Enforcement Head Promises "Sahara"

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—(AP)—In its account of a prohibition debate before a thousand representative New Yorkers at the dinner of the Economic Club at the Hotel Astor last night the New York Herald Tribune says today:

"The diners laughed derisively when General Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the Treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, announced that a "stop had been put" to the illegal distribution of sacramental wine. This demonstration drew from General Andrews a tart promise to make it "hard to get a drink of real beer next season."

"If that's of any interest to you," added the dry czar grimly when the roar of laughter subsided.

WINTERY BLAST HAILS ADVENT OF KING WINTER

Temperatures in West Drops As Low As 12 Degrees Below Zero But Counter Attack is Promised Soon

Mercury Drops 29 Degrees At Duluth

Vessels On Great Lakes Are Warned To Stay In Port With Gales In Prospect

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Winter, set officially to attack on Dec. 22, laid down a preliminary barrage of the middle-west today as the new month was born.

Temperatures, which dropped as low as 12 degrees below zero at Devil's Lake N. D., brought a touch of the real thing to many localities, but the weather man promised a counter attack would bring a reaction by Thursday over much of the territory.

The cold wave, which moved in from the Mackenzie River valley of Canada, struck first in North Dakota Tuesday, moved rapidly eastward and southward, and was destined to overpread most of Wisconsin, parts of Iowa, Illinois and Indiana today. Kansas, Missouri, and the southern portions of Illinois and Indiana, felt the intruding cold to a lesser degree. A marked feature of the invasion was the rapidity with which the mercury dropped.

Reaction already had begun today on the western edge of the cold wave district, and will extend Thursday over most of the middle-west and the western upper lake region. The weather generally was fair, although there was some snow and rain in the lake region.

The thermometer in Duluth, Minn., read five below at midnight, a drop of 29 degrees since morning and a 36-mile northwesterly wind was whipping through the lake port. Ten above was predicted for Milwaukee today, and Lake vessels were warned to stay in port because of the gale.

Other sub-zero temperatures sprinkled over the northwest. It was five below at Aberdeen, S. D., nine below at Grand Forks, N. D., and 11 below at Fargo. At Sioux Falls, the mercury took a thirty degree spill in ten hours.

Sharp declines under cold winds also were reported from Des Moines, and Omaha, after two days of warm weather.

The heaviest northeaster for fifty years has covered the roads and trails near Calumet, Mich., with snowdrifts five to six feet deep. Many deer hunters who went to the north woods were reported stranded in camps. The storm was unusual for so early in the season, the blizzards usually beginning about February. Fear was expressed for the safety of ships in Lake Superior and radio and life saving stations were kept on watch constantly.

MARIE LEAVES PARIS TONIGHT ON WAY HOME

Queen Changes Plans And Decides To Leave For Bucharest at Once; Ferdinand Opposed To Carol

Ruler Has No Idea Of Quitting Throne

King Advises His Followers That Health Is Returning; Letter Played Up by Papers

PARIS, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Queen Marie, of Rumania, has decided to leave for Bucharest tonight. She will proceed home on the Simphon Express, which leaves Paris at 8:35 o'clock this morning.

BUCHAREST, Dec. 1.—(AP)—King Ferdinand is strongly opposed to the return of former Crown Prince Carol in an endeavor to displace his young son, Prince Michael, as heir-apparent. The King has no intentions of abdicating.

In a letter to Premier Averescu, which was read before the Senate, the King says his health and strength are returning and that his advisers will be able to rally all the forces of the nation and form a "rampant about the throne" to enforce respect for his decisions.

The King says he has done his duty toward the country and kept his personal feelings in the background when necessary for the sake of the country, giving as an instance the occasion "when I, as King put a stop to the errors and indecisions of a well loved child."

The letter makes clear that Carol has made his bed and must lie in it; that there can be no reopening of the question of succession to the throne while Ferdinand is able to oppose it.

The newspapers spread the letter through the length and breadth of the city in special editions. It made all the more of a stir, since, owing to the government's secretive policy, the general public was hardly aware of the troubled political situation.

The letter said the King was deeply touched by the interest and affection shown by everyone on account of his illness. He profoundly regretted that certain persons had profited by his illness "to bring into discussion the principles forming the dynastic foundation of the constitutional monarchy, which do not permit the crown to be abandoned at the changeable will of anybody."

Prosecutor Simpson Asks For Mistrial In Jersey Slaying Case

Motion Made In Court This Upon Completion Of Prosecution's Case

Motion Is Based On Three Counts

Simpson Claims Set Of Jurymen Was Hostile To State

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Prosecutor Charles W. Parker, asking this afternoon for mistrial by the state jury in the Hall-Mills murder case.

The motion was based on the grounds that the jurymen were made that members of the jury had slept in the courtroom during the hearing of evidence and indicated prejudice against the state and its representatives, in discussion outside the court.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor in the Hall-Mills murder case, today moved for a mistrial, alleging that members of the jury had committed indiscretions which make it impossible for him to obtain a fair trial.

The motion was made after completion of the state's case against Mrs. Frances Stevens and her brothers, Willie and Steven. They have been on for four weeks on charges of slaying Mrs. Eleanor E. Mills, in the church of which the husband, Rev. William Stevens, was pastor.

Immediately after the motion, Simpson said that he had motion to take and asked that the jury be taken from the room, said that since the which the prosecutor was in is about the jury, it was present.

Judge Charles W. Parker, siding at the trial, discussed the room, while counsel requested mistrial.

Simpson grouped his allegations under three heads:

That members of the jury were not properly guarded, and having been observed in consultation with members of the state's staff, the members of the jury to the state's case.

Simpson read a dozen affidavits and newspaper reports, lives and relatives of Mrs. R. Mills, slain with the Edward W. Hall. The affidavits charged jurors of peevishness, outright during the trial, chatting with counsel for the defense and others.

MURDER CHARGE PLACED AGAINST CAPTURED NEGRO

Man Caught At Crescent City To Be Turned Over To Authorities Of Orange County For Trial On Murder

Lizie Williams, who was captured at Crescent City last night by Chief of Police Joe Tucker, and turned over to local authorities following the murder of George Johnson, Orlando taxi-cab operator was bound over to await the action of the Orange county grand jury this morning by a coroner's jury before Justice of the Peace M. W. Lovell.

Williams was arrested on information received by authorities in DeLand from the operator of a filling station who, seeing pistols and blood in the rear end of an automobile driven by two negroes, became suspicious and notified police.

One of the negroes ran, but Williams was detained and later agreed to lead officers to the body of Johnson, who had been killed near the Seminole county line, not far from Maitland, and then carried to within a mile of the city limits of Sanford and thrown into a ditch.

The body was recovered at a late hour last night and identified. The man had been shot through the mouth, the bullet coming out at the back of his neck.

Local authorities were slightly puzzled over what disposition to make of their prisoner until they ascertained the murder had been committed in Orange county. The victim apparently did not die until he was within the limits of Seminole county and for that reason a coroner's inquest was necessary.

Orange county authorities are to take charge of Williams this afternoon, while Volusia authorities are making an intensive search for the negro who escaped.

Previous to the shooting, the two negroes had broken into a hardware store in Kissimmee, according to Williams and had stolen six pistols and a number of other articles.

Defense Introduces Communication In Effort To Show That Fall Did Not Bear Responsibility For Oil Lease

Permits Totalling More Than Two Million Dollars Have Been Granted in 30 Days; Fort Lauderdale Is Next

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A letter by President Harding, approving the oil leasing policies of Albert B. Fall while he was secretary of the Interior was brought into court today by the defense in the Fall-Doherty oil conspiracy trial.

The letter was sent to the Senate in April, 1922, in reply to the original resolution of inquiry into the Teapot Dome and Elk Hill leases. It was put into evidence while a prosecution witness was on the stand and was a part of a defense effort to show that Fall did not himself bear the responsibility for award of the Elk Hills lease to the Doherty interests after Doherty had advanced him a "loan" of $100,000.

In his reply to the Senate, President Harding said he was acquainted in detail with the policies of the Interior Department, had been apprised of the exact terms of the various leases, and approved and supported the entire program of the department.

E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the Interior, a government, testified he personally had submitted much of the Interior Departmental detail incorporated in the President's message.

According to the petition, Manley was arrested and held in the county jail for the month of...

American Legion Minstrel Show To Be Produced Dec. 9

The first rehearsal for the American Legion minstrel show, which is to be presented at the City Hall auditorium on the night of Dec. 9, was held last night under the direction of Tom Bolt, who is in complete charge of the production.

Parts were assigned and costumes measured and actual work went forward throughout the evening, according to Mr. Bolt, who stated today that the 1926 minstrels of the Legion were to be far better than any of previous years.

A new set of scenery is being painted and will be ready for the initial dress rehearsal. The expense attendant upon this work is heavy and the justification of it lies in the popularity with the public which the minstrel show enjoys from year to year, Legion officials say.

Regular minstrel procedure is to be carried out in the show and a large number of features are to be included. The quartette of the Sanford Lion's club is to take an active part and several other well known local musical groups are to be featured.

For the first time since their inception, the minstrels are to be produced at the City Hall auditorium, the large seating space here being called an asset to the Legion in showing before a large gathering.

The first municipal public work was used in the production of the show.

Dempsey Nearly Sightless

Had the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight fight gone two more rounds, the title would have changed hands by a technical knockout, in the opinion of the beaten champion.

"My two eyes were gone," said Dempsey. "The boys used an overdose of colloid trying to patch up my right eye, and when Tunney's blows landed on the optic I felt as though a ton of brick had fallen on me."

"Beginning with the tenth, I was almost sightless. If the fight had gone two more rounds, the referee would have been compelled to step in and stop it. Tunney wouldn't have knocked me out but the referee, realizing that I couldn't have done myself justice with both of my eyes out of commission, would have been forced to halt proceedings."

Athletes and Liquor

The "flowing bowl" is no kind of a companion for a youth who is out for honors in sports. Dr. Otto Peltzer, Germany's champion middle distance runner, told the German Union Against Alcohol. "But you have got to approach the athlete not with the argument that indulgence in it is injurious to his general health, but that it will militate against his success in competition," he argued. "The idealism of sport should be kept always in the foreground. The youth in training must be shown how indispensable it is for him to abstain from alcoholic beverages if he wants to keep in condition and stand a chance of winning."

Dance Music Will Never Rival Bach or Beethoven

"By this, I do not mean to set...
...jazz back or belittle it in any way...
...Jazz is a kind of music all by it-
...self and a mighty fine kind."

"That is why it seems too bad...
...to have some of our best jazzists...
...doing their best to dress it up in...
...finery it can never become accus-
...tomed to wearing."

"Jazz is jazz and will always be...
...just that. I often play a number...
...called 'Horses', typical in lyric...
...and melody of what I am trying to...
...explain."

"However, don't for one mo-
...ment think that another type of...
...music cannot be evolved out of...
...jazz, and already several famous...
...dance orchestra directors are...
...well on their way doing something...
...with this process of evolution—
...But rather they than I."
