlement thereby is possible. He points out that at present the same word and the same sentence has a different meaning on each side of the battle line. Germany, for example, has rather foolishly allowed the world to read that "a handful of force is better than a sackful of justice." ("Deutsche Justiz") And similar things.

Mainly there remains the necessity for consolidating our lines, or recognizing the enemy whether communist or fascist, for utilizing to the fullest our superiority in gold, for being ready, when driven to the last ditch, to defend our freedom with arms. Mr. Armstrong's case is not quite that simple, but this is the essence. Less important books have been made required reading on our schools.

"We or They" by Hamilton Fish Armstrong (Macmillan),

Maine, Kansas, South Dakota and five states, Massachusetts, Iowa, have great Republican representation in the new Congress than in the preceding one.

A summary of farm accounts from 1928 to 1936 shows the average who grew legumes, seven times or almost made larger profits in the last 12 years than those who did not grow legumes.

Sanford Swamps DeLand Bulldogs, 42-27.

Celery Feds Win After Slow Start; Show Poorly

Bad Passing, Shooting Mars Game Played At DeLand School

Showing a complete reversal of form in the face of an inspired opposing quintet, the Sanford representatives of the hardwood courts, the Celery Feds, last night topped the DeLand Bulldogs by a 42-27 count on the DeLand High School floor after showing up poorly for the greater portion of the contest.

The Bulldogs, on edge last night after their defeat at the hands of the Orlando Tigers, proved that they were no set-up by taking an early lead which they stretched to 8-0 before the locals were even aware of the goings-on around them.

Even after the Feds managed to break the ice, finally in the count, and then pass the Bulldogs to hold the lead for the remainder of the game, the Melana-men failed to show anything, passing poorly, shooting wildly and displaying a defense with enough loopholes to give the Bulldogs ample opportunity to keep on the heels of their visitors until the fourth period when the Feds widened the gap.

Morgan, local guard, missed an opportunity to start the scoring as he failed to come through on a foul shot. McMillan counted on a late attempt for the opposition but the badly was not scored when Referee Brady Cowell discovered the player had been over the line.

From then on, the Bulldogs took things in their own hands as Shadburn and Kicklighter each scored on shots under the basket after which Shadburn displayed to give the home team a 26-20 advantage. Sanford called for time and after play was resumed, Purdon tipped in a rebound, Morgan and Ferguson each made a foul, Williams made an under-basket shot in the count and then Zachry pulled from the line to give the Seminole engers an 34 edge as the quarter ended.

In the second period Purdon and Ferguson each missed a foul shot. McMillan tallied from the field, Zachry made one out of two attempted conversions and Purdon made two field goals in succession. Williams missed a foul, Kicklighter made one and Williams came through with a double-decker. McMillan and Morgan each missed a charity throw. Morgan came back with a successful conversion, Ferguson missed his and Sample made an under-basket shot ere the half ending with the score board showing a 16-11 count in favor of the Sanford aggregation.

Kicklighter opened the third period with a field goal followed by a similar tally made by McMillan from mid-court. Shadburn, Morgan and Purdon scored from the field in succession and DeLand called for time.

Upon resuming play, Coggin made two fouls, Ferguson, Shadburn and Zachry each made a field goal, Jack Purdon tipped in the rebound and Coggin's twin-tyer was tallied as the quarter ended with Sanford still leading, 23 to 22.

Merchant made a foul shot to open the scoring in the final area which Dal Ferguson dribbled down the floor for a field goal and then followed it up with an under-basket shot. Zachry made a foul, McMillan tallied from mid-court, Purdon missed a foul and Merchant made a field goal. McMillan's long shot brought the count to 37-27 after which Merchant made a foul, Odham a field goal and Buck Ferguson another field goal.

The work of the Feds was also poor as the foul line as they chalked up ten successful conversions in 20 attempts. Zachry again pulled through this phase of the game, garnering four out of six charity throws.

Jack Purdon, local center, led the scorers, tallying five field goals, a total of ten points. Zachry with two field goals and four fouls, a total of eight points, trailed his teammate while Dal Ferguson, with seven points, also showed up well.

Shadburn and McMillan, each with eight points, set the pace for the losing combination.

The Seminole outfit will see action again Tuesday evening of next week when the Leesburg Yellow Jackets will be the attraction at the local high school gymnasium.

The lineup of the contest played last night follows:

Spotlights of Sport

By A. F. STRAUSS

It is more than regrettable that a disturbance of the kind that occurred at the City League games the other evening should tend to break up a circuit which was destined to be more or less successful despite the fact that this season was the first of its operation. What is more, those participating in the matter have already regretted their actions while those in charge of the teams have taken steps to prevent any further recurrence of the nature.

The following letter was sent to the president of the league by the head of the Eckerson Cannery team, C. H. Eckerson, regarding the proceedings of the other evening.

Dear Sir:

We regret exceedingly certain instances occurring Wednesday evening during our contest with the St. Johns River line that produced complete of the game.

We considered the game one of the finest yet to be staged in the local loop and it is accordingly regrettable that two of the opposing players not in action were forced to conduct themselves in an unsportsmanlike manner that caused such a disturbance that altered the game momentarily and later a similar disturbance was brought about by an outsider, gain bringing up the same issue.

No far as we are concerned we are not endeavoring to throw or place the blame on either player for the sole reason that the argument took place in the dressing rooms and therefore entirely out of witness of any of the interested parties.

We wish to advise you and the League that the player on four points to place his companions.

Lake Mary Clashes With B Squad In First Contest

The Lake Mary team, with one victory and two defeats, will have an opportunity to step ahead of their opponents of the evening as a victory will place them a few points above the B squad in the league standing, the scholastic crew now boasting a record of one victory and one loss. The neighboring community's representatives chalked up their lone win over the Lake-Risers by a 16-11 count and then lost to St. Johns, 22-11, and to the Eckersons, 22-12.

The B squad won their lone decision from the St. Johns by a 31-26 count and held the distinction of being the only team in the league to defeat the Rivermen. The school boys were outback by the Lake-Riser team in their second appearance, losing by a 23-22 count.

The second game has the aspects of being a good battle as the National Guards attempt to break tie to the win column with an inexperienced but fighting crew. After losing a forfeit decision to the Eckersons and then dropping a 19-8 battle to St. Johns, the Guardians are keyed up to a fighting pitch as they endeavor to taste the sweet fruits of victory.

The Lake-Riser team, with one win and two defeats, make a hardy opponent for the doughboys. The Cleaners suffered their defeats at the hands of Lake Mary and The Eckersons while their win was eked out by a 23-21 count over the B squad.

Dizzy Drives Daytona Daffy; Daytona Duly Donates Diz Diamond

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 22.—Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean, colorfully esotic prince of the St. Louis Cardinals' pitching staff, having recently and repeatedly announced that he would not train in the Borgeyne Island Athletic Stadium during the allegedly coldest days of March, the afflicted and hopelessly disconcerted peasantry quickly held city-wide councils in the hope of appeasing His Royal Highness of the Ozarks Realm, Edward H. Armstrong, native St. Louisian, averted the grave crisis by building a second modern baseball plant in the western limits of the city, where blustery breezes from the Atlantic are subdued to almost inaudible whimpers.

Known as "Dizzy's Delight," the new plant is proclaimed by experts, including Frankie Fritch, Cardinal manager, to be, for training purposes, one of the best in the nation. Should His Delicate Dismissal suffer from heat prostration while warming up in this windless zone, staff members of the nearby district hospital will instantly ambulance him to the island stadium, which lies in the broad-bosomed Halifax River within 350 feet of the business center of the city.

"We're kinda Democratic down here," said the crisis-averting Armstrong, "but when royalty calls we kow-tow."

"Dizzy will train in Daytona Beach, or else," is the edict of Frankie Fritch.

"Dix can have that $150,000 salary for all we care," ultimatum Capt. Tom Joy nes, dock master and president of the Duck Dizzy Dean Club, but he can't refuse on our superb year 'round climate and get away with it. When he's in Daytona Beach, he's in a ducking. And that's that!"

Half Of Citrus Crop On Pacific Lost By Freeze

Growers Renew Efforts To Prevent Greater Devastation From Cold

Huge Consumption Of Oil Reported

Imperial Valley To Get Temperatures 19 To 23 Degrees

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Devastating cold laid siege again early today to a $500,000,000 citrus fruit empire of California.

Growers, exhausted by a three-day fight against the worst freeze since 1913, re-lighted oil heaters generally when temperatures hit the danger point before midnight.

Already 50 percent of the crop of oranges, lemons and grapefruit is estimated destroyed by frost. Last year's total production from 250,000 acres of citrus trees was valued at $112,000,000.

Four workers were burned fatally in accidents with smudge pots which have consumed upwards of 2,000,000 barrels of oil this week.

Temperatures from 19 to 23 degrees were forecast for the Imperial Valley of Southern California today. A record low of 18 degrees was reported yesterday.

The winter vegetable crops suffered $8,000,000 loss this month.

Governor Grants Additional Day To Buy License Tags

Motorists whose automobiles bear a 1936 license will not be arrested Feb. 1, although the tags expire Jan. 30, Gov. Fred Cone announced yesterday from Tallahassee, according to the Associated Press.

It was understood that the governor granted the additional day because Jan. 30 is Sunday, on which day autostops will not have the opportunity to purchase a license.

There was an indication on Gov. Cone's statement that law-enforcing bodies would be instructed to crack down beginning with the morning of Feb. 2.

For the convenience of persons who are unable to buy tags during daily business hours, Tax collector Joe D. Jinkins has announced that his office in the Court House will remain open tonight until 9 P. .

Mason Reports Ducks Decrease On Gulf Coast

Sanfordite Completes Three-Day Flying Observation Tour

An 80 percent decrease in ducks and a 65 percent drop in geese over last year on the Gulf Coast between Ft. Myers and Pensacola was reported today by C. Russell Mason, president of the Florida Audubon Society after a three-day survey of the area.

The estimate was compiled after the entire distance between the two cities—with the exception of Tampa Bay—was covered in a Coast Guard plane carrying six persons.

Unseasonable weather was attributed as one of the factors playing a major part in the sudden drop, while the lack of natural breeding conditions—caused by a drought—was credited with another part of the decrease.

Mr. Mason said the estimates made by Dr. H. R. Mills, an observer, and himself showed less than 10,000 ducks and about 1,500 geese inhabiting the irregular coast line of the Gulf of Mexico.

Most abundant of the ducks, the Audubon president announced, were bicolors which comprised about 75 percent of all fowls observed. Black ducks were the next greatest in numbers, he said.

Flying at an altitude of from 1,000 to 2,000 feet.

New Phone Books Placed In Mails; 1,500 Distributed

Sanford telephone subscribers were receiving 1937 directories today.

Two thousand of the new books arrived yesterday and were ready for distribution, but a typographical error made it necessary to stamp in one phone number, consequently delivery was not begun until this morning.

E. V. Turner, manager of Bell Telephone here, announced that approximately 1,500 directories will be mailed out, the remainder being held in reserve for new subscribers or for those who lose books.

Delinquent License Count Shows Drop; Figure Cut To 300

Sanford's delinquent occupational and professional licenses had been whittled down from 400 to slightly over 300 today, according to records available at City Hall.

The reduction was accomplished through a week of work by the Police Department which took over the list of delinquent assessments after a reasonable length of time had been allowed those eligible to obtain their certificates.

While only persuasive methods have been used by officers so far, Chief Roy Williams has announced that a report to the courts is not improbable.

All licenses were due Oct. 1, 1936.

This form of taxation produced about $10,000 for the City last year.

Canal Report May Reach Congressional Group Within Week

Probabilities existed today that the Gulf-Atlantic Canal fight may reopen late next week, according to indications in press dispatches from Washington.

The decision of an Army Board to either recommend continuation of canal work or to recommend abandonment of the project is expected to be presented to a congressional committee.

It was understood that the decision already has been reached, although it is not to be made public until the routine appearance before the congressional body.

Publication of the recommendation, regardless of which end is suggested, is almost sure to reopen the fight.

Story Of Charging Bull Amended By Mrs. Brown

Asserts Call For Help Issued To Return Animal To Pen; Beast's Activities Disturbing

Policeman Roy Tillis' efforts yesterday morning to pen up a wild bull today drew repercussions from Mrs. Quinon E. Brown, who said she was the woman to turn in an alarm that an animal was running wild in the Pinehurst section.

Her letter follows:

"Editor of The Herald: 'The frantic telephone call rushed to the police headquarters at 1:30 A. M. Friday was, in actuality, a prolonged explanation of how a bull had broken out of his pen and was disturbing the neighborhood. Because of the illness of the proprietress of the dairy that the bull belonged to, the 'mystified' woman' who gave her name only as Mrs. Brown', asked if there was not some one at the police station who could come out and help get the bull back of the retaining barriers of his pen again so that he would not molest the neighbors at such precious hours for heavy sleep. After several disjointed answers, given by someone half way between awake and asleep, she was informed they had no one at the station, but may be in ten minutes someone would be in. Just as she said Mrs. Brown was ready to hang up the receiver the same voice, apparently nearer consciousness, said that Mr. Tillis would come out in his car and see what he could do.

"Rather than have property destroyed and friends and neighbors disturbed, Mrs. Brown stayed in her car and as the bull would leave her premises she would drive around him to keep him near the dairy building which was flooded with light.

County And City Seminole County Plan Discussion Is Asked To Aid Of Doctor's Job Flood Sufferers

Dyson, Thrasher To Confer With Municipal Officials

A committee of two County Commissioners were appointed yesterday afternoon to confer with City officials on the possibility of employing a full-time County-City physician to handle welfare work.

Commissioners D. L. Thrasher and P. A. Dyson will approach the municipality for a discussion. The move by the County Board followed yesterday's proposal of the Seminole County Medical Society that a physician be employed, for charity work, who can devote his entire time to the position.

Dr. H. G. Smith, president of the Society appeared before the Commission to expand on four suggestions which had been set forth by the Society in a letter.

The proposals were: 1—employment of a full-time physician; 2—the offer to establish a surgical and medical service to work in co-operation with the full-time doctor; hospitalization by County physician of welfare cases; and 4—the proposal to seek co-operation with the City in the employment of a physician.

Dr. Smith reiterated to the Board a statement contained in the letter from the Society that a doctor with a private practice could not adequately attend to his individual cases and those of the County.

During the afternoon session, Dr. Sam Puleston, former County physician on a part-time basis, and Dr. Theo. Langley, assistant County physician, submitted letters announcing that they could not accept the respective posts offered by the Board.

Commissioners Thrasher and Dyson today had not yet defined dates for the conference with the City, although it probably will be taken up Monday night when the municipal governing board convenes for a bi-monthly session.

Dwindling Supplies Of Drinking Water Provokes Fear In Inundated Region

Seek $2,000,000 For Relief Work

Freezing weather, hunger and dwindling supplies of drinking water intensified the suffering of the nation's flood refugees today as the Red Cross launched a campaign for $2,000,000 to aid an estimated 270,000 homeless or needy.

Cold brought hope of surcease to the ravaged valley of the swollen Ohio River, most destructive of the overland streams in 12 states of the flood belt.

At Pittsburgh, the confluence of the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers, their stage became almost stationary and fears of a major flood disaster there were allayed.

The Ohio crept up only fractionally after midnight at hard-hit Cincinnati and the crest was believed near.

Disaster communities still faced rising waters as the yellowed stream coursed toward the Mississippi river with a burden of many winter rains.

As legal proceedings moved on in Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia administered by the United States as the critical areas—and in Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi.

The Ohio River at Cincinnati passed a 72 1/2 foot stage. One hundred miles upstream Portsmouth, Ohio, had only enough food left for two more days. Gas was shut off in flooded parts of the City to prevent explosions.
