

BIG ARMY IS PLANNED FOR WAR

GENERAL STAFF WOULD RAISE ARMY OF YOUNG MEN

Washington, April 3.—Detailed plans of the war department "for raising an army numbering millions if that is necessary to bring the government of the German empire to terms" were placed in President Wilson's hands today in a form of a bill prepared by the General Staff and reviewed and revised in part by Secretary Baker and the general officers who are his military advisers. The President as commander-in-chief already has approved the basis adopted for the war army, and preparations have been made at the war department for presenting the measure to the military committees of congress.

Secretary of War Baker said today it would go to the house and senate committees as soon as the war resolution had been adopted. Major-General Scott, chief of staff will explain the plan and the military reasons for the need to train the number of soldiers the bill will produce. This is believed to be not less than 2,000,000 to be trained within two years.

In the Navy Department Secretary Daniels announced during the day that contracts for approximately 200 submarine chasers and coast patrol boats had been let and additional contracts were being signed each day. Preparations to take into the service a huge fleet of small motor craft for inshore patrol work also are being completed.

The scope of the War Department's army plan is gradually becoming clear, although the details are being withheld until they are sent to congress. Included in the scheme must be the funds and equipment necessary to establish military training on a basis never before attempted in the United States. Trench fighting is the predominating feature of the battles of today. Mimic trench warfare, realistic to the last possible degree must replace much of the old open order skirmish drills, supplemented with hand fighting and vigorous physical exercise to harden the men as quickly as possible.

There are many indications that it is proposed to build up a fighting machine composed exclusively of men in their twenties and each man free from home responsibilities or cares that might embarrass his soldierly qualities. A perfect military weapon is to be fashioned, officers say, if the army's plan is accepted by congress. It will take time and money, but it will furnish such a force as will make its weight tell against any troops in the world.

Presumably the oldest men within the prescribed limits would be called out first. These classes would yield the smallest number for training, for the percentage of men to assume family responsibilities goes up rapidly after twenty years is reached. They would be, however, men in their most vigorous years, ready for any hardship. Each succeeding increment of 500,000 called out for training would probably have reached the same stage of physical development by the time the training had been given.

Physical standards of the regular army will be rigidly maintained. Registration of all single men between the fixed ages will be a big task. Cooperation of state and municipal authorities may be sought under the plans for state cooperation in the national war measure program being framed by the Council of National Defense. Several million men must be enrolled and examined physically before the process of workers of certain classes whose labor is vital to maintenance of the food and war supplies of the nation will be exempted as a class.

Army officers indicated today that the government's policy leaves no place for volunteer forces. They are prepared also to urge against any premature effort to send an army abroad to fight. To be of any aid in the world struggle, they say, only a very considerable force of fully trained and highly equipped and organized troops with adequate independent supply lines should go to Europe. To do otherwise, one officer declared, might make American troops a menace rather than an aid to the Entente armies. It would further tax the already heavily strained French and British supply systems.

Will Finish Up Movies

J. J. Frawley, representing the Lubin Co., of Philadelphia has returned to Sanford and will go over some of the ground recently covered in obtaining a moving picture of the Sanford celery fields and the city streets. Some of the films are not good and his company requested a retake of a part of the fields. Mr. Frawley will then have the film ready to show all over the United States and Sanford will also show the pictures here.

St. Petersburg Odd Fellows are to have their own home in a short time. The lodge has been let to John Wright, a contractor, to erect the building, which will cost $15,000, and work will be started at once.

BUILDING IS ACTIVE IN SANFORD

SEVERAL FINE BUSINESS BLOCKS TO BE ERECTED THIS SUMMER

The many visitors to Sanford are greatly surprised at the many buildings in construction at this time. The buildings are many of them in the business portion and demonstrate that one of the busiest seasons is ahead for this city.

Among the business blocks are the two story building for the Seminole County Bank being erected in the rear of the new bank that will be occupied as store rooms and offices. This building will be two stories in height with a frontage on Magnolia avenue of about forty feet and will extend back about sixty feet. This building is being constructed of vitrified brick and facing will be made of black mortar grouted construction making a beautiful front and the building will be most substantial.

The First National Bank is asking for bids for a two story building of brick to be erected on Park avenue in the rear of the bank that will be an ornament to that part of the city. This building will also be for stores and offices.

Both of these buildings will enhance the appearance of these streets and instead of vacant lots will be hives of industry and it is to be hoped that more of our property owners will see the benefits of converting vacant lots into fine business property.

Among the other brick buildings are the new Baptist church that will be constructed at once, costing about ten thousand dollars and will be the church building to be constructed in the rear of the present fine building that has been used temporarily for the church. The new building will be of tapestry brick to correspond with the other building.

The new Presbyterian church will be finished about the first of May and is another ornament to the city. There are many other buildings planned for the summer and the contracts will soon be announced.

Austria Talks Peace

London, April 4.—A dispatch from The Hague to the Exchange Telegraph Company received here today says Austria Hungary will break diplomatic relations with the United States as the result of stern German pressure.

At the conference attended by Emperor William and Emperor Charles, and the ministers and generals of the Central Powers, the correspondent says, the chief subject dealt with was the American situation.

The conference is also said to have received important declarations from Count Czernin von Chudenitz, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, on the possibility of an early peace.

The Emperor of Austria intends, it is added, to make a statement to the world shortly to that effect in the name of the Central Powers.

FLORIDA LEGISLATURE

SENATE AND HOUSE GET RIGHT DOWN TO BUSINESS

Tallahassee, April 4.—Gov. Catts rolled up his sleeves and waded into the liquor forces at the Prohibition rally here this afternoon. The wading seemed good and the water fine, so while he was at it the Governor rapped delinquent county officers, the Anti-Saloon League as represented by "Spent" Pendleton, the Jacksonville saloon bunch, and the newspapers in general.

Gov. Catts declared his intention to support the state-wide Prohibition amendment with all his power, influence and energy. The Governor said Pleas Holt and his bunch was here to defeat the submission amendment as he did last session, when they bought a barrel of liquor and several of beer bunch here to debauch members of the legislature. He cited an instance where one senator was drunk in his seat in the senate, and declared that if such a thing occurred while he was governor he would oust such senator or member if he had to call out the state militia to do it. Mr. Catts declared he had whipped Pleas Holt and his bunch before and he would whip them again.

The Governor said he had been doing his best to clean up the country, and that his efforts had not been without success, though the newspapers never had anything to say about his successes. He had been writing letters to the various county officers whom he had discovered were slack in the performance of their public duties, reminding them of their short comings and gently hinting that if they were satisfied with their present jobs and wanted to stay in office they had better discharge their duties. The result, he found, was a general tightening up of loose methods all along the line; that blind tigers were taking to the tall uncut, and certain towns that used to receive $500 worth of liquor per week only got $10 worth now. Gov. Catts said the newspapers were silent as the tomb on matters of this kind, but nevertheless the information is reaching the public, and that he wanted it understood when public officials violated the oath of office their heads would drop into the basket, and that if the senate saw fit to stick the heads back on it could do so, but the Governor would whack them off again.

The story was told of a certain sheriff of a north Florida county who had been permitting his old uncle to pull off a big cock fight occasionally. Recently said o. u. gathered in about fifty game cocks in preparation for one of his peculiar society functions. The sheriff heard of it and hurried over to his uncle's house to tell him that if that cock fight came off he would arrest him and all his invited guests and lock them up. In explanation of his sudden impulse to enforce the law, the sheriff said, "Why, if that old fool at Tallahassee should hear of that fight my job wouldn't be worth a cuss."

These exhibitions of the Governor's rigid backbone are said to be responsible for the movement being launched by "the Jacksonville bunch" to pass some legislation to curtail the Governor's power to remove delinquent officials. The Governor seems keen for a scrap with these opponents and has expressed his determination to carry the case to the court of public opinion, if necessary, believing that the people will sustain him as they have in the past. Meanwhile it looks as though there will be some stirring times in old Tallahassee within the next sixty days.

Tallahassee, April 3.—Senator A. M. Wilson of Mangrove and DeSoto counties has prepared and will introduce a bill authorizing a committee of three from each branch of the legislature, with the commissioner of agriculture as its chairman, whose duties shall be to investigate the advisability, and practicability of creating one or more fertilizer factories to be owned and operated by the state.

The object of this measure is to furnish the farmers of this state fertilizers at a price which they can afford to pay in the production of their crops; in other words, to burst the fertilizer trust. Senator Wilson does not charge the fertilizer people with robbery, but he believes that if they are selling their products for a reasonable profit at present, the state can beat them producing fertilizers.

Senator Wilson's measure is likely to meet with much favor among the representatives in both branches of the legislature who represent large farmer constituencies.

(Carter)

Tallahassee, April 3.—A caucus of those interested in a revision of the statutes regulating the practice of medicine in this state was held here this afternoon. A number of physicians, senators and representatives and one newspaper man were present.

Dr. Oliver J. Miller, city health officer of Sanford was present representing the Florida Medical Association. Dr. Miller and his associates had prepared a bill, which the legislature will be asked to pass, providing for a joint board of medical examiners upon which board will be represented the several schools of medicine. It will be known as the medical protective act regulating the practice of medicine and surgery.

With a single board of examiners there will be uniformity of requirements and much less danger of corruption, such as was evidenced by the recent charges upon which the Eclectic Board was removed from office.

For years the legitimate medical profession of the state has been satisfied that this Eclectic Board had been trafficking in bogus diplomas among the quacks who could not pass the examination and secure license in the regular way, but it was not until recently that they were able to trap the frauds.

It is to be hoped that the legislature will appreciate the extreme importance of exterminating these quacks and protecting the public by snubbing it possible for them to obtain license to prey upon the public health. There is little doubt but what the members of both branches will uphold the hands of the medical profession in their efforts to exterminate the medical frauds. It is quite evident that they will have the hearty cooperation of the governor.

But the quacks will be on hand to fight for their existence. They are a plausible bunch with oily tongues—the most important part of their practice being smooth conversation. They will set up the same old cry of jealousy on the part of the regular medical profession which wants them excluded from practice because they are producing better results and getting the business. But it is exceedingly doubtful if this kind of talk will win, in the face of all the information regarding the dirty practices of the fakirs which the legitimate profession will be able to present at the proper time.

Nevertheless the public should not leave it to the physicians to fight out among themselves. The public has much more to lose at the hands of the fakirs than does the medical profession. Therefore the people of Florida, as well as the honorable medical profession should get busy and cooperate with Dr. Miller and his associates by urging their representatives and senators to support the measure recommended by the State Medical Association. If this is done there can be no doubt as to the outcome of this bill. The time to strike is when the iron is hot and the disreputable conduct of these medical frauds is fresh in the public mind.

It is said that Governor Catts will take steps to revoke the license issued by the erstwhile Eclectic Board of Examiners, where the holders of license issued by this board cannot produce diplomas from creditable schools or other evidences of their qualifications to practice medicine. It is thought that such step will force over a hundred quacks in this state to haul down their shingle and seek other means of a livelihood than practicing a fraud on the people under the guise of medicine.

GOOD BALL GAMES

Sanford High Will Play Ocala and Rollins Ball Teams

Next Saturday we will have the first ball game of the season when Sanford High School plays the Ocala High School team. On Monday afternoon Sanford High will play the Rollins College Academic team. Both games promise some rare sport as the teams are said to be in fine shape. Admission to the games will be 15 and 25 cents and a big crowd should be out to both games.

At a meeting of the Eustis Board of Trade recently President Ferran introduced the matter of bulkheading the lakeshore at the city wharf and extending some distance on both sides, and using this for park purposes. The project met with enthusiastic approval, and a committee was appointed to acquire the necessary property rights and to present the project to the city council for action. It is proposed to issue bonds to meet the expense, which will be in the neighborhood of $8,000.

U. S. SENATE VOTES FOR RESOLUTION

AFTER THIRTEEN HOUR DEBATE VOTE WAS EIGHTY-TWO AGAINST SIX

Washington, April 6.—The war resolutions were passed by the senate by a vote of 82 to 6 Wednesday night.

Senators who cast the negative votes are: Gronna, North Dakota; LaFollette, Wisconsin; Norris, Nebraska; Lane, Oregon; Stone, Missouri; Vardaman, Mississippi.

Senator McCumber's substitute to declare the existence of a state of war upon the sinking of another American ship by Germany was defeated without a roll call.

The senate adjourned at 11:13, immediately after adopting the war resolution, until noon today.

The resolution drafter after consultation with the state department and already accepted by the house committee, says the state of war thrust upon the United States by Germany is formally declared and directs the President to employ the entire military and naval forces and the resources of the government to carry on war and bring it to a successful termination.

Action in the senate came just after 11 o'clock at the close of a debate that had lasted continuously since 10 p'clock this morning. The climax was reached late in the afternoon when Senator John Sharp Williams denounced a speech by Senator LaFollette as more worthy of Herr von Bismarck-Hollweg than of an American senator.

The passage of the resolution was not marked by any outburst from the galleries. The senators themselves were unusually quiet. Many of them answered to their names in voices that quivered with emotion.

The galleries were filled to overflowing and on the first floor back of the senators' seats were almost half the membership of the house. In the diplomatic gallery was Secretary Lansing and Councillor Polk of the state department, Minister Calderon of Bolivia and Minister Ekengren of Sweden. Earlier in the evening Dr. Ritter, the Swiss Minister, in charge of German interests in this country had been there.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was on the floor during the last few hours of the debate.

As the last name was called and the clerk announced the vote, 82 to 6, there was hardly a murmur of applause.

All six of the senators who voted against the resolution were members of the group of twelve which defeated the armed neutrality bill at the last session. There was no attempt to filibuster this time, however, and most of the thirteen hours of debate was consumed by champions of the resolution. Of the other six opponents of the armed neutrality, Senators Cummins, Kenyon and Kirby voted for the resolution tonight. Senators O'Gorman, Clapp and Works retired to private life at the end of the last session.

GOVERNOR'S IMPORTANT MESSAGE

RECOMMENDS MANY REFORMS THAT WOULD BENEFIT FLORIDA

The Governor's message, although crude in spots and with nothing new and startling in it has much to commend it in many parts. He at least advocates reforms that are needed even though he probably knows that he will never have them all put over.

He begins by saying that many of our laws are antiquated, technical and hard to understand, and recommends that they be annulled, and the laws be made plain and re-codified.

He recommends submitting to the people for adoption a prohibition constitutional amendment. In order to obtain the benefit of the congressional good roads fund he recommends that suitable legislation be enacted. He urges that great caution be made in the matter of appropriations not to make the taxes too burdensome.

He recommends an inheritance tax. He says such a law is now in force in forty-eight states. He says that the legislature should clothe the tax commission with greater powers. That a board consisting of the comptroller, state treasurer and a member of the railroad commission should be authorized to assess railroad properties.

He recommends an additional state auditor, extra help for the governor's office of two additional clerks, another member for the supreme court, an insurance commissioner, and appointee to be known as "the friend of the convict." This official is to stay among the convicts sharing their privations, so as to be in sympathy with them, so that he will be in a position to take their part, as the "Son of Man came to the earth and took the part of a lost and ruined world with our Heavenly Father pleading at the mercy seat." This proposition he realizes may be ridiculed but the time will come, he says, when the world will see that he is right.

He favors a state printing, and an appropriation of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the creation of another state building at Tallahassee.

The governors favor the repeal of the Bryan election law and a return to two primaries, one following quickly upon the heels of the other. He favors a law that would recall every officer from a justice of the peace to a member of the supreme court.

He favors industrial training in the schools. The taxation of church property other than church edifices and parsonages. He favors a more liberal libel law for the newspapers; would have all teachers licensed, whether teaching private or public schools, all undergoing the same character of examinations. He favors no closed institutions. Favors the drainage of the Everglades. Favors a law whereby processes can be served on foreign corporations and would place a privilege tax on the owners of large land holdings.

He favors a bank guarantee deposit law, and would give federated labor organizations proper and needful recognition.

He favors larger pensions for old soldiers, and monthly payments.

He would make the legal rate of interest 6 per cent. He would impose a privilege tax on telegraph, telephone and railroad companies. He would have the legislature provide better shipping facilities for the producer. He would have the flag aloft from every public school building in the state.

He admits having made many mistakes and is liable to make many more, but promises to do the best he knows how in making Florida one of the greatest states in the Union.

Will Address Board of Trade

Dr. Ward, president of Rollins College will address the Board of Trade at the regular meeting next Tuesday night and all the members are requested to be present. Dr. Ward will have something of interest for all the citizens of Sanford and every one is invited to be present at eight o'clock in the court room.

Items of Interest for the Man Behind the Plow

Increase the Farm Output

In a manufacturing business there are four ways of increasing the output of products: First, by increasing the force of workmen and the number of working hours each day; second, by improving machinery and equipment; third, by a rearrangement of the plant to permit greater ease and rapidity of operation; fourth, by improving the working conditions to such an extent that a greater production by each man for each day will be secured.

The first mentioned method of increasing production, says F. M. East of the University of Florida college of agriculture is not to be considered except in exceptional cases. It is not used by good factory managers and should not be used on the farm, for the farmer is really a manufacturer and what is not good practice in other factories is not a good practice for him to adopt. It is the other three methods of increasing production which are most vital, and should be looked into by the farmer who is anxious to take advantage of the high prices now offered for farm products.

With the Women Folks

Here are a few items which will give an idea of how much interest is being taken in the work of the county home demonstration agents, there being thirty-two in the state:

Escambia County. The Lockey school has a garden under the general supervision of the agent, but more directly under the direction of the teachers who supervise the work daily. The children have the fence built, the ground cleared and planted, and some of the plants are up. The principal reported that much interest is being shown among the children. This garden is entered in Pensacola's city beautiful contest.

This report from an agent will show that the egg curcles are able to make good their guarantee of first class eggs sold. "Both of our egg circles shipped eggs last week. Thirty dozen were sold to Swift & Co. who reported that the eggs were candled and all were found in perfect condition."

Another agent reports: "I sent out some letters recently asking for prizes to be given in my work next year. The East Coast Railway promises one hundred dollars to us as I see fit in St. Johns county."

The Duval county agent chaperoned a party of club girls at the public market in Jacksonville. She says, "The girls had earned tomatoes, or orange marmalade, pickles, eggs, etc., to sell. They cleared ten dollars."

And this comes from the same agent: "The girls in one community gave an entertainment and cleared enough to buy a three burner stove with oven, a sewing machine, all kitchen utensils, dishes, cutlery, etc., needed, and had five dollars left with which to buy materials for penny lunches. The board of education has presented them with knives and spoons. I carried some sewing to the girls in another community. The Red Cross Relief called for volunteers to help sew and I offered the services of the calling club girls in Duval county. The girls are interested in the work and are quite proud to do this much for their country."

Why Good Animals Bring Better Prices

Now that Florida has a permanent packing house market for all classes of livestock in Jacksonville, it is well for the farmers to know just what class of animals will bring them the highest prices. The old days, when any kind of animal brought $15 or $18 a head without regard to quality, have passed and will never return. The market now open to the farmer bases its prices directly upon the value of the carcass for meat.

The worth of an animal for meat is based largely upon its form, size, and the amount and quality of flesh it carries, says C. L. Willoughby of the University of Florida college of agriculture. The form or shape of the animal is dependent entirely upon its breeding. All purebred meat animals have been bred and selected for years to grow heavy frames that will put on large amount of flesh in the parts of the body that bring the highest prices after the animal is cut up in the butcher shop.

Look at the razorback hog or scrub steer, then look at a purebred or cross between a purebred boar or bull and the native stock, and note the difference. The animal with good blood lines will be squarely built, which means a good portion of its weight in high-priced cuts. Such animals dress out a much higher per cent of meat. They have a natural tendency to fatten evenly and will put on flesh rapidly and more economically than the scrub animal. The meat of a quickly maturing animal of good blood lines is always of better quality than the scrub stock can produce.

The animal with good blood in his veins is the profitable animal. He produces more meat and better meat and better meat than the scrub. The packer can afford to pay and does pay more a pound for such meat than for the ordinary stock.

Every farmer who does not believe in improved livestock should visit the Interstate Stock Yards at Jacksonville and watch the sales in progress. The prices paid for the different classes of stock are the most eloquent arguments for better livestock, an argument of dollars and cents, and these dollars and cents mount up to the hundreds when the price of a carload of stock is considered.

The days of scrub stock, scrub methods and scrub prices are rapidly passing. We are now entering an era in which those who keep good stock, and follow careful methods will reap the just rewards, something the farmer has not always received in the past.

Improve Your Poor Land

Many farmers in Florida have a plot of unprofitable land on their farms that can be brought into profitable cultivation thru the expenditure of some time and money. Such additional expenditure may not be advisable during normal periods of production with the attending normal prices, but there is an abnormal demand for agricultural products now and the farmer may be able to take advantage of the opportunity to reclaim waste places on his farm.

"The economic law of diminishing returns prevents the reclamation of waste land until the rising prices or cheaper methods of production make such action practicable," says J. E. Turlington of the University of Florida college of agriculture. And even now it may pay the farmer better to spend his time and money in the further improvement of the part of his farm that is already profitable rather than to spend his resources in the reclamation of less desirable land.

Under normal conditions, much money and valuable time are lost each year in almost every locality in the attempt to put unprofitable plots on a paying basis. Lack of agricultural credit forces many a deserving family to waste time in trying to get a start on acres that moneyed men pass by. Misleading advertisements have lured many families to give up a comfortable living in the city to drag out a miserable existence in work and worry on worthless land. Lack of knowledge of the business side of farming is largely responsible for loss in the management of unprofitable acres. The pity of it is that so much of this loss falls on those who can least afford to lose.

Every farmer who owns unprofitable land should make a detailed examination of his farm to detect all unprofitable plots. Next, he should determine the approximate cost of making each acre pay its way. Such will disclose what and how much is needed in the way of manure, commercial fertilizer, drainage, or other preparation, to produce satisfactory crop yields. This analytical study of each part of the farm will sometimes call attention to many acres that cannot be cultivated profitably. It is better to leave such land in permanent pastures, or even to let it lie idle, than to work it at a loss.

This is a good year to look over your farm land. If it cannot be made profitable under the prevailing high prices for farm products, it is doubtful if it will ever become profitable in a reasonable number of years. But if it can be utilized with the prospect of paying expenses, do so by all means.

The Bankers Can Help

There is quite a step between a farm and a bank in the general order of business organization, but in the working effect of the two businesses, one could not prosper with out the other. A bank is primarily an institution for extending credits, and if a farmer is to increase the output from his land he needs such an extension of credit.

In the northern states, says the University of Florida extension division a campaign is being made to induce farmers to plant every available acre, and to stock all land not suitable for tillage with an increased amount of live stock. To help the progress of the campaign, the bankers are trying to meet the demand for increased credit extensions, the thing on which the success of the plan depends.

Easier money, loans at lower rates of interest with longer time in which to meet them is to be offered farmers. Increased production of farm crops mean an increase in the available feed for livestock. To dispose of this feed to the best advantage means that it should be used in the production of more and better livestock on the farm on which the feed was grown. The easier money provides the credit necessary for enlarging the herds.

This general plan of increasing farm production is being followed by some banks in this state, but the movement should become a part of the policy of all the banks. Farm loans are good loans, and they are especially safe when made to the man engaged in safe or diversified farming. They should be much more attractive than loans made to the one crop farmer, a class of loans often favored by bankers.

SILOS IN SEMINOLE

PROGRESSIVE FARMERS ARE CO-OPERATING WITH CATTLE MEN IN RAISING SILAGE

It is difficult to write or say anything new about silos, since the proof of their value to the beef feeder and dairyman has been so thoroughly demonstrated and exploited all over the civilized world for many years.

One man can do all the work in a few hours per day, feeding these cattle during the prescribed ninety days, and also care up the manure and compost it.

Any Sanford trucker who can devote as much as fifteen acres of lettuce for celery land to the growing of a crop of corn silage between the months of April and August can make a clean profit of $1500.00 or more and enrich his farm for the production of lettuce and celery enormously beside.

The method of procedure is as follows: When lettuce or celery is removed from the ground in the spring put in a crop of silage corn. In late July or early August cut this corn and put it away in the silo.

I have been necessarily brief because of the limited space allotted me for this article, but wish to add that I am equipped with all kinds of data and information regarding silos and the feeding of ensilage and this information is at the disposal of any of our farmers who are interested.

NEW DEPARTURE IN CELERY

Washing Celery and Shipping to Southern Markets Great Business

One of the new departures in the celery business is the washing and packing into bundles the celery for local southern markets. Up to a few years ago the celery washed was on the northern end of the line and much of the profits of the growers went to those who paid a small price for it in Sanford, shipped it north, washed it up and sold it at a good price.

Among the pioneers in the washing and shipping of celery, Sanford, Fla., is Mr. W. S. Spencer, who started in the vegetable business several years ago and from a small line it has become one of his largest business enterprises.

Mr. Spencer has 18 acres of his own celery, but this is not sufficient to meet his needs and he buys from the local growers, thus creating new markets for them.

Likes Our Secretary The party of capitalists from Melbourne piloted by that good old scout, Stanley Liberty, of the Times that were here last week inspecting cattle and hog ranches evidently likes our genial secretary of the Sanford Board of Trade as the following from the Times would indicate:

"Arriving at Titusville there was time to transact some business by members of the party before lunch time, and it was learned also that time and distance could be saved by taking the short cut route to Sanford instead of going by way of Daytona and Deland.

ONLY TRUE LIVING D. A. R.

Father of Pennsylvania Woman Served in American Revolution.

Philadelphia.—Mrs. Hannah Plaf of Jacobs Creek, Pa., who probably is the only true daughter of the American Revolution living, celebrated her one hundred and second birthday recently, says a correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Her father, Robert Slommons, served throughout the Revolutionary war with a distinguished record for bravery. He was a scout and Indian fighter and was several times captured by the Indians and put to torture because he would not betray the plans of the American army. Mrs. Plaf owns an Indian tomahawk with which her father struck down an Indian who attacked him from ambush.

Mrs. Plaf attributes her long life and good health to living the simple life, with much hard work of various kinds. She is a woman of remarkable attainments and a large fund of information gathered from much reading.

BONUS FOR NOT WEDDING.

Miss Eaton Will Get $5 a Month For Teaching if She Does Not Marry.

Highland, Kan.—Miss Ella Eaton of Highland, who will teach in the schools of Metcalf, Ariz., during the coming year, will receive a bonus of $5 a month if she refrains from marrying until the end of the school term next spring. Marrying girls have been in great demand at Metcalf.

The school board of that town has had so much trouble looking for new teachers after school has been in session three or four months that it was decided to offer a special bonus to the schoolteachers who will remain single.

White chalice heavenward turning,
O royal cups fair!
Tall lilies, in golden hearts burning,
Beneath the glad sunbeams' fond yearning,
Their sweet incense rare.

Weep not o'er the tomb in thy garden,
O soul sore bereft!
Though sorrow thy spirit is shaking,
Strong comfort is left.

The seals of the dread tomb are breaking;
Beneath their grim guard life is waking;
The darkness is cleft.

Eternity lighteth thy garden—
Look up, tear dimmed eyes!
Forget the lone night of thy weeping

In morn's sweet surprise.
Thy dear ones thou hast from their sleeping;
Death held them delayed in his keeping.

Lo, none but Death dies!

Shot Owl Stealing Hen.
Vancouver, Wash.—When a big horned owl eighteen inches tall was flying off with a hen S. J. Pettit shot the bird at his farm, near Orchard, recently. The owl measured four feet six inches from tip to tip. Mr. Pettit had missed several chickens and was at a loss to know where they went and was pleased when he found he had the culprit. The owl will be mounted.

Easter Gifts.

The very pleasant Easter custom of sending Easter cards to our friends or of making them simple and inexpensive gifts is a good one, provided we do not carry it to an extreme. The springtime is a busy season when every one is weeding out one's possessions rather than seeking to add to them; hence numerous large gifts would prove a burden to the recipient. Eggs have always been associated with the day as symbolic of the resurrection. Bonbonnières of this shape or candy eggs are always popular.

Flowers and growing plants are especially appropriate to the day, Easter lilies being always in demand. A corsage bouquet of violets or of lilies of the valley is a pretty gift to a girl. The man who makes it must be careful to have it sent to the house of the girl in time for her to wear to church on Easter morning. Neckties or scarfs are suitable gifts to make to a man who is a relative or friend, provided one knows his tastes.—Florence Howe Hall in Chicago News.

EDISON BUSY WORKING ON NEW WAR DEVICE

Has Model of Baby Submarine While Toiling in Guarded Building.

Orange, N. J.—A special laboratory has been established by Thomas A. Edison at Eagle Rock, West Orange, overlooking New York city, the upper bay and part of Staten Island, at which he is working in conjunction with experts from the United States government. Their labors are being prosecuted far into the night, but what they are working on is a secret, and a guard patrols the grounds at all times.

Mr. Edison is chairman of the naval consulting board. In Columbia street, West Orange, a block distant from the main Edison plant, is a big corrugated iron building, with the window glass coated and the windows barred. On good authority it was learned that Mr. Edison had in the building a sixteen foot working model of a submarine which, it is said, was the basis of Henry Ford's statement that he could build 1,000 one man submarines a day if he was called on to do so.

The Eagle Rock laboratory is the big casino erected by the Essex County Park Commission in the Eagle Rock reservation. Some time ago the commission gave to Mr. Edison permission to use the building. Much machinery has been installed, and a heavy cable indicates the use of considerable electric power. One of the pieces of apparatus is a telescope that, to quote one man who had peered through it, "brought New York so close it seemed you could reach out and touch the buildings."

Easter Plants

CARE of Easter plants is a problem that seems to bother many people. Even those who never raise plants are certain to receive gifts in this shape at Easter time, and naturally they desire them to live as long as possible.

Because of a lack of knowledge of plant lore many of the most beautiful and most expensive plants are consigned to the ash barrel or convenient dump a few days after Easter. While some of the cheaper ones bloom only once many of them are worth caring for.

The rambler and other pot roses should be planted out of doors as soon as possible after flowering. Never lay them on their side or set them in an old corner to dry. Plant the rambles where they can clamber over arbors, trellises and fences, and the bush roses in other suitable locations, as they are perfectly hardy. Plant them where they can remain permanently. They may turn a little yellow at first, but they will soon become accustomed to the change and start to grow.

To preserve azaleas they should be plunged in the ground, pot and all. If the weather is very dry they will require watering throughout the summer and fall. On the approach of frost lift them, clean off the pots and place them in a window in a cool room.

Easter lilies can be kept in the pot in any convenient place until the middle of May, when they may be planted in the garden. The tops will die away, but late in the summer they will almost invariably flower again.

All the many varieties of bulbous stock, such as the hyacinth, tulip, daffodil, narcissus and crocus, when they are through blooming can be planted out in the open ground where they will come up year after year and flower luxuriantly. The flowers will never be quite so large as they were the first year, but they will be pretty and each blossom perfectly formed. Some people try to flower these bulbs in the house a second season; it is next to impossible to accomplish this, but they will flower out of doors.

An Easter Poem
By ADA MELVILLE SHAW

I buried my bulbs in the garden—
'Twas night of the year.
The sky was o'ershadowed with weeping;
The garden was drear.
I gave the brown bulbs to earth's keeping
And left them there somberly sleeping
Till day should appear.
The cold rain beat down on my garden.
Ah, pitiless rain!
My bulbs—would they perish ere waking,
My planting in vain!
The tempest swept on without breaking;
My faith for fair flowers was shaking.
I wept in my pain.
Gray dawn slowly crept o'er my garden;
I sought it with sighs.
Lo, there through the soft mold appearing,
Glad sight for sad eyes,
Green life to the daylight appearing!
O foolish heart, what of thy fearing,
Thy faithless surmise?
When springtime was warm in thy gardens,
What splendor was there!

The Easter Egg Crack

A QUAIN old Easter custom observed annually by a French family living in New York, where no festival goes by unheeded, could easily be the keynote of an Easter frolic or entertainment. The eggs to be used are always colored beforehand in the old fashioned way—figured calicoes, onion peel, bluing, etc., being used in lieu of any modern process. After the eggs are thoroughly dry the children of the families participating in the ceremonies are allowed to rub them with candles to make them shine. It is claimed that the effect of the wax on the shell as a strength giving element is also a part of the tradition.

On Sunday evening a large silver bowl or tray in the center of the supper table holds the gayly decorated eggs. Then the fun starts. Half of the participants are seated around the table, and the others stand or walk about. Every one helps himself to an egg, holding it in his hand with the point just visible.
The person seated holds his egg up to be gently touched by the egg held by the person standing. If one end gets cracked then the other end is turned, and when both ends are cracked the egg is forfeited.
The object of the game is to see who can collect the most eggs, and prizes go to the most successful.

DOG RESCUER PERISHES.

Saved Eighteen Men and Was Then Burned to Death.
Frankfort, Ind.—The coach dog that saved the lives of eighteen colored men employed on the construction gang of the new Indianapolis-Frankfort railroad perished in the flames that destroyed the house in which the men lived.
One of the men, who slept with his clothes on, was on fire when awakened by the barking of the dog. The men rushed from the burning structure and the last man out closed the door, unintentionally holding the dog a prisoner.
A few minutes later one of the men remembered the animal, but the house could not be reached because of the flames, and the dog was burned to death.

Bird's Ashes From Aeroplane.
San Diego, Cal.—The body of Tina, a jet canary belonging to Colonel William Glassford, commandant at the North Island aviation school, was cremated and then taken aloft in an army biplane by Instructor Albert Smith and scattered to the four winds from an altitude of 5,000 feet.

THE SANFORD PUBLIC SCHOOLS

ONE OF THE FINEST SYSTEMS OF FREE SCHOOLS IN THE STATE

All our new school buildings have now been finished and have been accepted by the Board of Education, and we bring today new views of these buildings, which make one of the best school systems of any district in Florida.

The schools of Special Tax District No. 1 now number four for white and four for colored children,

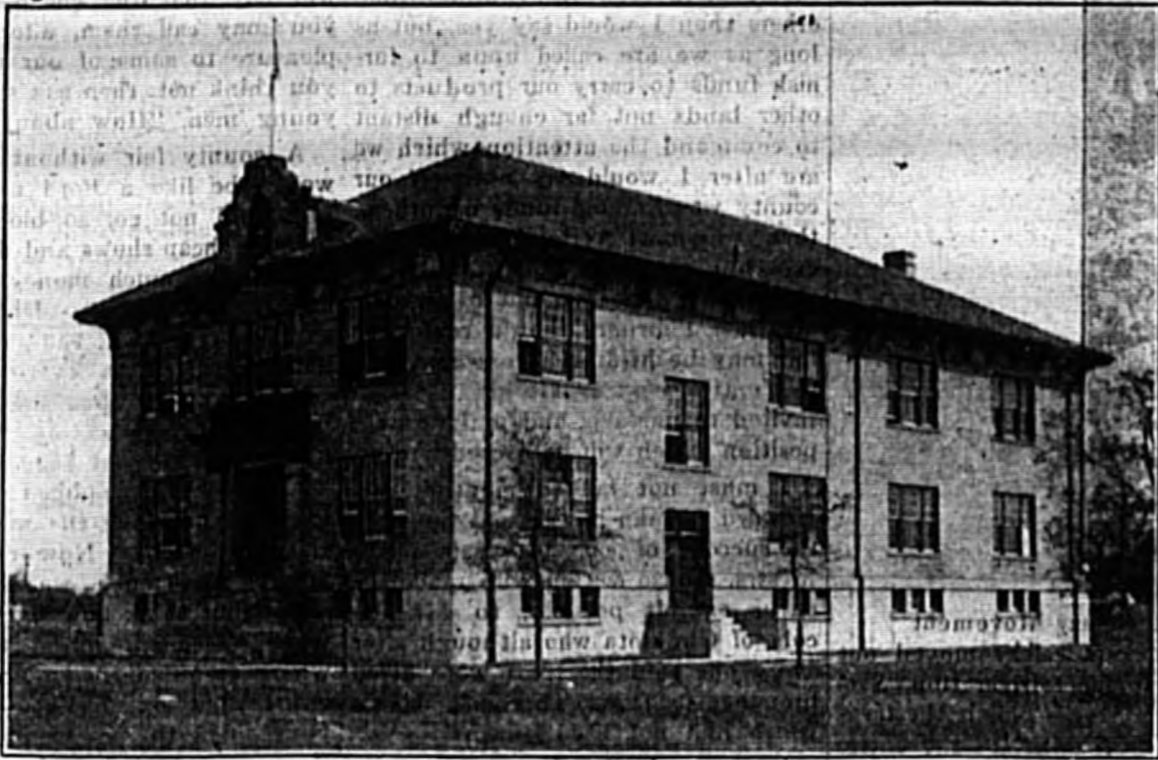

In the first grade the system of teaching, without the conventional school desks, but with small chairs and tables has been adopted and has been found a great improvement for the small children. Sanitation and rules to prevent as far as possible the spread of disease between the little ones are carefully watched and with best results.

Our Grammar School with the new additions has now fourteen available classrooms, library and office and one large auditorium. Our High School building has during the present term been used for the High School pupils only, since the new buildings have taken care of all the overflow, that had to be accommodated in the recitation hall during last term. The base-

Our white schools employ 23 teachers for an enrollment of 800 pupils at present and have room now for an increase of about 400. Transportation for all pupils in rural districts is furnished free, by the county in comfortable auto buses. This year the average number of children so transported per day has been 220. The Primary Department is taken on account of the fact that this tract of land is widely known throughout the state and United States for its fertility, deep rich soil and fine flowing wells.

BLACK

The name "Black" was given this section on account of the color of the soil. The soil in Black Hammock is a very deep rich black sandy loam and compares favorably with the richest soils in the Northern States.

HAMMOCK

Is the name given in this state to this class of land, and has nothing in common with the word "Hammock" as it is commonly used. It means, in Florida, a low, rich tract of land originally covered by a heavy growth of timber.

This property is being rapidly taken up by farmers and investors. We invite your investigation and still stand back of our guarantee that there is "No Richer or Better Land in Florida."

His thoughts are mostly good and clean.

He doesn't knock his fellow men.
Or harbor any grudges then.
A fellow at his finest, when

The fishin' with the pin and string
Can mean with millionaire an' king.
Van glory is a forgotten thing

A fellow gets a chance to dream,

He leaves the beauties of a stream,

A fellow has no time for hate,

He isn't eager to be great,

He isn't thinkin' thoughts of self,
Or good stacked high upon a shelf,
But he is always just himself,

Sanford probably affords more fishing and better fresh water fishing than any other part of Florida and as everyone knows Florida is some place to fish. At the head of navigation on the St. Johns river one can go for many miles in the headwaters of the beautiful St. Johns river and the many tributaries where the gamey bass and the smaller speckled perch, the bream, the jack fish or pickerel, the blue or channel cat and many other kinds of fish take the hook and make a gallant fight or one can seine the mullet, herring and other fish. The Wekiwa river flowing into the St. Johns river a few miles below Sanford is great fishing grounds and being full of sunken logs makes fishing just what it should be—a hazard with odds in favor of the bass. Scattered all over Seminole county are many clear water lakes fed by smaller streams and each one of them full of game fish, a long excellent camping sight for fishing and hunting.

Many fine cut-bos are being reported every day now and in fact bringing in a lot of fish are so common that one of them are recorded, every one taking it as a matter of course that you are fishing in this part of the state you are bound to catch them.

If any of the readers of this paper enjoy good sport of this kind, I can assure them that if they will come to Sanford next season they will enjoy a trip either on the upper reaches of the river, down the river or on the many lakes and inland streams. Fishing and fishing are among the many joys of living in Sanford and Seminole county.

THE NEW SHOCK ABSORBER

The United States Shock Absorber Will Add Years to Life of Car

Elsewhere in this issue appears an advertisement of the United States Shock Absorber, a patent that is attracting the attention of the automobile world and is destined to prove one of the best on the market. The United States Shock Absorber is the invention of Mr. Phillips of the Phillips Machine Co., of Orlando and the rights have been purchased by a company of local men composed of the following:

M. M. Smith, president, A. B. Johnson, vice president, G. W. Phillips, secretary and John Tucker, treasurer. The directors are M. M. Smith, W. E. Martin, R. T. Maguire, A. B. Johnson, John H. Tucker and Dr. C. D. Christ. All of these gentlemen are well and favorably known and having the faith of their convictions made it possible for the new shock absorber to be manufactured in Orlando and placed on the market. The United States Shock Absorber not only makes the car ride easier but it absolutely takes up the shock and jar that wear out the car and that eventually cause the springs to break. Vibration and not actual wear will break springs and other parts of cars and the United States Shock Absorbers in eliminating the useless vibrations adds longer life to any car that is equipped with these superior shock absorbers.

C. M. Brodwater is the local sales agent for the United States Shock Absorbers and will take pleasure in showing them at any time. Several local cars have been equipped with them and the owners are more than pleased with their performance. The price is very reasonable and they can be installed by local garages or by the shop at Orlando.

OFF TO TALLAHASSEE

Dr. Miller Will Represent Florida Medical Association

Dr. Oliver J. Miller has recently received notice from the president of the Florida Medical Association of his appointment as a representative of the Association during the coming session of the legislature, and left last Saturday night for Tallahassee in order that he might become thoroughly acquainted with the new members, before the opening of the legislature. Among the principal bills of a medical nature, that will be introduced at the coming session will be a Medical Practice Act, regulating the practice of medicine in the state, and a bill providing for the abolishment of the License Tax on the physicians of the state.

Heretofore physicians have obtained licensure to practice medicine in Florida through the agency of several distinct Boards of Examiners, and it has become a well known fact among the members of the regular profession that very often an incompetent physician would come into Florida and go before our regular Board of Examiners and fail to meet the requirements of such board, after which he would go before the Eclectic Board and pass the examination and obtain a license to practice in this state.

The regular Board of Medical Examiners have tried for years to get such a bill passed, but have failed. The Eclectic Board of Medical Examiners, but not until it was possible to obtain sufficient evidence to have them removed from office.

During the past few months, the Florida Medical Association and the regular board of Medical Examiners of the state of Florida made a careful investigation of the affairs of the Eclectic Board of Medical Examiners, and through a very careful piece of detective work caught them with the goods, which has resulted in having the members of said board put in prison, and the Board declared vacant by the Governor. It is to be hoped that at this session of the legislature, a suitable Medical Practice Act will be passed providing for a single Board of Medical Examiners, a representative of all the medical practitioners being included in its personnel, it being of course understood, that the regular physicians will preponderate, on account of their great majority among the medical practitioners in the state.

If there was ever an opportunity to put over a first class, modern Medical Practice Act, it is during the present session especially on account of the fact that the friends that have been perpetrated by the Eclectic Board have been brought to the attention of the members of the legislature, who in the interest of humanity will undoubtedly see the necessity of passing proper legislation for the protection of our public against quacks. It is to be hoped that Dr. Miller will use every effort toward having a Medical Practice Act passed during the coming session of the legislature.

Good Friday

Once there was a strange Man who lived in Syria. He had some peculiar views that did not suit everybody. Even his own folks said he was beside himself.

But still he held to his views and promulgated his strange doctrine. Somehow it did hold on common people and they began to put it into practice and work it out in their everyday lives. The result was a wonderful success. The ball set in motion has continued through the centuries—rolling onward and onward, and accumulating in strength and weight and momentum.

One principle of the Man set in motion was this: "Men ought ALWAYS to pray and to faint." A great number of the people of that day were of the opinion that

It grew very strong and very angry, and it turned, if it could, to destroy the Man with his new, strange propaganda.

So he called him to a cross, and planted a green log in the ground far away from the town, to die in agony and shame.

The anniversary of that day is called "Good Friday." It is a day for humility and appreciation as the part of the people that believe in the Man, and who was put to death for the cause they espoused.

The Man's message has never been forgotten, that "men ought always to pray and to faint." That they ought to pray not only in their private affairs but in their business careers and even in their national crises.

Silly Talk About "Luck."

One of the many ways in which the individual unwisely helps himself, is in his worship of the fetish of luck. He feels that all others are lucky and that whatever he attempts, fails. He does not realize the untiring energy, the unremitting concentration, the heroic courage, the sublime patience that is the secret of some men's success. Their "luck" was that they had prepared themselves to be equal to their opportunity when it came and were wise to recognize it and receive it.—William George Jordan.

Simply Impossible.

A Chicago woman who had received a legal summons to appear in a certain court at a certain period was much put out thereby. In explaining the matter to a friend, she said: "I have certainly received the citation, but I shall not appear—could not, in fact. Not only am I not socially acquainted with Judge Jones, but the whole tone of his communication is so impossible that I absolutely refuse to know him."

Could not this hand observe with prayer and abstinence and inexpressible gratitude the day of His crucifixion, and pray to Him who holds the destinies of nations in His hands, that somehow in the momentary stress we are living He will spare some and spare us from the horrors of war?

"Men ought always TO PRAY and not to faint."

Mrs. A. E. Phillips.

Mozart Wrote First German Opera.

In Germany, until the rise of Wagner, the opera was marked by little national originality. Mozart was the first opera writer among the German composers. To Weber especially will remain the story of having first found a distinct German operatic style.

B. S. A. BOYS WIN FIRST CALL IN THE ATHELETIC WORLD

with the Daytona club namely Quinn Branch. There can be no improvement on his playing as far as the brand which he delivered last season. Many a game Robie performed in that he should never have placed his foot on a court. But believing in his team and confidence in his players he performed regardless of his injuries.

"Smiling" Harold Manager Washburn played in few games, but the few he played in were all corking good games. Like Laing he suffered with injuries all season and in one game he was also compelled to play when the team was short of men. In the Rollins and Seabreeze games his playing featured, coupled with Jones as a guard his playing rounded out a defense which was hard to beat.

Washburn held the fans in amazement during the Seabreeze game with his clever guarding and his main point was to see that the other man hit the floor every time he did.

Oliver substituted for the locals, and in some of the games one would judge by his playing that he was a regular. His services were badly needed in the Orlando game, and when asked to play against one of the best men on the Orlando club he went in and held his own like any of the more experienced men on the club.

Also substituted for the B. S. A. but to call him a substitute would be worse than calling him the Kaiser. The only reason Douglass was forced to fill in as a substitute was because the club was overloaded with talent, and he not being able to perform in all the games was left off the list as a regular. Douglass did materially in the Rollins game, and in fact his showing in this game which he went in, were all kept and played to his credit as a basketball performer. The game only allows five active players in at one time, so that's why they called him a "sub" but whatever you may call him, he was there all the time.

Robbie Robinson
Played a great game all season, in fact, Captain Hawkins was very much impressed with him as a player, and whenever a tough game was scheduled the Captain made arrangements to see that Robbie was fit for the fray. Speed in his main asset, and toughness as a player on the court is another one of his fine features. We don't mean to say he's tough in that expression, but mean to say that it takes more than an ordinary man to make him quit during the heat of a hotly contested battle.

Kanner
Last but not least has been one of the club's old reliables, being able to play any position on the team. Kanner played in every game, and his playing like that of the other players kept the locals' standard as a good team up to the high mark. "Isay," as he is better known played consistent ball all season and that speaks enough for his playing.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Easter
In all the fulness and glory of the beautiful spring days, the Easter pageant flaunts its banner to the soft whispering zephyrs that waft the melodious of birds and the fragrance of flowers to realms above. The new Easter fashions fill the stores with their beauty, everything is so fresh, so delightful, so new—just spring. Good old spring in all its dreamy glory! Because it is spring, and Easter is close upon us—just one week away—men, women and children are calling for new raiment in the very joy of living. The winsome, sweet faces of maids and matrons will reflect a newer beauty beneath the shadows of the lovely creations of Parisian and Chinese models. Smart, fascinating frocks in all the tints of the rainbow will enhance milady's charm and grace and the Easter parade will be a thing of "beauty and joy forever." The churches will be filled with the loveliness of spring flowers and the special Easter music will rise in one triumphant symphony giving out the glad tidings of the risen Christ.

School Days
When we gather about the board at the evening meal, we discuss the events of the day and it is a special part of the program to enlarge upon school happenings. It is there that we hear who are the cracker jack players on the different class ball teams of the Grammar School and who throws a foul, or who gets a black eye for playing "fox and geese" and that Mrs. Dwight Babbitt's class gave the largest amount to the Children's Home Society in the recent canvas for funds, and then the scene changes to the High School and we hear all about the funny things that happen over there and the many more serious phases of the school life of the little Freshman. But especially does interest center in the doings or rather bi-monthly program of the Irving Society. The debates are rehearsed over the tea, and Anfa Mason receives a generous share of compliments on her beautifully rendered piano numbers—incidentally Anna is a pupil of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson—and Rosamond Radford is "such" a good reader. We are told that Ted and Adelaide Runge played a wonderful duet and that the High School Orchestra is just great, and so on down the line, many having parts on the program and receiving a share of praise and criticism. On Friday, very interesting was the book contest. Titles of popular and well known books were enacted, or suggested by bits of ribbon or paper dolls, etc., won by the pupil representing the book. A bit of lavender ribbon and old lace was "Lavendar and Old Lace." Charlie Hand with a string of paper dolls suggested "Little Women," all were interesting, developing activity in thought and memory, but one girl just stood upon the platform, cool, calm and dignified and she was the "Lady of the Lake." Can any one guess who was that girl? In name at least it was quite appropriate and altogether clever. Our little High School reporter tells us that the Commencement "Salmagundi" for 1916-17 is going to be the best yet for the editors are already at work and there is so much good material.

On Thursday afternoon a very delightful meeting of the Priscillas was held with Mrs. A. E. Hill the gracious hostess. It was an unusually large gathering, for the Priscillas were augmented by a number of guests. Everybody brought their needlework and the afternoon was marked by a charming sociability. Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Hill were Mrs. LeGette, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. J. P. Hurley, Mrs. J. G. Hurley, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. B. A. Newman, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. Purdon, Mrs. J. E. Pace, Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, Mrs. N. H. Garner, Mrs. Euterky, Mrs. Richard Patten, Mrs. J. D. Roberts.

SANFORD CELERY BEATS THE WORLD

NOT EVEN A FREEZE CAN KEEP CELERY FROM BRINGING GOOD PRICES.

Did the so-called freeze affect the Sanford celery crop or was it a blessing? Many people are asking themselves that question, and now most of us confidentially nudge each other and answer our own question.

The freeze early in February, without doubt, visited every nook and corner in Florida; considerable damage was done but the Sanford vegetable section, according to comparisons carefully made, has apparently suffered less than any other place.

Frankly, directly after the freeze, many sections began heralding disaster not waiting for facts or actual results, and now in most cases they regret their haste because of the turn things have taken for the better.

At the time, nor directly thereafter, did Sanford and Seminole county comment on local conditions. Truly, we did not know what to say. We spoke generally of the freeze in Florida, but eliminated our own delta until such time as authentic facts could be secured.

It now develops, two months afterward that the so-called freeze was to Sanford a blessing in disguise. If in other channels it brought damage, surely the Sanford celery delta must have been an object of its mercy or else the hardihood of our product together with our location, soil and above all our sub-irrigation was the means of our withstanding the worst cold that has visited Florida and our section in many years.

Careful investigation of the situation is the authority for the statement. In looking over the field for facts we wanted an actual demonstration; a case where a field of celery had been subjected to the cold and had since been cut and disposed of and a settlement in money arrived at—a concrete case, as it were. This was found in the case of a five acre block of celery that was raised in the open with no shield of foliage or nearby water to the extent of protection.

Directly after the freeze this five acres of celery along with other crops surrounding it had every appearance of ruin, viewing it from the surface. As the weather warmed and went back to normal, the apparently lost crops came back to life, took on growth and within from twenty-three to thirty-one days after the freeze this five acres of celery was cut and shipped and the total product was 2759 crates, bringing a total of $7771.85, an average of $2.80 per crate.

Classifying the output, the distribution of quantity, quality and prices are as follows:

1793 crates, 4's and 6's at $3.05 per crate	$5466.80
769 crates, 8's at $2.88 per crate	$2204.80
197 crates, culls at $2.00 per crate	$394.25
2759 crates total	$7771.85

Throughout, this is an average of $2.80 per crate and indicates to the grower that a handsome price was received for the lower grades that has heretofore brought very little and in most cases nothing, particularly in that class listed as culls, which incidentally is really good celery but of the small stalk variety.

In previous seasons, scarcely any attention has been paid to anything other than the four and six dozen to the crate but because of the quality and demand this year and the fact that our celery section product was in no wise damaged by the freeze, a great demand has been brought to our door and has been satisfactorily filled.

To date there has been shipped from Sanford, 900 cars celery which means 302,400 crates, and at $2.80 per crate means already $846,720.00. In addition, 740 cars mixed vegetables have moved. Basing these on $500.00 per car to the grower means a total of $370,000.00.

A conservative estimate of the crops indicate that for the 1916-17 vegetable season, a total of 1900 cars celery will move, bringing $1,787,520.00, and 950 cars mixed vegetables, such as lettuce, peppers, cabbage, potatoes, etc., that will bring a total of $475,000.00.

Or a grand total for the season's crop of $2,262,520.00.

With Sanford's location, its soil, and foremost, its easily obtained sub-irrigation from flowing wells, its showing in product and money under the trying season just passed indicates its superiority over many other sections and justly leaves it the title "the celery delta of the nation."

With few exceptions, Seminole county has soil equally productive. Wells are easily obtained and only awaits development to grow into a veritable garden. Other sections in the county in addition to the vegetable feature offer diversity in farming. Good lands are available for truck raising, staple crops and for stock raising and the time is not far distant when all such lands will be active under the care of energetic owners.

Record Celery Movement

Fifty-nine cars celery moved out of Sanford under refrigeration, Saturday, March 31st. This is the largest one day movement in the entire history of the Sanford celery delta, and represents 19,488 crates for the day.

For the week ending March 31st a total of 230 cars celery moved or 87,280 crates.

A conservative estimate in money for last Saturday's business would be $35,000.00 and for the week's business $190,000.00.

The movement for this week and next will be good, possibly equaling the business of last week, but it is barely possible that this season will find another day to equal Saturday, the 31st.

However, the same land that produces this celery will soon have a fine showing of beans, corn, peppers, etc. Already fields that were in celery thirty days ago are now covered with an excellent growth of early sprout vegetables, so the vegetable output will continue for some weeks to come and in lieu thereof money should be plentiful in Sanford and vicinity.

THE SEMINOLE COUNTY FAIR WAS GREAT SUCCESS AND SHOULD BE MADE PERMANENT

The Seminole County Fair held this year under the most trying conditions and circumstances was a success much more than any one expected. With just a little over one thousand dollars as a starter it was closed with over one half of the amount left to begin on a real large first class exposition another year.

I have been asked if I thought and believed that we should hold another fair next year, and I answer most emphatically yes.

Have you ever considered what a county fair means to us? I can only answer by quoting the words of our martyred President, William McKinley when in his last speech on this earth he called the Buffalo Exposition, "Time keeper of progress. Indeed fairs are such, they endeavor to show to our people the progress made by them, and the great possibilities which are before them."

Our last fair was held without the moral support and good wishes of all our people yet after the visit of that very severe cold we were able to make such a success that will lead us on to fully realize our greatness, and not one in our entire county will fail to do his part for a fair next year.

Our plan is that we secure grounds large enough to give us an exposition which none in the state may surpass. Located as we are in the center of the state and in the most productive part of the union leads me to believe that we need not stand back for any people.

As to the matter of this county making an exhibit in other counties it is a matter of conditions. If we should be favored with exhibits from others then I would say yes, but as long as we are called upon to furnish funds to carry our products to other lands not far enough distant to command the attention which we are after I would say not. If our county was granted funds by others, then we most certainly would be expected to make some exhibit.

It is my hope that out of the fair held last February that a real large fair may be held each year and that the entire central Florida may be invited to partake, and make an exposition which will be a credit to us.

I must not fail to mention Mr. Howard Lyman as the real factor in the success of our little fair, and to Messrs. Chase & Co., who made the citrus exhibit possible; to Mr. Jacobs of Chulbota who although after every one said the trees were killed brought us some oranges bloom which had not been frozen.

Our organization is going to give every citizen in Seminole county a chance to do his part. We want every one in our midst to be a part of us. We do not want a one or two man's fair but one which shall belong to the entire county.

For example, our schools were united in the effort to show to our people what the children could do, position, "Time keeper of progress." and I ask you if you ever saw anything better? All were united to make that part a success. Our Supt. of Public Instruction and the teachers in every grade in every school in the county made it a success.

Now, when we call on you at a later date and ask for help don't say Seminole county cannot have a fair, but say, yes we can, and by my help, we shall.

Remember the motto of the state of Kentucky: "United we stand, divided we fall." Put this into your life and make Sanford and Seminole county what it should be. Help us from now on. Lend your assistance and you will do your part and when all is united the effects will be a surprise to your most vivid imaginations.

Some will say and even accuse us of using the fair to get a gang of cheap shows. Do you believe that this is the case? I will say no. I will say that the cheap shows, as you may call them, afforded much pleasure to some of our people. If you think not, then ask some of our young men, "How about 49?"

A county fair without a midway would be like a Ford and no gas. It would not go, so blame no one for the cheap shows and don't worry about how much money they take away from our town. Did you know that we took in at the gate just one half as much as every attraction took in at the box office. Figure how much they took away from Sanford. I know that $500.00 was sent here from Philadelphia to enable the manager to make the movement to the next town. Now don't worry about how much we lost in the citrus exhibit; to Mr. Jacobs when we are required to go elsewhere to see our own products and efforts put on display. Make up your mind to see America first, as it were and afterwards other countries of your dreams.

Make Seminole County Fair for 1918 the success it should be. Help the local organization and you will be helped. May we count on you and your efforts?

Board of Directors

THE SANFORD BOARD OF TRADE

A REAL LIVE BODY OF MEN WORKING FOR THE UPBUILDING OF SEMINOLE COUNTY

By Secretary Marlowe

Less than ten months ago the Sanford Board of Trade was organized. The membership then was 50 paid up. Today it has increased to 385 and is growing almost daily. Prior to January this year the Board of Trade handled several matters of importance to the business man and grower. They were put in form and are now being handled through the various committees in a systematic way and although some of them are stupendous tasks, yet every indication points to success and that success means money to the city and the county as beneficiaries.

Sanford has for a long time attempted catering to the tourists who visit Florida annually, but because of the great vegetable and celery industry in and around the city has never until this season found time to start an earnest beginning. In January the Board of Trade organized into a real business body and its efforts have been amply repaid and our business men and every citizen has been rewarded and as a result those who were at first skeptical are now progressive hustlers and will tell you that their efforts for Sanford and Seminole county will be directed through the Board of Trade.

No Board of Trade in the state is better equipped officially and we have found that this has been the means of binding the progressives that heretofore worked individually into a mighty body and with power to use the progressive road, Sanford will very soon equal as a resort any place in Florida.

Aside from its natural resources, recognized already throughout the country, Sanford in the center of the nation's "celery garden" offers the tropical atmosphere and scenery that delights the tourists.

Being on the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and at the head of navigation on the St. Johns river with the elegant steamers Osceola and the City of Jacksonville plying daily between Jacksonville and Sanford many tourists have already found their way to Sanford and this season has brought more tourists to Sanford than any other four seasons combined.

To impress these tourists and to welcome them the Board of Trade has found its place and truly filled the bill. In compact form, the following is a report of the publicity feature work of the Board of Trade beginning January 15th, 1917:

This season a conservative figure shows that over 2,500 tourists have come to Sanford, with this city as their destination and their stay has averaged five days. A count indicates that fully fifteen thousand have passed through Sanford enroute to other points in the state that have heretofore been advertised as tourists' resorts. Fully twenty five thousand dollars has been spent in Sanford by transients and a much larger sum invested by those who are coming back to make their home here.

Figures of the detail work of the Board of Trade show as follows:

Board of Trade registers	710
Direct letter inquiries answered	156
Booklet literature mailed out	1,250
Booklets given to tourists at office	1,100
Sanford advertising cards given to tourists	2,000
Rooms rented gratis to tourists in homes	33
Light housekeeping apartments rented free	5
Complimentary auto rides given tourists (Members giving their time and car free)	27
Touring parties brought to Sanford for a stay of one week or more	14
Strangers entertained at request of members, shown the city and given general information	41
Sanford Board of Trade placed on reciprocal lists of other Boards throughout the country	16

The Board of Trade, with some assistance, has expended over one thousand dollars in advertising this season. This amount compared to other cities is small indeed but for Sanford, in its beginning shows the method adopted and the good that has resulted even from this. It is the intention to push the interests of Sanford and Seminole county the coming summer. The attractions of the various sections of Seminole county will be emphasized and each town in the county will be specifically handled and told of the prospective tourist of next season.

THE PLACE FOR POULTRY

SEMINOLE COUNTY OFFERS MANY INDUCEMENTS IN THIS LINE. THE CUT ABOVE SHOWS THE THROOP POULTRY FARM AT ENTERPRISE ON LAKE MONROE, FIVE MILES FROM SANFORD

Among The Theatres

Lyric Thursday
 J. Stuart Blackton and Albert E. Smith present Mr. Charles Richman in "Heights of Hazard" by Cyril Townsend-Brady. Cast:
 The Unknown—Mr. Charles Richman
 The Unknown—Mr. Chas. Richmond
 Olivia—Eleanor Woodruff
 Mr. Martindale, her father—Charles Kent
 Mrs. Martindale, her mother—Miss Hattie Delaro
 The Dulce—Frank Holland
 Bobby McElevé—Raymond Bloomer
 His wife—Miss Alexander
 Cyril Townsend Brady has solved a great problem; he has put every known thrill into one moving picture. That picture is "Heights of Hazard."
 Cyril Townsend Brady wrote "The Island of Regeneration"—he wrote "The Chalice of Courage"—he wrote "The Little Angel of Canyon Creek" but with "Heights of Hazard" he surpassed all previous efforts. Imagine all in one feature.
 An automobile elopement.
 An escape in aeroplane.

A sabre duel.
 A South African hunt.
 A thrilling motor-boat race ending in the grip of one of the boats and an heroic rescue from another speed demon.
 Then imagine a handsome westerner, bubbling over with youth, enthusiasm, persistence and perseverance, whose one desire is to marry the girl he loves.
 And this girl does not even know him.
 He arms himself with a pistol, kidnaps the girl and takes her to his apartment. Does she marry him?
 On top of this all put Charles Richman—the handsome Charles Richman of Empire Theatre Stock Company, Daly Stock Company, "Capt. Barrington," "The Revelers" and the "Battle Cry of Peace" as our hero. Opposite him is chic Eleanor Woodruff as the lady of his affections. Surrounding them and supporting them is a cast of eminent Vitagraph stars. Lyric Thursday.

"The Right to be Happy" at the Star Wednesday
 Lovers of Dickens will delight in Bluebird's presentation of "The Right to be Happy" at the Star Theatre on Wednesday with Rupert Julian impersonating Scrooge, the flinty hearted old "grouch" of "A Christmas Carol." Tiny Tim will be on the screen, natural as in Dickens' life-like word pictures. The ghost of Jacob Marley and the visions reflected to Scrooge's mental view, in the flying trips he took with the ghost of Christmas Past, Christmas Present and Christmas Future will be realistically reflected through the matchless opportunities afforded by trickery of the moving picture camera.

14th Episode The Rag Despoiler
 Pearl Dare—Pearl White
 T. O. Adams—Ralph Kellard
 Major Brent—Theodore Friebus
 The Silent Menace
 His innocence established. Orderly Adams tells Pearl that the fact that Major Brent's arm is broken indicates that he is the Silent Menace. Pearl is in doubt and sends Adams away.

Bertha Bonn discovers that the Silent Menace has quarters in the same building in which she resides. Securing the aid of Adams, they cut a hole in the ceiling and crawling through into the rooms of the Silent Menace they attempt to gain some evidence by going through his papers. While thus engaged they are entrapped by him.

Meanwhile Pearl, suspicious of Adams has followed. Seeing that Adams and Bertha are trapped she quickly brings the soldiers to the rescue. But the Silent Menace escapes.

The Silent Menace has his secret army awaiting his signal, which is the replacing of an American flag by a black one. Pearl has followed him and just as he lowers the American flag grapples with him. A furious fight ensues on the flag mast but Pearl is again the victor and sends the Silent Menace over the edge of the roof to the pavement far below and then raises the American flag to its place again. Descending to the ground she unmasks the Silent Menace. But who is it?

 The Colonel's Orderly Next Episode.
 Lyric Wednesday.

Sessue Hayakawa at Star Friday
 Many were the adventures which befel Sessue Hayakawa and his company who will be seen at the Star on Friday in the Lasky-Paramount production of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story, "The Bottle Imp," when they were in Hawaii. Mr. Hayakawa, his director, Marshall Nielan and the camera man, with a corps of assistants and several American members of the company journeyed over to the island expecting to engage a Hawaiian cast there. The leading woman, Lehua Waipahu is a member of a very high Hawaiian family and while she is a talented amateur actress, it was with great difficulty that they secured her parents' consent for her appearance in moving pictures. Nearly a week was consumed before this consent could be obtained, but Mr. Hayakawa and Mr. Nielan so won over her parents that they permitted many of the scenes to be photographed on their estate. The company journeyed to Kilauea, the famous volcano and a number of scenes were taken in its depths. Mr. Hayakawa and Mr. Nielan were nearly overcome with sulphur fumes, so great was their excitement in getting some of the views.

To war or not to war. That is the question.

Legislature meets in Tallahassee this week and continues for some time to come.

Somewhere in the United States there are hotel men looking for a site. Sanford has a free site for a hotel. Come to it.

This is trading week in Sanford. The merchants are offering bargains in seasonable goods. Come in and see us this week.

The good roads are in operation. Our country friends should celebrate the occasion by coming to Sanford this week and inspecting the large stocks of our merchants.

The Herald has never urged the United States to go to war but we stand square behind the President in whatever he decides upon. Our motto is "My country. May she ever be right but my country Right or Wrong."

The Herald has been asked if this paper would print a daily in case of war. We answer in the affirmative. Not only in case of war but any other time that the merchants can see their own advantage and take more advertising space. We cannot print a weekly, twice a week or a daily without advertising and the war news would not help to support the paper. Not so you could notice it. Therefore if war is declared and the people of this city want a daily they can get it if they guarantee an advertising patronage sufficient to make it pay expenses. And it will be a real daily.

ARE YOU?
 When hoisters try to boom your town
 And spread afar its fame,
 When printers' ink is freely spent
 To advertise its name,
 When patriots have organized,
 And progress starts anew,
 When all are trying to improve,
 Are you?

When knockers start to hammer hard,
 And rail on every side,
 When scoffers spurn your civic pride,
 And fight it far and wide,
 When some one calls on you for aid
 To push improvements through,
 And some are hoping all will fail,
 Are you?

OUR EASTER EDITION
 The Sanford Herald for the first time has issued an Easter edition. This was not done with the idea of making money but for the sole purpose of imparting a greater Easter spirit, for boosting our churches and our schools and our city and county generally. We conceived the idea of having Easter Week the Dress-Up Week and having our merchants start a campaign for bringing the people from this entire section to Sanford to trade. The Sanford Herald has done its part, boosting the city just as we have always accomplished in the past and if all the merchants failed to see this golden opportunity it is their loss and not The Herald's.

In compiling this edition and soliciting advertisements we are more than indebted to Secretary Marlowe of the Board of Trade and Dr. Hyman of the Baptist church. Dr. Hyman was on the eve of getting up an advertising folder for his Easter exercises and hearing of The Herald edition came in and solicited advertisements for this paper. In return we met him halfway and printed his program free of charge. To all the other ministers we are also indebted for giving us timely talks on Easter for this edition and assistance in various ways.

 If there is any paper in the United States that has tried any harder to bring trade to Sanford or to boost the city early and late we have failed to see them. This edition will be circulated all over the county and in every state in the Union and it affords a glorious opportunity for advertising purposes. Those who failed to take space lost this opportunity but this edition will fulfill the mission intended and call attention to the greatest section in the United States.

A WISE CATTLE MAN
 We enjoyed a pleasant conversation with one of Hernando's wise cattle men this week. He like some other cattle men is opposed to the "no fence" law, but his opposition has not blinded him to his own best interests.

This cattle man is heartily in favor of the eradication of the cattle tick. He has seen the effects upon cattle by dipping. He knows that it will pay him to have his cattle dipped and it will pay every other cattle man.

This cattle man is preparing for the quarantine that will be established by the United States government by purchasing and fencing tick free pastures. He is obtaining all the land he can get.

The question that occupies his mind is, "After the eradication of the cattle tick, what must he expect?" He does not know that the keeping and feeding of his cattle during the quarantine will convince him this is the wisest way. But if the "no fence" law becomes effective at this or any future time, he proposes to be ready for it. —Brooksville Argus.

POSSIBILITIES
 There are places in this county of ours where climatic conditions are intolerable, where there are seven or months of winter and five months of poor sleighing in the calendar year and where it is impossible to raise children and give them a fifty-fifty break on the opportunities of life. Where the landlord and the butcher and the doctor and the clothing store and the coal dealer prevent the chance of independence by keeping the head and provider of the family always in debt. That man comes to Florida and becomes a good citizen and a constructive force in the community that he blesses with his presence. Why? Because he has the incentive of low priced, but not cheap land, because he doesn't have to buy one hundred dollar's worth of fuel every winter, because he can live in the open air twelve months in the year and doesn't have to buy a bottle of cough medicine every third day for one of the youngsters, and because if he works as hard as he did in the north he can live happier and cheaper and save money as he never did before. And, again, why? Because our state has agricultural possibilities! —Florida Grower.

HON. F. L. WOODRUFF

Seminole county will be well represented in the state legislature this year in the person of Hon. Frank L. Woodruff who left Sunday night for Tallahassee to take up his duties for the next sixty days. Mr. Woodruff was born and raised in this section and has aided materially in the up-building of the city and county. He served for several years on the board of county commissioners, served the city as mayor and alderman and has held and still holds other positions of honor and trust. He is a large owner of country property and city property and knows the needs of the city and county as well as any man in the county. He is an ardent sportsman and can be depended upon to foster and help to pass a suitable game and fish law that will protect the fish and game of the state and of our county. While he has no special local tolls he will be found upon the right side every time the roll is called and is ready and willing at all times to serve his constituents.

GOLF CLUB FIRST

Will Bring Tourists and Tourist Hotel Says D. L. Thrasher

Hon. D. L. Thrasher is in the city today and informs us that golf is the thing. That he recently paid about forty dollars to join a golf club in south Florida and has not played a game yet, but believes it is a good thing to attract the tourists and if the people of Sanford would bring a good golf course they would surely attract capital here for the tourist hotel. Mr. Thrasher, it will be remembered tried to get up a golf club here several years ago and was anxious to get land from Thos. Emmett Wilson on the west side for that purpose but could not interest local people sufficiently to get up the funds.

Mr. Thrasher thinks that the golf club is the right idea and that eighty per cent of the tourists coming to Florida want to play golf and will only go where there are golf links. That the links supplementing the great fishing and boating and good roads in this county would make Sanford the best tourist resort in central Florida.

Dr. Masters, April 18

On Wednesday, April 18th, Dr. Masters of the Port Orange Sanitarium will be the guest of the Welfare Department at the Woman's Club and will lecture on the Psychology of Health and Disease. Dr. Masters contends that very little is known as to the control of the bodily functions by the mind. Various sects have so distorted the facts that he considers this an opportune time to clear up some of the delusions entertained by a large number of people. The people of Sanford are cordially invited to hear Dr. Masters whose masterly address on Tuberculosis earlier in the season was so enthusiastically received. The lecture is entirely free and open to all.

MADE OIL FROM THE FESTIVE FLEA

NEW STORY COMES OUT OF THE WEST BY FORMER RESIDENT OF SANFORD

You have often heard of skinning a flea for his hide and tallow but the following from the Washingtonian published at Hoquaim, Washington, goes the old story one better by taking the flea for his oil:

Sometimes we wonder whether it pays to conduct a column such as this, where a man gains a reputation for unveracity. We find that when we start to tell a perfectly true and connected story, there is always some doubter in the crowd who thinks it is only a joke. The other day during a lull in discussion of the war with Germany, the Gill trial, the raising of Belgian hares and the operation of Ford machines, indulged in by the members of the Elks' Fireside Club, Frank H. Lamb stated that he had paid $1.00 for a book giving 13 unusual ways in which to become rich. Having had some experience in that line, we related the following truthful narrative:

A great many years ago we spent a year in southern Florida. The fleas in that country were something simply awful and made life a burden to such of the inhabitants as had not been rendered immune by inoculation. It reached a point where we had to do something to reduce the visible supply of fleas or leave the country.

Our house was built upon the sand some two feet above the ground. We took a number of shallow tin pans and poured in the bottom of each about a quarter of an inch of New Orleans molasses. Then we stuck up by the side of each pan a large sheet of writing paper, slanting so that the lower edge touched the pan. As is well known, fleas are attracted by anything white. They would jump at this paper and, it being smooth, they would slide down into the molasses and become entangled.

The first morning, after setting these traps we had nine pans full of fleas. We gazed upon our catch with great satisfaction, but it seemed to us a shame to allow all that raw material to go to waste. Suddenly it occurred to us that the flea, being able to jump several hundred times its own length, possessed remarkable vitality, and that the oil extracted from their bodies could be used with telling effect by prizefighters, athletes, and even on race horses, to increase their suppleness.

At that time we had a friend in New York, named Stanley Huntley, who was going editor on the New York Herald. We wired him of our idea and he answered for us to extract the oil at once and send to him by express.

We got a large kettle in which we immersed the fleas, and as the grease rose to the surface, we skimmed it off and placed it in small bottles. These we sent to New York.

In a few days we received a wire from Stanley asking us to extend our field of operations, as the oil had proven a remarkable success. He said he was selling it at $8 an ounce, and he readily could dispose of a hundred thousand ounces.

We went to Sanford and bought all the tin pans in that town, and in a short time had the entire "cracker" population of Orange county engaged in the exciting pastime of flea catching. Also we went to considerable expense in building furnaces and acquiring huge copper boilers in which to cook the fleas.

Just as we had operations on a big scale in full swing, there came a telegram from Huntley saying that the deal was off and that he was fleeing from New York with the officers of the law at his heels. He explained that he sold a bottle of the oil to a prize fighter, who went into the ring and at the first blow killed his opponent.

Another bottle had been sold to an athlete who was trying to break the record in high jumping time at Madison Square Gardens. He made a prodigious jump and struck his head on the ceiling some 30 feet above, crushing his skull and causing instant death.

A jockey had applied the oil to the legs of his horse, which started in a race beautifully, but flew the track and had not been seen since.

This shows that not all these Get-Rich-Quick schemes work out. They start off well but something is sure to happen to upset the calculations of the would-be millionaire.

We still have a little of that oil on hand, but have been very sparing in its use. Of course, just before attending a dance we make use of a little of it, but the amount is very limited, owing to our consideration for our partner.

Now, any other place on earth, that story would have been received with great interest and taken as a remarkable narrative, but the members of the Fireside club did nothing but hoot in derision when we finished.

TY COBB ENGAGES IN A FIST FIGHT WITH "BUCK" HERZOG THE GEORGIA WHIRLWIND AS USUAL IS VICTORIOUS

PRIDE OF GEORGIA IS STILL DEFENDING HIMSELF AND CHARACTER

By "Red" Davis

In yesterday's paper we are informed that Ty Cobb and "Buck" Herzog of the New York Giants came to blows. The fight started over Herzog being spiked, the Giant star claiming Ty spiked him intentionally, which Cobb denied and they immediately came to blows.

According to the reports Ty came out the winner. After the game Herzog not satisfied renewed the hostilities, at a Dallas hotel where Ty again showed his supremacy as a fighter.

Ty Cobb was born in Roxaston, Ga., and being a Georgian cracker we will have to say that there is more gentleman in him than to spike a player purposely. All Cobb asks for is part of the base and if the player feels like he can't give this then he suffers the consequences of being spiked.

Ty Cobb has been abused, slandered and boasted more than any player in his profession today, and still so more manly, self respecting gentleman performs on this continent. Georgians as a rule defend themselves from attacks from all sources and Cobb is no exception to the rule.

When Cobb is in the wrong the writers will tell the readers of the same, but when in the fight this paper will be right at his defense.

Many years ago in the city of New York a fan in that metropolis was loudly roasting Ty until the latter got too hot for Ty to stand any longer this roasting at the hands of this New York fan. Ty went to the umpire and asked the umpire to eject this rowdy spectator from the stands, but the umpire refused, so Ty stood for his slauter long enough, when this fan decided to call him a "half-nigger" then he immediately proceeded to get him a man, which he did, and the most unmerciful beating did this fan get at Cobb's hand.

The Detroit players went out on a strike for their star player, who was suspended by President Johnson indefinitely, though at the request of Cobb himself the players went back in the game, as Cobb told them they were injuring the club's chances of winning the pennant and not doing him any good by striking. Such cases as the above is what we admire in this sterling ball player, though not a believer in rowdism on the ball field, we do believe that no player should let another "rub it on them."

Cobb is high tempered, he has to be, or else his title as the world's greatest would go glimmering along. This is the second time The Herald has come to Cobb's aid, and if the same difficulties arise again we will be right back at his rescue.

Imagine it! Claiming Ty Cobb spikes ball players for a living, he don't necessarily have to do that. He only draws his $15,000 per for being the greatest of them all and not because he spikes ball players.

Ty Cobb has been with the Detroit club for the past twelve years and his employers have been pretty well satisfied with his services rendered, both as a player and as a gentleman.

And while he may retire with all these smears on his record his name will linger in the hearts of millions of fans as a player who defended his character from attacks from players and fans less known, his character as a gentleman is not questioned. Georgia honors him, the south loves him and the rest of the country is compelled to take off their hats to him for his everlasting gameness.

Go to it, Ty, and when you retire we'll put you up against the world's champion fighter and there is another field we believe you will still be supreme in as you are in the world of baseball.

TYRUS RAYMOND COBB, the greatest of all ball players and the "lightning" foot that performs in Ban Johnson's circuit today.

DIAMOND DUST

BY "RED" DAVIS

Open Letter
Sanford, Fla., April 2, 1917.
"Red" Davis, Sporting Editor Sanford Herald:
Dear Sir:

Would like very much to have this letter published in your column.

Last Friday the Orlando High School girls' basketball team were scheduled to play the local High School team, and after advertising and making preparations for the game, the Orlando team failed to show up.

We wrote to the school and asked them were they coming, and they wired back that they would be here on the 4 o'clock train. Well, the train arrived and it didn't look like it had been in a wreck either, and no team showed up, unless they were afraid to get off, or didn't have sense enough to get off one of another.

Now permit me to express myself in a few calm words. I have been reading the Times-Union here of late and understand that the Orlando team is claiming the state championship. I'll take it for granted that they are, by far, the undisputed champions of Florida when it comes to breaking agreements for basketball games. Can't quite understand why they are champions unless they are claiming to be the HOT AIR CHAMPIONS of Florida.

We took our team down to Orlando and defeated them on their own court and made them like it. We made no kick about going to that village, we went when the roads were bad and dreaded the trip. But we made the agreement and we at least expected to fulfill it or else notify them a day or two ahead of time that we couldn't arrive.

Can it be possible of a town talked of all over America as the automobile city of the south, that they are not able to secure two automobiles to bring them to Sanford?

In conclusion, let me say that the boys' rated, waiting, state champions are nothing but fakes and are living on talk and not playing basketball.

Justice and Fair Play

Sporting Editor: Young ladies, I know not what to tell you to do. I can extend, you my sympathies, but even that won't bring the money back that you spent. So it affords me great pleasure in running your letter which you asked to be published. As far as any state champions are concerned I have yet to learn when the Orlando team has won a game this season. Sanford defeated them at Orlando and the Duval girls defeated them twice. So I'll give you a name that is worthy and call them the "Phoney" Champions.

HAROLD ROBERTS YOUNG PHENOM OF JACKSONVILLE IS A COMING STAR

STAR OUTFIELDER OF LEAGUE AND SENSATIONAL BATSMAN

Whoever the manager of the Sanford baseball club may be this year we are going to suggest to him to place his optics on a certain ball player in Jacksonville by the name of Harold Roberts, whom few if any can equal as an outfielder today in that thriving city.

With all the extraordinary features of a great player, he possesses them on a smaller scale. Only 18 years of age he has long set the city league on fire with his spectacular fielding and terrific hitting. Roberts' main weakness seems to be great base runner, greater hitter and greatest outfielder in that league. Last year this youngster performed with the Live Oak club on the West Coast and his record for 51 games shows he hit for 291, and only three men were able to reach first base through his fielding, that is, he made three errors, which backs up the compliment paid to him as a player.

Sanford can secure his services, as he is open for engagement, and to pass up such a golden opportunity of securing his services would be like letting a Cobb slip through our fingers.

And no one knows the greatness of Roberts as a ball player better than President Harry Culley's star pitchers of the Jacksonville City League.

B. S. A. BOYS WIN FIRST CALL IN THE ATHELETIC WORLD

SPLENDID SHOWING MADE WITH CAPTAIN PAUL HAWKINS AS PREDOMINATING FIGURE

The athletic prize for the season of '16 and '17 surely belongs to the B. S. A. Basketball team, for of all sports, including baseball, football and basketball the local boys were easily the leaders. The B. S. A. boys were noted for three things: team work, perfect harmony among the players and the everlasting fighting spirit which has more than placed Sanford on the map in large letters. The old fighting spirit was shown in all the games, and to this we attribute their success.

The Sanford High School, while doing their best failed to materialize this past season in football, and had it not been for that, the call would have gone in their direction, but it can't be doubted in the least that with the High School's showing in football that the honor surely belongs to the B. S. A. boys. The following is a sketch of the players who participated in one or more games.

Captain Paul Hawkins

Who led the "B. S. A." through these gruelling conflicts deserves considerable credit for his management of his players, and also for his knack of putting the old life in the game. On top of all this Paul is a No. 1 talent and during the game with Rollins College at Rollins, the most spectacular game ever displayed on a baseball court was turned out by this popular captain.

Paul played a steady game all season and the defeats which were registered against the locals this season will never be placed at his door.

The Ex-Captain

Ned Chittenden, former Captain played in one game for the locals and had he remained in the game the team would have been strengthened about twenty per cent more. Ned retired from the game for reasons unknown and his services were missed, though it was mighty hard for the local team to confess that they would like very much to entice Ned to return. The former Captain retired and was succeeded by Hawkins who filled a good man's shoes in a most creditable manner.

Allan Jones

Selected on the writer's all-star team of basketball players in the Tampa Times was more than worthy of a call on this team. Allan was selected for more than one reason, but the main reason and enough to warrant his place on this team was his all around work as a guard. In one game and only one was his playing below par, and that was the game at Rollins, though that is not to be taken away from his credit as a player. All players in all sports have what is known as off days, and that was one day that Allan was off. Allan's star game was the Orlando and Seabreeze games. Both of these games found this little player performing in great style.

"Peerless" Robie

Here's a player that must not be overlooked, not in the least. Though Robie is a High School player he gave his services to the club and all games looked alike to him. He feared no team and his off days were never seen. As a basket thrower only one player in Florida can surpass him and that player performs

The E. W. Bliss company for injuries suffered Jan. 20, 1916, when one of his feet was run over by a five ton munition truck, causing amputation of three toes. The boy's father was awarded $3,000 for the loss of his services.
The boy was sitting on the curb of Fortieth street, Brooklyn, near his home, with his feet in the gutter. The truck, loaded with three inch shells, rounded the corner, skidded and ran over his foot. Edward J. McCrossin, counsel for the boy, contended that the driver of the truck violated a city ordinance by turning the corner faster than four miles an hour.

Easter Fires

Easter fires, established in honor of the sun, form a feature of Easter observance in some parts of Great Britain, where bonfires are quite common in early spring. Effigies of Judas were annually burned in Athens on Easter Sunday until the government prohibited it.

Frazer in "The Golden Bough" states that about 100 years ago the custom at Althenneberg, in upper Bavaria, was as follows: On the afternoon of Easter Saturday boys collected wood, which they piled in a cornfield, while in the middle of the pile they set up a tall wooden cross all swathed in straw. After the evening service they lighted lanterns at the consecrated candle in the church and ran with them at full speed to the pyre. The first to arrive set fire to the heap. No woman or girl might come near the bonfire, but both could watch it from a distance. As the flames rose the men and lads shouted, "We are burning the Judas!"

On the Easter Tea Table

FOREMOST among Easter dainties are the south German Easter loaf, the mid-German "bunny bread" and the delicious "rabbit ears."
The first of these consists of light, well sweetened, many raisin dotted, white wheaten bread; the next of cool dough shaped into bun-like, snub-tailed, long eared, wildly rampant or lunched up bunny fashion—with a bright silver coin for an eye. And the really most toothsome "hansen-shiren" or bunny ears, are made as follows: Half a pound of flour, three tablespoons full of sugar, four tablespoons full of butter, a teaspoonful of salt, two whole eggs and the yolks of two others are worked into a dough, which let stand for three hours in a cool spot.
Roll out to the thickness of a knife blade and with a pastry wheel cut into strips four inches long and one inch wide. Bake in briskly boiling lard to a delicate golden yellow, sprinkle liberally with powdered sugar and eat before they're three hours old.
These same inch wide strips, cut into longer lengths and woven round and round before immersing in the boiling lard, form the so called "stork nests" of Swedish fame. Such a "nest" filled with delicately tinted Easter eggs makes a charming center dish for the juvenile Easter supper table. — New York Evening Sun.
$13,000 FOR THREE TOES.
$10,000 Verdict to Boy, $3,000 to Father, For Skid of Auto.
New York.—Hilmer J. Carlson, eight years old, received before Supreme Court Justice Kelly and a jury in Brooklyn a verdict of $10,000 against

WILD DEER AS PATIENT.

Doctor Treats Buck For Shock After Colliding With Auto.
Newton, N. J.—Dr. Whitfield Gray, state veterinarian for this section, had the unusual experience of ministering to a wild deer. The doctor was on his way to Hainsville, where, as in some other parts of this county, pink eye has become almost an epidemic among horses. When the doctor was passing through a stretch of woods a buck leaped out and tried to cross the road, bringing up against the doctor's car. The wind shield and a mudguard of the car were broken, and the buck fell unconscious. Dr. Gray treated the animal's bruises and administered a restorative and in half an hour the buck, still a bit uncertain on his legs, rose and walked away.

HARVARD MAN A "MAID."

Earns $15 by Housework—Students Make $85,120 In Year.
Cambridge, Mass.—One Harvard undergraduate elected to do general housework during the last academic year, according to the annual report of the student employment office.
The sum of $15 which the young man received for his services leads to the belief that he either substituted for a regular maid or lost his time after a month of baking and bed making.
Local employment during the last year gave 618 Harvard men total wages of $85,120.76. Included in the occupations followed were those of furnace man, dancing teacher, dancing partner, pin boy, model, grand boy, scene shifter and conductor.

Where Blacking Gets Odor
Shoeblicking, says the Scientific American, owes its peculiar, pungent odor, faintly suggestive of the deep woods, where spruce and hemlock needles pad the ground, to an oil which is manufactured from the same kind of needles. The greater part of this oil is distilled in New England during the winter.

At The Quality Shop
At the Spring showing of the Quality Shop wonderful creations in headgear charmed the woman of the fashion, the ingenue, and the woman whose quiet taste is just elegant simplicity. Since so short time as it seems, many new and attractive models have been added. There are charming adaptations of Archaic Aztec Art and barbaric splendors and colorings. Broad brimmed capelines of Oriental embroidery and sheer crepe are entrancing and striking sport shapes.

of tussah silk in exquisite pastel colorings are the last word in millinery. There are dressy interpretations of Chinese head wear and wonderfully pretty models in hair-lice and tulle in fascinating combinations with flowers and satin. Oriental combinations seen in amazing numbers, but even newer and smarter are the parrot and peacock blends which are coming in. Chartreuse, jade greens, deep violets and purples are frequently used in harmonious blending, are some of the color novelties shown. Flowers and wings are popular trimmings while the fruits, especially grapes and foliage are pleasing variations. The newest models, the latest novelties and the stunning effects in ribbons and laces are all to be found at this popular little shop.

Three Great Physicians.
You have heard of the doctor who on his deathbed was heard to murmur that he left behind three great physicians. The three doctors at his bedside waited to hear their names and heard this: "Three—water, air and exercise." Well, all three are to be had for less than the asking, they are ours for the mere effort of taking them. Note that food is not mentioned, since all doctors agree that the human family eats too much all the time.
