

Farmers' Markets Say 1948 Plantings Are Ahead Of '47

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 23 (Special)—Reports from three of the vegetable markets which handled record-breaking quantities of produce the past two seasons show plantings are underway in excess of even last year's records," said William L. Wilson, Director of State Farmers' Markets in his weekly markets report today.

M. E. Williams, manager of the Fort Pierce State Farmers' Market reports, "Tomato planting in the area served by the Fort Pierce market continued at a rapid rate this past week. Present indications are that a record crop will be planted in this area, perhaps an increase of 1,500 to 2,000 acres over the record of this past Spring season."

Frank E. Coner, Manager of the Wauchula State Farmers' Market advises, "The outlook for a large fall crop in this section is very good. Considerable pepper and eggplant have been set out already and much land is ready for the planting of cucumbers. At least one grower in this section has some very early cucumbers which are within two weeks of picking. Another has produced cucumbers of the Puerto Rican variety during the summer months. Some damping off of pepper plants has been reported but on the whole conditions are very favorable."

C. S. Phillips, Manager of the Florida City State Farmers' Market reports, "We have approximately 50 acres of pepper already planted in our section. Some is already coming up. I believe there will be about 50 acres more planted. The acreage will run about half Florida Giants peppers and half California Wonders."

"I crawled under a British sector fence to take pictures of the British signs designating their sector. I walked midway into the street. In my mind, I am not sure whether I crossed the dividing line."

"I was careful to remain within the white line which marks the British sector. From there I took some pictures and I may have stepped back a foot or two into the Soviet sector. (Military police said the distance did not involve more than five feet at the most.)"

"I snapped a couple of pictures and then, as I looked over my shoulder, I saw a jeep with three Soviet soldiers. One soldier jumped out and cut off my escape to the British sector. Another seized my camera. Two then grabbed me by the arms, put me into a jeep and took me to a nearby Soviet police station."

"Before you could say Winston Churchill, I had it."

"At the station, I was interrogated. I was told it was forbidden to take pictures of the Potsdamer Platz, which the Russians said was in the Soviet sector."

"They accused me of taking pictures of Soviet soldiers. I denied this."

Heiden said he immediately identified himself, but that this seemed to have no effect. The Russians refused him permission to telephone American authorities and took him to a Soviet headquarters jail. His story continued:

"I was put in a cell with a three-tiered wooden bunk with a raised end as a pillow. The cell was clean, but poorly lighted. I was told I would have to follow the usual rules for inmates, namely that I could not be down between 5 A. M. and 11 P. M."

Headquarters of the Western Sector German police announced Russian soldiers invaded the American sector of Berlin again to seize a German photographer.

This was at least the fourth reported violation of the Western Sector police jurisdiction in Central Berlin since the state of civil war between rival East and West police forces began last Thursday with a riot in the no-man's land of Potsdamer Platz.

Western Police Headquarters announced that Franz Erdmann, head of the criminal division of the Soviet-controlled police, was released after his arrest yesterday by British sector police while he was watching a boxing match in the Olympic Stadium.

The statement said charges of abduction and "presumption of authority" against Erdmann, lodged in connection with the arrest of about 20 Western Zone policemen by Eastern forces since the split, still stand.

The Cardinal said the "Babe Ruth Stadium" will be "in memory of him—whose mortal remains were blessed last week in St. Patrick's Cathedral and which now rest at peace near the site of this new school."

Fight Continues For High Citrus Standard

ORLANDO, Aug. 23. (AP)—Five Florida political leaders joined forces today to back the Florida citrus Commission's request for higher maturity standards from the U.S.D.A.

A strongly worded wire was sent to Washington by Sen. Claude Pepper, Democratic gubernatorial nominee Full Warren, Rep. Joe Hendricks, Democratic nominee for Congress, Syd Herlenz Jr., and Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Mayo.

The requests for tighter maturity tests came from the five after they received word from Washington that U.S.D.A. had decided to reject the Citrus Commission's request to raise maturity requirements from 8 1/2 to 9, an effort to halt shipments of immature citrus.

Judgment Is Filed In Leon Court By Progressive Party

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Progressive Party of Florida today asked the Leon Circuit Court to decide whether it can legally use gummed stickers in voting for presidential electors in the November general election.

A bill for a declaratory judgment directed against Secretary of State R. A. Gray, was filed with the Leon clerk of court by John M. Coe, Pensacola attorney, who said he is Florida chairman of the Progressive Party.

Coe said the party plans to print and distribute gummed stickers, listing the names of electors pledged to vote for Henry A. Wallace for President, which would be attached to the general election ballot.

In his bill of complaint, Coe

cited two previous opinions by Attorney General Tom Watson ruling the use of gummed stickers was legal.

Coe said Secretary of State Gray contends use of the stickers would be illegal and would make the voter using a sticker liable to criminal prosecution. No date has been set for a hearing on Coe's bill.

Under present Florida law, only the names of electors for the Democratic and Republican parties will appear on the November election ballot.

A movement is now underway to have Governor Caldwell call a special session of the legislature to revise the laws. Charles O. Andrews, of Orlando has proposed a bill which would name the electors of all presidential candidates, including President Truman, Republican Thomas E. Dewey, Democrat J. Strom Thurmond and Wallace, and a write in space for any other candidate.

As Lomakin alighted from his automobile, truckmen were completing the loading of a number of crates, paintings and other property brought out of the Consulate.

ate change in current military operations.

Some Navy men have been contending that the Navy, if given a chance, could contribute greatly to the air supply of Berlin. That is now strictly an Air Force job.

There has been a squabble between the Navy and the Air Force over air duties of each ever since the Air Force was created as a separate department on equal footing with the Army and Navy. Forrestal called the joint chiefs of staffs, which includes the top Air Force, Navy and Army officers to Key West some months ago to iron out arguments over functions.

Today's announcement said that the Key West agreement has been "subject to different interpretations since its preparation." The Air Force, for instance, has loudly criticized the Navy's proposed construction of a super-carrier on the grounds that it infringes on Air Force long-range bombing functions. The Navy has denied the purpose of the carrier is to do long-range bombing.

Navy Transport Hits Two Atlanta Planes

ATLANTA, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A PV-2 Navy transport crashed into two smaller planes at the Naval Air Station today, leaving one man injured.

The Navy plane, enroute from Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y., to San Diego, crashed into the two planes grounded on the field as it was taking off.

Most seriously injured was Lieut. Comdr. Marion H. Gilmore, of Miami, who was taken to Lawson General Hospital with severe wounds. A small plane piloted by Lieut. E. H. Rymer, Miami, Rymer suffered cuts and bruises. The transport was piloted by Lieut. William F. Weed, with Lieut. (jg) Gastano C. Anzalone as co-pilot both of New York. Neither they nor their two passengers were injured. No one was in the third plane.

It was filed in surrogate's court for probate today.

Hiss Slated To See Chambers Tomorrow AM

Maid, Former Red And Automobile Agency Men Are Quizzed Behind Closed Doors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Congressional spy probes questioned a maid, three officials of an automobile agency, and an admitted former Communist behind closed doors today. They were laying the groundwork for Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers to confront each other tomorrow.

Hiss, former State Department official, and Chambers, who says he used to be a Red, have told the committee almost completely opposite stories. Chambers has accused Hiss of being a member of a pre-war Communist underground in Washington, and Hiss has denied it.

Hiss and Chambers also differ on the question of how well acquainted they were some dozen years ago.

In an attempt to check on that angle, the committee today questioned:

A short, heavy-set negro woman who left the place with her hat over her eyes and a pocketbook shielding her face from photographers.

Joseph Cherner, Sam Mensen and Henry Gierler, officials of the Cherner Company, an automobile firm in Washington.

Louise Buzden, former high official of the Communist Party who has renounced Communism and now teaches at Fordham University in New York.

Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, said the negro woman was Hiss's maid for several years.

Stripling said Buzden and the maid, whose name he withheld, gave the committee some useful information. He had no comment on whether the other three witnesses were of any help.

Hiss has testified that he knew Chambers in 1934 and 1935 as a free lance writer named George Crosley, that he sublet an apartment to Crosley for a while and that he gave him a car.

Chambers has said Hiss knew him only by the Communist Party name of "Earl" and that the car (Continued on Page Six)

Commodity Prices Tumble In China Over Money Change

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Commodity prices tumbled as much as 25 per cent today as China completed its first 24 hours of conversion to its new gold yuan currency.

The operation, the Central Bank of China announced, netted the government approximately $1,350,000 worth of gold, silver and United States dollars. The receipts were in payment for the gold yuan which in the first 24 hours also brought to the banks an estimated total of 10 trillion old Chinese dollars.

None of the banks in the large cities were able to keep pace with the demands of crowds seeking to exchange old Chinese dollars, silver, gold and American currency for the gold yuan.

The downward thrust of commodity prices reflected both the stronger position of the new currency and reaction from the unbridled price increases of the past three days when government controls were lifted before the changeover.

The general effect of the price slump was to return to the commodity cost level of Aug. 19, the day the government announced its new currency. In efforts to hold the price line at that level the government has police and plain clothes men swarming over market places.

The currency conversion, temporarily at least, has almost stopped speculation, one of the main causes of China's inflation. One gold yuan is equivalent to 3,000,000 Chinese national dollars and it takes four gold yuan to buy $1.

In Shanghai, pork, which leads all meats in sales because it is the cheapest, dropped 25 per cent; wheat skidded 25 per cent and rice—the national food—dropped 18 per cent. The price of rice today was $1.33 gold yuan per 175-pound bag.

The price of gasoline, which jumped on Aug. 20 to 4,950,000 Chinese national dollars per gallon went back to the Aug. 19 level of 3,360,000 dollars, or 1.12 gold yuan.

Similar cutbacks were registered in other cities.

Several markets were reported arrested in Tientsin, Nanking and Chungking for raising prices.

South Carolina, Mississippi And New York Hold Primary Elections

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three states—South Carolina, Mississippi and New York—held primary elections today with state and congressional posts at stake.

In South Carolina, the Democratic primary was a runoff affair to settle contests in which candidates failed to get the required majority for nomination in the regular primary two weeks ago. Forty state legislators and a U.S. Representative are to be nominated.

Voting was expected to be light in both Mississippi and New York. Lack of big issues and statewide fights was the chief reason.

Both Republican and Democratic parties held primaries in New York, but several of the state's prominent Congressmen were unopposed. A total of 41 seats in Congress and the state legislature were at stake in contested races.

In addition to the elections, Delaware Democrats met in convention at Dover to pick the party's candidates for the Nov. 2 election. J. Allen Frear, Jr., of Dover, was slated to be named for U.S. Senator. Frear would be a candidate for the seat now held by Senator James M. Tamm, who is not seeking re-nomination.

Russian Teacher Is Questioned By News Reporters

Reds Last To Learn Of Lomakin's Recall, Diplomats Say

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A proposed press interview with Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina was postponed today because, a police officer said, "she was too tired to be interviewed."

Lieut. Rominick A. Pappa, assigned to duty outside the Russian teacher's Roosevelt Hospital room, said she had become exhausted by preparations for newsworthy and television coverage of her proposed interview.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina today received a list of 13 questions from reporters about her experiences with the Soviet Consulate and her leap from a third floor window of the consulate building.

Authorities at Roosevelt Hospital, where the 52-year-old school teacher is recovering from her injuries, said she was willing to answer the queries later today.

A hospital authority said earlier that only four reporters would be admitted to receive her answers to the questions. However a spokesman indicated later that more than four reporters might be permitted to talk to her.

Heretofore all information about Mrs. Kasenkina's condition and the motive for her leap of Aug. 12 has come from the hospital or police.

And in Washington, diplomats disclosed that every Latin American government knew that the U.S. was asking the recall of Russian Consul General Jacob Lomakin 24 hours before the Soviet government knew it.

A Latin American diplomat who cannot be named gave this account to a reporter:

Last Wednesday evening, Aug. 18, a state department messenger visited the 20 embassies of the Latin American governments.

He delivered to each a copy of the U.S. note to Russia demanding the removal of the consul general. The note also reflected Soviet protests that U.S. officials took part in "kidnaping" of refugee Russian schoolteachers in New York.

The Russian Embassy did not receive the note until about 24 hours later—at 6:10 P.M. EST, Thursday, when it was delivered by John Henderson, a state department chauffeur.

The contents were not made available to reporters at the department until Friday morning.

The State Department forecast today that President Truman soon will formally revoke Lomakin's credentials.

The "necessary papers" were sent to the White House yesterday, press officer Michael McDermott told reporters. Presumably they will be sent to Mr. Truman, now on a yacht cruise.

4 Killed On Flights Into Berlin Area

2 American Planes On Supply Run To Blocked City Crash Over Ravotzhhausen

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Aug. 24.—The Army Air Base here reported a C-47 Army transport crashed today five miles north of Newlin, N.J. The Army report said at least seven persons were killed.

RAVOTZHAUSEN, GERMANY, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Two American planes on the supply run to blockaded Berlin collided outside this American town today, killing four U.S. fliers.

Five American fliers have been killed previously in two accidents on the air run since the Russians blocked Berlin late in June.

The planes were two-engine C-47s. They plunged into cornfields around this village which is 14 miles northeast of Frankfurt. The planes were returning to Wiesbaden from Berlin, where they had delivered supplies.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of survivors.

Hours after the collision, flames of the wreckage prevented removal of the bodies. Rescuers could see only one body in the tangle of debris.

A spokesman for the U.S. Air Force at the scene said, however, the Dakotas on the Berlin run carry two men each and there was no reason to doubt that four men had perished. He said there might even have been hitch-hiking passengers aboard.

A German farmer was working in a field when he noticed a plane flying toward Wiesbaden under a mass of rain clouds. Another plane came out of the overcast and collided with the first at an altitude of from 1,200 to 1,500 feet. It fell in flames. The other plane struck the tail of the other.

The tail of one plane is missing. This one had glided, upside down, into a newly harvested field on the edge of this farming town. The part near the cockpit burned furiously, but the wings were not damaged. The other plane landed about a half mile farther outside the town. It appeared to have plummeted down. Its nose was buried eight or 10 feet into soft earth, and it was crumpled like an accordion.

An engine of the second plane had fallen off. It landed about 200 yards from the fuselage.

Both planes were attached to the 60th Troop Carrier Group, the Air Force reported. The normally were engaged in the Berlin run today as the second plane was on its way to the airport.

The Commission was informed in a letter from the RFC that a field representative will be here this week to investigate the project for building dock and warehouse facilities for which the City is seeking financial assistance from the RFC.

Approval was given for the purchase of the property at French Avenue and Seminole Boulevard which includes the Motors Inn from the Victor Check estate for $10,000. The Shell Oil Co. will retain its seven year lease on the building on the property which has 150 foot frontage on both French Avenue and Seminole Boulevard and which adjoins the proposed terminal site.

Transfer of $34,761 interest funds to the Central Hanover Bank of New York was approved. Purchase of five refunding Series A bonds at $500 each was approved, and one Series B water bond at $800.

Commissioner John Krider was directed to co-operate with the City and County in supervising the construction of a baseball field on Mellonville Avenue. This will be used by the New York Giant system for training purposes.

The Melton used car company was granted a permit to erect a temporary structure at the southeast corner of Palmella Avenue and Second Street.

City Engineer Ralph Lubinski submitted a written report of his investigation of swimming pool construction at Vero Beach, Palm Beach Gardens and Miami.

B. F. Wade was granted a permit to sell packaged beer and wine at a grocery at 808 East Seventh Street.

Fire Chief M. N. Cleveland and Det. Police were granted permission to attend the Florida State Police College course at Ocala this week.

Stalin, Western Diplomats Said To Have Reached Area Of Agreement About Berlin

Worldwide Aims Of Soviets Aired At Church Meet

Dulles Says Problems Cannot Be Solved By Force

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 24.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles declared today that Communist policies make it impossible to create at once a universal organization of peace through law.

Nevertheless, the Communist problem cannot be solved by trying to crush Communism by force, Dulles said in an address prepared for the assembly of the World Council of Churches. In any analysis of the world situation, he said, "Christian responsibility emerges as an inescapable fact."

Dulles, foreign policy adviser to Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, said "the Soviet regime is not a regime of peace and, indeed, it does not purport to be."

"It may not, and I hope that it does not, want international war. But if so, that is a matter of expediency, not of principle. Violence and coercion are the accepted methods, class war being, however, usually preferred to national war."

"It is inevitable that orthodox Communism should reject peaceful ways, except as a matter of temporary expediency, because it reflects the moral premises that alone make possible the permanent organization of peace."

Peace, Dulles declared, can never be stabilized "except by institutions that seek to reflect the moral law and that respect the dignity of the individual."

"There always have been, there always will be human spirits that will rebel against totalitarian dictatorship and that fact, in turn, requires such dictatorship to be violent and coercive."

The Communist leadership is determined, Dulles said, and it has worldwide ambitions. He added:

"That, of itself, makes it impossible to create at once a universal organization of peace through law and it confronts those who seek peace with a difficult problem."

But there is a solution, he went on.

"The solution is for those who have faith to exert themselves more vigorously to translate their faith into works. Those who believe in the moral law and human dignity must be more concerned to make social institutions reflect those ideals. In that way they can provide an example that others will follow and a unifying process will be begun."

Dulles—long and widely known as a distinguished lay leader in the church—told Christian Church leaders from 10 countries that this is a time for the churches to expose the evil of war and its futility.

Meanwhile a Czech theologian told the council it is witnessing the end of western supremacy in world leadership.

He said the West has been driven by anxiety over Soviet-led social transformations to the point of misunderstanding what is going on.

"Even the enormous wealth and the atomic power of the American nation must not deceive us," the speaker said in a strongly worded paper.

LOS ANGELES, N. M., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Efforts to get 3,500 workers back to their jobs at the atomic weapons project were stepped up today as the walkout entered its seventh day.

Members of the AFL Building Trades Union, idle since Wednesday, indicated last night they still had not received a satisfactory answer to their complaint that one contractor—Brown & Root, Inc., Houston, Tex.—has brought in non-union labor and refused to bargain with the unions.

A general conference has been scheduled for all workers involved, presumably all major contractors, the Atomic Energy Commission, the unions and the absentee workers.

Expected to be present at the general meeting is Frank Ash of San Francisco, representative of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service. He sat in on two conferences yesterday between the contractors, union representatives and members of the workers' special committee.

Mrs. Alice Richards Assumes New Duties As Hostess At Jaycee Booth

Mrs. Alice Richards, former employee of the State Welfare Unit, yesterday assumed her new duties as hostess of the Junior Chamber of Commerce booth which is operated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and is located at Park Avenue and Seminole Boulevard.

Pleased with her surroundings, Mrs. Richards declared that she likes her work very much, and is spending much time stocking up on Florida points of interest.

"I am from North Dakota," she explained, "and haven't been in Florida any too long, so am learning all I can about it." She expressed much interest in the scenic points of interest in the state.

Asked what she likes best about Florida in contrast to her former home in North Dakota, she replied that it is the more (Continued on Page Two)

Sanford Citizens To Sponsor Attraction On Thursday Nite

The "Player Appreciation Night" for the Sanford Giants will be held Monday night, it was announced this afternoon by a special committee of the Sanford Merchants Association. The Gainesville 6-Men appear here for a single game. A pre-game sale of tickets will be held, and a goal of $2,500 has been set. The group also plans to attempt to set a record for one game attendance for the league in the 1948 season.

Thursday night has been named "Player Appreciation Night" in Sanford for the members of the Sanford Giants baseball club, it was announced this morning by John Stenstrom, who with W. V. Bittan and Zeb Raloff is sponsoring the attraction.

The Giants will play the Leesburg Pirates in a twin bill at the Municipal Park to highlight the events.

The Sanford citizens have set a goal of $1,000 to be collected before the Thursday night games. The Sanford Merchants Association is co-operating with the committee, and will accept checks or contributions from businessmen, professional men and Sanford baseball fans. The Merchants will present the checks to the players, Stenstrom declared.

Florida State League President Syd Herlong will be present to award billy balls to the first and last hitters of the game. Herlong named the most popular player in the Florida State League for the 1948 season. Herlong will also present ball bats to the Sanford members of the All-Star teams.

Tommy Cataldo, Ray Rosenkunt, Len Matter, Don Umstead, Art Dunham, Lake Manager Hal Gruber and Bat Boy Jimmie Kider will receive billy balls for being named on the All-Star teams of the league.

The Celery City Printing Company has been designated as headquarters for the fund drive, according to Stenstrom. All persons wishing to make contributions have been asked to leave their cash or checks, made payable to the Sanford Merchants Association, at the Celery City Printing Company, or call the company and the donations will be called for immediately.

JAP SALE
TOKYO, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Japan's purchase of millions of dollars in surplus U. S. Army supplies—mostly vehicles—was announced today.

Original cost of the equipment sold to Japan on a "deferred payment" plan was $47,000,000. Actual cost to the Japanese government was about 30 per cent of that.

OKLAHOMA FACES Decision On Negro School Attendance

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The state of Oklahoma was faced today with allowing an aged negro professor to attend its all-white University of Oklahoma, or hurriedly establishing a graduate school.

A special three judge federal court yesterday heard G. W. McLaurin's suit against the state's college segregation laws. Then enshrined Oklahoma should provide equal facilities for negroes.

A final decision will be handed down by the court Sept. 24. McLaurin, tried unsuccessfully to gain admission to the university last January. He is seeking a doctorate in school administration.

The ranking member of the panel, Judge A. P. Murray of the U. S. circuit court of appeals, said:

"The duty of this state is unmistakably clear and we think you ought to get about it."

Thurgood Marshall, chief attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and McLaurin's counsel, said the suit attacked the constitutionality of Oklahoma's laws against segregation in colleges.

Attorney General Mac Q. Williamson, defending the state, said Oklahoma recognized its obligations to give negro citizens equal education but said the state needed time to establish the schools.

Did you know that Mississippi
State College for Women is the oldest state-supported college for women in the United States?

Wouldn't it be an interesting experiment if candidates for public office had to wear lie detectors
during their political campaigns?

A new drug has been discovered
for hay fever sufferers. It is called pervitin, but before you use it you had better consult a physician.

The State Department is bring-highly commended for handling Russia's New York consul his walking papers. But what is needed is a new broom that will sweep
several thousand other Communists
out of the country.

The Chinese people have decided to go back on the gold standard and the people can buy
a loaf of bread for ten cents instead
of for $300,000 as it was priced
last week. Well, we haven't quite reached the point where things
are as high as that, but we're on the way.

We wish that those people who seem to think that public swimming pools are not worthwhile and that the kids wouldn't patronize them
anyway, would take the trouble to go down to the Mayfair pool some afternoon when the City Recreation program is in full swing—now that the New York Giants made
this pool available to the public at certain times.

The per capita income in the South last year was $467 as compared with a national average of $1,323. Government discrimination against the South with respect to tariffs, freight rates and crop subsidies are primarily to blame. When the South abandons its obsolete
"one party system" and uses its timorous bargaining power in an intelligent manner, the income of the South will increase to the level
of other sections of the country.

Reports indicate that President
Truman's announcement that married men would not be drafted has caused a stampede at marriage license bureaus. From at least a dozen cities come reports of men
of draft age standing in line waiting to get their licenses. Marriageable girls, however, may well ponder whether a young man willing to marry her only to escape the draft
would make the kind of a husband
who would prove loyal and dependable in time of crisis.

An interesting commentary on the importance of education comes from the Office of Education which reveals that more than 32,000,000
boys and girls will attend schools and colleges this fall. That is nearly a million more than last year, and is 7,000,000 less than the number expected by 1956. It would be worthwhile for the public to begin considering where it is going to put all these pupils if no
new school buildings are erected.
Here in Seminole County they are already overcrowded as it is.

Figures released by the Department of Commerce on the increased income of the American people to an all time high of $190,000,000, 000 should prove to the average
man that money isn't everything.
He is making more money than he ever did before, about 15 per cent
more than during the war and about 2½ times as much as during the last boom. Still, his wife is having more trouble than ever getting money to put food on her table
on account of the high cost of living. We doubt if the average man lives as well today as he did ten years ago. And perhaps he is beginning to realize that higher wages
which bring higher prices are not worth the time and effort.

Bigger Down Payments

The Federal Reserve Board has chosen to make the new consumer credit regulations, to be imposed this fall under authority voted in the special session of Congress, less draastic than the war-time instalment credit restrictions. The instalment buyer will be asked for smaller down payments
than under the war-time system. The deflationary effect will be correspondingly less.

Most of the items on the controlled list are still in relatively great demand. The requirement of 20 per cent down with only 15 to 18 months allowed for paying the balance
should reduce demand somewhat among families operating on close budgets, and so ease the tendency of prices to continue upward because supply is less than demand.

In the case of automobiles, the one-third down payment
already is required by most sellers, but the new rules usually will increase the amount of the monthly payment by about 25 per cent. As the payment on a car often is a substantial item in the budget of the instalment-buying family,
many prospective buyers may be moved from the new-car
to the used-car market.

A few of the controlled items, such as standard radios,
some furniture and floor coverings, are readily available,
and credit terms on such items have become very easy. Sellers, unable to compete on credit terms, might now give more attention to price competition.

But in general the effect of these controls on inflation
will be mild, just as will be the restricting effect on the individual buyer.

German Oasis

American observers claim that, in a Germany which is universally disgruntled, discouraged and pessimistic, the old college town of Heidelberg presents a happy contrast to Berlin, Hamburg, or Nuremberg.

To begin with, Heidelberg has the great advantage of having sustained little or no war damage. Its citizens do, however, suffer under the same restrictions as to food and clothing, getting little of either. They are proud of their town, with its picturesque castle and its once-thriving university, and long for the time when students from every country will again go there for advanced study. Courtesy is the rule in crowded streets and in sightseeing groups.

American tourists who are admitted to Heidelberg and kept out of less fortunate districts may return with a wrong impression of conditions in Germany. The happy attitude of the people there may be attributed largely to the freedom from war damage. They live in pleasant, convenient homes
instead of in makeshift quarters little better than caves.

Smoking In Bed

In Rockford, Ill., you may be fined if you smoke in bed, provided the city council passes a suggested ordinance. The new rule is wider in its scope than the proposed prohibition against smoking as you doze. It would levy a fine of $50
to $200 for smoking in a "careless, reckless or negligent manner" and causing a fire.

It is surprising that Rockford and other communities have had no such ordinance before. Unnecessary destruction by fire is one happening which has no influential friends,
and if a law has to be passed to make people careful, it should be passed.

As for fining people for smoking in bed, it is a good deal like the law, once in vogue in some states and perhaps
so still, which provided a penalty for attempted suicide.

Who Killed Horatio Alger?

By DeWitt Emery

Not long ago a brief news item appeared on the business page of a Midwest paper. The entire story was four sentences long. Yet it was about as complete an "editorial"
on the present lack of understanding and appreciation of free enterprise as one could write. Indeed, the headline itself left little unsaid. It read: "Survey Shows 87 Per Cent of Students Never Heard of Horatio Alger."

Now there was a time when Horatio Alger was a household
synonym for all that was good about the "good old days" of rugged individualism, of pioneering, of the up-by-boots struggle
of the office boy who wanted to become president of the firm.

And it is worth noting that in Horatio Alger's time, to be the President of a Company, or even the General Manager, or the Superintendent, all were worthy and respectable objectives in their own right. At present one cannot be so sure about their respectability, either in the eyes of the office boy or in the opinion of the public generally.

Nowadays the public is more inclined to think about the key
officials of any business as vague
entities in the collective term
"management"—and management
you will agree, is not always an inspiring term in our current language. In fact, just to read the stories about business in the daily press—and judging from the number of bad things management gets blamed for in contrast to the number of good things business men get credit for—one might even come to the conclusion that
"management" and "businessman"
are a couple of new cuss words in our language.

It is also disturbing to find that
other terms and concepts, once associated with the progress and dynamic growth of our nation and

our business system, have fallen into disuse or disrepute. Terms like "rugged individualism," and
"pioneering" are now pretty much
associated with "movie characters." "Capitalism" is now an outright epithet and even "free enterprise" is taking on a tarnish.

Risk-taking in a business venture with the prospect of making a profit has come to be suspect as a slightly illegal if not aversive practice. The pursuit of security on somebody else's payroll is held out as a far wiser incentive than the doubtful prospect of being one's own boss and perhaps creating new jobs for others. A recent survey reveals the startling fact that this trend has proceeded to the point where 41 out of every 100 Americans would rather look to the Government for their jobs and security than to private employment. Perhaps this is not surprising when we realize that already more than 15,000,000 people are either on some kind of government
payroll or are drawing a government allotment of some sort. One out of every tenth job in the United States is currently supplied by the government.

Our over-dependence on the beneficence of bureaucracy is evidently converting us from a nation of "secure" citizens to a nation of "secure" citizens.

Yet it is a matter of simple fact visible to all that ours is also the strongest, most prosperous economy in the world, victor in a total war, and now the mainstay of a score of other nations which would face starvation and bankruptcy
without our support. Our own standard of living is so high there is naught to compare it with, and our personal freedoms likewise
are of all this, we are constantly in turmoil, stirred up by home-grown agitators who would trade our system in on a dictatorship.

WILL IT STOP HIM?

Who Is To Blame?

Coalings, (Cal.) Record

An over-supply of yipityap came out of the Philadelphia Convention
of the Democratic and the Progressive parties about inflation. The high price of present-day food,
everyone will agree, has not only
hit the ceiling but has gone
through the roof.

President Truman, incumbent
candidate for reelection, blamed
the removal of price control and failure to return controls on the 80th Congress, with its G.O.P. majority. Those whose memories serve them well will recall that
the O.P.A. was removed by the 79th Congress, Democrats controlled, in the summer of 1946,
and that the 80th Congress did not convene for its first session
until January 20, 1947.

Getting back to inflation, on just
one food commodity—potatoes.
In a release from the Agricultural Department, dated July 23,
it was revealed that "the 1947
potato crop, from January 1 to July 6, has cost the Government
about $16,000,000, and will cost a lot more if present crop forecasts
pan out."

The department is required by law to support the price of the lowly spud at 90 per cent parity.
Parity is a formula designed to give farmers the same buying power with the money they received for things they sell as they had in a past base period.

To support this price the Government buys the surplus. Up to July 6, federal money (your money and mine) has brought 9,300,000 bushels of the early 1948
crop. This represents, the department announcement said, a

taken off the market and destroyed.

Not only does he pay an excessive price in the first place for the tubers to feed his family, but he must pay his share of direct and hidden taxes to make up the $16,000,000 already paid out in subsidies this year.

This is just one example of planned economy by the so-called philanthropic administration. Subsidies are paid to producers of many other commodities in the same manner.

One must remember, in these times of Federal subsidy and excessive price, that the United States Government has no money of its own.
The billions being sent to Europe
and the untold other billions out
by the spending administration do not come from the Government's own funds. All of that money comes eventually from the worker, the butcher, the baker and
the candle-stick maker in taxes—
every day of it.

The money the President demands appropriated by Congress
is the American people's money.
So, who's to blame for high costs and inflation? It should not take long for anyone to determine
in his or her own mind that the base of high prices is in taxes.
The manufacturer is taxed, the

even climate.

"During the summer it gets hot
in North Dakota, sometimes 98
to 100 degrees in the day time,
and is dry and hot at night," she declared. "During the winter it gets down to 30 and 40 degrees
below zero." She also revealed that in contrast to dry treeless
plains, she likes the Florida trees hung with moss, and admires the lakes and streams here.

Yesterday she had three visitors at the booth, a woman tourist seeking a good place to eat, another trying to locate Elm Avenue, and a Mobile, Ala. jeweler
seeking a map of Sanford.

Mrs. Richards would much rather talk of her young brother than herself, and his name is "Believe it or Not," Robert Ripley, she recently won a Pepsi-Cola college scholarship, was Rotary selection
in his home town of Dickinson, N.D. to Boys State, starred at football, baseball and basketball
and was elected to the all-state
American Legion Junior Baseball team.

During her junior and senior years in high school, Mrs. Richards played on the girls' basketball team and during those years
was a drum major in both the high school and city band. She was page editor of the high school
publication, "The Chronicle."

Following high school she took a one year commercial course at the State Teachers College in Dickinson, and during part time
worked for a law firm, and later
in the Ashley County auditor's office.

Meanwhile, her brother, Bertram Ripley, had graduated from Stetson University and had become associated with the Pentland Gray accounting firm and moved to Sanford. Mrs. Richards came here with him and his family from Deland and assisted at the accounting firm during the income tax season. She then became a stenographer with the State Welfare Unit, and recently was selected by the Jaycees for her present post.

Bertram Ripley, with whom she and her small son live at 113
West Fifteenth Street, was shot down in France while piloting a B-17 and was a prisoner of the Germans for 15 months, she revealed.

Egg and Poultry

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 24—(AP)—
The following prices prevailed on the Jacksonville eggs and
poultry markets today:

Live poultry: to dressers 60; to consumers 65.

Dressed NY style: to retailers
68; to consumers 73.

Dressed and drawn: to retailers
70; to consumers 82.

Others and eggs unchanged.

wholesaler is taxed, the retailer
is taxed and so on. All of that pass it along down the line with every sale, and when the worker
goes to the counter to buy spuds,
beans, bread, meat, wearing apparel, household furnishings and appliances needed for his subsistence and for his comfort
pleasure, the taxes are all passed along to him. It's as simple as A-B-C, regardless of what the politicians say. Perhaps it is time for a housecleaning upstairs.

Primary Elections

cratic primary today to nominate four congressmen, a Supreme Court justice and a circuit judge.

Senior Senator James O. Eastland, three representatives and three justices were unopposed in this primary.

Democratic nomination in this one-party state is tantamount to election. Those unopposed in the primary have been certified as elected by the state executive committee.

The term of junior Senator
John C. Stennis will not expire
until 1952.

Several reasons led to pre-election forecasts of a vote less than 125,000. Some of the reasons include cotton picking time, drab political contests minus real insures, lack of either a statewide
race or a vote-building local scrap,
and a forecast of scattered thundershowers.

Sharply focused in the balloting
is the two-man challenge in the first congressional district of veteran Rep. E. Rankin, white supremacy firebrand and arch foe
of Communists.

His northeastern hill country
rivals are Claude F. Clayton, a war veteran from Rankin's home town of Tunola, and Judge Raymond Jarvis of Booneville. The 66-year-old Rankin defeated the younger Clayton 15,503 to 10,074
votes when Clayton made a bid against him in 1946.

"All national and class ob-

"I am not speaking about the said. "What I have in mind is simply the fact the western nations have ceased to be the exclusive masters and architects of the world."

He said "the underdogs of

"The last ascendancy of western

So Now It's Smart To Be Middle-Aged

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP NEWS FEATURES WRITER

Maybe you haven't noticed—it's been happening gradually—but the movies and magazines have stopped selling the idea that life ends with the 40th birthday.

The people who had slipped past that fatal birthday never believed all their fun, romance and productive years were behind them. But if they trusted what the short-story writers and the films told them, they should have been set for a patch and carpet-supper routine.

Somehow it was only yesterday that the classic heroine of magazine fiction was a fresh young maiden on the threshold of the twenties. She, and she alone, was allowed the fine Red Romance. Romance with a boy, a couple of years older. All such stories ended when he finally broke down and proposed.

All this has changed. Indeed, some of our most popular fiction heroines today are happily presented as having known more than 40 summers. Many are even permitted to be young widows with children. Just the other day I read a short story about a widowed old girl of 40, with a couple of kids who met up with a lonely widower of 25. And they were allowed to fall in love, just like that.

Take a look at our movie stars. Most of the popular ones are the same people who were around 10 or more years later. No one tries to pass off Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Spencer Tracy, Jimmy Stewart, Cary Grant, Clark Gable or Charles Boyer as juveniles, but there they are, making a play for the heroine and often as not winding up the picture in a clutch with her. And they don't try to cover up the fact that they've sprouted a gray hair here and there or have a little trouble hanging on to the hat.

These Katherine Hepburn, Greer Garson, Jean Craddock, Ronald Reagan, Robert Montgomery—to pick a few at random and none of them trying to make like she's fresh out of high school.

Furthermore, lots and lots of movies are written about mature people. No longer does a film mandatorily revolve around the tired boy-meets-girl theme and end with the sound of wedding bells and the whisper of white satin. Many's the popular picture about adults, pursuing adult courses of life.

All this is very helpful to those adults among the population who remember back when the talkies came in and Roosevelt's first administration. It's made a lot of the kids who ordinarily would scorn as aged and ultra-conservative anyone past 25 look forward to living the full, happy life of the middle-aged years.

But mostly it's given us dad-deders a feeling that life can be beautiful or at least interesting when we're past getting bids for the tumor prom.

Maybe, just maybe, after awhile people will even say proudly "I'm middle-aged!"

Giants Meet Saints Here In Important Game Tonight

Sanford Takes 10 To 5 Tilt From Hats As Lonnie Worsham Goes 9 Inning Route

DELAND, Aug. 24. (Special)—The Sanford Giants unloaded a 13 hit attack here last night to drub the Deland Red Hats by a 10 to 5 count.

Lonnie Worsham went the distance for the Giants, and allowed the Hats 12 hits, but scattered them over the nine inning route. Glen Bird tossed for the Hats.

Every Sanford batter except one hit safely in the contest, the second game in two days lost the Sanfords have stepped out 13 hits. They turned the trick against the Orlando Senators at their own Municipal Park Sunday.

Tonight the Giants play an all-important contest with the St. Augustine Saints at the Sanford park.

Sanford and St. Augustine are battling it out for the fourth place in the Florida State League standings. Yesterday the Sanford club needed seven victories in the 14 remaining games to cop the fourth place berth, if the Saints could win no more than eight of their remaining 11 affairs. Sanford has two games coming up with the Saints. The teams meet tonight, and again Saturday evening.

Tomorrow evening the Giants move to Leesburg for a twin bill, and return to the Municipal Park for a dual attraction with the Pirates on Thursday night.

Sanford jammed four runs across the plate in the top of the third inning and added another in the fourth. The invaders tallied one in the seventh and added two in the eighth and ninth frames.

G's Short Stop Has No Equal In FSL For Starting Double Plays

SILVER SPRINGS, Aug. 24. (Special)—Fleet Collins, Gainesville's improving shortstop may not be the Florida State League's most sensational batsman, but he has no equal when it comes to starting double-plays for this last Saturday night, the husky youngster had engineered 39, or just about one-third of the 123 recorded by the G's.

To spike any claim as to the league's fanciest keystone combination, Hal Shles, the G's second-sacker is right on Collins' tail with 32 double-plays started, or a total of 71 between them!

With 123 to their credit, the G's naturally were leading the league, with little chance that Orlando, second with 103 as of midnight Saturday, can catch up.

Nor is there much chance that the G's, despite their almost nightly twin-killings, can equal or exceed the all-time league record set by the Deland Red-Hats in 1941 when their 158 double-plays stood as an all-time minor league record.

Tony Vega of Deland, ranked third as the starter of double-killings, for he had kicked off 33 of his club's 89, an average of a little better than one-third of them. Vega's nearest rival on the Red-Hat team was Jimmy Hyde who started nine before he was released some weeks ago, and Ted Sloan, who had started seven.

Fourth place belonged to Orlando's Tony Miranda who had 29 to his credit. Team-mate Charlie Hinchman a second base had 23, or a total of 52 to their credit, more than half of Orlando's 103.

Leesburg manager Eddie Leip had 28 before he was injured some weeks ago, and likely would have given Collins a real battle. Leip's 28 was the second highest turned in by a second-baseman, Shles' 32 topping that figure.

St. Augustine had 102 double-plays at midnight Saturday, and Johnny LaForte, brilliant third-sacker, had 55 of them to his credit, topping second-basemen Lyle July by one.

Elwyn Danson of Palatka with 20, and Wally Singer with 19, accounted for 39 of Palatka's 100. Johnny McManus of Sanford had started 22 while Lloyd Clifton had started 15 of Sanford's 73.

The Daytona Beach Indians trailed in the double-play department with but 71 to their credit, 16 of them by Bob Ivey and 15 by Mack Yarbrough.

However, Islander Bob Rucker started 15 at third base to rank right up to LaForte of St. Augustine at that position.

Only 12 of the 759 double-plays went into the books as unassisted, while St. Augustine is the only club not yet to come up with an unassisted twin-killing.

Stan Musial Of Cards Dominates National Hitters

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. (Special)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, lefthanded hitter, are dominating the race for National League batting honors.

Only three of the circuit's top ten hitters are righthanded batters.

The orthodox swingers in the first ten are, Alvin Dark, of Boston, Andy Pafko, of Chicago, and Sid Gordon, of New York.

Musial, including Sunday's games, was belting opposition hurling at a .384 clip, three points above his average of a week ago.

Dark, the rookie Brave shortstop in second at .335 with Pafko third at .333 and Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia fourth at .322.

Tommy Holmes of Boston is fifth at .318.

Boston's Ted Williams is setting rugged competition from Cleveland's Lou Bourque in a two-man battle for the American League batting championship.

Through Sunday's games, Williams' pace-setting .377 was only 14 points ahead of Bourque's runner-up .363, and that was two points less than his bulge the previous week.

In third place, 41 points off the pace, was another Tribe thumper, Dale Mitchell with .356. He was followed by Al Zarilla, St. Louis, .351; Barney McCosky, Philadelphia, and Luke Appling, Chicago, .344; Bob Dillinger, St. Louis and Walt Evers, Detroit, .307; and Joe DiMaggio, New York, George Kell, Detroit, and Bill Goodman, Boston, .297 each.

Yankee slapper DiMaggio still led in homers with 27 and Boston's Vern Stephens wrested the RBI leadership from Joltin' Joe with a spurt of 11 in a week to 112.

The survivors are Marion Tinley, 22, Columbus, O., 1947 American Junior Champion; Maurice Chambliss, 22, Birmingham, Ala., and Everett Fuller, 40, Milwaukee, Wis. The 11th round will be played today.

In the tenth round last night, Chambliss ousted Jeff H. Clayton, Oklahoma City, 1-0, with three draws; Fuller eliminated Marv Rex, Akron, O., with three draws and Tinsley had a bye.

Thomasville Hands Americus Double Defeat In G-F Play

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thomasville handed the Americus Phillies a double defeat in the Georgia-Florida League last night. The scores were 2 to 1 and 15 to 0. Americus collected only eight hits, four in each game.

Albany enjoyed two big innings in beating Cordelle 12 to 6. Valdosta had no trouble winning from Moultrie, 14-1, and Waycross edged Tallahassee 2 to 1.

Thomasville's twin victory enabled the Tigers to break a four-game losing streak. They scored twice in the third inning of the first game and stopped an Americus rally after one runner had crossed the plate in the sixth.

The Tigers unleashed a 20-hit attack in the second contest, resulting in one run in the first, four in the third, three in the fourth, four in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Burkey was the winning pitcher in the first game, Andres in the second.

Albany scored eight runs in the first two frames. The Indians threw a card in the first, scoring four in the second and two in the third, narrowing the winners' lead to 8-6.

Albany, however, scored two more in the fourth and a like number in the eighth.

Moultrie's Athletics scored enough runs to win in the first, when three tallies trickled in after Valdosta had opened the frame with a lone score.

The Dodgers weren't satisfied though they held a 5-1 advantage at the end of six innings. They added five in the seventh and four in the eighth.

The winners collected 14 hits off Storch, Simmons and Garner. Stamey held the losers to six. Seven errors proved costly to the Athletics.

Fulton's Waycross held Tallahassee's Pirates to four safeties. The winners scored single runs in the fourth and eighth. The Pirates' best effort netted one in the last of the ninth.

Presumably, the auto dealers were asked about the car.

Cherner told reporters he knew nothing about the Hiss car. But Menah said the company bought a 1939 Ford roadster from Hiss in 1938 and sold it the same day.

The bolted doors of the congressional spy hearings swing open again tomorrow for the long-heralded public "confrontation" of Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers.

The big question is, which one will make his story stick with the House Un-American Activities committee?

Hiss, the former top-rank State Department official who has indignantly denied any Communist tinge or affiliation, or—

Chambers, the avowed one-time Red who just as insistently has described the operations of a pre-war Communist underground in Washington and tabbed Hiss as one of the leaders.

President Truman twice has denounced the investigation as a "Red Herring." He intended to let the public mind off what he called congressional failure to deal with cost of living and related issues.

Republican leaders retorted that the hearings have shown an alarming Communist infiltration of the government.

It was a Senate committee's inquiry into the Administration's loyalty program that struck the spy scare sparks.

That was on July 30.

Elizabeth T. Bentley, 40 year old Vassar graduate, was the only witness.

NEW YORK—They tell me that far out in the western boulders there are cowboy singers unknown to New Yorkers who are fabulously famous in their own precincts and whose phonograph records are awaited breathlessly in the cowboy saloons boasting jukeboxes.

They also tell me that the deep South has mountain-music makers whose melodies are exceptionally respectable even alongside those of Sinatra and Crosby—singers and accordionists and guitar-players whose popularity is purely local and whose names are complete strangers to Manhattan.

This seems only reasonable, since we have here in New York a gentleman named Morey Amsterdam who, very likely, is unheard of in Tallahassee or Goose Creek but who enjoys a glory in this hotbed of sin and vice that transcends even Ingrid Bergman's.

Morey is beginning to branch out now as a coast-to-coast comedian, and he would seem a fairly sure bet to be the new national rage in a few seasons, especially with his juicy potential in television—but for years he was the New Yorker's own beloved comedian.

His jokes were peculiarly Manhattan jokes and his songs and routines had the unmistakable flavor of a sturgeon sandwich at Lindy's.

Perhaps his biggest asset is being able to be funny for great stretches of time. Last winter he appeared nightly at a little cellar cafe called the Playboys, which he also owned.

It was his custom to give two-hour-long shows, in which he and he alone did all the entertaining—gagging, singing, imitating and doing everything but making believe he was four Hawaiians. I got a sample of this rapid-fire routine this morning over coffee in Reuben's restaurant on 54th street.

Sharply attired in a white sport shirt and copper-colored sport jacket, Morey was informative, humorous, serious and demented by turns—and he never stopped talking.

I ASKED AMSTERDAM if he ever had run dry of words during a public appearance and he said only once.

That was on a New Year's day at San Quentin prison. Morey was one of a car full of entertainers who stayed up all night New Year's eve and then drove up to the prison in the morning to entertain the inmates.

After their show the performers were passing through the prison halls on the way out to their cars, when one guy stuck his head through the bars of his cell and yelled, "Hey, Morey!"

The cell, Morey found, was in condemned row. The guy who yelled was a man who had played cops and robbers and cowboys and Indians with him, when they both were kids in San Francisco. His mother and sister were just leaving his cell.

It was his last day on earth, as a result of having put a hole in the head of a bank guard. "I'm human and I'm an alleged comedian and I'm supposed to be able to talk a mile a minute," Morey told me. "—but what do you say to a guy who's going to die? It was really the only time in my life I've ever been stumped."

Five years Morey has been known as the busiest man on Broadway. Alongside Morey, his press agent insists, a one-armed paper hanger is just an ambitious bum. He wrote songs, made records, appeared on the radio as often as 78 times in one week, starred in moviehouse stage shows and owned and operated the Playboys and a restaurant near Carnegie Hall called Morey's.

IT APPEARS NOW THAT ALL THIS violent activity on the part of Morey—as directed to one purpose—to spread the Amsterdam name far and wide. "It was my angle, my way of becoming known," Morey told me.

"The word got around that I was doing all these things at once and people began to talk about me, which is half the battle for an ambitious comic."

"Fred Allen said, 'The only thing I can turn on in my house without getting Amsterdam is the water faucet.' Good night, I didn't like it at all. I'm a good family man and I hated to be away from my brood all that time—but it was my way of acquiring a reputation."

Son of a cellist who plays in the movie orchestras, Morey has been in show business since he quit the University of California at the age of 15. His brother worked in a bigtime act called Amsterdam and Clifford and one week when Clifford was ailing, Morey substituted for him. That, in a big 'Frisco house, on the same bill with Brice and Jessel.

"My next booking was in a 10th-rate vaudeville house as part of an opening act," Morey recalled. "I bet I was the only comic to start at the top and work my way down."

Amsterdam got into radio years ago, but a talent for insulting sponsors that makes Morgan's seem monotonous and gentle by comparison kept him back for some time. Example: on one program for a used-car dealer, Morey cracked, "Get these cars while they're hot—and they probably are!" That was the end of that program.

Berlin Meet

undoubtedly would have led to a swift lifting of the land blockade.

More Kremlin negotiations are on tap. U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith emerged in high spirits from this longest of the seven talks since the end of July and said:

"We're going to have more meetings. We're always optimistic. We expect the best and prepare for the worst."

He worked until the sun came up in Moscow, doubtless informing Secretary of State Marshall of just what hope there is for lasting peace between the West and the Soviet and for the lifting of the Berlin blockade and for an agreement on all Germany and other world problems. There was no reliable news about whether any solid ground had been found for ending the cold war.

Border incidents continued in Berlin. Marshall Vasily Sokolovsky forbade Germans in the Russian zone to hold municipal elections this fall. This indicated that the Communists in eastern Germany fear a severe defeat at the polls, despite the presence of Russian guns.

There are increasing signs of a food crisis in the Russian area of Germany, comparing badly with recently increased rations in the west. The Communists are having trouble with their two-year economic plan. The Communist dominated Socialist Unity Party is undergoing a purge. Communist newspapers in Berlin clamored again for a Russian share in running the Ruhr. An American military government official commented:

"The Russians would like to get their hands into western Germany and benefit by it now that it is beginning to show signs of an economic comeback under the European recovery program while their own zonal economy is floundering and being run into the ground."

A formation of 6 to 10 fighter planes, believed by American air officers to be Russian Yaks, swept over western Berlin late today at a great height eye-witnesses reported.

American and British air operation control officers said they had no fighters over Berlin today.

As soon as the fighters were spotted, newspaper offices received telephone calls for excited Berliners.

About two weeks ago a formation of 12 Russian Yak fighters zoomed over western Berlin. On another occasion one Russian fighter buzzed the British airfield at Gatow where supplies for blockade Berlin are being landed by a fast clip.

On both occasions, the British made strong protests to the Russians. Formation flying over Berlin is forbidden under four power air safety rules in effect here.

SEVEN SNAKES

LOCK NESS, home of the dean of sea serpents, is having terrific competition this year. Folks are seeing marine monsters almost every day in Georgian bay, the Gulf of Mexico and the kitchen sink.

Sea serpent spotters seem to have only one thing in common—they always forget to bring a camera along.

Folks have been seeing sea serpents over glass boat windows for years but none of the monsters has so much as given an autograph.

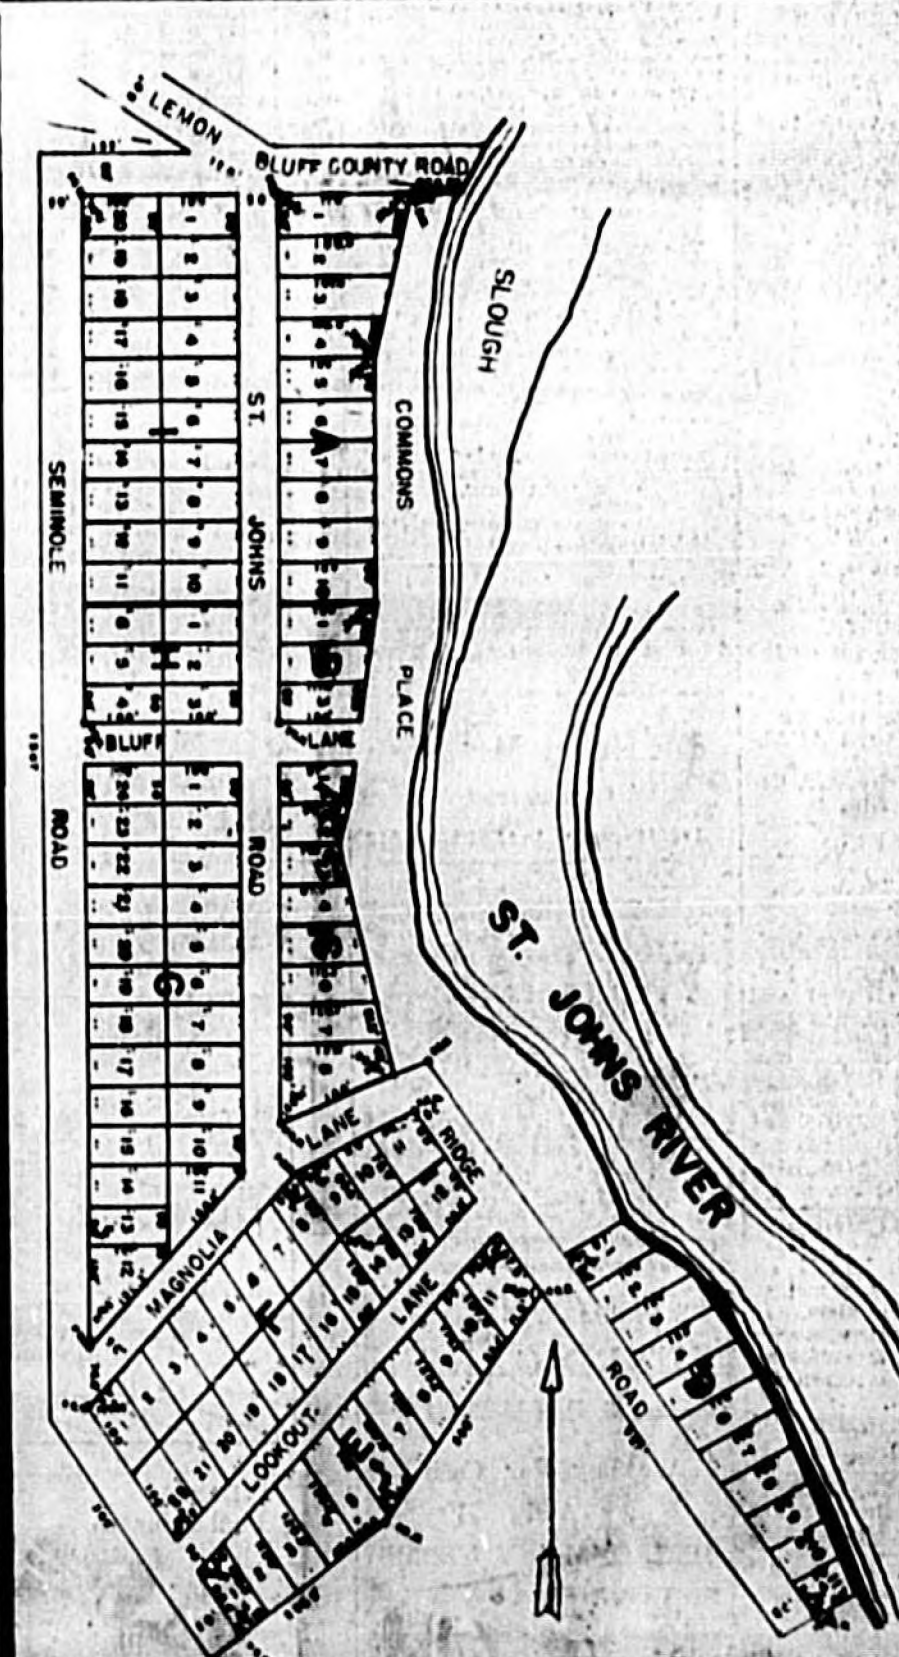

So many of the diabolical-looking denizens of the deep have been sighted this summer that it's possible now to establish statistics on what the standard or typical sea serpent looks like.

The aquatic demons are always between 50 to 100 feet in length and have more horns than a brass band.

Serpy is always seen briefly at dawn or nightfall, never at noon. This indicates he works on the night shift.

When sighted, a sea serpent always turns toward the boat from which it is being spotted, hisses a few bars from the latest hit tunes, then dives out of sight for good. This proves that the sea serpent is, without question, the biggest coward on earth.

Mrs. Kasenkina Says She Jumped To Escape Russian Persecution

Red School Teacher Tells Reporters Of Life In Russia Before Coming To U.S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina said today she jumped from a third floor window of the Russian consulate because she wanted to escape.

She said in an interview from her bed in Roosevelt Hospital "I jumped to escape, not to kill myself."

The 42-year-old Russian school teacher added she did not want to go back to Russia.

Mrs. Kasenkina told reporters that when she was returned to the Soviet consulate here from the White Russian refugee farm at Valley Cottage, N. Y., "I knew that since they did not permit me to leave the consulate, I would not be able to escape in Russia either."

"Therefore I jumped out of the window to escape. I didn't want to kill myself. I wanted to escape."

She said that Soviet Ambassador Alexander Pavlovich and Consul General Yakov M. Lomakin "both told me what to say to reporters" at a press conference held in the Russian consulate on the day she was taken here from the farm.

They told her, she said, that "through my message I would become a heroine."

In answer to the question of what was in the letter she sent to Lomakin from the farm, she said she told the entire story of her life in Russia. She said she also told Lomakin the story of her son and husband.

She said her husband was killed in Leningrad on Jan. 18, 1942.

Mrs. Kasenkina's answer, as paraphrased by an interpreter, sent the Russians considering her a true teacher even though her husband was destroyed. She said they believed her knowledge as a teacher would be useful to the Soviet Union.

In discussing the letter she (Continued on Page 21)

Mrs. Wilson Named Lunch Room Head For Local Schools

The State Board of Education today confirmed the appointment by the Seminole County school board of Mrs. Ouida Wilson, former county home demonstration agent, as supervisor of all school lunch rooms in the county. She resigned from her former position to undertake the new work.

Mrs. Wilson will assume her new duties on Sept. 1, and in addition to her lunch room supervision will conduct two classes daily in home economics at the Junior High School.

No immediate successor has been named by Miss Ethyl Holloway, district home demonstration supervisor, to take the place of Mrs. Wilson as county home demonstration agent, said Mrs. Wilson, who has occupied this post since 1941. She has recently been in her office at the Court House.

Mrs. Wilson came here from Bowling Green, Fla., and lives with her two children, her father and mother at 2464 Sanford Avenue. She received her initial college degree at Beale Tift College at Forsythe, Ga., and her degree in home economics at Florida State University.

Her work here has included the organization of adult home demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs among girls, and canning centers. The home demonstration work includes all phases of home making, food preparation and canning, making of clothing, beautification of homes and grounds, gardening, poultry and crafts.

Housewives who are interested in these subjects may obtain interesting booklets issued by the University of Florida, Florida State University, and United States Department of Agriculture. These cover many phases of agriculture and homecraft.

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—A federal district attorney says he will investigate selective service complaints that a Methodist minister had urged young men not to register for the draft.

"Mighty Mo" To Become Country's Last Battleship On Active Duty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—In another week, the mighty Mo will be this country's last battleship on active duty.

But a light aircraft carrier and eight destroyers are coming out of mothballs for a stepped-up program of anti-submarine training.

The Navy is announcing this last night said the reason is the series of revolutionary developments in underwater fighting since war's end.

Thus by retiring the Battleship Iowa about Sept. 1, the Navy plans to release more men and money for the anti-sub program.

The Iowa will join 13 other battleships laid up in the reserve fleet.

That will leave the Missouri—the vessel on which the Japanese surrender was signed—the only battleship actively afloat.

The Missouri will be reactivated in about a month, and the eight destroyers will begin rejoining the fleet in January.

Meanwhile, the Navy joined the Air Force and the Army in a public declaration of new harmony among the services.

The occasion was a meeting of 300 top planning officers to hear reports on the weekend Newport, R.I., meeting of the joint chiefs of staff.

That session was devoted largely to a clarification of the role of

Labor Group Is Not Endorsing President By Action

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today reaffirmed its long-standing policy of not endorsing presidential candidates, but announced the formation of a committee to work for the election of the Truman-Barkley Democratic ticket.

Formation of the committee, to consist of the international presidents of as many AFL unions as are willing to join, was announced at a news conference with William Green, Federation President, and George M. Harrison, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Harrison said the new committee would be independent of Labor's League for Political Education, the Federation's organization concerned with the congressional races.

Harrison said that funds will be raised "by voluntary contributions from organized labor."

He said the committee "heads" of all but one or two of the international AFL unions would affiliate with the committee. It is to be known as the committee of labor executives for the reelection of Truman and the election of Barkley.

Harrison said "we are supporting Mr. Truman because he is against the Taft-Hartley Law and stands for the principles of freedom."

Green said that the AFL had decided not to endorse any presidential candidate because of its long-standing tradition against such action. That tradition was broken only once, when the Federation endorsed Robert M. La Follette, Green said. La Follette was the Progressive Party entry in the presidential race of 1924.

Chambers Or Hiss To Face Perjury Trial

Two Men Are Warned About Lying Under Oath Before House Un-American Group

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—A battered old Ford car, as what was done with it, became a central issue today when Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers faced each other in the congressional trial.

The two men—accused and accused—were brought together before the House Un-American Activities Committee and warned that one or the other will be tried for lying under oath.

Then Hiss was questioned for hours about a 1929 Ford he once owned. It was clear the committee expected by tracing the Ford it could pin down, at least partially, the matter of who was lying.

Hiss, 43-year-old former State Department official, said he knew Chambers in 1934 or 1935 as George Costley, a free lance writer, and "gave" or "anyhow let him use the car."

But Hiss insisted he could not recall ever getting the car back and selling it, but wouldn't be surprised if that had happened.

After Hiss and committee members sparred at length over the car, Committee Investigator Robert E. Stripling produced what he said was a record of testimony Chambers gave on Aug. 7.

This was to the effect that Hiss wanted the car turned over to the Communist Party for use of some organizer.

Stripling produced also what he said was a copy of a certificate of title, showing that Alger Hiss assigned title to a Ford roadster.

Rev. J. R. Ferris Talks To Kiwanis On Human Ideals

Pastor Of Christian Church Says Ideas Control Acts

"Ideals that control our behavior" was the subject of a talk given today today to Kiwanis at the Tourist Center by the Rev. J. R. Ferris, pastor of the First Christian Church who recently came here from Georgia to assume the pastorate.

He declared that he had learned by experience not to accept statements of people without thinking them through. As an example he cited a line from a hymn in which it is stated, "Such a woman as I." He said that he felt better than that, especially when he read in the scripture that man is a "child of the King," and created but a bit lower than the angels.

"If I believe I am a child of the King, I will live like a king," he asserted. "If on the other hand, I believe that I am a child of the devil, I will act like him."

"Our thoughts and ideas control our actions and cause us to be the kind of men we are," he said. He cited an instance of a man who visited a plantation during slave days in America and who noted a negro who stood erect and looked

$1,223.00 Budget Adopted By Pilot Club At Meeting

The budget of $1,223.00 presented by Mrs. Al Hunt, chairman of the finance committee of the Pilot Club, was adopted by the club at its regular business meeting held in the Tourist Center last night with Mrs. J. C. Mitchell presiding.

Ways of meeting the budget, which is set up to take care of various civic projects and drives during the year, were discussed. These include contributions to the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Tuberculosis Association, the Cancer Drive, the Milk Bank, Nursery School membership in the Chamber of Commerce and many other worthwhile projects.

A report of the Milk Bank by Mrs. W. E. Hollyhead revealed a total of 105 quarts of fresh milk and a case of canned milk distributed to needy families during July. The club voted to make a donation of $5 toward the United Jewish Appeal. A letter was read from Mrs. Ouida Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, thanking the club for its contribution of $10 toward sending some of the 4-H girls to Tallahassee for a short course this summer.

Mrs. E. C. Maxwell, parliamentarian of the club, explained (Continued on Page 21)

Consular Relations Between U.S. And Russia Are Severed; Marshall Is Unimpressed

Secretary Of State Says U.S. Will Accept Soviet Order Closing Embassy

YORKTOWN, Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—President Truman today cancelled the credentials of Soviet Consul General Jacob Lomakin. Mr. Truman's action was announced by presidential secretary Charles G. Hoss at the White House.

The President also said the National Security Resources Board has recommended the continuance of voluntary allocations of petroleum and steel.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today said the United States will accept Russia's order for closing the American consulate in Vladivostok.

Marshall told a news conference the Soviet action, announced last night as a climax to a dispute over runaway Russian school teachers, is regrettable but not a very serious matter.

The American consulate in the Pacific port was so circumscribed in its activities that he was able to accomplish very little, Marshall said.

Carefully choosing his words, Marshall noted that the Russians still have the Amtorg Trading Organization with headquarters in New York for conduct of business affairs in this country. He also said consular sections presumably (Continued on Page 21)

Simple Test For RH Factor In Newborn Babies Is Shown Today

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Reporter

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—A new, quick and simple test for a dangerous condition in the blood of newborn infants was shown today.

It deals with the RH factor. This is a substance found in the blood of about 85 per cent of all humans. They are RH positive people. The rest don't have it, and are RH negative.

The test tells whether an RH positive baby is in danger from RH antibodies formed in the mother's blood. Such antibodies can attack the baby's blood cells, destroying them. Frequently, in the past, the baby died.

But this RH sensitivity of the baby can happen only in marriage of an RH positive man and an RH negative woman. The baby then in the majority of cases is born with RH positive blood. During pregnancy, the mother's blood may start circulating in the baby's blood.

Rep. John Rankin 16 Airmen Die Renominated In In Plane Crash Mississippi Race At Hawaii Base

Most Of New York's Incumbents Win In Primary Election

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25 (AP)—Rep. John L. Rankin, veteran of 28 years in Congress and a loud voice of white supremacy, won renomination in Mississippi's Democratic primary.

Rep. John Bell Williams, one of the state's few Negro congressmen, won renomination in yesterday's voting. William M. Colmer, and Thomas G. Abernethy held commanding leads over their opponents on the basis of incomplete returns.

Rankin captured a strong majority in his northernmost district and forced a quick admission of defeat by two young opponents.

Victory in the Democratic primary is tantamount to election in single-party Mississippi.

The 66-year-old Rankin won 13,923 ballots against 5,579 for Judge Raymond Jarvis and 4,336 for Claude F. Clayton, a war veteran, in unofficial returns from 202 of 224 boxes.

Rankin led in all 10 counties of the district. A bitter foe of Communism, he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

New Building Code Will Be Issued For 13 Southern States

A newly revised standard building code for 13 southern states will be issued during the next 15 days, it was announced today by Grady Duncan, city building inspector and vice president of the Southern Building Code Congress.

Mr. Duncan returned Monday from Birmingham, Ala., where he attended a meeting of trustees of the Congress, which gave final approval to amendments to the code and turned it over to the printers.

The South and the far west are the only sections of the nation to have up-to-date, uniform building codes, said Mr. Duncan. The performance code allows the use of any new material that will meet laboratory tests at any recognized university testing laboratory such as at the University of Florida in Gainesville, he revealed.

At present, 142 cities in the South have adopted the Southern Building Code, and many, including Sanford, are waiting to adopt it with the new additions in it.

Most of the additions to the code were adopted at the recent meeting of the Congress here and in Orlando, said Mr. Duncan. The code is particularly adapted to the southern climate and requirements, also to materials most available such as southern yellow pine.

Action Comes As Climax To Row With Reds Over Refugee School Teachers

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Soviet Vice Consul Zolt C. Chernomakh left the Russian consulate shortly after 4 P.M. today and told reporters he was leaving "for good." He said he was on his way to his Guardia airport.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Russia speeded up a steady recall of Soviet citizens from the United States today by ordering the closing of the last two remaining Soviet consulates in this country.

Moscow announced that the New York and San Francisco consulates will be closed in a note which provided a new climax to the dispute over the refugee Soviet school teachers.

The lone outpost of the American embassy in Moscow, the consulate in the Pacific port of Vladivostok was ordered by Russia to close its doors at the same time Moscow also said it is cancelling a 1947 agreement to let the U.S. reopen a former consulate at Leningrad.

The action was Russia's reply to the American demand that Soviet Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin leave the country for "abuse" of his official status in New York during the investigation of the affair of the three Soviet school teachers who refused to return to their homeland.

There was no question of breaking off formal diplomatic relations. Consulates are concerned (Continued on Page 21)
