

Teachers Gather Ammo For November Shooting

MIAMI (AP)—The Florida Education Association is collecting ammunition — in the form of teacher resignations — for its guns in the fight for more school money and the shooting might start in November.

Dr. Phil Constans, FEA executive secretary, says mass resignations by the group's 55,000 members could come in November if Gov. Claude Kirk or the legislature has not called a special session on education.

"Some time our effort will reach a peak, a point when we've done everything we know to do," Constans says. "If at that time we have not achieved a special session, we will have failed. We will submit our resignations and leave."

He reports teachers from throughout the state are mailing signed resignations to FEA headquarters in "overwhelming numbers" to be handed in at the discretion of the group's administration.

An estimated 60,000 of the printed resignation forms have been mailed to teachers during the last five days.

Constans thinks teachers will have "had a fair shot" at convincing lawmakers of the need for the session by November.

"We're anxious to have them get back home," he says. "They have been in Tallahassee too long. They've been out of touch with the people and a lot has taken place since April."

Constans expresses little interest in Gov. Kirk's scheduled re-election Tuesday in which the governor has said he will announce his education program.

"We aren't very hopeful," Constans said when asked if he expects Kirk to produce a plan acceptable to the FEA.

He said he had heard reports the governor would propose a committee to study the state's education problems.

"If that's all there is to it, it won't be much help. We have a lot to do," Constans said. "We need another one. We need action."

He called concessions won in Pinellas County with almost 600 teacher resignations last week "a success" but said, "It's a shame that teachers are not allowed to go to those lengths."

Pinellas teachers voted to withdraw the resignations after School Supt. Dr. Thomas Southard signed a 14-point agreement which included a resolution urging the special session of the legislature.

Constans said the Pinellas teachers' action accomplished one more thing. "People know we aren't just talking. We are in dead earnest about the resignations."

New Constitution Is Skippy Document

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Pared from 33,000 words to a relatively skimpy 15,000, Florida's proposed new Constitution is still a far shot from being the law of the land today.

But when it becomes official—probably in the 70's—it will bring with it a stronger government and the controversial question of property tax relief, and will continue the nation's only elective cabinet and income tax prohibitions.

The rewrite of the document which has been the legal guideline in Florida since 1885 still has four or five major differences that must be worked out by the legislature.

Revision leaders said Gov. Claude Kirk has agreed to call the legislature into session sometime next month to iron out the differences and stamp the final approval on the new document.

In addition, 40 or 45 very major differences between the House and Senate may be resolved in the session, which is expected to start about five days.

If the legislature approves the document—and revision leaders say both chambers say they will—it will probably go on the ballots in 1968 and possibly be in force by 1970.

In the finance and tax section, the new charter would put strong limitations on the state's power to raise taxes, and would allow school boards and municipalities a 30-mill limit. Both chambers also voted to continue the $3,000 homestead exemption, and the Senate ruled that it be expanded to $10,000.

The House voted to permit industrial revenue bonds, but the Senate rejected the concept except for port and aviation authorities. Both chambers agreed to permit the state to pledge its "full faith and credit" to repayment of general obligation bonds and the controversial question of which the distribution to one-fourth area, one-fourth population and one-half collections.

The distribution of tax on part-time betting was left unsettled. The Senate ignored the controversial issue and the House said the taxes may be instead of shall — be distributed equally to the 67 counties.

Under the executive branch of the document the governor was given the chance to succeed himself for one full term and was given the power to sue other officials to make them perform a function required by law.

A lieutenant governorship was created and for the first time the six elected cabinet officers were granted collective name of "Cabinet" in the constitution.

The Constitution would also require the next legislature to consolidate 150 state agencies into 25.

The legislative branch moved the biggest powers. The Senate voted to limit itself to 30-to-40 members and the House to 80-to-100. The House, however, voted for 40-to-50 senators and 100-to-120 representatives.

The legislature would switch from biennial to annual sessions and the State Supreme Court would automatically reapportion the body when it failed to do it itself within a given time.

ning, fulfilling and evaluating the total instructional program within the team."

At Bear Lake there are five teams, each consisting of children from two school years and three chronological years. Each teacher will teach all subjects and will be responsible as a lead, or resource teacher, in one specific area. Each teacher has one teacher aide assigned to be responsible for clerical needs of the team.

All materials, supplies and textbooks in the school will be available to all teams, with no restriction because of grade level, whether advanced or remedial.

Faculty at the school still was short by two teachers, one primary and one intermediate, at end of first week of the fall term. Applications on hand are being checked as to references and qualifications and it is hoped the vacancies will be filled by the end of the week, Richards said.

13 Die In State Holiday Traffic

MIAMI (AP)—Thirteen persons have been reported killed in traffic accidents as motorists began packing today for the most dangerous period in holiday weekends — the long drive home.

The Florida Highway Patrol predicted that it would die from 4 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

The record for long holiday traffic deaths was set last Fourth of July when 72 persons were killed in traffic accidents. For comparison, The Associated Press found that 53 highway deaths occurred during a nonholiday four-day weekend period from 6 p.m. Friday Aug. 16 to midnight Monday, Aug. 21.

The safety council advised motorists Sunday to begin their homeward journeys early to prevent the last-minute traffic jams and rashes that the council fears would cause the traffic death toll to rise.

Sunday the death toll jumped from 227 persons at 6 p.m. to 372 at midnight. But the council hoped even with this increase the final figure would still be low par for a four-day weekend.

As the weekend went into its fourth day, 15 persons were killed by drowning and 8 persons died in boating accidents since the holiday began.

Young Farmer Found Dead In Sinkhole

TRIDENTON (AP)—The body of a young farmer was found early today in a foul smelling sink hole by 25 searchers who dug, dredged and blasted in the hole for two weeks.

The weary workers caught a glimpse of the body of Cecil Devis, 20, early Sunday night but were unable to retrieve it until today.

His flash underwater flooded the underground creek which runs through the hole and the men waded helplessly as the body was covered again by the torrent.

The body was finally recovered at 1:15 a.m. (EDT) from three feet of water 67 feet below ground level.

Searchers had worked 24 hours a day at the hole since Aug. 14 when they started digging. Devis disappeared Aug. 14 when he left his parents' home to search for missing ponies in a back pasture.

Searchers found footprints leading to the sinkhole, which was camouflaged by setting foliage, and theorized the youth and his horse unknowingly fell to their deaths.

Car Overtakes

A 1964 convertible driven by 17-year-old John Edward Austin of 112 Greenwood Lane, Gilchrist Springs, failed to make a turn on North Tripoli Drive, Casselberry, and went off the bridge overrunning in the lake, early Sunday morning.

The Lyman student swam away unharmed and with failure to have his vehicle under control.

Patrolman Don Stone estimated damage to the car at approximately $1,000.

Military Ticket Wins In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnam's military ticket won the presidential election Sunday as expected, but 10 civilian slates held Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky to less than a majority.

Thieu, the soft-spoken, 44-year-old lieutenant general who has shared power for the past two years with Air Marshal Ky, his vice presidential running mate, had said he would be satisfied with 40 per cent of the vote.

That appeared to be about what he would get in the final count. The flamboyant Ky, who will be 37 next Saturday, had expressed confidence that the military ticket would get more votes than all the civilians combined.

Thieu and all the civilians except one campaigned for new peace overtures toward Hanoi. Thieu proposed a bombing pause of a week or perhaps longer, after consultation with the United States, but any such pause was not expected until at least several weeks after Thieu is formally installed, probably in October.

Thieu's strongest opponent proved to be the most outspoken peace and critic of the military regime, Truong Dinh Das, a dramatic 36-year-old lawyer who had been expected to do no better than fourth or fifth.

Das charged the election of Thieu and Ky was a fraud. He said he would present his allegations to the Constitutional Assembly Friday and demand that it declare the voting invalid.

The two elder statesmen in the race—ex-Premier Tran Van Hung, 44, and the speaker of the Constitutional Assembly, Phan Khac Sou, 62, also collected strong support and were running third and fourth.

Despite Communist assaults and terrorism throughout the nation, about 4.8 million of the 5.8 million registered voters cast ballots. About 2 million others of voting age could not vote because they live in areas dominated by the Viet Cong.

The grim toll of Red terror was still being added up. So far at least 38 persons were killed on election weekend, another 33 were kidnaped and at least 125 were wounded.

Mass, Not Class

In several respects, the United States is international old man out with its salute to the working man. We have chosen September for this familiar fixture on the national calendar.

Elsewhere, at least in those societies permitting such demonstrations, the preferred date is May 1 and the accent, if not always strictly Marxist, is definitely on class. May Day is the proletarian's red-letter day, a time for tolling masses to demonstrate solidarity against often hostility to, economically favored classes.

Here, the emphasis is also on mass, but of a peculiarly American definition. This is a day for the nation as a whole, the entire adult population, laboring together to produce and share in the benefits of national plenty.

It was not always thus. The first Labor Day, in New York on Sept. 5, 1882, was a militant demonstration, a demand for rights and recognition.

The battle was prolonged and often bitter, but American labor has long since won recognition. Its rights, underwritten by a mass of legislation unmatched in the world, are now integral to the structure of our society.

We still have our clashes of economic interest, hounding breakdowns and strikes. But the dialogue, sharp though it may be at times, in the context of the American experience has taken on a peculiarly American character.

As democratic capitalism has developed in this country, the sense of class, never so strong here as in the various old countries from which we sprang, has diminished. Laboring commoners can and do speak to economic kings, and terms of living standards it is not always easy to tell them apart.

There has been a parallel development in the significance of Labor Day. Not class but mass solidarity is the message now. It is an occasion not for demonstrations and militant oratory, but a day for each American—blue collar and white collar—to observe and enjoy in his own way, and through private observance to join in a public affirmation of the American achievement.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Lovers face the job of having to be "worry men" to a lot of workers who are immature, inexperienced and even emotionally unstable. No wonder some get alone! For they often deal with overgrown juveniles who lack the virtues of management! So hire people who possess more of the executive outlook, using the same logic!

CASE D-548, Loven G, aged 46, is an Employment Manager for a large factory.

"Dr. Crane" he began, "absenteeism and labor turnover are two of our main causes of inefficiency. Many employees get drunk over Sunday and thus don't show up on Monday.

"Then they try to cover up their misconduct by saying they are sick.

"That is perhaps true enough, for they have hangovers and upset digestive tracts.

"So how can we reduce these causes of industrial inefficiency? I have some excellent psychological tests to help weed out the unfit workers, plus the emotionally unstable.

But there are also some

ANOTHER LABOR DAY

Early Mail Carriers Fought 'Varmints'

SARASOTA (AP) — Some of them couldn't read and couldn't write, but they delivered the mail without a hitch and did much to the south Florida together in pioneer days.

Best known of course, was "the barefoot mailman" of the lower east coast, made famous by author Theodore Pratt.

His counterparts in other sections of the state—men like Bill Johnson and Thomas Broadway—got the mail through whether they traveled barefoot or by buggy.

Broadway was Sarasota's first mail carrier and though he could neither read nor write, he delivered the mail for more than a decade without a mistake.

Broadway had a contract to deliver the mail on three routes in this area around the turn of the century. The postmistress, Carrie S. Abbe, "lined everything up" for Broadway and he took it from there.

Broadway had a system. The late Bill Neubauer, a pioneer photographer, explained it in a card that turned up in files of the Sarasota County Historical Society.

"Mail for Charles Thompson was carried in the left pocket, and my father's in the right pocket," Neubauer wrote. "As the need arose, more pockets were added until when Broadway resigned after 13 years, the coat was completely covered with pockets.

"He never was known to make a mistake in mail delivery during those years."

David Broadway, now 88 years old, recalls helping his father in the Sarasota Venice route 72 years ago. The 15-year-old boy drove his horse, Dick, and his buggy three days a week on the route to Venice, which was always dusty or muddy.

When Shakti Creek to the end was in sight as the House worked its way through amendments.

The problem could normally have been resolved by putting the matter off until this week.

But when the Labor Day rest was agreed upon, younger members complained they would be unable to vacation with their families, since most schools open the day after Labor Day.

With feeling so high that wives were drafting a petition Speaker John W. McCormack, the leadership relented and passed the ward members could stay away this week without missing anything of importance.

But so many left town that only 215 turned up on Monday's first roll call. Later there were 227. The House needs 217 members present to do business.

BY CARL P. LEURSDORF, WASHINGTON (AP) — House members, forced to stay in session until nearly 4 a.m. one night last week, almost failed to show up in sufficient numbers Monday to vote themselves a day-off Labor Day vacation.

It was a good example of the problem that faces Democratic leaders, whose job it is to schedule legislative business.

Trying to meet the requests of Easterners, who don't like to be here Fridays, and younger members, who wanted a vacation with their families, the leaders found themselves confronted last Thursday with a choice between putting off final action on foreign aid until mid-September or keeping the House in session until the measure passed.

At 3:30 a.m. Friday morning the House finally passed the aid bill by eight votes—after a 15 1/2-hour session marked by a near fist fight between two members and passage of several potentially far-reaching policy ideas.

The situation could have been avoided by acceptance of either of two proposals made last week by a joint congressional reorganization committee. One was for Monday-through-Friday sessions, the other for an annual August vacation.

The House seldom meets on Friday, and it usually does little

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Those anti-Vietnam war protesters who claim the United States lacked France's colonial rule in Indochina should read history.

Unpublished minutes of World War II meetings before President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Stalin of Russia, Chiang Kai-shek of China and Lord Halifax of Great Britain show that as early as 1945 the United States was fighting for independence for what is now Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam.

Minutes kept by Charles Bohlen, new U.S. ambassador to France, who was present, show that Roosevelt, in a private meeting with the Soviet premier on Nov. 28, 1945, at the Cairo conference, told Stalin that after 100 years of French rule in Indochina, the inhabitants were worse off than they had been before.

Roosevelt also told Stalin that he had discussed with Chiang the possibility of an international trusteeship for Indochina which would have the task of preparing the people for independence within a definite period of time, perhaps 20 to 30 years.

A week before, on Nov. 23, 1945, the minutes show, Roosevelt and Chiang had agreed on China and the United

Village Civic Association Sets Meet

BY RAYMOND E. WARE

Civic Association of North Orlando, which recently was re-activated with an enrollment of 18 members, will hold its next meeting at 7 p.m., Wednesday, in the village hall.

Immediately following the meeting at 8 p.m., first public hearing on the new comprehensive zoning ordinance for the village will be held.

In the organizational meeting of the association conducted by Charles Rowell, president, discussion centered on "things to be done."

Rowell, happy with results of the first meeting, says it is his goal to get "all the residents as members, even though some cannot attend the meetings... they still can join and be inactive."

Young brought up the matter — and then left it hanging — as he told newsmen he felt certain Republicans would make further gains in the future, and encroach on heavily-Democratic camps such as Dade County.

"I anticipate at the 1968 election there will be Republican legislators from Dade County," Young said.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet leaders visited every pavilion at an international clothing machinery fair today except the American one, apparently snubbing the Americans to show coolness because of Vietnam.

MAP to be adopted with North Orlando's new comprehensive zoning ordinance is on display in the village clerk's office. Specified zoning classifications for all areas of the entire incorporated municipality are shown in detail.

Zoning Law Airing Set At N. Orlando

By HAYMOND WARE
First public hearing on North Orlando's new comprehensive zoning ordinance, Ordinance 44, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the village meeting hall.

Husband Admits Defeat

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Hank Paris often boasted to his wife Colleen that he could take care of their six boys "standing on my head."
"No longer."
He placed this ad Thursday in the Rockford Morning Star and Rockford Register Republic: "Colleen, hurry home. I admit I can't take care of the boys standing on my head. Hank."

"P.S. — the washing machine broke."
Colleen is in a Rockford hospital where she gave birth Monday to their first daughter.

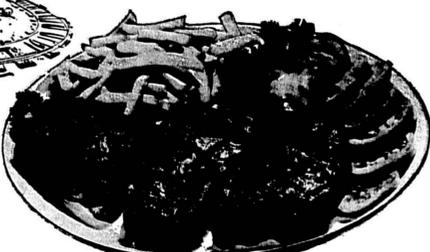

Regardless of Hank's plea, Colleen's doctor says she cannot come home until her baby is born.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL

AFTERMATH OF THE RAIN
The way to treat sunstroke is to wrap the patient in a blanket, prop his feet up, give him a shot of ammonia and call an ambulance.

AND SOME MORE
Two people were treated for sunstroke at the complex... (counted about 200 boats on the outskirts of Lake Monroe watching the festivities).

In the merry old year of 1950 the city built a small recreation center in the Goldsmith area near Castle Brewer Court.

Here's the latest from the fishing capital of the world
The two big winners in the fishing derby yesterday at the Regatta were Beth Anderson of 812 W. Seventh St. and Willie Patterson, 1962 Poplar Ave.

As a matter of fact there were only two fish caught
Beth, age 15, caught a four ounce rattler, and Willie, 54, landed a mummichog one pound bass.

As we leave the fishing capital of the world
How come $100 is included in the budget of Seminole County Community Action, Inc. for the next fiscal year for attorney?

Even the volunteer worker for Seminole Community Action doesn't work for free according to the budget of the poverty organization. The volunteer worker will receive $1,500 for 1,000 hours work at $1.50 per hour.

That is still somewhat less than $5 an hour the director will be earning, so we shouldn't complain, I guess.
About nine days ago the city received a letter from industrialist Jean Paulucci saying he would pay half of that $12,000 project.

The city has not even acknowledged the letter. It was marked "confidential" and apparently will remain so.
Crowds also jammed the Regatta yesterday while visiting the zoo yesterday.

Woudan? It has been nice with a new dog? Of course, the city cut that out of the budget.
As a matter of fact they also cut out added maintenance to the present facility.

Some $2,000 for a laborer.
A sailor knocked his car into Onsen bridge early this morning.

Plante Says County Killed Consolidation

Any possibility of the consolidation of Seminole County and its six municipalities and other communities into one political subdivision was "killed" by the Seminole County Commission early in the Legislature session just closed.

This was pointed out this morning by Sen. Kenneth Plante (R-Altamonte Springs) when he and other members of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation returned after five months in Tallahassee.

"Seminole County Commission requested legislation setting up a study commission on consolidation," Plante said adding that "the County Commission refused to put a price on it. We had considerable correspondence on the question but the county absolutely refused to place a maximum dollar sign on the study commission."

Plante pointed out that John Alexander, county commission chairman, and Harold Johnson, county attorney, "sat in" with the legislative delegation at Tallahassee early in the session.

Rep. John Ducker (R-Winter Park), said Plante "continually pressed Alexander to name a maximum amount for expenses for the study commission but Alexander hedged" by saying no such figure was necessary.

"How did we know," Plante questioned, "whether the Seminole County Commission might hire a New York expert at a quarter-million dollars? So, we killed the proposition."

Senator Plante expressed the opinion the Legislature, which closed Friday, "did some good." He pointed to article 7 of the proposed revision of the Constitution which will give more jurisdiction to "more authority" to the counties in home rule.

In local legislation the Republican lawmaker pointed to legislation supporting the Seminole County Port Authority and to charter revisions for the various municipalities.

Architect Says Courthouse Plans Still Weeks Away

Preliminary plans on the new multi-million dollar courthouse facility and jail complex are weeks away from completion, James Gamble Roberts IV, associate architect on the project, reported to The Herald today.

"We have gotten all data together, assembled square footage and partially arranged traffic patterns, but preliminary plans ready for presentation to the County Commission are weeks away from completion," Roberts said.

John Burton, associated with Roberts on the project, stated, "We are supposed to submit a schedule of the preliminary plans to the County Commission possibly as early as this week, but no time table for construction has been established as yet."

Architect's plans for the courthouse complex for the future to be located on the site bounded by Seminole Boulevard on the north and on the west and east by Park Avenue and Flood Avenue respectively, adjacent to the present jail were ordered begun immediately in unanimous action by the County Commission on Aug. 15.

Ultimate cost of the new facility has been estimated at $2.2 million. Schematics for the complex are to be based on the needs of 1976. The complex will include 72,000 square feet for the courthouse and 31,000 square feet for the Sheriff and jail addition for a total of 103,000 square feet. The complex is expected to be a high rise building of five or more stories.

Estimated costs include the building, site preparation, landscaping, utilities, contingencies, furnishings and fees.

Two Navy Men Hurt In Lake Mary Crash
Two Navy men were injured in a one car accident on Lake Mary Blvd. early this morning. A car driven by Patrick Turp of VARI's ran off the road by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad tracks and turned over. Turp and passenger in the car, both of Porteus, suffered minor injuries and were treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Turp was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control. His car was declared a total loss.

In another accident early this morning a car operated by Robert Jackson at 1018 Pine St., slammed into the Onsen Bridge. Jackson escaped injury. He was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control, deputies said.

Building Valuations Near Million

Building permits for Sanford and Seminole County totaled close to a $1 million for August, officials reported today.

In the county there were 100 permits issued for a valuation of $819,732. The big permit issued was for a new service station on Hwy. 17-92 for $40,000.

Last year for the same period there were 65 permits issued for $34,000. In Sanford, valuations totaled $670,000 with 38 permits issued. The biggest permit was for a service station on Florida Ave. for $30,000.

Last year for August there were 40 permits issued but valuations totaled only $29,732.

New Marina Cheered Regatta An Annual Event

Sanford received praise Monday for the new Marina when it was reported that 15,000 people attended the first Central Florida Power Boat Regatta to warrant running it, or a similar event, on an annual basis, yesterday's huge crowd left no doubt in our minds that this now is a foregone conclusion. Already, Rotary is beginning to make plans on how to refine and improve services to handle such capacity crowds and we also want to provide some form of special entertainment for the children.

Already, Rotary is beginning to make plans on how to refine and improve services to handle such capacity crowds and we also want to provide some form of special entertainment for the children.

A camera's eye view of the regatta is on page 1 of today's Sanford Herald.

"We had to discontinue the people by having to call off the Water Ski Show and second heat of the hydroplane races due to a sudden wind squall. However, Orlando-Winter Park Water Ski Club was paid $250 for coming over and has promised to come back and put on a free show for opening of Holiday Inn at the Marina," Robinson advised.

Complete results of first heat in the boat races, for which drivers received $100 in prize money, are listed today on The Herald's Sports Page.

In the beauty pageant held in celebration of Sanford Civic Center, Miss Bobby Dalton of Sanford was crowned "Miss Central Florida Regatta." Sponsor was Sanford-Seminole Jaycees. First runner-up was Miss Lane Zigler of Wintermeer, sponsored by Maxfair Country Club, and second runner-up was Miss Donna Allen of Orlando, sponsored by Central Florida Cruise Club.

Traffic here for the day was packed every available parking lot and the entire lakefront from Lake Monroe Dam on the west to Mollisville Avenue on the east.

In addition, there were 200 boats anchored at one time in front of the Marina across from the race course and every slip on the landside harbor was filled.

Road To New Junior High School

Inclusion of the extension of Onora Road westward and northward to tie in with Grapeville Avenue in the county road program for the new fiscal year appeared today to hinge on whether rights of way for the project can be obtained through donation in the next few weeks.

County Engineer William Bush told The Herald the Onora Road extension would be in line with the city of Sanford's long-range plan for several years. "It would provide a way to tie in with Grapeville Avenue in the county road program for the new fiscal year appeared today to hinge on whether rights of way for the project can be obtained through donation in the next few weeks."

Oviedo Starts Machinery In Motion For Charter

Conceded effort of the Oviedo Town government is underway to inform the electorate of the town on the full content of the new proposed charter for the city before the charter referendum on Sept. 26.

G. Algeron Spor, town attorney, said today copies of the proposed charter have been posted on bulletin boards at the Town Hall, post office and Oviedo Drug Store so that the electorate "may have knowledge of the full content of this act."

Copies of this proposal charter are on file in the town clerk's office for inspection of the public during regular business hours 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and during the summer palace.

Anticipated revenue for the new fiscal year has been estimated at $125,000. Including capital improvements, the operating budget for the year will be — total $1,329,111.

Commissioners meeting at 8 are also expected to discuss closing of the Goldsmith pool building $7,000 and borrowing $20,000 for a down payment for a new recreation center for Goldsmith on the State Farmers Property on 13th St. The board is also expected to cut back into the street and refuse department budget.
