U.S. to recover MIA remains

BANGKOK, Thailand — U.S. officials prepared Wednesday to fly to Vietnam to pick up 21 sets of remains believed to be American servicemen missing in action during the Indochina war, a military spokesman said.

"We are going to Hanoi tomorrow (Thursday) morning to repatriate 21 sets of remains," said Lt. Col. Thomas Boyd, spokesman for the U.S. Pacific Command.

Boyd said the 21 sets of remains would be handed over before noon Thursday in a ceremony attended by about 26 U.S. servicemen at Hanoi's Noi Bai Airport.

The U.S. spokesman also revealed that a team of American forensic experts is currently in Hanoi examining an undisclosed number of other MIA remains to be repatriated later.

Quayle arrives in Australia

CANBERRA, Australia — Vice President Dan Quayle held talks with Australian leaders Wednesday on Soviet military expansion in the Pacific and reaffirmed bilateral defense arrangements following a break with alliance partner New Zealand.

Quayle arrived in the Australian capital Wednesday on the first leg of an Asian swing that will take him to Indonesia, Singapore and Thailand.

Quayle held talks with Prime Minister Bob Hawke and Foreign Minister Gareth Evans at Parliament before attending a formal dinner given by Hawke at his official residence, The Lodge.

Earlier, the vice president was given a 19-gun salute and was warmly greeted by Hawke at the Royal Australian Air Force Base at Fairbairn, 6 miles from the capital.

Quake causes minor damage

MEXICO CITY — The Red Cross said hundreds of people were treated for anxiety attacks in Mexico City following a strong earthquake that President Carlos Salinas de Gortari described as "a major scare with minor damages."

One man was killed in the quake which rocked Mexico City and Acapulco Tuesday morning, cracking walls, breaking windows and sending panicked residents rushing into the streets. Authorities said at least two people were seriously hurt in the panic.

The quake hit at 8:29 a.m. and was centered about 200 miles southwest of the capital.

Lawmaker faces new charges

TAMPA — State Rep. Elvin Martinez, who was acquitted of drug-related perjury charges three years ago, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of failing to pay income taxes from 1983 to 1985.

The three-count indictment said Martinez, D-Tampa, owes the government $21,492 in taxes on income of $376,000 over the three years.

The indictment charges the veteran lawmaker with willfully failing to file income tax returns in 1983, 1984 and 1985.

James Powers, spokesman for the U.S. attorney's office, said each count carries a maximum penalty of one year in federal prison. Martinez, no relation to Gov. Bob Martinez, also would face a maximum of $210,000 in fines, if convicted.

Festival details unveiled

December event could bring boost for downtown Sanford

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Plans for a multi-state advertising campaign and other proposed details for promoting the city's first St. Lucia Festival here were revealed this morning at a meeting of the Future of Sanford Committee.

The downtown festival is planned for Dec. 13, the day in Sweden the patron saint of light is celebrated.

In addition to a hoped-for boost to the city's economy from tourism, the coming festival also is being used as a catalyst for other downtown improvement projects.

The committee is planning a marketing campaign across the state and in states with strong Swedish heritages, like Minnesota and Wisconsin. Kay Bartholomew, who heads the committee, said the committee would promote the festival through publications like Southern Living and Florida Living.

Earlier this month the committee applied for $21,500 in county tourist development funds. Dave Farr, chamber executive director, said the application had survived the first cut in the tourism development council's review of 16 applications for a total of about $375,000 in funds. A decision is expected on the grants this fall.

"One only has to see vacant malls and read newspapers of the closing of stores, particularly in economically depressed downtown areas to substantiate the need of new methods to draw

'People mover' system proposed for Centerra

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — One day, an automated train system may ferry people around the Interstate 4 commerce belt south of Sanford known as "Centerra."

Seminole County commissioners were presented with the results of the county's "people mover" study Tuesday, which recommends construction of a 7.7-mile transit system linking 11 commercial developments in Centerra, including Heathrow International Business Center, Camelot and developments west of I-4, and commerce parks east of I-4 including Stromberg-Carlson and Primera.

Commissioners were enthusiastic about the study's conclusions and directed county staff to prepare to include it in the county's comprehensive land use plans for the area.

"This is great," said commissioner Fred Streetman.

Lake Mary officials seek crime deterrent method

By SANDRA BOUCHAHINE

LAKE MARY — City officials said yesterday that will pursue an alternative to Commissioner George Duryea's request for an ordinance requiring two employees be on duty at any business that remains open after 11 p.m.

Law officials said that instead of adopting such an ordinance, businesses should train employees in crime prevention.

The matter recently was addressed at a commission meeting, with documented information showing that in many cases the two-employee tactic does not help deter crime. A report by the Crime Commission's Convenience Store Robbery Prevention Task Force, a regional association of business and government representatives, shows that having two clerks working in all-night convenience stores does not prevent crimes, and in some

Report critical of Florida's education system

From staff and wire reports

TALLAHASSEE — A report presented Tuesday to Gov. Bob Martinez and the Cabinet says Florida schools are not teaching children the mathematics and science skills needed to compete for jobs in a global economy.

The document, prepared under the auspices of the state Department of Education and the Florida Chamber of Commerce, recommends increased state spending and curriculum improvements to make Florida a world leader in math, science and computer education by the year 2000.

"This is the key to our future," said Martinez in accepting the report. "It's not just to get better than Georgia, but to get better than Korea."

So far, Seminole County math and science teachers have not been given specific directives on how they will help comply with Castor's directives, officials said today.

In fact, Clem Boyer, coordinator of the district mathematics programs, said that improving the educational quality of the math and science programs has always been a priority with the Seminole County school district.

And Karen Coleman, the district's community relations coordinator said that Seminole County always scores above the Florida average on standardized math tests. In 1988 Seminole County students averaged 483 points on the math portion of the SAT, while Florida students averaged 469 points and nationally, the score averaged 476 points.

Education Commissioner Betty Castor said, "Business and our economic survival depend on the success of this comprehensive plan, and I'm

County expressway project may benefit from revised budget

From staff and wire reports

TALLAHASSEE — The Seminole County Expressway will receive $24.3 million if the Florida Legislature approves an increase in spending proposed Tuesday by Gov. Bob Martinez Tuesday.

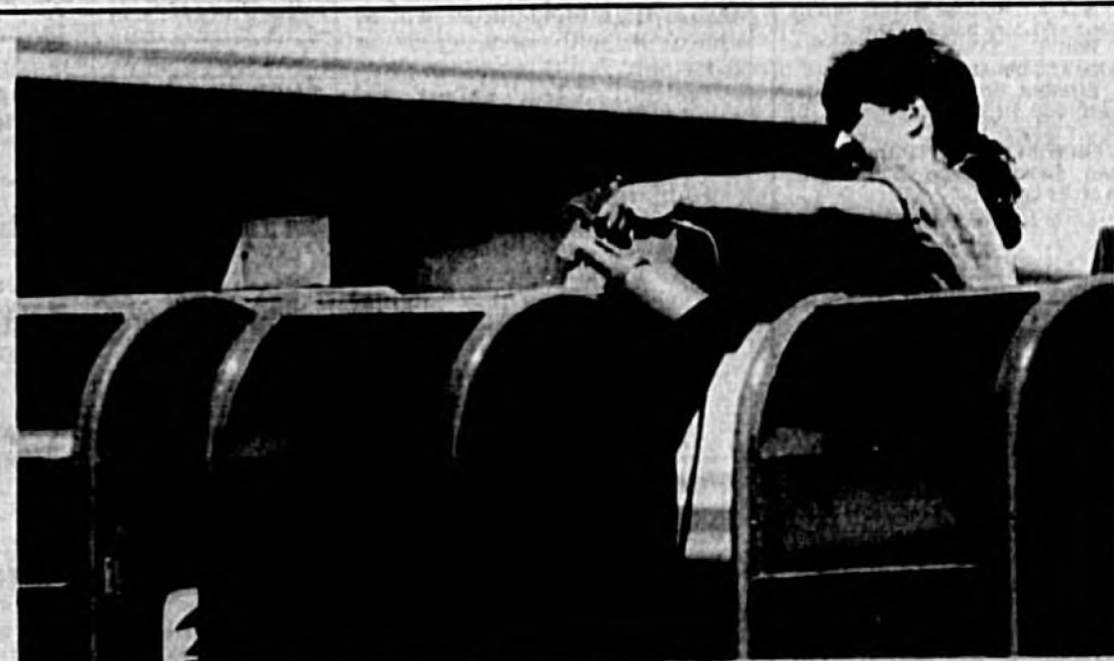

But the county's expressway dollars face strong opposition from south Florida legislators before the Legislature approves them during this year's session now underway.

Martinez proposed increasing his $22 billion budget package by $646 million Tuesday, funneling more money to schools, roads, human services and other programs.

The governor submitted to lawmakers a supplemental budget proposal that includes new estimates of state tax revenue for the fiscal year beginning July 1, plus the proceeds from new transportation bonds. Their approval is required before the spending program are funded.

Fred Streetman, chairman of the Seminole County Expressway Authority, said today that he was pleased with Martinez's recommendation, but

A man threw a cup of gasoline on store owner Pili Swoon Shin (in doorway), then tried to ignite the liquid. Police are investigating.

Gas thrown on store owner

SANFORD — Sanford police today are baffled by the act of a man who entered C&D Grocery, on W. 11th Street, and threw a cup of gasoline on store owner Pili Swoon Shin, 41, of Orlando, at about noon Monday.

The man, dressed in army fatigues and wearing a black bandana over his long blond hair, didn't say a word to Shin. After dumping the gasoline on Shin, the suspected tried to strike a match. Shin brandished a handgun and the suspect fled. Shin fired a single shot over the suspect's head as the man ran out, going north on Maple Avenue.

Police Chief Steven Harriett said police have no motive for the act and are still searching for the 6-foot tall, white man responsible for the attack.

Food theft investigated

SANFORD — Sanford police are investigating the reported theft of cash from an office at Food Plus, 419 E. First St., Sanford.

A store worker reported seeing three men in the store office before the theft at 2 p.m. April 19, police said. The worker was distracted by a customer and the theft was discovered after the three men left the store, according to police.

Skeletal remains of man found

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The find of a top portion of a human skull Monday in a marshy swamp in Altamonte Springs led to the find of additional skeletal remains, apparently of a man, as police further searched the site Tuesday.

Altamonte Springs police spokesman Jeff Hawkins said Tuesday morning he didn't know if police would continue their search of an area to the east of the Country Creek subdivision off Bunnell Road where a surveyor found the top of a skull.

However, police did continue the search and found more bones and pieces of clothing at the site. Hawkins said he had no idea how old the skull might be and that police have no report of a missing person they can link to the find. Hawkins said he didn't know what type of analysis the skull portion might undergo in order to try to make an identification.

Cocaine charges added against prisoner

SANFORD — A man already jailed had more charges added against him Monday night. The added charges are in connection with two reported sales of cocaine to City County Investigative Bureau agents at the man's house on April 13 and 19.

Charges of sale and delivery of cocaine and sale of cocaine were added against Fermon Harmon, 40, of 305 Salina Drive, Altamonte Springs, at 8:20 p.m. Monday. Bond is $2,000.

Over 1,200 expected for Walkathon

SANFORD — About 1,200 people are expected to take part in the annual March of Dimes Walkathon beginning in Fort Mellon Park at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

Karen Westmoreland of United Telephone Company, coordinator of the event, said the 1,200 who have signed up for this year's event is about 420 more than participated last year.

Each of the participants have signed up sponsors who pledge money to the campaign. Walkers will be able to begin the 8½-mile walk through Sanford up to 9 a.m., Westmoreland said.

The walk will begin at a balloon arch on Seminole Boulevard at 7:30 a.m., with Rep. Art Grindle and Marty Salt of Channel 2 cutting the starting ribbon. Walkers will traverse a circuitous route through the older residential area of Sanford which ends back at the park. Westmoreland said the walk is expected to take about 2½ hours for most participants.

St. John's Eastern Orthodox Church

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Starting on Wednesday, April 26th, through Sunday, April 30th, St. John's Orthodox Church will be celebrating the ancient rites of Holy Week, ending on April 30th, Easter Sunday. Everyone is invited to join us in worship and fellowship as we relive the last few days of Jesus Christ.

APRIL 26th HOLY WEDNESDAY 6:30 P.M.
On this day the Priest prepares what is known as Unction Oil which is used throughout the year for the anointing of the sick and the healing of both their soul and body.

APRIL 27th HOLY THURSDAY 6:30 P.M.
Just as Jesus Himself had washed the feet of His disciples, so also on this day the Priest imitates Christ by the washing of the feet of his parishioners. This is followed by the commemoration of the Last Supper by the Priest breaking bread, and distributing it to the people along with a cup of wine. Then follows the Twelve Gospel Readings.

APRIL 28th HOLY FRIDAY 6:30 P.M.
On this day (also known as Great Lamentations or Good Friday), the day of the crucifixion of our Lord God and Savior, Jesus Christ, is a very solemn one. The Body of Christ is removed from the Cross and is wrapped in a burial shroud. Then His Body is carried around the outside of the Church followed by the people bearing candles. His Body is then brought back into the Church where it is then laid to rest in a tomb composed of flowers.

APRIL 29th HOLY SATURDAY 6:30 P.M.
Services start at nine o'clock with the reading from the book of Acts by the congregation present and everyone is invited to share in the reading if they so desire. It is during this time that confessions will be heard. At 11:00 P.M. the Vesper Service is started. After Vespers the Church is drenched until 12:00 midnight when once again the Church is illuminated with the light of Christ for the Holy Resurrection Service, and the Divine Liturgy.

APRIL 30th HOLY SUNDAY 12 NOON
Following the Easter Service a Agape Feast will be held in the Church social hall. Everyone is asked to bring a covered dish and join others in the joy of this Easter Season.

School board OK's Heathrow land use

By VICKI DeBORNIER
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The Seminole County School Board voted Tuesday to accept a parcel of land on Markham Woods Road in Heathrow that was donated to the district by the Heathrow Land and Development Corporation for use as a future site for an elementary and a middle school.

The offer was accepted pending a study by the St. John's River Water Management District, which would determine the feasibility of moving three man-made lakes to different locations on the property, and an independent soil test to be sure there is no toxic waste on the site.

There is no reason to believe there are toxic wastes on the site, but soil samples to determine the presence of such items are now federally mandated on all building sites.

Attorney Donna McIntosh, speaking on behalf of board attorney Ned Julian, who was absent, suggested the board also secure a bond to insure the board not be financially responsible in case such wastes are found on the property.

"It is important that we secure the bond in the event cleanup becomes necessary," McIntosh said.

The bond would ensure Heathrow Land and Development Corporation would pay for any cleanup necessary if toxic waste is found in the soil.

"I think we need to be sure that the donated land isn't going to cost us more than if we were buying it," added board member Nancy Warren.

Assured that the physical and legal stipulations would be met before the final approval of the deed to the land was signed, the board accepted Heathrow's offer.

Richard Wells, assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation, said construction on the site could begin within the next three to five years. Donated land not built upon within seven years is returned to the original owner.

School transportation system 'streamlined,' light may be added

By VICKI DeBORNIER
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The Seminole County School Board Tuesday approved a reorganization of the transportation department that would cost the board an additional $799 per year, but which, according to assistant superintendent Richard Wells, would help "streamline" the routing procedures in the busing district.

The plan calls for the creation of a new position, assistant supervisor of operations, and the elimination of an assistant route manager in the transportation office. Wells said the staffing changes would make handling the schedules, which include between 50 and 100 new routes since the last change was made, easier.

Wells also informed the board that the state Department of Transportation has recommended the installation of a traffic light at S.R. 434 at the entrance of the bus services center in Winter Springs. The installation is pending approval from the Seminole County Commission and the City of Winter Springs. Funding for the light will come from the State Gasoline Tax Rebate Fund.

Large traffic tie-ups caused by buses leaving and entering the facility at peak times during the day have been handled by sheriff deputies directing traffic for two and a half hours a day.

Fantastic fusion

Will Stanley Pons and Martin Fleischmann one day loom as large in the pantheon of scientific discovery as Galileo and Isaac Newton?

If, in fact, the two electrochemists have stumbled onto the secret of producing an inexhaustible supply of cheap, clean energy through nuclear fusion, they will indeed rank forever alongside history's scientific superstars. It is far too soon, however, to leap to such a conclusion.

At best, this moment is comparable to Ben Franklin's demonstration of an electrical current by flying a key on a kite string in a thunderstorm. It's impossible to foresee today what potential, if any, may ultimately derive from the tiny amounts of energy that Messrs. Pons and Fleischmann have produced at room temperature in a small jar.

The two scientists believe they have achieved a fusion reaction — the melding of two atoms into one with an attendant release of energy. Their experiment, conducted with an apparatus scarcely more complicated than a jar of water and a car battery, produced four times as much energy as it consumed, a spectacular accomplishment if confirmed. Within a matter of days after their findings were announced, other scientists around the globe claimed to have repeated the process, with widely varying results in terms of the level of energy generated.

Unlike fission, the atom-splitting process that fuels conventional nuclear reactors, fusion gives off energy by squeezing atoms together. This occurs in nature only at very high temperatures. Fusion is the process that fires the sun and other stars, as well as the hydrogen bomb.

During the last four decades, the scientific world has spent some $20 billion trying to harness fusion. Nearly all of the experimentation has focused on compressing atoms with very high levels of force, which had been thought necessary to overcome the mutually repellant electrical charges that characterize the nuclei of atoms.

But Messrs. Pons and Fleischmann may have exploited a quirk of quantum mechanics to achieve "cold fusion." If so, they have pulled off the scientific breakthrough of the century, operating on a shoestring budget and far from the mainstream of fusion research. Their tabletop device fuses atoms through a simple process that still defies explanation, even by its inventors. It is, in fact, an experiment in search of a hypothesis.

The implications of these findings, if proved, are limitless. In theory, fusion produced with plentiful sea water could readily supply an endless amount of practically free, safe energy for all power needs, from automobiles to homes and steel mills. This would liberate mankind from the mounting environmental damage caused by burning fossil fuels and reliance on fission reactors.

Imagine a world without air pollution, oil spills, the threat of the greenhouse effect, or nuclear accidents. And imagine the vast increase in human prosperity that would flow from the savings of today's high energy costs. In short, if the two unheard-of chemists have pointed the way to the practical application of fusion, their feat is more monumental than the invention of steam power and the internal-combustion engine combined.

Cable companies tune in a monopoly

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — This community is home to the University of Arkansas and its vaunted Razorback football team, but some local residents say the real pigs in town are the operators of the local cable television system.

At a public hearing late last year, one typically embittered Warner Cable customer complained that "its service is poor, its selection meager, its prices exorbitant, its technology archaic and its attitude overbearing."

Another resident of this northwestern Arkansas community called for a boycott of the cable company while a third compared it with the robber barons of an earlier era.

"Warner Gets Miserable Ratings From Public," proclaimed a headline in the local newspaper the following day. "It's an explosive situation," explained one municipal official.

The hostility toward the cable company here is matched in other communities throughout the nation, where customers complain that arrogant cable operators regularly increase prices but seldom respond to telephone inquiries and complaints in a timely manner.

Characterizing the cable industry as an "unregulated monopoly," a municipal official in Dubuque, Iowa, says "consumers too often have no choice but to pay the price and tolerate bad service" while the city government is powerless to mandate reforms.

Politicians in Charleston, W.Va., complain that the cable company serving their city, which had a pre-tax profit margin of more than 38 percent last year.

The General Accounting Office found that 25 large cable companies in Ohio increased their basic service rates an average of 27 percent during a recent two-year period. Attorneys general in at least five states are probing alleged anti-competitive practices in the industry.

When a Senate subcommittee held hearings on the topic earlier this month, its chairman, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, cited government figures that showed the cost of cable service in recent years "increased at a greater rate than any other commodity or service in the entire United States."

"The hostility toward the cable company here is matched in other communities."

Initially viewed as merely a means of bringing broadcast signals to remote rural areas, cable television now is ubiquitous and lucrative. It is available to 90 percent of the nation's households, with 60 percent of those potential customers paying to receive it. Gross revenues last year reached $14 billion.

The lack of competition became apparent to municipal officials in Fayetteville late last year, when they solicited 28 other cable providers as possible successors to Warner. Not one firm displayed any real interest in bidding for the franchise, although only nine responded negatively. The others did not even reply to the offer.

After years of frustration with the cable television industry, a 1987 law enacted in Arkansas empowered local governments to enter the cable business and compete with private operators. Another statute, passed in 1988, provided a financing mechanism — bonds could be issued by communities in which public cable systems have been approved in voter referenda.

But taking over cable operations remains a daunting task few local governments are willing to attempt. Malone notes that "there's been all kinds of citizen outcry."

Zeder deserves a closer look

WASHINGTON — George Bush, like the president before him, is loyal to his friends. Time will tell whether Bush, like his predecessor, is loyal to a fault. John Tower was the first test. Fred Zeder is the next.

Bush has picked his close pal Zeder, the former ambassador to Micronesia, to head the Overseas Private Investment Corp. The nomination, which will be considered soon by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, comes at a time when Zeder has come under scrutiny in a congressional investigation into alleged corruption in Palau, a U.S. Trust Territory in the South Pacific.

After embarrassing Bush on the Tower nomination, the Senate may feel obliged to rubber stamp the rest. But Zeder deserves a second look.

As president of the Overseas Private Investment Corp., Zeder would help American businesses invest in developing countries. The agency is supposed to steer Americans to safe foreign harbors — countries where coups, embargoes and the whims of dictators won't bankrupt a business. The agency insures investors against those political risks.

Zeder's most notorious investment advice concerning Micronesia is a disturbing example of his business acumen and international savvy.

From 1982 to 1987, he was President Reagan's negotiator in self-government talks for the Micronesian trust territories. In May 1983, he sent a State Department cable to the U.S. Embassy in London advising British banks that Palau should be able to repay a $32 million loan to finance a power plant. The banks loaned the money based on Zeder's advice and are now suing Palau to get their money back. Zeder now says his cable was misinterpreted.

Zeder's work in the South Pacific helped him gain a reputation as a businessman in ambassador's clothing. At least, that is the conclusion of some members of Congress, Interior Department officials who oversee the trust territories, and even the environmental group Greenpeace. Former Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio, told us that Congress enacted strict ethics laws in 1985 for U.S. officials in Micronesia, in part because of uneasiness over the way Zeder operated.

The General Accounting Office has spent 15 months investigating a tangle of problems surrounding the conduct of U.S. officials in Micronesia, the negotiations for self-government in Palau and the power plant deal.

We reported last summer that the now-bankrupt power company that sold Palau the plant it can't afford treated Zeder to a flight to the British Open golf tournament in Scotland in 1984. The company's bankruptcy records show plane tickets for Zeder and his wife. Zeder later repaid the company.

Zeder also refutes allegations that he introduced Palau to a New York investment firm which has since been indicted on 52 counts of fraud, bribery and obstruction of justice in the South Pacific and the United States.

Zeder quit the Micronesia post in 1987 to raise money for Bush's presidential campaign.

He told our associate Jim Lynch that he knows he has critics, but that comes with the turf. "If you don't want to create any controversy, you don't get very far." He called himself "a respected businessman."

Our source insisted on anonymity. He feared that criticizing the president's fishing buddy would kill his chances for future employment in the Bush administration.

"Zeder now says his cable was misunderstood."

GEORGE F. WILL

Wallowing in 'personal ethics'

WASHINGTON — Speaker Wright's "personal ethics" are now the focus of attention in this continental superpower. Many people, including Wright, say that whatever is to be done, "twere well it were done quickly. Nonsense. Let's all wallow in it, for weeks, months if possible."

"It is said there should be no elements of Republican revenge in this. Why ever not? It is said we must avoid an orgy of recrimination and a ruinous escalation of nastiness on the ethics front. I say let the ruminations begin. Let there be scorched earth, salt sown in the soil, not a stone left standing on another stone on Capitol Hill."

I do not know if Wright is guilty of anything, but I hope that if he is innocent he is ruined and if he is guilty he goes unpunished. Let there be no nonsense about justice at this late date for the fine folks who brought us the Bork lynching, the Tower inquisition, the Meese tormentings, and much else in the name of high-mindedness.

What part of the destruction of the Bork nomination did you find most admirable, if only for its imaginativeness? Was it anti-Bork advertising campaigns that the sponsors admitted were lies? Was it anti-Bork groups snooping around to learn what movies Bork had rented, hoping to find something naughty? (They found Fred Astaire.) Then there were all those fraudulent reports by free-lance ethicists who said they saw John Tower misbehave on occasions when they could not have seen Tower. Ah, but that was then, this is now. And two wrongs do not make a right, right?

Right. But a 14th or 18th or 23rd wrong, if the 14th or 18th or 23rd victim is a prominent Democrat, may make a cease-fire on the "personal ethics" front. And perhaps we might even get a redefinition of ethics to include behavior with an important effect on the public weal.

Suddenly a lot of Democrats are not having any fun anymore. Won't some referees blow the whistle, call time out, re-set the clock, do something? The best thing about Wright's travail is that it may cause a few hundred Democrats to decide that ethics is not such a good dodge after all.

It is lovely that Wright's case is coming to a boil as the latest bipartisan budget fraud is being perfected at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. And as, in a courthouse at the foot of Capitol Hill, the trial of Oliver North is coming to a close. Did North lie to Congress? Yes, he says so. But the lying was extraordinary and the quantity was small beer compared to the mountain of mendacity routinely shoveled out to the American people by the Bush administration and both parties in Congress concerning the annual evasions of the Gramm-Rudman deficit-reduction "law."

In the last two years under that law, the deficit has actually increased. Congress and the executive branch have conspired for their mutual convenience (that is what bipartisanahip, so much celebrated just now, really means) to fudge the assumptions and cook the books in ways which, if practiced in the private sector, might get the practitioner sent to prison.

This is the time of year for senior-class trips to Washington by high-school students. They come in brightly colored buses that sometimes park bumper-to-bumper, like benign, pretty snakes stretching down Capitol Hill. If there were criminal sanctions attached to Gramm-Rudman, there would be a snake of bumper-to-bumper paddy wagons lined up to cart Congress and some of the executive branch to jail.

Wright and North may have misbehaved with sums involving single commas. But ethics — pardon me, I mean "personal ethics" — stop with the second comma. Budgetary shell games involving three commas — billions — do not count when the subject in Washington is "ethics."

The adjective "personal" gives the game away. The subject of "personal ethics" is a device for changing the subject from the ethics-free zone of matters central to the nation's welfare. In that zone, the stakes are high and the choices are hard so there is tacit bipartisan agreement that ethics have nothing to do with it.

Actually, "personal ethics," if understood in terms of financial fastidiousness, are probably better than ever in American politics. However, today's relatively pristine ruling class will not write an honest, let alone a responsible, budget.

Better "personal" ethics and worse government — that is the result of deciding that ethical rules are about relatively little things.

"What part of the destruction of the Bork nomination did you find most admirable?"

Stocks open higher

United Press International

NEW YORK — Prices opened slightly higher Wednesday in moderate trading of New York Stock Exchange issues following the release of a government report on first-quarter economic growth.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which fell 15.77 Tuesday, was up 4.40 to 2391.31 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 465-307 among the 1,269 issues crossing the NYSE tape. Early turnover amounted to about 9,258,000 shares.

The government reported that first-quarter gross national product rose at a 5.5 percent annual rate, the biggest hike since the fourth quarter of 1987. While nearly half of the gain was attributed to the farm sector's rebound from the 1988 summer drought, it still exceeded forecasts of a 5.1 percent hike.

Meanwhile, another measure of rising prices, the GNP-based implicit price deflator, which deals with a market basket of goods, rose a more moderate 3.9 percent in the first three months of this year, the report said.

Stock prices closed lower

Tuesday in moderate trading after investors decided once again to cash in on the market's recent advance.

The market rose initially following a report that said durable goods orders in March rose just 0.8 percent, compared with forecasts of a 1.4 percent hike.

But while the report gave investors further evidence of a slowing in the economy's growth, analysts said it sparked only a brief rally and stock prices were then pressured by the effects of profit taking, as was the case Monday.

asking the Legislature to provide support starting this year.

The report details widespread deficiencies in math and science education, including a shortage of trained teachers, lax curriculums, inadequate labs and boring and repetitive textbooks.

In Seminole County recently, Oviedo High School science teacher Rich Harris brought a 10 year old textbook he is currently using in the classroom to a meeting of the Seminole County School Board.

Seminole County's Boyer reported the National Association of Math Educators have set up plans to establish a national math curriculum that deemphasizes computing skills that are more easily performed by calculators and high speed computers and places more emphasis on thinking skills.

Already in place in the Seminole County schools is a curriculum which teaches thinking skills to students from very early grades. The skills are being taught as part of not only the math and sciences, but also the language arts and social studies as well.

The plan by a task force of 28 educators and business leaders calls for stronger and more entertaining curriculums with more hands-on training including field trips, laboratory work and attention to vocational applications of classroom work.

The plan also calls for incentives to boost the number of math and science teachers. It is estimated Florida universities will train only 24 percent of the math and science teachers needed through the year 2000.

Bush, Reagan meet in L.A.

LOS ANGELES — President Bush and Ronald Reagan had a personal date to get together today for the first time since Reagan turned over the White House to his long-time political understudy on Jan. 20.

The meeting, set for Reagan's 34th floor office at the Fox Plaza, also will mark the first time they have seen each other since a published report last month rattled the White House, upset Bush, stung Reagan and is said to have riled Reagan's wife Nancy.

A Knight-Ridder story quoted unidentified Bush aides as describing Reagan as having been lazy and inattentive while president, a sharp contrast to what they characterized as the hard-charging and focused new president.

Although the White House refuted the report of Reagan-bashing, it warned aides not to engage in such badmouthing of the 78-year-old former chief executive.

Largest jackpot drawing tonight

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Pennsylvania's Super 7 lottery soared to at least $100 million for the eagerly awaited drawing tonight in the largest jackpot ever in North America.

Lottery Executive Director James Scroggins said Tuesday that "the actual value could easily go beyond $100 million" because of frantic buying by thousands of gamblers who traveled from all over the country for a chance at fabulous riches.

If one person matches seven of 11 numbers, it would be the largest prize ever collected by an individual, beating out the $55.1 million lottery pot won by Sheelah Ryan of Seminole County, Florida in September.

The jackpot dwarfed a $69.9 million prize split earlier this month by four winners of the Illinois lottery as the highest ever offered in North America.

Mississippi judge impeached

WASHINGTON — The House Judiciary Committee unanimously recommended impeachment of U.S. District Judge Walter Nixon of Mississippi — the second jurist in less than a year to face ouster from the federal bench.

Last August, the House impeached U.S. District Judge Alcee Hastings, Florida's first black federal judge, on 17 misconduct charges related to his 1983 bribery trial.

Legal abortion arguments heard

United Press International

WASHINGTON — As the Supreme Court headed today toward yet another look at the ruling that legalized abortion, both sides of the emotional issue believed the court may have reached a pivotal point.

That belief has focused intense interest on an anti-abortion law from Missouri that was scheduled for oral argument before the court Wednesday morning.

The case is the first big test of the legality of abortion to be accepted by the Supreme Court since it returned to full strength last year with the confirmation of Justice Anthony Kennedy, whose views could be critical to the future of the landmark 1973 Roe vs. Wade ruling, which legalized abortion.

The Missouri case, fueling the ongoing controversy over abortion, has attracted national attention. Anti-abortion advocates who hoped to hear the arguments began lining up outside the Supreme Court building Monday night.

Monday night.

The most recent major abortion case before the court was resolved on a 4-4 vote. The tie upheld the lower court ruling that struck down portions of an Illinois law that dealt with a minor's access to abortion.

The 1988 Missouri abortion law includes a variety of provisions that range from declaring that life begins at conception and that "unborn children have protectable interests in life, health and well-being," to provisions banning the use of state funds, employees or public facilities for abortions.

The law also requires that doctors, prior to performing an abortion on any woman whom a doctor has reason to believe is 20 or more weeks pregnant, perform tests to determine the viability of the fetus.

The federal government and a number of states have bans on the use of public funds for abortion and the Supreme Court, in rulings in 1977 and 1980, generally upheld the bans.

Japanese trade subject of debate

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Debate over whether the Japanese should be cited for unfair trading practices heated up Tuesday and Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., said Japan should be placed on a list of nations that have damaged U.S. economic interests.

At the same time a panel of American and Japanese government officials, including former Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker, offered the opposite opinion. They said the use of threats and force, as spelled out in the landmark 1988 trade reform law, would hurt more than help.

"I think Japan should be on the list," said Gephardt. He ran for president last year on a platform calling for tough measures to tear down barriers to U.S. sales in Japan and other countries. Gephardt made the comments at a trade forum sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, an industry lobbying group.

Under the "Super 301" section of the new trade law, U.S. Trade Representative Carla Hills has until May 30 to identify countries that persistently place unfair barriers to U.S. trade. If negotiations to remove the barriers fail, the law calls for strong retaliation, with tariffs up to 100 percent on imports from those nations.

The pressure on Hills has been enormous. Members of Congress have publicly warned Hills that failure to target Japan — which has enjoyed annual trade surpluses of more than $50 billion in recent years — would gut the new trade law.

Japan and other possible targets of Super 301, however, have warned that being targeted would result in an anti-American backlash that could harm U.S. business.

Dear Mr. Doyle:

We are writing to express our overall satisfaction with the Sanford Herald and to commend Gary Heffer, advertising consultant.

As new health practitioners serving the Lake Mary/Sanford/Longwood communities, your paper provides the perfect avenue to introduce our practice and reach those people in need of foot care. To date, the Sanford Herald has been one of our best patient referral sources.

Mr. Heffer has demonstrated a keen understanding of our advertising needs through his suggestions and layouts. In addition, he has been extremely accessible and prompt in responding to our questions, and is a pleasure to work with.

We look forward to growing with the Sanford Herald and the rest of Seminole county.

Very sincerely yours,

IN BRIEF

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Brewers respond to Deer's call

Rob Deer hit a game-winning home run Monday that sounded reveille, and the slumbering Milwaukee Brewers bats awakened Tuesday with an impressive display of power.

Deer's two-run homer with two outs in the ninth inning Monday night gave Milwaukee a 5-4 victory over Minnesota and the Brewers followed their slugger's example by belting five homers in a 10-4 shellacking of the Minnesota Twins.

"Robbie's home run last night definitely lifted the ballclub after we had been struggling," second baseman Paul Molitor said.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit bested Seattle 5-2, Milwaukee ripped Minnesota 10-4, Texas outscored Cleveland 11-7, Boston blanked Chicago 11-0, Kansas City nipped New York 5-3, Oakland edged Toronto 3-2 and Baltimore blasted California 8-1.

NBA PLAYOFFS

No secrets in Knicks vs. 76ers

Among the many first-round matchups in the NBA playoffs is an intriguing one involving the New York Knicks and Philadelphia 76ers.

The Atlantic Division champion Knicks open against the runner-up 76ers Thursday night at Madison Square Garden in the best-of-five series. New York finished the season at 52-30, six games ahead of the Sixers.

But Philadelphia, behind the inspired play of forward Charles Barkley, won the season series 4-2. And though the Knicks were an impressive 35-8 at home this season, two of those losses were to Philadelphia.

"There are few secrets," Philadelphia Coach Jim Lynam said. "It has the potential to be a terrific series. Playing them well in the playoffs is no different than playing them well in the regular season. You have to deal with their pressure and their trap."

NHL PLAYOFFS

Sore-necked Mario turns heads

Mario Lemieux, who lived in the shadow of the Montreal Forum until joining the NHL, overshadowed the Canadiens on the night they advanced to the Stanley Cup semifinal.

Hours after Lemieux was unable to fully turn his injured neck, he turned the heads of the NHL by tying two league playoff records with four first-period goals and eight points in Pittsburgh's 10-7 triumph over Philadelphia. Lemieux's performance gave the Penguins a 3-2 lead over the Flyers in the Stanley Cup quarterfinals.

In the other Wales Conference semifinal, the Canadiens eliminated the Boston Bruins in five games with a 3-2 decision, the fourth by that score in the series and Montreal's eighth straight one-goal game.

Belcher ruins Wrigley birthday

CHICAGO — Los Angeles Dodgers pitcher Tim Belcher put a quick end to a festive celebration marking the 75th birthday of Wrigley Field.

Belcher fired a five-hitter Tuesday night for his second consecutive shutout and stroked a pair of hits, including a two-run double, leading Los Angeles to a 4-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

It was the Dodgers sixth victory in the last seven outings and the Cubs seventh loss in eight games.

"Throw strikes and stay ahead of the hitters," said Belcher. "Those are the keys to pitching, and for the most part that's what I accomplished tonight. The few times that I didn't, they got themselves out."

Elsewhere around the National League, it was: San Diego 1, Pittsburgh 0; New York 2, Atlanta 1; Cincinnati 6, Montreal 1; Houston 4, Philadelphia 1; and San Francisco 4, St. Louis 0.

County teams perfect in 4A-9

By TONY DESORMIER

DeLAND — It took just one day to turn the Class 4A-District 9 baseball tournament into an all-Seminole County affair.

On Tuesday at DeLand's Conrad Park, Lake Mary, Lake Brantley and Lake Howell all won their first round games to join top-seed Lyman in the semifinals (which will be played Thursday at Lake Mary High School).

In the first game Tuesday, Lake Howell defeated Mainland 5-4 in eight innings. Then Lake Brantley blanked Spruce Creek 4-0 and, in the nightcap, Lake Mary dusted DeLand 10-0 in a game called after five innings because of the mercy rule. Lyman had a first-round bye.

Lake Howell's Silver Hawks, who will face the Lake Mary Rams at 7 p.m. on Thursday at Lake Mary, had leads of 1-0 and 4-3 before having to go to extra innings to defeat Mainland. The winning run scored when Luis Quevara opened the eighth with a triple and came home on Jimmy Ivester's rbi single.

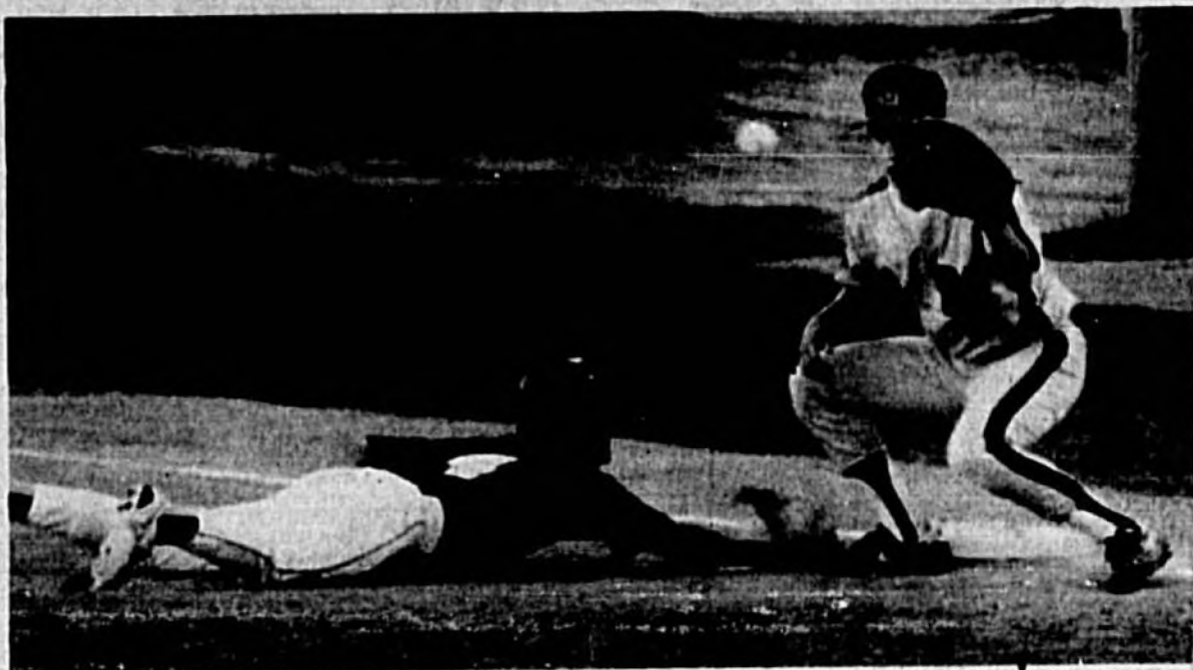

"We played a pretty good ball game," said Lake Howell coach Birto Benjamin. "It was a matter of wanting our defense to play well. That was our key concern. We didn't make an error and we hung in there. We feel that if we play good defense, our pitchers will keep us in there."

Benjamin started with ace Dwayne Clark on Tuesday, but after he had given up four earned runs on 12 hits, Eric Melendez was called in. Melendez pitched the final two and two-thirds innings, shutting out Mainland on one hit.

The Silver Hawks had taken an early 1-0 lead in the game when John Bagley doubled and Bobby Lieflander scored him with a single in the top of the third inning. After Mainland went up 3-1, Bagley ripped a three-run home run in the top of the fifth inning to give Lake Howell a 4-3 advantage.

In the Lake Brantley/Spruce Creek clash, the story was Mitch Shatto, who shut out Spruce Creek on three hits. In their two previous Lake Mary first baseman Joe DiFrancesco (right) probably didn't know what he was starting when he drew a first inning walk in the Rams' game against DeLand on Tuesday. By the time it was over, DeLand pitchers had walked 11 batters in a 10-0 Lake Mary win.

Oviedo in, Seminole out at 3A-6

KISSIMMEE — Osceola came up with four runs in the top of the first inning to pace the way to an 8-1 decision over Seminole in the opening round of District 3A-6 Tuesday night at Osceola Stadium in Kissimmee.

In other first round action top seeded Kissimmee Gateway downed Bishop Moore 6-0 and will play Oviedo, who nipped Edgewater 3-1. Osceola will now play St. Cloud, who downed Leesburg 11-4.

"Mike Senecek didn't have his good stuff tonight and they came out hitting the ball," Seminole coach Mike Powers said. "When your ace isn't on and the other team hits the ball, then you lose. We have a young team, though. We only lose three seniors and we'll be back."

The Kowboys, 20-7, used two hits, two walks and a crucial error to score their four runs in the first inning. After the leadoff batter grounded out, Scott Birchler was hit by a pitch. Gabe Gaston followed with a single to place runners on first and second. Les Vermillion then drew a walk to load the bases before designated hitter Mark Wilkins walked to bring in a run.

After the second out of the inning, Paul Shippe hit a grounder to short that was thrown low, allowing two runs to score. David Hiers then stroked a single up the middle to bring in the final run of the inning and give Osceola a 4-0 lead.

The Kowboys added three more runs in the top of the third inning to blow the game open. □ See 3A-6, Page 3B

Careers of ex-Raiders will go on

By DEAN SMITH

Seminole Community College today announced the signing of three ex-players to basketball grant in aid for next year.

Terrell Barnes and Terry Acox both signed with Armstrong State College of Savannah, Georgia to finish their careers while Robert Ricciardelli has announced his intention to play for Flagler College of St. Augustine.

Barnes was named the Seminole Community College Most Valuable Player this year after leading the team in scoring at 16.3 points per game and averaging 7.5 rebounds. He was named to the All-Conference Team for the second straight season and played in the North-South All-Star game at the State Tournament.

Acox also played in the All-Star game after making All-Conference and was the Raiders' best rebounder at 8.8 per contest. He also averaged 14.6 points per game.

Coach Doug Riley of Armstrong expects both young men to step right in and start at the forward spots. He also expects to make a run at the Division II National rankings with the addition of these two players.

Riley has brought Armstrong back to respectability in just two years at the school, going 6-22 in his first season before improving to 18-8 this past year.

Ricciardelli, who was given the Mr. Hustle award this year, is an PENSACOLA — Miami-Dade South Community College ended the most successful softball season in Seminole Community College history with a win over the Lady Raiders this past weekend in the Florida Community College Activities Association state tournament.

Using a five-run fourth inning, Miami-Dade South came from behind to defeat the Lady Raiders 8-3. The loss sent Seminole, 32-18, home with a fifth place finish in their first state tournament appearance.

Seminole got off to a good start in the tournament, defeating Palm Beach Junior College 6-2 as Kim King and Sue Migliori both had two run-scoring triples. Sandy Rodriguez and Theresa Lisk also had runs batted in for the Lady Raiders.

King, Rodriguez, and Tracie Smith had two hits each, with Lisk, Migliori, Becky Arrowood, and Jaudon Jonas

Santa Fe Saints rally to beat SCC Raiders

GAINESVILLE — Santa Fe Community College scored three runs in each of the sixth and eighth innings as the Saints came from behind to defeat Seminole Community College 11-7 in Mid-Florida Conference baseball action Monday afternoon.

Joe Russo, the regular Saint third baseman, came on in relief with two on and no one out in the eighth and proceeded to retire all six men he faced, the first five by strike out, as he saved the victory for Rick Skelton.

The win boosted Santa Fe's record to 24-14 overall and 11-10 in the conference. Seminole fell to 11-27 overall and 6-16 in the conference.

Seminole's last regular season game is tentatively scheduled for Saturday when the Raiders might travel to Palatka to take on St. John's River Community College. The game will be played only if St. John's still

Lyman, Lake Brantley share same golf dream

By JIM RICKENBACHER
 Herald Correspondent

Two high school coaches from different teams share the same dream heading into Thursday's District 6 golf tournament at Windermere Country Club.

Beating much-heralded Dr. Phillips is something Lyman coach Mick Harris and Lake Brantley coach Jim Estocin realize can happen, providing two things take place.

Their teams must play up to potential, perhaps better than expected, to have a chance to topple what may be one of America's talent-laden teams. And Dr. Phillips' scores must soar somewhat or else the Panthers will have a walk-away at Windermere.

Not that Lyman doesn't have the experience to capture the district tournament and earn a trip to next week's state tournament in Sarasota.

"We're not intimidated in any way," said Harris, whose Greyhounds finished second to Brantley in last week's Seminole Athletic Conference championship at Deer Run. "Some of our guys have known some of Dr. Phillips' players for years and have competed against them in Orlando-Land and USGA events."

"And we're going to be paired with Dr. Phillips in the (district) tournament."

Lyman, 14-0 in the regular season before bowing to Brantley by two shots last week, has four seniors among its top five. Led by long-hitting Danny Albert and senior classmate Murphy Reynolds, the Greyhounds hope to use the SAC Tournament as a springboard for Thursday's tournament.

"I'm not one to make excuses," Harris said, "but our first four guys had their Senior Prom two nights before the SAC Tournament. They were definitely out of sync. But when we won the conference tournament in 1987 and 1988, it seemed to put a lot of pressure on our guys going into the district tournament."

"If we'd won the SAC tournament with a low score, it would have hurt us more than helped us."

Estocin viewed the Patriots' triumph at the conference tournament as a confidence-builder heading into the district tournament. He hopes his guys can shave a few shots off what has basically been a team known for its consistency.

Like Harris, Estocin is well aware that beating Dr. Phillips is a tall order. Especially since the Panthers finished third behind winner Winter Park and upstart Oviedo last year on the same course.

First Federal scores Major win; Junior Majors begin play

By DEAN SMITH
Herald correspondent

First Federal scored five runs in the top of the fifth inning to break an 8-8 tie en route to a 13-11 victory over the Sanford Police Benevolence Association in National Division action of the Sanford Little Major Baseball League at West Side Field Tuesday afternoon.

were a two-run single by Herbert River and a two-run triple by Rod Brown.

First Federal led 7-1 after two innings of play as B. Dixon struck out four SPBA batters. But SPBA, behind a two-run home run by Danny Watson and a bases-loaded triple by Joe Young, came back to score seven runs in the third and fourth innings to gain a tie.

First Federal then had the five-run fifth to go ahead 13-8. But SPBA refused to quit, scoring a run from second on a ground out in the fifth and getting a two-run home run from Joe Young in the sixth.

But with the tying run on second with two out, winning pitcher Fred Brown struck out the last batter swinging to end the game.

First Federal only had four hits in the contest. Brown had a triple and two rbi; River drove in two runs and scored three; Shawn Eason had a single, one run batted in, and scored two runs; and Eddie Key had a single and a run scored. Lorenzo Dixon drove in one run and scored two, and Bobby Fisher scored one run.

For SPBA, Danny Watson had a single, double, home run, three rbi and a run scored. Joe Young had a triple, home run, five rbi and two runs scored; Tim Watson hit a single and a triple, scored two runs and drove in one; James Young had a single, double, and scored twice; and Phillip Reynolds had a hit and scored a run. Also contributing were Cedric Church with an rbi and a run scored, and Sean Jesse and Jermalne Mackey with one run scored each.

scored two runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings to overcome a 7-6 deficit to post the win. In addition to Bryant, Henderson had two hits, two runs scored and a run batted in while Johnny Dennis collected two hits, one run scored, and one run batted in.

Also contributing were Ray June and Tony Taylor with a single, a run scored, and an rbi each; Daryl Davis with a single and a run scored; Eric Roberts with two runs scored; and Craig Merkers with a run scored.

Junior Major League

The Sanford Junior Major Baseball League for boy's ages 13 and 14 opened with a pair of games Monday evening at Chase Park.

In the first game, Britt Henderson threw a six-hitter and Deamion Bryant drove in two runs with a pair of singles as the Knights of Columbus opened its defense of its 1988 City Championship with a 10-8 victory over the Moose.

In the second game, the Braves scored five runs in the top of the fourth to break a 5-5 tie as Peterson threw a no-hitter to defeat Rotary 10-7.

The Knights of Columbus

For the Moose, Lawrence McIntyre had a single, double, and two rbi; Leroy Kelt with a single, a run scored, and three rbi; J.J. Bell with a triple and a run scored; Victor Graham with a single and a run batted in; and Dom Hunt with a single.

Neville Fuller scored three runs, and Bernard Sparrow, Reginald Braxton, and Andreas Keys scored one run each.

Bender led the Braves with a triple, a run scored and three runs driven in.

has a shot at post-season play.

on Monday, the Raiders fell behind early as Santa Fe came up with four runs in the bottom of the second inning on three hits, two walks, and two ground outs. But Seminole, which played without three starters who stayed at school to take final exams, came right back with four of its own in the top of the third.

David Leugers was hit by a pitch to start the rally and advanced to second on a ground out. Then Dale Stevens singled to score Leugers and Jim Waring walked. After a grounder forced Stevens at third and Byron Overstreet walked to load the bases. Rick Hargraves, who hadn't swung a bat all season because he has been pitching, lined a double to clear the bases and tie the score.

The Saints took the lead back in the fourth when a hit batsman was followed by three walks to force in Lee Lewis with the go-ahead run, only to see Seminole re-assumed the lead in the sixth when Bret White and Leugers walked, and Ted Lamar launched a three-run home run to left to make the score 7-5 Raiders.

But that was the last hit Seminole would get as first Skelton, then Russo came on in relief of starter Mickey Mickley to shut out the Raiders the rest of the way.

Santa Fe took the lead back for good in its half of the sixth when, with one out, Tim Merrick reached on a dropped third strike. That was followed by a single by Bryon Steller, a run scoring single by Russo, and a two-run double by Mark Ries.

The Saints scored their final three runs in the eighth off losing pitcher Don Newhouse when Darin Tufo doubled, Juan Scheele and Gary Wood walked, and Lewis cleared the bases with a double to right.

Vermillion led off with a walk and, after a strikeout, scored when John Pupura ripped a double that went to the left field wall. After the second out of the inning Hiers reached on an infield single to place runners on the corners.

Mark Ruanak then singled in Pupura and Todd Carroll walked. An error on a pickoff attempt allowed Ruanak to score and increase Osceola's lead to 7-0. The Kowboys stretched their lead to eight in the fourth inning when Gaston singled, moved to third on a hit-and-run hit by Vermillion and scored on Pupura's fielder's choice that was thrown away.

Seminole, which finished with a 9-14 mark, came up with its run in the bottom of the fifth when Ron Cox led off with a single, stole second and third and scored when Bubba Coral reached on an error.

"We had a real good season and we wish our seniors the best of luck," Powers said. "All of them are good kids and fine ballplayers that will be missed next year."

Oviedo scored all three of its runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to claim its opening round victory. The Lions, 14-14, will hope to upset topseeded Kissimmee Gateway, a team it has not faced this season.

"We haven't faced Gateway this year but we're expecting a real good game with them," Oviedo coach Mike Ferrell said. "With the teams we've played we're prepared, these teams don't stack up to the teams we played in the conference or the teams we faced in the Apopka tournament."

Freshman catcher Kevin Twigg led off the beginning of the fourth by reaching on an error as the Edgewater shortstop's throw was high and the firstbasemen tag hit Twigg and the ball popped out of the mitt.

Jason Huish then dropped down a beautiful bunt on the third base line that went for a hit. Edgewater's pitcher and third baseman converged on the ball and threw to first. Twigg then raced to third as the bag was left uncovered to leave runners on the corners. Huish then stole second and their were two runners in scoring position with no one out.

Todd Teixeira then singled to bring in the games first run and B.J. Calapa came into pinch run and stole second and again Oviedo had runners on second and third with no outs. After two consecutive outs Dubba Fore came up to pinch hit and was intentionally walked.

Greg Hughes then, as he has done all season, came up and provided the clutch hit for the Lions as he ripped a 2-2 pitch over second base to score two runs and give his team a 3-0 advantage.

The Eagles came up with a run in the sixth but Oviedo came up with a heads up defensive play and picked off a runner trying to stretch a hit and prevented a possible rally.

"All we did was hit the cut off man and we came up with the big out," Ferrell said. "We've stressed hitting that cut off man and, even though it's a simple play, it works to your advantage most of the time."

Jody Spelman pitched a strong game for the Lions finishing with 10 strikeouts while walking four and allowing four hits.

meetings this season. Spruce Creek had ripped Lake Brantley pitching for 22 runs.

"Mitch only threw 76 pitches," said Lake Brantley coach Mike Smith, whose team will play the Lyman Greyhounds at 4 p.m. on Thursday at Lake Mary. "He just pitched in and out, up and down, changing speeds. I don't think he threw a pitch over 78 miles an hour."

Shatto got all the runs he needed in the first inning. Eddie Zaremba opened the home half of the first with a walk and took second on Greg Thomas' single. After the two advanced a base on a pass ball, they scored on an error by the Spruce Creek third baseman.

Zaremba also scored the Patriots' third run, leading off the third with a single, moving to second on a pass ball, taking third on a ground ball and scoring on a wild pitch. Later that inning, Jason Varitek (who reached base via a walk) scored on Terry Brown's rbi single.

After all that excitement, the Lake Mary/DeLand contest was definite change. The Rams took advantage of six first-inning walks (five that came consecutively with two but on 21 pitches) to score 8-0 runs and cruise to the victory.

The early bulge allowed Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle to pull starter Alex Birle after four innings. In that time, Birle allowed just an infield hit, striking out six without walking a batter.

"He threw 42 pitches (while facing 15 hitters). That's like a Tuesday afternoon workout," said Tuttle. "They (DeLand) did help us out a bit."

Without a doubt, Aftall, Lake Mary only had six hits in the five innings played, two by designated hitter Derek Wolfe. But the four young men DeLand sent to the mound walked 11 batters while the Bulldog defense made three errors.

Warm weather means eating lighter meals

The warm weather is about to descend upon us again and that usually means that lighter meals are now to our liking. Salads, fruits, vegetables, meats and fish can provide many nutrients in a "lite," satisfying way.

The microwave oven makes preparing salads even easier than before; the vegetables will have a better color, gelatins will be smoother, meats will cook quicker, and preparation time as a whole will be shorter. Cream cheese can be softened in less than a minute and water brought to a boil quickly.

While asparagus is still available, try this salad.

Make salads for Memorial Day fun

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For many, Memorial Day kicks off the summer season with outdoor cookouts, picnics and alfresco lunch breaks.

Salads are high on the list of easy-to-make dishes for the final long weekend for many since President's Day in February. Out-of-the-can beans matched with vegetables or fruits go well with all meats, chicken, fish or turkey. Also perfect for a cookout are the delicate new potatoes in season. Try them with mustard seed and curry as a flavor change that blends well with grilled or roasted items. These may be prepared in advance and reheated.

JARLSBERG FOUR-BEAN SALAD

1 15-ounce can chick peas, drained
1 15-ounce can dark red kidney beans, drained
1 10-ounce package frozen cut green beans, cooked and drained
1 10-ounce package frozen lima beans, cooked and drained
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1 small purple onion, sliced and separated into rings
1/4 cup chopped parsley
2 cups Jarlsberg cheese, cut in julienne strips

For Dressing:

1/2 cup olive oil
1/4 cup red-wine vinegar
1 small clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon coarse ground pepper

In a large bowl, combine salad ingredients, topping with Jarlsberg cheese.

In a measuring cup, combine salad-dressing ingredients. Blend well. Pour over salad, tossing to blend. Cover and chill well for at least one hour before serving. If desired, serve over lettuce leaves. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

FRUITED BEAN SALAD

1 cup cooked green beans
1/2 cup chick peas
1/4 cup cut-up orange sections
1/4 cup chopped red pepper
1/4 cup chopped purple onion
1/2 cup cubed Qjetoi cheese
1/4 cup bottled Italian dressing
8 jumbo shell pasta, cooked and chilled

A special gift for the woman in your life from South Seminole Community Hospital.

Give a mammogram gift certificate

A simple mammogram screen that can detect breast cancers too small to be felt is recommended by the American Cancer Society for women age 35 and above. Unfortunately, women tend to put off this simple low dose x-ray exam, preferring instead to take care of other family needs.

Recognizing this fact, South Seminole Community Hospital in Longwood now makes available a mammogram gift certificate for that special woman in your life. Since one in ten women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime, a mammogram could be the most important gift you ever give.

For information, please call Ken Peach at the hospital at 767-1200.

Behind every great man stands...his mother?

That special combination of gentleness, attentiveness and love of a mother commands a quiet but strong respect. Often, it inspires one to aspire in adulthood.

The Sanford Herald is searching for a mother worthy of our annual Outstanding Mom title. But we need our readers—whether kin or friend—to help us by writing letters of nomination, to be reviewed by a panel of judges.

Judging will be based on the quality, rather than quantity, of letters; therefore, only one letter need be written per nominee.

Here's how to enter: Write us a letter about your nominee, telling us why this mom is so special. Letters should be typed or printed legibly. Write the nominee's name, street address, city and daytime phone number at the top of the page. Then write her qualifications or why she's outstanding. At the end of the letter, write your name, address, telephone number and age (if under 18). Mail to "Outstanding Mom," Sanford Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, FL 32771.

There is no maximum length limit on letters of nomination.

All entries are due at the Herald office by 1 p.m. on Thursday, May 1.

The top three winners will be featured in the Mother's Day edition of the Herald, Sunday, May 14, and will receive plaques.

A listing of all qualifying nominees will be published in that issue as well.

Who's cooking?

The Sanford Herald welcomes suggestions for cooks of the week.

Do you know someone whose food is always the highlight of company picnics, church potlucks, receptions or covered-dish luncheons? It might be an acquaintance who has won a cooking contest or invented a new twist to the peanut-butter-and-jelly sandwich.

Novice cooks and ethnic cooks, as well as experienced cooks and master chefs, add a different dimension to dining. Who is your choice? Maybe it's your mother, father, brother, sister, son, daughter, spouse, friend or boss.

Submit your nomination for Cook of the Week to the Herald People editor at 322-2611, ext. 34.

EVEN IT UP!

GIVE YOUR CHANGE TO FEED THE HUNGRY.

The statistics about hunger in America are shocking. More and more children and elderly people don't have enough to eat. But you can help make a change for the better. WINN-DIXIE and The Salvation Army have put together a simple, effective program called "Even It Up." When you buy groceries, just ask your cashier to "even up" your grocery total to the next dollar. The funds collected will go to The Salvation Army to provide fresh food items for needy families.

Fallopian pregnancy won't grow normally

MEDICINE

PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A friend was pregnant in the Fallopian tube. She had surgery. Was there a chance the baby could have grown normally?

DEAR READER: No. In order for a fertilized ovum (egg) to develop into a fetus, it must implant on suitable territory: that is, the uterine lining.

Occasionally, the embryo becomes attached at an inappropriate place, such as in the Fallopian tube.

Ordinarily, fertilization occurs at the fringed beginning of the Fallopian tube, a long muscular pipe that connects the ovary to the uterus.

The fertilized egg then begins to divide and, while dividing and growing, passes the length of the Fallopian tube and eventually adheres to the uterine lining where it matures.

For unknown reasons, the fertilized egg may prematurely adhere to the lining of the Fallopian tube. In many cases, however, this is due to chronic scarring of the tube. Known as a tubal pregnancy, this situation is serious because the Fallopian tube is not adapted to sustain growth of the fetus.

In tubal pregnancy, surgery is necessary to remove the product of conception and, if indicated, to repair the tube.

The diagnosis of tubal pregnancy can be difficult. Abdominal pain, positive pregnancy tests and an abdominal mass are the cardinal signs. However, laparotomy (surgical exploration of the abdominal cavity) may be necessary to diagnose the condition and treat it.

Some women appear to be particularly susceptible to tubal pregnancies. A woman who has had a tubal pregnancy has a 20 percent chance of having another. Doctors can help determine likelihood by checking the condition of the tubes when they remove the tubal pregnancy. For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Contraception: An Update." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Despite his worthless doubleton in spades, South rebid one no-trump to show his minimum hand. It would have been better to raise hearts immediately than to bid no-trump without the shadow of a spade stopper.

of hearts. East won the queen of hearts and returned the jack of spades (just in case declarer had started with 10-x of spades).

South then cashed dummy's queen of clubs and led a club back to his king, leaving West with the good jack of clubs. Now South played the 10 of hearts, hoping that the heart honors were split, but East won the king of hearts and played a heart back to dummy. That left declarer with only nine tricks, with a chance that the end position would create the 10th trick.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol YOUR BIRTHDAY April 27, 1989

Major revisions in your outlook and attitude are likely in the year ahead. You will grow in self-esteem and others will also hold you in higher regard. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Draw on your past experience today because you might have to deal with something similar to something you didn't handle too well previously.

so, they'll be pulling for you and they'll be pleased if you succeed. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be much admired by your peers today, yet there's a chance you'll not be aware of it. Too bad you can't see yourself as others see you. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your greatest asset today is your ability to effectively manage situations that others have bungled.

make an effort to see that the other guy fares as well from the situation as you do. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If there is something of importance you want to accomplish today, don't wait on others to get the project moving. Be a controller, not one who is controlled. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Put your imagination to work constructively today because it will be helpful in giving you the types of results you desire.
