

Published in Florida's Heart,
The World's Greatest Vegetable
Spot and Richest Garden Land.

The Sanford Herald

AN INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER

THE WEATHER

Mostly cloudy and colder tonight in north and central portions.
Friday fair and colder.

VOLUME XX

Leased Wire International News Service

SANFORD, FLORIDA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1929

Member Audit Bureau Of Circulations

NUMBER 94

HOOVER HEARS ENDLESS HINTS AS TO CABINET

Volunteer Counselors
Jam Mayfair Hotel
In Efforts To Help
Advise In Selection

Herb Is Silent On His Appointments

Many Southerners Are Being Suggested As Likely Candidates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—(INS)— Herbert Hoover is putting in union hours listening to the volunteer cabinet-makers. His visitors fairly tread on each other's toes as they pass, endless, chain fashion, in and out of the big suite he has at the Mayflower Hotel.

He lists occasionally a question, but for the most part permits his visitors to do the talking. If he has made any commitments at all, save that concerning the retention of Andrew W. Mellon as secretary of the treasury, no political Washington does not know it, despite the fact that the keyhole attitude.

The stock question asked of visitors as they emerge from the President's office, which is buried deep in the center of the 12-room flat out of "Band," what did he say? invariably the reply is, "Well, no appeared interested and he listened."

As a further and as one who can keep his own counsel, Mr. Hoover is proving daily that he hasn't been sitting at the foot of Mr. Coolidge's cabinet-table for years, for nothing.

The reticence of the President-elect concerning his cabinet appointments has given rise to many rumors, and it is giving a good deal of ~~left~~ ~~political~~ ~~repute~~ to those who are bucking various candidates for jobs. They apparently feel that so long as there is reticence, there is hope.

There are rumors that Mr. Hoover already has made up his mind concerning his official family, and that he is merely going through the ceremony of bathtubs to this godless stream of recommendations merely out of politeness and a sense of political duty. There are other rumors that he will announce his entire cabinet before leaving for Florida next week; there are still others that he won't even begin the actual consideration of a slate until he is safely away from the pulling and hauling of capital politicians.

The truth probably lies somewhere between. Undoubtedly, the President-elect has settled upon some of the men he wants around his cabinet table for the next four years. But he doesn't choose yet to make the information public. There is still plenty of time. It is seven weeks yet before inauguration, and to announce half a cabinet would only increase the pressure upon him for the remaining places.

The South, militantly aggressive. (Continued on Page 8)

Bishop Dobbs Will Deliver Two Talks
Tomorrow Evening

Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs, who has accepted an invitation to speak Friday night at 7 o'clock before the Methodist Men's Club, will also address the church congregation beginning at 8:30 o'clock, according to an announcement today by Rev. W. P. Burkman, pastor, who said that not only all Methodists are cordially invited to Bishop Dobbs' but also the general public.

The Bishop's two addresses are anticipated with keen pleasure among the members of the church. His speech to the Men's Club will be on the brotherhood movement, which is claiming a great deal of attention in Methodist work at this time. L. P. McCord, leader of lay activities for the Florida conference, will also be a guest tomorrow night.

Bishop Dobbs is one of the other bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, being elected to the episcopacy in 1922 in the general conference meeting at Springs. His first assignment by the college of bishops was to three conferences of Brazil. He is now in charge of the church in Alabama and Florida.

Peace Treaty Row Appears Near End

WASHINGON, Jan. 10— The end of the peace treaty negotiations between Britain and Japan is in sight, with the present date set for the final session in the resolution setting forth American terms of submission. Senator Moses Clegg of New Hampshire, author of the resolution, publicly proposed the Senate to ratify the Japanese peace terms on Jan. 10, the day after the final session.

Japan has agreed to submit its demands for a final vote on the basis of the American terms of submission, which were to take effect when the Japanese Assembly ratified the peace.

Verdict Ends 1st
Of Three Cases

11-Year-Old Youth Is Expected To Be Tried
As 2nd Co-defendant

WRITS OF ERROR TAKEN
TO HIGH COURT FOR
KEY, LAKE DISMISSED

A. R. Key, 11, and his mother, who took refuge in their cabin in the mountains with their son, Reginald, were winging their way to the penitentiary at the hands of the people of Clay County, Fla., following over 30 days imprisonment at the hands of the law.

The sentence was the result of the illegal acts of the late Governor John W. Martin, who went out of office Tuesday.

Mr. Key's case has been before the State Pardoning Board for several months. Recently the board declined to act on his petition for pardon. The reprieve was granted Jan. 7. If the boy's wife again got in behalf of her son, cashier, he will be tried again for breaking his parole.

Mr. Key's case, though, has been the subject of considerable discussion, and the boy's defense has been kept busy.

On Dec. 22, the boy, who had been held in jail since his release from the county jail, was taken to the higher tribunal, reappearing before the Pardon Board again.

At the same time, it was learned that no records on either case have ever been filed with the appellate court. The writ of error, which was dismissed by the Supreme Court, was returned Jan. 26. Attorneys for Mr. Key expected to appear again before the higher tribunal asking for another time in which to prepare their papers and this action is expected to effect another long delay in the case before it eventually goes before the court.

The court's office disclosed that probably another month would be required to complete the transcripts, so voluminous are the records. Only in the past few days have instructions been received by the office from Dickenson and Lake, Mr. Key's attorneys, as to when the transcript was desired. The date was set at April 20, after which the state's attorney will have an opportunity to prepare a bill of exceptions. All of these proceedings, court house attaches said, would probably result in the appeal not being presented to the Supreme Court until in the Spring.

Mrs. J. A. Clark Is Dead In Arkansas

One of Sheriff J. F. McClelland's first acts was to announce that a close check-up will be made at once of those who have not yet secured their occupational licenses. The Sheriff called attention to the fact that the licenses became due in October and that those who fail to acquire them are guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable under a state law.

The body is expected to arrive in Oviedo Saturday noon. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock and interment will take place in the Oviedo cemetery.

TWO MORE GIANTS SIGN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—(INS)— Seven members of the New York Giants were in the fold today with the receipt of the signed contracts of Art Veltman and Chick Phillips, rookie outfielders. Veltman was the last boy for the Giants in San Antonio, Texas nine years ago.

DEFENDANT IN WITCH TRIAL IS HANDED TERM

LIFE IMPRISONMENT IS GIVEN POW WOW DOCTOR WHO BELIEVED HE WAS CAST IN 'SPELL'

Verdict Ends 1st
Of Three Cases

11-Year-Old Youth Is Expected To Be Tried
As 2nd Co-defendant

WRITS OF ERROR TAKEN
TO HIGH COURT FOR
KEY, LAKE DISMISSED

ONE OF CONSPIRACY BE-TRAYS DEATH SCHEME TO OBTAIN INSURANCE

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 10—(INS)—Mark Edward Wood, 20, of the Belmont section, was found guilty of the killing of his mother, Charles H. Rehmeyer, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

He was found guilty of the killing of his mother, whom he believed was a "witch" who had cast an evil spell over him. After Blymeyer declared he firmly believed in the "spell," he had still believed in the right thing.

Spiritualist Who Decoded Houdini Message Viewed With Doubt By Scientist

MAGAZINE OFFERS BIG SUM FOR ANYONE PRO-DUCING MYSTIC TRANSMISSIONS THAT CANNOT BE REPRODUCED

WORLD WARNS
FLU MAY TURN
MORE SERIOUS

BUREAU WARNS
FLU MAY TURN
MORE SERIOUS

<

Possibility Of Dempsey's Return To Ring Appears To Be Gaining In Strength

Question Apparently Depends Upon Whether Or Not Garden Officials Wish To Renew $500,000 Offer

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—It is unlikely that Jack Dempsey will fight again if the Madison Square Garden Corporation stands behind the bid of more than $500,000 offered by its late president, Tex Rickard, shortly before his death, the writer definitely learned today. Dempsey is the prey of indecision as he walks with the chief mourners to the cortège to the promoter's final resting place and not without reason. He not only isn't certain that he wants to fight, now that Rickard is dead; he also isn't certain that it will pay him to fight.

"Much more than $500,000," was an authoritative estimate today of Rickard's bid that had won Dempsey back to boxing. It was one of those word-of-mouth offers and it was rendered quite without the knowledge of the corporation's directors, as was Rickard's custom. A most informal man, he simply made his decisions and then told the board that he had made them.

Dempsey, therefore, hasn't the slightest idea whether anybody wants to pay off on this promise and he won't know definitely until he has conferred with W. F. Carey or James L. Bush or some other qualified spokesman of the corporation. The conference is questionable, as is the plan to fight, after today's funeral as these men of money can decently arrange it. They know that Dempsey, the fighter—not Dempsey, the promoter—is the only thing that can save boxing from a very impressive flop this year. Their anxiety on this score should prove to be a break for Dempsey. He then can discreetly mention the matter of Rickard's offer and see what happens.

Carey, who probably will be elevated to the presidency of the corporation in due season, may not care for the terms Rickard quoted. He, in fact, was an avowed opponent of the promoter's liberalism in matters of finance and may see no reason to alter his prejudices at this late date. But if he is one-half as smart as I think he is, he will realize this truth: that Dempsey's return to boxing this year will be cheap at almost any price. Heavyweight championship fighting might attain some modicum of success in 1929 without Rickard. It might survive, too, without Dempsey. But without both it will be lost.

Some chumps have been talking Dempsey up as a promoter. In the words that he doesn't fight himself, what I would like to know is what he is going to promote? Sharkey, Paulino, Loughran and several others are qualified contenders. But all the fighting they are doing themselves will not make them anything else.

MELLON LOOKS SURE OF CABINET PLACE

(Continued From Page One)
This is not so secret now, however, as it was, and it is well known in the city, especially among the business leaders, that Mellon is to be the next Secretary of the Treasury. The administration has been unable to find a man to fill this position for the last two years, and it is believed that today it will be filled by Mellon.

It is also known that if any other man is chosen, he will be a less powerful and less influential member of the cabinet than Mellon. This is because the City of Pittsburgh is the home of the Mellon family, and the fact that Mellon is a native of the city makes him a natural choice for the position.

It is also known that Mellon is a close friend of President Coolidge, and that he is likely to be appointed to the cabinet.

It is also known that Mellon is a close friend of President Coolidge, and that he is likely to be appointed to the cabinet.

DIVOT DIGGERS

Rickard's Passing Throws Doubt On Plan To Effect Dempsey's Return To Ring

"Tex" Was Motivating Force Back Of Idea To Bring Manassa Mauler From Sidelines Into Spotlight

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The ghostly voice of the dead spoke today and, even while all that was mortal of Tex Rickard was being transported to New York for burial, the promoter was giving by word of mouth an announcement that the public was to hear from him again.

In the early summer of 1928 Mr. Miller, myself, representing the City Commission, entered upon the work of checking the tax assessment roll of the City of Sanford for the purpose of equalizing the assessments. As far as possible, realizing as we had from an examination of the past that the assessments on much of the property in our City were not proper. This proved to be one of the largest undertakings of the Commission during my administration and the work required our constant attention for more than 120 days. During this time we checked every parcel of property in the City of Sanford in conjunction with Mr. Lamson, the tax assessor, and returned as best we could, within the limit to time and our knowledge of the properties, the values that should be placed against the property for the coming year. After this work had been completed, we notified every tax payer in the City of Sanford of the assessed value of his property and requested the tax payer to appear before the City Commission at a time stated for the purpose of discussing this assessment.

The Commission should the assessment not be satisfactory, we were in session for more than 120 days for the purpose of hearing these complaints and having these complaints with the citizens and several hundred property owners appeared and discussed the question of taxation with the Commission. After the close of these hearings the final assessment values were made against the taxable property in the City of Sanford for the year 1928.

As a consequence of the personal checking of the tax assessment roll and the notification to the property owners, the tax assessment values for the entire City of Sanford was reduced to $14,042,000, showing a reduction over the year 1927 of $2,523,000. The work accomplished by the Commission resulted in the reduction of taxes which was concerned, did not give every property owner a reduction, rather over 90 percent of the property owners were increased with their assessments. The first reductions were made in the areas where there was more business activity, such as the business center, and the residential areas.

I am sure that the citizens of the City of Sanford are pleased with the results of the work done by the Commission, and I hope that you will acquaint yourselves with the facts.

I shall always feel grateful to Mr. S. O. Chase, Mr. W. G. Hill and Mr. P. L. Miller, who have during my administration served so faithfully as fellow Commissioners. We are well acquainted with the true conditions of your community and their loyalty and fidelity to the government is evident.

Very truly yours, W. F. Carey

W. F. CAREY
Chairman, City Commission

Death Claims James M. Stumon, Who Was Prominent In Musical Circles

James Monroe Stumon, who died Monday afternoon at the Fernand-Laufton Hospital and who was laid to rest yesterday, was a gifted musician and prominent in musical circles in this city for a number of years. As early as 1907 he was instructor and leader of the Sanford band, an organization that had acquired an enviable reputation in this vicinity.

Mr. Stumon also organized an orchestra, which he directed until 1910 when he was forced to resign from the position because of injuries suffered in an accident. Despite this he maintained active interest in music until his death.

Born in Pittsburg, Tenn., May 3, 1862, Mr. Stumon was 64 years old at the time of his death. As a young boy he moved to Indianapolis, Ind., where he began the study of music. He became a conductor in several large bands and identified himself with other musical organizations. He married Jennie E. Mitchell of Winston-Salem, N. C., in 1885. Mr. Stumon had been a resident of Sanford for 24 years, having moved here in 1905. After giving up his musical career, he entered the mercantile business, which he followed until two years ago, when he retired from active business.

Surviving the deceased are three daughters, Mrs. R. E. Horn, Mrs. W. G. Fox and Mrs. E. L. Burdick, all of Sanford.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the home, 1002 French Avenue, with Rev. Arthur B. Dick officiating. Interment was made in Lakewood Cemetery. Active pallbearers were: H. C. Huskins, P. S. Frank, Dr. L. D. Brown, Ernest Gormley, Hugh Tillis, J. A. Takach, W. J. Thompson, N. A. Collier and A. W. Smith. Honorary

Defendant In Wit Trial Tells His Story To Physician

(continued from page one) six years ago, he had delusions and hallucinations," witness said. "His state of mind was deteriorated particularly at night, he visualized told me that day and night, various kinds of weird animals. He had a photograph of the man who killed in the palm of his hand, displayed definite mental abnormities."

The commonwealth objected strenuously to the defense bringing up the superstitions and craft tendencies of the defendant. Defense attorney Cohen urged a litter attack on the state, noting that district attorney Mann in presenting his case deliberately withheld evidence. The state had sought to show robbery was the motive, although Cohen contended that Blymeyer, his two companions went to the Rehmyer house on the night of the murder "to get a lock of hair and break the spell that Blymeyer cast over the Hess family."

"They went after the lock and a book, called 'The Lost Friend,'" Cohen declared. "The state avoided this motion, calling attention of the court to the fact that the Commonwealth subpoenaed 33 witnesses but that in their case, after calling only 11, they stood."

Duke Will Be Buried In His Native Ground

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The body of Benjamin N. Duke, multi-millionaire tobacco magnate, who died yesterday will be taken today on a special train to a home in Durham, N. C. Interment will be in the family burial plot at Durham where the millionaire's father, Washington Duke, and brother, James Biddle Duke, are buried.

Friends of Duke here today estimated that he possessed a fortune of more than $200,000,000. Duke's will, to be filed shortly, will show that his estate has a total value of $200,000,000, it is estimated. Many of Duke's millions were previously given to the Duke University.

pallbearers were: N. O. Gandy, Harry Wright, J. J. Mason, C. Williams, F. L. Miller, P. McElroy, N. A. Collier and A. W. Smith.

THE YOWELL CO.

RADICAL REDUCTIONS For THURSDAY In Our JANUARY CLEARANCE

Money saved is money made and if you take advantage of the wonderful reductions made possible by our great January Clearance you have made some real money. The time is limited... Saturday marks the close... don't delay, shop while you may save.

MEN'S NEW NECKWEAR

FLORSHEIM SHOES

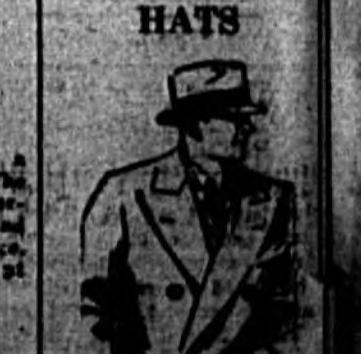

The quality of Florsheim Shoes is a standard, an accepted guide. The shoes have made a lasting and favorable impression. We offer in our January Clearance black and tan Florsheim Oxfords at only

$8.45

LITTLE BOY'S SUITS

New Jersey and Illinois suits. The Little Boy's suit is 7 years, regular size. Send for prices. Order for Thursday at the lowest price.

$3.95

For men who demand the best we offer, there are by Stetson, Florsheim, Grey, tan and brown. All are available to meet all needs. The price during this sale are

$6.95

MIKE'S CLOTHING

TOP CLOTHING

TIRE REPAIRING

AND

RETREADING

We have the latest electric steam heated equipment and we employ only experienced help.

Our retreads look like new Goodyear

Tires as we use the same tread design.

We give you service on the road.

GOODWEAR TIRES

TIRES FOR CARS

TIRES FOR TRUCKS

TIRES FOR BUSES

TIRES FOR AIRPLANES

TIRES FOR AUTOMOBILES

TIRES FOR MOTORCYCLES

TIRES FOR BICYCLES

TIRES FOR BOATS

TIRES FOR AIRPLANES

TIRES FOR AUTOMOBILES

TIRES FOR MOTORCYCLES

TIRES FOR BICYCLES

TIRES FOR BOATS

FUTURE PLANS OF GATORS HOPE FOR HEART BREAKING BLUNDERS!

Jack To Tell Public Defeats By Tech And Whether He Will Return Or Come Back

By Robert J. Walsh
International News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—With the afternoon hours of this week Jack Dempsey is scheduled to meet his manager "willie" on Jan. 11, when he will be asked to give his answer to the question: Has he been so successful in his boxing career that he need not return to boxing at least once more? It is the opinion of many that he need not return to boxing again.

In any case, it seems impossible to make a decision in talking with the boxer's camp, with the men who have natural ability as well as those who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

But they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

That they are especially desirous of knowing in view of the fact the two of the ten papers who are sophomores and really recuperated after a long, varied boxing career.

Problem Of Surplus Discussed At Meet

ATLANTA, Jan. 8—(INS)—Solutions of the problem of surplus production was sought at a meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers at the Hotel Georgia here yesterday. The association is a permanent national organization, which is making a real mistake in not having a central office to discuss problems of excess production. Coming next year, the association will be able to help in solving the problem of surplus production.

The meeting was opened with a speech by President L. E. Keay, who said:

"The time has come when we must face the fact that we must